The Extradition of Phipps Trial—Cencius alon of Evidence—Judgment Reserved.

HAMILTON, Oct. 7.—The investigation on the application for the extradition of Phipps, the Philadelphia alms house embezzler, was resumed to-day at noon. District-Attorney Graham was called and read over several depositions taken in Philadelphia, similar to those put in at the opening hearing of the case, supporting the charges against Phipps. Mr. Osler objected to the depositions, as they were subsequent to the date of the warrant, whereas the statute says that they shall be canterior. Mr. Martin said he was proceeding under the English act of 1870, which allowed the latitude referred to in the depositions. Mr. Osler further objected to the depositions as containing hearsay evidence. Judge Sinclair admitted the force of this objection, and said he would separate the bad evidence from the good. Mr. Martin then read the depositions which had been submitted, showing evidence of Chas. F. Myers to the effect that he saw Phipps forge the signature of Leeds & Ferguson on the books. Leeds' testimony was that he never signed the warrant and that it was a forgery. Mr. Osler urged that the offence was not forgery, but a statutory offence. The judge reserved judgment till the 16th inst.

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1882. WORKINGMEN AND THE PRANCHISE.

A few plain words on the question of the franchise are suggested by the platform of the workingmen. The franchise we new have serves a treble purpose. It is used (1) in elections for the dominion parliament; (2) in elections for the Ontario legislature ; and (3) in elections for municipal councils. It is quite possible that a franchise suitable for one of these purposes may not be suitit is or not can be easily ascertained by a reference to the principles underlying the right of representation in law-making gether is the abolition of wards and the

Under our present constitution, every man who pays taxes to the dominion ought to have a vote in the election of those who have the management of the money he contributes. The dominion franchise, therefore, ought to be conferred on all who pay taxes, subject to the usual restrictions as to nce, citizenship and society. It ought to be what is usually known as man- his dishonored grave. We might well beood suffrage. At present the dominion parliament prescribes no franchise of its own. It adopts for purposes of dominion elections the franchise prescribed by each Unitarians into both; but that the Roman province for itself, and these franchises are exceedingly varied. In Prince Edward Is-only to a trifling extent, but as each citizen has a proprietary interest in the public lands and timber, which form our chief ple entitled to some say in the election of those who are to manage his property. Manhood suffrage ought therefore to be the rule also in provincial elections. At present the municipal assessment, in respect of both property and income, is made the basis of he voting privilege for provincial and also for dominion parliamentary elections. That assessment is also the basis of the municipal franchise, the same voters' lists being used for all three purposes. We have just seen that the true idea of the dominion and provincial franchises is manhood suffrage; let us now see in what direction and to what extent reform of the franchise for municipal purposes should be carried.

It is right enough that taxation, whether on property or income, should be made the condition of a vote in municipal elections, The direct taxes we pay are all paid for municipal purposes, and we pay little or none that are not levied directly by means of the assessment roll. On the same general principle above referred to, therefore, that eternal, could still say, "Father, forgive them, for taxation carries with it the right to representation every man who appears on the assessment roll should appear also on the two here, but the omission is we suppose voters' list. If some taxpayers are allowed an oversight. It will be observed that in to vote and others are not, where is the this most crushing reply to the dividing line to be drawn, and on what charge against Mr. Crooks, she principle? If it is not drawn on some also makes further arrangements it is surely time we had all arbitrary class | that the arrangement will go on ; that this distinctions eliminated from our political lady will exhibit her St. Vitus dance in her systems. It is said that a man must have scatter-headed style every now and again : a certain amount of stake in the municip- that the "neble man" who gnashes his teeth ality before he can be safely entrusted with in the Globe office over the miserable salary the franchise. Be it 20; then how is the they are paying him will go on praying amount of his stake to be determined? At though he be a freethinker; that Rome will present a man must hold property valued have "many defendars," and that Marmien at $400 in a city before he can vote, but if | will be traduced-till the archbishop and he is in a town $300 will suffice, and if in a his flock have been heard from at the polls. rural district $200. This is equivalent to saying that the small property holders are less intelligent and less trustworthy in a city than in a town or village-which everybody knows to be unmitigated rubbish. In recent articles on the ward system we municipal franchise. There is no possibility of estimating the amount of a man's stake for property on which he is required to pay $1,000 of taxes; another is assessed at a figure which requires him to pay $10 of taxes. It may be far easier for the rich man to pay his $1,000 than for the poor man to pay his $10,000 than for the poor man to pay his $10, and it often is easier. In such a case any one can see for himself that the poor man's stake in the community is greater than his rich neighbor's in spite of his smaller assessment. As it costs him more exertion and self-denial to pay what is levied on him, he is more interested in seeing that the civic funds are expended to the best possible advantage. This is so clear as to need no elaboration.

There is no reason why liqor laws should not be as rigidly enforced as excise laws. Permits should be largely decreased in umber, and quite fast enough for the march of public opinion, as forfeitures and business that leave now without confiscation of the law of the law. "The summary jurisdiction of justices of the peace should be transferred to the county jurisdiction of justices of the peace should be transferred to the county jurisdiction of justices of the peace should be transferred to the peace clear as to need no elaboration. Then if the amount of the taxpayer's inerest in the administration of civic affairs is not capable of being determined by the n direct proportion to his ability to pay the taxes he owes to the corporation, no tax-payer should be prevented from voting? This is one inevitable inference from a consideration of the facts and of the principle anderlying them. Another is that no man should be able to vote more than once as is now done under the ward system. No mat-ter how much property A holds inside the city limits, and no matter where it lies, it is all subject to the same civic administration as the poor man's tenement, the taxes on which cost him many a day's hard toil on the streets or in the artisan's shop. It is scandalous that so invidious a discriminaion against the poor and in favor of the rich should have been allowed to exist so ong. Fortunately the small property holders are numerous enough to bring about reform if they choose to set about it.

The present iniquitous franchise is some-times defended on the ground that when questions involving increase of taxation come up the poor man's vote is purchasable. There is nothing in the history of this city t least to justify any such charge. Tornto has suffered far more from the schemes of ward politicians, who purchase property n certain localities and then do their utnost to get it improved and made valuable t the city's expense. How many times has this case been repeated : An alderman, either by himself, or as member of a syndicate, becomes interested in a piece of farm or other vacant propery inside, or just outside the city limits. At once the discovery is made that pavements, culverts, sidewalks, whom has only one vote for each alderman, THE MILLENIUM. We were under the impression that the millenium was not very far of, but we had no idea that it was so near as it is. We now learn that the whole christian world with its wealth of sects are to come together and shake hands over Marmion in lieve that high church divines would lay away their creed and their crozier, that Baptists would merge into Methodists, and church with its retinue of nuns and monks and priests and bishops and cardinals, with exceedingly varied. In Prince Edward 1s and priests and bishops and cardinals, with the pope thrown in, would turn Presby terian en masse and mingle in unity with the heretics over the said grave was more than we were led to expect would his father is made a voter in his own right.

In Ontario the province collects taxes and mingle in unity with the heretics over the said grave was more than we were led to expect would happen immediately. It is a lucky thing that bad texts are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and the province collects taxes are now again set affost, and there is manhood suffrage, and in most the property and the property and the province of the others there is a combined property and the province of the others there is a combined property to make a thorough investigation of a certain part of the purpose, being assisted by a junior hand. It is understeed that his yacht crossed the dividing line into Canada last week through an ominous passage known as Lost Channel. Several gentlemen informed a World reporter that Gen. Grant when president called into the port of Toronto on a steamboat when going down the lake. Who saw him?

A Fiendish Outrage. In one of the city banks the other day an event happened which is deemed worty of portance of the work he was about enter-ing on, the senior informed him that an anonymous letter had been received by the bank authorities containing information of the surreptitious deposit of a quantity of dynamite, and that it was fer the purpose of dynamite, and that it was fer the purpose of ferreting out the dynamite that they had been selected. The horror of the junior clerk was only equalled by the apparent bravery of his co-worker, as with lighted candle he proceeded fearlessly to investigate the mysteries. Fear, indeed, so worked on the junior's imagination as to cause him to see suspicious packages in the most innocent looking books and parcels. When shortly afterwards the manager came in to inquire afterwards the manager came in to inquire the result he was not a little taken aback by the question of the junior as to the exact locality the dynamite was supposed to be in.
And now it is only necessary to say "dynamite" to that youth to make the rash individual an "uninsurable risk."

A verse from the very handsome printing of the Lights o' London company which now adorn the ample dead walls of Toronto reads as follows, and is perused by nearly all who gaze at the bills:

"With faces worn and weary,
That told of sorrow's load,
One day a man and woman
Crept down a country road.
They sought their native village
Heart-broken from the fray,
Yet shining still behind them.
The lights of London lay."

The meaning and purport of this verse will probably be better understood ere the present week is out.

Catarrh-A New Mode of Treatment. From the Weekly (Toronto) Mail, Aug. 24.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of two housand patients treated during the past six onths fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less start ling when it is remembered that not five per cent of itioner are benefited, while the patent medicine and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. St-rting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parisites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the catarrh is tion—this accomplished, he claims the casar practically cured and the permanency is un tioned, as cures effected by him two years ag-cures still. No one else has ever attempted to catarth in this manner, and no other treatmer ever cured catarth. The application of the re-is simple and can be done at home, and the p eason of the year is the most favorable for a sp and permanent cure, the majority of cases h cured at one treatment. Sufferers should co pond with Mr. A. H. Dison. 305 and 307 King et west, Toronto, C. nada and enclose stamp for
