DEATH OF PETER WOODS

The death of Peter Woods, Princess street, occurred yesterday afternoon after a short illness from pneumonia. Deceased was forty years of age and had been a resident of this city for several years. For the past five years he has been a valued employee with the tailoring establishment of Morley & Company. He worked up to Saturday night and was able to be out walking on Sunday. His demise was very sudden and will be mourned by many, as he was well and favorably known. He was born in this city, but for several years he worked in Windsor. He was unmarried and leaves to mourn his death his mother and three brothers. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CHARGES AGAINST POLICE.

Lively Session at St. Catharines—Judge Courts Investigation.
St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—A meeting of the police commissioners was held yesterday, when Mayor Riddell and Police Magistrate Comfort took sides against Judge Carman in the discussion of incidents which occurred at the last meeting of the commissioners.

After an extra lively session of two hours, the board finally decided to meet next Monday to consider charges against the police. Talk of an investigation was quite lively, the mayor and magistrate at one time threatening to have the conduct of the judge enquired into, and the judge informing the magistrate that an investigation against him might bring something to light.

Several resolutions to the effect that it is desirable that none but total abstainers be employed on the police force of cities and towns, St. Catharines being especially mentioned, were adopted on motion of the judge, but the mayor and magistrate refused to adopt a resolution to compel men now on the local force to become total abstainers.

The motive which prompts a good deed will sometimes detract from its value.

TENDERS RECEIVED

City Council Hold Special Meeting to Consider Propositions

Tenders are Referred to Special Committee With Power

The City Council held a special meeting in their chambers in Harrison Hall last evening for the purpose of considering tenders for the work on the market building and the widening of Johnke street. Those present at the meeting were Mayor Stone and Aldermen Westman, Kerr, Bullis, Stephens, Massey, Potter, Maynard and Benson.

The first tenders opened were those for the contract to build and supply material for the construction of the new civic electric light station. They were as follows:

The Blende Lumber Company proposed to do the work and furnish all material according to plans and specifications for the sum of $3,837, this figure to include all concrete floors, but not the beds for the engine or machinery. This company tendered for the beds for the engine and machinery at twenty-five cents per square foot, for all the concrete required for these beds.

Hugh Gallagher & Son proposed to build complete and furnish all of the specified material for the proposed electric light station in accordance with plans and specifications for the sum of $3,771. Extra excavating twenty cents per yard, extra concrete work $5 per yard, extra concrete floor ten cents per foot.

John G. McKensie proposed doing all the excavating for the foundation walls, concreting same, furnish and lay all brick, cut stone sills and filling in the entire area of building according to the plans and specifications for the sum of $3,163. Mr. McKensie proposed to do all the excavating and concreting for $8.50 per cubic yard and cement floor for twelve and one-half cents per square foot.

Campbell & Callahan proposed to furnish material according to specifications for the new electric light building for the sum of $352. This tender is for the tin-smithing, etc.

Geo. H. Connibear proposed to furnish all labor and materials for the concrete foundations of the new electric light plant for the sum of $5.40 per cubic yard, floors at ten and one-half cents per surface square foot, and excavate for the foundations and fill in the floor for the sum of twenty-five cents per cubic yard.

The tenders for the proposed improvements to the market building were as follows:

George Stephens & D. H. Douglas tendered for the work as specified for the sum of $30.45. Another tender received from the same firm tendered for the same work, down pipes and 32 galv. corr. iron to be used on the new electric light building for the sum of $320.70, and for supplying 28 galv. corr. iron for the sum of $218.55.

The Western Bridge & Equipment Company proposed to lay the concrete foundation at the new electric light station for $588, the concrete floor for $427.12, and the steel work for $950. This does not include the engine beds, which they proposed to put in at $6.25 per square yard.

Campbell & Callahan proposed to furnish material and complete all troughing, on the market shed verandah for the sum of $45.

These tenders were referred to a special committee, composed of the names of Aldermen Stephens and Westman added, with power to change the specifications if they see that such changes will lessen the cost of the work.

It was moved by Aldermen Westman and Potter, that what is known as Johnke street be surveyed, and if found to be thirty feet wide, the expense to be charged to the whole work, and that the advice of the City Solicitor be sought before any proceedings are taken in the matter. Carried.

Ald. Stephens referred to the matter of the proposed new block of pavement to be laid on Colborne street. He wanted to know what was being done with regard to this and the proposed drainage of the street. This matter was referred to Ald. Stephens to consult with the parties interested.

The matter of heating the Home of the Friendless with natural gas, which was brought up by Ald. Kerr, was referred to the Finance committee.

The members of the City Council received an invitation to attend the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Home of the Friendless, which is to be held Monday, October 7, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Always we should begin with our Christian work at the Jerusalem of our own homes.

A FUNNY EXPERIENCE

Tom Morrison Has An Exciting Time While in Chicago

Was Mistaken For The Agent of One of The Yellow Dailies

Thomas Morrison, of VanGauten's jewelry store, had a rather exciting experience during his recent visit to Chicago. While around taking in the sights with a friend, Tom dropped in at the White City Theatre. What was his surprise on entering the place of amusement to find himself the centre of attraction for the people gathered there. At first he thought that he only imagined it, but by and by when different persons commenced pointing their fingers and gesticulating in his direction, he came to the conclusion that there must be something wrong. He asked his friend if there was anything funny about his appearance that could attract so much notice. His friend replied that there was not unless it was the white cap which he was wearing. Tom thereupon took off his cap, but the staring and rubbering still continued till Tom left the place.

He had not gone any distance, however, before he was approached by an old lady who was waving a copy of a pink paper in her hand. "Your man with the money," she shouted triumphantly, as she seized Tom by the arm. He only broke away to be held up by others, and before he reached the outside he had a following like a show man and, strange to say, everyone who approached him held a copy of the pink paper in their hands and kept shouting, "He's the man with the money."

Even when he went up in the aisles the crowd followed him, and anxiously awaited his return to earth. When he got into the roller coaster, a couple of old ladies followed him there. When he got out, one of the old ladies grabbed him and called a policeman.

"He's the man with the money," she yelled. "I saw him first, and I want the reward."

Poor Tom was so bewildered he hardly knew what to do by this time, when the policeman approached him, and with a smile pointed to a photo of a man in the pink paper. The photo exactly corresponded with Tom's appearance, and the man in the picture was dressed exactly as he was. In large type below the photo, the paper announced that the management would pay three hundred dollars to the person who first discovered the original, who was advertised to pay a visit to the White City Theatre during the day.

After considerable explanation, Tom finally induced his following to believe that he was not "the man with the money."

GOT OUT QUICKLY

The man, Kashner, who with his wife walked here from Brantford, and who was arrested some time ago as a vagrant, came before Judge Houston this morning. He said that he had a horse and rig at Delray, Mich., and that he would like to get over there and attend to them.

"If it took you and your wife four days to walk from Brantford here, how long will it take you alone to walk from here to Detroit?" solemnly asked Judge Houston.

"It would take me a few minutes to get out of the city," responded the prisoner, whereupon he was dismissed. Kashner's wife remained behind, and she is at present working in McKerracher's restaurant, on the Market Square.

THE NATURAL GAS

Quite a number of citizens were asking this morning how it was that the natural gas was turned off for a time. The Planet, on inquiry made of manager Goote, was informed that a connection was being made to some of the mains out in the country, and this was the cause.

The Volcanic Company are at present laying a six inch underground line from the city to the wells to replace the line at present in use. This line has been constructed six miles from the city limits, and there are still eight miles of it to lay. The valves are being put on the gasifiers to-day, and it is expected that the patrons of the Gas Company will be supplied with purified gas to-morrow.

BEAR LINE SOCIAL

Quite a successful social and tea was held at Grace Methodist church, Bear Line, Dover, last evening. Supper was served in the Sunday School Hall, after which all repaired to the church, where a good program was given.

Rev. Mr. Bristol, pastor of Grace church, acted as chairman, and the music was supplied by an orchestra and choir from Wallaceburg. Addresses were delivered by G. W. Sulman, J. H. Simon and Ald. Charles Austin.

PROSTRATE WITH GRIEF

Geo. Fry's Aged Mother May Not Survive Severe Shock

News of Sad Accident Casts Gloom Over Wallaceburg

From Our Own Correspondent.

Wallaceburg, October 1.—When the sad intelligence of the death of Geo. Fry, of Chatham, reached Wallaceburg, it cast a gloom over the whole community. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fry, Chatham Township, and had spent his boyhood days in Wallaceburg, where he had numerous friends. A couple of years ago he married Miss Mabel Mann, daughter of S. Mann, and for the young wife the greatest sympathy is felt. Mr. Fry, for a number of years was an active member of the Baptist church here. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. The family were in the cemetery attending the funeral of a relative when the news was broken to them. The aged mother is nearly prostrate, and the doctor had to be called in attendance upon her. Deceased leaves, besides his wife and parents, four brothers, Robert, Alfred, Thomas of Wallaceburg, and Joseph of Chatham, and one sister, Mrs. M. McNeary, also of Wallaceburg. Mr. Fry and Mrs. Robert Shaw left on the six o'clock car last evening for Chatham.

George Waterbury, of Kentucky, spent Saturday and Sunday the guests of Miss Mae McLean. H. A. Stonehouse was a Chatham visitor yesterday.

CONCERT AT ST. ANDREW'S

Tea Meeting Was Attended by Very Large Crowds

Ladies' Aid Society is Deserving of Unstinted Praise

There was an exceptionally large attendance at the tea meeting held in St. Andrew's church last evening, the credit for which is due to the enterprising members of the Ladies' Aid, whose ability in the management of such affairs is well known to the people of Chatham.

The tea was all that could be desired, and the wants of everyone in the vast crowd were well looked after during the evening.

After the tea a splendid program was given in the church, which proved a very fitting conclusion to the enjoyment of the evening. The program consisted of anthems by the choir, solos by Misses Smith and Potter, and Mr. Garnet Brackin, a duet by Miss Smith and Mr. Brackin, a violin solo by Ray Pock, a recitation by Miss Verna Sheldon, and addresses by Rev. Mr. Graham, Rev. Dr. Daniels, and Rev. Dr. Battisby. Mr. James Innes made a very capable chairman.

Too much praise cannot be given to the ladies of the church, who have worked so hard to make this affair a success. Every member of the Society was at work, and many young ladies were enlisted to assist in waiting on the tables. Those who had charge of the tables were: Table No. 1—Mrs. Gray, Mrs. London, Mrs. Rennie.

Table No. 2—Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Arnold.

Table No. 3—Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Douglas.

Table No. 4—Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. McCortie, Mrs. Glassford.

Table No. 5—Mrs. McKellar, Mrs. Fisher.

Table No. 6—Mrs. Crumb, Mrs. Bragg, Mrs. Orr, Miss McNaughton.

Table No. 7—Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Innis, Mrs. McGeechey.

Table No. 8—Mrs. Jos. Martine, Mrs. Cumming, Mrs. Martin.

Table No. 9—Mrs. English, Mrs. D. Park, Mrs. A. Park.

Table No. 10—Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Lutes, Mrs. Dagneau, Mrs. Willmore.

The officers of the Society, to whom special praise is due, are:

The Whole Story

As one journeys through life one's shoe necessities are pretty apt to increase, so that the purchasing power of every dollar must be used to its utmost. That leads to but one conclusion—namely,

"Our Footwear."

We have decided that the only way to increase our business in these days of competition is to give more for the money than "the other fellow" does. Our orders are placed early and are made large enough to obtain for us every possible price concession, and our profits are figured on the basis that "many a mickle makes a muckle"—or, as it has been stated, "many a nickle makes a dollar."

Our Footwear, therefore, you will find to be small profit to us—large profit to you.

FINANCIERS OPTIMISTIC.

The Dry Goods Economist in the current number gives the following excellent summary of the financial situation of the country:

A change as remarkable for its rapidity as it is gratifying in its results has come over the financial situation. The magnates who, a couple of weeks ago, professed to regard the outlook as black with thunderclouds now find that it has cleared, and if among those at the head of great interests pessimism has not entirely given place to optimism, at any rate the latter is apparent in a degree which far outweighs the former.

During the present week several features have come to the surface which indicate an improvement in feeling in financial circles. Thus, the new $10,000,000 issue of New York City bonds, which a few weeks ago met with no response, has been oversubscribed not less than four and a half times, a factor which in itself shows that there is in reserve a substantial amount of investment money awaiting only a favorable opportunity. The money market has eased off, and although the situation in this regard has not entirely cleared in fact, it could not be expected to in so brief a period—it arouses considerably less anxiety than was the case but a very short time ago.

The change for the better seems to be clearly recognized by those who are familiar with conditions throughout the country, financially and otherwise. A few days ago Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, on his return from a tour through the West, scoffed at the talk of an impending panic, declared the whole country, and especially the West, to be immensely prosperous, and asserted that so well off financially was the West that the East was borrowing money from that section. This last statement the Secretary has since confirmed by the exhibition of circulars sent to an Iowa banker by Eastern banks which desired to raise money on high-grade industrial and railway securities. "Financiers are learning at last," says Secretary Wilson in this regard, "that if they want money they must go to the men who produce the most of it—the farmers. Our crops last year were worth $6,500,000,000, and this year they will be worth $500,000,000 or probably $1,000,000,000 more."

Paul Morton, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, when interviewed this week in London by a New York Times representative, described the business situation throughout the country as good, and attributed the recent decline in securities not to any alarm, but to the great industrial activity, which had created an unusually urgent demand for money. He described the railroad outlook in the United States as not at all bad, saying that so long as we had good crops we would have good tonnage, and adding that there was no over-production of any kind.

Still more significant is the statement of E. H. Harriman, to the effect that conditions in the West and the business outlook there were as good as could be expected, the main thing to be wished for being freedom from frost between now and October 1st. Mr. Harriman, as might be expected, found some anxiety existing on the part of the money interests, due to the recent agitation against the corporations. He denied, however, that there was any business depression, and said that at the present time everything was still running at the top notch.

Within the dry goods trade, although the season is somewhat late, the great majority of merchants and manufacturers are optimistic and confident of an excellent fall and winter season. To those, if any, there now be, who take a less favorable view we commend the foregoing statements for thoughtful consideration.

$30,000 FIRE IN TORONTO.

Defective Electric Wires Cause Blaze in Early Morning.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Defective electric wires are blamed for a $30,000 blaze, which broke out in the Carter-Crume Co.'s premises in the four-story brick building at 447 West King street, on Saturday morning.

Type-setting machines, presses, type and paper were severely damaged, the loss being heaviest on machinery. The fire started in the fire department, under Deputy Chief Noble, had a hard time of it for a while, owing to the dense smoke.

The fire apparently started in the southeast corner of the flat and swept by a southeast wind, soon played havoc with the interior. The loss to stock is fully covered by insurance.

Sixteen men and as many women were thrown out of work, and it will be a week or more before the company is able to resume operations.

For Life.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Frank J. Constanine, recently convicted of the murder of Mrs. Louise Gentry, on Saturday, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Joliet.

OH, FOR A CLEAR COMPLEXION!

A clear complexion is the outward evidence of inward cleanliness. In bad health the face becomes a sign-board, telling of disease within. If yellow, bile is not properly secreted; if pallid, the kidneys are faulty; if skin is murky and dark circles beneath the eyes, look for constipation. Whatever the cause, no remedy compares with Dr. Hantson's Pills, which are mild, safe, purifying and vitalizing in their action. They give a marvelous rosy tint to the cheeks, brighten the eyes and establish health that defies age and disease. Sold everywhere in 25 cent boxes.

Peached on Pals.

Belleville, Sept. 28.—Tuesco Lectace, alias Joseph Plouffe, a young French Canadian, charged with burglary and other offences, will know his fate on Monday.

Arthur Valneff and Arthur Delac turned King's evidence, and testified against Lectace, who, they asserted, was the leader of the trio, and incited them to steal.

THIS TONIC BUILDS UP.

Many medicines stimulate, break down, leave you worse than ever. Ferrozene is different—it's a blood-former, a nerve-strengthenener, a body builder. Pale anaemic girls are given color and vigor. The tired and sleepless are strengthened and restored. Better than all tonics I found Ferrozene," writes Mrs. F. F. Castleton, of Woodstock. "I was completely run down, cheeks were blanched, lips white and had every sign of anemia. Ferrozene added to my weight, gave me strength, ambition and good health." Nothing better; try Ferrozene yourself. 50c. per box at all dealers.

The women who are sure she is beautiful like to be told of it as often as her friends feel so inclined.

A Sample of What V.S.C. does.—Mr. Merrifield, "I was so severely stricken with Joint Rheumatism that I was confined to bed for a long time with swollen and stiff joints; it even affected my stomach. I gave up all hope of ever being cured. The doctor finally told me he could 'ease my pain but could not cure me.' My sister heard of your 'Veteran's Sure Cure,' and sent for a bottle. I took half of a $1 bottle. This enabled me to walk about as usual. This was about six years ago, and I have had no return of Rheumatism. Mrs. H. Priest, Williamsford, Ont., Sept. 11th, 1907.

TOM GROVES IN CHATHAM

He Tells The Planet About His Trip Home—Is Feeling Fine

Looks the Picture of Health—Now Ready For Duty

Tom Groves, of this city, who has been enjoying himself for the past two months in the Old Country and incidentally providing interesting reading matter for his friends through the columns of this Planet, returned to his home in this city last Saturday night.

Mr. Groves paid a visit to The Planet editorial rooms yesterday afternoon. He is looking in the very best of health, and he claims that his trip has done him untold good, both in mind and body. His trip was made primarily to visit his relatives, and especially to see the country. Mr. Groves saw more than he can describe, but he does fairly well when he gets going, and the listener has no trouble in keeping interested in the conversation.

He tells a very amusing incident which happened to him just after his arrival where his relatives are. He was standing on the station platform looking around for his sister who was going to meet him there. It was twenty years since he had seen her, and as both had naturally changed very much in that time, neither was sure of the other.

"I was standing there looking around for my sister," said Mr. Groves, "when I saw a woman who seemed to be much interested in me. I thought it looked very much like a relative of mine, but I was not sure. I didn't want to be seen walking up and embracing some one's sister, so I decided to walk around and keep my eyes open. The woman kept walking around, too, and finally we met face to face, and I decided to make a break anyway. As soon as I spoke, she knew who it was, and then everything was all right."

"The trip home was very rough for a couple of days," continued Mr. Groves. "There was one man trip seemed to be effected by the weather. He was taking his horse over, and when it got rough, he became despondent and threw himself overboard. The Captain lowered boats and tried to save him, but the poor fellow never came up. There were several other deaths on board. One was a stoker. He was working at the furnace and came up to get some fresh air. He commenced to drink a lot of water, and he fell ill. He died a few hours afterwards and was buried almost immediately."

"We started from Liverpool at five o'clock on Friday, a week ago, and landed at Quebec last Friday. I was a home bird when we got started time all right, but when it was over I was anxious to get home. Coming back we had a concert on board the ship, and I was forced to keep up Chatham's reputation as a musical centre, by singing a solo. Judging by the applause I must have made a hit. I am glad to be home again, and I am ready for work."

When Mr. Groves was walking down the street yesterday morning, he saw a drunken man who was so paralyzed that he couldn't speak. Instead of running him in Mr. Groves felt so good after his trip that he decided to be lenient. He was not on duty, but he took the man into a store, where he was still sleeping it off when last heard from.

GERMAN EMPEROR'S RECEPTION.

Channel Fleet Will Meet Him at Sea—London's Cordiality.

London, Sept. 30.—Every possible nerve is being strained to give the German Emperor and Empress a reception the like of which they have never experienced outside of their own country when they came to England in November. The court officials are co-operating with the civil, naval and military authorities to insure a cordial reception, and the result will probably be such as even to impress the Imperial visitor and his consort. Not very much can be done to impress the Emperor in a military way, but he is to be honored with a naval welcome of imposing dimensions. The whole channel fleet, under Lord Charles Beresford, will go out to sea to meet him, and more than a hundred pennants will fly at Spithead to salute their Majesties on their arrival.

There is no doubt this royal visit is intended to mark in a dramatic and picturesque way the better understanding between England and Germany, on which this country is now congratulating itself. Since the Kaiser or last made a state entry into the City of London many things have happened, including the notable limitation to his own influence in the field of European diplomacy. The Kaiser has kept the peace through everything, but so long as he remains the dominant figure in European politics the world had an uneasy feeling that it was too much at his mercy. When he comes back to London a few weeks hence the popular welcome will be all the more enthusiastic because by force of circumstances this feeling has faded away.

"The city is going to exceed itself in the cordiality and splendor of its hospitality. The main reception to the Emperor and Empress at the Guildhall will be on familiar lines, but the details will be filled in with quite exceptional solicitude and lavishness."

Most of us get what we deserve, even if we do not want it.

A gold-filled watch isn't as good as real, but a gold tooth may be.

BIGAMIST CAPTURED.

Hintonburg Girl Returns Home Broken-Hearted.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Charles Gagne, who had a wife and children in Ottawa, surreptitiously courted and won the approval of Irene Schau of Hintonburg.

The pair eloped to Montreal and married there a few days ago. The man called himself Russell. The girl's brother-in-law, hearing of the elopement, went to Montreal, quietly spotted their lodging and called in a detective, who placed the bigamist under arrest.

Gagne owned up to his deed. Miss Schau did not know he was married prior to the ceremony with herself. She has returned home heart-broken.

GREAT DISTRESS IN HER THROAT.

Not an uncommon experience was that of Miss S. W. of Shuler, N. S. Doctors failed, still a quick cure was found in Catarrhzone. Notice this statement: "I have been a most dreadful sufferer from bronchial trouble and asthma. On damp days I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines, but didn't get permanent relief till I used Catarrhzone. It has strengthened my throat, cured my cough and made me entirely well." Refuse substitutes for the one reliable bronchial and throat cure. All dealers sell Catarrhzone in 25c. and $1 sizes.

Bonaparte After Railways.

Washington, Sept. 28.—United States attorneys yesterday were instructed by Attorney-General Bonaparte to institute suits against several railroad companies to recover penalties incurred by them for a total of 287 alleged violations of the safety appliance law.

The lines made defendants, together with the number of violations charged against each company, include: Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, 10; Erie Railroad, 9; Grand Trunk, 31; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, 2; Michigan Central, 1; Pennsylvania Railroad, 1; Philadelphia & Reading, 2; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2; Rutland Railroad, 2; Wabash Railroad, 5.

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.

That's how pain comes. We sit near an open window, get stiff neck or sore back. Perhaps cool off too quickly after exertion—rheumatism develops.

Spend what you may, but money can't buy anything better than Polson's Nerviline. It's penetrating power enables it to reach deep tissues—that's why it cures aches that all else can't touch. For outward application we guarantee five times more strength than in any other liniment. Inwardly it's harmless and as sure as the hereafter to ease at once. Don't accept a substitute for Polson's Nerviline, which is the one great household panacea of today.

Italian Vigilance.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Gioscona Morana, an Italian, was indicted on Saturday by the grand jury for murder in the first degree. He was convicted of crime in Westchester County several years ago upon testimony offered by Luigi Pica, and upon his release from prison early this year began searching for him. While in New York City he killed another Italian and fled to Ulster County, where in June he discovered Pica. After finishing a card game, Morana walked behind Pica, drew back his head and cut his throat. Emotional insanity will be his defence.

LUSITANIA MADE SLOW RUN.

Eastbound Voyage Takes Five Days Four Hours—Stokers Blame Coal. Queenstown, Sept. 28.—The Cunard line steamer Lusitania, from New York Sept. 21, arrived here at 3:54 a. m. yesterday, the passage thus occupying 5 days 4 hours and 19 minutes, or 8 hours 25 minutes more than her outward run. The only record broken was that of the Lucania of the same line.

The comparative slowness of the voyage cannot be attributed to fog. On only one day, Monday, was fog entered on the log, and the ship ran 624 miles that day, only six miles below her best day's work. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday a strong northeasterly wind, with a rough sea, was encountered. The American coal was said by the engineers not to have been so satisfactory as the coal used during the westward trip, and the stokehole work was not altogether up to the proper mark. But the confidence of the engineers in the Lusitania's ability to beat all competitors when things are running smoothly is not diminished. The new liner behaved splendidly during the very heavy weather of the last three days of the trip, and the passengers were lavish in their praise of the comfort which they enjoyed on board the vessel.

WHERE WAS THE ERROR.

Commission: Find No Fault in Connection With Quebec Bridge. Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The commission which has been making an enquiry into the causes of collapse of the Quebec bridge brought its Canadian findings to an end in Ottawa yesterday afternoon, and go to New York next week.

Mr. Holgate, the chairman, after the last witness had been examined, said: "As far as we have been able to learn, there had been the greatest care taken all along the line to ensure the safety and permanency of the Quebec bridge structure. "The best engineers on the continent prepared the plans and specifications, and a wonderful care and accuracy in carrying them out was shown. "We found absolutely no traces of dishonesty or craft in connection with the construction of the bridge. This seems to be the case of the best engineering brains on the continent and the very best accepted engineering methods being on trial. "As far as the Government's concern, it seems to us that everything is quite regular, and everything was done that should have been done."

Jack was very much interested in ships, and one day when the teacher suddenly asked the next boy— "What is a dromedary?" Jack very proudly exclaimed: "I know, teacher! A dromedary's a two-masted camel. Our own heart, and not other men's opinions, forms our true honor."

REFORM HOUSE OF LORDS.

Lord Rosebery Prepared to Outline a Plan.

London, Sept. 30.—Lord Rosebery is chairman of the select committee appointed to consider the reform of the House of Lords. The committee was appointed against the wishes of the Government. It will sit and take evidence for the greater part of the next session.

In his latest public utterance Lord Rosebery has made it quite clear not only that his committee intends to deal fully with the question of a reasonable reform of the Upper House, but that its recommendations will in all probability form the basis of a bill. All the radical headquarters arrangements had been almost completed for commencing the long threatened autumn campaign against the gilded chamber. The crusade promised to be rich in furious assaults against the House of Lords, but the ball had been set rolling in the wrong direction, with the spirited defence of that very position by the man who was formerly Premier, and who is admittedly the most brilliant Liberal statesman of the day.

Lord Rosebery had declared that he was not a House of Lords man, but he certainly is a second chamber man. He has said, "I am from the bottom of my heart and soul convinced by every iota of political life and historical experience that an effective second chamber is necessary."

STRIKE ON LUSITANIA?

Story That Six of the Stokers Were Placed in Irons.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Herald's London cable states: Passengers on the Lusitania, who reached London at 10 o'clock last night, had a great deal to tell about strikes and rumors of strikes which enlivened the voyage across. Last Monday morning a large delegation of strikers, with their faces carefully freed from coal dust and wearing their best clothes, wended their way to the bridge and asked to see the captain.

One of them was received, and complaint was made, it is said, of the quality of food served to the men, and the commander agreed to have the ship's doctor pass upon it. The ship's doctor pronounced it all right, and the men were ordered below. The story went about the ship that some of the men refused to work and that six were put in irons.

HALIFAX POOL RAIDED.

Police Swept Down, Made Many Arrests, Recovered Money.

Halifax, Sept. 30.—The police department sprang a big sensation on Saturday night by raiding Neville's Billiard Hall, where pools on the exhibition were being sold. Chief Powers, accompanied by a body of detectives and sergeants, went to the bowling alleys so quickly that there was no time to get anything out of the way, and they scooped in $1,247 in money, the books and papers, besides arresting one of the large number present.

This was B. M. Beckwith, a well-known commercial traveler and a prominent sporting man. Included in the booty was $500 one of those present had won on the 21st. Saturday, Beckwith was released on $2,000 bail, and will be arraigned in the Police Court this morning. More arrests are likely to follow.

WELL-DRESSED MAN KILLED.

Found Near Track of Aylmer-Hull Railway.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—An unknown man, well-dressed, with a good watch, and about 25 years old, died at the Water Street Hospital yesterday morning.

He was found lying unconscious near the track of the Aylmer-Hull Street Railway line, some four miles from this city, and was brought to the city. His skull was very badly smashed and part of the brains were coming from the wound.

Whether he had fallen from a car, or how he got there, is not known. He was brought to the city from the Hull railway station by a C. P. R. detective, and Dr. V. McKinnon and Dowling attended him at the hospital. Up to 6 o'clock the body had not been identified. Dr. Lyster, the Hull coroner, was notified.

DROPPED SIXTY FEET.

Regina, Sask., Sept. 30.—About one o'clock Saturday afternoon while John McPherson and Mr. Stewart were polishing the brick top of the tower of the new city hall a rope on one side of the scaffold gave way. McPherson was precipitated 60 feet on the stone steps, and died from his injuries. Stewart clung to a rope and was rescued. McPherson was unmarried and had only recently arrived in the city.

Unionists Hold Seat.

London, Sept. 30.—The determined attempt made by the Labor Socialist candidate to capture the seat in the House of Commons for the Kilbade division of Liverpool made vacant by the death of David Macdonald, Unionist, resulted in failure, and the outcome of the by-election was that Charles MacArthur, Unionist, secured the seat with a slightly increased majority.

Found Dead on Track.

Hamilton, Sept. 30.—James A. Plant, aged 23, who lived with his grandfather, Joseph A. Plant, of 13 Fisher street, was found dead on the railway tracks near Burlington yesterday morning. A kit of machinist's tools was found near him. His mother lives at Trafalgar, near Oakville, and his father is a manager of a big plant in Oregon.

Killed by Train on Street.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 30.—Mrs. H. C. Munsell and Mrs. Henry Holmes, both of Springfield, Mass., here to attend the Millennial Dawn Tract Society convention, were killed Saturday night on Main street by a Norfolk & Western Railroad shifting train.

Rudyard Kipling Arrives.

Quebec, Sept. 28.—Rudyard Kipling, whose prose and verse have charmed the English-speaking world, was a passenger on the Empress of Ireland which arrived in port at a very early hour yesterday morning. It was expected that he would remain in the city for a few days, as the apartments had been reserved for him at the Chateau Frontenac, but at the last moment he decided to proceed west without delay, and, accordingly, left on the O.P.R. special at 8 o'clock for Montreal.

He left his cabin with Mrs. Kipling and crossed the wharf to take the train, which was in waiting just a few hundred feet away, thus almost entirely excluding the possibility of his according an interview on things Canadian.

He wore a dark overcoat and derby hat, and although he is slightly below medium height, there is a magnetism about his personality that instills confidence in his sincerity.

"Yes," he said to a reporter, "I've come to Canada and I expect to be here for several weeks. Your country has undoubtedly made wonderful progress since I was last here ten years ago, and it will indeed be most interesting for me to note as I go through your principal cities what steps you have made in this direction. I have followed closely your doings out here, and it's a great pleasure for me to be among the Canadian people once more."

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—Golden Medical Discovery—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of a triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, chemists and writers on medicine. "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised by the best medical authorities for the cure of the following diseases: Catarrh of the bladder, bronchitis, throat, hoarseness, sore throat, laryngitis, or hang-over-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated, are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use, and you are noted a fair trial, and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

Early Baseball Teams.

Baseball teams existed as early as 1845, but the first league was formed in 1857, when the National Association of Baseball Players was organized. This, as the title implies, was an organization of players—in fact, of amateur players for long, however, and in 1871 baseball was placed squarely on a professional basis, when came into existence the National Association of Professional Baseball Players. It will be noted that the players still governed the sport, and they continued to do so until 1876, it was in this period that there grew up the great abuses which menaced the very life of baseball—namely, gambling and the buying and selling of games. In 1876 the players were deposed from the government of professional baseball, and they have never since controlled the game.—Henry Beach Needham in Success Magazine.

"SOLID GOLD" IN LAW.

Meaning of a Puzzling Term in the Jewelry Trade.

The term "solid gold" has been the cause of much discussion on the part of manufacturers of gold articles and of much misapprehension on the part of the public for some time past, and the recent law fixing the commercial definition of the phrase is welcomed on all sides.

According to this law, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, 10 carat gold is the commercial "solid gold," and all articles containing more alloy than this or all articles with parts which contain more alloy are henceforth to be known as plated, filled or rolled gold and must be so marked by the manufacturer. For example, a pin with a top of "solid" gold, even to the value of 15 carats, cannot legally be called solid if hinge, hook or pin is not 10 carat gold, while another pin of 10 carats throughout, though of much less intrinsic value than that of 15 carats, is legally "solid gold." This law was made to protect the manufacturing jewelers against the makers and sellers of "phony" jewelry and has been heartily endorsed by the legitimate trade all over the United States.

"It is a law which we have long needed," said a St. Louis wholesale jeweler, "but solid gold is a misnomer, and for one should be very glad to see the term abandoned and the value stamp used in its place. Commercially speaking, there never was such a thing as 'solid gold'—at least not for the last 200 or 300 years. Some of the ancient jewelry of the Roman and the renaissance periods was made of pure gold, worked up by hand with the crudest tools, and that is, of course, of far greater value on account of the purity of the material as well as its quaint and beautiful workmanship and its antiquity than any modern products of the goldsmith's art."

"But alloy has been used to a constantly increasing extent since, because jewelers found that the harder the gold was rendered by good alloy the greater its wearing qualities and the more secure, therefore, the setting of the gems it contained. Our jewelry now is of 18, 14 or 10 carats, according to the design and character of the article, and it is much more frequently 10 than 18."

"The law requires us to mark on the article itself or on the card to which it is attached the exact value of the gold in all the parts, just as the food manufacturers are now obliged to state the ingredients of the package on the label, and a heavy penalty is attached to the use of the words 'solid gold' if any part of the article contains less than 10 carats of gold."

"There is a bill now being prepared to be introduced at the next Congress to abolish the use of this term and substitute the carat stamp for it, and both wholesale and retail jewelers over the country will work hard for its passage. We believe the term is calculated to deceive, even when fully explained. This bill, if passed, will require manufacturers to stamp all gold articles with the number of carats which the gold will be allowed for error, but the manufacturer within this limit. This would be a great help to the buying public as well as to us, for then everybody could see at once what he is getting and there would not be so many chances for a comeback at us."

Mushroom Breaks Asphalt Walk. Illustration of the wonderful strength of growing vegetable matter is afforded in a fitting manner by a mushroom brought to the office of the News by T. J. Trustler. The mushroom, which is of the edible kind, grew under the asphalt pavement of the Middle drive. Its strength in growing was sufficient to bulge up the pavement for a radius of more than two inches and finally to break off the hump of asphalt.

Imbedded like a cap in the center of the mass of asphalt is the pileus of the mushroom. This is perfectly formed. The stipe or stem is slender and only slightly bent. The circular piece of asphalt displaced is about four inches in diameter and about an inch and a half thick. The surface is filled with veins and cracks, showing that the asphalt gave way slowly under the gradually increasing pressure of the mushroom beneath.—Indianapolis News.

Future of Aristocracy. That an aristocracy which perpetuates itself and renews itself with all the best blood of the country may be a benefit to a country is proved by the example of England, where the past is always the base of progress. In France the aristocracy, fought by royal politics, decimated by revolutions, exhausted by a new regime, has been reduced to a small number of families. The Duc de Rohan says: "There is no longer an aristocracy; money has killed it."—Paris Vie Heineuse.

The Cure. "How's your wife?" "She's having constant trouble with her head." "Can't the doctor help her?" "No—nobody but the milliner."

A Patriot. "Say, Freddie, what's a patriot?" "Oh, it's one of those fellows who tries to make something out of his country."

All men are equal—till they are round out.

PANDORA RANGE

The easiest way to remove ashes from a range is with an ash pan—the Pandora method (see illustration). Such an extra large ash pan is provided with the Pandora that it will contain more ashes than will accumulate in one day. All the ashes are in the pan, too, because they are guided there by flanges attached to either end of the fire-pot. Easiest, cleanest, quickest, is the Pandora way.

With the scraper and pan provided with every Pandora it's merely a matter of a minute or so to clean out the dirt in the Pandora flues.

Less dirt accumulates in Pandora flues than in ordinary flues, because they are wider and deeper, with no bolts, projections or crevices to catch the dirt, consequently you need not clean them out so often.

Saves a lot of labor, does the Pandora. If your local dealer does not sell the Pandora write direct for Free Booklet.

Cass Chadwick's Condition. Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, who is serving a term in the penitentiary for bank wrecking, is in a critical condition. Her doctor says: "I examined Mrs. Chadwick this morning and found her heart very irregular, and her articulation bad. Although her condition is not dangerous, it is not improbable that she may drop off at any minute."

Quebec Bridge Commission. Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The members of the Royal Commission have changed their plans and will not go to New York yet. It is likely they will return to Quebec, where a further examination of the wreck will be made before they cross the line to go to Philadelphia or New York.

Buried $150. Brockville, Sept. 30.—A woman in Westport lost $150 in bills, the cold lateral having been placed in a stove for "safe" keeping during the summer months when it was not in use. The loser is a poor woman who has to earn her own living.

Cuban Strike Spreading. Havana, Sept. 30.—The railroad trainmen's strike, which was inaugurated Sept. 28, is spreading. Neither the United nor Western Railroads were able to operate trains on Saturday. The Santiago express, just before entering Havana, was held up by strikers, who attempted to assault the engineer, but the quick arrival of the police reserves dispersed the crowd.

Japan Must Have Passports.
Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 30.—Dr. Monro, Dominion immigration officer at this port, has stated that in spite of Ottawa despatches to the contrary, he had received instructions from the seat of Government not to allow any more Japanese to land here without having passports direct from Japan to Canada. Further than that, he stated that he had notified the steamboat and transportation companies to that effect.

GUARDS CHASE REBELS

Governor Magoon Adopts Drastic Measures With Cuban Outlaws.

Soldiers Rushed Out by Special Train —Capture, Kill, or Drive Them into the Ocean Are Their Orders.

No Serious Disturbance Likely—Plans for Dealing With Strikers—Bandits Exchange Shots.

Santiago, Cuba, Oct. 1.—Thirty additional men of the rural guard left here yesterday on a special train to aid Capt. Dougherty in running down Adolfo Lacalle and his band of forty men who have been located in the vicinity of Guano. Lacalle is paying cash for his supplies at the country stores.

Exchanged Shots.
Havana, Oct. 1.—The small band of rebels, which has been traversing the country about Mayaguez, in Santiago Province, has according to late despatches, again exchanged shots with the pursuing rurales. The latter are close on the heels of the bandits.

While there are signs of unrest in various parts of the island, the opinion prevails here that no serious disturbances are likely. In connection with the situation The Diario de la Marina says:

"There is no reason, therefore, for extraordinary alarm, or for believing Cuba is on the brink of an abyss. Even the strikers have not yet committed any act of violence. If their disagreement with the railway companies is not settled other men will be found shortly to run the trains. In this case any attempt on the part of the strikers to resort to force will be punished according to law. The situation, for all these reasons, is not so grave, and the Government has ample means to cope with it."

Governor Magoon has determined to deal with outlaws and insurrections with a strong hand. The orders of the rurales, it is stated, are to capture, kill or drive them into the ocean.

JUDGE RESERVED SENTENCE.

James Wadsworth Found Guilty of Receiving at Queenston.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—James Wadsworth was yesterday morning convicted before His Honor Judge Carman on the charge of receiving stolen goods.

Charles Stevens, Harry Lemmon and Cecil Donald, boys who stole butter from Grand Trunk cars at Niagara Falls, and who were last week convicted at Welland, gave evidence to the effect that Wadsworth knew the goods were to be stolen from cars, and later received from them at his hotel in Queenston.

Evidence of several other witnesses was also given, and though the judge held the prisoner guilty, he reserved sentence till to-day, and will in any case at the request of F. W. Griffiths, the prisoner's counsel, prepare a statement for the Court of Appeal.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—To Premier Ward, Wellington, N. Z.: Best wishes and all success to the new Dominion. (Signed) Laurier.

From Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 25.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa: The Dominion heartily thanks her elder sister and hopes to follow in her footsteps. (Signed) Ward.

Hon. Mr. Provost Resigns.
Quebec, Oct. 1.—At yesterday's meeting of the Provincial Cabinet at the Parliament Buildings, the resignation of Hon. J. B. Provost, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, was received, and, after discussion, accepted.

Hon. Mr. Provost's case against Mr. Asselin was heard, it will be remembered, in the spring and the jury disagreed. It is on the list for the fall term of the Criminal Court opening here next week.

Two Prisoners Released.

St. Thomas, Oct. 1.—Sheriff McColl yesterday received notice from the Department of Justice to release Elijah Kellor, sentenced for one year for sending criminal postcards through the mails, and Thomas Omski, sentenced to six months for stealing railway brasses. They both have served three months.

His Head Blown Off.

Hamilton, Oct. 1.—A fatal accident occurred on Sunday at Bronte. John Armstrong, employed as a farm hand by James Pascoe, accidentally killed himself by shooting. He found a shotgun in the driving shed, and started to examine it. The gun went off, and Armstrong's head was blown to pieces.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Sensational Case of Poisoning in Raleigh, N.C.

Doctor Faces Serious Allegations—Stated to Have Administered Acute to Man Whose Wife He Subsequently Married—Suspected of Killing His Own Child—Wife Also Said to Be Accomplice.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—A murder trial of widespread interest was begun here yesterday, when Dr. Thomas L. Rowland and his second wife, the widow of Charles R. Strange, a locomotive engineer, faced the charge of having murdered Mr. Strange by poison, so that they might wed. A trial was made to prove that Dr. Rowland was a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in real life, and that to all appearances he led an exemplary existence, while secretly making a study of deadly poisons and plotting murder. He was even arrested on a charge of having poisoned his own child in order to get some insurance money, but he was let go because the chemists could find no trace of poison in the tests which they made. In the present case Dr. Rowland is alleged to have used arsenic, a rare and deadly vegetable poison. Judge Benjamin F. Long will preside at the trial, while prominent counsel appeared on each side of the case. A special venire of one hundred and fifty men has been drawn for service on the jury.

CHAUFFEUR UP AGAINST IT.

Finds Bridge Washed Away and Is Arrested For Speeding.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—Arthur Geyer, a chauffeur employed by Harry Vars of Buffalo, was fined $5 by the magistrate yesterday morning for fast going in Beamsville.

He left Toronto for Buffalo. At Burlington he found a bridge washed away and took his car through the creek, where it struck a rock and the services of a team of horses were secured, for which the owner demanded $10. Going through Beamsville Geyer exceeded the speed limit. Constable Tufton telephoned the police here, and Geyer was arrested. He deposited his money as security.

Six miles from here Geyer's gasoline began to run short, and as they demanded $3 for six gallons at the little store, about double the price, he decided to come back to St. Catharines and wait until morning. Constable Tufton imposed the usual fine of $5.

CHINA RESISTING JAPAN.

Complete Deadlock Over Affairs in Manchuria.

Peking, Oct. 1.—There has been a complete deadlock between China and Japan over Manchurian affairs since last week, and the attitude of the United States towards Japan has now become a feature of the situation. The new administration at Mukden and Peking welcomed what the officials call a "revival of America's spirit," in sending the battleship fleet to the Pacific after apparent indifference to the far eastern situation, and, as a result, the Chinese officials are resisting the demands of the Japanese.

Monument to U. S. Soldiers.
Niagara Falls, Oct. 1.—Ninety-three years ago British and United States soldiers fought at Lady's Lane. On Sunday a monument was dedicated to the memory of Capt. Abraham Huller Hull and nine men of the Ninth U. S. Infantry, who fell in the fight.

The Niagara Frontier Landmarks Association and the Daughters of the War of 1812 of Buffalo, to whom the dedication fell, were welcomed by the Lady's Lane Historical Society, who escorted them to the scene of the ceremonies.

The monument is built of huge blocks of grey granite.

Killed at Allendale.

Barrie, Oct. 1.—Three freight trains following each other in rapid succession from Hamilton pulled into the Allendale station Sunday night about 11 o'clock. The failure of the brakes to work on the third, permitted it to strike the centre of the train with some force. The engine on the latter buckled, killing the fireman, a young man named Robert Blackburn of Coe Hill. The crew of the last train was unfamiliar with the road, this being their first trip.

Clinton Bylaw Carried.
Clinton, Ont., Oct. 1.—A bylaw to raise $53,000, to establish a system of waterworks for fire protection and domestic use, was voted on here yesterday and carried by a majority of 79.

BAD FLOODS IN SPAIN

Recent Inundations Leave Many People Starving in the Streets.

Collapse of Church Kills Eight Persons—Thirty Emigrants Swept Into the Sea—Famishing Citizens Eating Decayed Foodstuffs—Damage Is Enormous—Estimated at Four Million Dollars—Bodies Recovered.

Malaga, Oct. 1.—The greatest distress is everywhere prevalent as a result of the storms and floods of last week. The Government with difficulty is preventing famishing persons eating and eating decayed foodstuffs that have been thrown out by storekeepers. The work of clearing away the foul-smelling mud left in the streets by the floods is being pushed rapidly. Many bodies have been found in the mud. A band of emigrants which was encamped on a quay the night of the flood awaiting a steamer has not been seen since, and it is feared all its members perished. The damage done by flood is placed at $3,800,000. A number of stores were ruined. A number of steamers arriving here reported having seen a number of bodies floating in the bay. These were believed to have been the emigrants who were washed off the quay, and who numbered more than thirty. A church and three houses at Benamarrara, a town twenty miles from this place, collapsed, killing eight persons.

CANADIAN PEOPLE LOOK HAPPY.

Kipling Noticed Change in Country Right Up From Quebec.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Rudyard Kipling, the famous litterateur, known to Canadians, not only by reason of "My Lady of the Snows," but because of his many notable works, passed through Ottawa on the transcontinental train yesterday afternoon on route to the coast.

"Anything to tell us?" was hurried at the distinguished traveler.

"It is just 15 years since I was last on Canadian soil," he replied, "and I must say that I feel really happy to be back among you once more."

"Of course you must have observed great changes in the interior?"

"Remarkable," was the expression of Mr. Kipling. "I noticed the changes everywhere right up from Quebec. You Canadian people all look so happy and prosperous," went on Mr. Kipling, "that it really does one good to come amongst you."

Yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. Rudyard Kipling left yesterday morning for Vancouver and Victoria. They will return east in three weeks.

STEAMER BICKERDIKE AFIRE.

Firemen Rescued After Being Overboard by Gas.

Kingsport, Oct. 1.—Yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock the steamer Bickerdike arrived in port and was found to be on fire.

The fire spread rapidly and a hasty call to the drydock and soon the water was playing on the flames. The blaze was down in the hold.

About nine o'clock the firemen stepped putting water into the vessel and the work of removing the cargo was started. The fire was extinguished at 5 o'clock. The greatest injury will be to the cargo.

Two of the firemen, suffocated by the gases had to be carried out. The steamer Bickerdike belongs to the Montreal and Great Lakes Navigation Co. and was built in Buffalo in 1873. She is 233 feet long and is loaded with package freight for Port Arthur.

Power Commission in Shape.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—All that so far has been announced in the press with reference to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, remarked Hon. Mr. Whitney yesterday, "is pure conjecture. But we are moving ahead steadily, getting everything into shape."

The Power Commission are to meet this morning at the Parliament Buildings with a Cabinet meeting disjunctly afterwards. Among the matters to be considered are the power question and the Soo loan guarantee.

Hon. Mr. Matheson, in respect to the Soo loan guarantee, yesterday said that negotiations were in progress, and that if the guarantee were renewed there was no chance whatsoever of the amount in question—$1,000,000—being reduced for some time to come.

MR. MASSEY INSULTED

An information charging insulting language, has been laid by License Inspector Nathaniel Massey against a man named Albert Dauphin. It seems that Dauphin was upbraided by the License Inspector for using improper language on the street in front of Ald. Massey's store. The Inspector took it upon himself to chastise the young man, who, instead of thanking him for his fatherly interest, turned and gave License Inspector Massey a naughty answer. Mr. Massey has decided to have the law on him.

The case will come up to-morrow morning.

VISIT TO NEW YORK

Dr. Sivewright Writes Interesting Letter on a Fine Outing

He Visited Hospitals And Took in The Sights in General

Dr. J. P. Sivewright, who has just returned from a trip to New York, where he visited the large hospitals, writes The Planet the following letter:

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—Having left Chatham the first week in September, for the purpose of visiting the largest hospitals in the metropolis, and witnessing operations, and incidentally seeing the sights, I returned fully satisfied with my three weeks' sojourn in New York. This city appeals to one as being far in advance of Paris and London, both in self-government and in the ownership of parks and driveways, the latter of which is 23 miles long, and on the shores of the beautiful Hudson; also the speedways, where those owning fast cars can enjoy themselves and entertain the spectators. This also adjoins the Hudson river. Passengers on the river can witness all this and more in the beautiful scenery, palisades and islands in their course. The transportation about the city and to further points is par excellence. The subway is constructed under streets and skyscrapers, under mains and sewers, stations at most convenient points—one station being directly under John Wanamaker's famous store. The latter is an enlargement of the late A. T. Stewart's marble block, and is connected with the new building by a porcelain tiled tunnel, which is only an instance of the many similar department mammoths here. There are four tracks in the subway—two inside ones, where only a rear end collision can occur. The two outside tracks are for local trains, which pass a station at every fourth street, and as you get higher up on the Manhattan Island, at every fifth and sixth street. The express newly stops at every tenth and twentieth street every half-mile distance—there being twenty blocks to a mile in New York. The system is so well adjusted that a local or express can be caught almost any minute. Still, rapid New York is crying for more service. The speed of the express trains averages thirty miles an hour, and the local trains almost as much, allowing for half and one minute stoppage. The elevated, or what is called the "L" train, has about the same speed, but there are more stations.

The bustle and noise of New York create such a brain-storm that one version is out of the question. I had the pleasure during my second week in the city of meeting James Whann, a former mayor of Chatham, at whose residence I spent many happy days. Jim is doing well. He had just returned from Ashbury Park and Ocean Grove, where he had been during the summer months. The boys are all married—one is in business for himself. The youngest is private secretary for one of the Wall Street nabobs. Archie took me up to Harlem, to the golf links, where we witnessed a match over the hills. Archie is a member of the Golf Club. The grounds are beautifully kept. We were in time to see a fast game of hockey played on the bank of thoroughbred ponies on a lawn to the rear of the golf links. It was a fast and exciting game.

On Friday morning I went on an excursion to Sandy Hook to follow the Lucania into the New York harbor. She is the largest transatlantic steamer in the world, and is equipped with turbines and every modern convenience. Her speed is twenty-six to twenty-eight knots an hour—nearly thirty miles an hour. She draws forty feet of water, is 862 feet long, and 90 feet from keel to main deck. She is equipped with Marconi system long distance telegraph apparatus.

The grand hotels have their cuisine departments as clean and neat as are the hospitals. At St. Dennis hotel the German Emperor's chef, who is an expert on dietetics, was much impressed with the system of New York hotel kitchens. The chef proposes to introduce one new dish to the Emperor's table—clam chowder. They will have to import the little neck clams from America, there being none in Europe. The kitchens in New York's first class hotels are lined with porcelain and marble, and have an army of employees drilled like soldiers.

The oyster fishery is a great industry here from New York to Chesapeake Bay. There are over two hundred ships engaged in this work. The oysters are fished out of the Bay, and along New Jersey coast at the rate of five bushels every six minutes.

Surf bathing stops about September 20, and the crowds commence to flock home. Last Sunday week, during the first of the equinoctial gales, two "L" cars collided at the centre of Brooklyn bridge at night in a heavy rain storm. I had just come over from Brooklyn on the trolley line on the track below with a party of friends. The blockade which resulted in fifteen minutes was made up of a jam of over 50,000 people, who were returning from churches. The police were out in full force, as they feared a riot. The reserves from different stations were called and in an hour's time the trains were running on schedule time. Two deaths resulted from the blockade. I paid a visit to the Hippodrome, the Bowery and many other places

THE LOVING LEAVES.

Brown is the hill where the maples grow,
So brown, so calm, so cold and still;
But the loving leaves creep snug and close,
And warm the feet of my dear old hill.

And they don't forget the violets small,
Shivering and cold in the damp and wet;
They cover them up in blankets brown,
Whispering, "Darlings, we love you yet!"

Down in the hollow amid the ferns,
Their billowy wraps they wreath and roll;
And they spread a carpet, rich and warm,
To keep the snow from the mouse's hole.

And the lady-slipper—so shy and weak—
They wrap a muffler about her throat;
And the maiden's hair they cover deep,
And furnish the moss with an overcoat.

MRS. PAGET'S MISSION.

Studied Ancient Lore of the Indians For the Government.
After a three months' trip through Saskatchewan, which included twelve hundred miles of driving by themselves, Mrs. E. H. Paget and Miss Mabel Ferguson returned recently to Winnipeg from a summer spent among the Indians of the Cree, Saulteaux and Assiniboine tribes.

Mrs. Paget is a resident of Ottawa, but was, before her marriage, Miss McLean, of Winnipeg, and has been heartily welcomed by her many friends in the city.

Her father, Mr. W. J. McLean, was for many years in charge of the Hudson Bay Post at Fort Qu'Appelle, accompanied by Miss Mabel Ferguson, of Ottawa. Mrs. Paget went up to the Hills on July 19, and made that district her headquarters. The Indians there are Crees, occupying three reserves.

She undertook the journey at the instance of the Dominion Government, as owing to the fact that she speaks the Cree and Saulteaux languages, she was thoroughly qualified for the work of research, which was that of studying the Indian folk-lore and obtaining records of the early history and customs of these tribes.

She traveled over familiar ground, as in her childhood every aspect of the country was familiar to her, and it will be remembered that she with the other members of Mr. McLean's family were taken prisoners by the Indians during the Rebellion. Miss Ferguson accompanied her and acted as her secretary.

Mrs. Paget found the space of time all too short in which to gather the material, there was so much that had never been touched on, and her interviews with the Indians were full of possibilities in the way of historical matter along many interesting lines besides those to which she confined herself.

The Indians would not talk freely in the presence of a third person, so Mrs. Paget took her notes alone; while the story-teller (like all Redmen very good in narrative) told her what she wanted to know. Sometimes three or four women were called in and asked to corroborate some date, but as a rule the one Indian took up the burden of the tale. An Indian is never interrupted once he begins his story. When he is done, there is a pause and then another may speak, but to break into a monologue by asking questions would at once place a rash person in great disfavor.

It was necessary to talk with a great many Indians to get all the facts. Mrs. Paget endeavored to find out whether they had any idea where their people came from originally; with what other Indians they had at any time been in war; and what had been their early customs. The one thing found impossible to secure was the telling of any of their fairy stories, owing to an amusing superstition. They never tell these stories except in winter, saying that if they were to take time to tell them in warm weather a lizard would come and suck their blood, meaning by this that the summer is no time for loitering. The Indians have a series of such stories dating back to the flood. Mrs. Paget used to hear them in her childhood, and she is able to write many of them from memory, but it would be necessary for her to visit the people in the winter to get them to tell the old tales over again.

An Editor's Appreciation.
The editor of The Halleyburian, in the midst of his duties as mayor, and his efforts to keep the political and theological course of the world straight manages to find some time to devote to literature, and here is an appreciative note from his pen of a present fellow-townsmen, mixed in with a few subjective reflections: "If there is anything on two legs that we like it is Dr. Drummond. We all know his literary fame, and such a connection should shed a reflected glory upon himself, but 'Wait a little bit.' We absolutely refuse to hunt him, whether in season, or out of season. We, simply, glory in intellect, and when we see it writ large upon a man, we admire with reservations. The doctor is a dreamer, and they accuse us of being the same. In spite of the possession of the world, the blessed legend of King Arthur, with all its inconsistencies, appeals to our very souls. Temnyson saw it. We, personally, have caught a glimmering reflection of that which wiser men have seen with clear vision. We would not attempt to scale the starry heights of Parnassus, but Doctor Drummond has done this thing, and in the interest of Canadian literature, let him dream on, for his effusions are like those of the song-bird, hard to imitate."

EDUCATING WILLIAM.

His Mother-in-law Tells His Wife the Subtle Process.

"He isn't stingy," declared the young woman, rather indignantly. "I'm sure he's as generous as he can be in most things, but—"

"Oh, I know," said the elder woman. "Your father used to be a great deal the same way."

"Pa!" exclaimed the young woman. "Until he got educated," said the elder woman. "I had to educate him, of course, and you'll have to educate William. Arguing isn't any use."

"I knew," said the young woman sadly. "I've tried it."

"And crying isn't any use," said the elder, with some severity. "The young woman blushed and glanced hastily at a mirror that hung on the wall."

"No, your eyes aren't red," said the elderly woman reassuringly, "but you have been crying, and I tell you it won't do, and crying won't work one time in a dozen."

"Then how?"

"Use your common sense. There are lots of ways. Take him to sleep with you the next time you go. That's a pretty good way of making him realize that a woman can't dress on nothing."

"The young woman shook her head. "You don't know William as well as I do," she said. "I'd be worse off than ever, and besides, he wouldn't go."

"Oh, yes, he would," said the elderly woman confidently. "He will if you manage him properly. You tell some woman friend what exquisite taste he has when he's around and notice how he'll begin to swell up. I never knew the man who didn't believe that he knew more about what was becoming to a woman than she did herself."

Follow that up by asking him to help you select a hat. He'll do it fast enough if you can make him really believe you depend on his judgment."

"But, mother—"

"I suppose you think he'll pick out some fire dollar herring or something that doesn't suit you at all."

"I'm afraid he would."

"Well, he wouldn't. You begin by wanting him to go to some dollar and ninety-eight millinery store and watch him rebel. Look in at the window and comment favorably on one or two of the shapes if you can't do anything else, especially if some other people are standing by looking in. He'll insist on your going to some decent place. Don't take him to the cheap shop. Go any place where there's a fairly good assortment, but not where they take $50 hats as a matter of course. All you've got to do is to pick out an intelligent saleswoman and insist on something inexpensive. If she brings you anything over $8, say: 'Oh, dear, no! I can't afford to pay that price.'"

"I don't see—"

"Well, you will. You'll see that he'll insist on seeing something better, and you'll see that he'll be about as helpless as a babe between you and the saleswoman, and he'll see that the only way he can assert himself is to urge you not to consider expense. Don't tell me he won't. I know him. You can have any hat you want and he'll go out of the store under the impression that he selected it. And you don't want to disabuse his mind either. Tell him that you think the hat is perfectly charming and you are afraid he has been extravagant and the one at $11 would have done just as well. See if he doesn't tell you that it's economy in the long run to get a good thing and that you will get more than $5 worth of satisfaction out of the difference in the price. But don't ever let him convince you."

"Why not?"

"Because it wouldn't do. But don't fail to tell him how your friends raved about the hat and how surprised they seemed when you told them it was his choice and how they said it was his taste and how they said it was his taste and how they said it was his taste."

"But you won't hear any more talk about your extravagance. He'll have got his horizon extended. He won't on any account let him lose his own good opinion of his taste."

"It seems a little deceptive," said the young woman, "but I almost believe I'll try it."

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nervous Strength, or Nervous Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure little nerve, the Carotid, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing nerve force. Without this the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, painful, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular medicine—has been directed to these weak and ailing nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

HOLY GRAIL MYSTERY

ANCIENT VESSEL DISCOVERED AT GLASTONBURY ABBEY.

All England Interested—Cup That May Have Been Used by the Saviour—Queen Story of Visions—Scientists and Antiquarians Investigate Mystic Tale—May Prove Only Hoax on Wise Men.

A small circle of eminent leaders of religious thought, antiquarians, and scientists, are at present discussing with the deepest interest the discovery in remarkable circumstances of a glass vessel of beautiful workmanship and supposed great antiquity, in a spot near Glastonbury Abbey.

The discovery was made by the sister of Wellesley Tudor Pole, of Bristol, and two other ladies, as the result of a suggestion by Tudor Pole that they should go and search in a place which he had seen either in his mind's eye or in what seems to have been a "waking dream."

Tudor Pole has submitted the vessel to various experts, who are unable to assign a date for its origin. It may be 2,500 years old. At any rate, it has been pronounced within the last few days to be pre-Venetian.

One of the strangest features concerning it is that it was placed in the spot near Glastonbury nearly nine years ago by Dr. Goodchild, of Bath, a man of much antiquarian knowledge, also as the result of what is described as a "trance," and Dr. Goodchild entertains the belief, consequent upon his strange experiences, that it is the cup which the Saviour used at the Last Supper, and which, according to the Glastonbury legend, was brought to Britain after the Crucifixion.

Examined in London.

Tudor Pole communicated his story to an eminent dignitary of the Church of England, in London, with whom he is acquainted, and at this gentleman's request, called a meeting at the house of the dignitary in London, and narrated all the circumstances concerning the discovery.

The meeting was of a notable character. It consisted of about forty persons, including ministers of various religions, scientists, antiquarians, poets and peacemakers.

The Duke of Newcastle, Lord Halifax, Lord Hugh Cecil, Earl and Countess Brownlow, the American ambassador, Rev. R. J. Campbell, Sir W. Crookes, and many members of the English Church were present.

To this audience Tudor Pole gave an account of the vessel, which created the greatest astonishment. While Tudor Pole holds that there is not sufficient ground for believing that the object of his discovery is of the sacred nature attributed to it by the English Church, he is firmly convinced that it is a "holy relic," and he has now installed it in a room in his house, which has been set apart for it. The room is draped in white. The vessel reposes in a casket on a table, and lighted candles are kept in the room.

The Cup.

It will be seen that the whole treatment of the "cup" is of a mythical nature. The story which Tudor Pole told to his distinguished audience was of the most extraordinary kind, and although it cannot be said that it was accepted as a statement of hard fact, the gentlemen and ladies present found no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion of the good faith of the narrator.

Tudor Pole told the gathering that at the beginning of the year 1902 he "received an impression" that near Glastonbury Abbey a relic of a holy nature lay buried. He experienced this mental impression grew stronger, and by night, in September last the sensation reached a climax.

He said that while he was sitting in his office, in the midst of the most prosaic surroundings, he experienced what can only be described as a "waking dream." He saw, either in a "dream" or so clearly with his mind's eye that it seemed a "vision," a spot which he remembered well—a small rivulet and a pond on some farmland known as Bride's Hill, about half a mile from Glastonbury Abbey.

In the shallow well, or spring, which is the source of a rivulet, he saw buried a small vessel—the one before the eyes of his audience.

The Discovery.

Being unable to spare time, from his business to go to Glastonbury, Tudor Pole sent his sister and two other women, one of whom was a cousin, to the spot. Turning over the mud in the well, the women found, among other things, the mysterious glass vessel.

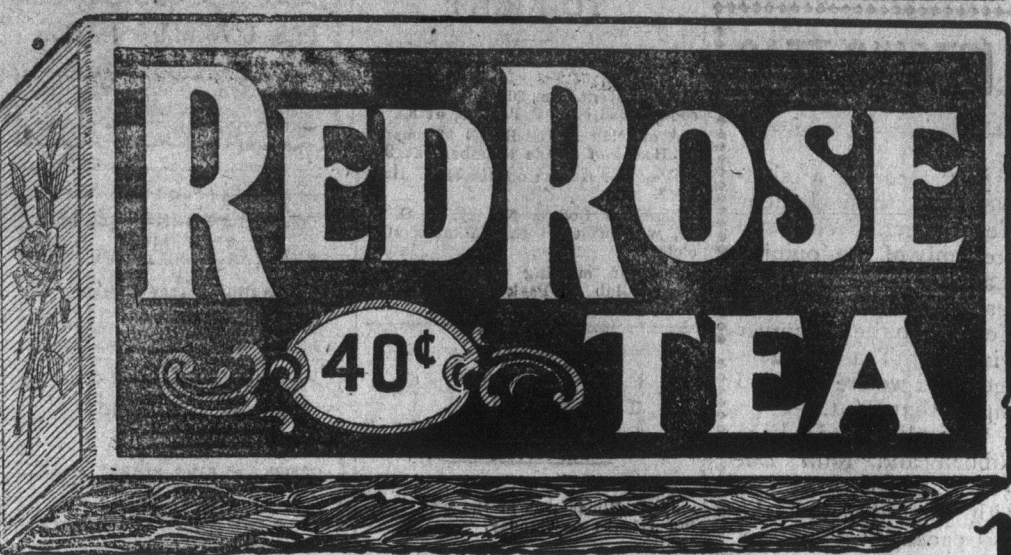

It was covered with a broken slab of stone, which had apparently protected it from injury. It was then, as now, in a state of perfect preservation.

Mr. Pole's sister and the other women were so deeply impressed with the discovery of the glass vessel that they forebore to take it away. Having carefully washed it, they replaced it in the well and other objects which they had unearthed, which included a small cross and gold chain and a carbuncle jewel.

Beetle Bends Keys.

The insect house of the Zoo in London has just received a rare and interesting acquisition. It is a fine specimen of the Goliath beetle from South America, which on account of its size and fierce appearance would send the British household into hysterics.

It is nearly five inches long and looks like a miniature person in white surplice and black stole. It is not poisonous nor intentionally ferocious, but there is a spot between the neck and shoulder which acts like a vise. A finger placed in this aperture would be broken. The other day a keeper inserted a key there. "Goliath" bent it almost double by merely shrugging his shoulders. This great beetle is the most inexpensive guest in the Zoo, for he feeds entirely off fruit that is completely rotten.

The Name Guarantees the Quality

Do you want to be sure of getting the same quality of tea every time you buy? Not good one time and poor the next, but always good, always that rich pungent flavor which is so delightful. If you do, ask your grocer to send you a package the same as the one above. After you use Red Rose Tea once, you will buy again and you will always find the quality the same.

SMART SET'S LOAD.

Women Who Follow Fashion Will Have Big Burden.

A course of physical culture may be necessary for the smart woman this winter if she hopes to endure the extraordinary load that fashion is laying on her form from the lobes of her ears to the toes of her feet. Even her picture hat, light as it is, compared to its size, is so large that it must make itself felt to an extent that no hat should do.

The old-fashioned two-button glove is no longer seen on the smart woman's hands. Twenty or twenty-four buttons measure the exaggerated length of her driving, morning or scented white kid "at home" gloves. Boots have doubled their height, while the simple lace on walking shoes have been replaced by ribbons tied in enormous bows.

A reporter who visited well-known London forms to learn the extent of this craze for magnificent adornments was met by the information that the demand for exaggeration is likely to increase.

"Picture hats are assuming the most extraordinary proportions," a Bond street milliner confessed, "but the most noticeable point is the gigantic shapes of the floral trimmings. A cabbage rose in pink velvet is becoming perilously near the size of a real cabbage. Bunches of grapes adorn the newest hats, each grape being about double the circumference of the genuine fruit."

"Veils are following the fashion in hats. The minute chemise spot is replaced by black velvet patches the size of a sixpenny piece, and as for hat-pins, I doubt if they can increase in size. Most of the latest patterns are adorned with knobs which would not make insignificant door handles."

"The tendency in jewelry is to adopt distinctly exaggerated styles," a well-known jeweler in Regent street said. "Large Oriental rings, heavily studded with jewels, are in great demand. Drop earrings, which weigh down the lobes of the wearer's ears, are made in a most massive pattern."

"Jeweled muff chains can rightly be termed 'fashion's fetters.' The tiny beads or crystals between the links of the chain have been replaced by lumps of turquoise, opal or amethyst in the rough. Cable chain bracelets bear a close resemblance to handcuffs in their proportions."

"We have noticed several points which show how the Brobdingnagian mania has affected drapery goods," the manager of an Oxford street firm said. "The tiny glove handkerchief is quite out of date, and has been replaced by silk and cambric of much larger proportions. In the haberdashery departments buttons resemble five shilling pieces, made of paste, glass, silver or leather."

Grand Duke Frederick Dead.
Constance, Grand Duchess of Baden, Sept. 30.—The Grand Duke Frederick of Baden, who has been suffering from intestinal inflammation for some time past, after remaining unconscious for many hours, died early on Saturday morning.

Throughout the night the Cabinet Ministers and the court officials and chains had waited in an apartment adjoining the death chamber for the end to come.

At the grand duke's bedside when he expired were the Grand Duchess, Princess Louis of Prussia, the hereditary grand duke, Frederick of Baden; Prince Max of Baden, brother of the grand duke; the Crown Princess of Sweden and others.

The public life of the deceased was for fifty years intimately connected with the efforts to unite the German states of the empire.

Hanged Himself In Station.
Montreal, Sept. 30.—A gruesome discovery was made by officers in one of the waiting-rooms at the Grand Trunk Bonaventure street station on Saturday, when the body of a young foreigner was discovered hanging by means of his belt and a couple of towels. The man's name is Query Yakowanko, supposed to be a Russian, and his ticket was purchased at Milwaukee.

Broke Jail, But Returns.
Brookville, Sept. 30.—William (Problem) Turner, the man who made his escape from the jail yard early in August, while serving a sentence of six months for vagrancy, was captured Saturday afternoon in the Central Hotel. He was intoxicated. Turner carried out the prophesy of those who knew him that he would turn up, and arrived here from Charlotte.

LIFE'S GREATEST PLEASURE.

He denies his wife the greatest pleasure of life, the selfish brain. In what way? He positively refuses to argue with her.

They Let It Go at That.
They were holding down the parlor sofa together.

"Women," he remarked to the dear girl by his side, "are not good listeners."

The dear girl said nothing. And the dear girl's mother, who was doing an eavesdropping stunt at the keyhole, was not in a position to contradict him.

Almost Prehistoric.

Her voice in the midsummer gloaming had a plaintive sound.

"I haven't anything new to sing to you tonight, Cyril," she faltered.

"Then sing me one of the old songs, love," said the man tenderly.

High, thin and a little cracked, her soprano rose in quaint, sweet melody, of "Over the Garden Wall." When the song was ended her lover laughed and said:

"That was indeed an old one, Clara."

Two hard lines formed about the corners of her mouth.

"Yes, Cyril," she said quietly; "I sang that song to you the night we became engaged."

Chatham, Sept. 30.—William Stedman, a local butcher, who boards on Edgar street, was the victim of a couple of hold-up men while crossing a dark lot near the G. T. R. depot.
Stedman had been in Toronto with some cattle. He was waylaid by two unknown men, one of whom struck him on the head with a short stick.
Stedman, however, swung out and hit the nearest of the men with all the force of his strong right arm.
The men decamped.

Hamilton, Sept. 30.—The Elksino Hotel, Stoney Creek, was burned to the ground early yesterday morning.
It is believed that it was set on fire.
Trouble started in the washhouse and the flames spread to the hotel building, which was frame. The furniture and contents, with the exception of a piano and some other articles, were destroyed. The loss is placed at about $3,000. Frank Chapman was the proprietor and William Sutherland owned the building.

stroyed by fire Saturday evening.

THE GAMBLER IN HADES.

Father Vaughan's Story of His Strange
Dream.

Speaking before a large and fashionable audience at the Mansion
House, Dublin, the other day, Father
Vaughan said that going the round of the clubs in London was the story that a certain noted gambler told him, and found himself, by some good luck, in heaven. Being out of place there, he asked leave to go down to his own
quarters, and there he gambled away
his return ticket, the lady cheat who won it getting thereby to heaven.

Father Vaughan said that he, too, had had a dream about the subject. As he lay awake in Dublin one night he fancied he saw in one of the outer courts of heaven the well-known London gambler referred to, pacing to and fro in search of a pal, but none such came. At last, being able to stand the lonely situation no longer, he went to St. Peter at the Golden Gate, and,
confessing that it was by cheating that he had passed through, he begged for
a pass-out ticket to see how his
old friends were doing down below.
There he found an enormous crowd of well-known betting men and women in low and slovenly dress, all being forced to play bridge with no stakes and in dead silence. For some time he watched at the various tables the faces of the players, in which rage, despair, and hatred were depicted in every feature. At length
the passion to play awoke once more
in him, he drew forth his return ticket to heaven, he played, and he lost.
The return ticket was secured by a
noted and fashionable society woman,
who was known to be a confirmed
cheat. She dashed with the release ticket from the gambling saloon, making for the iron gates. There she was met by Satan, who, after congratulating her on her luck, pointed to the words, "Not transferable." She screamed, and tore to shreds the release ticket, when the devil led her back to the tables to resume her everlasting play. "See, he exclaimed, "these letters of fire." All hope abandon, ye
who enter here."

Prison Taken For Thief.

Perugia, Sept. 28.—Prince Louis of Baldenberg was the victim of an error on the part of the local police on his arrival here from Florence yesterday, but he accepted the incident with a good grace and made no complaint.

When he stepped off the Florence train he was stopped and searched by detectives, who had received instructions from Florence to look out for three men charged with the theft of a pocketbook on the train.

On learning of the mistake made by his subordinates, the commissioner of police hastened to call at the prince's hotel and apologize. Prince Louis derived much amusement from the mistake.

Death or Lunacy seemed the only alternative for a well-known and highly respected lady of Wingham, Ont., who had travelled over two continents in a vain search for a cure for nervous debility and dyspepsia. A friend recommended South American Nervine. One bottle helped, six bottles cured, and her own written testimony closes with these words, "It has saved my life."

Squad After Bad Indian.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Sheriff Wright of Hull left yesterday with a squad of police to arrest an Indian at Otter Lake, some 30 miles back from Hull among the Laurentian Mountains.

The Indian shot Ballif Seguin of Hull, who was sent to arrest him for violating the game laws. Seguin is dangerously ill, but may recover.

Wireless Trolleys Next.

Lyons, France, Sept. 28.—Experiments in transmitting electrical energy long distances without the use of wires are proceeding here with the greatest secrecy but it has been ascertained that a miniature railroad has been successfully operated under the new invention in the park on the Chateau d'Amplepuis.

A Childless Woman Is a Cheerless Home.

The maternal instinct exists in every woman, and when it is un-gratified she is deprived of much of the happiness of life. It often happens that childlessness is due to some cause which can be removed,
and often is removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The vigor and vitality which this remedy imparts to the delicate womanly organs, puts them in a condition of normal health, the lack of which is often the sole obstruction to maternity. Every woman should read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. It is sent entirely free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper bound volume, or 50 stamps for cloth covered.

THE GAMBLER IN HADES.

Father Vaughan's Story of His Strange
Dream.

Speaking before a large and fashionable audience at the Mansion
House, Dublin, the other day, Father
Vaughan said that going the round of
the clubs in London was the story that
a certain noted gambler told him, and
found himself, by some good luck, in heaven. Being out of place there, he
asked leave to go down to his own
quarters, and there he gambled away
his return ticket, the lady cheat who
won it getting thereby to heaven.

Father Vaughan said that he, too, had
had a dream about the subject. As
he lay awake in Dublin one night he
fancied he saw in one of the outer
courts of heaven the well-known London gambler referred to, pacing to and
fro in search of a pal, but none such came. At last, being able to stand the lonely situation no longer, he went
to St. Peter at the Golden Gate, and,
confessing that it was by cheating that
he had passed through, he begged for
a pass-out ticket to see how his
old friends were doing down below.
There he found an enormous
crowd of well-known betting men and women in low and slovenly dress, all
being forced to play bridge with no stakes and in dead silence. For some time he watched at the various
tables the faces of the players, in which rage, despair, and hatred were depicted in every feature. At length
the passion to play awoke once more
in him, he drew forth his return ticket to heaven, he played, and he lost.
The return ticket was secured by a
noted and fashionable society woman,
who was known to be a confirmed
cheat. She dashed with the release
ticket from the gambling saloon, making for the iron gates. There she
was met by Satan, who, after congratulating her on her luck, pointed
to the words, "Not transferable." She screamed, and tore to shreds the release ticket, when the devil led her back
to the tables to resume her everlasting play. "See, he exclaimed, "these letters of fire." All hope abandon, ye
who enter here."

WOMEN BEHAVE WELL.

Disguised Clergyman's Experiences In City Saloons.

The Rev. E. B. Cookey, who has just taken charge of the Methodist Prim-tive Methodist Circuit, has adopted a novel course in forming his opinions upon the public houses of the town. Immediately upon his arrival and before becoming well known he made a tour of most of the saloons which he has based some of his addresses.

Mr. Cookey, in an interview, stated that he did not make his visits in clerical garb.

Wearing a working man's suit, colored tie and cloth cap, and with a large pipe for company, he sauntered in and out of the bars and public houses employing principally Friday and Saturday nights for the purpose.
He mixed freely among the company, sharing in their conversations and observing their conduct. He was struck by the transformation which the public houses had undergone in the matter of luxurious fittings. He found a larger number of young working women in them than he cared to see, though he said their behavior was exceptional.

With the management of numbers of the houses of female kind could be found.
The chief impression made upon him was the enormous strength of the social appeal made by the public houses. Many reforms are wanted, he agrees, but he does not believe prohibition is possible, and he disscribes drink as "the devil's damna-tion."

He would place licenses under disinterested management, taking away the stimulus for private profit, and would give power to local authorities to establish and maintain counter-attractions.

Gen. Wolfe's Pistol.

Mrs. James E. Welsh, Charlottetown, has in her possession a valuable historical souvenir, in the form of a pair of pistols, which were presented by Gen. Wolfe, on the day of the Battle of Quebec, to his aide-de-camp, Major Samuel Holland. The pistols remained in the possession of the Holland family for a number of years; but through marriage they passed into other hands, until they are now the property of Mrs. Welsh.
Major Samuel Holland was a distinguished military career, and after the Treaty of Paris, he was appointed Surveyor-General of Quebec and Director of Surveys in British North America. In 1766, he completed a survey of the St. Lawrence and a map of the county of townships. His aid-de-camp, Col. John Holland, was the first British subject born on Prince Edward Island. Mrs. Welsh obtained the Holland pistols under the will of her son, Colbrook Perley Welsh, having received them from his aunt, Mrs. Hettie Barker, who obtained them from her husband, Robert Barker. The latter's mother was Henrietta Holland, wife of Capt. Robert Barker, and daughter of Col. John Frederick Holland, son of Major Holland, Wolfe's aide-de-camp. On the barrels of the pistols are engraved the words—"The gift of Major General Wolfe to Capt. Samuel Holland, 1759."
These pistols were used in a duel fought near Montreal between Major Holland's son and one Capt. Schoedde, young Holland being mortally wounded.

Trees That Last a Lifetime.

If you live for your descendants, as the English are said to do, and wish to plant trees for posterity, two things that will outlast one mortal life and can be handed down like a treasure and these take little room. The smoke tree (Rhus copallina) is a shrubby tree that is covered in summer with feathery flowers in large clusters of soft pinky purple, making the tree seem enveloped in mist.
The box tree, which is said to have been forgotten 21,000 years, and seems to have been checked full of hydnangea and other things. Why not go back to old favorite lilacs and smoke tree, the box if you do not dislike the smell, and pyrus japonica?

PRISONER BROUGHT BACK.

Daniel Glass Arrested at Washington
—Must Face Serious Charge.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—Chief Detective
K. F. McCaskill of the provincial defective force returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., with a prisoner who had escaped from the jail at St.
John, N. B., four years ago.

The prisoner was a young fellow named Daniel Glass, who was arrested four years since for nearly murdering his cousin and attempting to burn his house. Before he came up for trial, however, Glass escaped by sawing through the bars of his cell, and for a long time was never heard of. He, however, had a craze for military work, and the provincial detectives had descriptions of him sent to all the military headquarters in the United States.

About a couple of months ago Glass joined a hospital corps at Washington, and promptly proceeded to get into the trouble which led to his detection, and the provincial detectives were notified.

Chief McCaskill went to Washington, and after some difficulty succeeded in securing Glass' discharge from the United States army. As the prisoner waived extradition he was brought back to stand trial for his alleged crimes.

vinced of this you have only to give

ROADWAYS.

One road leads to London,
One road leads to Wales,
My road leads the seaward,
To the white dipping sails.

One road goes to the river,
As it flows singing low;
My road leads to shipping,
Where the bronzed sailors go.

Leads me—lures me—calls me—
To the salt, green, toiling sea;
A road without Earth's road-dust,
Is the right road for me.

A wet road, heaving, shivering,
And wild with sea-gulls' cries,
A mad salt sea wind blowing
The salt spray in my eyes.

My road calls me—lures me—
West, East, South and North;
Most roads lead men homeward—
My road leads me forth.

To add more miles to the tally,
Of the gray leagues left behind,
In search of that One Beauty
God sent me here to find.

HARD COAL GOES UP

Hard coal made a jump in price this morning. In future the users of anthracite will be forced to pay $7.25 per ton instead of $7, as formerly.

A local dealer in explaining the 25 cent raise to The Planet this morning, said that it was necessary on account of the high price of feed and labor. Other goods are advancing in price and the coal man is forced to pay out more money and as a result he has to get more for what he has to offer for sale. It is understood that the price has also been boosted in Windsor, and the increase in the price of coal will become quite general.

FIRE AT THE GARNER

There was quite a bit of excitement on King street yesterday afternoon between five and six when the fire bells rang, and the report spread among the Garner House was on fire. When the spectators arrived on the scene, clouds of smoke were issuing from the upper windows of the Sixth street wing of the big hotel, but the fire did not get much of a start before the firemen got to the seat of the trouble. It is supposed that the blaze caught from the chimney on the inside portion of the roof. About a half dozen rafters and joists were destroyed before the fire was put out, and it is expected that the damage from water will be considerable. Had the fire not been quickly gotten under control, it might have resulted quite seriously.

HAVE FORGOTTEN HOW

The Non Coms of the 24th Regiment are having a quiet laugh at the expense of some of their seniors, the officers of the Regiment. As is well known, indoor baseball has become quite a craze with the boys in red, and the younger men of the Regiment have been having some stiff practices of late. Lately, however, the older officers decided to have a few quiet workouts and get in shape to trim the juniors. So on Friday evening, without any previous announcement, they gathered at the Army gymnasium and commenced a practice game, which from all accounts would rival the troubles of the Gay Mr. Dooley. The result of this practice is that Lieut. Col. J. B. Rankin, the general Commanding Officer, is wearing a finger stall today, and Captain W. E. Gundy is in a similar plight. Indoor baseball played havoc with the white hands of the Officers, who, it is said, have decided to leave the game alone until they can borrow a number of the city leaguers' gloves. Lieut. J. M. E. is also said to have had a number of narrow escapes, and only escaped injury by turning his back and winking his eyes when he saw the ball coming his way.

BLenheim

Blenheim, Oct. 1.—Blenheim Fair will be held on the 9th and 10th of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibb Fleming returned on Saturday night from their honeymoon trip, and have taken up their residence in Blenheim.

The bills for the Public school concert in the Opera House on Friday night, October 4, are out, and a very interesting entertainment is expected. There are 45 certificates to be presented.

The workmen have started the cement foundation, which is to be built under Miss Hallick's residence. It is also the intention of Miss Hallick to have the house veneered with cement blocks. Mr. Cookson, of Blenheim, has secured the contract.

The harvest home services, which were held on Sunday in the Methodist church here, were very much appreciated by all present. The Rev. Mr. Graham, of Chatham, was the special preacher for the day, and Mrs. Garnet Thomson was the soloist. The festival held last evening was very successful, both financially and otherwise, a good program and an excellent supper being provided.

The Misses Lela Crookshank and Eva Green returned last night after spending the last six weeks visiting friends at Toronto, Brockville, Portland and Peterborough. They also took in a trip through the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence, and attended the wedding on Sept. 25th of their cousin, Miss Mona Kavanagh, of Peterborough, being two of the bridesmaids on the happy occasion. Miss Kavanagh is well and favorably known in Blenheim, having lived here for a number of years, and her many Blenheim friends join in wishing her all happiness in her married life. The Misses Crookshank and Green have enjoyed their outing very much and their friends are glad to see them back.
