HASZARD'S GAZETTE, MARCH 19.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Saturday, March 19, 1853.

THE MAIL.—We have had no mail this week. The Courier only effected a passage from this side yesterday.

DEBATE.—We have been obliged to lay aside some Debate which was set up for to-day's issue, in consequence of the Reporter's not having been able to give in the whole in due time for publication.

MECHANIC'S INSTITUTE.

On the 10th inst. Mr. Lepage delivered an admirable lecture upon "the evils and criminality of war."—An animated discussion pro and con, ensued, in which war, as an evil was admitted, aggression was war pronounced to be criminal; but a Defensive war was asserted to be justifiable.

Last Thursday evening Mr. Hubbard lectured on Optics.—He discussed the scientific part of his subject, explained the principle of the laws of reflection and refraction—gave a description of the eye and its component parts, and entered somewhat minutely into optical delusions.

It was announced, that on Thursday evening next, the Hon. the President would lecture on STATISTICS, and illustrate his subject, by exhibiting a collection of Busts and other STATISTICAL objects.

GEORGETOWN BAZAAR.

The Bazaar and Tea meeting was held in the School House at Georgetown, on Tuesday, the 5th of March. The whole affair went off very successfully and quite to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. There was a very nice display of articles on the tables, notwithstanding the very short notice for preparing them. When the evening advanced, the Bazaar tables gave place to the tea, which, with a good variety of cake, was of the best description. The only inconvenience felt during the evening, was, that the room was much too small to accommodate comfortably the number of persons that sought admittance. The Tea tables being removed, a portion of the articles still remaining on hand were sold at Auction, to the great amusement of all present, and everything brought a fair price.

We are truly thankful to the different persons, who, with so short a notice, come forward to assist us; and we are certainly indebted to our friends at Georgetown who have sent us so many nice and valuable articles.

The sum realized between Bazaar and Tea meeting amounts to very nearly £27. This may perhaps appear small compared with the amounts usually realized upon such occasions, but when the shortness of the notice is taken into consideration, and also, that this is the first Bazaar ever held at Georgetown—we think we have no reason to complain.

We regret to say, that a choir of singers from Grand River and Bay Fortune, who, for several weeks before were practising pieces of music, in order to sing at our tea meeting, were disappointed in getting here in time. They were mistaken with regard to the day on which the Bazaar was held.—Cov.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

TEMPERANCE PETITION.

FRIDAY, 19th March.

The House went into Committee on the Petition of the Sons of Temperance and others, praying the passing of a Law for the immediate repeal of the Liquor Traffic in this colony.

These events, with those contemporaneous, particularly in New Brunswick, will form a new epoch. But it adhered to, Sir Archibald, and succeeding one another, medical or mechanical purposes."

Hon. Mr. WARBURTON moved, in amendment, that for the word "expedient" in the Resolution, the word "inexpedient" should be substituted.

The discussion on this Resolution and the amendment was also of a very warm and earnest character; finally it terminated in the adoption of the amendment—the division being the same as in the amendment to the first Resolution.

THE NEWSPAPER.

In gown and slippers loosely dressed,
And breakfast brought, — a welcome guest,
What is given the meat a rest? —
— The Paper.

What he informs the country round,
— What's stole or stray'd, what's lost or found
— Who's born, or who's pat under ground?
— The Paper.

Who tells you all that's done and said,
— The fall of men, the rise of bread,
And how the Yankees " go-a-head?" —
The Paper.

What is it gives the price of stock,
Tells of the plans of the new deck,
And every ship that rounds " the rock?" —
The Paper.

What spans of thives and parsons taken,
And numbers done and made forsaken,
And price of butter, beef and bacon? —
The Paper.

What is it tells the farmer's loss,
Of oxen, cows, and sheep, and horses,
And how the tariff does him cross? —
The Paper.

Ahmed, at home, infirm and stout,
In health, or riving with the gout,
None but " a spoon" can do without
— The Paper.

Then if you would live " wide awake,"
Your mind both wise and happy make,
You either do, or now will take
— The Paper.

VARIETIES.

THREE persons who lived in Providence, Rhode Island, some twenty years ago, will remember an exemplary, but somewhat eccentric grocer, whose advertisements in the public journals were oftentimes of the most amusing description. Many of these, we remember, were at the time copied all over the States, and were wont to excite a great deal of merriment.

Is this tradesman, there is reason to believe, of whom the following circumstance is related:

"A layman in Providence, Rhode Island, who occasionally exhorted at evening meetings, thus expressed his belief in some doctrinal position he was assuming:

"I am just as confident, brethren, that this is true, as I am, that there is flour in Alexandria; and that I know for certain; for I yesterday received from there a lot of three hundred barrels of fresh superfine, which I will dispose of as low as any person in town!"

This may probably remind the reader of an inscription on one of the tomb stones in the cemetery of Pere la Chaise, at Paris:

"Here rests the body of Antoine _____, aged _____, etc." His disconsolate widow still keeps the shop Number Sixteen, Rue Vivienne, where may be found a large and select assortment of gloves, hose, etc., etc."

The learned Dr. FRANCIS once made himself "memorable" by a remark which he made in a Homoeopathic discussion; namely, the boiling of the shadow of a pigeon in a bottle of water, and dividing the fluid into infinitesimal quantities, and administering this powerful "concentrated medicine to the patient once every six months," at night, before going to bed.

Something like this, "in substance," is the novel idea of a certain Yankee "down East" who has invented "A New and Cheap Plan for Boarding!" One of the boarders memorizes the rest, and then eats a hearty meal, the memorized, meanwhile, being entirely satisfied from "sympathy," which is the basis of the theory. One of the boarders, however, having recovered, mesmerized the landlady once a day, and endeavoured to settle for the whole company by paying for one—but that plan wouldn't work.

An English wag thus writes off a "Scene in a Western Editor's sanctum, in the United States":

"The following affair is said to have come off somewhere 'out West' lately.

"Editor in his sanctum, discovered writing: a six-foot customer approaches, with a newspaper in his hand.

"Visor (pointing out a particular article).—Look here, Mister; did you write that?"

"Editor.—I expect I did."

"Visor (laying off his coat).—Well, I'm going to whip you; so you'd better pest."

"Editor.—Indeed! but I prefer not being whipped."

"Visor.—Can't help it: got to do it: better be pullin' on your coat."

"Editor (drawing a six-shooter).—Thank you, sir; but I believe I'll keep my coat on!"

"Visor.—What! you're not goin' to use that shootin'-iron, are you?"

"Editor.—Not unless you render it necessary."

"Visor.—Now, see here; that ain't gentlemanly. Just lay that thing aside, and let me take it out in a way that's becoming."

"Editor.—Sorry not to be able to oblige you; but I can't do it, positively."

"Visor.—(putting on his coat, and backing out).—Well, if you are that sort of a fellow, I want nothing to do with you: you are beneath the notice of a respectable citizen."

There is a good deal of exaggeration, of course, in this cockney sketch; and yet seems, not in all respects unlike it, have heretofore occurred, we believe, in certain of the chivalric river-towns of the Southwest.

The newspapers say, that Mrs. Partington is anxious to know, whether Uncle Tom is really much better than the Ench we read of in old, "because," the old lady remarks, "Uncle Tom has been translated seven times, and Ench was but once."

JUST RECEIVED,
Gieseon's Pictorial Drawing Room Companion,

PUBLISHED IN BOSTON, MASS.

WILL commence on the 1st of January, 1853, a new Volume—Volume IV—of this elegant illuminated Journal. It will appear every month, new hands, and considerably improved in every department; heating, which is to be greatly reduced. The Publisher is resolved to cover the new year with a circulation of one hundred thousand, and, therefore, offers the most liberal inducements to clubs. Realizing the spirit of the age, the great improvement in art, and the constantly increasing intelligence of the people, the publisher, with this change of price, will vastly improve his already splendid illustrated Journal. Especially will a great improvement be manifested in the engraving department, as well as in the literary character of the paper; so that persons will still appear in style, and, especially to merit all the encomiums of praise so lavishly bestowed upon them.
