SPREADING THE GOOD NEWS

Prominent Ontario Man Recommends Gin Pills For The Kidneys

Found at last—a genuine cure for Kidney and Bladder Troubles. Mr. Pater knows about it. Mr. Simpson knows about it. And they are telling all their friends and neighbors what Gin Pills did for them. Here is Mr. Bauer's letter. Study it.

DAVEVILLE, ONT.
"I had trouble with my Kidneys and Bladder and I got a sample of GIN PILLS and followed directions. I felt better after the first dose and I kept taking them for a month."
One day, Mr. Simpson of this town told me about the trouble he had with his kidneys, and I recommended him to try GIN PILLS, and gave him one to take. The next day, he bought some for himself, and both he and his wife have derived great benefit from them."

HERBERT H. BAUER.
Every man who has any Kidney Trouble or suffers with Rheumatism should do just as Mr. BAUER did—take GIN PILLS—and cure himself, as Mr. BAUER did.
You see, GIN PILLS do cure Kidney and Bladder Troubles. Gin Pills ease the pain in the back and stop those sharp, shooting pains. Gin Pills give strength to weak kidneys, soothe the irritated bladder and correct incontinence and suppression of urine. You don't have to take our word for all this, or even buy Gin Pills before trying them. Write for free sample—try them—see how good they are—and then buy the regular size boxes at your dealer's—50c, or six boxes for $2.50. Write for the free sample. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, Dept. N Toronto.

A MYSTERIOUS QUEST.

CHAPTER XL.

SECRET ENEMIES.

(Concluded.)

"I cannot believe it!" was Jenny's exclamation, at this extraordinary revelation. "Who could do such a thing? Who would? I have not an enemy left in the world, unless—She thought of Mr. Byrd, but immediately dismissed the idea as ridiculous. "What do you think about it, Mr. Degraw?"

"I do not know what to think, Miss Rogers. I looked the papers in what I supposed to be a place of great security. As I could not know what would be the result of our interview, I did not have them put in the hotel safe as I should have done, thinking safe as I should have done, thinking of my trunk till I should return. But they have been handled, incredible as it seems, and the letter taken out; why the letter and none of the other papers, I must leave you to conjecture, since I have no means of judging of the matter myself."

"I am sure it is all a dreadful mystery to me," declared the poor girl, who was as ignorant of the world as most children of genius. "Did you speak about it to anybody? Did you tell them you had lost anything?"

"Most certainly. I did not say what it was, but I announced that a very important paper was missing from my trunk. That is why I was detained so long. We were making inquiries."

"And—"
"They led to nothing. No one but my washer-woman had been admitted to my rooms, nor has any one else been seen to enter them. The thief must have been expert in his art, and known exactly what he was going for. But why should it have been your letter?"

"I don't know; I don't know. Perhaps because Heaven wished to punish me for my sins. I see no other reason."

"Miss Rogers, shall I put this matter in the hands of a detective?" She shuddered, and placed her hand over her heart, as if the word had pierced her.

"No," was her quick reply. "If it was not stolen by a detective, I shall be surprised."

"What do you mean?" he asked. "I am told that detectives are sly and secret. That they resort not only to honest but even to dishonest means for finding out what they wish to know. If Mr. Byrd has any real reason for distrusting me (and that he does distrust me is evident), he may have thought himself justified in stealing this letter. Though how he could have known anything about it, I cannot imagine, since you and I alone were acquainted even with its existence."

"Mr. Byrd is the detective who saved your life in Great Barrington?"

She bowed, flushed painfully at memories not yet sufficiently forgotten for her peace.

"A fine fellow, seemingly," remarked Mr. Degraw. "I do not think he would engage in such underhand business as this."

"He might think it his duty to do the other Mr. Degraw, whose friend he is," she ventured, with painful hesitation.

Her visitor looked serious, but hastily shook his head.

"Unworthy of such a man!" he muttered. "An honest fellow such as Mr. Byrd appears to be, would not lend himself to any such scheme, involving the trifling of a respectable citizen's private effects. I would sooner suspect my washer-woman; and yet that is ridiculous!"

Jenny's head, which had fallen in dejection on her breast, rose suddenly, but immediately dropped again.

"Yes, that is ridiculous," she echoed.

"Had it been money," he remarked, "I should certainly have suspected this woman, for she is known to have been long enough in my room, while I was here, to have gone through my trunks; but a letter, and such a letter! What could it be to her?"

"Nothing, nothing," acquiesced Jenny, totally unnerved and disheartened by this last misadventure, "unless," she suddenly cried, "she was acting for the detectives."

Mr. Degraw looked startled. "I hate to think it," said he. "She has washed for me several weeks, and has been more than once alone in my rooms. Yet in this way only can I account for the trunk being opened, searched and locked again in the short space of time in which I was absent. She was provided with keys."

"Oh, what goodness!" she exclaimed. "But I cannot accept it. I have not the courage!" And she indeed looked like a trembling child told to lay down her head to the ax's stroke. "I had rather beg, starve, die!" she murmured. "I have been hungry, in the old days,

A moment of silence followed, then he kindly observed:

"Had I solace to offer, I should not hesitate so long in speaking; but I coincide with you in thinking that this letter has been taken by an enemy of yours, and taken with the purpose of thwarting your marriage with Mr. Degraw. If, therefore, you would make this attempt innocuous, and merit the confidence of your lover and the admiration of your friends, you will go at once to Mr. Degraw and tell him what was in this letter, before it can have a chance to reach him."

For the first time she looked a her visitor with a gleam of suspicion; but it soon vanished before his unswerving gaze.

"I thought," she said, with a sort of yearning hesitation, "that you might have planned this story of loss to drive me to an act from which I shrink, but I see no such good news in your eyes."

"He did not think it worth while to answer this insinuation. On the contrary, he remarked:

"If you agree with me, that this is your one and only course, I will so far forget my former relations with you as to accompany you to Mr. Degraw's studio. If he sees that I am here to uphold and sustain you, he may think more lightly of your fault. At all events, you will not be alone, for if he rejects and despises you, I will take you into my brotherly keeping, and see that you never suffer for a home while I live."

"Oh, what goodness!" she exclaimed. "But I cannot accept it. I have not the courage!" And she indeed looked like a trembling child told to lay down her head to the ax's stroke. "I had rather beg, starve, die!" she murmured. "I have been hungry, in the old days,

Brandy can be, but good the rest. If you would know how.

D. O. ROBLIN, of Toronto, Sole Canadian Agent
JOHN JACKSON, RESIDENT AGENT.

"But how could she have known of my letter—of its being there?"

"Only in one way, Miss Rogers. I did not tell you all I learned about her stay in my room, because I could see no reason why this woman should be interested in this or any other letter of mine. But if she is in the detective's employ, the taking of 'his letter is the very thing she would be likely to be interested in; for it seems that she was in my bedroom while was opening and reading your communication in the adjoining apartment, and from my ejaculations she must have gathered an idea of its importance. Now, if she had keys, and was a police spy, she would naturally take means for procuring this letter, and as I was called out before she left, she had ample opportunity for unlocking my trunk and searching among my documents."

"She did it! She did it! Mr. Byrd now has that letter. Was not this woman a bright, Frenchy-looking girl?"

"On the contrary, she is a dried-up and unpleasant looking old woman. If the Portuguese were not dead—"

Jenny started. "Oh, it isn't she," Mr. Degraw soothly continued. "The story of her death is no doubt true. I only meant to give you some idea of her appearance."

Jenny shook her head with a slow despairing movement. "Whoever it is," said she, "my letter will soon be in the hands of the one man I most dread to have see it."

"Her visitor did not gainsay this. "Mr. Degraw will never marry me if he reads that letter," she declared.

"And still the gentleman before her made no reply."

and I can be so again. It is not that I fear, but one of his averted looks."

Mr. Degraw's face filled with compassion. He could not help it in sight of so much misery and beauty. Yet he did not think of retracting his advice; indeed, he prepared to become more persuasive.

But she gave him no encouragement to persist. Instead, she showed him a face so weary that he took the hint and turned toward the door.

"I perceive that you need rest," said he. "If you wish to see a letter, send a note to that effect to the Westminister. Meanwhile, consider what I have said, and command me for any duty I can conscientiously perform."

"I need no services!" she cried. "If Mr. Degraw marries me, I shall soon have a protector. If he does not, I shall not need one; yet I thank you all the same," she added, with a touch of her old sweetness that so wrung his heart anew.

"And, Miss Rogers, let me urge you to listen to this: Remember that you have leased this house; that you paid for it in advance, and that it is your home to the end of the year. As for your other bills—"

"Don't!" she pleaded, holding out her hands in deprecation before her. "Any humiliation but this. If the rental of this house is mine, I make a gift of it to you from tomorrow morning on. I have spent enough of Mr. Delaney's money as it is, without charging his estate with my further maintenance. I can sing. Despair has robbed me of timidity, or rather despair will soon do so, if I am called upon to despair. But I may not be. Mr. Degraw has not yet seen that letter."

"BEAVER" FLOUR

Makes the True Home-Made Bread Your Mother Used to Make

Canadian women are the most attractive in the world because they are the most womanly. They are home bodies. Their interests are centred in their homes. They are proud of their skill in bread-making. They know that with "Beaver" Flour, they can make bread that equals anything turned out by the most skillful chefs in the world.

One of the first things noticed by travellers in Canada is the fact that "all you women know how to make good bread."

If they knew all the facts, they would add "all your best bread makers use "BEAVER" FLOUR."

The reason is quite simple. "Beaver" Flour is a blended flour. It is really two flours in one. It contains the quality, nutriment and flavor of Ontario Fall wheat and the strength of Manitoba Spring wheat. "Beaver" Flour is a perfectly balanced flour. It makes baking easy because it is always the same in strength, quality and flavor. You can make more bread to the barrel than with any other flour—big, brown, nutty, delicious loaves that will delight both the eye and the palate. Perhaps you have never tried "Beaver" Flour. Your grocer has it. Try it. You can't make the best pastry without it.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"Oh, well, I don't pity her," I heard a woman say the other day. "All her troubles are nobody's fault but her own. She made her bed and now she can lie in it."

I quote the lady because it seems to me that her way of looking at people's troubles is just about as common as it is illogical.

Her troubles are nobody's fault but her own, and, therefore, she deserves none of our pity. Why, dear madame, don't you see that you are stating the very reason why the unfortunate one is the most pitiable creature possible?

Turn the tables. Put yourself in her place. Suppose yourself a woman brought up in middle class luxury, never having been obliged before your marriage even to do a daughter's share of the family housework, and now trying to support two babies by going out into other people's homes and doing all kinds of work, as an accommodation—suppose you have to trust precious babies to a cheap day nursery. Imagine that you have to come home at night, absolutely exhausted, and put the little ones to bed, get your supper and do your own housework. Suppose you have had to sell most of the pretty furniture, with which your bridal home was furnished, and take two rooms in a cheap house in an ugly street.

Now, do you think it would make all this any easier to bear, to remember that these troubles had come upon you because you would persist, despite the advice and protests of everyone, in marrying a man in whose veins flowed the drunkard's blood—in other words, because all your troubles are nobody's fault but your own?

Does it make a trouble weigh lighter or heavier to have remorse and self-accusation added to it?

Isn't it really a genuine comfort to know that you did the best thing you could have done, and whatever misfortune have befallen you, have come entirely without blame on your part?

Many people say of Richeson, the Boston minister who went from one sin to another, until he ended by murdering the young girl who had trusted him with the most refined and machivellian brutality—"I don't pity him at all. He had every chance and he threw them all away."

I pity him. I can't imagine any more terrible suffering than he must endure when he looks back on his career, and realizes just that. It seems to me that Silas Phelps, for instance, a fellow prisoner of Richeson's, for whom the Governor's clemency has been invoked on the ground that "he never had a chance" is far less to be pitied.

"She made her own bed and now she can lie in it. I don't pity her" is a cheerful way of disposing of such cases. But if pity is to have a reasonable foundation on pitilessness is a logical attitude.

Household Notes.

To destroy red ants, grease tin plates with lard and put them on the floor, with a few sticks for the ants to climb up. Soon the plates will be covered with ants, which prefer lard to sugar. Turn the plates upside down on a hot fire.

Lamb's liver, which is very delicate, and not so much used as it deserves to be, is delicious minced and served on toast. It is also excellent fried, cooked two or three minutes in a tablespoonful of butter, and folded in an omelet, with peppers and a minced olive or two.

A sweet biscuit may be made with ordinary biscuit dough, with the addition of chopped dates. Roll the dough thin, spread with plenty of soft butter, and then put on a thick layer of chopped dates. On top place another layer of dough, and cut out with a small cutter. Bake in a hot oven.

A delicious dessert is made of French chestnuts that have been peeled, boiled tender and mashed until they are smooth, and then seasoned with a little vanilla or other extract and sugar, heated around the sides of a glass dish and filled in the center with whipped cream. The cream may be dotted with jelly.

The latest way of serving oyster or clam cocktails is to use a new double glass, quite similar. The outer receptacle is filled with finely shaved ice. The oysters are placed directly on the ice, while the dressing is put in the glass. Each oyster, as it is picked up, is dipped in the sauce.

To make whole wheat bread, take four cupfuls of whole wheat flour, two of white flour, half a cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one egg, and dissolved in enough warm water to make a stiff batter. Let rise until light, mold in two loaves, let rise again and bake in a moderate oven. A teaspoonful of shortening soda adds to the richness.

Left-over cereal may be used in either of two ways. Mixed with some chopped meat, seasoned well, it is always tasty in croquettes. An excellent dessert may be made of the cooked cereal, sweetened, seasoned with spice, and then mixed with chopped raisins. Then it should be molded into cones and browned in the oven. Serve with syrup or thick cream.

A delicious and simple fruit punch is made of canned pineapple, shredded. Take a pint of this fruit and to it add the juice of three good-sized lemons, the juice of four oranges, two sliced bananas and one and a half cupfuls of sugar. Put the mixture in a bowl with a good-sized lump of ice. Let it stand for an hour or so and then add a pint of carbonated water.

Beeswax and turpentine is a capital polish for furniture which is not French polished. To make it, shred half an ounce of beeswax very fine, and add to it a quarter of a pint of spirits of turpentine. Stir well and put aside until the next day. Then stir again and let it stand for another day, when it will be ready for use. Never melt beeswax and turpentine over a hot fire, as it is highly inflammable.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. ### HOW TO TREAT THE COW.

In response to a large number of requests from inquiring cow owners, we give below a few helpful hints regarding the proper care and treatment of the household favorite known as the family cow:

1. Always seat yourself on the right side of the cow when about to give her milking mechanism a trial heat. If you don't know what the right side is, the cow will let you know at once by inserting a navy blue dent in your person and the milk pail at one and the same time.
2. Never use any violent or offensive language in the presence of the cow, unless she allows her tail to roam at large and fills your eyes with coarse hair and the pail with dock seed.

If the cow does something which

Pneumonia from a Cold

PNEUMONIA is second only to consumption in the number of deaths which it causes, and like consumption always has its beginning with a cold.

Cold in the head, fever and chills, cough which gradually becomes dry and more painful in the chest, rapid, difficult breathing, feelings of exhaustion and depression—these are symptoms of pneumonia.

You can prevent and cure pneumonia by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, the greatest of all treatments for the throat and lungs.

The only safe way is to regard every cold as serious. By frequent uses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine you can quickly break up the cold and guard against dangerous developments. 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

you take exception to, do not strike her while in a state of anger. Go into the house and count up to one hundred, meanwhile donning a neat-fitting pair of overalls, after which renew the argument with a stern look and a leg from the dining room table. Otherwise you are liable to spoil a perfectly good cow for some time to come.

4. If the cow lifts up one hind foot, in a moment of careless rapture, and deposits it carefully in the milk pail, do not kick her without first removing both shoes. After you have driven a big toe against the sides of a bony heifer once, you will look out upon life with a more docile and conciliatory aspect.

5. Do not expect the cow to fatten up on an occasional caress and a birthday reminder in the form of hay that is musty enough to choke an ardent well. Love and affection are all right in their place, but they don't flood the pantry with home-made butter.

6. Don't allow an enthusiastic dog with clingsome teeth to exercise the cow by chasing her around the back forty. There is such a thing as over-doing the Delsarte proposition in this respect. Besides, it is liable to cause the cow to wheeze in several different languages during the evening meal and disturb the conversation.

Want Ferry Scheme Tested

We observe that the Quebec Board of Trade have taken up the consideration of the project to establish a short Atlantic route from the Old Country via Green Bay and the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Canada.

It will be remembered that a few years ago a London Syndicate proposed to the Government of the day to make an effort to establish a fast line of steamers from the Old Country to Green Bay, to build a line of railway at their own expense across to Bonne Bay, and to establish a ferry service from thence to Gaspé. The promoters were desirous of enlisting the support of the authorities in the Old Country, in Canada, the States and elsewhere. The Newfoundland Government obtained from the Legislature a sanction of the project, and a promise to give a subsidy of $75,000 a year, when the railway was built, the steamers and trains running, and the whole project actually working. For a long time we have heard nothing about the scheme, beyond the fact that Mr. Thomson, the chief promoter, was still at work trying to enlist support for the scheme in Canada, the States and Europe. In our exchanges, however, which we received last night, we find that the Quebec Board of Trade, on January 27th asked the Dominion Government to run their steamer Montcalm between Gaspé and Bay of Islands during the present month to test the feasibility of linking up that part of the Newfoundland coast with Gaspé during the winter. The text of the letter to Hon. L. P. Pelletier, P. M. G., of the Dominion follows:—

"The Quebec Board of Trade have been informed that the Government of Newfoundland has voted a subsidy of $75,000 per annum for 25 years to a London syndicate who propose to build a railway from Green Bay to Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, and establish a fast and powerful car ferry to carry trains, winter and summer, from the latter point to Gaspé or Dalhousie. This service would be established in connection with fast ocean steamers from Green Bay to Ireland or England.

"As this project would be of very great importance to Canada, by giving a faster English mail service, but also in making a daily and more connection between this Province and Newfoundland, the Council of the Quebec Board of Trade would respectfully suggest that in order to prove the practicability of this route in winter, the Government steamship Montcalm on her next trip to the Gulf in the month of February should make a run from Gaspé to Bay of Islands.

"The transfer of entire trains in winter across Lake Michigan and across Lake Baikal in Siberia has proved successful under much more difficult circumstances than exist in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, so we feel confident that the Government will not hesitate to make a trial likely to be productive of such beneficial results."

Getting Snow Thro' Hallway.

There was such an accumulation of snow on the roof of Mr. W. V. Drayton's store, Water Street, that it was imperatively necessary to get it off to save damage to the building. The yard at the rear is much higher than the street level and to-day men threw the snow from the roof into this, while others shovelled it into "skids" running down the hallway and thence out through the hall into the street, where it was carted away. The process was attended with no little discomfort to those in the store, as the hall door and that at the rear was kept open all day, while snow blocked the passage away.

The Police Court.

There was a clean docket in the police court to-day.

Several civil cases were adjudicated upon in the Central District Court. Judgment was handed down in the case of Road Inspector Murphy vs. A. Humber, who sued for a month's rent of house, $7.50. It appears that defendant left plaintiff's house which he had rented without giving the regulation one month's notice, and leaving the key at plaintiff's residence it was accepted by his friends then at home. Soon after a notice that the house was to let was placed in one of the windows. Mr. Cahill for plaintiff, Mr. Gibbs, K.C., for defendant. Judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for the month's rent, $7.50.

Wedding Bells.

The wedding of Mr. Edward Murphy, of Pleasant Street, to Miss Lizzie Meehan, of St. Mary's, was solemnized last evening at St. Patrick's Church. Rev. Fr. McDermott married them. Mrs. Whelan was bridesmaid and Mr. Frank Devine, of Collins's store, was best man. The bride looked well in a pretty blue costume and blue trimmed hat. Mr. D. Murphy, who had charge of the celebration arrangements, conducted the happy pair and their friends to Pleasant Street, the future residence of the young couple, and there a sumptuous supper was served and festivities kept up till morning. The programme of dances was varied by songs and speeches. The presents were useful and many. The Telegram extends best wishes to Mr. Murphy and bride.

Almeriana Here.

The Furness liner Almeriana, Capt. Fairclough, arrived here this forenoon from Liverpool after a run of 10 days. All through the voyage the ship had strong E. to W. gales with a very high sea and heavy snow storms and met heavy ice 250 miles to the eastward of this port. The ship steamed south to the Virgins to escape the floe, which was very heavy, and she met light slob ice about 40 miles east of Cape Race and steamed through it to Bay Bulls, leaving it about 20 miles off that place. The ship brought 275 tons cargo and 13 bags and 6 hampers of mail matter. Her passengers were Mrs. Prescott, Miss Prescott, Mr. Cracknell, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Crumney and Mrs. Dodd and child.

Refused Offer.

A number of girls employed in the pants department of one of the city clothing factories quit work and walked out last Tuesday when they were told by the assistant manager that he was obliged to cut down on the piece work of 3 1/2 cents and 4 1/2 cents for pants. They were told that any of them who did not agree to a cut in the wages could go. They all went out except one, and most of them have since been given employment at satisfactory wages in other factories.

Bruce's Trial Trip

Yesterday the new Bruce, built in Glasgow, was given a trial trip on the Clyde and made 16 knots an hour under natural draft. There were present Mr. H. D. Reid, Dr. Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Paterson, Mr. A. D. Brown and about a dozen Newfoundlanders. She leaves to-morrow for this port.

The Portia left Hermitage at 3 a.m. to-day bound west.

The S. S. Kamfjord, coal laden for this port, is now out a week from Sydney.

The barque, E. S. Hocken, Captain Montagu, cleared to-day for Pernambuco with 4,615 drums of fish shipped by Job Bros. & Co.

The Nellie Louise was cleared to-day by Bowring Bros. with fish for Brazil.

REID SYD. CO.

The Bruce will leave Glasgow to-morrow for St. John's.

The Solway is at Port aux Basques loading freight for St. John's.

The Glencoe left St. John's at 11 p.m. yesterday for Louisburg.

The Home left Placentia at 5.30 a.m. yesterday for the west.

The Invermore arrived at Burnt at 6 p.m. yesterday going east.

Dr. Keegan Undergoes an Operation

Dr. Keegan, who is afflicted with blood poisoning in the arm as the result of a fall sustained about a week ago, is confined to his room. For several days past he has been very ill and last evening he was operated on by Drs. Fraser, Cowperthwaite and Carbery of the Calypso. He is much improved to-day, but it will be at least a month yet before he can resume his duties.

That Case of Barratry.

Herbert Barrett was arrested at Spaniard's Bay this morning and taken to Harbor Grace where we will be charged with casting away the Segr. Annie C. Raymond at Wolf Island, last summer. He was skipper of the schooner. The police are also trying to serve a warrant on a man named Bishop of Western Bay who is said to be involved in the case. His friends say that he is gone out of the country. The Insurance Co. refused to pay the insurance but the accused are said to have got a lot of goods on the strength of the insurance policy.

Man Shot Dead.

The Marine and Fisheries Department had the following message last evening from the operator at Stone's Cove: "Man named James Herridge found shot dead in cabin of the schr. Monnie and Memmie." Hon. D. Morrison also had the following message from Mr. Curlew, J.P., at Belleoram: "Geo. P. Bond, of Stone's Cove, telegraphs me that James Herridge went on board the schooner to work, found in cabin shot dead with gun. Not known if suicide or accident with gun." No particulars of the occurrence were given.

Gasolene Cargo.

The Schr. Ben J. Phillips, Capt. F. Lake, arrived here at 3 a.m. to-day from Halifax with a cargo of gas oil and gasolene. She left there Thursday week and good time was made to Scatterie. She met ice off Canso and passed through 50 miles of it off Scatterie to the eastward. She was all Friday last in the ice and had to run away south to get clear of it. Wednesday morning she made Cape Pine and tried to harbor at Trepassay and in an E.N.E. wind got into a position near Powell's Head and dropped anchor, but the ice running out forced the skipper to leave up and quit the locality. She then ran for St. John's, and until port was reached came through slob and scattered ice. She beat in here this morning. She left Argentina on the 4th January and despite the big snow storm then prevailing arrived on the 7th. She will load fish here for market.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, Feb. 2, '12.

Coughs, and colds always show a tendency to fasten particularly upon persons who for any reason are weak or run down. For persons who catch cold easily and find great difficulty in throwing off a cold when they have it, we suggest a course of Mathien's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil. This, besides being a reliable cough cure, is an excellent general tonic, and can be counted upon to pull the patient's general health up to normal in quick time. Price 50c. for large bottle.

Have you obstinate chaps on the hands? Some people suffer from cracked skin throughout the whole winter. If you are one of those, try Zam-Buk. It is a specific for chaps, and will heal your hands in two or three applications. Price 50c. a box.

Railway News.

The west bound express left Alexander Bay at 8.30 a.m.

The local via Brigus arrived at St. John's at 12.30 p.m. bringing Dr. Jones, J. Carroll, W. F. Cosker, and 2 others.

The Rotary No. 1, going west started from Crabb's at 9 a.m. to clear up the road to Port aux Basques.

Rotary No. 2, coming east from Bishop's Falls, left Gambo at 9 a.m. and will clear up the road to Clarenville. A train with plow left Clarenville at 7 a.m. to clear up the Bonavista branch. The Broad Cove road is closed still.

The main line is now cleared to Bishop's Falls.

MUSIC—Our total clearance sale of Sheet Music and Folios is now on and will be continued until the last sheet is sold. We are cutting off these lines from our business. All at half and less than half price. CHESLEY WOODS.—Feb 2, 12

Saw the Signals.

Capt. Wilson, of the Attila, had a letter to-day from Mr. J. W. Costello, the light keeper at Ferryland, relative to the former's complaint that his signals had been disregarded when the ship passed that place a few days ago. Mr. Costello says that he saw the signals on the ship but that they were drooping on the mast and could not be properly deciphered. This was the reason why the vessel's name was not reported, but Mr. Costello did the next best thing reporting to the Marine and Fisheries Department that a white-painted barquin was off that place, and as the Attila was about due it could be conjectured that she was the vessel seen.

A Brave Rescue.

Mrs. Mahoney of St. Mary's would have been drowned by falling through the ice in a pond there a few days ago only for the bravery and despatch exercised by Rev. Fr. O'Driscoll. The woman who had been at his home a few minutes before, tried to make a short cut across the pond in the vicinity to get to her own home. Seeing her fall through the ice when a third of the way across Father O'Driscoll hastened to the place. He crawled out on the ice and when he drew near the weak spot took off his coat and threw one end of it to the woman, she grasped it and was thereby pulled on the strong ice. She was nearly gone when rescued.

Mr. John Walsh, of P. F. Collins's store will go to his home at Witless Bay for a holiday this week.

Final Wrestle Tuesday.

The 8.45 train this morning took out Messrs. Jerrett (2) Capt. Spracklin, Squires, Daley, Lewis, Tilly, Capt. Sheppard and 40 others.

THE OPORTO MARKET.—A message to the Marine & Fisheries Department to-day from Oporto states that there is no change to report in that market.

Wrestling Match Tuesday.

HOME CAUGHT AGAIN.—The S. S. Home left Placentia yesterday at 5.10 a.m. When she got outside Point Verde the ice closed in again and the ship was obliged to remain there all night.

CARD TOURNAMENT.—In the card tournament last night at the T. A. Hall the prizes were won by J. Richardson and J. T. Taylor. Mr. G. T. Carly offers a prize for the Casino tournament to-night.

TO AMPUTATE FINGER.—A man named Power was removed to the General Hospital to-day from his residence Flower Hill. He has been suffering from a sore hand and will have one of his fingers amputated.

Wrestling Tickets at Atlantic Bookstore.

LARGE PASSENGER LIST.—The Allan Liner Corinthian which left Halifax at 2.30 p.m. yesterday and is due here to-morrow afternoon, takes about 30 passengers representing various local mercantile concerns to England.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Winslow, of Montreal, is a guest at the Crosbie Hotel and is interested in the sale of Calgary land. Any one wishing to invest in Calgary Real Estate should look into Mrs. Winslow's proposition.

C. E. L. CARD TOURNAMENT.—The members of the C. E. I. held a 45 tournament at their rooms last night when quite a number handled the pasteboards. The prize, a pair of waders, was won by Mr. W. Winsboro.

Wrestling Tickets: $2.00, 1.00 & 75c., at Atlantic Bookstore.

Gregory Brennan, of the West End, who was working at Jumper's Brook returned home by the train Wednesday night last. He had his left wrist broken and his arm up to the elbow shattered while adjusting a belt on some of the machinery. He will not be able to use his arm for a month at least.

DIED.

Last evening, at 5 o'clock, Robert Robson, Engineer, aged 58 years, a native of Paisley, Scotland, leaving a wife and five sons in St. John's and two sisters residing in Scotland. Funeral to-morrow, Saturday, at 2.30 p.m., from his late residence, 75 New Gower Street. Friends please accept this, the only intimation passed away, at Renewal, January 20th, Bridget O'Leary, beloved wife of James Jackman. She leaves a husband, two brothers and a large circle of friends to mourn their sad loss.—I. I. P.

City Cabmen Hold Meeting

The cabmen held a meeting last night to discuss the question of the City Council's attitude in connection with the tariff of fares proposed some months ago. Mr. R. T. McGrath, cabmen's solicitor, attended the meeting. After the Council had passed the schedule of fares last year, the cabmen asked for a reconsideration of the matter, and received an affirmative reply. The Council determined to hold a special meeting on the matter, but this has not yet been held. The cabmen contend that the Council should have held the proposed special meeting and advised them of their decision. The condition of the city streets came in for heavy criticism, and it was shown that several cabmen had to discontinue driving as at present the roads and streets are impassable. Mr. McGrath will inform the Council of the decision of the cabmen to-day.

M. C. L. I. Debate

There was a large attendance at the M. C. L. I. rooms last night on the occasion of the regular weekly debate, viz., "Which is the higher goal in life, the attainment of knowledge or the capacity to achieve?" The speakers in favor of "knowledge" were Rev. W. H. Webber, R. P. Hollaway and P. H. Cowan, and those who pleaded for "energy" were Rev. J. V. Bartlett, L. Woods and E. White. Excellent speeches were made, and the Chairman, Mr. C. Pratt, paid a special compliment to Mr. Lloyd Woods for his brilliant effort in support of "energy." A majority of two, however, voted in favor of "knowledge" being a higher and nobler goal in life than the "capacity to achieve." Mr. McDougall, of St. Andrew's L. A. who was present, took occasion to compliment the speakers.

Makes Hair Grow.

McMurdo & Co. have an invigorator that will grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed. A large bottle for 50c.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by McMurdo & Co. under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp in ten days or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

Hr. Grace Notes

Quite a large number of people are now laid aside with colds, etc., due to the unsettled state of the weather. The doctors are very busy.

It has several times occurred to us that no harm could be done to draw attention to the fact that when a poor demented person is being brought along to the Lunatic Asylum at St. John's, their friends are compelled to put them into the regular passenger car, thereby being under the gaze of the travelling public. We were asked a day or two ago to draw attention to this, with the request that something be done whereby unfortunately of this nature could be separated from the regular passengers. It is hard on the friends to be forced to send them along, but to have the sometimes laughed at and made sport of by some thoughtless passenger, very hard. We know the remedy is not easy to reach, but it is worth considering.

Mr. Collis's concert, which took place at St. Paul's Hall last night was a grand success, financially as otherwise. Quite a large audience was present, and all thoroughly enjoyed the singing, acting, etc., of the company. One of your St. John's young ladies, who is visiting here, took part and delighted the audience by her well-rendered recitations. We refer to Miss Greta. James Collis and the company are to be congratulated on the excellence of their well rendered programme.

It was at one time arranged that Dante Gabriel Rossetti, his brother William and Swinburne and George Meredith should live together in a certain house. Meredith happened to see Dante Gabriel Rossetti at breakfast and changed his plans. Meredith himself tells the story. "It was past noon," says he. "Rossetti had not yet risen though it was an exquisite day. On the breakfast table on a huge dish rested five thick slabs of bacon, upon which five rigid eggs had slowly bled to death. Presently Rossetti appeared in his dressing gown, with slippers down at heel, and devoured the dainty repast like an orge." That meal was too much for Meredith, and he sacrificed three months rent rather than see it repeated.

Coronation Day Prizes.

Presented Last Night at the C. L. B. Armoury.

The C. L. B. Armoury was thronged last night on the occasion of the presentation of the prizes won last June in the Coronation Sports.

The three Brigades were present, His Excellency the Governor, Lady Williams, Miss Dean, Secretary Fitzherbert and Lieut. Gale arrived at 9 o'clock and were received by Lieut.-Col. Rendell and a detachment of Brigade Lads lined up in front of the building. The band played the National Anthem and the battalions inside presented arms as His Excellency proceeded to take his seat on the platform. Amongst those who occupied seats there were Rt. Hon. Sir E. P. Morris, Hon. John Harris, Hon. M. P. Gibbs, Rev. Canon White, Rev. James Bell, Lieut.-Col. Conroy, Lieut.-Col. McNell. The prizes were given out by the Governor as follows:—

Football Cup—Nfld. Highlanders. Coronation Cup won by Catholic Cadet Corps.

When the presentations had been made His Excellency made an eloquent address to the Brigades referring to the death of the late Lieut.-Col. Greene whose influence in the Brigade movement had been of great importance and whose death all most keenly deplored. His Excellency expressed his deep regret over the death of one whom he so well knew and for whom he entertained the greatest respect, and he extended his sympathy to the estimable lady who sorrows him. He then congratulated the winners, encouraged them to engage in fair and healthy competition and upheld the true standards of British sport and fair play. He referred to the Newfoundland boys' achievements in the Oxford hockey team and told his young hearers to take pattern by them. He also referred to the visit of the Brigade Boys to Toronto, praised the Brigade movement, hoped for proper selection of officers and privates, and showed that if emergency required the training of so many boys in a martial way would be of great benefit to the Empire and the Motherland. His Excellency looked on the Brigades as the nucleus of a properly organized Volunteer Corps, and he hoped the movement would become universal in Newfoundland. He was glad to see the outposts organizing Brigades and he hoped to see resulting therefrom a Volunteer Corps. He hoped that the Duke of Connaught would pay a visit, though it possible that, if as announced, H. R. H. the Prince of Wales visited Canada he might also honour the Colony with His presence, and that if either or His Majesty King George would pay Newfoundland a visit it would afford us an opportunity of displaying our loyalty to Throne and Empire. He congratulated Lieut.-Col. Conroy on assuming the command of the C. C. C. which had been so successful in the Sports, and hoped that next year some other Brigade would have the chance of winning the cup. Concluding he wished all the Brigades success and prosperity in future and hoped they would be loyal to the Throne and Colony. Hearty cheers proposed by Major Warren were given for His Excellency and Lady Williams. Over 600 lads of the Brigades were assembled, and as the winners received their prizes they were loudly applauded. The rendering of the National Anthem closed the proceedings.

With the sinking of the Bella Rosa and Aureola our fleet of foreign carriers is being depleted, and in less than a year has been reduced by over one half. Besides the sale of the Cordelia and Ethel there have been lost the Virginia, Clara, John Harvey, Nina L., Corona, Bella Rosa and Aureola.

Forecast of Home Rule Bill.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
The Daily Chronicle, a strong supporter of the Asquith Government, publishes a forecast of the Home Rule Bill, which provides that the Irish Parliament shall have full control of the Customs and Excise. Provision, however, is to be made for the continuance of complete free trade between England and Ireland. Ireland will receive for fifteen years an annual Imperial subsidy of ten million after which she will make contributions to Imperial expenditures based on the percentage of her revenue. The Dublin Parliament will consist of two houses. The Legislative Council will have about 50 members, the Legislative Assembly 100 members. The Council will have a suspensory veto on legislation. In the event of disagreement between the houses after the second rejection of a bill by the Council, it will be submitted to the two houses, deliberating and voting together, and adopted or rejected according to the decision of the majority. Ireland will continue to be represented in the Imperial Parliament, but by greatly diminished numbers. The Irish Parliament will have no control with respect to the navy, militia, foreign policy, coinage, military camps, coast lighting, and will be forbidden to establish or allow any religion or deal with religious matters. According to the forecast, it is understood that the Royal Irish Constabulary will be controlled by the Imperial Authorities for 11 years.

Italians Shell Fort

Special Evening Telegram.
PERIM, Arabia, To-day.
Italian warships have renewed their activity in the Red Sea. The Turkish fort, Sheikh Said, was shelled yesterday and sustained little damage. The Italian destroyers have confined their attention to small crafts and villages along the coast.

Plot Against the Republic.

LONDON, To-day.
The Daily News asserts that a supreme effort has been arranged for the overthrow of the Portuguese Republic during the month of February.

Squally at the Cape.

Special Evening Telegram.
CAPE TOWN, To-day.
Wind N.W., strong, with heavy snow squalls; a two tonnet schooner passed in at 7 p.m. yesterday; S.S. Gloucester west at 5.15 and a brig, supposed to be showing A. Goodridge & Sons' flag, owing to snow squalls it could not be distinguished, inward at 9 a.m. to-day. Bar. 28.85, ther. 25.

Record Prices for Furs.

London, January 24.—Furs are likely to be higher in price, owing to the deficit of the Furms of last September 23, restricting the hunting of sable throughout the czar's dominions. This coming restriction of supply was responsible for a scene of considerable excitement in the public sales rooms in London yesterday afternoon. The occasion was one of the periodic sales of skins and furs which take place in London four times a year—in January, March, June and October.
The room was packed with a polyglot crowd of 250 dealers drawn from the four corners of the earth. The excitement was due to the fact that 1,044 Russian sables, the first offered in a public market since the passing of the edict, were to be sold.
Prices were high from the start. Ermine skins fetched anything from a few shillings to over £15 ($75), for forty skins, of course undressed. At the other end of the scale were tails of mink, which went for as little as 2 cents each.
There was fierce competition for sable, as much as £18 ($90) being paid for a single skin. When it is remembered that a sable is about the skin size as a domestic cat, that it taken anywhere from forty skins forward to make a long sable coat, and that the price is the price of the raw skin only, it is readily seen that sables are not yet going to become every day wear.

Died of Fever.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Jan. 24.—Commander Lewis Bertelott of the U. S. Cruiser Yorktown, died suddenly aboard ship here this morning. He was stricken with yellow fever shortly after his vessel arrived here to protect American interests during the revolution.

The World's Largest Dock.

London, January 26.—The largest floating dock in the world has just been successfully launched from the shipyard of Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson, Limited, of Wallsend-on-Tyne.
Some idea of its immense size may be gained from the fact that the ground area of the actual dock is equal to two-and-a-half acres, while the height of the side walls is 66 ft. This is one of three docks that Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson, Limited, are constructing at present for the British Admiralty.
A good idea of the increase in the size of docks for the British Admiralty which has taken place in recent years is gained by a comparison of this recently launched dock with the Bermuda dock. The Bermuda dock was built in 1902 by Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson, Limited, for the British Government, and was considered a wonder at that time, it being far ahead of any other dock of that day. It had accommodation for vessels displacing 17,000 tons. The new dock has nearly twice the capacity of the Bermuda dock, for it has a lifting capacity of 32,000 tons. It is double-sided. At the bow end there is a pair of pivoted, flying gangways to give access from one wall of the dock to the other. In the walls of the dock is living accommodation for a large number of officers and men. A complete telephone system is also installed to give communication between the engine and boiler rooms, and different parts of the dock. There are eight steam boilers, and a complete outfit of steam and hand cranes. It is lighted by electricity and has two electric travelling cranes.
In order to facilitate rapid repairs a commodious workshop is provided in one of the walls with an equipment of machinery, tools and all necessary plant, and appliances. Preservative bituminous enamel has been applied to the dock externally and internally. The provision made for towing huge docks of this kind to distant parts of the world if necessary is most desirable. The British Admiralty dock for Bermuda was towed nearly 4,000 miles to its destination; that for Natal was towed 8,000 miles to Durban, while a dock from the Swan and Hunter yard was recently towed to Callao in Peru, a distance of about 11,000 miles.

Weyman Retires.

He Started Writing When He Was a Brainless Barrister in 1890.
Stanley Weyman has announced his intention to write no more, although compared with the productivity of other writers, his output has been relatively small. All his fiction is contained in twenty volumes, whereas Miss Braddon, who is still writing, has written seventy-two novels in the course of half a century.
Like Anthony Hope, Stanley Weyman first took to writing to kill the time that hung heavily on his hands when his earnings as an obscure and brainless barrister did not exceed $500 a year. Frederick Greenwood, and then James Payn recognized the excellence of his work, and did much to lead him into the path of prosperity which dated from the publication of "The House of the Wolf" in 1890.
A strain of dignified regret runs through the farewell message Weyman addresses to his readers, practically a repetition of what he said soon after the publication of "Wild Geese," his last novel.
"With youth and energy behind him," says he, "the writer will begin to discover that he has done his best. He may possess greater skill, but the freshness of fancy is past, the well of imagination sinks low. Then, if he be wise, and necessity do not drive, he will own that the world belongs to the young, and he will withdraw from that rivalry which can have but one ending."
Regarding the main object of his stories, Weyman confesses: "They were written with no end in view, other of higher than that of entertainment. The novel with a purpose, the walls do not fall, white virtues in orange blossoms and vice in mourning, have their lessons for all. I am content for my part if the pleasant fables I have told have here and there opened a window in a dull life, or in a mean street have lightened the pain of the briden or the tedium of the anxious."
The publisher of the best Farmer's paper in the Maritime Provinces in writing to us states:
"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."

Nuggets in Turkey's Crop

Leads to Big Gold Discovery.
Winnipeg, Jan. 12.—Reports from Minfonas in the Swan River Valley give details of the new gold strike, which is said to be phenomenally rich. Just before Christmas a farmer named Murphy, living some nine miles from Minfonas, sold some turkeys. Several flakes of gold were noticed in their crops and when the contents were properly examined a number of nuggets ranging in weight up to three ounces were found. No one seemed to know where the turkeys had come from, but Murphy heard it and staked claims along a ridge of black sand where the turkeys had run during the summer and Fall. Other claims have been staked in the vicinity, and in all some hundred and twenty locations have been found. There is too much snow for much prospecting, but a nugget weighing just over an ounce has been found and several smaller ones. When the snow goes there will be an active mining camp, for preliminary prospects show that a rich gold field has been located, with possibilities of finding the mother lode. Geological formations are similar to those of other rich gold mining regions, and two Klondyke miners now at Minfonas predict a wild gold rush in the Spring as soon as the value of the deposit becomes known.

Maine Herring.

Shipments of domestic herring from primary points have fallen off during the week, indicating with the virtual close of fishing along the Maine coast, that dealers here and elsewhere have on hand about all they care to handle for the present.
It is now expected that no more herring will be caught off the Maine coast until spring. There have been practically none landed within the last three weeks, but the snow will stop any that might be along this way. It is a singular fact, says the Portland "Press," but the herring are not found after there has been a good fall of snow. It is reasoned the snow caused the feed to sink and so the small fish do not show themselves on the surface after it has fallen into the water.—Fishing Gazette.

Don't Miss This.

If a woman has one daughter, who goes away, the Mrs. misses the Miss and the Miss misses the Mrs. If she has two daughters and both are away, the Mrs. misses the Misses and the Misses miss the Mrs. If she has three daughters and two are at one place and one at another, the Mrs. misses the Miss and the Misses, and the Misses miss the Mrs. and the Misses. If it is four daughters she has and two are at one place, while the other two are away from home and separated, the Mrs. misses the Miss and the Misses and the Miss, and the Miss and the Misses miss the Mrs. and the Mrs. while the Miss misses the Mrs. and the Miss misses the Miss and the Misses and the Mrs. So they would all better remain at home with the Mr. of the Mrs.—Judge.

The Dry-Fly King

More than twenty-five years have passed since Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, first entered politics as Liberal member for Berwick-on-Tweed. He was then only 23 years of age, and he looks very little older to-day than then.
In the course of a speech Sir Edward once drew an alluring picture of the old age which he covets. "It is a time of unlimited leisure that we shall spend with old friends in a library. There is a garden outside the library, and of course, a suitable river—not flowing too fast nor, at the same time, flowing too slow, which is a worse fault. That will be the happiest time of all. I, in those days, shall have no thought of politics."
Formerly Sir Edward's partiality for angling was so great that Mr. Gladstone parodied the well-known verse about him:
"Behold our Grey, the dry-fly king,
Whose word the world relies on;
He never said a foolish thing,
Nor did he an unwise one."

Capt. Bernier to Report.

Government Investigation of Hudson Bay Possibilities.
Ottawa, January 24.—Capt. Bernier is preparing a report for the Government with reference to the navigability of Hudson Straits. They are now open four months of the year and with lighthouses and other aids, they can, in his opinion, be made navigable for a month longer. The Bay itself never freezes up, but ice-gatherers in the harbors of Nelson and Churchill.
Capt. Bernier thinks that with ice-breakers it will be easy to keep these ports open. Mr. J. P. Gordon of Winnipeg, has been appointed assistant Chief Engineer on the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway.

Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

On Groundhog day once more we might make firm resolve to live aright. The groundhog is our boast and pride, and we should let him be our guide; our imitation he deserves, so let us mark his skillful curves and GROUND-follower in his shining tracks and reach the goal or break our HOG DAY backs. He doesn't shed the briny tear about the weather all the year; he lets the climate go its way unhindered; save on Groundhog Day; then he emerges from his lair, to see if things be foul or fair. Just once a year he casts his eyes prophetic on the bending skies, then weather topics he forgets; he never walks the floor or frets. We human chumps, in heat or rime, discuss the weather all the time; we fool with goose-bones half the day, and when we put those traps away, we study Foster or Iri Hicks, or almanacs or fiddlesticks. This waste of time is most absurd; the groundhog is a wiser bird.

$25 in GOLD Given Away

The great "QUEEN LINIMENT COMPETITION" open to every Man, Woman and Child in Newfoundland. On the 1st of March, 1912, will be given away to the four or more successful winners of this competition the sum of $25.00 in Gold.
We have on exhibition in the window of our Medical Hall, Theatre Hill, a rectangular box having an inside space as follows: length, 8 inches; breadth, 4 inches; height, 3 inches. This box is filled with Antibilious Pills of about the size of a pea.
The competition is to guess as near as possible the number of pills contained in the box. The person guessing the exact number, or the nearest number of pills in the box, will receive for the first prize $10.00; second prize, $5.00; third and fourth prizes, $2.50 each.
In the event of two or more persons guessing the same number, the amount of the prize will be proportionately divided amongst the successful winners. That rule will apply to all prize winners. Every person purchasing a bottle of our "QUEEN OF LINIMENTS" whether in the city or outport towns, and mailing us the outside green wrapper of bottle, with the number of guess, together with their name and address, will have a chance of winning the grand prize.
This competition will close on the 1st day of March, 1912, at 12 o'clock, noon. Estimates after that date and hour will not be considered.
On the same date the box will be opened by two reliable and competent judges, who will carefully count the number of pills, and make the awards to the successful competitors.
"STAFFORD'S QUEEN OF LINIMENTS" is one of the most perfect and penetrating Liniments that can be purchased in Newfoundland, and it ought to be in every household. Once used always used.

Attel Beat Brown

New York, Jan. 19.—Abe Attel bested "Knockout" Brown in a ten round fight at the National Sporting Club last night. The bout was a one-sided affair. Attel had Brown groggy and bleeding from the nose and mouth in a mix-up in the tenth round. Brown forced the fighting throughout, but Attel's defence was impenetrable, all of Brown's best blows going for naught. Brown opened the fight with a light left, which did no damage. Attel toyed with the local man, and there was not a heavy blow struck throughout the round. In the second round Attel landed several uppercuts without a return, and before the round ended had closed one of Brown's eyes and badly damaged the other. In the third round Brown continued his rushing tactics and Attel covered up and then landed a short uppercut to Brown's chin. The fourth round was the most sensational of the bout. Brown swung hard at Attel and the latter landed a hard left swing, sending Attel to the ropes. Just before the end of the round

Must Take a Chance on Marrying a Cork Leg.

Boston, Jan. 26.—Under an opinion by Judge White of the Suffolk divorce court, beans and bellies when married must run their chances of falling teeth, imported hair and cork legs. The opinion was reasoned by Hans Soukoff's recent annulment of his marriage on the ground that his wife concealed a deformity from her prospective husband until after the ceremony. Such defects, concluded the judge, are common to humanity and must be chased in contemplation of connubial bliss.

A.P.C. Notes.

To-day Dr. Wakefield crossed to Bell Isle from Portugal Cove, where a day or two will be spent in the interests of the A. P. C. movement and where a lecture or lectures will be given.

In reference to the matter of spitting on sidewalks, we clip the following from a recent speech of Dr. Holbrook of Hamilton, Ont., upon the subject of tuberculosis in children:

"Nearly half the children who come to us in an early stage of pulmonary tuberculosis have come from families which give no previous history of the disease. In these cases some other cause must be assigned, and it is my belief that if this cause could be definitely determined it would be found in many of them to be due to careless spitting about the streets; the infection may occur from the sputum drying and becoming powdered and carried by the winds, the germs being then inhaled, or the adult who comes in from the street carries mud or dust on his shoes or her skirts, some of it being bacillus laden. Once this is deposited upon the carpet or floor it is a simple matter for the young child playing upon that floor to carry the infection to his lips."

The Glencoe From Sydney.

The S. S. Glencoe from Louisburg arrived here at 4.20 last evening via Port aux Basques. The ship brought 73 packages of mail and the following passengers:—E. J. Brownrigg, J. F. Meehan, W. Gooch and ten in second cabin. Capt. Taylor reports the weather conditions in the Cabot Strait the hardest since he has been on that route. He was unable to get to Sydney last trip and was obliged to go on to Louisburg. On the return trip to Port aux Basques Capt. Taylor had to make a detour of 40 miles outside of Scattered to get clear of the ice. Sydney Harbor is now full of ice and will not be clear till a strong southerly or south westerly wind supervenes.

Snelgrove-Burt Wedding.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Gower St. Parsonage last evening by the Rev. Dr. Rogers when Miss I. M. Burt and Mr. A. Snelgrove were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. The bride was assisted by Miss Ethel Benson and Mr. J. Snelgrove supported the groom. The bridal party then drove to the residence of the bride's parents, 18 New Gower Street, where an enjoyable celebration of the event was participated in by the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. At 11 o'clock the happy couple proceeded to their future home on the South Side, taking with them the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Charity Day.

The Committee of Management for the Curlers decided last evening to set aside Wednesday next, the 7th inst., as Charity Day. A Bonspiel will be played to provide coal for the poor and the curlers will be asked to co-operate in the good work. The following gentlemen will be requested to act with the General Committee:—Messrs. R. G. Reid, J. S. Munn, J. W. Henderson, Hon. John Harris, John Browning, Hon. W. C. Job, F. T. Brehm, J. C. Jardine, W. R. Warren and Dr. Macpherson. The committee will meet this evening to arrange details. The captains of the four divisions will select the teams to compete in the games.

27 Passengers Injured.

KAMSAK, Sask. Jan. 23. — At about half past eight o'clock last evening when the Edmonton Express, Number 2, bound for Winnipeg was running on the next station east of Cote, the rear end plunged down a steep embankment as a result of the train leaving the rails. Twenty-seven are reported injured, but no lives are supposed to have been lost, although the condition of Conductor Murphy, who was in charge of the train is reported to be very serious.

CARS PILED UP. The train was running at the usual rate and had just left Cote a few minutes when a sudden jar disturbed the passengers. In a few minutes it was realized that the train was off the track and a moment after the rear end of the first and second class coaches and diner and sleeper swung down the embankment and took the ditch, the cars being piled up on their sides where they now lie a considerable distance from the track showing the force with which they left the track.

WILL PLAY WITH ST. BONS. — Jim Keating will fill Collins' place in the St. Bon's team in the match against the Crescents next Monday. He is an active lad on the ice.

Shrubb's Latest.

Watertown, N.Y., Jan. 19. — Alfred Shrubb, English champion, won the world's championship last night by defeating Bill Queal, American champion, in a 10 mile race at the State Armory in this city. Shrubb's time for the 10 miles was 49m. 9 2-5s., breaking the world's record by over two minutes.

At the start Shrubb took the lead with Queal trailing. In the ninth lap Queal opened up with one of his famous sprints, but failed to pass his English rival. At the 16th lap Queal took the lead and was again headed by Shrubb at the 19th lap.

In the second mile Shrubb started out to lap the American and at the 19th lap was at his heels with one lap to the good. He then fell behind Queal and allowed him to set the pace. Many times during the remainder of the event Queal started to sprint, but each attempt to gain found his rival at his heels. The race ended in a terrific sprint, in which Queal succeeded in recovering a quarter of a lap, but his rival finished easily at three-quarters of a lap in the lead. The time by miles is as follows:— 4.41, 4.48 2-5, 4.56, 5.03, 4.49, 4.54, 4.39, 5.07 4-5, 5.10, 5.01 1-5.

It would be surprising if it is not discovered that the track was short. Shrubb is a wonderful runner, but verification of making such fast time indoors on a small track what he has never duplicated outdoors will be awaited with interest. Shrubb, however, must have been in great form to defeat Queal in a 10 mile race by three quarters of a lap.

Drew the Line at a Murderer's Arm.

Paris, Jan. 26.—A well known French surgeon has a number of patients who have lost limbs and are willing to undergo the experiment of grafting of other limbs on their bodies in place of those lost. After considerably difficulty the surgeon obtained for one patient the promise of the left arm of a butcher named Renard, who was gullitinated last week. The patient for whom the limb was destined flatly refused to have a murderer's arm grafted on him. He declared there was no knowing what risk he might run and would prefer to continue with one arm rather than stand the chance of ruining his disposition by going through life with a criminal's arm.

Huge Dock for London.

London, Jan. 25.—The Port of London Authority, which has control of all the docks on the River Thames, has decided to spend $12,500,000 as the commencement of a gigantic scheme for bringing the port accommodation to London up-to-date. A new dock is to be constructed to the south of, and parallel with, the Royal Albert Dock. Tenders will be invited shortly and work will be started in the spring.

The new dock will be 4,600 feet long, 38 feet deep, with a total usable quayside of 82,000 lineal feet and a water area of sixty-five acres. The width of the eastern end of the dock will be 700 feet, tapering to 500 feet at the western end. The entrance lock will be 850 feet long, 110 feet wide and 45 feet deep on sills. The present Royal Albert Dock was opened in 1880 and was then considered the finest in the world, but the rapid growth in length and depth of steamers has materially reduced its value as regards modern traffic. That dock is also to be improved. Its depth is to be increased from 27 feet to 29 feet 6 inches, the upper lock entrance will be widened, the quays widened and a new dry dock added. These improvements will be additional to the big scheme above indicated.

Two Plunge 130 Feet.

One Steeplejack Slips, Drags Down the Other Who Tries To Save Him.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—Two steeplejacks fell 130 feet to death to-day when one attempted to save his companion who had slipped from a ladder on top of the North Broad Street Presbyterian Church. When the bodies hit the ground the hand of Herman Greenwald, 25 years old, was still clutching the overalls of August Johnson, 48 years.

When Johnson slipped he started to slide down the steep incline. As he rushed past Greenwald, who was on the ledge, the latter grasped but was unable to check the momentum.

To-Night's Match

The Feildians and Victorias will play to-night. The men are:— Feildians.—N. Hunt, G. Hunt, Collier, Pinsent, Strong, T. Winter and P. Winter. Victorias.—Vinnicombe, Parsons, Tobin, Bulley, Brien, McPherson, Shortall.

An interesting contest is expected. When you purchase a bottle of Stafford's Lintment you are entitled to guess how many pills are in the box.—Jan. 13, 12

Must Take a Chance on Marrying a Cork Leg.

Boston, Jan. 26.—Under an opinion by Judge White of the Suffolk divorce court, beaus and belles when marrying must run their chances of false teeth, imported hair and cork legs. The opinion was reasoned by Harry Soukow's recent annulment of his marriage on the ground that his wife concealed a deformity from her prospective husband until after the ceremony. Such defects, concluded the judge, are common to humanity and must be changed in contemplating connubial bliss.

Cut Orchid's Long Life.

A correspondent writes to Country Life, London: "I am sending you the enclosed photograph of a spray of the veteran blum phalaenopsis (orchid). It was gathered last year on September 23, and I wore it with few exceptions every evening till November 1. I then went on a visit into Hampshire, wearing it on the journey from Kent, and after a week there I wore it up to London, where I stayed for another week-end on Friday, Nov. 11, when it was seven weeks' old. I had it photographed for the express purpose of sending it to Country Life, as that morning it met with an accident and had to be wired. In spite of this, however, it still lived for another week, though its stalk was broken in two, and it kept its color and erectness to the very end."

Here and There.

HOCKEY MATCH.—Feildians vs. Victorias, Prince's Rink, to-night, 7.30.—feb.2,11

I have all the latest and most approved apparatus for accurate eye testing. Mistakes are impossible. R. H. Trapnell.—Jan. 29, 12

GLENCOE SAILED.—The S.S. Glencoe sailed for North Sydney at 11.10 last night taking a large mail and 25 passengers. She will go direct.

Save all your wrappers of Stafford's Lintment and win $5 extra on March 1st.—Jan. 18, 12

PATIENT FOR HOSPITAL.—A male patient arrived in town from Briggs by train to-day and was taken to the Hospital to have an operation.

Whenever you feel uneasy in your glasses don't hesitate to call and see me; always glad to help you. R. H. Trapnell.—Jan. 29, 12

SCARLET FEVER.—Two cases of scarlet fever were reported yesterday, one on Patrick Street, the other on Waterford Bridge Road. Both are being nursed at home.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills. A reliable French regulator; never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at $5 a box, or three for $10. Mailed to any address. The Scofield Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.—Mr. Jas. Cook, of the South Side, who suffers from an internal complaint of a serious nature, was yesterday taken to the Hospital for treatment.

HARBOURED AT BURIN.—The Invermore reached Burin yesterday at 6.20 p.m. and remained there all night on account of Piacenta being inaccessible to her on account of ice.

REID NEWFOUNDLAND COMPANY.

Is your house really lighted from top to bottom or do you still have to take a candle or lamp when you go to the attic or cellar at night?

A great many people who have electricity in the rest of the house have no light in the cellar or attic because it is seldom needed; but, when you do need it, you lead it badly.

One Incandescent Lamp set in a Holophane Reflector will give sufficient light for the darkest cellar or attic. Holophane Reflectors are especially adapted to lighting places of this sort as they control the light rays so that every ray is utilized. Wouldn't it be a convenience if you could turn a switch and light your cellar or attic before entering? That means an end to dangerous matches and flames—it means that you no longer need stumble against misplaced boxes and bark your shins in the dark.

We would like to tell you more about electric lighting and more about the wonderful light-saving Holophane Reflectors. May we send a representative to see you?
