THE

HUDSON's-BAY Company.

IS late Majefty King Charles the Second, by Chrter under the Great Seal, reciting, That Prince Rupert, and divers other Perfons therein named, had, at their great Coft, undertaken an Expedition for Hud/on's-Bay, in the North-weft Parts of America, for the Difcovery of a new Paflage into the South-Sea, and for finding fome Trade for Furs, and other Commodities; and had there made fuch Difcoveries as encouraged them to proceed further; and had befought his Majefty to incorporate them, and grant them the fole Trade and Commerce of those Parts; and his Majefty being defirous to promote all Endeavours tending to the publick Good, did incorporate them by the Name of, The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudfon's-Eay; and did give and grant unto the faid Governor and Company, and their Succeffors, for ever, the foe Trade and Commerce of those Seas, Rivers, and Lakes, in whatfoever Latitude they should be, that lie within the Entrance of the Streights, called Hudfon's Streights, with all the Lands upon the Coasts and Confines thereof, that were not then possible by or granted to any of his Majefty's Subjects, or possible by any other Christian State; and the whole and intire Trade and Traffick to and with the Natives and People inhabiting those Parts, and Coasts adjacent.

This Grant (as it appears from the Tenor thereof) was made to the first Discoveress of, and Adventurers in, a Trade to Hudjon's-Bay; and which they bad threby merited; and the Crown might lawfully grant them, and did grant, by fuch Defcriptions as the hen Knowlege of this newly difcovered Parts would admit of: And it was for their Reward, and to encorage them to profect a Trade they had thus begun, to Parts where no civilized Inhabitants dwelt, and none but difperfed Indans were to be met with, to Parts (perhaps the most inhospitable) and where the greats Extreme of Cold's felt, of any in the known Parts of the Globe, to which any Trade is carried, and though a Sea filled with Ice, of fuch Bodies, and of fuch mountainous Height, as, by the concurrent Teffining of all Navigators, is notto be met with in any other Parts, though nearer to the Pole: So true is the Observation, that the excessive Cold or Heat that is met with in many Places, is owing to other Counstances, than mirely he Latitude of its Situation.

The Company, foon after this Charter, profecuted the Tide to Hudfon's-Bay, by fending feveral Ships, Iaden with Merchandize, into thefe Parts, and by erecting Storehoufes and Factories there, and fending Perfons up into the Country to cultivate an Understanding with the Natives; and though it was attended with a great Expence, and was a Work of Hazard and Diffulty, and that required Time and Pains to effect and fettle a Correspondence and Traffick with the wil disperfed Natives there, who had never feen any Europeans before, and were Strangers to all Trade; yetthe Company happily brought that about, and laid the first Foundation; which has, in Process of Time, eablished a confiderable Trade to those Parts, and which must redound to this Company's particular Merit however they may be envied by fome late Adventurers, who having failed in another Attempt they latly made, would now willingly reap the Fruit of this Company's Labour, and eftablish Factories, in Opposition to them, upon this Company's Foundations.

This Company, befides the Difficulties and Expences the neceffarily underwent in the Outfet of their Trade, have, in the Courfe thereof, met with others not lefs onliderable : For in the Year 1682. the French, who fet up a pretended Right to fome of those Parts, camin Time of Peace, with a confiderable Force, into the Bay, and by Surprize took feveral of the Company Ractories, with great Quantities of their Goods for Trade, and Furrs therein, and committed feveral hoftile Depredations, by which the Company fultained for great a Lofs, that they were forced to take up Money upon Bind, and otherwife; and by this and the fucceeding War with France were difabled from making any Dividend for a great many Years; viz. From 1691 to 1718. after the Treaty of Utrecht, when fuch of the Company's Factories as had been taken by the French, being delivered upto the Company's chief Officers, who were appointed by her late Majefty Queen Anne, to take Poffeffion thereof, for the Ufe of the Company, and who thereby received her Majefty's Sanction of their Rights; and the Company being put into Poffeffion of those Factories, they revived their Trade, and in a few Years brought it into a flourishing Condition, and have effectually kept the French from carrying on any Trade in the Bay ever fince.

The

2 May, 22 Cha. II. 1669. The Charter.

The Company have not only had the Gram and Ratification of the Crown, of their Rights as aforefaid, but have also met with the Sanction of the Legisture thereto; and in an Instance, the strongest perhaps that could ever have happened; for in the Year 1708 the Parliament passing an Act for encouraging the Trade to America, in which it being declared, It should a lawful for all his Majesty's Subjects to trade into any Part of America without Interruption; a Proviso vas inferted, that "nothing in that Act should extend to "take away or prejudice any of the Estates, Rights & Privileges of the Hudson's-Bay Company."

The Company, befides the profecuting the faid Trade, did not neglect fending, at different times, as the State of their Affairs and Abilities would permit them to  $\alpha_0$ , feveral Ships and Veffels in Search for a Northweft Paffage from Hudfon's-Bay to the South-Seas, and were u no fmall Expence therein, not only in one, but in repeated Attempts, and loft feveral Ships, with their Officer, and Crews therein; but after having been at the moft likely Places, and by all they could learn from the Indians, they could never find there was any fuch Paffage; and though the Crown has been induced formerly, as well as very lately, to fend fome Ships on that Search (as likewife have fome private Adventurer) yet has no fuch Paffage been found, though a Reward of 20,000 l. was given by Parliament to those Alventurers if they had fucceeded, as they feemed to promife; in which Way the Legiflature thought fit o recompence them, and not by breaking in upon this Company's Rights, or wrefting from them their Trade or Commerce: On the contrary it is observable. That in the Act which gave that Reward there is contained a Provifo, that "nothing therein contained fhould extend " to take away or prejudice any of the Effates, Fights or Privileges, of or belonging to this Company."

These late private Adventurers finding their Atempts in Search of a North-west Passage had not answered their Expectations, and being tired with the Expence of one Expedition, and, it is believed, fatisfied in general that there was no such Passage, and being disappointed in their Hopes of the 20,000 l. Reward they had not been able to merit, they (inftead of further purfuing new Discoveries) turned their Thoughts towards getting Settlements in old ones, as that was more fure, and a ready Way to reimburfe themfelves. For this Purpole they petitioned his Majesty in Courcil, for a Grant and Charter to share with this Company in their Trade to Hudson's Bay, grounding their Merit on the aforefaid Attempt they had made for difcovering a North-weft Paffage; and that tho' they had not been more fuccefsful therein than this Company have been, yet, if they had a Charter, they should however be more successful in the Trade; and, to make Way for fuch New Charter, they laid fiveral Things before his Majesty to impeach the old Charter, and this Company's Conduct under it : Which Petition having been referred to his Majesty's Attorney and Sollicitor-General, they, on hearing the Evidence on both Sides, have reported, "That, confidering how " long this Company had enjoyed and acted unter their Charter, it was not adviseable for his Majesty to " difturb them therein ; and, as to the particular Charges made against the Company, that they were either ςζ not fufficiently supported in Point of Fact, or, in a great measure, accounted for from the Nature and 50 Circumftances of the Cife."

Those Adventurers, notebtaining what they had to applied for from the Crown, then entertained Thoughts of making a like Application to Parliament; lit, not feeing any Prospect of Success that could attend fo unreasonable a Project, and thus defeated in all their Expectations, and moved by their Disappointment, they have now endeavoured to do this Company all the Injury in their Power, by representing them to the Public in a Light they do not deferve.

The Manner of the Company's carrying on Tade in those Parts is, by Factories established on the most confiderable Rivers that cime into the Bay, at fuch convenient Distance as those Rivers will admit the Company's Ships t go; there being many and great Falls in the Rivers in those Parts; and, at which Factories, the Company have Officers and Servints they maintain all the Year, and where the Merchandize the Company ind yearly from England, n feveral Ships, is deposited for trafficking with the Indians, and which are well known to the Indians, from the Refort they have had thereto for a Course of Years; and who, upon the inft Beaking-up of the Ic in the Rivers, come down thereto in Canoes loaden with Furrs, from all Parts of the Country, which tey barter with the Company for British Commodities they take back in Return; and he Company alway take whatever they bring; and fupply them with whatever they want; and at Prices the Indians are not diffarissied with, nor can procure them elfewhere cheaper. And this Company, who have brought the Trale to be beneficial, would readily endeavour to make it more fo, if it was practicable; and their Credit is figh, that, if a greater Increase of Capital was found neceffary for fuch Purpofe, they could eafily procee it; but unneceffarily to do that, would only be opening a Door to Frauds, to the Injury of many unwar Perfons; which Experience has shewn to have been the Cafe in forme other Companies, now funk in Difcredit.

The principal Articles of Trade in thefe Pas is fupplying the Natives with Guns, and Powder and Shot, they fubfifting wholly by hunting (except the Efkimaux Indians, who are Fifhers), and with Cutlery-ware, Cloth, and fome other of the Britifb Manufactures, and the Company take in Return the Furs of the wild Beafts the Indians kill, and which are of varior Sorts, and amongst them large Quantities of Beaver, which are all brought to England by the Company, and fold to the Furriers here at Two publick Sales in the Year by Auction, to their intire Satisfaction, and who carry on the valuable Manufacture of Hats therewith : The Company alfo trude with the Efkimaux Indians in the Streights and Northern Parts of the Bay for Whalebone and Oil, and allow their Captains 25 l. per Cent. on the neat Produce thereof, to encourage that Traffick, those Indians being dextrous in the killing Whales they meet with in those Parts.

From the Nature of this Trade, it is appreheaded, if it was laid open (but which, it is conceived, cannot be, without the greateft Violation of this Company's Charter), it would not long fublift, nor be able to withftand any Injury offered by ftraggling Traders to the Natives in those Parts, with whom a Confidence has been been gained only by great good Ufage, and who have no Force to protect themfelves, but would foon be checked and put an End to: Neither might the Frunch be fo effectually kept out from trading in the Bay, as they have been for a Courfe of Years last past; nor, perhaps, all the Furs procured there by the Englifh be brought home to England, as they are now by this Company, to the intire Satisfaction of all the Furriers, and to the great Inrichment of this Kingdom, but be carried to other Parts, and there manufactured, as is well known to be the Cafe in New-England, with respect to many of the most valuable Furs procured there.

It is obvious likewife, that there must be Factories maintained, or no Trade could be carried on with any Succefs to thefe Parts, where the Natives live disperfed, and where the Summer-feason is so short, and the Rivers are open so little Time, that the Merchandize must be in Readiness, to dispatch them on their first coming down; and so likewife must the Loadings be got in Readiness for the Ships to return to Europe, or they would be incapable of getting back that Year through the Streights, by reason of the Ice; and Factories cannot well be maintained, but by a Society or Company of Men; and no particular Set of Perfons can pretend equal Merit to intitle them to this Trade with the present Company, who have begun and brought it to its present flourishing State; which makes it the present Object of Envy to fome, who would willingly change Hands with the Company, and get into their Places.

To fettle this Country with Colonies from England, is conceived to be impracticable; nor does indeed the Charter feem to have had that much in View; for the Snow lies here Three Parts of the Year, and the Froft is never out of the Ground; and, in the Midft of Summer, there are frequent fharp Frofts in the Nights; and the Country is fo unfertile, that the Englifh it the Factories are forced to be fupplied with the greateft Part of their Provisions from England: And, as to Corn, they cannot raife nor procure any, but what is fent them from hence. No Indians thereabouts were ever feen with any, nor any thing like Bread; and they are often reduced to the greateft Diftrefs for want of Food.

Upon the whole, it is humbly hoped, That the Hudfon's Bay Company, who were the first Discoverers of, and Adventurers in, this Trade; and who, after great Expences and Losses, have brought the Trade to be beneficial; will appear Deserving to be Supported therein.
