BELGIUM IS NOT SATISFIED WITH TREATY TERMS

Joins With Chinese and Italians to Make Life Unhappy for the Council of Four.

NO ATTEMPTS TO RECONCILE ITALIANS

French Ambassador to Italy Holding Daily Conferences With Premier Orlando.

New York, May 2.—The Associated Press tonight issues the following: Aside from discussion by the Council of Three of minor articles of the peace treaty, Friday in Peace Conference circles in Paris was a quiet day. Likovics at Versailles, where the German delegates are awaiting the pleasure of delegates of the Allied and Associated governments to hand them the terms of peace, there were no extraordinary happenings.

With the controversy between Italy and the Council of Three still unsettled, and the Chinese delegation reported to be disposed to protest against the award of Kiao-Chau to the Japanese, Belgium is declared to be dissatisfied with the terms of the peace treaty as regards her territorial desires in Germany.

Apparently no great attempts are being made by the Council of Three to bring about a reconciliation in ideas with the Italian delegates.

The French ambassador to Italy, however, has conferred, at length, with Premier Orlando regarding the situation and the development of events in Paris since the Italians quit the French capital and returned to Rome.

The Soviet movement in Central Europe seemingly is fast approaching its downward. Munich, seat of the Bavarian Soviet, which was known to be surrounded by government forces of Premier Hoffman, is reported, unofficially, to have been captured. In Hungary the forces of King Ferdinand of Rumania, with the monarch at their head, are about to enter Budapest, while Bela Kun, the former minister, in the Hungarian Soviet, continues to make overtures for a cessation of hostilities with Rumania and also by the Czech-Slovak and Jugoslavians.

Wireless advices from Moscow assert that the Bolshevik government in Russia has sent in an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the evacuation of Bessarabia. Forty-eight hours have been given the Rumanians to comply.

The Spanish parliament has been dissolved by King Alfonso and new elections set for June 1, according to reports received in London from the Spanish capital.

BOMB EXPLOSION WRECKS BROWNVILLE CITY BLDG.

Score of Prisoners Trapped in Jail in Basement Rescued by Firemen and Police.

Brownsville, Penna., May 2.—An explosion, believed to have been caused by a bomb placed in the office of Charles H. Storey, wrecked the municipal buildings and shattered windows for several blocks in the business district here early today. The damage is estimated at many thousands of dollars. A score of prisoners, trapped in the jail in the basement of the building, a three story brick structure, which collapsed over them, were rescued by firemen. Policemen and agents of the Department of Justice said they believed the explosion was an anarchist May Day plot.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

St. Albans, Vt., May 2.—Robert Wain, a former soldier, was convicted for the second time today of manslaughter in connection with the death of Jennie Hemmings, in August, 1917. The jury was out 18 hours. He was convicted first in September, 1917, and sentenced to a term of ten to fourteen years in state's prison, but a retrial was ordered on the ground of misconduct of a juror. The second trial lasted nine days. Sentence was deferred to permit counsel for the defence to file a motion for arrest of judgment.

Demobilization is Being Carried on as Rapidly as Possible, Priority Being Given to Early Enlistments.

Ottawa, Ont., May 2.—Dr. Blake, of Winnipeg, asked the Government in the House this afternoon, whether it was correct that the peace treaty would contain provision for an international eight hour day.

Hon. Mr. Rowell replied that the Government expected to have the text of the treaty very shortly, and might be able to give the answer on Monday.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, replying to a question asked by Mr. Sinclair yesterday, said that the number of active service ratings in the Canadian navy on November 15, was: Officers, 700; men, 4,768; total 5,468. On April 15, 1919, the number was: Officers, 200; men, 1,758; total 1,958. The total number demobilized up to April 15, was 3,490. Demobilization was being carried on as rapidly as possible, priority being given to men who had enlisted early in the year.

Mr. Nicholson, called the attention of the Minister of Militia to the fact that Canadians, who enlisted in the Imperial army, are being discharged in England with no means of returning to Canada.

Major General Newburn replied that ten days ago he requested the Overseas Minister of Militia to make arrangements with the War Office for the repatriation, at the expense of the Dominion Government, of all Canadians in the Imperial army.

DUTCH HOLD THAT KAISER CANNOT BE EXTRADITED FOR TRIAL BY ALLIES

By Arthur S. Draper. (New York Tribune Special Cable Service. Copyright 1919, New York Tribune.)

London, May 2.—The announcement that the former Kaiser and other men responsible to the laws of civilized warfare will be brought to trial, has given rise to the question here whether there might be any possibility of Holland refusing to give up the Kaiser. Investigation shows clearly that such a possibility exists. Dutch circles in London firmly expressed the opinion that the extradition of the former Kaiser is impossible. They point out that the extradition laws do not include political crimes. It is the legal opinion in the Netherlands that the Kaiser is not guilty of any crimes definitely mentioned in extradition treaties with Holland.

Moreover, they point out that, if crimes were committed, they certainly were committed in Germany. Therefore, that is the country whence a request for extradition of the late war lord must come. They express doubt whether it will be found legal to claim that the Kaiser's crimes were committed in France and Belgium, or on the high seas. One well informed authority said that Holland's attitude toward the affair is that the Kaiser was not guilty, but was the responsible party, and that there is a distinction which the Allies, perhaps, have not always made. It seems, from what can be gathered locally, Holland will dispute any demand for the former Kaiser's extradition.

An Allied request for such action, however, would be an entirely different matter. Such a request would be carefully considered by the Dutch parliament. The success of such a request would depend greatly upon its tone, and the degree to which it conformed with diplomatic usage. It is apparent from the tone of the American minority report, that our delegates believe the conviction of the Kaiser on legal grounds will be impracticable. From a political standpoint it is impossible.

Ultimatum To Rumania From Russian Soviet Demand That They Evacuate Bessarabia Within Forty-eight Hours' Time.

London, May 2.—The Russian Soviet Government has sent an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the evacuation of Bessarabia. A wireless despatch from Moscow says that the Rumanian government is given forty-eight hours to make its reply.

Bessarabia is a former Russian province, populated mostly by Rumanians, and to which Rumania has laid claim. On the retirement of the Germans, after the signing of the armistice, Rumanian troops occupied Bessarabia. Four or five weeks ago, Russian Bolshevik troops, after fighting their way through the Ukraine, reached the Dniester river, the eastern border of Bessarabia. A Bolshevik official statement on April 14 reported that the Rumanians had been defeated in fighting along the Dniester, and were retiring from Bessarabia. The Rumanian government, however, denied that its troops were evacuating the province.

The Russian ultimatum to Rumania may have been made in view of the successful Rumanian campaign against the Communist Government in Hungary. The Russian Soviet Government thus far has attempted unsuccessfully to form a physical union with Communist Hungary.

London, May 2.—The Russian Soviet government has sent an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the evacuation of Bessarabia, a wireless despatch from Moscow says that the Rumanian government is given forty-eight hours to make its reply.

MACHINE GUN CREWS WERE ALL READY AT CLEVELAND

Prepared to Take Action if the Police Had Proved Unable to Cope With May Riots.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—It became known today that federal troops, with two machine gun crews equipped with motor trucks, were mobilized just outside the city yesterday in readiness to suppress a disorder resulting from the socialist May Day demonstration. In the event the police proved unable to cope with it, Government authorities, incensed over the socialist demonstration and display of red flags, which precipitated yesterday's riots, today were considering steps to deport every foreign born person who participated on the side of the rioting element.

Joseph Ivanity, 38, shot three times, died in a hospital this morning. The unknown man, who was shot yesterday afternoon, was identified today as Samuel Peckham.

Swift justice was meted out today in the cases of mutineers arrested during the riots. Police Judge Howells imposed the severest sentences allowed by law, the first defendant being given two sentences of $200 and costs and six months each for assaulting a policeman and a citizen.

London, May 2.—King Alfonso has issued a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Madrid. The despatch adds that general elections will be held June 1.

HON. LEMIEUX MAKES ATTACK UPON THE PRESS

Directed More Particularly Against the Liberal-Unionist Newspapers of the Dominion.

ACCUSES THEM OF BEING BOUGHT UP

Hon. Mr. Rowell Challenges the Speaker to Prove His Statement and Puts up Defence.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., May 2.—A dull day yesterday was enlivened tonight by a slashing attack by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux upon the press of Canada, particularly the Liberal-Unionist press, and an equally vigorous answer by Hon. N. W. Rowell. Mr. Lemieux's attack was directed against the Liberal press, because it almost unanimously opposed Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his policy of anti-conscription. Before the Easter recess he had the subject up in the Commons, and tonight he returned to the attack, when the postal estimates were under consideration. Mr. Lemieux charged that, at a given date, the Liberal press had executed a right about face and rent the Liberal party in twain. It is the customary thing at Ottawa to lay any rascality to Sir Clifford Sifton and Mackenzie, and Mr. Lemieux hinted that they were responsible. Two million dollars' worth of Government advertising was also used to influence the conduct of the press.

Horacio C. Hocken rose to ask if Mr. Lemieux suggested that the press had been "corrupted." Mr. Lemieux promptly came back with the statement that the term was "altogether too mild." Mr. Lemieux made the suggestion that newspapers should be compelled to make public the names of their owners.

Mr. Hocken had warmly defended the press for its course in the election, though he favored the suggestion of Mr. Lemieux in regard to publicity of owners. Hon. N. W. Rowell was next heard from. While he saw no reason why ownership should not be published, he doubted whether the Federal authorities had the power as questions affecting property and civil powers came under the Privileges. It might be possible to secure the same end by refusing the mails to any publication which refused to reveal this information. This proposal was under consideration.

Mr. Rowell proceeded to deal with the member for Maisonneuve. He challenged Mr. Lemieux to repeat outside the House of Commons, his statement that one of the leading Ontario Liberal papers had been purchased. "I say," he declared with emphasis, "that this statement is absolutely false, and that no newspaper press exists than that of Ontario."

There had been no finer contribution to the war than that of the Ontario press. He explained that the Liberal press had been advocating for many months the policy of conscription, and the formation of a Union Government. When Sir Wilfrid refused to adopt this policy there was no alternative for them. He again challenged Lemieux to name, outside of the House, one paper which had been purchased. Mr. Lemieux observed a discreet silence.

ST. STEPHEN WORKERS GET GOOD NEWS

Employees in Soap Factory to Have Shorter Hours, Saturday Half Holiday and Same Wages.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, N. B.—On instructions from Lord Leverhulme, head of the great Lever Bros. Company, of England, the leading soap manufacturers of the world, W. R. Carson, superintendent of the St. Croix Soap Mfg. Co., now owned by an English corporation, will, on Saturday morning, make to the employees the pleasing announcement that, beginning Monday, the hours of labor in the soap factory will be from 8 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m., with a half holiday on Saturdays throughout the year, the present scale of wages continuing.

Since the beginning of the war, the employees of the soap factory have been participants in a generous profit-sharing scheme of the big corporation and this latest announcement places them among the aristocrats of the labor world in this section.

CREDENTIALS OF GERMANS WERE EXAMINED FRI.

No Disposition on Part of the Allies to Raise Any Question Regarding Competency of Berlin Gov't.

Paris, May 2.—The credentials committee of the Peace Conference held a meeting today to examine the German credentials received at Versailles yesterday. There is no disposition, it is said, on the part of the Allies to raise any questions regarding the competency of the Berlin government to speak for the remainder of Germany. In the matter they are proceeding on the theory that the Berlin ministry is the real German government.

Another meeting with the Germans on this question is improbable because the decision of the committee regarding verification and adequacy probably will be communicated to the Germans in writing.

INCREASE IN INCOME TAXES IS PROBABLE

Other Methods of Taxation by the Dominion Government Are Regarded as Likely.

LESS ANXIETY NOW OVER TARIFF QUESTION

Business Men of Canada Evidently Feel There Will be No Disturbing Events to Hamper Industries.

Ottawa, May 2.—The budget speech is expected by the middle of May, it is understood that it will be delivered around that date whether or not Sir Robert Borden is home. The present indications are, however, that he will have returned by that time.

What the speech will contain is, of course, only a matter of speculation, but always it is divided into three parts—a review of the financial situation, the question of any special taxes and finally the tariff. The financial conditions which obtain in the country all go to support the theory that considerable extra taxation will of necessity be levied in the coming session. Seemingly it is the only way of making ends meet.

The Fixed Charges. The fixed charges now are nearly equal to what was the total debt when war began. At that time it was $337,000,000, with interest charges of $12,000,000. Now it is between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000, while interest charges aggregate $75,000,000 and pensions $25,000,000. Other fixed charges for general carrying on purposes, bring up the aggregate to about $300,000,000. This year the main estimates total $425,000,000 and the war vote $350,000,000, while the supplementary estimates are yet to come.

It has been calculated, and so stated by ministers, that between revenue and necessary expenditure there is a shortage of $100,000,000. New means of taxation to raise the money will therefore, have to be devised, and the process of working out ways and means is now under way. Income tax is likely to be taxed more heavily than hitherto and special taxes of other kinds imposed.

The Tariff. So far as the tariff is concerned there is no intimation, and it is considered less majestic to speculate, it is apparent that industry is not hampered by any great uncertainty. A few weeks ago there was an election of it, but now industry is everywhere moving and industrial prosperity is in full swing. It is evident that the manufacturers expect or think they have reason to expect no tariff adjustments this year of character to lead to instability. A revision, however, is about due and very probably it will occur before the next session.

In the meantime the changes look set for by the manufacturers are not expected to be at all far reaching. For that conclusion there is considerable justification from the special causes on the tariff a few weeks ago.

O'HARA AND O'REILLY BOLDLY PLAYED THE GAME IN MONCTON

Threw the High Bluff and Attempted to Blackmail a Prominent Druggist of That City.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, May 2.—Charles O'Hara and Gerald O'Reilly, under arrest at St. John on the charge of blackmailing Dr. Broderick, operated in Moncton. They spent some time here, posing as book agents at first, and later as Pinkerton detectives. Just before leaving for St. John they gave evidence in the case of a local druggist, who was charged with violation of the Prohibition Act. In at least one case they attempted to blackmail a druggist. They visited the drug store, in question, and threatened to bring a case against the proprietor, unless he paid them $50. They even went so far as to threaten the druggist with arrest, dangling handcuffs before his eyes, but the party refused to be bluff. In this case, at least, the attempted blackmail failed, the alleged detectives eventually leaving the store.

Her Personal Charm Won the Audience

Recital by Miss Anna Case Last Evening a Treat Long to be Remembered—Great Crowds Stirred by Patriotic Sentiment—The Affair an Artistic Triumph.

A St. John audience joined most enthusiastically in the Battle Hymn of the Republic, and a thoroughbred American rendered Rule Britannia in a manner which brought thousands to their feet to cheer the artist. These and other equally unusual incidents occurred at last evening's concert in the Imperial, but then anything might have happened under the impelling impulse was the magnetic personality of Miss Anna Case. Of all the singers who have been heard here, none has compared with her in charm of manner, grace, and personal beauty. And when to these possessions is added the attribute of a glorious voice, it is easy to realize that the fortunate individual can move an audience at her will. Miss Case is the first American girl to become a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and is perhaps the leading concert soprano in America today, her position in this respect comparing with that of McCormack as a tenor. But while prominent in opera, Miss Case has of late devoted herself almost entirely to concert work. She has the not unusual combination of a strongly dramatic temperament limited by artistic capabilities, and as could be readily observed from last evening's program, is highly emotional in her work. There was apparent in several of her numbers an eagerness to accentuate the dramatic in her individual interpretation of the music, and it may be believed that in the wide opportunities in this respect afforded by operatic work the effectiveness of her voice and personality would be greatly enhanced.

All are familiar with the names of the eminent singers now passing from the stage, which group included Nordica, Melba, Sembrich, Schumann-Hernek and the rest, but as yet the outlying districts like our own provinces have not had opportunity to become personally acquainted with the later artists, among whom are Case, Giuck, Fremstadt, Farrar, Galli-Curci and others. Yet among these singers today are some who, in their own particular spheres, are quite as eminent as those so highly esteemed in years gone by. And in this group Miss Anna Case holds a place of honor. St. John has thus been privileged to hear an artist, who came to us almost unknown excepting through phonographic records, and who has in this brief visit won the hearts of all, as much by her personal charm as by the beauty of her voice.

Miss Case is evidently not a devotee of the popular class of music. Her program last evening, while representative of the styles of different composers and of different periods, and while affording opportunity for the portrayal of all emotions, included little of the lighter class which naturally carries its own appeal to a portion of the audience. Yet in numbers this was to some extent overcome, and these selections were thoroughly enjoyed. Several little incidents added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. A bouquet was presented, wrapped in the Canadian flag, which Miss Case draped over the piano, this presentation being followed immediately by "O Canada." Later when she sang the Battle Hymn this is a feature of her concert, the audience took up the chorus with vigor—they could not help it. And again when Rule Britannia was sung in a most inspiring manner, the whole audience rose and made the building ring with the resounding refrain. The contagion of patriotic fervor seemed to grip everyone, and at the end of the program as printed here was a seemingly insatiable demand for more.

Mr. Charles Spross, who frequently acts as pianist for Miss Case, was, because of illness, unable to be present, but the accompaniments were most artistically rendered by Mr. Ellmer Zoller, of New York, whose work left nothing to be desired. The G. W. Y. A. are to be congratulated on the magnificent success

Sea Captain Had Experience

Captain Beryn Bradford Lost His Ship in a Hurricane and Then Spent Twenty-two Days on an Island Because Natives Thought He Was German.

To lose his ship in a hurricane, and spend twenty-two days on an island because some semi-civilized natives took them for Germans and wanted to rid the world of them, was the experience of Captain Beryn Bradford, of Robert Bradford, of Black's Harbor, who arrived home the other day. In his three-masted schooner, the Nettie Shipman, Captain Bradford was on a voyage to South America, when he ran into a great storm, such as he had not known in all his sea-going career. For many weary days and nights the little ship battled with terrific winds and mountainous seas, and at last was dismasted. When the weather moderated they launched their boat, which luckily had escaped destruction by the battering seas, and gradually sinking. In the open boat they sailed or rowed for four days, living on holly beef and water-soaked biscuits. They were fortunate enough to get water enough to drink, as it rained every day, but they were not able to make land on the fourth day.

When, however, they approached the shore, they were met by a band of natives who showed a hostile aspect, and warned them with wavings of fish spears, not to land. Captain Bradford and his men attempted to parley, but all they could make out from the powwow was that the natives evidently considered that the boat's crew were Germans, and were not considered desirable acquaintances, even in that desolate-looking land.

Pretty soon several primitive looking boats, propelled by brown natives with paddles, emerged from a little bay and came towards the ship, woecked men, yelling loudly, and showing every sign of a hostile purpose.

Amazed and alarmed the white men raised their sail and made off, followed by the excited natives. After a little while the natives gave up the chase, and the white men coming to a small island which was evidently uninhabited decided to land there and look for some fruit to eat, as they were heartily sick of their boat diet, and cramped by their existence in close quarters. On the island they found tropical fruits and plantains, and some sugar cane, which had apparently been growing wild. They decided to pass the night there, but towards morning that their boat had been stolen. Apparently one of the native boats had approached the island, and a swimmer had come in and cast the boat adrift in the darkness.

Capt. Bradford and his crew were marooned and tried to make the best of it. They lived like Robinson Crusoes, and managed to subsist on fruit and fish. Nearly every day a party of natives would approach the island and shout what appeared to be unkind remarks. But they made no further attempts to attack, evidently being satisfied that they had some supposed Germans in a plight well adapted to their merits. The castaways began to think they were marooned on that little island for the rest of their days, the object of jeering speeches by natives from along the coast. But on the twenty-second day of their captivity, a coasting schooner noticed their signals and rescued them. They were told by the crew of the coasting schooner that they ought to consider themselves lucky, as the natives thereabouts, an offshoot of ancient Caribbs, had a notion that the Germans were a terrible race of savages who devoured women and children. "It was hard enough to lose a ship, and to cast away on a desert island," said the captain, "but to be taken for Germans by half-naked natives was the limit."

Hear Anna Case's Glorious Voice In Your Home

Those privileged to attend last night's recital by Miss Anna Case at the Imperial Theatre listened to what may be regarded as the most wonderful lyric soprano voice this side of the Atlantic. TO YOU BELONGS THAT SAME PRIVILEGE; you can actually enjoy Miss Case's exquisite voice in your own home, or in the Edison Room at our store, a privilege made possible by Edison's new art, MUSIC'S RE-CREATION which enables you to hear the performances of the world's greatest singers and instrumentalists, just as well as though the performers stood before you in the flesh, by means of THE NEW EDISON—"The Phonograph with a Soul."

ONLY ON THE NEW EDISON can you hear Miss Case's voice—hear it in all its marvellous sweetness, its warmth and tenderness—ACTUALLY RE-CREATED.

ANNA CASE stands very high among those great artists whose voices are RE-CREATED by Thomas A. Edison's new art—Music's RE-CREATION.

Miss Case has sung in direct comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of her voice on the New Edison, as illustrated above, and in no instance could any difference of tone quality or expression be detected between her actual voice and Mr. Edison's RE-CREATION of it.

Miss Case's voice has a peculiarly beautiful lyric quality—a quality impossible to reproduce by any method other than the Edison method. Edison RE-CREATIONS convey to the music lover not only the fundamental musical tones produced by the artist, but also that indefinable charm that distinguishes one artist from another—in a word, personality.

RE-CREATIONS of Miss Case's voice (a list of which appears below) may be heard only on JAPAN IN KOREA.

Such news from Korea as is permitted to pass the Japanese censors—and gradually the situation in that country is being made clear—indicates something in the nature of a revolution among the Korean population. Frequent reports are received of massacres by the Japanese troops of Korean Christians and others for which offences Japanese officials readily promise punishment. It is credible that such outrages are perpetrated as punishment for crimes committed by the Koreans themselves, which crimes in turn are caused by an excitable national feeling.

Since Japan assumed control of Korea, that formerly misgoverned nation has enjoyed greatly improved conditions. The Japanese have administered the government with moderation and at first with an evident desire to teach the Koreans the principles of self rule, but since the murder of Prince Ho, the first Japanese Governor of Korea, it has been increasingly apparent that the Koreans themselves have had less and less to do with the administration. It is also clear that of late the Japanese administration has partaken to a very large extent of militaristic methods which of themselves imply inefficiency on the part of those holding responsible positions, and which must of necessity be a source of irritation to the Koreans who feel themselves steadily losing ground. A naturally excitable people who only a few years ago had the playful habit of murdering and torturing missionaries and shipwrecked sailors, the Koreans find it difficult to repress a sentiment of government by another power, even though they may realize that under such government their country is steadily improving. They have not as yet broken out in a revolution of violence but a wide spread national sentiment has been developing, taking the form of passive resistance to Japanese control and here and there have occurred crimes against those holding office, which by themselves indicate a desire on the part of the Koreans for the expulsion of the Japanese and restoration of their own government. Japanese officials have been killed, but such crimes as have been reported have in no case been sufficiently serious to justify the punishment meted out by the Japanese troops and it is equally clear that such a system of reprisals against those who are willed at by the Japanese administration will only tend to further incite the Koreans and to make more difficult the administrative reorganization which must come in the near future. No one contends that Japan should give up Korea or that Koreans are able to govern themselves, yet students of eastern politics agree in the opinion that there must be a change in present methods, that the Koreans must have a larger share and wider opportunities in the government, and that the solution of the whole problem which now threatens the peace of the East is in the hands of the Japanese themselves.

THE OCEAN FLIGHT.

Day after day for the past several weeks two prospective trans-Atlantic fliers have been sitting on the shore of Newfoundland waiting for a favorable opportunity to start on their flight to England. So long has been the delay, due to unfavorable weather, that the United States naval representatives who did not anticipate making the attempt until long after the others had done so, may possibly be the first to cross. One of the United States naval planes with a crew of five men has completed a twenty-hour cruise about the Virginia Capes, travelling a distance of about twelve hundred and fifty miles and landing only when the supply of gasoline gave out. More powerful machines will attempt the trans-Atlantic flight, although under different circumstances from those surrounding the Australian and British efforts. The American flight involves a coastal journey from Rockaway Point, Long Island, to Trappes Bay, Newfoundland, thence in two stages to Lisbon, Portugal, and from there to Plymouth, England. The break in the Newfoundland-Portugal flight will be made at the Azores twelve hundred or thirteen hundred miles from Newfoundland. Weather permitting, this flight covering a total distance of 3,125 miles, will be commenced early next week, and as a precautionary measure the United States Navy Department has provided a chain of patrol vessels to be on the lookout for the adventurers in case of accident. The British and Australian competitors have taken no such precaution and the realization that an accident in the course of their flight would probably result disastrously, is the cause of their anxiety about mid-Atlantic weather. They wish to make sure that every condition is favorable before starting on their eighteen hundred mile jaunt.

The American machines which carry crews of five men, are much heavier than those used by the British and Australian airmen, and naturally are not expected to attain such high speed. They are equipped for a twenty-four hour flight, and should make approximately seventy miles an hour, while the British planes are supposed to have a speed of not less than one hundred miles. Under favorable conditions there is thus a good margin of safety in the matter of time and distance.

TITLES.

It is perfectly right and proper that persons who have devoted themselves to the service of Canada or of the Empire should receive from the King on the advice of his ministers such recognition in the form of a title or otherwise as may best suit the particular case. It is not right or proper that such persons, no matter what their individual services may have been, should be awarded in a country such as this a distinction which they can hand down to future generations. This question of titles is creating a great deal of interest throughout Canada, and criticisms of the policy of the government in permitting the continued bestowal of such honor is heard on all sides. Much of this criticism is more bitter than the facts seem to warrant, for although hereditary titles have been granted to Canadians these are very few in number and while among those honored by this distinction there are some generally considered as undeserving, the situation is not such as justifies the present burst of feeling. The contention that titles are sought in numerous cases by people with more money than brains and that they are very generally in acknowledgment of political service or because of financial contributions to various purposes, is not a fair comment. It implies that the honor of knighthood is not granted to those who, although poor in worldly possessions are rich in the desire to serve. On the contrary there are now men bearing titles in Canada who deserve such honor for service rendered and to whom the prospect of a reward of this nature was not an incentive to the performance of what they regarded as their duty. It is indeed Canadians have by methods known only to themselves or to their intimate friends secured honors to which they were not entitled, at the expense of cheapening those honors in the minds of better thinking men. If provision were made to eliminate hereditary titles, or if the Federal Government were to exercise greater discretion in its recommendations to the King, the required number of the situation could be met without entirely doing away with this system by which real personal service of national value may be rewarded.

NO MORE FREAKS.

The Federal Government has finally decided on the exclusion of Doukhobors and others of their class. This, while now described as a temporary measure, will no doubt be made permanent, for Canada's experience with these peculiar sects has not been entirely satisfactory. While the Doukhobors are at times inclined to be industrious, their communal life savors too strongly of Europe in the middle ages, and they are not the class of people from whom worthy Canadian citizens may be made. For twelve or fifteen years settlements of these people have existed in Canada and the men and women composing them are as far from Canadian citizenship today as when they first landed in this country. They have failed to acquire any realization of Canadian ideals; they have refused to conform with the customs of this country, and as a people have set themselves apart, depending very largely on their own efforts for all that they require. They are not Canadians, and in this country, large as it is, there is no room for aliens who insist on maintaining this attitude towards their neighbors.

WHAT THEY SAY

Quite Considerate.
Chicago Daily News—From the way Germany is talking, one gathers that it is willing to grant a reasonable peace to the Allies.

Germany's Task.
Philadelphia Record—The statement is made that the cost of war is now so tremendous that it will take England 400 years at $5 per second to pay off its indebtedness. On this basis, how long will it take Germany to discharge her domestic debt after forgoing over some $50,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000 to the Allies in indemnities? Probably 1,000 years at least.

Industrial Tribunal Needed.
London Advertiser—Recent strikes in Montreal have cost employers and employees involved many thousands of dollars. This loss would have been greatly reduced had there been some sort of permanent board or commission to which the disputes could have been instantly referred and a decision promptly reached. Under the present procedure many weeks are frequently required for the appointment of an arbitration tribunal. Meantime the strike drags along, causing financial loss to both sides and developing unpleasant hostility.

A Miscellany.
Toronto Times—A picture on the front page of the Illustrated London News shows the method of taking large vessels which have been out in two "through the Welland Canal in the United States of America." The question now arises, how do they move vessels through the Liverpool-Manchester Canal in Scotland?

What They Expected.
New York Evening Post—The obligation of the Germans to make compensation for all damages to the civilian population of the Allies was a stipulation added to the Wilson points by the Allied memorandum quoted in Secretary Lansing's Swiss note of November 4th. It subordinates the German's interests to the compensation of the French population, as in regard to making good the destroyed coal workings of the Leers field with the Saar equivalent.

Generous Americanism.
New York Globe—In all frankness, it needs to be said that Canadians are not to be blamed for resenting the presence in imported American vaudeville acts of that rather low thing called spread-eagles. It is on our own stage the performers must too often forget that for more than three years other peoples are laying the costly foundation for the triumph America only helped in the last few months of fighting to attain, let them by all means remember it when they cross the border. It is disastrous to right-thinking Americans, who tolerate it as they tolerate a great many other cheap devices to provoke applause. It is nothing short of an insult to Canadians who were shedding blood while Americans were being exhorted to remain neutral in thought as well as in deed.

The Danger of Drift.
Westminster Gazette—Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Murray's speech in the Irish debate last week contained a very significant warning as regards Ireland. Colonel Murray spoke, as he said, as a Coalition Liberal, and he added, "there are other members who act with me who hold the same views." Urging that the situation in Ireland called for some quick settlement, he asked whether it is the view of the prime minister that the policy of drift should continue, "for if it be so, then I think it is eminently necessary to say that the Prime Minister, in holding that view and in pursuing that policy, will be straining the loyalty of some of his Liberal supporters almost to breaking point." The speech was notable as indicating what we believe is at work in the minds of a good many Liberals who act with the government, and who are as uneasy about the absence of any clear Irish policy as any other body of men in the Commons.

Germany's Task.
Philadelphia Record—The statement is made that the cost of war is now so tremendous that it will take England 400 years at $5 per second to pay off its indebtedness. On this basis, how long will it take Germany to discharge her domestic debt after forgoing over some $50,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000 to the Allies in indemnities? Probably 1,000 years at least.

Industrial Tribunal Needed.
London Advertiser—Recent strikes in Montreal have cost employers and employees involved many thousands of dollars. This loss would have been greatly reduced had there been some sort of permanent board or commission to which the disputes could have been instantly referred and a decision promptly reached. Under the present procedure many weeks are frequently required for the appointment of an arbitration tribunal. Meantime the strike drags along, causing financial loss to both sides and developing unpleasant hostility.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.
In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.
The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.
Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

THE WAR DID NOT STOP.

New York Globe—Germany, Maximilian Harden says, must accept the punishment which is her due, but that punishment, he insists, must not be "humiliating." Just how he is able to draw this distinction it is hard to see. He insists that the bulk of the German people are still being led by the militarists, and along false paths. Germany does not realize (and one is, in fact, left in doubt as to whether Harden himself realizes) that the war did not just stop—that the Allies won it.

THE TRADE WITH SOUTH AFRICA

In Spite of High Freight Rates Last Year Showed Substantial Increase Over Preceding Years.

In spite of high freight rates Canadian trade with South Africa last year showed a substantial increase over preceding years. The total exports to South Africa were over $5,000,000. The increase was due to orders from South African government, there being a falling off of the exports to private traders, mainly due to the high freight rates, and difficulties arising from war conditions. Exports of agricultural implements to South Africa showed a substantial increase. This winter the Elder-Dempster boats sailing for South Africa have had large general cargoes, and have also loaded at St. John considerable quantities of grain. The outlook for this year's business is good.

FREDERICTON HAS NEW CITY ENGINEER

Expected to Make Big Improvement on the Roads of the Capital—Mr. Veniot to Ottawa—Ottawa to Keep Tabs on Provincial Depts.

Special to The Standard, Fredericton, N.B., May 2.—When asked regarding O'Hara and Reilly under arrest at St. John, Chief Inspector Wilson said today that some of his staff had conferred with the men now under arrest. "But we had no official connection with them," he said. "We heard they were trying to get something over on us, so had Sub-inspector Saunders watching them."

E. C. McDowell, the new city engineer, arrived by C. P. R. this morning, accompanied by Mrs. McDowell, and they are at the Barker House.

While Mr. McDowell has not seen very much of Fredericton, he feels sure that the streets can be put in good shape without any difficulty. He has been municipal engineer of Truro for about twenty years, and has been chiefly responsible for the excellent condition of the Truro streets, its street lighting system and water and sewerage systems.

The new engineer is a native of Truro, but spent considerable time in the United States before returning to Truro as municipal engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurbert Veniot have received word that their son, Sgt. Frank O'Neill and his wife, had sailed for Canada on the Baltic which is expected to dock at Halifax on Tuesday next.

Sgt. O'Neill went overseas with a Western battalion, and has been in the pay office in London for some time.

E. M. Taylor, a specialist in soils and fertilizers, has been appointed district representative of the Department of Agriculture at Woodville, N.S. His territory will include Carleton Place and Madawaska counties.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works, left the evening before his home at Bathurst. Tomorrow the Minister of Public Works will leave for Ottawa where he will take up with Mr. A. W. Campbell, the Federal Commissioner, the question of aid for permanent highways. Upon his return the latter part of next week, Hon. Dr. Smith, Minister of Lands and Mines, is also going to Ottawa, tomorrow, to take up matters referring to his department.

E. P. Bradt, Secretary of Agriculture, returned from Moncton this morning, where he attended a meeting of delegates from the Maritime Provinces to consider the matter of each Province sending students to Truro each year, to take short courses in butter and cheese making and milk testing. The matter was thoroughly discussed and, as far as the delegates were concerned, they were unanimous that the proposal was a good one, and should be carried out.

A telegram was received at the Poultry Division of the Department of Agriculture this morning, saying that the Dominion Government had appointed a man to act under A. C. McCulloch in the poultry department. The expenses of this official will be borne by the Federal Authorities, and the appointment of a man direct from Ottawa is for the purpose of keeping all of these departments up to the standard all over the Dominion. There is already a Federal grant to the Department of Agriculture, which is apportioned by the minister to the various branches of his department at his own discretion practically, but the appointment of a man from Ottawa for this particular branch of the various branches of the Federal authorities wish to keep in close touch with the supervision of some of the provincial departments.

WISH TO BUY FISH.

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received a communication from the Canadian Department of Commerce, giving a list of firms in foreign countries who wish to buy fish. This information is not for the general public, but those in the trade will be supplied with the information if they want it. A number of communications of this sort have recently been received from Ottawa, and the indications are that when more shipping becomes available there will be considerable opportunities for the expansion of the export fish trade of this country.

Depot Canteen Business Heavy

Some Seventy Thousand Dollars' Business Done and the Substantial Profit Looked for Not in Evidence—Court Convened Next Thursday.

The action taken on Thursday by the military authorities in connection with canteen affairs has raised for publication a certain amount of information which was known to some during the past few months, but which has not appeared in the newspapers. This attitude was maintained by the press at the request of the Militia Department in view of the fact that publication of rumors and incomplete reports might have been prejudicial to the interests of the officers and others involved. The Standard is now publishing from Ottawa that the action which has been taken is strictly in accordance with military regulations, and is in pursuance of the policy of the government in connection with canteen affairs.

Diocesan Synod Closed Yesterday

Board of Missions Met in Morning and Took up Matter of Increased Stipends for the Clergy—Other Business Transacted.

The final business of the Diocesan Synod of Fredericton was completed yesterday morning, most of the delegates returning to their homes in the afternoon.

Yesterday morning the Board of Missions met in the Church of England Institute and took up the matter of increased stipends for the clergy. The venerable Archbishop Neenham was elected secretary. Rev. W. P. Dunham, assistant secretary, and a sub-committee to deal with matters arising in the interim between the meeting of the full committee was appointed with the following members:

Bishop Richardson, Archbishop Neenham, Canon Armstrong, Canon Smithers, Rev. G. A. Kuhring, Rev. W. P. Dunham, Charles Coster, J. H. A. L. Fairweather and H. Usher Miller.

The executive committee met at 10.30 and disposed of considerable business. Several special committees were appointed to take up matters arising from the sessions of the Synod.

At 11.30 the standing committee and the committee on theological study met and concluded routine business.

With regard to the supply for the mission fields, the outlook at present is better than it has been for several years, as there is an ample number of men to fill all vacancies.

GRAND MASTER SIR LOM STEAK

Head of Renowned Order of the High Cost of Living Considers St. John a Great City for High Prices.

Grand Master Sir Lom Steak of the Renowned Order of the High Cost of Living graciously invited a Standard reporter yesterday that he considered St. John a great city, as here he always moved in the highest circles. "The whole opinion was that I entertained myself commands the ready assent of the good people of St. John," he said. "In but few cities of Canada is a higher value set on my merits. If you will consult the Almanac Gotha of our order, which is the Labor Gazette, you will there find a comparative table which shows how I was rated in the various cities of Canada not long ago. On that particular date I was rated at 40 cents in St. John, 30 cents in Montreal, 25 cents in Toronto I was only rated at 25 and 23 cents, and in Montreal, where there are, you know, many people of foreign extraction, how I appreciate the benefits of our order I was rated at 27 cents. At Hull I was only 30 cents, but across the river in the high society of Ottawa I cut a figure of anywhere from 32 to 40 cents, which shows that the capital of this fair Dominion has aspirations to live on the same plane as the good city of St. John. At Vancouver, which considers itself a shipping port of as much promise as St. John, I was on the same basis as here, and at Victoria I was even treated better than here, being able to command 42 cents. At Medicine Hat I moved in the same high circle as in St. John, but in Winnipeg I was on a grade 5 cents lower, owing partly to the distribution of some real estate booms. At Saskatoon I was 35 cents; in Port Arthur and Fort William I gravitated between 35 and 40 cents. At Niagara Falls I was 40 cents, but in Hamilton, Ontario, I was 35 cents. At St. Hyacinthe, Que., I touched the depths of degradation, being only 23 and 25 cents.

"Coming nearer home, Halifax gave me the same rating as St. John, and Moncton and Fredericton, which are not in the same class as St. John, put me on the 35 cent plane."

WEDDINGS.

McDonald-Whelpley.

Paul E. Whelpley, Carter's Point and Miss Bernice E. McDonald, Brownville, Me., were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. A. Morrison. They intend to spend some time at Carter's Point and St. John, and then will go to Brownville to reside. Mr. Whelpley is an employee of the C. P. R.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Harriet Alward.

Many friends in St. John will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Harriet Alward, widow of the late Dr. Alward, who was for a number of years Mayor of this city.

Mrs. Alward, who was 82 years of age, had been ill for some time and passed away on Friday, May 2nd. She is survived by two sons, Frederick H. of New York, who has been in the city for some days, and Frank D., harbor master of St. John.

The funeral will be held from the residence of the latter, 125 Mount Pleasant avenue, Monday afternoon, at 2.15 to St. Paul's church where service will be held at 2.30.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Miss Agnes C. McDonald took place from her mother's residence, 15 Clarence street, yesterday afternoon at the Cathedral, where service was conducted by Rev. R. B. Fraser. Interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery. Miss McDonald was a very popular school girl. A large number of beautiful floral offerings were sent by friends.

Why Can't I Get To Sleep?

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed, and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted except by the pernicious use of opiates or narcotics. Or you have heart palpitation, or sensation of flitting, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way you can get relief is to sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much-needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthening the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peacefully as a child.

Mrs. Jas. Latimer, 39 Leinster street, St. John, N. B., writes: "At night I could not sleep. That is, I lay up in bed, my heart beat so fast, and when I walked up stairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after using two boxes, I can sleep all night and am not out of breath after walking."

COTTON GROWING SOUTH'S CURSE: HER CROPS MUST BE DIVERSIFIED

(By Richard H. Edmonds, Editor of Manufacturers' Record.)

Cotton growing has been a curse to the South from the day it was introduced into that section. The South would be infinitely better off financially and in every other way if it had never raised a bale of cotton. But the world would have tremendously succeeded if it had not been able to use the many hundreds of millions of bales of cotton which the South has furnished, by the toil of its young and old of both sexes, to mankind.

Wealth untold for the benefit of the world has been created by the South's cotton, but the South has not secured that wealth. By virtue of conditions which have existed since the Civil war, forced upon the South as a result of its young and old of both sexes, the South has simply been "the hewer of wood and the drawer of water" in the world's cotton trade.

Mr. Randall N. Durrice, chairman of the cotton buying committee of the cotton manufacturers, recently contacted the income tax paid by Massachusetts with the income tax paid by the entire South as though that was greatly to the discredit of the South, ignoring the fact that the prosperity of Massachusetts has largely come from the manufacture of cotton raised in the South and sold by the South at little profit to itself. New England has grown rich on taking the raw cotton of the South and turning it into the finished product. This was the foundation in the early days of a very large proportion of the enormous manufacturing business of New England.

It was the cotton trade which enabled England to so quickly recover from the losses due to the Napoleonic wars, and yet, while England and New England were growing rich on the utilization of the South's cotton, this section, except for a brief time prior to the civil war, never made adequate profits out of cotton growing.

It would have been impossible for the South to raise cotton at the prices which have prevailed on the average for the last fifty years except through the work in the cotton fields of many women who should have been in their homes and of children who should have been in school. Any man, whether he lives in New England or in the South, or in Great Britain, who seeks to break down the price of cotton is seeking to hold the cotton farmers, laborers, black and white, in the South in economic slavery and illiteracy.

Mr. Durrice may not, perchance, knowingly intend to be guilty of such an act against humanity, but he and every one else who joins with him in the campaign for low priced cotton is guilty, nevertheless. He says:—

"With the present conditions and the needs of the world, it is the patriotic duty of the Southern farmer to plant every available acre in cotton this spring."

I unhesitatingly say it is not the "patriotic duty" of the South to do

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

CANADA'S ACHIEVEMENTS IN MUNITIONS WONDERFUL RECORD

During the mad days while war was raging, individuals and nations were too busy to take stock of their accomplishments. Now that the cannon are silent and the world is turning its face to peace-time activities, they find time to consider the magnitude of their war-waging efforts. Some of them are surprising and none more so than the sum total rolled up by the Canadians.

Canada gave prodigally of men, money and munitions. Men and money out of all proportion to its population, were thrown into the battle arena. This is generally well known in the United States for the battle bands piped it from coast to coast during the British and Canadian recruiting campaigns. The prodigious amount of munitions manufactured and sent overseas is something to marvel at, especially when it is remembered that recruiting had drained Canadian shops and factories of a heavy percentage of workers. The credit for Canada's achievement in this respect is due in large measure to her women who stepped into the places left vacant by the men, as well as newly created places, and kept the wheels of industry humming. Considerable experimental work had to be done before the production of munitions could proceed smoothly. The Nova Scotia Steel Company did useful pioneer work in obtaining the exact grade of steel required. The heat treatment proved a hard problem, but was solved largely through the efforts of W. A. Peterson of the Canadian Pacific Railway and C. S. Winslow of the Ingersoll Rand Company. The first lot of munitions was turned out by the Canadian Pacific's Angus Shops near Montreal under the supervision of H. H. Vaughan who later headed a munitions company of his own and is an authority on this industry in Canada.

During 1917 Canada supplied no less than 30 per cent on six sizes of shells furnished to the British government for the use of the Allied armies. At the close of the war Premier Lloyd George and Winston Churchill, British minister of munitions, sent letters of congratulation acknowledging

GERMANY AND THE FOURTEEN POINTS

The more the delegates at the peace conference are getting away from the fourteen points the more eagerly is Germany adhering to them. It is natural that the enemy should do so, for under those fourteen points, arbitrarily set and still more arbitrarily insisted upon, he stands to get much easier terms than he will if they are enlarged or departed from. Moreover, he hopes that by an armistice treaty within those points he may be more readily gain a hearing at Versailles from the American delegation, if not from others. His object is to haggle and object and to pin President Wilson and the conference to terms and conditions which he asserts prompted an appeal for an armistice. This, of course, is untrue. It was the knowledge of defeat and of the complete military disaster which would result from a continuance of the war which made Germany seek an armistice. But one He is as good as another to Germans, and this is rather more plausible than most.

Take the recent remarks of that wolf in sheep's clothing, Prince Max of Baden. "Public opinion," he says, "has been deceived if it is accepted that we surrender unconditionally. Our guarantee is the treaty (sic) which President Wilson concluded with the Entente and with Germany, stipulating that peace should be concluded within the fourteen points formulated by him." Erzberger, speaking the other day on the League of Nations, also said, "The German people had made peace on the basis of the fourteen points of Wilson, the great champion of the League of Nations, including the fourteenth point demanding the formation of a universal society of nations. The Allies also accepted this point."

Here we see the workings of the German mind. Always the fourteen points and no more, but less, if possible, and a League of Nations to include Germany, in which she can follow the tortuous courses she pursued at The Hague and in her diplomacy generally; in which she can once more assume equality with other nations, just as the Versailles delegates are claiming equality with the other delegates to the peace conference and the right to swaggar about unrestricted and unhindered, as if their society were not an offence to decent people, and especially to the French.

There is no obligation upon the South to raise cotton merely to maintain the supremacy of this country in the cotton trade of the world. If other countries can raise cotton by means of the cheap labor in China or India or Egypt at a lower cost than the South can raise it, there is no earthly reason to compel the South to sacrifice its people in order to produce cotton at the starvation wages which are paid to the cotton growers of India and Egypt and China.

The circular which was issued by the South Carolina Cotton Association and which is in keeping with all the efforts that are being made looking to a reduction of cotton acreage, says:—"By cutting down your cotton acreage you need not reduce your land under cultivation. A farmer's bush means a bush to the farmer, and every acre he can make productive adds that much more to the wealth of the world.

"Diversification of crops is a common sense policy for a farmer. If your cotton crop goes wrong you have your corn, your cattle, your hogs or other crops. During 1918 you probably made more money by cutting your usual cotton acreage and putting more land into feed and food crops. Plant corn, feed it to the hogs if necessary, and raise pork. The cheap labor in Europe is not in a position to raise hogs, and you will be able to sell your pork at a profit. America must help feed her.

"Plant some of your land in feed-stuffs and fodders, that you will be helping to both feed and clothe the world and make a reasonable profit for yourself."

Surely there is nothing in this statement of the situation to which any one could object unless their mental vision is so twisted that they can see but one side, and that their own.

Let me repeat a few facts with the hope that they will sink deep into the consciousness of the good people of New England, who, I am sure, would be as loath to feel that they are binding the whites and the blacks in the cotton fields of galling slavery and illiteracy as would be the white and black cotton growers of earlier days had any one charged them with seeking to fasten the chains of physical slavery tighter around the blacks of the South.

THE MOMENT OF OPPORTUNITY FOR RETAIL MERCHANTS

The next few years will mark a tremendous change in the business of retailing. Here and there out of the mass of small businesses, big retail establishments will spring up.

Every community will see some few stores rise rapidly above Ordinary Success to Big Success. Opportunity is knocking now at every merchant's door.

For, today, the handicap that once set a limit to a store's expansion no longer exists. The trading area, which is the area to which goods may be delivered profitably, has been greatly extended.

The store in the centre of the town can serve customers on the outskirts. The east-end store can deliver goods in the west end. The whole community is laid open to competition.

And in this fair field the live merchant must win. Railway Transportation revolutionized trade. It made Big Business possible. By opening up distant markets, by moving goods rapidly at comparatively low cost, Railway Transportation built up big central successes.

Motor Transportation, now reduced to a low-cost basis, will produce, in local trading, results similar to those effected in national markets by Railroad Transportation. As men everywhere grasp this idea, as they seize the opportunity for business growth that now presents itself, the retail business will be operated on a higher, more efficient plane. The public will be better served. Larger and more varied stocks will be offered for sale. Better and bigger stores will appear.

The Ford One-Ton Truck makes available this opportunity. It is motor transportation at low cost—low first cost, low maintenance cost, low operating cost.

A large investment in equipment is not needed. Every business that is paying cartage bills or maintaining a delivery system can employ Ford Trucks economically.

A small outlay will motorize your deliveries and open to you the opportunity for business expansion.

Complete Ford Trucks in Two Standard Body Types Now Ready for Immediate Delivery.

The Ford Truck Chassis is being used with hundreds of special body types in every line of business. But, ordinary hauling and delivery work can be best adapted to two standard types—the Stake Body and the Express Body.

These two body types are kept in stock by Ford Dealers and Ford Branches, ready for immediate delivery. They insure the maximum efficiency from the Ford Truck. They give the buyer of a Ford Truck the recognized benefits of Ford production.

Both types have the Enclosed Cab with the two-way windshield which gives the driver proper protection from the weather. This Cab—a Ford Feature—is warm in winter and cool in summer. It may be ordered with or without doors as desired.

No question affecting the future of your business is quite as important as this question of motor deliveries. Can you afford to evade it? Dearest Kiddies:— After all the warm rains of the week there should be many improvements from the spring cleaning which the outside world is receiving. I am sure everything about you look fresh and prettier after sun gets in her work. Of course inside cleaning up of the habits so forth can go on all the time whether it rains or shines, and I trust are all having a very successful spring season within your little abode. I did receive some blossoms as well as leaves from members this week but they evidently had forgotten to decide to wait until the blossoms were so as not to make every one go to the buds and leaves. It was long now before the violets themselves appear as well as the buds.

Today you will all have a Stamp story to read for a change. This reminds me to ask you if you have any getting along with them? You know the saying has a real good one to replace some of the objectionable habits which are discarded during this cleaning up time. So those of you who sibly can I hope are helping yourselves and your country in way. Some of you forgot to mention the matter to me in our letters, cannot always tell how you are pressing. So after you have read this just get a piece of thread have some one tie on your feet as a reminder, to tell Uncle Dick your next letter just how many stamps you have been able to buy so far. I know of one of our members a boy—who is using every cent he extra to buy those stamps, so when he is older he will have a thing ready to start him in collecting. Of course with such a fine object in view, his parents are helping him every way, for by putting a little each week they think it will be easier than trying to find the money at once, when he is ready to go to college course, besides the they are able to give him now what they never mind at all. It occurred to me that the plan was excellent for helping all concerned several ways, and best of all giving the aid which our country have to help pay the enormous expenses of that terrible war. So for that today, but please do not get of I shall feel very badly in your next letter just how many stamps you will remember that I have been acknowledging the "of Spring" contributions every week, and we are obliged to non that custom today, so hope those interested will not be disappointed but wait patiently for next week's short. It is impossible to get our good things in one page, as know, so the only way is to everything its turn. However, it pleases me to hear from you.

Heaps of love to all.

But the most interesting thing is what he has in his mouth. It is a nut. Is he eating it? Oh, no! He is carrying it to the tree. Just think of that! The squirrel likes the kernel of that nut just as much as any boy or girl likes candy.

These nuts are his Thrift Stamps. He deprives himself of all unnecessary food and all pleasure and ease in order to lay them by for the winter. And how hard he works to earn them! Boys and girls should follow his example. Even if they have to work hard, they should lay by their Thrift Stamps. Just as he goes regularly to the ground to get the nuts, so they should go regularly to the post office.

Smile Kiddies, Smile

Dear Sir (ran a note to a schoolmaster).—Kindly excuse Johnnie having been absent yesterday as he fell in the mud on his way to school. By doing the same, you will oblige, etc.

On Business Lines. "Father," said the youngster, sliding up to his parent with a great show of affection, "do you think we shall ever be rich enough to own a yacht?" "I shouldn't be surprised."

"When we can afford it you will buy me a yacht, won't you?" "Probably, my boy."

"Well, father, I know you are a business man, and I know you want me to be a business man, too. If you will buy me a new bicycle now, I won't say a word about the yacht. Isn't that a splendid discount for cash?"

Irate Employer—"Look here, you young imp, I only engaged you yesterday, and I believe you've been asleep ever since!" "Sleepy Joe—"That's what I thought you wished, sir. Here's your advertisement: "Wanted: An errand boy, not over sixteen; must sleep on the premises."

Squire (to rural lad): "Now, my boy, tell me how you know an old partridge from a young one." Boy: "By teeth, sir." Squire: "Nonsense, boy! You ought to know better. A partridge hasn't any teeth." Boy—"No, sir; but I have."

Repeated. When Willie returned from school he sought out his elder brother with tears in his eyes. "I got a thrashing in school today," he said, "and it was all my fault."

"My fault!" echoed his brother. "And how was it my fault?" "Well," said Willie, "you told me yesterday that a million was a thousand, and when the master asked me this afternoon what a million was, I told him it was a thousand, and he said—and he gave me the biggest hiding I've ever had."

A business man had advertised for an office boy. In consequence he was annoyed for an hour by a straggling line of boys of all sizes, claiming various accomplishments. "Well," he said to a late applicant, "I suppose you can read anything, and write anything and figure a little, and use the typewriter a little, and—"

"No," interrupted the boy, "if I could do all them things, I'd apply for my own job. I ain't nothin' but an office boy." He got the position.

As Put. "I've been thinking of workin' for old Beaton," said one farm youth to another, "and I'd like to know what kind of a place it is to work at. Is the livin' fair?"

"First rate," replied the other, who had worked for the man in question. "Plenty to eat 'nd all of it good." "Is the pay sure?" "Certain as the month rolls round." "What kind of bed and lodgin' do ye get there?"

"I don't seem to quite remember as regards the beds. But the fact is, ye ain't in 'em enough when ye work with old Beaton for it to make any difference."

The HOT SPOT Chalmers is the One Car of the Day

THE great Canadian public, never fooled for long, is beginning to realize that Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world. Sales are climbing fast. From coast to coast the movement is toward Chalmers.

Today this car is on a production basis at the factory that Chalmers executives little expected to occur even in July.

Why is this?
 The answer is "Hot Spot." For this simple but really magnificent device does a trick in the use of gas that is almost beyond belief. It "smashes up" raw gas, "pulverizes" it, makes it "fine as dust," so that you can get every last bit of power out of gas.

Then the great Ram's-horn rushes it gently but quickly through "easy air bends" to the cylinders, and what is the result?
 Not only high power from a low-grade gas, but an even, soft flow of power that rests your nerves, saves your tires, and gives you a new and rare delight in driving.

Please don't miss this present day Chalmers. It's the one car of the day.

Why Italy Defied America's Peace Proposals

With rare foresight more than two years ago a German newspaper, the Bremen Weser Zeitung, named the Adriatic question as "the surest source of future discord within the ranks of the present Allies." Its prophecy was vindicated in startling fashion on April 23d, when President Wilson gave to the world his reasons for opposing Italy's claims to the Adriatic port of Fiume, and Premier Orlando, protesting that the President's statement "ruins everything," quit the Peace Conference.

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week makes clear all the points in this latest development. It shows what Italy is striving for, who is opposing her and why; it explains the positions of Lloyd George, Clemenceau, and President Wilson; it presents all shades of public opinion in the countries concerned.

Other striking articles in this big, interesting number of "The Digest" are:

Pathe, Famous Film Company, Cooperates With "The Digest"

F. Keith vaudeville theaters and in the foremost motion picture houses. This feature has already found its way into hundreds of representative theaters and its popularity can best be judged by the fact that it has retained a prominent place in each week's program for many months past. A running fire of laughter and applause is created by the entertainment, which consists of witty and satirical comments on men and events and "punch" paragraphs dealing with political, social, and other foibles of the hour, selected by "The Digest" from the press of the world. The Pathe organization will be the medium through which it will be shown on the screen to millions of men and women who have not yet enjoyed it.

Jowett, Miss Molly Otty, Miss L. M. Peters and Miss Pearl Peters were appointed a committee to attend to this branch of the Institute's activities. The evening's program was very appropriately devoted to house-cleaning problems, and was in charge of Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. J. F. Reid and Miss Gladys Dickie, whose hints along this line were helpful and timely. An appropriate contest, featuring house-cleaning implements, provoked much amusement. The winner, Mrs. L. H. Jowett, received for her efforts, a dish mop. Programmes were mapped out for the next three meetings. A literary evening will be held in May; Gardening will be the subject for June, and Picnic Lunches, for July.

APOHAQUI

Apoahqui, May 2.—The opening of the spring season is bringing the usual interchange of residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Guance and Miss Guance of Carletonville, have purchased a cozy residence from James A. Fowler, which they are now occupying on George street.

A number of new families are being welcomed to the village, from the surrounding countryside.

Mr. Guance has retired from agricultural pursuits and has chosen this village as a desirable place to make his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Kierstead of Lower Millstream, have leased a cottage on Main street, and have taken up their residence here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Munroe of Lower Millstream, has purchased the farm owned by the late Hartley Collier and has moved his family there recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patterson of St. John, are again taking up their residence at Lower Millstream.

Mr. Patterson has been in military service in St. John, where they have temporarily resided and having recently donned civilian garb, is returning to occupy their home at Lower Millstream.

Mrs. W. G. McLeod has purchased a residence on Foster Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baird, who sold their valuable property at Lower Millstream, are moving into the cottage lately vacated by Geo. Munroe.

A shadow of sorrow overshadowed this village on Friday last, when friends here received the sad intelligence that Miss Sybil Fenwick, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fenwick of North Easton, Mass., had passed away following a brief illness from pneumonia. Miss Fenwick was a winsome young lady of only 17 years, and had made many friends here during her occasional visits to this village in the summer seasons, when she was a guest of her aunt, Miss Lena Fenwick of Fredericton, who returns each summer for a sojourn at the family residence here.

Yesterday a good Maxwell
—Today a Better One

THAT is the policy of the Maxwell Motor Company.

It began five years ago on a single chassis plan and today 300,000 Maxwells have been built on this program.

Not 300,000 Maxwells identically alike—for that would be admitting that the car has never improved in five years' time.

More than 1000 refinements have been made in the Maxwell.

But the original chassis plan was not changed. It has simply grown better as the days went by.

The logic of building one thing and thus building it well is too clear, too sound, too emphatic in results to argue against.

Like any fine piece of machinery the Maxwell seems to improve with age.

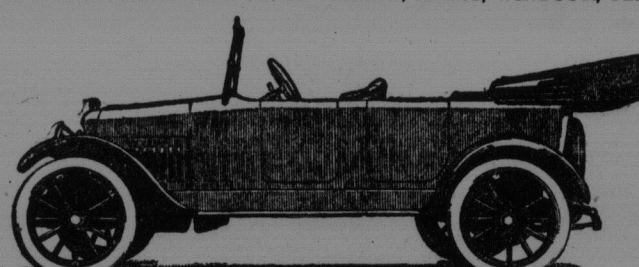

It runs on and on without end. We have never heard of a Maxwell salvaged.

There is no car with a better road ability record. And it saves many a thrifty dollar by shying at the repair shop.

This Maxwell you see today is not a new Maxwell; though many persons have thought so. It has been so much improved in appearance that our contemporaries in the trade repeatedly refer to it as the new Maxwell.

However, good looks have not in any way handicapped its running. And the latter is the main thing, after all, in a motor car.

A Complete Record of The Five Most Eventful Years in the History of the World

In co-operation with British and Allied Government Officials, "The Times" staff of writers have now been able to describe the events of this great war in such a manner that the authenticity of the work is absolutely beyond all question. No matter in what theatre of war or in what branch of the service your sons or your friends have been engaged, there is an account of it here.

"The Times" of London, England, is without question the greatest News organization in the world; this fact is conceded by all rivals. "The Times" organization is a most wonderfully perfect working machine. The group of correspondents, editors, photographers and others who compose the staff of "The Times" are all picked men, specially trained in the performance of their vastly important duties. The man who has been successful on the staff of "The Times" is made for life; he has proved himself capable of "stacking up" to "The Times" standard. This, then, is the great organization which undertook to write and publish THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST WAR.

When war broke out, Lord Northcliffe immediately grasped the significance of what it would mean to future generations to have a complete record of all events leading up to and during the entire course of what he felt would be the greatest war in history—how clear his knowledge of inside facts was, now realize.

At once the whole machinery of the "Thunder" great organization was set in motion. They had been prepared. They knew—none knew better—what was before them. So, carefully and calmly, they set about to record every incident, every engagement; what was being done here, what was happening there; every battle on sea or land; every campaign—no matter in what part of the war's area it took place—was chronicled in "The Times" History of the War.

Men who have been at the front have bought "The Times" History to have an ordered account of the whole war, and that it may be in their homes without fear of omission for their descendants.

"The Times" History of the War is copiously illustrated. Thousands of photographs and drawings—both of the Allies and the Enemy—many from the most inaccessible places—are here collected for the first time. "The Times" History of the War has a wealth of personal interest and a thrilling note of excitement described at first hand, which makes the reader eager to open its alluring pages from first to last.

From a standpoint of good value, it is easily the cheapest work of the day. The most prominent Statesmen, Professors and Editors are buying this History of the War as a work of reference. It has been sold to public libraries on account of its completeness, and Government officials have decided that "The Times" History is the only reliable work that chronicles truly the stupendous events of the last five years.

Never within the next decade will any historical publication equal "The Times" History of the War. It should be in the home of every English-speaking person. Its historical educational advantages are invaluable. It is a work for you, your children, and your children's children.

If you will mail the coupon attached below, we shall be pleased to send you an illustrated booklet which gives a full history of the London "Times" and a complete description of THE MOST STUPENDOUS WORK OF THE LAST FIFTY YEARS.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AS LIFE—By William T. Ellis.

"The International Sunday School Lesson for May 4 is 'Man Made the Yoke of God.'"—Gen. 1:26-2:7; Eph. 4:20-24.

Like escaping from the noise and contentions of an actual city, to a hillside whence he seen, in all their vast and towering grandeur, the snow-crowned peaks of storied mountains, so is the tale from the babble and strife of day's news to a contemplation of sublime story man's creation of his primary purpose in existence. There is a widespread tonic effect to follow the study this week of the story of human beings by millions of Sunday school members of the world. While we are talking about making over the universal standard, let us consider the one exact factor, which is man. Nobody will be the worse, and everybody will be better, for a little hard thinking on this subject. We see life and see it whole from the standpoint of the Garden of Eden.

When machinery gets seriously out of repair, it sometimes has to be taken to the maker to be made right, pose we look upon our jangling, rattling, thumping, maddened state society as a bit of machinery needs repairing by the Maker. Society is merely people in the mass, which comprise it have been set right. Our day's supreme issue, one, whether it be the League of Nations or the latest neighborhood squabble that issues in personal quarrels. When "all men's good becomes man's rule," then we shall have perfect day toward which the world has been so bloodily, blindly groping.

Getting Down to Bed Rock.

Small boys pass through a pebbles where they believe that a pebble, if left long enough in a bucket of water, will turn into a snake. We grow older, we are almost solely credulous concerning the capabilities of human beings to grow into what they were not. The delusion society will evolve itself into a better order dies hard. It matters not the scientist who has followed the race back, through excavations, archaeological records, declared for a 11 period of known his man was as man is. He has no sentimentally altered in more than thousand years. Still a host of intelligent folk believe that humanity, "Topey, 'just grewed," and that it continue to grow until it reaches fiction.

We are not accidents. Man is not by chance, a mere prank of mite forces. He was created, made him. Before he was made of flesh, he was a thought of God, inscrutable councils of eternity's deliberation upon his advent.

We have the greatest truth of all concerning ourselves and our time God had a hand in our making. That hand has never been removed from man. If we know anything at all about a Supreme Being, it is his chief interest in this earth's mankind.

So the Garden of Eden view is that before there was a man there was a God; and that man is because God was; and that the Maker of man has proprietary rights in him; that the Almighty who began the race of man still stands by to see through. We anchor a questing faith for troubled times in the character of the Omnipotent.

Reshaping the Scheme of This

Old religions, such as Paul taught on Mar's Hill, did not much beyond the point that we God's offspring, and that he has certain rights in us. That is true and not always remembered. Sometimes we weave such an intricate web of religious beliefs that we sight of the elemental fact that it is a God who made us and that he is his, "the sheep of his pasture" as the Psalmist says.

Let us look at God's creature rights, we set about undoing of his work. What is bringing nations to crash today, whence sprang this turmoil that recoils from many and Russia and continents? Why are statesmen mortally frightened by Bolshevism's militarism? Is the answer not people? Men fancy that, as Omar they can "Grasp this sorry scheme of things entire,

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR Today

There are three vital processes human existence: the absorption of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes, and rheumatism is the result. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means indigestion, constipation, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of nature to dispose of waste, and leads to development of many serious illnesses.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination—cannot be expected to respond to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Only a responsible person expect to himself of rheumatism as an isolated

Workers in Chemicals and Metals Are Often Subject to Anaemia

THE breathing of poisonous chemical fumes or of the fine dust which arises from the grinding of metals is most injurious to the blood. As a natural result the quality of the blood deteriorates and an anaemic condition is developed. Once the blood fails to supply an abundance of nourishment the nerves become exhausted and then there is weakness of the heart's action, inability of the stomach and other organs of digestion to perform their functions and general lassitude of the whole body. A complete change to open air employment is the most desirable treatment, but, unfortunately, in this day of the high cost of living, not many can afford to throw up their means of subsistence and start all over again at a new occupation. For all such there is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the best known means of enriching the blood and thereby nourishing and invigorating the whole human system. The appetite is sharpened, digestion is improved, the vital organs resume their natural functions and strength is restored to the weakened body. With strength comes new courage and energy, new confidence and good health. Mr. Robert Blaind, painter, 26 Wharf St., Belleville, Ont., writes: "About three years ago my nerves were so bad that I couldn't work at my occupation, as I felt so weak and nervous and couldn't get any sleep at night. I went to a doctor and doctored for fourteen weeks, and did not feel altogether right until a friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did so, and after taking the first box I could see good results, a continuation of this treatment restored my nervous system and I have been feeling better ever since. I would recommend it to anybody suffering from nerve trouble, as I have found it to be a grand medicine." Everybody whose occupation exposes him to the breathing of poisonous fumes or the fine dust from metals or mineral drugs will find in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a splendid means of enriching the blood and counteracting the bad effects. Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies

Every true mother realizes the fact that her baby's health depends upon her own, and that the vitality of her child is influenced by her own physical condition. How important it is, therefore, to guard against any derangement of the female organs, which induce general weakness, nervousness, constant fatigue and utter inability to properly care for her child. Please remember, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and strength to thousands of such mothers.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia. I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when 7 months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. FRANK MORTIMER, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during and after maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many instances have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Mayor has received from the clerk of the executive council of the provincial government a letter containing information as to the federal housing scheme. Advice not contained in the act sets out that "houses to be built with the assistance of the money provided by the act must be up to a certain standard, and particulars of such standard will be furnished you very shortly. I may say that the standards are not so high as to make the houses expensive, the principal provision being that they shall be equipped with the proper sanitary equipment and sufficient air space." MAY PROMINENT MEN COME OUT FOR TANLAC

FORMER MAYOR OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA., RECOMMENDS IT

Says He Now Weighs More Than Ever Before Since Taking Tanlac.

One of the latest additions to the large and rapidly growing list of prominent men who have publicly endorsed Tanlac for the good it has done them is the name of Hon. Frank W. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Evans is one of the best known men in public life in Alabama today, being at one time editor of one of the South's greatest newspapers, the Birmingham Age-Herald. He was also examiner of public accounts in Alabama. In telling of the benefits he has derived from Tanlac, Mr. Evans said: "For years I suffered with gastritis and indigestion in the worst form. I was habitually constipated and had pains in my shoulders and headache continually. My appetite left me almost entirely and everything I would eat hurt me. Finally I got to having awful attacks of acute indigestion, palpitation of the heart and smothering spells. For a long time I would have one or more of these spells every night and I would wake out of my restless sleep gasping for breath. I bought a bottle of Tanlac, and to my surprise and gratification I began to feel relief after the first few doses. I kept taking the medicine and now weigh more than ever before, and my recovery is simply the talk of Birmingham."

MAYORS, JUDGES, DOCTORS, LAWYERS, MINISTERS, STATE AND COUNTY OFFICIALS, ALL INDORSE TANLAC.

It is seldom, indeed, that men of prominence, especially men holding high public office, willingly express their indebtedness publicly to a proprietary medicine. Many prominent men, however, including Supreme Court Judges, Mayors of our leading cities, prominent State and county officials, bankers, lawyers, doctors, editors, leading educators, Government officials and even ministers of the gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell the people what Tanlac has done for them. These well-known men of affairs have recognized in this medicine a new discovery and a scientific triumph in the medical world. It is a well-known fact that these splendid improvements have been given Tanlac time and time again, and yet will continue to be given just as often as new tests of its powers are made, and it also explains why numbers of the big drug firms of the country are ordering it exclusively in carload lots. Appearing below are a few endorsements from the large number that are continually being given to the public:

REV. A. H. SYKES IS MUCH GRATIFIED

Tells of Remarkable Change in His Wife's Condition—Gives Tanlac Credit.

The Rev. A. H. Sykes, pastor of the "Washing of Feet" Presbyterian church, Nashville, Tenn., prominent not only as a minister of the gospel, but popular as a man and citizen who has been true to his friends and every trust ever reposed in him, said recently: "For the past ten months Mrs. Sykes has been in a very delicate health, suffering from indigestion and kidney troubles, which gradually developed into a general nervous breakdown. Her condition became alarming, and I frequently sought medical advice, but nothing we could do for her seemed to bring relief. Before she began taking Tanlac I had feared pains in her side and suffered constantly from sour stomach and indigestion and was intensely nervous. These distressing symptoms, I am thankful to say, have entirely disappeared, her appetite has returned and she seems to relish everything she eats. She sleeps better and is gaining strength and flesh rapidly. I think it only a question of a short time until her health is restored to normal conditions."

JUDGE G. W. KYSER MAKES INTERESTING STATEMENT

Judge G. W. Kyser, 1204 West Ninth street, Austin, Tex., in a recent interview, made the following statement: "Tanlac is rapidly making me over into a new man, and I will always speak a good word for it when I have the opportunity." Judge Kyser served in the Civil War with the 32nd Texas Cavalry under Colonel Wood, and occupied the bench in Caldwell County for twenty years, and resigned this office to accept the appointment as commissioner of pensions under Gov. Colquitt. After eighteen months in this high office he was compelled, on account of failing health to retire from active life. He is not only one of Austin's most highly respected citizens, but is prominently known throughout the state. "I have suffered from constipation for years," continued Judge Kyser. "I was restless and couldn't sleep at all. I had no energy and suffered frequently from headaches—and I don't know about it, I was just about played out. "But I'm feeling like a different man now, thanks to Tanlac. In fact, I'm feeling like now, nothing has helped me but Tanlac. I am recommending it to my friends as the best medicine I have ever found to build up a weak, run-down system and to restore lost health and vigor." (Advertisement.)

HIGH SHERIFFS ARE NOW CONVINCED

From Widely Separated States Comes Unstinted Praise for Tanlac.

From four of the best known Sheriffs in the South, in widely separated states, have come enthusiastic endorsements as to the merits of Tanlac. "Tanlac has certainly helped me and I recommend it for the good it has done in my case," said Hon. C. W. Mangum, ex-Sheriff of Fulton County, Georgia, who resides in Atlanta, and who has been one of the most popular officials in the State, having served three terms as Sheriff. "Tanlac seemed to be just what I needed to put my system in shape, and it has done me right up. Naturally I would recommend it to my friends, and I know of fifteen or twenty families that are taking it now on my say so."

ARKANSAS OFFICIAL TESTIFIES

Hon. Charles I. Lewis, ex-Sheriff of Crittenden county, a merchant and a large plantation owner of Marion, Ark., said: "I am convinced from the benefits that I have given myself and many of my friends have received from Tanlac that it is without an equal."

Ex-Sheriff Anderson's Statement. "Money couldn't buy the good Tanlac has done me, and I gladly recommend it to others for what it has done in my case," said Hon. Archie R. Anderson, ex-Sheriff of Harris county, Texas, who was re-elected to his high office seven times and served for several years as Sheriff. Mr. Anderson was Chief of Police of the city of Houston, where he resided for several years, and there is not a better known man in Harris county. "I needed a general all-round building up for the last few months, and Tanlac has done that very thing for me," said Hon. S. A. Kelly, who resides at Odessa, Texas, and who is one of the most popular officials in that section of the State. "I have taken only two bottles, but I feel like a different man already. My appetite is fine and what I eat gives me nourishment and strength. The rheumatism is much better and my liver is in good condition. I am relieved of the headaches and feel more active and energetic than I have in months."

PASTOR OF WESLEY MEMORIAL SPEAKS

The Rev. W. C. Norton, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Church, 523 Estell street, Jacksonville, Fla., which large charge he has held for many years, is not only a leader in his church, but is exceedingly popular and widely recognized as a leading citizen and a man of thought and action. The Rev. Mr. Norton, said: "I suffered from chronic indigestion for eight or ten years. "The benefits I derived from this medicine are nothing short of wonderful, for I really feel as well now as I ever felt in my life. In short, Tanlac has simply restored my health and I feel it my duty to recommend it."

Among many other well-known ministers of the gospel who have endorsed Tanlac are the Rev. John M. Simms, Baptist minister, and the Rev. A. I. Tull, Methodist, both of Atlanta; the Rev. J. A. Wells, pastor Oak Ridge, Miss.; the Rev. A. J. Valley, Memphis, Tenn., and many others. Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac Representative. (Advertisement.)

BIG BANKERS OF THE SOUTH NOW INDORSE TANLAC

Officials of Well-Known Financial Institutions Tell Their Experience.

Two of the best known bankers in the Southern States recently on the same day in personal letters told of their remarkable experience with the use of Tanlac. Their letters follow exactly as written. The first letter quoted comes thru Ell W. Good, druggist and local agent for Tanlac at Hawkinsville, Ga., containing the statement of E. J. Henry, president of the Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Company, which is one of the best known financial institutions in that part of the State. His letter follows, just as it was written: "Hawkinsville, Ga., March 5, 1917. "Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Georgia: "Dear Sir: Mr. E. J. Henry, president of the Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Company, came into my store a few days ago and said: 'EH, sell me another bottle of Tanlac.' "I said, 'Mr. Henry, what do you really think of Tanlac?' His reply was so commendable to the virtues of the medicine that I asked him if he would give me a signed statement about it. He said, 'Yes; of course I will,' and this is his statement: "Last Spring I was all wrong some way or other and couldn't get right. I came to you and bought a bottle of Tanlac and began to improve. Two more bottles put me all right, and I felt perfectly well. A few weeks ago I had the gripple and was beginning to get down and out again, and about a week ago I bought another bottle and have taken it and am perfectly well again. "I unhesitatingly recommend Tanlac to any one who is sick and worn out, as I believe that if anybody will take Tanlac when they first begin to feel badly it will prevent and keep off sickness. It certainly is a great remedy. (Signed) "E. J. HENRY, President, "Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Co."

DR. J. T. EDWARDS PRESCRIBES TANLAC

Declares Has Never in All His Life Seen Anything to Equal Tanlac.

Dr. J. T. Edwards of Fayetteville, Ga., one of the best known members of the medical profession in the State of Georgia, makes a statement that will undoubtedly produce a profound impression throughout the country. "In my thirty years of active practice as a licensed physician in the State of Georgia," says Dr. Edwards, "I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results. I hear people on all sides telling of the benefits they have derived from its use. "But this is only one instance. MEN TANLAC

BIG BANKERS OF THE SOUTH NOW ENDORSE TANLAC

Officials of Well-Known Financial Institutions Tell Their Experience.

Two of the best known bankers in the Southern States recently on the same day in personal letters told of their remarkable experience with the use of Tanlac. Their letters follow exactly as written.

The first letter quoted comes from E. W. Good, druggist and local agent for Tanlac at Hawkinsville, Ga., containing the statement of E. J. Henry, president of the Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Company, which is one of the best known financial institutions in that part of the State. His letter follows, just as it was written: "Hawkinsville, Ga., March 5, 1917. "Dear Sir: Mr. E. J. Henry, president of the Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Company, came into my store a few days ago and said: 'I'll sell me another bottle of Tanlac.' "I said, 'Mr. Henry, what do you really think of Tanlac?' His reply was so commendable to the virtues of the medicine that I asked him if he would give me a signed statement about it. He said, 'Yes; of course I will, and this is his statement: "Last Spring I was all wrong some way or other and couldn't get right. I came to you and bought a bottle of Tanlac and began to improve. Two more bottles put me all right, and I felt perfectly well. A few weeks ago I had the grippe and was beginning to get down and out again, and about a week ago I bought another bottle and have taken it and am perfectly well again. "I unhesitatingly recommend Tanlac to any one who is sick and worn out, as I believe that if anybody will take Tanlac when they first begin to feel badly it will prevent and keep off sickness. It certainly is a great remedy. (Signed) "E. J. HENRY, President. "Hawkinsville Bank and Trust Co."

The other letter referred to comes from the cashier of the Hornbeck branch of the West Louisiana Bank at Hornbeck, La., and is as follows: "Hornbeck, La., March 5, 1917. "Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga. "Dear Sir: I wish to say that I have taken five (5) bottles of Tanlac and have gained fifteen (15) pounds in three weeks. I think it is a great medicine. (Sgd.) "W. C. McELVEEN, Cashier. "Bank of Hornbeck, Hornbeck, La."

DR. J. T. EDWARDS PRESCRIBES TANLAC

Declares Has Never in All His Life Seen Anything to Equal Tanlac.

Dr. J. T. Edwards of Fayetteville, Ga., one of the best known members of the medical profession in the State of Georgia, makes a statement that will undoubtedly produce a profound impression throughout the country. "In my thirty years of active practice as a licensed physician in the State of Georgia," says Dr. Edwards, "I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results. I hear people on all sides telling of the benefits they have derived from its use. "Tanlac is simply the talk of my town. I have no hesitancy in recommending the medicine, and as a matter of fact I am prescribing it for my patients almost every day. "Only a few days ago a well-known woman of Fayetteville came to me and told me about the remarkable relief her daughter had gained from the use of this medicine. She said her daughter had been confined to her bed for three years with what had been pronounced pellagra, and that after using Tanlac for a short time she was able to be about and was on the road to recovery. "But this is only one instance. People in all walks of life in and around our little city are giving similar endorsements to the medicine. Seldom a day passes that some one does not come to me and say something about the good results they are getting from the use of Tanlac."

Trades and Labor Council Meeting

Will Request Common Council for Plebiscite on Daylight Saving—Landlords, Moving Day and Other Matters Discussed.

That the custom which allows landlords to make everybody move on May 1st is detrimental to the tenant, in the opinion of the Trades and Labor Council, which discussed the matter at its meeting last evening and appointed a committee to see if the custom could not be changed. The idea is to abolish the custom of making yearly contracts for houses, and adopt the plan in vogue in most big cities elsewhere. It was also decided to request the City Council to take light saving, and see if something could not be done to abolish the present confusion. The action of the council is to request the City Council to take the government railway in discharge of its duty to provide for the return of soldiers and to see if it is possible to take the matter up with the G. W. V. A. to see if something could not be done to alleviate a policy which was felt to be unfair to many workers. A committee was appointed to prepare matter to submit to the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations which will meet in St. John on June 2nd.

J. Kemp, J. E. Flaher, Geo. Melvin, F. McFarling and Joseph Nixon were appointed delegates to the Social Service Council.

It is reported that Inspector McAnish, who has been confined to his home on account of illness, is considerably improved.

Easy Way to Remove Freckles and Blistches

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of ordinary mercerized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, minute flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or so, with all its defects. No bleach or bleaches, no effectually remove freckles to brownish. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

PUBLIC HEALTH IS PURCHASABLE AND YIELDS BOUNTIFUL RETURN

New York Expends About Three Million Dollars a Year for Public Health and the Big Centre of Business and Business Men Makes a Profitable Investment.

Dr. Herman M. Blaga, Commissioner of Health of the State of New York, and one of the most eminent sanitarians in the world, says that "Public Health is purchasable. Within natural limitations every community has it within its power to determine its own death rate." In this new project that it shall provide an answer to the eternal question "will it pay?" The answer to this query, as far as the investment in public health is concerned, is that public health will not only pay its own way, but will yield a bounteous return directly in proportion to the amount invested. That this is so has been amply proved by the experience of many cities on this continent and abroad.

The City of New York spends about three million dollars a year for public health. Would any one be so bold as to say that that centre of business and business men is making a poor investment? Let us compare the death rate in that city for the years 1868 and 1907, the dates between which there has occurred in that city the remarkable development of the care of the public health as an integral part of civic government. Ages. Death rates per 1,000 population.

Table with columns for Age groups (Under 5 years, 5-9, 10-14, 15-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-44) and Death rates per 1,000 population for 1868 and 1907. Shows a significant decrease in death rates over time.

As one examines the above table, one is immediately impressed with the remarkable decrease in the death rates of persons up to age 35. This tremendous reduction in the loss of life from purely preventable disease has not only been made possible, but actually accomplished through the agency of the investment of money on a public health organization. Was it worth the community's expenditure to prevent almost half of the deaths in that community every year? Let us see. The death rate per thousand population in New York with a population of 5,600,000, that would mean an annual estimate roughly of the order of value $100,000,000. The answer to the question "does a health department pay?" is, that it is the greatest investment a community can make.

Here in our own small province, a bill of $125,000 was piled up for municipalities in 18 months to pay for medical services. How about the investment of capital by the community? The return on investment are huge and will be proportional to the amount invested.

Let us set on Dr. Bigg's slogan. Let us make investment in public health, because it is a splendid business proposition. St. John, N. B., May 2, 1919.

JOIN THE HOST OF RED-BLOODED MEN AND WOMEN

Get More Pleasure Out of Life and be of More Use in the World by Toning Up Your System With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There are many people who lack the red blood to give color to their lips, warmth to their hands and brightness to their eyes. These people tire easily and cannot compete in school, in store, or shop or factory with the more energetic red-blooded people. Their blood being thin they are nervous and do not sleep well. Arising in the morning after an unrefreshing sleep, they begin the day badly and miss much of the pleasure of living.

To become active and energetic these people need a blood-building tonic. A tonic that gives new strength that restores the nerves, increases the appetite and aids digestion, will put color in the cheeks and lips and give vigor to the steps. That means new joy in living, increased usefulness and longer life.

Wherever you find a person who has taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, you will find an enthusiastic friend of the tonic that has made life mean more in many ways. These blood-making pills have been used for many years throughout Canada and in almost every community, however small, can be found those who have suffered from extreme nervousness. The least noise would startle me, and my heart would beat violently. Indeed my condition was an unhappy one. I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for nervous troubles and decided to give them a fair trial. I am happy to say that this medicine completely restored my health, and I can confidently recommend it to all suffering from nervous troubles.

One who owes present health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Miss Blaine Chisason, South Beach, Quebec, who says: "I am a teacher by profession, and probably due to the close confinement and arduous nature of my duties, I became much run down and suffered from extreme nervousness. The least noise would startle me, and my heart would beat violently. Indeed my condition was an unhappy one. I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for nervous troubles and decided to give them a fair trial. I am happy to say that this medicine completely restored my health, and I can confidently recommend it to all suffering from nervous troubles."

Among the rheumatic sufferers who have been cured by the use of this medicine is Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Chatham, Ont., who says: "Some years ago, while living in Mount Forest, I was stricken with inflammatory rheumatism, from which I suffered terrible agony. Neither the doctor who attended me nor the remedies I tried, gave more than a little relief for a time, and as a consequence, I grew very weak and was on the verge of nervous prostration. At this stage an uncle advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had cured him of a severe attack of rheumatism. I took his advice and faithfully used the pills for several months, when I found myself fully restored to health, with every vestige of the rheumatism and every symptom of the nerve trouble gone. I have had no return of either trouble since, and feel very grateful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me."
