A NOBLE HERITAGE.

CHAPTER XXVII.

VERY well," said Leola, with a sense of relief—might she not, if she went out, miss Cyril?

Breakfast proceeded; neither made a very hearty meal. Mrs. Wetherell seemed very thoughtful, and Leola had risen and walked to the window, when a footman opened the door and announced Lady Vaux.

Her ladyship, clad in sable—the mornings were chilly—came forward with outstretched hands and beaming smile.

"My dear Leola," she murmured, in her soft, even voice, so like her brother's that it always jarred upon Leola, "you are down, then! I dreaded hearing that you were still in bed. It is the middle of the night to most people."

"Not to me," said Leola. "No, I know, dear," murmured Lady Vaux; "you are one of those decidedly strong women who like early rising—you go in for a cold bath every morning—oh! it makes me shudder to think of it—and enjoying getting your feet wet. But there, I could not contain myself an hour when I heard the news."

"Yes?" said Leola, interrogatively. "Will you have a cup of coffee, Lady Vaux?" asked Mrs. Wetherell, and as she brought it to her ladyship, she whispered: "She does not know."

"Not know!" echoed Lady Vaux, aloud, and with arched and elevated eyebrows; "why, my maid brought me the news the first thing this morn-

No Man is Stronger than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach and indigestion. Dr. Bovey's Herb Tablets cure the disease of the stomach and its associated ailments, which impair digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in the food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in his stomach, is languid, nervous, irritable and dependent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength. Such a man should use DR. BOVEY'S HERB TABLETS. They cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. They purify the blood, invigorate the liver, strengthen the kidneys, soothe the nerves, and GIVE HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY. They can be had from all Druggists or Dealers at 25 cents per box. If your Dealer does not supply you order direct from us by mail. We reserve postage on all orders. BOVEY MFG. CO., St. John's, Nfld., or Montreal, Can.

"She may have gone to pay a visit to some friends," suggested Mrs. Wetherell.

Lady Vaux shook her head with a confident smile of pity for Mrs. Wetherell's simplicity. "Leola, kneeling beside the mastiff, looked from one to the other in silent attention."

"I am afraid we cannot take so charitable a view of the situation," said Lady Vaux, with a little sigh. "The girl is a vain, flighty creature, and this sudden disappearance is really what was to be expected to her."

"I never heard a word against her," said Mrs. Wetherell, gently. "No!" responded Lady Vaux, with arched eyebrows. "But, you see, you two dear creatures—and she smiled sweetly at Leola—live such retired lives. Now, I can only say I have heard all sorts of gossip about Miss Polly for months past."

"I know she was rather vain," said Mrs. Wetherell, still pleading for charity on behalf of the absent. "She was a good-looking girl, and much admired."

"Very much," put in Lady Vaux, softly. "Much admired by the beaux of the village."

"She had given them the cold shoulder," said Lady Vaux. "Even the most favoured of her sweethearts—poor Edward Young—has been snubbed and dismissed. At first, when her flight was known, it was thought that she had run away with him, and that her coldness and coquetry towards him had been assumed for ing, and by this time the village is ringing with it."

Leola, who was standing at the window patting the head of a huge mastiff which she had let in from the terrace, looked up inquiringly. "News! what news?" she asked, calmly.

"Do you really mean to say you haven't heard?" said Lady Vaux, with her dainty Sevres cup half lifted to her lips. "I have heard no news this morning," said Leola, with a smile. "What news could affect her whose life had passed into Cyril's keeping?"

"Really," said her ladyship, putting her cup down and swinging round gracefully, "you are the dearest and coolest of creatures imaginable! What is the use of a maid if she does not bring one all the gossip of the place?"

"But I don't care for gossip," said Leola. "My dear," said Lady Vaux, with a little shake of the head, "we all care for gossip we are born so, all of us, and we can never be altered or improved in that respect. The best and worst of us love a little scandal, and especially when scandal is so scarce and rare."

"And what is this—scandal?" asked Leola, almost contemptuously. "Well, my dear Leola, it is not very much, I'll admit, and it may not be true—I hope it isn't. They say that that red-haired girl—what is her name?—Polly, yes, Polly Marsden, has eloped!"

CHAPTER XXVIII. POLLY MARSDEN has eloped," said Lady Vaux, and she sat down her coffee-cup and stretched out her primose-gloved hands.

Leola looked round at her with mild, grave eyes; she scarcely realised the just significance of the information.

"Isn't 'eloped' rather too—too sweeping a word?" said Mrs. Wetherell, in her mild, deprecating way.

"Well," said Lady Vaux, shrugging her shoulders, "what would you have me to say, dear Mrs. Wetherell? The girl is missing—"

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP CURES INDIGESTION. Good digestion is the foundation of physical weakness, pain, nervous depression and shattered health. MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP tones and strengthens your stomach, liver and bowels, purifies your blood, cleanses your whole system, and thus...

"He will be here presently," she said slowly. "I am glad of that," said Lady Vaux, rapturously; "he will be the very person to help us. Do you know Mr. Kingsley—Cyril, as Lord Beaumont calls him—charming name!—is quite a favourite of mine. I say that he is the image of a hero of romance, with that noble head and face of his! and such a gentlemanly man—for his position," said her ladyship, with splendid condescension.

Leola's face burnt and her eyes flashed—over the mastiff's head. "Mr. Kingsley is always very kind and considerate," said Mrs. Wetherell. "I do not know what we should do without him."

Leola shot a glance of love and gratitude at the speaker. "Indeed, you must find him delightfully useful," said Lady Vaux, in the nicely balanced tone which she would speak of a highly valued servant.

Leola rose and turned to the window to hide the indignation and impatience which flashed from her eyes. "Lady Vaux's tone jarred on her; her ladyship's cool condescending hauteur sounded insolent, and was almost unendurable."

"You would not so speak of him if he were here," she thought, as she remembered, with a kind of exultation, how cowed Lady Vaux always was in the presence of Cyril Kingsley's great dignity.

"Why does he not come?" thought Leola, impatiently, and she drummed the window-pane with her finger tips. "And why," she thought, does he wish to keep our engagement a secret? How I wish I could turn round and tell her, as she sits there, so insolently composed, that I am to be his wife!"

His wife! The words, unuttered, brought the warm blood to her face. Leola was proud of her lover, as few women are; proud of his good looks, of his high breeding, of his power over all who came within his reach. She strained her eyes watching for him, while Lady Vaux leant back and rippled on her words scarcely noticed by Leola.

The Peers' Campaign.

The campaign of the Peers will close to-day as the writs for the elections will be issued out of the Crown Office on Monday, and it is considered to be a breach of privilege of the House of Commons for members of the House of Lords to take part in an election campaign between the issue and the return of the writs. A committee sat on an infringement of this rule by the Duke of Norfolk last session, but the breach was considered too trifling for serious attention to be paid to it. The rule originated in the days when the influence of landlords was much greater than it is to-day. That was before the days of the Reform Bill, when great commercial centres were not enfranchised, and small and ancient boroughs retained the right to return members. These latter were often the pocket boroughs of the neighbouring Lord of the Manor. Earl Radnor in supporting the Reform Bill of 1832 to disfranchise these rotten boroughs said he was the proprietor of one, which comprised one hundred freeholds, the tenants of which had a vote for each. He was tenant of 99 of the 100 freeholds and could cast 99 of the 100 votes. As Lord of the Manor

The Peers' Challenges.

Since writing the article which precedes this we have received a news despatch which intimates that Lord Lansdowne and Curzon have challenged the rule that peers shall take no part in a political campaign after the issue of election writs. They consider it antiquated and absurd. The privilege is not a law, as it is erroneously stated in the message. No court of justice could enforce it. It is a seasonal order of the House of Commons. At the commencement of each session for centuries past the House agrees to a number of resolutions. The pith of one of these orders is:—"That it is a high infringement of the liberties and privileges of the Commons of the United Kingdom for any lord of parliament . . . to concern himself in the election of members to serve for the Commons in Parliament."
Political peers have observed the rule by taking no part in electoral contests after the issue of the writs.

"Michael Strogoff."

Brimming over with stirring situations, with wholesome humor, and poetic scenes is "Michael Strogoff," a most exciting drama of Russian and Siberian life, which will be presented by the Robinson Alworth Dramatic Co. at the T. A. Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings. W. D. Stedman will be the Courier of the Czar, and his adventures across Asia in the face of countless dangers will thrill our audience. Miss Morton will bring our great romantic charm to bear upon the role of the gentle Nadia; E. E. Horton and Cecil Magnus will have excellent comedy roles, and Algernon Eden and Miss Georgia Griffin will be the vengeful Ogareff and Sangaree. Several sensational effects will be introduced—the blowing, the explosion of the Star Hall last evening, on the raft, the final struggle between Strogoff and Ogareff and the successful delivery of the Czar's message. The entire strength of the company and a large number of extra people will be required for the great battle scene and for the other stirring acts of this powerful drama.

The Laborers' Union members had a card tournament at their rooms in the Star Hall last evening. One hundred and forty players took a hand in. After thirty games had been played with great enthusiasm and excitement the bell sounded announcing that the prizes would be given out to the winners, viz., Messrs. Purcell, Picco, Maher and Volsey. Another tournament will be held next Friday night.

It is reported that the Board of Trade has received information through the local agents for the Black Diamond boats that company acting on representations from the Board of Trade has decided to have two new up to date passenger steamers built for the route between Montreal and St. John's. 1,500,000 Farthings.

Preparing for New Tramway Fare Scheme.
A million and a half farthings are being despatched from the Mint to depots all over the country in connection with the establishment of farthing tramway fares.
The British Electrical Federation, which is responsible for the innovation, had first to pay the Bank of England for the farthings. Then they received an order upon the Mint, which is sending out the farthings packed up in parcels of 25 worth. On January 1 farthings will be in operation in twenty-nine towns. Each tramway conductor will start out the first day with a special bag full of the humble coins.
"Such a large putting into circulation of the farthing will, we believe, restore it to general popularity," said an official of the British Electrical Federation recently. "It seems quite probable that in the provincial towns where our tramways are, tradesmen other than drapers and tobacconists will reintroduce the farthing into general trade as soon as we place the coin in the people's pockets. As it is, we find the farthing practically unknown in many places where we are to introduce it."
The new farthing system has already been described in these columns. All routes will be split up into quarter-mile farthing stages. No single farthing fares will be allowed. Beginning at 1d. the tickets will rise by stages, 1 1/4d., 1 1/2d., 1 3/4d., and so on. The idea is that a person who now gets out at the end of a penny stage and walks on a short distance to his destination rather than pay an extra 1/4d. or 1d. will willingly pay an extra farthing to ride to the point he has to reach.—Daily Mail.

Children Had Eczema

Treatment prescribed had no effect—DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure.
Mrs. Oscar Vaneott, St. Antoine, Sackville, writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One son, while nursing, broke out with running watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scales and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail and would not eat and we thought we would lose him."
"Provisionally we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering."
As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers. Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

PREVENTION IS WORTH WHILE.
When you consider the risk to life, the expense, the anxiety, which is involved in an attack of appendicitis and a surgical operation, it is certainly worth while to avoid it by keeping the liver and bowels regular by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Doctors are now unanimously of the opinion that appendicitis comes from a neglect to keep the liver and bowels in healthful condition.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS, ETC.

The Senior Guards.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir:—The young men who started the Senior Co. Movement in connection with the M. H. G. must be congratulated on the success which has already crowned their efforts. For no further conclusion can possibly be arrived at by anyone after a visit to their Armoury on drill nights. Last night that pleasure was mine, and I am sure that the interest displayed by them must be most gratifying to the officers, and if enthusiasm counts its success is assured. The Senior Company of the M. H. G. is just the place for all young men, ex-members or otherwise, who wish to put in their time to good advantage. It is a place where they will receive training which cannot fail to be of benefit to all. If rumor is correct, there is a limit to numbers, and it would be to the interest of those who signified their intention of joining, but owing to shops being open and other various reasons were prevented from so doing, and all others whose desires lie that way, to join now. It is a splendid way for young men to receive military training, and now is the opportunity, for if there would ever be a time when we would have to defend our rights, what could we gather together in the shape of trained men? Very few, indeed, I'm afraid. I have not the slightest doubt that Newfoundland would be able to get men who would be willing to give their last drop of blood to protect her, and men who as far as courage, bravery and endurance goes can take their stand with the best; but what we need is enough trained men, who, at a moment's notice can jump into the uniforms of the Senior Co. of the M. H. G. and other such organized bodies, and with the aid of military training combined with courage, bravery and endurance, and with the words "with or die in the attempt" on their lips, can help to keep our end of the flag.

There has been different Senior Companies started at various times, but have failed, and have gone out of business, so to speak, which I think is a great pity. It is hard to know to what to attribute the cause. What is needed is a Volunteer Corp or more Senior Co's, who could, if need be, stand shoulder to shoulder, not as this Company or that Company, but as Terra Novians fighting for Terra Nova and the Empire on which the sun never sets.

Yours truly,
TERRA NOVA.

Marystown Church.

The new church at Marystown was opened for divine service the first time when midnight Mass was celebrated at Christmas. The church is a handsome structure and a great testimony of the cordial relations existing between the people and Father Wilson, who is stationed at Marystown. It cost $2,000 and was opened free of debt. Indeed there was some $79 left over from the collection. The whole work was completed in a month and the people are delighted with it and appreciate, not only of this particular exercise of energy and enthusiasm, but of Father Wilson's whole administration since his advent there four months ago.

John Burns' Program.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Jan. 7.

The energy of the Political Campaign by speech and by letter is undiminished but by reason of the exhaustion of arguments by the opposer sides it is becoming less interesting. Lord Lansdowne at Aylesbury and Lord Curzon at Brighton, both challenged to-night the validity of the law which provided that members of the House of Lords may not take part in the campaign after the election writs are issued, which will be on Monday. Both condemned forcing the Lords to keep silence, and Lord Curzon characterized the rule as arbitrary and absurd. John Burns, President of the Local Government Board, speaking to-night said tariffs have caused nearly all wars, that religious have not, and that a tax on timber might lead to war with the United States. He said he considered the speech delivered by A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, in which alarmist references were made to Germany about the most discreditable thing that ever had happened in public life. In an address just issued Mr. Burns declares himself in favour of an Irish Parliament, provided with the Imperial Supremacy is maintained. Describing himself as a convinced free trader and a hearty supporter of the Government's policy, Mr. Burns outlines a programme of desirable legislation, including adult suffrage for both men and women, the payment of members of parliament and their election expenses, shorter terms of Parliament, the extension of Old Age Pensions. The Earl of Halsbury who was Lord Chancellor in Mr. Balfour's

Cabinet, as an argument for the big navy has brought forth a letter written in 1882 by General Gordon predicting the rise in a quarter of a century of a navy power greater than that of Great Britain, namely, Germany. The first serious disaster of the campaign which entailed one death and injuries to many persons occurred in the Eastern section of London to-night. The Irish League had called a meeting in the town hall in Cable Street. A great crowd was besieging the hall and with the arrival of the members of the Irish League escorting the Liberal Candidate, Mr. Benn, who was to address the meeting, the congestion became so great that the railings around the hall collapsed and a score of persons fell into the area which was several feet deep. One man was killed by the fall and ten were more or less seriously injured. The meeting was abandoned. Among the first men to be re-elected to the new parliament will be A. J. Balfour for the City of London, and Joseph Chamberlain for Birmingham West, neither of whom will be opposed. As an indication of a small field as yet cultivated by the labour party only ninety labor and socialist candidates are now before the electors while there are sixty-seven countries in England, Wales and Scotland where no labor or socialist candidates are standing for election. There are many signs of dissension in the Nationalist ranks, as a result of which the number of Irish contested seats is much more than usual. The official candidates are being opposed in many places by independents chosen by local conventions.

Capt. R. Bartlett For South Pole.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, N.Y., Jan. 7.

A report sent out from Washington that an antarctic expedition is to be launched shortly under the auspices of the National Geographical Society is taken here to mean that the end of the year will see three great nations in the field—England, France and United States—engaged in an exciting race for the South Pole. France already is represented somewhere within the antarctic zone by Dr. Jean Charcot, who sailed south from Rio Janiero on Oct. 22nd, 1908. Nothing has been heard from him since April 17th last when his wife received a letter from Reception Island. According to the plans which only await execution until sufficient funds have been raised, the American party will sail south aboard of the Roosevelt, the same ship which enabled Commander Peary to reach the North Pole. It also appears probable that at least three of Peary's most efficient officers will be leaders in the search for the earth's southern end. They include Captain Bartlett.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public Are Warned to be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know. Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormous percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—quit. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

The Peers' Campaign.

LONDON, Jan. 7.

Lively scenes again marked last night's meeting, the peers, especially, figuring. Lloyd-George has issued a public appeal to his supporters to give his opponents a fair hearing, but with small results as yet. Lords Donoughmore and Chylesmore, at Coventry, had to fight their way to the platform through a cheering and jeering mob, whose songs declared that they would "not go home till morning." Repeated appeals, on behalf of their lordships, were received with shouts of "We won't hear them" and "Down with the Lords." The meeting was abandoned. At Holywell, Lord Denbigh's defense of the Lords created such an uproar that he perched himself on the Chairman's table, lighted a cigarette and waited for silence, which only came when the meeting closed. The Duke of Atholl, at a meeting in support of his son, Lord Tullibardine, the Unionist candidate for West Perthshire, said that though aged seventy, this was the first time he had presided at a political meeting. It was extremely difficult to make ends meet on landed estates now-a-days. The Duke has 200,000 acres, and three manors. Lord Rothschild, who is becoming an expert platform speaker, had such a storm at a meeting at Wolverton that only those close to the platform could hear his words. He was unable to conclude his speech. Lord Ashbourne, at Tottenham, said, with a pathetic touch, that the Lords had the "privilege of feeling like Christian martyrs."

Wedding Bells.

Gower Street Methodist Church, this city, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday, Dec. 29th, when Mr. George Bugden, of Bell Island, and Miss Ada Newell, this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. T. D. Dunn. The bride was prettily attired in a suit of blue with hat to match, and was given away by her father. She was attended by Miss Emma Cooper and Miss Bell Wiseman, who were tastefully dressed in suits of cream. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Lloyd Bugden, and Mr. Richard Newell. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the bride's residence where a luncheon was served to 40 guests. A very happy time was spent. The bride received many valuable and useful presents.

City Council Meeting.

A full board was present at last evening's meeting, Mayor Gibbs presiding.

Ordered that the bill sent by Minister of Finance for half year's interest be paid.

A letter was received from the Public Works Department in reference to the choking of a sewer there and the drain from the building. Ordered it be investigated.

A letter was received from the Government Engineer in reference to receiptable at the rear of the new Museum. The stoppage was shown to have been caused by some one who put in a stone and broke the outlet top. Referred to the plumbing inspector.

A motion of appeal was read from Mr. Blackwood in re Tompkins' estate taxes for vacant lands. Referred to the Solicitor.

Plan of co-operation for Bursell, South Side, was referred to Engineer. Mayor Gibbs brought before the Council the necessity of having the bill prepared three years ago, in order to get more ample powers from the Government. He made a law, "He hoped to be able to bring forward for their consideration some amendments to the Municipal Act. It was now more necessary than ever. The town needed improvements in the way of better sewerage and more comfortable houses with sanitary appliances. After passing the pay rolls the meeting closed at 9:30.

Masonic Installation in Hr. Grace and Carbonear.

Dr. Paterson's Memorial Presentation.

The Masonic brethren who had been at Carbonear and Harbor Grace under the auspices of District Grand Lodge, R. S., since Wednesday last conducting the installation of officers there, returned to town last night. District Grand Master Cowan and the members of the Grand Lodge were accompanied by D. G. M. CHIT, R. E., and his Acting Secretary Bro. Edgar, and other brethren whose experience of last year's hospitality at these towns induced them to renew the pleasure of that occasion. The members of Carbonear Lodge received the visiting brethren on arrival there Tuesday night and provided them with comfortable quarters. Meantime a deputation arrived from Harbor Grace Lodge and all wended their way to the new hall of the Order which was thereupon dedicated in solemn form. The officers for the year were then installed. Bro. N. Munn, who acted for Bro. Dr. Boyle, the retiring W. M., who owing to illness was unable to be present. The installation was gracefully performed by D. G. M. Cowan. The newly elected officers are:—

No. 454, R. S." The presentation was appropriately made by Bro. O. H. Travers, a life-long friend of Dr. Paterson's father. The Jewel was accepted by Bro. Munn on behalf of the Lodge, and will be worn in future by the Worshipful Master at all functions. Appropriate speeches were delivered by several of the brethren. The whole company then repaired to the banquet hall where refreshments were served and a pleasant hour spent. The visit is one that will be long remembered by the brethren.

"It is with intense satisfaction that I am able to relate how I was snatched by Dr. Hamilton's Pills from my bed of sickness, writes H. H. Sargent, a well known hardware traveller residing at Charleston. So many changes of diet brought on a fit of indigestion and liver complaint, but being very busy I didn't give the matter much attention. Headaches, awful dizzy spells, and constant tiredness soon made it impossible for me to attend properly to business. My appetite faded away. I became thin and looked yellow and jaundiced. I used three different prescriptions which physicians said would tone up my liver and regulate my bowels—but I got no relief at all till I started to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. After taking them for a few days I was surprised at the energy and force I obtained; the old feeling of tiredness and lack of desire to work disappeared, and instead came vigor, energy, ambition, good color and sound digestion. I take Dr. Hamilton's Pills three times a week and ever since have enjoyed the best of health."

What's the use of feeling so languid, so stupid and dull when Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give you such robust, joyous health. For all disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, no medicine compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Catarhoxone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Anniversary and Missionary Services

At the Adventist Church To-Morrow Night.

Sabbath school anniversary and missionary services will jointly be held at the Adventist Church, Cooks-town Road, to-morrow night. These services will be usually bright and attractive. An interesting programme of appropriate songs and recitations has been prepared, and a profitable time is assured to all who may attend. An offering for foreign missions will be taken. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

Annual Dance.

The Shamrock Amusement Club are holding their annual dancing assembly in the British Hall on the eve of the first holiday, and it will no doubt be a very enjoyable event. The Club is now the oldest and most popular one in the city, and has given every satisfaction to its patrons during the past, and the members are determined to leave nothing undone to maintain the reputation they have won through their untiring efforts to give pleasure to their patrons.

Note of Thanks.

Dear Sir,—I wish publicly to thank Dr. Keegan, Miss Southcott and nursing staff generally for their kind treatment and attendance to me during my confinement in the General Hospital the past six weeks, having been discharged New Year's Eve after a successful operation. I cannot express my thanks too fully for their kindness and I may, say, above all, their thorough business like treatment of my case. In fact they were ministering angels to me as well as all others, confined in this institution. Too much cannot be said of the benefits of General Hospital treatment for sick and ailing. It is a veritable oasis in the desert of ill health, and if a patient cannot recover health and leave perfectly cured, the fault lies not with the energetic and capable doctor or nursing staff. Wishing them all the compliments of the season and thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I remain,

Yours truly,
JOHN J. PROWSE

ANNOUNCEMENT

TODAY, for the first time here, the new medicinal preparation—"ASAYA-NEURALL"—is offered for sale, and may be obtained from the undersigned.

"ASAYA-NEURALL" represents the latest conclusions of medical research in the effort to supply the nervous organization of the body with the elements required to restore normal nervous health in a form capable of being assimilated by the weakest digestive organs.

As is well known, every effort of the mind and every movement of a muscle uses up a part of the tissues of the nervous system, the waste products of which have been found by chemical examination of the excretions to consist largely of mineral phosphates.

In health, when the nervous forces are not over-exerted, certain foods, such as fish, eggs, milk, etc., supply sufficient of the phosphatic principle to restore this loss.

But when a person, young or old, through over-work, worry, intense excitement, grief, alcoholic or other excesses, over-exerts the nerve powers, accelerating the using up of nerve tissue and the consequent loss of the phosphatic principle past the power of recuperation by the ordinary channels of the food, the condition of nervous exhaustion results.

These facts have long been known, and physicians have for years endeavored to aid the system to regain its normal supply of the vital phosphatic element by the giving of phosphorus compounds of many kinds.

The preparation—"ASAYA-NEURALL"—may be described briefly, as the latest advance in the art of phosphatic medication, suitably prepared for general public use. In it phosphorus is supplied in practically the same form as it exists in the human system, thus enabling this nerve building element to be easily assimilated even by those whose digestive powers have been so weakened by disease as to make it impossible for them to retain and assimilate phosphorus preparations of any other kind. It is a safe, home remedy, immeasurably superior to any previous compound for similar purposes, and should be taken by persons suffering from

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION NERVOUS DEBILITY

NERVOUS PROSTRATION
HYSTERIA INSOMNIA

For the nervous despondency frequently experienced by women when recovering from child-birth and for all conditions of nervous derangement resulting from the causes named above.

"ASAYA-NEURALL" checks the night sweats due to extreme nervous debility, and, under the physician's direction, will be found of great service as a reconstructive tonic in the treatment of wasting and debilitating diseases, especially Consumption, where it is of prime importance to maintain the nervous strength, and during the convalescence from acute diseases, such as Pneumonia, La Grippe, etc.

FREE TRIAL SAMPLE OFFERED.—BENEFICIAL EFFECTS ALMOST IMMEDIATELY EVIDENT.

The first effect of this preparation is the lifting of the feeling of depression and the awakening to a more lively interest in things about us. Ability to sleep returns, the digestive powers are roused, the appetite improves, and a general feeling of rejuvenation and renewal of energy is felt. The beneficial effects are evident almost at the first dose. Not due, however, to false stimulation, as in alcoholic preparations, but to real feeding of the under-nourished nerve tissues, while the time to stop taking this preparation is as evident as is the time to stop at meal time, that is, when the nerves have been fed until their normal condition returns and a buoyant feeling of nervous health replaces the depression previously experienced.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Any adult person may, within ten days from the date when this notice appears, obtain a liberal sized free sample bottle of "ASAYA-NEURALL," quite sufficient to definitely establish the value of this preparation in their case, by filling in the coupon below and presenting same to the undersigned. "ASAYA-NEURALL" is regularly sold in large bottles at $1.50 each. One bottle, taken three times a day according to directions, affords treatment for about forty days, all that is usually required for ordinary derangements of the nervous system.

"ASAYA-NEURALL" is prepared solely by the DAVIS & LAWRENCE CO., Manufacturing Chemists, of New York, Montreal and Shanghai, and may be obtained locally from

A Visit to Sunny Italy.

Letter From Mr. W. A. Thorburn.

On the evening of Nov. 24th we all received an appropriate souvenir of the voyage in the form of a dainty menu card with a picture of the "Canopic" at Naples on the outside and, as this was our last dinner on board, the orchestra furnished fitting selections, such as Auld Lang Syne, etc. We also had a ball which made everyone feel good; the starboard side of the promenade deck being turned into a temporary ballroom and nicely decorated with flags and colored electric bulbs. By the way, one of the British sailors on this ship is quite a genius, he can draw excellently in freehand, and also paints in water colours and oils. He showed me a very nice piece of work it is. We had some interesting yarns together between times. We arrived at Naples at 10 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 25, after a good passage of 11 days, 3 hrs. and 54 minutes according to the ship's official log. Here are a few remarks culled from it:—

November 14th, Distance Travelled, 325 miles, smooth to rough head sea; 15th, 322 miles, overcast and cloudy, rough head sea; 16th, 354 miles, cloudy weather, heavy N. E. swell; 17th, 354 miles, moderate gale, with rough following sea; 20th, 254 miles, confused to rough following sea; 21st, 363 miles, strong breeze, rough following sea; 21st, 363 miles, strong breeze, rough following sea; 366 miles to Gibraltar; 23rd, 296 miles, fine weather; 24th, 346 miles, fine weather; 339 miles to Naples. Total distance, 4,039 miles.

I must say the passengers on the "Canopic" were a nice lot of people, and if any of them should happen to read this account of the trip they will doubtless remember the pleasant times we had on board. At Naples we all parted, each to go on his and her way; perhaps some of use may meet again, perhaps not. About one of the first things I noticed in Naples were on a cart marked A. Goodridge & Son (that is, the casks were marked with that firm's brand, not the cart); they had, of course, come from Newfoundland. I was only in Naples about a day and a half, as it was necessary to come back on the S. S. "Berlin," but I would have enjoyed spending a month in Italy. Having secured a competent, licensed guide and interpreter, (which I would strongly advise anyone visiting Italy for the first time to do; only care should be exercised in securing a guide who is bona fide) he and I started out to make the best possible use of my limited time. We went through the King's Palace which is occupied by the King of Italy when he is in Naples, and it is a fine building and has a large courtyard. Within there are many costly tapestries and handsome paintings, and the ballroom is really magnificent.

With Very Fine Candelabra

suspended from the ceiling in the centre of the room; the floor is literally as smooth as glass and all that could be desired by the most exacting devotee of Terpsichore. The dining room is also exceedingly fine, as are the various reception rooms, etc. There is also a private chapel with tapestries and paintings representing the crucifixion, Christ in the Temple, and many other Biblical subjects. The altar in this chapel is a piece of high-class work, and the exquisite inlaid work in gold, silver, precious stones, marble, ivory and wood seen all over the Palace simply beggars description. We saw the underground passage through which the Royal party can go when they so desire, to the public theatre which is conveniently situated nearby, and we were through the King's small private theatre where theatricals are given at which his privileged friends attend. We were also out on the roof garden of the Palace from which altitude a beautiful

View of the Bay of Naples, the city, and Mount Vesuvius and the surrounding mountains is obtained. There are roof gardens and roof gardens, but this one must not be compared to the roof gardens of, for instance, New York City; it is in an elegant class by itself. I saw many nice buildings in Naples including the Court House, Municipio, or Municipal Building, Theatres, Churches, Statues, Fountains, etc. There are some strong serviceable looking bicycles here made from imported English, French and German fittings. My guide informed me that should the tires get cut by a piece of glass the air would rush out of them and they would then have to be mended. To one who has ridden bicycles of a variety of makes for twelve years, this was intensely interesting information.

The population of Naples is 600,000 a great many of whom are very poor and pitifully ignorant. Most of the Streets are About Thirty Feet Wide and paved with lava blocks from Mount Vesuvius. Vesuvius, the grim old sleepless sentinel, looks like an enormous hill, and when I saw it, it was covered on the sides with snow; it is liable to discharge liquid lava at almost any time, and only three years ago there was a discharge which caused some loss of life, and at that time the ashes from the volcano were three feet high in Naples. Each eruption lowers the altitude of this enormous cone; the last upheaval lowering the height by 225 feet. This city has electric street cars that run on broad gauge tracks four feet wide. The water supply comes from Mount Cerino, and excellent water it is. Carriages, when meeting, always keep to the right, the same "rule of the road" as in American cities, and diametrically opposite to driving rules in British cities. There are quite a few taximeter cabs, the rate being about

A Franc and a Half (30 Cents) an hour. One sees oxen teams, and teams of an ox and a donkey yoked together and, in the streets of Naples, you can gaze on these oxen teams, electric cars, automobiles, bicycles and taxicabs all in the same street at the same time thus illustrating the ancient and the modern with a vengeance. I witnessed a curious funeral procession here, about five o'clock in the afternoon, in which the corpse was carried on the shoulders of men dressed in long white sheets with holes cut in the sheets for the eyes, nose and mouth, which made them look like so many ghosts; it was rather a gruesome spectacle and looked quite weird wending its difficult way through the lighted streets crowded with busy people. In bright contrast to this I observed, in another part of the city, a company of Bersaglieri, or Italian sharpshooters, their picturesque uniforms and plumed head-dress showing up quite artistically in the glare

Of the Electric Arc Lamps.

Anyone visiting Italy at this time of the year should take plenty of warm clothing with them for the weather in sunny Italy is quite cold at this season. The collage in Naples is France, centimes, lire, etc. Five centimes is one cent. One franc is one hundred centimes, or twenty cents. One lire is the same as one franc. After patronizing an entertainment at which some two-hundred people, mostly men, were treated to singing, dancing and athletic feats, my guide and I had an "after theatre supper" in one of the best restaurants in the city, and I arrived back at my hotel, at midnight. Some of the Neapolitan women are very pretty and you can rest assured that they know it, too. On Friday morning we started, by electric car, for the ruined city of Pompeii, but did not break any records as our speed was not greater than Thirteen Miles Per Hour.

The track is narrow gauge, three feet wide, and the first class cars are quite comfortable. At the time of the last disturbance of Vesuvius the track on which we ran was completely submerged by molten lava, and the solidified lava is now piled high on each side of the right of way. For part of the distance between Naples and Pompeii steam cars run alongside the electric cars, and on other sections the both styles of car run on the same track. There are a number of vineyards along this route and in these work the poor peasants at the rate of three francs (60 cents) a day. Approaching Pompeii we see Mount Somma, somewhat behind Mount Vesuvius, which volcano has been extinct since 79 A.D. We entered the unearthed remains of Pompeii at 11 a.m., and an indescribable feeling takes possession of one as they walk its streets and amidst its ruins. They are still excavating the ruins and the city has been uncovered, as eruptions from grim, old Vesuvius have thrice covered it up. Pompeii was overwhelmed in 79 A.D., the original cause of the city's destruction being an earthquake followed by a discharge from Vesuvius which buried the stricken place under tons of ashes. We walked through the principal streets and beheld the remains of public fountains, old lead water pipes, and the ruined houses on the walls of which are still to be seen paintings representing myths and historical subjects, and I noticed quite a few artists busy reproducing these mural decorations. The principal forms of architecture in Pompeii are the Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian, and I am convinced after seeing the masonry in this ancient city, that with all our up-to-date methods we cannot erect buildings which would stand the test these have done. Truly, we have a lot to learn. We passed under the two triumphal arches erected respectively

In Honour of Caligula, who was Emperor of Rome from 37 to 41 A.D., and who was supposed to be mad; and Nero who was Emperor of Rome from 41 to 68 A.D., and who was infamous for his cruelties. (I will not guarantee that these dates are correct, but it is an incontrovertible fact that Caligula and Nero were Roman Emperors). These Emperors passed through these arches which are in a fairly good state of preservation to-day and, in imagination, I could see the populace loudly acclaiming and doing homage to, as in duty bound, those men who had made themselves known far and wide. Other exceedingly interesting things that the guide pointed out were:—1. The statue of Diana, which has a hole in the back of its head, through which a priest used to speak and thus give the impression to a credulous populace that Diana uttered oracles. The priest was concealed in

A Niche Behind the Statue.

2. The amphitheatre, which was a colossal building that could seat 12,000 people. It is built in the form of an ellipse; the dimensions of the major axis, or long diameter, being 139 meters (about 456 feet), and that of the minor axis, or short diameter, 121 meters (about 396 feet). This building was divided into two sections, one for tragic performances and the other for comedy. 3. The Temple of Justice, a large building supported by many pillars, and underneath which are the dungeons where prisoners were kept awaiting trial; these dungeons were certainly gloomy places, as I found when I had descended into them. 4. The Museum in Pompeii, in which are some remains of the victims of the terrible catastrophe that overtook this once beautiful city, and in this museum are many casts representing the attitudes in which the victims were found, some peaceful, some horribly contorted.

The Two Best.

The Mic-Mac Hockey Sticks.

Made of selected second-growth birch. For forwards, defence and goal. Natural grain of wood running with curve of blade. Here are some of its good points. 1st—Stiffness and lightness. 2nd—Will not fray at bottom of blade. 3rd—Keeps its correct shape. 4th—Correct in pattern and weight. 5th—Every stick carefully inspected before leaving factory. Ask for the Mic-Mac sticks and don't accept imitations.

The "Rex" Hockey Sticks.

Our latest pattern, made of straight selected second-growth yellow birch. For expert players—forwards, defence and goal. The features which recommend it are:— 1st—Longitudinal serrations on handle, ensuring firm grip and preventing stick slipping from players' hands. 2nd—Double grooved blade, the lower one also being serrated. This enables the puck to be accurately shot for goal and strengthens the stick at its weakest point. Ask for the "Rex" stick.
