ALLIES INCREASE RIGOR OF ARMISTICE TERMS

German Army Must Evacuate Both Banks of Rhine and Rhineland---Must Surrender 150,000 Railway Cars and Whole Fleet Instead of 160 Submarines---Part of High Seas Fleet Must Sail for Allied or Neutral Port in One Week

KAISER HOOTED BY REFUGEES FLEES ONWARD INTO HOLLAND

Tremendous Crowd of Sightseers at Maastricht Gathered to Watch Him--Grand Duke of Hesse Arrested and Prince Heinrich of Reuss Abdicates.

Maastricht, Holland, Nov. 12.—Amid execrations from 2000 Belgian refugees, the former German emperor's special train left here at 10 o'clock this morning northward bound. A tremendous crowd of sightseers had gathered, but the platform was strongly cordoned, and William Hohenzollern did not show himself.

His destination is said to be Amerongen, about 20 miles from Utrecht, where Count Bentinck has a country seat. But it is not possible to say where he will finally remain, for in order to avoid the curious he may have to keep to the train for a couple of days.

Grand Duke Arrested. Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—The Grand Duke of Hesse has been placed under preventive arrest, according to a despatch from Darmstadt, to The Daily Herald's Nachrichten.

Another Royalty Abdicates. Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—A despatch received from Berlin says that Prince Heinrich XXVII. of Reuss, of the younger line, has abdicated. Prince Heinrich was the reigning prince of the House of Furstenburg Reuss, of the younger branch. He was born in 1858. Reuss is a principality that has

GUNS ABRUPTLY CEASED LIKE CRASH OF THUNDER

Bombardment Continued All Thru Morning With Terrific Intensity During Big Attack Till Minute Before Eleven.

Paris, Nov. 12.—When dawn came yesterday morning there was no hint of the cessation of hostilities. East of the Meuse, regardless of the situation, the American second army attacked in force at 8 o'clock. The onslaught was preceded by a tremendous barrage, which was returned in kind by the enemy. For three hours the Americans swept forward, hurling themselves against the wire entanglements.

The German gunfire was devastating. Then, exactly one minute of 11, like a final thunder crash at the clearing of a storm, the guns on both sides abruptly ceased.

The silence was more startling than the deafening roar of the barrage. For a brief minute intermittent rifle fire followed; then came a pause, punctuated by ripping cheers from the trenches on both sides of the line.

What followed on one sector was perhaps one of the most singular events of the war. Against the sky the figures were suddenly silhouetted. They appeared cautiously at first, but soon, growing bolder all along the line, they stood upright. These were Germans.

Both Sides Cheer. The Americans were not so cautious. As the barrage died, ending in a final husky rumble in the distance from the big guns, runners went springing along the firing line. Instantly comprehending the whole line of doughboys leaped from trenches, fox holes and shell craters, splitting the unaccustomed silence with a shrill cheer. The roar of voices was like an outburst at some great college contest in America when a contestant scores a classic play.

Strange to relate, the defeated enemy joined vociferously in the cheering. The world war was finished. At one minute before eleven it would have meant death to show one's self above ground. Not more than a minute after the hour the rolling plain was alive with cheering shouting men, friend and enemy alike. Not many minutes later Germans and Americans were coming along the narrow

The New Era Calls a Big Change.

The thing for Canada to do is to get away from war and back to business; of manufacturing necessary things and producing foodstuffs.

Every man and woman now in war work should be released for genuine industries.

Let the soldiers on this side be disbanded and those of them that are farmers start in to do full plowing this week, to feed live stock, to thresh, to get ready for next year's crop.

Disband the men and women in emergency war offices at Ottawa and other centres.

The industries of peace call for help. Our gold and other mines can absorb thousands of men. Our steel plants want men for industrial and structural iron.

Our forging plants, let them drop the shell business and turn the workers on rails and car and locomotive requirements.

We want steel plates for shipbuilding. Let the munition plants make motors, tractors, mowers.

The electrification of our railways will take all the machinists and laborers we can spare or command. Thousands of men can be put to work in developing water power energy.

Aviation is to be a new occupation, but let us develop it for the service it will be in the way of fast express and travel. We can soon knock all our flying schools into one camp for purposes of war.

The civil service can be reorganized and a lot of its members released for more useful work.

Send the army of typewriters on war work into the commercial divisions. We want better teachers for our schools.

The whole of Canada must be reorganized. Get the farmers and mechanics, the laborers and miners, now at the front, back as soon as possible.

Even let parliament be put into immediate service on the job of reconstructing Canada for the new era.

The new era is breaking, and reconstruction is the beginning of it.

The Beginning of the New Era. The downfall of the kaiser and his class.

The smashing of German pretensions to rule mankind.

The realization of the English-speaking nations for liberty and civilization.

Co-operation to take the place of competition as the key to better social conditions.

The substitution of THE WELFARE OF THE MANY for the WEALTH OF THE FEW.

No more dynasties, no more entrenched classes, no more military snobs and tyrants.

Every man and woman to have a chance. And the woman that carries on the race to be the first concern of the state.

GERMANY MUST DELIVER ALL U-BOATS TO ALLIES

Foch Amends Armistice Terms, Increasing Severity--Teutonic Warships to Be Given Up Have to Sail in Seven Days--Enemy Must Surrender Hundred and Fifty Thousand Railway Cars.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 12.—Amendments of the armistice terms made by Marshal Foch after his first meeting with the German plenipotentiaries, as announced tonight by the state department, include the delivery to the allied nations of all of Germany's submarines, instead of the 160 specified in the original draft of the armistice.

Eighteen of the articles as originally prepared by the supreme war council and as read by President Wilson to congress were changed under the limited authority for alteration given the supreme commander in dealing with the enemy envoys. The state department today received and made public the amended articles, with the explanation that no information had come as to how the changes were brought about. Apparently most of them were conceded in response to appeals of the German spokesmen, the several, besides that touching submarines, make the terms more drastic than before.

Instead of 50,000 railroad cars to be surrendered in evacuated territory, the number is made 150,000. On the other hand, the number of machine guns to be delivered by the Germans is reduced from 30,000 to 25,000; the German troops in East Africa are permitted to evacuate instead of being required to surrender; provision is made for considering food needs in Germany in the taking of means of transportation, and a specific reference to the regulation of repatriation of German prisoners of war at the conclusion of peace is added.

Afraid of Anarchy. In response to the German fear of anarchy in occupied Russian provinces after evacuation, the time of evacuation is changed from immediately to "as soon as the allies, taking into account the internal situation of these territories, shall decide that the time for this has come." Territories which belonged to Austria-Hungary before the war are added to those which must be evacuated.

Another added clause provides for an armistice commission, to which Germans will be admitted, to carry out details under the direction of the victorious military authorities and in accord with appended notes, which were drafted during the conference between Marshal Foch and the German delegates.

The additions and changes close with this: "This armistice has been signed the eleventh of November, nineteen-eighteen, at five o'clock French time. F. FOCH, R. E. WEMYSS, ERZBERGER, OBERNDORFF, WINTERFELD, VANSELOW."

President Wilson has had the terms as drafted by the supreme war council and approved by the allies, premiers and Colonel E. M. House in his hands since a week ago yesterday, when they were called upon their completion. He prepared his address including the terms, and read it to congress before Marshal Foch reported the document as actually signed at his headquarters.

Summary of the Changes. A summary of the changes follows: ARTICLE 3.—Fifteen days instead of 14 or allowed for the repatriation, beginning at once, of all the inhabitants removed from invaded countries, including hostages and persons under trial or convicted.

ARTICLE 4.—Providing for the surrender of munitions and equipment reduces the number of machine guns to be delivered from 30,000 to 25,000, the number of airplanes from 2000 to 1700.

ARTICLE 5.—Providing for the evacuation by the Germans of the countries on the left bank of the Rhine, stipulates that these countries shall be administered by the local troops of occupation, instead of by the local authorities under the control of the allied and United States armies, and the occupation is to be "carried out by" allied and United States garrisons holding strategic points and the principal crossings of the Rhine. Thirteen days instead of 25 are allowed for completion of the evacuation.

ARTICLE 6.—Providing that no damage or harm shall be done to persons and property in territory evacuated by the Germans, has a sentence added specifically stipulating that no person shall be prosecuted for offenses of participation in war measures, prior to the signing of the armistice.

Demands in Rolling Stock. ARTICLE 7.—Providing for the abandonment of delivery in good order to the associated powers on all roads and means of communication and transportation in evacuated territory, calls for 150,000 wagons (railroad cars), instead of 50,000; 50,000 motor lorries instead of 10,000, and requires that all civil and military personnel at present employed on such means of communication and transportation, including waterways, shall remain. Thirty-five instead of twenty-five days are allowed for handing over the material. Thirty-six days are allowed for the handing over of the railways of Alsace-

Britain to Call for Another Huge Loan

Andrew Bonar Law Moves Vote of Credit for Three and Half Billion Dollars to Maintain Expenditure.

London, Nov. 12.—A new loan of £200,000,000 was called for in the house of commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer.

Bonar Law, in moving the new vote of credit, said that he believed there would be a reduction in expenditure owing to the change in the military situation, but that the treasury officials had advised him against reducing the amount of money desired. It might be necessary for the allies to make efforts to bring food supplies to Europe, in which case a greater expenditure would be incurred, the chancellor said. He added that the general financial situation at the end of the fiscal year would be appreciably less than his budget figures. The future prosperity and well being of the country, he continued, depended on the extent to which capital and labor could harmoniously work together. It was vital that the close international unity which the war had produced should prevail while the ravages of war were being repaired.

Now Plain Hapsburgs

Berne, Nov. 12.—Budapest newspapers received here contain details of a remarkable ceremony in which Archduke Josef of Austria and his son, Josef Francis, took oath to the Hungarian constitution as simple Hungarian citizens named Hapsburg.

The newspapers say this was the first instance in four hundred years when such a renouncement was made. All privileges were given up by the archduke and his son.

The newspapers also say that the little principality of Liechtenstein of ten thousand inhabitants, situated on the Swiss eastern frontier, also has had a revolution.

The prince of Liechtenstein was forced to leave the country. He was superseded by Dr. Ritter, a lawyer, of Innsbruck.

KAISER DECIDED TO RUN AFTER READING TERMS

Emperor, Before Abdicating, Bitterly Reproached German High Command for Misleading Him.

Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—The Tiffler learns that the former German emperor's flight was decided upon after receipt of the armistice terms at headquarters and the German Government's communication on this subject.

Altho the emperor, despite pressure, refused for a time to sign the abdication proclamation on behalf of himself and family, he realized that the end had come.

On hearing the armistice terms the emperor bitterly reproached the supreme army command, declaring that he had been misled. One general advised against the emperor's flight as unworthy. Field Marshal von Hindenburg designated General von Falkenhayn, ex-chief of staff, to accompany the emperor, with whom was his youngest son.

COMMONS VOTE DOWN IRISH PLEA TO WILSON

London, Nov. 12.—The Irish party today issued an address, appealing to President Wilson to aid in a settlement of the Irish question in accordance with the principles that all nations, large and small, have a right to free determination of their own form of government. A demand in this respect made in the house of commons today was voted down.

CONTEMPTIBLE ATTEMPT AT MISCHIEF-MAKING

London Times Describes Dr. Solf's Appeal Regarding Food Supply of German People.

London, Nov. 12.—The Times describes the appeal of Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary, to President Wilson regarding the armistice conditions affecting the food supply of the German people as "a contemptible attempt at mischief-making. The newspaper says that Dr. Solf has but to look at the armistice in order to see that the allies and the United States contemplate such provisioning of Germany during the armistice as shall be found necessary.

The Daily Chronicle concludes, "and the 'which never showed mercy, now has to improve it." It adds that the allies no doubt will take such steps as humanity dictates, so far as they can consistently do so and feed their own populations.

"But that is no trivial proviso. The Daily Chronicle concludes, "and the food cargoes that Germany has criminally sent to the bottom of the sea cannot be fished up even to feed Germany."

FIFTEEN THOUSAND ARMENIANS KILLED

Bagdad, Mesopotamia, Nov. 12.—Reports have been received at the American consulate here that 15,000 Armenians were massacred at Tass (T) Hasu, 50 miles southwest of Hillis Asiatic Turkey.

Peace Days Will Be Safe Through the Victory Loan

Simpson's

Lorraine, together with the pre-war personnel.

ARTICLE 8.—Forty-eight hours is given to the German command to reveal the names of the persons who are to be executed, and to reveal and assist in discovering and destroying mines or delayed action fuses on evacuated territory. No time limit was fixed originally.

ARTICLE 9.—Providing for the right of requisition by the United States and allied armies in occupied territory has the clause added "subject to regulation of accounts with those whom it may concern."

ARTICLE 10.—Providing for the repatriation without reciprocity of all allied and United States prisoners of war including persons under trial or convicted, has the following added: "This condition annuls the previous conventions on the subject of the exchange of prisoners of war, including the one of July, 1918, in course of ratification. However, the repatriation of German prisoners of war interned in Holland and in Switzerland shall continue as before. The repatriation of German prisoners of war shall be regulated at the conclusion of the preliminary peace."

ARTICLE 12.—Providing for the withdrawal of German troops from territory which belonged before the war to Russia, Rumania and Turkey, is rewritten. Territory which belonged to Austria-Hungary is added to that from which the Germans must withdraw immediately, and as to territory which belonged to Russia, it is provided that the German troops now there shall withdraw within the frontiers of Germany "as soon as the allies, taking into account the internal situation of those territories, shall decide that the time for this has come."

ARTICLE 13.—"Renunciation" is substituted for "abandonment" in stipulating that the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk are nullified.

ARTICLE 16.—Providing free access for the allies into Germany evacuated through the German eastern frontier is changed so as to declare such access is for the purpose of conveying supplies to the populations, and for the purpose of maintaining order, instead of "or for any other purpose."

ARTICLE 17.—Originally providing for the "unconditional capitulation" within one month of all German forces operating in East Africa, is substituted by a clause requiring only evacuation by all German forces operating in East Africa within a period to be fixed by the allies.

ARTICLE 18.—Providing for the repatriation of all civilians belonging to the allies or associated powers other than those enumerated in article three, is amended to eliminate the "unconditional" character of the demands by the allies and the United States shall remain unaffected.

ARTICLE 22.—Providing for the surrender of 150 German submarines is changed to read "all submarines now existing," with the addition of stipulation that "those which cannot take the sea shall be dismantled of their material and personnel and shall remain under the supervision of the allies and the United States." Further provisions are added regarding the conditions of the article shall be carried into effect within 14 days; that submarines ready for sea shall be prepared to be taken to port immediately upon orders by wireless and the remainder at the earliest possible moment.

ARTICLE 23.—Providing for the disposition of German surface warships has additional clauses requiring that vessels designated for internment shall be ready to sail back within seven days upon directions by wireless, and that the military armament of the vessels of the auxiliary fleet shall be put on board at the earliest possible moment.

ARTICLE 24.—Providing for the blockade remains unchanged.

ARTICLE 25.—Providing that the allied blockade remains unchanged.

has this sentence added: "The allies and the United States should give consideration to the provisioning of Germany during the armistice to the extent recognized as necessary."

ARTICLE 23.—Providing conditions of evacuation of the Belgian coast (from which the Germans actually had been driven before the armistice was signed) was changed in minor particulars.

ARTICLE 24.—Providing that the duration of the armistice shall be thirty days, and that if its clauses are not carried into execution, it may be renounced upon 48 hours' warning, has the following added: "It is understood that the execution of articles three and eighteen shall not warrant the denunciation of the armistice on the ground of insufficient execution within a period fixed except in the case of bad faith in carrying them into execution. In order to assure the execution of this convention under the best conditions, the principle of a permanent international armistice commission is admitted. This commission shall act under the authority of the allied military and naval commanders-in-chief."

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

SHORTAGE OF FUEL AT TODMORDEN

Controller Says He is Sick of Job and Cannot Get Coal.

The widening of Woodville avenue and the fuel situation were the principal subjects discussed at a well-attended meeting of the Todmorden Ratepayers' Association held in Torrens avenue school last evening. Philip Pedlar, president, was in the chair.

Asaph Sheek pointed out that the question of Woodville avenue and its neglected condition was a long-standing one. The residents in buying lots on the street, bought without a sidewalk, and the width of the road was only 25 feet. There were no street lights and the mud was a deep. If the York Township Council would widen the street, the people would be willing to provide the land. J. Allpress, J. A. Macdonald, J. Joslyn and others also spoke in favor of the widening.

It was decided to write the York Township Council asking for an investigation into the situation and requesting expropriation of the land from Don Mills road to Pape avenue.

The fuel situation was next discussed, and dissatisfaction was freely expressed regarding the coal shortage in the district. George Moses, the recently appointed fuel controller, stated he was getting sick of the fuel controller's job. "I received a quantity of order forms to be filled in by the residents for coal, and up to the present there has not a word," said Mr. Moses, who added that it was possible to get buckwheat coal, but this quality of fuel was useless to the residents without nut coal mix.

The matter will be brought to the attention of the provincial fuel commissioner.

W. Skinner and F. Haselton were appointed delegates to the amalgamated meeting of township ratepayers, to be held in Oddfellows' Hall, Bathurst street.

TODMORDEN CONSERVATIVES.
The annual meeting and election of officers in connection with the Todmorden Conservative Association will be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Todmorden, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. W. F. Maclean, M.P., is expected to be present.

KNOCKED HAT OFF HIS HEAD.
Because he refused to remove his hat while the national anthem was being sung at Earlscourt's patriotic demonstration on Monday night a man was roughly handled by the crowd. A lady present asked him to take his hat off, but the man refused whereupon a returned man in the crowd promptly knocked it off his head. Then there was a short scuffle and the discomfited man hurried away by some of his friends.

CELEBRATE PEACE NEWS.
A dance was held on Monday evening in one of Harry Bell's new stores, West-4th-4th street, at which about 2000 persons were present during the evening to celebrate the victory. Music was provided by a special orchestra. The masters of ceremonies were C. W. Bowman, dressed as John Bull, and H. Weaver as Uncle Sam.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT HONORS WINDSOR MAN.
Windsor, Nov. 12.—Surgeon Lieut.-Col. H. R. Casgrain of this city, who has been overseas since 1915, serving first on the Island of Lemnos and later in France, has again been cited for his services by the French Government, Col. Casgrain has been awarded the Croix de Chevalier. Less than a year ago he received the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

CHURCH BUYS BONDS.
St. David's Presbyterian Church Sunday school have arranged to buy Victory Bonds to the amount of $10,000. Under the Victory Loan campaign this church has already been cited for contributing, notwithstanding the fact that the church is being rebuilt at a cost of $20,000 and is expected to be opened on Dec. 8. Rev. C. A. Mustard is the minister.

The Sunday school of St. Chad's Church, North Dufferin street, Earlscourt, has just completed making up the large annual Christmas collection for its object to give to every Earlscourt dependent, both children and parents, a Christmas present in a tangible form. The tree will be the largest procurable and will be placed in the auditorium of the Belmont assembly hall, Earlscourt. The presents will run into hundreds of dollars' value.

A special committee is to be appointed to work with some members of the fall fair committee to carry out the details.

MANY BICYCLES STOLEN.
That bicycle stealing is on the increase in Earlscourt and district, is proven by the large number of complaints the last few weeks. A favorite method seems to be to keep a watch cut for a wheel when the owner steps into a store, when the thieves lose no time in making off with it. It is seldom that these lost bicycles are recovered. Out of a grocery store last Saturday, three bicycles were stolen and no trace of them found.

REMEMBER SOLDIERS' FAMILIES.
A huge Christmas tree is being planned in Earlscourt in connection with the Great War, which will be the first for its object to give to every Earlscourt dependent, both children and parents, a Christmas present in a tangible form. The tree will be the largest procurable and will be placed in the auditorium of the Belmont assembly hall, Earlscourt. The presents will run into hundreds of dollars' value.

OUTBREAK OF MEASLES.
Measles is rampant on several streets in North Earlscourt the past few days, but the cases are mostly confined to young people. The schools are free from sickness and crowded the Earlscourt public schools at yesterday's reopening.

BERLIN OFFICERS FIRE ON REVOLUTIONARY TROOPS.
Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—There were exchanges of shots in Berlin Sunday between soldiers and the few officers remaining loyal to the Hohenzollerns, according to advices from the German capital. These exchanges occurred around the Central Hotel and the railway station in the Friedrichstrasse, the Victoria and Astoria Cafes and the royal library, from which the officers fired at the soldiers, some of whom were wounded. A number of the officers were arrested, while others escaped thru underground passages.

WANT BETTER RADIALS ON KINGSTON DIVISION

"Improved service" on the Toronto and York Radial, Kingston road branch, is demanded by the Scarborough Taxpayers' Association. An application for an order for a better service has been made by that association to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. A hearing has been granted for tomorrow (Thursday) morning at the parliament buildings. As a portion of the railway starting at Queen street, opposite the Woodbine, belongs to the city, the board applied for concerns both the corporation of the City of Toronto and the Toronto and York Radial Railway Company.

G.W.V.A. HOLD DANCE.

Under the auspices of the Riverside branch, G.W.V.A., a well attended dance was held in Player's Hall, Danforth avenue, last evening. The chief feature was a waltz contest, in which there were a large number of contestants. Fred Cole's orchestra supplied the dance music and F. Harding acted as master of ceremonies.

DANFORTH INTERSECTION READY IN TWO DAYS

Work was resumed on the Bloor street viaduct yesterday after peace celebrations, and good progress was made towards completion of the big undertaking. Post holes were prepared for the temporary wooden standards to carry the trolley wires on the new road, and stone ballast and ties were laid for a short distance on the street car trench from the head of Parliament street westerly.

Workers are now laid up for the steel girders in connection with Glen road, which has already been expected from Reid and Brown, the contractors, yesterday.

Two more days of work will see the completion of the new intersection at Broadview and Danforth avenues, according to the department of works. All of the steel and most of the concrete work has already been finished.

At the intersection of Bloor and Sherbourne streets everything has been completed except the work at the southwest curb. It was found necessary to use this side for cross-overs to carry the traffic, and as a result progress on this particular section is a little retarded, but it will be proceeded with at once.

BERLIN OFFICERS FIRE ON REVOLUTIONARY TROOPS.
Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—There were exchanges of shots in Berlin Sunday between soldiers and the few officers remaining loyal to the Hohenzollerns, according to advices from the German capital. These exchanges occurred around the Central Hotel and the railway station in the Friedrichstrasse, the Victoria and Astoria Cafes and the royal library, from which the officers fired at the soldiers, some of whom were wounded. A number of the officers were arrested, while others escaped thru underground passages.

London, Nov. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange, Telegraph from Copenhagen says M. Joffe, the Russian ambassador to Germany, and the entire Russian embassy staff, have returned to Berlin.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

Most persons upon reading the armistice terms thought that in severity they could no further go, but Marshal Foch has found a way to increase their rigor, and by amendments to the conditions at the last moment he has rendered the surrendering of Germany completely powerless. The stipulation that the Germans surrender 150,000 railway cars instead of the original 50,000 demanded, puts the German railway rolling stock well into allied hands and concedes the allies control of the German railways. The Germans now have to fall back within 31 days from the Rhine land. Thus Germany has to surrender the principal provinces of Prussia with a population of around six million. Industrially the Rhine land leads all the provinces in the German Empire. The German iron works are all situated within this territory. It contains the cities of Essen, with the Krupp gun foundries; Duisburg, Dusseldorf, Cologne, Neunkirchen, Aachen, Solingen, Remscheid, Burscheid, Erftstadt, Duren, Juliers, Koblenz, Neuss and Ruhrort. All these cities have obtained celebrity for some staple industry. The surrender of the whole German fleet of submarines, now stipulated, if carried out, makes it impossible for Prussia to renew the war at sea.

The armistice, which of course is not a peace, but a cessation of hostilities, will doubtless continue until after the peace conference. In international law there is no peace as a rule until it is concluded by a treaty between the rival belligerents. Wars, however, have ceased in the past without a formal treaty of peace, but from a more breaking off in the conduct of the fighting. The allies, however, if Germany refused to carry out all the terms, would abrogate the armistice and renew the fighting. The armistice as amended is the full equivalent of a complete crushing of the enemy in the field, for it demoralized his army and puts it out of action as an organized military force.

As the allies apparently amended their armistice conditions after the Kaiser's abdication and the revolution in Germany, the increasing severity of the terms seems to show that the allies mistrust the new German government even more than they mistrusted the old German government. The men who have assumed control of affairs at Berlin are bad characters, including pan-Germans and men who assisted not only in buying the Bolsheviks but also took the leadership in disseminating German propaganda. The fact nevertheless remains that the soviets are a rising power in Germany, that Bolshevik doctrines are spreading, that Germany will shortly have an army of a rising power in Germany, trained as consummate cut-throat villains. The German high command had instructed its soldiers in the practice of frightfulness for the purpose of terrorizing the inhabitants of unoccupied territory. By a turn of the wheel Germany is about to learn what real bad men her soldiers are. She is about to feel some of the horrors felt by France and Belgium.

Altho hostilities have ceased, Britain is going to raise a new loan of $3,500,000,000. The amount does not contemplate an expenditure equal to the expenditure during the fighting. The money will not only to maintain their army in the theatres of the war until Germany becomes settled down and pays her indemnity, but probably to undertake large shipments of food to Europe. For many weeks it is certain that a huge expenditure from donations arising out of the war will continue. The allies will also have to meet the expenses of the peace conference. Germany and Austria-Hungary are to pay her indemnity, but probably to undertake large shipments of food to Europe. For many weeks it is certain that a huge expenditure from donations arising out of the war will continue. The allies will also have to meet the expenses of the peace conference.

Foreign Secretary Sull of Germany has asked President Wilson to arrange immediately for the opening of peace negotiations. As other allies, Britain, France and Italy, have an important concern, the peace conference, this move is plainly a bold attempt to divide the United States from the band of German diplomacy at work in an attempt to split participants in the coming peace conference into factions. By appealing to President Wilson in this manner the move would appear to suggest that the president is attached to their cause, or is merely a neutral. This, as Euclid says, is absurd.

The government of Belgium has officially declared that in the future Belgium will not consent to return to her old standing of a neutralized state, but will insist upon full nationhood. Before the war Belgium was deemed too small a power to stand by herself against any of the great powers, these signed two treaties to make her neutral and to guarantee her neutrality. It was these compacts that brought Britain into the war. Since Belgium neutrality obligations, she must consent to expect an enlargement of her power. It is not improbable that, as allies will cease to her wrongs, the compensation for her wrongs, the partition of Germany a large section of the Rhine land, which will extend her borders to the Rhine. The Germans claimed the Fleming population as Germans, therefore the Flemings may lay claim to a section of northern-western France as containing a kindred population.

Furniture for the Homelike Artistic Living Room

Emphasizing Especially the Charms of Certain Cane-pannelled, Well-cushioned Settees and Chairs, Luxuriously-upholstered Chesterfields and Various Pieces in Mahogany That Make for Beauty as Well as Comfort.

A VISION of well-padded, deep-seated settees, of arm chairs in which you can take your ease; of well-proportioned, graceful-looking tables for your books or your writing, and over all perhaps the gleam of the fire, or the glow of softly shaded lights—are not such things the foundation of that solid comfort which every man and woman desires in a really livable living-room or library?

And if you are bent on acquiring furniture that will carry out your aesthetic ideas you will find the Fourth Floor of the Furniture Building a veritable happy hunting ground.

Here are gathered together many settees and chairs after the type of those sketched, both with mahogany and walnut frames, also a vast array of Chesterfields covered with denim, tapestry or velours, and ranging in price from $69.50 to $350.00.

A settee of a new type, specially adapted to rooms of average size, has a tub-shaped, well-padded, tufted back, a deep spring seat with two kapok upholstered cushions, and a mahogany frame, with cabriole feet, showing Chinese Chippendale carving. It is covered with a blue and grey velvet, patterned in latticed design, and is accompanied by an arm chair and rocker, the price of three pieces being $307.00.

A graceful Chesterfield table, which would look exceedingly well at the back of the settee sketched, is about 7 feet long, made of mahogany, and has a narrow pediment back, with moulded apron front and carved, slender cabriole legs. Price, $65.00.

A secretaire of walnut in Chippendale design shows the characteristic arched top, a drop leaf front, well provided with pigeon-holes and long drawer beneath, and two bookshelves behind glass panelled doors. Price, $65.00.

Very graceful and quaint is a small rush-bottomed chair with mahogany frame, showing a back with pointed arch, giving an ecclesiastical appearance, and cabriole legs. This is $23.00.

Furniture Building, Corner James and Albert Sts.

A. Though this secretaire shows the statelyness that is essentially Chippendale, yet it by no means neglects the gracefulness and the convenient appointments that every woman desires in such pieces of furniture as are destined for her more intimate use. It is made of mahogany, with bookshelves behind the mahogany-latticed door. The drop leaf front forms a writing desk, at the back of which are numerous pigeon-holes, and the long drawer, with its quaint brass flange handles, adds to its attractiveness. Price, $75.00.

B. The graceful lines of this charming example of the modern cane-pannelled settee you may see in the sketch, but this falls to give an idea of its downy comfort. The well-upholstered frame is double stuffed with springs in the seat and in the loose seat cushions; the big pillows at the back are down-filled, all being covered with a mulberry saten—delightful with the mahogany frame, with its walnut panels and the antique finish of the cane. Price, $180.00. The two arm chairs to match, every whit as comfortable, are $75.00 each.

S. A garden within doors for the winter, for the adornment of her living-room—is not that the desire of every woman with artistic sense? And here is a very charming "mezzo" to that end—a flower stand of mahogany, with cane-pannelled sides and slender, graceful and well-braced legs, of a type that will go with almost any style of furniture. It has a tin lining and is $22.50.

Second Day of the Great Special Selling of Oriental Rugs

Offers a Remarkable Collection of Beautiful Hand-woven Rugs in Famous Persian, Caucasian and Indian Designs, at Greatly Reduced Prices—Some at Half Usual Amounts.

A RUG THAT WILL BRING a glorious bit of color into your drawing-room or living-room or hall?—a rug that is endowed with the beauty and artistry of the East? Has that, perhaps, been your desire for many a long day, but you have found the price beyond you? Then, here at last is a golden opportunity, for remarkable indeed the values offered in this extensive showing of magnificent rugs—the more remarkable in that they are reduced in price at a time when the supply of rugs from Asia Minor and Persia has practically ceased, and prices as a rule are proportionately higher.

The variety, too, is splendid, for small rugs and runners, and rugs in room sizes, are all represented, and both colors and patterns offer quite a wide choice. Should you, for instance, desire a large rug in the glowing rose and blues, terra cottas, greens and fawns, you will find ample choice in the small all-over Persian patterns, as well as in the handsome medallion and graceful arabesque designs, while the more sombre browns, and tans, and navy, with quaint conventional designs picked out with rose and blue are not lacking. And even the light creamy and camel grounds, with blue and rose patterns, are represented. Following is a list of prices of some of these special attractions for Wednesday:

"Whose Debtors We Are"

With generous hands they paid the price,
Unconscious of the cost;
But we must gauge the sacrifice
By all that they have lost.

The dreamless sleep of night.

THE prices of linens have soared these last two years in proportion to the dwindling of the supply. For since linen has become a Government monopoly, very little is available for domestic purposes. So the low prices in this special offering of linens should appeal to the housewife, who has hesitated to add to her stock, while those who are beginning to think of Christmas presents will find many interesting suggestions. The Madeira linens referred to were bought many months ago under specially favorable circumstances, hence the extraordinary low prices. Here are some of them:

Madeira linen dresser or bureau scarfs, made of beautifully fine linen, have rose scalloped edges with artistic festoons and sprays in eyellet and solid embroidery. Size 20 x 45 inches. Special price, $3.95.

The very handsome fine linen table cloth shown in the sketch, embroidered with characteristic openwork roses, is 54 inches in diameter, and is specially priced at $9.50.

The centrepiece, with its festoons of openwork and scalloped edges, also sketched, size 24 x 24, is specially priced at $3.00.

Madeira linen plate doilies with scalloped edges, obtainable in several openwork and solid designs. Sizes 6 to 10 inches. Specially priced, 35c to 55c.

Madeira luncheon napkins with scalloped edges and a pretty openwork design in one corner, size 14 x 14 inches, are specially priced at $8.50 per dozen.

Specials in Hemstitched Linen Table Cloths and Napkins

The linen is strong and firm, the designs extremely good and in considerable variety. ONE STRONG PULL FOR VICTORY LOAN

Toronto Teams Speeding Up Towards the Big Objective.

Employers' Committee Make Particular Efforts to Swell Total.

USING EVERY ENERGY

Toronto Summary.

Team total $1,230,050. Specials $372,550.

For the day $9,602,800. By special $4,291,250.

To date $73,805,550. High Men in Each District.

Swinging along at a good rate and well attuned to the work in hand the Toronto teams are speeding up towards the big objective of 100 million dollars.

A telegram was read from Montreal reporting that it had passed the 10-million-dollar point. Three hearty cheers were given for Montreal.

J. H. Gundy reported for the special subscriptions committee 102 new applications amounting to $5,372,550, making a total of $43,273,800.

Mr. H. J. Cody was warmly greeted with cheers when he rose to speak. "Our boys across the sea have gloriously finished their job," he said.

"They know it will not be wise to take their eyes off the Germans until after the 14 days are passed. They will be vigilant until the Huns have delivered the goods. If they don't do what is asked of them, our men have plenty of force to make them do it."

He told of the acuteness of the crisis saying that he never knew how near the edge of the abyss we had been. "The southern towns of England were ready for evacuation at a moment's notice," he said.

"There are the boys, you, your loan, are backing up," said Dr. Cody. "They are worth every moment of work and cent of money. The Germans pay them the tribute of massing against them always their best divisions and their strongest."

T. A. Russell, chairman of the employers' organization committee, urged that every possible effort be put forward to reach the 100 per cent. efficient class.

He said that it was noticed that when the head of a firm put his whole soul into the work of the Victory Loan, and assisted in enlisting his employees, there was no hesitation on the part of the workers.

More than 150 hands. Wednesday was designated employees day, when it was hoped that all returns for organizations would be in, so that a tabulated report might be given, showing what industrial Toronto had done for the Victory Loan.

Back Up the Boys. "There are the boys, you, your loan, are backing up," said Dr. Cody. "They are worth every moment of work and cent of money. The Germans pay them the tribute of massing against them always their best divisions and their strongest."

The Dominion totals up to 6 p.m. Tuesday were officially reported by E. R. Wood, chairman of the Dominion executive, as follows:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 13.

Armistice, Not Peace.

Many people have had the idea that the signing of the armistice was the same as peace. We all hope it may be, but the facts are plainly stated in the orders issued to the troops at the front. An armistice is simply a standing at arms, and the terms of the United States army order are explicit:

"All communication with the enemy, both before and after the termination of hostilities, is absolutely forbidden. In case of violation of this order severest disciplinary measures will be immediately taken. Any officer of-fending will be sent to headquarters under guard. Every emphasis will be laid on the fact that the armistice is an armistice, and not a peace. There must not be the slightest relaxation of vigilance. Troops must be prepared at any moment for further operations."

If anything further were needed in the way of emphasis it is provided in Chancellor Sol's request to President Wilson for an opening of negotiations for peace. We must all hope for the best and that the German people will not yield to the extremists who call for further fighting, whether they be junkers on the one hand or Bolsheviks on the other. A union among the anarchistic elements in Germany as in Russia would not only be a grave peril to Germany, but would demand the utmost discretion on the part of the allies to deal with. The danger of such movements as that of the Bolsheviks is not their numbers, but their fanatical ardor and unreasoning hostility to all not of their own order. They have just as little understanding of true democracy as the Kaiser had, and there is no advantage to the nation and its people by being ruled by one class more than another. The German people, with their love of order and method, in adopting proportional representation have laid the foundations for a real democracy, and they should be given the opportunity to develop it.

There is obviously an explosive element in German society akin to that which has made red ruin in Russia. If this cannot be held in check the slightest war will be followed by the bloodiest domestic strife of history. France and Russia have had terrible scenes, but Germany unloosed will be truly infernal.

This unreasoning factor is what jeopardizes peace. We trust it may be restrained, and that law and order will prevail, but the vengeance due to Germany is very great, and it is impossible to say that its agents will not be the German people themselves.

Getting Back to Peace Conditions.

Canada is anxious to return to a peace footing just as soon as this can be effected, but there can be no demobilization of the armies at the front until peace is signed. There will undoubtedly be a slackening of the preparations of war. The Military Service Act will be thrown off gear, and operations must have the light of way over military processes, and at once. There is a greater need for plowshares than for spears, and the danger of a famine next year is as great, if not greater, than for the present one. The immediate demand for food in Germany and Austria if peace is signed will be gargantuan. As Canada is nearest the market of British possessions she should bulk large in the food market.

Fuel is another matter in which labor is required, and if anything can be done to stimulate the supply it is demanded by the need. The fuel controllers now appear to be thoroughly alive to the situation, and locally the preparations being taken are excellent. The fortunately mild weather at this season helps.

There must be a gradual adjustment of conditions to the new phase in business, in labor, in supply affairs. There is no further possible excuse, whether there ever was one or not, for profiteering. It is undoubted that the profiteers who hoarded material for high prices will unload their stores at the prospect of low ones. The reaction may be sharp, and it should be prepared for. It need not be feared. As long as a fair exchange is maintained business will be good and prosperous. It is only stagnation that need cause alarm. The running waters are healthy, but the stagnant pools breed disease.

But there should be no more spendthrift squandering. No further war-paint can be found for scattering funds with a high pressure hose. The war is over as far as financial policies of that sort are concerned, and with them so profiteering. Sane business projects in lines of national development should occupy the attention of the business world. There is a great need for building, and this awakes the interest of the forester and lumberman, of the wool products manufacturer, the hardware man, the dealer in oils and paints. A vast amount of work has been postponed during the last four years till "after the war." This must be caught up. All that can be prudently undertaken by anyone interested should be put in hands at once. If the country is to be kept prosperous, the individual citizen must take the place of the nation as an employer of labor. Things that should be done should be prudently proceeded with. Toronto suffers exceedingly in the losses being sustained to the partially completed harbor works. The longer the delay in recommencing the greater will be the loss and expense. What is true of this big job is true of innumerable small ones. Labor should recognize the changed condition and avoid exorbitant overcharges. Many citizens do work for themselves which they would be glad to hire others to do, but for extortionate rates demanded.

The more we settle down and get into harness, and have the wheels moving in their proper grooves before demobilization begins, the better it will be for the country, and for all the people. The lesson of the war is co-operation, and this must be the watchword of communities, citizens and governments throughout Canada.

The Musk-Ox.

Mr. Wilhelmur Stefansson introduced a broad and practical plan for the increase of the food supply to the Empire Club on Monday. His daring and intrepid experiences in the Arctic regions have demonstrated the theory with which he started out, but which he found met with incredulity everywhere, that it was not the barren land it was reputed to be, but only barren of trees. He found that as a grazing country it was unrivaled, and that it would be possible to turn into a vast grazing ground if properly organized. Now that the cowboy has died off the prairie a new race may be developed to take care of the northland.

Mr. Stefansson described the success which had met the introduction of reindeer. A thousand head had been colonized in Alaska at a cost of $750 apiece. They had increased to 100,000 and on the original investment of $750,000 the annual returns were actually increasing.

But Mr. Stefansson has a better plan than even the reindeer. It is the domestication of the musk-ox. This animal is one of the most useful in existence. It is already much tamer than the buffalo ever was. Mr. Stefansson is quite confident that its domestication is an easy matter. At any rate an experiment would soon prove the worth of the theory.

The taming of the musk-ox would provide at once a supply of meat equal to the best beef. Its wool is better than the wool of the Canadian sheep, and its only disadvantage is its brown color. It could, however, be bleached. Each animal provides twice as much as a sheep. Its milk is the equal of the best Jersey cattle, and these three gifts render it a most valuable animal.

Mr. Stefansson bespoke the influence of the Empire Club in interesting the government at Ottawa in making a demonstration of the feasibility of his plan for turning the whole of the barren lands into a grazing ground for musk-oxen. He believes that bacterial disease would prevent them living further south, but in the vast areas of the Arctic they can find unlimited provender. He instanced the case of two trappers, 200 miles inside the Arctic circle, curing hay for a horse they had.

The Dominion Government would be well advised to develop this wonderful asset. Food will never be too plentiful in the world, and if the musk-ox can cheapen the cost of living something should be done to prevent the profiteers reaping all the advantage.

A Noble Poem.

We cannot refrain from calling attention to the noble poem on "Peace" by Mr. Wilson Macdonald, which appeared in our columns yesterday. We have been promised literature by the war, and such poems as this and Mr. Arthur Stringer's, which has appeared in the Globe, are tokens that Canada has a heart and a speaking voice.

Mr. Macdonald's poem is one of the great utterances of the time, and there are lines in it which are worthy of the greatest pens in English literature. The strength and purity of Mr. Macdonald's work have the inspiration of Galahad.

PEACE DESCENDED ON FIELD LIKE MANTLE

With the British Army in Belgium, Nov. 12.—Peace descended like a mantle over the battle front at eleven o'clock yesterday morning. The last big gun crashed its challenge, and a great overpowering quiet replaced turmoil, death and destruction.

Almost coincident with the signing of the armistice by the desperate enemy, the City of Mons capitulated before the relentless British pressure. Canadian troops under Gen. Horne having captured the place. On this hallowed ground the troops are now resting in their arms, happy in the thought of the fitness of their final triumph. They had driven the enemy out by the same gateway through which Field Marshal von Buelow and Field Marshal von Kluck hurled their great armies against the valiant little force of "contemptibles" in 1914.

THE END

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

Brian Talks of His Hopes and Disappointments to Mollie.

CHAPTER LXXXVII

Things did not work out entirely to Mrs. Clayborne's satisfaction. This was principally due to the fact that Ruth did not lend herself in any way to the schemes her aunt had planned. Of course, Mrs. Clayborne had said nothing of this; she was far too shrewd to make a faux pas of that kind. But whenever possible she advocated accepting Mandle's invitations, and was tactfully offensive when speaking of him to Ruth.

But Ruth was in love with Brian. Her work done, she was far happier with him than to be at the opera or anywhere else with others. So she managed to evade most of the things Mandle proposed, and to do it in such a way he could not accuse.

Brian had tried his best to be natural before Ruth's aunt; but always there was a little constraint in their intercourse, a forced pleasantness, that was obvious to both of them—and to Ruth.

"Don't act afraid of Auntie!" she said to Brian one day. "She won't eat you."

"I'm not afraid of her, but somehow I feel all the time that she blames me for you going to work; that she disapproves of me as a husband for her niece, putting his feelings into words for the first time in many weeks."

"Nonsense! I don't deny Aunt Louise felt so at first. You remember her letters. But she's all over it, now that she sees what my work is, how happy I am in doing it; how cosy we are, and how nicely we are getting along. Then, too, dear Auntie knows that I love you, that we are naturally together. I think she never quite knew how much I cared, before." Ruth blushed as she confessed her love for her husband. She was naturally diffident where her affections were concerned, and not often did she say as much.

"Just the same she doesn't like me. It would have pleased her better if you had married a man like Mandle. She's gone daffy about him, by the way she talks."

"It isn't that, Brian," Ruth patiently explained. "It is because he is so kind to me—he makes my work so pleasant. Aunt had an idea that all employers were regular slave-drivers, and that employees were terribly overworked and so miserable. She's found out she was wrong. I am so happy that she has, and that when she goes home she will feel differently about us and about my working." Then, "I wish while she is here you would come over to the shop with her. It seems strange that you never have met my boss," she finished with a smile.

"I don't know why I should meet him! He'd most likely patronize me—or try to."

"Oh, no, he wouldn't, Brian. He isn't that kind. Really he isn't, dear," as she saw disbelieve on Brian's face. "Then I want to show you my desk. The nice, quiet corner where I can keep to myself."

"Perhaps—some day I'll drop in," he returned, and Ruth had to be content.

TODAY'S POEM

THE SINGER.
 By Robert Todd.
 I have heard most famous singers in my day,
 And I have seen them grow quite haughty
 at their array;
 I've seen the tears a-falling,
 As the great singers were filling
 To the troubled hearts to dream their way.
 But the sweetest singer that I ever knew,
 Was my dainty mother mine,
 With sweet memories it seems,
 As the lullaby she sang to me and you.
 Rock-a-by baby, on the tree-top,
 When the wind blows the cradle will rock,
 When the bow breaks the cradle will fall,
 And down will come baby, cradle and all.
 It's a very simple little thing, I know,
 But it serves for me whenever I want to know.
 To the land of childhood's dreams;
 With sweet memories it seems,
 And I like it, and I'm old enough to know.
 I cradle my mother bending over me,
 And she's crooning just as soft as soft can be.
 'Tis the little lullaby,
 Do you wonder that I cry?
 I cry because she'll sing no more for me.

BETTER ORGANIZATION OF FARMING FORCES

Washington, Nov. 12.—Secretary Houston in a statement today urged that steps be taken to secure a better organization of the agricultural forces of the country, especially of the farm bureaus, in preparation for the execution of the new agricultural program for 1919. He dwelt especially upon the need for an increased production of beef and fats, saying that it seems clear that for a considerable period the world will demand particularly a larger supply than normal of these commodities.

JAPS BEHAVE QUIETLY

Tokio, Nov. 12.—There were no marked public demonstrations in Japan over the signing of the armistice, but leading statesmen and business men were jubilant over the surrender of Germany.

IDA ON TRAIL OF MOTORISTS

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

Seldom does a week pass that one or more deaths caused from reckless automobile driving are not reported. And yet so very little appears to be done to stop this traffic in lives. Of course, there are cases where the judge gets crusty, and sends the man to the farm (we know of one such instance), but the majority of the offenders are let off with a fine and a warning.

If this stunt of running your car as fast as the engine will allow, were as recklessly as your own mind can devise, were merely an event which happened on feast days or holidays, these might possibly be some slight excuse for the leniency which is handed out to the citizens, but when it takes place with the frequency of the morning edition, it is high time to call a halt.

The size of the city, and the number of policemen who are employed on the force make it impossible for them to be stationed at all crossings and street corners. Knowing this there are drivers who are daily taking advantage of the situation, and doing everything in their power to endanger the lives of the people.

A few years ago men and women who drove cars had the decency to blow their horns before running down anyone, but in these days they often do not have the good grace to stop after they have knocked them almost dead, let alone before the accident takes place.

We have made a personal study of the number of citizens who are reckless drivers, and very naturally we have only been able to cover a very small section of that, but the results have been absolutely astounding. In fact, we have found more assaults with intent to kill going around in motor cars concealed as ordinary drivers, than the world war could produce.

For instance we might quote a case which we saw on Tealway street yesterday. A man was driving his car up the street where there were any number of small children, and reading a newspaper at the same time. We deliberately watched him for two blocks, and in that space of time he put his one hand on the wheel three times. During the rest of the Paul Revere trick, he used his fists for the sole purpose of hanging onto his paper, and endeavoring to get across the N.R. tracks ahead of an incoming express from the south. The auto crashed into the side of the train. One of the men was killed instantly, and the other two died after a few minutes.

AUTO STRIKES TRAIN AND THREE ARE KILLED

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 12.—Three young men were killed here last night in an auto accident, as an aftermath of the peace celebration. The victims are Joe and Ernest Delagorgendiere, and J. E. Leslie. A fourth member of the party, Herbert Delagorgendiere, is seriously injured. They were driving north on Central avenue, and endeavoring to get across the C.N.R. tracks ahead of an incoming express from the south. The auto crashed into the side of the train. One of the men was killed instantly, and the other two died after a few minutes.

The Delagorgendieres are brothers, and sons of the late Mr. Delagorgendiere, who was Belgian consul in Toronto. He was employed in the Bank of Commerce as teller.

TRANSPORTATION OF RETURNING MEN

Conference Held by Ministers With Heads of the Great Railways.

TO APPOINT COMMITTEE

Will Have Full Authority to Deal With Questions and Ensure Comfort.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, and Hon. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, today held a conference with the presidents of the three great Canadian railways—E. W. Beatty of the C.P.R., Howard G. Kelly of the Grand Trunk Railway and D. B. Hanna of the Canadian Northern, to discuss the necessary arrangements for the transportation of Canadian troops from England to Canada, and their distribution to their homes at the conclusion of the war. The meeting was held in the office of the minister of railways and canals, and after some discussion it was decided that a committee, composed of a representative of each of the three railways would be located permanently in Ottawa. Associated with them will be Col. E. Clarke, representing the militia department. The names of the three railway officials will be made known as soon as they are selected by the railway companies, and they will take up their duties in Ottawa at once.

This committee will have full authority to deal with the transportation question as affecting demobilization, and it will be its duty to look after the return of the troops in comfort after they have landed in Canada. It will endeavor so to co-ordinate and direct the work of transportation in such a way as to eliminate any of the difficulties sometimes caused by the movement of large bodies of men.

To Utilize Unemployed.

A further conference was held with the same officials with a view to arriving at an understanding of what motive power rolling stock and other essentials for railway operation will be required during the coming year. It is recognized that the closing down of munitions plants and other war industries many men will be thrown out of employment in the near future and it is the intention of the government working in conjunction with the railways, to utilize this labor as much as possible in anticipating equipment requirements. A further conference will be held in a few days, at which the situation will be again discussed and possibly a policy looking to the employment of munition workers in railway work will be adopted.

"Oh! This Shopping"

"I certainly gets on my nerves. I come home all fagged out, and nearly always have a splitting headache."

"Yes, they say we women always like shopping. But if everybody feels as tired out afterwards as I do, it is no joke."

"I wonder if it is my nerves. I never could stand much sightseeing, anyway. The strain on the eyes seems to exhaust the whole system."

"I suppose I shall not be able to sleep to-night, and that will put me in fine condition for to-morrow."

"Why don't somebody invent a good medicine for the nerves?"

"But what was that Mrs. Crary was telling me about? I believe it was Nerve Food—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I have heard so many talking about the way this Nerve Food helped them that I must give it a trial."

And this is what Mrs. Crary of 515 Cedar street, Peterboro', Ont., writes about her experience with this well-known food cure:

"I was suffering from a rundown condition of the system, nervous debility and sleeplessness. I lost a good many nights' sleep, and sometimes after going to sleep would wake up with a start, and then lie awake for hours. I also had frequent headaches and pains through my back. I got so that I could hardly do any work. I had taken doctor's medicine, but it did not seem to help me. Through reading in the newspapers of the help others had derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I started taking this medicine. The first box helped me, so I continued, taking about five or six boxes. I found that I was a great deal better, able to sleep well and do my work without any trouble. My headaches and nervousness are gone. My mother lives with me, and she has also found great benefit from the use of the Nerve Food. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for nervous trouble of any kind."

If you could only read the letters which come to this office from day to day telling of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing for women, and men, too, in all parts of Canada, you would not be long in doubt as to the most satisfactory treatment for tired bodies and exhausted nerves.

All we can do is to pass along the good words by publishing an occasional letter. It remains for you to benefit by using this blood and nerve builder to restore energy and vitality to your exhausted system.

You can obtain Dr. Chase's Nerve Food from all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto, 6 boxes for $2.75. On every box of the genuine you will find the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

New York, Nov. 12.—Today was military day at Madison Square Garden and the program arranged was one of the most attractive of the week. Other outstanding features were the competition for the Beresford Challenge Cup by United States officers and for the Hamilton Vanderbilt Memorial Gold Challenge Cup. The Beresford Trophy, which was presented by Lord Decies, winners will be Major John K. Brown's Forest, while the Vanderbilt Gold Cup was won outright by William H. Moore, who also captured the cup in 1912 and 1917.

O.T.C. ARE VICTORS IN MULOCK FIXTURE

University College Unable to Score Against Soldier Team Tuesday.

Officers' Training Corps are picked by the wise ones to win their Mulock Cup trophy. O.T.C. started right on the road to victory by winning their first fixture yesterday from University College, 3 to 0. O.T.C. had weight and a much better drilled team than their opponents. University College went into the game with only one signal practice, and should do better the next time.

The first quarter was rather ragged, with no score resulting. In the second session O.T.C. kicked to the dead line, and the half-time score was 1 to 0. After an exchange of punts in the third quarter Matchett was forced back over his own line for a safety touch. This left 2 to 0.

In the closing quarter Lockhart kicked over for points. Dacres missed when Wallace fumbled and fumbled over for a try that was not converted. The final score was 3 to 0.

The teams:

O.T.C. (9)—Flynn, wing; McCallan, Brown, Halves; Wallace, Lockhart, Back; Nichol, Quarter; Thompson, Dunn, Scrimmage; Stephens, Wildman, Scrimmage; Butler, Wilson, Scrimmage; Johnson, Scrimmage; Indick, Scrimmage; Ryrie, Scrimmage; Middles, Woodland; Kischel, Middles; Wheaton; Lindella, Outsides; Ross.

BASEBALL IS ASSURED FOR FANS NEXT YEAR

End of War Will Let the Summer Game Resume—Peoria Doings.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 12.—Baseball is assured for next season as a result of the end of the war, according to sentiment at the seventeenth annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues which opened here today.

President Michael H. Sexton of Rock Island, Ill., and Secretary J. H. Farrell of Auburn, N.Y., presided over the meeting. The baseball men say the caliber of the game next season will depend entirely upon the clearing up of the war situation and the feeling of the people as a whole toward the national pastime. Secretary Farrell's report for the past season was considered very satisfactory in spite of the shortened season, and the lack of public interest. Committee members were as follows:

Revision of constitution: T. J. Hickey, Chicago; J. H. Farrell, Auburn, N.Y.; Walter Morris, Fort Worth, Texas; C. S. Brantley, Peoria, N. Y.; J. A. Bunker, Birmingham, Ala.; G. E. Muehlebach, Kansas City, Mo.

One of Winnipeg's Best Cricketers, Flu Victim

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—The dreaded Spanish influenza bug seems to have a handkerchief for its athletes, as yesterday another well-known local sportsman, the person of Dennis Gonsalves, one of Winnipeg's best cricketers, succumbed to the malady. Gonsalves contracted the disease about eight days ago, but his good enough to pull him thru, but it seems that the strongest are unable to fight the disease sometimes.

He was a member of the Wanderer cricket team, and his brilliant work in the field and at bat was very instrumental in keeping the team in the race for top honors all summer. He was a high-class bowler and one of the best batsmen in the west. Being but 28 years at Will. Thousands of workers Do When Contracts Are Completed. ALL ARE IN DOUBT. While Employes and Employers Let Future Take Care of Itself.

is to become of the three munitions is a question which is near future, but at present it is the concern of outsiders. The solution is largely practical there is little doubt. That is to be very difficult to solve a fear than a certainty. Meanings at various factories which inquiry yesterday, they show that are going on in very much the way as before the visit. The day of peace and as if there had no day off on which the workers used their patriotic observations in the production of shells and.

government, as represented by the Royal Bank Building, have any closing down and so throwing men out of work, they are expecting more than Scotch caution in it to themselves. really can't say anything about the answer as to whether the managers of a department. They were any prospect of closing at once, it would not be well to put a scare. But a secure, advantage of it to reduce wages. It would not be well for the employees. They are an unorganized body, they are not with unorganized workers there is more difficulty than with organized labor.

Ottawa Does Not Know. The same answer was given next post of inquiry. "We say anything we don't know. I think they know in Ottawa when work will stop on must. In any case, Ottawa is the place where you could get any information on this subject. The ipse dixit of the head of section. The government employment for women it was learned that are still coming in for munitions, the these calls are few. Here there was no feeling of any sudden collapse. It was so, that when work on munitions ceases, no inconsiderable number of women will go back to their occupations, in which there is a shrinkage because of men. Others again will be in the home and still others taken into new industries must be part of the readjustment which changes must bring in.

question of contracts seems to be a considerable extent. The work of guessing as to the of the peace proclamation. It has gained some headway. It is that contracts started on, finished, the new contracts not be entered upon. The Bankers-Morse Company has been information that they employ approximately 1000 women. They were asked to women workers should do when their present work should cease, the answer given was quite conclusive. They don't know anything about the Bantford and Scotch employes, 600 and 500 women. When made here as to conditions the women munition workers were was. "Just as they are going thru until we fill out you any idea what the women do when work has stopped on?" this firm was asked. "We should very much like to know," was the reply. "The women own great ability." "You keep them on machinery and in other lines. There was another instance in there was no indication as to a future has in store.

imately 2000 women are employed at the Russell Motor plant. We took on 2500 women. I am a manager, and we intend to go on as long as we can in the middle of contracts now enough to keep us going until the end of the year. But things are certain."

and Other Employment. To express an opinion as to the of their women employees, it was that they would try employment for them, but they are not seemingly sanguine as to the results in the effort. Other there seem to be about 1000 women employed on munitions, and for some of these no doubt but that a period of unemployment will come, in which there may be less hardship. In the between the closing down of the plant and the date on which they are their old line of work, there some whose chief employment is in the social work, and they are looking forward to such a plan so that wheels go smoothly as may be, and new industries are being started as quickly as possible to the unemployed.

There seems to be no need of panic, or to dread any for whom there is still in demand, while in no doubt could be learned here and in the message "services required."

WOMEN WANT CUSHIONS. Mrs. Mary's Needlework Ontario quotes from a letter received from the Hon. J. G. Macdonald, his following: "endeavoring to send out small pillows or cushions and seats in these numbers. workers tell us that even if they are not received, a cushion as a pillow for a French hospital train."

CANADA'S MESSAGE TO OTHER NATIONS

Congratulations Sent to U. S., France, Belgium, India, Australasia and Africa.

A GLORIOUS TRIUMPH Peoples Are Praised and Thanked for Valiant Stand for Freedom.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Congratulatory messages on the winning of the war have been sent by the Government of Canada to the King of England, France, United States, India, Australasia, Zealand, South Africa and Belgium as follows:

France: The government and people of Canada most heartily rejoice with France at this hour which witnesses the glorious triumph of the free peoples of the world over the forces who would have crushed their liberties. Canada will never forget in its days of peace and the sublime patriotism which has animated the people of France through this mighty conflict and we pray that France will emerge from a struggle which has brought her untold sacrifices with fresh strength to carry on her work for civilization.

To the President of the United States: The government and people of Canada send greetings to the neighboring republic on this great occasion, when we together celebrate the triumph of justice and liberty over the forces of tyranny and oppression which sought to enslave the world. They are filled with admiration at the magnitude of the accomplishments of the people of the United States in the prosecution of this war, and with pride at the thought, that your soldiers should have so distinguished themselves as to have contributed in no small degree to the great and far-reaching victory we mutually celebrate today.

To the Governor-General of India: The government and people of Canada on this glad day send greetings to their fellow subjects in India. They rejoice with them in celebrating the downfall of the great conspiracy against the rights and liberties of mankind plotted by their foes, and they trust that the issue of this momentous conflict may result in great blessings to India.

To the Governor-General of Australia: The government and people of Canada hasten to extend their warmest congratulations to their brothers in Australia upon the triumphant issue of the gigantic struggle which has convulsed the world. They will ever remember the glorious deeds of the Australian troops, who at Gallipoli and elsewhere upheld the best traditions of the British name, and they trust that, with the help of peace, Australia may enter upon a new era of prosperity and progress.

To the Governor-General of New Zealand: The government and people of Canada desire to associate themselves with their fellow subjects in New Zealand in celebrating the glorious triumph of the allied arms over the foes who attempted to destroy the liberties of the world. They trust that the future may have in store many blessings for New Zealand and that her gallant sons may prove as proficient in the arts of peace as they have shown themselves in this war.

To the Governor-General of South Africa: The government and people of Canada heartily rejoice with their fellow subjects in South Africa upon the glorious triumph of right and justice over the forces of autocracy which we are celebrating today, a triumph which the peoples of South Africa have so signally contributed, and in the advantages of which we trust they may abundantly share.

To the King of the Belgians: The government and people of Canada, who have sorrowed with your majesty in the calamities which have befallen your country, desire to offer their heartfelt congratulations upon the deliverance of Belgium from the presence of the brutal enemy who has oppressed it so long, and upon the triumphant return of your majesty to your capital. They do not doubt that the same high qualities of courage, fortitude and resolution which sustained your people in their adversity will equally inspire them in the great work of rehabilitation, which they trust may speedily restore Belgium to its old time condition.

WILL NOT AFFECT TRADE IN FOODS

U. S. Control of Foodstuffs Will Undoubtedly Be Continued.

WILL RETAIN GRIP Until the Present Season's Goods Have Been Cleaned Up.

New York, Nov. 12.—In food trade circles there is a feeling that the ending of the war will not be felt much in daily transactions, because the food administration will unquestionably be continued for some time after peace is declared, and its control of prices and stocks in hand is too complete to permit any very violent changes in the situation.

There has been for some time past an apprehension that a sudden ending of the war may cause disruption of balance between supply and demand and a violent reaction in prices, and a sentiment has developed favorable to having a firm governmental hand held on the situation, not only during the present operations of buying and selling rears, themselves with regard to the new crop of 1919. This movement is so general that it will probably succeed in its aim. Having submitted cordially to regulation, the grocery trades feel that the government will not turn them loose at a critical time.

Aside from Uncle Sam's hold on the situation thru the Hoover machinery, the government is a dominating factor in two other respects. The governmental purchases, for our own and allied needs, have been so large as to completely dominate the markets for months past, while the quantities commandeered and the prices paid have not only practically fixed the price levels, but have also eaten seriously into the supply for civilian trade apportionment. In canned food, dried fruit, butter, cheese, flour, cereal and other staples, producers have been alarmingly short of actual needs, and people have wondered how it could worry thru the season with from 40 to 60 per cent. deliveries. Therefore, everything in stock is firm and not likely to decline in price so long as the government holds fast to its purchases.

Food for the Troops. The feeling is that the government has accumulated probably enough staple food to care for an army of 4,000,000 men during the greater part of a year on seasonable goods. So long as the forces are kept intact the holders of trade stocks are safe, but if a decision should be reached to demobilize the army and bring the boys home, dumping the food cache on the market, it might cause no end of distress in business circles. There is a general belief that the government would avoid such an incident; besides, it will probably keep the forces in Europe many months yet. Again, there will be need for probably helping out the Teutonic and Turkish peoples to avoid famine, and Uncle Sam is regarded as 'magnanimous enough to lend food from his immense supplies to his late enemies.

So long, therefore, as the Hoover machinery continues in operation and the government keeps its big accumulation of food, no apprehension is looked for in the food trader. Prices are firm on the actual cost, plus basis, and not likely to recede, while it is not likely that private speculators have any considerable goods to unload, and no one is disposed to let go what he has when he is already short of his legitimate needs.

Whis Will Be Released. The ending of the war might help

MUCH REJOICING SEEN IN OLD VERDUN TOWN

Verdun, Nov. 12.—Verdun came into its own last night. While the bells of the ancient cathedral were ringing the news of peace, the fortress city was illuminated by military procession, headed by the drum corps of the 26th American division, which swung along the crowded streets, accompanied by a detachment of French bigiers, representing the famed defenders of Verdun.

Only a few hours before the Germans had thrown large shells within the city walls, apparently as a reminder that Verdun was still within the range of the guns on the hills to the northeast.

Monday afternoon and night virtually had not been shelled in that many hours almost since the war began.
