MISS TAPLIN'S SUCCESS

Of a song recital given by Miss Margaret Taplin, grand daughter of Mr. S. A. Taplin of Athens, the Ottawa Citizen speaks as follows:
A song recital of much artistic excellence and one that pleased greatly the large audience and filled the hall to the doors, was given Tuesday evening in St. Patrick's hall, by Miss Margaret Taplin, assisted by A. Elwyn Clucas. Miss Taplin, who was a pupil of Mrs. Hattie Clapper Morris and Miss Emma Trusby of New York, possesses a rich contralto voice, of considerable volume and exceedingly sweet in the middle register, although her higher notes were occasionally artificial. Her singing was marked by considerable color and expression, she being at her best in the cradle song and an encore, "The Years of Spring," by Mrs. Beach. She was encored several times and received three beautiful bouquets.

In the duets Miss Taplin and Mr. Clucas likewise scored successes. Their voices blended charmingly and the singers were in perfect touch.

On June 1st, Thos. McAvena, in his 90th year, of general debility. Committed to the Home from Gananoque on Feb. 1st, 1906. He was an old veteran and served during the Fenian raids of '66 and '68. He received a grant of 160 acres of land which he disposed of to the government for $50. He deposited $40 in Bank, which went to defray funeral expenses. His body was shipped to Gananoque by express to be interred in the family plot in the cemetery.

DOMINION DAY

The Citizens' Association of Brockville is arranging a celebration for Dominion Day—July 1st—on a scale that will do justice to the well-known reputation that town enjoys for conducting events of this kind. There will be trotting races, foot races, obstacle races, military display, balloon ascension with parachute drop, lacrosse match, and many other interesting events, together with an abundance of high class music. Our readers who wish to enjoy a good day's sport should make arrangements to visit Brockville on Monday, July 1st.

Rural News Notes

An occasional correspondent of the Reporter writes as follows:—
Alex. McDougal of Spring Valley had a very large swarm of bees on Sunday last.

Bennett Barrington had half the remainder of his sheep killed by dogs last Sunday morning. Such Sabbath-breakers ought to be shot on sight. I know a score of people who would keep a few sheep if it were not for useless dogs. It is a bitter griet to such, and this means 20,000 persons in all Ontario would have plenty of mutton without buying. Is there not brains enough in the legislature to protect sheep from dogs? Muzzle the dogs from dark to daylight.

OUR PROGRESS BRAND SUITS

At $10, $12 or $13.50 are the Best in Town

Everyone in business naturally shows off his wares to the best advantage and there is nothing wrong in so doing, if the goods are reliable. Some clothiers press out their clothes with hot irons, crease them artistically in the windows, and passers by say, Aren't They Great?

But clothing that has little to recommend it but a smiling face is sorry clothing indeed to live in for half a year or more. Much of the clothing sold to-day is beautiful to look at, but weak, unsound, READY AT ANY TIME TO GO TO PIECES INSIDE. It's machinery clothing, put through the mill at top speed and pressed into shape to cover poor workmanship.

Our Progress Brand Clothing is Different

Said a man the other day, "well, somehow your clothing seems altogether different from any I have seen anywhere else, and I've been around." Of course, its different, its not only tailored by hand but it is cut and built to stay.

A STEEL CANAL ACROSS THE SAHARA.

Two important contracts have recently been carried out for a comprehensive irrigation scheme in upper Egypt, by which 125,000 acres will be eventually irrigated and put under cultivation.

The plan is one of the largest irrigation schemes ever promoted in that country. A portion of the Nile water supply stored up by the Assuan Barrage is now being utilized. The irrigation estate is bounded on the east by the Nile and on the east by the great desert. The soil is dry and parched and is supposed to have received no water for the last 3,000 or 4,000 years.

The canal is constructed of riveted steel and is nearly semi-circular in form, measuring 19 feet 8 1/4 inches in diameter, total length 617 feet. It is built of seven plates around the circumference, the plates being connected by 1 1/2 inch snapped head rivets of which a total of 650,000 was used.

Seven hundred men, including eight Englishmen, the remainder being chiefly Arabs, with a few Greeks and Italians, were employed. The work was completed in five months, working day and night. The loose, shifting sand foundation caused much trouble and tools were constantly being lost and buried.

DIPLOMEVOLENCE.

A Department of Business That Labors With Those Who Cry "Give, Give!"

Some of the larger business concerns in New York have evolved a department of which little is ever heard, but which is designated to save thousands of dollars annually and disburse the same.

This department operates so as to maintain an exact record of the firm's "diplomevoles" affairs and that amalgamated word has been coined because it fits the department precisely. Diplomacy and benevolence are the two qualities that guide the operations of the department.

There is no clearing house to determine the aggregate amount given until an investigation by Manhattan firms and the total sum is more or less known. The separate accounts record the last dollar expended for charity and to extract a donation from a metropolitan business house requires a meritorious case with all its good qualities on the surface.

In the first place, neither money nor goods are given away by firms until an investigation has been made. The applicant for a donation, after talking with the firm's diplomavevoles, is dismissed with the promise that his case will be looked into speedily.

When the matter for aid has departed, a clerk from the diplomavevoles department is at work. He searches through an elaborate card index system to discover whether the concern has ever contributed to the applicant before, and if so, what amount was given and upon what date. The general rule is never to make a donation to the same cause twice within twelve months.

If the request is for a worthy matter, it is brought back to the diplomavevoles man, and he writes that his company will gladly give it. Sometimes the sum is sent to the applicant, but never if it can be avoided. In the case of manufacturers and merchants money is rarely contributed to any cause unless the applicant insists upon it and refuses to take goods.

Department stores receive daily dozens of requests, simply because they are department stores and because of a legend that they are always willing to give.

Organized charities extend biggest in the estimation of the men whose duty it is to handle the business of gifts. They are usually worthy and merchants and manufacturers are free.

Many a worthy case comes up in the course of business. Not long ago a woman wanted help for a young friend. He was a divinity student and had struggled hard at his work and had succeeded in writing a treatise which was to be read before an assemblage of students and instructors. He was worried over his prospective appearance because his clothes had been worn thread-bare and as we all know, his business is his life.

The business concern appealed to answer the request by sending the student a suit in twenty-four hours, and it is to be presumed he read his treatise in honor and good looks.

Another case was that of a young girl who had come to New York from up the State and had found difficulty in obtaining employment as a stenographer. She wandered about until her clothes had lost their freshness and prospective employers looked upon her with a distrust that always resulted in refusal. The case was sent to a downtown diplomavevoles department and the girl was loaned out in a suit that must have cheered her young heart.

A destitute family in Harlem is being supplied with food by a firm, and a number of children in Brooklyn receive shoes from whenever the old ones are worn out. A few weeks ago a certain manufacturer heard of an old chap whose limbs had passed into limbo, and forthwith he sent to New York the disabled one six pairs of crutches, enough to last him the remainder of his life.

Several weeks ago a cannot goods concern received a letter from a man at Portland, Ore., saying that his family was without means of subsistence and requesting the company to send him several cases of its goods. This was one of the requests which was refused, because while New York is willing to take care of its own, it draws the line at Oregon.

HARD BITING GILA MONSTER. Why It is Poisonous—The Creature's Tenacity and Quickness.

Of some of the strange ways the gila monster, that little known creature of the southwestern deserts, a correspondent writes: "I have had some experience with gila monsters and can state that no matter what scientists may claim the gila monster is a good thing to shun. Indians and Mexicans have a horror of them and fear them more than a rattlesnake. I believe that the bite of the gila monster is dangerous because of the creature's habit of sitting lizards, bugs and rodents and then lying on sand so hot that it blisters the hands and feet of men. The teeth are often covered with a fermented, putrefied froth from the food. A bite has the same effect as a cut of a rusty knife used on a cadaver; in other words, the inoculation of a deadly poison.

"When frightened or angry he can move quite rapidly. That short, thick, stubby tail is used in jumping, just as a kangaroo uses his tail. The gila monster bites like a bulldog and has the tenacity of a snapping turtle. I once saw some men teasing a gila monster brought to Tucson. A string was tied around his neck. The gila monster was crawling around on the ground trying to get away, but was pulled back by the string. This was carried on till the creature became furious. The crowd around the gila monster knew nothing of his power to spring. Suddenly he sprang up and bit a man among the crowd on the hand, tearing fully two feet from the hand.

"Another instance, this of a man whose chief object seems to have been a foolhardy display of fearlessness. He was holding one of the monsters in his hand by the back of its neck, so it could not bite him. He dropped his hand to the side of his leg. The gila monster shut his teeth down on the heavy duck overalls, taking a double piece out, where the cloth folded, as quickly as a pair of scissors could cut the fabric, and as cleanly."—Los Angeles Times.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians. MY PA AND I. My pa he didn't go downtown to get a book 'n' settled down as a com'ly as could be. I'll tell you 'bout my pa 'n' you 'n' me. (To have my pa about.) To answer all the things I had 'n' been tryin' to find out.

And as I asked him why the world was round, instead of square? And why the pig's tails are curled? And why don't fish breathe air? And why the moon don't hit a star? And why the dark is black? And just how many birds there are? And why does water stay in wells? And why do June bugs hum? And what's the roar I hear in shells? And what makes hair grow gray? And why the grass is always green, instead of sometimes blue? And why a bean will grow a bean, and not an apple, too?

And why a horse can't learn to moo? And why a cow can't neigh? And do the fishes live on dew? And what makes hair grow gray? And then my pa got up, an' he said: "The 'f' word is 'f'." I had 'n' done a thing, but he just sent me off to bed.

Minard's Liniment Lumberman's Friend. No Further Explanation Required. A Rochester clergyman was accustomed to use scientific terms which the people did not understand. A deputation waited on him with the request that in the future, whenever he used such terms, he would explain them.

On the following Sunday he used the term hyperbole, and added: "As agreed on, I beg to explain the word. Were I to say that at this moment the whole of my congregation are sound asleep it would be hyperbole, but if I say that one-half are asleep that is no hyperbole, but the truth."

The next day the deputation again called to say that the minister need not explain technical terms. The people would learn their meaning from a dictionary.—Rochester Herald.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house. Murders for Revenge in Corsica. Fortunately the dark days when Corsica resembled a huge battlefield survived only as a terrible memory of the past. To-day we can hardly credit the fact that between the years 1859 and 1870, 300,000 people were murdered out of revenge, and that during thirty-one years of last century—from 1821 to 1852—the number of murders was estimated at 4,300.—Wide World Magazine.

French Peasants Odd Business. "In France, at this season," said a bird dealer, "the banks of the streams are yellow with bonfires every night. About the fires loaf peasants, men and women, smoking, chattering, spooning.

"They keep the blaze going all night, and at dawn, behold, the ground is an inch or two deep with May flies, fireflies, moths—little creatures that, expecting some unknown and divine sensation, flew out of the darkness into these clear and gemlike flames, fluttered forth again in agony, fell and died.

The tiny corpses are sold to the French bird dealers at 5 or 6 cents a pint, and are resold for food to the owners of pet birds, finches, thrushes, canaries, nightingales and the like."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Kept Ten Dollar Bill Forty Years. Obid Smith, a farmer near Indianapolis, called at the office of C. W. Morrison, this city, and asked him if he still trusted in the Lord. Morrison replied in the affirmative, whereupon Smith said: "It was the Lord that sent me here to return $10 of your money. I have kept it for forty years."

Mr. Smith then explained that one day in 1867, in W. A. Bodine's store at Morrisstown, he saw Mr. Morrison drop a $10 bill from a roll which he had received from the merchant. Smith picked up the money and on this occasion he came here to return it.—Indianapolis News.

Trade Registered as a Boy. M. Lenoir and Mile Deschamps were about to set out to be married at La Haye Malherbe, Normandy, when the village schoolmaster, who is also the village clerk and registrar of births, came to them, exclaiming: "The marriage is impossible."

He explained that his predecessor had mistakenly registered the birth of the bride as that of a boy, and under the registration Mile Deschamps would become liable to serve as a soldier this year. The bride and bridegroom hurried off to the Mayor and Magistrate and implored them to authorize the marriage, urging that the mistake in the register was self-evident.

"Well, in the past I met an uncouth person at a dinner, and, being told by an acquaintance that he had three degrees, I asked why it was."

"Well," said my friend, "the third was given him because he had two, the second because he had one, and the first because he had none!"—Providence Journal.

SAHARA'S SECRETS UNVEILED.

Underground Villages in the Heart of the Desert. Interesting details have reached London concerning the remarkable travels of Scharen journey undertaken by Mr. H. Vischer, one of the protectorate residents in Bernu, from Tripoli and through the "Fertile Hinterland" of Tripoli to Lake Chad.

The successful completion of the journey was announced in the Over-Sea Daily Mail in December. In the mountains of Gharian Mr. Vischer found people living in subterranean dwellings. Through entrances ten yards long and one yard broad he came upon a square courtyard, which was in reality a great hole open to the sky.

Upon this all the rooms and stables covered. The rooms were very dark and there were no windows, but the most absolute cleanliness prevailed.

Beyond Gharian the expedition proceeded over rising ground to the hills, where fig and olive groves lay among Roman ruins and underground villages. Nearby Murul; Mr. Vischer came upon stretches of petrified forest.

Cow Testing Associations. Dominion Department of Agriculture, Branch of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner.

At Cowansville, Que., the average yield of 119 cows for 30 days, ending 27th April, is 667 lbs. milk and 22.8 lbs. fat. The highest individual yield is 1,360 lbs. milk, testing 4.8 per cent.

The Shearer, Ont., Association has an average yield for the same period of 624 lbs. milk and 18.9 lbs. fat. The best individual yield here is 880 lbs. milk, testing 2.7 only.

In the Association at Culloden, Ont., the average of 200 cows is 750 lbs. milk and 25.7 lbs. fat for the period ending 7th May. There are several individual yields here of over 1,000 lbs. milk. The highest being 1,385 lbs. testing 3.2.

The 109 cows in the Spring Creek Association average 762 lbs. milk and 28.4 lbs. fat. Several individual cows here go over the 1,100 lb. mark, one good yield being 1,470 lbs. testing 3.0 for the 30 days ending 1st May.

At Hatley, Que., the average test is the same for the period ending 30th April, 3.4 for the same period, but the average yield is only 643 lbs. milk and 19.0 lbs. fat. The highest production of any one cow is 840 lbs. milk, testing 3.1.

St. Armand, Que., from 161 cows averages 718 lbs. milk and 22.8 lbs. fat. Woodburn, Ont., with 79 cows, has an average yield of 671 lbs. milk and 22.2 lbs. fat.

Almost all the duly organized associations are now at work, the members sending in their bottles of composite milk samples weekly. In another two weeks much fuller and better records than the above may be expected.

A Praying Church. (Christian Guardian.) The minister may be a man of God, but he cannot do the praying for his congregation. The aggressive power of a congregation, if it depends on the individual prayers of its members; and every prayerless or semi-prayerless member will be a source of weakness. But then we fear many, who complain that the church is not a praying church, themselves spend more time in grumbling than in praying. It is so easy for a sinner to grumble and so hard for a sinner to pray; and, by the way, it should be true, that it is hard for a saint to let us quit our complaining, and get down upon our knees. We are persuaded that the great cure for the ills of the church is to be found in constant and full communion with our Lord. True, there are prayers that simply tell the Lord what He ought to do, but such prayers are vain. True prayer brings men into direct contact with the infinite purity of God, and humbles man into the dust; but out of the dust he rises, a purer man, one who has power, with God and men. This communion is not a matter of privilege alone, but a real necessity to true spiritual life. The man who talks with God will walk with God. The man who walks with God will stop to meanness or dishonor; he will not, he cannot, be a bare and fruitless tree, but God will work through him to make the kingdom come.

Hero Died Hero's Death. Private Kennedy, V. C., of the Highland Light Infantry, who has just met with a fatal accident in Edinburgh, showed conspicuous bravery in the South African war. At Dewetsdorp in November, 1900, he carried a comrade, who had been dangerously wounded and was bleeding to death, from Gibraltar Hill to the hospital, a distance of three-quarters of a mile, and all the way under a hot fire. On the following day, when a volunteer was called for to cross an exposed space, with a message that it was almost certain death to deliver, Private Kennedy at once stepped forward. Before he had proceeded twenty yards he was severely wounded and unable to proceed; but the daring will was taken for the daring deed. Kennedy met his death in Edinburgh while endeavoring to stop a runaway horse.

A Praying Church. (Christian Guardian.) The minister may be a man of God, but he cannot do the praying for his congregation. The aggressive power of a congregation, if it depends on the individual prayers of its members; and every prayerless or semi-prayerless member will be a source of weakness. But then we fear many, who complain that the church is not a praying church, themselves spend more time in grumbling than in praying. It is so easy for a sinner to grumble and so hard for a sinner to pray; and, by the way, it should be true, that it is hard for a saint to let us quit our complaining, and get down upon our knees. We are persuaded that the great cure for the ills of the church is to be found in constant and full communion with our Lord. True, there are prayers that simply tell the Lord what He ought to do, but such prayers are vain. True prayer brings men into direct contact with the infinite purity of God, and humbles man into the dust; but out of the dust he rises, a purer man, one who has power, with God and men. This communion is not a matter of privilege alone, but a real necessity to true spiritual life. The man who talks with God will walk with God. The man who walks with God will stop to meanness or dishonor; he will not, he cannot, be a bare and fruitless tree, but God will work through him to make the kingdom come.

Why He Got Degrees. Woodrow Wilson, President of Princeton, was deploring the pronounced giving of honorary degrees. "Our universities have learned of late," he said, "to distribute honorary degrees judiciously. But in the past—"

"Well, in the past I met an uncouth person at a dinner, and, being told by an acquaintance that he had three degrees, I asked why it was."

"Well," said my friend, "the third was given him because he had two, the second because he had one, and the first because he had none!"—Providence Journal.

ISSUE NO. 23, 1907.

FORE CARTRIDGES FOUND. 217,000 Seized This Month in Worth of England. Another seizure of secreted cartridges has been made at Edinburgh. The police visited a blacksmith's store in the Piershill district and took possession of 20,000 Mauser cartridges.

The complete list of seizures made in different parts of the country is as follows: Sunderland, April 3 35,000 Newcastle, April 9 31,000 Glasgow, April 12 100,000 Edinburgh, April 15 15,000 Edinburgh, April 19 20,000

Total number of cartridges . . . 214,000 As already recorded in the Over-Sea Daily Mail the cartridges are imported from the continent and secretly conveyed by trawlers to the coast of Finland, where they are delivered to Russian revolutionaries.

Kendall's Spavin Cure. Cures: Spavins, Thoroughpins, Curbs, Splints, Ringbone, Sore Shins, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, and all Lameness. A bottle—6 for $1. Our great book—"Treatise on the Horse"—free from dealers or as Dr. R. J. KENDALL CO., Eastbury Park, Vermont, U.S.A.

BUTTERIN CASKS. BOXES NOT WANTED—LESS COLOR AND LESS SALT. J. B. Jackson, Canadian commercial agent at Leeds, England, writing home, says that Canadian butter shipped to the north of England markets should be sent in casks. Practically every dealer makes this suggestion.

"Box packing has so long been associated with inferior butter in the north of England that Canada's present system of sending butter to this country in boxes is simply ruining her chances of making any decided impression on the large imports of continental and other foreign butters. In fact, it is said that for this reason alone Australia's attempts to compete in the north of England markets in box-packed butter have not been so successful as expected."

The reason is not far to seek; the north of England is the stronghold of the Danish butter trade. Two-thirds of all the Danish butter imported into England is received from special butter steamers at Newcastle-on-Tyne, Hull, Goole and Grimsby, and immediately on being landed is distributed by fast express trains on the different railroads to the various centers. Canadian butter also would appeal much more to the public in the north of England if it were not so "highly colored." It should be made as near approaching a very pale straw color as possible, and should not be salted more than one-half as much as in Canada.

ENGLISH SPAVIN LINIMENT. Removes all hard, soft or calloused lumps and blemishes from horses, blood spavins, curbs, splints, ringbone, swellings, stifles, sprains, sore and swollen throats, coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful Blemish Cure ever known. Sold by druggists.

ORANGEVILLE WELLS CASE.

Charge Against Douglass Withdrawn by the Crown.

Statements by Crown Attorney and Counsel for the Defendant.

Coroner Declared Proceedings to be a Farce.

Orangeville despatch: The liberation on suspended sentence of Jackson, the laundryman, has been followed by the withdrawal of the charge against...

Police Magistrate Pattullo took his seat shortly after 2 o'clock. Counsel present were Crown Attorney McKay and Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, who appeared on behalf of the defendant.

After the information, which charged the defendant with having supplied with intent a noxious drug or other thing to Elizabeth Wells, had been read over, Douglass was asked what he had to say. Mr. Johnston said that, with all deference to His Worship and to the Crown, he refused on behalf of the defendant to plead or elect.

Mr. Johnston said that, with all deference to His Worship and to the Crown, he refused on behalf of the defendant to plead or elect. Jackson, according to the facts as ascertained so far, was the author of the wrong done originally, whatever might have been done subsequently.

Police Magistrate Pattullo, in dismissing the charge, made the following observations: "I think the defendant is making a very great mistake in not getting properly tried before a jury, and getting his reputation established. I want to end this thing. The defendant and those that are buffeted about in the Police Court here for nearly a year now and I want to be in a position to give an order. I think he should have pleaded not guilty and insisted on an open trial. It is going to leave this man in a bad position in the future. The British law assumes every person charged to be innocent until guilt is proven, but I am afraid in this case your fellow-citizens may not be so generous, and that this offence may prejudice you in after life. I shall dismiss the information, but I think it would have been far better for the defendant and for the community if the case had been disposed of and a clean sheet made."

Dr. J. Henry, the Coroner, rising in court, protested against the decision. "Cannot you call some witnesses?" he asked. "This thing is a perfect farce. I can give evidence."

Dr. J. Henry, the Coroner, rising in court, protested against the decision. "Cannot you call some witnesses?" he asked. "This thing is a perfect farce. I can give evidence."

The Magistrate—It simply means that his answers shall not incriminate himself.

Mr. Johnston—The Crown has invariably protected such a witness. The Crown, technically speaking can try this man to-day and put him in the box, and if he had not taken objection to the evidence given at the inquest they could use it against him. But the principle goes further. The Crown having used him, it has now practically become a rule of law that the Crown cannot prosecute him.

The Crown Attorney thought that the Crown having obtained the story and collateral facts in evidence, the practice had been to protect the giver of that evidence, but the Canada evidence act might affect that question in the future—that was if the Attorney-General should make any direction with regard to it.

Charge Was Dismissed. The Magistrate thought the "act ground urged by the Crown Attorney was the stronger one. It seemed to him that the precedent which had been referred to had been abrogated by the Canada evidence act. If it was not, then the act was of no value.

The Crown Attorney did not think that it should be regarded as abrogated until new orders were issued.

The Magistrate—What has a man got to offer for his protection? What is he being buffeted about in the Police Court here for nearly a year now and I want to be in a position to give an order. I think he should have pleaded not guilty and insisted on an open trial. It is going to leave this man in a bad position in the future. The British law assumes every person charged to be innocent until guilt is proven, but I am afraid in this case your fellow-citizens may not be so generous, and that this offence may prejudice you in after life. BRITISH AND FOREIGN

Prince Fushimi, with Earl Grey and party, sails for Canada to-day. The vicinity of Houston, Texas, has been swept by a series of cloudbursts and storms. Russia has refused to receive back the death of his son. The high court in April, 1906, awarded him $653.52 damages and costs. On the same day a writ of execution was issued against the chattels of Charles Gow and placed in the sheriff's hands for execution.

In the suit to-day by Hill against Charles Gow and C. J. Darling and W. J. Moore, executors of the will of John F. Gow, Hill contended that Charles Gow had conveyed his property immediately after judgment to his father for fraudulent purposes thus preventing him from collecting the claim.

Charles Gow's father, John Gow, died July 21, 1906. The morning after the funeral the son suddenly left the country, and relatives declared to-day that he had not been heard of since. The executors of the will maintained that they had no knowledge of facts that would tend to throw doubt on the validity of the conveyance. The case was dismissed with costs.

BOYS' REMARKABLE GRIT.

Sight of Seeing Arm Amputated Well Worth the Pain. Vienna, June 3.—A 14-year-old boy of the name of Tueck, astonished the prominent surgeon, Baron Von Eiselsberg, by the remarkable grit he displayed in undergoing an operation. Tueck's arm had to be amputated. He refused anaesthetics because he wanted to watch the operation. He resisted all the persuasions of the surgeon, who finally yielded. The boy did not wince and made no sound throughout, but watched the surgeon's work attentively. He said afterwards the sight was so interesting it was well worth the pain. Baron Von Eiselsberg recognized his pluck by giving him a watch.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE ILL.

Stricken With Paralysis in London, But is Improving. Toronto despatch: The news that Hon. Edward Blake, formerly Premier of Ontario, and now member for South Longford in the British House of Commons, had been seized in London with a sudden illness, will occasion widespread regret in Canada. Information reached Toronto on Wednesday that the hon. gentleman had been the victim of a paralytic stroke, and a message of inquiry was at once despatched to London by Mr. W. H. Blake, K. C. Fortunately the latest intelligence is reassuring, a reply having been received yesterday to the effect that Mr. Blake's condition had undergone a satisfactory improvement. Mr. Blake is 74 years of age.

A cablegram received by Professor Wrong, son-in-law of Mr. Blake, yesterday morning announced that the patient's condition was satisfactory.

POTATOES GO SOARING.

They Supplant Wheat in Interest in Winnipeg Market. Winnipeg, June 3.—Wheat is no longer king here. While all eyes have been turned upon it, the potato market has been very active, and almost as erratic and excited. For more than a week past deliveries have been small owing, no doubt, to the rush of spring work, which is usually over by this date. While receipts have been receding the demand has been increasing, and prices have gone up like sky-rockets. Local deliveries have brought 85 cents to 95 cents on the track, for even quite small quantities.

Several cars have been brought in from Minnesota, and these cost $1.05 on the track, and are sold in a jolting way at $1.15 to $1.25. Dealers state that they think the top of the market has probably been reached.

MERGER PROVED A SUCCESS.

Satisfactory Report of Dominion Textile Co.—Dividend Declared. Montreal, June 3.—The marked success that has attended the merger of the majority of the largest Canadian cotton companies was shown by the very satisfactory report submitted by the Dominion Textile Company at its annual meeting held today. The report showed the sales for the year to have been $8,507,012.81, being an increase of $376,008.85 in value over the previous year.

In view of the showing made for the past two years, and the bright outlook for the present year, the directors have declared a dividend of one and a quarter per cent. on the common stock of the company, payable on July 2, to shareholders of record on June 15.

CHINESE FAMINE.

A THOUSAND BABIES GET MILK FROM U. S. HELPERS. Shanghai, June 3.—The famine which has prevailed for many weeks, causing hundreds of deaths and great suffering has been broken. The crops are still thin, but the hot weather of the past month has been favorable to a good yield.

American gifts have supplied milk regularly to 1,000 babies at the Hsu Choo Fu Temple, while 200 more have nourishment occasionally. The children are left with their parents or relatives as the Chinese dread foreign orphanages.

What is left of the gift will be turned over to the red cross society to relieve individual cases of need to grapple with the next crisis.

HILL'S CASE DISMISSED.

Executors Say They Do Not Know Charles Gow's Whereabouts. A Peterboro' despatch: At the non-jury sittings of the high court here to-day, Chancellor Boyd presiding, an interesting case came up, arising out of the killing of young Tommy Hill, in the Dummer Township tragedy of August, 1905.

Gow was passing the Hill homestead at night when he fired three rifle shots, one of which killed young Hill. Gow was convicted of manslaughter and got three months in jail. Later Hill, father of the dead boy, entered action against Gow for damages for Holiday Excursionists Meet With Fatal Accident. Eight of Them Lost Both Their Legs.

Elyria, Ohio, June 3.—Four persons were killed and thirteen injured in a rear-end collision on the Cleveland & Southwestern traction road here early last evening. The front car was filled with holiday excursionists, nearly all of whom received more or less serious injuries. Within a few minutes ambulances and doctors were summoned and the wounded taken to the Elyria hospital, where two of the injured subsequently died. Eight of the remaining thirteen had both legs cut off, one lost one leg, and still another had both legs broken.

The dead: E. O'Donnell, Elyria, crockery merchant; H. M. Billings, Elyria, Grand Army veteran; W. C. Allen, Elyria, claim agent for the Lake Shore Railroad; Wm. Sale, son of Rev. J. P. Sale.

Miss Suppes, daughter of Max Suppes, manager of the steel plant here, had both legs cut off. Motorman Fraundt, who was in charge of the car which caused the wreck, was arrested to-night on a warrant sworn out by Prosecutor Stevens, charging him with manslaughter.

A QUEER FISH.

MAYOR AND CHIEF OF POLICE OF BOISE THREATENED. Boise, June 3.—Following the arrest and detention of a man named Carl H. Duncan on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, Mayor Haines to-day got an anonymous letter. Each word was carefully printed out. It read: "The man you have arrested is an honest workman. We ask that you release him at once. We also insist that you dismiss Chief of Police Francis. If not, we will find a way to get both you and the chief."

Duncan appears to be a socialistic lunatic. When arrested he had on the most wonderful set of false whiskers and eyebrows that the eye of man has ever gazed upon. They were excessively luxuriant. Moreover, they did not match his hair or his complexion. It was scarcely remarkable that such an outfit attracted the attention of the police.

The man had with him a bag containing a variety of things that costed the copper. They included a Colt automatic revolver, knife with a blade eight inches long, a pair of brass knuckles and a dozen skeleton keys.

Duncan also had a card showing that he was a member of Spokane Union of the Industrial Workers of the World, together with letters from Wade R. Parks.

WANTED DAMAGES IN FULL.

Miss Fallis Refused Offer in Breach of Promise Case. Toronto despatch: Miss Lizzie Fallis, who was awarded $1,000 against Police-man George H. Wilson for breach of promise, and instituted an action to set aside the settlement by Wilson of $2,500 in favor of his wife, Alice Emily Caton. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Mathes in the Non-Jury Assize Court yesterday.

It appears that Wilson conveyed his equity in a 50-acre farm in concession to Vaughan township, and settled, besides, $1,000 upon his wife. Miss Fallis claims that the settlement was made for the purpose of defeating her claim.

Mrs. Wilson was the only witness for the defence, and she stated that she would not have married Wilson had he not effected the settlement. She had heard that he had been in some difficulty, and would not leave her home until she settled the matter, but she refused.

"The arrangement was of the most business character," said Mr. Godfrey. "They had both got beyond the romantic stage, and love does not seem to have been a large factor in the matter."

Miss Fallis had been offered $900 by Wilson to settle the matter, but she refused. His Lordship remarked that he could not understand why such an offer was not accepted.

Mr. B. N. Davis, counsel for plaintiff, said he had advised acceptance, but plaintiff refused to act on his advice. Judgment was reserved.

SENSATION SPRUNG.

Bishop's Confraternity Something of a Surprise. Quebec, June 3.—Something of a sensation was caused in the Anglican Synod by the admission of Principal Gibbons of Bishop's College, Lenoirville, in answer to an inquiry that a chapter of the confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament existed amongst the students in divinity, of which the chaplain is Rev. F. G. Scott, the poet and rector of St. Matthew's Church, Quebec. All the professors, one after the other, declared they had nothing to do with the confraternity.

HEREDITARY SUICIDE.

Has Been in Scyre Family for Three Generations. Binghamton, N. Y., June 3.—John Scyre, aged 63 years, to-day committed suicide in his home by shooting himself through the mouth, going into the same pantry to commit the deed in which his father and grandfather both killed themselves by cutting their throats, many years ago. Mr. Scyre lived in Washington Hall, six miles west of this city, the oldest home in Broome county, in which his ancestors for several generations have lived.

Mr. Scyre suffered from a sunstroke several years ago, to which is ascribed his act.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from spitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Christ Before the Foundation of the World—Transparent Paradise—Blood of Christ Erases Sin and Pollution from All the Universe—The Glorious Excursion of the Church, His Bride, to Every World.

O, Righteous Father, I thank thee for the glory I had with thee before the world was!

Who is this Christ about whom the higher critics (the higher skeptics?) and some Christians are having a great controversy at the present time? We wish to draw the attention of the average reader to the great works of Christ outside the work of salvation.

Angels fell and are chained by Darkness. St. Jude tells, "It was because they kept not their proper habitation and left their own principality." Satan lied to them and they were impelled by a burning curiosity to follow him, as Eve did in Eden. But it is some relief and release to know that we have passed from under the Gloom Cloud—the Eclipse, the Dark Age—that Rayless Night of a Thousand Years. Its memory is a nightmare of horror, festooned with mental and moral ulcers, excrescences of vice, pollution and blackest crime.

Permit us here to premise that Science has dimly outlined 117 million suns and faintly apprehended 2,170,000,000 of worlds.

A VACANT THRONE IN HEAVEN

Jesus vacated His throne 33 years (33 minutes by celestial time), and completed the plan of salvation. On that vacant throne angels in heaven gazed in amazement. In the close of the crucifixion He said, "It is finished." Forty days after this He ascended again and sat down at the right hand of His Father's majesty, saying "All power in heaven and on earth is given unto me."

He will vacate His throne once more when He comes with all His holy angels for His regenerated believers—the true church—amid black clouds of flame, smoke and vapor, thunder and lightnings a hundred times more furious than the awful storm of divine wrath that fell on Sodom and Gomorrah, followed by the tread of a thousand earthquakes. A prophet says mountains will melt down like wax; another prophet says rivers will burn like oil. High in the sky above the dreadful storm and the world melting into chaos, the Son of Man has gathered all nations. To those on his right hand He says welcome into Paradise; then the angels robe and crown them and place a golden harp in their hands; then rises up a shout of victory, a hallelujah of triumph, and then bursts a chorus of glory to the Son of Man from a host that no man can number. He turns to those on His left and, in a voice of thunder, says "Depart from me, you who are scoffers of myself, rejectors of my Father's love." Then from the billions of the lost, as burning remorse stings them to despair, there comes an awful response to the dying wail of Christ on the cross, "O, Righteous Lord, Thou hast cast us off forever." Pursued by an irresistible force, they plunge into that "utter and outer" where Christ so darkness tells us there will ever be weeping and wailing at the sad memory of what might have been—they remember the beauty and glory of the redeemed and the royal welcome and grand reception, an eternal home in the paradise of His love. Satan and his duped billions are beyond the limit of creation, beyond the ultima thule, in a darkness so intense and distant that the combined illumination of a hundred and seventeen millions of glorious suns never shot to it one cheering ray.

Reader, can you afford to willfully neglect His love and spend an eternity in such company, in such a place? The immediate work is completed—the renovation and celestialization of our planet finished—in the oncoming heavenly state the New Jerusalem descends to abide forever, the capital of the new earth (for Christ has exterminated every stain from the polluted universe)—the din of battle is forever hushed—then shouts of victory once more will ring through one billion one hundred and seventy million glorious celestial worlds. O, joy unutterable! O, glory ineffable! O, beauty inexpressible! "Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard." He says "let no man take your crown." There are fascinations and enchantments all around us.

ANOTHER VACANT THRONE

Reader, when you are permitted to see heaven you will see a lofty grand and very beautiful throne—vacant! That was Azazel's throne. He was once one of the most ancient beautiful and powerful of the seraphs—his great beauty partly caused his downfall. He was probably outside the inner circle of Deity, one of the wisest beings in the universe. His name when he fell was changed to Satan; his common names are well known—the dragon, the old serpent, the Devil. He had a conflict with Christ nineteen hundred years ago, which ended in the death of Christ. The time is nearly due for the second conflict. This will take place in the presence of the Lord's bride, the resurrected Church. This "lovely throne may remain vacant; if so, what a monument and monitor of what a brilliant archangel lost by disobeying! No matter what side you are on you will be face to face with Christ and Satan. Then you may compare them.

Oceans of human blood can never wash out one sin. The Son of God died for me and He daily blots out every charge in the Day Book against me and erases the total in the Ledger, wrote Redemption on my heart and my name on a bright fair page in the Book of Life. He died for everyone's sins—can you receive it, will you believe it, how did He achieve it?

Expert statisticians state that up to date there has been on our globe a population of 53 billions or 53 thousand millions. And if Christ suffered the extreme penalty of the law to save one person, then to save all His sufferings must have been intensified 53 billion times more than any mortal can endure. Reader, He endured all this disgrace, scandal and awful pain that He might save you from what is more to be dreaded than ten thousand deaths, and this is how He achieved it.

The denouement in the final act and last scene was the crucifixion. When the awful agony was near finished, Satan, Death, and a countless host of fallen angels pressed down on Him in fiendish scorn, and His loving father turned His face from Him. O, how could He look on Him—the Father suffered with the Son, they are one. Then as He (Christ) descended lower and still lower into the bottomless abyss of wrath and gloom, He cried in a loud voice, a great moaning wail of agony,—"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"—expiring.

This thought suggests itself: at that instant something like a transparency arched across the celestial plains of the universe—

"THE SON OF GOD IS DEAD"

murdered by Satan, once a foremost, most arch-angel—a glorious morning star."

That wail echoed and re-echoed across the mightiest chasms that divide the inter-stellar fields of space—on and on into the deepest celestial recesses of the universe—and was reflected from every sun swifter than its own light to all its planets or worlds, till every inhabitant in the universe heard a strange voice and felt a thrill of awe, which swept past them with lightning speed.

And why? Because, St. John says, all things were made by Him and without him was not anything made that was made. And St. Paul says all things exist, subsist, and consist in Him—from the eagle that soars far above his eyrie in the tempest wreathed mountain-tops to the tiny rainbow humming-bird that hums and sips nectar from flower to flower—from the minnow to the huge leviathan that plows the phosphorescent foam-crested wave—from the charming mammoth flower down to the invisible bloom. He tossed the mountain peaks above the clouds, the valleys were depressed under His feet, and He spread out vast plains and robed them with immense forests, interlaced, interwoven with convoluted vines, decorated with a thousand varieties of flowers and luscious fruits—from our little moon up to the grandest and most glorious sun which He bowled from His hand in their measureless orbits, imparting an unvarying velocity that leaves a cannon ball behind and whirl on in their eternal obedience.

But the loftiest and by far the greatest and grandest work He does is when he takes a soul, a mind, a spirit lying in sublime ruins, like some half-buried ancient marble colonnaded temple, takes it, regenerates it, recreates it, restores it in marvellous splendor fit for Him to dwell in. Mystery of mysteries! "Ye are the temple of the Lord," says Paul.

This display of wisdom, skill and love cost Him His life. He gave His Life to save ME from eternal death. We repeat, Christ made all things, all creation is ever in sympathy with the Creator.

The Father dwells in light that cannot be approached. The highest seraph in heaven dare not attempt to enter that light.—Christ alone can enter and go into the very bosom of the Father, even as Moses talked with Christ on Mount Sinai.

Many of the curious questions asked by higher critics will be answered when Christ may sometime move the celestialized earth and the New Jerusalem on a Grand Excursion to different and distant parts of the Universe, to show the many billions of blood-washed, redeemed—His Church, His Bible—the greatness of His Father's empire. We shall then be endowed with spirit vision—our eyes will be ten thousand times more penetrating and searching than the most powerful telescope in the hand of the greatest astronomer.

Christ says, "Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world and the evil eye, I am heir to all things, and by faith in my blood, sufferings and death I make you joint heirs with me in glory, and he that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death, and I will in no case blot his name out of the Book of Life."

Our glorious future, what a thrill of delight to contemplate! We will love, obey and wait patiently for the grand consummation—so near. The prophet Zechariah says, "When He comes His feet shall stand on Mount Olivet."

On the excursions referred to we will pass blazing suns, through glittering spheres, leaving behind us with the velocity of light millions of glorious rolling worlds, plunging across immense chasms between suns a hundred million miles deep and wide. O, the enchanting sublimity of the charming celestial scenery! These many thousand millions of the blood-washed are a heaven-taught band of melody, and as they arrive at and depart from scintillating suns a rhythm of music, praise and thanksgiving to the Hero of the Ages, our Great Conductor, greater than a thousand thunders and a thousand Niagaras combined, ever rolling on in enchanting sweetness from constellation to constellation across the universe. Each one of the many billions of the redeemed will radiate more brilliancy than a sun with its world's and satellites. The combined blazing refulence and flashing beauty of the iridescence of many billions spirit bodies will crystallize this globe (on which is the Jeweled City), rendering it perfectly transparent. There will be a halo of sapphire, amethyst and golden glory round about His throne, marvellous in its rapidly changing loveliness.

The immensity of the universe includes three heavens—starry, crystalline, empyrean. It has been ascertained that there are stars as distant as 198,345,600,000,000 miles from the earth. The great centre around which all stars or suns revolve must be double or more than distance from us. God is the source of light and dwells in light, unapproachable. The velocity of light is 190,000 miles per second, or 12,000,000 miles per minute. The thunder is His voice calling us into His audience chamber to commune with Him in contemplation.

In central earth He has an immense laboratory in which he stores up for the use of man many mighty forces.

The Son of God is the sun that illuminates the universe. Sometime, in eternity past, Christ said, "Let there be light," and it was. He made all light—mental, moral and physical.

The beaming glory and intense radiance of this crystalline body, as it conveys the glorified redeemed through the universe, is ecstasy itself. Angels fell when forbidden to see other parts of the creation. Curiosity enchanted them to leave their own principality, never to return. No wonder, when highly favored Paul was elevated to the third heaven, or degree of light, he was so bewildered that he could never decide whether his body was with him or not. The redeemed get this entrancing joy by faith, which was denied to angels.

A few of the clear-headed scholars of the day firmly believe we are living in a period called the time of the end of the Gentile dispensation, closing with the next generation. It occurs to me when the X-rays of the majesty of Christ fall on the willful, unregenerate men and women, young and old—even in Athens—who have listened to repeated warnings, with tears, from noble and faithful ministers which that village has long been favored with—will cry out in an agony of remorse, "O, rocks and mountains, fall on us—hide us from the face of Him who sits on the throne."

O, reader, why miss the glorious views revealed from the hill tops, tipped with amber and gold, echoing seraphic songs, lost in thrilling chords of love?

REMARKABLE INVENTION FOR THE CULTURE OF HAIR

THE EVANS VACUUM CAP is a practical invention constructed on scientific and hygienic principles by the simple means of which a free and normal circulation is restored throughout the scalp. The minute blood vessels are gently stimulated to activity, thus allowing the food supply which can only be derived from the blood, to be carried to the hair roots, the effects of which are quickly seen in a healthy, vigorous growth of hair. There is no rubbing, and as no drugs or chemicals of whatsoever kind are employed there is nothing to cause irritation. It is only necessary to wear the Cap three or four minutes daily.

60 DAYS' FREE TRIAL! The Company's Guarantee

An EVANS VACUUM CAP will be sent you for sixty days' free trial. If you do not see a gradual development of a new growth of hair, and are not convinced that the Cap will completely restore your hair, you are at liberty to return the Cap with no expense whatever to yourself. It is requested, as an evidence of good faith, that the price of the Cap be deposited with the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit Company of London, the largest financial and business institution of the kind in the world, who will issue a receipt guaranteeing that the money will be returned in full, on demand without questions or comment, at any time during the trial period.

The eminent Dr. I. N. LOVE, in his address to the Medical Board on the subject of Alopecia (loss of hair) stated that if a means could be devised to bring nutrition to the hair follicles (hair roots), without resorting to any irritating process, the problem of hair growth would be solved. Letter on when the EVANS VACUUM CAP was submitted to him for inspection, he remarked that the Cap would fulfil and confirm in practice the observations he had previously made before the Medical Board.

Dr. W. MOORE, referring to the invention says that the principle upon which the Evans Vacuum Cap is founded is absolutely correct and indisputable.

An illustrated and descriptive book of the Evans Vacuum Cap will be sent, post free, on application.

Zutoo

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

LESSON XIII—JUNE 30, 1907.

Temperance Lesson.—I. Cor. 10: 23-33.

Commentary.—In verses 14-22 Paul resumes the discussion from chapter 8:13 touching the eating of meats which had been offered in sacrifice to idols.

1. The duty of living for others (vs. 23, 24).

23. All things are lawful—"I may lawfully eat all kinds of food, but all are not expedient. It would not be becoming in me to eat of all, because I should by this offend and grieve many weak minds."

24. "Though it may be admitted that it is strictly lawful to eat meats offered to idols, yet there are strong reasons why it is inexpedient, and those reasons ought to have the binding force of law.—Barnes, not expedient.—And so, being unprofitable and injurious, may thereby become unlawful.—Whedon, edify not.—All things do not tend to build up the cause of Christ, and therefore are not expedient. 24. his own.—Let no man consult his own happiness, pleasure or convenience, but let him ask what will be for the good of others."

25. "No rule is laid down about eating or not eating any kind of food as a matter of importance in itself. With such things the gospel has no concern. What Paul does prescribe relates to the effect of our conduct upon others.—Cam. Bib. 'Let every man live not for himself, but for every part of the great body, which he is surrounded by.'—Clarke, another's wealth.—'But each his neighbor's good.'—R. V. This will cause true happiness."

II. The duty of guarding the weak (vs. 25-30).

25. is sold.—The meats of idol sacrifices were often exposed to sale in the markets, especially by the priests when they had on hand a surplus. To the Christian this was as lawful as any other meat.—Whedon, shambles.—The meat stalls in the market, asking no question.—The Jews were vexed with innumerable scruples with respect to their eating and were accustomed to ask many questions about their food, as to where it was obtained, how prepared, etc.; all these scruples asking no question of the gospel abolitionist.

26. earth is the Lord's.—See Psa. 24:1. This meat belongs to the Lord and is made for man's use. "It does not belong to idol even though it has been offered to idol, it may therefore be partaken of as God's gift."

27. bid... feast.—This refers to a feast in a private house. In verses 14-22 the apostle severely rebukes the practice of the apostle eating in heathen temples, beating at feasts in idolatrous houses, causing this was a pagan friend invite a worshiper.

28. If a pagan friend invite a worshiper, to his home to dine he should eat what is set before him without vexing his host with questions about his food. But there is nothing about a person commanded which would require a person to eat or drink which is harmful.

29. Temperance instruction.—There are other things that we should shun as well as alcoholic drinks. Tobacco contains an active poison, which injuriously affects the one using it. It tends to impair the eyesight; it weakens the action of the nervous system. The tobacco habit once formed is difficult to break, but it can be broken. The safe way to deal with this thing is to let it alone. It is a sin to weaken and to let the body with tobacco habit, was very much displeased when anything was said from the pulpit against it, and sometimes expressed his displeasure by leaving the church service.

30. At last he became converted and gave him of the appetite for it entirely. This is not a solitary case. While we rejoice that God will in mercy bring deliverance from the chains of evil habit, we insist that it is much better never to learn or practise the use of the unclean thing.

31. There are drugs such as opium and cocaine that have the quality of enslaving those who use them for some time. Because by their use man is for a time relieved, or there is a feeling of buoyancy, the habit is formed with all its evil results. The mind and body are both affected, and the moral nature is weakened. We must beware of the use of these drugs, as we value our health, judgment and freedom.

32. The liquor traffic is the greatest evil of this age. Alcohol is the enemy of man. It is destructive of life. It preserves dead bodies, but it kills living ones. When taken into the system, it attacks the brain and nerve tissues, causing impaired vision, uncontrolled moods, and senseless words and actions. The delicate tissues of the body become inflamed and incapable of performing their proper functions. Long-continued use of alcoholic drink brings weakness, disease and death.

33. As a natural result the purse is unfavorably affected. Poverty; useless poverty, follows the trail of the awful traffic. The slave to drink does not regard the value of money, only as it procures what his appetite craves. Houses, farms, mills, stores, clothes, have gone for drink, and poor-houses overflow because of it.

34. It is bad enough that poverty, disease and death result from intemperance, but these are only a part. The family of the drunkard suffers. The father, the mother, the brother, the sister, the wife, the husband, the son, the daughter are needlessly pained. Want, disgrace, and sometimes death are endured because a member of the family is a drunkard.

35. Beyond all this is the loss of the soul. God's word tells us that drunkards do not go to heaven. Men capable of accomplishing great things for God and humanity are losing their own souls through drink.

36. Can we do less than pray for the overthrow of the traffic and vote for its annihilation?—D. S. W.

28. Say unto you.—That is, if one of your fellow guests should display scruples of conscience, or a teacher should be likely to draw the inference that you approved of idol worship, this altogether alters the case. You are no longer simply eating with thankfulness the food set before you as the gift of God, but the question of idolatrous worship is now introduced. Your conduct may lead another to suppose that you regarded participation in the worship of idols as permissible to a Christian.—Cam. Bib. 28. For why, etc.—This verse and the next are a little obscure. The meaning seems to be that "no man has a right to interfere with the liberty enjoyed by another, save so far as his own conscience and conscientious convictions are likely to be affected thereby." We must guard the point of yielding to another's conscience, for we may by obeying a man's false conscience confirm his self-conceit or establish a false morality. 30. If I by grace—"If I partake with thankfulness"—R. V.

III. The correct rule of conduct (vs. 31, 32).

31. Eat and drink—"The glory of God is to be the end of all our actions. In themselves eating and drinking are things indifferent, but there are circumstances in which they may be matters of the highest importance. In our own day, for instance, the question of eating or abstaining from intoxicating liquors is one which ought to be dealt with on the same principles which Paul has laid down in this chapter. Such a question should be decided on one ground alone, namely, whether by using them or abstaining from them we shall best promote the glory of God."—Lias. Do all—"This requires that we should plan and order our whole life in accordance with God's law." Glory of God—"To live to God's glory should be the high aim of every individual. 'This is a sufficient rule to regulate every man's conscience and practice on all different things where there are no express commands or prohibitions.'—Clarke."

32. Give none offence.—See R. V. "Though you may be no better or worse for eating meat or not eating, yet, if your conduct injures others and leads them into sin, you should abstain entirely. It is far more important that your brother should not be led into sin than that you should partake of meat which you acknowledge is in itself of no importance." This is a general principle which should regulate Christian conduct at all times. Though you are delivered from superstitious notions, it is contrary to the spirit of love to hinder another who is not yet so enlightened. You should not be a stumbling block—a means of confusion which might lead to the overthrow of faith.—Jews—"The apostle ever avoided offence to his kinsmen after the flesh." Gentiles—"Crossing none of their prejudices where God's law does not require it."

33. Please all men.—He did this so far as he could rightly. May be saved.—His main object was to seek the salvation of all men. This was the end in view. Salvation enables men to set aside their own ways in order to uplift others. Strife over non-essentials destroys rather than builds up the work of God.

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

"By love serve one another" (Gal. 5: 13). William Scott, the Vermont boy, the sleeping sentinel, saved by Lincoln from being shot, told the story thus: "Mr. Lincoln was very gentle. He said, 'You are not going to be shot to-morrow. I am going to trust you and send you back to your regiment. I have come from Washington, and I want to know if you are going to pay my bill.' There was a big lump in my throat, I could scarcely speak. But I managed to say, 'There is the bounty in the savings bank.' Then Mr. Lincoln looked into my face and said: 'My bill is a large one. Your bounty cannot pay it. If from this day you do your duty then my debt will be paid.' I said I would do it, and with God's help I will."

"If any man say, 'This is offered in sacrifice to idols eat not for his sake' (v. 28). 'Take heed lest by any means your liberty be lost by becoming a stumbling block to them that are weak' 1. Cor. 8: 9. "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended or is made weak" (Rom. 14: 21). Love to our neighbor is linked with love to God. "Beloved, let us love one another for love is of God.... He that loveth not knoweth not God.... If any man say, I love God and hateth his brother, he is a liar" (1 John 4: 7, 8, 20). Let us measure our love to others is the measure of our love to God. "No man truly loves God who does not love his fellow-men, and no one loves his fellow-men in the highest sense who does not love God."

Alcohol is the curse of the world. It "has taken the glow of health from the cheek and placed there the hue of the wine-cup; taken the luster from the eye and made it dim and bloodshot; taken vitality from the blood and filled it with seeds of disease and death; entered the brain, the temple of thought; dethroned reason and made it reel with folly; taken intelligence from the eye and exchanged it for the stupid stare of idiocy; taken beauty from the face and left it ill-shaped and hoated; taken firmness and elasticity from the steps and made them faltering and treacherous; taken vigor from the arm and left weakness; bribed the tongue to utter madness and cursing."

Alcohol deadens the sensibilities and changes love to cruelty. A reporter tells of the most revolting sight he ever saw: a child became too intoxicated to stand, even in a liquor saloon—a father giving his three-year-old child liquor. The child frequently reeled and fell. It had a drunken leer on its face like that of a common inebriate. Although too much under the influence to stand up, the father kept giving it liquor, while a stupid crowd stood and giggled as though it was exceedingly comical.

1. Take heed, rumseller, lest by any means this liberty of yours, given by the votes of a Christian (?) people, become a stumbling block to them that are weak. A child lay dying. Her father had struck her a blow on the spine while insane from the influence of rum. Among those who gathered by her bedside in the excitement was the rumseller who had dealt out the poison to the father who loved his child. He drew near the death-bed, and heard a wailing, stroking the child's beautiful face, saying, "That blow killed her." The child caught the whisper, and raising her eyes to the rumseller's face, said, "You did it," and died.

11. Take heed, Rome in authority, lest you, having become mad with wine and sweet cider and brandy sauce upon your table, become a stumbling-block to them that are weak. A Boston clergyman gave a party on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding day. Wine was served. One gentleman looked on in surprise, at first declined the wine, then drank more than all the rest. He drank again that night at home. In a week he was a ditch drunkard. In a month he was dismissed from the church where he had been a valued member for seven years. He had been dispirited in early life. The temptation of that evening proved too strong for him. His own pastor ruined him.

PRISONERS TORTURED BY RUSSIAN POLICE.

The Lower House Will Appeal to the Czar, Not Satisfied With Explanation.

St. Petersburg, June 3.—The Lower House of Parliament yesterday declined as unsatisfactory the explanations made by the Government in the matter of tortures inflicted upon prisoners at Riga and consequently the affair will be submitted to the Emperor.

In the course of the debate the Minister of Justice denied that officials of his department had taken any part in inflicting the tortures, as had been charged, and declared that the information of the Duma Committee in this respect was absolutely untrue.

M. Makaroff, Assistant Minister of the Interior, then denied that the police had been guilty of inflicting tortures. He said a preliminary inquiry had shown that in some cases policemen had struck prisoners with their fists, but these blows were never severe. A total of forty-two police officials had been arraigned on charges. He did not wish to justify their conduct, but under the existing abominable conditions the actions of the police might be excused by the cruelty of the revolutionaries. It could not be expected that the police would remain calm when more than one thousand of their comrades had been killed or wounded in the Baltic Provinces alone.

Numerous resolutions for and against the Government having been requested, the House finally adopted a resolution declaring the explanations of the Government to be unsatisfactory.

The debate on the answer of the Government to the interpellation concerning the mutiny in the prison at Riga, April 13, when seven mutineers were killed and twelve wounded, was then continued. This matter last came up in the House on April 23.

The Minister of Justice, M. Chologzovitch denied that medieval tortures had been inflicted on the mutineers, but admitted they had been beaten with Cossack whips and rubber sticks.

NO MORE "UNION" BEER TO BE MANUFACTURED IN CHICAGO.

Brewery Workers' Union Disciplined by the American Federation of Labor.

Chicago, June 3.—The last barrel of "union" beer in Chicago and the whole country, according to an edict of the American Federation of Labor, will be manufactured to-day. At midnight the Brewery Workers' Union will cease to exist in the eyes of the national labor leaders, and the two million organized workmen in the United States will be asked "to get on the water wagon" or use some other kind of beverage.

The brewery employees have rebelled against President Gompers and the National Labor Executive Council, and they are to be disciplined. The method adopted is that of expulsion.

Secretary Kemper, of the local union, said the 3,000 brewery workers in Chicago will go on brewing beer whether the American Federation of Labor regards it officially as a "union" product or not.

The trouble has been growing for several years. Two months ago the National Labor Council met in Washington and gave the Brewery Workers' Union until June 1 to comply with an order to oust all engineers, firemen and teamsters from its organization. These men were under the protection of the union, which was in conflict with the principle of trade autonomy appointed by the Federation. The brewery employees membership favored assistance to the order, which brought about the present situation.

THE DEATH SENTENCE PASSED ON ITALIAN BY JUDGE TEETZEL TO-DAY.

Parry Sound despatch: Marano, the Italian companion of Capelle in the Dow murder case, was found guilty of the murder of Angus McLeod, one of those who interfered with the Italians in the row at McCormack's on Christmas Day. At the close of the sittings of the assizes to-day, Mr. Justice Teetzel pronounced the sentence of death in the case of Capelle, the execution to take place at Parry Sound, August 1st.

Marano gets three years in the Penitentiary. A boy named Vankoughnet, said to be about 14 years of age, was sentenced to jail for three months and two administrations of the lash for indecent assault.

FIRE AT A DANCE. MANY HURT JUMPING FROM WINDOWS—ONE MAN DEAD.

Montreal, Que., June 3.—A sensational fire took place early this morning during the progress of a dance in a hall in the east end in which a number of people were compelled to jump from a third storey window, a dozen of them being more or less seriously injured. Some of them probably fatally. The hall is in the top floor of a building a few doors east of the City Hall in Notre Dame street. The dancers became panic-stricken by the rush of smoke and of flames and started jumping from the windows before the firemen arrived. One man had both legs broken and another his spine injured. The firemen rescued many by means of ladders. The fire did not amount to much and was quickly extinguished.

Later report: Arthur Dupirel, a butcher, has succumbed to the injuries sustained by jumping from the dance hall.

Hogs.—Twenty-four hundred hogs were bought by Mr. Harris at $7.10 for selects, and $6.85 for lights and fats.

Bradstreet's Trade Review.

Montreal.—Weather conditions here during the past week have not improved to such an extent as to have much influence upon general business. Wholesale sales are still shipping goods ordered early in the season. The wholesale grocery trade is brisk and heavy shipments of goods are being made. Tea, sugars and dried fruits continue firm. The movement in all lines of hardware is heavy. Building operations have not been seriously affected by strikes. For all lines of smaller hardware the demand is exceedingly active in all parts of the country. For iron and steel and for the heavy metals generally the demand is equally active and prices are firm. Railway materials and construction steel are also firm in tone and supplies are not generally equal to the demand. Country retail trade is moderately active. Collections from most districts are fair. Money is very firm and scarce. Produce is coming forward well. Receipts of outer are fairly large, but the home demand is taking care of all offering.

Toronto.—All lines of retail and wholesale trade here are moving fairly well. Unseasonable weather still interferes with the spring re-order trade in dry goods, but all other branches of business are active. In dry goods there is still a scarcity of dry goods textiles and orders placed months ago are now being filled. Values all round hold firm. A good volume of business is being done on account of fall orders are heavy and are well distributed. Manufacturers of ready-made clothing report the business the heaviest known. Notwithstanding the fact that prices are higher in all lines orders for both men and women's wear are heavy and the quality of the buying is worthy of note. Orders for groceries are good, particularly from Western Canada. A heavy trade is also moving in hardware. There has been but little improvement in collections during the past week.

Winnipeg.—More seasonable weather in this part of the country has had a good effect upon trade. Dry goods stocks are moving better and there is a brighter tone to general business. A big factor to be noted is the general improvement in transportation which is gradually and steadily being relieved. Merchants are experiencing less difficulty in receiving goods. The number of immigrants pouring into this country is much greater than in any previous year. Seeding has shown some improvement during the past week. Provincial industries are more active and there is now a fairly brisk demand for wholesale lines. Collections are fair to good. In all settled parts of the province there is great activity in real estate and values are advancing. Four prices have advanced twenty cents per barrel and grain prices are tending higher. Groceries are very active following an improved demand from the interior. Sugars are higher. The demand for all lines of hardware is brisk and prices are firm.

Quebec.—Trade while showing slight improvement, climatic conditions are not favorable and the demand as a rule is for immediate wants. City retail trade is much about the same. Collections are generally fair. Building trades are active which is usual at this season. The permits issued during the past month although numerous, few are for buildings to exceed $4,000.

London.—Business has been considerably affected by the late spring. Dry goods houses report the demand for summer lines light. Local industries are active. The cigar-making industry is one of the busiest here. This branch of industry has shown great growth during the past few years.

40,000 MINERS MAY STRIKE.

Operators in Pittsburg District Deliver Ultimatum to Owners.

Object to New Automatic Labor-saving Device.

New York, June 3.—A strike of at least 40,000 coal miners in the Pittsburg district is looked for, beginning Saturday morning, and unless the operators and workmen of the United Mine Workers of America come to a compromise to-morrow the strike will surely occur, as the ultimatum has been sent to the operators that unless the new automatic steam or shaker dumps lately introduced at the mines of the district are taken out, not a pound of coal will be mined after Friday night. In reply, the operators, headed by Francis L. Robbins, president of the soft coal trust, and whose mines have been equipped with the new machinery, have sent word to the mine workers to go softly, that if a strike should be declared and the mines forced to shut down, they will never be reopened with the same workmen, nor will any of the striking workmen ever be allowed to work in any of the mines here again. Both sides seem ready for a strike and there is now every indication that it will come, and if so, it will be a long struggle, for preparations have been going on for some years for this test of strength.

SAVED BY HALF-DOLLAR.

Bullet Fired at John Dunn Struck the Coin.

New York, June 3.—The Herald has received the following despatch from Meriden, Conn.: John Dunn is alive to-day only because he was fortunate enough to have a half dollar in his waistcoat pocket yesterday when Clark Howes tried to shoot him.

One of five bullets fired by Howes struck the coin and prevented what undoubtedly would have been a fatal wound. Another entered Dunn's left leg at the knee and lamed him so that he had to be taken to the Hartford Hospital. Howes is in jail on a charge of attempted murder, and all Tolland County is excited about the shooting, which was of the frontier character.

Dunn had accused Howes of insulting his wife by too pronounced attentions in the street, and yesterday the men met in the postoffice. Without a word Howes drew a revolver and fired repeatedly. Several women who were in the place fainted and the men fled, but Miss H. Everleene West, a teacher, who was the first to see the shooting, urged the men to save Dunn while his enemy was still shooting. They rushed upon Howes in a body and held him until policemen arrived.

WASHINGTON WARNED ABOUT PERSECUTION OF JAPS.

Tokio, June 3.—The Asahi this morning, in its leader, emphasizes, in carefully guarded words, its opinion of the absence of sincerity on the part of San Francisco municipal officials to protect the treaty rights of Japanese residents and insists on the necessity of approaching the Washington Government with a determination that decided measures be taken to terminate the source of persecution against Japanese citizens.

The Asahi also refers with appreciation to the warm reception of General Kuroki in America, and regrets that the recurrence of the San Francisco incidents has blurred the cordial relations of both nations.

COW RUNS AMUCK.

Injures Boy and a Girl and Gores a Horse.

An Exeter despatch: While three hundred children were dispersing from school cov, being led by a young man, got enraged and charged into the crowd. It carried one boy for a distance on both hands and threw him to the ground, and then pinned a 12-year old girl named Welch to a fence. The horse, however, escaped her body, but she had a leg broken.

A horse was slightly gored before the cow was lassoed.

Bu-Ju
The Gentle Kidney Pill

Do you live near Picton, Ont., or know anyone who does? Then find out for yourself how Mr. Mills feels about Bu-Ju. Is it any wonder he thinks Bu-Ju is a life-saver?

"I have used Bu-Ju with great benefit to myself, and cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. I think it is the best remedy made."
JAMES MILLS.

After you have tried Bu-Ju, seen how quickly it relieves the pain, and how completely it cures you of Rheumatism, you will gladly recommend Bu-Ju to your friends, just as Mrs. Kidd, of Young's Point, Ont., does:

"I have found Bu-Ju very beneficial for Rheumatism. They are certainly a blessing. My husband is also receiving great benefit from Bu-Ju. He has had great pain in the small of his back, but is so much better now."
MRS. A. C. KIDD.

Mr. J. H. Cairncross, of Toronto, urges everyone to give Bu-Ju a fair trial. In a signed statement he says, after telling how Bu-Ju cured him:

"In my own case I had taken three boxes before I felt I was receiving any benefit."
