The Struggle Between the Fishermen's Union of Charlotte County and The East Coast Fish Association is Settled.

AGREEMENT FOR ONE YEAR IS SIGNED BY BOTH PARTIES FISHERMEN FROM EVERY SECTION OF THE COUNTY PRESENT AT BIG MEETING FRIDAY

J. A. BELYEY

J. A. Belyea, President of the Weir-owners and Weirfishermen's Union, Mr. Belyea has been at the head of the Union since its organization, and to his untiring efforts is due much of the success that has attended the Union.

with a Committee of the East Coast Fish Association, with authority to act, composed of Chas. Capen, Pres. Elias Lawrence, Treas. Harry Paine Gilford Mitchell and Irving R. Todd

ANDREW MCGEE

Andrew McGee who was chairman of the committee that represented the fishermen, was faithful to the trust reposed in him, and on every occasion has labored for the best interests of the Union.

GEORGE E. FRAULEY

George E. Frauley, Secretary of the Weir-owners and Weirfishermen's Union, Mr. Frauley has proven himself the right man in the right place. He has brought to his office an enthusiasm and attention to detail, which have done wonders, and brought a harvest of good results.

After some discussion and explanation of some minor points the report of the committee was accepted. J. Sutton Clark, Andrew McGee, Saml. Craig, Ira McConnell, B. Dick, George Ellis and others all made short addresses expressing their pleasure at the happy termination of the difficulty. Several of the speakers warmly commended the committee for their efforts and the good work accomplished, and all looked forward to a prosperous and profitable season.

It was stated that it was the desire of the packers that all outside the Union and those who had withdrawn, should become members of the Union. The packers hoped that the utmost harmony would prevail and would do all in their power to establish the most friendly relations.

Election of officers for the ensuing year followed, and the following gentlemen were chosen:

J. A. Belyea, President Irving R. Todd, Vice-President George E. Frauley, Secretary The old executive were elected with the addition of Andrew McGee. After lasty cheers for the Committee, the Union and Irving R. Todd the meeting adjourned.

Over three hundred hardy fishermen, representing every fishing section in Charlotte County, met in Courts' hall Friday to hear the report of the committee appointed by the Union to arrange a settlement with the East Coast Fish Association, of the Packers of Lubec and Eastport.

President Belyea occupied the chair and seated on the stage were the members of the Executive Committee.

After routine business, the Committee that met the representatives from the East Coast Fish Association presented their report.

Text of the Agreement Report of a meeting between a committee of the Charlotte County Weir-owners and Weirfishermen's Union and a committee of the East Coast Fish Association to arrange on a price for fish for the coming season, held at St. Stephen, March 29th, 1909.

Present The Committee of the Charlotte County Weir-owners and Weirfishermen's Union, with authority to act, composed of Andrew McGee, chairman Capt. Peter Cameron Bismark Dick Ira McConnell Hugh McGregor A. B. O'Neill

Easter Weather Lore

According to the old English proverb, a wet Easter is not favorable to the consequent crop of hay:

A good deal of rain on Easter day Gives a crop of good grass, but little good hay.

If the sun shines on Easter morning, it will, according to the same authority, shine again on Whit Sunday. A Sauser piece of weather lore goes further, declaring that if the sun shines on Easter day it will shine a little every day all the year round, while there is a corresponding notion that if it rains then it will rain a little, if only a few drops, every day during the ensuing year. New York Herald.

Do You Feel Used Up?

You're discouraged and played out--scarcely enough energy to think, and less to work on. The reason? You are run down, blood is thin, nerves are like Indian rubber, not like steel as they ought to be. Use Ferroneze and the tired feeling will go--it can't stay because rich nutritious blood and the bodily vigor Ferroneze makes, crowds out weakness of every kind. Use Ferroneze and you'll feel like a fighting king--full of energy--filled up with ambition--ever ready to work. No strengthening tonic so potent. Neglect not a day longer. All dealers sell Ferroneze in 50 ct. boxes.

Easter Used to Last Eight Days

In the ancient church the celebration of Easter lasted eight days, but after the eleventh century the time was limited to three days, and soon again reduced to two days. It was formerly the favorite time for performing the rite of baptism. The courts of justice were closed, and alms distributed to the poor and needy, who were even feasted in the churches. Slaves were set free, and as the fasting of Lent was over the people gave themselves up to every enjoyment.

St. George Should Have a Public Library

Our standing army, small though it may be is similar to all other standing armies, a drain on the common wealth. In St. George, we are pretty much a law abiding people. There are no vicious folk among us, and for years we got along well without armed protection. Then is it not well to dispense with this extra cost? Let us disarm, and apply our money to a better use. Let us look at this question in a broad light. We wish to better our conditions, we are endeavoring each year to get on a little higher plane than the last, and we should consider carefully every step that is taken in the expending of our income in order to get the very best results from our limited means. We have a good educational system. Our schools are doing successful work. Our churches are powerful factors in the life of the community. We have a splendid temperance organization, to which the most of our young people belong. There is also a large and well conducted Band of Hope for the youths of the town. Then why should we waste money for a phantom fear? There are none to break the law. Rather let us strengthen the work of the institutions which have been named and provide with our money something not negative in character, but which will be a positive force in the lives of the citizens. The worth of a good book cannot be told, and the town has felt the lack of a public library for years. We have scores of young men, who if they wish to spend an evening out of their homes are driven to the streets for amusement. Why should not St. George have a public library and a first class reading room in connection with it, where a pleasant and profitable hour could be spent in looking over the leading periodicals of the day or spent in pleasant and profitable conversation. A few hundred dollars from the town would form the nucleus of such a public library and I am sure the public spirit of the people of this place would do the rest. In a few years St. George would possess a good library, which would in a short time produce a marked improvement in our intellectual life and the good results would be felt in every direction. The people of St. George are making many sacrifices for the education of the young then let them not stop at the school but furnish intellectual pabulum to those who graduate from our educational institution in order that the moral and intellectual growth may not come but continue and thus sweeten and strengthen the character in all the years to come.

Should we not remove the reproach from our midst that we became incorporated for law and order and if any one doubts the feasibility of this scheme, let him have faith and wait say five years and at that time he will doubtless be convinced. He will find that the mere suggestion of a town marshal would bring a smile of amusement and he would be thought joking. By that time it will be town Librarian which will be needed and instead of the stern and grim features of the representative of Mars as our chief official it will be the beautiful features of some fair damsel a fitting representative of the goddess of the arts and sciences.

LIBRARY

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the heart or kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription--Dr. Shoop's Restorative--is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments--the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak stomach, heart or kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

ST. GEORGE SHOULD HAVE A PUBLIC LIBRARY

How shall we spend our money to the best advantage? Perhaps this problem is confronting every incorporated town and city in the world. The question "how shall we get the most, the greatest return for our money" is especially true of small towns, having a limited income, and at the same time having needs very similar to larger places. In these cases it is especially necessary to use good judgment and to expend money just where it is most needed and where the returns will yield the greatest good to the community.

For instance, let us take the case of our own little town, with a small population and having no large amount of wealth within its borders. Our income is necessarily very limited, and yet our needs are many, and resemble those of a place several times as large. We need our streets lighted by electricity, we should have a good water system, sidewalks, and many other wants too numerous to mention. Many of these things involve such a cost that we feel yet unequal to them.

With our income such as it is can we not have some of the good things enjoyed by other places more opulent than ourselves, without adding too great a burden to the taxpayers. In every town or city there is one thing which is considered a great good to the community and that is the possession of a Public Library. This is perhaps one of the chief features which characterizes morale of any place, and a town that possesses a good public library must certainly be entitled to rank with progressive places.

St. George has been incorporated four years. What have we to show for such incorporation? We have a town hall to our credit; street lights and considerable improvement in our sidewalks; also a much better drainage system. These improvements all count for much. The schools also have come under the management of the Council and no one will deny the fact that this has been an improvement. While there has been much accomplished, much still remains to be done. And with our income limited how can we accomplish more. Can we not retrench in some direction where the expenditure does not produce tangible returns, equal to the money spent. There is one department where I think a saving can be made, and that is in the help of police. We have no intention for a moment to criticize or find fault with our council-board, believing as we do that they have shown marked ability in administering the affairs of the town. Yet we write this to merely suggest further effort and we trust it will be taken in the spirit in which it is written; that is to help if possible, the conditions of the community.

We have mentioned one item of expenditure which we think could be greatly reduced, if not dispensed with entirely, and that is the cost of a Town Marshal. Outside of our schools, nearly one sixth of the cost of running the town is for the salary of this official. And at the end of the year we have nothing to point to, no tangible proof for this money so spent. (Continued on last column)

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.

Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications.

Father Morrissey used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic elixir to be applied inside the nostrils. This combined treatment known as

"Father Morrissey's No. 26"

Attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures.

Mr. F. L. Mills, Box 121, Springfield, N. S., wrote on August 31st last:

"I have had two prescriptions for catarrh from Rev. Father Morrissey, No. 1 and No. 2, but I think No. 1 has done me the most good, and that is the one I am getting filled from time to time.

I would recommend this prescription as a cure for Catarrh, as his tablets are the only remedy I can get to help me. The No. 26 Tablets are a great tablet."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morrissey's No. 26. 50c for the combined treatment at your dealer's.

Consumption

ITS CAUSES, TREATMENT AND PREVENTION

From a Layman's Point of View

HOW TO AVOID OR PREVENT CONSUMPTION

The important points in the prevention of consumption are: pure air, sanitary surroundings, an abundance of light and fresh air, and cleanliness in the dwelling, office, school and workshop, proper clothing, good food properly cooked, moderate rest and recreation, avoidance of all excesses, in other words, moderate living. The excessive use of alcoholic liquors lowers vitality, favors infection and hastens a fatal termination.

Every one should be prepared to battle with consumption. The disease spares no class of people. It spreads its terrors in the huts of the poor and the dwellings of the rich. Weakly persons, particularly those who have been exposed to the disease, or those descended from consumptive parents, should constantly be on their guard against this disease. These persons should seek outdoor occupation.

Join in the anti-spit crusade. Favor the enactment and enforcement of laws prohibiting the spitting on sidewalks, on floors, in street cars or other conveyances.

Do everything you can, by influence, persuasion, example, or power to prevent those with whom you live or work or associate or whom you employ, from spitting on carpets or floors of the house, the school, the office or the shop, and use every endeavor to cause the consumptive with whom you live, work or associate to properly dispose of his sputum.

If you are a woman, do not wear skirts which sweep the sidewalk or store floor or the spit of the consumptive and other filth, and thus carry disease into the house.

Don't put in your mouth money or articles which have been promiscuously handled by others.

Don't put your finger in your mouth or nostrils unless it is perfectly clean.

Don't neglect to wash your hands before you eat.

Keep the body clean. Bathe frequently.

Exercise daily in the open air in cold weather or in warm. Walking, rowing, swimming, cycling, golfing, horse-back riding or other exercises causing deep breathing are all of advantage if practised in moderation. Walk erect. Breathe through your nostrils always.

Do not imagine that the strenuous exercises so much recommended nowadays will so strengthen your body as to prevent consumption. Many who have taken these exercises have died of consumption, and many persons in

Do not neglect a cold or cough. Countless graves are filled with those who have done so. Colds reduce the vital force of the body, and make it easy for the germ of consumption to get a foothold in the lungs. The history of a large percentage of consumption cases is the history of neglected colds. Watch your general health. A prescription for your cough may save your life and the life of others. Avoid patent medicines or 'cure all' fitted for each and every person.

Do not fail to consult a physician should you notice the presence of any suspicious symptoms.

Let your food be simple and nourishing, taken at the same time each day, and properly cooked. Take plenty of pure milk, butter, eggs, and fresh fruits and vegetables. Avoid parboiled tea and intoxicating liquors.

A consumptive mother should not nurse her children.

CONSUMPTION AND SCHOOL ROOMS

The confinement of a large number of children in schools unquestionably makes a school-room a source of danger from contagious or infectious diseases. A susceptible child exposed to consumption is exceedingly liable to contract the disease.

No teacher known to be afflicted with consumption should teach in a school. No pupil known to be afflicted with consumption should attend a school. No employes known to be afflicted with consumption should be allowed to work in the school.

The school-room should be well ventilated. The best uses should be made of the poorest facilities of ventilation.

The school room should be flushed with fresh air during intermissions, by opening the windows and doors.

Children should not be permitted to use any pencil or other article belonging to another which is liable to be put in the mouth. And pupils should not be permitted to use slates 'cleaned' as slates are too often cleaned.

Children should not be permitted to spit on the floor.

Pupils should be instructed to rinse the school drinking cup before using, or, much better, to have individual drinking cups.

Children should be instructed to carefully wash before using all whistles or other instruments or toys purchased in shops or of hawkers on the streets, which may have been put in the mouths of would-be purchasers or of vendors displaying their wares.

The floors of school-rooms should be scrubbed frequently and should be wet before sweeping with sawdust saturated with Standard Disinfectant No. 3, which is inexpensive. Unclean, dusty floors harbor disease germs and are very common carriers of contagion.

Don't Neglect Your Cough

You may dislike taking medicine—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Catarrhozone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor, full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that's congested is healed, irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhozone. In 25 ct. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

You musn't say "As silly as a goose" any more; for naturalists have been studying this animal of late years, and they have come to the conclusion that she is the wisest old bird going.

A flock of geese squatted round the barn-yard at night is a much greater protection than the watch-dog. They are tight sleepers, and will give the alarm the instant they see a stranger moving about.

PEACE

There is no doubt of the great injury that has been done by the unhappy differences between the fishermen of Charlotte County and the sardine syndicate. The fishing interests were so important, to all concerned, that the adjustment of all difficulties is a matter for sincere congratulation. The men who met and brought about the settlement of the protracted quarrel, by their wise counsels, have earned a real title to lasting fame. Greetings wishes all connected with the fishing interests a most successful season.

OUR CIVIC PLATFORM

"Had we any voice in the management of the affairs of Newcastle or any other New Brunswick town, we would, as a preliminary to the introduction of any other much-needed changes, exert ourselves to the utmost to so alter the civic system as to bring into operation the following reforms:--

The making of all respectable citizens eligible for election to any office within the gift of the electorate.
The election of assessors, now appointed by the council;
The election of the school trustees now appointed by the council;
The provision of a sinking fund large enough to rapidly reduce the present debt, no further additions to be made to the latter;

The taxation of vacant or unimproved land at the selling price asked for it by the owners, who are now merely speculating in land values, either to build upon such premises, thus increasing the number of dwellings and affording accommodation at reasonable rates for an increased population, or sell their property, now unless, to those who are willing and anxious to build houses, stores or factories upon it and use it not only for their own selfish purposes but for the good of the community.

The granting of municipal assistance to industrial ventures only upon condition that the Town shall retain as stock the full value of the amount contributed, thus giving the Town a share in the control of the enterprise and a voice in the hiring and payment of employees; such grant or grants to be submitted to a vote of the people before ratification.
The above article is taken from the Newcastle Advocate, and exactly fits the situation in this town.

HANGING A SURVIVAL OF BARBARISM

Juries are less and less disposed to find verdicts involving the taking of the life, even when the evidence of guilt is patent to all. This answers to the spirit of the time.

Society is coming to see that nothing is gained by having two murders instead of one, even if the second be a legal murder.

Hanging is a survival of barbarism. Those who defend it, however, as a protection against violence and crime, are unwilling that capital punishment should be applied to women.

There is something frightful in the details given of the case of a Mrs. Farmer in New York State, who has been electrocuted for murder. The law makes no distinction of sex; but human feeling cries out against the hanging or the electrocution of women. Any deterrent purposes which it may be the desire to serve in the connection could be equally secured by life imprisonment, but it hints of savagery to keep a woman for months awaiting her fate, and then, in her presence, to make arrangements for the taking of her life--a woman with a husband and children. If society is too timid to take the large course of putting an end to capital punishment it should, and especially through those energetic women's associations, which are so much in evidence now, insist that women should no longer be subjected to the death penalty.

Perhaps this softness toward one sex might be thought to encourage crime and to endanger society, and one has to be cautious in urging special distinctions on the ground of sex, at a moment when women themselves insist that there shall be no sex distinction with respect to the functions of citizenship.

At the first time, every instinctive feeling of chivalry, of reverence for woman, simply as woman, cries out against the application of capital punishment to the feminine half of humanity.

BY THE WAY

Peace.

All shake!

The fishermen were there five hundred strong.

"Peace has her victories no less renowned than war."

Are you assessed on $1000 real or personal property? If you are you may run for Mayor.

It seems to be quite generally allowed that this is going to be a great season for sardines.

Remove property qualifications and allow the citizens the right to nominate whom they please for civic offices.

In the selection of Mayor the electors are limited to a choice between property holders only. Several features of the town incorporation act could be changed to advantage.

We were kept very busy April 1st attending telephonic calls, investigating sardine stories, and doing other stunts appropriate to the proper observance of the day.

With all their faults, the Donkibors can teach Canadians lessons in thrift. Peter Veregin, head of the Colony, is now in Winnipeg buying Two Hundred Thousand Dollars worth of supplies for the Donkibor community, and he has the money to pay the shot.--Ex.

That Ross-Plummer cheque for $2,750,000 represents a pretty nifty sum of coin of the realm, yet it pales into insignificance in comparison with the cheque for Seven Million Dollars which recently passed from the C. P. R. to the Quebec Government in payment of an old claim.--Chronicle.

In making the assessment every citizen is deeply interested, and there is the usual dissatisfaction every year. Although this board is the important one in a financial way, and its judgment touches every citizen, it is not an elective board, and the people are given no choice in the selection of men for this responsible position.

"Yes sir, boasted the hotel proprietor, that dogs the best" rat catcher in the state."

Just as he spoke two big rats scurried across the office floor. The dog never noticed them or lifted his nose.

A rat dog? the travelling man said, look at that will you?
"Oh, that's all right said the landlord. "He knows those rats, but let a strange rat come in here once."--Everybody's Magazine.

The article on the first page, on the public library for the town, should be carefully read, as it is a matter of much importance.

In order to bring a community to a higher standard generally, especially in reference to its mental development, a public library affords the opportunity. St. George should not be behind other towns in the county, as we understand several libraries are already established.

One day, says a Chinese legend, the great god Buddha was very hungry. There were no restaurants in the neighborhood. A little rabbit perceived the god's plight and hopping up to him said:

"Eat me, O Buddha!"
Touched by such unselfish devotion, the god transported bunny to the moon, where he still sits in the top of a tree pounding in a mortar the herbs that go to make up the water of life.

At the spring feast in China ever since that time people give each other moon shaped cakes stamped with the image of a rabbit.
The warm sunny days of Spring have produced a most pronounced liar, in the person of an otherwise respectable member of society. The breaking of an axe handle is responsible for the yarn. It seems some thirty years ago a deep hole was bored through the solid surface of the "Little Island." The diggers were after silver and went down some eighty feet through solid rock. At this depth the workmen were surprised to find a large root of a tree. A portion of the root was secured by the hero of this tale. He fashioned the wood into an axe handle and on Saturday night seated in a grocery store, on a molasses keg, came back at one of the company with an established reputation, with the following: "I took the root home, made an axe handle, put an axe in it and wore it out and in the years that followed have worn out eighty two axes. This morning three tons of ice stored in the corner of our barn fell, and the handle broke. I never saw the like and cannot account for its toughness.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

Some interesting local notes have been crowded out this week.

Correspondence from Back Bay and L'Esprit received too late for this issue will appear next week.

Schooner Mattie J. Allen, in tow of Tug Dolphin of Lubec, arrived in port Friday and is loading pulp for Norwalk.

Commissioner Goodell is making temporary repairs on the streets. Several washouts have occurred owing to the heavy rain.

The streets presented a lively appearance Friday, owing to the large number of fishermen who were here to attend the Union meeting.

Services in commemoration of the solemn events in the last week of the Lord's life on earth are being held every day in the Catholic and Episcopal churches and preparations are being made for a worthy celebration of the joyous Easter.

The efforts of the citizens of Calais to re-open the St. Croix shoe factory will likely be successful. Two gentlemen from one of the largest shoe towns in New England have been looking over the plant and securing information, and it is likely that they will engage in the manufacture of shoes, as they seemed favorably impressed with the conditions.

The Debating Club met Monday evening and had a very interesting discussion the subject being Resolved: That an export duty on unmanufactured lumber, going into the United States would be a benefit to Canada. The Affirmative side won the decision. Speakers for the Affirmative were T. K. Kent, Rev. H. I. Lynds, S. L. Lynde, A. C. Toy, Leo McCrattan and H. McKenzie. Negative Edw. McCrattan, Dr. Alexander, H. R. Lawrence, Wm. Seelye, K. B. Wathen and Dr. Taylor. Judge C. Hazen McGee.

A special on the N. B. S. Railroad came in last Friday with a car load of lumber. The lumber will be used in renovating the old engine house, which will be turned into a freight shed. The present combination freight and passenger station will be used exclusively for the accommodation of passengers and the intention is to have the finest depot on the road. Separate waiting rooms for ladies and gentlemen will be constructed and a modern up to date station house will replace the present antiquated building.

A meeting will be held in Elder Memorial Hall, St. Stephen, Tuesday evening April 13th, at 8 o'clock, to inaugurate an active public campaign for the control and stamping out of Tuberculosis in Charlotte County.

Tuberculosis is costing our county fifty lives and fifty thousands of dollars every year; and we are all exposed constantly to its dangers.

It is a preventable disease, and our cooperative efforts will lead, within five years, to a saving of at least twenty five lives annually.

A silver collection will be taken to defray the costs of the meeting.

Half a dozen deer, two bucks and four does, passed through town last week. They were captured for Game Warden McGibbon in Victoria county in response to a request from Grand Manan parties that the local government make an attempt to restock that island with deer and partridge. The partridge have not yet been secured but will probably be sent to the island before the year closes. The deer were run down in the deep snow by experienced hunters and when enough had been captured they were crated and sent to St. Stephen by express. They arrived here by the night train Thursday, were immediately placed aboard the Aurora and have since been liberated on Grand Manan.—Courier.

At Lake George, York County, yesterday, the first antimony smelter in America was started. There is an unlimited market for the finished product at $150 a ton. A force of 65 men will be employed at the Lake George works. One-third of these will be technical men from outside, but for the balance the company will utilize native labor. A haul of nine miles, to Harvey Station, will be necessary in the shipment of the output. It is hoped, however, that the Valley Railroad will make the shipping end of the business much easier of accomplishment. The future of the mine looks exceedingly bright. Mr. A. S. Baker, who came here from London, England, to exploit the mine, and Mr. C. M. Crove, were at the Dufferin last evening. They return to Lake George today.—St. John Star.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

Paster ties at Hanson Bros.

A new fitting room has been added to the Clothing Dept. of Jas. O'Neill's store. It will be used exclusively for fitting and displaying clothing. All the suits are on hangers and are thus kept neat and clean and free from wrinkles. This addition has been found necessary on account of the increasing business in clothing and is proving much more satisfactory to customers for trying on suits instead of the old way.

The matter of the Fishermen's Annual picnic will soon be dealt with by the Union. This event is of great importance to any town in which it is held, as it means the distribution of a large amount of money, and this year the affair should be on a larger scale than ever before. There has been some talk of the Athletic Association taking hold of the matter, also one of the churches, in any case now is the time to get in touch with the Executive of the Union, and find out prospects of the picnic being held here.

To insure against the extinction of the cod and the lobster in the waters of Maine, the national government is making unusual efforts this year in restocking. Millions of tiny cod eggs are being collected daily by the fish commission steamer Gannett and deposited in the hatchery at Boothbay. Since the government began to take an active part in the propagation of the cod, the fishermen have been making better fares and the fish are now more plentiful than they have been for a great many years. Much credit for the present satisfactory condition is due the fishermen, who are co-operating with the government in the work, realizing that it is of great benefit to them. Although much of the Gannett's time is devoted to interest of the cod, the lobster is not being neglected. Plenty of seed lobsters are being secured and these are treated in the same way as the cod eggs.

Obituary

ROBERT MURRAY

Robert Murray, late of St. George, N. B., departed this life last Sunday morning, at his residence on Fort Hill. Mr. Murray has been suffering for several years with complicated illness among which was tuberculosis. He was for many years shut out from the world of sound, and suffered much on this account. He was subject to this and that depression which does not come to the ordinary run of mortals. He was aged sixty-three years and eleven months. Funeral services were conducted by Rector of Christ Church, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.—Eastport Citizen.

MRS. MARY LETITIA WYMAN

Mrs. Mary Letitia Wyman, widow of the late George L. Wyman, died Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ada Holden, after a long illness from cancer. Deceased was in her 66th year and had been a resident of Two Harbors for 17 years. Five brothers survive her, John McGee of Oconto, Wis., Andrew McGee of California, Gurtley McGee of St. George, N. B., James McGee of Milwaukee and A. J. McGee of this place. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ada Holden, and one grandson, Dean Holden, to mourn her loss.

The funeral took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence and was in charge of Rev. Parker, rector of the Episcopal church in Duluth, assisted by Rev. W. E. J. Gutz, pastor of the St. E. church of this city. There was a large attendance of townspeople. Interment will be made in the local cemetery.

Mrs. Wyman was a woman greatly beloved by all who knew her. For five years past she has been a constant sufferer and invalid, yet she bore her suffering, which was so great at times as to be agonizing to those who witnessed it, with patient fortitude and a calm exterior. Her pleasant greetings and her patience were a lesson to the many who visited her during her long illness. She was a member of the Episcopal church and a devoted Christian wife and mother. Her memory will long be revered by all who were so fortunate as to enjoy her acquaintance.—Two Harbors Iron News.

Mrs. Wyman was favorably known here where she resided for many years, and news of her death will be heard with sincere regret by a large circle of friends.

HENRY F. TODD

Friends of Henry F. Todd were shocked to hear of his death which occurred at his home in St. Stephen, Wednesday morning. Although it was known that Mr. Todd had been ill of the prevailing influenza for the past two weeks it was not supposed that the sickness would have a fatal termination. Mr. Todd was born in St. Stephen in 1847, the second son of the late Freeman H. Todd. The deceased has held a prominent place in the business life of the St. Croix, and was largely interested in the industries of the community. Besides his interest in the firm of F. H. Todd & Sons he was a director of the St. Croix Paper Co., Calais Tanning Co., and Frontier Steamboat Co., and was financially interested in other industries and institutions. He was also a member of and a liberal contributor to the Union church. Mr. Todd was also prominent in town affairs, and served three terms as Mayor of St. Stephen, 1883-6 as well as for a number of terms at the council board. He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Mary McDowell of St. Andrews, and one daughter, Mrs. E. P. McNicol. Also by two brothers, Frank and William F. and one sister, Mrs. C. W. Young, who live in the deep country of the community in the grid. The funeral services were held on Friday afternoon.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

The Widow In White.
JOSE MERRIFIELD.
Copyright, 1921, by C. H. Stetler.

"There she goes!" Little Compton gave the alarm, and everybody in the Pasquale studio leaped for the windows as the white automobile whizzed by. Pont cascals crashed on the floor. The model, a slender, dainty figure, with a spray of spring boughs over the bare shoulder and a trail of grass green velvet from bust to ankle, broke her pose and turned her head.

Pasquale himself had been the first to run and half a front seat, so to speak, at the middle window, with Jules Le Breton towering over him. No one spoke until the moment of suspense was passed and the white auto had swerved around the corner of the Boulevard des Anges. Then a low, intense breath of released suspense sounded suddenly through the hangings, and the Pasquale students stared into one another's eyes, rapturously, gloatingly, just exactly as they had done every day at the same hour for six days.

"She is celestial," murmured Le Breton huskily as he lifted his fallen easel. But he did not place crayon to paper again that afternoon. He sat and smoked a short Amiens pipe and stared at the spray of spring boughs on the model's bare shoulder, and the blood bubbled through his veins joyously, bubbling, like the little mountain brooks breaking through thin April ice. Le Breton had spring fever; also, in a minor degree, Le Breton was newly in love again.

Pasquale crossed the room as soon as the model had resumed the pose, and he bent affectionately forward over Le Breton's chair and tapped on the plump bow of the Amiens pipe to recall Le Breton's soul from the asphodel meadow of old dreams. "Mon ami, I have discovered a small thing," he said in an undertone so that Compton from Delaware would not hear. Compton from Delaware was a cynic, a person utterly beyond the gates of spring enchantment. He had the artistic temperament, but it showed itself in his work, not his hair, and his love for his words. And therein Compton from Delaware was absolutely an original and unique character among the art students at Pasquale's. Also he was absolutely despised as a hopeless business proposition. But the eyes of the girl with the spring boughs passed over Le Breton's blond ringlets and velvet blouse and lingered on the close cropped head of Little Compton from Delaware.

It was the way he had with women. "I have discovered her habitation," whispered Pasquale. "She is a widow in white." Le Breton's eyes flashed open. "Ah, it is her white! It is her divinity!" he said. "It is her symbol of release. She did not love him if she can mourn in white. But the art divine, enchanting, mysterious, to garb herself from top to toe in swathe white, to swathe her face in creamy chiffon like an houri, to challenge one's daring, to plique the curiosity, does it not all prove the woman behind the veil, the woman celestial, yet with the dash, the mere touch, so like the high light of the diabolique in her benevolent nature? Where does she live, Pasquale?"

PEN PICTURE OF COBALT.

What a Britisher Thinks of Canada's Famous Mining Camp.
Mr. H. Hamilton Fyfe is writing a series of letters to The London Daily Mail on the "Land of the Future," so to wit, Canada. Mr. Fyfe draws this picture of the Cobalt mining district: "It is an easy place to see, Cobalt, for all the big propositions lie close around the lake, which is itself to be burrowed under in the hope that beneath its waters lie rich deep veins of silver. The Right-of-Way and Larose shafts are within a biscuit-throw of the station. The Niagara just across the lake, the University but a short walk, and so on. The miners' wooden shacks, with hotel, restaurant, stock exchange (which is also the theatre), and a few stores all cluster together on one little hill just above the railway track. It looks, of course, like a place that was only started yesterday. Upon the permanence of the vein hangs the question whether it shall grow into a big town, or whether the hillside, and a bus human ant-hill, shall in a few years be deserted again, and the wooden buildings left to rot in silent loneliness. Whatever happens, Cobalt will always be an interesting monument for my prospector being a hospitable soul, even when he found I was not a buyer. But no liquor is openly on sale, and anything like disorder is put down with a heavy hand. "Usually a mining camp is in the wilds, far from railroad and civilization. To this one you can travel in a Pullman car, and it is nothing unusual to see well-dressed women picking their way through the mud, visitors for the day from the big cities. But to miners of long experience Cobalt is a mining camp de luxe. They may gamble about the ban on alcohol, but they appreciate the plentiful supply of food as well as the fact that they are only twelve hours off. For "Tarsar," they tell me, is one of the finest jag-places on earth."

READY FOR HARVESTERS.

Railways Expect to Handle the Crop Without Difficulty.
At the present moment the western section of Canada is claiming all the spare energies of the Canadian Pacific in preparation for the handling of the harvest. The task is a big one, as even with men packed as close as the harvest laborers could be, it means for the day from 45 to 50 big trains to get them to the West, and by the time the first wheat is harvested there will be a thousand or so more there, so that it is not thought there will be any car shortage. The only way in which any trouble is likely to be caused is by the sudden rushing of enormous quantities of wheat to the railroad towards the end of the shipping season. There is the more danger of this as a big crop is expected, and it is some twenty days late, which means that there will be that much less time to get the wheat away before lake navigation closes.

DEER IN CHINA SHEP.

A large deer with a good spread of horns dashed through Moncton streets the other day, making a startling appearance and a dramatic picture. Three gentlemen were standing on the curb when the deer dashed through the former city square and, falling on the wet pavement, was thrown between them, abruptly terminating the conversation. Quickly arising, the animal dashed into the East India store, which was heavily stocked with china, glass and crockery ware, and rumming the length of the store, leaped over the high desk and dashed through a window at the rear. The proprietor, who had been standing outside, rushed in, expecting to find that the deer had created havoc among the glassware but discovered that the animal had broken only one cuspidor in its hasty journey through the premises. The deer was slightly cut by the window glass but ran through back yards, over high fences, and down to the wharf, disappearing in the direction of Albert County, a good deal of excitement was caused by the incident. Some has been very pleased in this section of New Brunswick and the sight of moose and deer within the city limits is not infrequent.

MARTIN SENOUR 100 per cent. Pure Paint

As the season for painting is drawing near, we wish to inform you we are introducing THE MARTIN SENOUR 100 per cent. PURE PAINT with confidence that the public will appreciate the advantages of an absolutely pure paint

We have now in stock: Floor paint, Exterior and Interior Boat paint, Carriage stains and varnishes

GUARANTEE

WE GUARANTEE the Martin-Senour 100 per cent. pure paint [except a few dark shades that cannot be prepared from lead and zinc], to be made from pure carbonate of lead, pure oxide of zinc, with coloring matter in proportionate quantities necessary to make their respective shades and tints, with pure linseed oil and turpentine dyes, and to be entirely free from water, benzine, whiting and adulterations, and sold subject to chemical analysis.

THE MARTIN-SENOUR CO., LTD.

To Ascertain the Amount of Paint you require:

It depends on the condition of the surface, but the following example will show the method of estimating approximately the quantity of Martin-Senour 100 Pure Paint needed. Add the number of feet front and rear to the number of feet in length of both sides. Multiply this by the average height. Divide by 400 (as one gallon will cover 400 square feet, two coats); this will give the required number of gallons.

EXAMPLE:
Front	25 feet
Rear	25 "
Side	30 "
Side	30 "
Height	110 "
Divide by 500	2200 "
Gallons for 2 coats - 5 1/2

DOING EUROPE

This Tourist Seemed to Have a Mania For Souvenirs.

I had met Jones before. In fact, meeting him had become a sort of habit. The first time I saw him he was hanging by his feet, an expectant, squirming mass, on the facade of Barclay's castle, kissing the stone of eloquence. My camera caught him in the act. "Gad!" he spluttered when I told him that his feet were immortalized. "Is my face in it? Send me one, will you? That'll prove to the folks back in Zanesville that I did it."

I had run across him again in London, where all ways meet. I was sauntering around the Whitechapel ghetto, and through the window of an alley I noticed two men drinking stout. One was a "bobby" in uniform. He was heard and his face purple. The prom of the other looked familiar. I waited in and behold—Jones. The policeman, startled by my intrusion, brought himself together and wobbled out. James turned to me with a look of vast reproach.

"Glad to see you again, old man, but why in the deuce couldn't you stay away a little longer? I'd have had it in half an hour more."

"How what?"

"Why, his club. Lord, what a souvenir that would have made!"

Our ways parted again for awhile. I was riding a wheel over the crest of the Black forest near Thisee, pumping slowly to the top of the long, white road. A pine cone struck my handle bar, another knocked my hat off, and I looked up. An aerial vulture emitted a Tyrolean halloo with much uncton, and I saw a swaying speck silhouetted against a cloud. My instinct told me it was Jones.

"Hey, old man!" he yelled, trumpeting through his hand, "take my picture—quick. You're just in time. Can't hold on much longer. Camera's at foot of tree. Lost it halfway up."

His camera was smashed, so I used my own. "Were you expecting me?" I asked when he shinned down, with barbed hands and frayed trousers.

"No, not exactly. Look here—biggest pine cone in Germany. From the tallest tree on top of the highest hill in the Schwarzwald. There's something worth while!"

I admitted it, and we stood surveying the panorama of rounded hills and deep cut gorges full of the sound of falling water.

"Lovely!" I murmured.

"What? Oh, yes, it's nice it is. But say—I wonder if I couldn't find a bigger cone somewhere in these parts. Let's move on."—Wilfred H. Auburn in Outlook Magazine.

Free Lunch For a Lion.

He was selling suspenders on the street, but he declared that in his palmy days he had been Professor Piccolomini, the lion tamer.

"What made you give it up?" he was asked.

"Well, you see it was this way. Once I was engaged to tame a lion called Frederick Barbaossa, who was certainly a wild proposition.

"But I was equal to the task. By slow and gradual steps I taught Frederick good manners. I used to walk into his cage, snap a whip, make him do stunts and all that sort of thing. Everything went along beautifully. But I got into trouble when I tried to teach Frederick to eat out of my hand."

A Boomerang.

Very economical and very parsimonious young squire was making preparations for a tenants' ball some years ago and at his wine merchant's discovered a cheap brand of champagne. "This," he said, "is a good brand of champagne. It is quite good enough for those people who will come to my tenants' ball. They couldn't tell the difference, anyway." Accordingly he ordered a dozen cases of the cheap wine. A day or two before the event, picking up his newspaper, he noticed that his wine merchant had a half page advertisement. He ran his eye over it and saw in big black letters the paragraph, "Try our celebrated champagne at 28 shillings a dozen, as ordered by Gobbs Gold, Esq., for his forthcoming tenants' ball."

Another View.

Mrs. Tourist—"Is afraid that the monkey wouldn't please my husband, Vander—but madam will find it easier to feed another husband than to get a monkey like that for 3 fateral—Translated For Unpleasant Tales From Le Rire.

It Resurds.
"The mill will never grind again with water that is past," remarked the mournful citizen.
"That's where a joke mill has the bulge on a water mill," cackled the cheerful pessimist.—Pittsburg Post.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

At D. Bassen's SPRING IS HERE Summer is Coming

We have seen trade more brisk than it has been the last year, but we are looking for an improvement this year, at least we have made ready for it, with a very complete stock of all kinds, and will expect our friends to give us a fair share of their trade.

It is not necessary to particularize at the present time, but we might say we are especially well stocked with a complete line of up-to-date Ladies and Mens furnishings, headwear, footwear and general dry goods, and can promise good values to those who favor us with their patronage.

We invite all to attend our Millinery Opening on Thursday, April 8th.
