A Wonderful Help in Keeping the Complexion Youthful and Clear.

Perhaps you wonder how so many women manage to have a complexion that is always fresh and clear, and how you can make your complexion better. Here's the secret:—

This is the Vanishing Cream that softens the skin and gives it that soft, velvety radiance that we all desire.
Nyal's Face Cream is not oily or greasy, and it is readily absorbed by the skin, vanishing without leaving any tell tale gloss on skin. The skin welcomes this pleasant, soothing, cooling cream. It makes dry, tight skin soft and pliable. It makes rough skin firm and smooth, and gradually gives to coarse rough skin a finer, more delicate texture.

CHAPTER XVII.
A Lion of Society.

Eva went to some friends at the other end of the room and was chatting with them, when she was aware of a sudden cessation of talk, of stillness, which, by experience, she knew proclaimed the advent of the celebrity of the evening. She glanced toward the door and saw a tall, a very tall man, standing there talking to her aunt, who was receiving him with empressment. He was a good-looking, strongly built man with a tanned face and blue eyes—they looked startlingly blue in their tanned surroundings. He wore a very short beard cut to a point; and something about his strongly marked face, the directness of his look, the self-possessed attitude of his figure, as if he were knit up for any emergency, differentiated from the other men in the room who seemed ordinary by comparison with him. Eva thought he looked rather bored already, and he glanced at the door, through which he had only just entered, as if he were already meditating escape.

Eva heard her aunt say: "The collection is in the other room, Mr. Osborne;" and as Lady Lorchester took him there, she introduced him to any one who happened to be near. The great celebrity looked still more bored as he passed into the other room. Aunt Emily fluttered over to Eva.

"My dear," she said excitedly, "come with me and show him the arrowheads. I'm afraid he'll run off. He is so difficult, so—so anxious to get away."

Much amused, Eva accompanied her aunt to the room where the collection was displayed. The captured lion turned as she entered, muttered something, and seemed about to pass them, probably meditating flight; then he looked at Eva again, and hesitated.

"I have come to show you the arrowheads or whatever they are," said Eva. "I am Lady Lorchester's niece," she added, for in her perturbation Lady Lorchester had retreated to the drawing-room.

The great traveller frowned at her. "What do you know about them?" he inquired rather brusquely.

"Nothing whatever," said Eva.

He looked at her steadily, and his frown melted into a smile of amusement.

"There is nothing much to know about them," he said. "They are by no means extraordinary; you could buy most of 'em in Museum Street. So you are Lady Lorchester's niece? What is your name? Why didn't she introduce us?"

Repressing her desire to laugh, Eva told him her name. And he regarded her steadily, as if she were a specimen more interesting than those by which he had been beguiled by Lady Lorchester.

"Let's sit down," he said suddenly. "It's quieter here away from that mob in the other room. How I hate mobs of that kind! What on earth can you find amusing in it!"

"The proper study of Mankind is Man," Eva reminded him.

"Not that kind of man; it's not worth studying," he retorted. "They are always as alike as peas."

"There are some small peas in the pod," said Eva.

"These are all small," he said. "Do you mean to tell me you like coming to parties of this kind?"

"Yes," said Eva gravely. "Some of these people are my friends. Don't abuse them, please."

"Sorry," he said, but not very penitently. "I should have thought you were above this kind of thing."

"I suppose you intend to be complimentary," said Eva with a smile. "But why should I be above it?"

He passed his hand over his beard and almost scowled at her.

"I was judging by your face," he said. "Oh, I don't mean to be offensive." Eva had colored slightly. "I have had to judge by faces for many a year, and you get pretty smart at it after a time, especially when, in so many cases, your life depends upon your making up your mind whether the man you're talking to is going to hold out his hand empty or with a weapon of offence in it."

"I am not the least bit offended," said Eva; "and I suppose you know by this time that I am not going to stab or shoot you?"

"No; I don't suppose you'd do that, unless you were driven to it," he said.

"Thank you," said Eva. "And now, won't you tell me something about your travels?"

He recoiled with something like an expression of horror.

"Good Lord, no!" he exclaimed. "What have you ever done to me that I should inflict you so badly?"

"But I should be very much interested," pleaded Eva. "You have been to some extraordinary places and done some wonderful things."

"Oh, don't!" he said with something like a groan. "Don't disappoint me. I expected something very different from you. Everybody asks me that question. It's a kind of duty; and if I don't bore them to death, they look and speak as if I'd defrauded them of their just due. Hold on!" For Eva had opened her lips to assure him that she was just as curious as the rest of the world, and that she wouldn't be bored. "If you want to know anything about what I've done—and I give you my word of honor that it's nothing wonderful—come and hear me read a paper next Thursday at the British Institution."

"Thank you. I will come," said Eva.

"I will send you a ticket," he said, and he wrote down her address on his shirt-cuff. "I hate reading papers, lecturing; I hate talking in any kind of public. I can't see what there is to make a fuss about in anything I've done. I did it to amuse myself, and I shouldn't have done it if I hadn't liked it. Just at present I'm a great deal more interested in London, the sights and shows and all that kind of thing. I'm like a boy let loose from school, for a holiday, a spree."

"I love London!" said Eva.

They began to talk about the great city which is as fascinating as a beautiful, mysterious, Sphinx-like woman; they compared notes; they talked of Dickens' London, of Thackeray's; they gloried in the parks, the old, historic houses. Insensibly Eva spoke of her life in the country gradually he was drawn, notwithstanding his real reluctance, into speaking of the unknown lands into which he had penetrated. They sat side by side on a comfortable ottoman, and they looked at each other eye to eye; Eva began to feel as if they were old friends; and it was no difficult because, notwithstanding his vast experience of many lands and many peoples, the great traveler was as simple-hearted and as transparent as a child; perhaps that was the reason of his success. They forgot all about "the mob" in the other room but Aunt Emily had not forgotten the latest lion, and presently she came in with an inundation of persons who were dying to be introduced to the famous Owen Osborne.

His manner changed instantly; he became almost sullen, looked at his watch, muttered something, and was striding to the door; then he seemed to remember Eva, and he came back to her.

"I'd like to know what you think of that paper," he said. "Shall I call on you, or have you seen enough of me?"

"Oh, call," said Eva, laughing.

He nodded and was making his way unceremoniously through the group surrounding them when the footman announced Lord Herndale. Owen Osborne stopped and knit his brows.

"Herndale!" he said, as if he were trying to remember something. "Herndale? I seem to remember the name. I think I've met him somewhere, but I can't recollect when or where."

He was looking at Eva absently, and she glanced in the direction of Lord Herndale, who was shaking hands with Lady Lorchester at the entrance to the other room. Owen Osborne peered over the heads of the people then shrugged his shoulders.

"That isn't the man I knew," he said. "I must be mistaken, Good night. Don't forget—Thursday."

Eva condescended to be lionized; then drove home, and thought a good deal about him on the way. She liked him. She had not met any one whom she liked so much since—since Mr. Lashmore. For some time Harry Lashmore had naturally occupied a prominent place in her mind; but Eva was a high-minded girl and she succeeded in thrusting Lashmore into the back-ground. She might have loved him very dearly, but his conduct had been inexplicable; he had gone off without making any sign, any attempt to explain his conduct, to retain her good will.

There may be some women who would not only condone such conduct, but cling to the man all the closer for his ill treatment; but Eva was not one of them. Yes, certainly she liked Mr. Osborne, and she intended going to hear his lecture.

Her father was sitting up for her in what was called the library; she came in softly and found him sitting at the table in a dejected attitude, his head resting on his hand. He looked up with a start as she entered, and hastily thrust aside a sheet of paper over which he had been bending.

MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. T. F. CLOYD, 1355 North Galick Ave., Decatur, Ill.

Expectant mothers should profit by Mrs. Cloyd's experience, and trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Free confidential advice had by addressing Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

she was shocked by his attitude and her weariness and dejection of his face; and she went to him and put her arm round his shoulder.

"Oh, what is the matter, father?" she asked anxiously. "You look so worried and tired."

"Nothing, nothing, my dear," he said hurriedly. "I have just been going through some accounts. Have you had a pleasant evening?"

"Oh, yes," she said, with a laugh. "But I'm afraid Aunt Emily hasn't; and I'm sorry for her, because I love her. She is the dearest, sweetest aunt in all the world. It was about a lion who turned rusty."

She told him about the great traveler and latest hero; but Sir Talbot listened rather inattentively.

"Was Lord Herndale there?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," said Eva. "I only saw him for a minute or two, for I was talking so much with Mr. Owen Osborne. Lord Herndale came out to the carriage with me, as usual; and, by the way, he asked me to tell you that he would be round to-morrow morning."

Sir Talbot nodded and checked a sigh.

No Indigestion Gas Or Stomach Misery In Five Minutes

"Pape's Diapepsin" for sour, acid stomach, heartburn, dyspepsia.

Time! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

Household Notes.

When cooking asparagus cook a little more than is needed and put it in the icebox for a future salad.

Meringues on puddings and pies should not be applied while the dish is still hot. Let it cool slightly.

Save the potato peelings, if they have eyes in them they will grow when planted, just as well as whole potatoes.

G. F. S. Festival.

The annual festival of the Girls' Friendly Society was observed yesterday by the members in large numbers attending the celebration of Holy Communion at the Cathedral at 7 a. m., at which a very instructive address was delivered by Rev. Canon Field. In the evening a sociable was held at the Synod Hall, at which a large gathering including Lady Davidson, Lady Horwood, Lady Bowring, Rev. Doctor Jones and other clergymen attended. A splendid programme of songs, recitations and instrumental selections was gone through, those assisting being Mrs. (Dr.) Smith, Mrs. Alec. Winter, Misses Dorothy Johnson, Margaret McNeil, M. LeMessurier, Vera Furneaux and Dunfield; Messrs. F. Emerson and C. H. Hutton acted as accompanists, the former also contributing a piano selection. The entertainment also included a ventriloquist display by Mr. Wheeler and the sketch, "The Crystal Gazer," in which Mrs. Cooper and Miss LeMessurier took part. Following the concert the prizes were graciously presented by Lady Davidson, as follows:—

PRIZE LIST, 1917.

Scripture—1st, Ella Facey; 2nd, Louise Hiscock, Viola Coaker, Elsie Stone, Sarah Duffett.
Improvement in Writing—1st, Isabella Saunders; 2nd, Jennie Richardson.

For the Best Letter—1st, Selina Bartlett; 2nd, Gertrude Cardwell; 3rd, Isabella Saunders.
Improvement in Reading and Writing—Eleanor Dowden.
For Purificators—1st, Hope Daymond; 2nd, Elsie Stone; 3rd, Annie Jones.

Most Patriotic Work Done This Season—Elsie Stone, Sarah Duffett.
For Attendance (not missed a meeting)—Viola Coaker, Elsie Stone, Sarah Duffett, Frances Matthews, Nellie Matthews, Gertrude Cardwell.

Longest Time in One Situation—1st, Rebecca George; 2nd, Annie Sommer-

ton. At the close of the distribution a vote of thanks, proposed by Rev. Canon White, who presided during the evening, and who paid a high tribute to her work, was accorded Lady Davidson. The thanks of the society were also tendered those who assisted in the concert and the generous donors of the prizes, viz., Lady Horwood, Lady Bowring, Mesdames W. C. Job, White, Bolt, A. O. Hayward, R. B. Job, Gray, J. A. Clift, F. W. Hayward, H. Rendell, C. Bowring (Liverpool), P. H. Knowling, Cooper, Brehm, Goaling, F. Carter and Misses H. E. Horwood and Branscombe. Tea and cake was served before the gathering dispersed.

Citizens' Committee

Chairman A. Soper presided at last night's meeting of the Citizens' Committee. The Chairman read a letter from the Auditor General informing the Committee that it was the custom to make a monthly audit of the City Council book.

A reconsideration of Section 324 was then passed and it was made to conform with the existing rule.

A lengthy discussion in relation to a Municipal Inspector of weights and measures brought forth some strong arguments in favour of the appointment of a qualified person to that position. The following recommendation was submitted and passed: "This Committee recommends that the inspection of weights and measures for the city be brought under the control of the Municipal Council."

A matter of great importance, viz., the Pension Fund, came up for discussion, and nothing definite being decided on, it will come up for future discussion at the next night of meeting.

CITY'S HEALTH.—Four cases of diphtheria were reported within the city limits during the past week and three residences were disinfected. There are now in hospital three scarlet fever patients and thirty-seven of diphtheria.

THE WAR.

Another short interval of quiet has descended upon the Western front, but it is not before another storm. Fighting such as the British front has witnessed in the last week must wear itself out by its own intensity. So too the immense effort of the French below Laon, to which what we have heard has done meagre justice, must demand a breathing space. It is impossible to forecast the next development, but it is reasonably certain that Lens and Laon will continue to be the respective goals of the British and French. As we have come to expect, vague rumours take the place of the news that is lacking of sensational fighting. Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey are once more ready to give up the struggle, and any prepared for the momentous tidings from behind the line in Germany.

This is most of it smoke, but there must be a little fire. The silence from Austria is naturally compared with that which preceded the news of the Russian revolution, and may suggest surmises for which there is no foundation. Austria's attitude has for some time been an open secret. Dominated and controlled by Germany, she would yet break her alliance in a moment if she might thereby purchase the integrity of her territory and exemption from any indemnity. Unfortunately for her, that is impossible. Reparation is the Allies' cry and an unalterable purpose, and none of the enemy alliance will accept that humiliation, until compelled to it. Which brings us back, as it always will, to the battlefront. Only as they react there must we consider the disturbances in the Central Empires, which even the censor can no longer keep hid, as of any importance. Not even the starvation of the enemy will matter, until it translates itself into the military defeat from which there is no recovery. Fortunately for the world, these influences will sooner or later disastrously affect the military situation, which even as it stands already menaces Germany with defeat.

The greatest victory of the British, perhaps of any army in the war was won a fortnight and more ago at Arras and Vimy. The heavy casualty list that came in yesterday tells the other side of the story. It is fitting that Sir Edward Morris' message has that our men fell at Monchy. And the correspondents have been telling us repeatedly that Monchy-le-Preux was a position of great importance and the scene of desperate fighting. Beyond doubt the narrative of Philip Gibbs, which spoke of the heroic and invaluable work of a detachment of "overseas troops" at a critical moment, concerned our Regiment. Once more grief is assuaged with pride, for their was a great achievement. Suva Bay—Beaumont Hamel—Guedecourt—Monchy-le-Preux! So the tale is added to, and becomes more glorious with each addition. They are names to add to our history, names bought with red blood but gleaming in letters of gold.

"Ours" at Monchy.

Sir Edward Morris Tells of their Bravery.

27th April, 1917.
Dear Sir,
I am in receipt of a message from the Prime Minister, London, from which the following is an extract:

"The Secretary of State has sent me extract from letter from General Allenby who says that the Newfoundlanders did great work at Monchy on the 15th instant in repelling heavy counter attacks by Germans. They showed splendid staunchness and fought like heroes. They fought all day and accounted for a lot of Germans. Their Commanding Officer, by promptness and personal bravery, avoided what might have been a very serious situation."

This will be of great interest to the public; we know that our boys are able to stand their ground, with anyone when the test comes.

Yours faithfully,
J. R. BENNETT,
Colonial Secretary.

His Excellency the Governor has forwarded the following despatch to Major Timewell, London:
"Following for O. C. 1st Battalion, We have just received report by General Allenby of the staunch heroism of your Battalion at Monchy on April 15th.

"We at home are very proud of this added renown and congratulate you on your fine leading and all ranks of the Regiment in adding yet another name to the glorious roll of Caribou Hill, Beaumont Hamel and Guedecourt."

Commemoration Service at St Thomas's

The Governor, American Consul and Others will attend.
His Excellency the Governor, the Acting Premier and the American Consul will attend the service at St. Thomas's Church on Sunday morning next in commemoration of the entry of the United States in the War. No formal invitations have been issued but a welcome is extended to all public officials and leaders in the community who may desire to be present.

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range, and how you have had to handle it all twice, first, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the ash barrel.

No more soot to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Cares.
Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.
Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

(Under the distinguished patronage of H. E. the Governor).—Grand Entertainment of St. Margaret's Guild will be repeated in Canon Wood Hall on Tuesday, May 1st, at 8.15 p.m. Proceeds in aid of Red Cross Fund. Tickets on sale at Gray & Goodland's.—apr27,11

GERMAN PLOT IN U. S. A.

NEW YORK, To-day. Charges that Max Lymar, also known as Count Lymar, Luden, has been plotting to seize the person of the President and raise an army of 170,000 German reservists in this country for an invasion of Canada were made to-day, when he applied for release on parole from the prison where he is serving a sentence for forgery. The application for parole was made to Judge Rosalsky in the court of general sessions through the Commissioner of Corrections, who recommended that it be granted. The application was opposed by representatives of the Department of Justice and the police. During his trial agents of the Department of Justice made allegation that Lymar was a notorious international crook, Max Schismansk by name, who had operated in France and Germany, and was serving a prison term in Germany under the alias of Count Marcel Depassy.

THE FIGHT FOR ORAONNE.

French Headquarters on French Front April 25th.
The renewed German efforts twice last night to loosen the French grip on the Chemin des Dames around Cerny westward of Craonne wilted and then died away under the stubborn resistance of the French. Strong German forces were thrown toward the French positions about night fall along 2,000 yard front, where the French as the result of their forward push last week, virtually dominate the valley through which the Ailette stream runs. Further along toward Craonne, which sits on the road, German commands the main road from Rheims to Laon, on a plain spreading eastward lies Hurlbise Farm, which is held by Cerny the constant German attention in consequence of its situation near Craonne, the continued possession of which is of great importance to the Germans. The opposing artillery fight an incessant duel in this sector and the Germans are doing their utmost by holding Craonne to threaten the French advance across the flat lands towards Laon.

VERY LATEST!

THE ALLIES' STRATEGY.

PARIS, To-day. Under the caption, "Why we attacked," a writer in the Matin points out that before the present movement began, the German plan undoubtedly was to escape from the grasp of the Allies, the power of which had been revealed by operations on the Somme. He continues, to frustrate this plan the French in agreement with the British widened the front of their attack so as to overlap the front on which the Germans were retreating. The result was that the enemy found both his wings involved. He decided, as shown by orders found on officers, to fight on the first line. This changed the conditions and the French plan was promptly altered to suit. The result of the first and second days' fighting was that the Germans lost fully 100,000 men, and what was more important were obliged to engage 33 out of their 43 reserve divisions. The clearly bought but valuable results of the Aisne and Champagne operations are thus, first, that the enemy was prevented from carrying out his own plan and instead had to abandon the initiative to the Allies, thus completely disposing of the famous Hindenburg scheme which was to be followed on conclusion of the retreat from Noyon. It also made inroads on the strategic reserves which were to have carried out that scheme. Second, the enemy was obliged to order his troops to hold out to the last extremity on the first line before the whole had been completed; a tactical success to which must be added heavy losses in men, material and guns.

BIG EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.

LONDON, To-day. A violent earthquake in Tuscany and Umbria is reported in a Rome despatch to have occurred on Thursday morning. Many persons are reported killed at Montecchi, near Arezzo, capital of the province of that name. Considerable material damage is also reported.

The incoming express with first-class passengers is expected to leave Port aux Basques this afternoon. The local from Carletonar reached the city at 12.40 p.m. to-day.

Killed in Action.

Private Thomas J. Fitzgerald was killed in action, April 14th, 1917. He was the son of Elizabeth Hicks and the late Thomas Fitzgerald. Thomas was raised in Mount Cashel for eight years and shortly after leaving Mt. Cashel he joined the Newfoundland Regiment; he also has a brother and step-brother serving the colours. Thomas and his brother Sylvester went through the July drive and also the 12th of October and came through without a scratch. No doubt this is a sorrowful blow to his grief-stricken mother. His step-father is in the insane Asylum, as he broke down when Thomas left the home. All his friends mourn his loss.

William vs. the World.

(Sir Owen Seaman in Punch.)
Doubtless you feel that such a fight would be a huge recline for Hum-dum.
That Earth would stagger at the sight O-Guilelmus contra Mundum;
That William, facing awful odds, Should prove a spectacle for men and gods.
And if the game against you goes, As seems, I take it fairly certain, The Hero, felled by countless foes, Should make a rather useful curtain;
You could with honor cry for grace, Having preserved the thing you call your face.
I shouldn't count too much on that, The globe is patient, slow and pen-sive,
But has no way of crushing fat; The objects which it finds offensive; And when it's done with you, my brave,
I doubt if you will have a face to save.

Invalids and Selfishness.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"And she used to be so unselfish and thoughtful of other people," said my neighbor. "I was talking of a woman who has been a semi-invalid the past two years. With her illness has come a startling change in character. She used to be interested in other people, thoughtful, cheerful, unselfish; she has become querulous, self-centered and absolutely unprincipled in the greediness with which she accepts the self-annihilation of an unusually devoted daughter."

"Well," said I, "invalidism usually does affect people that way."

"Does it?" said my neighbor, "What about Elizabeth?"

She found strength of character on a sick bed.

Elizabeth is the tenderest, strongest woman we know. And she found her strength and her greatness (these two qualities that are so strangely, yet so often found together) on a sick bed where she lay for months, uncertain if she would ever walk again.

"Oh, yes," said I, "but she is different."

"Yes," said my neighbor, "she stood almost the hardest test one could have and come out unselfish, you couldn't pay her a bigger tribute."

And I agreed.

I do not think people fully realize the dangers of self-centeredness that lie in any extended period of invalidism.

We see how slender is the thread. Illness makes the "sword of Damocles" that always hangs over our loved-ones, visible. We shudder to see how slender the thread that holds it and we cannot do enough for the one who is threatened.

This is all very well if the illness does not last too long. But if it does, the invalid is too likely to come to accept these attentions as his due.

It is so painfully easy to grow used to services of any kind. When one cannot wait on oneself it gradually becomes natural to accept everything from others, and accept it as one's due, not as a beautiful gift.

When people are always asking about one's health, one comes to assume that one's health is the all-important thing.

Other People Are to Blame for the Invalid's Self-Centeredness.

When one does not have to make the effort that the average daily living involves it is so easy to stop making any kind of effort.

When one has the justification of pain, it is so easy to give way to querulousness.

When one is sick and shut in, it is so easy to get into the habit of being depressed and of letting other people give constantly of their vitality to cheer one up.

It is always easy to be selfish and an effort to be unselfish. It is doubly hard when all those about you are eager to aid and abet you, as they are in the case of a beloved invalid.

THE SPRING PEST.

If I could wield the pen of Pope, or talk like forty Bryans, I'd hand out much impassioned dandelinos. Man strives and strives to have a lawn the town will be applauding; at twilight hour, at noon, at dawn, you see him sowing, sodding. He sows about a ton of seed of blue grass and white clover, and then that dandelion weed just spreads itself all over. And all those weeds his soul delect; he tries to kill and burn them; and then in many a dialect he learns to blank and dern them. He hires about a thousand boys to slay them when they're blowing; for every one a youth destroys, ten million will be growing. And so for years he struggles on, still hoping, still pursuing, still dreaming of a handsome lawn, then sees there's nothing doing. And then at last he falls from grace, he ceases all his trying; the dandelions take the place, the grass is brown and dying. And people, as they journey by, observe, and mutter glumly: "That shiftless fellow doesn't try to make his place look comely!"

Obituary.

VICTOR CHESLEY BATSON.

At his home in English Harbor there passed away, on the 16th inst., Victor Chesley Batson, after an illness of three years. He had been a well-known school teacher and an earnest student for the Anglican priesthood, but ill health intervened and he had to relinquish this long cherished hope. Although unable to take any active part, he took a keen interest in the war—a brother, Lieut. Arthur Batson, being with the Canadian troops—and many of our readers will remember verses in this paper written by him, one contribution having been entitled "Not to Paris Yet."

French Official.

PARIS, April 26 (Official). Intermittent artillery fighting occurred in various sectors. On the banks of the Oise a German reconnoitering party attempted to approach our trenches near Moy. It was repulsed easily. North of the Aisne the enemy renewed in vain his efforts to expel us from the plateau near the Chemin-des-Dames. After violent bombardment yesterday evening two powerful attacks were made on a front of about two kilometres west of Cerny. The assaults were broken before our lines with very heavy losses for the enemy. Another attack on Hurbise failed likewise. In Juven-court district our artillery dispersed the Germans. In Pompelle district the Germans tried a raid but the only result was the loss of prisoners captured by our troops.

AN EXPERT ON COLDS

Comparatively few people realize that a cold is a signal of physical weakness. To treat a cold with weakening physics, alcoholic syrups or drugged pills, may smother the cold but they also reduce the body powers still further and invite more serious sickness.

Scott's Emulsion has always been an expert on colds, because it peculiarly enriches the blood, quickly tones up the forces and strengthens both throat and chest. Try Scott's, Refuse Substitutes.

Nerves Weak Had Hysterics

Orillia Lady Tells of Her Pitiable Condition When the Nerve Food Way and She Became Sleepless, Irritable and Excited.

Orillia, Ont., April 27th.—There is an abundance of proof found right here in Orillia that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unrivaled as a means of forming new, rich blood and building up the exhausted nervous system.

At this season almost everybody feels the need of restorative, tonic treatment to keep up vitality and ward off the tired, languid feelings. This letter will give you some idea of the splendid results to be obtained by using this great food cure.

Mrs. Percy Moulding, 28 West street, Orillia, Ont., writes:—

"Some years ago my nerves got the better of me. I became so bad that on one occasion, during a thunder-storm, I had a severe attack of hysterics. Then I became anxious about my condition. It was sleeplessness and nervous debility that were my trouble. Some nights it would be 1 o'clock before I could get to sleep. Knowing the good results obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I commenced a treatment. I took about seven boxes, and gradually I could feel my nerves becoming steady and my appetite returning. I could sleep well, and stay alone without any difficulty. Some little time ago I commenced losing in weight, and I began using the Nerve Food again as a tonic. I used only two boxes, and recovered the weight I had lost. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and when I see anyone looking ill or nervous I say, 'Get busy and use some Nerve Food.'"

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint. 1

TALK OF RAISING TAXES CATED BY THE MUNICIPALITY VIA PAVING DISCUSSION OF CATCH-BASINS.

One of the most important sessions since the Municipal Board came into power last night.

The question of decision not the City would have paving done this year until next week. A general took place on the night. Board favoured the idea of the Tarvia pavement on the north Street. It is not the necessary work will be done, owing to lack of funds. The Mayor then read a statement to the Council.

"I have a matter of Council this evening which is more than ordinary importance. It is a matter of great economical change taking place in the world. Factors have been at work about this change, and thirty to forty million should have been possible. It has been wasted in the past, and millions more are being needed for the same purpose. On the other hand, nations have been largely declined, and the need for them has increased. On the other hand, the waste and destruction of the present. TALK OF RAISING TAXES ADVOCATED BY THE MAYOR—TARVIA PAVING DISCUSSED—ABUSE OF CATCH-BASINS.

One of the most important and busiest sessions since the present Municipal Board came into power was held last night.

The question of deciding whether or not the City would have any tarvia paving done this year was deferred till next week. A general discussion took place on the matter and the Board favoured the idea of extending the Tarvia pavement east on Duckworth Street. It is not likely that this necessary work will be done this season, owing to lack of funds.

The Mayor then read the following statement to the Council:

"I have a matter to lay before the Council this evening which is of more than ordinary importance, and of more than ordinary difficulty. Ever since the war broke out, a great economical change has been taking place in the world. Two great factors have been at work to bring about this change. On the one hand, thirty-fourty million men, who should have been peacefully producing, have been wasting and destroying, and millions more have been at work providing them with the implements of destruction. Consequently the production of commodities has largely declined, at the same time as the need for them has largely increased. On the other hand the war nations have had to find money to pay the terrible cost of war. Billions of pounds sterling have been borrowed from the future to pay for the waste and destruction of the present. A large proportion of this amount has been in the shape of manufactured money. We all know that gold is the standard of value and it is easy to see that if gold is manufactured wholesale by the assistance of a printing press, its value is bound to decline. The enormous increase in money, or inflation of currency as it is called, has been equally responsible with the lessening production of commodities, in causing a complete dislocation of the relative values of money and goods. Money has become cheap and goods have become dear. The gold sovereign has had, as it were, a large piece clipped off it. So long as the war lasts, so long will these two great factors act and react upon each other. One of the things which is purchased by money is service or labor. The salary, or the wage, paid in 1914 will not do the same work now. It has been depreciated in value very considerably. Last year we found it necessary to give an advance of approximately 15 per cent. to all the employees of the City, and employers have again found it necessary to advance the wages of labourers from 10 to 15 per cent. The City pays to its regular employees a sum of $22,000 per annum, and to casual labour about $10,000 additional. But the City is in a peculiar position, different from other employers of labour. It derives the principal portion of its revenue from taxes paid by the people, and the City Government is obliged by law to lay before the Legislature of the Colony an estimate of the expenditure and revenue for the ensuing year. If not objected to by the Legislature, the taxes thus proposed become lawful and the expenditures thus authorized must not be exceeded.

The estimates for this year have been submitted and it is difficult to see how they can be altered. I think it is possible for the Council to submit a supplementary estimate to the Legislature, but I confess I do not see where the money is to come from unless the taxes are raised. The matter requires very careful consideration both as to the amount of the increase, if any, and how the money is to be obtained with which to pay it. I intend calling a special meeting of the Council during the coming week for the purpose of considering the question and hope at next Thursday's meeting that we may be able to announce some decision on the matter."

Acting on the suggestion of Councilor Dr. Tait, the Council are sending out this circular letter to people living where "hoppers" are in use:

"The Municipal Council feels certain that you cannot but appreciate the great improvement that has been made in the condition of the street and drains opposite your door by the provision of a catch-basin, in which you can throw all your slop water. You no doubt remember, two or three years ago, when you had no place to throw your slops except into the drain, how the street became a very cesspool, stinking and filthy, how the children in the neighbourhood used to play in these dirty places, and how the filth used to be walked into your house. Your street is now clean and dry and as nice as any part of the town, unless you and your neighbors either fail to make use of the catch-basin, or use them improperly. Complaint has been made that nuisance has been thrown into these catch-basins, and the Council wishes you to take notice that they were not intended for any such purpose, and if the practice is continued other means will have to be employed to enforce observance of the regulation. The Council feels sure you would not like to go back to such conditions, but wish your street to be clean and sweet-smelling and tidy, and such that your children can play in it without danger.

You no doubt like to keep your passage and stairs clean, and you should take almost as much interest in the street just outside your door, and do nothing to make it filthy and unwholesome.

The Council is doing everything in its power to keep the city clean and tidy, but they cannot succeed if the people themselves do not help. Therefore, do not throw slops or refuse into the street, do not throw nuisance into the catch-basins or gutters, try to keep the street in front of your door clean and tidy."

The Colonial Secretary wrote stating that the site of the Cold Storage Plant, south of Reid's railway station, was not prejudicial to the city's interests.

E. Ebsary, South Side, accepted $75 offered by Council, for land fronting his residence. A letter was received from the Nfld. Cold Storage Fresh Fish Co. stating that their plant when in full swing will require 300 gallons of water a minute and asked permission to connect a 20 inch water line to their premises. Deferred until full estimate as to amount of water used per day is known. A considerable amount of minor business was dealt with, after which the meeting adjourned.

We understand that nine automobiles were landed from a steamer which we are mainly depending on to bring us food and not five machines as stated by a contemporary. What do the Food Commission know about this? Which are the more necessary and the more desirable importations at present, motor cars or food stuffs? The answer is quite obvious.

At a meeting of the Food Commissioners, held in the Minister of Justice's Office yesterday afternoon, it was decided to deal first of all with the coal supply. Representatives of the principal importers have been invited to attend this afternoon when their evidence will be taken. Mr. H. W. LeMessurier, C.M.G., one of the Commissioners, will furnish statistics in relation to the imports of the principal foodstuffs for a period covering a number of years, and the Commission will use them as a basis on which to work.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at Gower St. Parsonage last night, when Miss Gwendoline, daughter of Supt. Grimes, was united in matrimony to Mr. Chas. Andrews. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon. The bride looked charming in a costume of sage blue with hat to match and was attended by her sister-in-law Mrs. S. Grimes, while Mr. Grimes ably supported the groom. After the ceremony the party enjoyed a spin countrywards. Arriving at the bride's future home Bannerman Street a tasty supper was served and an enjoyable time was spent. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable gifts, testifying to her popularity in the community.

Crew of Duchess of Cornwall

PRISONERS IN GERMANY. 26th April, 1917.

I beg to forward herewith copy of letter, under date 22nd March, from the Board of Trade to the Secretary of State, London, respecting certain members of the Crew of the Newfoundland Schooner Duchess of Cornwall, who are now Prisoners in Germany.

His Excellency the Governor remarks that he has already applied for the supply to these men of the food and comforts sent to all British Prisoners of War in Germany. The Camp in which they are detained is better managed than the majority in Germany, and the men will not suffer undue hardships.

The publication of the enclosure will, no doubt, be of interest. I have the honour to be, Your obedient servant, J. R. BENNETT, Colonial Secretary.

The Editor, Evening Telegram.

Board of Trade, (Marine Department), 7 Whitehall Gardens, London, S. W., 22nd March, 1917.

I am directed by the Board of Trade to state for the information of the Secretary of State that they have received a copy of the Official German List of Prisoners of War, dated 12th February, forwarded by the Geneva Red Cross on 27th February, in which the following members of the crew of the Newfoundland schooner "Duchess of Cornwall":

Alfred Anderson, Isaac Anderson, Arthur Barter, George Grant, are reported to be interned at Dulmen.

I have, &c. (Sgd.) C. HIPWOOD, The Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office, S.W.

Mother! Don't take Chances If Child's Tongue Is Coated

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Wedding Bells.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at Gower St. Parsonage last night, when Miss Gwendoline, daughter of Supt. Grimes, was united in matrimony to Mr. Chas. Andrews. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon. The bride looked charming in a costume of sage blue with hat to match and was attended by her sister-in-law Mrs. S. Grimes, while Mr. Grimes ably supported the groom. After the ceremony the party enjoyed a spin countrywards. Arriving at the bride's future home Bannerman Street a tasty supper was served and an enjoyable time was spent. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable gifts, testifying to her popularity in the community.

Smart Blouses!

Our Ladies' Dept. is now displaying a remarkably choice selection of Blouses in Crepe de Chine, Silk and Georgette Crepe. These Blouses are distinctly characteristic in style and illustrate Fashion's latest fancy in sleeves and collars, the former are all long with dainty cuffs, while the latter are very deep and quaintly cut.

The new surplice neck is very much in evidence and the entire stock is as charming and up-to-date as it can possibly be.

The leading colors are Flesh, Coral and Blue, but there is a wide choice of lovely colors, also Black and Black and White.

Barefaced Fraud

CARRIED ON AT HARBOR GRACE—PERPETRATOR CAUGHT.

Constable Dooley is here from Hr. Grace with a prisoner named George Adams, a planter of that place, who was convicted of fraud and sentenced to six weeks in jail for deliberately and fraudulently trying to deceive his creditors. It appears that some three years ago judgment was given against Adams before the Magistrate at Hr. Grace for debt. He was the possessor of a goodly share of property, which, including his home, he made over to his son. He made application before the Supreme Court on Circuit a few days ago at Hr. Grace, setting forth his alleged insolvency and praying that he be declared by the Court. An investigation being made, Adams was arraigned before Judge Johnson and sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment. Yesterday afternoon he was accompanied to the Penitentiary.

DIED.

At Green Bay, Wisconsin, U.S.A. at the home of her son, the Rev. Charles Bulley, Emily Bulley, wife of the late William Bulley, and daughter of the late John Woods of this city.

Private Thomas J. Fitzgerald was killed in action somewhere in France, April 14th, 1917. He leaves a mother, step-father, 3 sisters, 1 brother, 3 step-brothers and a large circle of friends to mourn his sad loss. Halifax, Sydney and Quebec papers please copy. Rest in Peace.

There passed peacefully away after a long and painful illness, Donald Barton, aged 21 years, only and beloved son of Constable John and Marion Simmons; besides father and mother there are left to mourn one sister, Miss Marjorie; funeral from his late residence, 11 Bulley Street, on Sunday, at 2.30 pm.; friends and acquaintances accept this, the only intimation.

At Montreal on April 16th, 1917, Mary Jane Hignett, beloved wife of Michael Hignett, left to mourn six children, father and sister.—R.I.P.

Warring Factions in Court

A field off Alexander Street has been the scene of many a stormy conflict recently, the combatants being twenty-four boys, who, equally divided, set themselves apart a certain distance agreed upon and armed with a plentiful supply of stones, fired at each other. During the last "big advance" one faction gained complete supremacy over the other. Some casualties were recorded among the retreating party and neutrals also suffered from the enemy's attack, as when truce was declared, fourteen panes of glass and sashes of windows in the woolen factory were found to be demolished. Some people living in the neighborhood, becoming terrified by the warfare, acquainted the police authorities and Detective Whelan went and got the names of sixteen of the survivors of the battle and summoned them. To-day they appeared in court, charged with looting and disorderly conduct. Judge Morris admonished strongly on this particular kind of rough sport, warned the defendants that if they continued their warfare they would get a dose of the birch rod. Seven of the youths who displayed "conspicuous gallantry" in the fray were each fined $1.50, the others being dismissed.

BRITISH SUCCESS.

PARIS, April 26 (Official).
Eastern Theatre, April 25th.—On the night of April 24-25 British troops attacked west of Lake Doiran and carried enemy trenches on a front of 1,000 metres north of the Kraustil-Dolzeleli line, which they maintained and consolidated after having repulsed four counter attacks and inflicted sanguinary losses on the enemy. Enemy reconnaissances were repulsed and there was active artillery fighting on the Cerna-Monastir front. An enemy airplane fell in flames in the region of Doiran.

"BRAVE AND GALLANT ENEMY."

LONDON, April 26.
The British steamer Kildale, bound for Malta, was torpedoed in the Mediterranean on April 12th. While the crew was in the boats the submarine came to the surface and fired on the boats with mounted gun and rifles. One member of the crew was killed and eight others wounded.

GENERAL MAURICE'S OPINION.

LONDON, April 26.
In the German official statement a couple of days ago, said General Maurice, Germany announced that a great defeat had been administered to the British. It further claimed that we had attacked on a 15-mile front and failed completely. If the Germans defeated us we naturally shall not be able to maintain our positions in that section, but I ask you to wait a little and see whether the British Board of Trade, addressing a luncheon of business men, Sir Albert said we have not found a way of dealing with the submarine so as to remove the danger of its being an enormously important factor in determining the outcome of the war. The effect of the submarine war upon the existence of the British Empire is simply this, that we cannot continue to bring into this country all the supplies and materials required for our existence, for the continuance of war and for the actual needs of our industries.

VERY WET SEASON.

LONDON, April 26.
The present rainy season is the wettest experienced in German East Africa the past nine years. All active operations on a large scale, therefore, are suspended, says the official statement to-day. In Kilwa area, especially in the Matanda Valley, there has been considerable patrol activity. Recently a small patrol of our West African troops successfully ambushed two companies of the enemy, killing or wounding fifty men with little loss to themselves.

OPERATIONS IN MACEDONIA.

LONDON, April 26.
The British official statement from Salonika dealing with the operations in Macedonia, says, "We are satisfactorily consolidating the positions we have gained. A steady bombardment of the enemy positions continues. Our aircraft raided an enemy depot at Carmista, causing considerable damage."

THE SUBMARINE MENACE.

LONDON, April 26.
A grave warning that the submarine menace may be an important factor in deciding the customs of war, was sounded to-day by Sir Albert Stanley, President of the British Board of Trade. Addressing a luncheon of business men, Sir Albert said we have not found a way of dealing with the submarine so as to remove the danger of its being an enormously important factor in determining the outcome of the war. The effect of the submarine war upon the existence of the British Empire is simply this, that we cannot continue to bring into this country all the supplies and materials required for our existence, for the continuance of war and for the actual needs of our industries.

BERESFORD'S CRITICISM.

LONDON, April 26.
In the Lords to-day Admiral Baron Beresford criticized the Admiralty's weekly returns of shipping losses as "seriously misleading since they omit losses of neutrals through which this country now really is being fed, while the totals of arrivals and sailings include both neutral and allied ships." "The building of standardized merchant ships was one of the most important means of counteracting the submarine warfare," Admiral Beresford declared. Replying to Beresford on behalf of the Government, Lord Lytton said the construction of standardized motor ships was proceeding as fast as material available allowed. Difficulties naturally arose in discharging freight when vessels detained for war reasons arrived in rushes. "Admittedly," continued Lytton, "neutral ships could not always be induced to voyage as before the war, but the increase in freight rates and insurance facilities already had its effect. More neutral ships were running than before Feb. 1st," he declared.

TURKISH REPORT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 26.
The War Office made the following announcement to-day: "On the Sinai front our airmen landed behind the enemy's lines in the midst of the desert and destroyed the water supply system which the British constructed for their troops. The destruction of the water works built by the British to facilitate their advance across the desert into Palestine probably would not interfere seriously with the operations of the main British force. The British have now advanced to the neighborhood of Gaza on the Great Plains of Palestine, well out of the desert, and have established a base on the coast."

CANADIANS RUSHED TO FILL GAPS.

OTTAWA, April 26.
For the first time since the war the large military camps in Canada will be practically unoccupied by Overseas troops this summer. It is understood that Valcartier camp which housed the first contingent, will not be occupied at all, as all the troops from Quebec and Montreal districts will have left for Overseas. The large casualty lists coming in daily have resulted in the troops of the fifth division being sent over to France, and all troops in Canada will be rushed over to fill up gaps, so that the fifth division may proceed to the front as a complete unit.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, April 26.
A British official issued this evening says: "A party of the enemy which attempted to raid one of our crater-ports southeast of Ypres early this morning, was driven off, with losses. There was considerable activity during the day by both sides at a number of points between St. Quentin and Arras, and also in the neighborhood of Ypres. Successful work was carried out by our airplanes in spite of less favorable weather. In air fighting two German machines were brought down, one of them falling in our lines, and a third was driven down out of control. Three of ours are missing.

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

BERLIN, April 26.
A German official issued this evening, says there is nothing important to report from any front.

GERMANS WARNED BY MEXICO.

WASHINGTON, April 26.
Official advice to the State Department to-day said the Mexican Government have warned Germans in Mexico that any concentration of Germans near the American border will be followed immediately by their arrest.

DESTRUCTION OF HOSPITAL SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, April 26.
Measures to cope with continued destruction of hospital ships by German submarines will be among the first questions taken up by the British and French Commissions. The only means open to France and the British is to decrease the number of hospital ships and thus minimize the risk. To do this it is necessary to establish greater facilities for caring for greater numbers of allied wounded in France instead of transporting them across the Channel.

WILL SPECIFY GERMAN'S PEACE TERMS.

AMSTERDAM, April 26.
The Tijds German correspondent says that Dr. Von Bethmann Holweg in his next speech to the Reichstag, will specify Germany's peace terms in greater detail.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

NEW YORK, April 26.
The British freight steamer City of Paris, 9,239 tons, has been sunk by a German submarine. The City of Paris was loaded with cargo and was on her way to New York via England from an East Indian port. She was owned by the Ellerman Line and built in Glasgow, 1907.

DESTRUCTION OF ZEPPELIN REPORTED.

LONDON, April 26.
The destruction of a Zeppelin of the latest type is reported in an Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. It is said that German deserters who have reached Maastricht, Netherlands, told of the loss of the airship which was destroyed in a storm when on a trial flight between Friedrichsafen and Wilhelmshaven last Monday. The Zeppelin was overturned by a gale and exploded, causing the death of the entire crew and two officials of the Zeppelin plant.

AMERICAN PRISONER.

LONDON, April 26.
The taking of the first American prisoner of war was reported to the American Embassy to-day through the U. S. Consul at Glasgow. It is usually the practice of the Germans to take prisoners the captains of merchantmen sunk by submarines. In view of this fact the above despatch may mean that an American vessel has been sunk.

AUSTRIAN OFFICIAL.

VIENNA, April 26.
The official statement issued to-day says: "Russian artillery provoked a reprisal fire from our artillery at several places. Otherwise there is nothing important to report."

UNKNOWN AVIATOR DOES DAMAGE.

BERNE, April 26.
Late Tuesday night an unknown aviator flew over the Swiss town of Porrentruy, throwing explosives and bombs, seriously damaging buildings, and injuring a number of people. A watch factory in which night work was proceeding, was struck, the roof being blown off. Telephone and telegraph wires were destroyed. Three persons were injured, including children. The military authorities are seeking to identify the nationality of the aviator.

BLACK LIST WITHDRAWN.

LONDON, April 26.
The British black list of shipping has been withdrawn, so far as it concerns the United States.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN SWEDEN.

COPENHAGEN, via London, April 26.
At Malmo, Sweden, yesterday, 30,000 people took part in a demonstration before the town hall, at which demands were made for a commercial agreement with England, larger bread rations, and the discontinuance of food exports. The institution of an eight hour day was also demanded. All tramways ceased running in the afternoon while the demonstration was in progress. Similar demonstrations on a smaller scale occurred at Gothenburg and Hertesand.

A PRISONER OF WAR.

AMSTERDAM, April 26.
According to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, Lieut. Law, second son of Bonar Law, was captured by the Turks during the recent fighting near Palestine. A despatch from London on Wednesday, said that Lieut. Law, reported wounded in Palestine, was missing.

NEWSPAPERS CENSORED.

COPENHAGEN, April 26.
The protests of a Socialist representative in the Reichstag Committee yesterday, called attention for the first time to the fact that German newspapers must now submit to preliminary censorship before being permitted to leave the country. For some time radical socialist newspapers have been markedly behind other publications in time of their delivery

Odd Fellows Anniversary.

At the Grenfell Hall last night the I. O. O. F. celebrated their 90th anniversary. Quiet a large number of members and their friends attended. Mr. Gordon Bradley, L.L.B. presided and in his opening remarks gave an interesting review of the Order from its inception to the present time. He then introduced the Rev. Dr. Bond, who gave an eloquent address on the subject "The Odd Fellow and the Other Fellow", and for an hour dealt with the subject in a masterly manner, his discourse being punctuated with some of the brightest wit that was ever given from a local platform. Songs were given by Messrs. K. Trapnell and H. Courtepar, accompanied by Mr. Gordon Christian. Hon. R. A. Squires proposed a vote of thanks to the rev. lecturer and to the contributors of the musical and vocal programme, which was seconded by Mr. S. G. Collier and heartily accorded.

Horse Bolted and Colapsed.

About 2.30 a.m. to-day Mr. James Jackman, night messenger of the Postal Telegraphs, while enroute to the offices of the morning papers with the late public despatches, saw a horse with harness and shafts attached tearing down Water Street and when crossing at the foot of Adelaide Street he seized the reins and tried to stop the frightened animal, but on reaching Beck's Cove the horse turned sharply to the left, and while dashing around Rankin's Corner the young man lost his balance and was thrown to the ground. On his reporting the matter to the night police they discovered the animal had collapsed on George Street near Baird's grocery. Fearing trouble the police made a hurried investigation in the direction from whence the horse came and on reaching Steer's Cove found the owner uninjured but the cab badly battered. The driver informed the police that while he was in the act of repairing a break in the harness the horse bolted and in doing so collided with a telephone pole. The horse was slightly injured.

Give the Soldiers the Preference.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I saw a very sensible letter in one of the St. John's papers not long ago suggesting the advisability of having outport tidewaiters trained, not so much on account of the duties they have to perform, for these are very light and in some cases none at all, but as a matter of discipline, for some of these men, even after years of service, fail to understand their relationship to their superiors and those in authority. Now that so many of our brave soldiers are coming back from the war wounded, we have the trained men right here for these positions, and I have no doubt that any of them who would accept such posts would make the best of officials. Most people seem to think that the salaries paid to outport tidewaiters are just presents, for many of them spend their time on their own work, such as fishing, or farming, carpentry, teaming or other similar work. Now if the Government in so generous let it bestow its generosity on those deserving it, namely, on those brave fellows who have returned wounded from the war where they have been doing not alone their own share but also the share of the slacker, who has been fighting the Germans with his mouth. Yours truly, sharply and considerably lately, after a previous earlier rise, but still it looks like even much higher prices for teas.

The Cost of Tea HAS ADVANCED

MOUNT VIEW TEA,

in 1 lb. air-tight packages, which we retail at

50c. per lb. only,

is the best value on the St. John's market. We have kept this tea at the square price of 50c. lb. for some time, despite various advances in landed cost, and will do so as long as our present stock lasts. At present market quotations the price should be 70c. lb. and it follows that prices must advance later.

MOUNT VIEW TEA

is a comparatively new arrival in St. John's, but has been gaining many patrons and holding them. The flavor is right, and the quality is shown by the fact that a pound of Mount View Tea will go as far as any other tea on the market selling from 60c. to 70c. lb., and at least half as far again as any tea selling at 45c. lb. Wise housekeepers who try our Mount View Tea will find they save much money and get a delightful tea.
