RUBE WADDELL GOES FISHING

Another Interesting Story About the Eccentric Baseball Pitcher

TALKS ABOUT CHATHAM

Rube Waddell pitched for Detroit once. But the Rube doesn't talk much about those days because they were the times that preceded his flying the coop and going to Chatham, Ont. Rube calls it "Ontario, Can." And the tenderly watched-over ward of the Champion Athletics would much rather tell of the sun fish he caught on the banks of the Clinton, and with "minny's, too, mind you!" Every time the Philadelphians get within snelling distance of those Mr. Clemens sulphur tubs the Rube gets the itching craze and wants a holiday so as to pull out his rheumatics. Connie Mack used to consent readily, but it's different now. He has a suspicion that the Rube sidekicks the spitballs and buys worms and minnows instead. It's a strange thing the fascination the fish in the Clinton river have for the mighty twirler.

G. Edward Waddell frankly admits that he would rather pull in the frisky fish than win ball games any day. Fishing, he says, is an art; but all you have to do in baseball is send the ball over the plate with the proper curve and you win. If the ball goes right it's like taking candy from children. And it takes a lot of quizzing to get the Rube's baseball history out of him. He will tell you by the hour of the whales he has caught. He will even tell of the great muskallonge he once hauled in with a queer bump in the stomach, and how, on cutting the big fellow open, a Mallard duck flew out; and how, on looking further, he found a nest with six eggs on which Mrs. Duck had been setting. But enough of fish stories, it is the Rube's wolverine career that is wanted. G. Ed. Waddell started playing ball as a catcher. That was back in his home, Bradford, Pa. He was so long that they sent him to first base because the third sacker was wild and covered a lot of territory on his pot shots to first. One day the academy team played a double header in a nearby town and had only one pitcher. He was knocked out of the box in the second game and Rube offered to try. The other side didn't get another run, though Bradford was unable to even up the score.

After that Rube joined the Butler, Pa., team and followed with other small teams. His first professional ball was in August, 1897, in Louisville. After that he says he was farmed out to Detroit. That was in 1898; Rube left Detroit. That is one time in his career when he got right up on his ear—and struck. "Vanderbecker had gone off with his team and left me at home. 'You stay at the hotel,' said Van as he kissed me good-bye. I stayed till I had all the directories and smoked all the cigars and got good and tired and then I just had to go out and find something to do or I would have gone dippy. I heard there was going to be a real good baseball game, so I went. It was a great game, too, and we won. 'When Van got back he came up to me and said, 'Rube, didn't I tell you to stay at the hotel?' I told him 'Yes, sir.' He said, 'You've gone and been to a ball game. You're fined $25.' That afternoon I pitched for Detroit against some team, Baltimore, I guess, and shut them out, 6 to 0. Some of my friends asked Van if the fine went after that victory. 'Course it goes,' he said, for he was mad at the business men buying in. 'Then I got too,' I said, and jumped to Canada, Ontario, Chatham, and finished out the season. I couldn't stay there always, though they treated me fine, and next season I was with Hamstead and then with Columbus, Ohio. Loftis transferred the team to Grand Rapids during the season. The next season I played with Louisville, then Pittsburgh, and with the Chicago Nationals in 1901. At the season end I went to California with the All-Americans."

And then Connie Mack landed him.

"Then I got too," I said, and jumped to Canada, Ontario, Chatham, and finished out the season. I couldn't stay there always, though they treated me fine, and next season I was with Hamstead and then with Columbus, Ohio. Loftis transferred the team to Grand Rapids during the season. The next season I played with Louisville, then Pittsburgh, and with the Chicago Nationals in 1901. At the season end I went to California with the All-Americans."

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 28.—In a letter just received from a near relative concerning the death of R. Clare O'Brien, it develops that the cause of the accident was heart failure rather than a cramp, as was stated. Miss Dolph and Mr. O'Brien, who had been swimming together, started to swim across the lake. When about half way across the latter suffered from an attack of heart failure. Miss Dolph, who is an expert swimmer and cool headed, went to his assistance and in the effort to save him both sank three times. On rising for the last time Mr. O'Brien, who seemed to realize that his companion was being dragged down to death, threw her off and sank again. Miss Dolph then went to shore for a boat, and the search for the body commenced, but it was not until three hours after his mother's arrival, the next day, that the body was recovered.

Mrs. O'Brien was so prostrated that she was unable to see her son's body or to attend the funeral. A peculiar feature is the fact that after living all over the country and in Canada, Mr. O'Brien went back to the home of his birth to meet so tragic a fate.

OPTICAL ILLUSION

A Man Mistakes the Rankin Dock For Fifth St. Bridge and Finds Himself in Dangerous Position

A man named Watson had an experience at the Rankin dock Saturday night which he is not apt to forget for some time. Watson was in a joyful mood as a result of frequent visits to the refreshment counters. His intentions were good, and he displayed more sense than many do under similar circumstances—he wanted to go home and go to sleep.

Where Watson made his mistake was in not engaging a guide who would have seen him safely home. He started out all by himself. He mistook the Rankin dock for the Fifth street bridge and walked off it, into the river. This may seem a queer thing to do, but in this case it is easily explained. Watson saw so many docks that they seemed to extend all the way across the river, and it was very easy for him to suppose that it was a bridge. Fortunately there was a crowd around and policeman Tom Groves was among the number. When Watson came up he was quite near the dock, and the was able to grab one of the piles and yell for help. He held on until someone reached down and pulled him out. When he got up on the dock he found to his sorrow that he was wet both outside and inside. When he saw the policeman he begged hard not to be taken to the station, saying that if he got off this time he would never touch another drop in his life. Mr. Groves thought that the man had got a good lesson and so he helped him to his home instead of to the station.

FIGHT OVER ROOT OF EVIL

Hamilton Men Engage in Stabbing Affray Over Dollar Bill

ONE OF THEM MAY DIE

Hamilton, July 30.—George Gerrie, a builder's laborer, who hails from Oakville, was stabbed, probably fatally, Saturday night, by Charles Cook, in a quarrel over $1. It took place at their boarding house 53 North John street, and each man had his own version. Cook was immediately placed under arrest. His story is that Gerrie owed him $1 and he went to Gerrie's room to collect it. Some words passed and Cook says that Gerrie went to strike him. Cook had a jackknife in his hand cutting tobacco, and he claims that he stabbed Gerrie in self-defence. When Dr. McCabe was called in he found that Gerrie had several wounds. The most serious was the one over the heart. The blade of the knife struck a rib and glanced over tearing the covering of the heart. He was also bitten on the shoulder, and one hand was painfully cut.

His condition was considered so critical Saturday night that Crown Attorney Washington took ante-mortem statement. His story is that he ordered Cook out of his room, but that Cook bit him on the shoulder and stabbed him.

VISIT OF INSPECTION

W. W. Everitt, N. A. McGeachy, W. D. A. Ross and Frank Wilson, school trustees of School Section No. 1, Hamilton, were in the city on Saturday inspecting the Central School. It is the intention of these trustees to install new seats in their school, and they wished to see the ones in the Central School before they made their purchases. The trustees of No. 1 are showing the right spirit in improving their school, and it would be well if the trustees of other rural schools would follow their example.

THE CAR RAN PAST SWITCH

Head-on-Collision in Toronto—Fifteen People are Injured

THE MONTREAL ACCIDENT

Toronto, July 30.—A head-on collision between two electric cars, a heavy Port Credit car and a Mimico local, on the Toronto York Radial Railway, occurred at a switch one mile and a half east of the Mimico Asylum, near New Toronto, at 6:30 Saturday morning. Fifteen persons were hurt, only one, however, thought to be very serious. The injured: W. Simpson, 212 West Queen street, knees badly crushed and otherwise shaken up. James Grey, Long Branch, back and side hurt. George Reed, New Toronto, back hurt. J. Dunleavy, Church street, Toronto, bruised and shaken up. John Neil, Sixth street, New Toronto, bruised. John Leedham, New Toronto, bruised. Robt. Elkin, Mimico Asylum, steward, back and leg hurt. S. M. Griffin, Long Branch, bruised. Walter Parker, Fifth avenue, New Toronto, leg hurt. Henry Misher, Church street, bruised and shaken up. Walter McDonald, Sixth street, New Toronto, leg injured. Archie Leslie, motorman, Port Credit car No. 54, shaken up. Geo. T. Humphrey, 144 Gladstone avenue, conductor car No. 54, arm hurt. Harry McGraph, motorman, No. 1 car, knee and arms bruised. Archie McIntyre, conductor No. 1 car, both hands hurt.

The accident was due to the Port Credit car running past a switch where it should have met the Mimico local. The tracks at this point curve sharply on a decided declivity, and cars approaching from opposite directions are hidden from each other's view until almost on each other. Motorman Leslie of the Port Credit car disobeyed orders in passing the switch before the arrival of the Mimico car, it is said, and thereby precipitated the collision. An investigation will be held. Two Conductors Killed. Montreal, July 30.—Two street railway conductors, N. Hudson and St. Germain were thrown from their respective cars yesterday, in opposite ends of the city, and killed. The men were both collecting fares, one in West Notre Dame street, and the other near the St. Denis street Subway.

THE FISHING INDUSTRY

At a meeting of the Windsor Fish and Game Protective Association, Capt. George E. Brooks, of Windsor, made an address on the fishing industry and advocated the total prohibition or export of fish for a term of years. He showed how the fishing industry had developed from the small sail boat to the large tug with steam lifters, and often as many as 15 miles of nets, all fished by Americans, chiefly the trust, who own the fishing plant and get the profits. All agreed in the view expressed and were of the opinion that the fault was not so much with the Americans as ourselves, and if proper regulations are passed, stopping export for a term of years on all fish, it would replenish our fishing grounds, make cheaper fish to the Canadians and the profits greater for the fisherman instead of the total extermination of this industry which is bound to come under present conditions in the near future.

Pickpockets in Cornwall. Cornwall, July 30.—Some $200 or so of Cornwall money was carried away by pickpockets during the lacrosse match here on Saturday. Several losses had been reported to the police, but the first clue to the guilty parties was furnished by Special Constable Wm. Hol-lister, whose purse was taken from his pocket, while on his way to the O. & N. Y. depot. Hollister arrested a man who gave the name of Quinn of Albany, N. Y., and says that he is on a holiday jaunt, calling on Montreal. Only $55 was found on him.

THEY GOT THE CUP

The All-Kent Football Team Return From Detroit With the Walker Trophy

The all Kent football team went to Windsor Saturday afternoon to play the deciding game for the Walker cup with the St. Andrew's team that place. The Kents were on the field about 4:30 and the St. Andrew's arrived a few minutes later with a large following of Detroiters. The field was beautifully decorated with American flags so certain were the St. Andrew's men of success. Dr. French, of Amherstburg, was referee and started the game at five o'clock sharp, after warning the players against roughness. The Kent boys were in the play from the start. Fred Newby, the centre forward, scored the first goal a few minutes after the kick off. The play from this out was decidedly fast, the supporters of each team along the line becoming very much excited. No more goals were scored during the first half, but shortly after the beginning of the second half Albert Peck succeeded in sending the ball through the St. Andrew's goal by a beautiful long shot. This ended the scoring for the game, but the excitement was intense to the end, and French, the Kent goal keeper, was kept busy stopping the hot shots of the Detroiters, but it was no use with Langford and Pugh full backs and a strong half back line, the St. Andrew's boys were doomed to disappointment, the game ending with a score of 2 to 0 in favor of the All Kents. The boys returned to Chatham Saturday night, bringing with them the famous cup, which will be exhibited in one of the Kent street windows. The All Kents lined up as follows: Goal, French; backs, Pugh and Langford; half backs, Bennie, Jinks, Coulter; forwards, McKenzie, Peck, Newby, Jinks, Parrott.

STRANGE JEWS STILL IN CITY

Their Mysterious Actions The Cause Of Much Conjecture

ARE THEY DETECTIVES?

The strange Jews, mentioned in Saturday's issue of The Planet, are still in the city, and from all reports are still behaving in a peculiar manner. The theory is advanced that they are perhaps members of a private detective force working on some case, or tracing up some criminal. This theory appears quite feasible, but these sleek Jewish gentlemen have made themselves a little more conspicuous than shrewd detectives would be expected to.

Saturday, two well-dressed Jews called at the Police Station and began plying Chief Holmes with a number of curious queries. They wanted to know of the Chief how long it would take a gasoline launch to go to the lighthouse, and how long from the lighthouse across the lake to Detroit.

What are these strange Jews doing in Chatham? They appear to have no special business in the city other than that of asking peculiar questions, and yet it is well-known that Jews are not given to walking around wasting their time asking foolish questions. It is conceded that they have some definite object in view.

It has been suggested that perhaps they have an eye to securing the stolen furs at present stored in the police station, taking them away in a launch and dumping them in Lake Erie. The stolen furs are intended to be used by the Crown as strong evidence against the Gibb-skes, and should they be spirited away it would greatly affect the case.

THE QUESTION OF HEALTH.

The recent revelations of unsanitary conditions prevalent in certain packing houses has aroused the press to a sense of the dangers which threaten the people of this and other countries. It is wisely stated that the health of the people should be their own first consideration. This is indeed an important question, and too much attention cannot be given to it. There are other ways of preserving the health of the public, however, which are just as important as a careful inspection of foods, and one of these is the enforcement of a vigilant watchfulness in the matter of contagious diseases, to see that the cases are properly isolated, and the infected districts promptly quarantined until such time as all danger from contagion is passed.

This county has been provided with an unpleasant and expensive example of the dangers which result from negligence in matters of this kind, and the city of Chatham has been put to the trouble and expense of treating small-pox patients who, if the proper care had been exercised in outside places, would never have found their way to the Maple City.

It is stated that in the instance of one of these, the case was not reported to the Medical Health Officer in the place where the disease originated. It was also stated that there was no physician in attendance until the character of the disease was discovered, when the patient moved to Chatham. This is a warning to Health Officers to put forth their most earnest efforts in guarding the health of the communities served by them.

In another instance several cases of small-pox were diagnosed as chicken-pox by the physician in attendance. There seems to be no excuse for this. Every physician, no matter where he practices his profession, should be able to discern the difference between small-pox and chicken-pox. Of course, no quarantine was ordered or enforced in connection with these cases and, as a result, the whole district was exposed to the contagion.

There is no official who has a more important mission to perform than has the Medical Health Officer. If under present conditions he is unable to give the proper attention to his work, steps should be immediately taken to increase the importance of his office, and he should be given ample remuneration to insure an efficient service. In this way the country will be assured of competent men as Health Officers.

WONDERS NEVER CEASE.

The Chicago Record-Herald, which is financing the Wellman expedition to the pole by airship, notes the first message by wireless telegraph from Mr. Wellman, who is now at Dane's island, 850 miles north of the north coast of Norway, and 600 from the pole, where he is completing arrangements for his fateful flight about the middle of August. The marvellous thing is that the Record-Herald got Mr. Wellman's message on the same day it was despatched.

The new experiment in Arctic exploration, says that paper, is this inaugurated with a startling demonstration of the value of wireless telegraphy.

The message is of historic importance in that it marks the introduction of wholly original methods in communicating with the world from that distant region.

It promises much for the future, both as regards the Wellman-Record-Herald expedition and all subsequent ones that may be engaged in polar explorations, north or south.

Aside from this it has a dramatic interest that must have been felt by every one of its readers.

Under the old slow and tedious means of communication the movements of explorers were shrouded in mystery from the time that they were beyond the reach of telegraph wires.

Mr. Wellman is heard from as he might be if he were still in Washington. Though only 600 miles from the SEVENGALA.

As a public demonstrator or operator, Sevengala stands without an equal, having had nineteen years experience in giving public exhibitions in all parts of the world, not only in this country, but in Europe.

He is in immediate touch with his office.

The fact is hard to realize. It is a most impressive illustration of the advances that are being made at the present time in the practical application of scientific discoveries to the uses of man.

The Brantford Expositor is shocked at the bad grammar of public speakers, including clergymen. Providing a man has something to say and says it so plainly that all may understand, hearers will forgive a few lapses in grammar. Some men are so studiously grammatical and indulge in such choice language, winding their words in and out and around without making a slip, that those who listen are more mystified than enlightened. Of the two types the average man has less patience with the latter.—Ridgetown Dominion.

"Keep it out of the paper," is the cry which the newspaper publishers daily hear. To oblige often costs considerable, though the party who makes the request thinks the granting scarcely worth saying "thank you" for. A newspaper is a peculiar thing in the public's eye. The news-gatherer is stormed at because he gets hold of one item and is abused because he does not get another. Young men and often young women, as well as older persons, perform acts which become legitimate items for publication and then rush to the newspaper office and beg the editor not to notice their escapade. Next day they condemn the same paper for not having published another party doing the same thing they were guilty of, forgetting apparently their late visit to the printing office.

SHOE POLISH

Black and White
Polishing shoes with "2 in 1" is a labor of love. Love for the work and of its effect. There is nothing like it for Ladies' Shoes.

The press, public and clergy are loud in their praise of his wonderful exhibitions. No person who desires to spend an enjoyable evening can afford to miss witnessing at least one of Sevengala's entertainments during his engagement here. An entire change of program promised at each performance. He never duplicates or reproduces a single test unless it is done so by special request. The prices for this engagement have been reduced to 10, 25 and 30 cents. Ladies' tickets will be issued to the number of three hundred for the opening performance.

JUST A LITTLE BIT
OFF THE TOP

A Hamilton firm has hit on a novel scheme of selling $4 shoes for 25 cents. There may be money in it when it is all figured out, but there are lots of enterprising shoe dealers, who are still quite satisfied when they sell a $4 shoe for $5.

A man stepped off Rankin dock Saturday night thinking he was on Fifth street bridge, and got a ducking. He found that in spite of the very hot weather of recent date, the Thames is still a very moist stream of water.

Sprinter J. W. White says he would not run for money. Not at all, but it would be interesting to know just what record Mr. White would make, if he were asked to run from it.

The best medical health of officers can follow in order to keep unpleasant news out of the papers, would be to get busy and tend to their jobs. Threats and abuse are very poor proofs of conscientious service.

June being the month of weddings and July the month of suicides, a mean bachelor holds that the proximity of the two eventful months is a tribute to the intelligence of the married ones in view of their finding out their mistake in such a short space of time.

HARDER THAN THE BULL'S EYE: "I swear to you," cried Cholly; "unless you marry me I shall put a bullet through my brain!" "Indeed!" exclaimed the heartless girl. "What an expert marksman you must be."

TAKE MAGIC POWDER.

Visions Witnessed By Three Friends In Ruined English Abbey.

Three friends staying at Whitby, England, have had an extraordinary experience. They saw in broad daylight a long procession of mediaeval monks and nuns, headed by a bishop in full canonicals, wind slowly through the ruins of Whitby Abbey.

One of the party recently received from India a packet of powder, said to have mysterious psychical powers. He experimented with it, and saw visions of the dead. The Whitby vision also followed after taking some of this powder.

The three friends each took some of it, and almost immediately one of them heard the words: "Go to the south transept," another receiving the instructions: "At the abbey to-morrow as soon as possible."

The following extract from a letter written by one of the experimenters to Light describes what they saw at the abbey:

"We entered the abbey just at midday, and went into the ruined south transept and stood facing the east. One of my friends at once saw a long procession of brown-clad and cowed monks, and I heard the words, 'The consecration of the prioress at the midday Mass.'

"During the ceremony there knelt in prayer an old lady, dressed in dull red-brown, and wearing a very peculiar white head-dress; her hands were crossed on her breast. I could not remember the date, but the word 'Agin-court,' was whispered to me from the unseen, I felt as if she had nothing to do with the ceremony, but was there merely to fix the approximate date—by the word 'Agin-court.'

"As we left the abbey my other friend saw, dotted about in the grounds—where several very material cows were feeding—more monks in brown cowls and robes, who were waving about, evidently engaged in contemplation or prayer.

"We, none of us, heard any names, but I should know that bishop again anywhere if he ever saw fit to reappear."

Trance Dreams.

Miss Annie Sansome, of Nottingham, a well-known psychic, has also experimented with the powder. In the following letter to Light, she describes its effect on her:

"I seemed to go into a dazed condition, and the room and articles around me were dim. Then I found myself in a large city, in a great crowd of people, and the thought came to me 'This is London.' Then the vision changed, and I saw the spirit forms of a little boy and girl, urchins of the street, first in rags and tatters, then in beautiful spirit robes, showing that, though poor on the earth, they were rich in the spirit world; that was the impression I received.

"Then I saw my brother's wife, who had died some time ago, and I heard her name, 'Lizzie,' which I heard audibly. 'I got the picture of a coffin and of a death to occur in the future, particulars of which I shall send you later if it happens as I saw it in vision.'

"My mother also tried the powder, but did not get any results. It only appeared to act on those who feel some psychic development. I did not feel any injurious effects from it, but a nice, soothing feeling that seems very much like the trance state."

Sturgeon Weighed 323 Pounds.

The largest sturgeon ever caught in fresh water was received by the Doyle Fish Co., of Toronto, recently, and the remarkable catch reported to Mr. S. T. Bastedo, deputy commissioner of Provincial fisheries. The mammoth fish was caught near Warton, in the Georgian Bay, and weighed 323 lbs. This is the biggest ever heard of in fresh water, the previous record being a sturgeon of 185 lbs., caught in the same district some years ago. Some idea of the value of the huge specimen, which was caught in a pot, can be gathered by the fact that the flesh sells at 12 to 15 cents per lb., and, being a female, has over 100 lbs. of roe, which sells at 70 cents per lb. Mr. Bastedo at once instituted steps to have the fish preserved and mounted, but, unfortunately, it grew longer and longer, and the shippers that they had cut off both head and tail.

Gave Them the Wrong Title.

The London cable announcing the distribution of King's Birthday honors, published on Friday, by some curious mistake, stated that His Excellency, the Governor-General, had been created "Commanders of the Order of St. Michael and St. George." Of course, they have been merely given the honorary title of C. M. G., that is, Companions of the Order. If they had been created Commanders they would have been entitled to the prefix "Sir." And in their delight at the honors bestowed upon two good fellows, The Hamilton Times and Globe, congratulated both "Sir Lyon Mackenzie King" and "Sir Adelaide Turgeon" upon the Royal recognition of their worth.

Rabbit as Regimental Pet.

Regiments have adopted strange pets from time to time, but the strangest probably is that of the Montgomeryshire Yeomanry. It is a rabbit, found recently by the regimental post man in a letter-box he was clearing. Attached to its neck was a label, on which were a halfpenny stamp and the address of a gentleman in Wrexham, Denbighshire.

A BAD BRUISE.

Often causes a good deal of trouble. The best cure is a prompt application of Neriline, which instantly stops the pain, prevents swelling, removes all blackness and discoloration. Neriline is antiseptic—prevents blood poisoning. No liniment so strong, so penetrating, so swift to destroy pain. You miss a lot of comfort by not using Neriline. For nearly fifty years it has been the standard family liniment of Canada.

LONDON CAR STRIKE.

Cars Running Up to Midnight—Public Sympathy Is Lax.

London, July 28.—Assisted by French-Canadians and Italians the Street Railway Co. is fighting the strikers. Up to midnight everything was quiet. Eight or ten cars were covering the city since 8 o'clock, the rest were safe in the yards, the company taking no chances of an outbreak.

Public sympathy is lax. Many do not know there is a strike on, and the cars are being used, especially by the citizens living in the outskirts.

From the union headquarters it was learned that the strike will be on earnest to-day. Several of the "scabs" joined the union forces at last night's meeting. The men claim that as soon as the public know the situation, no one will ride on the cars.

Manager King said: "I am perfectly satisfied with the way things are going. We will break the strike all right, for not a bit of public sympathy is with the strikers."

Railway Board Fails.

The Ontario Railway Commission held their first session on a strike question yesterday.

For twelve hours they were in conference. They were called in to mediate between the strikers and the Street Railway Co. They failed.

The statement given out at midnight by Chairman Letch was as follows: "The representatives of the employees expressed their willingness to submit all differences to arbitration by the board, agreeing to be bound by the award."

Men Willing to Arbitrate.

The men's grievances were submitted to the meeting and were by the board communicated to the Street Railway officials, with the intimation that the men were willing to agree to arbitration.

"The officials of the company declined to arbitrate any of the grievances alleged by the men."

"The refusal of the street railway officials was communicated by the board to the men, who requested the board to investigate the charges against certain officials of the company, who, it is alleged, dismissed three employees for no just cause, but because they were members of a labor union."

"The request was granted, the board fixing Aug. 1, at 2 o'clock, at the Court House, London, for the investigation."

The strike is still on.

Poets Worse Than Lions.

"The poet at large in the community is worse than a lion in the street," said Prof. Macnells Dixon, professor of English language and literature at Glasgow University, in the course of a lecture delivered at the Royal Institution recently.

"He disregards convention and overleaps custom; he derides respectability; he despises the law."

"Milton appears to have had a leaning towards polygamy. Burns, Byron and Shelley were reckless of social order."

"For these things society is not yet prepared; perhaps it may never be prepared, and it is, therefore, perhaps, justified in declining to accept the poet as a law giver."

It's all right to tell a girl she is an angel, but don't keep harping on the subject.

PRESENTATION OF PLATE.

Lord Strathcona Officials at a Ceremony at Portsmouth.

London, July 28.—(C.A.P.)—About 50 Canadians went to Portsmouth yesterday to witness the presentation of a silver centre piece to the battleship Dominion. Lord Strathcona delivered a short address, and his daughter, Mrs. Howard, made the presentation. Afterwards the guests were entertained by the captain and shown over the ship.

Bristol and Canada. Over forty colonial visitors to the congress went to Bristol to be entertained last night and to-day. Referring to the visit to Bristol The Daily Press says the fortunes of Canada and Bristol have been linked ever since the colony took its place as a British possession. The visitors will traverse the very town from which the Cabots sailed over four hundred years ago on their way to discover Newfoundland. Now steam and cable have practically annihilated the distance from Bristol to the St. Lawrence. In the development of Canada Bristol takes the deepest possible interest, because it is sure to share in the traffic.

BROWNE KIDNAPPED.

Taken From Canada and Landed in Sing Sing Prison.

New York, July 28.—By a cleverly executed movement Marshal Henkel Thursday morning outwitted the counsel for Charles Browne, former examiner of silks in the customs service, who was extradited from Canada by William J. Flynn, New York agent of the United States Secret Service, and landed in Sing Sing without bringing him to this city.

Casgrain's Protest. T. Chase Casgrain, K. C., who was counsel for Charles G. Browne, recently surrendered to the United States authorities on extradition proceedings, charges that, in taking Browne out of the train and placing him in Sing Sing Prison, instead of taking him to New York for trial on the charge under which he was extradited, constitutes a violation of the letter and spirit of the extradition treaty, as well as a breach of faith. Mr. Casgrain has written a letter to the Secretary of State at Ottawa, setting forth the facts of the case, and he asserts that the matter will not be allowed to rest until satisfaction has been got.

Words of encouragement need to be carefully chosen to have the effect desired.

Gentleman of the Old School.

Lord Howth is now at Howth Castle, near Dublin. This aged peer, who was born in 1827, is a noted personality, a bachelor, a gentleman of the old school, and the last of one of the oldest families in Ireland. In early days he sat as Liberal member for Galway, and will go down to fame as the founder of the Dublin Horse Show. Howth Castle stands on a bleak hillside, but now in early summer is a perfect paradise of blossoms, acres of ground being thickly covered with anemones and rhododendrons. The beech hedges grow thirty feet high, and there is an elm tree said to be more than a hundred years old.

Howth Castle has been in the possession of the family since the twelfth century and a quaint legend is attached to the place. The story goes that a certain Irish chieftain returned from England, where he had been on a visit to Queen Elizabeth, and went to the castle in search of refreshment. But on her arrival she found all doors and gates securely fastened, as it happened to be the hour of dinner. Her life was aroused, and seizing the infant heir she carried him off to her own castle in the wilds of Mayo. Nor was the child released until his father had covenanted that the gates of Howth Castle should never again be shut at dinner time. And this vow has been carefully kept throughout the course of centuries.

Motor Car Wrecks Cottage.

Two motorists connected with the Calthorpe Manufacturing Co. in Birmingham, who were on their way to compete in the Scottish motor trials at Glasgow, had a narrow escape from death near Penrith recently.

A mile north of Penrith the road divides, and at this spot stands a cottage, which is probably an old toll house. On approaching the corner the driver of the car turned to the left instead of the right. Realizing his error, he endeavored to swing round, but the car, which was traveling at a high rate of speed, skidded and crashed with great force into the front of the cottage.

The porch was demolished, the door smashed, and much brickwork broken down. The falling debris severely cut one of the passengers, and the other suffered from shock. The inhabitants of the cottage, which is a familiar landmark known as Milestone House, were asleep in bed at the time. They were awakened by the crash, and rushed to the door, but could not get out owing to the wrecked car. Fortunately some motorists from Nottingham, who are taking part in the trial, appeared on the scene. They assisted the four tenants to climb out of the cottage, and conveyed the injured men back to Penrith.

An Indignant Postmaster.

The Postmaster of Kintistino, Saskatchewan, is a loyal official, and when the other day a "Gentleman of the Broad Cloth" called at the postoffice and, without asking permission, proceeded to write out and post up a notice of a Fourth of July Celebration, the official wrath broke loose. It did not appease itself with a mere verbal chastisement of the offender, for the postmaster proceeded to put his anger into black and white in the form of a letter to The Kintistino Echo in which he said:

"I would like to inform this gentleman through the columns of The Echo that there is nothing goes up on the walls of my postoffice without asking liberty. Even the Canadian Government will ask me if I will be kind enough to put their advertisements up when they send them to me."

"I beg to draw this gentleman's attention to this in the future, and on no account will I allow a notice of a 4th of July celebration to be posted up if it had been a picnic. I would not have made the same objection if it had been asked, but a celebration, NO, NEVER."

The autumn bride is given the go-by, by the automobile bride.

HOMEMADE DRINKS.

Iced Coffee, Tea Nectar, Angel Frappe and Others.

Iced Coffee.—Make two pints of good strong coffee and clear it with the beaten white and shell of an egg. Strain, sweeten and let it get cold. Add the juice of one lemon and set the mixture in ice for an hour. Serve in cups or claret glasses with a little whipped cream on top.

Tea Nectar.—Draw one and a half pints of strong tea for three minutes and pour off into a bowl. Sweeten to taste with sugar, the juice of a lemon and a wineglassful of brandy. Ice for an hour, decorate with thin slices of lemon cut in quarters and serve in small glasses.

Strawberry Frappe.—For one quart of ripe berries use four lemons, three cupsful of sugar and three pints of water. Crush the berries with the sugar and let them stand an hour before adding the juice of the lemons and the water. Mix well, pour into a freezer and stir for fifteen or twenty minutes. Pack in ice for an hour or two and serve in glasses with or without whipped cream on top.

Melon Sherbet.—Boil one pint of water with half a pound of sugar for twenty minutes, then stir in a little gelatin melted in cold water. Add the strained juice of two lemons, half a pint of melon juice and then the beaten whites of two eggs. Whisk all together and partially freeze.

Angel Frappe.—Dip half a pound of lump sugar in the strained juice of some white currants and boil them to the "thread" point. Beat the whites of two eggs till stiff, then pour on the sugar and continue beating. Whip a pint of double cream, add a quarter of a pint of currant juice, mix all quickly together and freeze without stirring until nearly solid. Serve in tall glasses with a few white currants in the bottom of each.

A Travel Advice.

When the guests arrive each one is given a small red book marked "Badeker," containing about fifty blanks. Scattered about the room are all kinds of little numbered articles, and the guests must tell what city, country or place each one represents and write it down.

A little tea would mean India, China or Ceylon; a cigar typifies Havana; knives are obvious for Sheffield, etc., until quite an ingenious catalogue is arrived at.

There should be an interval in the proceedings when the players visit an improvised postoffice and as their names are read off are presented with souvenir post cards of various places. Of course certain localities could be designated if desired, but the great amusement consists in worldwide guessing.

Prizes of small traveling articles—bee clock cases, label cases, luggage straps—are given for the best list of answers.

Neckwear For Mannish Shirt Waists.

Now that women are going back to tailors for their mannish waists it might be interesting to talk a bit about the collars and ties that are being worn with them.

There is no change of change in the fashion of having the stock of one's blouse different from the waist itself. All the good blouses are made with stocks attached. These carry out the embroidery or lace or whatever the trimming. But the tailored waists which are back in style—for those who can wear them—are simply finished with a stiff neckband with two collar buttons, like the band on a man's shirt.

No collar is made with these, but the choice is not varied. There is only one style to have. This is the starched, embroidered, turnover one of white linen. It is not the usual turnover that covers only half the stock; it is the exact duplicate of the one men wear, only theirs are plain. With this collar is worn some sort of colored cravat. There never was a prettier assortment than now—all the new shades of blue and old pink of reseed green and of pale brown.

These require some care and skill in tying. The knot must be very small and high up in the collar just where it turns over. Then the lower edges of the collar are caught together by a fancy braid pin.

The blouse illustrated does not suggest the mannish shirt waist in any particular—in fact, it is a dressy evening blouse feminine in the extreme. The material is silk mull and the trimming swiss embroidery of the finest quality.

Four Simple Rules

Follow Them and Health, Happiness And Prosperity Will Be Yours.

If one would be healthy, happy and prosperous, follow these four simple rules. (1) Keep the bowels open every day. (2) Chew your food slowly and thoroughly. (3) Avoid indigestible foods. (4) If there are any symptoms of stomach troubles, take Mi-o-na before each meal until cured.

No matter how many years you may have suffered with stomach troubles or how worried by sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, furred tongue, specks before the eyes, headaches, indigestion or other ailments that are caused by a weak stomach, you can be cured by the faithful use of Mi-o-na.

Take one of the little tablets before each meal with the fixed determination to get the most benefit out of it.

Mi-o-na is not a fanciful experiment. It is not a patent medicine, it is not a cure all. It is a scientific remedy recommended by one of the world's greatest authorities on the organs.

When Mi-o-na has been used for a few days, the digestive system will be so greatly improved that all the food eaten is converted into nutrition, so that nourishment and health are given to the whole system and there is a rapid increase in weight, strength and spirits.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

A HUNDRED MILLION BUSHELS.

Premier Roblin Says Manitoba Will Have Record-Breaking Crop.

Winnipeg, July 28.—In an interview with Premier Roblin, the head of the Agricultural Department of the province, he calculates that the crop will be harvested fully ten days earlier than last year.

"From information gathered by my department," he said, "Manitoba will harvest the best crop in her history, and it will tax the transportation companies beyond and above their capacity. If Alberta and Saskatchewan have anything approaching what those in authority report, there will be over a hundred million bushels for export, more in fact than transportation companies will be able to handle in twelve months."

Mr. Roblin said the rust rumor was the veriest nonsense, as the closest enquiry failed to verify it.

Whose Say-so Is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicine, however, forms a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids do not rest solely upon their makers' say-so, or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. F. L. Edwards, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. H. C. of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Cox, of New York; Dr. Bartholomew, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prostration, an overexhaustion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up discharges and weakens drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician of large experience in the cure of women's peculiar ailments who frankly and confidently takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for women's special maladies and sold through druggists, it can be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 50 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dowie Does Not Own Zion City.

Chicago, July 28.—John C. Hately was yesterday appointed receiver of Zion. His bonds were placed at $25,000. The adjudication in the bankruptcy proceedings against Dowie was set aside. Judge Landis of the United States District Court, decided yesterday that John Alexander Dowie does not own Zion City and its industries. He refused to appoint Alexander Granger as receiver, and ordered an election for a general overseer.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative brings lasting relief in Stomach, Kidney and Heart troubles through the inside nerves. No matter how the nerves became impaired this remedy will rebuild their strength, will restore their vigor. Remember it does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart, rebellious stomach, diseased kidneys. They are not to blame. Go back to the nerves that control them—treat the cause—use a remedy that cures through the inside nerves.

CAN'T GET HOUSES

Fifteen Dollars Charged for Houses, Formerly Renting for $10.00

The scarcity of houses in Chatham, which rent at prices within the reach of the ordinary workman, is becoming more and more apparent, and making it difficult for employers of labor to bring workmen to the city who have families to house.

Recently a skilled workman came to this city from a neighboring city and took a position in one of our local factories. He boarded for four weeks in hopes of getting a house shortly and bringing his family here to live. But he failed to find a suitable house that was within the reach of his pocket-book as far as rent was concerned. He returned to his home town disgusted. "This is no place for a married man," he said.

Another man who came here a short time ago has found himself in a similar position, and will not bring his family here on account of the high rent.

Very small houses with few conveniences, on certain streets, are renting for $15 a month and upwards. This price is altogether too high for an ordinary workman to pay. Ten dollars and $11 are about his limit.

An information was laid on Saturday morning against Fred. Young, who is charged with stealing $2 from Alice Crosby. It is understood that the complainant sent her little boy to Barnes' livery barn for a horse and rig. She gave him $2. The boy saw Young standing in front of the barn, and supposing that he was one of the men who work around the stables, gave him the money and told him that he wanted a horse and rig. Young, it is said, took the money and went to Sarnia. He claims that the boy gave him the money. The case will come up on the third of August.

Bowser Wants Chicken Farm

He Figures Out There's Millions to Be Had In Raising Poultry.

WIFE SHATTERS IDEA

Shows Him He Cannot Make Money by Following Out Plan Outlined to Her—Starts Trouble.

[Copyright, 1906, by Eugene Parcells.]

Instead of sitting down to his paper and cigar after dinner, as is Mr. Bowser's usual programme, he paced up and down the sitting room with his hands behind his back and his forehead wrinkled with some mental puzzle. When he had wasted fifteen minutes at this Mrs. Bowser asked:

"Has anything gone wrong with your business affairs today?"

"No," he replied as he paused.

"Then what bothers you?"

"I want to talk to you about a matter, and if you can possibly do so I wish you'd talk straight and sensible. I mean by that that I don't want any sarcasm or giggling."

"Well, I'll try my best."

"Then I want to talk about a chicken farm. I know we canvassed the subject before, but I was not as well posted on the matter as I am now. I have been going into the matter very thoroughly for the past week."

SITTING ON THE VERANDA.

"I will help you all I can," said Mrs. Bowser, as she took down pencil and pad and prepared to make notes.

"I am getting along in years, Mrs. Bowser, and the day is not far distant when the daily grind is going to be too much for me. By that time I want to be so situated that I can take things easy—sit on the veranda and boss and let other men do the work."

"I am in accord with your ideas. What are your plans?"

Plans Chicken Farm.

"To run a chicken farm. I tell you, Mrs. Bowser, there's a gold mine in it. I am amazed that Rockefeller don't drop Standard Oil and Armour let go of beef and private cars and go into chicken raising. I have figures to prove beyond a doubt that it discounts the South African diamond fields."

"Then you shall have my hearty co-operation. I'll work with you in every way to make a success of it."

"That's the talk!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he waved his arm around his head. "Now you are speaking like a true wife and helpmeet, and I'm proud of you. Now, we'll take it easily and quietly, and I'll show you some wonderful figures. I start in with 600 hens, divided between Early Rose and Maiden's Blush. These are the best layers in the world; they'll go out and lay eggs in a snowdrift."

"I thought Early Rose was the name of a potato and that Maiden's Blush was the name of an apple," said Mrs. Bowser.

"Don't begin to carp and cavil at the very outset. I shall start out with 600 hens. This is exclusive of roosters. There are hens that lay every day in the week and others that only lay every other day. You can figure on at least 500 eggs every day. At 20 cents the dozen we have an income of about $34 per day. That, again, is $12,500 per year. Any objections to raking in that tidy little sum every year for the rest of your life, Mrs. Bowser?"

"Not the slightest. Go on."

Figures Out a Profit.

"We have figured on the eggs only. Among a thousand hens there ought to be at least 600 that would set twice a year and bring forth twelve chicks at each sitting. That's over 7,000 chicks a year. Figure it at the lowest possible notch, and the income is $3,500. That's $16,000 a year altogether, and as you're nothing to do but gather and market the eggs and increase I'd like to know what more a reasonable being could ask for."

"Increase the number of chickens to 2,000 and you increase your income to $32,000. I think I shall stop at 2,000, as several hundred roosters crowing at once in the small hours of the morning might disturb some sick person. We'll also cut $2,000 a year off for accidents and place the income at $30,000."

"Where did you get your figures from, Mr. Bowser?" asked Mrs. Bowser as he sat rubbing his hands together and beaming at the cat.

"From a man right in the chicken business."

"And does he want to sell out?"

"Yes. His mother-in-law has come to live with him, and she hates chickens. She went out with a pail of boiling water the other morning and scalded thirty of them. He has either got to break her neck or give up the chickens, and as he is a man without much backbone he has decided to sell out. I'm to give him an answer tomorrow. He'll sell me the farm for $3,000. Then I go ahead and buy 400 more, and it's all clear sailing. That's the plan. What do you think of it?"

"You read your paper for a few minutes and let me do some figuring," she replied.

"But what figuring is there to do?"

"You will see. Of course there are always two sides to a plan."

"There can't be to this. It's the plainest proposition ever stated. However, go ahead and figure. You may make the income $5,000 higher than I do."

Mrs. Bowser worked away for ten minutes and then said:

"You will pay $8,000 for the farm, $300 for the chickens on hand and $200 for enough additional to make up your thousand. The new coops and runways will cost, say, $200; our removal, $100, and the taxes at least $75 per year. A horse and wagon will cost you $300, your help at least $600 and the feed for 1,000 hens cannot be less than $1,000. Our household expenses, with two men to board, cannot be less than $1,000. Here is an outgo of almost $13,000 for the first year, and you must figure interest on over $11,000 of it. We will add $550 for that."

"Heavens, but has the woman gone crazy?" gasped Mr. Bowser as he looked at the cat.

Hens Would Not Lay.

"If you get 250 eggs per day the year through from 1,000 hens you will be in luck," she continued. "If we place the price at 20 cents a dozen, which is high, you will receive about $1,500. As for the sale of chickens, you can't figure on over 200. This number at an average of 80 cents each will give you $160. You will be sure to lose from fifty to a hundred of your hens per year and have to renew, but we'll say nothing about that. You have an outgo the first year of about $13,000 and an income of about $1,500. The second year you have—"

"I have nothing!" shouted Mr. Bowser, with his face the color of red paint. "Woman, I knew how it would be! By the living jingo, but why can't I keep from making a fool of myself?"

"The second year your income will be about a third of your expenses. You may, by sitting on the veranda and smoking Patugas and fanning yourself with a palm leaf, finally get it down to one-half, but you cannot expect to do better. In other words—"

"Stop! I will hear no more!"

"But you don't want to sit on the veranda and smoke and fan at a loss of three or four thousand dollars a year, do you?" she protested.

Leaves Home in Anger.

"Never you mind what I want. I am now going out. You needn't sit up for me. If any one calls, tell them that I may not be home for a week. When I do come, I shall have facts and figures to shiver you up like an old cabbage."

Mr. Bowser put on his overcoat and hat and started out. He wanted evidence to convict Mrs. Bowser of false statistics, and he wanted sympathy, and he happened to remember that the family cobbler used to run a chicken ranch in the country. He went around to the shop, and after a few remarks about the weather he said:

"Take, would you advise me to take a chicken farm?"

"Vas you thinking of it?" was asked.

"Vas strongly."

"Den let me advise somet'ings better. Take a jackass farm."

"What do you mean?"

"If you take a jackass farm you can be der biggest one among 'em."

Mr. Bowser couldn't take a man sixty-five years old by the neck and shake his whiskers loose, and so he went out. Just as he stepped outdoors a man asked:

"Can I ask you the way to the Rev. George Thompson's church, please?"

"You can, but I'll eat you in return!" shouted Mr. Bowser as Mont Pelee finally burst forth.

The questioner was a clergyman himself. He knew asphalt pavement, and he knew when to strike a gait. With one long cry of "Police!" he started, and the three or four watchers at the race agreed that at the end of the first block he had gained ten feet on Mr. Bowser and would run him out of sight in three or four blocks more.

WIDOW GETS THE MILLIONS.

A Few Small Bequests In Sage's Will—Nothing to Charity.

New York, July 28.—Except for a few small bequests the fortune of Russell Sage is left to the widow. There is no charitable bequest in the will.

Each of Mr. Sage's nephews and nieces is left $25,000.

There is also a bequest of $10,000 to Mr. Sage's sister, Mrs. Chapin, now deceased.

The section bequeathing the bulk of the estate to Mrs. Sage reads that she is "to have and to hold the same absolutely and forever."

While there was nothing in the will to show the value of Mr. Sage's estate, attorneys for Mrs. Sage estimate it at between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000, of which amount about $30,000,000 is outstanding in loans.

Stringent Regulation For Inspection of Meat in the Republic.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—Secretary Wilson yesterday made public the regulations under the new law governing the inspection of meat products for interstate and foreign trade. They do not, however, cover the subject of interstate transportation of meat, or the microscopic inspection of pork for export. The regulations issued yesterday are stringent throughout, and are in line with the best authorities on the subjects of sanitation, preservatives, dyes, chemicals and condemnation of diseased carcasses.

The general regulations provide that the scope of the inspection shall be most rigid and searching.

A farmer has a hard life. Working in all weathers, feet wet, exposed to strain, he is too often mighty careless about his health.

APPEALS TO COLONIES

To Help Save Great Britain's Great Stake in South Africa.

Transvaal Progressive Delegates, Now In England, Make Known Their Views Concerning Its Government—May Secure to the Crown New Possession by Putting Control In Hands of British Men.

London, July 28.—(C. A. P.)—The Transvaal Progressive delegates, now in England, have issued an appeal to their fellow-colonists in other British colonies.

The appeal asserts that this is a critical moment in the history of South Africa—perhaps the most critical in her history. South Africa, as well as Great Britain, is concerned. They have suffered a great loss of money and human life, and disturbance of trade industry, and commerce consequent upon the long war.

What Britain Has at Stake.

Great Britain has more at stake, now in the sub-continent than in the whole course of her past history, and much more than at such a critical period as the restoration of the Transvaal in 1881. Then we had not the territory from the Zambesi to Table Bay. The Orange Free State was an independent public. Our interests are more uncertain to-day.

Any peril to the permanence of British institutions in South Africa means the dismemberment of the Empire. If through mistaken magnanimity on the part of the British Government the Transvaal should have Dutch administration and the Orange River Colony be given practical independence, for there would not be five British representatives in the Legislature of the Orange River Colony.

The future of the flag and of all that British civilization means would be the merest gamble.

Interest of the Colonies.

Every colony in the Empire must be awaiting with intense anxiety the announcement of the Prime Minister next Tuesday in the House of Commons on the details of the new constitution for responsible Government to be given to the Transvaal. There is reason to fear that the safeguards which the Government will include in the constitution may not be sufficient to prevent the first representative and responsible administration in a country lately won by the sword from being controlled by the same Ministers who acted for Kruger in one of the most reactionary administrations in modern times, and who denied equal rights to all white men.

It is impossible to believe that any colony in the Empire would not insist, so far as their influence by an appeal may have on the British Government, on making absolutely secure to the Crown our new colonies by putting the administration in the hands of British men. The voice of the colonists now, even more than during the war, can assist to bring about a decision on the part of this Government in keeping with such past Liberal traditions as were included in Lord Durham's report, which, while it established equal rights, demanded British Government.

Balfour's Self-Abnegation.

Introducing his remarks on the South African question at Albert Hall last night ex-Premier Balfour said the Conservative party would rather forego office for a generation than say anything to retard the progress and safety of the Dominion beyond the seas. It would ill-deserve the name of the imperial party if this were not so, but he saw only danger in the course of the Government.

All the injured, who sustained cuts and bruises from fragments of the bomb, were taken to Bellevue Hospital.

List Of Another Day's Fatal
Drowning Accidents
Recorded

AN EXPRESS WRECKED

Toronto, July 30.—Three cars of live stock broke from engine on the Grand Trunk at Mimico after midnight this morning and ran down the grade, colliding head-on with the Muskoka express for Buffalo.

The Mogul of the express train of the Muskoka express was completely demolished.

Fireman Dennis Campbell was pinned under the wreck. The fire which followed the wreck became so fierce that it was impossible to rescue Campbell, and he was burned to death.

Engineer D. Lynch jumped and his leg was broken. He was taken to St.
Michael's Hospital.

There were 50 passengers on the train, but none was injured.

The runaway cars and their contents were consumed in the fire.

Struck Toronto Church.

Toronto, July 30.—During the worst of Sunday's storm lightning struck St.
Stephen's Church, wrecking the belfry and boring a hole through the roof.

George Garrett of Clinton street, a Sunday school teacher, was just preparing to leave the church when the stroke came. His arms were full of books at the time. The shock scattered the books and knocked Mr. Garrett down. He was taken to a neighboring house and soon recovered.

Harmon, Sunday school librarian, was also quite severely shocked. Fortunately the Sunday school scholars had left.

Motor Boat and Skiff Collide.

Toronto, July 30.—Saturday afternoon the Iris, H. Dods' 15-foot motor boat, was racing nose to nose with the Viper and Yulisse, trying to make the buoy in the Toronto Gasoline Co.'s race. The Acushla, a 16-foot skiff of the Queen City Yacht Club, was also coming strong for the buoy, too, in a skiff race and running at right angles with the Iris, which climbed up on to her bows. Mr. Dods, on the Iris, to avoid the impact tried to shove the boat off, but the force of the collision threw him back into the engine and he was badly cut up about the head. Medical attendance was got at the Argonaut Club and the injured man was then sent to the hospital. He also suffers from shock.

Killed at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 30.—Samuel Well, superintendent of the Electrical Light Reduction Co. of Niagara board of the works Saturday, came in contact with a live wire and received 2,200 volts of electricity, which caused his death. He was years old, and leaves a wife and four children.

Postmaster Drowns.

Ottawa, July 30.—Isaac Daoust, aged 35 years, postmaster at Tootenauville, a suburb of Hull, was drowned at noon yesterday, while in bathing in the Ottawa River at Pine Point. He was not much of a swimmer and it is thought that having got out of his depth his heart failed.

Two Yachts Capsize.

Amherst, N. J., July 30.—Two yachts coming in from the fishing banks capsized on Herford Inlet bar off here yesterday, and so far as could be ascertained last night, eight persons lost their lives.

Slaughtered by Trolley Car.

Hamilton, July 30.—A farmer whose home is near Winona was killed by a Hamilton, Ontario and Beamsville Electric car Saturday afternoon. He drove out of a lane right in front of the car which crashed into the rig throwing him out with such force that he was killed almost instantly.

Lightning Strikes Lighthouse.

Port Hope, July 30.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Gull Lighthouse was struck by lightning and several of a party of sixteen young men from Port Hope, bound for Cobourg, in McMahon's gasoline launch, who sought shelter in the building, were injured.

The party comprised S. Welch, W.
Welch, J. Bradley, C. Brimicombe, A.
McIlroy, H. Jordan, C. McMahon, H.
Holdaway, W. Mercer, W. Thomas,
Lavery, N. Johnston, J. Banks, L.
Boney, R. McMahon, J. Sinnott and Mr. Layman.

W. Welch was seriously burned about the legs, and lost two toes. Sam Welch's feet were badly burnt, and Charlie McMahon's nose was broken.
Others received minor injuries. The building was shattered.

Drowns at St. John.

St. John, N. B., July 30.—Willie Campbell, little son of John Campbell, was drowned here yesterday afternoon.
He went in swimming alone and probably took cramps. His clothes were found two hours later.

Hurt in Runaway.

St. Mary's, July 30.—In a runaway accident here Saturday morning, Mrs.
Steele of Redwood Falls, Minn., was probably fatally injured, and her husband and John Oliver of Downey, were not seriously injured. A bolt in the whiffletree snapped, and the horse started on a hard run down the hill, at the curve of which they were thrown out. Mrs. Steele's shoulder was broken, and she was badly cut and internally injured.

KILLS WIFE WITH AN AXE

Man Then Cuts His Throat
And Jumps In The River

MENTALLY UNBALANCED

Digby, N. S., July 30.—Avaris Morrine, a laborer of Bear River, killed his wife Saturday morning with a hatchet and then, after cutting his own throat with a razor, rushed to the river and threw himself in, drowning before a rescue could be effected.

About a year ago, Morrine contracted typhoid fever, and since his recovery has been mentally unbalanced.

About 5.30 o'clock Saturday morning
Morrine's 6-year-old son, says Morrine came into the room making a great noise by which he was awakened. His father attacked his mother in bed with a hatchet, striking at her viciously.

The unfortunate woman finally managed to get clear of the bed-clothing, only to be pursued by her frenzied husband brandishing the hatchet.

At this time the lad found his voice and shouted to his father to cease hurting his mother, and getting from his bed succeeded in taking the hatchet from the man, but not before the latter had inflicted an ugly cut on his throat in an attempt at suicide.

Meanwhile Mrs. Morrine had succeeded in dragging her bleeding body from the room and reached that of her mother-in-law, and then fell dead.

Morrine then rushed from the house and crossing the road, plunged into the river. Edward Morrine, brother of the man, attempted to effect a rescue, but Avaris determined not to be saved, and by the time Edward was able to get to him life was extinct.

Morrine himself also showed itself in jealousy of his wife. She was 40 years old and very handsome.

Fatal and Wanton Shooting.

Huntingdon, Que., July 30.—Saturday night a shooting affray took place at the little hamlet of Cazaville. Some thirty farmers and laborers had gathered about the hotel, among them Ernest Lee, a son of the late Patrick Lee of Lee's Corners, and Jean B. Lerol.

A slight disturbance arose. Lee, who had the insane habit of carrying a revolver, drew his weapon, and after firing two shots diagonally across the road, turned and deliberately leveled it at the breast of Lerol, who was within five feet of him when he fired, the bullet passing through the left side of Lerol's chest. At daylight Sunday morning Dale Laurin, bailiff, went to Lee's home, where he found him in bed asleep. He was placed under arrest.

Young Lerol was 21 years of age. Lee was about the same age, and heretofore bore a good character.

Montreal, July 30.—Michael Gagnon, 55 years of age, supposed to be harmless and of unsound mind for years, shot and killed his mother, 75 years old, at their residence, Papineau road,
and then turning the gun on himself,
fell dead, shot in the heart.

NOT WITH GENERAL BOOTH.

Premier Whitney, However, Will Express His Appreciation.

London, July 30.—(C. A. P.)—To the Canadian Associated Press Premier Whitney yesterday denied the reports circulated here that he is to confer with General Booth on future immigration schemes.

He said he would see General Booth to express appreciation, as he has done before, of the good work accomplished by the good woman, and that the Ontario Ministers are to accompany General Booth on a motor evangelistic tour is likewise untrue.

RUMBLINGS OF COMING STORM

Civil War in the Land of the Czar Seems not Far Off.

TRAIN ROBBERS BUSY

St. Petersburg, July 30.—It is evident that the proletarian organizations' refusal to accept the challenge at this time upon grounds of the Government's choosing, does not mean that it is not their intention to give battle later.

Indeed the proletarian organizations, backed by all the political parties, including the Group of Toil, Social Democrats, Social Revolutionists and the Peasants' League, have thrown themselves into the campaign of agitation for a simultaneous general strike, to be followed by a rising in the cities and the country, although the time is not propitious for the peasantry, as the country is in the midst of the harvest season.

The leaders believe that a month or six weeks at most will suffice to bring about a general strike, and they confidently expect that their campaign will be aided by the universal repressions to which the Government will be compelled to resort in its policy of open war against revolution.

The Constitutional Democrats are holding aloof, fearing to throw in their lot with their former allies, who see nothing ahead but red revolution, yet they are ready if the masses rise, and the Government fails to seize the usufruct victory.

Stolypin Meets Obstacles.

New obstacles have been encountered by Premier Stolypin in his efforts to secure the services in a reorganized cabinet of men of standing in Russia outside of official life. The conditions laid down by M. Guchkoff and Prince Lvoff are understood to have been rejected and that they have definitely refused to enter the Ministry.

Distributing the Manifesto.

Over a million copies of a manifesto to the army, navy, peasants and workmen, which was adopted yesterday and already has been printed at Viborg and St. Petersburg, have been started into the interior through underground revolutionary channels.

It has been learned that almost the determining factor for the postponement of a rising was the information that many of the fresh troops, who had been introduced into St. Petersburg and Moscow, were strangers to the revolution propaganda, having been carefully selected for this reason.

TRAINS ROBBED IN POLAND.

In Skirmish High Officers in the Army
Are Killed.

Warsaw, July 30.—Two daring train robberies were committed in Russian Poland Saturday, one of them resulting in considerable loss of life.

A train from the frontier station Herby, bound for Czenstochowa, was carrying money received from the customs house to the branch of the Imperial Bank under protection of seven frontier guardsmen. Gen. Zukat, chief of the frontier guards, Gen. Weltenring, chief of the customs service of Warsaw, and Col. Brzezicki and Capt.
Laskawa were passengers.

Fifteen persons boarded the train at a way station. They evidently had been waiting for it and made an attack on the guardsmen, who were reinforced by the officers named. A skirmish followed, in which the two generals, two officials, five soldiers and one robber were killed, and Col. Bruzezicki and one robber wounded. All the wounded and dead were taken to Czenstochowa. The robbers escaped, taking $20,000 and the arms of those who had attempted to defend the train against robbery.

Got $37,500.

The second robbery was committed
Saturday night on the Warsaw-Vienna Railway, six miles from Warsaw. While the train was under way, unknown persons pulled the danger signal, causing it to stop. Robbers, who were aboard, jumped out and seized the locomotive and detached the mail car from the train and ran it down the line. They secured $37,500 of Government money.

Disorder Growing Daily.

Public disorder is growing daily throughout Russian Poland, and scarcely a day passes without some robbery or other crime being recorded.

Saturday a panic occurred in a public park here. Many shots were fired, and one person was killed and four were wounded. It is believed to have been an attempt by revolutionary agents to precipitate an outbreak.

Mutineers Sentenced.

Sebastopol, July 30.—A naval court-martial yesterday passed sentences upon the seamen who were arrested for complicity in the mutiny of the Black Sea fleet of November, 1905.
Four men were condemned to death,
one to life imprisonment, 32 to varying terms of penal servitude and 50 to imprisonment. Six were acquitted.

Pork Packers Discharged.

Ottawa, July 30.—John Wilson, William Villeneuve, Thomas Fenton, the Montreal men charged with being implicated in the pork packing operation so extensively engaged in here recently, were discharged in the Police Court
Saturday morning.

Crisis Is Ended.

San Salvador, July 30.—The Salvadorean Cabinet crisis has ended with the formation of a new Ministry, headed by Dr. Manuel Delgado, as Minister of Foreign Relations and Justice.

Petroleum Prices Reduced.

Pittsburg, July 30.—The Standard Oil Co. Saturday reduced the higher grades of petroleum three cents and the other grades two cents.

2,978 Ohio Saloons Pass.

Columbus, O., July 30.—The Allen liquor law, passed by the last Legislature, has knocked out 2,978 saloons in Ohio.
