Home Rule As Demanded by Nationalists Has Flatly Rejected by the British Premier

LOYD GEORGE OFFERS SECTIONAL HOME RULE

North of Ireland Must Not Be Coerced, He Declares, in Rejecting Demands of Nationalists, Who Leave Commons After Accusing Premier of Being "Turn-coat."

London, March 7.—The presentation by the Irish Nationalists in the house of commons this evening of a resolution calling for the immediate application of the home rule state to Ireland precipitated one of the most bitter sessions in months and threw the home rule question back into its old position of uncertainty. The resolution forced the government into a declaration of policy towards self-government, namely, that any part of Ireland that wished home rule could have it, but that no coercion would be employed to compel Ulster to accept. At the same time the proposal drew from the Ulsterites the fiercest and most bitter attack which, coupled with the government's pronouncement, effectually crushed all hopes for a speedy settlement.

The Nationalists, tonight, headed by their leader, John Redmond, were in conference, having withdrawn in a body from the house of commons, and Mr. Lloyd George was facing his first embarrassing situation since he assumed the premiership. For more than an hour before the Nationalists left the house the premier had faced a whirlwind of angry questions from the Nationalist quarter, which at times forced him to take his seat because he could not make himself heard. He was called a "turn-coat" on the home rule question, and a "traitor" for his refusal to take his seat because he could not make himself heard. He was called a "turn-coat" on the home rule question, and a "traitor" for his refusal to take his seat because he could not make himself heard.

At one point in his address he paid tribute to the president of the United States, saying that President Wilson in his recent speeches and notes had shown that the United States Government recognized the rights of small nations and the principle of nationality. He called attention to the valiant service rendered by the Irish troops at the front, and asserted that they had enlisted with the understanding that home rule was to be applied to their country. In conclusion he said there were only two ways of remedy—settlement or coercion. He favored settlement.

Points in the Home Rule Debate

PREMIER LOYD GEORGE—"The government is prepared to confer self-government on parts of Ireland clearly demanding it, but it would be impossible to force the people of Ulster to be governed against their will."
EX-PREMIER ASQUITH—"The only solution is that parliament should invite some outside authority to whom they might entrust the task of adjustment. The position of this body might be facilitated by the presence among us of a number of dominion statesmen."
JOHN REDMOND—"The premier has suggested negotiations, but I for one will not enter into them. Home rule should be put into force with such additional amendments as time and circumstances render necessary."
T. P. O'CONNOR—"The Nationalist leaders have paid the price of liberty with their blood."
SIR JOHN LONSDALE—"Events of the past two years are no inducement to Unionists to come in under home rule."

REDMOND BACKED BY SENATE OF AUSTRALIA

Home Rule Without Delay Requested in Resolution Passed by a Vote of Twenty-Eight to Two.

Melbourne, Australia, via London, March 7.—The Australian senate by a vote of 28 to 2 today adopted a resolution calling for home rule for Ireland "without undue delay," substituting the phrase for the word "immediately." Sir Edward Carson, a laborite, said Sir Edward Carson, unopposed, had formed a force to fight the British authorities in Ireland and was then brought into the cabinet. As a result there came the revolt in Ireland, in which people were killed. The reason why Sir Edward was not molested, the speaker added, was that he belonged to the privileged class.

DESTROYER TORPEDOED FRENCH SAILORS LOST

Captain, Six Officers and Hundred of Crew Go Down With Cassini in the Mediterranean.

Paris, March 7.—The torpedo destroyer Cassini, of the Mediterranean patrol service, was torpedoed by a submarine on Feb. 28. According to the official announcement the vessel sank in two minutes, and the crew, including the captain, six officers and one hundred of the crew were killed. The text of the announcement reads: "The torpedo destroyer Cassini, of the Mediterranean patrol service, was torpedoed on Feb. 28 at 1 a.m. The powder magazine exploded, the vessel sank in less than two minutes. The captain, six officers and one hundred of the crew were saved. According to the formal testimony of the survivors, who during the night sought to attain floating rafts, the shout of 'Approach, comrades!' could be heard. An instant later they perceived the dark outline of an enemy submarine, which fired a gun or machine gun shots and a shell, the latter touching a raft as it fell."

Youths Are Called to Arms By Austrian War Minister

Paris, March 7.—A Zurich despatch to The Temps says that the Austrian minister of war has called into service the class of 1920, that is, youths born in 1899 and 1900. The recruits, it is stated, must present themselves on March 10 for immediate service. The despatch adds that it is reported that the Austrian government is likely to call out men aged from 54 to 61 years, who are capable of giving military service.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

In their advance from Persia towards Mesopotamia the Russians have captured the Asadabad summit, ten miles south of Hamadan, and they are now pursuing the Turks, who are retreating south toward Kangaver. Another Russian force which is driving the Turks towards Bagdad has overtaken their rear guard. A third Russian force is giving pursuit of the enemy in the direction of Dovletabad. The Turks are beating a rapid retreat, for they are afraid of being cut off by the British advance from the south. In brief the British have crushed the enemy right wing and so have secured the full initiative, and this fact will cause the enemy a great deal of trouble if not irretrievable disaster in this field.

Latest news received from lower Mesopotamia shows that on Monday General Maude had thrown his cavalry forward in pursuit of the retreating Turks to a point within two short marches of Bagdad. The British horse had reached a point nine miles south of Ctesiphon, at Laji, where it was fighting an action with the Turks' rear-guard. If the Turks are so badly demoralized and disorganized as is generally supposed, they will make no stand of any account at Ctesiphon. In view of the rapid British advance, they may occupy Bagdad at any time now. An eighty mile stretch of country strewn by abandoned war material testifies to the disorderly manner of the Turkish flight from Kut-el-Amara. The British have already collected 28 guns, captured from or abandoned by the enemy.

The Anglo-Russian attack on the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia consists of a well-planned converging movement by at least four columns towards Bagdad, or some unannounced objective, perhaps Mosul. As the British had only a short distance more to cover on Monday to reach their objective, and as the Turks appear to have suffered almost complete disintegration in their rapid flight, the London war office may shortly announce the occupation of Bagdad. If they do this speedily they may effect a coup by placing several bodies of Turks between their own and the Russian fire.

BRITAIN'S NEW ORDER WILL NOT WORRY U. S.

Restriction on Imports Will Affect Northern European Neutrals Chiefly.

Washington, March 7.—A cablegram from the American consul-general at London, today said that after April Great Britain would prohibit the importation of goods of neutral manufacture, in those production have entered material and labor of enemy origin amounting to more than five per cent of the cost. Exceptions will be made for goods to be admitted under special licenses.

Canadian Airmen Receive Promotion on Same Basis as British Aviators.

London, March 7.—In the house of commons tonight Sir Chiozza Money, representing the shipping controller, in replying to Shirley Benn, who asked whether Canadian vessels had been requisitioned and if this was in accordance with the Canadian Government's wishes, stated that the requisitioning of the vessels for the dominions was under discussion with the dominion representatives now here, an arrangement in the meantime being made with the British Government in Canada where no vessels registered in Canada were requisitioned except thru or by the Canadian Government.

CHINA IS SOON TO JOIN ALLIES

Pekin Expects the Immediate Severance of Relations With Germany.

PREMIER TO RETURN

President Decides to Give Cabinet Full Power to Frame Policy.

Peking, March 7.—The immediate breaking-off of relations with Germany is expected here, and it is generally predicted that China will join the entente.

This belief is due to the fact that despatches from Tien Tsin say that Tuan Chi Jul, who resigned March 4 and left for Tien Tsin, has decided to return to the capital immediately and resume the premiership. It is said that President Li Yuan Hung has agreed to give the cabinet full power to frame the "favor" policy. The cabinet is known to favor the severing of relations with Germany, and parliament is showing a disposition to follow the leadership of Tuan Chi Jul, rather than that of the president.

A despatch from Peking, March 4, said the cabinet had decided to join the U. S. in severing diplomatic relations with Germany, but that the president refused to approve of such action. Thereupon, the premier resigned, and left for Tien Tsin, accompanied by several other members of the cabinet.

RUSSIANS TAKE PEAK IN DRIVE AGAINST TURKS

Czar's Forces Rapidly Approach Persian Border in Bagdad Advance.

Petrograd, March 7, via London (British Admiralty per wireless press).—Russian troops which recently captured the Persian town of Hamadan from the Turks have now gained possession of Asadabad summit, ten miles southwest of Hamadan, says the Russian official statement issued today, and are pursuing the Turks, who are retreating further south towards Kangaver. The text of the statement reads:

STRIKE FOR KANGAVER

Eastern Ally Also Pursues Moslems Towards Dovletabad and Bidjar.

Western and Rumanian fronts: Scout reconnaissance and infantry firing are proceeding. "Caucasian front: In the direction of Bidjar our troops, pursuing the enemy, are fighting near Senne. In the direction of Hamadan our troops gained possession of Asadabad summit and are pursuing the Turks, who are retreating towards Kangaver. In the direction of Dovletabad pursuit of the Turks continues."

F. S. SPENCE DIED AT EARLY HOUR

Prominent Temperance and Municipal Man Passed Away This Morning.

HAD BRILLIANT CAREER

Started as Teacher and Took Part in Different Activities.

Francis Stephen Spence, one of the best known temperance men in Canada, and one of the best posted men in the country on municipal affairs, died at an early hour this morning at his house, 554 Spadina avenue. Mr. Spence was confined to his bed for several days with an attack of pneumonia, and thus was unable to attend the big temperance convention now being held in Massey Hall. Prayers for his recovery were offered at the convention yesterday.

Mr. Spence was born in Donegal, Ireland, 67 years ago, and was educated at the Toronto Normal School. Subsequently he was head master of several public schools in Toronto; but since 1882 had devoted himself to journalism and public life. He was editor of the Canadian Citizen, The Vanguard and The Ontario Good Templar, before becoming managing editor of The Pioneer. He took a prominent part in all temperance work and organization, filling some of the highest offices. He was secretary of the central committee in the plebiscite campaign in Ontario in 1894, in the Dominion plebiscite campaign of 1898, and the Ontario referendum campaign of 1905. He had been the honorary president of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance. He was the author of "The Facts of the Case," being a summary of the most important evidence and arguments presented in the report of the royal commission on the liquor traffic in 1898.

TWO LINERS REACH NEW YORK SAFELY

Baltic and Rochambeau Come Thru Danger Zone, But Sighted No Subs.

New York, March 7.—The Associated Press says the White Star liner Baltic and the French liner Rochambeau reached here today. The Baltic was several days overdue, the delay being due to the following of a new course, far from the regular steamship lanes. The vessel sighted no submarines in the danger zone, it was said, although she left port unescorted by ships. The Baltic was commanded by Captain J. B. Ransom, transferred from the one trip from the command of the White Star liner Adriatic. The Baltic carried two large extra funnels astern, which are to be used for spreading dense clouds of smoke to screen the vessel from hostile war craft. Tests made on the voyage here it was asserted, proved the plan would be effective. Among the passengers was Guy Nicholas, coach of the Yale crews, who said he hoped to get the crews on the river tomorrow.

Toronto Owned Freighter Salvaged Off Cone Island

New York, March 7.—The Toronto-owned freighter G. R. Crowe, which went aground Monday night on the east bank of the Ambrose Channel opposite Cone Island, was floated to-night by the wrecking steamer Chancellor, two tugs and a pilot boat. Signals were displayed yesterday saying the vessel required "immediate assistance." She was on her way to an unnamed port via Halifax.

NO MORE SHOE-STRING PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF RAILWAYS!

Once again to the railway situation, in Canada, which deserves and demands immediate action. We have long advocated railway nationalization, and of late we have especially insisted upon the government acquiring and operating the old Grand Trunk. We are unalterably opposed to any scheme which involves the government taking over the Grand Trunk Pacific while permitting the old Grand Trunk to remain under corporate control!

Our demand for the nationalization of the Grand Trunk met with instant response from the people of Ontario, who are suffering from a coal famine and a terrible transportation breakdown. From many sources we have learned of the interest taken in this question by the people. It has been a topic of conversation on the street, in offices, on trains and in street cars, and wherever men meet to congregate. Yet this popular interest finds little expression in the daily press. The Toronto Globe not long ago was a high-priest in the temple of public ownership, but, like Zacharius of old, it was suddenly stricken dumb! A few months ago The Globe reflected the views of Stewart Lyon, now Stewart Lyon has been sent, like Uriah, to the battle front.

The railway problem in Canada ought to be dealt with immediately. What we fear is that it may be dealt with much sooner than the public suspects, and not in the public interest. The people should understand, as the chloroformed press does understand, that things are rapidly moving toward action. The commission appointed to examine into and report upon the Canadian railway situation has, we believe, about completed its findings, and they must by this time be known to the government. Within a few weeks they will be on the table of the house of commons.

The Toronto Telegram, in provincial and municipal affairs a strong advocate of public ownership, has recently become a party organ, and no more than The Toronto News dares to print anything displeasing to the Ottawa government. Yet in The Telegram's issue of Tuesday last we find the following news:

It is reported in western political and business circles that a measure is to come before parliament when it converts will be a bill for placing the Grand Trunk Pacific in the hands of receivers preparatory to having the system taken under federal control. This means little more or less than that the government intends to take over the Grand Trunk Pacific and to relieve the Grand Trunk Railway of its commitments in respect thereto. The government, in short, is to take over a road which does not pay operating expenses, and pay seventy million dollars for the privilege of doing so, by assuming fixed charges amounting to $2,750,000 per year, for which it is no way responsible. Such a course, in our opinion, would be absolutely idiotic from a financial standpoint. But it would be even more dangerous as an indication of a willingness to establish public ownership in the back and to forever discredit it with the people of Canada.

The scheme is to put public ownership in a position where it will always seem to be a failure, and where it can be made to look always grotesque and ridiculous. Under the proposed scheme the government is to have a transcontinental road, consisting of the Intercolonial, the National Transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific. The National Transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific, as we have seen, were built to supplement, co-ordinate with, and be a part of the Grand Trunk Railway system. Wrenched from that system, they constitute a long shaggy straggle across the continent, branchless and feederless. It will be a system that misses Montreal, Toronto and all other cities and towns in old Ontario. It will be almost destitute of terminals, and will largely run thru country where traffic cannot originate.

Mr. Tye, former chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in his article in The Railway Age Gazette, from which we have already quoted, says: "The Grand Trunk Pacific and the National Transcontinental, which really form one system, have been built without any regard to the principles which underlie the economics of railway location and construction. The first essential for any railway is that it get traffic, as without traffic, it cannot live, no matter how cheaply or inexpensively it be built, and this cannot be had without an extensive system of feeders. These two roads spent large sums in building main lines far in advance of the feeders, and only 1200 miles of branch line feeders—fixed charges equal to gross earnings, and cost of operation of about $200 to do $100 worth of business."

What show would this national shoe-string line between Moncton and Prince Rupert have in competition with private ownership? There would be arrayed against it the great Canadian Pacific, with its many branches and feeders, and its great terminal facilities at every important city in Canada, from St. John, N.B., to Vancouver. The old Grand Trunk has the Province of Ontario griddoned with railways, with ports on the Georgian Bay, the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence, while the Canadian Northern has tentacles all over the prairie west, reaching out for the harvest, and has superb terminal facilities at Port Arthur, Winnipeg, and other western cities, thru to Vancouver. Can it be doubted that these two systems would be hand-in-glove, one with the other, and would practically have, under more or less unified management, a bigger and stronger system than even the Canadian Pacific? This being the case, from where could the National Transcontinental get any traffic? For 1400 miles it connects nowhere with the Canadian Pacific, the old Grand Trunk or the Canadian Northern. One train a week reaches it over the Panama Canal than Vancouver. The Grand Trunk sends it a little business over the provincially-owned T. & N. C., but even that may later be diverted.

West of Winnipeg it makes its lonely way over prairie and mountain to a seaport five hundred miles farther away from the Panama Canal than Vancouver, where the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern are already entrenched. The road would only carry traffic between points on its own line. It would be an absolute failure from the day it was inaugurated.

We most emphatically protest against the scheme to make a national railway system out of the Intercolonial, the Transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific. We say that the National Transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific must be operated as a part of the old Grand Trunk. If the old Grand Trunk will not live up to its agreement and operate the National Transcontinental and the Grand Trunk Pacific, then the government has no choice but to take over and operate the old Grand Trunk.

Public ownership is not to be tried out on a shoe-string line across the continent. Public ownership must have a chance to compete on something like equal terms. The national system must include the old Grand Trunk. With the old Grand Trunk, we believe it quite possible for the government to make a paying transcontinental system out of the Grand Trunk, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the National Transcontinental and the Intercolonial. Such a system would start with ports and terminals in every province on the mainland of Canada. It would have fine terminals, stations, docks, sidings, cartage systems, executive offices, established connections, at Sydney, Halifax, St. John, Moncton, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, and all the rich Province of Ontario, and along the Niagara and Detroit frontiers. It would have fine terminals at Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton and other western cities, and would soon find an entrance into Vancouver. A national system thus equipped could originate and interchange traffic. It could do a big mail, express, telegraph and parcel post business. It would not attempt the impossible task of operating a shoe-string line without connections, terminals, branches, feeders or any considerable local traffic. It would start with a real railway.

The people of Ontario will do well to consider the facts above stated. The scheme is even now maturing by which the Grand Trunk Pacific is to be taken over by the government at a loss to the Grand Trunk of seventy million dollars. The privately-owned roads will then get together and engross practically all of the business of the country west of Quebec City. The National Transcontinental, including the Grand Trunk Pacific, wrenched from the parent system, will get no considerable business, but will serve as a scarecrow to frighten the advocates of public ownership hereafter.

PRINCIPAL CLAIMS DAMAGES

States Notice of Cancellation of Contract Was Not Notice to Resign.

The appellate division reserved judgment yesterday at Osgoode Hall in the case of T. C. Smith, principal, who was suing the Campbellford Board of Education for $707.46, claiming that the telegram he received from the secretary of the board, giving him one month's notice of the cancellation of his contract, was not a notice to resign. Therefore at the conclusion of the summer holidays he returned to his place at Campbellford High School only to find another teacher there.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES' WAGES ARE UNDER DISCUSSION

Young Men, Physically Fit, May Not Receive Increases This Year.

No decision was reached at the conference of board of control members and heads of departments yesterday afternoon, relative to the proposed general increase in salaries of civic employees. The matter will be threshed out at the board of control meeting this morning.

There is a possibility that young men, eligible for military service, will not come in for any of the salary increases. The mayor and Controller Shaw favor some method which would eliminate them from the scale of increases. The fire and police departments, it is understood, do not desire to be included in the schedule drawn up by Controller O'Neill, and at the conference yesterday, Fire Chief Smith pointed out that his men were on the job twenty-four hours a day and received smaller salaries than men in the city hall offices. He wants to give every man, from the captain down, a substantial increase. The police salaries, of course, have to be fixed by the police commissioners.

Excluding the fire and police departments, the total increases proposed are $229,000. Of this amount, $277,000 goes to the men drawing $1,500 a year or less, so that the big-salaried officials are left pretty much out in the cold. The increase, if it goes into effect, means just half a mill on the dollar tax, without including the fire and policemen's salaries.

Mayor Says Jail Farm is Purely a Civic Institution

The jail farm, according to Mayor Church, is purely a civic institution, and as such provincial prisoners are to be denied admission. The declaration emanated from the board of control yesterday, when, during a discussion on potato growing, Controller O'Neill objected that the provincial government was likely to partner prisoners from Guelph to make room for returned soldiers.

"Why do they want to keep soldiers at Guelph anyway?" he asked, "Let them use their own jail farm. We are not going to be dictated to by the government."

As a result of the discussion, instructions were issued to Property Commissioner Chisholm to refuse admittance to provincial prisoners.

Associations Take Up Matter of Growing Potatoes in City

Various associations have taken up the question of growing potatoes in Toronto this year and as a result of a conference yesterday with the board of control, the Single Tax Association, Rotary Club and the Ontario Land Cultivation Association are to report a feasible scheme.

A. C. Thompson, of the Single Tax Association, suggested a scheme of voluntary labor, enlisted as a matter of patriotism. According to Mr. Noel H. Marshall, the board has already offered the vacant Lot Cultivation Association.

The board of control will once more communicate with the federal government and express its belief that oleomargarine should be allowed into Canada.

Trustee Mrs. A. C. Courtice of ward one writes Mayor Church, protesting against what she regards as an unnecessary expenditure of buildings by the board of education. Mrs. Courtice suggests that instead of enlarging schools, private dwellings be bought for use as domestic science and other training work.

Controller Foster is still after the Exhibition Board at the board meeting yesterday, he secured permission to demand information concerning receipts from the sale of oils and gasoline with motor car expenses, list of pictures purchased, and a copy of the existing contract between the Exhibition Board and the general manager.

Lieut. Douglas Hallam, R.N., D.S.C., son of the late Ald. John Hallam, has received promotion to rank of flight commander in the Royal Naval Air Service. He transferred to the navy and soon was given an opportunity to show his ability as a lieutenant with machine guns on motor-cycles, serving with distinction in both Egypt and the Dardanelles. He wears the Distinguished Conduct Medal for his work while 40 days under fire at Gallipoli.

MANY BOATS DESTROYED BY EARLY MORNING FIRE

In a fire which broke out from an unknown source early yesterday morning, Lieut. Devins' pavilion and boathouse, containing 150 canoes, 100 rowboats and about 100 other craft, on the west shore of the Humber River, were destroyed. Estimated damage is approximately $45,000. One hundred and fifty-eight of the craft belonged to Mr. Devins, the rest to private persons.

The fire was discovered by Patrick Donovan, of Humber Bay, and the train crew of a G.T.R. engine. When Mr. Donovan saw the alarm from the Humber Beach Hotel to the city fire department, the engineer of the train blew his whistle for fifteen minutes to awaken sleeping residents. Cowan avenue, Lower Dundas, and firemen from other halls nearest to the scene of the blaze were sent out, and when they arrived the buildings were in flames. Owing to lack of pressure at the river, the firemen were compelled to lay out their hoses from the best works at Winder-house, Bonoussy, belonging to O. L. Hicks and Orr Bros. and McGrath were also scorched by the flames. The intense heat from the fire destroyed the wires of the York radial running past the building, and as a result traffic on the line was hampered and hundreds of people were late for work. Fire services were operated between the Humber and western points, but no cars ran from the Humber to Sunnyside until late in the morning.

Mr. Devins places his loss at $20,000 to the building and $10,000 to the contents, while Orr Bros. and McGrath estimate theirs at $5000 to building and contents.

Just what caused the fire is a mystery, but Mr. Devins stated that during the past winter considerable thefts had been going on through the district. Thieves had broken into the boathouse and stolen articles from the lockers, and it was possible that during another visit they yesterday morning they had, while smoking, dropped a lighted match and so caused the conflagration.

HOW I DARKENED MY GRAY HAIR

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 ozs. of water add a small box of Orisol Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade. It will not only darken the gray hair, but relieves dandruff and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off, and does not color the scalp.

PROHIBITIONISTS HELP ENFORCE ACT

Carefully Watching Work of Officials Entrusted With Law's Operation.

NEWSPAPER SCORED

Unanimously Disapprove of Publication of Liquor Ads in Toronto Paper

Holding that the newspapers which carry liquor advertising are a barrier to the proper enforcement of the temperance law, and that they are the means of encouraging the importation of spirits into the province, Mayor Stewart, president of the Lambton County Alliance, scathingly denounced the publications at the second day of the prohibition convention in Massey Hall yesterday. His address was the feature of the gathering and met with the hearty approval of the delegates. He paid particular attention to the Evening Telegram, which is the only Toronto daily accepting liquor advertising, and made it the target of a verbal attack. Because of its refusal to fall in line with the other newspapers in Toronto, he urged those present to ban The Telegram from the home.

The discussion was principally on how the intention and provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act could be best carried out, and Mayor Stewart's attack was delivered while he was speaking on "Advertising." He was unsparring in his censure, and the applause he received was indicative of the feeling of the delegates. When presenting the reports of the counties, the representatives made a demand against the sale of liquor. It was also thought that representations should be made to the government to curtail the privileges given to men in prescribing alcohol, it being charged that the doctors were "handing out" prescriptions of whiskey wholesale. The delegates were pleased with the situation in general and were confident that with the added support of women's votes, the liquor traffic was doomed for ever in Ontario.

Reports on Law's Working. The afternoon session was devoted to the presentation of reports on the working of the temperance laws throughout the counties of the province, and addresses were delivered by Miss Cora Frances Stoddart and J. H. Roberts, of Montreal, secretary of the Dominion Prohibition Committee. The counties represented were Carleton Place, Essex, Huron, Halton, Prince Edward, Bruce, Northumberland, Leeds, Middlesex, Renfrew, Oxford, Perth, Brant, Waterloo, Simcoe, Wellesley, and Hamilton and London.

The majority of the delegates reported that in their districts, but a number complained that some of the inspectors appointed by the license commission were incapable and inefficient. There were charges of laxity on the part of the officials in bringing offenders to justice and rounding up some of the "blue birds."

It was stated that in the County of Huron the local branch of the Dominion Alliance engaged in the enforcement of the act, and through its efforts "boot-legging" was almost wiped out. In one case $150 worth of spirits was found under a pig pen. It was also by a provincial bullfinch who was owned by a county constable. In Welland there was an inspector who was found incapable and replaced by an efficient official, while in London it was charged that the inspector was "not worth the leather he walked in." Miss Stoddart presented arguments to show that alcohol was not a stimulant, but a depressant, and the admission of the delegates regarding their responsibility in dealing with the problem which will be created after the war. The soldiers would return home now at home and it was for those now at home to make it possible for the boys to come back to a Canada perpetually free from the temptation to drink.

Stating that the branch in Montreal was doing everything possible to help the Ontario law, J. H. Roberts stated his regret that the liquor dealers had been driven out of the province found refuge in his city. But through the efforts of the association, local option had its drawbacks. It had given them an opportunity in the past to concentrate their forces on the drink evil, and had paved the way for the local option had its drawbacks. Their success in the campaign of Ontario had spurred them on to a greater goal, and there would be no rest until prohibition was Dominion-wide, which he predicted would come in the near future.

A National Evil. "The liquor traffic is a national evil," he declared, "sheltered by a national statute, and can only be overcome by a national law. Crime, immorality and social disease, which are brought about through the use of alcohol, would not only disappear, but the evils associated and perpetuated by the drink traffic would be eliminated. Total prohibition would also increase the industrial efficiency of the country, lessen pauperism, bring about a new era in thrift, and give us better babies. It would make Canada the most prosperous of the dominions, and place her in the leadership of the Anglo-Saxon federation."

Without mentioning the name of the paper, Robert Stewart, of Petrolia, who spoke earlier in the day, held up to the view of the delegates two large rolls of liquor advertisements from The Evening Telegram for two days of publication. His address was a denunciation of liquor advertising in general, and The Telegram in particular, and he was loudly cheered when he stated his regret that the liquor dealers had been driven out of the province found refuge in his city. But through the efforts of the association, local option had its drawbacks. It had given them an opportunity in the past to concentrate their forces on the drink evil, and had paved the way for the local option had its drawbacks. Their success in the campaign of Ontario had spurred them on to a greater goal, and there would be no rest until prohibition was Dominion-wide, which he predicted would come in the near future.

The delegates engaged in a round-table discussion on the fine points of the Ontario Temperance Act, led by Rev. V. Smith, and it was found that the means of distributing much valuable information.

Prof. T. H. Good who produced figures to show that crime had considerably decreased in the province since the passing of the temperance law, was unqualifiedly that prohibition was making good and that it had come to stay. It was stated by Joseph Gibson that it condition of F. S. Isard was still critical, and that the crisis would be reached in a few days.

BOARD'S ORDER BINDING IN PAPE AVENUE CASE

Board of Education Management Committee is So Informed by Solicitor.

At the meeting of the management committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon a letter was read from the solicitor of the board, referring to the recent resolution of Trustee Dr. Noble, that action be taken to prevent the street railway extending their line along Pape Avenue, stating that if the railway board has made an order to this effect it is binding. A letter was also received from the deputy minister of education, stating that the minister has advised him that the matter does not pertain to his department. Dr. Noble received his defeat in silence, merely contenting himself by remarking that it will be extremely dangerous.

Miss Lane spoke on behalf of a deputation that waited on the committee, asking that posters may be placed in the various schools for a collection to this school to disband next Friday at 11 a.m., to allow the teachers to meet the premier at the parliament buildings, to appeal for a suitable sum to come from all over the province. It was estimated that 1000 will be present from outside the city. "If we get this scheme," said Principal Smith, "then you will not have to bother any more with this matter." His application was granted. A letter was also received from the One Liberal-Conservative Association, protesting against the eliminating of religious exercises from the curriculum.

Additional classes are to be opened at Ogdon, Alexander Muir and Dewson Street Schools. The names of the temporary staff and allotted to various schools, and nine were appointed to the regular staff. The accommodation at the present time at the Norway School is inadequate, and a decision was reached that a double portable school be placed there.

THE FORMAN MYSTERY

By GEORGE HUGHES.

He was glad when the train at last pulled into Roswell, and he was free to escape the diabolical drawl of the dirge and get into the clear, invigorating air and brilliant sunshine. The railway station was the usual huddle of weather-beaten frame buildings, erected with the advent of the railroad. The building agent, low-headed and whiskered, and clad in a uniform which had seen the best of its days, was just as ancient. In one corner of his mouth hung the inevitable quid of "chewin'" from which he spat profusely as he chewed.

Of this worthy, Warrenner enquired the whereabouts of the Benson Home for imberbiates, and was instructed, after much contorting of the mouth and spluttering, how to reach it. This was a narrow to its village kindred in respect to its surroundings. It boasted the usual single street, where the bucolic life of the countryside for miles around congregated at nights and swapped shop-talk in terms of grain, cattle and hogs. There were two general stores, that mart in which everything from an automobile to a needle may be purchased; the habitual hotel, two churches and a few houses scattered about. Thru his clouded eyes, the village looked the ideal of indolence as it lay there, bathed in the ruddy glow of the morning sun.

He had no difficulty in finding the institution he was seeking. Five minutes' walk brought him to a large brick building, standing back from the road in grounds surrounded by a green-painted picket fence and spacious lawns upon which the grass was just beginning to sprout. To him the structure looked more like an old country house adapted to the need than a building erected for the purpose of housing imberbiates. He was greeted by means of a trellised postern and a massive iron gate, thru the interstices of which he saw a number of graveled walks that led to the house. The grounds were deserted as Warrenner entered and began the steps of the verandah and ascended to the front door. The white button inserted in the centre of the door invited him to push, and he pushed. Came the distant hum of a buzzer, the shuffle of approaching footsteps from within, and the next moment a grizzled man in a grey frock coat stood on the threshold and stared at him enquiringly.

"Is Dr. Benson in?" Warrenner queried of the man, whom he judged to be the janitor of the building. "Dr. Benson!" The man stared at him in surprise, and with not a little suspicion. "Yes," Warrenner's tone was impatient, for he could not understand the man's peculiar attitude. "I'm afraid, sir, that you have come to the wrong place," the man said at last. "There is no one of that name here."

But this is the Benson Home for imberbiates, Warrenner hazarded. The man nodded in the affirmative. "But Dr. Benson is not here now," he uttered it. But the information had upset him for the moment. It had premeditated the trip that the man he sought might not be there. He had been so full of his troubles and himself Mooney's testimony that he had not sufficiently reasoned out the details before launching himself into the campaign. But he soon recovered himself. To the man he said: "I'm sorry, but I was led to believe that Dr. Benson was the head of this institution." "No; Dr. Burgess is the head. Would you like to see him, sir?"

"If you please," Warrenner handed the man his card, and the latter disappeared. A few seconds elapsed ere he returned with the message that Dr. Burgess would see him. Warrenner followed the janitor along a spacious corridor to a small room at the rear of the building. They halted before a door, upon which the man rapped with the handle of the broom he carried. "Come in," invited a voice from within, and the janitor led the way into the room.

Dr. Burgess was a small man, of comfortable dimensions, and fitted well into his cosily-furnished office. He arose from the depths of his easy chair as Warrenner advanced, and held out a posy hand in greeting. "Glad to meet you, doctor," he cried, his ruddy face an expansive smile. "Now, what can I do for you?" He asked, as Warrenner settled himself at his ease.

That He Could Depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to Cure Many of the Common Ills of Life.

Maynooth, Ont., Feb. 21.—Living eighteen miles from a drug store, Mr. Carr found it necessary to keep in the house some treatment to regulate the action of liver, kidneys and bowels. To the habit of keeping these important organs active by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, when required, he attributes the good health of his large family. Here, surely, is evidence of the value of these pills as a family medicine to protect the members of the family who use it from the common ailments of which arise from constipation of the bowels and torpid condition of the liver and kidneys. Mr. James Carr, Maynooth, Ont., writes: "About 19 years ago I received an envelope containing two of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was doctoring at the time with two doctors, and as they did me no good I used the Pills, and by the time I had finished one box I was cured of the pain in the back and shoulders. We have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Medicines. I have a family of ten children, and have never had a doctor in the house for any of them. We live eighteen miles from a drug store, and find that these Pills cure nearly all the ordinary ills by regulating the liver, kidneys and bowels. That we are all well and sound I attribute to their use, and I have recommended them to hundreds and given away many a box, because I believe there is no medicine so good." By awakening the action of liver, kidneys and bowels Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cleanse the system of poisons and remove the cause of biliousness, headaches, backache, lumbago, kidney disease and rheumatism. One will a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates and Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Among those especially interested in what was the first of the graduates of Macdonald College, who met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Tyrrell, convener of the backyard garden committee, where an address was given by Miss Watson, superintendent of the college in Guelph. The matter of forming an auxiliary was discussed, and Miss Watson urged those present to put their expert knowledge at the disposal of the thrift workers. Several signed up for the work and will form an auxiliary, with Mrs. C. F. Bailey as convener. "Vocational Guidance" was the subject of a paper read by the president, Miss May F. Simpson, at a meeting of the Business Women's Club, and Miss Mattie Louise Foster of the memorial institute gave a talk on H. B. Farmer's "Vocational Guidance" in the lines of how water after eating is safe, pleasant and harmless to the stomach. It is a most interesting and how it assists the boys and girls of the settlement to the grove most fitted for them in life.

VEIN SYSTEM AT NEWRAY EXTENSIVE

English Engineer Predicted Big Future—Faulty Development.

Porcupine, March 7.—A celebrated mining engineer of London, England, visited Porcupine in 1911, and examined most of the properties in the Pearl Lake section. He afterwards expressed the opinion that the Newray, then known as the Rea Consolidated, ranked next to the Hollinger. This prospect, he thought, probably had been developed on the same scale, and with the same skill as the Hollinger. Even at that early stage in the progress of the two properties were on the same ore zone. The line of disjuncting vein formation had been traced and mapped by the right thru our Bureau of Mines.

A Big Property. The Newray is a big property, not only in respect of its very large acreage, but also because of its extensive mineralization. On the eastern half of the property there are now four strong veins which carry gold. The quartz is intersected by numerous dark lines filled with tourmaline. This is a sure indication of rich ore. These veins are all large, and are parallel to each other, and can be reached by the cross cut now under the shaft. The vein nearest to the shaft should be tapped in a few days. It showed very rich on the surface where it outcropped about 150 feet northeast of the mill. In depth it ought to carry much more gold. We should have some very important news from the Newray in a few days. The rich No. 1 vein which the former mismanagers of the property could not follow, is certainly in the great shear zone on the west side of the shaft. A few months of the present vigorous development will open up these two veins at depth. Then the mill can be started up again. From No. 1 vein this mill recovered $210 above the 300-foot level. The Newray will soon enter the list of producers.

ERECTING BUILDINGS AT BOSTON CREEK

Power Contracted for to Tap Kirkland Lake Line.

Boston Creek, March 7.—Boston Creek officials have planned an extensive construction campaign, which is now considerably advanced. Managing Director Harry Symmes is expected back at the mines after a week or 10 days, and important disclosures are looked for at that time. Recently, considerable building material has been delivered on the ground, and some 20 buildings, which will consist of 40 sleeping camps, with electricity and all modern conveniences. Besides, there will be a large building which will include staff house and office. This building will be two storeys high 24x40 feet. A building of the same dimensions will be used for a bunk house. This will accommodate 100 men comfortably, two in each room. A separate cook room, house, storage room, and two storeys high, is now in course of construction. All these buildings will be completed and occupied in the next 30 to 40 days. They are being erected in the immediate vicinity of the mines, and as soon as they are ready the present working force of 50 men will be doubled. Later the working force will be doubled again, as the management has in view the employment of 200 at the property. The Ontario Company has planned for the beginning to make camp life modern and comfortable for its men. A community of some 500 people has already sprung up along the railroad on the company's properties, a few minutes' walk from the main workings. But the second to no camp in the north. The turning on of the power at Kirkland Lake a few days ago is of the utmost importance to Boston Creek, as the line carries the power to the mines within about a half mile. The company has contracted for all the power it will need, which will be sent back from Kirkland Lake to Boston Creek. Later on the power company will put up a sub-station at Boston Creek. Electric power will hit the power bill at least 50 per cent.

VEIN ENCOUNTERED AT GOLD REEFS

Special to The Toronto World. Porcupine, March 7.—In the stopping a few days ago at the Porcupine Gold Reefs a new vein carrying high values was encountered. Running parallel with the present vein. The shaft will be carried to the 100-foot level and, when the manager sees fit, he expects to run up a large body of ore and he is satisfied he can make good returns in May on the present development. Samples from the vein are to be sent to Toronto within a few days.

HARGRAVE HAS POTENTIALS OF BIG SILVER PRODUCER

Large Acreage, Promising Geology and Efficient Management. Cobalt, March 7.—(From World's Special Correspondent).—The 80 acres owned by the Hargrave Silver Mines, Limited, of Cobalt, are practically all in the Nipissing diabase. This igneous rock is in the form of a sheet or sill and penetrates all the other formations. South of the Hargrave, at the Timiskaming and Beaver, the diabase has come in under the Keewatin. In fact, at the Timiskaming, the latter rock covers the diabase to a depth of 550 feet, and the shaft had to get thru this capping before much ore was obtained. The diabase is the source of the silver. It is the youngest rock in the field. But at the Hargrave and the greater portion of the Kerr, the diabase is the source of the silver. The Kerr Lake is now being developed for second place, and if it reaches that goal it will, in the ratio of production acreage, be the greatest mine in the camp.

Two Contracts. The diabase cuts thru the older rocks in a nearly horizontal direction. This gives it an upper and a lower contact and in the vicinity of these contacts there are zones of silver. The upper contact has been passing thru the overlying Keewatin complex and highly payable values at the upper contact. The lower contact has been passing thru the lower contact. Further south quite a number of mines are being actively developed, and all are looking forward to special values in the diabase. This rock has an average thickness five times greater than the diabase of the City of Ottawa. There is a thin coating of conglomerate along the south shore of Kerr Lake, touching the northwest corner of the Hargrave. But 79 of its 80 acres are in the diabase, and this vein contains very much in thickness towards the south, having a dip of from 25 to 35 degrees towards that point of the compass. The upper contact has been partially exploited on the East Hargrave, but the lower contact is still virgin ground on both parcels. The Kerr Lake mine appears to be very strongly developed on the South Hargrave. In fact, this is apparently the most promising bit of ground in the whole camp. There is no dead work in getting thru a capping of Keewatin. The diabase shows on the surface, and this vein contains high grade as well good milling ore on the small portion explored at the north boundary. All the conditions called for aggressive development. The property is in the very centre of the famous silver district, and the formation could not be more favorable.

ADVANCE IN SILVER HELPING BUTTE

Supplied Incentive to Redevelop Abandoned Silver Workings. Cobalt, March 7.—The Callow oil flotation plant, with a capacity of 200 tons daily, which was installed here at the McKinley-Darragh mine about eight months ago, is working to the entire satisfaction of the management. During the last week in operation here at least one ounce of silver per ton was lost in the tailings, while for December and January the loss in the tailings averaged 1 1/2 ounces per ton. In view of the fact that the tailings from the older method of treatment were considered low when they ran to the five assemblies, it is of great importance to future treatment of the Cobalt ores by the oil flotation process can readily be seen. Practically all the plants in operation here are using an oil mixture, consisting of pine oil, coal tar and coal tar creosote.

TO APPEAL AGAINST COURT DECISION

It was stated by F. L. Culver, president of the Timiskaming Co., that an appeal would be made against the decision of the court in the case of the McKinley-Darragh mine. Monday, who granted an injunction restraining the Timiskaming shareholders from holding a meeting which had been regularly called according to the bylaws of the company. The offer of Kirkland Lake stock, which was to have been considered at this meeting, has been withdrawn, but Mr. Culver is appealing on principle.

BORDEN AND PERLEY HOLD CONFERENCE WITH DERBY

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, March 7.—After attending the war cabinet session, Sir Robert Borden, with Sir George Perley, had a conference with Lord Derby, the war secretary, respecting important matters affecting the Canadian forces. The rest of the day was occupied in visiting hospitals. The premier saw a large number of Canadians. He addressed gatherings at two hospitals. The premier gave a most impressive and inspiring response to Sir Robert's address.

FOSTER STILL LEADER

St. John, N.B., March 7.—At a conference of the opposition candidates elected in the recent provincial election, held here today, Walter E. Foster, of St. John, was declared the first choice for premier of New Brunswick. Mr. Foster was defeated in St. John County in the elections, but it is announced that several seats have been offered him.

BEAVER DRIFT NOT NEAR TIMISKAMING

In a despatch in one of the morning papers yesterday it was reported that the drifting of the Beaver at the 1600-foot level had followed the veins to within five feet of the Timiskaming. This discovery of the rich veins at depth, work has been confined to blowing out a station, and when this is completed a winze will be sunk in the vein. For the most reliable articles on current events and happenings read The Toronto World. It is essentially a newspaper.

QUIET CONTINUES IN MINING STOCKS

Price Changes Small—McIntyre and Great Northern Stronger.

A practically dull and uninteresting morning session in the mining stocks yesterday was followed by more activity after the noon recess, and the aggregate business compared very favorably with other days in recent times. There was little news of any consequence to influence prices, and price changes from the previous day were few in number and narrow in movement.

An optimistic view of the situation is being taken by many of the brokers, who are of the opinion that the movement is heavily oversold and is at the bottom unless some new crisis in international relations develops. There is a curious lack of pressure at the present time, the buying being due rather to lack of buyers than to liquidation of the shorts, apparently are sitting tight and keeping a close watch on the market trend. McIntyre was a firm spot yesterday, making a gain of a couple of points to 182. Apex held fairly steady till just before the close, when it eased off to 1-1/2, a loss of 1/2 from the high of 23 1/2. Apparently the official notice of the cut in Hollinger dividends had been fully discounted as the stock was quiet at $5.20. Cobalt and Newray changed hands at 115. Schuchmacher displayed a little activity, selling up to 62. Teck-Hughes held at 75, and West Dore Con. was comparatively steady at 25 1/2 to 23 1/2. Hargrave was again the active feature of the Cobalt stocks, showing a tendency to react slightly from the high point of the previous day at 19 1/2 to 23 1/2, while Beaver was steady at 44 to 44 1/2. Great Northern held at 121, unchanged from the previous day. Current reports on McKinley bear trial bullishness, it being stated that the statement which will be made in a few weeks is going to be a pleasant surprise. The stock reflected this feeling, being firm around 65.

BUYER APPEARS FOR KIRKLAND LAKE STOCK

If the Timiskaming shareholders were not anxious to buy the Kirkland Lake stock, other interests apparently are. It was officially announced yesterday that an offer had been made for a block of 100,000 shares of Kirkland Lake at 50 cents per share. Mr. Culver turned the offer down.

MARK HARRIS ON MINES AND MINING

Last week while traveling between Toronto and Buffalo I had a very interesting talk with two large manufacturers, one a Canadian and the other an American.

The Canadian mentioned the fact that his chauffeur, some months ago, asked to be placed in the factory so that he could earn more wages, and as he was a splendid mechanic he gladly did so.

As a chauffeur the man had been earning $20 a week, but in the factory he had advanced rapidly until now he was averaging about $40 a day.

The point that impressed itself on my mind was the next statement made by this Canadian manufacturer, which was that the chauffeur, although earning fully three times as much as he formerly did, was not saving a penny.

His wife and child were dressing much better than they did a few months ago and he had moved into a better house, but only a few days before he had told his employer that he had not put aside one dollar.

No doubt, this chauffeur's case is typical of thousands of wage earners of today and I want to take this occasion to sound a warning to those who are spending as fast as they earn.

The present abnormal times cannot continue forever. Some day there must be a readjustment, and when it comes wages will be cut along with other expenses. The manufacturer can only continue high wages as long as he receives high prices for his product; so when competition arrives once more the manufacturer must meet it or shut down.

This day may be a long way off, but on the other hand, it may come sooner than expected, so in either case it behooves the prosperous wage earner to give the future a thought and to put aside a small portion of his earnings for the inevitable rainy day.

The wise farmer always "makes hay while the sun shines" and the wise wage earner will do likewise.

The American manufacturer spoke of conditions in his home town in Ohio. He told of shopgirls that were now earning as high as $30 to $35 weekly, whereas they formerly received from $6 to $10. Nearly every shopgirl in the town had got into the habit of expensive adornment, and the ordinary shopgirl thought nothing of paying $10, $12, $15 and even $18 for a pair of white-topped fancy shoes.

Some of the girls have different shoes for every day in the week, while others have different colored gowns to match the fancy shoes.

To me this seems a crime, because when the hard times do come nobody can eat these shoes, and that is about all some of the shopgirls will have to show for the abnormal wages they have received.

The United States is about to go to war, and this means that Uncle Sam with his well-filled purse will add one more cash customer to the list.

Uncle Sam will, no doubt, spend more than a billion dollars with these same manufacturers that are now paying such high wages, so it is safe to assume that present conditions will endure for some months, if not for some years.

This being established, I believe it is not only necessary, but that it is a sacred duty for every well-paid wage earner to save and invest at least half of his weekly earnings.

There never was a more opportune time than the present for investing money, and I will gladly give any wage earner full and complete information as to the best securities for his surplus funds.

The Canadian wage earner should put his funds into the Canadian War Loan, which is absolutely safe and which returns him more than he can secure from the savings bank.

These War Loans can be purchased in small amounts and arrangements can be made to pay for them on the instalment plan.

I want to also call American investors' attention to this War Loan and to say that in my opinion it represents an ideal investment for widows, orphans and trust funds.

As an investment there is nothing safer in this world, for it is backed by Canada's wonderful resources, and these, as we all know, are practically inexhaustible.

Upon request I will gladly send full information regarding the various Canadian War Loans, including market price, terms of payment, interest return, etc.
