TWO AMERICAN DESPERADOES ESCAPE FROM BRANTFORD GOAL

They Rendered Governor Brown Unconscious and Knocked Out the Teeth of Jailer Cook—Forced a Door Into the Governor's Residence and Got Out by the Front Way—They Were Wanted For Horse Stealing—Description of the Pair

One of the most sensational cases of jail-breaking ever recorded in the County, occurred this morning at the County Jail, when Governor J. Y. Brown, and Jailer, John Cook, were assaulted by two American desperadoes, incarcerated for theft of a horse, in the County of Oxford.

The culprits were taken into custody on Saturday in the vicinity of Paris for the offence named. Some idea of how desperate they were can be gained from the fact that it took four men to arrest them. While in the jail, nothing could be done with them, their photographs not even being secured for identification purposes.

According to custom, about 6.30 this morning Jailer Cook took in breakfast to three prisoners, in one of the corridors, two of whom were the horse thieves. Mr. Brown, meanwhile stood guard outside the door leading into the corridor.

After attending to the men, Mr. Cook was about to leave the corridor and the Governor had opened the door to allow him to do so, when the two men seized the opportunity thus presented, and attacked the officials. Mr. Cook was struck a terrific blow in the face which sent him flying across the corridor, and before he could recover to resume the struggle, the door was banged and the padlock snapped. Simultaneously the other prisoner caught the Governor in his arms and threw him to the ground. He then caught him by the head and bumped it against the cement floor, until he had rendered Mr. Brown unconscious, after which he threw him into an adjoining room, after removing the keys from the Governor's clothes. The prisoners then made good their escape through the House of the Governor, and took an easterly direction in their flight.

The police authorities were immediately notified, and were on the scene before Mr. Brown had regained consciousness. The chase was promptly entered upon, but as yet no results have been reported.

The jail officials are in no way to blame for their escape, as the jailer was taken unawares, his attention being at the time distracted by the other occupant, who is not mentally sound. Governor Brown was unable to put up an effective resistance against such a burly and desperate opponent. He is as a result suffering a badly injured knee, as well as the ill-effects of the rough treatment, while Mr. Cook lost several teeth in the struggle.

The principals in the case, Smith aged 24, and Harris, aged 28, are thought to be wanted in Philadelphia.

The desperadoes evidently first went into the goal kitchen, but seeing no method of escape from there, they attacked a door which leads into Governor Brown's residence. There was only a spring lock on this, and it only took a few moments time to break that open. The chances are that they did not know where the door led to, but they took a chance and found themselves in the hallway of the Governor's home. Mrs. Brown, upstairs, heard the smashing of the door, and rushing to the head of the stairway was in time to see the pair run down the hall way and unlock the front door. She rushed downstairs to the phone in order to get the police station, and to a Courier man stated that there was delay in answering at Central. The men said nothing at all to her, and free air once more and running at top speed along the jail wall they were seen to turn the corner, still keeping up a record pace.

They were wearing prison garb, but wore ordinary suits with sweaters. On questioning Woodstock, The Courier ascertained that the pair arrived in that city Saturday with a horse which it is believed that they stole from London. They abandoned the animal and took another one from the stable of Mr. William Brigg, and made off with this second outfit.

Chief Felker Makes Arrest On Saturday, Chief Felker of Paris received word that two shady characters were asleep on the roadside towards Etonia, and that they had a horse and rig alongside. He got an auto and took the night policeman, Stewart along with him. When they started to apprehend the ruffians, they put up a terrific fight, and the officers had all they could handle when the occupants of a passing vehicle gave them a hand, and the culprits were handcuffed and taken to Paris, later on becoming transferred to Toronto, Oct 10.

The area of high temperature and accompanying cool wave, which came in over the western provinces on Saturday has spread eastward across Canada and sharp frost was almost general this morning in Ontario and Quebec. The temperature is now rising again in the west.

Forecast: Fresh westerly winds, fine and cool to-day and on Wednesday. Night frosts.

WON'T TALK American Ambassador to Germany Keeps Mum.

Rumor Prevails That He Is on Peace Mission from the Kaiser.

New York, Oct. 10.—James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, upon his arrival here today, declined either to affirm or deny published reports that he was returning to the United States on a peace mission on behalf of the Emperor of Germany.

Mr. Gerard's attention was called to a copyright article which appeared in this morning's New York World, to the effect that his errand was to inform the administration that a resumed submarine activity is being considered by Germany in a manner which might threaten German-American relations. Mr. Gerard after quickly glancing through this story said: "You don't see me quoted anywhere in it, do you?"

To questions put to the ambassador by reporters who met him at quarantine, he replied: "It is useless to question me boys; I cannot say a word." "The length of my stay here is not yet determined, neither have I made any plans," he added. "I expect to go to Washington, but when, I do not know."

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF THE U-53 SUBMARINE IS ANOTHER MYSTERY

Has Not Claimed Any Other Victims For Several Hours; Anxiety in New York Shipping Circles Said to be Great; Trans-Atlantic Liners and Freight Steamers Approaching New York by Unusual Courses; Shipping Interests are Alarmed

THE STORY Of Activity of German Submarine Off U. S. Coast.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The official report states that the German submarine U-53 entered the port of Newport, R.I. at 2.15 p.m. on Saturday. She was flying the German man-of-war ensign and carried two guns in a conspicuous position.

"At 3 p.m. the Commanding Officer of the U-53, Lieut. Hans Rose, came on shore in a boat furnished by the Birmingham and called on Admiral Knight of the U. S. Navy department officially. He was in the uniform of a Lieutenant in the German navy, wearing the Iron Cross, and stated, apparently with pride, that his vessel was a man-of-war, armed with guns and torpedoes. He stated that he had no object in entering the port except to pay his respects; that he needed no supplies or assistance, and that he proposed to go to sea at 6 o'clock. He stated that he left Wilhelmshaven seventeen days ago, touching the Heligoland.

At 5.30 U-53 got under way and put out to sea.

Vessels Sunk On Sunday the U-53 got busy and possibly with some aid sank these vessels: West Point, British freighter, 2,413 tons, bound from London to Newport News. Crew of 35.

Strathdene, British freighter, 4,312 tons, bound from New York to Brest. Crew of 50.

Stephane, British passenger ship, 3,445 tons, bound from Halifax to New York. Eighty-three passengers and crew of 75.

Kingston, Canadian, 2,952 tons. No details.

Bloomsdijk, Dutch freighter, 3,205 tons, bound from New York to Rotterdam. Crew of 35.

Christian Knudsen, Norwegian tanker, 2,583 tons, bound from Tuxpan to London, via Port Amboy. Crew of 30.

There would seem to have been no loss of life.

On Sunday no losses were reported. Allied cruisers are now guarding the steamship lines.

BRITISH HOUSE

Re-Assembles for the Autumn Session. Few Matters of Importance to Come Up.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Oct. 10.—The British parliament assembled to-day for the autumn session. There are few matters of importance to come before parliament, with exceptions of questions pertaining to the war. Financial aspects of the war were referred to by the chancellor of the exchequer, Reginald McKenna.

In response to a question in the House of Commons, Mr. McKenna said a decision to issue six per cent. exchequer bonds had been taken because the amount did not appear to be the most favorable to put a long date note. He could not give a pledge as to the issuance of such a loan, he said, but intended to recommend such a flotation at the first favorable opportunity.

Irish Nationalists at a meeting to-day decided to make an effort to have the Irish question discussed in the House of Commons as early as possible. John Redmond was requested to give notice of the following motion and ask facilities for its discussion: "That the system of government at present maintained in Ireland is inconsistent with the principles whereof the allies are fighting Europe and is, or has been, mainly responsible for the recent unhappy events and for the present state of feeling in the country."

A crowd of young Jews precipitated a riot at the Anglican Mission to the Jews, 42 Prince Arthur street, Montreal, where Bishop Farthing was conducting a service of intercession. Police rescued the clergy.

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Oct. 10.—A day and night without further news of the U-53 has not quieted any of the anxiety in shipping circles caused by the activities of the submarine commerce raider at the end of the great North Atlantic highway off Nantucket. If anything, the disappearance of the German U-boat and the mystery regarding her present location increased the precautions taken by owners and agents of vessels of the Entente nations.

Transatlantic liners and freight steamers approached this port to-day by unusual courses which carried them far out of the customary lane. Exporters here say the submarine raid and the consequent advance of the insurance rates on Transatlantic transportation amounting, in some cases, to 500 per cent., will check shipments from New York to European ports. Word was received from New Orleans that war risks on vessels and cargoes out of that port had been suspended, and dispatches from other ports indicated that insurance rates had sharply advanced. There was talk of a revival of a railroad embargo on freight, but no new action was taken. A N. Y. C. official said no attempts are being made to halt freight on the way to steamers, but that the road would not bring to New York more freight than the steamers could take away.

American importers are, in part, prepared for an interruption of Transatlantic trade which might result from submarine raids. It was learned to-day, in anticipation of shortages of European foods, they have placed in bonded warehouses on the Atlantic coast foreign merchandise valued at about $100,000,000. They began to store this supply soon after the outbreak of the war.

If the German raids continue, the American merchants will draw on this accumulation of stock. This supply includes, it is estimated, 2,500,000 yards of wool dress goods, 1,300,000 yards of wool cloths, about 8,000,000 yards of linens, several million square yards of foreign cotton goods and a wide variety of other imported stock worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

French Paper Comments. Paris, Oct. 10.—The torpedoing of allied steamers off American ports by German submarine forces is regarded as the most important war news of the day. Under the headings "blackmail" and "defiance," the morning newspapers print in prominent position every scrap of news obtainable, accompanied by plentiful comment.

The general sentiment of the press is that Germany is challenging the United States with a conviction that the challenge will not be taken up, and that neutrals must see to-day that they acted unwisely in 1914. "Tripping the submarine warfare of commerce in the bud." The newspapers express the opinion that the submarine campaign off the American coast is the last touch to a situation which is becoming impossible owing to the sinking of Scandinavian and other neutral ships. They declare that neutrals must feel bound to act, as the navigation of the whole world is affected.

The Gaulois says: "Germany is convinced that by extending the field of assassination to American waters, she will bring about a peace movement in the United States. She imagines that American merchants and the big trusts, seeing their overseas trade paralyzed will demand that Washington intervene for peace or force her to obtain to loosen the blockade. Berlin believes, that with the elections approaching President Wilson will give way."

The Temps asserts that it is a menace for the United States, and also raises the question as to whether American shores are not used as a base for secretly supplying the submarines.

Increased Activity. Paris, Oct. 10.—Increased activity on the battle front south of the Somme is reported by the war office. Spirited artillery fighting occurred last night in the Denicourt-Lihons sector.

Vote Schedule to Oct. 14. Total number of votes including regular and extra votes: Six months ..... 22,500 One year ..... 45,000 Two years ..... 130,000

This is absolutely the largest number that will ever be given on subscription during the remainder of the campaign.

Don't Hesitate. If candidates show these figures to their friends they will rally to their support with the regular subscription instead of six months. The friends of all candidates take some paper; why not The Daily Courier? Whatever paper, they must pay for some time, and by taking it during this campaign for a certain period they will not be bothered about paying the collector each month, also they save money per year by paying this way, and when they help some hard-working candidate with a subscription they may be responsible for that candidate winning the first and greatest victory in their life.

While "Opportunity Period" is not as good as the "Booster Period" candidates should make the best of this offer. It is still possible for new candidate to enter and carry off one of the large prizes, if he or she takes advantage of this offer. Stop, take out your pencil and do a little figuring and see what you can do on this offer in the way of getting a good reserve vote. First you should go over a list of your friends and nearest relatives. After this is done an effort should be made to procure the subscriptions of those who have not as yet given a subscription to The Daily Courier. Show them what it means to you to secure their subscription. The Daily Courier is one of the best newspapers published in this part of Ontario. It is possible that one single subscription may mean the winning of the grand prize for you.

No Offer Like Opportunity Period. This offer will not be extended. It will not be repeated. This is positively the last chance. The results of the contest department depend upon the efforts of candidates during "Opportunity Period." Candidates during "Booster Period" cannot afford to win.

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

Many Soldiers Home on Last Leave—Grist of General Hems.

Simcoe, Oct. 9.—(From our own correspondent.)—Rev. J. M. McDonald, B.A., B.D., of Watford, preached an invasion, at St. Paul's, morning and evening yesterday. The able divine gave it as his opinion that the work of re-building the shattered architectural piles of Europe and covering up the scars of war on the devastated plains, would be a small post-bellum task compared with that of re-moulding our own shattered ideals in church, state and society, and in the field of labor, industry and commerce.

Capt. Paulin of the 133rd was taken ill with appendicitis shortly after arriving home on last leave. He is at present recovering, but was unable to return to camp to-day with his unit.

The boys in town were, for the greater part, quietly entertained at home. Three of the boys got their 3rd degree in the A.F. and A.M. and a social evening prolonged the work. The Rebekah lodge tendered the Odd Fellow boys in town a hot dinner and gave each two pairs of socks. At Port Dover, the soldiers had public banquets three nights in succession. Thursday from the employees of Penman's factory, Friday from the Red Cross, and Saturday, from the I.O.D.E.

Delhi citizens banqueted all the boys in khaki, irrespective of their units, and many were not of the 133rd on Thursday evening, and gave each man a parcel containing a towel, two pairs of woolen socks, two handkerchiefs and a stick of shaving cream. There were forty of them.

The Middleton boys were called to courtland to the town hall with their wives, parents and children, and the band was spread. Every man from Middleton home on leave was there. Fighting addresses were delivered. The boys in khaki were fettered the untimely homage to the township and each was given a raffle ticket before the gathering dispersed.

Port Rowan, Langton and St. Williams were also in line. At Watford, as at Simcoe, the general feeling was that the men preferred to make the most of the domestic visit and demonstration was suspended till the hour of leaving, when the village turned out en masse to the depot.

The hour of departure arrived on Monday with no band here to lead the throng to the depot. Four hundred dollars was placed on the plates at St. Paul's Church, yesterday, in response to a call for $250 to help balance the $170,000 overdraft of the Assembly's Mission Board.

Discipline of British Army is Reason For Successes

So Says Bishop Dowling of Hamilton, Officiating at Laying of Cornerstone of New Separate School Here—A Stirring Address.

"The discipline of the British army is famous throughout the world, and to this discipline is largely attributable the successes which have come up the British arms." Such was a point emphasized yesterday afternoon by His Lordship Bishop Dowling of Hamilton, when officiating in the laying of the cornerstone of the new East Ward separate school. After the performance of the ceremony, His Lordship delivered to a large audience an address, such as those which he is wont to reach the hearts of all listeners. A plea for the teachings of the separate schools was the subject of his speech, and His Lordship proceeded to emphasize the need of teaching in the schools not only the rudimentary subjects of ordinary education, but of instilling and inculcating into the hearts of the younger generation reverence for God and His works, and respect for established authority.

Not Education Alone. "It is not upon grammar, history and arithmetic which we will be judged before our Maker," declared Bishop Dowling. "Education is a good thing, but alone it is life food without salt. Many of the world's best educated men have been utterly evil. Satan himself has more intelligence than the average human being."

Child Belongs to God. His Lordship laid emphasis upon the fact that the child belongs first of all to God, who had created it, and to serve Him. The child must be instructed; in the first place, by its mother; secondly, by its pastor, and, in the absence of these, by the government. It must always be remembered that the child belongs first of all to God, and that it had a destiny to fulfill. Christ came to the earth as a child, for every good man must love children; during His entire lifetime Christ had always given preference to children. He had warned the men of Jerusalem that to enter the Kingdom of heaven, one must become like a child.

THE UNITED STATES

Would Rise in Its Might to Prevent Invasion of Canada.

So Says New York Herald in Discussing German "U" Boat.

New York, Oct. 10.—The New York Herald this morning in its lead editorial, under the caption "This is a time for action, not for 'weasel words'" says: "Surely even the most pusillanimous pacifism cannot find excuse for delay on the part of the government of the United States in bringing Prussianism to an immediate account for the sinking of the Red Cross liner Stephano, plying between St. Johns and New York."

"We are all Americans on this side of the Atlantic. The Stephano was engaged in peaceful commerce between two American ports. Her international status was just as clearly that of an American vessel engaged in an American coastwise trade as if she were of American registry and flew the flag of the United States. She bore no relation to the conflict in Europe. The lives of the Americans were placed in jeopardy by the crime of this agent of Prussian 'frightfulness.'"

"This is American territory—this North American continent—and, thank God, the spirit of the Monroe doctrine lives in American hearts. Can anybody doubt that the United States would rise in its might to repel a Prussian invasion of Canada?"

"The warfare instituted by Prussian submarines in American waters is just as much an attack upon the Monroe doctrine as would be a Prussian attempt to invade Canada."

Giving the public the good side of the deal if possible, in all kinds of newspapers as well as the local Record and the Catholic Register, a set of the current coins of the realm, and a paper containing the names of the bishop of Hamilton, the pastor of St. Mary's church, the Separate School, Boxes of the children concerned in the erection of the new building, to whom high tribute was paid by His Lordship Bishop Dowling.

"The White Flour Pinch"—have you felt it? With the advancing price of wheat "the seven-cent loaf is doomed," say the bakers. In its place we have the eight-cent loaf—in many cities only the sixteen-cent loaf. A loaf of white flour bread is not a complete ration. However wholesome and pure, it does not supply all the proteids the human body needs. In Shredded Wheat Biscuit you have all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. It is always the same price, always the same high quality. THANKSGIVING SERVICES HELD

At Elm Avenue Methodist Church Yesterday—Prizes Awarded.

Special Thanksgiving and birthday services were held at Elm Avenue Methodist church Sunday school on Sunday afternoon. J. L. Barnes, superintendent of the Sunday school officiated as chairman, assisted by Rev. W. Smyth. The school room was prettily decorated with grain, fruit, flowers and flags, which lent a most attractive Thanksgiving appearance.

Some 225 members of the S. S. and friends being present to enjoy the well-rendered program. The choruses by the school, also one by the primary department, recitation, Bessie Sowden; solo, Miss G. Garvin; duet, Misses Grace and Alberta Williams, reading, Miss A. Graham; piano solo, Miss M. Wismer. The address of Rev. W. Smyth. He emphasized the innumerable benefits and good things that come to us all from God, for which we ought to be thankful. He particularly pointed out that man was not the owner of his talents, his power, and his money, but only the steward of them, and had to give an account of them to God. The Sunday school orchestra rendered many numbers in its usual capable manner under the leadership of J. J. Huffman, assisted by Messrs H. Farley and H. Vansickle.

Prizes were offered to each class, to the scholar who brought the most visitors, also two special prizes, one to the scholar that brought the oldest visitor, also one to the scholar that brought the youngest. The following were the prize winners: Grace Smith, Pauline Day, Vera Huffman, Ross Meyer, Ernest Horseman, Beatrice Bechtel, Irene Gulien, Ada Edmondson, W. Crandell, Miss I. Crandell, Miss L. Campbell, special, Hazel Bowden of the primary dept. brought the oldest person, her grandmother, Mrs. Lamb; Mrs. W. Douglas, the younger, Myrtle L. Magee, "37 hours old." We think that Elm Ave. Sunday school can rightly claim having the youngest child to a Sunday school session. "A little child shall lead them."

Long Queues Await Tickets. Outdoor sports were at an end for the time being, and not everybody can enjoy the pleasures of motoring through the country lanes, therefore the downtown amusement houses were taxed to capacity. Long lines of waiting movie enthusiasts could turn to while away an afternoon or evening at some favorite resort. The majority of people downtown during the afternoon were baseball fans, whose interest in the world series at Brooklyn was of such absorbing importance that they waited on the sidewalks adjacent to the newspaper offices for hours eagerly scanning the score boards which gave them a prompt idea of what the premier American teams were doing across the Pinc.

The Spiritual Side. But most important of the day's proceedings was the devotional services at a number of the churches. There is a large section of the citizens who still favor the better and more spiritual enjoyment of Thanksgiving Day. In this time of war they believe that there are still many things to be thankful for, and express their appreciation by attending church in large congregations.

THANKSGIVING WAS QUIET HERE

Cold Weather Kept Most People Indoors—How Day Was Spent.

Brantford celebrated Thanksgiving Day indoors yesterday. The weatherman fell down just the very day he was expected to deliver the goods. For the past week the mercury has been soaring towards the 80's, and touched 86 on Sunday, when the citizens more or less sweated and got ready for a glorious outdoor picnic. But disappointment was their's. Ominous clouds gathered over the city late Sunday night, and heavy rain fell towards morning, while the mercury took up its autumnal location around the 50's. After the warm spell Saturday it was decidedly chilly, a typical autumn day of the coolest sort.

Another mysterious fire took place on the premises of the Brantford Cordage Company, in West Brantford on Saturday night. There are now two watchmen on duty, and about 7.30 one of them noticed smoke in the main factory building. The alarm soon brought the fire brigade, and when they arrived the smoke was so thick that many of the members were almost overcome. However, by cutting away the flooring, the cellar pipe was brought into play, as there was no basement beneath, and the trouble soon remedied. A few minutes later and it would have been impossible to work in the smoke.

Examination showed how deliberately the fire had been started. The door of a small trap used to get at pipes, had been raised and kemp placed therein and set alight. Then the door had been dropped. The flames were spreading under the floor along the joists, and a very bad blaze might have resulted. As it was, the loss was light.

THE SITUATION

The British, by a series of local attacks on the Somme have extended and straightened their lines. Further ground north of the Stuff redoubt has also been taken. Serious losses have been inflicted on the enemy in these operations and over two hundred prisoners taken. The French also continue to consolidate their positions.

On the Macedonian front the Allies continue their offensive with marked successes. The British troops on the Struma have advanced both North and South and taken three more villages. At one point more than fifteen hundred bodies of enemy dead were found. The Serbians are going steadily forward, and the left wing of the Franco-Russian army has arrived on the new Bulgarian line of defence between Kenali and Lake Prespa.

It is evident that the Germans have concentrated all their spare troops for the crushing of the Roumanians. The latter have been driven out of Transylvania and are now falling back on their own borders. Their only possible salvation would seem to rest in Russia detaching troops for their aid from the forces now marching towards Lemberg. Roumanian withdrawal undoubtedly presents most undesirable aspects for the Allies.

President Wilson remains serene with regard to the work of the German submarine off the United States coast. He has thus far confined himself to the statement:

"The German Government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the Government of the United States."

Wilson ought to know by this time that a Hun pledge is absolutely without value.

GERMAN RAIDER OFF UNITED STATES COAST

The enemy, particularly in the matter of submarines, has a habit of breaking out in unexpected places. The trip of the Deutschland was one instance, and now we have another in the case of the visit of U-53, off the United States Coast. It did not take her long to sink half a dozen vessels. This was during Sunday and at the time of writing, she and her activities have suddenly disappeared. The boat called in at Newport fully armed, but she put to sea again before the time limit had expired for her interment.

The entire incident, of course, has put our neighbors in a great flutter. They have now had the fact brought home to them of how easily their in and out traffic might become utterly demoralized without the close guardianship over trade routes of the British navy. The Pro-Germans over there ought to figure what would happen if the Kaiser had control of the seas, instead of John Bull.

The better class of papers across the border do not hesitate to speak out in direct terms. The New York Herald, for instance, says:

"A virtual blockade of New York and other American ports has been created by the appearance of the Prussian submarine U-53 and its destruction of shipping in American waters. Practically the neutrality of the United States has been grossly violated by the coming of the U-53 into American ports to acquire information concerning the whereabouts of vessels at sea and her prompt departure from that port upon her mission of destruction. It is the highest duty of the government of the United States to go to any length that may be necessary to put an end to this Prussian warfare in American waters and without a day's delay."

Meanwhile speculation will be rife as to the possible base of the raider, and what the object which it is hoped to attain—whether the idea is to get the States in the struggle so that the Prussian war lords can make the claim that they cannot fight the whole world, or if the scheme, as one of the Paris papers thinks, is to incite a peace movement among our neighbors.

When the Deutschland made her sensational trip across the Atlantic, the Courier expressed the opinion that the event had much more importance attached to it than the circumstances warranted. It holds a like belief in this instance. No actual naval object has been attained by the destruction of the ships, and the main effect has been to scare ship owners and shippers.

Without doubt, the British navy authorities will speedily cope with the menace.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

No need to get too excited about the doings of U-53.

Capt. Wilson of the British steamer Strathdene says that his vessel was attacked without warning. That fact in itself is a distinct violation of Germany's pledge to Uncle Sam.

One day's fines for speeding on the Toronto-Hamilton road, totalled $856. That's about what some autoists would want, to go over certain roads hereabouts.

As expected the Ottawa Government has taken the necessary steps to enquire into the high cost of living. A sub-committee of three members of the Cabinet has been named and this will be better than a commission as they will be able to report their findings in a more direct manner. If the people are being "held up" by middlemen with regard to a variety of items they have a right to know it, and to expect action to be taken.

Now that the hand of time has removed the Liberal majority in the Senate, certain Grit papers are both hands up for an elective body. There is no need to speculate why their enthusiasm in this regard did not develop earlier.

OPPORTUNITY PERIOD STARTS

pass up this offer. If they do they may find when the votes are counted that they will have several millions of prizes instead of the grand prize, as they now anticipate. A great many of the very best candidates are just getting started. The next few weeks will show who are the real winners. It will show who has the nerve and courage to stick in the race to the end.

Don't Listen to Knockers.

Don't listen to the fellow that comes up to you and tells you that so and so has several millions of votes. Don't pay any attention to the many stories that are brought to you, if you expect to win the grand prize.

In a proposition of this kind there are always people who like to discourage the person who is trying to earn a little honest fame and fortune. Why do these people do it? Look at it in a business way for a moment. Is it because they feel that you are not able to look after yourself? Must need their assistance? Is it from experience that they speak? Have they ever taken such an interest in you before? And a thousand other questions could be asked, but the fair minded candidate that looks about will find that the very one who has been giving him advice generally has somewhere about him an axe to grind.

It is not because you are so-and-so that they are so much interested in your welfare. It is because you are going to hurt them or their friends, and, as a general rule, the class of people that are always telling you what to do in a proposition of this kind are not noted for their enthusiasm or for being public spirited. Look on the bright side of life and go out the beginning of this week with a determination to make up your mind that you are going to win, no matter who says you are not, and you will find that success will crown your efforts. It is the things that look impossible that stir the true Canadian blood. If winning the grand prize was an easy matter we would not have such a high class of candidates. It is for this very fact that so many are looking to discourage the strongest candidates. Make up your mind that you will win, and you will. It is better to fall trying than not to try.

The list of candidates, with their respective standing, will appear in to-morrow's issue.

A Serious Accident—Considerable Feeling Over Turning Down of Soldier.

(From our own correspondent)

Paris, Oct. 9.—Special services were held in the Congregational Church yesterday, the Rev. J. Orr, of Scotland, occupied the pulpit, at both services. Bright and helpful music was rendered by the choir, and at the close of the evening service, Mr. L. D. Thompson, who has been appointed organist, gave a very pleasing organ recital.

Many friends of Mr. James Marlatt, Banfield Street, will regret to learn that he had the misfortune to meet with a serious accident at the shell works on Saturday. Mr. Marlatt was working with an anvil on some iron, when a piece flew up and struck the ball of his left eye. At the time of writing he was doing nicely, although suffering great pain. This morning a union Thanksgiving service was held in the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Rev. J. L. Nicholson, gave a very appropriate address, which was most helpful and instructive to all present. Rev. R. J. Seton Adamson read the lesson. Rev. W. B. Williams and Rev. W. H. Langton led in prayer. Special music, Mrs. James Sinclair sang a solo very effectively. The collection will be devoted to Red Cross Purposes.

At the special meeting of the Town Council, held the other evening, the Buildings and Grounds Committee decided to accept the offer of Mr. George Pitts, of $2,000 for the old market buildings.

After the Council advertising the lots for sale, near the residence of Mr. John Walker, Upper Town, it is found that a special Act of the Legislature will be necessary to allow of such sale. The lots were left to the Town for a market square, and for upwards of 50 years have not been used. As the cost of a special Act will only be about $120.00 the Council may apply for the same.

The offer of Mr. L. Anguish of $20 a foot frontage for the market square ground on River Street was filed.

There seems to be considerable feeling around town, that the application of Sergt. W. E. Cullem, an invalided soldier of the First Contingent, for the position of caretaker of the Paris High School, was turned down, at the last meeting of the Board of Education. The late caretaker, Mr. Creeder, received $400.00 a year, and it is said that Cullem would take the position at $450.00. The man appointed is named Thomas Goss, who gets $400 a year for the job. Sergt. Cullem is a veteran of the South African war, and about the first man to enlist in Paris in 1914, with the 38th Dufferin Rifles. He was wounded through the arm, and a few weeks after again returning to the trenches, a German bullet went through his breast, from the effects of which, after months suffering, he has been invalided home.

The fact that Cullem had been fighting the battles of every person in Paris, while at the front is one thing that should not be overlooked. The way to get recruits to-day is better accomplished in showing how returned wounded soldiers are treated when they arrive home in their own town. It might be better if the Board gave its reason.

Miss Annie Musson, who has been at Muskoka for the past two months, has returned to town.

Miss Minnie Drummond, of Hamilton, was home over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cousins and family, of Toronto, were holiday visitors with her mother, Mrs. Keene.

Mr. H. Parsons and daughter, Mrs. Sayles, of Evanston, Ill., are visiting at Limehouse.

Miss E. Wright is holidaying at Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paddon and children, of Hamilton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fry.

Miss Annie Slack, who has been visiting at her home at Goderich, has returned to town.

Miss Eleanor Robinson is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her sister, Mrs. Ray Carroll, at Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson have returned home, after spending the past month at St. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pitts and family, of Hamilton, motored up and spent over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pitts.

LIBRARY BOARD

The Library Board, which adjourned last week, will meet again tonight in the board room at eight o'clock.

IS MARRIED

Through an error in the records left, Pte. G. Caswell of Marlborough street, reported on Saturday as wounded, was said in both local papers to be a single man. He is married with a wife and one child.

ARRIVED SAFELY

Mr. H. B. Beckett received a cable on Sunday from his son, Lieut. A. Beckett, who left recently with a detachment of Canadian officers for overseas, announcing that he had arrived safely in England. Accompanying Lieut. Beckett were Lieuts. Patton and Smiley, both of whom are Brant County boys.

BOOKS RECEIVED

The 215th Battalion has been the recipient lately of bundles of magazines and other reading material from Mrs. A. Springall, 46 Curtis St.; Mrs. Clark, Mt. Pleasant road; and Mrs. McPhail, 92 Erie Avenue, all of which they wish to acknowledge. No more books will be sent to camp from now on, all that come being packed up to await the arrival of the men for the winter.

PRESENTATION

A very pleasant feature of the entertainment at the Congregational Church on Thursday evening, was a linen shower to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norris, two members recently married. The Class President assured Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norris of the well wishes of the class, for which Mr. Norris in a few well chosen words thanked them. The evening closed by a luncheon of seasonable fruits, words of appreciation on behalf of the class by Messrs. J. L. Dixon and John Campbell to the Misses Sterne for the way it had been entertained by them, and the singing of God Save the King.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

"The real authors of these benefits to our splendid troops are the men and women who supply the money to carry on this work." Such is the tribute of the British Red Cross Society in the last issue of "Our Work." The people of the Province of Ontario gave $1,574,000 last year. The campaign this year is fixed for October 19th.

SPLENDID COMPANY

The "Pair of Queens" Company which appears at the Opera House to-night, arrived in the city to-day. They carry two carloads of scenery, and the entire production is spoken of as delightful.

POLICE COURT

Only one case was before Magistrate Livingston in the police court this morning, being that of Lloyd Handy, charged with striking a boy with a whip. He was fined $2 and costs.

BUILDING PERMITS

A permit was issued on Saturday at the office of the City Engineer, to Chas. Churchill, for the erection of a brick dwelling on Peel St., to cost $1700.

WRONG AGE

The age of the late Wm. Shawcross was by error quoted on Saturday as being 74 years. This should be corrected to read 47 years.

A VETERAN

A veteran of the First Battalion, gassed and wounded in several places, passed through Brantford on Saturday evening, in the person of Pte. George Johnston, of Cleveland, invalided from the front and returning to home here. Pte. Johnston enlisted in August, 1914, and has seen probably as much fighting as any Canadian at the front. He is a brother of Mr. Wm. Johnston, of 32 Dundas Street.

TWO RECRUITS

The Thanksgiving spirit was effective enough over the holiday to induce three men to offer their services to the Empire. Two of these J. Judson Sheurt, 44 years old, a laborer, and Frederick W. Court, were successful in passing the examination, while a resident of Tilsonburg, who attempted to "do his bit," found the qualifications too stringent.

ALLIES' RELIEF COMMITTEE

The Secretary of the Allies' Relief Committee, Detroit, is anxious to secure the names of Brantfordites now living in the State of Michigan, so that a representative showing may be made in a Canadian Booth, space for which has been reserved in connection with a Grand Charity Bazaar. The bazaar will be held from Nov. 15th to 25th. The proceeds from merchandise donated to the Canadian section, will be forwarded to the Relief Committee, founded and conducted by the Canadian Government. The fund will also be increased by the proportion of the general fund, to which the Canadian section is entitled. Addresses should be sent to 111 East Congress St., Detroit.

Social and Personal

The Courier is always pleased to use items of personal interest.

Lieut. Wm. Byerson, of the Army Service Corps, at Camp Borden, was in the city over the holiday.

Mr. D. J. McGowan, Walter St., spent the holiday in Guelph.

Mr. Lawrence Buckborough spent Thanksgiving Day in Toronto.

Mrs. M. A. Colquhoun left to-day to attend the funeral of Lt.-Col. Colquhoun's brother, who died yesterday morning.

Lieut. and Mrs. Boddy were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Boddy.

Major P. A. Shultis of Military Divisional Staff Headquarters, was a holiday visitor in the city.

Pte. Arnold Moses of the 114th battalion, was in the city on last leave over the week-end.

Sergt. Fred Smith of the Army Medical Corps was a holiday visitor at the parental home, Dundas St.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Neil and two daughters of Stratford, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor, 169 Dalhousie street, over the holiday.

Lieuts. Bertram and Reginald Waterous, who have been in the city since Friday, left for Petawawa Camp this morning, it being "last leave" for the latter, whose battery has received orders for overseas.

Mrs. Norman Fite, of Bridgeburg, wife of Captain Fite, late of the 84th and who spent the winter here with his battalion, was a holiday visitor in the city. Mrs. Fite was accompanied by Capt. Fite's mother.

Capt. Arthur S. Williamson, 114th Battalion, C.E.F. is the guest of his brother, Mr. D. T. Williamson, Dufferin Avenue. Capt. Williamson is on short leave before going overseas.

A very pretty though quiet wedding took place at the parsonage of Calvary Baptist Church on Saturday last, when Rev. W. E. Bowyer united in marriage Roy Wilfield and Viola Nicholls, both of Brantford.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Price and daughter, of Barrie, spent the holiday with Mrs. John H. Hall, 173 William street.

Mr. T. Mattingly of Sarnia stopped over the week-end in the city, on his way to attend a conference of railway men in Montreal.

Mr. F. W. Benedict left on Saturday for a visit in Toronto.

Mrs. Gullfoyle and daughter, Blanche, Park Street, spent the holiday with friends in the vicinity of London.

Thanksgiving Dinner a Success

The generous residents of Brant County, who contributed so heartily to the Thanksgiving dinner tendered the boys of the second Brants at Niagara Camp were not the only ones who were largely instrumental in effecting the success of the undertaking. Arrangements for the transportation of the huge meal of 800 pounds made up of over 100 chickens, between 150 and 200 pies, butter, jam and tobacco were completed on Friday, but late Saturday afternoon those in charge were notified that it would be impossible to have the goods reach the camp before Monday morning. Negotiations for the use of a motor truck to transport the boxes of food were started, but could not be arranged. Those in charge of the matter were placed in a quandary with all this foodstuff in their hands here and the proposed recipients many miles away, with no means of bridging the gap.

However, it was finally decided to attempt to load up the Battalion car, and thus prevent the boys from suffering disappointment. This was accomplished and with Pte. Hurdle at the wheel, accompanied by Pte. Hodge, the car of provisions left here about 8 o'clock Saturday night and arrived in Niagara Camp at 2.30 Sunday morning, without any mishap, not even experiencing a puncture.

Wedding Bells

The following extract from a prominent newspaper of Vancouver, has reference to the recent marriage of Miss Helena Lloyd-Jones, a former Brantford girl: Gladman-Lloyd-Jones.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, the 23rd inst., at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, the bride being Miss Helena Kathrene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lloyd-Jones of this city, and the bridegroom Mr. Gordon Goodwin Gladman, C.E., and Inspector of Gladman, of Peterboro, Ont. The bride was given away by her father, her sister Miss Lottie being bridesmaid. Mr. Alan, K. M. Roberts, of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce acted as best man. The officiating clergyman was the Ven. Archdeacon Greene, rector of the parish. Only the members of the family and several friends were present at the church and at the breakfast at the home of the bride's parents. The bride, who is a general favorite, was the recipient of many valuable and beautiful presents. Early in the afternoon the happy couple left by car for Vernon where they took the train for Peterboro, Ont., their future home.

IN FOURTEEN INNINGS, RED SOX TAKE SECOND GAME OF SERIES

Longest World's Series Game Ever Played Is Won By Boston After a Hard Struggle—The Scores

By Frank G. Menke Boston, Oct. 10.—Del Gainer is the hero of Boston to-night. He was called upon yesterday afternoon in the hour of Bean town's greatest need, and he responded with a smashing single which scored a Sox runner and gave the Red Sox a 2 to 1 victory in the fourteenth inning of the second battle for the world's championship.

It was a thrilling climax to an enthralling baseball drama, a victory that came just when it looked as if darkness would end the deadlock. It sent into frenzy of baseball madness the 41,373 persons who witnessed it. The game abounded in startling plays. It was as different from the first affair of Saturday as are day and night. The Dodgers rose to supreme heights to-day. They played like real world series performers, and the Sox kept pace with them in electrifying the stands with amazing plays afield. All in all, it was a ball game, the kind that one reads about in fiction but rarely sees.

The Dodgers were beaten, yes, but not dishonored. They performed a comeback as they promised, and in their playing yesterday forecast what they are going to do in the future, it should inspire hope in the hearts of their supporters, even though the series counts two to nothing against them. The Dodger chief caused a surprise when he sent Smith, his southpaw, to the firing line, and a wise choice it was, because Smith pitched one of the proudest games ever seen in the blue ribbon events of baseball. "Babe" Ruth worked for the Sox, and hurled just as was expected of him, a masterful game, rising to the greatest heights in the punches.

Baseball is Not Crooked

In Forty Years, But One Case of Clear Dishonesty Has Been Found.

Since the National League was founded in 1876 it has had to deal with but one case of proven dishonesty among its players. That was the famous Louisville scandal of 1877, and, in view of the talk which the recent protest of Manager McGraw against the listless exhibition by the Giants has occasioned may well bear repeating.

The Louisville club of that year came east for its last trip of ten year looking like the sure winner of the pennant. By winning six of the twelve games to be played the club could make sure of the flag. The first series, one of two games, was to be played against the Hartford team, a second division organization at that time, playing on the old Municipal grounds in Brooklyn. Louisville looked like an easy winner of the majority, if not all, of the games. The night before the first contest certain poolrooms in Hoboken, N.J., laid heavy odds that the Hartford team would win. Louisville lost the game the next afternoon through the errors of Craver, Hall and Nichols. Again the poolrooms laid heavy odds on Hartford, and the second game was lost on errors of Sevin, Hall and Nichols.

The bad work was kept up during the whole trip, and the Louisville club returned home with a record of ten games lost and two won, the Boston club winning the pennant by a margin of three games. When the players reached Louisville they found rumors of crooked work had preceded them. Devlin called upon President Chase of the club to find out how matters stood. Chase made Devlin believe that he knew far more than he did and gave him until that night to make a full confession. Hall, who had seen Devlin go into Chase's office, went to see the President. Chase saw his opportunity, and by working one man against the other obtained a full confession from each.

The entire team was summoned before the Louisville club directors and each player was asked to give a written order on the Western Union Telegraph Company for duplicates of all messages sent out by him during the season. Capt. Craver was the only player to refuse, so he was summarily expelled. Examination of the duplicate telegrams led to the later expulsion of Devlin, Nicholas and Hall. Not one of these men was ever permitted to take part in organized baseball thereafter, though Devlin, until the day of his death, pleaded at every National League meeting for reinstatement. There was no general organization of baseball in those days, and while Devlin was an outcast and employment for a brief period with what was probably the first straight-forward professional team in Canada, the Standards of Hamilton.

SUCCESS OF B.C.I. FIELD DAY

Record Number of Entries Testifies to Increasing Interest in Sports.

R. Deagle and K. Middlemiss Lead the Honor Roll.

Fine weather and a large attendance and number of entries than ever before in the history of the school, signaled the annual field day of the Collegiate Institute, held Friday upon the school campus, when the senior athletic championship was carried off by Ross Deagle, and the junior by K. Corkery Again is the Winner

Only Soldiers Were Allowed to Run in Hamilton Long Distance Race.

Hamilton, Oct. 10.—The annual around-the-bay race of The Hamilton Herald, the classic long-distance event of the continent, was won again yesterday by James Corkery, 180th (Sportsmen's) Battalion. Corkery won the race last year, and his chief competitor this year as last, was the Indian runner, Arthur Jamieson. Corkery's victory was clean cut, and he finished fresh and strong while the Indian was all in. Corkery's time, 1:51.58, is just 48 seconds slower than his time last year, and was very remarkable in view of the fact that the race was run in rain and the course was very greasy. This year's race was confined to members of overseas battalions.

Six started and five finished, as follows:—1, James Corkery, 180th Battalion, 1:51.58; 2, Arthur Jamieson, 114th Battalion, 1:53 4-5; 3, E. W. Boulton, 198th Battalion, 1:57-50; 4, Percy Wyer, 9th Mississauga Horse, 1:59.09; 5, Murray Feist, 205th Battalion, Hamilton, 2:21.30. Lieut. Herbert Dale, who looked after Boulton was delighted with the showing made by his protege, who, though but a green runner, finished in good shape and time. Corkery led for the first seven miles, with Jamieson and Boulton right on his heels. Here Jamieson started a sprint and got a lead of two hundred yards on Corkery. At the 12-mile post Corkery started after him, and by the time the Valley Farm was reached had cut Jamieson's lead down to fifty yards. At the 15-mile post Corkery caught Jamieson and the two ran together to the top of the Valley Inn Hill, where Corkery pulled out. In front, gradually increasing his lead.

Meeting of Two Women's Missionary Societies Held

Baptist Mission Circle and District Methodist Society, Both Hold Successful Conventions—Accounts of Work Accomplished.

The semi-annual meeting of the Baptist Women's Mission Circles of the city, was held in Calvary Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon, with a large and most appreciative audience in attendance. Mrs. Richards of Riverdale church, gave a splendid Bible reading, basing her remarks on the great Love Chapter of the Bible, 13th Chap. of 1st Corinthians. After an excellent solo rendered very sweetly by Miss Senn of the First Church, Mrs. Bowyer introduced the speaker, Mrs. John Craig, recently returned from North Coonada, India, and in doing so, expressed her pleasure that so large a number had gathered to welcome Mrs. Craig, who has done so much for the cause of Foreign Missions, having been for 31 years a devoted Missionary in India.

Mrs. Craig's very able and spiritual address was replete with interesting things. This work of the Missionary has been tremendously enlarged, and the response made by these noble workers beyond description, and the necessity for relieving each other in the care of the duties, temporarily laid aside for the sake of the country, will draw Christian workers closer together and stimulate all to renewed energy.

Miss McComb and Mrs. Lewis of Immanuel church, sang with much effect "Sweetest as the years go by," Very earnest prayers were offered by Mrs. McKay of Shenstone Memorial and Mrs. Wrighton of Park churches.

Dainty refreshments were afterwards served by Calvary Circle, when all walked themselves of the opportunity to meet Mrs. Craig. This was concluded by the singing of the National Anthem.

Brantford District Methodist

The Brantford District Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its annual convention Oct. 6th in Copetown Methodist Church, with a goodly number in attendance. Every Methodist Church in the District was represented.

Mrs. Adam Shultis presided. The convention opened by Mrs. Rev. Wells, of Paris.

Mrs. Howell of Paris read a suitable Bible Lesson throwing out the thought that every one has a call from God to some work. Should they not listen to the call, answering with—Paul "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do."

The minutes of last year's meeting were read by Mrs. Ira D. Scruton, Acting Secretary.

With one exception reports were given by every Auxiliary, Circle and Band in the District, showing an increasing enthusiasm and splendid work done throughout the year.

Total amount raised $2,791.47, an increase over last year of $413.47. It was noted with regret that a number of life members had passed on to their reward during the year.

A "Quiet Half Hour" conducted by Mrs. John Kerr, of Brantford closed the morning session. She spoke of Jonah, a prophet, asked by God to do something he did not want to do. They must all expect to be asked to do hard things.

The ladies of the Copetown Auxiliary entertained the Convention at the luncheon hour. They have a reputation for their hospitality and certainly excelled themselves on this occasion. While the visitors sat at table the members of the Copetown Mission Band sang a chorus which did them and their leader credit.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Eph. McPherson, president of the Copetown Auxiliary, in a few well chosen words, presenting the thought that they were all drawn together as sisters because they all loved and were trying to serve our Common Lord.

Mrs. T. Harry Jones of Brant Ave. Church on behalf of the visiting ladies made a brief reply, assuring the Copetown ladies that they appreciated their kindness and welcome and throwing out the word that should do all in our power to raise up a consecrated womanhood who would be willing to go out to the ends of the earth and bear the glad tidings of Salvation.

Mrs. Harrison 1st Vice President of the Hamilton Branch W. M. S., gave some good advice as the delegates lingered at the table. Her remarks were principally to the officers whom she cautioned to be faithful to their various duties and shrink from no self sacrifice.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Geo. James of Lynden conducted the devotional exercises, and Mrs. Coles Lesson from 2nd of Matt. 10, and Psalm 76, impressed the thought that in order to do effectual work, they must take time to hear God's voice. Each must go aside from the bustle and noise of the work-a-day world and waiting before God, renew their strength.

Mrs. (Rev.) Peters of Marlboro St. Church, gave a most inspiring address. Her three central thoughts were: "The greatness of the work," "The need of prayer for our Missionaries" and "Pray that more labourers may be willing to be sent out."

"This is the day of our opportunity—once lost, it is lost forever. For our Christian homes, for our knowledge of the great Fatherhood of God every heart should be filled with gratitude."

The Macedonian call comes to us: "Come over and help us. The fields are white unto harvest."

The question is sometimes raised, "Does it Pay?" Mrs. Peters showed very conclusively that Missionary work does pay—100 per cent. Many results were named in various lands showing the great good done by their small donations and the comparatively few who have been sent to proclaim the gospel.

It was with a feeling of sadness that the delegates missed the face of Mrs. G. A. Chrysler, who for so many years has acted as District Organizer. Mrs. Chrysler has been laid aside through illness, for the past eight months. Her report and message were received with a deep feeling of loss in her absence from the Convention and from the office of Organizer. A letter of appreciation and love was ordered sent to Mrs. Chrysler, together with a token of the regard in which she is held by all. Mrs. Chrysler was made Honorary Organizer of Brantford District.

Every one present was glad to see the face and hear the voice of Mrs. J. Harrison, of Hamilton. Having visited twelve of the Methodist Mission stations in the West this summer, her official capacity she had first hand and interesting information regarding the work among the non-English speaking people of Alberta and British Columbia.

It is not very often that every dramatic critic in New York and Chicago is a unit in praising a farce production to the skies. But such is the case with "A Pair of Queens," the comedy by Otto Hauerbach, Seymour Brown and Harry Lewis, which ran so long on Broadway and which broke all attendance records during a run of twenty weeks and over at the Cort Theatre, Chicago. But it is not to be wondered that the success of "A Pair of Queens" was so emphatic when one considers that Otto Hauerbach, co-author of this play, is the same playwright who gave us "Madame Sherry," "Three Twins," "High Jinks," "Katinka" and other big hits of the past few years. In "A Pair of Queens" we have a story that appeals to every degree of playgoer from the blasé person who sees everything to the tired business man. There is a laugh in every line, and each of the dozen or more characters is drawn with a view to extracting every ounce of laughter in the human system.

One of the distinguishing characteristics of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," which Harry W. Savage will offer at the Grand Opera House is its huge size. There are two complete carloads of scenery and electrical effects. The fourth act set alone is larger than the majority of large productions. It is the only play in which is represented the fanfare and riot of New Year's Eve on Broadway, New York. Those who have witnessed it are amazed at the faithfulness of the picture. It was painted by Walter Burridge who visited Broadway at the time described and made pen-pictures of the astonishing scenes just after the theatres have released their patrons every one in a state of life, no other situation so difficult to reproduce. Imagine a seething, surging, eddying, shouting, shrieking collection of men, women and children imbued with the idea that each one must make as much noise as possible and behave in the most flamboyant manner, and you have a New York crowd on New Year's Eve. Now to produce this effect literally upon the stage! Some task! George Marion, the stage producer for Mr. Savage, is noted for his handling of crowds. In this scene of "Everywoman" he is at his best. Nearly one hundred appear in the one picture. The blare of trumpets, the thrashing of cymbals, the mingling of those of the upper strata of life with the denizens of the lower world which prevails during the carnival season. There are broken and college students, patrons of the high-priced cafes and beggars, preachers and pick-pockets, young men sowing their wild oats and old men harvesting theirs—and all in easy contrast, with shouts of bedlam roars of laughter, and general pandemonium. It is a scene once witnessed long to be remembered because it is not merely a counterfeit presentment of life but life itself.

SISTERS

Yet it was the same Allardyce as before, with the big dreamy eyes, the delicate serious face, the air of detachment and almost ethereal isolation which had characterized her of old. Only now the shadowy eyes held more of light; the features had lost that hollowiness of outline which had sometimes troubled Miss Willoughby and set her wondering whether the child really had enough to eat. There was a wild-rose flush upon her cheek and a delicate bronzing from the kisses of salt sea and salt wind.

"My dear, you have grown into quite a charming creature to look at," Miss Willoughby said, after having studied her guest for a considerable time. "I need not ask if you are happy."

"We have a lovely life. We are very happy," answered Allardyce and then, as her gaze roved over the wide, splendid garden, terraced down towards the lake, a garden just bursting into all the glory and wonder of the month of roses, she looked at her hostess and said, "I wish you had a lovely home here—the one you used to tell me of. I often wondered why you ever came to London at all. I wonder more now that I see it."

"Ah, yes, it is pretty enough, but one wearies of the quiet of the solitude, of one's own thoughts! We go to town for distraction—for forgetfulness. Ah, but you are too young to understand! And we are not accustomed out of moonbeams and sea foam like you."

When Allardyce was in her room dressing for dinner she pondered these words in her heart. What was it that Miss Willoughby wished to forget? Why was it that one so favored by outward circumstance should have cause to fly from solitude, unable to bear the haunting pain of her own thoughts? Surely not because she had lost a loved relative? That loss was all too common in the world, and did not drive people to seek distraction and forgetfulness in a social whirl. There must be something behind of which this woman never spoke, but which yet was driving the iron into her soul and keeping her from rest and peace.

What could it be? What could it be?

Allardyce had brought her violin with her; she had been asked to do so. And after dinner they went out upon the moonlit terrace, where the screen gave protection from the warring breezes which came up scented laden from the sleeping gardens, as at Miss Willoughby's request she began to play.

The girl's chief gift—that quality which is called by the name of genius—lay in her ability to call up the means of the sounds she evoked from her instrument, pictures of scenes before the eyes of her listeners.

Lying back in her cushioned chair, Miss Willoughby was waited away to a place of waves and winds, rose and shallow, a quiet region where the surges beat against the shore, wild anger or sport, or lapped at gurgling rocks with warm caresses and kisses of greeting—where the birds wheeled aloft and uttered harsh, throbbing, discordant cries which yet held a music of their own. And she seemed to stand alone upon some rocky headland in the midst of this tumult of sound, listening to a low wailing, and sobbing, and sound of grief and woe, yet with a thread of expectant hope running ways through its melancholy once—an expectancy which rendered curious thrill through the picture caught the breath with a sense of coming revelation.

Annual Fair at Onondaga Once More a Big Success

Exhibits Very Numerous, and of High Grade Throughout —Large Attendance During Both Days of the Fair.

Favored with the most auspicious weather, and signalized by almost a record attendance and list of entries, the 1916 Onondaga Agricultural Fair, held last week in that village, was crowned with perhaps a more abundant measure of success than ever before in the past history of that event, and served to exemplify the high grade of agricultural products raised in that flourishing section of Brant County. From beginning to end, the exhibition proved a most thorough success, by the verdict of all and sundry who were in attendance, and by the judges and officials of the fair, upon whom devolved the arduous duties of selecting the exhibits deemed most worthy of carrying off the honors in their respective divisions. In every section of the exhibition, except horses, the entries were very numerous, and of quality equal to that to be found anywhere in the county. The fair included exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry, grain and seeds, vegetables, fruit, dairy products, domestic household manufactures, children's work of various natures, and a number of special exhibits. The officials of the fair were: Honorary President, A. W. Hamilton; President, S. J. Churchill; Vice-President, Francis Thomson; 2nd Vice-President, R. S. McMillan; Directors—A. W. Vansickle, M. W. Simpson, George Wood, Cameron Ferris, D. Campbell, Arthur Mitchell, R. J. McMillan, John Douglas, A. B. Rose. Lady Directors—Mrs. A. W. Vansickle, Mrs. M. W. Simpson, Mrs. S. J. Churchill, Mrs. John Douglas, Mrs. G. Edwards, Mrs. A. B. Rose. Secretary, Wm. Simpson, Brantford.

THE MAGIC FAN

Sleepy as she was, Jane wouldn't go to sleep. She lay there perfectly still with one eye fixed upon her doll. A silver balloon with an elf in it came for Clarissa again to-night. Jane had made up her mind to go along. Clarissa lay there with her waxen doll-his closer quite as if nothing in the world could wake her, but Jane knew better. If the silver balloon came again, Clarissa would be up in the twinkling of a star, searching for her plumed hat and her opera cloak. Jane chuckled. She'd hidden the hat and cloak. "Do you know," Jane heard her whisper to the elf, "I believe that child has hidden them. I do, indeed." Jane laughed and with that the elf sprang toward the bed with an impish grin. He fanned Jane with the water-lily fan—fanned and fanned her, and all at once Jane knew that she was enchanted. Her face and her fingers stiffened. She was growing smaller and smaller! She was changing to a doll!
"Now," said Peter Prank, tell Clarissa where her hat and cloak are and I'll fan you back to mortal size and not before. Clarissa must go to the doll convention. She'll be here in the morning beside you just as if nothing had ever happened."
Do you know Jane had to tell them. Still a doll, she watched Clarissa put on her hat and cloak and step into the fairy balloon. Then very slowly Peter Prank fanned her back to mortal size with the magic fan. "There!" he cried. With a leap he was on the window sill. The last Jane saw of him he was impishly waving his hand at her from the silver balloon as it sailed off through the moonlight.
"Sure enough, Clarissa was back in the morning."

RIPPLING RHYMES

BY WALT MASON
CH, the poet is on the pumpkin, Mary Jane and the farmer hauls the fodder in his wain; and the ancient claybank mare has her winter coat of hair, and the cows are bawling sadly in the rain. In the morning there's a nipping, eager breeze, and the edges of the brook begin to freeze; all the summer are sped, and the pretty birds bloom is dead, and the rheumatic twinges in my knees. You have heard me in the summer Mary Jane, you have heard me raise the dickens

SIDE TALKS

By Ruth Cameron
"I want to ask if you can make some people understand," writes a letter friend, "that just because one happens to be the mother of a big, healthy, active baby boy of seventeen months, that the 'infantile paralysis' and 'that awful disease,' etc., are not enjoyable subjects to be greeted with everywhere one goes."
"Why, I have even been stopped by utter strangers on the street who say, 'My, aren't you afraid of that awful disease?' or 'Such a lovely baby! Wouldn't it be a shame if he should get that infantile paralysis?' She Worried Enough Already
"To tell the truth I am worried enough without hearing such things. If you could reach some of these tactless people, I think many mothers would be grateful."
It would be difficult to realize that such utterly tactless people exist, if it were not for corroborative evidence in one's own experience. We all know people of this kind who seem to take a morbid interest in calamity.
It is this type of people who, though they never consciously admit it to themselves, enjoy carrying about any tidbit of bad news.
"They Love to Surprise You With Bad News"
They are always saying, "Isn't it

LADY'S KIMONO APRON AND DUST CAP.

By Anabel Worthington.
An outfit that will greatly add to the worker's comfort, because it is trim and neat. It may be worn without a dress and is quite an improvement upon the old fashioned wrapper of a few years ago; infinitely more becoming, for it has its own measure of "style."
The body and sleeves are in one, and although the fullness is unconfined, a fitted effect is given across the chest and back. The neck may be less open and may be cut round instead of square. In the illustration the sleeves are loose, but they may be gathered and banded with contrasting goods; the collar is in harmonizing tone and the patch pocket in each front is trimmed to match. Closing is at the left front side.
The cap, gathered at the outer edge, has a snood trimmed to match the apron, and completes a most serviceable and slightly outfit for the round of duties to be attended to daily.
Gingham, linen, Indian head, percale, chambray and like materials are desirable for this type of garment. The making will take less than one hour.
The apron pattern No. 7967 is cut in sizes 36, 40, 44 inches. To make in size 36 will require 5 1/2 yards 36 inch material and 1/2 yard 27 inch contrasting goods.
To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

They are always saying, "Isn't it dreadful how Mrs. So-and-So looks." There is nothing they enjoy more than surprising you with the information that some friend is critically ill.
They are the kind who get just out of ear shot of a sick person and whisper about his conditions.
It was a woman of this type who cheerfully assured a member of my family who had had the hicoughs for some hours that her cousin knew someone who got started hicoughing, "and they had doctors and doctors, and nobody could stop them and finally she died."
A Pleasant Way to Greet A Convalescent
It was a woman of this type who, on meeting my mother for the first time after a nervous illness, greeted her with the reassuring comment, "How you have fallen away!"
My letter friend would be answering a fool according to his folly if she answered, "Wouldn't it be a shame if he should get the infantile paralysis?" by saying, "Yes, and wouldn't it be awful if your husband were brought home dead?"
But I don't suppose she would want to do that.
So here's hoping that some of these people see this hint (?) and wake up.

YOUR One Great Chance to WIN!

GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR NEW ENTRIES!

Your ONE Chance!

Now Time for High Speed. Quick Action Required This Week.

No one has taken advantage of the recent big vote offer. Hence the reason for this great vote value the next 5 days. The time is very short, candidates, and you must cash every promise during this week if you expect to win—it will take work to win, and it must be done within the next 5 days. So get busy to-day and store up the reserve vote you need to win.

In order to put yourself in the lead, it will take work, and plenty of it. The prizes that the Courier is giving away for an effort on your part are the largest that have ever been given in this part of Ontario.

A Parallel of Success

The man who is afraid to stand alone, but wishes to go where the greatest number tread—should rest beneath a stone, for the greatest number of men are dead. There are many people in Brantford and surrounding territory who could win the grand prize touring car if they would try. The majority are afraid, and success will never crown the efforts of a man who is afraid to take a stand.

The Past is Your Proof of Progress

Look over your work for the past two weeks. Do you think you can let this great opportunity pass without having a big reserve vote?

GET BUSY--STAY BUSY

Days count now more than any other time. (Send in your nomination to-day.)

Remember, Your Success Is Ours

5--More Days of Big Vote Value--5

Get Busy--Can You Afford to Allow These Valuable Prizes To Go Without an Effort?

On Exhibition at BULLER BROS. and NEWMAN AND SONS' Jewellery Stores.

Why not own the Touring Car, when you can get it for your spare time spent in securing votes to the Daily Courier's Great Contest the next few weeks? Remember, we are giving 11 valuable prizes; in addition to this, we are giving every candidate who works up until the last of the contest—and fails to win—a commission. Have you ever seen anything more fair? A chance to win a Touring Car and at the same time getting paid for your work, if you fail to win. We still need a few more workers.
