Fifteen Seriously Injured Are Taken To Hospitals

CHAOS REIGNS

Survivors Fight Way Through Shattered Wreckage—Rescue Work Difficult

CHICAGO, March 3.—Two trainmen and one passenger were killed and more than 20 passengers were injured, 15 seriously in a head-on collision of an Illinois Central suburban train and a Michigan Central fast freight, on the South side, early today.

The dead are: Edward E. Benjamin, Chicago, conductor of the suburban train; T. A. Gygler, 32, fireman on the Illinois Central engine, and O. Nelson, 35, Wheaton, Ill., a passenger. The engine and the first cars of each train crumpled into masses of tangled wreckage. Passengers on the suburban train, those not too seriously injured, fought their way through a mass of shattered glass and splintered wood to the open.

SCENES OF TERROR

Scenes of terror and confusion were described by police and firemen, who hastened to the wreck. For two hours after the wreck, injured men and women of the theatre crowd, were being taken from the debris and sent to hospitals. Rescuers tumbled to the trains on ladders, as the tracks are high above street level at the point of the crash.

VISIONED CRASH

As the suburban crossed from the fifth to the first track, the engine saw the headlight of the northbound freight train coming toward them on the same track. The engineer of the passenger train set the brakes and jumped. The crash was heard by blocks, and attracted thousands.

Hair Dry, Brittle from Constant Waving, Curling

The constant-curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 98-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MARCH 3, 1926.

VERY STRANGE INDEED

A point in which Saint John is much interested has been raised in connection with the Government's call for tenders for steamship services between Canada and the West Indies. According to the published terms, the Government would give the successful tenderer the right, if he so desires, to have the steamers call at an American port on both outward and inward voyages.

This raises once more the very interesting question about subsidizing American ports. Perhaps the official explanation is that as the steamers will be looking for all the traffic possible the company should be given a chance to draw freight and passengers from American sources, as well as from Canada; but any such explanation would be unsatisfactory. The subject of the proposed treaty is primarily to promote a much greater exchange of products between Canada, the West Indies and parts of South America, but it is also the purpose, naturally, to have the trade flow to and from Canada direct through its own ports. At the present time, for example, we get nearly all of our tropical fruit by way of the United States, and it has been represented that if we had an improved steamship service of our own, that freight would come direct, and we should greatly expand our general export and import business with those countries which are parties to the treaty.

The Maritime Merchant, in the course of a rather searching survey of the matter, says that if the successful tenderer should exercise the option regarding an American port, it would mean that instead of Saint John becoming the first port of call of the Windward Islands service inward and Halifax the last port of call of the same service outward, these ports would have to give way to Boston, New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia, or whatever the American port elected may be. And it continues, arguing that the form of tender constitutes a violation of a very important principle: "West India passengers for Quebec, Ontario and the West, will naturally have their ship at the first port of call in American port, and outward bound passengers from the same provinces will go to a foreign port. To us, the Government's offer seems very strange indeed. We had thought that one of the chief reasons for the proposed treaty was the fact that it helped us to overcome the special tariff for which the ships were subsidized—Canada-West India trade."

The circumstances as the Merchant presents them are such as should lead to enquiry and appropriate action by Maritime Boards of Trade. It has been represented that the treaty will be of benefit, especially to the Maritime Provinces, by reason of their seaboard position and the fact that, with an up-to-date service, they have many articles which the West Indies and South America afford a profitable market. The prospect for building up a larger export trade is said to be good, and the Maritimes have been disposed to regard the treaty with favor. But they certainly will not regard with favor any proposal to subsidize American ports. Those ports are already handling far too great a portion of Canadian business, particularly exports, and, at a time when that problem has aroused a very vigorous sentiment in favor of all-Canadian transportation, it is strange indeed that a new steamship enterprise, punched by the Government, should involve any similar complications.

Dr. J. D. Logan, associate architect, in an address which he made in Montreal last evening on Canadian literature and the need for a sounder national sentiment, made a passing reference to agitation in the Maritime Provinces. He says that down here, as in Sam Hogg's time, the agitators are working up on the principle that "the Government must do something." That scarcely presents the case justly. It is fully recognized in the Maritime Provinces that we must do a great deal for ourselves, and the people here are examining new lines of advance and proposing better methods of utilizing the resources at their command, which are by no means small. But they see clearly that there are certain handicaps unjustly placed upon them by the federal authorities which must be removed in order that the Maritimes may have equal opportunity with the other provinces and a fair chance to derive a proper return from their own efforts. Federal justice on the proposal to stop the long sustained debate on the subject. The Progressives, Independents and Labor members all stood by the Government ship, and as they have repeatedly indicated their determination to continue the Government's extension, it would seem that the Conservative attempt to bring about an early dissolution is a failure. But that is by no means the end of the story. For many weeks there has been nothing but rather useless talk. When the House is again convened the Government will have to get on with public business, and there will be clashes regarding policy which will lead to further tests of strength. The country wants important business transacted with expedition, and unless that can be done, unless the Government's main proposals are such as will command public confidence, the demand for an early election will crop up again with renewed force.

The King Government still lives. It has applied closure and secured an adjournment until March 16, its majorities on the several motions varying from six to thirteen, the maximum number secured on the proposal to stop the long sustained debate on the subject. The Progressives, Independents and Labor members all stood by the Government ship, and as they have repeatedly indicated their determination to continue the Government's extension, it would seem that the Conservative attempt to bring about an early dissolution is a failure. But that is by no means the end of the story. For many weeks there has been nothing but rather useless talk. When the House is again convened the Government will have to get on with public business, and there will be clashes regarding policy which will lead to further tests of strength. The Speed Limit for Motors.
(Toronto Star).
Hon. George S. Henry informed the Ontario motorists at their annual dinner that it was not likely that the speed limit on rural highways would be raised to thirty-five miles an hour at this session of the legislature, but it was bound to come soon. There would also be imposed a minimum speed so that cars could not loiter along and delay traffic.
As Minister of Highways, Mr. Henry's intentions travel at least a year ahead of his deeds. Early last year he foretold a raise in the speed limit on rural highways, and no doubt feels it necessary to accustom public opinion to the change in advance of its coming. But motorists would do well to bear in mind that the intentions of our law-makers as regards the future have no influence with magistrates when accused persons are charged before them with exceeding the present speed limits. They should not forget that the law is what it is until it is made something else.

Dinner Stories

THE jurymen petitioned the court to be excused, declaring: "I owe a man $28 that I borrowed, and as he is leaving town today for some years I want to catch him before he gets to the train and pay him the money."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75 cents. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully coloring the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

ROBS LUNCH ROOM WITH FAKE PISTOL

Youth Scores Proprietor and Gets $12, is Captured After Chase

NEW YORK, March 3.—While George Topatis was alone in his lunch room at 292 West 116th street, a young man came in and asked for a piece of pie and a cup of coffee. As Topatis started to serve him the newcomer whipped out a pistol.

"That thing he held in his hand," said Topatis afterward, "looked pretty bad to me, so I put up my hands."

The robber took $12 from the cash register and, warning Topatis not to follow, ran out. Topatis jumped to the door and shouted as the robber sped down the street. Patrolman Harry Hagstrand, who was passing in an auto, heard the shout and saw a fleeing man. He pursued and captured the fugitive.

On searching the prisoner, who said he was John Collins, the patrolman found the pistol. But when he and Topatis examined it carefully they found that it was only an excellent wooden imitation of a weapon.

"And to think I gave up my dough because of that," said Topatis, looking at the imitation.

C. Victor Vincent Many in Saint John and elsewhere throughout the province will hear with regret of the death of Charles Victor Vincent, which occurred yesterday at his home in Richmond street. STAYS IN RUSSIA

Reports That Madame Lenin to Reside in England Are Denied

Canadian Press MOSCOW, March 3.—Reports published abroad that Madame Lenin had left Russia or intended to live permanently in England, are denied by the Kremlin authorities. She is at present confined to her apartment with a heavy cold, but is expected to be able within a few days to resume her duties as head of the Society for the Suppression of Illiteracy.

She is regarded, her friends say, as "the co-operator of Lenin's faith" and a "living symbol of the founder of the Bolshevik state."

Don't Neglect The Children's Coughs and Colds

Mrs. Wm. W. Carl, Baneroff, Ont., writes: "Last winter my three children had very bad colds, and they would cough all night long, which was very annoying to the rest of the family. I could get nothing to help them until one night, a friend who was staying with me, advised me to give them Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup."

"I immediately got some, and after I had used four bottles of it my children became quite well again, thanks to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This preparation has been on the market for the past 37 years; you don't experiment when you buy it put up only by The T. Millbrae Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With If you want to keep your children's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos for anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can not possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisided will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. It leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisided. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Wants Mother Sent to Prison; Court Refuses and Scores Son

NEW YORK, March 2.—John Nichols, a young chauffeur, came before Magistrate Charles A. Oberwager in the West Side Court yesterday to ask that his mother, Mrs. Adeline Nichols, be sent away for 30 days for habitual intoxication. Nichols had had his mother arrested in an apartment in West Fifty-eighth street.

Mrs. Nichols, 45 years old and the mother of 12 other children, besides John, was in tears and pleading for another chance. She had spent the night in a cell in the West Thirtieth Street Station. She never had been in trouble before. The magistrate advised Nichols to give his mother another opportunity. The chauffeur refused.

"Young man," said Magistrate Oberwager, sternly, "do you ever read the Bible?" Nichols said that he did, now and then; that he didn't own one, but had money to buy one.

"Well," counseled the court, "I advise you to get one and to read the Decalogue in passage 4, where it tells you to honor thy father and thy mother; and I advise you, young man, to read, ponder and obey that commandment. Now, won't you give your mother another chance?"

Jehovites Pretest Salute To Flags

DENVER, Col., March 3.—Saluting the American flag as an outward display of patriotism is merely a form of "idol worship," which is forbidden by the Bible, the Jehovites, a religious cult here, declared yesterday in announcing that they would appeal from a recent ruling to the State Board of Education.

The ruling was by the County Superintendent of Schools, requiring pupils to salute the flag.

MONCTON SOCIETY GETS FULL VERDICT

Entire Claim of $212 Against Secretary is Allowed By Court

MONCTON, March 2.—Judgment in favor of the plaintiffs for the entire amount of their claim of $212 was handed down in the County Court here yesterday by His Honor Judge Bennett in the case of the Gorge Agricultural Society vs. Herbert M. Leaman, a former secretary of the society, which amount plaintiffs claimed to be money due from defendant. Judgment was entered with costs against Leaman.

In the defendant's counter claim against the society for $870 alleged to be due him for services, the judge found that the defendant was entitled to an allowance of $80 with costs up to the time of trial only. This latter amount was paid into court at the opening of the suit in satisfaction of defendant's counter claim but was refused by him and he was therefore not entitled to costs of trial.

It is Really Just as Dishonest for a Girl to Get Married Without Knowing How to Cook and Run a House as it Would be for a Man to Marry Without Knowing How to Make a Living.

A MAN who recently died in Boston left $20,000 for the specific purpose of having his son's prospective wife taught how to cook and run a house.

A wise man, that father. He took no chance on his son having his digestion ruined by some fapper's bread nor of his having his substance wasted by a thrifless wife who threw more out of the back door with a spoon than he could put at the front door with a shovel. Other anxious parents may well follow, the example thus set, for, in all good truth, there is no other way in which the health and prosperity of a beloved son can be so effectively secured as by his marrying a girl who is a domestic expert.

It is hardly too much to say that whether marriage is a success or a failure depends upon what sort of a house-keeper the wife is. There can be no peace and contentment in a home that is dirty and disorderly, and when Cupid is set down to a meal of ordered meat and underdone vegetables and soggy pie he flaps his wings and departs for places unknown. While on the other hand, no home is a total loss that is always clean and orderly and comfortable. And there is no spell more potent to bind love than that which a woman can conjure out of her cook pot.

NAPOLEON said that an army traveled on its stomach. So does domestic felicity. Before marriage a man is attracted by a woman's beauty, by her wit or wisdom, by her charm; but after marriage she holds him by making him comfortable. She might be as beautiful as a houri and he wouldn't notice it if the coffee tasted like lukewarm dish-water. She might be as witty as Mme. De Staël, and she couldn't get a rise out of him if she never had a meal on time and he could never find a clean bath towel. She might be all the vamps rolled into one, and he would wonder why he was ever fool enough to marry her if she could never keep within her allowance and he was always swamped in bills.

For, unromantic as it is, our physical needs take precedence over our spiritual ones, and before we can be emotional or sentimental we have to be well fed and well cared for and freed from worry about trivial matters.

Probably no man in the world ever popped the question on an empty stomach, and as a first-aid to matrimony a chafing dish knocks all the arts and the graces and literary accomplishments for a goal.

SUCH being the case, it is passing strange that men who love to eat and who marry for a home far often than women do not look into the girl's domestic qualifications before they marry her. They seldom do, however. Apparently they think that a knowledge of how to cook and manage a household comes by nature to a woman, as Dogberry thought a knowledge of how to read and write did. So they pick out a girl for a wife because she has violet eyes or a boyish figure or a natural wave in her hair, without taking the trouble to inquire if she knows how to handle a budget or what are her views on the chafing-dish question.

Yet when a man marries he turns over not only his heart but his stomach to his wife's keeping, and his success in life, as well as his happiness, depends upon what she does with it. Somebody has said that we are what we eat, and certainly a man's optimism or his pessimism, his amiability or his grouchesness, depends largely upon the way he is fed.

Fill a man up with a seven-plate breakfast of soggy oatmeal, leathery cakes, seven-minute eggs and man coffee, and he will see the world in a dark green, bilious proposition, wild, not ray of hope in anything. It will make him turn down the garbage pail and proposition that would have made his fortune or it will make him so grouchy that he will insult his best customer or client or quarrel with his employe.

ALSO whether a man breaks down at middle age with nervous prostration or is going strong at 70 years—almost entirely upon how intelligently his wife has nourished him and how peaceful a home life he has had. Every married woman knows this, and the thing that passes all understanding is that, knowing it, so few women take the trouble to teach their daughters the one accomplishment that they are going to need more than anything else on earth when they get married. The mothers' alibi is, "Oh, well, they will learn when they need to. I didn't even know how to boil water when I got married."

Of course, this is true. Most women do learn how to cook after they are married, but they learn on their poor unfortunate husbands, which is a most unwise thing to do.

AND it is such a terribly dangerous thing for the girl to do! She is jeopardizing her whole matrimonial happiness and the success of her marriage. For while she is learning how to cook and pick out butcher's meat and keep her bills within bounds she is shattering her husband's ideal of her.

Many a man gets his first cold, disillusioned look at the woman he has taken for better or worse when it occurs to him for the first time that he has been stung—when he gazes at her across a table on which is spread a meal that would kill an ostrich.

NO MAN wants to come home at night to an untidy house or to a wife who is dissolved in tears over a burnt cake. No hungry man wants to make a dinner off of bread and butter or live out of tin cans because his wife can't cook anything fit to eat. No man wants to see his money wasted by a wife who doesn't know whether to buy two chops or a ten-pound roast for two persons. And in the fights over these sordid little details love is often killed, the husband driven from home to some place where he can find comfort and good food and a marriage wrecked that would have been a success if only the woman had known how to cook.

The grounds in the coffee pot are the real grounds of many a divorce, and wife is the girl who qualifies for the wife job before she undertakes it. DOROTHY DIX.

New Airplane Wings Make Flying Safer

WASHINGTON, March 2.—An airplane pilot may soon be able to flutter through the air without keeping his hands on the control stick in his plane. The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics believes it has developed new plane wings which will relieve pilots of this duty. In ordinary flying with most airplanes a pilot must keep his hand on the control stick practically all the time. If he passes into a gust of bumpy air he has to expend effort to control the plane. "This continual operation," Dr. Joseph C. Ames, chairman of the executive committee of the advisory committee, "is very tiring to the pilot."

Advance Glimpses of Easter Styles

By MME. LIBBETH Central Press Fashion Writer

OF AN advance showing of costumes for the Easter parade recently displayed in Miami, Fla., the outstanding characteristic may be said to be their wearableness. Smart they certainly are, but nothing to offend the taste of the conservative and much that is distinctive. One thing that is noticeable is that, with one exception, all the suits shown have long sleeves, even the frock of printed material. The jacketlike jumper is pictured at the left of the picture. This new version of the jumper buttons down the front, has three napkin pockets and a scarf collar. The striped jumper worn with pleated skirt of solid color is next in line, while the frock for the bandage kerchief as a neck finish is revived in the only short sleeved frock in the collection. "The trend and eclectical attire comes in for attention, while the frock of gaily printed material features a full skirt and scarf decoration for the neck. A limited number of prints are in evidence at this resort, including some stunning futuristic effects in multi-colored against a light background. Large futuristic motifs are also hand-painted on some of the most distinctive frocks.

of the small sport variety, but at Palm Beach many extremely large hats of hair or Milan are seen. They are very simply trimmed, vivid red, lavender blue and sabb shades being seen most often. Black hats, usually not seen in the south, are being worn to some extent. They come in felt and velvet. Slip-on sports gloves have become rather generally affected with the long-sleeved two-piece costume. BEHIND THE SCREEN

THE "grand old man of the movies," Theodore Roberts, is back on the screen after being bedridden for some time. His last screen appearance was in "Forty Winks," a Raymond Griffith comedy in which Roberts appeared in a small part.

Fans have missed him, a fact which Wallace Berry has his first starring role in Paramount's "The Greatest Show on Earth." The story is built around the life of P. T. Barnum, famous circus man.

Norman Kerry's sorry that he isn't a dog raiser. His St. Bernard, loaned to directors occasionally, has earned $200 in seven months.

The one lion that is safe to have in films with women has earned more than $100,000 in three years. "Nana" is the name of the high-spirited bear.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

THE TRUFFLE HUNTER'S HOUSE. As soon as Hickydoe, the square wooden man, vanished, Jups said to the Twins, "Well, we know a lot more than we did when we came, that's one thing certain."

"He gave us very good advice, I think," said Nancy. "We know where the Blue Cherry Tree grows at last. He said it grew on Cherry Bounce Hill, behind the Truffle Hunter's House."

"That's correct," nodded Jups, "and fortunately I know where the Truffle Hunter lives. He lives just in front of Cherry Bounce Hill."

The Twins laughed at this, which pleased Jups very much. He was certainly a friendly kangaroo and wanted the Twins to be happy.

"Now we're all right," he went on, "as long as Blue Whiskers doesn't get after us. He had no right to treat you the way he did after you told him such funny stories. And I hope that Paddy-foot, the bear, will not have to stay a mouse long. We shall have to think how we can get him turned into a bear again."

"Oh, thank you, sir! I'm sure I hope so, too!" squeaked a tiny voice and they were all astonished to see a mouse stick his nose out of Jups's pocket and look beseechingly at them with his funny sharp eyes. "I'm Paddy-foot," he explained.

"When Blue Whiskers chased you, I followed, and when you jumped into your magic automobile, I jumped, too, and then I crawled into your pocket."

THE TRUFFLE HUNTER'S HOUSE. As soon as Hickydoe, the square wooden man, vanished, Jups said to the Twins, "Well, we know a lot more than we did when we came, that's one thing certain."

"He gave us very good advice, I think," said Nancy. "We know where the Blue Cherry Tree grows at last. He said it grew on Cherry Bounce Hill, behind the Truffle Hunter's House."

"That's correct," nodded Jups, "and fortunately I know where the Truffle Hunter lives. He lives just in front of Cherry Bounce Hill."

The Twins laughed at this, which pleased Jups very much. He was certainly a friendly kangaroo and wanted the Twins to be happy.

"Now we're all right," he went on, "as long as Blue Whiskers doesn't get after us. He had no right to treat you the way he did after you told him such funny stories. And I hope that Paddy-foot, the bear, will not have to stay a mouse long. We shall have to think how we can get him turned into a bear again."

"Oh, thank you, sir! I'm sure I hope so, too!" squeaked a tiny voice and they were all astonished to see a mouse stick his nose out of Jups's pocket and look beseechingly at them with his funny sharp eyes. "I'm Paddy-foot," he explained.

"When Blue Whiskers chased you, I followed, and when you jumped into your magic automobile, I jumped, too, and then I crawled into your pocket."

"Oh, Paddy-foot!" cried Nick. "We're ever so glad you're along, but we're ever so sorry you were turned from a big black bear into a tiny mouse. And you into well-greased custard caps placed in a pan of hot water. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven, until a knife inserted in the centre comes out clean."

FIVE CHAPTERS OF I. O. O. F. MEET

Valcartier, Royal Standard, Alexandra, Windsor and Fundy in Session

Plans Are Made and Sums of Money Are Voted For Work

Five primary chapters of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, held their monthly meetings last evening and in every case the gatherings were well attended.

Valcartier Chapter met at the residence of Miss Audrey McLeod with the regent, Mrs. Frederick Taylor, presiding. In addition to the regular business, plans were furthered for the annual Rose Ball which is to be held early in April.

It was announced that the usual Lenten sewing for the work of the V. O. N. would be continued each Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Taylor. After the business meeting refreshments were served, with Miss Audrey McLeod, Miss Doreen McAvilly and Miss Page as hostesses.

ROYAL STANDARD

The meeting of Royal Standard Chapter was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Stohart, 140 Sydney street, last evening with the regent, Mrs. E. J. Harding, in the chair. The chapter decided to increase its grant to the Victorian Order of Nurses, and to supply the Mabel Peters Kindergarten with biscuits, as well as the usual donation of milk.

Sewing for the V. O. N. is being continued on Friday afternoons during Lent. Four new members were elected to the chapter. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

ALEXANDRA CHAPTER

Alexandra Chapter held its regular meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. G. B. Taylor, 226 Douglas Avenue. Mrs. W. L. Gregg, the regent, presided. Three new members were welcomed at the meeting. The members planned a budget for the year's work and decided to give $100 this year to the V. O. N. The members are also sewing for the Victorian Order during Lent.

It was decided to give 20 per cent of the chapter's revenue to the War Memorial Fund this year, and the sum of $25 was voted for work in India. A social hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments served by the hostesses.

WINDSOR CHAPTER

Miss Margaret Newcombe, the recently elected regent, presided at the

Former N. B. Pastor Has 90th Birthday

MACHIA, N. B., March 2.—Rev. Jacob W. Price, a native of Havelock, Kings county, N. B., the oldest Methodist minister in Maine, celebrated his 90th birthday today when a banquet was given him by the people of the town where he has lived for the past 13 years.

Mr. Price began his ministerial career in Fredericton, N. B., and was married there, his wife now being three years deceased. He has served many parishes in Maine and although retired preaches occasionally.

welcomed at the meeting. Two names were proposed for membership. Miss Helen Campbell, lecturer of the daily branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture, was present and addressed the meeting on "The food of the future."

The presentation was made by Rev. W. McN. Matthews, pastor, who spoke highly of Mr. Baird's church interests and predicted great things for him in his new field. The recipient replied suitably.

BURNED TO DEATH DURING OPERATION

Patient Catches Fire as Nurse's Skirt Unpins Can of Ether

LONDON, March 2.—A remarkable accident occurred during an operation which was being performed at the Mansfield Hospital. The patient lost his life.

A nurse was leaving the ward when she knocked over a bottle containing an anesthetic ether, which broke on the floor. The fumes from the bottle spread to a fire 14 feet away and an explosion occurred. The whole of the ward was soon in flames.

The patient who was being operated on was Albert Green, a miner of Shirebrook, who was ill with blood poisoning. Dr. J. Reay, who was in charge of the operation, pluckily dragged Green's bed from the flames and tried to beat out the fire. He was able a few moments later to obtain a hose, with which the fire was soon extinguished.

Meanwhile other patients in the ward jumped out of their beds and ran to safety. The whole ward was wrecked and Dr. Reay's boots were nearly burned off his feet.

The ward sister, whose skirt accidentally knocked over the ether bottle, had her skirt burned also.

Green, the patient, was burned on the face, neck and arms, and died the following day. His death, it is stated, was accelerated by the shock from the burn.

Queen Alexandra's Letters Examined

LONDON, March 2.—Although in her last few years at Sandringham the late Queen Alexandra wrote few letters except to her relatives and personal friends, the massive files of her correspondence, containing many thousands of letters she received over a long period, remained at her death, are now being carefully examined.

It has been rumored that those letters would probably form the basis of a volume, and also that a "life" of Queen Alexandra is to be written. The publication of a volume of letters is extremely unlikely. The great bulk of the files, after examination, is being destroyed.

Also there is no present intention of arranging for an official biography of her late Majesty, and it is considered improbable that such a course will be taken.

RECORD SEAL CATCH

LONDON, March 2.—A presentation has been made to Captain George Bebb to mark the world's record of his ship, the Neptune, as a sealer.

She has brought to Newfoundland no fewer than 1,004,193 seals, or an average of about 20,000 a year for her 50 years' service.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU
Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should have no regrets for avoiding it as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.
Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they accumulate and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.
At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of pure water and drink before breakfast, morning for a week. This is helpful in neutralizing the kidneys thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

CAMPBELLTON PLAYS AT CHARLOTTETOWN TOMORROW NIGHT

SECOND GAME OF SEMI-FINAL ON SATURDAY

Truro Gets Edge In Nova Scotia Semi-Finals

THE first game of the semi-finals for the Maritime hockey title, now held by Truro Bearcats, will be played at Charlottetown on Thursday night of this week between the Abegweit, winners over Amherst last night, and Campbellton, New Brunswick champions. The second and final game will be staged in Campbellton on Saturday night. At Truro defeated Kesterville, 4 to 3, on Kentville ice last night and have the edge for the Nova Scotia title in the game on their ice. It would appear that the winner of the Abegweit-Campbellton series will meet Truro in Truro on March 9, with the return game scheduled for March 11, according to M. A. H. officials.

Abegweit entered last night's game at Charlottetown with six-goal margin, which they increased quite handsomely. Amherst fought hard, but were no match for the experienced Islanders. Much interest centres on what Campbellton can do against the Abegweit, but the impression that prevails here is that the Islanders will get the jump tomorrow night and make Campbellton work all the more difficult on Saturday night.

BATHURST TEAM HERE ON FRIDAY

North Shore Team to Appear in Exhibition Against Locals Here

Bathurst hockey team will be here to play the Saint John Capitals on Friday night in an exhibition game, making it a rather strenuous week for the local outfit. Last night they played a 1-all tie with Fredericton and tonight they are at Sussex for the second play-off game. In tackling Bathurst here Friday, they are meeting one of the best teams in New Brunswick, and one that fought its way through the season into the play-off for the North Shore title. They lost out to Chatham, who in turn later lost to Campbellton. Campbellton then went on and won New Brunswick title, so that gives a fairly good idea of Bathurst's ability. In the nets they have Finnegan, the former Sussex net-minder. The locals will have their best line-up for this game and as the season is rapidly drawing to a close a good crowd is expected.

Stirling Raps Fredericton For Its "Unsportsmanlike" Conduct

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

THERE are few cities in Canada boasting better organization with respect to bowling and to our way of thinking there are few better recreations for the average fellow. You can get all the action you want on the alleys with arms, legs and wrists, for the game not only helps you wind but makes you limber and graceful on your feet. A noted bowler puts the case in this wise: "Unlike the old days, the alleys are now more or less of a meeting place for business and professional men. After a busy day at the office or about town they congregate at the alleys for an hour or two of much-needed recreation. All folk who are confined indoors and at desks in stuffy offices should have some form of recreation. And I know of none better than bowling. They used to call golf a "rich man's game" (It's still a bit expensive, too, I guess). And therefore every Tom, Dick and Harry couldn't afford to play it. Bowling, however, is well within the means of all. It doesn't only develop one physically but tends to bring out one's sporting qualities, patience and perseverance. Moreover, you make friends on the alleys. In brief, I consider bowling the greatest pastime and the greatest exercise for the individual." Do you agree with that, you baseball, golf, hockey, track and field and swimming fans. Personally, we think swimming is the ideal exercise. Let's have your views, fans.

CONGRATULATIONS, Saint John High, for again winning the inter-scholastic basketball title in this section. It is quite a monotonous habit but this year's team has ably upheld Saint John High's prestige in this line of sport.

BY THE rather safe margin of 47 points, Trojan Seniors captured their fourth New Brunswick title in a row last night in vanquishing Woodstock. They won by a margin of 60 points, which was hardly expected in view of the defeat inflicted on them by Woodstock at Woodstock last week. That defeat, however, can be accounted for in three reasons, first, the extremely slippery condition of the floor; second the absence of Beef Malcolm from the game, and third, the rooting of the Woodstock fans. And those Woodstock fans sure know how to root for the home town and under its inspiration, they excel themselves even against a team of the Trojan's rank. There was not very much to it last night and the Trojan's ran up the cash register so fast that the fans lost all track of the count in the maze that developed. Just what kind of a showing the locals will make in the Dominion play-offs remains to be seen but if they are going away for their games, they will have to play an even better game than they did last night as they will be facing any weak team by any means in Plumpton and Wilson they have two agile forwards. Plumpton, a newcomer, shows great promise but has a tendency not to pass at critical moments that may prove costly in a hard-fought game. Wilson pulled off several great shots while Malcolm was all over the floor. Kerr and Hollies put up their usual defence. Local fans will await with interest the announcement of dates for the play-offs.

FREDERICTON'S speedy young hockey team and the Comets gave the fans a great run last night. The capital outfit should show better next year. Tonight, the Comets play in Sussex in a game that will settle second place.

Thrilling Overtime Staged In Capital-Saint John Game

Overtime failed to reach a decision in the Fredericton-Saint John hockey game at the Arena last evening but the fans present saw one of the fastest and most thrilling contests of the year in the dying stages in a last desperate effort to break the tie but the local goal was unbeatable. The capital will play a return game in the arena at a date to be decided later.

TROJANS WIN FOURTH TITLE IN SUCCESSION

Malcolm Stars As Locals Beat Woodstock, 73-23

TROJAN SENIORS, one of the greatest basketball teams ever handed together in a city noted for its prowess in this direction, are once more New Brunswick champions, winning their fourth consecutive title in a convincing manner last night before a packed audience in the Y. M. C. A. gym by defeating Woodstock Seniors, 73 to 23. This gives Trojans the right to represent the Maritimes in the play-offs for the Eastern Canada finals and the right to go west to meet the western winners for the Dominion title. Under the careful coaching of Hubert Nevers, the Trojans have developed an ideal combination that was greatly in evidence last night, the quintette moving like a well-oiled machine and battering down easily the defence forces of the visitors, who although outclassed, were applauded for their efforts.

Trojans entered last night's game with a handicap of three points to overcome through Woodstock's unexpected victory last week, but as usual was never in doubt right from the start as the Trojan juggernaut rolled up score after score with the aid of "Beef" Malcolm playing one of the greatest games of his career. Malcolm scored 35 points for his team.

GOT FIRST SCORE

It was Malcolm who secured first blood after three minutes of hotly-contested play had gone by. Woodstock came back quickly on baskets by Jones and McKelney and then Plumpton cut their lead down to one point on a penalty shot. Malcolm put the Trojans in the lead with a great overhead shot and that was the lead Woodstock saw the lead. Barclay had Malcolm scored when Gordon Wilson made a great shot, his specialty. On that ball clean up to Wilson, who ducked Jones' and made no mistake.

INTER-ASSOCIATION

In the Inter-Association Bowling League last night, St. Mary's band took three points from Y. M. H. A. Total score: St. Mary's, 1919; Y. M. H. A., 1296.

BATHURST WON

DORCHESTER, March 2—The Bathurst High School hockey team defeated Dorchester High School here tonight 4 to 1, making the total for both home and home games 6 to 3 in favor of Bathurst.

FINAL PERIOD

Opening the final period, Woodstock ran their score up to 15 on baskets by MacGibbon and Jones. The Trojans appeared in this period in their new uniforms and to Malcolm went the honor of scoring the first goal in the new togethery. The big fellow showed up well in this period, being the floor in passing very few chances. The locals played a great team game and counted up points with monotonous regularity. Plumpton and Wilson paired well on the forward line, while Hollies and Kerr easily smothered the outside shots of the visiting team. The local immediately on losing the ball, dropped back to a five-man defence and were unbeatable.

Bald Men Grow Hair

Surprising reports are coming from men who were bald or losing hair and who acquired a new, vigorous growth by using a new compound that gives life in dormant hair roots. "Four inches of hair have grown over what was a bald spot," is the report of G. W. Mitchell. "I had a large bald spot and now, healthy hair has developed all over my head," writes C. F. Heller. Imagine the enthusiasm of Albert H. Flary when he reported: "My head was as bare as the bottom of a foot and now I have a good growth of hair." Dr. M. Schwanke reports that even with a second application of the compound his hair stopped falling; then a new growth started.

An Uncrowned King

IF BUD COULD ONLY GET CHARLEY PHILIPSON IN A RING, ANOTHER CROWN MIGHT CHANGE HANDS

THE uncrowned king of the bantamweights, that title fits Bud Taylor perfectly. If he can ever get Charley Philipson into the same ring, the pugilistic world will have a new champion. He holds a decision over Rosenberg, gained in 1923, before that mite slogger had won the championship. Taylor's most notable performance of recent date was staged against Jimmy McLaughlin in California. He decisively defeated the coast sensation. Taylor is a two-fisted fighter and decidedly clever in addition. Handicapped by a bad shoulder he underwent an operation about a year ago that seems to have perfectly restored the use of the arm.

Entries for City Badminton Tourney Must Be in at End of Week

Entries for the city badminton tourney to be held at the Army on March 9 and 10 will close on Saturday of this week with Miss Jean White, 100 Orange street, and those intending to enter are urged to get their names in as quickly as possible. A large entry list is expected and the committee will not accept any post entries. Special cups have been donated and the tourney promises to be one of the most successful held here in some years. The games will serve to give local players competition for the Maritime championships.

DEFENDS TITLE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 3—Charley Rosenberg, bantamweight champion of the world, successfully defended his title against George Butts, St. Louis bantam, in a 10-round bout here last night. K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York, middleweight, outpointed Babe McGorger, Kansas, in ten rounds.

NEW YORK, March 2—The State Athletic Commission ruled today that Mickey Walker must arrange to defend his world's welterweight title March 21, either against Tommy Mills of Scotland, or Joe Dundee, of Baltimore.

PITTSBURG HARD ON BRUINS' HEELS

New York Beats Ottawa While Pirates Trim Maroons in Montreal

MONTREAL, March 3—Results of last night's National League fixtures gave the Americans a triple victory for the first time during any one night this season. The games, however, failed to clarify the play-off situation. What little advantage there was in the results, went to Pittsburgh, as the Pirates' win over the Maroons, enabled them to hurdle one of the stiff obstacles facing them in their bid for a play-off position.

STUART IN FIGHT

BOSTON, March 3—Boston retained third position in the N. H. L. standing when they outplayed the Canadiens, winning by a score of 4-1. Against the tough defence of Claghorn and Hitchens, however, his brilliance was of little avail, and his team mate, Moreau, who was not able to get into the line-up on account of his injured ankle, was missed sorely. Cooper and Herberts each drew credit for two Boston goals, but one of Herberts was a soft score. His shot rebounded from the boards, and was tipped into the net from Conout's stick. In the late stages, the game became rough, and Billy Boucher and Red Stuart drew major penalties for indulging in a fist fight, Red coming in second best.

Semi-Final For Telegraph-Times Trophy On Friday

ST. STEPHEN High School was never suspended by W. E. Stirling, N. B. vice president of the M. P. The game, he says, will be played in Fredericton as soon as possible.

OLD SHOWMAN SEES PASSING OF THE CIRCUS

Visions of Deteriorating Every Year; Same True of Minstrelsy

ELEPHANT ATTACK ENDS PLAY IN TENT

Barnum Recalled As Quiet, Reserved Man; Bailey As "Good Mixer"

NEW YORK, March 2.—There is one man at least, to whom the old time wagon train circus carried a greater thrill than the five-year-old of today.

"TOM THUMB" HURTS HIM

Back in 1893, "Tom Thumb," a giant elephant that killed nine persons while with the Barnum show and later was placed in the Bronx

Zoo, only to be electrocuted because of his continued ferocity, attacked and seriously injured Runnells.

His circus life ended, the veteran turned to the stage and vaudeville, where work was less strenuous. Today, he is a cripple and in retirement.

"In the old days, the young served apprenticeship in the proper school and worked up to good places," he said. "They were days of the circus family when one generation after another followed the profession. Now things are different; people just drift in."

"Every year, I see the circus deteriorating. The same thing is true of minstrelsy. No longer have we any pantomime. The circuses are dropping away gradually."

Runnells started in the circus game when he was five years old, appearing in pantomime sketches with Madame McCarty's show in Scotland. He was the third member of a troupe composed of his father and brother. Later, he broke into riding and appeared with Howers and Cushing's show in London, performing before the royal family.

TRAVELS IN BRITAIN

Then he traveled successively with several shows in England, Ireland, Wales, Spain and Portugal, where the king witnessed the performance. He toured Russia and Prussia and the west to Paris.

The old L. B. Lent circus, which was located on 14th street in New York, had his services three years. He was at NYD's in 1870 and 1871, playing in "The Black Crook." He played with Barnum, off and on, fourteen years. In 1870, he went to South America, where he had many exciting experiences crossing the Andes with Carlo Brothers' show.

The old Cooper and Bailey circus was his next connection—and so on down the line until he was injured by "Tom Thumb."

"Barnum was a quiet and reserved man," Runnells said. "He never saw much of him because he didn't mix with the performers. He would attend the show and then leave. Essentially, he was a business man—a good one."

"Bailey was a great showman. He was a good mixer and at the same time was very strict. He liked people who loved their work. Once he had confidence in a man he would do anything for him."

DECISION SOON ON BIG INDIAN CLAIM

Suit Called Test Case Involving Land Worth Three Billion Dollars

ALBANY, March 3.—Judge Frank Cooper is expected to hand down soon in the Federal court here his decision in an action brought by the St. Regis Tribe of Indians which, should they prove successful, will result in an effort on their part to recover their ancestral lands in Northern New York, including the City of Syracuse and several small towns, the estimated value of whose land is about 8,000,000,000.

The suit was brought against the St. Lawrence River Power Company by James Deere, who represents the St. Regis Tribe, a part of the six nations. It was argued before Judge Cooper in the Federal court on Nov. 19 last and briefs have been filed on both sides. Charles E. Hughes appeared for the defendants.

OVERPLAYS ITS PART. PLATTSVILLE, Wis., March 3.—Hopper North tried to keep his feet warm on a cold night by turning on an electric bulb and putting it next to his feet under the cover. Then he slept. When he awoke he was enveloped in smoke and his feet were much too warm. The bed was afire.

YAKUTSK, Siberia, March 3.—Sable skins, the costliest and rarest of furs, are becoming so rare that the government has decided to prohibit further shooting of the animals. Whoever shall shoot one, says the new regulation, will himself be shot.

As in North America, sables in Russia have been diminishing.

REMARKABLE GOOD BEING DONE

Among Sick Women of Canada by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound! Here are Four Who Testify To That Fact

See View, Cape Breton, N.S.—"By reading the letters in one of your books I understand that a great many women sufferers have got relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I can say that my mother has taken it and has given it to me in my younger days for monthly troubles. I was working at service then and could not go to work some time for a week at a time, and then felt miserable enough. I could not be in a worse state than I was then. My mother said to get the Vegetable Compound, and I did, and it helped me. I am now married going on five years and have two lovely children. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. CHARLES A. PATTER, Sea View P.O., Cape Breton, N.S.

"My Girl Friend Took It" Ridgeway, Ontario.—"For over a year I suffered from pain each month that would drive me almost mad. My mother suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as my girl friend was taking it and told me it would do me good. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and I soon began to improve. I have since taken it again to make me stronger. I will answer my letters I receive asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. LANG HALL, R. R. 1, Ridgeway, Ontario.

Admiral, Sask.—"I am sure that any one who gives your medicines a fair trial will receive benefit. I have taken both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Blood Medicine through the Change of Life and I recommend them highly. I have a nervous and a worn-out feeling with loss of appetite for about a year. I saw your advertisement in the paper and took the medicine. My appetite returned and my ambition, and I felt like a new man again. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for the bowels and recommend all the Pinkham Medicines."—Mrs. JON JOFFRIN, Box 67, Admiral, Saskatchewan.

"Nervous Breakdown" Feltzen South, N.S.—"About two years ago I took sick and had a doctor called in. I was nervous and did not want to stay alone. He said I had a nervous breakdown. One day a friend called to see me and advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. I felt through my body that it was doing me good. I am at the age now when those queer feelings come around and I can say I am well. I cannot appreciate too highly what the Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA W. WILSON, Feltzen South, Nova Scotia. Sold by druggists everywhere.

ARGUES CLAIM FOR INGLEWOOD

Dr. F. R. Taylor Heard This Morning in Arbitration Proceeding

Mr. Montgomery Concludes His Address—Mr. Hughes, in Rebuttal, Closes Case

This afternoon should see the hearing into the Inglewood claim against the N. B. Electric Power Commission completed. Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the company, began his address this morning, and will conclude this afternoon, and with rebuttal by J. J. Hughes, K. C., senior counsel for the commission, the case will go to Judge LeBlanc for decision.

MR. MONTGOMERY. G. H. Montgomery, K. C., Montreal, counsel for the Inglewood Pulp and Paper Co., completed his argument yesterday afternoon. He spoke mainly on technical points. He contended that the commission had developed the Musquash because it was the most suitable in this part of the province, that Henry Holgate and P. H. and C. H. Mitchell should have been the engineers called by the commission instead of K. S. Lea, as the former had been connected with the work and were familiar with it.

THIS MORNING. Opening his argument this morning, Dr. Taylor argued that the Inglewood Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., and discussed exhaustively their rights under the act. 'The act, he said, gave the company the power to sell energy and construct the necessary pole lines, etc. He declared that even expropriation would not have been granted had the company so desired.

Discussing the evidence of N. Belding, assessor at Musquash, who valued the land as valued at $41,500 in 1920, Dr. Taylor said that would comprise the company's holdings in Musquash parish only and that the valuation was entirely of land as land, and that no consideration was made by the assessor of the holdings regarding water power rights.

SAYS RIDICULOUS. Concerning Mr. Barkhouse's evidence of the value being at $1 an acre, instead of being placed at $124,800, the assessment would be so far off on the basis. This, he termed, "ridiculous". In 1920 the commission, he said, decided to develop Musquash. This decision Dr. Taylor said, was a very proper one as the Musquash was a good power site. Counsel declared that the Grand Falls could never be a serious competitor of the Musquash owing to high cost of development at Grand Falls, and longer transmission.

FISHING AND HUNTING. The value of the fishing could be placed at $100,000 and hunting privileges were destroyed. Regarding inter-estate charges such expropriation, he declared it was only equitable that the company be granted this as they had been deprived from enjoyment of their property rights. He cited cases to support his argument.

FOR BERTHS NORTH OF RODNEY WHARF. City Engineer Again Recommends Exploration in Report on Harbor Work

The report of City Engineer G. G. Hare of the work in the harbor department in 1925, in connection with the expenditure for last year, which totalled $171,768.04, says: "While the general estimate was not exceeded, it must not be thought that all the work necessary to keep the properties in first-class repair was carried out. On account of the wharfage rates, the money was not available to carry the demand of modern transportation and increasing traffic through the port."

I mind Billy when he was just a young feller runnin' a store over to Weymouth Bridge, Phyllis Schoshee. His father had been a fine old school teacher in his day. Billy he went to Yarmouth for a spell—an' then he went to Eastport. I seen him three or four times an' he come home to dinner.
