Very short notice is given, and the invitation sometimes reaches the guest on the afternoon of the day on which he is expected at the eastle. Guests at Windsor have limited opportunity of inspecting the pictures, chino and objects of art with which the castle is filled or the splendid collection of books, prints and miniatures in the library. They do, however, see the corridor, which extends all round the quadrangle, and it is filled with a cabinet of china vases, with old French furniture, and hung from end to end with pictures. There are features of the corridor collection which are never shown to the public. There are particularly fine portraits of Sir Walter Scott, Lord Thurlow, Pitt, Canning, Lord Elien and Angelis' picture of Lord Beaconsfield, which haugs close to the portrait of George II. At the upper end of the corridor is a cabinet of Rose du Barri china which is valued at £30,000. There are some superb picces of Crown Derby. A Vigorous Waterspout.

TRIESTE, Aug. 3.—An immense, dark grey, funnel-shaped cloud made its appearance over the harbor to-day, and in a short time was joined by a pillar of water, which seemed to be sucked up until its apex joined the lower extremity of the cloud, joined the lower extremity of the cloud, forming a tremendous waterspout, which, after reaching the quay, broke, doing a considerable amount of damage to property. No loss of life was caused, though an omnibus, which was passing along the quay when the waterspout broke, was overturned and the seven passengers which it contained suffered injuries of a more or less serious nature. A number of tram cars along the quay were thrown from the tracks and a number of buildings were damaged. Several minutes elapsed between the time of the formation and the collapse of the waterspout.

The Queen's Two Railway Carriages. LONDON, Aug. 3.—The Queen's two rail-way saloons for continental journeys, which are the private property of her Majesty, are hung with blue and pearl-grey silk brocaded with the rose, shamrock and thistle in yellow. There are a writing table of walnut wood, two small tables and one on which meals are served during a journey.
The floor is covered with an Indian carpet of dark blue, and the curtains are blue and white. There is a separate compartment in front of the Queen's Highland attendant, Francis Clark, successor to John Brown.
The night saloon is a large carriage divided into several compartments. The dressingroom is decorated in the Japanese style, and the floor is covered with bamboo. There is a white metal bath and toilet service.
The large basins on the washstand, which is covered with dark red morocco, are of the same material. The bedroom is decorated in grey and light brown, and contains two beds. The larger is occupied by the Queen, the smaller by Princess Beatrice. There is another cempartment in which is stored the luggage needed by the Queen during a journey, and the two maids who occupy it sleep on sofas.

THE NO CONFIDENCE MOTION.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne will be in general terms a declaration that the result of the recent elections proves that the Government has forfeited the confidence of the country.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—It has been decided to abandon the proposal recently made to file a petition against the return of Mr. Arnold Morley as member of the House of Commons for the East division of Nottingham. Mr. Morley was declared to have been elected for the district by a majority of 5.77 over Mr. Finch-Hatton, his Conservative opponent. Very short notice is given, and opponent

A Number of Dwelling Houses Destroyed.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 3.—Four acres of water, averaging 25 feet, had gathered during recent storms on Page street, above Concord, in West St. Paul. The city engineer's department have been at work letting water out, and started a sluiceway. They left the work at 5:30 p.m. to-day. People around the city noticed it running around the sluiceway te-night, but did nothing to stop it. At 9:15 the bank gave way at the sluice, and the water came down in the ravine in 15-foot wall and carried four houses away, some of them two blocks. A three-story brick building was torn all to pieces. August Williams, his wife and father-in-law, Gollick Horne, were in the block, and Mrs. Williams was drowned. Williams was severely injured, his legs and arms being broken. Horne had his leg broken and received a scalp cut and will probably die. Chas. Kling was injured, how seriously is not known. His house was carried away and demolished. His little son Freddie was found down the valley in his night-gown tangled up in a tree with his leg broken. The house of Philip Stochrs, 389 Campbell street, was carried down on Concord street, and Mrs. Stochrs received a bad cut on the head and was internally injured. Fred Kreger's house, on Campbell street, was carried away, and he is missing, supposed to be drowned. The house of William Knapp, 365 Concord street, occupied by Mrs. Knapp and two children who were in bed, was gutted of its contents, but the occupants escaped unhurt. assembled at 2 o'clock this afternoon. When the House of Lords had assembled with the usual ceremony, the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod summoned the members of the House of Commons to hear the reading of the commission for the new Parliament. Upon return to the House of Commons, the members proceeded to the election of a Speaker.

The proceedings to-day will be purely formal, and no business will be transacted until next week.

As Joseph Chamberlain, Mr. Balfour and other prominent members entered they were heartly cheered.

Mr. Gladstone appeared soon after 2 o'clock, and was given a wildly enthusiastic reception. The Irish members rose in a body, shricking and waving hats and cheering. They were joined in these demonstration by the Liberals. The ovation lasted several minutes. When Mr. Gladstone had taken his seat, he was surrounded by a crowd of members irrespective of

SUPPER, SONG AND SPEECH.

A Pleasant Portion of the Scotch Pienie.

Banquet at the Fraser House-The Toast and the Roplies-A Piensant Reunion.

Incidental to the annual picnic of St. Andrew's and Clan Fraser yesterday, a merry company of officers and guests assembled at the Fraser House in the evening and spent a pleasant hour or two in supper, song and sentiment. Mr. R. Reid, son, president of St. Andrew's Society, graced the head of the table. Ex-Ald. Skinner, president of St. George's Society, sat at the right and Colin Macdougall, Q.C., of St. Thomas, ex-president of St. Andrew's Society, St. Thomas, at the left. Mr. J. W. Jones, of Clan Fraser, was vice-chairman.

After Mine Host Fraser's good things Atter Mine Host Fraser's good things had satisfied the inner man, President Reid proposed the health of "The Queen," and paid an eloquent tribute to her Majesty's worth. It was the Queen, as seen at Balmoral, wandering around amid her tenantry and people that made her dear to the Scottish heart. She had never failed to show her appreciation of the Scottish people.

The Strathrey Knitting Company's Mills May be Rebuilt in Hamilton—Sud-den Death of a Well-Known Horseman.

Horseman.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 3.—It is possible that the Strathroy Knitting Company's mills, which were burned to the ground yesterday in Strathroy, will be rebuilt here. James Watson, of this city, is president of the company, and holds a big portion of the stock. The mills were mortgaged heavily, the creditors being the Bank of Montreal and Long & Bisby, of this city. If the mills are completely destroyed the loss will be $130,000, against an insurance of $65,000.

loss will be $130,000, against an insurance of $65,000.

John Fillman, proprietor of the Black Horse hotel, and a well-known horseman, died suddenly at his hotel this morning.

The firm of Zelensky & Brownstein, who were engaged in several kinds of business and conducted three or four stores here, assigned to-day to Z. F. Lyall, barrister. The liabilities are said to be $6,500. The chief creditor is the McClary Manufacturing Company, of London.

THE HUSBAND OF SEVEN WIVES.

A Bigamist, Hotel Beat and Masonie Fraud Captured in Chicago.

[From the Chelmati Commercial.]
Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Rulison and Detective Ryan left for Chicago last evening for the purpose of bringing B. F. Conrad here for trial. The charge is bigamy. Wife No. 3 is a sister of County Recorder Hobson. It is said, but perhaps with exaggeration, that there have been seven wives in all. Wife No. 3 fet the deception which was practiced on her keenly. As soon aggeration, that there have been seven wives in all. Wife No. 3 felt the deception which was practiced on her keenly. As soon as she recovered from the blow she began to make efforts to bring him to justice. For more than three years she has been a frequent visitor at the office of Prosecuting Attorney Schwartz. She has located Conrad at one time and another in nearly all the important cities west of the Mississippi. While he was in Seattle she succeeded in having him arrested.

The officers there telegraphed for instructions as to whether they should hold him. Mr. Schwartz was in favor of replying in the affirmative and of sending an officer out there after the man, but the county commissioners hesitated on account of the expense of about $700 which would be involved in bringing him here, without reference to his trial. For that reason nothing was done.

nothing was done.

Chief Deitsch has sent circular letters

nothing was done.

Chief Deitsch has sent circular letters all over the country, giving Conrad's photograph and description; also stating that he was formerly a member of the G. A. A. and Masonic orders, both of which organizations now no longer recognize him. Yesterday word was received that Conrad was under arrest in Chicago. Application for requisition papers was made at once, and last night the representatives of Prosecuting Attorney Schwartz left as stated.

Conrad is not only a rank bigamist, but a dead beat. His game is to stop at the best hotels, run a good bill and jump it. The dispatch received yesterday from Chicago stated that Conrad's baggage was held in the Leland House on account of an unpaid bill. He may resist being brought here, but the fight will not be long, and the prospects are excellent for his being speedily "railroaded" for a good long term at Columbus.

RELICS OF ST. JAMES.

A Piece of Cloth From One of His Gar-

A Piece of Gioth From One of sale was ments and a look of His Hair.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3.—The new Church of St. James, at the coiner of Guerrero and Twenty-third streets, claims to have secured not only a portion of an object which was in close contact to the Apostle St. James, but also a small lock of his hair. Recently the relies were exposed to view at the church, the occasion being the feast of St. James. Especially elaborate services were held, attended by large congregations, and the shrine was visited by hundreds of people during the day.

A little altar, especially arranged for this purpose, was stationed just within the railing at the left side of the sanctuary and thereon the golden reliquary reposed. The case was all that could be seen from the this purpose, was stationed just within the railing at the left side of the sanctuary and thereon the golden reliquary reposed. The case was all that could be seen from the railing and the inscription in Latin could not be distinguished. Close inspection revealed two very small dark objects within the glass of the reliquary. One of these was said to be a bit of cloth from a garment worn by St. James and the other a minute lock of the apostle's hair.

Father Lynch, the pastor, declared that the relies had been obtained by him from the church authorities at Rome, that they were fully authenticated and that there could be no doubt of their genuineness. He had not made extended inquiries about them, for ne had not felt that there was any reason to do so.

No marvelous results in the line of miracles are expected through the agency of St. James, and this exhibition is not regarded as beyond the ordinary of such events in the Catholic Church.

The relics will be kept at the church, and each year at the feast of the patron saint they will be placed on the altar for the veneration of the believers.

SUMMER HINTS.

When one is taken with a sudden cold in When one is taken with a sudden coid in summer there can be no better treatment than to eat a raw onion and go into a retreat until the unpleasant effects of the vegetable have worn away. Collector Gott, of Amberstburg, has made his report to the Canadian Customs Department on the seizure of the steam barge Labelle for dumping garbage from Detroit into Canadian waters, and has received an answer from the authorities stating that this action in this matter appears to have been an eminently proper one." The reply also states that the matter has been referred to the Department of Agriculture for consideration and action.

The body of a man, apparently a sailor, drifted ashore at Belle River Wednesday morning. He was about 40 years of age and about five feet in height. Deceased was found in heavy gray trousers, red flannel shirt and laced shoes. The body is so bally decomposed that it is hard to say where it came from. The man had a beard. G. S. Caskey last year raised a field of wheat on some land near St. Thomas. The wheat was badly lodged and much of it could not be harvested. The field was not tilled this year but the lodged wheat has grown, and Mr. Caskey has a field of wheat which will yield a good crop. This is said to be an unusual occurrence as wheat generally does not reproduce itself without cultivation.

The world has a gay guerdon ready
To hall the flee, foot in the race;
But on the dull hishway of duty,
Aloof from the pomp and the beauty,
The stir and the chance of the chase,
Are toilors, with a sten true and steady,
Pursuing their wearlsome pace.

False prowess and noisy insistence
May capture the garrulous throng,

The home keeping sister and mother,
Grown gentle and patient and strong,
Shull learn in the fast-nearing distance
Wherein life's awards have been wrong.

Then here's to the "average people":

THE FARMER'S DOLLAR. The bardeness bollar.

The burdens oppressing the agricultural and allied interests must be lightened, and at once. This can be done by demolishing the duties now charged on the manufactures of Manchester and Birmingham when entering Canada. The effect of this would be to add one-third to the purchasing power of the consumer's dollar, increase our exports to Great Britain and eventually to force the Americans to trade with us on our terms and on theirs.—[Toronto News.

Kent Bridge some evenings of the week presents a lively appearance. Farmers, after their day's work, congregate in large numbers to spend an hour or so socially falking over the events of the day and the news generally, and often advising with one another the best way to farm. This is said to account to a great extent for the many successful farmers in that community.

personal expense that neither side desires to hasten another dissolution. Very probably by the time the next election comes the Commons will have passed a bill putting these expenses on the public purse.
This will be only one of the many measures similarly radical which will be sent up for similarly radical which will be sent up for the Lords to throw out. Some of them, like home rule, abolition of plural voting, and taxation of ground rents, will be sent up more than once, until the onus of the wholesale blocking of the popular will has been fastened on the Lords with all possible completeness. Then the greatest battle of English political history will come, with the wiping out of hereditary legislators added to other burning issues.—[Harold Frederic, in New York Times.

Milton F. Cronk, formerly of the Sarnia to the Sarnia Sun, has started a newspaper at Courtright.

Large quantities of circulars have been sent out from Sarnia advertising the Little Louisiana Lottery. These circulars were signed by Parish, Small & Co., and were sides with the Sarnia and ascertained that the firm had rented box 368 in the Sarnia postoffice. He watched the box for several days, but nobody came to claim the replies to the circulars, with which it was being filled day by day. Detective Rogers fluely turned the case over to the Sarnia chief of police, who continued the watch. Finally Frank Burke, of Port Huron, who claimed to be the agent of Parish, Small & Co., appeared at the postoffice and was arrested. He was taken before the mayor and fined for transgressing the Lottery Act. The postoffice department of the Attorney General has now in its possession several of the answers of people desirous of purchasing lottery tickets, and it is probable that some of them will be prosecuted.

CAPE COLONY, South Africa, is a little slow, but its Legislature has finally adopted the ballot. Persons who are unable to write their name, address and occupation are, however, disqualified from voting.

THE United States will issue special postage stamps during next year to illustrate the discovery of America by Colum-bus. Canada may well follow suit. The work done by the intrepid Spanish sailor is a heritage common to all America.

THE "infant" industries of Canada are able to support millionaires who live in old country castles. Surely they should be weaned and permitted to forage for themselves. The average Canadian gets no Government aid to enable him to live. He yould be ashamed to have his neighbors taxed for his benefit.

Britain or France, or by both jointly, would result in the overthrow of the dreadful slave traffic, it would be, in large measure, defensible. The horrors of the traffic are thus depicted in a private letter recently thus depicted in a private letter recently received:

"I must now tell you of the caravan which arrived at Tenduf from Timbuctoo. It brought searcely any merchandise, but there were 4,000 slaves, principally young girls and boys! So great was the influx of slaves at Marakesh (Morocco City) that instead of holding the market twice a week as usual, it was held daily, from April 25 to May 14, and the prices were comparatively low, ranging from £10 to £14 a head. During the feast of Ramadan the Kaids who come to Marakesh in orler to present gifts to the Sultan's son, who is the Khalifa of his father, agreed that the most acceptable present would be some of these young slaves from Timbuctoo. There were 43 Kaids, and cach of them gave this young man, only 18 years of age, three slave girls and two slave boys—over 200 young slaves in all! As the young Khalifa has a bad reputation for cruelty and other vices, it is not pleasant to think of the fate of these young captives. It is said that more than 800 slaves were sold at this market in ten days, to merchants who had come from Riff, Tafilat and other distant places to obtain a supply of human chattels; and besides this many were sold privately. I was myself the witness of a sad scene in the market, when three little negresses, from S to 10 years old, who had evidently come from a very distant part, as no one there could speak their language, were ruthlessly parted from each other and sold to different owners, amid tears, pitiful cries and such resistance as the poor ittle creatures could employ. Each had to go off alone among a strange people, not one of whom understood a word she said."

A ruler who permits outrages of this description to be perpetrated continuously

A ruler who permits outrages of this description to be perpetrated continuously under his very nose, and who even profits by the infamous traffic, has surely for-feited his right to hold sway.

THE SMUGGLER'S FRIEND. Whether the Dominion Government resolves to collect duty on the raw tobacco leaf, or continues to take excise duty on the manufactured product, the fact seems to be established that there is a great deal of smuggling under the present system. In the United States the excise duty is but six cents a pound, whereas in Canada the duty is 25 cents a pound. Thus the man Central Asiatic territories which had been who can smuggle a few pounds of tobacco in a day can make a comfortable living. He has 19 cents profit on every pound.

The smuggler appears to be the particular established a garrison, wherever pet of the Dominion Government. REST AS A MEDICINE.

THE EAST. Our cablegrams to-day report Prof. Vamery, the famous Asiatic traveler, as asserting that Russia is responsible for the recent stirring up of the rebellion among the Hazara tribes in Afghanistan. The professor says it will be found that the rebels are armed with Russian weapons, and that it may be necessary for the Afghan ruler to ask Great Britain to aid him in suppressing the outbreak. In that case, it is surmised, Russia will forward the interests of the other claimant to the Afghan throne, and the Afghan question will once again be up for settlement While this news is startling, that which comes by way of Calcutta is even more so. A dispatch from that city asserts that three detachments of Russian troops have occupied the Pamir region, as far a have occupied the Famir region, as far as the Hindu Kush, holding the country from which Col. Yanoff, of the Russian army, retired last year. The aggression of the Russians has caused much stir at the Foreign Office, and it is said that Lord Salisbury is actively engaged upon the matter. The chief sufferers by the present Russian aggression are China and Afghanistan. China is perhaps the larger loser, and her history in Central Asia shows that there is no part of her empire in regard to which she is more sensitive than Central Asia, or for the retention of which she is more willing to persistently fight. Afghanistan will also be a considerable loser, and here the obligations of Great Britain, which is practically pledged to see that no evil comes to the Afghan kingdom from outsiders, come into play. The Russians are practically trying to substitute a southern headwater of the Oxus for the more northern one agreed to as the demarcating line in 1873, and to inclose the immense tract intervening between the two rivers. To this great absorption of territory, chiefly at the expense of China, they have added a further encroachment on Afghanistan by drawing a geographical line across Badakhshan and claiming as their own the territory which lies north of it up to the line of the Oxus agreed to in 1873. Europe over these new developments. They illustrate, in a marked degree, the progress which the Russian Empire has made to wards the East in the last quarter of a century. The result of the Crimean war was to restrain Russia from obtaining an eastern outlet by way of Turkey. To pre-serve the "balance of power" in Europe, Great Britain, France and Italy spent many millions of treasure and sacrificed thous ands of lives in the terrible Crimean cam paign. The Russian bear was cowed, and had to look for an outlet for his energies in He turned his attentio held for centuries by irregular tribes and semi-autocratic established a garrison, wherever a garrison was established, order, rough and severe in type undoubtedly it was, followed. EXCITING TIMES LOOMING UP IN | Asia. Afghanstan has been maintained by Britain as a buffer against Russian aggres sion, but it looks as if Britain would either have to annex that land or let Russia take it. Before that question is settled the two countries may go to war. Nations have engaged in many a bloody struggle over a question of much less importance. But, after all, it does not matter a great deal who controls Afghanistan, if country is properly ruled. It certainly does not concern Canadians. Yet if our Imperial Federation friends had their way they would be willing to have the blood of Canadians shed and millions of Canadian treasure squandered to aid in maintaining any position which either Salisbury or Gladstone may take up in regard to this or any other eastern dispute!

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, who is one of the dark horses in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Minnesota, is a single-tax man and a great admirer of Henry George.

::: A capital story is current in London abou two Waterford merchants and hatters who once obtained an audience with the present once obtained an audience with the present Pope's predecessor. They were old-fashioned men and good, pious Catholics, and when, after much formality, they were ushered into the room where Pus IX., in all his Papal splendor, was waiting to receive them, both were so overcome with emotion that they could de nothing but stare in blank amazement, trembling all over. At last one of them found his tongue. Throwing himself on his knees he shouted out loud enough to be heard in every corner of that wast chamber; "O Holy Father, we're from Watherford!"

If the current report is true that Baron If the current report is true that Baron Maurice de Hirsch is soon to make a tour of this country his visit should arouse unusual interest, for as millionaire, philanthropist, sportsman and financier the Baron is more than a remarkable man. He is in many respects the man of his time, homme du siecle, as his French admirers style him. Everything that he has touched has turned fint gold, so that he has long been the rival of the Rothschilds in wealth. One case in point of his Midas-like touch was the purchase at a small price of the depreciated assets of a bankrupt Belgian bank and the subsequent realization from them of $4,000,000 of profits. The Baron first became known on this side of the water in the somewhat dubious role of intimate of the Prince of Wales. Next after that his commons gifts to charity, amounting in 1891 to $15,000,000, awakened the interest of three continents. The Baron is noted in Europe for his chivalry, and the story of his quarrel with a Paris club, though told long ago, is timely now. When the Baron and another Hebrew, who was his enemy's son, were blackballed for membershin in the club. Baron Hirsch bought the Maurice de Hirsch is soon to make a tou enemy's son, were blackballed for membership in the club, Baron Hirsch bought the building for a sum much in excess of its value. Healthy Flesh.

Loxpox, May 7, 1881.

I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the many you have already. About two years ago I way confering from liver complaint. I consulted some of the leading dectors but could find no relief. I was advised to try your Royal Crown Remedy. After using one bottle I left so much botter that I was induced to continue. When I had taken the third I could enjoy my food, which I had not done for a long time. I was reduced to a skeleton when I commenced to use it, and to-day my weight is about 180 jounds. Yours truly.

THE TURF.

The blind stallion Cheyenne will be started at Grand Rapids, Mich., in August, and as he is now going sound on the leg that bothered him so much last year it looks as though he would not be handicapped in that direction when it comes to the question of reducing his record. In spite of being totally without sight, Cheyeune is a great racehorse, seeming to have no fear that he will be injured in a crowd of horses, and going into the bunch as tearlessly as a trotter with the best eyes in the world.—[Breeders' Gazette.

Gray Tobe (Gray John), who started in the recent races here, has turned up in Winnipeg, where he paced in the free-forall, but was no good. This horse has been a disturber of the peace ever since he was brought to Outario as a ringer. Two of three lawsuits have occurred, and it would have been better for all concerned if he had been knocked on the head the first day he landed.

The question which disturbs the slumbers of speculative minds just now is, "What will the Canucks bring over this year to cook our goose with?" says Dunton's Spirit. When the chestnut stallion Gold Ring came over from Ontario to Detroit in 1889 and defeated the American favorite Sprague Golddust in straight heats the Canadians bagged considerable of Uncle Sam's currency and shook hands together gleefully and talked French gliby. The next year they had another good thing in Alvin, a much more unlikely-looking treater than Gold Ring, but possessing qualities far in alvance of the earlier invader. Like Gold Ring he was eligible to a slow class, and sold cheap in the poole, while Pickpania, a big mare bred in Iowa, carried the Samba and sold cheap in the poole, while Pickpania, a big mare bred in Iowa, carried the advance of the earlier invader. Like Gold Ring he was eligible to a slow class, and sold cheap in the pools, while Pickpania, a big mare bred in Iowa, carried the hulk of the money. She had driven Ripple out the week before in 2:17½ at Saginsw, and the knowing ones fancied she could play with such trotters as the heavily-built, clumsy looking Canadian. Alvin rushed away promptly and won the first heat in a jog, and a bookmaker who laid 12 to 5 against him found a string of Canucks 50 vards long waiting to cash in laid 12 to 5 against him found a string of Canucks 50 yards long waiting to cash in their checks. He paid out nearly $4,000 to them on the stallion that looked more fit to draw a dray than a sulky. The next two heats were quickly gathered in, and Canada had made her second successful visit to this side. These are not all her soft things, and so it will be well to keep an eye out for her in 1892.—[The Horseman.

The Distance Covered While Dancing.

An average waltz takes one over or about three-quarters of a mile, a souare dance makes you cover half a mile and a galop equals a good run, at a run, too. Count up for yourself how much the girl with a well-filled programme traverses in an evening. Twonty dances is the average, you know. Of these about twelve are waltzes. There, at once, are nine miles. Three galops and she has done twelve miles. Five other dances at a half a mile apiece, which is hardly a fairly big estimate, brings her to close upon fifteen miles, to say nothing of the intermission stroll in the garden and the trips to the dressing room to renovate one's gown and complexion.

-The Programme.

In the matter of picnics the Scotchmen In the matter of picnies the Scotchmen of London may now take first place. The annual outing of St. Andrew's Society and Clan Fraser at Port Stanley yesterday broke the record as far as pacsenger traffic is concerned. The official number of people who left this city, as given by the railway authorities, was $1.700, and including the Woodstock excursionists, the aggregate was 4,100. Add to this the hundreds from St. Thomas and it places the attendance at 5,000 or over. It is said this is 200 over the Irishmen's picnic of 1891, which was the highest to date.

over. It is said this is 200 over the Irishmen's pienic of 1891, which was the highest to date.

It was a fine crowd, both in quantity and quality. Verily, union is strength, as it was the united and energetic action of the two Scottish sections that brought about such a successful occasion. Clan Sutherland, of Woodstock, and the organizations of the same nationality in St. Thomas were invited to co-operate, and both sent large contingents to the Port. No less than 46 cars laden with humanity left the city in the morning. The regular and the "swimmer" in the afternoon brought seventeen more. This gives some idea of the immense patronage accorded the Scotchmen's pienic.

Everything favored the promoters, notably the weather. It was perfect-fine and breezy. Fraser's Heights, under such circumstances, is a delightful place, and added to its natural charms yesterday were the attractions provided for the occasion. The band of "D" Company, R. C. I., played at intervals. Sweeter, perhaps, to the Gaelic ears were the strains of the bagpipes, a constant stream of this entivening music being emitted, thanks to the efficient services of Pipers Alex, Milne and George Angus, of London, and McLeed and Wilson, of St. Thomas, Reinforced by a bass and a kettle drum they gave a promenade concert on the Fraser House lawn in the drum they gave a promenade concert on the Fraser House lawn in the evening to the delight and admiration of a crowd of enthusiastic Scotchmen. Montreal, Aug. 3.—The first two trips of the steamships running on the new route between Jamaica and Montreal have turned out fairly successful. The last cargo of fruit, however, was over-ripe and brought low prices owing to bad handling and detention to the boat. Another steamer is to be put on the route, but the promoters say the Government must give them a subsidy or they will make Boston the terminus instead of Montreal.

and already a French committee composed of leading citizens and journalists has been formed for the reception of the officers. Ex-Mayor Beaugrand has taken officers. Ex-Mayor Beaugrand has taken the matter in hand and dinners, drives and a ball are to be given. The city will be asked to bear the expense, but it has caused a great deal of comment that the English-speaking residents of Montreal have been entirely ignored in the matter. Not an English name appears on the reception committee, and it was not even known among the English that a committee was to be formed. Opposition is expected in the city council when the money is asked for. The shipping trade is very much annoyed at the news received here that the two lower gates of lock 19 of the Cornwall canal were carried away to-day by a steam tug. The accident, which was caused by the Montreal Transportation Company's tug Ranger, will cause a good deal of delay and inconvenience. A LITTLE CIRL'S DANCER.

Mr. Henry Macombe, Leyland St., Blackburn, London, Eng., states that his little girl fell and struck her knee against a curbstone. The knee began to swell, became very painful and terminated in what doctors call "white swelling." She was treated by the best medical men, but grew worse. Finally

ST. JACOBS OIL was used. The contents of one bottle e swelling, killed the pain and cured her.

Adam Graeme, of Mossgray.

Addin Gracine, of Mossgray

By Mrs. Oliphant.

With which prudent beginning John descended, and evinced his haste pratically, by ettering into a lengthened controversy with Tam Dribble, the master of a little inn which it pleased John to patronize. The manner of a little inn which it pleased John to patronize and was a man very great in the "all was his late," as a part of the state," as a part of the state, and manner of a little inn which it pleased John to patronize and was a man very great in the "all was his late," as a part of the state, and manner of a little inn which it pleased John to patronize and was a man very great in the "all was his late," as a part of the state, and lively.—oh, no, no it "calking it for and sagnats some recent act of this great in the state," and lively.—oh no, no it "and britch, and lively.—oh, no, no it" and lively.—oh, no, no it" and britch, and lively.—oh, no, no it" and lively.—oh, lively.—oh, no, no it" and lively.—oh,

Hope was selzed with one of her fits of impatience. Why would Adelaide be so stupid?

"Shan't we tease her!" exclaimed Victoria, triumphantly. "Fred says he won't learn his lessons to a woman,and I won't learn any lessous at all, if I can help it, and mamma won't let me if I have a headache. Do you ever have any headaches, Hope?"

"No," said Hope, stoutly, "headaches? Miss Mansindu used to have them at school—you mind. Adelaide! but it's a great shame, and Miss Swinton says girls have no right to have headaches."

"Oh, Hope! 'you mind.' Mamma would whip me if I said 'you mind.'"

"My mother would not," said the resolute Hope, "and mind is a far better word than remember or recollect. It's only one syllable, and—it's our own tongue, and it's a very good word."

bits like this, and mamma says it will be very pretty—and Charlotte's bringing such a load of music and that governess!—vou might come up, Hope, and help me, for I'm aure you're not doing anything yourself."
Hope acknowledged her idleness.
"No indeed, Adelaide; but I have only been two days at home; and—what's the use of working covers? I don't know why people labor at such things."
"Because their mamma's make them," said Adelaide, gravely, and with a sigh; "But I think I like it too, Hope, for it's very pretty, you know."

"But 1 think I like it too. Hope, for it's very presty, you know."

Hope shook her head. She had been visited several times of late by some grave ruminations on this subject, and began to feel that working covers, however presty, was in reality a quite unsatisfactory mode of life. But the coglitations were inarticulate; they had attained no shape, except at presents decided disincination to work at all.

"And, Hope," added Adelaide, "how long do you practice every day?"

"And, Hope," added Adelaide, "how long do you practice every day?"
"I don't practice at all," answered Hope. The sleepy lids of Adelaide's eyes were elevated in wonder.

"Then what in all the world do you do?" exclaimed Victoria. "I should like to be you, Hope—I should like to play all day," but Adelaid thinks she is too old te play."
"I don't play all day," said Hope, with some indignation. "Yesterday I was at Friarsford with my mother, and at Mossgray—"

"Oh, Hope !".said Adelaide, "what makes you go to see that girl? she is only a farmer's daughter."
"I don't care for her now," said Hope, with some sadness; "but it's not because she's a farmer's daughter—it's because she is —I mean it's because she practices, and knits and works covers, and doesn't care for anybody—but never mind that. And then we went to Mossgray. We did not see Mr. Gracme; but there's a beautiful pony—the prettiest one ever you saw—and Mrs. Mense says I'm to give it its name. What should I call it, Adelaide? come and help me."
Adelaide slowly shook her head—this was a stretch of invention quite beyond her.
"Call it Mischief," suggested Victoria.
"Mischief," deliberated Hope. "No. I don't like that—I want a pretty name—give me a pretty name, Adelaide."
An idea gradually illuminated Adelaide's stolid countenance.
"Call it Pretty, Hope—that would do very Gounod, the composer, is an eccentric individual, and will only work at his own time and to order. It is said that he has twelve unfinished operas lying in his manuscript drawers.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrup and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Killed on the Track-Buried and Un known—The Body is Identified.

The Brantford Expositor says: "The particulars relating to the death of the late Joseph Eagleton, son of Mr. Henry Eagleton, are peculiarly painful. He had been at Detroit in search of work and did not find it. He returned to Canada and wrote home to his wife, who was in London. From there he went to Bike's Creek on July 21. He had gone to visit same people in a cottage by the railway side. The track at this place has a remarkably strong bend, besides being a grade. When young Eagleton came out of the cottage he was seen to walk up the track. Just as he got there the train came sweeping along at a terrific pace. He saw it just as it was upon him, and made a leap clear of the track. He got past the rails, but the buffer of the big mogul engine struck him in the back, and dashed him against the fence, killing him instantly.

There was nothing on the body to assist in identification. No coroner's inquest was held, strange to say, and no efforts to find deceased's friends. The people in the neighborhood buried him quietly and retained the clothes. The next day after the accident Mrs. Eagleton, jun., saw a four-line paragraph in the London papers about the unknown killed. Strange as it may appear, she had a strange feeling or premonition of her husband's death, and sent the paragraph on to Mr. Henry Eagleton here. He at first pooh-pooled the idea The young wife, however, was restless and unsatisfied, and writing the postmaster near where the accident occurred, the reply, though inaccurate in many respects, still further increased her suspicions until urther linquiry and the non-appearance of her husband of the shown who haid the remains away easily recognized. His clothing was then brought to Mr. Eagleton then left Brantford on Tuesday for the scene of the accident. He took a pleture of deceased with him, which those who haid the remains away easily recognized. His clothing was then brought to Mr. Eagleton, when all doubt as to the identity of the poor Hail's prize pony.
