FRENCH WIN FIERCE BATTLE WITH TEUTONS

Foch's Troops Check Attempt Between Combles and Somme.

BRITISH REMAIN QUIET

Unfavorable Weather Again Holds Up Progress of Campaign.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The French fought a ten-hour battle on the front between Priez farm, south of Combles, and a point south of L'Abbe Wood, north of the Somme, and defeated all German endeavors to retake the latest positions won by the French. Prisoners taken and French observers say that the enemy suffered heavy losses in the fighting. The fighting raged over a front of three miles, but it was more particularly violent about the regions of Priez farm and of Bouchavesnes.

As it was still raining the French had suspended their infantry operations in order to cut the large losses that would be sustained in an infantry advance under these conditions, so the Germans brought up large forces and launched heavy attacks, starting at 2 o'clock in the morning.

The assaults of the enemy were preceded by violent artillery preparation. He launched his storming column of muses and troops from Priez farm four assaulting waves of Germans suffered heavy losses from the French fire as they were pushing forward and their assaults were unavailing.

Describing the fighting for Priez farm, the French official communication says: "The enemy attack could be seen from our side to break up and flow back in disorder behind a forest, leaving the ground covered with corpses."

The Bouchavesnes sector also witnessed terrible fighting. The Germans after the defeat of several of their attacks succeeded in setting foot in the north-eastern part of the village. French reinforcements immediately coming up hurled themselves on the Teutons and dislodged them from the villages in a fierce struggle which did no damage, and prisoners, including several officers, were taken by the French.

The British official communications of this afternoon and night report that the general situation on the western front remains unchanged. Considerable hostile artillery activity pre-valled on the battlefield south of the Ancre. Over 100 prisoners were taken on the British front in the past 48 hours.

South of Arras the British clearance of Germans out of 200 yards of trenches, and they inflicted casualties on the enemy. North of Arras the Germans exploded a mine near Bancourt and Clercy. The British occupied the near lip of the crater.

Norway and Sweden Agree Never to Fight Each Other

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company, in an interview with Premier Knudsen of Norway, asked whether if one Scandinavian country was drawn into the war, it was probable that the other two would agree to follow suit. The premier replied:

"Norway and Sweden will never enter the war against each other. A secret agreement, which was made between the two governments in the anxious days of August, 1914, is a guarantee that such a thing will never happen."

Asked if there was a corresponding agreement between Denmark and Norway, Premier Knudsen replied in the negative.

French-Canadians Carried Stronghold, Took Prisoners

No Troops Behaved More Dashing or Did Finer Service.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Writing on the Somme battle, Phillip Gibbs says that the Canadians gained great glory in their finely organized attack. French-Canadians went away like hunters after wolves, the swept by machine guns and meeting stubborn defence.
They carried the strongholds and captured hundreds of prisoners. When the full story of the Canadian victory is published it will thrill the great Dominion like a heroic song.

Ferry Robinson writes that no troops behaved more dashing or did finer service than the French-Canadians.

Sir Sam Hughes Will Sail
For Canada at Early Date

Rumor That He Will Take a Command in France is Disposed of.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Canadian Associated Press is officially informed that Sir Sam Hughes, Canadian minister of militia, has completed the work for which he came to England and that he will sail for Canada at an early date. This disposes of any rumor that he is going to take a command in France.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Reuter's Telegram Co. says that it learns that the Greek notes to Germany, which demand that the Greek troops be brought to the Swiss frontier in order that they may be conducted to a Mediterranean port from which they will be taken to Greece. The Greek government guarantees that they will not be forced to serve with any enemy of Germany, and at the same time disavows entirely the action of Gen.
Hadjopoulos, who it is claimed disregarded orders to transport his troops to another Greek port.

An earlier despatch from Athens said there was reason to believe that the Greek Government had sent an allegative to Germany and that it would expire tonight.

Official of the Greek foreign office visited the entente diplomats at Athens today, says a Reuter despatch confronted with the cabinet, would subsequently resign and a course was considered inevitable.

The diplomatic representatives of the entente powers continue their policy of not recognizing the existence of the new cabinet of Premier Katagoropoulos by abstaining from paying a formal visit to the new minister.
King Constantine this morning discussed the question of furthering declarations by the new cabinet in the presence of the cabinet.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—As if to dis-prove the statement that their counter assaults had lost their elan, the Germans made a desperate effort today to regain their hold on the Peronne-Bapaume road. A series of terrific rushes were hurled against both the French and the British lines, but they made no headway.

The blows began last night on both sides of the river. But they met with no success. On the French front the Germans penetrated some trenches, but their troops drove them out in short order. This apparently was preliminary work in an attempt to feel out the strength of the new allied positions.

With morning a greater effort was begun. This attack was confined to the French front, in the sectors between Hancourt and Clercy. It aimed to regain possession of those parts of the Peronne-Bapaume road won by the French a week ago. Through this gap it is possible for the allied troops to drive a wedge between the two towns.

Fight From Morn to Eve.
From 9 o'clock in the morning until dark the attack continued with constant fury along a three-mile front.
Moving forward in dense masses like the Russians assaulting the Teutons in Galicia, the Kaiser's troops threw themselves repeatedly at Foch's positions.

Wave after wave broke under the intense fire of the allied artillery. As each crest receded, it left behind it wreckage of dead and wounded. The fighting continued until 11 p. m.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—The allied army in the Balkans experienced a day of successes today, but the Bulgarians were successful in their counter-attacks.

By French and Russian troops on their left, and by the Bulgarians on their right, the allied army in western Macedonia, seizing the crest of the Katakoron ridge, dominating the Cerna river plain, and sweeping forward, according to unofficial reports, to within six miles of Monastir.

In eastern Macedonia along the Struma valley the Bulgarians thrust the Italians back and recaptured four villages.

The Russian army in the Dobruja rallied and checked the advance of Mackensen's forces south of the Constanza-Cernavoda railway, where a desperate battle is raging now.

In Transylvania the Rumanians suffered another reverse. The Austrians in a furious attack drove King Ferdinand's troops out of Petroseny and thru the Surduk Pass, fifty miles southwest of Hermannstadt.

Situation on Dobruja.
On the eastern part of the far-flung battle in the Balkans, observers here regard as most important in its effect the halting of the German-Bulgarian army of invasion in the Dobruja and the resumption of the offensive in this sector by the Czar's troops and their Rumanian allies.

Hold Lefty Right.
Hardly less important are the contingents of the allied troops the objective of whose offensive in this sector is to drive the German-Bulgarian army back to the Danube.

A Delightful Collection of Afternoon Gowns at Moderate Prices

All of Them Revealing the Trend of the Mode in Effect, and in Detail, and Showing That Autumn is to Be a Season of Soft Materials and Rich But Sober Colorings

THE FIAT has gone forth. Skirts are shorn of their ripple and flare, and now the fashionable woman's desire is to present a tall and slender silhouette—a figure of long graceful lines. And to this end Fashion is utilizing the softest of silks—satin, charmeuse, crepe meteor, Georgette, and soft, soft velvets, all of them delightfully set forth in the charming array of new frocks in the little Grey French Rooms of the Dress Department.

Happily exemplifying this new vogue for slenderness is a dress of taupe satin with most charming lines. A closely set row of satin covered buttons runs from beneath the small round white Georgette collar to the hem and long sash ends, fringed and adorned with metallic embroidery, hang from the girdle at the sides, giving a somewhat Oriental effect. Price, $47.50.

With a somewhat similar arrangement of sash ends, is a satin dress in the modish Burgundy shade, its rather plain bodice frilled beneath a cord and descending in metallic embroidered points to match the sash. The sleeves are of Georgette, and the collar is white. Price, $55.

A most fascinating frock is made of French blue crepe meteor, with a touch of brilliant Russian embroidery on the plain bodice, and queer little pockets similarly embroidered on the long Russian tunic. This falls from beneath a narrow corded belt and the bodice is topped by a small collar of white satin. Price, $65.

The immensely fashionable, knee length Russian blouse of Georgette over satin skirt distinguishes a dress in an unusual bronze shade. The bottom of the blouse and sleeves are edged with marabou, and a white satin collar and vest, with a gleam of silver lace, give a becoming touch. Price, $45.

In the always popular navy is a satin dress, with plain skirt, its noteworthy features being the new rather full sleeves, a wide sash, with metallic embroidered ends and deep pointed collar of white satin. Price, $40.

A simple but wonderfully effective leaf brown Georgette over white has a skirt banded with satin, a girdle to match, and a soft little bodice with a wide embroidered tab in front, a narrow collar and cuffs of orange Georgette supplying a warming touch of color. Price, $45.

A royal blue dress also of Georgette crêpe has a hem of satin, banded with kolinsky, a tasseled sash, and points on the bodice of satin, and a pointed Quaker collar of fine creamy lace. Price, $45.—Third Floor, James St.

The New Suits Show Fashion in Variable Mood

Sometimes Adhering Strictly to the Redingote, Sometimes With a Leaning Towards the Russian Blouse, and Often Imitating the Directoire, But Always With a Preference for a Slender Silhouette

AND EVERY TYPE within the ken of Fashion is to be seen in the huge and very charming array in the Women's Suit Section. The styles are varied enough to enable every woman to choose a coat that is just the most becoming length for her, and the materials—all of them smooth and supple as befits the demand for a straighter silhouette and long folds—show much that is new.

Bolivia cloth, suede twill, gloveskin cloth, makeskin and other makes of velours, are all featured, and the new colors are a veritable pageant of Autumn—wine shades, and purples, leaf browns, wood browns, greens in many shades and gorgeous copy tints.

An admirable type of the redingote is seen in a myrtle green suit of the new suede twill with wide tippet collar and large cuffs of kolinsky. Both front and back are plain, but at the sides are curving panels, their graceful lines accentuated by yellow-centred, green buttons. Deep pockets extend almost to the hem of this coat, and the skirt is plain and full. Price, $175.

Just as typical of the Russian blouse is a suit of Petrouchka blue (a new shade something between sapphire and saxe) velours, its long coat faced with grey plush, buttons down the side, and is frilled at the waist and falls within two or three inches of the hem of the plain button-trimmed skirt. A deep cape hangs over the shoulders at the back and is topped by a little round collar. Price, $75.

Combining both types in most charming effect is a suit of Russian green velvet. Its front panel with long straight lines is redingote, its embroidered belt and bloused back Russian, its up-and-down high collar of mole Directoire and its quaintly wrapped-over cuffs wholly 1916. Price, $175.

A very smart suit of black gabardine with front bandings, cuffs and high collar of seal rat shows a redingote back with bloused front, pennant-like straps at the side, following the quaint shape of the pointed cloth collar that can be buttoned over the fur. Price, $125. In the fashionable prunelle (blueish purple) broadcloth is a suit with somewhat shorter coat, cut with an odd looking panel at the back to which are attached by fur buttons the belt straps that confine the bloused front. The collar and cuffs of grey mouflon make a very effective color contrast. Price, $45. Another Broadcloth suit in Burgundy has a bloused coat with yoke at the back, over which falls a square collar edged with Hudson seal to match the cuffs and front. The skirt has a prettily shaped yoke. Price, $40.—Third Floor, James St.

Quaintly Picturesque Are The New Furs

And These Muffs and Neckpieces of Hudson Seal (Seal Rat) Among the Short Haired Peltries Most Favored of Fashion Show the New Cape and Tippet Effects, and Ball and Melon Muffs in Most Alluring Guise

BACK WE GO to our grandmother's days, back to the days of tippets and tiny muffs, of low necked dresses and crinolines, for the models for these same quaintly attractive styles.

And in no medium could they be more bewitchingly expressed than in the seal rat for which this season Fashion has developed a perfect mania. A peculiarity of these same new-old styles is that most of them are trimmed with another fur which adds greatly to the effect.

The illustration shows a very happy example—an imported, tippet-like collar, draped in front and buttoned above two little ermine tails with a small turn-over collar of ermine. Price, $60.

The little ball muff to match, which the lady is holding by its shell bracelet, is lined with green velvet (another modish innovation) and is $32.50.

A big cape of seal rat, a Reveillon model, with stick-up collar and bandings of fitch, is made with a round back, pointed sides, and is lined with rose flowered crepe. Price, $89.

Such Smart Coats For Girls

Exploiting the Rival Charms of Velours, Broadcloth, Zibeline, Velvet and Plush, Many of Them Being Trimmed With Fur

THEY ARE SIMPLY full of attractions, the new coats that Fashion has provided for little Miss School Girl's Winter wearing. Never have styles been more charming, or materials prettier, and not for an instant has it been forgotten that warmth is a first necessity, for all of the coats are interlined.

And since one of the distinguishing features of the new modes in children's coats is plenty of ripple at the sides and often considerable fullness all round these interlinings are attached to the linings and hang in straight lines, not attached to the outer cloth, so that bulkiness is avoided.

An extremely pretty coat of reseda green broadcloth is made with a belt from sides to front, holding the fullness, and a square yoke-like collar at the back, above which is a smaller one of skunk. Price, $32.

In the fashionable Russian green velours is a belted coat, with beaver bandings down the front, and the collar and large buttons of the same fur. Price, $25.

A lovely little model for "very best" is made of sapphire blue panne, shirred at the waist, having plain panels back and front with tiny frogs and a shawl collar. Price, $65.

A rather quaint coat of rose broadcloth, is made in double-breasted style, with a belt, a round yoke at the back, and a small collar edged with mole, the greenness of which is repeated in the smoked pearl buttons. Price, $22.

Zibeline composes a smart coat with panel back and belt and a cape collar of velvet. This is obtainable in brown or green, and is $20.00.

A belt cut in one with the panel back distinguishes a blue corded velvet coat, with wide circular skirt, its collar and cuffs edged with beaver plush. Price, $12.50.—Third Floor, Yonge St.

DIRECT DELIVERY WITHIN THE LAW

License Board is Advised of "Joker" in Ontario Temperance Act.

TO ACT ACCORDINGLY On Order From Montreal, Liquor Will Be Sent Direct to Consumer.

The Ontario License Board has been instructed by its legal advisers that "direct delivery" is within the law.

Mr. Flavelle explained that the board had been advised that there was no infringement of the act in delivering liquor from a brewery, distillery or bonded warehouse, where liquor might legally be kept under the act.

Mr. Flavelle was of opinion that the board could not under the provisions of the act take any action against such practice, but he did think that they had grounds for an action in cases where had been suggested, the men who had operated under shop licenses were to constitute themselves a barter, and act as intermediaries between the actual wholesaler and the Ontario buyer.

Mr. Flavelle said that he was collecting that I am not able to read the English language," he said. Naturally the shop men would have their clients to whom in one way or another they would appeal.

The clause of the Ontario Temperance Act, which refers to soliciting, reads: "Every person, whether licensed or unlicensed, who by himself, his servant or agent, canvasses for or receives or solicits orders for liquor for beverage purposes within this province shall be guilty of an offence against this act."

Mr. Flavelle said yesterday that the board had no wish to prosecute citizens under provisions of the act with which they were not well acquainted.

It had been understood and contended that it would be necessary under the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act actually to ship liquor in Ontario under Dominion law out of the province before it could be shipped to the province.

from the brewery or distillery to the purchaser under the provisions of the clause, which reads: "While this act is intended to prohibit and shall prohibit transactions in liquor which take place wholly within the Province of Ontario, except under license or as otherwise specially provided by this act, and to restrict the consumption of liquor within the limits of the Province of Ontario, it shall not affect and is not intended to affect bona fide transactions in liquor between a person in the Province of Ontario and a person in another province or in a foreign country, and the provision of this act shall be construed accordingly."

Political Intelligence

R. H. Spence (organizer of the prohibition movement), flushed with victory, has returned from British Columbia. All Canada, he says, is now dry territory, except about one-third of the Province of Quebec.

The temperance people will bring a monster petition to the capital. They insist upon immediate action. The Doherty bill, passed at the last session, was admittedly a palliative. The temperance man will now call upon Premier Borden and his government to administer the cure.

From Calgary comes the report that R. B. Bennett, M.P., is to abandon the Dominion for the provincial field, and to again become the leader of the provincial opposition. Mr. Michener, the present Conservative leader in Alberta, is compelled by ill-health, it is said, to retire, and there is an almost unanimous demand for Mr. Bennett to resume the leadership.

Today, a historic anniversary, is polling day in Carleton County N.B. It is stated for the position of parliament secretary for external affairs, a position that was said to have been created for Mr. Bennett. Mr. McCurdy is at present parliamentary secretary for the militia department, and in charge while Sir Sam is away.

The voice of the people has declared almost unanimously in favor of honest government and has consigned the fiscal history records to oblivion. Political history records few verdicts so unqualified.

Every single ballot of the soldiers' vote has been taken. The last voting papers are signed and inside of a few days the votes could be counted.

Why should the counting of the soldiers' ballots take four weeks? Why should we wait a whole month to know results that could be known in a day or two? There is no more reason for holding back the result of the soldiers' vote than for delaying the results of Thursday's election.

Found guilty in the women's court yesterday of selling liquor without a license, Mrs. Anna Donno of Allice street was fined ten dollars and costs or three months in searching the house in Plainclothesmen Ward and Scott found two hundred quarts of liquor but no customers.

Charged with selling liquor in contravention of the act, William White, of White's Hotel, 71 West Queen street, was tried on a charge of having liquor on his premises last Sunday in contravention of the Ontario Temperance Act.

Ernest Rice and John Williams, colored, now serving time at the Jail Farm for having opium in their possession, took the witness stand and testified that they had purchased morphine and opium from Phillips.

Belmonte Robinson, another "dope" victim, also testified against Phillips.

machine to apportion the soldiers' vote among the ridings where it will do the most good. But the most significant part of the license of the act passed from London, or we should say, from Ottawa, Ontario. The News-Record of that town is a well-known daily, and its editor, Mr. J. H. Blair, is a Conservative. That paper, in its leading editorial of Tuesday of this week, discusses the situation in Ontario and claims credit for the Conservatives' ceasing up affairs in this province. "We remain of course under these conditions a government must be clean, capable and well led."

But let us quote at some length. The article continues: "The present administration is clean and is not without capability. But it is as questionable whether Mr. Hearst is the right man for the leadership."

When the remaining members of the Whitney cabinet use to select a premier it does not appear that either Sir Adam or Mr. Hanna sought the position. Any rate neither obtained it. It went to a comparatively new and untried man—Mr. Hearst.

The other cabinet ministers did not consult the Conservative members before making a choice, but they did not seem to be their own mental status, whom it would be easy to work with. In the face of the verdict of the people on the legislative but issue in 1914 he out-Howellled Howell's temperance measure. There is no gain saying that he acted on his personal convictions, for he stated that if it cost him his position he was determined to put his measure thru. But he did not realize that he was a generation ahead of public opinion, and that his own party could not follow his lead.

Mr. Hearst has discovered that he has acted on his personal convictions, for he stated that if it cost him his position he was determined to put his measure thru. But he did not realize that he was a generation ahead of public opinion, and that his own party could not follow his lead.

These hydro undertakings are in several ways a boon to the people. Hydro power alone has saved them millions of dollars by furnishing light and power at a cost of five cents a kilowatt-hour, and has saved them in retarding the price of food-stuffs and coal.

Were Sir Adam Beck to be made premier, his tenure of office would be for the people and their descendants. Then, too, great business ability would enable him to develop the resources of the province they have never been developed before.

The voters of Ontario have every confidence in his ability to lead the Conservative party, but receive the support of thousands of independent voters.

Before Mr. Justice Kelly in the jury assizes, John Muirhead is suing the trustees, Robertson Muirhead and William B. Rogers, of the estate of the late James Muirhead, for a portion, about a third, of the farm adjoining the Kilgour farm, that was sold for $130,000. He bases his claim on verbal promises made to him and that were overheard by his wife, and also by right of occupation. For 25 years he lived on this section of the farm and claims to have built several buildings and done considerable clearing.

He also claims $5440 for the buildings erected and clearing of the farm, as well as other work. The will makes no allusion to the promise of the section of the farm, but makes a bequest to John Muirhead and his wife jointly. The case will proceed this morning, when the defence will be heard.

DETERMINED EFFORT TO END DRUG TRAFFIC

"Phil, the Jew," Sentenced to Six Months in Ontario Reformatory.

ADMITTED SELLING IT Committal Closes One of the Most Sensational "Dope" Cases in Toronto.

Six months in the Ontario Reformatory was the sentence meted out to Montague Phillips, alias "Phil, the Jew," dope victim and drug peddler, when he appeared in the police court yesterday on a charge of selling cocaine. Phillips' committal brings to a close one of the most sensational "dope" cases in the annals of the Toronto Morality Department, and his conviction, it is believed, will have the effect of reducing the use of and traffic in the drug.

Morality Officers Kerr and Lawler arrested Phillips at 3 Spadina road on September 7. Later he admitted having used heroin for 18 months, also that he had sold quantities of the drug to "Martin Rebut, mailing it to him at Fort Colborne. "I do not wish to tell the name of the druggist from whom I got the stuff," his confession states. "He lives in the city, and would give the drug to men whom I met on the streets, because I was sorry for them."

Ernest Rice and John Williams, colored, now serving time at the Jail Farm for having opium in their possession, took the witness stand and testified that they had purchased morphine and opium from Phillips.

The Local Hydro Report

In the report of the Toronto Hydro-Electric system of 1915 recently issued, the results of the year's work are shown to be so favorable that hostile criticism has to resort to misrepresentation in order to find fault with the public ownership policy. On the year's operations there is a net surplus of income of $318,779. This is the balance over from the surplus income available for fixed charges of $627,908.67, the total of the interest, depreciation and sinking funds for the year absorbing $309,129.78. It is obvious from this that the consumer is getting his light and power at as near cost as it can be figured and a good deal of credit is due the management at arriving so closely to the and aimed at, which is to supply power and light at cost. Out of a gross income of $1,490,187.60 to have only $318,779 over is a triumph, and all the more so as the whole of the cost of getting and promoting new business, amounting to $13,778.28, has been met out of the year's income. Nothing has been charged to capital account which should have been charged to revenue.

An item of $97,733.96 which accrued during the purely construction period ending December 31, 1915, is still carried forward and this item has been represented as a deficit by some hostile critics. It will be remembered that when the rates were reduced some time ago it was in opposition to the wishes of the local commission, who desired to clear off this sum before making any reduction. The provincial commission, however, urged a speedy reduction in rates, and authorized the carrying over of the comparatively small sum due since 1911. At the rate of the growth of business, which is steadily rising from commercial sources, the municipal proportion having fallen in three years from 40 to 33 per cent, it will be seen that had the local commission been charging such rates as would have enabled a dividend of five per cent to have been declared on the city's investment, the item from 1911 would have been a handsome one in the balance sheet. It must not be forgotten that the consumers are getting their electricity current at cost and the city will eventually own a complete installation and equipment for which it will have furnished nothing but credit, as its share of the transaction.

A debate is going on in some quarters as to whether the Hydro-Electric Commission was compelled to cut its rates or compelled private corporations to do so. It cannot be forgotten that the first result of the establishment of hydro power was to cut rates in two, and that without hydro competition rates would be more than double what they are at present. Such a solid boon to the citizens, along with such a satisfactory statement of the business done last year, furnishes the hydro-electric system with an impregnable position.

A Banker Who is Optimistic

The ordinary banker is ultra conservative. The man on the other side of the counter may be buoyant, daring and optimistic, but the banker must not yield to enthusiasm; hence he usually takes a pessimistic view. General Manager John Aird of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, however, being interviewed at Calgary, brings no message of gloom to the west.

Mr. Aird says that by the end of the year Great Britain will cease to import war munitions from the United States. This, he believes, will correct the balance of trade against Canada and much improve her financial situation. Phenomenal progress has of course been made by the British manufacturers and the British government. The time may come when her war munitions will all be made by Britain, even to the exclusion of the dominions.

Mr. Aird is pleased with the conditions as he finds them in the Canadian West. A great deal of the 1915 crop has been held over by the farmers, who are in no hurry, by the way, to part with this year's harvest. Prices are high, but Mr. Aird cautions the farmer to keep an eye on Constantinople as well as on Chicago. The fall of the Dardanelles is anticipated in London, and will be followed by a great flood of Russian wheat to the English market.

Yet Mr. Aird says the western farmers have money in their pockets and will have a great deal more before long. The prairie provinces are sobered, but not depressed. They are still the golden west.

Why Not British Pictures?

It is a pity that with the opportunities that attend the production of moving pictures there is not more done to make them an educational influence and an agent of real culture. There is no reason why the moving picture should not depict real life in its more picturesque and romantic aspects, but much of what is shown represents phases of life which it would tax the resources of the criminal and the half-wit to parallel.

Once more the churches have failed to take hold of a great educative influence, and have left the "movies" to develop under the same or similar auspices which the churches contend have demoralized the stage. There is no reason why religious and moral subjects should not be presented by the moving picture as well as those subjects which frankly go in for sensation irrespective of morality. It would not be necessary to become sensational in order to make such pictures attractive. We do not believe that representations of Elijah ascending in a fiery chariot or Daniel in the Lions' den would be acceptable to the majority of church members, although such pictures would undoubtedly draw crowds. But there is plenty of scope for moving picture practice in the religious novels of the day.

Another picture which is widely looked after in Montreal is practically neglected in Toronto. Toronto, which inherits its leading ideas from United States papers and magazines, depends almost entirely upon the United States for its moving pictures. The result is a loss of Canadian and British spirit in those who frequently attend local picture shows. In Montreal there is a considerable amount of British and continental European films displayed, and these, as a rule, are of a superior class to the American productions. Very little has been seen in Toronto of the innumerable pictures of Canadian military life in England, reviews, parades, sports and other interesting incidents, and notable British public events are rarely shown here. The whole of the British colonies contribute their interesting events to the English picture houses.

Of the many picture houses in Toronto one or two might make a specialty of British pictures and of those films which represent the travel sights and the great adventures of the rest of the world. It may be objected that there is no taste for such pictures, but such an assertion would be a severer condemnation of the picture shows than we would venture to make. There is a very large public which would be delighted to have the opportunity to see pictures which would be free of the grosser features of the United States melodrama.

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT

GEE! THOSE GUYS TAKE A CHANCE STANDIN' DOWN THERE LOOKIN' UP

FOE'S AMMUNITION IS RUNNING SHORT

Von Falkenhayn's Letter, in British Hands, Tells Clear Story.

OUTSTRIPS PRODUCTION

Wastage of Guns is Serious Problem for the Germans.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—General von Falkenhayn, until recently chief of the German general staff, directed a letter to his officers declaring that the wastage of guns during the recent months had exceeded their production, and also that ammunition supplies were dwindling rapidly. General Haig reported to the war office this afternoon. The statement follows: "A captured document signed by Gen. von Falkenhayn while chief of the German general staff, dated August 24, states: "The wastage of guns in the last few months has been considerably in excess of production. The same is true of the ammunition in our reserves, of which there has been a serious diminution. It is the duty of all ranks—not only in the artillery—to endeavor to remedy this serious state of things. All ranks must make a most serious endeavor to assist in the preservation of material as indicated above, for otherwise making good the losses and placing formations in the field will be rendered impossible."

It was further announced that as Miss Burns is shortly leaving with her mother for England, her father and brother being already overseas, that a Miss Burns proposed the name of Mrs. Franklin Johnston, who, she said, had a great deal of experience along the lines necessary for the success of the work of the Big Sisters. The appointment of Mrs. Johnston was ratified by the meeting.

In accepting office Mrs. Johnston asked for the co-operation of those present, and then went enthusiastically into the matter of the campaign for new members. At present there are 110 Big Sisters, and they have 42 little Sisters under their care. Mrs. A. M. Huestis moved that the campaign be undertaken at an early date, and Mrs. R. Glasgow advocated a short and spirited one. Miss C. Toque moved that a small pamphlet setting forth the objects of the organization, be printed and distributed. This was carried.

The association of the Big Sisters has been working in Toronto for about two years. The object is the promotion of the welfare and improvement of children, especially girls who have been brought before the juvenile court, and others whose physical, mental and moral development has suffered because of bad environment and home conditions. Sympathetic women are caused as Big Sisters, their work being to take a friendly interest in girls of the class mentioned, and to assist them to become good citizens.

MEALS ARE IMPORTANT UNDER NEW REGULATIONS

Fred Mauthie Explains to Board Why He Did Not Serve Them Saturday.

Frederick Mauthie, Gerrard Hotel, Gerrard and Parliament streets, was brought before the license board yesterday to answer to a charge of refusing to serve meals. The board had been so informed on Thursday of last week, and sent an officer on Saturday to report. He was refused by the bartender, who said that the dining-room was closed.

Mr. Mauthie told the board that the dining-room had been closed this week because his help had left him when he sought to cut their wages by $5 a month. He had opened again as soon as he had been able to get help, he said. He denied that people had been turned away last week, and promised that there should be no discontinuance in the future.

J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the board, warned him that the board considered the serving of meals one of the most important functions of a standard hotel, and said that such license would be canceled for cessation. The board should be informed at once if anything occurred to render it impossible, even temporarily, for any hotel to serve meals. Decision in this case was reserved.

When Alderman MacGregor made his plea for action this year Acting Mayor O'Neill admonished.

"You are trying to do everything yourself, Donald. You're the most persistent alderman in town."

The alderman told the board that if action wasn't taken 2,700 residents of West Toronto would come down to the city hall in a body.

It is estimated that it will take 100,000 cubic yards of sand to fill Catfish pond, which according to Commissioner Chambers' plan will be brought from the lake.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE" AT THE GRAND.

If you want to be thoroughly entertained and made to forget your work and worries for a few hours, visit the Grand Opera House and see Cohen & Harris' great laugh-promoter "It Pays to Advertise." This play really needs no boasting for its advertisement itself, being one of the brightest and most enjoyable plays produced in many seasons. It is a sweet, clean comedy of local affairs, and everyone can understand and appreciate. Witty and excellently acted, with enough romance to make it attractive to the sentimental loving portion of an audience—and which one of us is not interested in a lover, especially if we can laugh with him and not a few theatrical offerings at the recent seasons have furnished so good an evening's entertainment. Primarily the farce is funny—but merely funny, but exceedingly funny—and also it is clean and wholesome.

LOEW'S

The Suffragette Girls, a ragtime travesty, will feature the bill at Loew's Theatre next week and they will present their one-act play "On Trial," with a company of ten clever artists. Scoslan & Press, the late features of the Vaudeville Star show, will present their refined singing and dancing sketch. Others on the bill include three big voices, Mack, Bright and Mack; Keely Bros. in "Fun in Sporting Goods Store"; Helen and Mollie Doran in a review of songs and dances; Sprague & McNeen in a novelty on roller skates; and in a novelty besides the usual well selected first run photo plays.

SEATS FOR "ALONG CAME RUTH."

Seats will be placed on sale today for "Along Came Ruth," the charming comedy success, which will be the offering at the Alexandra Theatre next week. "Along Came Ruth," originally produced at the Gaiety Theatre, New York, abounds in witty lines, brilliant dialogue and amusing situations, and as to do with Ruth Ambrose, a charming young girl who tries every way to make it in the world and the courage and ability to make it. She got to Oldport, Maine, where the liveliest spot in the local burying ground and the greatest excitement seems to be the arrival and departure of the lone some train. Here she starts things going, and before long she is the town and its citizens as it and they had never been stirred before. From being a town unconscious Oldport becomes wide awake, and they soon begin to thrive. The regular matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

MME. PETROVA AT THE REGENT.

At the Regent Mme. Petrova is the big drawing card in "The Eternal Question," without a doubt the strongest feature in which the great Petrova has ever appeared. The production abounds with big scenes, including a realistic chapter made at sea, when the hero gives chase in an aeroplane and overtakes the vessel, and her rescue is one of the most thrilling scenes.

REMEMBER NURSES AT CHRISTMAS TIME

When Filling "Stockings" for Soldiers, Don't Forget Their Comforters.

Christmas stockings for soldiers sick, well or wounded, are now in the air, and ready stores are piling up to be later shipped into the fascinating "stockings" and sent overseas to comfort and encourage many thousands of Canada's sons.

But what about the nurses, the girls who have gone with them and in some cases preceded them across the ocean even to within a few miles of where the battle has raged? The girls who have withstood every description of hardship and discomfort in some cases, giving the boys of their strength and scientific knowledge, and all with a cheerfulness that is the admiration of all who know their splendid work in the hospitals or wherever needed.

How many are preparing "stockings" for the nurses? Doubtless they will be remembered by their own hospital or school; the Red Cross, too, will not forget them, but there are many others who might spare a little Christmas reminder for our bright, faithful Canadian girls who are bringing such credit to themselves and their country for the fine position they have won, even in friendly competition with the splendid nurses of other nations.

The nurses, even the capable women of the home, are needed in the hospitals and to go to it again and again until the goal is won.

GIVE MANY CAUSES FOR RISE IN MILK

High Price of Feed, Poor Pasture and Shrinkage Are Attributed.

That the price of milk will be increased to an indefinite amount during the coming winter was indicated in opinions expressed by Toronto dairymen yesterday. The causes of this probable advance, they say, are high price of feed, poor pasturage, the high cost of cheese, which requires much milk in its manufacture, and a shrinkage in the supply.

Based upon these reasons the Milk Producers' Association last Saturday decided to raise the price of milk to dairymen $2 a can during the winter months.

It is likely that only 15 or 17 milk tickets can be bought for a dollar during the winter instead of 21 tickets as has heretofore been the number.

"Taking into consideration the producer's demand of $2 a can, to produce one quart of milk will now cost us over two cents more than it did last year," declared E. Potter, managing director of the City Dairy Company. "A comparison of figures for the week ending September 17, 1916, and the corresponding week last year will show you how greatly the supply of milk has been curtailed. In that week of 1915 we bought 648 cans of the number provided for in our contracts. This year the number was 1938 cans, and they were bought for a higher price than last year."

"Those persons who believe that the milk dealer is making large profits out of the high price of milk," continued Mr. Potter, "need to be reminded of several things about the business. In the first place, about 25 per cent. of our milk is sold at the farm, and there is 3 per cent. shrinkage in volume between the time the milk enters our door and the time that it is put up and delivered. The remainder must be provided with four per cent. more milk than they sell to care for unexpected demands. It is returned, deteriorated and goes to the churn. The drivers, too, get 20 per cent. more wages than formerly."

When the advance in cost to the consumer becomes effective is uncertain. The producers' new price goes into effect in October, and it is probable the rise to the consumer will follow shortly afterward.

From The Boys At The Front "Why Don't They Come?"

Are you still thinking it over? We mean about enlisting! Can you afford to put it off any longer? If you are eligible and have no real ties to keep you back can you conscientiously and consistently delay any longer? Don't you think in the interests of your country, your family, in your own interest, that you should really do something in this, the greatest crisis in the world's history—in the history of your own country? Do you not think it up to you to consider this question from every standpoint—not just your own?

Do you not think that the boys who have already answered the call, and are now fighting your battles for you, wonder why you do not come and help them? Stretch your imagination to the extent of changing places with them. How would you feel about it?

Get together a few of your immediate friends or business associates. If you are interested in the infantry or some special branch of the service, get in touch with the particular unit that you may be interested in, and get your comrades to enlist with you. Nearly all units make it a practice to keep friends together whenever possible; in barracks, in tent and on the field.

If you are interested in the artillery branch of the service, fetch along your friends to the Toronto Artillery. The Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, 20 Victoria Street, City, get particulars about "C" Battery, C.F.A., R.C.M.A. We are sending drafts overseas every month and shall be for some time. We need more men. We can place you with a good lot of first-class fellows from Toronto and vicinity.

A call does not put you under any obligations, we will appreciate it, and a friendly chat may perhaps help you to make your decision. Our address:

FIRST CHOICES WIN THREE AT COLUMBUS

Pop Geers Thrown in First Heat of Pacing Stake and Lies in Hospital.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 20.—Pop Geers, dean of Grand Circuit race drivers, is at a Columbus hospital as a result of being thrown to the track in the first heat of this afternoon's Hotel Hartman pacing stake race. Rhythmic Mads fell and Sir Anthony Carter, driven by Geers, was so close behind that he could not clear the pile. BUTTONVILLE TOWNSHIP DISPUTES W. GOODYEAR'S CLAIM

He Charges His Tractor Engine is Beyond Repair—Council Offers to Fix It. No agreement has been arrived at by the officers who are on the Township Council and William Goodyear, whose tractor engine was thrown into the river Rouge when the bridge on the 6th concession of Markham collapsed a week ago. Two days after the accident Goodyear succeeded in removing his engine, which, it is now claimed, is beyond repair. Experts on behalf of the township have reported that an expenditure of $90 will repair the damage, and the council have offered to bear the cost, repay Goodyear for loss of time and the hire of another engine. Further expert evidence on both sides will be secured. The case has already attracted a lot of attention, but Reeve Nigh stated to the World last night that despite all reports no resolution was ever submitted by Councillor Summerfelt or any other member of the township council asking for the erection of a new bridge at the point when the accident occurred.

PORCUPINE MINES WILL OUTSTRIP FAMED RAND

Canadian Mining Camp Only Six Years Old—Great Strides Already Made.

PROFIT PER TON GREATER

Potential Wealth of Porcupine Cannot Yet Be Fully Estimated.

The Crown Mines, Limited, has 2600 acres in the Rand. Twelve shafts have been sunk and there are 325 stamps and 24 tube mills in commission. In 1914 the mine paid dividends of $4,121,000 or 85 per cent on the capital of 1,000,000 pounds sterling.

The Rand mine has the highest grade of ore in the camp, it will be practically exhausted in 1917 after then giving up about 10,000,000 tons of ore averaging 41 per cent. In tonnage this is the record for the Rand, but in total value several of the mines will likely run over $100,000,000.

This great field has now $3,300,000,000 to its credit and the exhaustion has overtaken several of the mines, there are a number including the Crown mines, which are likely to produce for 60 years yet, and will then have a total life of 80 years.

Lower Mines Production. In 1914 the Crown mines crushed 1,744,000 tons of ore and there were 10,460,000 tons in sight, averaging $1.20 per ton. The Rand mine produced 2,600 tons per day, or say 1,200,000 tons per year, the gross product will not fall below $5,000,000 annually.

But development in Africa is much further advanced than in Canada, their plants as well as their mining areas are much larger than ours. The Rand mine has only 440 acres and not more than one-tenth of this has been thoroughly explored.

Porcupine is only six years old, while the Rand mine is 20 years old. Then the cost of making a producer is five times greater in the Rand than in Porcupine, with an $1,000,000 in the Rand mine in the United States it pays dividends of about $2,000,000 per year.

We are now considering only the gold mines of the world. In the Great Republic there is one copper mine with a dividend of over $5,000,000 a year, there are several others making exceptional profits during the war.

In mining for the precious yellow metal we have to look to the depth of the mine. In the Rand very few veins are over 10 feet deep, while in Porcupine they are 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170, 180, 190, 200, 210, 220, 230, 240, 250, 260, 270, 280, 290, 300, 310, 320, 330, 340, 350, 360, 370, 380, 390, 400, 410, 420, 430, 440, 450, 460, 470, 480, 490, 500, 510, 520, 530, 540, 550, 560, 570, 580, 590, 600, 610, 620, 630, 640, 650, 660, 670, 680, 690, 700, 710, 720, 730, 740, 750, 760, 770, 780, 790, 800, 810, 820, 830, 840, 850, 860, 870, 880, 890, 900, 910, 920, 930, 940, 950, 960, 970, 980, 990, 1000.

There shafts must go down 2000 feet or more before striking the reef. Then there is a limit to the depth of payable ore in the Rand, while in Porcupine values will probably conform to the lowest practicable mining depths. There is nothing in the formation to disprove this: The veins are in the basement rock, and barring geological change will be payable for over 4000 feet from the surface.

The chances for an enormous production are greater in Porcupine than in the Rand. Mr. Robbins' private opinion is that the total value of the Rand mine is $100,000,000, while the total value of the Porcupine mine is $1,000,000,000.

It is certain, however, that its future gives greater promise than any known gold mining region, not only as to total output, but also as to actual profit thereon.

Headframe, boiler house and compressor house at the Davidson Mine in Porcupine.

We are advised officially, say P. C. Sutherland & Co. in their market letter, that the station at the 300 foot level has been practically completed and that cross-cutting toward the vein will start by the end of the week. This will mark the commencement of what is probably the most important era in the history of the company, as the results of operations at this depth, if they prove anything like as successful as the indications would lead one to anticipate, promise to bring the property to the front as one of the future big gold producers of the Porcupine camp.

On the 200 foot level, where such satisfactory results are now being obtained, the vein was reached after only about 75 feet of development had been done. If similar conditions are found to exist on the lower level, the ore should be located early in October. The management has decided to rush the operations so as to prove up the property as soon as possible, and the indications are that the next few months will bring spectacular results. When the vein is located at 300 feet, the company will have three levels to work on, and as values are showing up remarkably well wherever the outcrop has been followed, it is probable that very extensive ore reserves will be brought into sight as time goes by.

Developments on the 100 foot level during the past week have been very satisfactory, and some samples of the ore from the big vein, which have been brought down to Toronto, are remarkably rich. An assay made by the Canadian Laboratories from an average of these, returns $39.00 in gold to the ton, and our official advisers are that there are large quantities of ore of this nature available. Much higher assays might have been obtained by selecting the ore, but it was endeavored rather to secure a fair average than to produce phenomenal assays.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE AT CALUMET PROPERTY

Much is Expected From Cutting of Blisky Vein From the Nova Scotia.

Special to The Toronto World. CALUMET, Sept. 20.—Good progress has been made in the way of exploration under way at the Calumet and Montanans Consolidated this month to date, in the work under way at the 90-foot and 50-foot levels. Practically all the work now is in the way of exploration, and much energy is centred in the pushing of the crosscut from the present workings towards the point where it is expected to intersect the Blisky vein of the old Nova Scotia.

No diamond drilling has been done to prove up this vein, as the distance from the face of the crosscut is comparatively short. Much is expected of this prospect. High grade ore is encountered in this vein extension, it will mean a big thing for the company, as the strike of the Blisky vein is directly across a part of the Calumet property.

It is very probable that work will be commenced on the new small vein to the east of the shaft in the near future. There is a splendid showing of mineral and cobalt bloom on this vein, and even some who have not been buying in the property are anxious to see some test pits sunk on it, expecting that such work will prove up a body of silver ore. No ore is being shipped as yet. The company continues to follow a conservative policy of thoroughly exploring the property and the matter of making shipments. According to an estimate made by Mr. G. J. Thomas, C. E., consulting engineer for the company, the Calumet has a valuable asset in the ore pit in sight above the 200-foot level, located in the raise on the No. 1 shaft. Much of this ore, according to Mr. Thomas, is of a good grade of milling ore, apart from the better quality of ore in the vein proper, and in view of the facility with which ore from this property can be treated, owing to the Dominion Refractory Co.'s concentrator being but a few hundred feet distant, even rock carrying very low silver values can be treated at a profit.

In connection with the Calumet and Montanans Consolidated the fact that although a considerable amount of underground work has been done, the property has been little more than scratched, to use the common mining term. Much fruitless work was done in the early days, and it is only within the past year that the operations on this property were placed on a scientific basis. Owing to the splendid location of the property and the promising character of the veins exposed, both on surface and underground, the only conclusion one can arrive at after a visit to the property is that it has great possibilities.

BOSTON AND MONTANA NEED NEW PLANT

Net Earnings on First Three Cars Eight Dollars a Ton.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 20.—Executive-Lieutenant-Governor W. R. Allen, president of the Boston and Montana copper mines, has sent out the following information to shareholders: "Net proceeds on first cars shipped from French Gulch average eight dollars per ton. This does not include zinc values of six to eight dollars per ton, which we did not receive, as the ore was sent to lead smelter. This forcibly illustrates the necessity for concentration plant on property so the metals may be separated and sent to proper smelters. This is especially true of Elkhorn. In the Park vein alone we have 12 to 15 feet of milling ore that will run $10 to $20 per ton. This will concentrate five to eight into one, making a high-grade concentrate. This is in addition to the high-grade ore on hanging wall, running from three to five feet thick, running from $20 to $75 per ton in copper, gold, silver, lead and zinc. It is the intention of the company very shortly to arrange for the construction of a concentration plant at Elkhorn with a minimum capacity of 100 tons daily. The motor trucks are proving a success and will handle the concentrate ideally."

ROGERS TO TESTIFY. WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—Hon. Robert Rogers arrived in Winnipeg yesterday from Ottawa, and will be called before the (3rd) Commission investigating the construction of the Manitoba Agricultural College buildings.

FREE GOLD SHOWING FOR NEWRAY SHAFT

Prospecting on Hanson Vein Gives Indications of Rich Values.

Newray was one of the features of the mining exchange yesterday, registering another new record at 70. The market for the shares was somewhat congested on the Toronto Exchange, and still heavier buying was reported on the New York curb. Many of the orders sent in had a limit of 60, and, of course, were not filled. The Newray, since it was reopened and financed, has established itself as one of the promising Porcupine producers. The property, 220 acres, has all the elements that go to make a mine, and the company has one of the smallest capital ($1,000,000) for the size of the property in the Porcupine Camp. Under what is now accepted as unscientific mining, as the Porcupine geology was little understood at the time, the mine produced nearly $250,000 from one vein. The development work now going on has the advantage of that done during the last seven years on the Hollinger and McIntyre mines, which lie in the same zone, and this should materially lessen the time for making the Newray again a producer. The principal work at the Newray is now being done on the Hanson vein, which has been uncovered since the property was reopened. General Manager Charlebois, in a wire to the company, says under date of Sept. 15: "Shows on Hanson vein down 22 feet, with free gold showing in the bottom. It looks better every day as work progresses. The buying in Newray is coming in a considerable measure from those who know the property and have a strong confidence in its future."

PORCUPINE PRODUCTION A GRADUAL INCREASE

Next Year's Gold Camp Output Will Surpass That of Cobalt.

By Special Correspondent. TIMMINS, Sept. 20.—Already the chaps with a habit of statistical prediction are figuring out Porcupine's production total this year and next. The camp in 1916 is expected to pile up hullion to a total of $75,700,000 in 1917 $12,000,000.

Next year, for the first time, the total gold production of Northern Ontario should equal the total silver production. Kirkland Lake is expected to produce almost two million ounces in 1917. Boston Creek and Munro will also have mills running and the Kowalew district will be turning out the yellow bricks in normal way. The mills will be operating next year in Kirkland Lake district, and in Boston Creek the R. A. F. Syndicate and the Miller Independent property are counting on producing.

But it is in Porcupine that the greatest increase to the north's production will be made. The company's output should add a million and a quarter, Big Dome three-quarters of a million to this year's figures. McIntyre may increase by three or four hundred thousand. All the other producers should next year boost their output, some of them by little, but most of them making fair additions.

Figures quoted are purely conjectural. No one can say, on one hand, what will be the labor situation in the mining camps next year, whether the mine tax proposed will be so strict that the mines will slow up on production and turn their energies all into development; or, on the other hand, whether general conditions will be so good that the gold camps will have their first real boom. Granting that conditions are normal, however, next year, Porcupine will move ahead and next year register at least forty per cent increase.

Not only the present producers but the larger showings, but properties at present not figuring in output totals will be producing gold. West Dome, for instance, will have a mill running next year. There is a very large ore system on this property carried over from the present management. Then there is the Newray, coming along fast toward the producing stage again. We must not lose sight of the fact that Newray, under another name, in the early days turned out a ton of silver with simple amalgamation only, $230,000. The ore ran $11 and an 87 per cent extraction was secured, which speaks a lot for the management and for the character of the ore. Porcupine camp, knowing

COBALT STOCKS ARE ATTRACTING ATTENTION

With Rumors of Higher Prices for Silver, New York Becomes Interested.

Active trading with some substantial advances in prices was the feature of the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday. The volume of business was good and well distributed throughout the list. The fact that silver is holding well up to its recent high point and further, that the exchange, both locally and in New York, are talking of higher prices for the white metal is directing the attention of traders to the Cobalt stocks. Nipissing was again in demand yesterday and made a bid further recovery, going to $8. The bonus talk on Nipissing was revived, and it is felt that should this capital ($1,000,000) for the size of the property in the Porcupine Camp. Under what is now accepted as unscientific mining, as the Porcupine geology was little understood at the time, the mine produced nearly $250,000 from one vein. The development work now going on has the advantage of that done during the last seven years on the Hollinger and McIntyre mines, which lie in the same zone, and this should materially lessen the time for making the Newray again a producer. The principal work at the Newray is now being done on the Hanson vein, which has been uncovered since the property was reopened. General Manager Charlebois, in a wire to the company, says under date of Sept. 15: "Shows on Hanson vein down 22 feet, with free gold showing in the bottom. It looks better every day as work progresses. The buying in Newray is coming in a considerable measure from those who know the property and have a strong confidence in its future."

TIMISKAMING MAKES REMARKABLE SHIPMENT

A remarkable shipment of silver ore was made by the Timiskaming Mining Company at Cobalt. According to Manager F. L. Culver, there were 135,182 ounces of silver in the shipment, which at 65 cents per ounce would have a value of $125,900.80, or equal to a five per cent dividend on the $21,500,000 issued capital of the company. Nor is this the richest, as one last spring at the then higher price of silver ran close to $150,000.

PRICE OF SILVER

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—London bar silver and New York commercial silver were both unchanged at 62 1/2 and 62 1/2, respectively.

MINING MEN

Between West Shining Tree Gold Camp and Nipigon (460 miles) several mining belts cross our steel, especially the western extension of the Porcupine Gold Belt. Dominion and Production have this summer been mapping out the formation on each side of the line all the way through, so that later we can present maps to mining men showing the exact economic formation. This work, together with what we know from our land and timber cruisers who were selected from men leaving Cobalt, Porcupine and Sudbury experience, makes it possible for us to save mining men weeks of useless prospecting by their map-out on the ground.

RARE OPPORTUNITY IN COPPER MARKET

With a very large tonnage of high-grade copper ore now in sight, and with regular shipments already started, there are few of the copper producers on the American continent which will enjoy the tremendous profits in the near future as will Boston & Montana. Practically every producer of the red metal has already sold its output for months to come and at prices under current prices of 3 1/2 cents per pound, while Boston & Montana will undoubtedly receive around 30 cents per pound for its vast product. Costs of production by this company should not run higher than 7 cents per pound. Boston & Montana owns the largest copper properties under development on this continent, and at current low prices is, in my opinion, THE MOST ATTRACTIVE PURCHASE TODAY OF THE ENTIRE COPPER MARKET.

BIG BODY OF ORE STRUCK AT McCANE

Manager F. L. Culver of the Beaver, which company has an option on the McCane property on Kirkland Lake, fully substantiates the reports of the rich strikes which have been made lately. In conversation with The World yesterday he said: "In a cross-cut from the main shaft 17 feet was struck a vein nine feet wide; the drills then went thru ten feet of porphyry, when they cut a second vein parallel to the first, which was 12 feet wide, after which they ran 11 feet further into porphyry. Disregarding picked samples and special assays which ran into fancy figures, a channel assay of the first vein gave $12.80, and the 11 feet of porphyry $6.20, this indicating a milling product 42 feet wide with an average assay of $9.25."

MARK HARRIS MINES and MINING

General Motors sold on the New York Stock Exchange last week at $750 a share, which constitutes a record that has only been surpassed once in the history of the exchange, and this once was the time Northern Pacific was run up to $1000 a share.

No doubt many readers will remember the time when Harriman and Hill had their memorable fight for control of Northern Pacific, the ending of which was a triumph for Jas. J. Hill.

Both Harriman and Hill have passed away, but the story of the corner in Northern Pacific will live for generations as one of the fiercest fought financial battles of modern times.

The record made by General Motors last week was not caused by any personal fight, therefore one can say that this security achieved the record of the highest price of any stock ever dealt in on the New York Exchange.

I am sure very few, if any, readers of this article are interested directly in General Motors, but there are some features of this case that will, no doubt, be brought to your notice later on, and that is why I speak of the matter today.

For the past year there has been a tremendous boom in the motor trade and this, in turn, has resulted in scores of mergers, consolidations, new companies and what not, until there is today a perfect flood of new motor securities, all being offered the public for consumption.

A few of these new stocks are good, a few more are mediocre, but the vast majority are very, very bad, and investors should use great care before making any purchases.

Steel and iron should be the chief ingredients for a motor stock, but some promoters have entirely overlooked that fact, for an examination of many new motor companies reveals nothing but unadulterated water, with a mixture here and there of a prominent name or two.

I am calling attention to General Motors selling at $750 a share, because I know every promoter dealing in these questionable motor stocks will carefully preserve this fact and will use it time and time again in an endeavor to sell you his securities.

When he does, just remember that if General Motors sells at $750 a share it will not add one penny in value to some unknown and untried motor stock. Every company in this modern world must stand on its own bottom, therefore, never mind what General Motors did, but seek to find out what the new company has accomplished.

A new motor company cannot pay dividends on General Motors' earnings, therefore the fact that General Motors is earning from 60 to 100 per cent does not, in any way, help a competitor; in fact, it is just the other way, for the newly organized company must compete with a highly trained organization that has unlimited capital at its command.

The truth is that the motor industry is already badly overcrowded and I am of the opinion that there will be a big crash one of these days that will spell bankruptcy for the small and weak.

Take the Ford Company as an example. They have turned out nearly 600,000 cars this year and they expect to manufacture 750,000 in 1917, and in addition, they announce a new one-ton truck for business purposes that will be offered at a few hundred dollars.

Now your own common sense will tell you that no new company can step in today and compete with the Ford on price, and in addition to the Ford, they must compete with fifty or more well organized companies that make every grade of motor cars.

It is estimated that there are 3,000,000 motors in the United States today, which means a car for every 33 of population, which includes men, women and children.

Next year the big manufacturers will turn out fully 1,500,000 new cars and I, for one, don't see where they are going to market this enormous product.

The motor industry is just like everything else in this world—it is governed by the laws of supply and demand and when the supply outgrows the demand there must be a halt.

The European war caused a big demand for motor cars, but with every factory working night and day in every European country, they soon increased their capacity to a point where American cars were not needed and altho America is enjoying unprecedented prosperity it cannot absorb millions of motors every year.

General Motors is a high-class company, but I would never pay $750 for a share of its stock, which has a par value of $100, and unless I am greatly mistaken you will see this security sell at a much lower figure in 1917.

At the present high price, General Motors must earn 50 per cent, yearly to return six per cent on the investment, and although this is possible for a few years, I doubt if it will continue.

The market is full of investment bargains at the present moment, therefore, why risk your money in new securities that have no recognized market?
