BRITISH CABINET MINISTERS ARE DIVIDED ON BITTER WINDS BLOW BUSY DISCUSSING GREAT MUCH DISCUSSE D SUFFRAGE BILL

London, May 7.—The fate of the woman suffrage bill was sealed last night by the votes of more than 50 Irish Nationalists who voted against it. The bill, whereby whose outrages the law had dealt and jit was sought to enfranchise 6,000,000 women, was rejected by a majority of 47. The vote stood 266 to 219.

Whether there is any chance that the present parliament will pass a bill of more limited character may be doubted. Possibly the Nationalists fear that if they allow a women's franchise bill to pass the second reading it would lead to a parliamentary struggle which would not unlikely end in dissolution of the parliament before the home rule bill gets on the statute book.

Militancy Disliked

Furthermore, the debate proved that the militant policy of the suffragettes has done the cause great harm as far as parliament is concerned. Recent police court disclosures of acts of incendiarism planned by the militant suffragettes, far surpassing in magnitude anything hertofore attempted and the burning of St. Catherine's church at Hatcham today unodubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill. To Women Who Favor a White Coat for Summer Wear

Our window display featuring some of our more exclusive New York models will be of more than passing interest. You'll notice that on most of these attractive coats is a touch of the vivid colors which counturiers are using so freely, but always with good effect, whilst the materials include eponge cloth, ratines, serges, blanket cloths and homespuns. One of these smart little models is priced at only $15.25 Another $15.75 Others are priced at $20.00 $21.00 or $25.00 So you see it is not a very costly matter to own one of these handsome, serviceable coats.

THIS SEASON'S SAILOR HAT

It was inevitable that with the blazer coat, high in fashion's favor, there should come a demand for a "sailor hat," but few milliners dared hope for such a smart new style as New York has just sent to us-with round, snug fitting crown ,and long, oval, slightly drooping brim they are so becoming that the athletic girl and the business woman' will claim them at once for their "very own." In natural and black, with corded ribbon band.

The news of Mrs. Clerihew's resignany of whom knew the Annex ma-ron in her official duties, and as a member of various clubs and societies.

Her genial kindliness and honesty make her a general favorite, and there

But Calgary Will Endeavor to Crowd Twelve Days' Work Into One

The mayor will issue a proclamatio declaring Friday, May 9, Arbor Day a public holiday. Schools, banks, places of business, civic departments, shops and factories are all expected to observe it and to participate in the cleaning up of all premises in the city. This is the first concerted effort towar a general clean-up in several years and big preparations are being made by the various city officials in charge.

The observance of Arbor Day is a general thing in most cities. In fact, in some American cities where cleanliness is a matter of civic patriotism one day every a matter of civic patriotism one day every month is made a statutory holiday for cleaning up. In the city of Omaha, where City Engineer Craig formerly lived, this practice was followed very successfully.

If the Calgary public would avoid the monthly clean-up a very thorough Arbor Day scouring will be necessary.

MANY FINE HOUSES ARE BEING BUILT

Building permits taken out on Tues day reached to the total of $40,000. This sum was made up entirely of dwelling houses most of them of a better class than has appeared on the ist of permits taken out so far this year. The bad weather has this week nterfered to a great extent with the work of contractors, but they feel it cannot last and that within a few days there will come the much needed warmth which will enable the work be done more satisfactorily. The permits taken out on Tuesday ncluded:--Dr. Graham, Mount Royal, dwelling, Dublin, May 7 .- Should the plan o he government be realized, the Home Rule bill would fin dits way to the statute book in May, 1914, and come nto operation in January, 1915. The irish parliament would meet in the May following, and before the end of May following, and before the en that year there would have to general election for the imperial lament. The date of the appeal to th country is, of course, much in the dis retion of the government, but re ort credits them with the intention o let the general election precede the lections for the Irish parliament If this be done, it would be due tirely to tactical considerations, and the object attributed to the govern the object attributed to the govern-ment is to secure the Irish vote in British constituencies. In this way they would have to win twenty-eight additional seats. Another considera-tion is that if they were beaten, the presence of the Home Rule bill on the statute book would be a source of embarrassment to the Unionists. Speaking at Birkenhead in support

f the Liberal candidate for the divi ion, Mr. Runciman, president of the ard of agriculture, emphatically sured the gathering that upon the rish question the cabinet was unanicous and the party was unanimous. Many doubts had been expressed, mainly in the press, as to the determainly in the press, as to the deter-mination which would be shown by the government on the Home Rule bill, whether they might, in certain circumstances, be frightened out of the bill, whether they might not find their determination weakening in the face of a loud, determined and SPECIAL RATES TO CITY sincere opposition. But if the government were to desert their task and to compromise on the self-government of Ireland, if they were to turn their backs on the faith of their predecessors and their own pledges, they would not be worthy to remain in ofice. In twenty-four months from the date of the bill's introduction it would become law, house of lords or no house of lords.

Although the chief secretary apmade by Manager Richardson to ma Although the chief secretary appeared to attach so much importance to the passage of an Irish Land Purchase bill this session. Unionists declare that no progress has yet been made with the drafting of the measure. They even doubt whether the lines on which legislation shall proceed have been decided upon. The preparation of a scheme of land purchase in Ireland would appear simple enough. It is rumored, however, that the government think of complicating it with some plan for the compulsion of landlords.

made by Manager Richardson to make it a success and a credit to Calgary, and far in advance of any previous exhibition. A feature which is of more than passing interest is that special fares will be given along the Canadian Northern railway for the fair. This is the first time that such an event has taken place in the history of the fair, and is due to the fact that the Canadian Northern has now reached the city with its lines. Robert Creelman, passenger agent of the company, has announced that faires will be given along the Canadian Northern has now reached the city with its lines.
