THE THREE BY-LAWS.

Brantfordites with their usual good sense, carried two money by-laws, which should have been carried and negated a hydra headed referendum regarding the Market Square, which didn't amount to shucks. The $150,000 voted for the improvement of the Waterworks will mean direct pressure, keep down the fire insurance rates, and what is of very great importance, give the residents of the Terrace Hill district, a sufficient and continuous supply. This is something they have never yet had, although paying on the entirely fictitious assumption that they did. In Mr. Fred Frank, the efficient Secretary, the city has a most excellent official and so also in Mr. Webster, the head of the pumping station and a succession of commissioners. This paper at first fought single handed for municipal ownership of that plant as against private ownership by a U. S. firm. Our exceedingly esteemed coten. up street, was at first for the private control of the enterprise, but later switched. However that incident is of no consequence. The main feature is the fact that in addition to paying sinking fund and interest on the investment the works have turned about $150,000 into the city treasury, and that too, with charges far lower than the average.

The $15,000 for additional dyke improvements, was fully warranted. Many times fifteen thousand dollars worth of damage would be caused should the Grand River ever again invade West Brantford and Eagle Place districts.

Now as to the removal of the Market Square buncombe. This paper has for years fought that nonsense, and it is glad that the quietus has finally been given to the selection of some other place—a project in some cases dictated for personal reasons.

Some people claim that the result has left the question in a mixed up state. Nonsense. The mix-up from the first, as The

NOW ENJOYING SPLENDID HEALTH

Nervousness And Dyspepsia Cured By "Fruit-a-Lives"

WALKERTON, ONT., MAY 9TH 1911
"My trouble was extreme Nervousness, brought on by indigestion or Dyspepsia, from which I suffered in its worst form. I asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, about "Fruit-a-Lives" and he advised me to try them. I took several boxes and am pleased to say I am now enjoying fine health. I honestly believe I owe my health to "Fruit-a-Lives" and strongly advise anyone suffering from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervousness or Sleeplessness, to commence using "Fruit-a-Lives" and continue this remedy until a cure is accomplished."
ALEX. MCCARTER.
"Fruit-a-Lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c—or write Fruit-a-Lives Limited, Ottawa.

Courier has frequently shown, has been on the part of those seeking removal for these two reasons:

1—The Six Nations Indians gave the Square on condition that it should be for market purposes.

2—The Courts some years ago decided that it should be used for Market purposes in perpetuity.

In the name of reason how does anybody expect to get over that, except by a unanimous request, which does not exist.

And why move the site in any event?

Most places, Washington, D.C., Paris, France, and hundreds of others have central markets and would not remove them for any consideration. Some people in Brantford would apparently like to have the market removed to the Yellow Sea or Kamchatka, or some equally nearby spot in which most of us have relatives and do our trading.

The market is all right just where it is with street cars running down two sides of it; with radials close by and with a good central location. People who have the idea that a market place is something to be up an alleyway, cannot have looked into the question.

The Courier contention is still this.

1—That the present alleged City Hall be torn down.
2—That the old Post Office, if secureable, be used for some years as a temporary place for civic offices.

3—That the present square be suitably covered and the produce be kept from the fly brigade and other pernicious influences.

201 JEWS GET ONE YEAR WHOLESALE FRAUD

MOSCOW, Jan. 7.—An interesting trial involving fruitists' certificates with obtaining doctors' certificates, was brought to close here yesterday, when two hundred and one Jewish dentists were sent to prison for a year.

Some time recently it was discovered that many Jews in this city had become dentists by some underground means, and an investigation was made. For years previous the Jews could obtain certificates of dentistry by serving a required apprenticeship, but this system was revised by making it necessary to obtain a diploma from the Moscow University.

The Jews who held certificates could reside outside the pale, and the new requirement seriously threatened their chance of gaining the right. In reference to the revival of the rumor contained in New York dispatches that a combination of the Cunard and Peninsular and Oriental lines is in process of formation, the Times says:

"It is possible also that observers may have tried to deduce much from the fact that F. H. Cunard is a director of both companies, but we understand that Mr. Cunard has had a seat on the board of the Peninsular and Oriental Company for many years in his private capacity.

Many arrests were made, and a total of five hundred Jewish dentists and those who aided them were accused. This number was reduced, but two hundred and eighty of the Jewish dentists were arraigned in court yesterday.

It took but a short time to convict two hundred and one of the number, and the sentence of a year's imprisonment was imposed. The others were acquitted. Nine physicians and officials were given sentences ranging from one to three years for procuring the bogus certificates for the Jews.

A DENIAL

As to the Formation of an Alleged Combination—Story Said to be Fabrication.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A London cable says: In reference to the revival of the rumor contained in New York dispatches that a combination of the Cunard and Peninsular and Oriental lines is in process of formation, the Times says:

"It is possible also that observers may have tried to deduce much from the fact that F. H. Cunard is a director of both companies, but we understand that Mr. Cunard has had a seat on the board of the Peninsular and Oriental Company for many years in his private capacity.

Save your hair! Danderine Destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff, you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flinch, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that there

FIGHTS IN COMMONS.

British Parliament Is Not a Stranger to Fisticuffs.

"How many more times," an M.P. persistently inquired in the lobby of the House of Commons recently, "is the Home Rule question going to make members lose their temper and dignity? And how many more traitors and Judases are we going to discover?"

"Judas," of course, was the word which led to the memorable uproar in the Chamber on July 27th, 1885, in comparison with which the affair of a few days ago was but mild outburst. Chamberlain was sneering at Gladstone's Home Rule arguments, when Mr. T. P. O'Connor shouted "Judas!" and then the uproar began. Sir Edward Carson shouted something at the Irish members, and the members came over and threw themselves into the seat next to him. Mr. Hayes Fisher promptly seized him by the neck and flung him from the benches. The battle became general, and for three minutes the floor of the House was a mass of surging, struggling, and excited legislators, many of them hitting out right and left. The members were brought to their senses by the hisses, loud and sustained, from the astonished spectators in the galleries, and when they came to their senses one member discovered that the use of his eye had been temporarily interfered with, and another complained that a colleague had attempted to mar the beauty of his nose.

In 1881 no fewer than thirty-three Irish members, including Mr. Parnell and Mr. Justin McCarthy, were suspended after scenes of describable uproar, during a debate on Mr. Forster's Coercion Bill, and in the following year twenty-five members from the other side of St. George's Channel were relieved from attendance for willful obstruction.

It was on this occasion that the Irish members refused to go into the lobby for a division. They were named, their suspension was moved, and carried, but the Irishmen refused to budge an inch until a body of police walked into the House. Even then it was as much as the constables could do to move them on. As a matter of fact, the police and the Irish members had a regular fight before the former conquered, and carried the Irishmen out of the House.

The recent scene recalls that of July last year, when the members who were living memory of the Prime Minister was shouted down. The occasion was the discussion of the Veto Bill, when the Opposition refused, as they did the other day, to allow any speeches to be made. On that occasion, too, the word "traitor" was hurled at the Prime Minister, and ultimately business had to be stopped and the House adjourned.

Fortunately for the dignity of the British Parliament, however, much of the passions of members may rise, they never forget the respect that is due to the Speaker, and he only has to rise to at once quieten the House. This is by no means the case, however, in other parliaments, and in September of last year, Mr. Willis, the Speaker of the Sydney Parliament, was bombarded with books because he had ordered the removal of a certain member. The execution of the order was frustrated by the resistance offered by other members, and finally the police had to be sent for before the turbulent M.P.'s calmed down.

England Was Submerged. At a recent meeting of the Birmingham and Midland Institute Scientific Society, A. W. Knapp gave a lecture on "The Earth's Record in the Rocks." The lecturer took each geological age in turn, and gave some idea of the life that existed at those times as shown in fossilized remains. He also showed how the geography of the world from age to age could be defined from the composition of the rocks. The limestone, he said, proved that the greater part of England was at one time under the sea, and by collecting evidence of this kind one was able to draw a map presenting all the various periods of the world's development. The lecturer went on to show how the land rose and luxuriant vegetation grew, to be covered in turn by other deposits, leading to the formation of the coalfields. The earliest remains of man were toward the end of the ice age. Would he asked, the people of to-day leave any remains? There would be the churchyards and the great cities like London, while the deposits in the Black country, which looked so much like volcanic dust, might mislead the scientists of some future age.

The Home of a Genius. Beethoven was born in a small house in Bonn. His father had inherited the vice of drinking, and often Beethoven and his younger brother were obliged to take their intoxicated father home. He was never known to utter an unkind word about the man who made his youth so unhappy, and he never failed to resent it when a third person spoke uncharitably of his father's frailty. Young Beethoven was thus taught many a severe lesson in the hard school of adversity, but his trials were not without advantage to him. They gave to his character that iron texture which upheld him under his heaviest burdens.

Elephants as Executioners. Some idea of what Baroda, India, was in times past may be gathered from the following: A hundred elephants were kept at the expense of the state, and criminals were executed in a most horrible manner. The poor wretch, tied hand and foot, was fastened by a long rope round the waist to the elephant's hind leg. Then the animal was made to trot through the city, and the man, at almost every step rebounding against stones and obstacles, soon became a mass of bruises and wounds and a ghastly spectacle. If he survived this his head was placed on a block and the elephant crushed it with his foot.

WOULD COME BACK.

Finally Bouchier and His Friends Destroyed the Suit.

The English drama owes much to Mr. Arthur Bouchier, who has been one of the most influential actor-managers for a number of years. He has portrayed all manner of roles, from Shakespeare to very modern comedy, and his career has been as lengthy as it has been successful.

From his earliest years Arthur Bouchier was stricken with stage fever. When a very small boy he was sent to a private school kept by a Dr. Hawtreay, the uncle of Mr. Charles Hawtreay. He spent the greater portion of his pocket-money on toy theatres, in which he produced fearful melodramas. Even at the age of twelve he was noted throughout his native place, Newbury, for the zeal with which he produced plays and characters during his holidays, and all the boys in the neighborhood were pressed into service for these dramatic triumphs. But when young Bouchier began to show signs of whiskers, his father, Captain Bouchier, informed him that his career was to be the army. Eventually a compromise was made by the father saying, "Go to Oxford—your degree—then you shall go on the stage."

At Oxford young Bouchier maintained his interest for the things theatrical. At that time the only theatre at Oxford was a wretched place, visited by fifth-rate companies. One night a melodrama was produced, and in the first act a character entered sporting a suit that had once been black-and-white, but was now green with age. The suit was greeted with weird noises, and when at the end of the act its wearer announced his intention of going to Africa for ten years the cheering was tremendous. When the second act commenced the ten long years were supposed to have elapsed, but nevertheless, the wanderer returned in the same moth-eaten suit in which he had left the old home a decade ago. This was too much for the audience. Some rowdy Christchurch men jumped on to the stage, chased the wearer of the suit to the wings, thence to the stage-door, and out into the street. Finally they caught him, and tore the offending suit into as many pieces as decency would permit, so that there might not be any chance of its appearing again. This episode came to the knowledge of authorities, and the offenders, amongst whom was Arthur Bouchier, received a severe warning. The final upshot of this adventure was that Mr. Bouchier received permission from the vicar-chancellor to found the University Dramatic Society, and build a theatre at Oxford.

Mr. Bouchier made his first professional appearance at Wolverhampton twenty-three years ago in "As You Like It." Five years later he married Miss Violet Vanbrugh, who has been associated with him in all his big successes.

Just Moving Pictures. Perhaps it is safe to say that the large majority of the discoveries and inventions which have benefited and blessed as well as instructed and amused the world were the outcome of experiments conducted for altogether different results. What we know as moving pictures originated in a question asked by Sir John Herschel of his friend John Babbage. This was in 1826, and the question asked was how both sides of a shilling could be seen at once.

Babbage replied by taking a shilling from his pocket and holding it before a mirror. This did not satisfy Sir John, who set the shilling spinning on a large table, at the same time pointing out that if the eye is placed on a level with a rotating coin, both sides can be seen at once.

TRIAL LASTED THREE MINUTES.

Summary Dismissal of Cases In Early Victorian Days.

In these days of criminal trials long drawn out it may be not uninteresting to glance back at a time when, in England at least, complaint ran in the opposite directions. Such were the earlier years of Queen Victoria, when the old criminal code still survived in much of its archaic barbarity, and the picturesqueness of legal procedure inadequately compensated for its cruelty.

The late Lord Brampton, better known as Sir Henry Hawkins, refers in his reminiscences to the scandals of what he calls the "after-dinner" trials of that period. It was then custom for the court to adjourn for dinner at five o'clock, at which meal there was no lack of conviviality, so that, when bench and bar returned to their duties, they were in no mood for protracted toil. In Lord Brampton's own words, "Judges and counsel were exasperated, and business was proportionately accelerated." In confirmation of this he notes that these "after-dinner" trials "did not occupy, on an average, more than four minutes apiece, and, in illustration, cites an actual case, the palfrey nature of which, contrasted with the enormity of the punishment involved, throws a lurid light on the inhumanity of the times.

The case was that of a pickpocket, in which the prisoner had, inconsiderately, pleaded "not guilty," and, therefore, had a right to be heard. We may quote Lord Brampton's account, beginning with the examination of the witness for the prosecution by the prosecuting counsel: "I think you were walking up Ludgate Hill on Thursday, the 25th, about 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon and suddenly felt a tug at your pocket and missed your handkerchief, which the constable now produces?" "Yes, sir." "I suppose you have nothing to ask him?" says the judge. "Next witness," Constable stands up. "Where you following the prosecutor on the occasion when he was robbed on Ludgate Hill, and did you see the prisoner put his hand into the prosecutor's pocket and take his handkerchief out of it?" "Yes, sir." Judge to prisoner: "Nothing to say, I suppose? Then to the jury: 'Gentlemen, I suppose you have no doubt? I have none.' Jury: 'Guilty, my lord.' Judge to prisoner: 'Jones, we have met before. We shall not meet again for some time. Seven years transportation. Next case.' Time: Two minutes, 53 seconds. As this seems to be a 'record,' it is only worth mentioning that the judge's name was 'Verily,' 'nosus avona change tout cela.'"

Wouldn't Stand For It. Lady Duff-Gordon, who is regarded by English women as an authority on fashions, hasn't much use for the new gown that is slashed at the knee for the woman who wears that kind of a gown.

"That departure from convention is too much—too much even for this 20th century," she said, at a tea recently given in her honor. "I'll tell you a story about these gowns: 'An Englishman came to see me in Paris and, while she was shooting in Scotland, her maid wore the gown to a dance in the Queen's road. 'Somebody betrayed the maid and her mistress, on her return from the Highlands, said to her severely: 'Smithson, you wore my new slashed gown to one of your low dances! You held your mistress in a posture, aren't you ashamed of yourself?' 'Smithson burst into tears and, her handkerchief to her eyes, she sobbed: 'I'm ashamed of myself, madam. I've lost my young man and I've been walking out with these four years. When I sat down in that gown, and my knees showed through the slash, my young man gave me one look, and he said, and that I could consider it all off between us, for any one that would wear a gown like that in public, says he, was too bold and brazen ever to be his wife. Boo hoo.'"

Could Enjoy Himself. It is not always that the autocratic editor lords it successfully over the elegant press correspondent. One of the latter persuasion, pending the pronouncement of the Government's naval policy by the Premier last week, was enterprising enough to secure an advance copy of Mr. Borden's speech and to have it mailed to the office of his paper, a loyal Conservative Toronto daily, for release after the Premier had spoken. But the best laid schemes sometimes "gang awry." By the engaging of a special staff of operators, held waiting at their keys, a Liberal contemporary succeeded in beating competitors to the streets with the news of the momentous deliverance. Within a short time a breathless page delivered to the foresighted Conservative correspondent a telegram from his editor couched in the following caustic words: "You will be pleased to know that The Evening Blank, Liberal, published Borden's speech verbatim hours before we could use it."

FEEL BULLY? TAKE

CASCARETS TONIGHT.

A 10 CENT BOX WILL KEEP YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS CLEAN FOR MONTHS. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache. Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, your stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.

THE GIRL THAT IS PALE. She is in danger, her system is run down, weak—she needs nourishment, needs richer blood. More than all else she needs Ferrozone, needs it because it brings back the nerve energy which rapid growth and study have exhausted. The old time vigor, happy spirits and new strength, return with Ferrozone. The delicate maid is energized, strengthened and rebuilt, isn't it worth while using Ferrozone when it surely does so much. At all dealers in 50c. boxes.

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—We will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100, and more, for single scenarios or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP. REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for Publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us and it sells for only $25, a low figure

The above refers to one of the recent guests in Brantford, Miss Rutherford having spent Xmas with Mrs. A. J. Wilkes, Barrie street.

Mrs. Henry Lemmon, who has been seriously ill in Detroit, arrived in the city last evening, accompanied by her niece, Miss Florence Reville, and is now resting quietly at the Brantford General Hospital. Many friends will hope for a rapid improvement.

Lady Aberdeen in America

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the Prime Minister of Great Britain, and the Countess of Aberdeen, wife of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, arrived here to be the guests for a few days of the British Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce.

Many entertainments and social functions have been arranged in their honor. There was a small formal dinner at the embassy for them last night, but to-morrow night a formal dinner in their honor will be given there.

Thirteenth Year

His Lordship Mayor Forbes, who was recently elected as Mayor of Hespeler for the thirteenth consecutive year, is surely to be congratulated, and it goes to show the high esteem in which he is held by the citizens of this town. Mayor Forbes is the only Mayor the town of Hespeler has ever had, having taken the office in 1901, the year Hespeler decided to get into high standard by becoming a town. He has very efficiently filled the office and has performed his duties to the entire satisfaction of the citizens of this town.—The above taken from the Galt Reporter, Jan. 3rd, refers to one well known to Brantfordites.

Rev. Dr. Dickson of Galt, who a couple of months ago collapsed in his pulpit, is gradually recovering.

"Because," said the little girl, "the paint's not dry yet."

And he looked at his hands and believed her.

Scriptural Argument (Catholic Register.)

An undoubted case of the all-sufficiency of the bible as a convincer, comes from Germany, where on Christmas day a Lutheran named Reithagen crushed the preacher's head with the holy book and knocked him out of the pulpit, because, forsooth, he dared to teach the equality of all men.

Stalled

"Yes, sirree," said the autoist proudly, "I haven't paid a cent for repairs on my machine in all the ten months I've had it."

"So I've heard," replied his friend. "The man who did the repairs told me the very same thing."—Toronto Daily Star.

New to Him

You have left the name of the author off the program," the stage manager ventured to suggest.

"What's the author's name?" asked the manager with the thick moustache and the double chin.

"William Shakespeare," Toronto Daily Star.

An Excellent Device (Judge)

An excellent device against slipping on your front doorsteps these icy mornings is cover them, from top to bottom with your last summer's sofa cushions. These suitably placed will prevent your falling and chipping the brown stone or granite steps with the back of your celluloid collar.

Considerable of a Lever

From Harper's Weekly. A very prominent man recently died and shortly after a friend of the family called to condole with the widow.

"The call," she had been a very warm friend of the deceased, and as he was about to leave she said:

"Did Will leave much?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," responded the widow, "nearly every thing."

January. (Lippincott's Magazine)

January, crowned with snow. Crystalline, diamonded, agleam, Deep within thy heart we know, Dwelleth June, a far, fair dream.

Sunset hints her distant hues, Lowly merrily reviews Spring's warm beauty, through the cold.

Proud or beggared, glad or meek, Nature grants this gracious boon; We must share with all who seek January's dream of June.

Ham Cakes.

Any bits of cold ham can be worked up with cold potatoes and made into quite a tasty dish for luncheon or breakfast.

Chop the ham through the food chopper and mix with an equal quantity of potatoes, using an egg or not, as preferred. Shape into small cakes dip in flour and fry in pork (salt) or bacon fat.

If the fat from frying bacon is put into a jar and preserved it will be found far superior for frying vegetables than lard.

To Color Lace.

Lace may be given a yellowish or ivory tint by letting it lie for a short time in water to which has been added a little powdered saffron. If you wish to freshen the lace trimmings of an evening dress, touch up the design with color, gold for instance, which gives a beautiful effect if done lightly. Other colors in lighter shades are also very effective of fine delicate laces.

Old-time Bracelets.

Old-fashioned arm band set with pearls are again fashionable. A large band looks smaller below a black bracelet, and one woman with rather red hands wears an inch wide band of velvet around each wrist, for which she has jeweled clasps, changing to match each gown.

Sometimes these velvet bracelets are set with large diamond or pearl buttons or pinned with a cameo or a seed pearl brooch.

A fashionable series of bracelets that can be had in French jewelry is made of thin hoops studded with colored stones. An emerald hoop, a diamond, a ruby and a pearl one are worn together.

LAUGHTER LINES

A Dry Joke

From the Newark Star

A little girl of 7 or 8 stood before a closed gate.

A gentleman passed slowly. The little girl turned and said to him: "Will you please open this gate for me?"

The gentleman did so. Then he said kindly: "Why, my child, couldn't you open the gate yourself?"

A FEW PALATABLE RECEIPTS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Date Pudding.

One pound of dates, 2 cupfuls of bread crumbs, 1 cupful of sugar, 1 cupful of beef suet, one-half cupful of flour, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat the eggs separately, cream the yolks and sugar, then stir in the whites. Mix the bread crumbs and finely chopped suet, and add to the eggs and sugar. Sift the baking powder into the flour, stir into the mixture alternately with the milk.

Add the chopped dates and mix thoroughly. Place in a pudding bag and steam for three hours. Serve with hard or wine sauce.

Baked Tomatoes.

An excellent stuffing for baked tomatoes is finely chopped sweet peppers. Put a lump of butter into the tomato, season well with salt and a little sugar and black pepper. Put lumps of butter on top, add a little water to pan and bake slowly for an hour and a half.

Mustard Pickles.

This pickle recipe was obtained from an English woman who had used it for years. This pickle commanded the highest market price and was always in demand.

Put one-half peck of small cucumbers, two quarts silver skinned onions and two heads of pickled cauliflower to soak in water to cover and a cupful of salt overnight. In the morning drain mix one desert spoonful of tumeric powder with three-quarters of a pound of best mustard, wet with sufficient vinegar or mix without lumps. Put three quarts of vinegar over the fire add 5 cents' worth of mixed pickling, spices, one-half ounce of celery seed, one-half ounce of white mustard seed, one tablespoonful each of cinnamon and cloves (tie all spices in a bag or cloth), one pound of brown sugar, and carefully stir in the mustard and tumeric paste and let boil up well, then add the mixed pickles, two red peppers chopped with the seeds of same, and stir all together. After it begins to bubble let boil well for five minutes. This amount will fill a two-gallon crock.

To Broil Tomatoes.

To broil tomatoes just wash them well, wipe dry and cut in halves. Cut a slice away from the rounded part of each and dip in crumbs. Beat an egg and season with pepper and salt. Dip each piece of tomato in this, then again in the crumbs.

Butter the broiler well and cook from six to nine minutes.

Another nice way of preparing tomatoes which have not thoroughly ripened is to bake them. The skins should be firm. A slice is cut from the stem end of the tomato and the contents removed. The pulp is mixed with an equal quantity of bread or cracker crumbs seasoned with pepper and salt and a squeeze of cotton juice.

The tomatoes are refilled with this mixture and placed in a well-buttered pan in about twenty minutes.

After the tomatoes are placed in the pan they may be improved by sprinkling with cracker crumbs mixed with butter.

Spanish Salad.

A very tempting salad can be made with remnants of food left over, and at this season all the ingredients will probably be at hand.

MARKET REPORT

Mr. McCauley Submits His Seventh Yearly Document--Receipts Show an Increase

To the Building and Grounds Committee:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit my seventh yearly report for market fees collected for the year 1912, details as follows:—

	Fees.	Scales.	Extra.	Total.
January	$ 85.79	$ 55.10	$ 18.00	$ 158.89
February	102.03	37.45	20.00	159.48
March	131.65	49.10	21.50	202.25
April	120.62	35.40	16.00	172.02
May	100.99	47.20	30.50	188.69
June	134.67	34.35	60.90	230.92
July	128.21	43.70	48.50	220.40
August	183.26	34.85	26.00	244.11
September	155.84	31.64	23.00	210.48
October	135.43	56.15	22.00	213.58
November	166.24	54.15	23.00	243.39
December	122.52	65.00	21.00	208.61
	$1570.25	$544.18	$330.40	$2444.83

I have to report a slight decrease in the hay market, which is owing somewhat to bad roads and wet weather, and also to hay being weighed on other scales.

But I am pleased to report that the markets are increasing every year, taking it on the whole. The market receipts this year are $400 over last year's receipts.

I would like to call your attention to the fact that the market house has been used for storing the butchers' tables for many years, and it makes it so inconvenient for me to clean the market house out.

Hoping you will give this matter your earnest consideration. All of which is respectfully submitted.

ANGUS McCAULEY, Market Clerk.

You take three tomatoes, one apple and one onion in a medium size, and one or two cold potatoes.

Apples, onion and tomatoes are peeled and chopped fine, and then mix all together. Add ust a few bread crumbs and the potatoes cut into small dice.

For the dressing mix one table-spoonful of vinegar with one of oil, adding a little sugar, salt and pepper to season. Mix dressing and vegetables thoroughly, putting away in the ice box for an hour or so.

When ready to serve lay on lettuce leaves and garnish the top of the salad with slices of hard boiled eggs. If liked, pour over a thin mayonnaise.

Served with slices of thin bread and butter this salad makes quite a nutritious luncheon dish.

THE POWERS

May Force Turkey to Accept Terms of Peace—They Had a Long Conference in This Essential

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A cable to The Herald from London says:

The ambassadors of the powers held a long conference in the foreign office yesterday afternoon, and it is felt in diplomatic circles that in the end they will force Turkey to accept conditions that make for peace.

The newspapers this morning call upon the powers to prevent a resumption of the war. All insist that Adrianople is bound to fall and should be given to the Bulgarians, adding that the Isles of Greece should be restored to the Hellenic kingdom.

The standard voices the consensus of British press opinion, saying: "We look forward to united action by the powers, which will have the effect of removing the present block and, affording the Ottoman Government a necessary excuse for yielding to the inevitable."

Mr. Venizelos in a statement in The London Times this morning says:

"No other solution is possible than the concession by Turkey of Adrianople and the Aegean Isles."

The Greek Prime Minister emphasizes the point of the possession by Greece of all the Aegean Isles, except those held by Italy—holding that the letter would have fallen to Greece, but for their occupation by the Italians.

He contends that the capture of isles, imposing great sacrifices in lives and money, was due to the heroism of the army and navy of Greece, saying that Chios and Mytilene were taken only after a determined resistance by the enemy.

Mr. Venizelos adds: "The Hellenic demands for the possession of these two isles antedate and are superior to the rights acquired by Greece by her conquests of the war."

He reiterates that ninety per cent. of the population of Mytilene, Chios, Samos, Rhodes and Calymnos are Grecian, and that they all desire union with the parent kingdom.

Then Mr. Venizelos reviews the provisions of the various treaties which guaranteed equal rights to the Greeks under Turkish suzerainty in all these islands charging that none of these obligations have been lived up to.

Definition.

What is Chiropractic? Chiropractic (Chi-ro-prak-tic) is a word coined from two Greek words: Chiro and Praxis (in combination) Chiro-practic which means hand doing or hand practice, one who adjusts by hand any subluxated articulations of the human skeleton frame, especially the 33 bones of the spinal column for the purpose of restoring the normal flow of currents through nerves that were formerly hindered by impingement caused by the subluxation of the bones.

All movements whether normal or abnormal, of or in the body are but the personifications of mental equivalents—mental functions guided by Innate Intelligence, creating physical expression.

Diseases are caused by a lack of current of Innate Mental impulses. This is produced by a constricting force placed around nerves by vertebral displacements brought about by muscular contraction or concussion of forces.

Health is restored by completing the mental and physical circuit, the method of which is unique and original and does not in any way inconvenience or prohibit the patient from the ordinary duties of life.

A New Science—The Curative Powers Are Within the Body Itself.

The Chiropractic method is a new science of adjusting the cause of disease without drugs, based on a correct knowledge of anatomy, and especially the nervous system. With this knowledge of the cause of disease and our unique method of adjusting the cause, we have learned beyond question, that the curative powers are within the body itself, and that the cause of disease depends wholly upon the body—upon the Chiropractic method of bringing the functional organism into harmony allowing the Innate mental impulses to flow unobstructed to all parts of the body.

Chiropractic Not Osteopathy.

One of the most frequent questions that a Chiropractor is called upon to answer is this: "What is the difference between Chiropractic and Osteopathy?" The difference is as great as the distance between the poles of the globe. Chiropractic does not treat effects. Chiropractors do not manipulate the muscles in any way. They adjust subluxated vertebrae into proper alignment, and it takes but a fraction of a second to do it. The whole object is accomplished when the nerve force is turned on. The Osteopath will spend one half hour to two hours in treating their patients, and they only relax the muscles. There is as much difference between Osteopathy and Chiropractic as there is between Chiropractic and the practice of medicine. The Chiropractor confines his work to the Spinal Column ONLY, as that is the place where the nerve can be impinged or where affections can exist.

Quizzes and Answers for Chiropractors.

Do you use electric belts or batteries? No.
Do you use medicine or drugs? No.
Do you practice surgery? No.
Do you practice obstetrics? No.
Do you rub, slap or use massage? No.
Do you use a stretching machine? No.
Do you hypnotize or mesmerize your subjects? No.
Can you treat me at a distance? We could no more fix you at a distance than your jeweler could fix your watch at the same distance.
Do you have to have faith? No. We adjust six months old babies.

CHIROPRACTIC (Spinal Adjustments).

Remove the Cause of Disease Without Medicine or Knife.

Chiropractor means one who adjusts with the hands. Chiropractic (Spinal Adjustments) is founded on the simple scientific principle that all functions of the body are governed by the nerves; that these nerves all radiate from the spinal column through openings between the vertebrae. There are 31 pairs of these nerves, 25 pairs of which comes from between the movable vertebrae. Any interference with them by a displacement of the vertebrae causes a diseased condition. Nerves control the skin, muscles, ligaments, mucous membrane and bones, and regulate the amount of blood sent to any part of the body by contracting and relaxing the vascular system. The blood carries the nitrogenous substance which nourishes the body. The impurities are also carried by it to the proper organs for elimination. The movements of any part of the body, the circulation of fluids, regular or irregular, normal or abnormal, are controlled by the nerves. There is not an ache or a pain but is the sensation of the nerves. All pain is due to pressure upon the sensory nerves. All morbid action of the body is due to lack of vital force, or irritation of the motor nerves. Subluxations of the vertebrae of the spinal column are the causes of 90 per cent of abnormal, deranged or diseased nerves. When a nerve is interfered with in any way, that minute disease begins and sooner or later its effects are noticed where the nerve reaches and ends. Chiropractic is a drugless system and should not be confounded with massage, magnetic or hypnotic treatment, as it bears no resemblance to this. Chiropractic is not Osteopathy, but reaches many diseases that Osteopathy cannot.

CHIROPRACTIC. Is Based on These Two Principles: 1. Sub-Luxation (partial displacement) of Bones causes Pressure on Nerves.

2. PRESSURE ON NERVES causes disease. The cause of disease has been and is yet mysterious to the great mass of humanity, but the mystery has been solved by the Chiropractor (spine adjuster).

My business is to adjust the cause, to RELEASE THE PRESSURE on the nerves and to restore normal action—therefore normal functions and perfect health. I do not rub, massage, knead, manipulate or treat disease.

ACUTE CASES. Acute cases are often relieved in one or two adjustments. In cases of long standing the vertebrae have their forms changed by long continued pressure and time is required to get them back to normal position and to restore the freedom of nerves. That this can be done has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt in 90 per cent. of the cases adjusted.

Marvelous results follow our system of Spinal Adjustments, and we stand ready to give you abundant testimony of persons who have been restored to permanent health by our Spinal Adjustments. If you have any of the following ailments stop taking drugs. Go to a competent Chiropractor and have him take off the pressure, and health will be the result: Appendicitis, hysteria, blood diseases, heart troubles, insomnia, Bright's Disease, kidney diseases, childhood fever, lumbago, constipation, Locomotor Ataxia, consumption, (1st stages), liver diseases, bladder trouble, indigestion, bowel trouble, Lung Trouble, Diabetes, Meningitis, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Female Diseases, Pneumonia, Gall Stones, Pleurisy, Grippe, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Spinal Diseases, Stomach Trouble, St. Vitus Dance, Shortness of Breath, Tumors.

If your ailment is not mentioned, do not become discouraged; my space is limited.

I make it possible for nature to restore health WITHOUT drugs or knife.

This means YOUR DISEASE.

With Interrupted Nerve Force Health Is Impossible.

Without nerve force the blood cannot circulate properly. The lack of circulation means strangulation, and strangulation causes many diseases, such as dropsy, tumors, running sores and various so-called skin diseases.

Chiropractic—Nature's Method. Frees the circulation, thereby permitting the refuse to be thrown out of the body through the natural channels.

Pressure upon Nerves causes such diseases as Paralysis, Rheumatism,

Neuralgia, Asthma, Female Diseases, and the various Diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys.

As all the motor and sensory powers are transmitted through nerves, it is plain to be seen that the nerves should be free from all abnormal pressure. Strange, but true, all the nerves of the body may be freed by adjusting the spinal vertebrae with the hands.

Removing the Cause. Chiropractors have remarkable success in removing the cause of Appendicitis, Deafness, Asthma, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lamé Back, Constipation, Piles, Female Diseases, Stomach and Kidney Trouble, Nervous Prostration and Pneumonia.

NO LOCAL EXAMINATIONS used, as they are unnecessary.

Lady Patients. In no line of disease do we have better success than in the ailments which afflict womanhood. Benefits are promptly shown without the annoyance which they are subjected to under the drug treatment. The proper nerve supply being restored, the normal functions are quickly re-established.

Why Am I All Stirred Up After Taking Spinal Adjustments? Disease is a perversion of the normal law. To get well requires the time that is necessary to rebuild these abnormal tissues. To accomplish this means that all diseases must retrace their steps. Sometimes this process is called for, but it is all for the best; it is then that you should grip tightly and remain by your chiropractor, and in a few days you will generally see good results.

Motherhood Made Easy. Motherhood should not be as painful and dangerous as it is, if a nature had its own way it would not be so, but it is in a great majority of cases, there are some of the nerves impinged through which nature controls the organs of generation and in that way makes them inactive. They would not be so if all nerves were freed to work in harmony. This has been proved by great many ladies who have taken Chiropractic spinal adjustments.

People Are Skeptical. When anything new in the light of a radical departure from what people have been educated to believe is brought before them, it is human nature to be skeptical. The man who invented the telegraph, the man who discovered the circulation of the blood were at first looked upon as lunatics or fakirs. But nothing can truth which at first met only with scorn, has not been recognized as blessing in scores of years.

The science of Chiropractic but a few years ago was unknown. To-day it is known only in communities where it has accomplished seemingly marvellous results in the banishment of disease. People must believe the evidence of their senses. If a person comes to a Chiropractor with a disease which doctors have failed to cure, and that person is completely restored to health, he must believe, he is not tangled up with long technicalities; he only knows he is sick. The Chiropractor tells him why he is sick, and proves that he is correct by giving the patient adjustments that allow nature to restore him to health.

Chiropractic gives nature a chance to make you well.

NOTORIOUS BETRAYALS

TREACHERY WAS THE DEATH OF THE MERRY ROBIN HOOD.

The Darling Greenwood Bandit was Taken Sick at a Nunnery—Highland Annals Are Full of Such Stories—Nana Shihb Will Always Stand Out as an Execrable Figure in British History.

Ever since the days when Judas received the thirty pieces of silver, the price of his Master's betrayal, a peculiar stigma has always attached to the man or woman who gives another up to an enemy or who induces, by other, by a show of friendly intention, to lay aside his armour of defence.

The betrayer! The taker of blood-money! There is no term more applicable no character so despised of all honest men. And it makes but little difference to the scorn in which the betrayer's name is held, whether the betrayal be some exiled prince or political refugee, or an ordinary dangerous criminal whose capture is eminently desirable in itself.

It seems a fairly well-established historical fact that the famous outlaw Robin Hood, die I by treachery in the Priory of Kirkles, in Yorkshire, as is stated both in an early ballad called "A Lyttel Geste of Robin Hood," and in a latter poem on the same subject. The Harleian M.S. states that "it happened the feble sick as a nunnery in Yorkshyre" called Birkeley (Kirkley), and desiring there to let blood, he was betrayed and made bleed to death," and so, too, says the old ballad.

Yet he was beguiled, I wye. Through a wretched woman, The prycesse of Kyrkealy, That nye was of his kynne.

The more modern ballad tells how "Robin is to fair Kirkley gone, as fast as he can win," and how "pope was so ready as his cousin herself for to let bold Robin in."

"Will you please sit down, Cousin Robin," said the prioress, "and drink some beer with me?" "No I will neither eat nor drink, Till I am bloodied by thee."

She bloodied him in the vein of the arm And locked him up in the room. There did he bleed all the livelong day, Until the next day at noon.

Such was the end of bold Robin Hood, chief of the outlaws, and prince of good fellows!

Another popular hero who met his death by treachery was the Scottish leader, Sir William Wallace who after seven years of outlawry was taken prisoner at Robroydon, near Glasgow. The signal for his capture it is said, was given by turning a loaf flat side uppermost on the table, and since it was used by the root of John Macbeth that he was betrayed, it was for long considered a mark of ill-breeding to turn a loaf thus in the company of a friend, since one by doing so recalled the fact that a bearer of that name was the betrayer of the great Wallace.

Prince Charles Edward Stuart was singularly fortunate in the loyalty and fidelity of his fellows, for with the exception of the perfidious young Glengarry, the only instance of anyone seeking to betray the royal cause, was that of a ragged and half-starved lad, to whom the Prince gave food during his time of hiding in South Uist. This lad, the royal historian, who by going to him his valuable information to a party of militia in the neighborhood, who, however, flatly refused to allow any importance to so disreputable a witness.

It was not always the case, however, that a Highland refuge was a safe one; and a very headless betrayal was that of the great Marquis of Montrose, after the failure of his rising. After the defeat of Invercarroll, Montrose and Kinloch wandered up the river Kyle to the castle of the following night, and the next two days, with practically no food, and came at last into the Assynt country. There Kinloch was unable to travel any further and was supposed to have died among the mountains.

"Not even the iron frame of Montrose," says the historian, "could endure a prolonged existence under such circumstances. He gave himself up to Madock of Assynt, a former adherent, from whom he had reason to expect assistance in consideration of that circumstance, and indeed, from the dictates of honorable feeling and common humanity. The Highlander rendered his name infamous by selling the hero of the Covenanters, for which 'duty to the public' he was rewarded with 400 bolts of meal."

One of the most terrible acts of treachery in the world's history is of comparatively recent date, namely, the betrayal and massacre of thearrison of Osnaburg by Nana Sahib. This cold-blooded and traitorous prince not only made terms with General Wellesley who was in command of the besieged garrison, but also offered to provide boats to convey the women and children first, and then the combatants. The latter returned across the river. No sooner had the process of embarkation commenced than Nana's troops fell upon the defenceless Europeans, and there followed a ghastly scene of carnage which thrilled England with horror, and brought down a terrible vengeance upon the perpetrators of the atrocious crime.

The women and children were imprisoned for a few hours in the Residency, but Nana ordered all to be slain, and their bodies thrown down a well; thus was added one of the most terrible pages in India's blood-stained history.

Truly the world abounds with examples of the chronicler of the past, for treachery is a quality no less base and detestable than fidelity is honorable and ennobling. And since every man has his obverse and its reverse side, it must always be remembered that for every act of desertion and betrayal, there are, on the whole, a far greater number of deeds of loyalty and self-denying faithfulness.

H. H. POWELL, President

By Some Per- son or Persons Unknown

'Ah, he is a cute one, he is,' the boy said to himself.

Mrs. Perks appeared in her doorway with a hurried expression.

'I hear you have some furnished rooms to let,' the stranger observed in a pleasant musical voice.

'Certainly, sir,' Mrs. Perks hesitated a moment. 'They are not one of our best sets, sir. They are up at the top of the house.'

'Now it is very nice of you to mention that,' the man smiled at her pleasantly—but as a matter of fact it will be rather a convenience to me than otherwise.

'I shall be back just now. You will be careful Jim?'

'Yes, I think so, sir.'

'You are to remain at the window until you get the signal from below.'

'Mr. Wallace pushed. 'Then you will speak softly as possible down the back stairs and hear all you can of what is going on in Mrs. Perks's room.'

'Do all the tradespeople have to use these stairs, or have you a lift somewhere in the back premises?'

'Not a lift, sir,' Mrs. Perks smiled mirthlessly, her respect for the would be lodger greatly increased by his mention of Mr. Godson, the trustee in charge of the Grove street property.

'There is a lift, but it is not in use,' opening a door at her left, 'it comes out just by my room and it is handy sometimes for coats or such like, but most folk use the front. These are the rooms, sir. There are three.'

'And very pleasant they look,' the man said as he glanced into the big room in the centre and the smaller one on each side in turn. They were plainly—but comfortably furnished.

'The rent is three guineas a week, Mr. Godson told me. I think I shall close with them on the spot.'

'Mrs. Perks turning to her confidentially—'tell me, would it not be possible for me to move in this afternoon? That is my name'—handing her a card on which she read, 'Mr. Edward Wallace, 32 Buckingham St., Strand'—and I am anxious to get away from my present quarters as early as possible. They are dark, they are noisy, they are damp, and from the river, in fact they are everything that is objectionable.'

'Mrs. Perks looked rather staggered.

'To-day! Well that don't leave very much time for anything; but there, I always keep the rooms clean.'

'I am sure you do,' Mr. Wallace slipped something in her hand. 'You will do for us, then, Mrs. Perks, and give an eye to my brother sometimes. He is studying for an exam., so he is a good deal at home just now.'

'I shall do my best, sir,' Mrs. Perks promised, much gratified.

'And that will be very good,' I know,' Mr. Wallace concluded. 'Oh, it isn't flattery, Mrs. Perks. I may be from the country, but I know what is what when I see it. You are not a Londoner yourself, I think, Mrs. Perks?'

'Mrs. Perks wiped her eyes with a corner of her handkerchief.

'No, sir, I come from Leicestershire and many is the time I have wished myself back in Saxelby when the noise and bustle of London gets on my nerves.'

'We all of us do,' said Mr. Wallace sympathetically. 'But we have our livings to get. Well I shall bring my brother in a couple of hours, time and as much luggage as we can manage. The rest must be sent after us. Good-bye for the present Mrs. Perks.'

He ran lightly down the stairs. Mrs. Perks followed more slowly, thinking that he would certainly prove an acquisition.

Gregory was standing up in her room when she entered.

'Well, Maria Perks, be you going to do what I asked you?'

'Haven't I told you I can't? Mrs. Perks returned irritably. 'You won't get ahead out of a stone, Jim Gregory.'

'Be this yours—or hers?' he asked with an evil grin.

Mrs. Perks fell back against the door with a cry.

'Save us, Jim Gregory. Where did you get this?'

Mr. Wallace arrived before the stipulated two hours had elapsed. He arrived with a couple of portmanteaux and a boy in an Eton suit with a broad white collar, who bore to a close observer, a strong likeness to the unwashed youth who had taken so strong an interest in Gregory's movements outside.

Mrs. Perks accompanied them to their rooms, and Mr. Edward Wallace expressed himself as delighted with everything. His brother, he explained, was older than he looked, being nearly sixteen; he had been compelled to leave school owing to an illness and was now studying for the Civil Service exam.

'He is terribly mischievous, Mrs. Perks,' he complained. 'But if he annoys you in any way let me know, and I will soon put an end to it.'

'Oh, you need not do that, sir,' Mrs. Perks assured him confidently. 'You know young gentlemen will be young gentlemen, and I shan't mind that, as she backed out of the room.'

As soon as Mr. Wallace had heard her footsteps to the end of the flight of stairs he closed his door.

'You know what you have to do, Archer? His tone and manner had altered singularly.

The boy looked up.

'Yes, I think so, sir.'

'You are to remain at the window until you get the signal from below.'

Mr. Wallace pushed. 'Then you will speak softly as possible down the back stairs and hear all you can of what is going on in Mrs. Perks's room.'

'Do all the tradespeople have to use these stairs, or have you a lift somewhere in the back premises?'

'Not a lift, sir,' Mrs. Perks smiled mirthlessly, her respect for the would be lodger greatly increased by his mention of Mr. Godson, the trustee in charge of the Grove street property.

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED

Husband Declared Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Restore Her Health, And It Did.

Ashland, Ky.—"Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off I could hardly rest day or night. I doctored with all the best doctors in town and took many kinds of medicine but nothing seemed to do me any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has."

Mrs. MAX WAST, Ashland, Ky.

HOCKEY

Pro. Hockey for Hamilton. HAMILTON, Jan. 6.—The Alerts have evolved a pretty plan to dispose of their hand-picked hockey outfit temporarily. The team will be "disbanded" because of the expense of maintenance and the absence of opponents. It might be possible to play the Detroit and Syracuse teams but such exhibitions would not pay. As was announced at the time of the expose of the salary list, the Tecumseh and Toronto will take the pick of the local importations and the remainder will be offered to the Maritime Provinces League.

It is proposed to "reserve" the men for next season, when an out-and-out professional team will be organized and application made for membership in the National Hockey Association. Nobody seems to care to undertake an explanation of how the men are to be "reserved." This is the story, which was being circulated by local promoters to-day, but the skeptics make the observation that "faraway hills are always green."

BASEBALL

Appointment of Deneau as Manager is Confirmed

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The directors of the London Baseball Club met yesterday afternoon at the Grigg House. The most important business before the directorate was the written application for the management of their club for next season by George (Rube) Deneau. In fact, the meeting was merely called to formally accept the new manager's terms and give him a written acceptance, which was framed and copies of the same were sent to him and to Secretary Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs.

President Sam Stevely, of the local club, will visit Deneau during the course of the next week or so, when on a trip to Detroit on business, and take up the matter with Manager Deneau, outlining the course of campaign about the men now on reserve. The matter of mustering the team for the 1913 pennant race will be left entirely in Deneau's hands.

"Oskee" Heard from Earle ("Oskee") Neale, the spectacular outfielder of the London club, will in all probability not be seen at Tecumseh Park this coming summer; at least this is what he has given out to the local press directors.

Neale intends to continue with his college course, and to continue as a ball player would mean that he would have to sacrifice his college career. He is willing to report to the local club about June 20, after college closes, but will not consider coming here for spring training, as this time is most valuable in his studies. He would rather quit his baseball career than come to London early in May.

He also states that it would be useless to suspend or black list him as it would only mean that he would never don a baseball uniform again in organized baseball.

Berlin is After Keenan

The Berlin Canadian League Club now owned by the Twin City Athletic Association is making a determined effort to secure Joe Keenan for their manager this coming season.

President Kahle and Director Wm. Witt called the London man by phone yesterday, and Keenan will undoubtedly make a trip to the German City in the near future to talk over the club's prospects for the 1913 campaign.

From all appearances there seems to be no objections to the securing of the job by the gingery little infielder, who made such a creditable showing as the leader of the London club in the Canadian league during its first year. The directors of the Berlin club figure that a man to pilot their club this summer should be one who is well acquainted with Canadian League conditions, and it is for this reason they are after the London man.

PLAY WRITING.

From the Waste-Paper Basket to Five Pounds a Word.

There is much gold in a successful play, but there are a few who have the good fortune to win it. Shakespeare, it is said, parted with his immortal "Hamlet" for twenty nobles (less than $35), and he has his successors to-day, but removed, it is true, from him in genius, but men of no mean dramatic skill, whose work puts almost as little money in their pockets.

Not so long ago a well-known dramatist confessed: "I once sold for $100 a play which was presented over two thousand times in London and the provinces, while others in which I have retained an interest have brought me next to nothing. Another has declared that for many years his revenue from his plays "would have been scored by a laborer."

And even our more popular dramatists can recall equally "lean years." Sir Arthur Pinero still chuckles when he tells how he commenced his play-writing career by exchanging "Two Hundred Pounds" (the title of his first bantling) for a set of shirt-studs.

"For my next venture, "Two Can Play at the Game," he wrote Mr. Boleman gave me a five-pound note. My third play, "Daisy's Escape," I wrote for Henry Irving, who, to my delight, handed me a cheque for fifty pounds. I can assure you I was very pleased to receive fifty-five pounds and a set of studs for about three months work."

Sir W. S. Gilbert received $150 and a lecture for his maiden effort, "Dulcamara." "After I had received the cheque," Mr. Gilbert said to me: "Let me give you a bit of advice, young man. Never sell such good stuff as that for $150. I took his advice and never again."

But happily there is a much brighter side to the dramatic shield, although it is presented only to the fortunate few. "A really successful play," a well-known dramatic critic wrote the other day, "may be said to be worth $50,000, ten times as much, say, as the average successful novel. And as the actual number of plays written yearly exceeds 8,000, it produces the gratifying return of well over $5 a word!

It is thus not difficult to credit the almost fabulous wealth which some of our most successful playwrights are credited, which, in one case at least—that of Mr. Barrie—has reached an average of $125,000 a year. Mr. Barrie was at first very doubtful as to the desirability of dramatizing his charming novel, "The Little Minister." "But," reconstituted a friend, "there is $200,000 in it, if there is a penny." And it has since been stated on authority that even this enormous sum has been doubled.

It is also very clear that, although the unsuccessful dramatist may work for starvation wages, his more fortunate brother at the top of the ladder of popularity need not envy the Lord Chancellor his five-figure salary, and can afford to smile at the income of a High Court judge or a bishop.

THIS LADY GIVES A SPLENDID REASON

Why She Would Not Be Without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the House.

They Helped Her Husband and Cured Her Own Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel of Thirteen Years' Standing.

CANDO, Sask., Jan. 6.—(Special) "I would not be without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house," exclaims Mrs. John C. MacKenzie, of this place. And those who have heard Mrs. MacKenzie's story do not wonder that she is so emphatic.

"I was a victim for about twelve or thirteen years of Bladder and Kidney Trouble," Mrs. MacKenzie says. "It grew into Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel. Doctors attended me but they did not do me any good.

"My husband had used Dodd's Kidney Pills with good results so I decided to give them a trial. Before I had finished the first box I was greatly benefited.

Dodd's Kidney Pills benefit and cure permanently all who suffer from any form of Kidney Disease. They cure the kidneys and cured kidneys strain the poison that causes the diseases out of the blood. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel."

Music and Drama

"The Gamblers" Charles Klein's gripping play which holds the record for long runs among serious dramas of the past season in New York, comes to the Grand, Thursday, Jan. 9, under the direction of The Authors' Producing Company.

The story of the play involves a debonaire young freebooter who has come into the management of his staid old father's bank, and who, in his effort to expand the business, resorts to various questionable practices. There is a woman in the case, the wife of the prosecuting attorney for the Federal Government, who was once the sweetheart of the young broker and whose husband is given to posing as an inflexible moralist, and he allows his unjust jealousy to override his sense of legal justice. Mr. Klein illustrates the axiom that there is no gains without making tremendous losses and that success in fame and fortune does not always mean real success in life.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrhzone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of grippe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrhzone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Sale even for children. 25c. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Why Women Are Not Rich.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anemic; the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ill and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes Mr. J. A. D. LAYMAN, of Washburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 28. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a tonic, and further advise ailing people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their disease have run so long that there is no chance to be cured."

And a Suicide Take Place Couple Seemed to (Courier Leased Wire.) WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 8.—A few minutes after they walked arm in arm into the private consulting room of Dr. Fletcher in the Somerset Hotel on Portage avenue at ten minutes past 8 this morning, Walter Eaves, an Englishman 28 years of age, placed the muzzle of a revolver at the forehead of Mrs. Alfred Hancock and fired a bullet into her brain, killing her instantly. He then turned the weapon upon himself and will die from the effects of three bullets fired into his body.

Geo. Rogers, an attendant at the doctor's surgery saw the couple enter and says they appeared to be of good minds. He was sitting in the next room and he says he heard no quarrel or argument. In the midst of their conversation he heard four shots and then the sound of the falling bodies. The woman's life was extinct when he rushed into the room. The man cannot recall his name. Eaves has lived in Winnipeg several years while the woman has been here some months. Nothing is known of her husband. It is believed the couple were lovers and jealousy may account for the crime. There is no suggestion of a suicide pact.
