Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Binkshoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poison generated in the intestines."

When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons being on early old age and premature death. 16 to 30 drops of "Steg's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.

The Uses of Adversity.

A difficult and taxing job that must be done, a long and arduous way over which one must travel, responsibilities that try and burden and weary almost beyond endurance—these are not all to be set down as afflictions to be escaped from and avoided in all legitimate ways.

Through all the centuries of human history there has not been found any way of avoiding strong, brave, patriotic men and women save by their doing hard jobs and going long, rough journeys, and carrying responsible heavy loads. To that end these things must be for us often, it is definitely shut a door of providence in our own face, a door that would have opened up for us something altogether satisfying and worth while. Of course, hard work, but it helps to make fibres and muscles, both of body and soul. Of course, care and anxiety wear one down a little but these may be the very things out of which a man will build up in his own life peace and patience, and endurance and courage, than which, surely, there can be nothing finer or more splendid.

Running and Breathing.

It is hard to breathe after running, because your body requires more blood in circulation. The efforts of your heart, brain and lungs make breathing difficult. Your breath to take air into the lungs, where the blood which has once been through the arteries and comes back on its return trip to the heart, is exposed to the air in the lung before going back into the heart. The air which we take into our lungs purifies the once used blood and makes it into good blood again.

When you run, the heart pumps blood into your arteries faster to enable you to run, we are told by the Book of Wisdom. Thus the arteries send much more blood back to the heart through the veins, and this must be purified by the lungs before being back into the heart. To attend to purifying this extra amount of spoiled blood, the lungs need more air, and thus you are made to breathe in more air for the purpose.

Unless you are in good training, your wind is in poor condition, as we say—it is almost impossible for you to supply the lungs with enough air for the purpose, but whether you can do it or not the lungs call upon you for more air and cause you to try to get it, and that is what makes you get out of breath.

Sleepless Nights With Eczema.

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., states:—After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

"Do you know how rare times when it is positively terrifying to enter a church," observed a lady to the Bishop of Lincoln at a dinner party.

"That cannot be madam," returned the bishop; "pray explain."

"Why," said the lady, "it is when there is a canon at the reading desk, a big gun in the pulpit, when the bishop is charging his clergy, the choir murdering the organist and the organist trying to drown the choir."

In Zealand the women fill their mouths with water to keep silent if the theory is all right.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

News of N. J.—For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and put up with it for a long time. I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my personal opinion to publish this letter.—Miss Kelly, 478 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

For You and Me.

(By Wall M. son)

You and me the brave boys go to see a grim and deadly foe, to meet in darkness, cold and snow for good-byes, to suffer under frightful conditions, for you and me. They leave the world and peaceful grins; they go to the country's need to stand, and see their sleeping girls behind, for you and me. We are too old, too fat, to climb the warlike Prussians, and so our boys must go to the front for you and me. In pairs, in files, in lines, I hope each one of them survives; but if they die they give their lives for you and me. That we may count in peace on hand, the packages in bank vaults stored, our fine young men take up the sword, for you and me. That foreign tyrants may be foiled, that our bright flag may be unsoiled, through weary marches men have toiled for you and me. That we may face the world and cry "Our country's honor stacks up high," go forth to fight and die, for you and me. For you and me: Are we so small that we would dodge the country's call to help the boys who fight and fall for you and me? Oh, let us buy nice bonds and show just what we think about the foe, about the soldier boys who go, for you and me.

Specific For Bronchitis.

The turpentine used in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is not the ordinary commercial article, which is little used because of the unpleasantness of its taste, but is specially extracted from balsamic and spruce gum and so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be at the same time pleasant to use and wonderfully effective in the cure of affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Lord Milner's Hint.

Lord Milner seldom speaks without saying something worthy of attention. His recent hint that the British Allies have spent too much time discussing peace terms while the war has yet to be won is good practice.

The peace talks thus far has been largely Germany's game to create dissension among the entente nations, or to deceive the people of the Central countries. When we have achieved victory we can deal with peace terms more intelligently than at present and in Germany we will not need to prepare peace terms. They will present to us ready made as with Russia and Rumania.

But somebody has to get licked before there can be peace and our utmost effort must now be given to see that this somebody is the Kaiser.

Shipbuilding in Canada.

Through the Imperial Munitions Board since March 1, 1917, contracts have been let in Canada for 46 wood ships with a total tonnage of 128, 000 representing $24,000,000 and for 43 steel ships, totalling 21,300 tons, worth $40,000,000 or a total value of $64,000,000. The value of the contracts are by provinces as follows: Nova Scotia, $1,340,000; New Brunswick, $1,000,000; Quebec, $1,700,000; Ontario, $19,540,000; British Columbia, $3,434,000. Already four steel ships are completed and four wood ships are launched. All the yards in Canada are busy and new yards have been opened at Wexford, Vancouver and Toronto. It is computed that employment is given to 25,000 men. If the steel was produced in this country, 25,000 more men would be employed. The war will have started the shipbuilding industry in Canada.

A special constable in a suburb of Boston relieved his mate at midnight, and to his astonishment found him in most deplorable condition. Both his eyes were in mourning, his nose was battered, his mouth was swollen, and his clothing showed further testimony of a terrific combat.

"Why," said the relieving officer of the law "you're in a terrible state. You're beaten up awfully. You're all no mistake. What's up?"

"You know that pretty little girl that lives down at the end of the street outside was killed at Gallipoli?"

"Yes."

"Well, she ain't."

"Father and son went for a stroll one evening. As they passed a window of her cousin's they turned to look at her and said lovingly: 'I wish you'd say me some ice cream, father. I do feel warm.'"

"His father gazed at him a few seconds in mild surprise, and then exclaimed:

"No, no, they, my boy, but I'll tell you what I will do, I'll tell you some good stories that'll make your blood run cold."

Proving the Value of Summer Pasture.

WHAT EXPERIMENT OF THE COMMISSION OF CONSERVATION SHOWS

A small field of summer pasture sown on the farm is very valuable in many ways. If the ordinary pastures are short and dried up during July and August, the piece sown for summer pasture will ride the stock over the dry pasture period. If the ordinary pasture is good, then the summer mixture can be cut for hay or allowed to ripen as a crop. It is an excellent crop with which to seed down, especially when pastured so early and may be sown after the regular spring seeding is completed.

Summer pasture mixtures sown on a number of farms last year with good results, in connection with the Illustration Country, work being conducted by the Commission of Conservation in Dundas county, Ontario. On one man's farm five acres were sown as follows: one acre to oats and vetches, one acre to oats and peas, and three acres to a mixture of wheat and barley. This field enabled the farmer to save for hay another five acre field, which gave a yield of 10 tons. The summer pasture grew so well that, when ready for use, it was mowed across and only half of it pastured. The two and one-half acres, however, provided the main pasture for 12 cows during July and most of August, and caused an increase of 35 pounds per day in milk yield which held up for more than a month while other pastures were short. The other half of the field yielded six loads of mixed feed cut green and made into hay. The field was seeded to clover and timothy, and the onset of the winter found it in splendid condition with a good catch of grass and clover.

Best results on this farm were obtained from oats and vetches and wheat, oats and barley, and oats and peas last. Plan now to try it this year; it means more feed.

Scotchman, recently arrived, was chattering with a friend over conditions overseas.

The new arrival told feelingly of the terrible toll of war upon the fair land of Scotland, the sad tale of young men killed and maimed, the widows of the families left behind.

"Why, man, we're just plum dazed with it all," he concluded.

"And, I suppose, the war has caused the price of provisions to go up in Scotland as well as everywhere else?" commented the questioner with sympathy.

"Aye, mon, ye're richt," agreed the visitor. "Provisions has gone up in price four shillings a bottle the one sort and sixpence a quart the 'ther."

A English gentleman who has travelled around the world in war times says as one travels around the earth, one is not surprised that Germany was jealous of Britain's world dominion. The United Kingdom has Montreal, Vancouver, Halifax, Hong Kong, Singapore, Malacca, Penang, Columbia and Cape Town. A wonderful series of strategic points encompassing the earth. Further, even if Great Britain showed any signs of wavering in the performance of the great task she entered upon three years ago, her self-governing Dominions would insist upon a fight to a finish.

What Thumbs are Worth.

One has only to grasp a pen or a tool of some sort to realize that the different fingers are far from having the same value in regard to their usefulness in performing work. The most important is a thumb, for without it seizing or holding would be very imperfect. The hand is no longer a mere claw, but merely a claw, when deprived of the thumb. It may be estimated that the thumb represents fully a third of the total value of the hand. The total loss of the thumb is estimated by competent authorities as 15 to 25 per cent for the right and 10 to 15 per cent for the left hand, except for workers in art, when 40 to 50 per cent and 25 to 45 per cent for the left hand comes nearer the value.

The total loss of the index finger causes an incapacity estimated at from 10 to 25 per cent for the right hand and 10 to 15 per cent for the left. The middle finger is less important, and the little finger may be compared to his neighbor, except in the professions in which it serves as a point of support for the hand.

To this the editor replied: Dear Miss—Judging from the composition of your letter, I should advise you to eat a whale.

Everybody Knows Dr. Chase's Receipt Book

It may be safely said, without fear of contradiction, that there is no more useful book to be found in any home than Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. The proof of this statement rests in the fact that several millions of copies have been sold, and it is sometimes said that the circulation is second only to that of the Bible.

From the time he began the study of medicine it was a hobby of the doctor to collect all recipes and prescriptions of exceptional value. There is so much of the doctor's own experience and history woven into these recipes that you cannot use his book without feeling that you know him personally and appreciate his sterling character.

The Receipt Book was soon widely circulated, and aroused so much favorable opinion towards the doctor that he found the demand for his medicines far greater than he could supply. This led to the latest edition of Dr. Chase's Large Receipt Book, containing over 1,200 pages, will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, $3.75, by Edman, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

But the doctor has protected you by having his portrait and signature printed on every box of his medicines. By taking care to see these on the box you buy you can be certain that you are getting the genuine.

decision to select a few of his most successful prescriptions and place them on the market for general sale.

This action met with some criticism from the medical profession, but Dr. Chase's motto was "the greatest good to the greatest number," and one cannot estimate the suffering alleviated and the lives saved by this generous action on the part of the doctor.

The use of Dr. Chase's medicines has become so general that there are few, indeed, who do not know something of their sterling merits. So numerous have the sales become that imitations have been put on the market and substitutes are offered by unscrupulous persons who seek to steal the reputation of their originator.

But the doctor has protected you by having his portrait and signature printed on every box of his medicines. By taking care to see these on the box you buy you can be certain that you are getting the genuine.

Editorial Brevities.

Four thousand two hundred men are employed by Canadian municipalities in waiting for fires to occur and then attempting to extinguish them. The cost of this service exceeds $1,000,000 a year says the Municipal World. Most of this energy would be better employed if devoted to removing fire-breeding conditions and then forcing proper regulation to prevent the occurrence of fires.

The parliamentary session opening at Ottawa this week should be one of the most important in the history of the Dominion. Fresh from the electorate with a mandate that cannot be challenged, the Union government is free to develop its war-to-victory plans along the lines that wisdom dictates without fear of party entanglements. Great problems face the country and their solution will not be easy, but the government is one of the strongest ever gotten together in Canada, and it has a backing never accorded any previous government.

Lieut. Archibald's Lecture.

On Tuesday evening Lieut. Leon Archibald, R. E., of the world famous "Black Watch," gave an address in College Hall under the auspices of the "Daughters of the Empire." Mrs. C. K. H. Starr, regent, and Mrs. Cowie, vice-regent, represented the local chapter on the platform, and Principal H. T. DeWolfe introduced the speaker.

The Scouts band, under the leadership of its capable and efficient director, Mr. McAvoy, entertained the audience splendidly as it gathered in the Hall. Miss Evelyn Nelly, of Aylesford, sang twice during the evening in her own inimitable and charming manner.

The voluntary collection, a liberal one, which is to be devoted to the Field Comforts work of the I. O. D. E., was taken up by the "Give Service Girls," who also ushered, garbed in the full regalia of the Red Cross nurse, out of compliment to the patriotic entertainment and the gallant soldier speaker. It was a novel feature here and most appropriate while adding to the interest of the gathering as well as the becomingness of the wearer.

Lieut. Archibald, who served first as a private with the noble band of Canada's "contemptibles," (and surely we as well as England can lay claim to that title for our men who went first to the aid of the Empire and stood in the breach during those first awful months of the war) and who was finally honored for services at Ypres by being promoted as an officer to the Royal Engineers attached to the "Black Watch," gave a most instructive and interesting sketch of those first engagements, the information for which he had at first hand from participants. For over an hour he held the undivided attention of the audience, the personnel of which felt nothing to be desired. He intimated from the start that his intention was to show why we should be grateful to those never-to-be-forgotten heroes, who threw themselves into the gap and turned forever in our favor the issue of the present war; and he told tales of daring and heroism, not yet in print, of our own Canadians in conjunction with those old contemptibles of Britain. He touched the imagination as well as the hearts in his description of a certain group of our boys under the title of the Kindergarten. In trench life they were boys of 16 and 19 discussing baseball and sports, but on the firing line proved themselves of the stuff that heroes are made and Canadian heroes at that.

Lieut. Archibald takes the optimistic view that if we at the beginning against such odds were able to stem the tide how much abler today we are to win out.

At the close of the lecture the Rev. Mr. Dixon moved an eloquent and appreciative vote of thanks, which Rev. Dr. DeWolfe gratefully tendered the speaker.

Many personal expressions of appreciation were heard among the audience as they dispersed, showing their deep interest and estimation of the speaker and his subject.

"DO WELL IS BETTER THAN SRY WELL"

But it is necessary for the business man to "Say Well" first, or people will not know that he will "Do Well." Advertise and then live up to your advertisements, or better. It is the open road to prosperity and the confidence of your fellow citizens.

Dr. Adam urged a discovery of spiritual values, which he said must spring from the spirit of man and had a far-reaching economic significance.

A Promising New Wheat.

By bringing out Marquis wheat the Dominion Department of Agriculture did a service to Canada and to the Empire that it would be difficult to over-estimate. On account of its vigorous habits of growth, excellent yield and superb milling qualities this variety which year after year as an exhibit from Western Canada has carried off premier honors at the International Soil Products Exhibition in the United States, has largely supplanted the old standard Red Fife that also gained for Canadian wheat an enviable reputation in the flour markets of the world.

A service rendered by the introduction of Prelude a few years later was also of great importance, in as much as it extended the wheat-growing area of this country by millions of acres. To these two very valuable accessions to the hard wheats of Canada is to be added a new sort that comes midway between Marquis and Prelude in the matter of yield and milling. This new sort has been produced at the Central-Experimental Farm, Ottawa, by Dr. Chas. H. Saunders, the Dominion Cerealist, who gives the following account of the new wheat in the March number of The Agricultural Gazette, the official organ of the Federal Department of Agriculture:

"The new wheat, which has been named Ruby, Ottawa 623, possesses characteristics in ripening and other qualities midway between Marquis and Prelude. It is hard, possesses hard, red kernels, gives a fair yield, and makes flour of the highest quality in regard to colour and strength. Bread made from it ranks in the first class. This wheat, is the result of a cross between Downy Riggs and Red Fife. Downy Riggs was produced from two early sorts, Ochu, an Indian variety, and Omega from Northern Russia. Ruby is recommended for trial where Marquis does not ripen satisfactorily. A very limited distribution of five-pound samples is being made to farmers requiring an early sort. A sufficient crop will be grown this year on the Experimental Farms to provide for a generous distribution next Spring."

The Operetta 'Red Riding Hood.'

In the opinion of the writer it does not lessen, but rather increases, the efficiency and sound optimistic spirit of our people to have proper recreation even in war time, and such music, stage effects and setting as the combined talent of Wolfville and Kentville gave to a delighted audience in the above Operetta, at the Pastime Hall, would be difficult to equal even in the large centres, and was an excellent tonic for both old and young.

It was ably directed by Mrs. Richmond, who has probably done more for the development of high class vocal music in this valley than any one else in its history. The Title Role was most pleasingly taken by Mrs. Helen Knowles to whose industry, musical and teaching ability the presentation of such a charming affair was principally due. The principal characters were all excellent in acting and singing; the stage settings were appropriate, the choruses were good, the children simply delightful and beyond criticism, and the little Blue Bells of all inimitable. Of the excellent between acts features, in the writer's opinion, the gems were Miss Marie Wilson's contralto solo in which the rare qualities of her voice with its depth, volume, and carrying quality, combined with its purely feminine mezzo soprano like notes, were demonstrated to the delight of the audience, the duet 'Joan of Arc' beautifully rendered by Mr. Mason and Mr. Pick, and Miss Ruth Yould's Highland Flieg which in its dainty gracefulness of action and precision and correctness of step, would rival most professional, and the writer knows because he used to dance it fairly well himself.

The orchestra led by Mr. Burgess Bishop, in its quality of shading, harmony, and tone, would bear favorable comparison with many more pretentious organizations and contributed materially to the pleasure of the evening. The highest compliment that the writer can pay the performers is that he went to the hall when very tired to keep a number of promises, stood the whole evening in a crowded house and was less tired at the end than at the beginning.

Our Will Against Theirs.

It is the business of every man of us to put every ounce of power, conviction and patience of which we are capable into this struggle, said Rev. Dr. J. D. Adam, of Heston, Conn. in an address on the war to the Canadian Club at Montreal.

Everything else that we can count dear must be valueless unless the victory is won," he said. "The morale of those of us who are not fighting is the same as the moral of those who are fighting; and they act and react upon each other. It is our visualization of success against the German visualization of success. It is our moral will to win the war against the German will to win, and it is for us to realize that we must unify and solidify this spiritual visualization of triumph, for after all, the headquarters of reality are in the spirits of men."

Dr. Adam urged a discovery of spiritual values, which he said must spring from the spirit of man and had a far-reaching economic significance.

The Feed Problem.

Those who are crying to the Government to provide feed for hogs and bitterly criticizing officials for failure to supply sufficient bran and shorts should take a look at the facts. Canada does not produce sufficient bran and shorts to feed hogs in normal times and recourse to other foods has always been necessary. In the first place, however, to aid farmers an export embargo was placed on mill offals and the price of bran and shorts rose to such a high proportion to the price of wheat and several dollars a ton lower than in the United States. This, of course, was satisfactory as far as it went but the trouble was that it could not, possibly go far enough. Not enough bran and shorts are produced in Canada to go around. Canadian mills from September 1st, 1915, to February 1st, 1918, produced at the rate of 18,000,000 bushels of wheat a month, which was a very high proportion as compared to normal. From this amount of wheat, however, under the new standard flour regulations, about two per cent. more of the wheat by weight is retained in the flour. Only 120,000,000 bushels of feed can be produced in a month, or 2,000,000 pounds a day. There are 17,322,000 odd horses, mules, cows, cattle, sheep and pigs in Canada, not taking poultry into consideration at all. The bran and shorts produced in Canada would thus give each animal one meal in two or three weeks. A cow would consume five pounds a day; a hog, according to its size, from one-half pound to three pounds—though little shorts, of course, is fed to the more mature hogs. There were, approximately, 2,169,382 hogs in Canada last year so that out of every five or six hogs, only one would be able to get a full three-month ration of shorts per day; or, if the shorts was divided equally among all the hogs, less than two-thirds of a pound would be the maximum allowance.

Nor is this all there is to the problem. The question of distributing this feed to the farmers throughout Canada arises. It has been suggested that farmers be allowed carload lots. There are 714,616 farms in Canada. Giving each one its share would mean that each farm would get a carload once in twenty-four years. A carload contains twenty-five tons and there are about eighty-four carloads of bran and shorts produced in Canada per day. It takes a 100 barrel mill about fourteen days to produce a carload of feed. It is estimated that Canadian mill has no greater capacity than 100 barrels a day or less, and could ship a carload no oftener than once a fortnight.

Nevertheless, despite this difficulty and all difficulties, Canada will have to produce more hogs. The European situation depends on it. The difficulties will have to be overcome. Farmers will have to grow the corn, grass and depend less upon mill offals. American corn will be coming more freely into Canada as the fine weather develops and transportation difficulties lessen. Every farmer should realize that we are at war, that Allied Europe is hard pressed, and determine to do the best he can, such under his own circumstances.

The Only Medicine for Little Ones.

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Their use teaches her they are absolutely safe; that they never fail to give relief and that the little ones do not dread taking them as they do castor oil and other harsh purgatives. Concerning the tablets Mrs. John M. Weaver, Blaisfield, N. B., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past two years and have found them so good I always keep a box in the house." The tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Retailers to be Licensed.

The Canada Food Board has issued regulations governing retail butchers, retail bakers, retail produce merchants, retail fish and vegetable dealers. On and after May 15 it will be illegal for any person, firm or corporation to engage in any one or more of these trades without a license from the Food Board.

The regulations make it illegal to deal in food for the purpose of unreasonably increasing the price of essential supply or monopolizing or attempting to monopolize any food products.

Destruction of any food which is used for human consumption is made an offence and, as in the case of adulterated water, no retail dealer may knowingly permit preventable deterioration in connection with the storing or sale of food.

The schedule of license fees provided for a minimum fee of $2 when the annual turnover does not exceed $20,000 per annum, and for an additional $2 on every additional $20,000 per annum or fraction thereof.

The wives and dependents of Canadian soldiers in England are being urged by the authorities to return to this country. The local conditions there should long ago have made an official hint unnecessary.

Local Happenings.

Spring, which has been delayed, now appears to be near at hand. It will not come too soon this year.

A recital by the pupils of Acadia Seminary is to be held in College Hall this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Saxton accompanied by Miss Thompson returned from an extended visit to the wholesale millinery opening last week.

The spring millinery opening at W. C. Dexter & Co's will be on Tuesday of next week, when an unusually pretty range of novelties will be shown.

Men who have been exempted from military service recently on the ground of being farmers, are to be watched during the coming season to see that they either farm or fight.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Johnson wish to express through THE ACADIAN their thanks for the sympathy and kindness shown by so many during the hours of their sudden affliction.

The war time supper given Wednesday evening, March 20th, in the Baptist church dining room in aid of the Red Cross and I. O. O. F., was a great success. The proceeds amounted to $66.00.

We hear that Mr. R. Earl Burgess has sold his fine property to Mr. Horton Phinney, of Halifax, who is coming to Wolfville to reside. Mr. Burgess, we understand, intends building in the near future.

Money to loan on mortgage security. Apply to E. S. Crowley, Wolfville.

No formal Millinery Opening will be held at Miss Saxton's this season. The store is now open for business and each day new and attractive styles will be shown, which all are cordially invited to see.

Rehearsals for the opera, Yokohama Maid, began this week. The people of Wolfville and vicinity have something good to look forward to when this is presented. A fine cast and splendid chorus with orchestra. Watch for further announcements.

Messrs. J. D. Chambers and Herbert Stearns and Miss Annie Stuart represented the Presbyterian congregation at the meeting of the Halifax Presbytery at Halifax on Tuesday, Rev. Mr. Miller has recently not to accept the call to Milford extended to him.

Money to loan on Real Estate security. Apply to Owen & Owen, Barristers, Annapolis Royal.

At the United Service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, Mr. Armitage will speak on another of the great hymns of the church, St. John Browning's hymn: "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." Voice choir and bright singing is a feature of these services. All are invited.

The annual Convention of Kings County W. C. T. U. will be held in Berlin, March 27th and 28th. Opening meeting after the arrival of morning express from the east. The public meeting on Wednesday evening will be addressed by Mrs. Powers, Prov. W. C. T. U. Pres., Lunenburg and Rev. Mr. Armitage, of Wolfville.

The Late W. F. Parker.

A PERSONAL APPRECIATION.

In the untimely death of Mr. W. F. Parker, who was scarcely past middle life, Wolfville loses one of its most distinguished citizens, whose departure creates a perceptible gap that will not be soon or easily filled. A man far above the average in natural ability and general acquirements, he was only prevented by his bodily infirmities from rising to the top of his profession.

There can be no reasonable doubt that had his health not failed him at the critical period of early middle life he would have reached the Bench. And for such a position he was eminently fitted, possessing as he did, in a very marked degree, the judicial and analytical mind. One of the best read men I have ever met, with an inexhaustible fund of anecdotes and a keen discriminating judgement of character, he was a delightful companion for, to use an expression of Herbulan, "He never opened his mouth but he said something." As I can hear it said of someone else, "You always left him a little wiser than when you met him." In the very best sense of that sadly abused and much perverted term he had a "cultured" mind. He had not only studied deeply and read widely and wisely, but he had assimilated and re-adapted and therefore possessed that rare power of reproduction which is a far more valuable gift than that thing which people commonly call "originality." He had the gift of transmitting widely gathered material into new and striking forms. He was no pedantic retailer of useless and undigested information picked up at random here and there. One meets such people occasionally. But he was not of that type. He received all that passed through his hands. It is to be deeply regretted that his health prevented him from engaging more extensively in literary work. One book he has bequeathed to us, the life of his distinguished father, the late Dr. McNeil Parker, of Halifax, in his day the acknowledged head of his profession in the Province. The book, which I only read a short time ago was to me a revelation of his literary skill and power. The writing of a biography is one of the easiest and at the same time one of the most difficult kinds of literary work. There is a sort of biographic writing which simply consists in throwing together certain hastily gathered material and putting in shape for the press. Almost every decently educated person is competent for this sort of thing. Again there is the biography which is more or less a work of art, which, like a great picture, creates and reveals. Mr. Parker undoubtedly possessed this power to a very marked degree. I should place his life of his father in the very front rank of Canadian biographies. Necessarily, of course, somewhat voluminous, well-ten as it was mainly for relatives and descendants, portions of it are truly worthy of the men of literature. All through it is written in that easy flexible style characteristic of the born author and master of words. Or like the skilled craftsman he works with a sure hand. Some of us had hoped that he might have further utilized his gifts in giving us other biographies. Canadian publicists. However, it was otherwise ordered. To the memory of a valued personal friend, whose loss I shall ever deplore on this side of eternity, a Christian gentleman and a scholar, I inscribe with respectful sympathy to bereaved and mourning relatives this imperfect tribute of my affection and respect. R. F. D.

Somewhere in France

(By Le Roy C. Henderson in Car Magazine.)
She stands alone beside the gate, Where oft with him she stood before.
And seems to hear his voice relate 'The sweetest story o'er and o'er; A hand she feels upon her own; Unconsciously a tender glance She gives, then starts and stands alone.
The lover sleeps—Somewhere in France.
She could have kept him if she would— His heart and soul were all her own— But true love knew and understood That honor is its own true throne. She heard the bugles blaring sound, And whispered, 'Go and take your chance!' There 'mid the scenes of war he found Eternal peace—Somewhere in France. She knows not where that spot may be— On barren plain, in hidden dell, On wooded hill, beside the sea— The lips that would will never tell; She knows not what his last words were, The thoughts that come with death's advance, And yet, she feels they were of her, Those last fond words—Somewhere in France.
Phairson MacPherson was a Scotchman. Also he was a coal merchant. Also he was in love. His lassie was a sensible lass and she knew him to be the richest man in town. But she wanted to be quite sure that he had come by his money honestly before she decided to marry him.
"How is it that you quote the lowest prices in town and make the most reductions for my friends, and yet you make such enormous profits?" she asked.
"Well, it's this way, explained MacPherson in an undertone. 'And ye'll be no telling anyone about it, will ye? Ye see, I knock off two shillings a ton because a customer is a friend o' mine, and then I knock off two hundredweight a ton because I'm a friend of his.'"
Value of Buttermilk.
Buttermilk is a dairy by-product, the food value of which is under-estimated. Buttermilk produced by the manufacturer of good butter from a good quality of well-ripened cream is one of the most healthful food obtainable. Its healthfulness is derived from the lactic acid present.
This is formed when a certain type of bacteria, called the 'buttermilk lactic acid' converts the milk sugar into lactic acid. These bacteria are always present in normal milk and cream, and this process of forming lactic acid is the natural ripening of milk, and is known as cream ripening.
Buttermilk is an excellent food feed, and probably most of it is being used for this purpose; but it should be more universally used as a human food, especially since it is a cheap article, and during these times when we must all keep ourselves in the best possible condition, buttermilk should be used as a spring tonic, instead of those so-called patent blood remedies.
All the Holistic Premiers and Presidents would save breath and trouble if they would simply announce in the best possible condition, buttermilk should be used as a spring tonic, instead of those so-called patent blood remedies.

Food Value of Potatoes

CANADIANS WHO EAT THEM FREELY CAN HELP TO SAVE WHEAT FLOUR. People who wish to help in food conservation should consider potatoes as a partial substitute for wheat flour. Potatoes are the chief staple of the semi-perishable foods. Canadians do not eat their fair share of potatoes even in normal times. We have been largely a wheat, beef and pork consuming people. These staples are now required for overseas and it behooves us to substitute other foods for them whenever possible. We consume, perhaps, two and one-half bushels of potatoes per capita per year, or about one-third of a pound per day, equal to one fair sized potato. In some European countries one pound per day per capita is consumed, and in some districts forty pounds per day, and nearly twenty-five bushels per year.

Despite the increase in price since the war, potatoes are still among the cheapest of foods. One pound of roast beef costs ten times as much as a pound of potatoes, and twenty per cent of beef is bone. Three and a third pounds of potatoes supply 1,000 calories of energy, at a cost of less than ten cents, while about 2,500 calories are required for full grown persons working indoors. That is to say, if all foods were as cheap as potatoes we could live on 25 cents a day. Healthy men have lived and worked for months on a diet of nothing else than potatoes, oleomargarine and a little fruit. Potatoes contain protein of the very best kind. They also contain mineral salts which neutralize harmful acids in the body. The food material in potatoes is 98 per cent digestible.

Canadians have large supplies of potatoes, carrots, onions and turnips and by consuming these vegetables freely they can economize with bread. More than 500 ways of cooking potatoes are known. They combine well with many flavors. They can be used to economical advantage with meat and fish, in stews, croquettes, hash, chowders, meat pies, etc. One half a cup of mashed potatoes and two cups of flour make a mixture that helps the flour go farther.
Good cooks know the ways of using potatoes are various—boiled, steamed, iron-skinned, baked, stuffed brown, creamed, scalloped, hashed on a gratin, and scores of combinations. Canada has plenty of potatoes and although the price is high compared to normal times, it is not high in comparison with other foods in war time.

Weak, Anaemic Girls

Bloodlessness is the trouble of many girls who ought to be full of life and good spirits. Instead they are pale, their lips have no color, they have no appetites, their digestion is poor, and if they walk fast, either in the street or going up stairs, they are so tired and out of breath that their hearts beat as if to burst. Almost always such girls are thin, flat-chested and sallow, with nothing attractive about them. If they do not get better they will have a cough in the winter and then, not unlikely, consumption, that most hopeless of all diseases will develop. No girl should be like this. She should be plump, rosy-cheeked and full of life, able to walk fast and to stand exertion without being breathless and panting. To be in this healthy, happy condition she must have plenty of good, rich, red blood as it is only through the blood that the body can be healthy. And the only medicine that will keep the blood supply rich and red and pure is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their effect upon the pale, weak girl who gives them a fair trial is wonderful. They improve the appetite, buck aches and headaches disappear, the glow of health tinges the cheeks, the eyes sparkle, and the step becomes light and elastic. Thousands of girls throughout Canada owe their health and attractive appearance to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and do not hesitate to say so. Miss Jennie Book, Beamsville, Ont., says: "I suffered for over two years from anaemia, and gradually grew very thin, and finally I had a severe attack of rheumatism. I had a mere shadow of my former self. I tried several medicines, and while some seemed to give me temporary relief, I soon grew worse again. As the months went by I began to despair of getting better, when my mother happened to read an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and suggested that I should try them. By the time the first box was finished I knew they were helping me, and I continued the pills for nearly three months, using in all nine boxes, when I was restored in every respect to my old time strength. This was several years ago, and I have not since had any return of the trouble. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a permanent cure for this trouble, and I strongly recommend them to all anaemic girls."
You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
"I wish I had a baby brother to wheel my baby cart, mamma," said small Miss. My dolls are always getting broke when it tips over."

Value of Buttermilk

Buttermilk is a dairy by-product, the food value of which is under-estimated. Buttermilk produced by the manufacturer of good butter from a good quality of well-ripened cream is one of the most healthful food obtainable. Its healthfulness is derived from the lactic acid present.
This is formed when a certain type of bacteria, called the 'buttermilk lactic acid' converts the milk sugar into lactic acid. These bacteria are always present in normal milk and cream, and this process of forming lactic acid is the natural ripening of milk, and is known as cream ripening.
Buttermilk is an excellent food feed, and probably most of it is being used for this purpose; but it should be more universally used as a human food, especially since it is a cheap article, and during these times when we must all keep ourselves in the best possible condition, buttermilk should be used as a spring tonic, instead of those so-called patent blood remedies.
All the Holistic Premiers and Presidents would save breath and trouble if they would simply announce in the best possible condition, buttermilk should be used as a spring tonic, instead of those so-called patent blood remedies.

PILES

Do not suffer from this distressing and painful condition. Dr. Chamberlain's Pile Remedy will relieve you in a few days. It is the best remedy for hemorrhoids, whether internal or external. It is a purely vegetable preparation and is entirely safe. It is sold everywhere. Price, 25 cents a box.

Grandmother's Pies are done

How luscious they look as she takes them from the oven. Here is a kind well worth your attention, made from dried apples, small raisins and brown sugar. "Spring mince pies" grandmother called them. She had many other delicious pies and puddings made from brown sugar.

—in fact she hardly used any other sugar for cooking.

Lantic Old Fashioned Brown Sugar

Is just like the sugar that Grandmother used to use. It comes in Light, Brilliant and Dark Yellow, but the Brilliant Yellow is about right for most of the things Grandmother made and for your own favorite brown sugar dishes.
You should keep brown sugar in your pantry and you should use it often. It has a delicious characteristic flavor essential to the success of many dishes. It is economical, too, costing less per pound than granulated.

If you don't know how to make Grandmother's good old-fashioned dishes, no matter. We have just printed a delightful new booklet called "Grandmother's Recipes." It is devoted entirely to brown sugar goodies. Send for it today enclosing 2 cent stamp to cover cost of mailing and please add the name of your grocer.
Lantic Old-Fashioned Brown Sugars are made by the same firm that makes the famous Lantic "FINE" Granulated.

Income Tax Forms Are now available

Returns must be filed on or before 31st March

THE Dominion Income War Tax Act requires you to fill in one or more of the five special Forms provided before 31st March, 1918. In order to assist the public to understand just what is required of them, information on each Form is given below. Read carefully, then get three copies of the form that fits your case and fill them in. Answer all questions fully and accurately. For making false statements, a penalty of $10,000 or six months' imprisonment, or both, is provided.

Individuals.—All persons unmarried, and all widows or widowers without dependent children, whose income is $1,500 a year or more, must file Form 74. All other persons whose income is $1,000 or more, use the same Form. Where any income is derived from dividends, list amounts received from Canadian and Foreign securities separately. Fill in pages 1, 2 and 3 only. Do not mark on page 4. Partnerships, as such need not file returns, but the individuals forming the partnership must.

Corporations and Joint Stock Companies, no matter how created or organized, shall pay the normal tax on income exceeding $3,000. Use Form 72—giving particulars of income. Also attach a financial statement. Under Deductions, show in detail amounts paid to Patriotic Fund and Canadian Red Cross or other approved War Funds.

Trustees, Executors, Administrators of Estates and Assignees use Form 73. Full particulars of the distribution of income from all estates handled must be shown as well as details of amounts distributed. A separate Form must be filed in each estate.

Employers must use Form 74 to give names and amounts of salaries, bonuses, commissions and other remuneration paid to all employees during 1917 where such remuneration amounted in the aggregate to $1,000 or over.

Corporation Lists of Shareholders.—On Form 75 corporations shall give a statement of all bonuses, and dividends paid to shareholders residing in Canada during 1917 stating to whom paid, and the amounts.

Figures in every case are to cover 1917 income—all Forms must be filed by 31st March. For neglect, a fine of $100 for each day of default may be imposed.

In the case of Forms 71 and 72, keep one copy of the filled Form and file the other two with the Inspector of Taxation for your District. In the case of Form 73, 74 and 75, keep one copy and file the other two with the Commissioner of Taxation, Dept. of Finance, Ottawa.

Forms may be obtained from the District Inspectors of Taxation and from the Postmasters at all leading centres.

Parties must be held on all letters and documents forwarded by mail to Inspector of Taxation.

Hatch the Chickens Early.

In order to get good winter egg production, which is the most profitable phase of the poultry industry, it is necessary to hatch the chicks early. The average general purpose chicken takes about six months to mature, and therefore should be hatched before the middle of May to be in good laying condition by the first of November. One pullet hatched in April is worth two hatched in July.

The usual advance in the price of eggs, particularly fresh eggs, during the fall of the year, is due largely to natural causes. The moulting of the young stock starts out this source of production, leaving pullets practically as the only source of fresh eggs at this time. The only way to increase the fresh egg supply in the fall is to hatch early and give the pullets the best care throughout the growing season.

It is imperative that all chickens be hatched early because of the present conditions of high feed prices. Late hatched chickens can hardly be reared profitably.

Make one male with from ten to fifteen females. About ten days should be allowed from the time the male bird is placed in the breeding pen before selecting eggs for hatching. Under average conditions it takes about four eggs to produce a mature bird, so that eight eggs would be required to produce a laying pullet. The eggs for hatching should be selected with care. They should each weigh about two ounces, have a smooth surface and be oval in shape. Small, dirty or washed eggs should never be incubated. The fresher the eggs the better they are for incubation, but they may be held for seven days, during which time they should be kept in a temperature of from 50 deg. to 55 deg. F., and they should be turned occasionally. Above all, hatch early.

Canadian Railway Situation

AFTER forty months of the suggestion are looking too hopeful. The railway situation in Canada presents a somewhat different picture from that of the United States. In the latter country, the chief problems of the railway industry are of a financial nature, and the construction program necessary to keep pace with a huge immigration.

An indication of the difference in conditions is shown in Canada's trade balance, which has been converted from a heavy "debit" to a substantial "plus," the exports for eleven months of 1917 amounting to a similar period in 1913 by over a billion dollars. As the total import and export trade for that period was $5,000,000,000, the increase in trade-moving capacity has been $200,000,000. This transportation energy increase of traffic has been coincident with a growing shortage of labor, a higher cost of living, necessitating higher wages, and immense increase in the cost of material necessary for maintenance and repair of roadbed and equipment, so that the added traffic has meant not increased revenue, but a heavy anxiety for the carriers. The labor shortage may be illustrated from the records of the Canadian Pacific, which show that up to December 31, 1917, employees of the Canadian Pacific had enlisted for active service in the war and faced a serious problem of replacement. The satisfactory features are the efficiency with which the Canadian railways have done their job under such trying circumstances, and the remarkable absence of congestion as compared with the congestion that has been so noticeable on the railroads of the United States since our great neighbor to the south entered the war and faced similar problems. Elaborate networks of railways Canada has fewer ports and a much less sea has solved its war-export problems with infinitely less confusion. From the beginning of August, 1914 to November 30th, 1917, the Canadian railways have handled for the Imperial Government over 4 1/2 million tons of supplies, exclusive of horses and mules, most of which may be considered as supplementary to normal traffic, but so admirably has the movement been handled with the arrival and departure of steamers that not a cent has been earned by the ships at sea.

The burden of financing such movements of traffic under such conditions has, however, proved too serious for some Canadian railways, and were it not that the Canadian Pacific is more than a mere transportation system, and holds extraneous assets of great value that have proved an unexpectedly large source of income, we might have had difficulty in finding the very considerable sum that we have invested in war loans to the British and Canadian Governments. Not to mention the dividends that our shareholders and the financial world at large have become accustomed to expect.

The efficiency and absence of congestion with which our enormous war traffic has been handled might well be taken to heart by our American friends who, if I may venture

Save Food

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but how much you assimilate, that does you good.

The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.
