CHAPTER XIV.

"Auntie," she said, quickly, "you must tell me what this is. I knew that there was something that troubled him; his words at times have been so strange. He seems to think that there is something dreadful enough to separate us!"

She shuddered, and Lady Marcia stroked her shining hair soothingly. "Sir Charles is sensitive even to folly," she declared. "His father was charged with the strange disappearance of my lover, Edgar Emden; they were heard quarrelling one night, and Edgar was never seen again. His fate has ever remained a mystery, and Sir Charles and his mother have been shut out of society in consequence, while the disgrace helped to shorten his father's life. That is all there is to know of the unhappy story."

"I am glad that you have told me, auntie," Gladys said. "I am glad that it is nothing worse, though this is dreadful enough in its way. I believe that Sir Charles thinks that his father was guilty, or he would not be so wretched about it."

"That cannot be, dear; it was proven that poor Edgar was on his way to visit me that very night. We had had several little quarrels over your father. He was jealous, and I was proud. I would not explain, or all might have been well. He did not know that your father was my brother, and saw him one night part from me by the lake. Your father had quarrelled with the old earl, your grandfather, and visited the abbey in secret. I need not go into details; fathers and sons rarely agree upon all points. Your grandfather was a man of forbidding temper and aspect. He would neither acknowledge my lover nor your mother. He was only reconciled to the present earl a few hours before he died. Well, Edgar Emden accused me of favouring another lover, and I was so outraged by his untruthful accusation that I would not explain one word to him. Though my heart was breaking, my pride would not give way. He left me after an exchange of angry words in the White Lady's Bower. I have never seen him since, or heard one word of him. He left me, and it seemed that all that was evil within him was aroused, for he appeared at Emden Hall the next day, to abuse and revile his brother-in-law, Sir Charles' father. Edgar had been disinherited, and he hated his sister and her husband for it. The evidence against Sir Charles' father was not strong enough. He brought several servants who proved that they had driven Edgar to the railway station, and that he was coming here. Be that as it may, no ticket was issued for Swinford that night, and my lover vanished as completely as though the earth had yawned open and swallowed him."

"And what was your opinion, auntie?" Gladys asked, after a few minutes' silence.

"I do not know—I do not know. At times I feel that Edgar Emden still lives—that he will come back to me yet. It may be only a woman's fond and illusive faith. When a woman truly loves, she loves forever. There is nothing strong enough to come between her and the object of her affections. You must not be worried by Sir Charles' quixotic notions. He shall not sacrifice two young lives for his folly. I will tell the earl everything before Sir Charles sees him, and you need fear opposition in no quarter. Both your father and I suffered too much in our own young days to interfere, even if we felt disposed, in the loves of those near and dear to us."

"Oh, auntie," cried Gladys, her pansy eyes moist with tears. "You have made me so happy—happier than I can express. You have cleared away the awful doubts and mystery that have filled my mind since my darling went away. I knew that the trouble could not be very much—could not be sufficient to part us, but his vague allusions made me wretched—his sudden fits of passion and frenzy. He has regretted ever meeting me one moment, and wildly kissed me the next. And even his letter to me—the only letter I have ever had from him—is one of hopes and fears, sweet and bitter. He almost declares that our future happiness or misery depends upon the events of the next few days."

Lady Marcia looked serious. "I must talk with him," she said. "He shall not be miserable for nothing. He has resolved to consult some friend in whom he trusts before telling you of the cloud which hangs over his name. Perhaps he fears that you will not consent to share even a taint of dishonor? He is afraid to tell you of his shame—that he and society have nothing in common—that the finger of contempt is pointed at him for some fancied crime of his father's. He is sensitive, and melancholy. That is all that is wrong, darling."

"Poor Charles!" murmured Gladys, her eyes luminous with pity and love. "Why does he not trust me more? I would cling to him even if we had to walk barefooted all the rest of our lives."

Lady Marcia smiled, and soon Gladys was singing merrily. Her doubts were dissipated like mists in the sunlight. So this was the trouble—this was the cause of her lover's fits of misery and depression—this was the meaning of his frenzied actions.

Oh, how soon would the clouds be dispersed. How startled he would be when she told him that she knew everything—when she pressed kisses to his lips, and called him a foolish fellow to doubt her for one moment. And while her happy laughter rippled in the library, the earl passed the door, and heard it with a shudder.

His face was white and drawn, his eyes bloodshot, and old age seemed to be creeping upon him at the rate of ten years in a single day. He slipped quietly into his study, and for a little while sat almost motionless. Then he took two letters from his pocket, and laid them on the table before him. One was from Lord Cecil Stanhope, and the other from Sir Charles Hastings. Both contained the same desire—namely, to see my lord about Lady Gladys, his lovely daughter, whom both of the young men loved, and wished to marry.

"This is a terrible task for me!" he muttered, huskily; "and from what Marcia has said, my darling child favors Hastings; but it can never be—it can never be. Oh, the very sound of her happy voice is maddening! If I could help her by ending all with a bullet in my brain, I would do it! There is not a loophole to escape by; there is not one chance among a million for me! I may be tried for killing a man. My folly was in hiding the body. I only did that so that my father should have no knowledge of my presence. I may be thrust out of my position—I am only here on sufferance—and my poor child become a pauper! And the scandal—oh, Heaven! the scandal! I have no reason to doubt the steward's words—I do not doubt them. He is, beyond question, my brother—my sister's brother. He swears that he is a legitimate heir, and I am not going to risk disproving it. I have nothing to gain; I have everything to lose. Willness me, Heaven, and know that whatever I do is done for the good of my daughters. Unless it is imperative, Marcia shall never know one word of this."

He read the letters once more, then drew a small writing-desk before him, and taking up a pen, wrote two replies, as follows:

DEAR STANHOPE—I shall be happy to see you at your leisure to discuss the proposal you appear to have so much at heart. I am sure that the match would give me infinite satisfaction, and see no reason why it should not be consummated. In me you will have a firm ally. I do not wish to press Gladys at present in these matters—she is so very young—and I do not wish to lose her yet, so much of my time having been spent away from home. You will respect my wishes. I am sure. As for Sir Charles Hastings, I would not permit Lady Gladys to enter his family upon any account, and have informed him of my ultimatum.

Your sincere friend,
 HOWARD.

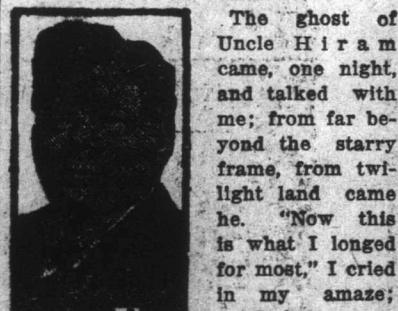

The second letter was shorter, and read thus:

DEAR SIR CHARLES—Your letter has surprised and pained me. I do not consider it necessary for you to lay any portion of your misfortune before me, as I know quite sufficient to preclude even the remotest possibility of my daughter ever entering your unfortunate family. I ask you as a gentleman, to accept this as final, and to communicate with my foolish child no more.

Yours faithfully,
 HOWARD.

While the earl was writing these blistering words to Sir Charles Hastings, Lady Gladys was penning an answer to her love letter, her heart overflowing with gladness. Outside the birds were singing, and their songs were all of love; the winds among the roses sighed of love—only love. And Gladys, attuned to the melody and fragrance about her, saw nothing but joy and beauty through the golden vistas of the future; from her pen dropped words of burning, deathless love—love that would live in her heart forever!

THE SPECTRE.

The ghost of Uncle Hiram came, one night, and talked with me; from far beyond the starry frame, from twilight land came he. "Now this is what I longed for most," I cried in my amazement; "oh, sit you down, good old ghost, and talk of spectral ways. Pray tell me of the silent shores where shades like you abide, and of the good sports gone before, the delegates who died." My Uncle Hiram shook his head, in phantom well-bedlight; "the weather over there," he said, "has lately been a fright. From out the east there comes a breeze that's fraught with deadly chill; I catch a cold and cough and sneeze, and have to take a pill. The rain, relentless, never stops, it's rained throughout the spring, and much we fear the early crops won't pay for harvesting." "Forget the weather and the wheat, the climate and the prunes, and tell me of the golden street where seraphim sing tunes." "I came a long and weary way," my Uncle Hiram moaned, "to ask about the field of hay that once I proudly owned." "Go hence," I cried, "get up and walk! You've spoiled my evening's mirth! What piffle all you spectres talk when you come back to earth! You might some stately message bring to shake men to their souls, but you can't talk of anything—but hay and ten-foot poles."

Forty-Three Years in the Public Service—The Evening Telegram

Placentia Notes.

Great activity is being displayed here in prospecting minerals. The work on Verran's Island and at Silver Cliff, Argentina, is going ahead steadily, and the mineral so far unearthed is said to be of such a quality to justify the general confidence in the possibilities of these mines. We trust the efforts and hopes of Mr. MacKay, who is operating, will materialize to the fullest extent.

Another mine is being opened on the Jersey side, which is also showing splendid results, sample of a high percentage being uncovered. Inspector General Hutchings is the discoverer of this claim, which we hope will pan out successful to the fullest extent. With all these mining possibilities in sight, it looks like the old town is in for a boom.

The fishery to date is very good. Trapping began this week, though weather, which has been most unfavorable the past ten days, has improved, and a good voyage is hoped for.

Splendid sea trout fishing is obtainable here now, and not for many years has better sport been seen. Salmon are making for the rivers, and several were caught at Southeast this week. Next week should bring good fishing in the river. The river is in fine condition for splendid sports as soon as the fish reach there.

We would remind fishermen and holiday seekers of the many attractions Placentia has to offer during the summer months. It is the best place in Newfoundland to spend your vacation. The salmon fishing in the Southeast River is the best in the country, and here you may enjoy that sport, which has been rightly called the "sport of Kings." Here you can enjoy your fishing amidst beautiful surroundings. The river is easily and conveniently reached without any of the discomforts usually experienced. First class hotels take care of your comforts. There is also to be enjoyed motor boating and carriage drives through delightful scenery. Placentia is delightful these summer days. The bridge at Colinet River will soon be completed, and this completes the Colinet-Placentia Road, which is in good condition, and opens a delightful country to motorists. It is expected a great number of motorists will visit us during the summer.

Father Connors, who has been ill at his home here the past month, is now, we are glad to say, able to get out, and is rapidly regaining his former good health. His many friends are glad to see him around again.

Rev. Andrew Whelan arrived home on Thursday last, from Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, where he has been studying for the priesthood. His years of study having been successfully completed, he will be ordained here shortly by his Grace Archbishop Roche. His many friends welcome him home, and congratulate him on the success which has crowned his studies at the Seminary, and trust he will have many useful years in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony by Rev. Father O'Flaherty, P.P. We extend felicitations and trust they will have very many happy years of wedded life.

On Monday evening, Mr. Matthew Collins (Ex-Sergt. Royal Nfld. Regt.) and Miss May Mooney were united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony by Rev. Father O'Flaherty, P.P. We extend felicitations and trust they will have very many happy years of wedded life.

The schooner Golden Rod, Capt. Pierson, is discharging coal at Jas. Murphy and Sons.

Mr. Keating, who for several years was Principal of the High School here, is in town renewing old acquaintances, who are glad to see him.

Mr. Jos. Keefe, Roadmaster R.N. Co., paid a flying visit to the old home this week. His friends are glad to see him in good health.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who spent the winter at St. John's, has returned to her home at the "Swan" for the summer.

Miss Kitty Croucher has arrived from New York, to spend the summer vacation with her folks at the "Downs."

War Being Waged in Dublin and Vicinity

Civilian Casualties Greater Than Combatants -- Editor Attacked by Thugs -- Railway Tragedy Near Atlantic City -- Canadian Merchant Steamer Ashore on Point Plate.

SEVERE FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS.

DUBLIN, July 3. Severe fighting in O'Connell Street was in progress at ten o'clock tonight. The National troops were maintaining unrelenting pressure, but at that hour there was no indication of surrender. All approaches to O'Connell Street were barred and some of the posts held by the Irregulars are on fire. The attack on Gresham Hotel and other premises in O'Connell Street has been in progress since morning. The rebels hold positions in two areas near each other with a wedge of Regulars between. In the upper area, on the high ground above O'Connell Street abutting Parnell Square, they hold Barry's Hotel, but have lost all other strategic points in this section. The encirclement of this area is practically complete and the Irregulars are confined within a position from which escape is not easy. In the lower area of O'Connell Street, the rebels still hold the block of buildings running from Gresham Hotel to Calverly Street, fronting on O'Connell Street, and backed by the Parcel Post Office, the Catholic Cathedral and other buildings on Marlborough Street. Until late this afternoon, on the south side of the city the people were moving freely. During the course of the fighting the heavy barrage of machine gun fire from armoured cars and rifle fire from buildings opposite was answered by a brisk fire from the Irregulars. The rattle of this continued all day and crowds of onlookers gathered outside the line of fire. Now and then especially heavy fire or bursting bombs or grenades caused a stampede but the crowds soon returned.

STEPHEN'S GREEN CLUB CAPTURED.

DUBLIN, July 3. Stephen's Green Club, held by Irregulars since Friday was captured by Free Staters to-day; the insurgents having evacuated the position.

LIMERICK DISTRICT.

BELEFAST, July 3. Prior to their evacuation of Limerick District, the Republicans burned several police barracks and military huts, blew up the bridges and cut telegraphs.

MAXIMILIAN HARDEN ATTACKED

BERLIN, July 3. Two men attacked Maximilian Harden, editor and political writer, near his home in Grunewald, suburb of Berlin to-day. He was taken unconscious into the house suffering from five wounds. The assailants were arrested.

VOLCANO ACTIVE.

GUATEMALA CITY, July 3. The Volcano Santa Maria is in active eruption and has covered the Chuva and Solola Districts with ashes doing great damage.

THOMAS ON RAILWAY DISPUTES.

LONDON, July 3. Speaking at the annual banquet of the conference of railway men here to-day, J. H. Thomas, M.P., Railway men's leader, declared that during the past twelve months machinery had been established by which all labor disputes were capable of adjustment. He declared that the disputes during the past 18 months would have been better handled and better results received if the men had followed their leaders. There were men in the working class movement, he maintained, who thought it only necessary to call a strike for their masters to fall at their feet.

OTHERWISE O.K.

REGINA, July 3. Over $1,000,000 damage was done by hail storms in Kronau and Richardson districts, and around Osego, on Saturday, otherwise reports indicate good crop prospects.

RAILWAY HORROR.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 3. Splitting a switch at Cape Hay, the Philadelphia and Reading express, plunged forty feet down an embankment early to-day. Five persons were killed and 75 injured, half of them seriously.

CANADIAN COMMANDER ASHORE.

QUEBEC, July 3. The wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona with the wrecking schooner G.T. D., in tow left here this afternoon to go to the assistance of the Canadian Commander, ashore on Plate Point, St. Pierre Island. The Commander was bound from Chatham, N. B., across with lumber.

THE BRAZILIAN CENTENARY EXHIBITION.

LONDON, July 3. Asked in the Commons to-day if Great Britain was the only great power who would be without naval representation at the Brazilian Centenary exhibition to be held at Rio de Janeiro, Lloyd George stated that the Cabinet, on reconsidering the matter, had decided to send the battle cruisers Hood and Repulse. The Prime Minister described the suggestion that the Overseas Department be requested to co-operate with the Admiralty and to profit by this opportunity in the interest of British trade as an admirable one which he would be pleased to communicate to the department.

Leonard Disqualified

FOR STRIKING JACK BRITTON WHEN HE WAS ON ONE KNEE -- WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPION HAD THE BETTER OF THE CONTEST.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Benny Leonard, the second lightweight champion in twenty-seven years, to attempt the hitting of the welterweight title, failed last night, when, after being outpointed for twelve rounds, he fouled Jack Britton, the 37-year-old champion, and was disqualified. Two minutes and forty seconds of the thirteenth round had passed when Leonard struck Britton while the latter was on one knee taking a count.

Britton had gone to his knees grimacing as if in pain and motioning to his seconds to claim a foul. At this juncture Leonard walked round referee Haley and struck Britton in the body with a left.

Haley said he had not seen a blow struck when Britton went to his knees, but disqualified Leonard for violation of the rule prohibiting the striking of an opponent when he is kneeling.

Britton had all the better of the contest last night and it was evident that he would have won the judge's decision had the contest gone the limit of fifteen rounds. The fighting, however, was interesting at all times, with both champions in a display of their best known tactics.

Leonard took the offensive in the first round, but both fought cautiously.

In the second round, Britton staggered Leonard with a right to the jaw, and Leonard retaliated with straight lefts to the face. Leonard turned Britton around with a straight left to jaw that hit Leonard's upper lip was cut by a straight left in the third round. They exchanged hard rights and lefts at close quarters. They were pretty even in the next couple of rounds, though Britton had the better of the exchanges.

In round six Leonard caught Britton on the jaw with several straight rights. Britton was cut in the mouth with a straight left.

Leonard appeared to be taking things easily in the seventh, waiting for a chance to land a knockout. In the meantime Britton found his jaw with right and left hooks. They staggered each other with rights to the head, and in the eighth Britton shook Leonard twice with right hooks to the jaw and appeared to be having the best of it.

East Africa.

STEADY IMPROVEMENT PREDICTED.

Lieut.-Col. W. H. Franklin, C.B.E., D.S.O., H. M. Trade Commissioner for East Africa, is enthusiastic and optimistic regarding the future of Tanganyika territory. In a recent address he said the area covered by the post of Trade Commissioner for East Africa was a very large one, stretching from Portuguese East Africa—Nyassaland and Rhodesia on the south, to Italian Somaliland and the Sudan in the north, and comprising the Protectorates of Uganda, Zanzibar and Kenya, the mandated territory of Tanganyika and the Colony of Kenya. There were four local governments in this area, all of whom were under the control of the Colonial Office. Frequently, when in England, he found that many people thought that East Africa only referred to that part formerly known as British East Africa, but he said that if any question of development of any particular part of East Africa came up the land should be thought of as a whole and not Tanganyika, Kenya or Uganda, etc., because he felt sure that before the full development of the country was realized the whole area must be banded together, if not actually still on one solid foundation of policy. Referring to the difficulty of Customs classifications, Lieut.-Col. Franklin expressed a hope that the report of the recent Committee on the Customs tariff would advocate one universal classification and also the elimination of any Customs barriers between the various countries. If these recommendations were accepted it should be a great help to traders in the East Coast. He also hoped that the variation of values at which export duties were charged would be adjusted by the adoption of a specific charge, instead of a valorem one. Referring to the troubles and difficulties that commercial and government finances had undergone during the past three years, Col. Franklin said that the position now was that the countries were not excessively overstocked with goods, but the buying powers of the community were very much curtailed. Therefore, he could not look forward to any very sudden increase in purchases from the United Kingdom, but already there was a sign of more buying, and he confidently predicted a slow but steady improvement.—Northamptonshire Journal of Commerce.

Tobacco for Fishes.

About a ton of leaf tobacco in bales, which has been stored in the Custom House for four or five years, says the North Sydney Herald of June 29, was taken out to sea and dumped overboard to-day, by order of the Department. The tobacco was salvaged from a steamer wrecked at Gabarus, and as the government had never received any acceptable offer for its purchase, including the duty, Collector McPherson was ordered to have it dumped into the sea, weighted so that it would sink.

Reddening of Fish.

Last week an article in this column was devoted to a dissertation on the reddening of codfish under salt, and the main contributory cause thereof. The contents of that article were based on reports of Canadian and United States scientists, who declared in practically the same language that the discoloration of codfish in the cure was due to the quality of salt used in preservation, and recommended the use of saline products other than those at present employed in the curative process. Sea salt, such as is most commonly used in this country, Nova Scotia and United States was condemned, and a recommendation made that mined salt be altogether substituted was made. The report of Dr. F. C. Harrison, principal of McDonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, gives the following salient features in accordance with the experiments conducted by that gentleman, who was assisted by a bacteriological expert of the same college. "The infection (reddening) has existed at various times, and in different countries for at least forty years, during which time investigations as to the nature of the discoloration have been carried on rather from a scientific, than from an economic standpoint. In the past the fish was marketed, usually, during the colder months of the year, so that there was not so large a percentage of spoilage as prevails to-day; and whatever loss dealers did experience from reddening was regarded as more or less incidental and unpreventable. Not so to-day. Progressive civilization demands not only increasing attractiveness in food displayed for sale, but a product procurable at all seasons of the year—preferably out of season. This necessitates infinite care in preparation, requiring additional labor and adding to the expense of production; but more than that, fish marketed during the warmer months of the year seem more susceptible to the red infection than that marketed during the colder months. Another factor which must be mentioned is the increasing competition from Norway in the world's markets. Where such competition is keen, it is of the utmost importance to provide a fish which is well cured, attractive in appearance and which is not affected in any way by any kind of discoloration. The country which succeeds in putting up the best article, and keeping it uniform from year to year, will undoubtedly secure a larger trade and obtain the higher prices." The black lines are intended to emphasize the point for which the Telegram has been contending, namely that only by care and improvement in cure and make will Newfoundland codfish stand the test of acute competition in those European markets which demand a higher standard of quality. We cannot hope to command the higher price if our products are inferior to those of our competitors. As the report of Professor Harrison states the demand of progressive civilization is in the increasing attractiveness of food, particularly fish food, which is shipped in bulk. Unless we meet that demand, we cannot hope to hold our original markets, let alone enter new zones of demand. Therefore it is up to every fisherman to expend all the care and time that he can devote to the production of a cured fish that will stand the test no matter how applied. We must cater to the tastes and desires of our numerous customers.

Silver Cliff Mines.

OUTLOOK VERY PROMISING. Mr. W. A. McKay and Mr. H. J. Earle of Fogo returned to the city yesterday from a visit of inspection to Silver Cliff Mine, Argentina. As the drift known as Camp Adia has been cleaned out they were able to view the underground workings as they were left some years ago. This drift, which is 100 feet long, on the hanging wall-side of the vein, showed that no cross cut had been driven to ascertain the width of the lode which was found to be both regular and persistent. Mr. McKay was amazed to find that no cross cutting had been done in these old workings. With his usual push he had the work started yesterday by foreman Furlong. When this cross cut reaches the footwall it can be determined exactly as to the value and tonnage of the ore so blocked out. As some $500,000 worth of ore is in sight, active mining will shortly begin. Air compressors, air drills, and other equipment is now being assembled and will be forwarded to the site in a few days. A company capitalized at $50,000 has been incorporated, and it is expected that Silver Cliff will become a means of much employment. The provisional directors of the company are R. J. Murphy, Leslie M. Marshall, W. A. McKay. The promoter, Mr. McKay, is optimistic and extends an invitation to anyone who is a pessimist or a grouch to inspect the property and become an optimist.

COLLEGE MEN WORK NORTH. The New York American for June 11th, has the following item of local interest:—"John M. Reynolds, twenty-one, of No. 64 East Nineteenth Street, will be one of a large group of college men who will sail for North Newfoundland next Saturday to work among the destitute natives of that country. Reynolds, who is a senior at Princeton, is a graduate of Adelphi College. The Humber Project.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH AN ENGLISH FIRM.

Interviewed by the Telegram this morning Hon. Dr. Campbell, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, said that negotiations re the handling of the Humber proposition by the English firm of Armstrong Whitworth, Ltd., were progressing, but that so far nothing beyond the initial stages had been accomplished, and any pronouncement beyond this would be premature. The Minister stated that it was the Government's intention to make the best deal possible in the interests of the country, and not grant concessions that would endanger our resources. The Prime Minister, Major Jennings, Hon. W. F. Coaker and Hon. Dr. Campbell left here on Saturday morning for Grand Falls, and while there the party had a conference to discuss the proposition. Hon. Dr. Campbell returned to town by yesterday's express and the Prime Minister has proceeded across country en route to England. While at Grand Falls a conference was held with the A.N.D. Co. officials relative to providing further employment at that centre; an arrangement was made whereby there is a possibility that work for a limited number of men will be found. At present the company is fully staffed, and the plant is working both day and night, and while the capacity of the mill is generally about 200 tons there are days when it goes over that amount. The Anglo-Company have no connection with the Humber proposition and were not represented at the Conference, the only person outside the executive members present being Major Jennings, who representing the Armstrong Whitworth Company came here from England by the last Digby on this special mission.

Newfoundland History (?)

GULLIBLE AMERICAN PAPERS. According to a news item in certain American papers, Newfoundland was colonized only 89 years ago. The following item appears in a Washington and an Alabama paper:

FIRST ENGLISH IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

"In 1583 an English colonizing expedition was led to Newfoundland by that chivalrous navigator, Sir Humphrey Gilbert, who belonged to that group of enterprising and patriotic men whose names shine forth in the history of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He was a half-brother of the gallant but ill-fated Sir Walter Raleigh."

Removing Rails.

FORTUNE BRANCH LINE TORN UP. The rails on the proposed Fortune Bay Branch Railway are now being removed and will be used when needed, to replace broken rails on other sections of the line. R. C. Morgan, General Manager of the railway made this statement to the Telegram this morning. The branch is 30 miles in length and cost over $740,000. It has never been used and the sleepers have become rotten. The new Management Committee has wisely decided to put the rails to some use.

Russia Buys Fish.

WHO PAYS FOR IT? According to the Star-Telegram of Fort Worth, Texas, the Russian Soviet government is purchasing 20,000 tons of codfish from the Newfoundland Government. We wonder how the rubles necessary to pay for this fish will be transported. The amount is estimated to be in the neighbourhood of fifty or sixty billion paper rubles. (Why not engage the Lobelias to bring them?)

Looking Toward California.

THE LAND OF EASY MONEY. It is said that a number of citizens, including several well known business men, are adjusting their affairs here and will shortly leave for California. The glowing accounts brought back by visitors to this sunny land, and the success of several Newfoundlanders since settling there have induced these others to seek what they failed to find in their own land.

Rotary Luncheon.

LORD MORRIS ON INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

Industrial conditions in England formed the subject of an interesting address made by Lord Morris before the Rotary Club at the Green Lantern to-day. About forty Rotarians and their guests sat down to luncheon. Rotarian D. M. Baird, was chairman for the day, and the guests included Hon. Dr. Campbell, Sir F. T. McGrath, Rev. R. J. Power and other well known people. The chairman welcomed back the President, Rotarian C. E. Hunt, who returned yesterday from attending the Rotary Convention at Los Angeles, California. In a witty speech he extended a hearty welcome to Lord Morris. Lord Morris expressed his pleasure at being present. In a lucid manner he explained the industrial conditions prevailing to-day in England. He knew the Rotary Club took a great interest in fiscal problems and that it represented very high standards in public life. He had recently addressed 800 Rotarians gathered at Brighton and he had admired the spirit of co-operation which permeated them in their efforts to bring about an improvement in industrial circles. The position in England to-day was that that country with a population of 50 millions was producing sufficient food to provide subsistence for only 10 million. The food for the rest of the population had to be imported and paid for by the exports, consisting of manufactured articles and raw material in the shape of coal. In 1913 the balance of trade had been against Great Britain, and it was now far worse. The war had cost 3,000 million pounds and the interest on the war debt was now 400 millions. The Budget for this year was 900 millions in comparison with 208 millions in 1913. England, like all great maritime nations, depended largely upon her foreign trade. She is now exporting only one-sixth of what she produces. There are 1 1/2 millions unemployed who have to receive the Government dole to keep them alive. If the foreign trade could be restored, all would be well; but to-day it is feared that some markets may be permanently lost. Other countries, particularly the Dominions, have learned during the war to make for themselves what they were formerly content to import. Canada now imports only 12 per cent of her requirements from Great Britain, where formerly she took 28 per cent. Lord Morris dealt further with this matter but space will not permit more extended reference.

With respect to our series, he said that more modern methods must be applied if they are to be developed to a really great extent. He was very optimistic about Newfoundland's future. She had survived worse times than the present. A vote of thanks was accorded Lord Morris at the conclusion of his address.

Seaman Drowned.

DORY SWAMPED. The following message has been received by the Marine and Fisheries Department from the Lightkeeper at Aquatort:—"Richard Osmond of the Schr. Gordon Hollett was drowned here yesterday whilst taking a dory load of ice to his vessel. The plug came out of the dory which filled and foundered. Osmond's dory mate swam to land."

In the Realms of Sport.

BASEBALL. Should the weather be fine to-night the Cubs and B.I.S. will mix it up in what should be the finest game for the season. Both have their eyes on the pennant this year, and since the Harps vanquished the Wanderers in the regular League game their supporters opine that they can break through the barrage. The Cubs have been greatly strengthened by the addition of Joe Murphy, their regular custodian of the initial sack, who in addition to toting a great big stick can twist them over in great fashion if necessary. The batteries to-night will be Canning and DeMers, and Aspell and O'Keefe. The game will start at 7 o'clock with Chief Chesman in charge.

A. A. A. PRIZES.

Will the following A.A.A. Champions kindly be present at the Guard's Sports at 3 o'clock tomorrow to receive from Mrs. J. E. Pitts the prizes won at the National Sports last summer—Fred Phelan, Tom Butler, Jack Canning, F. Coefield, Sgt. T. Morrissey, Dick Steele, Major Taft, A. Cross, Ray Halley, Dick Fraser, Harvey Skirving, Jack Bell, and the Fieldian Relay Team. The athletes are requested to meet near the dressing room five minutes before.

CRICKET.

Lovers of the gentlemanly game will be delighted to know that a new interest is being revived—doubtless due to the Hayward intertown trophy. Advices from Grand Falls say that the conditions governing it have not been drawn up but a meeting of the Cricket Club there will be held this week on the arrival of the trophy which is being forwarded by Butler Bros., by express to-day. The city "W.G.'s" are already bucking on their armour to repel the threatened invasion and a match has been arranged between the Shamrocks and Fieldians for Saturday afternoon at St. George's.

AT THE LINKS.

ST. MICHAEL'S.

The Sports Programme arranged for to be held at Lester's Field, Cornwall Avenue, on to-morrow afternoon promises to be very interesting and every event will be closely contested, as a large number of entries have been made. The programme will include the following items—100 yards, one mile, sack race, potato race, broad jump and inter-parish tug-of-war. Entries will close on the field. The finals in the League Football have Vandalism.

What is supposed to be one of the most barefaced acts of vandalism perpetrated for some time was witnessed Sunday afternoon by residents of the Higher Levels. Two well dressed middle-aged ladies (?) wending their way in that locality were attracted by a lilac tree profusely decorated with its annual flower. Not content with viewing it from a distance, one of them hooked a large branch down within reach with a walking cane which she sported, and the two of them stripped the tree of its contents. We understand that a good description of these women has been given the owner of the property, and a very interesting court case may be the outcome. We are trying to educate the youth of the city to respect the beautifying of both public and private properties, but what is the use when people of this sort show such an example and generally get off scot free.

HIS DIARY.

July 3rd.—To Government House, and there meet Lord Morris, and did have much discourse with him. He tells me how he is here on a holiday, but he also talks of divers things, which are now of much interest. Taking my leave of him, I did meet with Lt.-Col. Bernard, that was my old schoolmaster, and did have discourse with him. The talk of the town is of Sir R. A. Squires, and none know where he is, but it do seem how he hath left the country on the railway and will go to England. Pretty to see the way in which he doth at all times make fools of the publick. And indeed, it seems as if we shall all be ruined very speedily, by what we see in the State. News from the North to-day tells how the people in divers settlements are high starvation nor can anything be done for them, but to give them charity. News of the Boat Clubs is that they will change their views, and will take their part in the Regatta.

Western Fishery News.

BANKERS DOING WELL.
Inspector J. H. Dea, who arrived here yesterday from Placentia, reports a fair fishery along the Cape Shore, but from Placentia west to Odein the voyage so far has been practically a blank. At Burin, St. Lawrence and Lawn, traps are doing fairly well, and prospects are good. The bankers all did well on their spring trips, but they have not reported yet on their caplin, baiting though these should be putting in an appearance shortly.

Norwegian Fishery Closed.

This fishery has now closed and the catch amounts to $900,000 more fish than last year.

Warning to Motorists.

EXCESS SPEED MAY MEAN PRISON.
Motorists convicted of greatly exceeding the speed limit on traffic hidden streets may in future, have to go to prison without the option of a fine. In any case, the extreme fine will be imposed, according to the circumstances of the case. This warning was handed down yesterday in the Police Court by Judge Morris in fining a motorist $10 for driving over LeMarchant Road at a dangerous rate of speed. In this case it was accused's first offence. Otherwise the fine would have been heavier. The judge said that the lives of citizens must be protected.

Park Memorial.

THE BOMBING NEWFOUNDLANDER.
The memorial which Sir Edgar Bowring has presented to Bowring Park, will be erected soon, the Telegram learns. The memorial is a life size statue of the "Bombing Newfoundland", and is a splendid example of the sculptor's art. No arrangement for its erection and unveiling have yet been made, but Sir Edgar Bowring will probably give the matter his attention shortly.

St. Thomas' Sunday School Picnic.

The Sunday School Picnic for the children of St. Thomas' Church, takes place at Woodley's Farm tomorrow (Wednesday). The children will meet at Canon Wood Hall at noon, and will then call on His Excellency the Governor. The teachers will be greatly obliged to friends if they will send their cars to Government House at 12.15 to take the little bus to the grounds.

Under the Law or Under Grace

With the fixing of an agreement by which the country stands all loose, the railway is to be run by the Government until Nov. 15th. This is just what was expected by the Opposition, and now the Reids, it is presumed, are cleared from certain obligations, which by contract, should have been borne by them. Had the original—50 years contract—agreement been forced in recent years this colony would not have had to face present conditions as to-day. A broken agreement and accepting of the same by past governments, we should say nullifies all penalties, thus it was that money had to be continually paid out to keep the railway running until the climax this spring. The former contract as a consequence becomes of non-effect and the Reids seem to be able to bind over the colony or government to whatever demand seems to them necessary.

The railway system has for a long while been a problem for the Squires administration. Is it because the Hon Sir is afraid to battle the watch or his 1919 manifesto in which he promised much to the electorate? Many clauses we know were for vote pulling, and were never meant to be carried out if so why was not something done for a people who confided in them, as was shown by large majority votes?

It is rumored that an election is to be this coming fall as the present political power needs the sanction of the people re railway matters mostly. If this be true more might be said in reference to the incapacities of our rulers to cope with the problems before the country. Again, what will the people know as a whole what will suit the Reids or the Government as many contracts hang in balance, or is it the intention to cast all former documents aside and start all over anew? Now that the railway needs much to

SIDE TALKS.

UNCOMMON SENSE.

"Yes, but she's got an awful lot of common sense"

We had been discussing a young girl in our neighborhood who has lately announced her engagement.

The man in the case is frankly considered a catch. The girl is a nice girl, reasonably good looking, but not obviously out of the ordinary.

"I should think," said the inevitable feminine critic, "that with the whole crowd to choose from he might have gotten a girl with more charm or beauty or something remarkable. Why, Mary hasn't beauty or charm or talent. She's just an ordinary nice girl."

And then Mary's defender made the response: "Yes, but she's got an awful lot of common sense."

"And do you think that's a quality for a man to fall in love with?" asked Mary's critic.

Good to Live With.

"No," said the other woman, "but it's a mighty good quality for a man to live with. I think Jim is a wise man. Or perhaps," she added as an afterthought, "I should say a lucky one."

In which she showed herself twice in the same speech a Daniel come to judgment in human nature and human values.

I wonder how many couples reach the divorce courts that would never in the world get there if both the parties had a little common sense.

I think it would be hard for a fairy godmother to find any gift that would mean more in peace and happiness to her, and than common sense (except, perhaps, health—and they are apt to be found together).

Less Jealous.

If a woman has common sense it means that she will be less susceptible to that emotion which so often wrecks marriages—jealousy.

If a woman has common sense it means that she will not take the readjustment from courtship to married life too hard. She will not be resentful when she finds that her husband expects something besides her charm from her. She will realize that spending his money wisely and making the most comfortable home possible is her part of the partnership.

If He Forgets Flowers.

If a woman has common sense it means that she will not be super-sensitive, that she will not make scenes over little things, or regard the fact that her husband has forgotten to bring flowers on their second wedding anniversary as a sign that he has ceased to love her.

The funniest thing about common sense, or perhaps the only funny thing about it, is its name. For sound, sane common sense is not common. Far from it. It's a rare and beautiful endowment and she who brings it to her lover as part of her dowry brings him something infinitely precious.

Dempsey Will Trim Wills.

Jack Dempsey is ready to sign articles to meet Harry Wills, the colored pugilist, says The Review, Montreal. The indications are that the successor of his race to Peter Jackson and Jack Johnson will be defeated, for Dempsey is comparatively young in the game as champion and is in his full physical strength. The only thing, in fact, against Jack is that he has taken to wearing a monocle and spats since his visit to England, and any pugilist who does either is on the way to losing his laurels.

Pal o' Mine, Sleep On!

Sleep on, old pal, beneath that foreign sod,
Much loved by me, but better loved by God,
Else He would not have claimed you for His own
And left me here to "carry on" alone.
I close my eyes, it all comes back again,
The bursting shells o'er No Man's Land, and then
Your hand was clasped in mine; I heard you sigh,
For soldiers "over there" don't say "good-bye."
Just "Au revoir, old man," and "Carry on."
They've got me and I think I see the dawn
Of a new day, when men no longer fight,
Or shells scream over Flanders Fields at night.
Peace reigns once more, while far across the sea
The Belgian rose and drooping fleur-de-lis
Lift up your heads to greet the coming dawn;
Somewhere in Flanders, Pal o' Mine, sleep on,
—Ann Nicholson, in The Kinsman.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

REDUCING PUBLIC DEBT. WASHINGTON, July 4. A reduction of $1,014,000,000 in the public debt during the fiscal year ended June 30, is announced by the U.S. Treasury.

STRIKE MATTERS.

ALBANY, July 4. The importation of 600 strike breakers for railroad shops and yards, an increase of guards and police on railroad property, and a small demonstration against negro strike breakers, marked the first day of the railway strike here.

FOR UNIVERSAL DISARMAMENT.

PARIS, July 4. Three projects for a general world disarmament were placed before the Temporary Mixed Disarmament Committee League of Nations by representatives of Britain at the commission's opening session. The first provided for the extension of obligations of the Washington Naval Treaty to other powers, which did not sign the Washington pact. The second provides for land disarmament on a ratio basis similar to that worked out for naval reductions. The third provides for a general disarmament of naval military and aerial services in return for which all powers are to enter into a pact to protect each other against aggression.

FINAL DEFEAT OF REBELS.

DUBLIN, July 4. The enveloping movement by Free State forces in Sackville Street, areas is complete, and the final defeat of the rebels is in sight, says an official communique. Insurgent positions have been captured in Earl Street, with 32 rebels. The Young Men's Christian Association building in Sackville Street, occupied by Insurgents, was burned during the night following an attack by Free Staters.

JOINING FORCES.

DUBLIN, July 4. An official bulletin at noon says that garrison barracks at Leitrim, near the Ulster border, held by Free Staters, was attacked simultaneously by Irish Insurgents and Ulster specials from different positions. The small garrison stubbornly resisted, but was forced to yield to the combined forces, says the bulletin.

STRIKERS OUTLAWED.

CHICAGO, July 4. Striking railway shopmen, called outlaws by United States Railway Labor Board, entered on the fourth day of their strike against wage reductions. Railway executives say their places are being filled, and the service is not yet affected. Union officials claim that other railway men are joining the strike. No serious disorders are reported, though parties of strikebreakers have been interfered with. Sam Gompers denounced the board for outlawing strikers.

WOULDN'T THIS JAR YOU!

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 4. A strike of trackmen on the Mahoning Division of the Erie Railroad was threatened, unless the company reinstated a man, discharged for refusing to do work formerly done by the men now on strike.

Closing of DeBeers Mines AFFECT CHURCH AND PEOPLE.

LONDON.—Every class and industry in Kimberley, South Africa, is suffering as a result of the closing of the De Beers Company diamond mines, and an appeal for help has been made by the Bishop of Kimberley, Bishop Gore Brown, for his diocese. This appeal is backed up by Lords Buxton, Gladstone and Selborne, who have put it forward to the people of this country through the medium of the Times. The closing of the mines which was due to the unsatisfactory condition of the diamond market, has affected practically the whole population of Kimberley, which depends almost for its very existence upon the diamond industry. Both whites and natives are dependent upon the employment of the miners, and the farmers depend upon the workers for the sale of their product. The closing up of the mines has dried up the sources of supply for the Bishop of Kimberley's diocese, which is twice the size of Great Britain, with a sole endowment of $250,000 a year for the Bishop's stipend, stipend and allowances to the amount of $2400 a year, formerly paid by the De Beers Company, have been suspended, and it is not possible to raise money in Kimberley for the diocese. "If help is not forthcoming," says their Lordships Buxton, Gladstone and Selborne in a letter to the Times, "the greater part of the spiritual work among the natives and whites must be stopped." An emergency fund has been started here. A minimum sum of $2,000 to $2,500 is required to tide the Bishop and the diocese over the abnormal difficulties in which they are involved until the mines reopen.

Soccer Reminiscences.

(By ONLOOKER.)
Being an "On Looker" on the stand of Friday evening's draw between C.C.C. and B.I.S.—the first divided points match for this season—memory called me back to 1897, the second year of the League and the first season for the B.I.S. team, when in a memorable drawn battle with the Saints, they divided the points, being the first team to check the hitherto invincible "Blue and White" Champions of the League, on Llewellyn place.
Having in my possession some extracts from Evening Herald of August 25, 27, 1897, relating to that match, and thinking it might prove interesting reading to present day players and admirers of the game, I am enclosing same and trust you will find space for publication in the sport column of the People's paper.
I might say that it is worthy of note that this is the Silver Jubilee Year of League Football for the B.I.S. or Celtic team of Newfoundland, as they entered the League 25 years ago, that they are the present Champions, have won the cup two successive seasons, and are now making a bold bid to have it for keeps.

Thanking you in anticipation for space.
Truly yours,
JAMES A. CARMICHAEL,
Extract from Evening Herald, August 26th, 1897.
A RECORD GAME.

Those who were at Llewellyn place last evening had the opportunity of seeing the finest game of football for the season, when the B.I.S., a team in the second division of the League list, played the St. Andrew's (Champions) to a draw.
Our regular report of the game is unavoidably held over till to-morrow, but we may say without trenching on the province of our Football Critic (On-Looker) that it was a very well contested game and developed an amazing amount of individual ability and efficient combined play on the part of the B.I.S. which astonished themselves no less than their adversaries. The B.I.S. though beaten otherwise have the proud satisfaction of scoring the only one point obtained against the Champions for the season.
From Evening Herald, August 27th, 1897.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.
2nd League Match—St. Andrew's vs. B.I.S.—Result, A Draw; No goals.
In dull threatening weather the above teams played off their final fixture at Llewellyn place on Wednesday evening with the above surprising result. It was just 6.15 when the referee sounded the line up signal, and it was observed that whilst the Saints had their full League eleven on the field, the Irishmen only mustered up nine strong (amongst whom were some fresh men). However, Parsons, the cycle champion, was put on as a "sub" and the ball set a rolling, the B.I.S. starting with 10 men and playing only 4 forwards for some few minutes when, on the arrival of Harry Brownrigg and Tom O'Neill, Parsons was withdrawn, the following constituting the players who fought out this unexpected draw:—

ST. ANDREWS—Goal, Scappell; backs, R. Young, H. Rodger; half backs, H. Jardine, R. Forbes, S. Rodger; forwards, J. McFarlane, A. Munn, P. C. Mars, G. Walker, W. Moore.
B.I.S.—Goal, W. Collins; backs, M. McLaughlin, T. White; half backs, P. Moore, F. Connolly, Tom O'Neill; forwards, O'Driscoll, A. McKay, Murphy, Tobin, H. Brownrigg.
The wearers of the green played downhill the first half, and for a time more than held their own with ground and wind in their favour, Scappell having to do quite a bit of they can console themselves with the fact that they still are unbeaten as a team, and certainly are a long way ahead as regards their goal record.

Their forward line on Wednesday evening was a long way off their usual form, and seemed to be all out of joint. A beating would have shown them the necessity of practice, in order to sustain their reputation for combination. The half backs (especially Jardine and Rodger) played well, being seldom at fault. Herb Rodger was as usual pretty sure behind, but Young was not as reliable as we have seen him. His kicking being a bit wild. Scappell gave additional proof of his value as goal keeper, and the Saints may thank him for saving them from defeat in their last league match for season '21.

Movie Fans Delighted.

WITH "MIDSUMMER MADNESS."
Big Attraction Seen at Nickel Last Night.
Patrons attending the Nickel Theatre last night were all of the same opinion concerning the big picture "Midsummer Madness." Everybody was thoroughly pleased with the picture. There are six characters in the story that carry the main thread of the plot. These characters are played by Lois Wilson, Lila Lee, Jack Holt, Conrad Nagel, Betty Francisco, and Claire McDowell. There are other competent actors in the cast but the sextette mentioned above, with the addition of a clever little girl, sustain the important action. They are members of two families that have long been friends, and are all persons of refinement. Americans of the best type. The finest performance in the picture is given by Lois Wilson. Hers is the largest opportunity, the deepest emotions to uncover. She answers this demand by presenting a woman at once spiritually and materially adorable. Her momentary disloyalty to the husband who has neglected her is so artfully brought about by the husband of her best friend and her contrition is so profound that she never for an instant loses the sympathy of the onlooker. Her counterpart might step out of thousands of heroes where the graces of existence are heeded. This bill will be repeated to-night.

—By Bud Fisher

Cut Your Fuel Bills 1/3

You should know how important it is to weather strip your house and buildings. Weatherstrips keep out cold and actually save one third of your fuel expense. Fuel is as high as ever and there is very little chance that its cost will come down soon. It is too expensive to waste. Not only can you keep out cold by installing Ceco Metal Weatherstrips, but your house is kept free from dust, dirt and soot, and the disturbance of street noises. Ceco Metal Weatherstrips are economically installed; they last as long as the building. They are cheaper than storm sash and are far more effective. No matter whether your house is in the process of construction or old as the hills, let us show you without obligation the convenience and effectiveness of this most practical weatherstrip on the market.

Bell Island Football League.

HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING—INTERESTING CONTESTS FORECAST—ED THIS YEAR ON IRON ISLE.

The annual meeting of the Bell Island Football League was held on Tuesday evening last in the Dominion Fire Brigade Club Rooms. Representatives from Scotias, Cadets, Fire Brigade, and Young Britons being present. Mr. C. F. Taylor, President of the League, occupied the chair assisted by J. M. Greene as vice-president. The annual reports of the secretary, Mr. P. T. Murphy, and treasurer, Mr. J. Noseworthy, were submitted and adopted, showing a balance on hand after last year's series. General matters of importance were discussed and it was decided to play the regular games this year starting about the 8th of July. Up to date the Cadets, Fire Brigade and Young Britons have signified their intention of competing this year but before the series start. Messrs. Dr. W. L. Carnochan, Chas. Maine and A. R. Froudford were elected as members of the League as slight recognition of their services towards Football and sport on Bell Island in past years. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—Joseph M. Greene.
Vice-President—C. Maine.
Treasurer—J. Noseworthy.
Secretary—Patrick Murphy.
Mr. C. F. Taylor who voluntarily retires this year from the Presidency after ten years of occupancy of that office was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his past services, and was unanimously elected as Hon. President. The League meets again Friday night to draw up the schedule and make final arrangements for the season's games.

Played to a Draw.

BELL ISLAND CADETS AND ST. JOHN'S STAR FOOTBALLERS.

In a most interesting football contest held on Bell Island last week the Bell Island Cadets held down the St. John's Star to a draw, no scoring being done during the sixty minutes of play. The game was both fast and clean, and a good brand of football was handed out. Mr. R. Burnham was referee and the Star team comprised several of the old timers, including M. Rolis, W. Duggan, and R. Walsh. The Bell Island Cadet Team comprised practically the same players who won the Tie Cup Series last fall, excepting their "Star" Half Back, "Jim" Murphy, who is away attending college. The largest gathering in the history of the game on the Iron Isle witnessed the contest which was held on the Star field. Both goal keepers, Walsh and Farrell gave a clever exhibition.

The Cadet line up was as follows:—Goal, M. Farrell, Bucks J. McEvoy, Gus Connors; Halves J. L. Connors, J. Dulhanthy, Ed. Farrell; Forwards P. J. Murphy, W. Connors, M. Dobbin, R. Dwyer and Jas. Dwyer. After the game the Star Jazzola Orchestra played at a reunion in the Star Hall. The Stars were considered extra good sports on the Iron Isle, and the Island Athletes we learn, are anxious for another visit from them. The visit and game was arranged by Capt. L. C. Murphy, Messrs. Andrew Murphy, J. M. Greene, J. L. Connors, G. Connors, and others of the Bell Island sporting fraternity.

Advocate Taken to Task

LIBEL ACTION THREATENED.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Will you please publish the enclosed copy of a letter which I have addressed to the Evening Advocate for publication to-day. The letter speaks for itself, and I bespeak the courtesy of your columns to give it publication.
Yours very truly,
C. J. FOX.
July 3rd, 1922.

Messrs. Union Publishing Co. Ltd., Proprietors and Publishers; and Hon. A. W. Mews, Editor, The Evening Advocate, City.

July 3rd, 1922.
Dear Sirs—I am instructed on behalf of the Susu Shipping Company, Ltd., to refer you to a letter which appeared in the Evening Advocate issue of the 30th ult., under the heading "The S.S. Susu" and signed "Fogo District." The letter in question both in its direct charges as well as in its insinuations was a tissue of falsehood from beginning to end; is willfully and maliciously untrue; and could have been written with no other motive than to damage the business, credit and reputation of the Company and those associated with it. Its vicious object and untruthful character are all the more emphasized and are bound to have all the more harmful effect when it is remembered that the District of Fogo in which the Company is running its mail, passenger and freight service under its contract, is one of the chief centres of circulation for your paper. It is hardly credible that you should have allowed such an article to appear in your columns, as it is grossly libellous and is calculated to do irreparable injury to my clients. I wish to emphatically state that it is absolutely untrue that the S.S. Susu was refused insurance by Lloyd's or by any other body of underwriters. It is absolutely untrue that Lloyd's consider her unfit to insure. She has been and is to-day insured with Lloyd's, and no better proof of her being regarded by the underwriters as a good risk is needed than the fact that they are carrying her insurance at the particularly low premium rate of 4 1/2%. The ship was given an extensive over-hauling last year, the cost of which ran into thousands of dollars. This year before she entered upon her contract, other renovations and repairs were effected, so that in all respects she is seaworthy and properly outfitted and found to carry on her service in Fogo District with despatch, safety and satisfaction to the public. It is untrue that Sir M. P. Cashin is the largest shareholder in the Company; as it is also untrue that "the contract for the Susu was given by himself to his own Company." The contract for the Susu was awarded by tender; and to indicate how inadequate the present subsidy is, and what little profit there is in the contract for the shareholders, it may surprise you to know that the company has not paid a dividend for three years. My clients require you, without any evasion or equivocation, in to-day's issue of The Evening Advocate, to contradict, retract and correct such false, malicious and defamatory statements as those complained of; and that you give publication to this letter and to your contradiction as above on the editorial page of your paper. I have to give you notice that unless satisfactory and sufficient amends are made by you in this respect within the time stated, my instructions are to institute proceedings for libel against you without further notice and to issue the writ forthwith.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) CYRIL JAMES FOX,
Registrar General.

Fell Over Cliff.
BOY LIES AT DEATH'S DOOR.
The six-year-old son of Patrick Sullivan of Caplin Bay is now lying dangerously ill at his home, suffering from the effects of a fall over a cliff, 150 feet high. The lad was picked up in an unconscious condition, suffering from terrible body injuries. Dr. Freebairn is doing all that is possible for him, but very little hope is held for his recovery.

Laxatives Replaced

By the Use of Nujol
Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe.
When you are constipated, there is not enough lubricant produced by your system to keep the food waste soft. Doctors prescribe Nujol because its action is so close to this natural lubricant. Try it today.

In Memoriam.

MRS. JOHN KAVANAGH.
Yesterday afternoon all that was mortal of the late Rosanna Kavanagh, widow of the late John Kavanagh (for many years a director of the firm of Hearn & Co.) was laid to rest in the family plot, Belvidere Cemetery, after the last sad rites were administered by Rev. Dr. McGrath at the R. C. Cathedral. The death of Mrs. Kavanagh is the loss of a well known and highly esteemed citizen, who was venerated by reason of her friendship and kindness. Although having greatly suffered she bore patiently a long and tedious illness up to the moment of her passing on Saturday afternoon, when surrounded by her family she received the last sacraments of her profound faith. The news of her death was heard with great surprise by her friends and acquaintances who had learned to love her because of the many deeds of charity and kindness and other examples of good will which marked the career of her husband who predeceased her twenty-four years ago. Mrs. Kavanagh is survived by six daughters, Misses Jen, Rose, Alice, Bride, Lillian, wife of Mr. W. J. O'Neil, Agnes, wife of Capt. Thos. F. Sullivan; two sons, James and Patrick, and many other relatives to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.—Com.

Lecture and Concert.

ENTERTAINMENT AT ST. PATRICK'S.
A large audience attended the lecture and concert held last night at the Convent Schools Riverhead. Mr. James Gibbs, the lecturer was in splendid form, and his subject "Patriotic Pearse" proved full of interest. The concert provided by a number of leading artists included some very choice selections and evoked unstinted applause. At the conclusion of the evening's entertainment Rev. Dr. Kitchen congratulated the ladies and gentlemen who took part and a vote of thanks was tendered them by acclamation. The proceeds will be devoted to the Building Fund of the Memorial School.

An Incident of the Battle of Ulundi.

No British soldier had a greater contempt for death and danger than the late Lord William Berosford, who won his Victoria Cross on the eve of the battle of Ulundi, fought on July 4, 1879. Lord "Bill" (as he was familiarly known) was scouting one day when he and his party were fired on by Zulus, ambushed in the long grass. Two of his men dropped dead at the first volley, the second unhorsed a sergeant, who, though not killed, was seriously injured. Without a moment's hesitation, although the Zulus (grown bold by their success), were rushing with brandished spears to dispatch the fallen man, Berosford wheeled his horse round and spurred back to his rescue. Jumping from the saddle, he told the sergeant to mount. The man refused, saying there was no need to sacrifice two lives. Firing at the oncoming Zulus, Lord Bill roared: "If you don't mount, I'll punch your head," and picking up the wounded man, he assisted him on the saddle, sprang up after him, and raced away with a shower of bullets and assegais whistling past his ears. A moment's further delay, and both would have been dead men. As it was it was only with the assistance of Sergeant O'Toole, who from time to time checked the onrush of the Zulus with his revolver, that he was able to carry the wounded man into camp. It was the same war which gave General Buller the cross which he won by repeated acts of the most reckless courage. "Six lives," we are told, "he is known to have saved personally, and how many more by his orders and example, it would be difficult to tell." Thrice on one day he carried stricken men from the field, in the very face of the Zulu hordes, with their assegais raining about his head. Truly these are tales of deathless deeds. In this battle 23,000 Zulus attacked, but left 1,500 of their number dead on the field.

READ—The following unsolicited testimonial from Mrs. John Cousens, Botwood:—

"I have been using WINDSOR PATENT ever since it was first imported, and would say I can find no other flour to compete with it. I bake only once a week, using a stone of WINDSOR PATENT and one Royal yeastcake, and find that the bread never becomes dry as it does when other flours are used. In addition, the bread has a deliciously sweet taste."

Not Her Fault But why not keep teeth white?

Does your dentist ever show you the film-coats on your teeth? His vigorous polishing is largely done to remove them.

Both are embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—a scientific tooth paste. To millions of people it is bringing whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

Five benefits

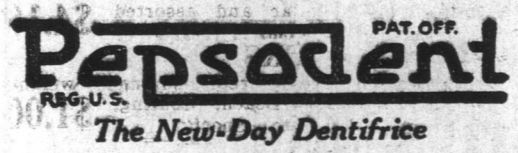

Pepsodent brings other desired effects. It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the search for the alkalinity of the saliva. That is to digest the starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

Watch it act

The results are quick and apparent. You can see and feel them. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth, written as the film-coats disappear.

The new-day way

Dental science, after long research, has found two ways to fight film. Careful tests have amply proved them. Now leading dentists, here and abroad, advise their daily use.

Ten-Day Tube Free THE PEPSODENT COMPANY, Dept. N-1X, 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill. Mail 10-day tube of Pepsodent to only one tube to a family.

THE LESSON OF THE CRATE. It seemed an unimportant task. Too trifling for a chief to ask. A little thing, nor could he see the need to do it thoroughly.

He was to nail a wooden crate. No chance in that for splendor great. No chance to prove his gift for skill. A thankful post was his to fill; Well-nailed or not, 'twould be the same.

The world would never learn his name. And yet that wooden crate was filled With what had taken months to build.

He did not see or understand Just what was passing 'neath his hand— That as that wooden crate was nailed, A plan succeeded or it failed; That miles away men stood in wait Depending on that simple crate. For not a wheel could turn or drive Until it safely should arrive.

He drove his nails and let it go. Thinking that one would never know Whose hand had held the hammer there.

Or, knowing it, would ever care; Yet in a few brief days there came The news that burned his cheeks with shame: "Broken in shipment and we stay Facing another month's delay."

Vain is the skill of workmen great. Unless the boy makes the crate. Shall give his best to driving nails The work of all the others fail; There is no unimportant task, Whatever duty life might ask. On it depends the greater plan— There is no unimportant man!

Belvedere Garden Party.

All arrangements are about complete for the Garden Party at Belvedere tomorrow afternoon, and only a propitious weather man is now wanted. Three nice prizes for the road race and Relay Race have been donated, and both Ladies' and Gentlemen's Committees have worked assiduously to make a pleasing success for the Sisters and the little orphans under their care.

C. L. B. Sports.

Preparations are soon being made for the C.L.B.C. Dominion Championship Sports which will be held in St. George's Field on August 16th. The sports will be one of the big attractions of the athletic season and have in past years, proved very successful. They are held under the auspices of the C. L. B. C. Athletic Association.

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY SCALP Was Sore and Red. Hair Fell Out. Head Disfigured. "From using the same brush and comb as my sister, whose scalp was troubled with dandruff, I caused my scalp to become very itchy and sore and red, and the dandruff scaled off and could be seen on my clothing. My hair fell out gradually and my head was disfigured. This trouble lasted six months. Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I afterwards bought more, and I only used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Frances Burns, St. Basile, Quebec.

Brought Handsome Present.

By the last Rosalind there arrived here Mrs. Jas. Baird, of this city, formerly Miss Hettie Wadden, sister of Messrs. Gus and Frank Wadden the well known business men of Water and New Gower Streets respectively. Mrs. Baird brought with her a handsome present for St. Clare's Home here in the shape of a draft for $500.00. It was donated by Mr. W. J. Halley, also a former resident of this city now one of the most prosperous residents of Pittsburg Pa. U.S.A. Mr. Halley is treasurer of the United Electric Co. Little Bay Notes.

Mr. T. M. Wells left by S. S. Clyde to-day for St. John's.

There is no sign of codfish yet this season and caplin are very scarce.

Rev. Fr. Pumphrey returned a few days ago from a visit to Pilleys Island and other places in his mission.

Mr. T. W. Wells returned from a trip to Gull Pond on Sunday. Mr. Wells reports drilling operations continue to show splendid results.

Motor boat "Hydro" owned by H. B. Hatch has been given a thorough overhauling and many improvements added. She is now in splendid condition. Work was performed under the supervision of Dr. Lidstone.

Constable Dewling arrived from Jackson's Cove, with two prisoners on Monday. The men arrested are charged with robbery.

Misses Margaret Garland and Mary Dooley leave by next Prospero for their homes at Hr. Grace. These young ladies have been teaching school here for the past nine months. Their many friends hope to see them again after the "holidays."

Dr. Lidstone is a very busy man these days and its seldom he has a day at home. The Doctor has a large stretch of the Bay to attend, and is continually on the move.

Mr. Wm. Tilley will leave soon for Piacentia where he will be employed by Mr. W. A. MacKay, whom it is understood is interested in the development of a mining property near Piacentia.

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce. Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?

Mrs. A. A. V. Halterman writes of Dr. F. G. Kinsman's Heart Tablets, etc.: COULD NOT GO ACROSS ROOM, BUT NOW ABLE TO WALK SIX MILES.
I cannot express to you my thanks for your Heart Tablets as I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I had heart trouble for fifteen years and would have had spells so that I would have to sit up for five or six weeks at a time, only getting two hours' rest out of forty-eight. I had smothering spells and would have to be fanned for hours at a time, and the pain at my heart was so severe that I would think that every minute would be my last. My heart would beat so fast that I could not count the beats, and would then stop altogether and my breath would become so short that I would sink away in fainting spells. Many different physicians treated me, and one specialist stated that I had the worst affected heart of any he had ever treated and that it was impossible for me to be cured. I was not able to walk across my room on account of my heart, but am now able to go six miles on one walk. I was not expected to live by any of my friends, and they now all ask me: "What did you take to cure yourself?" I am looking well, and my heart never troubles me and it has been six years since I took the Tablets. My son was taken with the grip and was not able to work for five weeks. His heart troubled him so I advised the use of your Heart Tablets, and in three days he was well and has not since lost a day's work. I shall do all I can to recommend your medicine.
Above Heart Tablets are sold at $1.00 per box at all Drug Stores, or write to P. O. Box 913, St. John's for further information.
