Sir Douglas Haig.
One of the ablest soldiers the world has produced does not speak for himself, or about himself. He preaches, others, and is slow to censure. Sometimes his Government has failed to send him reinforcements when his need of them was sore, but he has not complained. In more than four years of war he has always been at the front, engaged with rare respite in what may be called intensive fighting, often of the most desperate character. The wonder is that he has gone through so many dark days with gleams of hope.

He was Sir John French's right hand, and when the veteran retired the Government, in naming the Scotchman for supreme command, reflected the hope of the army. Upon the battle of the Somme, which he fought himself with tired and with green troops, Sir Douglas Haig's fame will mainly rest. It was the hardest battle ever recorded. The enemy had to be driven out of one Gibraltar after another, driven from one Pievas after another, but ever the British Army, under the tireless and patient Haig moved relentlessly forward. The British losses were 500,000, the German losses much greater. If the commanding General ever showed a trace of the tremendous strain nobody has made mention of the fact. The whole year of 1917, up to November, when Haig was in front of Cambrai, he pressed his advantage. Then came the loss of ground in a surprise attack in March of this year when the German offensive which was to end the war. There were more dark days for the British Army over whelmed by numbers. The 'Back to the Wall' order held its ranks inviolable.

The Scotch gentleman, son of John Haig of Ramorne, in Pitts, who commands the British and Canadian troops is in the Prime of life at 57, tall, thin, well knit, a consummate horseman, fair of complexion, blue eyes, is manner of complete, but kindly. I have rarely seen a musician face so handsome and yet so strong, says one who tried to interview him. He thus profited. An industrial student of the profession of art, it is said that he never commanded a larger body of men than a regiment in battle before the great war. The influence of the genial Duke of Cambridge secured him a commission after he had been rejected for defective eyesight. Sir John French saved him from drowning in the Modder River in the Boer war. 'Lucky' Haig has always been called. He predicted the war with Germany in a letter to Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, years ago. He has refused a peerage, but is a Knight of the Order of the Thistle. He has owed much to his aristocratic connections, not infinitely more to the virtues of his race and to inherent soldierly qualities. He has a keen sense of humor. He's never visibly angry. Born in the purple and a favorite of Court and in Mayfair, he is a soldier's soldier. There are many Haigs on the British Army-List, but only one Sir Douglas. Modest and indifferent to fame, he will be reckoned among the great commanders of the greatest war in history.

There is less actual labour attached to select seed than to the potatoes raised. The potato, therefore, the results from hill sowing are reasonably certain when other methods there is no comparison. Potato growers will do well to watch closely for weeds in their fields. These weeds, and saved apart from the crop, may become the grand seed of the potato fields in the future.

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with headache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand. I tried all sorts of medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing would do me any good. My druggist advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I got up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and read my book. I don't know how many of my friends have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

You Can Buy Quality Shoes at Fair Prices

EVERY today when the cost of every item in the make-up of a shoe is far above the normal you can get satisfactory shoes at fair prices if you will buy prudently. The service you get for your money will largely depend upon your own wisdom and foresight when buying. As Canada's largest manufacturers of shoes, we ask you to buy prudently, to practise true economy, to avoid extravagance. There are three things you should do: First: Buy for service rather than merely for appearance. Second: Go to a reputable dealer and benefit by his knowledge and experience. Third: Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy.

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house ready for emergencies. Then when colds or coughs come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottle which contains nearly three times as much as the 25 cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.

Woman Help in Custody.
For a week or two past a woman has been selling small packages of powder which she called 'sweet lavender'. There were reports to the effect that several young women who purchased some of the powder and placed the same in their purses with handkerchiefs, etc., were taken very ill within a day or two.

The military and civil authorities took the woman in charge, and she is now in jail. Experts are analyzing the contents of the packages, but the result has not yet been made known. The woman, who represented herself as in poor circumstances, with a sick child, did quite a big business in Halifax Recorder.

Dear Sir, — Your traveler is here today and we are getting a large quantity of your MINARD'S LINIMENT. We find it the best Liniment on the market making no exception. We have been in business 13 years and have handled all kinds but have dropped them all but yours, that will heal; the others have to be pushed to get rid of.

FLAVOR-FULL

KING COLE ORANGE PEKOE
Undoubtedly there are degrees of flavor. Take Fruit for instance—you select an orange, and on eating it you find it to be heavy, certainly, but sharp—and choose another, a finer, more matured fruit, and it is inferior, the flavor is mellowed and rounded—it is FLAVOR-FULL. Nature made a better job of the second orange. Exactly the same is true of Tea. Nature is not equally kind to all. It requires expert knowledge and constant care to select and combine FLAVOR-FULL Tea to produce the delicious cup obtained from KING COLE Orange Pekoe. If you love your cup of Tea, unusual pleasure awaits you in KING COLE Orange Pekoe.

We wish to tender our sincere thanks to those who in response to accounts sent out during the past week or two have sent in the amount due THE ACADIAN for subscription. This money was needed and its receipt was greatly appreciated by the publisher who finds the task of financing no light one at this time of increasing prices in everything that goes into the making of a newspaper. There are still many whom we have not yet heard from and we would respectfully ask that notice be taken of the bills sent out. A great many of these cover a number of years and settlement must be made at once. It is our intention to hand these accounts over for collection at an early date unless some provision is made for their settlement. The price of THE ACADIAN is now $1.50 per annum when not paid strictly in advance.

Noted Woman Visits Wolfville.

Mrs. G. L. Wood, of New Brunswick, for twelve successive years the honored president of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union, was a visitor to Wolfville this week, and on Tuesday evening delivered an address at St. Andrew's church under the auspices of the local organization. Owing to numerous other attractions the audience was not so large as it should have been but those present enjoyed a 'feast of good things.' Mrs. B. O. Davidson, the president of the Wolfville W. C. T. U., presided. An enjoyable feature of the evening was a delightful vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Sutherland. 'The Call of the Hour' was Mrs. Wood's subject, and she earnestly and eloquently outlined the responsibility resting upon the women of Canada at this time of world's crisis. Mrs. Wood is a most attractive speaker and she is thoroughly conversant with women's work. She is a sister of Hon. Newton W. Rowell, formerly leader of the Liberal party in the Ontario legislature and now a member of the cabinet in the Union Government. At the close of her lecture, at the request of Mrs. Davidson, she spoke briefly of the work of the 'Associated Kin of Soldiers,' of which her husband is the president. This organization is one that more will be heard of in coming days. It is doing a wonderful work in the interests of our soldiers and their families throughout Canada. Branches are to be organized in the Maritime Provinces in the near future. Mrs. Wood has four sons in the army fighting for King and country and is an active participant in all patriotic work.

Rev. Mr. Miller spoke briefly at the close of the address voicing his appreciation of the splendid character of the lecture as did also Rev. Dr. Gaten, who spoke of the good work that had been done in Wolfville and elsewhere by the W. C. T. U. In response to Mrs. Wood's appeal a number of those present handed in their names for membership in the local union.

A special reorganization meeting will be held at 7:45 this evening. The older boys are particularly asked to attend. A rehearsal of the play will take place at 9 o'clock.

Masters-Pitt Wedding.

On Wednesday evening the Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty and largely attended wedding when Miss Lola Marie Hilda Pitt, daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. Hilton A. Pitt of 'Undercliffe,' Pembroke, became the bride of Mr. Clarendon Hugh Masters, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Masters, of 'Clarendon,' Farnborough.

The ceremony was set for 8 o'clock and long before that hour the relatives and friends of the bride and groom began to fill the church. During the arrival of the guests the Cathedral organist, Mr. A. M. Parcell, rendered several selections on the superb organ.

The chancel had been tastefully decorated by friends of the bride with roses, golden glow and fern and presented a very pleasing appearance. Very shortly after 8 o'clock the bride, exquisitely gowned in white satin and tulle and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses and fern, entered the church leaning on the arm of her cousin, Capt. Charles P. Pitt, A. P. M. She was preceded by Miss May Tucker as maid of honour who wore a most becoming dress of white net embroidered in yellow. Her bouquet was of golden glow and fern. As the bridal party proceeded up the aisle the strains of 'The Bridal Chorus' from Lohengrin resounded throughout the sacred edifice. The bride was met at the chancel steps by the groom, who was attended by Mr. Eric Grith as best man. The Rev. Canon Henry Marriott conducted the wedding ceremony which was choral, the Cathedral choir being in attendance. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Hilton A. Pitt. The ushers were Mr. Stewart Pitt, Mr. Eugene Hutchings, Mr. Gordon Montague, Mr. Orritt Whitney and Mr. Stanley Howe.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and during the signing of the register the hymn 'O Perfect Love' was sung by the choir and congregation, after which the newly married couple posed smilingly down the long aisle to the crashing strains of Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March.' Directly after the ceremony at the church a reception for the relatives and younger friends of the bride and groom was held at 'Undercliffe' and there the many valuable and useful presents were very much admired. 'The health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Masters was proposed by the Rev. Canon Marriott and Mr. Masters replied in a few well chosen words. A toast to the maid of honour was also proposed by Mr. Pitt. An orchestra was in attendance and many of the guests enjoyed dancing on the spacious verandah. Refreshments were served and were enjoyed by everyone during the evening. About 10.30, followed by many expressions of good will, the happy couple drove off for Palmetto Grove, Harrington Sound, where a short honeymoon will be spent after which Mr. and Mrs. Masters will take up their residence at 'Undercliffe,' Pitts Bay. The Colonial and Daily News joins with their many friends in wishing them the best of health and every happiness in their new sphere of life.

(The above from a Hamilton, Bermuda, paper refers to a young lady well known in Wolfville. Mr. and Mrs. Masters will join in best wishes.—E.J.)

Germany's Way.

John D. Sandford, chief of motor transport for the American Y. M. C. A. in France, writing home to a sister at Chateau Thierry, says:

'I do not believe there is a house which has not been hit, but the worst of all is the ruthless destruction done by the Germans. Every room was ransacked, every mirror and piece of glass or china broken.

I saw over a dozen smashed pianos. Also on the public buildings the wrecks got hold of quantities of ink bottles from some stationary store and threw them all over the facades. This will be impossible to remove, as the stone is soft and the ink soaks in.' 'The same kind of wanton destruction is going on in all the towns from which the enemy is now retreating. What cannot be carried away is wantonly and systematically destroyed by these vandals who, while wielding the axe and the torch, are crying loudly for a peace conference in the interests of humanity. Not too quickly, but too sharply can the Allies tell Germany there will be reprisals for every act of vandalism, as well as the execution of punishment for every bit of damage in evacuated towns. Germany has not earned the right to a peace conference.

The Price of a Good Time.

Manager Mason says that never before has he had the pleasure of presenting so appealing a story as 'The Price of a Good Time.' Mildred Harris is perhaps the only person who could have played such a role, which has caused everyone throughout America and Europe to simply adore her.

'The Price of a Good Time' played the Magnetic, Halifax to bigger business, many people went twice to see this feature. The story is one that grips you from start to finish. Just picture a rich young man and a poor shop girl. His wonderful offer of Six Arabian Nights and the great shining car, promising to carry her away, one short week of unbelievable happiness and then, guttless of strength but with all evidence against her, the dream-seek crashes down into a soul-tragedy at the close of his would-be saviour. Gone are the six Arabian Nights with their pretty clothes, the stolen pleasures of golden theatre and restaurant, the glory of being a lady. Striving to save her benefactor, at least from coming vengeance, little Linnie meets him unexpectedly. And the price is paid. Nothing more touching has ever been acted—let alone filmed. A veritable wondrous-play, from the master hand of Louis Weber—the Belasco of the Screens. Mr. Mason strongly advises everyone to see this exciting play.

Carry Your Parcel.

The Fuel Controller has made it clear that a reduction in the consumption of gasoline is imperative. This, added to the already great shortage of man-power, is placing a heavy burden upon the merchant. To overcome the man power shortage, he has, in many cases, introduced motor delivery, that more ground might be covered by available help. He is now met by the lack of gasoline.

Thoughtful customers are the cause of much of this unnecessary consumption of man power and gasoline. From 61 to 75 per cent of deliveries might easily be carried by purchasers. Forty per cent of grocery deliveries are the result of unthinking house keepers, who do not set aside their household needs and, consequently, require several deliveries—these are avoidable.

The delivery of parcels must be paid for by the customer. While not a direct charge, it is added as a percentage of the merchant's cost of doing business. It has been estimated that it costs 60¢ to six cents a delivery. This amount, of course, is not covered on small purchases, consequently, the more thoughtful customers pay for the unthinking ones. Merchants, in large measure, have the remedy in their own hands. They can specify the value of the order they will deliver free, also the weight or bulk, and make a direct charge for all others. This would at once reduce the volume of deliveries. The number of men unnecessarily employed in delivering and the consequent consumption of gasoline. Furthermore, it would have an appreciable effect on the present high cost of living.

To every home there comes a time when every thought, every hope, every prayer for the future centres on the recovery of one loved one. In that hour of anguish, every means to recovery is sought—the highest medical skill, trained nurses, costly treatment. Does the price matter?

It may be so great as to stagger the imagination—a sum beyond the possible.

But does anyone say, "Can we do it? Money or no money, they do it. And somehow they pay."

It may mean doing without things they think they need. It may mean privations, sacrifices, hardships. They make unbelievable savings, they achieve the impossible, but they get the money to pay.

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—vast sums of money. Only one way now remains to obtain it.

The nation must save, every community, every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I cannot save" let him consider to what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

You who read this, get out pencil and paper NOW. Set down the items of your living expense. Surely you will find some items there you can do without.

Determine to do without them. Start TO-DAY. Save your money so that you may be in a position to lend it to your country in its time of need.

The number of resident pupils at Acadia Seminary is already in excess of the estimate a few weeks ago. One hundred and thirty-two have already been registered and the end is not yet.

Six new typewriters have been added to the equipment in the Business Department of Acadia Seminary. This is an indication of the increased emphasis on business preparation. May it be a passing phase.

Casualties reported during last week. Wounded.—C. S. M. Wm Holmes, Avonport; B. W. Gertrude, Gasperow; D. H. Crowell, Hortonville; Lieut. R. D. Rogers, Amherst; Lieut. F. J. Bonner, D. C. M., Grand Pré; H. A. Bennett, Canning; R. St. Clair Chase, Kentville; Percy Annis, Nictaux Falls.

Mr. George I. Fraser, Greenwich, received a message by wire from Ottawa on Monday morning, Oct. 7th, stating that his son Everett, a soldier in the 85th batt., had been admitted to a hospital in France, suffering from a gun-shot wound in left arm received September 28th. This is the second time this soldier has been wounded. Another son is in same battalion.

Mr. Robson Black, the secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association, has been in Wolfville with his car of Forestry Exhibits and literature this week. On Tuesday evening Mr. Black addressed a public meeting in College Hall on 'The forests of Canada'. The lecture was illustrated by motion pictures and was very interesting and instructive. Mr. Black is not only thoroughly conversant with his subject, but he has an excellent delivery and handles his subject with force and distinctness. The pictures were beautiful.

Service flags and pins, etc., each at Williams.

At the Opera House, Friday and Saturday, Marguerite Clark will appear in her very latest Paramount picture, 'The Seven Swans'. This is Miss Clark's annual offering to kids of all ages, being nothing more or less than a whimsical, fantastic fairy tale adapted from one of Hans Anderson's by Director J. Searle Dawley. The excellent cast includes William Danforth, Augusta Anderson, Daisy Belmore and handsome Richard Barthelmess as the Prince Charming.

Marguerite Clark has a pet theory that no one ever really grows up. 'You see,' she said, 'I proved it last year by appearing in Snow White, an out-and-out fairy tale. The grown-ups were not prepared, and all came to see it and stayed. This year I have made The Seven Swans.' The story deals with witches and babies of all sorts and is as fantastic and appealing as little Snow White' of last year—and even more beautiful.

Another Wolfville Hero.

Wolfville mourns the death of another son who has given his life for king and country on the field of glory.

On Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. George W. Abbott received the sad news of the death of their gallant son Corp'l Fred Abbott, on Sept. 25th. Fred was one of our most popular boys, a very general favorite. He enlisted in the Highland Brigade and went overseas in the autumn of 1916 and had done splendid service. At the time of his death he was in command of the machine-gun section of his battalion. A grief-stricken young widow, who had already lost a brother in the war, and two young children survive him, and with the surviving parents and other members of the family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

Port Williams Items.

On Sunday evening, Sept. 29th, a memorial service was held in the Baptist church for our young hero, if Waldo Gates, second son of Mr. Siles Gates, who was 22 years of age, made the supreme sacrifice August 10th. The church was decorated with flags, etc., the large honor roll being draped with the Union Jack, a mound of purple pansies on a background of dark green moss, with a standard of moss and the word 'Waldo' formed in large letters made of beautiful white pansies, on table at foot of pulpit, all showing kind thought and sympathy for loss of our young friend. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Cutler, of Acadia, who was Waldo's captain, in 1916, and Dr. Archibald, who knew him when a student of the Academy Business class. Rev. O. M. Chapman also took part. The large choir did justice to the service. Some favorite patriotic selections were given and a beautiful anthem. Among the hymns were two favorites of the young hero—"Brightly Beams Our Father's Mercy" and "Lord I'm Coming Home." The church was filled with sympathizing friends, ready to show honor to their young hero from this place who gave his life in the war.

On Monday, Oct. 7th, the sad news came to Mr. Charles Thompson, of this place, that Avery, his eldest son, was killed in action Sept. 29th. He was in the 28th batt., stationed in the Irish, being transferred in England. This is the second Port Williams boy who has given his life for King and country.

J. C. Bates, of Farnboro, visited his sister, Mrs. J. Forsythe, one day last week.

Organ Recital.

An interesting musical event of the season was that given in the Baptist church, Friday evening, October 4 when Dr. Charles E. Fisher gave an organ recital which delighted a large audience. Dr. Fisher, from whom we had been led to believe that fine musical work might be expected, exceeded our expectations. He approved himself as a master organist, one who in every detail of his playing, registration, etc., knew his instrument which he made to respond to his will and feeling. It was a masterpiece performance. Dr. Fisher was ably assisted by Miss Edith Jones, violinist; Miss Alice M. Pattillo, mezzo-soprano, and the Seminary staff.

The program which was of a high order was as follows:

- 1. Bach.....Tocatta and Fugue in D Minor. 2. Bach.....Aria on the G String. 3. Wely.....A Night Hymn. 4. Mendelssohn.....Jerusalem (from St. Paul). 5. Daboli.....Tocatta in G. 6. Godard.....Berceuse (from Jocelyne). 7. Pleyel.....Andante con Variazioni. 8. Spunsey.....Slumber and Rest. 8 Harker.....How Beautiful Upon The Mountains. 9. Suppe.....Post and Prezent Overture. God Save the King. Numbers 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, were by Dr. Fisher; 2 and 6 by Miss Jones; 4 and 8 by Miss Pattillo.

The offering amounting to $36.50 was devoted to patriotic purpose.

DANGER LURKS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious kidney and bladder troubles; that it upsets the stomach, causes indigestion, loss of appetite and sleeplessness; that chronic rheumatism, gout, pain in the back, are followed as soon as the bowels become regular, and that pimples, rashes, eczema and other skin afflictions disappear when "Fruit-a-lives" are taken to correct constipation.

"Fruit-a-lives" will protect you against auto-intoxication because they contain fruit medicine acids directly on all the eliminative organs. One a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Mother's Day.

France, May 12th, 1918.

May the 12th will be Mother's Day, and we do not want to let it pass without sending our message home to our mothers, "Home", "Mothers".

How beautiful these words sound to us out here! What memories they recall! We see it all now, the daily grind of cooking, washing, and sewing with the tired eyes at night, and the big basket of darning still to be done long after we were sound asleep, and the few sparkles we got in comparison with the many we so richly deserved; and all the accidental, worry and anxiety which we caused you. We could not see it then, blind little beggars that we were—but we see it now in all its sublime beauty and nobility, and needless to say we are longing for the time when we can return home and make amends by giving to you some of the love and devotion which you so ungrudgingly gave to us. This is one of our great duties, and one which, by God's help we shall be able to fulfill when the war is won and we come home.

"When the war is won" we would be ashamed to show our faces before that is achieved—for after all it is really you, our Mothers and our Homes, for whom we are fighting.

If you could see the suffering and hardships endured by the brave women and children of this unhappy land, where so many homes have been ruined, you would not want us to return until victory has been won.

When the gift of freedom is ours, then we will come home and say it reverently at your feet, for it will be hallowed by the blood of many comrades. Then we shall devote our lives to the service of our country in the upbuilding of happy homes and a noble citizenship.

Pray for us that this high and holy vision may never fade from our minds, and that we may be given courage and patience to finish our task. Then what a glorious home-coming there will be.

Till then, therefore, we remain where we are, fighting for our Mothers and our Homes.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.

A Laugh

A laugh is just like sunshine; it freshens all the day. It tips the peak of life with light, and drives the clouds away.

The soul grows glad that hears it, and feels its courage strong; a laugh is just like sunshine for cheering folks along!

A laugh is just like music; it lingers in the heart. And where its melody is heard the life of life departs;

The happy thoughts come crowding, its joyful notes to greet— a laugh is just like music for making living sweet.

Silver Fox King at Fall Fur Auction.

New York, Tuesday.—The silver fox was king at the annual fall fur auction here today when the grand total, and the prices paid for this fur were generally high under active buying for export, especially for Denmark for the two days' selling reached no million two hundred thousand mark. White fox came second in demand. A new high record for dark marten skins was established at seventy-five dollars and fifty cents each. Excepting for beaver, the average prices for all the furs sold today equaled or exceeded those obtained at the spring sale here last April. Silver fox was twenty per cent, higher, and white fox showed an advance of thirty-five per cent.

Wednesday.—Nine dollars, the highest price ever paid for a raw skunk skin in this country, was obtained at the annual fall fur auction here today.

Bidding for all the furs offered was active, and the grand total for the three days' selling reached one million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Next to skunk to day's feature was the high price paid for house cat. The best lot brought one dollar and forty-two cents each, and the average price obtained for the fur were fifty per cent, higher than at the spring sale here. The lot of cats brought two dollars and sixty-five cents, and the average thirty per cent, over the last sale prices. Not one other advanced fifteen per cent, while the king of furs and the king of skins reached last spring's level. A break occurred for the benefit of the King of Cats brought five hundred dollars.

Weak Boys and Girls.

It is a mistake to think that anemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation, and a feeling of lassitude, call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and have complaints on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anemic boy is just a likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl, who let her boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls, instead of weakly children stunted.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail for 50 cents a box or six boxes for $5.00 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How many people say, "I don't see how I can get along." If that is the way you feel about it you surely won't get along. Better be like the American soldier whose captain called out on him for a task so hazardous that he had little chance for life. Putting his hand on the soldier's shoulder the captain said: "My boy, I hate to ask you to go." "Well, Cap," replied the boy, "I'm not begging for the job, but if it must be done, and only a man with nerve can do it, you have certainly come to the right party." And he did it. Hurrah for him!—E.K.

Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. ### More Surgeons Are Needed

BRITISH hospitals on the Somme had a critical week from April 1 to the 8th, but fortunately the German drive was stopped before the hills on which the admirably planned positions of the sick and wounded are situated. It was a wise forethought to place the different pavilions and casualty clearing stations on high ground well defended by fortifications. For a few days the whole system of hospitals was threatened, but it now appears that the German tide was rolled back in time and spent itself against fold behind fold of hills concealing trenches and cannon. According to details now published the transport and conveyance were carried on in this region with wonderful promptness and method; some of the men, after having their wounds dressed, arrived at Clairmarais on the same day as the battle. The result is said to be due to the business-like organization of the service. Under modern conditions of battle an army is not in a position to lose ground, even a few miles, without some loss of men and material.

Calculations beforehand were made in 1917, to predict the range to be expected, with the condition of being deposited before the gun was fired. The distance from the firing position to the clearing stations was 2,400 feet, or 200 yards, or 13 miles. On Gallipoli's theory, and in view of the six resistance, this velocity would send the shells nearly threefold this range, so that the great distance is revealed of the resistance of the air, although gun shells must have been sailing along for the most part at a height of two or three miles above the ground.

In order to maintain this efficiency more medical men are needed. Under modern conditions of battle an army is not in a position to lose ground, even a few miles, without some loss of men and material.

Long Range Cannon Used By British Inventors

Over Thirty Years Ago

SIR GEORGE GREENHILL, writing in the London Times says: "Paris at the moment is under a bombardment from a gun located at a range of 120 kilometres, or 75 miles. Fragments of the projectiles reveal a calibre of 240 millimetres, or 9.5 inches, practically the calibre of the gun employed by us 30 years ago in the Jubilee experiments at Shoeburyness."

These experiments were sanctioned in 1887 with the object of testing the ballistic tables and artillery theory of the day, in long-range gun, as long as was then obtainable. Our gun was elevated to 40 degrees, and fired a muzzle weighing 80 pounds, with a muzzle velocity of about 2,400 feet per second. The range measured was over 22,000 yards, or 13 miles. On Gallipoli's theory, and in view of the six resistance, this velocity would send the shells nearly threefold this range, so that the great distance is revealed of the resistance of the air, although gun shells must have been sailing along for the most part at a height of two or three miles above the ground.

Calculations beforehand were made in 1917, to predict the range to be expected, with the condition of being deposited before the gun was fired. The distance from the firing position to the clearing stations was 2,400 feet, or 200 yards, or 13 miles. On Gallipoli's theory, and in view of the six resistance, this velocity would send the shells nearly threefold this range, so that the great distance is revealed of the resistance of the air, although gun shells must have been sailing along for the most part at a height of two or three miles above the ground.

In order to maintain this efficiency more medical men are needed. Under modern conditions of battle an army is not in a position to lose ground, even a few miles, without some loss of men and material.
