 CHAPTER XXII.

Fanny Mason heard of Ralph's departure when she went down to the hut the next morning to "tidy up."

"Gone!" she cried, almost dropping her broom and staring at Burchett with pale, aghast face. "I—I saw him last night with a bundle on his back; but I thought he was going to the town—I didn't think—" She turned her head away to hide her face. "Why whatever made me go, and so sudden, Mr. Burchett?"

"That's his business, not mine, nor yours," he replied, grimly. "When the last woman's dead curiosity will be buried with her. You're late this morning."

"I overslept myself and mother was busy," said Fanny, sullenly. She was suffering badly, but from wounded pride rather than love; for it is not given to her kind to love deeply. "If I'd known he was going I'd have spoken to him, and perhaps—"

She tossed her head and bit her lip. "Nothing you could have said would have kept him back. He went on important business," said Burchett.

He was leaving the hut when Mr. Talbot Denby came through the clearing. He looked particularly well; the pallor and haggard expression had left his face, and there was a touch of colour in his pallid cheeks and his eyes were bright. Everything had gone well with him, and he was to hear yet further good news.

"Good-morning, Burchett," he said. "I just looked in to ask you how the birds were doing. I rather think we may have a shooting-party this season."

"Things are looking very well, sir," replied Burchett. "A shooting-party! I shall have to get an extra hand or two, and I've just lost one. Farrington's gone."

Talbot didn't start, but his face became like a mask.

"Indeed!" he said. "Dissatisfied, I suppose? Well, I should think he was a good riddance. Where has he gone? Another situation?"

"No, sir. I think he's making for Australia, where he came from."

Talbot's heart leapt with relief and satisfaction. Certainly his lucky star was in the ascendant, and Fate seemed to be removing, with one sweep of the hand, every obstacle in his path.

Tested the Whole World Over and through three generations Beecham's Pills are universally looked upon as the best preventive and corrective of disorders of the organs of digestion and elimination ever known. They give speedy relief from the headaches, sour stomach, indigestion due to biliousness or constipation.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are no experiment. They are too well known for that; and their mild and gentle, but sure action on the bowels, liver, kidneys and stomach, too well approved.

If you are out of sorts take at once this famous remedy and you will endorse the good opinion of thousands—you will know why Beecham's Pills so deservedly Have Unequaled Reputation with the girl was born of his mood, of his sudden exaltation; but Fanny's downcast looks and blushes flattered him.

"Oh, no, no!" she said, timidly. "But I've heard of it; and, oh, how I should like to go!"

"Well, we must see about it," he said. "I will try and find a place for you. I think I know a lady who would take you."

Fanny blushed still more deeply and her pretty face was alight with the pleasurable emotions that chased over it.

"Oh, if you would, sir!" she breathed. "I'm so tired of this place! It isn't life, as you say, sir—"

"And you ought to see life," he put in, smoothly; really with her complexion of milk and roses and her foolish childlike eyes she was very pretty! "I'll see what I can do. But I think I wouldn't say anything about it, Fanny, in case it came to nothing. I daresay we shall meet again. Let me see, you live in the cottage on the hill? There's a lane behind it, I remember. Now, suppose you meet me there some evening; shall we say to-morrow, after dinner?"

Fanny nodded eagerly. To meet the great Mr. Talbot of the Court, and secretly! The honour of it nearly turned her weak little brain.

"Oh, I'm so grateful; it's so kind of you, sir!" she murmured, with suppressed excitement. "I can't thank you, sir!"

"Oh, yes, you can!" he said, with a smile. "There are better ways of expressing one's thanks than by words. Fanny, don't you know one of them? Let me teach you."

He put his arm round her and, raising her face, looked down at her with a smile and kissed her.

"Oh, I forgot!" he said, in a low voice. "It was you who should have done that, wasn't it?"

She hung her head for a moment, then raised it slowly and kissed him.

Mr. Talbot left the hut with the smile still on his face. The little flirtation with Fanny had made his heart still lighter. After all, there were other ways of amusing oneself than at the gaming-table. And she really was very pretty and tempting; not an icicle of a woman, like Veronica, for instance. For a moment or two he asked himself why she had gone—had her disappearance anything to do with Ralph Farrington's? The question drove the smile from his face and drew his dark brows together; but he thrust it from him. It was sufficient for him she had gone and left the field clear for him.

As for Fanny, Mr. Talbot's "kindness" had soothed the wound inflicted on her vanity by Ralph's departure. She could almost think of him contemptuously, for what was a gamekeeper compared to Mr. Talbot of the Court! And Mr. Talbot had kissed her, whereas Ralph had actually refused her proffered lips.

She met Mr. Talbot in the lane the next evening and for several following evenings, for he lingered at the Court, though the whip of his party sent him the usual imperative notices from the House of Commons.

A week later Fanny showed her mother a letter she had received from a lady in London, a lady in St. John's Wood, who required a servant. Mrs. Mason was opposed to Fanny's accepting the offer, but Fanny overrode her mother's opposition and one morning she started for her "situation."

Mr. Talbot had left the Court the preceding night.

On the following evening, a little later, he was in his place at the House and spoke in support of a bill introduced by his party, spoke with more than his usual force and eloquence. Once only did the low, clear, level voice pause and the impassive face change. The pause was only for a moment, but in that short space of time the House, crowded with members eager to hear Denby speaking on his side, saw a strange and subtle expression in the mask-like face. It seemed to grow set and rigid, the dark eyes were fixed on the opposite wall as if the speaker had suddenly seen something terrible, awe-inspiring; the faint colour caused by the heat and excitement of debate gave place to a death-like pallor; and the spectators almost held their breath as they looked at him.

But, whatever the emotion might have been, it passed in an instant; the face again grew impassive, the clear, level voice flowed on in fluent, rhythmical sentences which carried conviction with them.

The two old members, Mr. Welch and Mr. Bouchier, had exchanged glances, as the change had come over Mr. Talbot Denby's face, and when the speech was over and the government side of the House was cheering wildly, Mr. Bouchier whispered:

"What was the matter with Denby just now?"

Mr. Welch shook his head.

"I don't know. A splendid speech. It will help them to carry the bill. But he looked—bad, just then, didn't he? I've not forgotten what you said about him some time ago; and to-night it seemed to me that you were right. That man has something on his mind or conscience—"

Homes for Women.

BY RUTH CARBON.

Homes are mostly for women. They are managed chiefly by women, lived in a longer time by women, and cared for almost entirely by women. I am sure no one will deny these facts.

Why, then, is not more attention paid to women and her convenience in the building of homes and the manufacture of household furnishings?

A friend of mine built a house. By her thrift she helped her husband earn and save the money for it, and then, because he was so much absorbed in his business, she was given the chief charge of building the new home. And being an original woman she did not feel obliged to build it exactly as men had built the thousands of other homes in her city. Instead she incorporated into it innumerable little features which made it a better place for women to live and work in than the average house.

For instance, she has a big linen closet upstairs in which are several long drawers long enough to hold a skirt laid out at full length. Any woman will appreciate the convenience of that. And how easily such an arrangement might be made in almost any house. But how seldom it is.

Again, the woman has the sink built several inches higher than the average sink. "What is the need," she says, "of having a sink so low that I have to stoop to do my work there, when it costs no more to build it a comfortable height?"

Another thing on which this woman insisted was that the architect should give her a room downstairs for a sewing room. It is just a wee bit of a room with only space for a sewing machine, a chest of drawers, a table and a chair or two, and a big window with a very pleasant prospect, but the saving in trips over the stairs or in clutter in the big living-room is enormous.

These are some of the ways in which one bright woman, who was given a chance improved on masculine architecture. Women everywhere ought to be given more to say about homebuilding and ought to exert themselves to think and say and act more than they do on this very important subject.

And the result would be not only to make their own individual homes better places for women to live and work in, but to improve the pattern of the ready-made homes which are being man-built by the thousand all over the country.

Nor should woman stop at influencing architecture; she should also do all she can to influence manufacture in so far as it touches her. For instance, I am appalled at the heavy tea kettles which are sold to foolish women who daily overtax their strength in lifting them. Women ought to put an end to the manufacture of such articles by refusing to buy them.

Again, look at the difference in labor between making a high or low bed. There is no excuse for these back-breaking low beds. A bed has to be made as well as slept in, and manufacturers should remember that, and when they fail to, should be taught a lesson.

They tell us that the American man will give the American woman anything at all she wants to ask for! Let's learn to ask for houses and household furnishings that shall be made efficient from a feminine point of view.

Red Carbon

Why Women Are Not Rich.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale."—in fact, is anemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver, writes Mrs. J. D. LeVelly, of Westburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 22. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My stomach ran so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure. Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic, and further advise all my people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured."

Household Notes.

Alcohol will clean the piano keys. Bread is often brushed over with milk before baking to make the crust darker.

If cream or milk has turned slightly sour, stir in a pinch of baking soda. When a piece of linen is mildewed, soak in milk and then lay it in the sun.

A painter's small brush is the best thing for removing dust from rattan furniture.

To preserve jellies perfectly, cover each jelly with a coating of hot paraffine.

Embroidered linens should be ironed on the wrong side and on a thick, soft ironing newspaper.

To draw the fire out of a burn, moisten it with water at once and then cover it with baking soda.

Wash and rinse cut glass in water that is not very hot and of the same temperature for each operation.

To determine freshness of fish, examine the flesh; it should be firm. The eyes and gills should be bright. Never keep bread wrapped in a cloth, as the cloth will absorb moisture and impart an unpleasant taste.

Brown sugar is a very delightful sweetener for cereals. It gives them a much richer flavor than granulated sugar.

When hot grease has been spilled on floor or table, you can prevent it spreading by pouring cold water on it at once.

All huckleberries, that are made either into cake or pudding should be lightly dusted with flour before being mixed in the batter.

An excellent syrup for hot cakes is made by boiling two cups of brown sugar and one cup of water until it will spin a thread.

Table doilies will look better and keep their freshness much longer if they are put through a thin starch water when laundered.

The Premier's Financial Recklessness.

In commenting on the Premier's recklessness in financial matters yesterday, we declared: "Sir Edward is undoubtedly great on expenditure. He goes ahead regardless of cost or who will eventually pay the piper. Give him the spending and what cares he about the paying. His Branch Railway projects afford the most striking illustration of this recklessness."

To make our attitude perfectly clear, we closed our remarks with the statement:—

"What we are objecting to is not rational expenditure on either branch railways or other public works, and least of all to object to the legitimate claims of St. Barthe's to branch railways and public works; but we do object to recklessness in expenditure, which is not based on the rational needs of a neighbourhood, but is made mainly to influence elections."

These extracts, borne out by the whole article, make it clear beyond peradventure that we were directing our comments against the financial recklessness of Morris.

The fact that we have stated on a previous occasion the Branch Railway work would not be stopped by a change of administration is beside the question. We have neither forgotten our answer, nor the article we wrote on that occasion. The Branch Railway work has already been copper fastened in a contract, signed, sealed and delivered, and we do not advocate repudiation. The country has had enough of repudiation in the matter of the Morris Government's repudiation of the Commercial Cable contract, in which that administration was badly "left" by the Privy Council judgment.

Moreover, the attitude of the Liberal Party was not against the building of branch railways to Bonne Bay and Fortune Bay. That was clearly set forth in the speech of Sir Robert Bond and we have in no way changed our attitude on the Branch Railway policy. We objected then and we object now to reckless adventures with the money of the Colony.

How reckless Sir Edward Morris has been is patent to everybody, especially in the matter of railway building. He advised the Colony that the whole annual charge which the whole project as embodied in the bill of 1910 would be met by the annual interest on the first railway loan of £800,000 sterling. He has had to eat his words, for this year he has raised another railway loan of £400,000 sterling, and it is evident even on the estimate of $6,000,000 he gave this year in the House of Assembly that a third loan will be required. It is clear from this he is too reckless to have charge of the finance of the country, and the sooner the country is rid of his administration, the better it will be for the people.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Acting-Serjt. Spracklin was released on bail on Friday night. We have not heard what time the case will be resumed.

Some very fine local cabbage was on sale at Rutherford & Co's. store on Saturday—large, hard white heads—the product of the farm of Mr. Henry Davis.

Rev. L. E. G. Davies occupied the pulpit at the Kirk at both services yesterday. The King Edward Brigade attended the evening service, and listened attentively to a very timely and instructive discourse from the rev. gentleman.

The British Society excursion to St. John's takes place on Thursday. The party will leave by train that morning and return by the evening train on Friday. A dance and reunion will be held in the British Hall, St. John's, on Thursday night, which will, no doubt be well patronized by their St. John's friends.

The s.s. Solway arrived here at 12.30 on Friday, and was "hung up" for a couple of hours owing to a robbery that had taken place on board. One of the crew lost a purse containing over $30. The empty purse was picked up on deck. The police searched the ship, but we hear failed to find the "filthy lucre."

Mr. Albert Rogers has secured the contract to paint the C. of E. High School on Harvey Street. Mr. Rogers' name is a guarantee that the work will be well and faithfully performed.

Mr. John Connell, one of our Harbor Grace boys who are doing well in Boston, left for home on Thursday after a couple of weeks spent pleasantly with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Connell, and other friends. John is looking forward to the time when he will return and settle down in his native Harbor Grace.

Master R. D. Munn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Munn, left by this morning's train for St. John's, where he will enter the Methodist College.

One morning last week as some females were seeing some friends off by train they entered the car, and with the "all aboard" shout from the conductor the train moved quickly, and the ladies were only stopped from jumping by the warning of friends. It must be annoying to conductors to have people boarding the trains to see friends off, but it would be still more annoying to be forced to pick up one of these pretty creatures from under the wheels with broken limbs. A conductor's life is no bed of roses, and it would be more satisfactory if the farewells, kisses included, were indulged in on the platforms before the "all aboard" sounds.

We are pleased to report that a large coal company (the company and the capital stock we refer to as large, but we hope the coal itself will be none too small or fine) is about to launch out here, the intention being to keep a coal depot here and supply the Bay. It is the intention, we understand, to purchase a large steamer of about 3,000 tons and keep her running between this port and Sydney. The extensive premises of Rutherford & Co., with the barge and all the coal supplying facilities, are mentioned as headquarters. Mr. Willis Davis, the general manager of the firm, is named as Manager, and the capital stock of the company, a large portion of which has already been subscribed, will be $50,000. Our citizens and Bay people in general will welcome this new coal company to our town and wish it abundant success in reducing the price and the inconvenience caused by the periodical shortages of that very necessary commodity. Again, we say, success to the new company.

who spent several months here with her father for some of years ago, will be pleased to hear that she is well and sends kind regards to them. She is in a hotel in New Hampshire, a beautiful place according to postals received of the hotel and surroundings.

Mrs. Dugald Munn leaves shortly for a visit to her home in Merry England; she will be absent several months and her host of friends here will wish her a pleasant visit to her home and a safe return.

The C. C. C. intended to go to Carbonar by the S. S. Euphrates yesterday morning to attend Mass. The morning proved too disagreeable and the trip had to be postponed probably until next Sunday morning. A number of our citizens intended to make the trip with the Cadets, but were disappointed. We hope the weather will be more favourable next Sunday.

Mrs. John L. Oke left by Saturday's early train for St. John's on her way to her sister, Mrs. Chas. Hutching's and other friends.

Knocked Down by Street Car.

At 4.30 yesterday afternoon a boy named Finn, who lives on Nunery Hill, had a narrow escape from serious injury. The lad was crossing the track while a street car was going down over the steep incline of Holloway Street, and before the motorman could pull up the fender of the car struck the boy and knocked him to the ground. Finn was senseless for a moment and several citizens ran to his aid. One of them gave him a five cent piece which had a better effect than treatment from a doctor, as he ran off as lively as a bee. Later Constables Tucker and Turk visited the lad's home and found that he was not badly hurt.

The Phonograph.

I wish that some one had invented the phonograph in early years—way back before 'Ulysses' tented in grouchly gloom shed briny tears. How sweet 'twould be to hear the voices of great men dead in ages past, great men, for whom the world rejoices, and shall, no doubt, while time doth last. How fine to hear the brave Leander triumphant shout when reaching land! To hear the mighty Alexander give orders to his ragtime band! Could we but hear the speech of Brutus or Antony o'er Caesar's clay, or hear Rienzi scorn and hoot us for being slaves 'most every day! To hear the tones of great men thunder adown the ages, through a horn,—ah, that would be the greatest wonder the world has known since it was born! Invention didn't think to bless us with anything so strange and sweet. And yet, perhaps, it might distress us, and give our wooden feet. If we could hear the ancient greaser, it might increase our store of woes; for who could stand a Hapling Caesus, a David singing through his nose? Perhaps Horatius squeaked in tenor when driving the Etruscans back; when Spartacus addressed his men or gave battle cry, his voice might crack. We may not tap the ancient coaches, but sigh not for such vague delights; perhaps King Arthur dropped his atches when talking to his unwashed knights.

TUESDAY, Sept. 3, 1912. Mentholatum has made its way into many households, where it is esteemed as an application which gives prompt and effective relief in many kinds of inflammations, piles, burns, insect bites, cold sores, catarrh, sore throat, rheumatic pains, as well as in many cases of skin and scalp disease. It has certainly made good as a general household remedy for minor but troublesome things of everyday experience, as well as something to have at hand in an emergency. It is well worth trying a pot. Price 25c. Acme Baking Powder never disappoints. It is formed of ingredients of the highest class, perfectly balanced and skilfully mixed. It will make lighter, sweeter buns, cakes and pastry than any other baking powder. Price, 10, 15, 28 and 50c. a tin.

Could Not Live on Pay.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—There are a number of our girls leaving for Nova Scotia to go to work up there, and in conversation with one of them, she told me she could not live on the pay she received here. This girl was employed in one of our factories, a factory, by the way, that is protected by a 40 per cent duty, and she is receiving the magnificent salary of one dollar and fifty cents per week. Now I don't see why this community should be made swallow the production of the sweat shop in order that the principals may declare a big dividend at the end of the year.

I feel that this is a matter that our Government should attend to, for there is no reason on earth why there should be protection to a factory that would expect a girl to work for a dollar and a half for six days.

Yours truly,
ANTI-SLAVERY.

"Bowling to the Gentleman."

BY TIM. The evenings are now getting short and darkness is closing in a bit early, and as we are about a year away from the General Elections wouldn't it be just as well for some of our ardent politicians to start in bleeding for their country. In Canada and the States the campaigners start in orating a year ahead and in this way the "intelligent voters" get something for their money, while here we enjoy the sport for the short space of three months. The earlier the campaign opens the better "will be for the Bone and Sinew, as the Ministers who now enjoy the seclusion of their private sanctuaries, and are conveniently "engaged," will come forth to public gaze and lend a sympathetic ear to the foxy whiskered snug man who had the misfortune of losing a drab mule in a nearby shabby bog. 'Twould also give a better opportunity to the candidates of resurrecting the shortcomings of the ancestors of their opponents, and with a year to work on they ought to be able to trace the family history away back to the time that their progenitors grounded on Mount Ararat. In short campaigns we don't seem to be capable of getting any farther back than to the great-grandfather period, and as a great deal depends on our family history in this country no time should be lost in starting the rumpus earlier than usual. Unlike other countries we take no pride out of selfmade men.

there they boast of having risen from obscurity, but here the poverty from which your grandfather strove to extricate himself, and lost his life in the struggle, is sufficient to have you hooted from the platform if you have the audacity to address an overflowing meeting. The old custom of "bowing to the gentleman" is not by any means wiped out in this country, we may not get down on our marrow bones exactly, but we nevertheless tumble over one another to surround the Man of Means, and work overtime to dig up something hard to hurl at "men like ourselves," while the insinuations we throw out regarding them make the road to success impossible and they give up the fight early in disgust, or reach their end beaten men.

"We hear a lot those days about Unionism," says Delaney. "still I'd bet my socks that if one of our Union men stood for election in St. John's the first thing we'd do would be to snuff at him."

"That's where we make the mistake," says the Cute Man, "we're ready to hand out the friendly nit to any kind of an individual with gall aboard, while we are ever ready to knock down 'our own' and jump on him when he is down."

"Bow to the Gentleman," and bow down to him good and low, is just as much in evidence to-day as in the days of our grandfathers, the only difference is that we have a different brand on the market to-day. Jim Blundon or Jack Thompson are good enough to act as 'President of our Union, or Treasurer of our Society, but we couldn't think of putting them in the House of Assembly, not at all. 'Twould never suit, we must go down and call on some man down town who runs a tuppence ha' penny dry goods store. He's a "grand man" with about as much knowledge of the workingman as one of the Chinamen has.

"It may be years before we open our eyes and see what jackasses we are making of ourselves," says Delaney, "it may be some time ere we'll realize that we are 'making little' of ourselves by placing small value on our brother workers; we may not live to see the disgusting practice totally wiped out, but be it long or short," says Delaney, "there's one thing the workingmen will need to do, if they want to improve their social position and that is to respect ourselves and be ever ready to appreciate worth in our own ranks."

TIM SHANNAHAN.

If a Laxative is Needed--"Cascarets"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gasses; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Disclaim Responsibility

Special Evening Telegram.

ATHENS, Sept. 2.

Greeks and Cretans disclaim responsibility for the proposed filibustering expedition to the Island of Samos, in the Aegean Sea, where the French and British warships are stationed to prevent a landing on the arrival of the expedition. The adventure was projected by a French journalist in Turkish pay, according to a Cretan journal to-day, the object being to create a reason for Turkish representations to the Powers, and to cause trouble among the Greek inhabitants of Samos, who desire to throw off Turkish vassalage.

Terrific Storm

CARRIES DEATH AND DEVASTATION IN ITS TRAIN.

Special Evening Telegram.

PITTSBURG, To-day. Twenty-two are dead, eleven others are believed to have perished as a result of the terrific storm which swept Western and Northern Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania district of West Virginia, and a section of East Ohio. The Monetary loss cannot be estimated. Steady rains caused every stream to leave its banks. Within a short time water had washed away the tracks in many places and sent tons of earth from the surrounding hills, making all the thoroughfares and roads impassable. At Ford City, Pa., a dozen houses were washed from their foundations. Lightning struck a score of houses, while McGraw, naturally was struck five feet of water. At Under Colliers, W. Virginia, a cloud burst devastated the valley in which the town is situated. Harmon's Creek, overflowing its banks, the entire valley was deluged by water and houses were swept from their foundations and railroad tracks torn up for long stretches by land slides. At Washington the storm was especially severe. Six persons were drowned at Cherry Valley, one at Georgetown. At Shawana, Wis., seven persons including nearly the entire train crew were killed and twenty injured. A sleeping car of a train near Chicago on the North Western Railroad was ditched by a washout caused by a cloud-burst five miles south of the city. At Camp Douglas, Wis., four persons were killed in a wreck of a passenger train which plunged into Lemon River near here, owing to the washing away of a bridge and twenty injured.

The New Altar

AT PETTY HARBOR.

Petty Harbor, the cradle of the electricity which lights our city, proper its street cars, and on which our concerns depend for their motive power, is now one of the principal points of interest on the program of the "round trippers" to our shores. This modern Petty Harbor, with its electric-lighted ways, would astonish many a patriotic son of hers, however bright his dreams might have been for the future of his native village.

Here in the year 1834 the illustrious and ever to be revered Dr. Flemming built the Roman Catholic Church, on a spot, which at the cost of much labour and money, was made, at that time the only bit of level land in the settlement.

There has just been erected in this historic church, a magnificent new altar, which, to the tourist visiting Petty Harbor, as well as to the children of the men and women of that secluded village, shall stand for many years as a monument to the faith and generosity of a catholic people and their energetic and zealous parish priest, the Rev. Father Thereny.

The new altar is a splendid piece of workmanship, entirely of local manufacture and was executed at the workshop of that worthy and progressive firm, Callahan Glass & Co. It is, in very truth, a work of art, there is no composition or fiction about it, the capitals, reliefs and every ornate feature of this triumph of native skill, are all real handcarved woodwork.

The design which is a beautiful specimen of the florid Gothic style, was drawn by Mr. John Callahan, Jr., and firmly establishes this young man as a draughtsman of exceptional ability.

The frontal beneath the table is divided into three panels by four pillars of rich serpentine tint with carved white capitals carved in foliage and these panels as well as the tabernacle are decorated with some splendid bits of the carver's art.

The painting on this work we think calls for special praise, there are some twenty pillars done in Serpentine and Siena marble, which shows the touch of a master hand, but the panels in the retedes done in rich Rose di Levant are perfect. This was performed by the firm's painter, Mr. Thos. Dunn.

The principal part of the wood-work and setting of the altar was done by J. Callahan, Jr., and William Carl, who have every reason to be proud of their handy craft.

In fact the whole structure from its base to its final-cross (18 ft.) reflects the greatest credit on all who had a hand in its construction, and any person seeing this altar in its place in the church at Petty Harbor, cannot but be convinced that there is no need to send out of the country to get first class work of this kind.

Management Secures the Biggest Film Feature of the Past Season—Produced in Ireland.

True to its acknowledged policy of presenting "the latest and best in the moving picture line, the Nickel Management have consummated a deal with an English firm, the announcement of which should be hailed with delight by all local theatre goers. They have actually succeeded in purchasing that mammoth production, "The Colleen Bawn," a subject which I told in three complete reels, comprising nearly 4,000 feet of film, at once the largest and most enterprising offering of the past season. This is a pictorial enactment of the late Dion Boucicault's Irish comedy drama, "The Colleen Bawn," an adaptation from Gerald Griffin's world renowned book, "The Two Collegians," and retaining all the remarkable features of its pristine strength. It is exceptionally good, carefully produced in Ireland and splendidly handled, and will, we believe, be acclaimed with delight when it is exhibited in St. John's.

"Appreciated Something Good."

Extract from letter received from Mr. Frank White now in Toronto, by one of his friends.

"I met Walter Rendell and all the boys of the Newfoundland squad, and on previous occasions they can make their stand with the best. It brings tears to one's eyes as he views the stalwart squad of Terra Novians dressed in their neat uniforms, competing with picked squads from all parts of the Empire, and the climax is reached when to the strains of "The Banks of Newfoundland" by the Scots Guards "our" boys emerge into the Court yard and faultlessly march past the grand stand and the blood begins to tingle in one's veins as the thousands of spectators showed that they appreciated something good by long and prolonged applause which sent the air."

NO NEW FISH FOR MARKET.

A very small amount of codfish—this year's cure—is in the local market so far. From the outlying settlements of St. John's very little has arrived yet. Several vessels are now in port awaiting dry fish cargoes for foreign markets.

Wanted Better Than Raw Herring to Eat.

The nine Newfoundlanders who left the whaler Lloydson at Sydney when she was on her way to Greenland waters, are now taking an action against the captain of the ship for the recovery of their clothes as well as a small amount of money which they claim is due them for the trip from St. John's to Sydney. The story of the seamen is that when they signed on at this port they were given to understand by the owners and captain of the ship that they were to have different ' grub' from the Norwegians. The first day at sea, it is alleged, they were served with raw herring and kicked against. This the Newfoundlanders contended was the sort of food the Norwegians liked, but that they were not used to it. The seamen state that the captain would not listen to their complaints and on reaching Sydney they deserted.

At eight o'clock this morning the wedding of Mr. Charles Dutoit, of Marshall Bros. employ, and Miss Elsie Jacobs was solemnized at St. Thomas's Church. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The bridal party then left by the morning train to spend their honeymoon.

On Saturday night last Mr. F. Carter storekeeper at Harvey & Co's., who is leaving to go into business for himself, was waited on by the employees of the firm and presented with a handsome smokers outfit. The presentation was made by Mr. C. Godden, who referred to Mr. Carter's many years of faithful service. The recipient takes with him in his new venture the best wishes of employer and employees.

BANKER ARRIVES.—The banking schooner Lillian O., arrived here last evening. She is belonging to Belleoram and is looking for squid which is a scarce article at present on the south-west coast. The Lillian O. has no fish on board, having landed her last catch at the home port. She met with fair success on the Grand Banks this summer.

The whaling steamer Lloydson is now coaling at Harvey's premises before resuming the whaling voyage. It is not yet known where the steamer will operate next, pending the return of the owner, Mr. Cook, who went on the Baleine to the wrecked steamer Wilhelmina, but in all probability the Lloydson will go to the far north again on her next cruise.

The schooner Oriental arrived at Trinity yesterday from the Labrador, hauling for 800 quintals of fish. The crew of the Oriental reports that a large fleet of vessels are now homeward bound from the Labrador Coast with bumper trips; also that all the floaters have gone north to finish up the voyage. The Oriental also brings word that the weather has been ideal for fish curing on the Labrador Coast the past couple of weeks.

The C. L. B. Old Comrades Association held their first annual meeting in the Non-Coms. Mess of the C. L. B. Armoury and the attendance of members present was large. The fishery in this Bay has been the worst on record. Not since the never to be forgotten year of 1897 was there such a small voyage. Quite a building boom is in evidence here this season and carpenters and lumber of all kinds are very much in demand.

Mr. James Bindon has just completed a new house and shop attached. The Star of the Sea Association hall has been thoroughly repaired inside and out.

Murphy Bros. have built a large store. The new school, a splendid building, is in course of erection under the able hands of Architect E. J. Doran. Mr. Frank Murphy has also entered the field with the erection of a new house.

The event and talk of the season has been the success of the Garden Party, and the writer begs with others to thank all our outside friends who so kindly assisted with donations of cash and goods. But we must not overlook the great good done by the energetic table holders who worked so hard to make it such a great success. I append a list of the table holders and their results.

Point Verde, table in charge of Miss E. Mooney and Miss Hartigan, $445.00; South East table, Miss McLennon and Miss Lannon and others, $50.00; Jersey Side, table under Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Ryan, assisted by the good people of Dunville and Jersey Side, $259.00; three Placentia tables, Mrs. Flynn and Mrs. G. O'Reilly, $95.00; contribution from the S. S. Argyle, $65.00; Mrs. Verran and Mrs. Kielly, $179.00; Mrs. Philip and Mrs. Frank Murphy, $410.00.

Other amusements such as skittles, shooting gallery, gate receipts, dancing, etc., made the grand total of $1,337.00.

We certainly congratulate the various table holders on the result. Mrs. Verran and Mrs. Kielly, who at the start didn't intend holding a table, but when all got so full of enthusiasm, started a table, coming out second best on the list. Mrs. Philip and Mrs. Frank Murphy certainly must feel proud of the magnificent sum of $410—a small garden party in itself. These ladies with their lady assistants and gentlemen friends, held a picnic in the South East on Sunday last and enjoyed the run in Murphy Bros. motor boat.

Captain O'Reilly of the Argyle on arrival to-day reports squid plentiful at Burn and other western parts. We think they arrived to late.

Man Acts Strangely.

Last evening Constables Humber and Norman noticed a man named Keefe on Water Street, acting strangely and believing him to be a suspicious character went to investigate. The fellow, who was under the influence of liquor and on being approached by the officers became obstreperous. Whereupon he was taken in charge. A fierce struggle ensued but the officers managed to handcuff the prisoner and conveyed him to the police station in a cab.

STEAMERS DOCKING.—The S. S. Cape Breton, which was on the Dry Dock for a general overhauling and repairs came off yesterday. The S. S. Eagle also came off yesterday. The S. S. Wasia, which went ashore on "Panache," went on the stocks yesterday for repairs to her bottom. The "Bloodhound" was dry-docked yesterday afternoon for an overhauling.

Gorging Is Suicide

In these words a prominent graduate of Harvard Medical School, E. R. Moras, M.D., calls attention to the habit of "overeating," which is resulting in the shortening of so many useful lives.

Every day you read of deaths of persons in middle life caused by acute indigestion, peritonitis, appendicitis or Bright's disease. All of which result from overcrowding the digestive organs.

The liver gets sluggish, the bowels become constipated, and the whole system is poisoned by the fermenting waste matter.

You can overcome this poisoned condition by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Then turn over a new leaf and eat less, particularly of meats, pastry and highly-seasoned foods. One kidney-liver pill occasionally at bedtime will keep the liver and bowels active and insure the healthful working of the organs of digestion. One pill a dose, 25c a box, at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Ironing.

BY H. L. RANN.

Ironing is a form of domestic slavery which is a great success in taking a woman's mind off the suffragette movement. After a kind of whole-souled housewife has leaned up against a wobble-legged ironing board for the greater part of a ten-hour day, she will not have time to go out and distribute any tracts on the female ballot.

Ironing is generally preceded by a spasm of muscular enthusiasm known as wash day. This is a very giddy pastime, and can be depended upon to put a ragged edge upon a woman's deshabille and temper. Few men eat at home on wash day without taking out additional accident insurance.

Clothes are never ironed until they have been wet down with the bare hand and rolled up into a neat wad. They are then spread out on their backs and operated on with a hot flat-iron. It requires six of these hot flat-irons to starch a shirtwaist so that it will stand alone.

The flatiron is a deadly instrument which is fatal whether served hot or cold. As a weapon of defense it is superior to the shotgun, as it does not mussy up the person of the addressee with fine perforations. Thousands of husbands are carrying around deep, octagon dents in their anatomy as the result of being reproached by their wives with the aid of this humble utensil.

If men would do more ironing, there would be fewer deckle-edge trimmings added to the neckbands of their shirts. There would also be more work for the steam laundry to do.

The greatest invention of the age, next to the individual tooth brush, is the electric iron, which can be hooked onto a 16-candle socket and heated to such a degree of passionate ardor that it will eat holes in a corduroy vest. Some burnt-girls use this iron to etch fancy hirt-wood designs in a new hemstitched table cloth or decorate the dollies with chocolate blisters. If every flatiron had a water-cooling attachment, the complexion of our table linen would be improved.

SARDINIAN OFF.—The R. M. S. Sardinian sailed last midnight for Glasgow. She took a large outward freight, including 1,500 casks of seal and cod oil, and one additional passenger, Mr. C. N. Dodd.

Old Home Week.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the members of the Newfoundland Catholic Association of Whitney Pier, Sydney, we beg to announce through your columns that it is the intention of our association to hold next summer an Old Home Week in St. John's, Newfoundland, so arranged as to take in the Quidi Vidi Regatta week. Hundreds of Newfoundlanders living at Whitney Pier and other parts of Cape Breton have expressed themselves as enthusiastically in favour of this move, but we would ask the cordial co-operation of your paper to write up the movement for us and give it the widest possible publicity all over Newfoundland. Thanking you for space in anticipation.

Yours truly,

Bible Class Football Match.

An exciting and interesting game of football was played on the Collegians grounds last evening between teams representing Wesley and George Street Bible Classes and which resulted in a victory for the former team by one goal to nil. A large number of spectators witnessed the game, including Revs. F. R. Matthews and J. W. Bartlett. During the first half no scoring was done by either team. On resuming, however, the Wesley boys worked with renewed determination and just before full time was called, Hutchings scored the one and only goal for Wesley team. The cup donated for the event by the supporters of both teams will be presented to the winners in due course. Mr. H. Barnes refereed the game.

Fishery Bad At Bay Bulls.

Capt. Coady of Bay Bulls, who has been in town the past few weeks, says that the fishery to date at that place is a failure and that the outlook for an improvement is poor. Capt. Coady has been prosecuting the fishery for fifty years and never found cod as scarce as this year. Some of the fishermen at Bay Bulls gave up before the trap voyage was over and are gone to work on the Branch Railway.
