FIFTH YEAR.

THE SIEGE OF KHARTOUM.

DIARY OF A JOURNALIST IMPRISONED WITHIN ITS WALLS.

How Gordon Made Money for His Troops

Only the two of the Garrison kept—Gordon on the Part of the Forces.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Times Khartoum correspondent under date of April 23, reports that Gordon was laying mines in all directions.

Food was dear and Gordon had issued paper money, the treasury being at par, and he was paying the soldiers with it.

The town was quiet, half of the population had joined the rebels previous to the beginning of the siege.

No news had been received from the British government. Under date of July 23, the correspondent says the town had been closely besieged for five months, and would be able to hold out only two months longer.

Rations were being issued to the poor. The correspondent sends the following extracts from his diary:

March 23—Hassan and Saïd were executed for treachery during the battle of March 16, when we lost 300 killed and wounded.

March 18 to 20.—The rebels attacked the town but suffered heavy losses by the explosion of the mines. May 1—To-day an officer accidentally trod upon the connection to one of the heavy cases and caused an explosion. Six men were killed. May 3—It is reported that the English army is at Berber. To the end of May the rebels made frequent attacks upon the town, suffering losses from the mines.

During June steamer expeditions under the command of Saïd Bey were made daily. Our losses were slight. We captured many cattle. June 25—The English consular agent, Mr. Hassan, was captured. June 30—Saïd Bey captured a quantity of corn and killed 200 rebels. July 10—Saïd Bey burned Kalaia and three other villages. He also attacked Oshara but was defeated. Saïd Bey and his officers were killed. Col. Stewart had a narrow escape. July 22.—We heard the rebels one of Saïd on the Nile. A number of the enemy was killed and we captured a quantity of material. Our steamers advanced to Eilan, clearing thirteen rebel forts. Since the siege began our loss has been under 700. July 31.—The siege has been very close. Arab bullets are flying on all sides upon the camp falling on the palace. Food is tremendously dear. All hope of government relief has gone and we depend on the steamer. It is impossible to depend on a way through the rebels. Battered as we are with women and children, we are still holding out. On the day that Saïd Bey was killed 200 rebels captured 200 of our men armed with Remington rifles and dispersed them. The only men we are able to depend on are negroes. July 29—Mehemet Ali's five armed steamers, after clearing thirteen rebel forts, found at Garif two strong forts. The vessels engaged the forts for eight hours. The cannons of the forts were finally disabled and the rebels driven out. Our loss 3 killed and 13 wounded. Towards sunset we sent two steamers towards Saïd Bey. The fact that the steamer taken from Saïd Bey. Gordon is well.

How to Make the Job Complete.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—It is stated that Admiral Courbet has expressed his opinion that while the occupation of Keiung has a certain amount of favorable influence, he believes that making short of a march upon Hanoi and an occupation of the body of the Chinese capital will compel the government of China to accept the demands made by the French government.

CABLE NOTES.

Alb. Geo. Swan Nottage has been elected lord mayor of London.

A bill for the organization of a colonial army will be presented to the French chambers as soon as they convene.

The French stopped and searched the English trading steamers Fuhkien and Hailong in Formosa channel. This has caused great irritation.

Central steamer companies are offering and munition to various quarters will probably be the source of complications.

MARRIED BY A SPIRITUALIST.

Is It Legal?—A Novel Question to be Settled by the Courts.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 29.—A local lawyer, counsel for the libellant before the supreme court at Northampton in the case of Allen against Allen for divorce, testified to drunkenness and adultery on the part of the libellee, but could not prove the marriage to the satisfaction of Judge Field, so final action was delayed.

A question which has never been raised before, and which the judge said might as well be settled now, comes up as the result of this application for divorce.

Henry B. Allen, from whom his wife seeks divorce, is a spiritualist and medium, who has held seances at Amherst and at other places in the section, and was formerly a frequenter of Lake Pleasant.

Mabel A. Allen, the libellant, claims to have been married to him by one of the spiritualist lectures having authority to marry under the laws of the state of Illinois, which confers no authority on spiritualist marriages.

The woman lecturer, as this libellant claims, performed the marriage ceremony in Springfield, and was not a justice of the peace, and witness who was minister of a religious organization in being a spiritualist lecturer is the question on which hinges the legality of a great many so-called marriages, and which will be settled now.

The decision will be looked for with a little interest by many who have been married or who supposed they were by spiritualist lectures.

United States News.

No cattle will be admitted to the St. Louis, Mo., fair this year, owing to the existing plague of rinderpest.

George Fuller, who married Mrs. J. L. Hudson a year ago, supposing her to be a man, has just married one L. H. man of Shiloh, Wis.

A woman afflicted with leprosy was taken to the Sausalito islands from a hospital at San Francisco last week, where she will be confined for the remainder of her life.

Mr. James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald has been engaged from using his steam launch, because the boilers are made of English iron on which the duty has not been paid.

The latest New York canard is that Vanderbilt is hard up. The story is that his sons have lost many millions in speculation, and that the old man sold Maud S. as a matter of pure necessity.

The Minneapolis millers' association has again raised the price on wheat to 12 cents a bushel, but farmers refuse to sell. The elevators are becoming choked with grain stored for the farmers.

Samuel Lippitt, who robbed the estate of Kansas of hundreds of thousands of state treasure, and who escaped from prison with the aid of the police, has been captured in Washington territory.

Wholesale merchants in New York generally seem to be satisfied with the present condition of trade and the immediate outlook. The amount of goods sold is fully equal to last year's trade in bulk, though in many trades, owing to the fact that the price, the money receipts are somewhat smaller.

Bob Henderson, a negro, was strung up for horse stealing in West Carroll parish, La., last week. When nearly dead he was taken down and cut with a sharp instrument from the heels to the back of his head on both sides. It has just been discovered that Henderson was innocent. Warrants are out for the suspected murderers.

Fifty masked men visited the house of David Barnard, near Evanston, Pa., tarred and feathered four girls, and ordered the family to leave the place in ten days. They did not do so, and the men returned, smashed in the doors, stripped, ragged and tied the women to a tree. The assaults continued to the order of the men, and it is believed that the girls were cognizant of their secrets.

The associated press dispatch says that being at the course was so to the satisfaction of the spectators. Charles H. Thayer was referee and B. B. Rand was starter. THE DRAMATISTS' SENTENCED.

Two Sentenced to Twenty and One to Five Years' Imprisonment.

GORRICH, Ont., Sept. 28.—At the assize court this morning the Blyth murder case was concluded. His lordship charged the jury at great length. The jury retired, and after an hour's absence returned with a verdict of manslaughter against all three prisoners, recommending them to the mercy of the court.

The father, James, is a feeble man over 60 years of age. He completely broke down during the trial, and was unable to stand on his feet. His lordship sentenced the father and Henry James to twenty years in the penitentiary, and the younger son, to fifteen years. Henry James was sentenced to pay more attention to caring for his father than to his own fate. He is holding his father's head and bathing him with cold water while the jury were out and tried to comfort him. His lordship sentenced the father and Henry James to twenty years in the penitentiary, and the younger son, to fifteen years.

THE TORONTO WORLD.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1884.

SPURS ON THE STREET RAILWAY.

A Victim Tells How Conductors are Discharged Without Warning. Editor World: In a late issue of your paper I read a letter commenting upon the dress, demeanor, abilities, etc., of the conductors employed by the Toronto street railway company.

In the letter referred to, long hours and small pay are considered the greatest grievances; but there are many others. The writer also asks "why not pay better wages and employ more respectable men?" This shows a limited idea of street car conducting here, as nothing but dire necessity compels a respectable man to apply for such a position, where he must work for months as an extra hand earning less than half pay; and if at the end of that time he should be so lucky as to obtain a steady car, he knows not the moment he will be waited upon by a detachment consisting of an extra man and a timekeeper, who informs him that his presence is desired by the superintendent.

Shakespeare says: "He who steals my purse steals trash; but he who robs me of my good name, takes that which enriches him, not leaves me poor indeed." This is where the sting comes in, and if through want of discrimination in the selection of conductors a dishonored or incompetent man is put in charge, the reason why the whole body should be characterized as such, and viewed with suspicion accordingly. The system of selection is not selection, and the system of checking men in the extreme, the latter being altogether a spy system. The spy may be incompetent or prejudiced, or both; and it goes without saying he is a mean man; but his work is taken and acted upon without any inquiry as to his character, no matter what his character, who knows not his accuser, and is not allowed to produce evidence to rebut the spy's report.

Remember the Bon Marche keeps open till 10 to-night.

Rome Illustrated. The crowd that visited the People's theatre last night enjoyed a rare treat. Chas. M. Caughy took them to the theatre on a trip across the Atlantic to Italy, and after showing them the bay and city of Naples led them to Rome, where a couple of hours were spent examining the wonders and admiring the grandeur of the famous city. Guided by the lecturer, the audience visited the coliseum, churches and museums of Rome, read the inscriptions upon the tombs in the catacombs, saw the popes and their palaces, the Vatican palace, beheld the combats of the gladiators and witnessed the persecutions of the early christians. The entertainment is highly moral as well as interesting and instructive, and should be visited. Mr. Caughy will do London to-night.

No Cream will equal the Oakland Jersey dairy cream. Its keeping qualities. Order it and try.

The Silver King. At the Grand opera last night F. C. Bangs gave a representation of Wilfred Denver in the justly popular melodrama of the Silver King that was truly emulating, really pathetic and artistically grand. Thousands of people in Toronto went to the Grand on the two previous occasions that the Silver King was given by the Haverly company. Last night was the Denver of Mr. Bangs pleased all so much that the actor was six or seven times called before the curtain. Of the rest of the company the comparisons were various. The scenery and stage dressing of the piece are in keeping with the reputation of the manager, Harry Kings. Silver King will run all week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Laces at half price at the Bon Marche. You may not believe it, but you can see the lace performed any afternoon or evening at the Zoo this week. What a sight! Why a man swinging on his head. The man is John Theurer, and he is the most expert trapezist that has ever yet appeared in Toronto. While the trapeze is in full swing, motion he balances himself on his head on the bar, without the support of hands, legs or anything else, a feat hitherto unprecedented in the gymnastic world. Mr. Theurer also does such difficult acts as balancing himself on a chair and ladder, drinking a glass of water, smoking a cigar, and playing the violin while standing on his head, all being accomplished with the greatest ease. Go and see his performance at 4:30 p. m. and 8. Reduced rates for school children.

No other cows than pure registered Jerseys are kept at the Oakland Jersey Stock Farm.

The reason why "Nonch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, it is perfectly harmless. Second, it saves more than half the labor. Third, it is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. Lovinia & Co., Wholesale Agents for Toronto. 2-4.

SEVENTY THOUSAND SCOTS.

Demonstration in Glasgow to Prove that the Lords Must Go.

From Detroit Free Press Letter. Since I last wrote there has been a tremendous demonstration against the lords in Glasgow, which is the biggest thing in that line since the London affair. Seventy thousand good men and true marched "shoulder to shoulder" to show that they thought we had enough of lordly legislation. There were 400 carriages, 500000 old veterans who had taken part in the reform troubles of 1819 and 1832, and their banner bore the strange device, "There's life in the old boy yet." A huge lot that took a whole day to carry it was followed by a procession of bakers "all dressed in spidery white," as the hymn says. Think of forty brass bands in one procession. Eight platforms were erected on Glasgow green, and as many speakers spoke at one time to the immense gathering. Trevelyan, the nephew of Macaulay, and the secretary for Ireland, was the lion of the day, and spoke to a large audience in the evening.

East End Developments.

Since the annexation took place the east end of the city has taken a fresh start, and new streets and new blocks of houses are being pushed forward vigorously. The natural effect of this is to cause an advance in the price of real estate and leases. Postlethwaite & Graham announce that they have been making sales rapidly on Broad street, Eastern Avenue, and other streets. They have been instructed to make a further advance in prices on October 1, so that intending purchasers should close at once to secure bargains.

Contracts for Futures. From Broadstreet. Among the recent decisions of the courts on the vexed questions arising out of dealings in "futures" is that in the case of Whitesides v. Hunt et al., decided by the supreme court of Indiana on Sept. 20. In this case the court held that the former rule, that when the vendor had not the goods but merely intended to go into the market to buy them no action could be maintained, was now changed so that a vendor may contract for the sale of an article not in his possession, and that this doctrine was consistent with the rules of public policy. What is now required, said the court, is that there shall be a bona fide intention to fill the agreement according to its terms, and not merely to pay differences. This latter agreement is gambling and contrary to public policy. If a contract is bought for future actual delivery the contract is valid. But if it is understood by all the parties that it is to be no delivery, but only differences paid, the contract is illegal and void. The court further declared that while parties to such contracts will not be held liable for fraud, yet if they are found to be in collusion, no matter what might have been the secret purpose or intention of the other.

A Miserly Montrealer.

According to all accounts, politicians are quite as corrupt in Canada as they are in Maine. A miserly but widely known Montreal physician was called upon by a number of his friends and asked if he would accept a certain nomination. He finally consented, with the proviso that it should not cost him anything. At a consultation, held some time afterwards, he told his friends the result of his investigation. Mentioning a number of men who could be bought for various prices, he headed that there were several of his patients who had expressed a willingness to vote for him and as their influence in his behalf if he would accept their bills. "I can't afford to do that," he said. And to get the influence they needed he thought he would be obliged to pay him the amount of the bills.

Toronto's Prosperity.

Within the past few years Toronto has more than doubled her population, and well-paved streets now take the place of bleak and sandy commons. The principal thoroughfares are repaved with handsome shops, the windows of which would do credit to either Regent street, London, or the rue La Fayette in Paris. Distances, on the other hand, are filled with all matters pertaining to his particular business. His shelves are filled with hats, caps and furs of the finest descriptions, marked at such low prices that astonish all.

The Mean Man at Guelph. From the Waterloo Chronicle. When the provincial exhibition proposed to come to Guelph the hotelkeepers signed a joint promise to pay $50 each towards assisting the town to meet the special outfit incidental to the exhibition. One of them, Mr. Stenman, paid his subscription, but when the demand was made upon Mr. Bunyan he asked to see the paper, and on getting it into his hands tore it to pieces and destroyed it on the spot. At the assizes he was tried for the offence, but acquitted on some legal point. A civil action may yet take place to recover the money, otherwise that is the end of one of the smallest transactions we have heard of among a class of people who, whatever may be said of some things they do, are seldom guilty of mean things of this kind. We are surprised that men who must have made a good deal of money would draw out of the obligation in that way.

The Bon Marche for dress goods.

Ten Years Ago. Where were you, love, ten years ago? Alone I saw a land of blue. Then wandered through the blossom snow. And dreamed a woman such as you. So like the picture only true. Love's breeze shade the lilac tree; I called you then across the fern. But there was none to answer me; God's world was very dead, you know. But I was not to die.

What was your life ten years ago? You woman with the haunting face; With eyes as blue as the sky above. Who came in fancy to this place. Who touched my face and to my hand. And whispered in my ear, "I love you." Some day in distant flower land. When calling you would answer me. What was the hope that seemed to grow. In dreams of you ten years ago?

Where are we now? Ten years ago we were two boys and two girls. But now, since I have found my way. I take one moment, ere we part. Listen one moment, ere we part. Beneath this gold laurel tree. Let me know truly at your heart. And how I have made you know. The love I dreamed ten years ago!

THE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES.

This is the Policy of the United States in regard to the Canadian Cart Company.

From the Kingston Whig. A few days ago the revenue cutter Bibb ran into Charlotte harbor. Its officers boarded the schooner Annie Falconer (Capt. Taylor), and asked to see his way bills and manifests. Capt. Taylor did not then have a form announcing his broken sea stores, and a consequence the case was reported to Washington. The vessel is liable to a fine of $500. The law on this point is about twenty years old and has not been enforced for nearly as many years. The officers of the revenue cutter said that as the Canadians were becoming particularly strict (the seizure of the Island Belle at Ganouque being cited), they intended to enforce the law to the very letter. Canadians, therefore, must deplore the unfortunate action of the collector at Ganouque, and if our government desire a modification of matters they should arrange for the Island Belle affair the better. No government could have acted more leniently than that of the United States in recent years.

A Remarkable Presentation.

From the Milton Champion. The grand jury at the assizes on Monday, after bringing in true bills in two criminal cases, both of which were directly attributable to the Scott act, testified in their presentation that that measure had been instrumental in causing a decrease in several articles of merchandise. It is a fact that for many years past there has been no little crime in our county that the presentation of white kid gloves, the judges say, has since the going into effect of the Scott act than in other counties in which a license law is in force but prohibitions never allow an opportunity to pass for making capital for their pet act by misrepresenting the true state of affairs in relation to the Scott act. It was surprising that those on the grand jury had not evaded themselves of the fine one they had on Monday. Several anti-prohibitionists who were on the jury, one of them being its foreman, objected to its presentation, but they were overruled.

Becher's Path in Cleveland. The Hon. Henry W. Beecher recently received the following letter: Can you advise young men to vote for Grover Cleveland? If the greatest and most eloquent of christian ministers favors contracts which are not to be violated with impunity, and tell me what is to be expected from young men who find that such acts are not to be visited with reprobation from a pulpit which has been looked upon for counsel in morals and religion. It seems to me that no great christian minister has ever so palpably betrayed his duty to his morals and religion in his hands as you do at this moment.

My Dear Sir: When you are older.

My Dear Sir: When you are older and have had the benefit of the world's affairs and political events, you will regard the letter sent to me with far different eyes than you do now. At a consultation, held some time afterwards, he told his friends the result of his investigation. Mentioning a number of men who could be bought for various prices, he headed that there were several of his patients who had expressed a willingness to vote for him and as their influence in his behalf if he would accept their bills.
