To Grocers.

We have direct proof that peddlers of washing-powders say that the stuff they're selling is "made in the same factory" as Pearlina.

and that buying from them will save going to, or ordering from, the grocery store. Do you want people "saved" that. You have these same washing-powders in stock.

Possibly you are giving them out, whenever you can, in place of Pearlina. You are trying to push them into notice; they are trying to crowd you out. You think you are "making more money on them." But will it pay you, in the end?

Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled, and if you grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, honest—send it back.

THE TORONTO WORLD
ONE CENT MORNING PAPER.
NO. 53 YONGE STREET, Toronto.

During the past two years the Toronto Railway Company have been prevented from extending their line in the east end of the city by reason of a disagreement with the village of East Toronto. The municipality controls a strip of territory some 400 feet in width lying between Balmora-avenue and the eastern boundary of the city, and Munro and Victoria Parks, to the east. The Toronto Railway Company desire to extend their King-street line to these parks, but the village of East Toronto will not permit the company who control the Toronto and Scarborough Suburban Railway, running along the King-street road, to make certain concessions in regard to the fares charged on that line. The Village Council has asked for a single fare over the two lines. The Toronto Railway Company offer to sell tickets covering both lines at the rate of 6-14 cents. The present rate is 7-12 cents. Other concessions are also offered. It appears to us that the offer of the Railway Company is a generous one, which the people of East Toronto should not be slow to accept. At the rate at which it is proposed to sell tickets for a trip on the suburban line will be practically two cents. It is hard to see how a further reduction could be made without abolishing the fares altogether. It is to be hoped an arrangement between the two interests will soon be reached. The extension of the King-street route to Victoria Park would fill a long-felt want. Thousands of citizens visit the eastern suburbs every fine day in summer, but many of them are unable to reach the parks on the present lines. The extension of a quarter-mile walk along the suburban line would be a great convenience to the company and the municipality also prevents the extension of the Scarborough Railway along the Kingston-road. We understand the company intend extending the Kingston-road to the Highgate Creek as soon as this difficulty is solved. The only thing that prevents the erection of numerous summer cottages along the lake front at Scarborough Heights is the absence of a street car service. Once the blockade is removed it will not be long until Toronto has trolley connection with White and Inter-mediate towns. Unless an agreement comes to at once, it is likely that negotiations will be declared off for another year. If the councilors of East Toronto recognize a good thing when they see it, they will not be slow to allow the company's offer, which gives the citizens a cheaply cheaper rates than are enjoyed by any other suburb.

ANOTHER RAILWAY DISASTER.
The despatches this morning give details of another railway accident that has befallen the Christian Endeavorers on their way across the continent to San Francisco. The accident was a serious mishap that has cost the three excursionists started a few days ago. Tickets from Chicago to San Francisco and return were sold for $25. The fare from Toronto to San Francisco and return was $37. It is not surprising, therefore, that thousands took advantage of the remarkably low rates to take a trip across the continent. So great was the exodus towards the Pacific that the western railroads have been overtaxed by the undertaking of handling the passengers, and this fact appears to afford the whole explanation of the disasters reported. An official of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, on whose line the chief wreck reported occurred, says frankly that "schedules were abandoned," and the excursionists despatched in nine section trains, pell-mell, with little heed to the fact that, in some sections, he says cheerfully and with a suggestion of surprise, "went through all right." But the others did not, and some one ought to be chargeable with their failure. In a week or two the Canadian railways will be called on to handle 20,000 excursionists coming to Toronto, where another great Christian Endeavor Convention is to be held. The railways in Ontario are under careful management, and no disasters are anticipated in Canada such as occurred in the United States. While cheap excursion rates are appreciated by the people, the railways are criminally negligent if they sacrifice the efficiency of their service as an offset to the low rates at which passengers are being carried.

Canada has no navy, although the Dominion ranks high up in the list of nations conspicuous for their shipping. Canada has practically no standing army, although we have a frontier of three thousand miles or more, which we may some time or other be called on to defend. Relying on our connection with the Mother Country, we have assumed, and, no doubt, rightly so, that Great Britain would respond in the hour of emergency and see that we were conquered and swallowed up by no foreign power. The possibility of Canada's being involved in war is very limited. There is practically only one country with which any serious difficulty is possible. But no matter how remote the contingency may be, we ought to be prepared to meet it. Canada cannot any longer decently delay contributing its share of the cost of defending the Empire. The British Government naturally expects us to assume some of the Imperial responsibilities, and at a speech in London the other Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, urged that the colonies ought to contribute both money and men to the navy. Canada has been ready to do both. The branch of the Navy League in Canada has already communicated with the Imperial authorities, showing how Canada can be of assistance to Great Britain in supplying recruits for the naval service. We have thousands of handy sailors and fishermen, who form the very best material for equipping the navy. The Navy League has also pointed out how Canada's merchant marine can be improved so as to be of greater service to the Empire in case of war. Canada's ability to furnish men for the British navy ought to be appreciated in England, because the one weakness in the grand naval display at Spithead was the well-grounded suspicion that Great Britain could not man the fleet that astonished the world by its mightiness. The New York Herald, commenting on the review, says: "It is a pity that the British navy has not a larger fleet, but the weak point in it is that England cannot man it." Canada can be of great service to the Empire in strengthening this weakness. As for the contribution of money for the maintenance of the navy Canada will certainly not shrink her responsibility in this respect either.

THE TUMBLE IN BICYCLES.
The bicycle has by no means reached the climax of its popularity. The latest fact is, that only a few of the best in its final apogee will terminate in its final apogee. Unless something better takes its place, the bicycle will soon become as necessary a part of the human mechanism as the leg itself. The only reason why the leg is more popular than the bicycle is the fact that a pair of good legs cost more than a hundred good dollars, while, up till very recently, been a sine qua non of proprietorship in a wheel. But there has been a decided tumble in the price of wheels, which was first noticeable in the low grades, which have been offered at from $25 upwards. Now the public is informed that a so-called high-grade wheel has been introduced to the popular demand for lower prices. A cut of 25 per cent. in the price of high-grade wheels was announced in New York on Tuesday. A New York paper refers to the tumble in bicycle prices: "No longer in the bicycle business, however, has been the construction of the wheel is too simple, and there are too few essential parts protected by patents to make possible such an invincible obstacle as exists in the case of typewriters. The inventor has not insisted upon the very latest styles of cycles, and have not been insistent upon patenting only the most famous makers, have enjoyed the benefits of practical experience this season. Next year they will be able to profit even more. The use of the wheel in cities will become so universal that good pavements and smooth roads will follow as a matter of course. The era of cheap wheels is at hand, and with its arrival the problem of local transportation will be solved."

Another pretty fancy in the neck buckle that which fastens the belt, but to match, fastening the collar at the back. When this idea is carried out the belt will be very smart. The pouted effect above the belt is everywhere seen, and when the back of the bodice is plain the very newest thing is to have a great chow of ribbon loops at the back of the belt, with or without long ends, as these these great bows and bows are thought to be "awfully fetching," while a thorny to a foulard frock, with long loops hanging from an immense utility chow of mail, is said to be "quite too delicious."

At the Diamond Jubilee much more emphasis has been put on the colonial empire of Great Britain than ever before. The 60 years' Jubilee was a personal, the 60 years' Jubilee was a national event. The Empire has stretched out rapidly of late, and Canada can claim, next to South Africa, the credit of having drawn Imperial attention to that fact. It is not too much to say that after the Jamestown and the next two events in importance in the decade are the Colonial Conference in Ottawa and the preferential tariff of the Canadian Government. No matter what may be said of the dollar and cent result of the preference accorded to English manufactures, it remains that it has waked up Great Britain to the actual possibilities of an Anglo-Saxon Zollverein. FASHIONS FOR WOMEN.
I saw some pretty things in neck garnish this week which you may like to hear of. The first was a linen collar cut in points, which faced up round the neck like flower petals and below these was worn a satin stock. A Windsor tie may be worn with this pretty collar.

Another very new and fetching idea was shown in a plain white satin collar (the satin may be of any shade fancied, with a band of quarter-inch black velvet ribbon around the bottom; the top was trimmed with from the face, each with the velvet ribbon, and finishing the front was a large smart bow of the satin, having the two ends trimmed across with the velvet.

A pretty, soft affair was of lace falling over the top of the collar; it was short at the back, but fell longer as it reached the front, till it became a long square jabot reaching to the top of the bust line; and from out the front and over the lace jabot were two long loops of narrow ribbon. Black velvet ribbon looks very well with this.

Still another of these ties was of pretty plaid silk tied in a sort of sailor knot, but instead of the loose flying ends, these were cut off and their place was a long shower of delicate white lace.

The soft stock is the newest neckwear. A new and sometimes padded collar, with a half and half inches wide, with soft ends, half cross at the back and tie in a four-halves in front, makes the stock. As a rule this stock matches the material of the bodice and in some cases is a permanent color. White satin shirt waists with the bow at the neck, these stocks are very becoming for the semi-tailor. These stocks will be shown in pines and gingham, but in all cases, stock and tie are of one material. The very latest form of this accessory is black chiffon, knotted well below the neck, after being wound about the throat. A new collar is a wide turnover, with a wide gap below the chin. It fastens at the neck, and is a very pretty and delicate combination of plaid gingham.

Another pretty fancy in the neck buckle that which fastens the belt, but to match, fastening the collar at the back. When this idea is carried out the belt will be very smart. The pouted effect above the belt is everywhere seen, and when the back of the bodice is plain the very newest thing is to have a great chow of ribbon loops at the back of the belt, with or without long ends, as these these great bows and bows are thought to be "awfully fetching," while a thorny to a foulard frock, with long loops hanging from an immense utility chow of mail, is said to be "quite too delicious."

THE SLATER SHOE
"Need No Breaking In."
The Slater Shoe is formed on the principle of science—it's made to fit as many feet as there are forms of feet—in shape, size and width—and so exact and sure is it that you can wear your shoes with ease the first time you put them on. They need no breaking in. Let us explain to you the method of construction and the manner of making the wonderful shoe—it's made in Canada.

WOMAN BATTLES WITH AN EAGLE
Blacked Her Life to Save a Child Attacked by a Monster Bird—The Game Out Victor.
Bellefonte, Pa., July 1.—Miss Bertha Moore of near Jersey Shore is the heroine of the neighborhood. At the risk of her own life she was successful in rescuing a child from the talons of a large bald eagle, and killed the bird in the struggle, though not without receiving lacerations from the eagle's claws that may mark her for life.

U. S. COAL TRADE WITH CANADA.
Washington, July 1.—The final amendment to the coal paragraph of the tariff bill was definitely settled upon at the meeting of the Senate Finance Committee yesterday. The proposed reciprocal provision of the paragraph, as suggested by the committee's original amendment to the House bill, was rejected. The rate of 67c on coal and shale was formally agreed to, as was predicted yesterday. The duty on coal slack or culm was made 15c instead of 30c per bushel.

TRAMP MILLIONAIRE TURNS UP IN ST. LOUIS
St. Louis, July 1.—Millionaire tramp James E. Berry occupied a cell here last night in the hold-over at the Four Courts. He was arrested at Union Station about 12:30 o'clock by detectives. Berry was drunk and flourishing a large revolver. When the patrol wagon reached the Four Courts the officers started to lead Berry to the Central Police Station. He objected to going, and struck Detective Howard in the face. The blow staggered the officer and Detective Howard, who happened in on the scene, O'Malley's office, ran to Howard's assistance.

WANTED TO DIE.
An Englishman Who Was Tired of Life—Fort William Lady Trapped to Death in London.
Fort William, July 1.—An English man, giving the name of H. W. Lapthorne, made a desperate attempt at suicide at the Windsor Hotel last night, but was prevented by the proprietors. He arrived in Canada from Birmingham four weeks ago and came here last Saturday, looking for work.

QUEEN-STREET WEST LAST EVENING.
Frank Blund, 60 Carter Howell-street, was driving his wife and infant child and his sister-in-law, Miss Riley, eastward along Queen-street west last night about 7:45. The animal gave a sudden jolt and upset the carriage, throwing the occupants to the pavement. Strange enough the baby was not injured. Bland and his wife were severely shaken, but not seriously hurt. Miss Riley was most unfortunate, fracturing her left thigh. The quartet were taken to St. Michael's Hospital in the ambulance. The horse meantime ran towards Long-street, where it was caught by the policeman on duty at Queen and Yonge. The rig was completely smashed.
