Canon Macnab has gone to Cacouna for a month's vacation, taking Mrs. Macnab with him, part of the way on a visit to friends. The Rev. J. F. Rounthwaite, whose mother and sisters are well known members of the Cathedral congregation, is to take charge of the services during Canon Macnab's absence, and though not proposing to take up work generally of a parochial character, will be available in case of sickness or other emergency. His address is 59 Howland Avenue.

MELBOURNE, QUEBEC, AUGUST 1st, 1906.

MY DEAR MR. CHADWICK:

Through you, as the gracious almoner, I wish to express our most grateful thanks to the kind contributors to our holiday fund. If in any way you could manage to let them know how greatly their thoughtful generosity is appreciated I should be much obliged.

We are at present staying with our kind friends, the Harkoms, amid the charming scenery of the S. Francis Valley, and enjoying every hour of our visit. On Sunday I did duty at Richmond; next week I am to officiate at Sherbrooke, and after that Cacouna and the Clergy House of Rest. Mrs. Macnab is feeling better already for the change.

Hoping things are working smoothly at the Cathedral I am, with kindest regards to you and yours,

Very sincerely,

ALEX. W. MACNAB.

Mr. John H. Butler is to act as Superintendent of the Sunday School during Canon Macnab's absence.

Two more pinnacles, the gift of the same generous donor whose previous gifts we have noted from time to time, have been placed on the stalls.

Last year we had the pleasure of recording a donation of wine for Communion. That has been just sufficient for the year, and the same donor has now repeated his gift with a supply towards the year to come.

The Sunday School Picnic took place at Bond Lake on 4th July, the children, mustering as numerous as usual, and being accompanied by a strong contingent of those who had been children in days gone by, filled five cars of the Metropolitan Railway. As a place for an outing of this kind Bond Lake certainly keeps up its reputation, which is plainly evidenced by the readiness with which those of maturer years have taken advantage of this annual occasion in numbers increasing year by year ever since Bond Lake was discovered (as a camping ground for Sunday School excursionists). Conspicuous among the grave and reverend gentlemen whose gravity &c. yielding for the occasion to a lighter mood, was the Bishop himself, whose smiling countenance plainly showed a set purpose to find enjoyment, while Canon Macnab's more anxious eye as clearly distinguished the place where rested the burden of responsibility. The Rev. H. T. Archbold was present, just on the eve of his departure to take up his new charge, and the Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, who is shortly to be attached to the Cathedral Staff, took this opportunity of beginning an acquaintance with the people with whom he is to be associated. Luncheon, boating trips, games, tea, all followed one after another in such quick succession that there seemed to be hardly time enough to get everything done which was intended to be done. We would however venture to offer a suggestion for future occasions:—come home a little earlier; and stipulate with the Railway Officials for as efficient an arrangement for the returning cars as they do for those going out.

More gems for the Pastoral staff: an amethyst, topaz, white topaz, obsidian, and four small turquoises, from Mrs. Phillips; also a large amethyst from Mrs. William Clark.

A case for the staff is being made.
