Improvements of whatever description, necessarily tend to-wards the progress of the country by the settlement of population and capital. If taxation is to increase in the same ratio with speculation, there is an end to progress, for spital will never settle in the country, and the revenue to be derived from such a tax will always be precarious. The idea of exacting a progressive revenue from the im-provement in the value of land is fallacions. In civilised countries men generally invest their accamulated means in teal property, for the reason that it is the most substantial form of investment; and by this means trans-mit to their children the savings of a life time. But, let means who would thank his ancesters for an intertance the rental of which might be absorbed by taxes? Ac-cording to, our present system there is no guarantee that the taxes will not outride the rental, because the Assessor's idea of value follows that of the speculator rather than that of the bone file progristor. It has been proposed to impose a special tax on wild lands. Such a measure would be ill advised any to be met with in even "Uncle Abe's" cabinet. It requires a courageous man at the present time to talk of "our advantages;" but it demands almost the hope and faith of the Apostles to rely on the "certainties" of our position. It is just such visionary ideas and self-sufficiency that have placed us in a position so dependent and so helpless. If dust has been thrown in any person's eyes, Dr. Tolmie has not been the operator nor Mr. Rhodes the victim. The only party that have indulged in the pastime. so far as we can perceive, have been that highly intelligent and hopeful body of men who have been deluding each other into the fond belief that they stood upon the "hub of the universe," commanded the trade of Mexico, laid Chinese commerce under everlasting contributions, and, according to

TO EDITOR VANCOUVER TIMES .- SIR .-

THE SHIP FRIGATE BIRD.

NO. 17.

Teekalet, W. T., Feb. 25, 1865. TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST. -SIR .- I crave the insertion of the following in your columns Your readers must be familiar with the troubles of the above ship, so I need not trouble you with them. Mr. charge since the death of the late Captain Watt, left here for Victoria on Monday last on some business matter connected with the that be has acted most honorably during the misfortunes of the above ship, and with praiseworthy efforts on behalf of the owners It is much to be deploted that there are those who for some end or other have been base enough to calumniate the character of a man who to the utmost of his ability has endeavored to perform the daties of his difficult position. We wish him well, feeling in our conscience that through no fault of his, he has been treated most harshly. Victoria already possesses a not very enviable notori ty for the facilities afforded of thrusting persons into gaol, and the oft repeated saying on this side of the Straits of Fuca is, "that in Victoria there is a great deal of law, but not much justice." I hope the contrary is the fact and that we shall see justice awarded Mr. Hamilton. Think sir, would it not be a serious check to a young colony were a belief to become general that private influence could mar the ends of justice?

Yours,

A LOVER OF JUSTICE.

A PRECOCIOUS YOUNG SCAMP. A few days ago a certain young gentleman, pupil at one of our principal schools, went to a livery stable in this city and asked for a saddle horse for a day's excursion. He was accordly supplied with a good " mount," and cantered gaily off into the country. Evening came on, but the youth did not return ; next day came and went, and still the caballero made not his appearance ; at length, towards the close of the third day, the owners of the horse heard that a young man had been offering one of their horses for sale at Saanich. One of the partners of the firm immediately went ont to-hunt on the truant and his steed, and arrived at the sensences entered and enter of M. H. Frost, Mukilteo, W. er, 1864, John Topping, a natmercantile as well as the mechanical and agricultural classes. If Mr. Sproat's coterie of "merchants and traders" are too small or too uninfluential to have their ideas impressed on the action of this body-if they are outvoted by those holding more expansive and less visionary views, how can they reasonably expect unof ficial members in the Upper House to stultify themselves and become the mouthpiece of an unpractical minority. The position taken by both Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Finlayson on the Union question is one maintained by certainly three out of every four of the inhabitants of Vancouver Island. The Union resolutions passed the Assembly before the recent election by a vote of ten to five. The return of Mr. McClure to the House makes the position of parties at present eleven to four; yet, in the face of this condition of affairs, Mr. Sproat expects the gentlemen who were nominated to seats in the Upper House to accept the views of the small minority-to speak the sentiment of four men who, were they out of the House to-morrow, could not get returned by any constituency or constituencies on the Island.

Starting from a false basis, it is not surprising that Mr. Sproat should continue to blunder. "Considering" says this gentleman, "the fundamentally diverse systems of government and taxation in the two colonies, which systems the boldest political quacks among us have not ever ventured to suggest any way of amalgamating, yet which they seem to think the Secretary of State will cheerfully undertake to compound and unite without any hint of our wishes or expectations, and notwithstanding the opposition of British Columbia," &c. Now we know the free port " political quacks " have asked time and again for this "amalgamation" of "dir verse systems of Government and taxation in the two colonies "-we know they have demanded a union that would preserve to them their beloved free port; but this is the only party on the island-the only "quacks" in politics who have promulgated such an absurdity; and Mr. Sproat is, unconsciously it may be, bestowing the " unkindest cut of all" on his own friends, when he brings the circumstance forward. The resolutions of the House placed no diverse schemes or systems before Mr. Cardwell; on the contrary they removed every element of antagonism by leaving no free port restrictions in the way.

And so far from any party not having bly, for the expression of the opinion of the pediency of bartering for union the "certainty and advantages of our present position." It requires a courageous man at the present time to talk of "our advantages;" but it demands almost the hope and faith of the Apostles to rely on the "certainties" of our position. It is just such visionary ideas and self-sufficiency that have placed us in a position so dependent and so helpless. If dust has been thrown in any person's eyes, Dr. Tolmie has not been the operator nor Mr. Rhodes the victim. The only party that have indulged in the pastime, so far as we can perceive, have been that highly intelligent and hopeful body of men everlasting contributions, and, according to Sidons raise their heads along the Vancouver coast, and rich argosies laden with a world's chants' doors.

excellent condition. The Richmond Enquirer says : Submission, the abolishment of slavery and reconstruc-tion were the only terms that could be got out of the Lincoln Government. The Enquirer of the 14th says: Grant apt pears to be preparing to push forward his lines still further, having by the recent move-ment advanced them three miles further to the west of Petersburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15-The Petersburg Express says : Grant has thoroughly fortified himself in the rear. He is now nearly as strong on that quarter as in front. This is done in order to prevent raids similar to the Hampton cattle expedition. Every road is strongly barricaded, and heavy lines of works extend in almost every direction.

Breckinridge has been installed as Confed-erate Secretary of War.

aside in the rebel Congress. Late rebel papers present some very curi-ous and interesting disclosures regarding financial and military matters in Jeff. There is no money even of this worthless character in the treasury to settle the immense outstand. ing account, and taxation is declared as heavy as the people can stand.

The proposal to conscript the negroes by the wholesale having received an adverse de-cision in the rebel Congress, the scheme of organizing into volunteer service is now being warmly discussed.

Hardee telegraphed from Charleston, on the 11th, that the rebel pickets were driven in on James Island on the night of the 10th, but the lines were re-established next day. The Yankees are still in strong force on the island, however, with an increase of eighteen steamers off the bar. The Richmond Dispatch of the 14th says :

All communications with Charleston and Augusta are out off. Nothing is known of the situation in those places.

France is not without uneasiness as to the attitude the United States may assume toward the new empire, when the conclusion of the war has placed at the disposal of the republic a large trained army, with numer-ous and skillful officers.

Four years of war have changed a state, hitherto exclusively devoted to commercial affairs and internal industry, into a military state disposing of an immense force. Nevertheless, according to our correspon-dent the discussion in which the Privy Council was engaged, ended in this resolution :

"That it would be wrong to give way to exaggerated fears; and that in the face of the pacific and conciliatory assurances which American diplomacy continues to give, the best course to adopt is to abstain provisionally from all movements without, however, indulging in a false security," that vicinity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10-The late fighting at Hatcher's run resulted in advance of five miles on our left south of Petersburg, which is to be held.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15-The army of the Potomac holds its newly acquired ground on Hatcher's run, on which very strong earthworks have been erected.

The Petersburg Express says the fighting on Monday was very severe. The timber and undergrowth were atterly out to pieces by balls and bullets. The ground was fought over four times, in consequence of the arrival of reinforcements to either side. The charge that Kilpatrick had reached a point within which broke the Yankee lines late in the day one hundred miles of Augusta, February 10, is said to have been one of the grandest and was attacked by Wheeler and driven charges in military annals. The Yankees three miles with considerable loss. On Tuescharges in military annals. The Yankees lost between 1,500 and 2,000 killed, wounded and prisoners.

SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.

The World's Hilton Head correspondent, writing under date of the Sth, says : Reliable information has been received here that Sherman's army is already marching on the Edisto river-that a portion of his troops are beyond the Georgia and South Carolina Railroad, and have erected defenses preparatory to a future march:

The enemy disappeared rapidly before the advancing of our troops. They have mani-fested a purpose to evacuate nearly all their strongholds, and retire further north.

This purpose has been the result of Saerman's tactics ; that they will be slowly but man's tactics; that they will be slowly but surely followed up, admits no question. Our troops are known to extend over a distance of forty miles, aud for several days past have been occupied in destroying all the railroads forty miles, and for several days past have been occupied in destroying all the railroads connecting with the Gulf and Northern States.

The object seems to be to isolate Branch-ville, Augusta and Charleston, from all possi ble aid or reinforcements, in ordet to capture the garrison of each city. Some of our troops are north of Charleston, which is cut off from reinforcements. A corps is moving simul-taneously on the line of the Edisto.

The towns passed through have been de serted by a number of their inhabitants, who forced all able-bodied negroes to leave with them, in order that they may not aid our army

Columbia, which is situated on the north bank of that river, to which side the rebels had fallen back. A battle was considered imminent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15-The Herald's special dispatch says : Richmond papers of Monday the 13th, concede that Sherman had flanked Branchville above and below, and that Hardee's force had evacuated the place. They also state that a Union column had reached Orangeburg on the Columbia road. All the railroad communications with Charleston are States cannot longer be enforced.

DARING RECONNOISSANCE TO WILMING TON.

The Herald's Fort Fisher correspondent says that on the 8th with about 50 mea Lieut Cushing captured the town of Shallotte garrisoned by 100 rebels, and held it for sev-eral hours, during which he destroyed large stores of army supplies and provisions, and about 80 bales of cotton, and escaped without loss. On the night of the 10th, he made a reconnoissance up Cape Fear river actually penetrating up the whatves of Wilmington, where he remained long enough to gain much valuable information. WASHINGTON, Feb 20-Information from the Army of the Potomac as late as yesterday morning, reports all quiet.

Deserters are constantly coming in, and are more numerous than they have been for a long time. They have averaged over twenty a day for the past week. Among them were several officers.

The utmost despondency has prevailed in their ranks since the last fight. They seem determined to keep the field no longer, as they see they can never gain their independence, and see no reason why they should remain and be killed.

Desertion is so general near our lines that Lee has issued an order for the arrest of every man found a half mile away from camp ot post.

NEW YORK, Feb 11-The Herald's correspondent says : There are renewed indications of the evacuation of Richmond. It is believed the rebels contemplate a concentration in North Carolina.

NEW YORK, Feb 14-Maj. Gen. Schofield has assumed command of the Department of North Carolina. This places him at the head of all the military forces operating in the vicinity of Wilmington. Advices from Cape Fear river to the 9th epresent all quiet.

The Commercial's Newbern correspondent says: An expedition is preparing taere which in all probability will make an advance on Goldsboro. If captured, this will give the United States all of Louth-eastern Carolina. The World's Washington correspondent re-iterates his former statement that the rebels will soon evacuate Richmond and the Atlantic coast, and fall back to the mountains in the interior. He now says that Lee and Beaure. gard will command two grand armies, and that preparations are making for an overwhelming attack on Sherman.

FROM RICHMOND PAPERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18-The Bulletin's Washington special says, the Richmond pa-pers of the 16th announce that Sherman's main column had reached Kingsville Junetion, communicating with Florence on the Manchester and Florence Railroad.

Beauregard is reported as being on the north bank of the Congaree river. Kingsville is on the north side of the Congaree, forty-one miles north of Branchville and twenty five miles southeast of Columbia. The Richmond papers of the 16th say no official report was received from any part of, South Carolins yesterday. At last accounts the enemy held Orangeburg on the Columbia branch of the railroad. Our forces are fall-ing back towards Columbia. Our troops abandoned Branchville last Sunday night. Wheeler last Friday attacked and whipped Kilpstrick at Aiken, ten miles northeast of Augusta, and drove him back five miles in the direction of Branchville.

The Augusta papers of Wednesday state that at that time Slocum was at Windsor, ten miles east of Aiken, advancing on Augus-ta, his right flank being protected by South tions around the city entirely uninjured, besides three hundred guns which they had spiked.

The evacuation was first discovered at Fort Moultrie. On the next morning part of the troops on James Island crossed over in boats and took possession of the city with. out opposition.

Previous to the enemy's evacuating they fired the upper part of the city and destroyed 60,000 bales of cotton.

A fearful explosion occurred at the Wil-mington depot by which several hundred citizens were killed and wounded, including old men, women and children. Dahlgren ran to the city at two o'clock;

Gilmore tollowed after and had an interview with General Schemmelfining, who com-mands the city for the present. The remains of two ironclads were found, which the enemy had blown up. The blockade runner Cyrene, just from Nassau, fell into our hands.

All the houses in the lower part of the city are completely riddled by our shot and shell The wealthy portion of the populace have left the city. The poorer classes, consisting chiefly of old men, women and children, re-main in a suffering condition for the want of food.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 18 .- Charleston and all its possessions fell into our hands this morning. The enemy commenced evacuating their works last night. Gen. McBeth surrendered the city to Gen.

Schemmelfining.

All the cotton warehouses, arsenals, quartermasters' stores, bridges and ironclads were burned by the enemy. Some of the vessels in the shipyards were also burned. (Signed,) GILMORE.

THE MINERS' MEETING, ba

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRIEISH COLONIST, -SIR,-At the meeting held at the theatre on Saturday last, the new British Columbian tariff was denounced as "inopportune, unwise, impolitic, unjust and inequitable." Waiving criticism on this display of epithets, I simply affirm that they are undeserved, and beg Cariboo paying in a given period $65,000, to give my reasons.

Upon a careful survey of the tariff I find the actual addition to the cost of the necessaties of life is less than one cent per pound. of the former's taxation. This is too glaring Flour at its present high price would be in-trained in its abaurdity to require comment. it falls to its usual price of $7 or $8 then the additional duty will only be a fourth of a cent per pound more than the late duty. How absurd it is then for our mercbants and miners to ask him to rescind the tariff. It is simply asking him to let the roads alone, to let Cariboo die of high prices. and to give Kootenay to the Oregonians. J. P. C.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA TARIFF

To THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST: SIR,—The late tariff of British Columbia seems to meet the approbation of your cor-respondent "J.P.C," and he writes a shrewd letter to prove that the mining population of the country ought to be satisfied with it. His article is filled with that sophistry which characterises all arguments in favor of high teriffs on the persenties of life. As an

TAXING MINERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST, -SIR, May I be permitted to offer a few remarks upon Mr. Cranford's letter in your issue of this date.

That letter would make it appear that we as miners are not competent to feel the weight of our own burden, but were passing resolutions affecting our vital interests by a " display of epithets undeserving of his criticism" and uttering " perfect nonsense." Allow me to say that he who bears the burden is the miner and the proper party to speak. If he is crushed what becomes of your farmers, merchants, mechanics, &c ?

We are told the extra duty is so trifling as not to be felt, and that it is imposed for our benefit. If so trifling then it will not accomplish the purpose for which it was intended-that of enabling Government to complete our roads. If, on the other hand, it should amount in the aggregate to some-thing considerable, out of whose pocket does it come?

- The following will show how it affects our staple articles :

The present market price of flour runs from $11 50 to $14 50 per barrel; take the average, say $13, subject to duties under the old tariff of 75c, under the new $1 95, or an increase of duty of 160 per cent. Beans, say $3 per one hundred pounds, duty under the old tariff 30c, under the new 60c, in-crease of one hundred per cent.

Bacon and ham, from 15c to 25c per lb; duty under the old tariff 2c per lb, under the new 3c per 10, or an increase of 50 per cent. Other items could be enumerated, but this P.C." says, " take a careful survey of the tariff." Such a survey will show us that the tariff on the staple articles of import is from crease.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- B. P. A. in his strictures on my letter says that in consequence of the increase in the British Columis tariff and the additional profit to the trader " the miner will have his grub increased in consequence of this tailf not less than 60 and perhaps not more than 59 per cent."

I understand B. P. A. is a lawyer, but I think it would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to ascertain the meaning of the above. Does B. P. A. mean to say that because the duty on figur is increased from 1 to $\frac{5}{6}$ of a cent. per pound, and that the trader adds as B. P. A. says he is "justified" in adding, 200 per cent. on this increase of duty, making, if I know what figures mean, from 1 to 1% cents, that therefore flour will be raised from 40 cents per pound to 60 or 64 cents ? Or does he mean to say that because there.

is no increase of duty on sugar, and that the trader is justified in adding 200 per cent. to that nothing, that therefore sugar will rise from 75 cents to 112¹/₂ per pound. For shame B. P. A. In this case dodging is no where. It is straight forward bouncing. My ground is this and it is impregnable. B. P. A. has not and dare not attack my facts, which are— That the cost of the necessaries of life to the miner is not increased, on the average by this tariff as much as one cent per pound, and that when flour is 40 cents, beans 50 cents, sugar, bacon and coffee, 75 cents, and butter \$1 25, the addition of one or two cents per pound is of slight consequence compared with the completion of a waggon road which would reduce the cost of freight $\frac{1}{2}$ or more, and the price of these necessaries from 19 to 25 cents per pound.

Some gentlemen object that I claim too great a reduction of freight on the completion of the wagon road—I think not. The rate of ireight last year from Yale to Williams Oreek ranged from 27 to 40 cents, average about 33 cents per pound. My statement is that if the wagon road is finished freight will fall from $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ or range from 161/2 to 22 cents, say an average of 19 cents per pound, and I prove it thus:

our principal hope, in future is in new dis-coveries. It will require renewed efforts and heavy outlays to make these discoveries. Our means are small, and our credit is at a Sixteen or seventeen pounds sterling a head per annum cannot would pay off the national debt in less than two years. Yet it appears this taxation is too small for British Columbia. Probably if the revenue were doubled the result would be the same; for there is an astonishing elasticity and power of accommodation in the governments of such countries. They abhor surplusage to such an extent that they believe always in making their expenditure cover a little more than their income.

tax gold countries. There is another objection to the direct tax on the miner, and that is that he is obliged to pay a larger quota to

What is wanted in British Columbia is simply a system of taxation that will bear more equally upon the inhabitants-not a scheme in its absurdity to require comment.

We are well aware that British Columbia is a rough country ; that it must, like other countries, have roads ; and that the inhabitants, like other inhabitants, must be taxed to some extent for their construction ; but it matter. should only be to some extent: for posterity, that will reap the principal benefit, should share the bulk of the responsibility in paying the expenses. This policy unfortunately, cannot always be carried out ; British Columbia, is to-day a debtor to the amount of a million of dollars, and it is not likely she can obtain in the London money market capital at her beck and call. The question, then, for the Governor to consider is how to raise sufficient revenue without crippling the industry of the revenue without crippling the industry of the country. If he looks around he must see difference in other things would be still that he has taxed the colony to its utmost greater. capacity, and that therefore increased taxation must not be thought of. There is but one resource left, and that is retrenchmenton the principle of the domestic proverb that being worked by 20,000 miners to-day. The a penny saved is a penny gained. All works only possible way to cheapen provisions is that are not urgent, should be stopped; at to complete the wagon road so that a man with a wagon and ox-team can load up at least one-half of the official staff should be Yale and drive through without unloading lopped off, and every measure adopted to once. In a word the finished wagon road is cut down the extravagant government expen- the one indispensable thing for Cariboo, and diture. If this were only done, Governor of course for the merchants of the country diture. If this were only done, Governor Seymour would have abundant means to open up available routes to Koolenay, or any other gold field. At present, it would seem by the supineness of both colonies, the Oregonians supineness of both colonies, the Oregonians will beat us out of the trade of the mines in our own territory. In another column it will be seen that a steamer is being already and the merchants, and every class of the and is expected to navigate a stretch of water two hundred and fifty miles in extent, so as to shorten the travel between Portland and Kootenay. We have every advantage in distance and topography over our neigh-bors, but through the isolation of both colo-nies, their want of concerted action and united energy, the most valuable trade the

On sugar the increase is not more, on the average.

On tea the increase is from 0 to 5c per pound.

Now I ask the miner in all common fairness if the addition of from 1/4 ito 1 cent per pound on the cost of the goods he consumes in Cariboo is of any consequence to him compared with having a wagon road made to Williams Creek, which, as soon as finish-ed would reduce the cost of living there from a to 1 what it is at present. I appeal to the plain common sense of the Cariboo miners; when flour is 40 cents, beans 50 cents, sugar and bacon 75 cents, butter $1 25. of what consequence is it to you if you have to pay an extra one cent per pound ? The whole of it would not increase the cost of living in Cariboo as much as 2 per cent ! Is not then perfect nonsense to make such a hubbub as some men are making out of this

I admit the British Columbian Govern-ment would not be justified in making even this increase of duties without good reasons. But, the reasons are the very best that can be. It is most evident that this tariff has been tramed with the best interests of the miners held clearly in view. Roads cannot be constructed without money. None know better than the miners that if a wagon road were finished all through to Williams Creek the cost of freight would be reduced $\frac{1}{3}$ or $\frac{1}{2}$ of its present rates, and that flour instead of 40 would sell at

The true policy on the subject of roads is to endeavor to open and make such roads as the country requires, and noth-ing more. No wise government will attempt lower than the 93 mile post. If it be so, to build railroads or macadamised roads into road, would be the proper policy for our government. That those resources may be dis-covered and developed, hold out some other inducement to enterprising men besides a continual and rapid increase of their taxes. The present road to Williams Creek is the best that was ever opened into a wild country, and the miners have paid and are now paying more for it than any other people ever paid for roads. increase his profits by selling 8 out of 12 of his oxen on the creek for beef.

I repel the gentle impeachment of having written "elegant buncombe" about the roads. I deal in facts and their legitimate deductions, and I maintain that the roads are of the first importance in cheapening goods in the mines. It is too evident B. P. A. and "his friends" like the gaps and the tranship-ments and the plunder generally made by steamboat owners and others on freight to Cariboo. The present road suits him and them to a dot; therefore he declares it "to be the best road ever opened in a new coun-try," which it would be were it finished. B. P. A. does not want it finished but I and the miners do.

My position then is, that merchants and miners are interested in having goods carried to Cariboo at the fowest possible rates—that to finish the wagon road is above all things necessary—that inasmuch as the British Columbian Government could not borrow the imoney required they were justified in raising the duties; and that the miner had better pay one of two cents per pound more for his "grub" for one year if the cost of freight is thereby lowered from 10 to 20 cents per pound for ever after. Let B. P. A. shake this position if he can. lientrol J. Pe C.J

THE NEWS. TOO We are at length, after an interim of several weeks, placed in possession of telegraphic news from the seat of war. During the disruption of communication great events have been occuring on the other side of the American continent. Battles have been fought and won, cities taken, and strongholds evacuated. Charleston, after a successful resistance of four years-after receiving the iron storm of Dablgreen and the Greek fire of Gilmore-making in fact one of the most memorable defences in the history of the world-has at last succumbed to Federal arms. Sherman has added another city to his long list of conquests, and the community that first lit the torch of war has been made to feel the bitter pangs of submission to the foe it despised. With the intelligence of the occupation of Charleston comes the announcement that Mobile has been evacuated and Wilmington surrendered to the Federals. Whatever truth may be in the latter statements, of one thing we may rest assured -at no time since the commencement of the civil war has the Confederate cause sustained such disaster. Besides the loss of moral prestige which the evacuation of Charleston has entailed on the South, the possession of the city by the Federals, with the firm hold which Sherman has got of the interior of South Carolina, with its network of railways and rivers, will render Lee's position at Richmond quickly untenable. If Wilmington has really fallen, as the telegrams assert, the railway communication of Virginia, so far as supplies from the more southern States are concerned, will be speedily and effectually cut off, and Lee will have no recourse but to evacuate Richmond. This, however, is more easily said than done ; for Grant with a superior army opposes his march southward. And here again the fortunes of the past few weeks are shown to have been sadly against the Confederates ; for Grant after severe fighting, has pushed forward his Tines in one direction closer to the Southern capital, and in another has occupied a position three miles further west in the vicinity of Petersburg. By the latter movement he more than ever checks any operations of Lee to the South.

The result of the Federal victories will be to render further action on the part of the fleet almost needless. The coast is entirely in the hands of the North, and blockade running has run its fast and profitable race. There will be no more need for the blockading squadron, and Nassau and other places that were rushed into temporary greatness through an illegitimate trade will speedily collapse to their former proportions .---Foreign supplies to the Confederacy of munitions of war will cease, and the South will be thrown back upon the few and inefficient foundries that are still left her. This will be a most serious blow to the Confederates; for any large diminution in the armaments will reduce, their fighting power to a minimum that can only prove disastrous in conflict. In all this there is but one great hope that presents itself, and that is peace. At no time since the first Federal defeat at Bullo Run, has the North been more ready to make terms with the South. It is sated with war and satisfied with victory. On the other hand the Confederacy has nothing before it but further ruin and further bloodshed. Its cause is perfectly hopeless. Every day it is obliged to consign gunboats to the bottom, or cotton to the flames. In the evacuation of Charles ton upwards of 60.000 bales of the latter commodity was destroyed-a loss amounting to something in the vicinity of $20,-000,000. All this continued destruction of property and wasteful loss of life is sickening even to the casual reader. Yet one word would stay the progress of the hortors-and the South will have to speak it. Lincoln has distinctly declared that slavery must be abolished, and that the South will be forgiven if she only returns to her allegiance under the nuw order of things as laid down in the new Constitution. That we shall shortly hear, despite all the peace failures, of amicable terms having been arranged between the conflicting parties to this effect, we have not the slightest doubt. The Confederates have now everything to gain by approaching the Washington authorities. They can stay the carnage and save what pro perty, outside the slaves, is left. Let them, however, continue obstinate and every day will make their position worse and worse. We express the hope again, that we hazarded before, that as Lincoln's first inauguration saw the eivil war commence his second may witness its final close. ESCAPE OF JEMMY JONES FROM The Hon. Attorney General did not see VICTORIA PRISON. the necessity for either a census bill or

We are indebted to Mr. John Arnoun who is at present in Washington Territory. for the following amusing narrative as recited to him by the Captain of the Jenny Jones :

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST, SIR,-At the suit of Spratt & Kriemler, of by no means reconciled me to my position, for companions in misfortune do not, after all make one's position a comfortable one, and] determined the first apportunity to make my escape. In doing this I had no desire to run away from the responsibility of my debts. My imprisonment could not and would not benefit my creditors while it would inflict an injury on myself. I considered it was my duty to get away and I knew it was the duty of the prison authorities to prevent me from doing so, as fair on so I laid my plans. Obs serving that a policeman came round every night to see if I was in bed, previously to locking me up, I first of all attempted to deceive him by placing a dummy in my bed, which I constructed with the hair from my bed and my shirt. I made this as near as I could like the human shape and covered it very carefully and tenderly with the bed clothes and put on it my hat and also neck tie. There lies, thought 1, a second Jemmy Jones, the best I can construct, and I was sorry I could not give it the power of snoring, as then my escape by means of this would be certain. However such as it was I thought it as a work of art well calculated to deceive. A little before six o'clock on the night of February 21st I slipped out of the room and secreted myself in a small building in the prison yard. Shortly after as usual a policeman came to an adjoining building and observing that there was some one without a hat and supposing it was I he went back to the debtor's prison, and as I afterwards learned, in touching my work of art ruthlessly tore off what was intended for a head. He immediately came back for the real Jemmy Jones and demanded that I should proceed at once to my bed, at the same time saying, it was of no use for me to joke there as there were smarter men than me in that prison. I said I am not smart; I am a fool. I was reported to Mr. Hankin, the Superintendent, but I observed to him that I was joking. Orders were then given that my liberty should be restricted and that for no purpose was I to be absent from my room more than three minutes. I still determined to escape, but this time by a bolder and more straightforward method, and I resolve to go out by the same door as I entered. On the Saturday following at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the passage from the eutside to the inside was being cleaned; now, thought I, is my time, and the only obstacles were the two policemen on guard, one armed with a double barrelled shot gun, and the other with a revolver. I made a spring and passed the first man without being touched, the second made a grab at me, but I knocked him aside and ran past the Boomerang Inn and made the best of my way up Yates street, several policemen following, and I think Tam O'Shanter and his grey mare "Meg" were not more anxious to escape from the witches, than Jemmy Jones and his legs were to outstrip the policemen. My position was by no means a safe one but though a short man I managed every minute to increase the distance between me and my pursuers, and by turning a corner "jinking" I was enabled to conceal myself, I will not say where, nor for how leng. Suffice it to say I was resolved to cross over to Puget Sound, but how to go abroad without be observed and captured puzzled me for a short time. I disguised myself in female atshort time. I disguised myself in temate at-tire and afterwards inspected myself in the glass and was perfectly satisfied with my per-sonal appearance. I also tried the "ahem!" lest I should be spoken to. I thought in this character I could deceive any one. Now, how I proceeded to the water, and in what company, and what little incidents occurred, I would rather not now relate for the sake of would rather not now relate for the sake of my friends in Victoria. I do not wish to boast, but I think I fairly earned my liberty. I am no Jack Sheppard, for I escaped in broad daylight, by the aid of my own legs. The Juarist guerrillas intend putting to death every French soldier they may catch, on the plea that any one fighting for or holding office under Maximilian, is traitor to Mexico and Mexican liberties. Many other movements in the interior are named which show the activity of the National party.

The campaign at Oaxaca, however, gives rise to undisguised anxiety. Oaxaca is now defended by Gen. Diaz, while Gen. A new order of knighthood, of the Mexi-can Eagle, is to be established by Maximilian.

A Spanish journal published at Matamoras says, Maximitian has created an order entitled the Mexican Eagle; of which Grand Marshal A'monte is appointed Grand Bachelor. The order comprises an unlimited num-ber of Knights, two hundred officers, one hundred commanders, and fifty grand officers, twenty-five of whom are grand commanders and twelve grand cross with collars. The following sovereigns have been awarded the grand cross with collars: The Emperors of France, Prussia, Austria, and Brazil and the Kings of Relgium. Italy, Sweden and

THE JENNY JONES.

PORT ANGELES, Feb. 15.

EDITOR COLONIST :- Seeing an article in the Victoria Chronicle of the 11th instant, regarding the sailing of the Jenny Jones, which I deem derogatory to my character, I beg to contradict such statement, as there is not the least semblance of truth in it. The Speaker appointed Messrs. Franklin. DeCosmos and Dr. Distross to be in the instance of seizure on the main-mast, and told me his deputy had charge. I accordingly acknowledged his authority, and considered the vessel under arrest, until Wed-nesday evening, when the Sheriff came on board and took the aforesaid notice down, and told me the matter are settled.

British Columbia.

The steamer Enterprise returned on Friday from New Westminster having been detained one day in order to bring back a number of guests who attended the vice-regal ball on Thursday evening. Amongst the passengers were His Excellency the Governor and family.

The weather had been extremely cold and much snow had fallen. The navigation of the Fraser to New Westminster was still open although there was considerable ice up river.

[From the Columbian.]

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

The steamer Hope returned from Harrison mouth on Saturday, bringing a number of passengers, amongst whom were Mr. Mar-ston and Mr. Wilson of Lytton. These gen-tlemen inform us that although there is a great depth of snow in some places between Lytton and Yale yet foot travelling is good and the road has sustained no injury from slides.

Mr. Spence's bridge across the Thompson was about completed, and it was his intention to open it for traffic on the 28th ult. It is described as an excellent piece of work, and the plan of building upon piles appears to answer admirably. Horned cattle had suffered grievously upon the winter ranges of the Bonaparte. Mr. York has lost 65 out of his drove of 200 head. Horses and mules have, however, wintered tolerably well.

There is an unusual dearth of news in the interior, and business is everywhere dull. There is a good deal of mining going on upon the bars of the Fraser, but we are without any definite information as to the result.

COMMUNICATION WITH KOOTENAY - We understand Mr. Ladner has made a proposition to the Government by which he under-takes to complete a trail from Hope to Princeton of a character suitable for a pack trail in summer and a sleigh-road in winter, and have the whole completed by the 20th prox., for the sum of $7000. This, at first sight, appears to us to be a most favorable offer and unless the Government is aware that better terms could be made, we hope the matter will be gone into at once, as time is now a most important consideration.

ADVENTURE WITH A BOA CON-STRICTOR.

Captain Speke, the celebrated traveller, gives the following graphic account of an adventure with a boa-constrictor :

At the earliest possible moment after our camp had been pitched a hunt was set afoot, and Captain Grant, myself and some attendants were soon making our way to "the patch." There were no animals there when we arrived, except a few hippopotami, and we were, therefore, obliged to await the coming of some more palatable game. Our patience, however, was severely taxed; and patience, however, was severely taxed; and after long delay we were about to "bag" a hippoppotamus, when one of our attend-ants, perched in a tree about half-a-mile distant, began waving his blanket. This was a signal that game was approaching. We immediately drew into cover and awaited the accelence of the latter pause. He appeared to fully comprehend all. He could see how I was situated, that I was still living, and that my delivery depended on the will of the constrictor. We could see every line on each other's face, so close were we, and I would have shouted, or spoken, or even whispered at him had I dared. But the bais head was reared within a few feet of mine and the wink of an availad model. of mine, and the wink of an eyelid would perhaps settle my doom, so I stated, stared like a dead map, at Grant and at the blacks. Presently the serpent began very gradu. ally to relax the folds, and atter re-tighten-ing them several times as the crushed buffalo quivered, he unwound one fold entirely, Then he paused. The next-iron like band was the one which held me prisoner ; and as I felt it little by little, little by little unclasp-ing, my heart stood still with hope and fear. Perhaps, upon being freed, the benumbed arm, uncontrolled by my will, might fall from the cushion-like bed in which it lay, and the cushion-like bed in which it lay, and such a mishap might bring the spare fold around my neck or chest, and then farewell to the sources of the Nile. O! how hardly, how desperately I struggled to command my-self! I glanced at Grant, and saw him hand-ling his rifle anxiously I glanced at the negroes, and saw them still gazing, as though petrified with astonishment. I glanced at the serpent's loathsome head, and saw its bright deadly eves watching for the least aign bright deadly eyes watching for the least sign of life in its prey. Now, then, the reptile loosened its folds on my arm a hair's breadth, and now, a little more, until half an inch of space separated my arm and its mottled skin. I could have whipped out my hand, but dared not take the risk. Atoms of time dragged themselves into ages, and a minute seemed eternity itself! The second hold was removed entirely, and the next one was easing. Should I dash away now, or wait a more favorable moment? I decided upon the for-mer; and, with lightning speed, I bounded away toward Grant, the crack of whose rifle I heard at the same instant. For the first time in my life, I was thoroughly overcome; and, sinking down I remained in a semi-unconscious state for several minutes. When I fully recovered, Grant and the overjoyed negroes held me cp, and pointed out the bos, who was still writhing in his death-agonies. I shuddered as I looked upon the effects of his tremendous dying strength. For yards around where he lay, grass and bushes and saplings, and, in fact, everything except the more fully grown trees, were cut clean off, as though they had been trimmed by an immense scythe. This monster, when measured, was fifty-one feet two inches and a half in extreme length, while around the thickest portion of his body the girth was nearly three feet; thus proving, I believe, to be the largest scrpent that was ever authen-tically heard of.

ion that the stipendiary magistrate could fulfil all the duties perfectly well without a clerk. As to the new Justice of the Peace Bill, it

Mr. Burnaby said the stipendiary magis-trate was the only officer at Nanaimo repre-senting the Government, and had consequently a great deal of duties to perform. The new District Court Bill would also add greatly to his duties, and he (Mr. Burnaby) therefore thought the salary was necessary. Mr. M'Clure thought one of the great faults of the House was voting money to clerks without proper consideration. We had here-tofore in the colony too much dignity among

We had heard a great deal about the extra voting of the salary. Dr. Tolmie would ask how many voters

LIEN LAW.

Dr. Dickson strongly opposed striking out the salary of the Inspector. He considered the sum of $2000 for Superintendent was altogether too large. It was an increase of $500 over last year. He would move that $500 be voted to the Sheriff or the Police Magistrate as Superintendent. TO GRA HOTS Dr. Tolmie asked if the hon, member could state that the magistrate would accept the position ?

Mr. DeCosmos said we could not regard the sheriff as the governor of the Victoria gaol. The ordinary rule was certainly that the sheriff was the governor of the county gaol, but Victoria prison was really a pene-tentiary, and such institutions always had a tentiary, and such institutions always had a governor. In the present case he did not see how we could, without a great loss of time, shape the arrangement differently from the course proposed by the Executive. As to the salary, if the superintendent received any fees, he thought $1500 was enough; but if not, the salary of $1940 was not too much. As to the Inspector, he (Mr DeC.) looked on that officier as marging hard service. that officer as merely a head sergeant. The Superintendent was the man who was ex-pected to do the work, and not to sit in his office and smoke cigars, (hear, hear,) and he should be paid accordingly. Mr. Burnaby said the last speaker had ex-pressed similar views to those he himself had carry it out. was the best means of recording the sut-trages of the people. The amendment was lost. ing of the salary.

Mr. Duncan advocated doing away with the Inspector as a needless officer, and giving the Superintendent $2500. The Superintendent should be paid well and made to do the work. The late proceedings in Victoria gaol showed the necessity of there being proper officers, who should be well paid. He must however call attention to the fact that we were now without a Superintendent-that eiug off al New Westminster assisting at the ball. He must condemn severely this state of affairs as highly improper. (Hear,

This however had not been done and he was con-sequently in the dark in the matter. Dr. Dickson had made inquiries and had found that the fees under the former Attor-

to the hoo-doo, appeared in view, trotting at a good pace to the river. Their flanks were soon presented to us, and each, selecting his object, fired. McColl shot a fine young buffalo cow, whilsto Captain Grant was equally successful with a hoo-doo; and several spears, cast by our attendants, stopped the career of two different animals of the herd.

At this juncture, however, occurred an un-expected adventure that faished our sport, at east for that day. I had sprung forward,immediately after firing, in order to obtain a fair shot at a huge elephant that I wished to bring down on account of his immense tusks. I got the desired aim and pulled the trigger of my second burrel. At the moment of my doing so a wild cry of alarm, uttered by one of the blacks, called my attention. Glancing around, my eye chanced to range up into the fuliage of the tree beneath which Captain Grant and myself had lain for several hours previeus. My feelings may possibly be magined, as I beheld an enormous boa-con-strictor, whose hideous head and neck, protruded some distance into view, showed that he was about to make a fatal spring. His direction was certainly toward me; and as he flashed from his position like a thunderbolt, I gave myself up, for ere aid could reach me, fold after fold of the monster would have crushed my frame into a quivering pulp. I fell, seem-ingly caught in a whirlwind of dust, and a strange, indescribable scuffle ensued. In the midst of this terrible strife, I suddenly bes. came conscious of the presence of a second victim; and even after the time that has elapsed since then, I still recollect with what vivid ness the thought shot across my mind, that this second victim was Captain Grant, my noble companion. At last after being thus whirled about for several seconds each second seeming to be interminable, there ensued a lull, a stillness of death, and I opened my eyes, expecting to look upon those unexplor-ed landscapes which are seen only in the country beyond the tomb. Instead of that, I saw Captain Grant leveling his rifle tow ward me, while, standing beside and behind him, were the blacks, in every conceivable attitude of the most intense surprise. In a moment I comprehended all. The huge serpent had struck a young buffalo cow between which and him I had unluckily between which and him I had unluckily placed myself at the moment of firing upon the elephant. A most singular good fortune had attended me, however, for instead of be-ing crushed into a mangled mass with the unfortunale cow, my lett forearm had only-been caught in between the buffalo's body and a single fold of the constrictor. The limb laid just in front of the shoulder, at the root of the neck, into which it had been iammed, as it were, by the immense pressure jammed, as it were, by the immense pressure of the serpent's body, that was like iron in hardness. As I saw Grant about to shoot a terror took possession of me, for if he refrained I might possibly escape after the boa released his folds from the dead cow. But, should he fire and strike the reptile, it would, in its convulsions crush and drag me to pieces. Even as the idea came to me I beheld Grant this was a private bill they might access and

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

MONDAY, Feb. 27. House met at 3:15 p. m. Members present-Messrs. DeCosmos, Powell, M'Clure, Tolmie, Dickson, Dennes.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

The Speaker announced that he had rereceived a petition against the return of Mr. Leonard M Clure, Esq. The 14 days during which petitions may be presented had elapsed but a further period of several days must be allowed after the presentation of the petition before the matter can be referred to the Election Committee.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR.

Dr. Dickson asked leave to introduce a bill to enable the Chief Justice to appoint a public administrator to take charge of the effects of deceased persons. The great necessity of an appointment of this kind must be apparent to every hon, member of the House-Leave granted.

STATUTES OF THE COLONY.

Mr. DeCosmos moved that the House be supplied with printed copies of the Statutes of the colony for the years 1863 and 1864-Agreed to.

PILOT STATISTICS.

Mr. DeCosmos moved for Statistics in accordance with the provisions of the Pilot Act. He believed that the returns had been handed in to the Pilot Commissioners, and they should be laid before the House-Motion agreed to.

MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

The House went into Committee on the money clause of the bill respecting Mar-riages, Births and Deaths, Dr. Dickson in the chair

Dr. Powell, in introducing the bill, read the provisions of it, which were for the ap-pointment of salaried Registrars in the different districts, also compelling clergymen to send in reports of marriages, bitths and deaths to the Registrar General.

Mr. DeCosmos agreed with the principle of the bill, but, looking at the whole country from Nanaimo round to Sooke as only one county, he thought the whole matter might be managed by the Registrar General. Dr. Powell said so far as marriages were concerned this might be practicable, but as to births and deaths the case was different ; in regard to deaths for instance, the bill pros posed to allow no burial to take place without a medical certificate that the death was a natural one, and if this could only be obtained through the Registrar General it might cause very great inconvenience.

Dr. Helmcken agreed with the principle of the bill, and said a similar bill had once before passed the House, but had been rejected by the Council. He disapproved, however, of the appointment of salaried Registrats. The duties of Registrar in the country districts. could easily be filled by the Justices of the Peace, or the School-masters, and they should be paid wholly by fees. Registration should be compulsory in all cases. The bill must necessarily be imperfect in a new country like this thought that the $500 proposed by the bill was just $500 too much. There were many men who were not possessed of this qualification, but who would make good and efficient public servants. would make good and efficient public servants. Mr M'Clure said if we gave the people power to govern themselves we should allow them to elect wheever they thought fit. If Councillors did not regard their solemn oath to do their duty the possession of $500 would not make them more efficient or trustworthy. In a small commu-nity like Victoria it was absurd to place such re-strictions on the actions of the people. The choice of Municipal representatives was already sufficiently limited. Mr Franklin said both voters and representa-tives should have a stake in the country.

tives should have a stake in the country. Mr DeCosmos said the proposed qualification was the same as had been in force for the last three or four years. Mr Dennes said if he had not been in the chair he would have proposed to expunge the clause altogether. At home no qualification was re-quired, and the man of the best character was the most suitable man. The clause was carried by the casting vote of the chairman.

The word Councillor was made Councilman by

The word Councillor was made Councillian by the same vote. Clause 8, declaring the disqualifications of Mayor and Councillien, was passed as in the printed bill; also Clause 9, declaring who shall be exempted from serving. On Clause 10, declaring the qualifications of voters to be, being British subjects resident in the colony for three months, and being ratepayers. Dr Helmcken moved that 'British'' be struck out. Those who had to pay the taxes, whether they were British or foreign, ought to have the right to vote. He believed that it would do a great deal of good to the Corporation, and would not affect the loyalty of the population at all. Mr DeCosmos objected to any other than Brit-ish subjects being allowed to vote. Foreigners iah subjects being allowed to vote. Foreigners might as well be allowed to be in the Council, and might as well be allowed to be in the Council, and as they paid taxes to the general government they might just as well be allowed to vote at general elections and also to represent the electors themselves. That would be the effect of the hon-gentleman's principle if carried out. Mr Franklin had at one time th ught with his honorable colleague that foreigners should not be voters, but now he thought it would be a wise policy to interest foreigners in public affairs, par-ticularly in municipal matters. He certainly would support and advocate the admission of for-eigners as voters, and the day might come when they would be allowed to obtain the further privi-leges alluded to by his honorable colleague. In Britian Columbia, by Her Majesty's Order in Council, foreigners were allowed to vote, and he

They were not allowed this privilege in any other colony but British Columbia, nor were British subjects allowed to vote in foreign coun-tries. In California no British subject could vote in municipal or any other affairs. There might be no injury at present in the amendment; but he could foresee a time when candidates for mu-nicipal honors would be nandering to a foreign he could foresee a time when candidates for mu-nicipal honors would be pandering to a foreign element in order to secure their election (hear, hear). It was a source of astonishment to him that gentlemen who were so ready to hamper the privileges of British subjects should be anxious to extend these privileges to foreigners. Dr, Helmcken repudiated the stigms that can-didates might be found pandering to a foreign ele-ment, and said the British people were not in the habit of pandering to any one—so far as he was concerned he had never attempted to hamper the privileges of British subjects. He did not intend to create a debate on this point, but he must reit erate that he was strongly in favor of foreigners being allowed to vote in municipal matters. Dr. Powell said a little more than a year ago this very question created a great excitement, the tain first whether the Corporation would be prepared to relund to these who had paid. The Hon. Surveyor General said it would be better for the Corporation to refund honor-ably than to fight nearly every tax payer in Victoria

The Hon. Colonial Secretary remarked that the money had all been expended. The available funds.

Considerable discussion followed as to whether the taxes should be refunded, or otherwise in what manner protection could be given to those who had already paid, in the course of which the Hon. Mr. Rhodes referred the Council to the Legislative Enactment of 26th May, 1864, which exempted those who had previously paid real estate taxes in similar manner, and it was thereupon suggested that the bill now before the Council should be so amended as to meet the present case.

Sec. I then passed with literal amendments.

Sec. Il passed on motion of the Hon. Mr. Rhodes, seconded by the Hon. Mr. Finlayson in an amended form limiting rates levied by way of per centage on professions, trades and businesses to $500 on fixed rates and onehalf of one per cent. on transactions.

Sec. III was introduced as a new clause on motion of Hon. Mr. Rhodes, seconded by Hon. Colonial Secretary exempting all those who had already paid under the City Assess-ment of October, 1863, from contributing a like amount under the next assessment.

The Hon. Attorney General dissented on the ground that the clause indirectly had retrospective effect to which he had already given his objections. The remainder of the clauses were then passed and the bill re-ported complete. The Council then adjourned to Wednesday next at the usual hour.

Wednesday, March 1st.

The Council met yesterday at 3 p. m Present-The Hons. Col. Secretary (presiding), Attorney General, Treasurer, Surveyor General, R. Finlayson and H. Rhodes.

CENSUS BILL. The Hon: Colonial Secretary presented the following report of the Select Committee appointed to consider the above bill :

"Your committee have considered a bill to provide for taking the census of the Colony, and for obtaining other statistical information, and are of opinion that in the absence of any sufficient machinery which would be provided by the creation of Registrars of Births, Deaths and Marriages, it is not at present practicable to carry out the provisions of the proposed bill, and that therefore it should be postponed.

"Your Committee beg further to report that being impressed with the importance of collecting statistics at an early period, they are of opinion that His Excellency the Governor should be requested to take such steps for that purpose as he may deem desir able, pending legislation on the subject."

INCORPORATION AMENDMENT BILL.

The consideration of this bill was resumed in Committee and after considerable discussion the third reading of this bill was deferred to the next sitting of the Council.

Mr. Drake cross-examined the witness minutely on the registration of the mining claim in question with a view to establish the fact that the claim was at present registered in the name of the plaintiff.

Witness replied very candidly to the ques-tions and explained that he registered the that the money had all been expended. The claim last year in his own name in conse-Corporation was at present wholly without quence of the defendant not being a free miner and not being in Cariboo. He had derived no benefit from the claim.

Mr. Alexander proved the signing of the agreements both of which were written by the defendant and purposed to be true copies Mr. Drake for the defence called the defendant who stated that his deceased brother had been a mining partner of the plaintiff, and the latter came down to make arrangements with him for continuing it. Defend. ant paid plaintiff $164, and produced written agreement whereby plaintiff engaged to work and if possible to sell the claim and forward the share of proceeds to him, and in any case to have the interest registered in his name before October. The share had never been so registered nor had he received any benefit therefrom, In answer to Mr. Green witness said that he had never tendered a transfer of the share for plaintiff to sign. He was not a free miner. He had heard plaintiff and Alexander say that the two agreements written by him were signed at the same time and were said to be exact copies. Could not remember if such was the case.

Mr. Drake and Mr. Green addressed the court and His Honor after commenting on the discrepancy in the agreements said he would reserve his decision.

SUPREME COURT-Cary vs. Wood-The libel suit instituted by Mr. George Hunter Cary against Mr. Thomas Lett Wood, Acting Attorney General, to recover damages laid at $5000, was heard yesterday before Chief Justice Cameron and a special jury consisting of Messrs. H. Nathan, (foreman), A. H. Guild, (apt. Nagle, J. Langley, B. P. Griffin, Thos. C. Nuttall, N. J. Newstadt and J. Todd. The alleged libel arose out of the assertion and publication by the defendant that the plaintiff had undertaken the recovery of debts at a specified percentage, and also that he had received fees contingent on the success of his clients in certain civil suits. The]defendant pleaded not guilty, partial justification, and that the alleged libel arose out of judicial proceedings then pending in the law courts of British Columbia. The plaintiff and defend ant conducted their own cases, the former being advised by Mr. Bishop and the latter by Mr. Green. The defendant called Martin Raby, of the Raby Claim; Mr. James Wil-cox, of the Moffatt Claim, and other witnesses and himself gave evidence at some length, denying in most positive terms that percentage or contingent aby had been received by him as charged. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, his Honor sent the case to the jury, who after about a quarter of an hour's absence, returned a verdict for the

Nervous Disorders.

Wervous Disorders. What is more fearful than a breaking down of the nervous system? To be excitable or nervous in a small degree is most distressing, for where can a remedy be found? Here is one:-Drink but little wine, beer, or spirits, or far better, abstain from them altogether; do not take coffee-weak tea is preferable; get all the fresh air you can; take three or four of the Pills every night; est plenty of solida, and avoid the use of slops. If these golden rules are followed, you will be happy in mind, strong in body, and forget you have any nerves.

Mothers and Daughters

If there is one thing more than another for which here Pills are so tamous, it is their purifying pro-perties, especially their power of cleansing the blood from all impurities, and removing dangerous, and enswing suspended secretions. Universally adopt-ed as the one grand remeity for fomale complaints, these Pills never fail, never weaken the system, and always bring about what is required.

Disorders of the Kidneys. In all diseases affecting these organs, whether hey secrets too much or too little water; or whether they be afficied with stone or gravel, or with sches and pains settled in the loins over the region of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time. This treatment will give almost immediate relief aiter all other means have failed.

Stomach out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these Pills; they remove all scid-ity, consioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver, and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacions in cases of spaam—in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and stomach.

Bronchius, Diptheria, Coughs and Colds.

No diseases are more frequent, few more danger-ous, than affections of the respiratory organs. The first symptoms of disordered action may always be removed by Holloway's renowned Pills. They quickly remedy any temporary stagnation of the blood, relieve the overgorged veins, moderate the hurried breathing, and enable the windpipe and langs to perform their functions with ease and regularity. These Pills, by their purifying powers, cleanse the blood from all impurities and thus fortify the system against consumption, asthma, and other pulmonary complaints.

Debilitated Constitutions

Deplicated Constitutions In cases of debility, languor, and nervousness, generated by excess of any kind, whether mental or physical, the effect of these Pills is in the highest degree bracing, renovating and restorative. They drive from the system the morbid cause of disease, re-establish the digestion, regulate all the secretions, brace the nervous system, raise the patient's spirits, and bring back the frame to its pristine health and visor. vigor.

Biliousness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and Lowness of Spirits:

These Pills effect a truly wonderful change in de-bilitated constitutions, as they create a healthy ap-petite, correct indigestion, remove excess of bile, and overcome giddiness, headache and palpitation of the heart.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the

ł	world for the following diseases:

LAND REGISTRY ACT.

This bill, as amended by the Legislative Coun-cil, came before the House. The amendments which were of a trivial nature were agreed to and the bill passed. INCORPOBATION ACT.

The House went into committee on the Incor-poration Act, a motion of Mr. Franklin's to post-pone it for one week to await the result of the bill now before the House receiving no seconder. Mr. Dennes occupied the chair. Mr. DeCosmos said he considered this bill was calculated to advance the best interests of the

Mr. DeCosmos said he considered this bill was calculated to advance the best interests of the city. The bill had three principles—territory, au-thority, and responsibility. The main points of argument on the bill would be on the first two points. As to territory, that was a point which could very readily be settled, whether the terri-tory be great orsmall. Clause 1 proposed to re-peal in toto the old Incorporation Act, and com-mence de nove. The old by-laws would not be re-peal in toto the old Incorporation Act, and com-mence de nove. The old by-laws would not be re-pealed, however, but their validity would be tested as if the Act had not been repealed. The addition of the transfer of the rights and liabili-ties of the old Corporation to the new one. The Heincken objected to passing the clause, so far as regards Schedule A, which enlarged the inits of the city, and included many persons who objected to be so included, as they had already paid large sums from their private funds for roads, a.c., and did not wish to be taxed for city improvements in addition. He believed if the people outside did not wish to be included they should be left out. He himself, however, was in favor of a large Corporation. A second point was that giving power to collect the debts of the edited into the corporation. A second point was that giving power to collect the debts of the edited into the some. The DeCosmos said by passing this section the House did not pass the Schedule fixing the boun-date. The plause passed.

The clause passed. Clause 3, providing that the Government of the city shall be placed under the control of a Council, was passed. Clauses 4 and 5, providing that there shall be a Mayor for the city and 8 Councillors for the five wards into which the city shall be divided, were

Clause 6 and 7, providing that the boundaries of the city shall be described in Schedule A and B, were passed. Clause 8, providing that the qualification of Msyor and Councillors shall be -a British subject, resident in the colony 12 months before election, and having real estate of at least $500, or lease-hold of at least $1000, came up. Dr. Dickson thought that the qualification should be $1000 and $1500.

Dr. Powell could not see that $500 would ena-le a man to be a better Councillor. Indeed he

The postponement was lost by the casting vote of the Chairman, and the words "British subject" were also struck out by the same vote. Mr. M'Clure said the clause as amended would allow Sizoshes to vote (laughter). The Committee then rose and reported progress, and the House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

MONDAY, Feb. 27. The Council met at 3 p.m. Present-The Hons. Col. Secretary (presiding), Attorney General, Surveyor General, H. Rhodes and R. Finlayson . shared THE CORPORATION AMENDMENT BILL.

The Council went into Committee on this bill, the Hon. Atterney General in the chair. The Hon. Colonial Secretary said since the Council last met he had made enquiries into Council last met he had made enquiries into the effect which the retrospective powers would have, and he had in consequence arrived at the conclusion that it would be impolitic to pass the bill with retrospective power. He found on enquiry that there was an assessment in April '63, and the taxes so assessed were for the most part paid. In October of the same year there was another assessment. An objection was then taken to the act which was upheld, and only about one fifth of that assessment was upneld, and only about one fifth of that assessment was paid. He thought it would be hard to make the four-fifths who had objected to the tax now to pay up what they were not then required to pay, and he should therefore recommend that the bill should be so worded as to cause passing of this act. Hon. Mr. Rhodes said he had favored making the act retrospective because the Hon. Colonial Secretary had said that it would be better to let by-gones be by-gones. He thought the right of those who had paid in good faith should be protected. Hon. Attorney General said he thought that those who had protested against the payment should be protected, but not others. Hon. Mr. Rhodes said it was not everyone who would have taken the same precaution as he had done. He was especially urged to pay at the time by one of the city officers when the Corporation was in full working order, and did so under protest; but he afterwards found out that the very officer who had urged him to pay had not paid his own taxes (laughter). It was not on public bat on Mr. Green appeared for the plaintiff and

Dr. Dickson strongly opposed allowing foreign. ers to usurp the privileges of British subjects, He would, however, suggest that the question should be postponed till a larger attendance of honorable members was present. Mr. M'Clure looked on the question as a great innovation, and supported the postpenement of the clause.

The hon. mover then gave notice that he would, at the next sitting, introduce the resolutions which were in favor of Union of the Colonies, praying Her Majesty's Government to base representation on permanent population.

POSTAL BILL.

The Council went into committee on this bill, the Hon. H. Rhodes in the chair, and reported progress at Clause VI., when the Council adjourned till three p.m. to day.

SUMMARY COURT.

His Honor took his seat at 10 a.m. McKay vs. Wallace-John G. McKay of Bastion street sued Alex. W. Wallace of Bentinck Arm for $212 for goods sold and delivered, &c. The case was partially heard at the last sitting of the Summary Court. The defendant pleaded a set off.

His Honor disallowed the set off and gave udgment for $200 and costs remarking that he contemplated supplying a desideratum by introducing a system of weights and measures into the Legislature.

Cary vs. Victoria Water Works Co. limi-ted-Defendants did not appear. The plain-tiff was sworn and proved his claim and His Honor gave judgment for the amount claimed $68 $2.

Cary vs. Victoria and Esquimalt Railway Co. limited - Defendants were sued for $230 and not appearing the plaintiff was heard the Council to commence de novo from the and judgment given for the amount claimed.

F. H. Gardner vs. Martin and Dennes-The plaintiff sued defendants jointly for $30 claimed as and for rent due by the defend-ants to whom he had jointly leased the pre-mises on Broad street. For Mr. Dennes it was pleaded that the premises were hired by Martin with whom he had settled. The case was only parily heard.

Lavery and Beddard vs. Oldham--This was a summons to recover $38 for goods sold and delivered. Defendant did not appear and judgment was given for the amount claimed. MINING CASE.

Thomas vs. Milton - Plaintiff Harman Thomas sued Washington Milton for $72

made at the Registrar's office, Government Buildings, yesterday morning. Some scoundrels entered the office through one of the windows facing the House of Assembly, and proceeded with the aid of a crow-bar to break through the brick wall of the fire proof vault containing the books and papers of the department. Apparently they had been disturbed at their work, as when the messenger entered the building between 6 and 7 o'clock, he found the apartment full of dust and the loor covered with the debris from the aperture in the wall, which was only a few inches from being through. The crow-bar was found in the office, and also a dog supposed found in the office, and also a dog supposed to belong to the burglars, and which may, probably lead to their detection. The vault contained only $220 in money, but a large quantity of valuable documents, including deposit receipts for over $20,000. The affair is in the hands of Inspector Welsh, and it is hoped that a clue has been obtained which will result in the apprehension of the burglars. MR. GARFIELD'S LECTURE. - Those who braved the frost last evening to listen to the lecture on "Man, his origin and progress," proyed an intellectual treat which seldom falls to their lot in this distant corner of the globe. Although we may differ from the lecturer on some of the theories he advanced. the lecture was nevertheless highly intel-lectual and instructive. Mr. Garfield is a fluent speaker, choice and poetical in his language, and evidently a master of rhetoric, Confining himself necessarily more to a re-view of the origin and progress of the genus home in a material than an intellectual sense the lecturer afforded his hearers a most in-

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA TARIFF.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST. stead of "10" in my last letter, and J. P. C. makes this small error the basis for nearly one helt of another long communication. It cannot be possible that J. P. C. was so ob-tuse as not to see the error. It would do him great injustice to even make the instantion. He saw the little error plainly; but being afflicted with cacoethes scribends, it afforded him a fine opportunity for a momentary re-lief from the disease, and he availed himself of it. Unfortunately, the effectual error of of it. Unfortunately the effectual care of J. P. C. would not alter or modify the unpleasant fact that the miner will have this grub increased in price in consequence of this tariff, not less than ten, and perhaps not more than fifty per cent. Nor will his figures, made out to suit himself, make any one more reconciled to the payment of this ten or fifty per cent. advance. The such an advance will be made, we have only to look over the prices current of Williams Creek for a week after the passage of the tariff act. teaches there or to consult any honest trader on that creek.

on that creek. J. P. C.'s "snug" little illustration on teaming is funny—decidedly funny. Like the proposition of the mouse to " bell the cat" —it would do well enough if the thing could be done. The seven yoke of oxen and two wagons can be readily had at Yale for $2200; but after this, practice knocks J. P. C's "snug" theory into the regions of air castles at once. And why? 1st. Interest on the money is worth more than two per cent. in the country : 2d. Wear and tear of the wagon, would be nearer twenty than tean per cent.; 3d. Sheeing oxen for the trip would cost not less than $130; 4th. Hay and feed required from Yale to William Creek and back for comparison of compared cost the trip would for seven yoke of oxen would cost about ten times the amount here given; 5th. The wages and grub of two men would be fully double what it is here put down; 6th. Incidentals for the trip would depend entirely upon the good fortune and management of the driver; 7th. The road toll alone is 21/20, per pound, and there are three crossings, where the toll and there are three crossings where the toll is a 1/c. at each; 8th. No ox team that ever hauled a wagon will be able to make three trips to Williams Creek and back to Yale in one season ; 9th. The cost of wintering a team will depend entirely upon the severity of the winter; 10th. No seven yoke of oxen will ever haul loads of ten thousand pounds each over that coad—an average load will not exceed 7000 lbs. Then if our practical (?) friend J. P. C. will undertake to put into operation his snug little theory, he will do like many other unfortunate teamsters have done in that country, and be most fortunate if he escapes the cuss

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST Sin,-My esteemed friend, Capt. Evans, must excuse me if I object to his attempt to make t appear that I under-estimate the miners udgment. Captain Evans will admit that here are two sides to most questions, and there are two sides to mest questions, and that many sensible mens' opinions have been obanged after bearing the other side. One side only was presented at the "miners' meet-ing," and I have presented the other side. I hold the miners to have as clear a judgment on questions that concern them, as any class of men I ever met. But no man can be ex-nected to indee with discretion upon a given pected to judge with discretion, upon a given question, if he has been misled as to the

Now it is alike the fault of the miners' meetting, and the letters of B. P. A. and Captain Evans, that they all try to make it appear that the cost of living to the miner is greatly increased in price by the new tariff. B. P. A. says the "miner's grub will be increased in price 50 or 60 per cent," Captain Evans says "the daty on flour is increased 160 per cent.; on bacon, 50 per cent., etc.;" but neither of these gentlemen attempt to controvert the fact of my position that the increase of duties at New Westminster will not add more than two per cent. to the cost of the necessaries life in Cariboo, and that to state otherwise is to misrepresent the facts and mislead the miners.

Lagree with Capt. Evans that the Government of British Columbia is excessively expensive for its limited population ; and that there should be a "better supervision in the there should be a "better supervision in the expenditure of money ander the head of road making." I trust Governor Seymour will never again allow himself to make such a contract as to pay $80,000 for 20 miles of road, which is practically useless, because of the 35 miles left unfinished between Alexandris and Quesnelle, and which looks as if it had been left unmade for the particular benefit of the steamboat monopoly of the Upper Fraser. If any accident happened to that steamer, the cost of carrying to Williams Creek would be increased 10 to 20 cents per

VICTORIA MARKETS

Business has been rather duller during the past week, the late cold snap having again closed the Fraser above New Westminster, and the trade with Puget Sound having also been very light. The INPORTS for the week have been very small. consisting only of the usual small cargoes of stock and produce from Puget Sound, amounting to $4553. The Imports for the past month have been unusually large, amounting to $491,862, of which $343,914 was from England per Princess Royal and General Wyndham, and $112,847 from San Francisco. The Imports from Puget Sound were $19,323. bra digito sid as Mana anda The Exports for the month to American ports have been smaller than for any similar period during the past year, amounting only to $10,279. Of this the steamer Geo. S. Wright carried 94 tons, chiefly hardware, to Portland. The Exports of] Coal from Nanaimo have also been extremely light, the total being 960 tons, all for local consumption. This small shipment may be accounted for by the late miners' strike at Nanaimo.

Sales of Flour and Grain have been chiefly limited to local trade. Flour has advanced a triffe and other articles are firm at former rates. JOBBING RATES.

1. We are all " interested in having goods carried to Cariboo at the lowest possible rates,"

2. We do not believe the finishing of the "wagon road is above all things necessary." We believe retrenchment in the expenses of the colony—liberal encouragement to pros-pecting—rational efforts to develope the gold fields, and to make the burden of taxation bear more equally upon the various industries of the country, are matters of far more importance to the healthy progress of the colony than the extravagant outlays for roads. The roads are already far in advance of other public improvements there, and we have paid enough for the present.

3. The British Columbian Government is not justified in raising the duties on the necessaries of life. The inhabitants of the colony are not in circumstances to justify such an act. The Gold export tax was enough. If more money must be had let it be raised by some other, means than raising the cost of living in the mines. 4. The miner does not believe this increased tariff will raise the price of his grub for one year, and lower the cost of freight " from 10 to 20 cents per pound forever after." "He don't see it." The wild theories of all the visionaries in the country will never prove it. Sound, healthy competition in trade alone will do this. That in trade alone will do this. That competi-tion cannot and will not be had unless the extent of the gold fields in Cariboo is made larger by new discoveries.

Victoria, March 1st. To THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLONIST, -SIR,-In reading some letters signed J. P. C., which appeared recently in your paper, purporting to defend the British Columbia Customs Amendment Act accention to the second s Customs Amendment Act against the on-slaught of the justly indignant miners of Brit-ish Columbia, I notice the following class of statements rather prevalent, viz.: "But they have no money—Governor Seymour in his address to the Council told them that he tried to borrow in England, but could not borrow; in this case what was the British Amendment Act against the onborrow; in this case what was the British Columbia Government to do?" but fleece the miners for the benefit of New Westmin-Columbia Government to do 7 but neece the miners for the benefit of New Westmin-ster and a bost of unnecessary and over paid officials, &c. And again : "My position then is this—that inasmuch as the British Colum-bia Government could not borrow the money required they were justified in raising the du-tion for 2 ties, &c."

and curious to state, I heard the agents general say in August, '63, when dis eral say in August, '63, when disposing of the Debentures issued under the British Col-ambia Loan Act of 1863, that as a matter of course they could raise in London any smount required for that colony at a low rate of interest, say not exceeding 5 or 6 per cent

FROM THE LONDON PRESS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16-Professor Goldwin Smith, in the London News, controverts the opinion of the Manchester papers, and says that, although a compromise with the slave oligarchy was impossible, it is possible that at no distant time, negotiations may hepefully commence with separate States, over which the oligarchy at Richmond is losing all its usurped powers. The Index, the Confederate organ in Lon-don, ridicules Blair. It does not altogether discredit the peace rumors, but asserts that discredit the peace rumors, but asserts that the North is unmistakably tired of war, and that more rational counsels are beginning to prevail. It claims that the abandonment of the sea coast will add strength to Southern in land forces. The Index then points out how friendship may be restored between the North and South, and that so close an alliance may be formed as to practically make a new Union. Under such circumstances. a war with England or France, or both, would be necessity. The Index contends that the United States Government is paving the way for such a war It says : The war has reached such a crisis that England and France must decide to become the friends of one of the belligerents, or fight them both.

Events are occurring which may precipitate that decision-at least in the case Meantime, the Index bids friends of the South to be of good cheer. It promises them shortly a series of agreeable surprises. It also gives a rumor, alleged to be current in political circles, of an int ntion on the part of the British Government, to sever its onnection with the Canadas before the termination of the American war, so that the

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS, - Th HOLLOWAY'S CINTMENT AND FILLS, - These wonderfal productions have now become so ap-preciated in avery part of the world, that they form a complete household treasure; the worst cases of ulcers. wounds, and every varity of skin diseases, for which so many remedies have been tried without effect, readily succumb to their power; they act so miraculoasly upon the system, as to be considered a complete phenomenon in the healing art. For this reason they are advocated by many modern practitioners after everything else has proved unsuccessful. Those complaints especially, which affect the sedentary and studious, give way, as mist before the rising sin, to the influence of the Pills. External wounds are as readily healed under the Ointment:

COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN.

In the cases of fast-growing and crofulous children, predisposed to curvatures and other de-formities, it is often desirable to give a tonic with-eut stimulants, and an alterative without irri-tation. For such it would be impossible to select a preparation combining so many of the above advantages as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a sooth-ng effect in cases of nervous excitement as

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dispepsis, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally effactous in nervous complaints. Thous-ands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, futtering of the heart, nervous headanhe, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It sheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the bedy, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.
