Parker for the People Davidson for the "Bell"

In the "One Trial"

For the Time Being President
Sise Escapes from the Charge of Criminal Conspiracy.

BUT THE FIGHT WILL BE KEPT UP

The case of the Markham-Pickering Independent Telephone Company against President Sise of the Bell Telephone Company is for the time being stayed. The magistrates who tried the case have disagreed, and it remains for another complaint to be laid, charging the President with criminal conspiracy, and a new trial had. This will likely be done, as the parties interested are determined to bring the question of conspiracy growing out of the notorious contract to a finish.

The shareholders of the Independent Company also propose to bring an action against the Bell Company itself on the ground that it has restrained trade. "The fight is not over yet," remarked one man yesterday. "This matter has to be settled, and settled right, even if we have to go to the highest court in the land." Special agents of the Bell also marked as parties to the next action to be brought to uphold the rights of the people.

Can Audit Companies.

"We have got the evidence now, and whether Mr. Sise is responsible personally or not the Bell Co. and the C.P.R. could be indicted, as parties to the present conspiracy," said one man. "You do not have to go before any Justices of the Peace to get the evidence, you simply go before a Grand Jury without any preliminary examination," said the colonel. "The present complaint had some making the complaint had to be bound over or else some one responsible for the conspiracy. Justice must order the proceedings to go on."

Three Magistrates.

As to what action the town would take he had nothing to say at all. He intimated, however, that if the private prosecution was not taken, the case could be taken again before Magistrates Parker and Davidson, and another trial would be held. He was concerned in the matter he would only do as the Attorney-General directed. "I am instructed by the Attorney-General to take the case again before the magistrates I shall do so, of course," he said. "The case was not taken in the position taken by the private prosecution."

Why Parker Sat.

The hearing of the preliminary trial was delegated to Magistrate Davidson, but as he has only one of a justice of the peace for a year, he was not available. Magistrate Parker, who has had 20 years' experience, to sit upon the case with him. This was the first time he was announced at the Gordon House this afternoon, not entirely satisfactory. He looked very nervous, and was for the plucky farmers connected with the Markham and Pickering Co-Operative Telephone Company, who were fighting for their right to enjoy telephone facilities.

Even to the Highest Court.

"Not for nothing we have come here tonight to discuss the matter, but an informal way the shareholders of the Independent company met and talked over the situation. They were informed from Toronto that the Deputy Attorney-General had stated that the case could be re-opened by any other complaint being sworn out against the president of the company and another trial held. This information caused Alpheus Hoover to state in emphatic terms, 'This fight for the people's rights is not going to be fought by one man, but will be carried on to a finish, even to the highest court in the land. However, only voted the sentiment of the whole district, and those who talked with him tonight backed up his opinion, and declared that they were willing to go down in their pockets and assist in defraying the expenses of the case. They were to go even further and institute an action against the Bell Company and some of its special agents who have been so active in this district of late."

Was Not Strong.

Magistrate George Davidson was asked to state where he thought the evidence submitted to him was weak, but he simply replied that it was not strong enough. Asked to detail the weakest phases of the case, he said he had simply decided from the evidence that there was not sufficient of it to warrant him in committing President Sise for trial. Mr. Davidson has a bad cold, and he does not seem to be particularly placed in charge of so important a case.

"If the points of the evidence had been discussed in detail, would there not have been some possibility of your coming to an agreement?"

"What more evidence did you want?"

"All I will say is that I thought there should be more," answered Mr. Davidson.

GET BACK THE TELEPHONE

No better argument for municipal ownership could be advanced than the defeat of the city in the suit against the Consumers' Gas Company, and the disagreement of the magistrates in the case involving the farmers' telephones.

When a municipality hands over the control of its water supply, or its lighting system, or a franchise for a street railway, or its telephone service, to a private corporation, it fondly imagines that it is getting rid of trouble.

Talk about the folly and imprudence of a municipality going into the business of running telephones, street cars and lighting systems! Where can you find anything to match the folly of subjecting your own rights and interests to the danger and delay of litigation, and of actually putting into the hands of the corporation the means of fighting you in the courts?

That the Dominion parliament has strained its powers under the provisions of the Federal act, and encroached on the sphere of Provincial rights is beyond dispute.

More confessions. The confessions of the new editor and the late editor of The Globe are coming along, and they certainly continue to be of a startling nature.

RE-DISTRIBUTION. The main purpose of the decimal redistribution of the constituencies is to give each province its rightful share of representation, after the census has shown the population.

sure that will suit both parties and also suit the individual members will be a difficult one. The Globe promises that there will be no gerrymander, and says that county lines will be adhered to.

SHIRKING RESPONSIBILITY. The power of the Dominion parliament to declare certain works to be "for the general advantage of Canada" is being much discussed.

THE TRIUMPH OF CENTRE BRUCE. Dan McGillivray, tells the tale of Centre Bruce in this week's Godech Signal.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP AGAIN

Windsor Record: The municipal ownership convention which took place last week in New York, showed the direction of the current of public opinion.

A decade ago, a gathering for the purpose of discussing public ownership of utilities was scarcely thought of on this side of the Atlantic.

The idea exists in some minds that municipal socialism and individual ownership are antagonistic to each other, whereas, the truth of the matter is that, under all possible conditions, the two are not only compatible but must exist together.

In European and American cities there are services performed by the municipality and services that are left to private enterprise.

In Windsor, for instance, the city supplies its inhabitants with water, while private enterprise furnishes gas and electricity.

The present tendency is, of course, to extend municipal ownership.

An analysis of the so-called failure of municipal ownership, urged by opponents of the scheme, shows in the majority of cases only a balance sheet, compared with surplus earnings when the utility was in private hands.

That is, the alleged failures are tested by a standard of private ownership.

BUILDING DOWN IS NOW ON

But Prices of Material and Labor Are Greatly Increased Over Former Years.

BRICK DEARER, BUT NOT SCARCE

Contracts on All Public Buildings Have Increased 25 Per Cent.

The "Disadvantage of an Advantage" would make a fitting heading for a dissertation on the present state of the building trades in Toronto.

There never was a time when those who have the means were so disposed to build. But the cost of material and labor is so high as to cause the average investor to give pause before commencing to pull down his barn and build a new one.

A few days ago a statement was published that there was a serious shortage in the brick supply, and this view is ascertained to be correct.

Mr. Gemmill of the Bank of Commerce Building says the situation was serious, insofar as the prices of labor and material were concerned. He believed that the organizations were, to a great extent, responsible.

He believes in organized labor, he believes also, that the laborers are not justified in asking for an increase in wages every time that things look prosperous for the industry.

Mr. Gemmill did not fear a brick shortage, for there was plenty of brick when the existing works were running.

"There is no doubt," said Mr. Gemmill, "that the price of brick will be very high in price next year, for there is already very good indication of it."

Mr. Burke of Burke & Horwood gave similar testimony as to the increased cost of building, owing mainly to the unsettled state of the labor market. He did not blame the brickmakers, for it had been usual for them to turn their bricks by scrap wood, but last winter they had to resort to cordwood and coal, this necessarily adding to the cost of production.

It was also a fact that the work they did when they used to earn $2 a day was now being accomplished by a brick shortage, for there was plenty of brick when the existing works were running.

Canadians, May Die in Denver.

Denver, Colo., March 5.—Mrs. Georgia Stanley, who was yesterday found unconscious in the streets where lay the dead body of Major Marshall P. Hurd, proves to be a granddaughter of Lord Karcaise of Inverness, Scotland. Her mother was Lady Allen, and her father Governor of an English province in India. Lady Allen, by a second marriage, became the mother of Sir James Grant of Toronto, an eminent physician.

Her first husband and their four children died from black diphtheria in Quebec. Several years later she married a resident of Washington, D.C., who was in the government service. A year or so later he killed himself in a hotel at Syracuse, N.Y. She then married Herbert Stanley, a government clerk, and then came to Denver. A year ago Stanley died from paralysis and his widow practically penniless and helpless on account of ill-health.

Mrs. Hurd, an inmate of the old soldiers' home at Mona Vista, Colo., came to Denver and undertook to care for Mrs. Stanley, who was then in the hospital. His small pension was scarcely sufficient, and assistance was rendered by charitable persons in the city. One of the latter visited the house and found Hurd dead from a stroke of the heart which had occurred into the room that night. Mrs. Stanley is still unconscious.

There is no Lord Karcaise in the peerage of Scotland. The Earl of Dunmore, whose name is Lord Karcaise of Harris, Fife, is the only one who is the courtesy title of his own count Fincastle, which is the courtesy title of his own part. The family name is Murray.

Against Denominations.

The regular monthly meeting of the Toronto City Mission Board was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. President John Stark was in the chair. The board, after a good deal of discussion, decided that no better work could be done by missionaries representing all the evangelistic services than by those employed by a single denomination. Missionaries E. Hall and S. Arnold presented their report, which shows 280 families in the country with 1,100 converts. The board decided to increase the salaries of the missionaries, and the advanced prices of living and the rise in the salaries of those employed in industrial, commercial and professional positions, justify an increase in the government rates of pay.

Col. Jarvis Dead.

Col. Robert Jarvis, who was transferred to the post four years by a Hamilton syndicate, was today transferred to the post of the new journal, Le Canada, which the Liberals are starting in Montreal. The Toronto Building is already owned by Liberals. The new company will have a going concern to begin with, and all that is necessary is the newspaper type and a press. A. B. Cuffey, managing director of the Post-Office company, who arrived here yesterday with Mr. Prefontaine, made the transfer.

Outside Civil Servants' Demands.

Ottawa, March 5.—The members of the outside civil service, who are the example of the inside service, are arranging to present their claims to the government, which is already owned by Liberals. They will take the same ground as the inside service, viz., that the advanced prices of living and the rise in the salaries of those employed in industrial, commercial and professional positions, justify an increase in the government rates of pay.

Board of Control Not Wasting Any Time Revising the Estimates.

TOO MUCH MONEY FOR LABOR

In Connection With the Parks. Think the controllers—City Hall Notes.

The Board of Control yesterday afternoon resumed their work on slashing the estimates, which they are doing with a free and easy disregard of the recommendations of the committees, knocking a hundred dollars off here and a thousand of there, so that the total may bring a 10 mill tax rate within view.

Major Drumharr announced that the rate will be struck before April 1. The water works branch estimates of the Works Committee were left pretty much alone, $3000 being taken off the $23,000 estimate for maintenance and distribution and other, and $5000 off a $3500 request for new cylinders and for concrete. For Rosehill reservoir, an estimate of $2700 was reduced to $5000, so as to include another expenditure, and one of $10,000 for concreting the sides and bottom of the reservoir, with Aid Sheppard's consent, will be embodied in a by-law for $10,000 for that purpose. For new meters, a cut was made from $10,000 to $2500.

Aid Sheppard brought up the matter of the appropriation for scavenging of $80,000 allowed the day before, and a cut of $2000 from the estimate, and urged that the amount asked for scavenging be granted, as it was absolutely necessary for the city to have the work done. The Mayor and Controller Oliver asked for $100,000 for that purpose. At the original figure, it was as close to the line of the expenditure as it was possible to get. Toronto's scavenging, he said, was on a system that no other city in the world attempted. It was a system that no other city in the world attempted. It was a system that no other city in the world attempted.

Aid Sheppard brought up the matter of the appropriation for scavenging of $80,000 allowed the day before, and a cut of $2000 from the estimate, and urged that the amount asked for scavenging be granted, as it was absolutely necessary for the city to have the work done. The Mayor and Controller Oliver asked for $100,000 for that purpose. At the original figure, it was as close to the line of the expenditure as it was possible to get. Toronto's scavenging, he said, was on a system that no other city in the world attempted. It was a system that no other city in the world attempted. It was a system that no other city in the world attempted.

AT THE THEATRES.

Lord Rossy, who appears at the Princess next week at the head of his own specially selected company in the romantic comedy, "The Young Miss Pettifour," is the possessor of one of the few new world titles which were conferred upon British subjects during the early colonial times.

At the time when Nova Scotia and the Maritime Provinces passed from French to English control, hundreds of new titles were created and among the number upon whom that title was conferred was the Earl of Rossy, the first of the name in the present Lord Rossy inherits it. His great-grandfather, the Duke of Orleans and his early exploits as a war hero, were the subject of a newspaper notice. He is a clever actor, and has had several leading parts in London, and is now playing a large round part. His Toronto engagement is for the first time, with Wednesday matinee.

Isabel Irving in an elaborate new production of "The Orbits" under the management of the Grand Opera House, is the star attraction at the Grand next week. Her performance in the role of the heroine, Virginia, has attracted a great deal of newspaper notice.
