NEW SHOW AT NICKEL.

In the forenoon school drama, 'Life's But a Game of Cards,' which is to be the Nickel's feature-film today and tomorrow, the outlook will see not only a beautiful play but the incidental scenes, such as the schooner trip, the mining camp, the railway journey and magnificent residential sections of a large American city will add a realism to the story quite impossible on a theatrical stage.

AT THE PRINCESS.

There will be five new pictures—three excellent comedy films are 'Madame Tantrums,' 'Wanted an Errand Boy,' and 'On the Brink.' There will also be shown two very strong dramatic pictures.

NEW MILLINERY-THE SEASON'S SMART MODELS.

Despite predictions to the contrary, the large hat—the every large hat—is still fashionable, but the tendency this season is to have the trimming rather flat, except in the case of the dressy plumed hats designed for afternoon and evening wear.

rather a large rib, in any desired color, is used for the top of the hat, the underbrim being faced with black moire silk. The shape was shown trimmed in two ways, one style, which was especially smart for young girls, having only a twist of wide black moire ribbon around the edge of the brim.

Over Gaiters.

My Overgaiters and Spats are all tailor made and are very much superior to the ordinary ready-made gaiters. They fit like gloves, keep their shape better, and wear longer than any other make.

POLITICAL OUTLOOK Canada is prosperous. The financial and industrial depression which swept over the United States during the past year had no parallel in Canada, where the conditions were so healthy that the slowing down was on a very moderate scale, and not accompanied by disaster to any interest. Already there are the strongest evidences of a renewed forward movement. Never for a moment was there a doubt in the minds of business men of the essential soundness of the industrial and commercial situation in this country. It is now estimated by the freight traffic manager of the C. P. R. that the grain crop of the West alone will yield from $130,000,000 to $138,000,000. Throughout the country, east and west, there has been a bountiful crop, safely harvested. This means that a vast amount of money is to be brought into the country, that foreign confidence in Canada's resources and possibilities will be confirmed and strengthened, that Canadian securities will be more in demand, and that capital for development purposes will flow into the country. A timely check to the influx of undesirable immigrants gives the assurance that the standard of citizenship is not to be lowered in this country, but its vacant spaces peopled by a class competent to take up in good time the high duties of Canadian citizenship. The country is steadily expanding. Great public works are in process of construction, and others are projected. Canada is moving forward. There is no longer room in this country or in any part of it for the pessimist. With boundless confidence the people are busy with the splendid task of building up a great commonwealth, that shall be without a peer among the great communities of the coming years. To this task men of all parties contribute, and it would be but idle folly to claim for one or another all the virtues of statesmanship or patriotism. For twelve years one party has been paramount in the councils of the nation. These have been twelve years of enormous progress and of renewed declarations of confidence in the government of the day. The people are asked now to give that government another mandate or to choose its successor. In the midst of the turmoil of what promises to be a bitter campaign, the electors are to weigh the rival claims, take stock of the situation, compare the candidates, and make their choice. Looking over the whole situation, there does not appear to be any claim put forth by the opposition which would lead the people to expect greater progress under Conservative rule. Neither is there anything in the personnel of Mr. Borden's entourage which would lead the thoughtful elector to assume that they are heaven-born administrators, and the only persons of honest intent in the arena of Canadian politics. Soberly considered, the outlook does not warrant the extravagant claims made, nor does the actual feeling that exists throughout the country lead the thoughtful observer to assume that the government will not be permitted to go on with its work for another term, carrying out the policy which has been behind the stupendous progress of the past decade. It is easy to make charges in general terms. It would be extraordinary if some particular charges could not be made and proved. But before the people of the country retire from office those who have rendered good service and produced unmistakable results in progressive legislation and national development, they must be assured that those who clamor for the seals of office have a better policy and better men. Such assurance we have in words, but it does not convince. The government will be sustained.

ST. JOHN FIRST The Yukon, the Crow's Nest and the prairie country are some distance from St. John, and in matters in dispute concerning them it is not safe at this distance to dogmatize. But the winter port is at our doors, and its interests are the interests of the people of St. John. At the present time there is ample accommodation for present trade, which shows that the port has not been neglected; and provision is now being made to handle the increase of trade year after year, which shows that the port will not be neglected in the future. This is the fact that will carry most weight with the electors in the present campaign. They have no grievance in the matter. All that the opponents of the government can say is that they doubt the good faith of the minister of public works. The answer to that is that what he has done and is doing for the port is earnest of the things he will do in the future. He will be the representative of the constituency, and as such will be bound to guard its interests when rival claims are pressed at Ottawa. The situation is always such with regard to the trade claims of this port and others that we have need of a strong and resourceful man at the capital.

CANADA'S GROWTH However little the progress of Canada in recent years may have impressed those persons who have viewed it from the cold and unempathetic shades of opposition, it has not gone unnoticed of our neighbors to the south, who pride themselves on their own progressiveness. Thus the Cleveland Leader says: "The Dominion was long a stony and promise-sometimes seeming hardly more than a hope. Now it is a fact—large, virile, expanding, thought-compelling. The fertile land which is not too far north or too high above the sea to have fairly good climate may constitute a comparatively small part of British America, but it is sufficient for a great population and the creation of great wealth. Add the timber, the minerals, the water power, the fisheries, the waterways and the ports of the Dominion, and it stands out among the newer lands of the earth as richly endowed, vast, and of tremendous possibilities. Every event which centers attention upon Canada, turns a searchlight upon crude forces, vast spaces, high stores of natural wealth—all that makes a young land worth the study of those who concern themselves with the larger movements of human progress. Make no mistake about Canada. A great nation is growing, faster and faster, across the northern boundary of the United States."

Dr. William Saunders, director of experimental farms, wired the deputy minister of agriculture last week from Winnipeg as follows: "Swift Current to Winnipeg. No grain of any consequence not uncut. Wheat progressing rapidly. Weather somewhat heavier crops and better in quality than expected. A full average yield is looked for."

The rainfall of yesterday was of incalculable benefit to the province. The clear and bracing atmosphere of today is an agreeable change from previous conditions. In the arena of five-weeks' wilderness it will, however, require many years of growth to repair the damage wrought during the past month.

The city of Montreal has of late won an unenviable reputation by reason of the number of serious crimes committed. The administration of capital punishment in two cases, harsh as it may appear, may have a salutary effect upon those who are too ready with knife and pistol.

The delegation from the board of trade, which last evening urged upon the civic board of works the adoption of a better system of street construction, under competent supervision, had only to point to the streets as they appear today to justify their plea for the change.

The question of looking after the unemployed who flock to the city in winter is being considered in Toronto. It is pointed out that it would be cheaper to give aid to these people outside of the city than after they had moved in.

The renomination of Mr. James Reid by Restigouche Liberals was a foregone conclusion, and the same may be said of his re-election. After January 1, 1909, the city of Paris, Brazil, will levy a tax on all travellers. The tax will amount to about $100, with additional fees, bringing the total up to about $120.

BROOD OF THE CITY

This town has grown a heap, you will allow. It's clean divorced from every taint of filth. We get our signs in pasteboard boxes now. I mind me when our grocer, Asa Searles, went shuffling round among the crates and And goes up signs in little paper bags. But now, the clerks' clerks' out the wares; If a man gets to lookin' Asa Searles; He sells his signs teneed off in pasteboard squares. When we began this apelin' city ways, We put in electric lights and eed displays; But signs come wrapped in paper bags, them days. The telephones come long, and all us men Was braggin' round 'n' grab, 'n' heck, 'n' bam; But signs wa'n't stuck in pasteboard boxes I watched 'em put the trolley railroad through. We felt some cocky then, I'm tellin' you, But signs come bagged, just like they used to. The city microbe bit a little more, A sign was put in front of Ben Poirer's door; But Asa bagged them signs, just as before. They kept 'em come and built them houses up there. We thought we had truly rural airs, Asa soaked them signs in bags, and didn't care. Two hired girls, one skimpish, one real fat, Come out to chere for Miss Asa's fat. But Asa bagged signs, and let 'em go at that. But now the kentry's wiped clean off the face. This here's a city, full of git and snaf, For signs in pasteboard boxes, they're scarce. —Charles R. Barnes.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD. A firm of shady outside London brokers was prosecuted for swindling. The following is a list of the names of the defendants:— "Reference is made to the fact that the defendants, the Lord Chief Justice of England, 'Everybody's Magazine,' WELL EDUCATED.

"Yes," said Mrs. Malaprop, "my boy is doing first rate at school." I sent him to one of them elementary schools, and his teacher says he's doing fine. He's a first-class sculler, they tell me, and he's got his class in gastronomy, knows his letters by sight, and can speak like a first-class sculler, speller down to Washington."

WHAT WAS HIS ANSWER? Ethel, the little daughter of a clergyman, pruned her father's study one evening while the reverend gentleman was preparing his lesson cards for the following day. She looked curiously at the manuscript for the moment, and then turned to her father. "Papa," she began, curiously, "does God tell me to write?" "Certainly, dearie," replied the clergyman. "Then why do you scribble so much of it out?" asked Ethel.

A BAD BLUNDER. She—"Cook has given notice." He—"Why?" She—"She says you spoke in a brutal manner to her on the telephone yesterday."

AS MUCH AS YOU LIKE. "Well," said the optimistic boarder, "there's one thing about our boarding house, you can eat as much as you like there."

COLLEGE ENGLISH. Simplified vocabulary might prove a good thing, if it were not for the fact that it is spoken to-day, and it might well be applied to the vocabulary of the future. Undergraduate talk is hard to understand unless one is initiated. A student of Victoria, who has a son attending one of these institutions, said her husband one day about another boy from this city who is a student at the same institution. "Jim's all right," was the reply, "but he's an awful fuser." The boarder had an awful fuser. "Never saw him catch a grasshopper," says another. "Nor gobble up a kernel of corn," says a third. "What does he eat?" queries a fourth. The answer came simultaneously from a half dozen of the elder members of the flock. "EGGS!" At this call the rest looked surprised and dejected. "But he will never be admitted to the great poultry ranges Over Yonder," was the consolatory remark of the patriarch of the flock, and they soon regained their cheerfulness. "Where is Over Yonder?" asked an inquisitive youth. "On Massachusetts Bay," answered Plymouth Rock. "I beg your pardon, but it is on the Bay of Naples," said a White Leghorn, with some asperity. Then there was trouble and I left the field before the fight was over. Whitehead, Kings Co., Sept. 28.

THE INGLENOOK PHILOSPHER OF KENNEBECASIS BAY

I have a dream of September days many and many a year ago, not unlike those that are now passing. Then while afternoons I spent in the orchard, inhaling the perfume of red and yellow apples that were scattered all about me, listening to the chirp of the crickets and the drone of the bumble bees, watching the blush that was stealing over the maples and sumachs and studying the figures of the white clouds that sailed lazily overhead. I was a boy then with nothing to do and nothing to think of but my immediate surroundings. Now I take my seat by the roadside and look out over the bay, the surface of which is as placid as a mirror. The crickets are mostly absent; so are the bumble bees and the birds that used to sing for me. I wonder where they have gone, for gone they assuredly are. I remember how in September long ago the sky would sometimes be almost darkened by flights of pigeons: when blue jays, and wood peckers, and crows and thrushes were seen or heard from every hour in the day. Now the birds and bumble bees and crickets are absent and, ha, ha! so is youth. Coleridge has said (I quote from memory): "Twas a breeze 'mid blossoms straying, Where Hope hung, feeding, like a bee; Both were mine: life went a Maying With Nature, Hope and Poetry. When I was young. When I was young? Ah, woeful When! Ah, for the change twixt Now and Then."

Following are the averages of the leading batsmen of the American and National leagues up to and including Friday, Sept. 25. WEDDINGS

Harding-Arrowsmith A pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. J. B. Arrowsmith, 30 Princess street, this city, when her daughter, Miss Helen, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert L. Harding of the firm of J. A. McMillan. The bride was gowned in a lawn travelling suit with hat to match, and received some very handsome presents from her many friends. They left on a trip to American cities.

Gregory-McKinnon A very quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's church this morning at 10 o'clock, when Rev. R. P. McKinnon, minister in charge, officiated. The bride, Miss Sadie McKinnon, youngest daughter of the late Captain John A. McKinnon, of P. E. Island, and Mr. H. Roy Gregory, both of this city. The bride looked charming in a going-away-dress of blue broadcloth, with large picture hat. The large number of wedding gifts, including silver and cut glass attested to the popularity of the young couple. On their return from a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Gregory will reside on Charlotte street.

Mercer-Holloway This evening at 8 o'clock at the home of William Holloway, 134 Adelaide street, North End, Mr. Holloway's daughter, Miss Mabel, will become the wife of Napoleon Mercer, formerly of Quebec, but now of this city. Rev. R. P. McKinnon of St. Luke's church will officiate. Miss Mabel is the sister of the bride, who will act as bridesmaid, and Murray McAvlin will support the groom. There will be about eighty invited guests. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer will reside at 134 Adelaide street.

Among the wedding gifts was a handsome carving set from Mr. Mercer's fellow boarders in the Touraine House, and a set of silver from the proprietress Mrs. J. F. Bowes. The groom's fellow employees in Messrs Isaac's cigar factory presented him with a handsome china tea set.

Owen Sound Man Charged With Three Murders Will Plead Insanity as His Defence.

Owen Sound, Sept. 29 (Special).—James Creighton, charged with the murder of his wife and two step-daughters, is on trial here for his life. The murders were committed May 26th and the jury yesterday returned a true bill on each of the charges. The defence will be insanity and several alibis are here to give evidence.

CHATHAM NEWS

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 29 (Special).—Filo Albert, who recently killed a man named Keith Lewis, who was attempting to act as peace-maker in a quarrel, is well known on the North Shore. He ran hotels in Carleton Place and Shelburne and bore an excellent reputation. He is married.

Rain fell heavily during last night and has had a good effect on the forest fires. The ground was so dry, however, that this will only be a temporary stop unless more rain follows.

THE NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE CAMPAIGN

The Fredericton Herald says of the situation in Westmorland:—"Mr. Emmerson's friends are claiming a majority of 1,600 for him, and the figure does not seem unreasonable."

The Sydney Record says:—"Some Conservative authorities are claiming that the eighteen counties of Nova Scotia will send a supporter, of Borden and Foster to Ottawa. Is this a threat that they will put a Bayne in every constituency?"

Liberals of Lunenburg have organized the N. J. Gillis Club with 150 members. The Sydney Record's Lunenburg correspondent predicts the biggest Liberal majority ever known in that town.

Twelve Liberal clubs have been formed in Cape Breton. They are the Fielding Liberal Club, the Liberal Club, of Sydney, the Murray Club and Ward Three Club of Glace Bay, the Laurier Club of New Glasgow, the Johnston Club of Bridgeport, the Kendall Club of Dominion, the N. L. MacKay Club of Reserve, the Kendall Club of Dominion No. 4, the S. F. Pearson Club, of Port Mouton and the N. J. Gillis Club of Lunenburg.

The Moral and Social Reform League of Charlottetown have decided to engage in the work of electoral reform, and to that end have decided to hold meetings, circulate literature, employ detectives to ferret out election malefactors and prosecute them when caught, an estimate of $1,500 may be for it all.

There are six constituencies in which elections will be held later than the general election in October 22. These are Chatham-Bridgeny and Gaspe, two in Quebec; Comox-Atlin, Kootenay and Yale-Cariboo, three in British Columbia; and one in the Yukon, the least populated territory the election will not take place probably before December, much time being required to post the notices and forward the papers. In the other constituencies the date is left to the returning officer.

POLICE COURT

Several West Side Boys Faced the Magistrate this Morning.

The only prisoner on the bench this morning was Henry Gorman, a dabbled looking individual, who was charged with drunkenness and violently resisting the police.

Policeman Crawford testified that late last night Gorman and Edward Riley were both intoxicated in the lane leading to the Christie curing rick, off Cliff street, when he attempted to pacify them and ordered the men to depart, Gorman struck him on the eye. The latter was immediately taken into custody, but it was only through the co-operation of Policemen Gorman and Riley that the refractory drunks could be lodged in a cell. Officer Crawford's composure betrayed marks of the comb of his eyes being swollen and colored and his neck and face ereched. Gorman also succeeded in sinking his teeth into the officer's ear.

He was remanded to jail, after being informed that he was liable to one year in jail.

The lads reported for loitering on street corners in the West End, namely, Edward McLeod, William Keleher, William Warnock, Wallace Stephens and John O'Leary, all denied that they were members of the disreputable crowd that frequented several corners on the West Side, especially the junction of Union and Winslow streets, on Saturday night, as Serge Ross reported for the character of each of the boys except Stephens, the quartette was allowed to depart under a suspended fire.

Policeman Goshine said he dispersed a collection of boys, numbering twelve, from three corners on Saturday night on eight or nine occasions, and he believed all of the boys reported to be in the doorn except young Warnock.

Richard Gallagher, who did not deny to notice the summons for his appearance in court, was another of the crowd. During the night the glass in fire box 123 was broken.

Stephens, who was given an undesirable reputation by Serge Ross, said he left the crowd at 7 o'clock.

Warnock stated that he was not in the vicinity of the corners mentioned on Saturday night.

McLeod said he was with the boys only two minutes and Keleher and O'Leary were remaining longer than fifteen minutes.

Every one of the lads employed with the exception of Stephens, who Officer Goshine states, has not worked since last winter.

Magistrate Ritchie cautioned the boys against obstructing the pavement and persisting in frequenting corners and gave them some wholesome advice. Stephens was lodged in a cell until 2 p.m. when another report against him for engaging in a fistic struggle, will be further investigated.

The four boys liberated were of very respectable appearance, and it is possible that Officer Goshine may have been mistaken in the identity of disorderly youths.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Sept. 29 (Special).—A feature of the local market to-day was the sharp advance in Montreal Street. The stock sold early in the morning session at 128, a point above yesterday, and advanced to 138. So advanced, selling from 122 at the opening to 124 at the close of the morning session. C. P.
