Ottawa, June 25.—The decision to suspend constitutional guarantees in Spain was reached at a special meeting of the cabinet yesterday, after which Premier Dato took to the palace the decree authorizing the measure, to obtain the King's signature. PROGRESS OF THE WAR

[June 21 to June 27]

DURING the week under review there were no sensational developments in hostilities, no military or naval events of a decisive character, though much activity prevailed on several fronts.

In the Western campaign the British made further gains to the southeast of Ypres, where the Germans have made a further slight voluntary retirement; however, they were still strongly held by the Germans. The French were actively engaged on the north of the Aisne between Soissons and Reims, and further east in the Champagne district, and were the attacking party. They made some gains, of which the capture of the "Cavern of Dragons" was conspicuous.

From the extended Russian fronts no important activities were reported, though the Russian troops were said to be everywhere well-prepared for active work and eager to renew hostilities. Some minor activities were reported on the Macedonian front; but the chief interest of the week in the Balkan campaign centred in the political changes consummated and in progress in Greece.

Premier Zaimis tendered his resignation to King Alexander, who called on Venizelos, who had arrived in Athens, to form a new ministry, which was done. It was expected that the changed political conditions in Greece would result in greater harmony of the populace, and that the united Greek army would render its greatly belated aid in restoring Serbia to its banished people.

The week witnessed fierce fighting in the Austro-Italian campaign, especially in the Trentino, where the Austrians claimed a victory of some magnitude and the capture of 1800 Italian prisoners. The Italian accounts did not confirm this entirely.

The week was without news of the campaigns in Mesopotamia, Palestine, Egypt, and East Africa. The enemy submarine campaign was continued with the usual ruthlessness, with results only slightly less disastrous than in the week preceding. The casualties reported in the daily dispatches will be found under "News of the Sea."

The most cheering item of war news received during the week was that of the successful landing in France of a considerable contingent of American troops, said to be well-trained regulars, with more soon to follow.

THE JUBILEE OF CONFEDERATION

ON page 4 we print verbatim a summary of the development and progress of Canada in the first fifty years of the history of the Dominion, which we have taken from a pamphlet entitled "The Jubilee of Confederation," issued by the Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Commons appointed to consider and report on the matter of celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Canadian Confederation.

We also reprint from The Canada Gazette the Proclamation of His Excellency the Governor-General, declaring that as Dominion Day falls on Sunday, it is a suitable occasion for special religious observances and the inculcation of patriotism and loyalty.

Monday, July 2, has been fixed by Proclamation for the celebration of Dominion Day and for the general celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of the Dominion of Canada. The celebration of the day is likely to be quiet, because of the country being at war; but it should be impressive, nevertheless, and it is bound to be memorable. What Canadian is there who is not proud of his country's history and thankful for the great heritage which is his?

THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE

THE Provincial Legislature at Fredericton was prorogued on Friday last, after a session that will be memorable in several ways. The Government, composed as it is of novices, is to be congratulated on having got through so much business in so short a time, and in a manner generally satisfactory. There will be great regret, however, on the part of all right-thinking and independent people that the Government has made a record in solving the political broom and widening the political axe. Never in the history of the Province have more dismissals from office been made solely for partisan political reasons; and to this extent the new Government has justified itself and ignored or repudiated its pre-election pledges. Those who hoped for a higher tone to be imparted to the conduct of political affairs in this Province have yet further to seek; and the prospect of the complete elimination of the practice of "grab" from any political party seems to be as remote as ever. It may come to pass in the millennium.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

CONSIDERABLE progress was made in the general business of Parliament at Ottawa during the past week, but the discussion which occupied most of the time in the House of Commons was on the second reading of the Bill, the Military Service Act, 1917. Many speeches have been made, most of them of an exceptionally high tone, elevated above the petty bickerings of party politics, very few of them being expressions of a purely partisan tenor. The discussion is likely to be prolonged well into next week; and it is possible to forecast the vote from the trend of the debate the Bill is sure to pass both on the second and third readings. The final vote on the Bill is certain to result in some recasting of political parties. It may also result in stimulating voluntary enlistment to such a point that compulsory service may not be necessary. We have no space to print in full or in part any of the speeches made in this debate, or to make any detailed comment thereon; but we feel confident that the speech of no member will give greater disappointment in his constituency than that of Mr. Pugsley, of St. John, N. B. It is a satisfactory reflection on those who claim St. John as their birthplace that the present parliamentary representative of the City was not born there; and it is earnestly to be hoped that he will never again be chosen to represent (or as he is doing in this crisis, misrepresent) the old Loyalist City in the Dominion Parliament. In all his political gyrations and contortions he has never given greater offence to his constituents than on the present occasion.

We have had to suspend, temporarily, the publication of further articles on St. Andrew's Street, but hope to resume them soon. As a gentle reminder of the subject we would just say a word or two to encourage the Streets Committee of the Town Council to greater activity. Probably at no time in the history of the city have the streets been in such bad condition as at present, or more in need of repair. This is not due entirely to the unprecedented wet season, but rather to the neglect of the Town authorities to do the roadway necessary. As there is now no longer even a pretence of lighting the streets, it is the more necessary that roadways and footpaths should be put in order.

Whatever views may be entertained in regard to many of the dismissals and appointments made recently by the Governor in Fredericton, there can be but one opinion in regard to the appointment of T. Carleton Allen, K. C., to be Deputy Attorney-General of the Province. The appointment is non-political and is in no sense a reward for party services, though Mr. Allen may have had and may still have sympathy with the Liberal party, he has never been an aggressive partisan. In point of ability, legal knowledge, sound judgement, and high character, no one in the legal profession in New Brunswick stands higher to-day, whether on the Bench or at the Bar. We agree with the Government in recognizing the necessity for a deputy to the Attorney-General, and we congratulate them on the manner in which they have chosen the first incumbent of the newly-created office.

It was definitely announced on Ottawa on Thursday that Lt.-Col. George W. Fowler, M. P. for Kings County, has been appointed to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. George T. Baird; and that Mr. Gilbert W. Ganong, of St. Stephen, formerly M. P. for the County of Charlotte, has been appointed to succeed Hon. Joseph Wood as Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick. Last week the BEACON announced, on what was considered the best authority, that Mr. Ganong had been appointed to the Senate. If this was true it is evident that the appointment was reconsidered. The BEACON extends to the new Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick heartfelt congratulations on the honor worthily conferred on a worthy and distinguished recipient.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY FISHERIES IN PARLIAMENT

Mr. PUGSLEY: Would the minister kindly give me the regulations in the Maritime Provinces? I am anxious to have them placed on Hansard.

Mr. HAZEN: We shall allow one item to stand, and I shall place on record the regulations showing the size limit, close seasons, etc.

Mr. PUGSLEY: Some time ago a dealer in St. John showed me samples of lobsters that were allowed to be caught in Nova Scotia. They were about three or four inches in length. It seemed a sin to destroy these very small lobsters, long before they were caught in the fishery. Several years ago I asked a question in regard to a condition which was being maintained at the fishery in the waters of Charlotte County. These regulations were inserted by the minister before the provincial election of 1912.

Mr. HAZEN: After that, I think.

Mr. PUGSLEY: The minister provided by regulation that fishermen should be obliged to give the Canadian canners the preference in the market, and if a Canadian canner made an equal offer to the fishermen he would be obliged to give the preference to the Canadian. There was quite a rumpus about it in Charlotte, and just before the provincial election my friend suspended the order.

Mr. HAZEN: That clause was put in at the time of the recommendation of Mr. Calder, who for good many years past had been inspector in the counties of Charlotte and St. John. A large sum was being invested in a sardine factory at St. Andrew's. It was Mr. Calder's view, which was confirmed by the department, that it was desirable with a view of getting fish from our waters manufactured in Canada, that some preference should be given in order that this factory might be able to get plenty of material to manufacture the sardines. Unfortunately, however, the factory did not prove a financial success. It hardly got under way before it got into difficulties, and the result was that after reconsideration of the matter, that clause was taken out of the licenses.

Mr. PUGSLEY: Its operation was suspended before the factory ceased operations. It was suspended just prior to the Provincial elections of 1912.

Mr. HAZEN: I do not remember the date.

Mr. PUGSLEY: I wonder that it would not impress itself on the minister.

Mr. HAZEN: I do not think there was anything that, in the language of the Minister of Finance, would synchronize.

member approves of the new licenses being issued and that this restriction be printed instead of being written in so that it would not attract the special attention of the fisherman getting a license. That is a curious letter to come from a hon. member, ever called to it and if he ever took any steps with regard to the matter.

Mr. HAZEN: My attention was never called to it.

Mr. PUGSLEY: The hon. minister would not approve of that, extraordinary position. It is written, as it is written, refer to the letter, and ask the hon. member from Charlotte to explain the matter. House, if it is written, why he should have written such a letter. If it meant anything at all it was intended to deceive, perhaps not to deceive, but to shut the eyes of people.

Mr. HAZEN: When was it sent?

Mr. PUGSLEY: Either two or three sessions ago. That evidence was written on the part of the hon. gentleman that the regulation would be likely to provoke hostility among the fishermen, and the department was advised to have new licenses issued with this restriction in print, so that it would not attract the attention of the fishermen, as it would if it were written in the license. I intended last session to bring it to the attention of the hon. member from Charlotte.—Hansard, June 8, 1917.

NATIVE-BORN SOLDIERS ARE IN THE MINORITY

Ottawa, June 15.—British subjects born outside of Canada are more numerous in the Canadian expeditionary forces than the native born, and of the native born the French-speaking soldiers form almost two-thirds of the total.

A return presented in the House this afternoon shows that 4,100 French-speaking soldiers have been sent overseas from Canada up to April 30.

The Canadian expeditionary forces have included 25,245 French-speaking soldiers born in Canada, and 155,095 British subjects born outside of Canada. French-Canadian soldiers commanded by officers speaking the French language serving with units organized in the Expeditionary Force, number 5,443. Soldiers speaking the French language commanded by officers speaking the English language, number 1,536. Units organized in French speaking units organized in the Expeditionary Force, number 5,904. To the above figures must be added 1,217 French-speaking soldiers in the Expeditionary Force.

A MONSTER HALIBUT

Mr. C. F. Eaton, who was on his regular fishing trip to the coast of the Bay of Fundy, on June 12, from which we print the following description of a big halibut, which Mr. Eaton says he saw weighed—

The largest halibut ever caught by a fishing vessel off the coast of the Bay of Fundy, was landed at the pier to-day by the Eva Alma, Capt. Antonio S. Ree, which caught the monster 50 miles eastward from the pier. The halibut weighed 700 pounds when caught, and 615 pounds with the entrails removed. The halibut was 52 inches long, and 32 inches wide on the pike. It was viewed by hundreds of buyers, dealers and fishermen, and they all pronounced it the largest fish of the kind they had ever seen. Mitchell, the lucky fisherman, has only recently recovered from a long illness that prevented him from following his calling as a fisherman.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Carl Ingalls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner Ingalls, of Seal Cove, Grand Manan, N.B., who was killed in action in France on the 5th day of May, 1917. He was buried inside the British Lines and his grave marked by a cross of wood on which was inscribed his name, the date of his death, and the legend "At rest." Thus all that loving comrades could do for him was done and he sleeps in that far off land the last sleep of a brave soldier and a generous and patriotic youth who has made the supreme sacrifice for his country. Country-bred, his home in Canada. Our Canada, which has only been kept from violation by the Hun by the sacrifices made by the brave sons on the bloody battle fields of France and Belgium. God grant that this voluntary giving up of life, and home and loved ones be not for nothing or in vain. All honor to the brave men who have given their lives for Canada and the Empire. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." This young soldier's great-grandfather, Daniel McLaughlin, took part in the Battle of Waterloo as an artilleryman in the ranks of the British Army. He was killed by the Allied armies. He enlisted when sixteen years of age. He was born at a place called "The Rock," near Londonderry, Ireland. This soldier of Waterloo, who was a valuable member of the British Army, in the little cemetery overlooking the sea at Seal Cove, Requiescat in Pace.

SCHOONER A TOTAL LOSS

Word was received in the city yesterday by Agent J. C. Chesley, of the marine department, that the schooner Edger W. Marwick, en route to this port with a cargo of molasses, was ashore on Old Proprietor and was a total loss. A long distance call to Seal Cove, Grand Manan, N.B., last night brought the information that the schooner was sunk underneath the water entirely, and the cargo, Edward Appleyard, captain 31st Battalion Canadian, who took charge of the burial service. The Edger W. Marwick was a four-masted schooner. She was bound from Barbados with a cargo of molasses. The schooner had met with foggy weather all the way through and encountered severe gales. The schooner of Grand Manan the iron spindle on the Old Proprietor ledges was first sighted through the fog. The vessel was quickly ordered to be turned to swing the vessel around, but failed to respond quickly enough and the vessel ran aground hard and fast. This was about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. At 6:45 p. m. she was entirely under water. Nothing was saved except a few scattering articles that the crew gathered hurriedly together. The captain with eleven men and the crew got ashore in their small boat and landed at Gull's Cove, near White Head. From here they travelled to Seal Cove and thence to Eastport. No one suffered any injury. The schooner was loaded with molasses and no lives were lost. The schooner Edger W. Marwick was about 1,500 tons, registered in Seal Cove, Grand Manan, N.B. She was built in Seal Cove and was a very attractive in a handsome travelling costume of navy blue cloth with a match-toned of red and white stripes. The ship was worth $175,000.—St. John Telegraph, June 20.

THE JUBILEE OF CONFEDERATION

CANADA IN 1867—CANADA IN 1917
ON JULY 1, 1917, Canada will celebrate the jubilee of Confederation—the completion of the first fifty years of the life of the Dominion.

NATIONAL BOUNDARIES
In 1867, Canada comprised four provinces, embracing a narrow strip along the Lower Lakes and the St. Lawrence, with a limited frontier to the Atlantic.

AREA AND POPULATION
In 1867, Canada embraced an area of 3,900,000 square miles, with a population of 3,500,000.

IMMIGRATION
In 1867, immigration was small and sporadic, before 1900 it had increased to 20,000—40,000 annually; in 1913 it reached 400,000; and in 1914, 385,000.

WHEAT CROP
Wheat crop of 1871, under 17,000,000 bushels; crop of 1915, 426,746,000 bushels; crop of 1916, 220,000,000 bushels.

AGRICULTURE
The backbone of Canadian agriculture is the wheat crop. In 1871, less than 2,000,000 acres were sown to wheat; to-day the acreage in Saskatchewan alone is 8,500,000, and the total for all Canada is close upon 15,000,000.

LIVE STOCK INCREASES
In 1871, there were a few isolated trade units. In 1917 there were in Canada 1,880 local units, 47 trades and labor councils, and two nation-wide confederations of labor bodies.

NON-MATERIAL PROGRESS
The above is a record of material gains. But the life of Canada has broadened equally along other lines. A literature distinctly Canadian has grown up, notwithstanding peculiar difficulties.

MANUFACTURES
There were few manufactures in 1868; to-day the annual product is valued at over $1,300,000,000. Such products as wood pulp, automobiles, electrical apparatus, and electric lighting were unknown in 1868, but now run into a value of many millions annually.

TRANSPORTATION
The magnificent waterways of Canada provided the earliest means of communication. In 1868 about $20,000,000 had been expended on their improvement by canals; to date the expenditures on canals exceed $100,000,000.

THE CANADA TEMPERANCE ACT
The policy of the Dominion Alliance is to encourage the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act (Scott Act) in countries in which it has been operating. Where this is done the new Provincial Prohibitory Law would then become effective.

Toronto's Experience

PROHIBITION went into force in Ontario, September 16th, 1916. "Since Prohibition has been enforced, Toronto has become a different place from the point of view of the police," declared Lieut.-Col. H. J. Grasset, C.M.G., Chief Constable of Ontario's largest city.

Under License, 1915 - 1,059 arrests. Under Prohibition, 1916, 214 arrests.

Such was the immediate effect of Prohibition in the largest city in the world to be under such a wide measure of temperance law. It is always the large centres which find the greatest difficulty in enforcing Prohibition.

Evidence of satisfaction with this era of Prohibition is being given constantly by men who were never known to be temperance advocates," said Col. Grasset.

The "Chief" stated that information had been received by himself and his men to show that the retail store-keepers were benefiting in many parts of the city as the indirect result of Prohibition.

Help to Enforce Prohibition
No matter where you live, whether your district is under the Canada Temperance Act or under the New Prohibitory Act, you are urged to use your influence to the fullest extent within your power to aid the officers of the law in strict enforcement of province-wide Prohibition in New Brunswick.

VOL. XX NAT

NATURE I do not want to be a meteor in the sky. Or comet that may rain. Only a speck that may rain. Only the needs by which I live. Give me the most part of my life. Where to run my air. To some withdrawn. Let me high upon a hill. Or in the woods, with Whimper the still voice. Only—be it heard—For I'd rather be by And pupil, in the form. Than be the king of And most sovereign.
