

KERR IS WINNER IN 200 METRE RACE

United States Men Got Second and Third

Fine Weather and Low Prices Draw Big Crowds to the Olympic Sports — Other Events Today.

LONDON, July 23.—As the Olympic games draw toward a close interest in them increases and fine weather, although late in arriving, is now smiling upon the great international contests for athletic supremacy, and with the assistance of cheaper seats, is bringing out crowds of spectators to the stadium.

Yesterday was the meeting which Derby Day is to Epsom Racing Week, the final of the 200 metres sprint in the eyes of the general public being considered the most important event of the meeting. Those who follow athletics, however, are just as keenly interested in the finals of the two races which are to be run on today. The first of these is the 200 metres flat, in which Kerr, of Canada, runs against Cartmel and Cloughen, United States, and Cawkins, United Kingdom. The Americans have feared Kerr more than the Englishmen. After two grilling runs yesterday, he may be slightly stale. The other final, on which the eyes of the experts are turned is in the 400 metres flat race in which Carpenter, Taylor and Robbins, United States, meet Halswelle, lieutenant in the British Army and described as the greatest quarter miler the United Kingdom has had in recent years. English sporting writers are of the opinion that the establishment of a new record for the distance.

The standing high jump, with which the programme opened this morning, is expected to last the greater part of the day. The semi-final of the high diving contest and the semi-final of the 200 metres swim are on the programme today and also the fourteen heats of the 100 metres hurdle.

The Grace-Roman wrestling, light weights to 147 pounds and the catch-as-catch-can matches between heavy weights up to 161 pounds, going on the mats at either end of the arena, kept entranced all day long. The American entered in these events was Lee J. Talbot, and he was defeated in the first bout at 147 pounds by the Irish, O'Kelly, United Kingdom. The American at the stadium paid to Walker yesterday, when the young South African won the 100 metres dash appears to have appealed strongly to English sportsmanship, and is likely to do much to dispell the soreness caused by the American which was much discussed. Most of the morning papers describe the demonstration in complimentary terms. The Standard says: "The American took a leading part in the occasion given Walker. They showered congratulations upon him and the young man who were massed in the grandstand carrying the flag of their country, went out of their way to praise their conqueror."

The first section of the standing high jump at the stadium this morning, Takitlaras, Greece, won with a jump of 5 feet 1 inch. Adams, United States, was second with 4 feet 10 inches. Durrant, Belgium, third, 4 feet 8 inches. In this event the best eight in all sections come together in the final.

In the second section of the standing high jump, Ray S. Ewry, N. Y. A. C., cleared 5 feet 1 inch, and J. A. Biller, Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., four feet 11 inches.

The final in the 200 metre race was won by Kerr-Canada. Cloughen Irish American, A. C. was second and C. J. Carmel, United Kingdom, third. Fourth heat, Kieley, United Kingdom, won easily. Fifth heat, W. M. Rand Harvard University, won time, 15 1/4 seconds. Sixth heat, Waites, United Kingdom, won. Time, 17 2/5 seconds. Seventh heat, Kniffet, United Kingdom, won easily.

EUREKA FLY KILLER

The Best Known Preparation for Protecting Horses and Cattle from Flies.

Easily Applied, Harmless to the Animals.

Something No Farmer Should be Without

If Your Dealer Cannot Supply You. Write Us

W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd.

Market Square, St. John. N. B.

MILITARY PARADE AT QUEBEC TODAY

Twenty Two Thousand Men Took Part

Bluejackets Joined With the Militia in the Display — Comment on Yesterday's Reception.

QUEBEC, July 23.—Today was gala day of the Tercentenary, and witnessed a series of important and imposing functions from early morning onwards. Twelve thousand troops and ten thousand sailors paraded on the Plains of Abraham at nine o'clock and rehearsed the review orders and march past which will take place before the Prince tomorrow (Friday). The military forces then marched from the Plains and proceeded through the main thoroughfares of the city with bands playing and colors flying. The parade was witnessed by at least sixty thousand people.

Prior to the commencement of the ceremonial at Champlain's statue there was the arrival of the little "Don De Dieu" with Clavell and his crew on board. As the little ship canvassed full spread, sailed bravely up the river she was greeted with round shots from the batteries, and she landed and proceeded with her crew to "L'Abitation," the model of the first fort constructed by Champlain, proceeding then to join the historical procession.

After the conclusion of the speeches, the historic procession filed past His Royal Highness, grouped according to the routine of the pageant scenes, it made a striking and brilliant spectacle. The 6th French Canadian Battalion, from Montreal, had the place of honor nearest the Champlain statue. Vice-President Fairbanks, speaking today, said that he was delighted with the reception of the Prince the most delightful he has ever had in Canada.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is reported to have declared yesterday's ceremony at the reception of the Prince the most delightful he has ever had in Canada. The name of the soldier who was drowned in the St. Charles River at Sagard Camp yesterday was Stevenson. He was a private in the 90th Rifles of Winnipeg, and was only 22 years old. A comrade who died to his rescue failed to locate his body, which was, however, recovered later.

METHODIST CHURCH IN OPEN REVOLT

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., July 23.—The Methodist church here is in open revolt against the constituted authorities of the denomination and are flatly refusing to receive Rev. Redmond, the pastor recently resigned to them by the appointive powers of the London Conference.

Mr. Redmond preached last Sunday for the first time in Amherstburg but the official members have locked him out of the parsonage, and he is forced to stop at the Amherst Hotel, because no one appears to be possessed of sufficient Christian Charity to give him entertainment. Those most bitterly opposed to Mr. Redmond's incumbency admit that they have no personal feeling against him, nevertheless, rather than accept his leadership for twelve months they intend actually to ask the conference president to allow their withdrawal from the Methodist communion for one year that they may call a man of their own selection.

During the session there were several rather warm discussions between the attorneys appearing as counsel for the company and commissioners and the commissioners' counsel. Several references were made to unfair headlines appearing in certain newspapers both local and otherwise over accounts of the proceedings.

When the session adjourned at one o'clock it was decided to continue this afternoon and tomorrow and then adjourn until next Thursday morning.

George McAvity was sworn as the first witness. Mr. McAvity presented to the court a private ledger concerning which he said there had been a lot of

OLD QUEBEC ROYALLY WELCOMES THE EMPIRE'S FUTURE KING

Tercentenary Climax of Medieval Splendor Wednesday

Famous Canadians, Britons, Frenchmen and Americans Greet the Prince

THE PRINCE OF WALES. EARL GREY.

BLACKFOOT INDIANS IN QUEBEC PAGEANT

QUEBEC, July 23.—Amidst the most gorgeous ceremonial the Prince of Wales arrived at Quebec this afternoon, and at last the tercentenary has reached its zenith, the reception of the Prince being one of the most interesting events that has happened in Canada.

There were representatives of many nations, from various parts of the world, and the most distinguished citizens of Canada and the United States, as well as Great Britain and France, to add color to the scene. The arrangements for the reception of the Prince on the Kings wharf were almost perfect, and the ceremony passed off without a hitch, the whole reception being concluded within an hour from the time that the first guns were fired from the sailing fleet as the launch bearing the royal standard of Great Britain left the Indomitable, and the air fairly shook with terrific explosions from the big cannon as the Prince and entourage approached the landing. No sooner had His Royal Highness landed than the guns of the citadel boomed out a welcome which echoed for miles down the river, while massed bands played the National Anthem and massed thousands chanted the representative of the night of Great Britain.

SCENE MEDIEVAL. The scene was almost medieval in its splendor, while the approaches to the wharf were so carefully guarded that there was not the slightest suspicion of crowding, and every official easily found his allotted place. Prominent among the guests were Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his cabinet, all attired in their Windsor uniforms as privy counsellors, while the Premier wore his insignia as a knight of St. Michael and St. George. Immediately to the right of the government party were representatives of the Ontario government, headed by Premier Whitney, who was accompanied by R. L. Borden.

To the left of the government seats were representatives from various nations and a number of officers of arms and navies all resplendent in gold lace uniforms and cocked hats.

Opposite were the troops of the 42d, D. C. O. R., of which regiment the Prince of Wales is honorary colonel, and which had been given the honor of supplying the guard of honor to receive the prince.

In the middle of the quadrangle thus created was a raised dais under a canopy, where the formal functions were to take place, and where for half an hour before the ceremonies opened a most interesting scene was enacted with the arrival of Lord Roberts and the hundreds of other international celebrities.

ARRIVAL OF THE SHIPS. The Indomitable, the famous new British cruiser which has set the whole world guessing, was sighted steaming swiftly up the channel at half-past two, and immediately the ships and the Indomitable and her escort, the Minotaur, steamed up without replying to the salutes, this being the usual procedure of a royal procession.

(Continued on Page 12.)

CENTRAL RAILWAY COMMISSION SPENT MORNING EXAMINING GEORGE MCAVITY

Former President and Commissioner of the Road Explained Matters of Book-Keeping Which Had Been Puzzling the Commissioners—Submitted Ledger Which Has Excited Dark Suspicion in Some Quarters.

The entire session of the Central Railway inquiry this morning was taken up with the examination of George McAvity. His accounts at St. John were gone into in an endeavor to complete the commission's knowledge of the railway's finances.

During the examination Mr. Powell submitted several entries in the Bank of N. B. pass book which, he said, were not shown to Mr. McAvity's cash book. One of these items was found in the balance brought forward on June 30th, 1904, when Mr. McAvity took charge and notes drawn before that date were found in the company's papers which explained the other entries.

The balance brought forward was shown to be reduced in the cash book by a pencil entry reading "Less W. P. $5,000."

Mr. McAvity could not give off-hand an explanation of this entry and promised the explanation later when he had an opportunity to consult his book-keeper. An attempt was made to put Mr. McAvity on record regarding the state of the company's accounts at Fredericton before Mr. McAvity took charge. Concerning this he was unable to make a statement from his own knowledge. At the end of the session it was decided to excuse Mr. McAvity from further examination until he, with the aid of the accountants, could make up the company's accounts in a more extended and connected form for the commission.

During the session there were several rather warm discussions between the attorneys appearing as counsel for the company and commissioners and the commissioners' counsel. Several references were made to unfair headlines appearing in certain newspapers both local and otherwise over accounts of the proceedings.

BOSTON POLICE SHOOT TWO AND CAPTURE ANOTHER OF MURDERERS

One Nabbed in South Station --- Exciting Chase Over Graves Which Ended in the Death of Another of the Gang---The Third, Wounded, Has Not Yet Been Located.

BOSTON, July 23.—After three deadly battles between three desperadoes and the police and citizens, one of the bandits was riddled with bullets and killed today, while a second believed to be wounded, is being searched for in the cemetery in which the fight occurred. A third was taken last evening in the South Station. All three were members of the band that has been terrorizing the Jamaica Plains district.

The band left behind it over its trail of a mile and a half three dead and eleven wounded and was composed of the most desperate characters that have appeared in the streets of Boston for several years. All are believed to be foreigners.

The number of dead and injured during the two days of terrorization by the bandits follows: Dead—Unknown bandit; Frank J. Drake, 23 Byron St.; Herbert Knox, watchman, Forest Hills Cemetery; William Patrick, Dorset, condition serious; Thomas Moore, conductor; Patrolman McMahon, Mrs. Delia Fallon, 77 N. Fleming; Patrolman Inglis, Mrs. Edna J. Star; Patrick McEvoy, John Nolan, Patman Thompson, Thomas Winterstap.

Drake and Doran were shot in the saloon on Tuesday night, while the others received their wounds last night or this morning.

The desperado captured at the South Station late yesterday evening was taken a train for New York. His name is believed to be Giuseppe Chavero, and he is charged with murder, having been indicted by four grand jurors Tuesday night.

Another man was taken into custody morning two of the men were thought to be another member of the gang, but later proved to be Hugh McDougall, a former elevated road employee.

Incidents of terror caused Tuesday night by the "shooting up" of the saloon of Winterstap and McMahon on Washington street, Jamaica Plain. Shortly before the closing hour three men apparently Italians, made their appearance at the door and shouted, "All hands up." When the shooting was over, it was found that Frank J. Drake had been killed, Patrick Doran had received a bullet in the abdomen and Thomas Winterstap had been shot at the base of the skull and the left arm.

The police made a careful search all night long without result. Early yesterday morning two of the men made their appearance at a house on Bourne street and at the point of a revolver demanded that they be given food. Later they were seen in Calvary cemetery, but eluded the efforts of the officers. Throughout the rest of the day there was no report of any one having seen the desperadoes, but at one o'clock last night they were discovered in Calvary cemetery.

When the desperadoes were discovered and with a yell began firing on all sides. The first person hit was Mrs. Delia Fallon, who was walking down South street. Officer Inglis then fired a bullet in the leg. The men passed through Cunningham Field, Lee street, and on to New Keyes street, where they ran directly into the Washington street. On Washington street, where the electric cars are passing almost incessantly and hundreds of people were standing about the corners, the two men yelled at the top of their voices and fired shot after shot from their automatic revolvers. They commanded everybody to hold up their hands and even ordered the motorman of an approaching car to stop. The motorman dropped behind the dashboard and the conductor, Thomas Moors, when stepping off the car to see what was the trouble received a bullet in the leg. Five others were also shot.

The men then reloaded their revolvers and walked on to Forest Hills cemetery. Herbert E. Knox, the watchman, who had been on the lookout for the men, believed he saw one answering their description and after securing a revolver started to look for him. He came upon him unexpectedly and before he was able to use his weapon was shot down with a bullet through the body. Knox was hurried to the Emerson Hospital nearby, where he died three hours later. From the time on that daybreak little effort was made by the officers to seek out the desperadoes as the cemetery was so carefully guarded that it was believed impossible for the men to get outside and orders were given to all patrolmen to advance toward the centre of the cemetery at four o'clock.

Scarcely a quarter of an hour after the force began the advance, the figure of a wild, unkempt man sprang up in front of the officers at the south side of the cemetery and started off on the run. The man was barefooted, a broken derby covering his head, a torn and ragged coat on his back and in one hand he carried a heavy revolver, while from the other dangled a reel of cartridges.

For more than a mile across the cemetery, the man raced over graves and shrubbery, through puddles and over mounds, an ever increasing mob of policemen following slowly but steadily in his wake. All at once he disappeared in a ravine somewhat deeper than the others, not 200 yards from the main entrance to the cemetery. But one bit of shrubbery marked the lower level of the ravine, and into this the man sprang. In a second the sides of the ravine were lined many deep with the bluecheese, who poured shot after shot into the bushes. Then inspectors carefully approached the bush, and parting the leaves found the victim of a hundred officers' bullets dead on the ground.

Almost at the same time another commotion was created on the opposite side of the main gate, within the confines of the main cemetery, and a man who had refused to throw up his hands had been seized, disarmed and hurriedly rushed to the main gate in charge of an escort of officers. Both the dead body and the captive were taken to the Jamaica Plains station.

Some doubt arising, however, as to the identity of the captured man, the hundred officers remaining were again marched into the cemetery to continue the search, tracing large squares of blood in the cemetery in the hope of locating the third bandit.

CHATHAM AND WAD OF MOONEY DISAPPEAR TOGETHER

Chatham Citizen Mourns Loss of an Adopted Daughter and $140 in Cash.

CHATHAM, N. B., July 23.—Florence McGrath, a sixteen year old girl, disappeared last night from Oscar Druet's house on Duke street, taking with her $140 in cash and a large bundle of clothing. She was not missed until morning when Mr. Druet sent to call her. Getting no response he went into her room and found a note on her bed telling them that she had gone away and not to look for her. The police were informed river boats were searched and a sharp lookout is being kept for her. She has been with the Druet's seven years, being adopted by them when she was nine years old. She has relatives in town but her parents are dead. Mr. Druet believes that influenza was brought upon the girl by outside parties and the police have knowledge of accomplices to her mid-night escape. Florence is a dark complexioned girl rather alert but, possessing good looks.

The wedding of Fred M. Tweedie, eldest son of Governor Tweedie, and Mrs. Frances A. Ritchie, daughter of George Watt, took place yesterday afternoon on the lawn of St. T. Hubboley's home. Only relatives were at the ceremony which was a quite affair conducted by Rev. George Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Tweedie went north on the Ocean Limited.

ROOSEVELT WANTS A FIRST CLASS NAVY

Capable of Seeking Out the Enemy and Hammering Him Until He Quits—Notable Conference

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—Pleading for popular support for a "first class fighting navy, a navy capable of seeking out the enemy and hammering him until he quits," President Roosevelt was the central figure here today in the most notable conference of American naval officers ever called together to consult and discuss in a broad, general way the features of future United States battleships. The President spoke publicly for more than half an hour and then the conference went into executive session for one hour. During this session the President took a leading part in the discussion.

HONOLULU, July 22.—The United States Atlantic battleship fleet ended its visit here last night and started for Auckland, New Zealand, its next stopping place on the trip back to the Atlantic. The fleet was scheduled to sail some delay and it was 6:15 a.m. as it appeared from shore, before the flagship began moving. It is thought the delay was due to the waiting for the hospital ship Relief, which left the harbor at 6 p. m.

THOUGHTFUL

DISCOURSE

Cohoe Talks

adians

N POLITICS

the Relationships

Canada's Two

Races

subject of Canadian the topic for

on presented in French

last night by the

A. B. Cohoe. The outset referred to the an outlook. Twenty-one Canadians frequently the misfortune of but today it required

use to assure a Canadians in the Dominion

the acquisition of none in the world.

seek our shores are wise of material request part that pro-good. No one could of national prosperity

wealth no people

a place of power and a Canadian opportu-

Canadian temptation

ing man of ability consciousness of his being tempted to use the sole purpose of

of wealth was

of supremacy in the

the home was abundantly

political discussions were chiefly concerned in all its various important fact. It not only "graft" existed but kind of political leader subject of greater

It was but fair to men who conspired politics did so with the able financial return presented us in the assemblies of the all probability of the displacement of the

by selfish greed was that business men

invest large sums

in the confidence of the ultimate receipt of politics by the

it one phase of the

It was impossible to that an unseemly

reality invaded church

power in the hands

at riches rather than the man of profound was a challenge to

for the preservation of the moral and

the Christian relig-

to it that everywhere men who have the opportunity to gather er in the worship of

by the Man of Nazar-

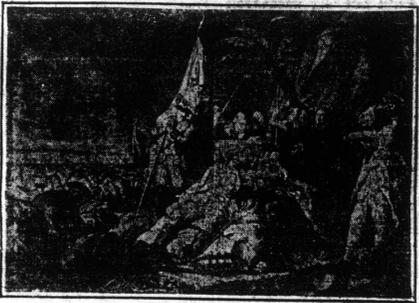

Indian citizens and

ive his conviction that of greater importance

WHAT CANADA WILL CELEBRATE NEXT WEEK AT OLD QUEBEC

Story of the Founding by Champlain, the Defense by Montcalm, and the Capture by Wolfe of Canada's Ancient Capital—A Splendid Fete—Famous Men to be Present.

Death of Montcalm.

Champlain, Wolfe and Montcalm—two Frenchmen and one Englishman—are the three names around whose memories will centre most closely the interests in the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec from July 19th to the 31st.

The three hundred years since the city was founded is divided into two almost equal periods. From 1668 to 1763, 95 years, extended the French regime in North America, inaugurated by the Sieur de Champlain. From 1763 to 1800, 37 years, the English regime in which the memorable battle on the Plains of Abraham marked the beginning.

INTREPID PIONEERS.

Among the heroic names that through the annals of French occupation of Canada perhaps the greatest is that of Champlain, the first Frenchman who dreamed of a greater France in the New World. Before he founded Quebec there was not a single European settlement on the Atlantic coast north of Florida. "Champlain's" map of the earth, French statesmen had designated the northern land, a wilderness fit only for the aboriginal red man.

To the intrepid Champlain's must be added another great name, Frontenac, who in 1673, after Champlain, led a fort and trading post at the site of the city of Kingston.

So for 150 years went on the thrilling history of the warfare with the bitter cold and endless forests, the vindictive Indians and all the while the monarchy at home that made the life of governor after governor a heart-breaking struggle against unfaithfulness. And all this history will be re-created in the pageants at Quebec.

A NIGHT ESCALADE.

At length came the challenge of the English for the possession of the New World; the delicate Wolfe was sent out by the great Pitt; the night escalade of the heights above the battlemented city and the victory of September 13, 1759, when the two gallant leaders Wolfe and Montcalm fell. The following spring at St. Foye, two miles west of Quebec, the French attacked the English 1000 and the French killed their casualties were 1100; those of the French 750 or more; as bloody a fight as that of 1759 when the English last 665 and the French 1200.

Hence comes the second part of the Quebec celebration—the Wolfe and Montcalm memorial; the "Quebec Battlefields Fund"—to purchase as a national park the land upon which the armies of the two races twice fought. Unworthy buildings, one of them a jail, now disfigure it. For that purpose $500,000 is being raised, and for it has been secured.

But the nationalizing of the ground of combat is not to commemorate victory, but union, the union cemented determined to make another effort to establish a settlement in the new world, Champlain advised that the "habitation" might be situated in a place capable of being defended more effectively than in Acadia, with its many ports and landing places. De Monts recognized the wisdom of this advice. In the spring of 1608 he fitted out two vessels. Pont Grave, deputed to trade with the savages for furs set sail in the first for Tadoussac and Champlain, as the lieutenant of De Monts, in the second with the supplies necessary for the beginning of the settlement.

CUTTING DOWN TREES.

Arrived at Quebec, Champlain's first care was to select a site for the habitation. He fixed upon a spot near the river now identified by the corner of Notre Dame street and Sous le Fort in Lower Town, and at once set the men to work, some cutting down trees and sawing planks, others digging a cellar and making ditches. The first building put up was the magazine, or storehouse, 18x36 feet, with a large cellar. The living quarters were in three wings of log stores, each 18 x 15 feet, with a gallery under the second story windows, and the whole habitation was surrounded by a ditch eight feet deep and six feet wide. At several points were buttresses, on which cannon were mounted.

Not much is known of how the handful of French passed the time that first winter at Quebec. The snow lay deep about the habitation from January to April. Of the twenty-seven or twenty-eight men in the place, fifteen or more died of scurvy and dysentery. It was with the greatest relief that Champlain and the few remaining learned that Pont Grave had again arrived from France with men and provisions.

THREE HUNDRED WARRIORS.

About the middle of June there appeared upon the scene two or three hundred warriors of the Montagnais, Huron, and Algonquin tribes, who were not slow to realize the value of the promise made six years before to assist them in their wars against the Iroquois. Champlain, consulting with Pont Grave, concluded that the time was ripe to try the friendship of these allied tribes, and their assistance in the discoveries he wished to make in their own and the enemy's country, or to alienate them, a course which would greatly increase the difficulty of making further explorations, besides being a blow to the fur trade so necessary to defray expenses.

With nine other Frenchmen, Champlain embarked with the Indians. Up the St. Lawrence they made their way cautiously to the lake which now is called the lake of the Montagnais, and there he met the Iroquois, with whom he had some dealings. He was well received, and he was given passage home. At Plymouth—Kirk, learned to his vexation that peace had been made between England and France. The peace had been concluded on April 24, and Quebec was taken on July 24. Champlain was unwearied in urging upon ambassadors and councils that they should negotiate with Great Britain for the restoration of Canada.

RESTORED TO FRANCE.

The treaty of St. Germain-en-Laye was signed March 29, 1632. By it Quebec was restored to France. Cardinal Richelieu, who had constituted himself Superintendent of Navigation and Commerce, formed a new company to establish a colony, and sent an expedition to retake possession.

Champlain, with renewed hope and courage, returned to his post as governor. He never saw France again. In the autumn of 1655 he was stricken by paralysis, and died on Christmas Day. He was buried at Quebec.

FRIENDSHIP WITH INDIANS.

For several years the settlement at Quebec made little progress. Champlain had not much time to devote personally to the affairs of the habitation. His summers were spent for the most part in extending his explorations, in visits to the Algonquin and Huron countries, cementing the friendship of these tribes for the French and encouraging them to bring their pelteries to the trading posts below the St. Lawrence. In the winter of 1636-7 he visited the Three Rivers. Almost every winter found him in France, keeping the affairs of the country before those in authority, and endeavoring to gain an interest in colonizing the place.

When Champlain arrived to take possession for the Duc de Montmorency, the cause of their respective countries, yet won imperishable fame, which forever united their names—Wolfe and Montcalm.

THE BATTLE OF QUEBEC.

There is no more romantic battle scene in the history of the world than that of the victory by which England won from France, after a possession of two centuries, the vast Dominion of Canada.

Great as that battle was in its consequences, its interest is intensified by the comon fate of the opposing generals, who in it yielded up their lives for

GALIANTRY OF BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS—DEATH OF LEADERS.

The execution of Montcalm's sharp-shooting Canadians with their obsolete muskets was witnessed to not only by the death of Wolfe, but also by the severe wounding of his senior brigadiers, Lord Monckton. The marksmanship of the British soldiers must have been equally high, for not only was Montcalm struck down, but also each of his three brigadiers, Senneville, St. Ours and Pombonne. The command of the troops within the city devolved on De Ramezay. Vaudeville, the governor, was with the section of the army guarding against a landing on the Beauport Flats. When he ordered the body of troops under him two hours' march away up the river, Wolfe's strategy had completely deceived him, and he only arrived with his men during the three months of the campaign in of particular value. "Our joy is inexpressibly damped," wrote Knox on the night of the 13th, "by the news of one of the greatest heroes that this or any age can boast of."

Plan of the Operations Before Quebec in 1759.

emcy, the new victory, in July 1630, he brought with him his young wife, Helene Boule, and he spent the next five years at Quebec. He was vexed to find the habitation in a very neglected condition.

CASTLE IN THE AIR.

The winter of 1632 there were in the habitation fifty men, women and children. Pont Grave was so ill that he could not go out all winter. It was July before the vessels arrived from France next year with provisions.

In 1635 Champlain resolved to leave with his family for France, after they had "wintered five years in the country, with more hardship than was necessary, owing to the lack of care on the part of the Associates."

Returning to Quebec July 5, 1635, Champlain did not find the habitation as he had expected. He had been told that the fort was just as it had been left. He saw that much time was lost in the long summer days by going from the habitation to the island meadows at Cap Tourmente, below the island of Orleans, to make hay, so he had a house and stable built there, and the cattle down in charge of six men.

Twenty years after the landing at Quebec, Champlain's vision of a colony in New France was still a castle in the air. The population numbered no more than 105, of whom there were only six or seven settled families. (One settler, Abraham Martin, afterwards became a farmer, the owner of the land now named the Plains of Abraham.) The trading companies had made no effort to establish colonists in the country, and left the few people they did bring out without the means of cultivating and sowing the land. Not an arpent and a half had yet been cleared, and only one or two families were making a living for themselves. Not having any incentive to work, the would-be settlers in the place lounged about, hunted and fished, and killed time in whatever ways offered themselves.

ENGLISH VESSEL ARRIVES.

One day Champlain's servant, coming in with four small sacks of roots, reported that he had seen an English vessel. Largely through the surprise and the execution caused by the white men and their firearms, the allies were completely victorious.

Early in September, Pont Grave and Champlain, leaving Captain Pierre Chavin of Dieppe in charge of the habitation, with fifteen men, sailed for France, where they at once reported to De Monts and His Majesty on the events and discoveries of the past year. To the King Champlain presented a capture of porcupine quills, a piece of Indian workmanship with which His Majesty was much pleased.

PROFITS OF FUR TRADE.

The part that the Sieur de Monts took in the beginning of the Canadian enterprise is apt to be overlooked, or underestimated. It was, as already said, under his auspices that the post was established at Quebec in 1608, and now, although he was not able to pro-each side and keep him in the saddle. As he rode towards the city some women whose anxiety for husbands and sons and fathers had led them to venture outside the walls to see what path face and blood-stained uniform. They raised the cry, "The Marquis is killed! The Marquis is killed!" He succeeded, and he supposed this outcry, but his condition only too well supported it. He was taken to the house of Arnoux, the physician, who pronounced the wound mortal.

MONTCALM'S DEATH WOUND.

"How long shall I live?" he asked. "Not twenty-four hours," Arnoux replied. He then calmly prepared for his death. His attendants were sent to him for advice as to what course should be taken on the heels of the overwhelming disaster which had befallen the army. He preferred to leave such questions to those who were now better able to give advice. Among his last acts was the writing of a letter to Townsend commending the French and Canadian prisoners to the "well-known humanity of the British," of which he was full; he concluded, "I wish your protector." At daybreak the next morning he was dead.

The backwoods sharpshooters played an important part in the battle of the Plains of Abraham. Wolfe's stature, his brilliant uniform, and his conspicuous movements in marshaling his host drew on him the attention of the Canadian marksmen who were hid in the bush on both flanks of the British advance. He was struck in the wrist. He hastily wrapped his handkerchief about it without ceasing to encourage his men. Soon after, while he was shot through the groin. Even this pain and shock failed to quell the transport of battle. A moment later, however, a bullet broke through his helmet, and he realized that the wound was mortal. He asked those beside him not to allow him to fall, as he feared the effect of such a sight on his men. He was carried to the rear, across the ground where now stands the jail, and laid down in a fire. He was no more than conscious, huddled under the enemy's feet. He, however, was aroused by the exclamation, "They run! They run!" of one of those who stood by him. "Who runs?" he asked. "The French," he immediately directed that Col. Burton should be instructed to make haste with his regiment and to strike the St. Charles Bridge. So he cut off the way of retreat. He then turned on his side, murmuring, "Now, God be praised, I die happy."

THE BATTLE OF QUEBEC.

There is no more romantic battle scene in the history of the world than that of the victory by which England won from France, after a possession of two centuries, the vast Dominion of Canada.

Great as that battle was in its consequences, its interest is intensified by the comon fate of the opposing generals, who in it yielded up their lives for the cause of their respective countries, yet won imperishable fame, which forever united their names—Wolfe and Montcalm.

The execution of Montcalm's sharp-shooting Canadians with their obsolete muskets was witnessed to not only by the death of Wolfe, but also by the severe wounding of his senior brigadiers, Lord Monckton. The marksmanship of the British soldiers must have been equally high, for not only was Montcalm struck down, but also each of his three brigadiers, Senneville, St. Ours and Pombonne. The command of the troops within the city devolved on De Ramezay. Vaudeville, the governor, was with the section of the army guarding against a landing on the Beauport Flats. When he ordered the body of troops under him two hours' march away up the river, Wolfe's strategy had completely deceived him, and he only arrived with his men during the three months of the campaign in of particular value. "Our joy is inexpressibly damped," wrote Knox on the night of the 13th, "by the news of one of the greatest heroes that this or any age can boast of."

When the news of the event reached England it was difficult to proportion the exultation at the brilliant feat of British arms to the grief at the death of the leader who had been his mind and soul. Pitt paid a stately public tribute to the memory of the man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose military genius he had discerned and whom he had selected for high emprise. "With a handful of men," he said, "he gained an empire to the British crown." Montcalm, Wolfe's great opponent, comforted himself in the hour of death by the reflection that he had at least been beaten by a man whose

FLEETS, ONCE FOES BUT NOW CHUMS SALUTE

Navy Honors Navy Under Citadel Walls

BIRTHDAY BEGINS Old Quebec a Mass of Color by Day, Brilliant With Lights at Night

QUEBEC, July 20.—The big pageant has been the cause of probably the greatest celebration since the coming of newspaper men that has ever been brought together in Canada. Already one hundred and fifty representatives of the press have arrived and registered at the Central Press Bureau, and a number more are expected. These represent not only the leading journals of Canada and the United States, but also the press of the British Empire.

MAYOR GARNEAU.

States, but there are a number of special correspondents from Great Britain and France, so that the English and French word will be well posted on the scenes enacted during the national birthday celebration. Join in Saluting Fleets of three nations joined today in saluting the national opening of the three hundredth birthday of the Dominion of Canada, and during the whole afternoon the banks of the St. Lawrence have reverberated with the thunder of cannon as ships salute, and navy paid honor to navy under the walls of the citadel. There was a touch of historic poetry in the scene today when the United States battleship, the New Hampshire, arrived. The three nations most intimately concerned with the wars of this continent were represented: France, which founded Canada; Great Britain, which won it on the Plains of Abraham, and the United States of America, which tried to win it from the British and lost it. Today the ships of the three nations met on the scene of their former fierce combats and, where in time past they had fired powder for the purpose of peaceful courtesy, while after the official ceremonies the ships of the three nations were fraternizing in the city, not only with each other but with the land forces in picturesque good fellowship.

It was nearly one o'clock when the big United States battleship swung around the curve in the river below the city, and long before the time that she was coming had spread through the city, so that the Dufferin Terrace, the ramparts and the citadel were thronged with spectators as the New Hampshire forged her way up stream.

Greets Governor-General

The battleship was reported only a hundred miles from Quebec yesterday noon; she proceeded slowly up the river and anchored for the night near Grande Isle. Rounding St. Joseph de Levis, the New Hampshire greeted the Governor-General in the citadel with a salute of nineteen guns at the same time firing the British ensign. The citadel replied with a like salute, and the battleship slowly steamed ahead, fired a second salute of sixteen guns to the Governor-General, and saluted Admiral Janssoubert with thirteen guns. The Leon Gambetta replied from her fighting top, firing the Stars and Stripes. Within a cable length of the citadel the French warship answered with the Star Spangled Banner. Steaming ahead slowly with the band now playing the Maple Leaf, God Save the King and Rule Britannia, the United States frigate dropped anchor between the Albatross and the Leon Gambetta.

AT FULL STRENGTH

The forces in the three military camps are now practically at full strength. Five special trains arrived over the Grand Trunk this morning bearing the 2200 officers and men. On board these trains were the 4th Regiment of Brockville, a battery from Cobourg, the Royal Grenadiers of Toronto, the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, the 48th Regiment of the United States, Cornwall's Own Rifles, Ottawa and the 14th Regiment, Kingston. These troops were brought north to the city and made their way to the citadel camps. At 10 o'clock the Fifth Royal Scots of Montreal and the 43rd Rifles of Montreal reached the city by boat and proceeded to the Levis camp. Six military trains arrived in the night over the C. P. R. line, making a total of eleven to reach the city from Montreal inside of twelve hours. The incoming traffic was even greater today than yesterday or Saturday, and the morning train, usually a light one, which leaves Montreal at 8.55 had to be sent on in four sections, the first getting in about an hour late and the others following at short intervals. It is likely that a definite announcement of a street military parade will be made some time tomorrow. General Buchan has signified his willingness to have the men of his division at Levis take part, and it is understood that both Generals Cotton and Gordon of the other two divisions will raise no objections. Thursday morning the time suggested for the parade. The afternoon of that day is filled with the official welcome of the city to the prince and the parade of the pageant, and it is feared that the parade will be held on Friday, the day of the review on the plains, a blockade in the streets might result.

BRILLIANT EFFORT

The fireworks display on the heights of Levis in honor of the Prince on Thursday night will be one of the most brilliant efforts of the kind ever engineered on this side of the Atlantic. Among the main features will be the representation of a naval battle, the set in this piece measuring over 600 feet in length, while the falls of Montmorency will be shown in a mass of white fire, 900 feet in height. The set pieces will also include portraits of heroes of the old battles with entirely novel effects. The display will be started off with an illumination of the surrounding country with masses of colored lights, to be followed by the setting off of huge rockets of every description, while a massed flight of over 2,000 rockets will bring the display to a close. Brock and Company are under contract for the display and they claim that they have every novelty shown at the Crystal Palace in the last two years. The effects will be added by the illumination of the warships in the harbor. The naval display proper will be given on Monday night next and the vessels are preparing for something on a magnificent scale. One of the vessels alone has thirty tons of fireworks on board.

The dinner to Lord Roberts and the Duke of Norfolk by the members of the Garrison Club will give us a brilliant affair, about 150 being present. The city tonight is one blaze of lights, every public building and many stores and private residences being illuminated in a fashion never before seen in Canada. Fairbanks of the United States will arrive Wednesday morning.

EXHIBITORS FOR MACHINERY HALL

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the manufacturers' committee of the Exhibition Association was held in their rooms, King street, yesterday afternoon with the chairman, W. S. Fisher, presiding. Messrs. Stephenson and Myers, the committee appointed at a recent meeting to inquire as to whether the boilers, engines and machinery in the exhibition building were in good condition, in their report, it stated that the machinery was in pretty good condition and only required a small outfit to make it perfect. It is the intention of the manufacturers' committee to make the machinery hall a more attractive feature this year than ever before, and it is safe to say that they will be highly successful in their efforts.

Many of the exhibits will be new to the patrons of the big show. Bender & Co. will furnish a wire mail machine in full working order. T. S. Simms will show some of the best machines he has in his factory, all of which will be in full working order. Robert Darling & Co. of Montreal, manufacturers of elevators and machinery, will make a splendid booth out of their heavy machinery. The agricultural and other sections of the exhibition are coming along in excellent shape and the best exhibition yet held in this city. The exhibits are the main features of the big show, receiving great attention, but the small details are also coming in for their share.

ALLIANCE AFTER PRINTING BUREAU

OTTAWA, July 20.—In order to complete the printing of the Saturday Mondays in time for distribution on Monday mornings during the past four weeks, and also to keep up with the unusual rush of parliamentary printing, the government printing bureau has been obliged to keep on a night staff from midnight until seven a. m. for several Sundays past. The printers employed in the task have not been obliged to work unless so desired. It is claimed, however, that the bureau has violated the Lord's Day Observance Act and the matter will be taken up by the local branch of the Lord's Day Alliance.

Reports received in Ottawa state that one of the most disastrous forest fires in the history of the Ottawa Valley has devastated a large area of valuable spruce and pine timber along Lake Nipissing and the Montreal river. Among the losers are J. R. Booth, the Shepard & Morse Co., and Gillies Bros., and it is stated that nearly 150,000,000 feet of timber have been destroyed. Ottawa lumbermen say that more stringent regulations should be made to prevent forest devastation by fire through the carelessness of mining prospectors in New Ontario.

- BREAKS ANOTHER RECORD.
- NEW YORK, N. Y., July 20.—The swift Cunard liner Lusitania has broken another record. A cable message was received here tonight stating that the giant steamer had arrived in Queenstown at 11.35 o'clock. This would make her time for the eastward journey from New York five days and 37 minutes, or two hours and 44 minutes better than the record.
- WHOLESALE LIQUORS. WM. L. WILLIAMS, Successor to M. A. Finn, Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Merchant, 110 and 112 Prince William St. Established 1870. Write for family price list. 23-11 ly

"SOUTH CAROLINA," UNCLE SAM'S DREADNOUGHT which was recently launched in Philadelphia. The great 9,000-ton hull, gay with flags and glistening paint, was christened by Miss Ansel, daughter of Governor Ansel of North Carolina.

TWO WITNESSES IN GOULD CASE NABBED

Young Seamstress and Sleuth Charged With Subornation of Perjury COUNSEL EXONERATED

NEW YORK, July 20.—Charged with subornation of perjury in an alleged attempt to prepare false testimony for use in the divorce case of Helen K. Gould against Frank J. Fleming, a young seamstress and Henry S. Mousley, a member of a firm of private detectives, were arrested tonight. Assistant District Attorney Smith caused the arrests to be made upon hearing the allegation that the two women had conspired to give false testimony in the Gould case. Miss Mousley, it is alleged, had been told that she would receive from the Goulds $1,000 for making an affidavit that she had seen the defendant in a hotel in this city one morning last March. Miss McCausland, a milliner's apprentice, became frightened, and through a friend got into communication with the district attorney's office. Mr. Smith arranged a meeting for today, and Miss McCausland was taken to the apartments of the unnamed woman. There, according to Assistant District Attorney Smith, she met Mrs. Fleming and the private detective. She signed a prepared affidavit, but did not swear to it.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER BROKE AND IN DEBT

Testifies That Her Last Theatrical Tour Was a Failure

NEW YORK, July 20.—Mrs. Leslie Carter, who was divorced some years ago and has since re-married, but who retains her first husband's name for the stage, testified on the witness stand today that she never without funds, despite the fact that she had theatrical tour, undertaken under her own management, was a financial failure. Her appearance before the United States commissioner was brought about by a summons compelling her to submit to examination in an effort to discover other assets than those given in a schedule which she filed with a petition in bankruptcy some time ago.

REV. H. C. MORRISON IN A CITY PULPIT

Distinguished Louisville Divine Delivers Instructive Sermon

Rev. H. C. Morrison of Louisville, Kentucky, preached an interesting and instructive sermon in the Zion Methodist Church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large congregation was present. All through his discourse Mr. Morrison urged the necessity of parents keeping their children in touch with the teachings of Christ, thus subjecting them to His influence. Mary and Joseph when they lost Christ ought to have known enough to have gone to the Temple to find Him. On finding Him the first words Christ said were: "Wist ye not that I must be about My Father's business?" Children should be so brought up that when they stray away in large cities they should seek the sanctuary. He emphasized the thought that people should have a strong personal love for Christ and for one another. Mr. Morrison left for home last evening. From there he is going to start on a tour, holding a series of Bible study meetings in the States of Texas, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado.

VIRTUE'S REWARD

PARIS, July 20.—A man named Baugon, who had promised his wife not to touch any strong drink for a whole day, was "drowned" yesterday while reaching for a drink of water at a fountain at St. Cyr la Riviere.

CHURCHES FOR SALE

LONDON, July 20.—Two historic London churches, the Swedish Lutheran Church in Princes Square, St. Georges-in-the-East, and St. Thomas', Charterhouse, in Grosvenor Road, will be offered for sale during the next week.

THE COLISEUM

The largest single structure in the world for audience and spectacular purposes is the Coliseum at Rome. It is in the form of an ellipse. Its long diameter is 615 feet; its short, 316; the height of the outer wall, 164. The arena is 218 feet long by 178 broad. The tiers of seats accommodate 100,000 spectators.

JAMMED BETWEEN WAGON AND POST

Boy Named Dolan Meets With Painful Accident on Main Street

A boy named Dolan, son of Martin Dolan, was painfully injured yesterday at noon on Main street by being jammed between a telephone post and a wagon wheel and his legs were broken. He was attempting to jump to the ground from the wagon when suddenly the horse started off and the boy's foot caught between the fence and the shaft. The boy was thrown forward and when the wagon collided with the post he was jammed between the two. A severe cut was inflicted in his face and chunks of flesh were torn from his leg. For some time the accident caused considerable excitement and a large crowd gathered around the boy. He was taken to his home and according to the latest reports, his injuries are not as serious as they are painful.

DROPPED COFFEE

Doctor Gains 20 Pounds on Postum

A physician of Wash., D. C., says of his coffee experience: "For years I suffered with periodic headaches which grew more frequent until they became almost constant. So severe were they that sometimes I was unable to get to bed, and I was irritable, irritable, sleepless; my memory was poor, I trembled and my thoughts were often confused. "My wife, in her wisdom, believed coffee was responsible for these (its and urged me to drop it. I tried many times to do so, but was its slave. "Finally she bought a package of Postum and persuaded me to try it, but she made it same as ordinary coffee and I was disgusted with the taste. (I make this emphatic because I fear many others have had the same experience.) She was distressed at her failure and we carefully read the directions, made it right, boiled it full 15 minutes after boiling commenced, and with good cream and sugar, I liked it, it invigorated and seemed to nourish me. "That was about a year ago. Now I have no headaches, am not irritable, sleepless and irritability is gone, my brain clear and my hand steady. I have gained 20 lbs. and feel I am a new man. "I do not hesitate to give Postum due credit. Of course dropping coffee was the main thing, but I had dropped it before, using chocolate, cocoa and other things to no purpose. "Postum not only seemed to act as an invigorant, but as an article of nourishment, giving me the needed phosphates and albumens. This is no imaginary tale. It can be substantiated by my wife and her sister, who both changed to Postum and are hearty women of about 70. "I write this for the information and encouragement of others, and with a feeling of gratitude to the inventor of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.—Read "The Road to Wellville" in pgs. "There's a Reason."

LE BARON'S PLAN

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 20.—Mayor W. H. Keary returned from Ottawa, where he had been for the last three weeks in consultation with members of the cabinet in connection with the proposed Fraser river improvement scheme, which has now been approved by the government. Further details of the negotiations have been given out by Mr. Keary, who imparts to the press the information that the sum of $1,250,000 has been set apart in the estimates for the improvement to the river, and that the plan suggested by long standing Francis Le Baron will be followed out almost in its entirety. He pointed out the long jetties and floating walls will be completed almost immediately.

WORST LUMBER FAMINE IN THE WEST'S HISTORY

WINNIPEG, July 20.—The lumber dealers of the three prairie provinces of western Canada are facing the worst lumber famine in their history as a result of the plan of western Canadian railroads to devote all available rolling stock to move the grain crop, estimated at 125,000,000 bushels. Lumbermen are unable to get enough lumber to supply the demand and prices have risen alarmingly.

BOBS GOING TO MONTREAL

MONTREAL, July 20.—The present plan is that Lord Roberts will arrive in Montreal on July 29th, a week from next Thursday. It is intended that he will then remain here three days, after which he will proceed to the west, and will visit Toronto, afterwards going to Niagara Falls. No definite programme has yet been arranged for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor.

SCION OF OLD GOTHAM HOUSE UNDER ARREST

Van Rensselaer Accused of Extortion

MAN IS A BROKER Writes a Remarkable Letter to His Mother in Newport

NEW YORK, July 20.—John A. Van Rensselaer, son of Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer, and a member of one of New York's oldest families, was taken into custody tonight on a charge of attempted extortion. The arrest was made by officers from Chief of Police Crowley, of Newport, R. I., who received a complaint from Mrs. Van Rensselaer that her son had written a letter threatening her bodily harm unless she provided him with funds. Van Rensselaer is thirty-four years old and married.

Van Rensselaer is connected with a local brokerage house and when he returned to his home, tonight on Waverly Place, he was placed under arrest by a detective, who produced the letter alleged to have been written by Van Rensselaer to his mother. The detectives and Lieutenant Mannion, Newark, N. J., who was brought in from the police station, declare that the young man stated that he had written the letter which is without any factual beginning or ending, and of which the manuscript is unsigned. The letter reads: "I have just seen Lawrence Lee, and I am given to understand that you will pay thirty dollars per month for my board if I will go three hundred miles from New York, and that I must have your written consent to leave the place that you have selected. "Did it ever occur to you that I have an absolute remainder interest in Aunt Frances' estate securities and that by blowing your head off, that my wife would have an income sufficient to support her? "I will take that course if necessary and upon my head be the consequences. (Thav is still alive, maybe I will be). "In my case, my wife, God bless her, will benefit by your demise, even if I don't. "I have seen many disagreements and much suffering in my life and I think that the best way to get it is due to you. A selfish peacock, whose name in the times amounts to nothing and who is almost, if not entirely, forgotten in the times since he was born. "I am now in no humor to be trifled with and I wish to go on record that I will take action on sight, unless something is done, within ten days, by Harold $6,000 and a trip to Europe. What have I had for being honest? (Signed) "J. A. RENSSELAER."

"I want you to raise on that fancy name of yours, $5,000 for me. If you are such a great lady, make good; if not, keep out of my sight. I can raise cash enough to go to you wherever you are and I have a good name." Van Rensselaer was later taken to police headquarters and the police of Newport, where Mrs. Van Rensselaer is now residing, were notified of the arrest. The prisoner made inquiries regarding bail and spoke vaguely of a man named Lee who would be glad to furnish it. Van Rensselaer will be carefully observed by the police. Admitting to Lieutenant Mannion that he had written the letter, Van Rensselaer, according to the police, made the following statement regarding the demand of his mother: "I gave her a thousand dollars when she was on her uppers, and now I want five thousand to go into the brokerage business. When I was in business before I had a good friend who used to loan me any amount I wanted up to a couple of hundred thousand. This friend's mother wanted to get into the Colonial Dames of America, of which my mother was a member, but my mother black balled her. Then, soon after that I went to this friend again for another loan, he told me as my mother was too good to associate with his mother, he guessed his money was too good for me."

Van Rensselaer is a son of John King Van Rensselaer, aide-de-camp to Major General Winfield Scott. The Van Rensselaers are descendants from Colonel Jeremiah Van Rensselaer, who was a member of the Colonial Assembly in this state, and the Speaker in 1864. Van Rensselaer was twice married, having divorced his first wife.

It should be asked what possession I most valued, I would say some beautiful memory. Memory is possession. It is the only thing on earth that is absolutely ours, which no one can take from us. We can produce and enjoy it in a crowd of uncontented people as easily as if we were alone. No noise can drown its voice; no distance can dim its clearness. Strength, hope, beauty, everything else, may pass. Memory will stay.—Selected.

CZAR'S FAMOUS ADMIRAL HAS PASSED AWAY

Rojestvensky Dies From Heart Disease

SIXTY YEARS OLD Heart Affection Caused by Wounds Received in Battle

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany, July 20.—Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the ill-fated Russian fleet which was annihilated by the Japanese in the Sea of Japan in May, 1905, died here last night from heart trouble. It is believed that the heart affection resulted from injuries received by Admiral Rojestvensky in the battle of the Sea of Japan.

LATE ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY.

Sinovi Petrovitch Rojestvensky was about sixty years of age and for many years bore the reputation of being one of the most cool-headed and scientific naval officers in the Russian service. He distinguished himself in the Russo-Turkish war in 1877 by an attack on a Turkish ironclad in a gulf about the Vesta.

He was Admiral Allen's second in command of the Russian squadron in the Far East in the Sino-Japanese war, which made him familiar with the waters of Japan and China.

During the late war between Russia and Japan, Admiral Rojestvensky was ordered early in August, 1904, to have his squadron in readiness to proceed from the Baltic around to Vladivostok. This proved to be one of the most remarkable voyages ever made, and resulted in the annihilation of the Russian Baltic fleet. The start was made from Libau on October 15 of that year and, passing around Denmark, the Russian fleet encountered the British North Sea fishing fleet, of Dogger Bank, which led to a stringed state of affairs between Great Britain and Russia, but at one time threatened to result in hostilities between the two countries. An international commission of inquiry, however, which met at Paris, after a complete investigation excluded the admiral for his action, while condemning the firing.

The battle of the Sea of Japan, otherwise the Battle of Tan Shima was the greatest naval struggle since Trafalgar. Entering the straits of Tan Shima, between Korea and Japan, the Russian fleet was attacked by the Japanese under Admiral Togo, the opening shots in the fighting being fired about two o'clock on the afternoon of May 27. Before the engagement commenced, Admiral Togo signalled from the flagship Mikasa to the Japanese fleet: "The fate of the Empire depends on this effort. Let every man do his utmost." The battle lasted until the afternoon of May 28, and included a general engagement and a torpedo attack on the coming tower of the Otsuoya, and the flagship Admiral Rojestvensky was blown up, the admiral himself seriously wounded, was rescued by a Russian torpedo boat destroyer, which was afterwards captured by the Japanese, who took Rojestvensky prisoner. Admiral Vokreskum was killed in the coming tower of the Otsuoya, and Rear Admiral Neboogatov was taken prisoner. Twenty-one of the ships of the Russian fleet were sunk, including six battleships and four cruisers. The Russian ships were estimated at 4,000 killed or drowned and more than 7,000 officers and men taken prisoners. The Japanese, in the engagement, lost three torpedo boats, 115 officers and men were killed and 538 were wounded.

A naval court of inquiry on Sept. 7, 1906, presented an indictment against Admiral Rojestvensky for surrendering to the enemy, but on July 10 the admiral was acquitted.

BOBS GOING TO MONTREAL

MONTREAL, July 20.—The present plan is that Lord Roberts will arrive in Montreal on July 29th, a week from next Thursday. It is intended that he will then remain here three days, after which he will proceed to the west, and will visit Toronto, afterwards going to Niagara Falls. No definite programme has yet been arranged for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor.

EDMUND BEBEC

Urquhart Train to Death Fell Also
Injuries
Accident Result
File on Car
Form
Had a Present
Something
Happen

From the New Brunswick...
Urquhart...
Train...
Death...
Fell...
Injuries...
Accident...
Result...
File...
Form...
Had...
Present...
Something...
Happen

Urquhart...
Train...
Death...
Fell...
Injuries...
Accident...
Result...
File...
Form...
Had...
Present...
Something...
Happen

Urquhart...
Train...
Death...
Fell...
Injuries...
Accident...
Result...
File...
Form...
Had...
Present...
Something...
Happen

Urquhart...
Train...
Death...
Fell...
Injuries...
Accident...
Result...
File...
Form...
Had...
Present...
Something...
Happen

Urquhart...
Train...
Death...
Fell...
Injuries...
Accident...
Result...
File...
Form...
Had...
Present...
Something...
Happen

ELECTIONS SHORTLY, SAYS SENATOR KING

Fighting Session Means Appeal

SESSIONS TOO LONG Senator Declares it Will Soon be Hard to Get Men for Parliament

"I believe there will be a Dominion election very shortly now," said Senator King last night...

FIREMEN'S FEET BADLY SCALDED

Upsets a Pail of Boiling Water Over Them

A fireman named Wardale, working on board the steamer Kanawha, lying at Long wharf...

THREE DROWNED IN THE MONTREAL RIVER

NEW LISKEARD, Ont., July 20.—Upset on a rock in dangerous rapids, O. B. O. Barry, William D. Dwyer of Prescott, and B. M. Black of Berkeley street, Toronto...

SCHOONER LOSES ALL HER SAILS AND MASTS

BOOTHBY HARBOR, Me., July 20.—The small two-masted schooner Walter Miller (Br.), from Boston for St. John, N. B., was towed in here today with both her masts, her bowsprit and all her sails and rigging gone...

HAS CONTESTED THREE ELECTIONS

OTTAWA, July 20.—The election of Hon. Charles Devlin, minister of colonies and fisheries, in the Quebec government has been contested, and the minister left Ottawa this afternoon to file an appearance at Three Rivers tomorrow in connection with the case.

BANKING QUARTERS GREATLY ADMIRRED

Many Attend Formal Opening

ROYAL'S STAFF HOSTS Manager Blair and Assistants Show Visitors Through—Refreshments Served

The formal opening of the new Royal Bank of Canada's building, corner of King and Canterbury streets, took place yesterday afternoon.

CANADIANS MAKE AVERAGE SCORES

Weather Conditions Were Not Good at Bisley Yesterday

THE SCORES MADE BISLEY, July 20.—The Canadians took part in two competitions today and did fairly well.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

The democratic character of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick was shown in fact that the usual guard of honor for the occasion was dispensed with by order of the deputy governor.

ASTORIA

PEARY AT BELLE HARBOR. NEW YORK, July 20.—Commander Robert Peary, now en route to the Arctic ice fields in quest of the North Pole...

LONGEST SESSION ENDS; MUCH PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION PASSED

In Spite of Obstruction Government Did Splendid Work

Civil Service, French Treaty and Election Acts the Chief

Slanders Fell Flat—Laurier at the Helm All Through

New Ministers, Pugsley and Graham, Made High Reputations

OTTAWA, July 20.—The fourth and in all probability the last session of the tenth parliament of Canada was prorogued at noon today by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, the deputy to the Governor General, the latter being absent in Quebec in connection with the Tercentenary celebration.

WHERE PARLIAMENT MEETS

STRAIN ON LAURIER. Sir Wilfrid Laurier throughout was in charge of the daily proceedings in the house and his physical endurance in his standing so well the tremendous strain of a trying and arduous session without being compelled to be absent for a single day through illness was one of the remarkable features of the whole session.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

TEMPELLEMAN'S BILLS

Hon. William Templeman, Minister of Inland Revenue, introduced and passed two bills of general public interest. The bill respecting Proprietary Medicines afforded additional safeguards to the public against noxious medicines in patent preparations and insures that no drug shall place on the market any patent medicine which has not first been analyzed by the department and certified to as being a safe medicine.

INTO EFFECT SEPT. 1

The bill as it affects the inside revenue will come into effect on Sept. 1, and the outside revenue will be brought into effect by proclamation at some later date. The Minister of Agriculture also put through the House some important amendments designed to improve the working of the pure food inspection act of last session.

THE NEWS, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1908.

lands in the west; the devoted much time to an unsuccessful effort to discredit the agreement made between the millers and the Eos Mills Company; they got a special committee of the house to investigate the Hodgins charges.

THE MOST DETERMINED ATTACK was on the government's policy and practice of disposing of timber limits. As to policy, the government was shown to have committed that of their predecessors—only with a little more regard for the public interests.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

WHERE PARLIAMENT MEETS

STRAIN ON LAURIER. Sir Wilfrid Laurier throughout was in charge of the daily proceedings in the house and his physical endurance in his standing so well the tremendous strain of a trying and arduous session without being compelled to be absent for a single day through illness was one of the remarkable features of the whole session.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE NEWS, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1908.

lands in the west; the devoted much time to an unsuccessful effort to discredit the agreement made between the millers and the Eos Mills Company; they got a special committee of the house to investigate the Hodgins charges.

THE MOST DETERMINED ATTACK was on the government's policy and practice of disposing of timber limits. As to policy, the government was shown to have committed that of their predecessors—only with a little more regard for the public interests.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

WHERE PARLIAMENT MEETS

STRAIN ON LAURIER. Sir Wilfrid Laurier throughout was in charge of the daily proceedings in the house and his physical endurance in his standing so well the tremendous strain of a trying and arduous session without being compelled to be absent for a single day through illness was one of the remarkable features of the whole session.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

THE HOUSE PASSED. The bill providing for the extension of the provincial boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, and empowering the government to enter into negotiations with the governments of Australia and New Zealand with a view to bringing about a speedy consummation of the ill-fated project, both of which carried and promptly results of far-reaching importance to the future of the Dominion.

D. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE! Acts like a charm in DIARRHOEA and is the only Specific in CHOLERA...

SHEATH GOWNS MAY INVALIDATE MARRIAGE

Georgia Frowns on Women's Alluring Corsets and Cosmetics

BILL IN LEGISLATURE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 20.—War has been declared in the Georgia legislature against women employing the "wiles and blandishments" of dress to catch husbands, and if the bill fathered by George G. Glenn, representative of Whitfield County, becomes a law, when a man marries in Georgia he will know just what he is wedding, for the woman will have to appear as she is, without the aid of sheath gown, paint, cosmetics, pads, padding, corsets or any of the devices which women use to make themselves attractive to men.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

"When I went sweetheating, twenty-five years ago," said Mr. Glenn, "it seems to me that women were less made up than they are now. Their dress was simpler, and artificial aids to make themselves alluring were not in such common use as now. In those days a man knew what sort of a woman he was marrying. He knew she was real, and he made his choice without his imagination being worked upon by the enticing devices which are used by women at present.

BOLT SHATTERED

to Henry Grant's House

The electrical storm which raged so fiercely during the early hours of yesterday morning did not vanish without leaving something tangible to remind one of its fury.

ORANGE SERVICE AT WELFORD

In spite of the unfavorable weather a large congregation attended the annual service of L. O. L. No. 111, held at Welford last Sunday evening.

LONDON POLICE WILLING

LONDON, July 20.—The City of London police team, which won the Olympic tug-of-war has issued a challenge for a match with the American team, the members of both teams to be in their stocking feet or in any way the American prefer, and the match to be for love or any charity.

D. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE! Acts like a charm in DIARRHOEA and is the only Specific in CHOLERA...

SHEATH GOWNS MAY INVALIDATE MARRIAGE

Georgia Frowns on Women's Alluring Corsets and Cosmetics

BILL IN LEGISLATURE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 20.—War has been declared in the Georgia legislature against women employing the "wiles and blandishments" of dress to catch husbands, and if the bill fathered by George G. Glenn, representative of Whitfield County, becomes a law, when a man marries in Georgia he will know just what he is wedding, for the woman will have to appear as she is, without the aid of sheath gown, paint, cosmetics, pads, padding, corsets or any of the devices which women use to make themselves attractive to men.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

"When I went sweetheating, twenty-five years ago," said Mr. Glenn, "it seems to me that women were less made up than they are now. Their dress was simpler, and artificial aids to make themselves alluring were not in such common use as now. In those days a man knew what sort of a woman he was marrying. He knew she was real, and he made his choice without his imagination being worked upon by the enticing devices which are used by women at present.

BOLT SHATTERED

to Henry Grant's House

The electrical storm which raged so fiercely during the early hours of yesterday morning did not vanish without leaving something tangible to remind one of its fury.

ORANGE SERVICE AT WELFORD

In spite of the unfavorable weather a large congregation attended the annual service of L. O. L. No. 111, held at Welford last Sunday evening.

LONDON POLICE WILLING

LONDON, July 20.—The City of London police team, which won the Olympic tug-of-war has issued a challenge for a match with the American team, the members of both teams to be in their stocking feet or in any way the American prefer, and the match to be for love or any charity.

TO NAME CANDIDATE UP IN RESTIGOUCHE Liberal Convention Soon

JAMES REID BACK Summer Season is Gay Up at Dalhousie—Social Happenings

DALHOUSIE, N. B., July 20.—James Reid, M. P., is expected home this week after nearly eight months' absence. His friends will insist that a convention of the Liberals of Restigouche county be called at an early date to select the standard bearer of the Liberal party for the coming general election. This early step will be taken on account of rumors that have been in circulation about other parties of whom it is said he has aspirations to Dominion honors.

The Montreal Times and other conservative organs may continue to find fault with the Liberals for praising the splendid work accomplished for New Brunswick by Messrs. Pugsley, Emerson, Curvell, Michaud, LeBlanc, Loggie, Turgeon and Reid; but the electors who sent these men to Ottawa to represent their constituents will give them credit for the improvements they have been able to secure for their respective constituencies and there being no charge against them for their support against Sir Wilfrid Laurier's government, the ratepayers will again support their good and faithful servants.

During Wednesday and Thursday evenings last the ladies branch of the auxiliary of St. Mary's Anglican church held a very successful social here, which realized the sum of $187.

The affair was held in the Morris Hall, which was nicely decorated for the occasion. Besides the sale of fancy articles, refreshments of all kinds, a good programme of music, singing and reading was executed.

The Ingh Arran House, is now open and is doing a splendid business. During a beautiful summer as we are having in the far north of New Brunswick, there is no more delightful spot for health and pleasure seekers than Dalhousie. Its salt water bathing cannot be excelled. A child can get an opportunity to fish at a few rods from the Ingh Arran Hotel. A fine beach in front contains one dozen bathing houses. The hotel has nearly one-fifth of a mile of broad verandah, a separate cottage for pool and billiards and bowling alleys. Also swings, lawn tennis, billiard, quoits and amusements. All trains connect with the Dalhousie branch train.

The steamer Lady Sybil on her way both from and to Campbellton and Gaspe, P. Q., calls here.

The steamer Florence makes frequent trips to the Quebec side of the Restigouche river every day.

No place in Canada possesses more attractions for tourists, artists and health seekers than Dalhousie and its environs.

The Ingh Arran House is situated in the southwest of Bay Chaleur, in the town of Dalhousie, N. B. While in the town limits it is three-quarters of a mile from the town proper, and is separated from the beach and bay only by a carriage drive. It contains one hundred and forty-two large airy rooms, a dining room can safely accommodate over two hundred guests.

J. E. Dean of St. John, N. B., who is proprietor and manager, is being congratulated on all sides for the way he is conducting his house and many local families are making arrangements to spend a few weeks at this famous resort next year. Lady clerks in towns and cities who wish to spend their holidays where they can secure good salt water bathing are forming clubs to get special terms at Ingh Arran House.

The sad drowning accident which occurred at Bedford, N. S., last week, which resulted in the death of Miss Una O. Roy, daughter of J. E. Roy, a well known real estate agent of Halifax, N. S., was a great shock to several families in Dalhousie. Miss Roy, who became acquainted with many New Brunswick girls while she attended school at Edgemoor, Windsor, N. S., Sacred Heart and Mount St. Vincent Convents, Halifax, spent several weeks here last summer the guest of Miss Opat and Miss Alma LeBlonde, who were school companions of hers, as well as Miss Oregon and Miss B. Merrier, and she was a great favorite with all those who made her acquaintance. Miss Roy belonged to the Episcopal church. She was a very bright girl of only eighteen. The letters and a diary which she wrote and which are in the possession of her friends here prove that she had lived there a bright future in store for her.

Restigouche county is sending a good contingent to the Quebec celebration. The Messrs. Hilyard are making good progress with their new mill. Their engineer, who has had great experience all over the continent, is authority for stating that when completed the new mill will be one of the best of its kind to be seen in Canada or the United States.

It is the desire of every citizen of Dalhousie that the town council should be the managers of the Dalhousie Lumber Company, Limited, in every reasonable way in order that the town may grow as a result of the great industry which has been so successfully promoted by A. H. Hilyard.

Mrs. Wm. Draper and family of St. John, N. B., are spending a few days with Mr. Orme in the parish. Mr. Orme of Portland, Oregon, who is Dalhousie twenty-five years ago and who spent a week with her cousin, Mrs. Dr. Crockett of Fredericton, is visiting her native town. She received a hearty welcome from the many friends of her youth. Mrs. Yerex is a daughter of Angus Fraser, formerly of Restigouche.

James Duncan has joined Capt. Bernier at Quebec en route to the North. Mr. Duncan will be absent for eighteen months.

Miss Audrey Lane of New York is visiting her uncle, Edward Watter, Henry Hilliard and John, N. B., was the guest of his two brothers last week.

MONTREAL, July 20.—Hon. William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, is in Montreal on his way to the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec, where he will be accompanied by the members of the government will greet the Prince of Wales on Wednesday.

After participating in the fête, Dr. Pugsley will return to Ottawa for a few days, when he will go to St. John, N. B., where he is deeply interested. Dr. Pugsley informed our correspondent that the plans and specifications for the new wharf to be built by the government in Rodney slip have been completed. Tenders, he said, would be called for in the very near future and the work will be undertaken without delay.

Before taking any holiday after the close of the session, the members of the government will put in a couple of weeks' steady work in council and attending to business of their department. Mr. Pugsley has not yet made any definite arrangements for a projected series of political meetings in various provinces of the Dominion.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth will leave for Vienna at the end of the month, where he will consult the best ear specialists of Europe. He will probably be absent about six weeks.

DARING ATTEMPT TO ROB A BANK Frustrated by Cashier, Time Lock and Fire Alarm Masked Men Tried to Gather in the Shelves in Ohio Town But Had to Vamoose.

ADA, Ohio, July 21.—Six masked men rode into this place late last night and attempted to rob the local bank. While trying the other three went to the cottage of Cashier Meyers, and around him, compelled him to go to the bank with them. They attempted to compel Meyers to open the safe. The cashier, however, convinced the men that the safe was equipped with a time lock and that it could not be opened. Thereupon two of the robbers took Meyers to a nearby wood and tied him up. The other four men remaining at the bank to blow the safe. Meyers managed to escape from his captors and promptly turned in a report arousing the citizens. The crackmen jumped on their horses and galloped out of town. They were pursued for some distance, but finally escaped in the darkness. Bloodhounds were placed on their trail. The robbers did not succeed in opening the safe.

THE WORKING OF THE I. C. C. PENSION SYSTEM One Hundred and Seventy Four Employees Now Receive Monthly Sums—Large Amount Being Paid Out.

MONTICTON, N. B., July 21.—That one hundred and seventy-four employees of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island railways are now enjoying pensions ranging in amount from $30 to $68.42 is shown in a statement prepared by Acting Deputy Minister of Railways L. K. Jones for Senator Peter McSweeney of this city, in answer to inquiries concerning the pension fund recently made by Senator McSweeney in the senate. Twelve of the pensioners are from the Prince Edward Island and one hundred and sixty-two from the Intercolonial. Monthly there is paid to these pensioners the big amount of $4,492 in allowances. Since the first of January there have been forty-five applications for pensions.

REPORT IS DENIED. TORONTO, July 20.—Fred G. Inwood, secretary of Ontario Reform Association, this morning positively denied the story originating in Montreal that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would contest a Toronto seat in the coming general election.

MAD BULL KILLS THREE HORSES. LONDON, July 20.—A bull belonging to Mr. Orme, a breeder of prize stock, of Hargate Manor, near Burton, went mad yesterday and attacked a number of prize horses, going three of them to death.

TROUBLE AMONG THE TROOPS AT QUEBEC English Speaking Militiamen Expected to Mutiny

A Water Famine in the Ancient City Causes Great Suffering—The Programme for Today.

QUEBEC, July 21.—The chief interest today centres around whether the army of Wolfe will mutiny this afternoon or not. There has been a good deal of friction among the English speaking soldiers and they have chafed under the discipline. The French soldiers have not been so mutinous as the army of Montreal will be all right.

The lower part of the city is in the hands of a drought and there is a good deal of misery, owing to the bursting of a large water main there is not a drop of water in the lower town and it is not expected that there will be tonight. All the carts and horses are busy with the urgent work that they are not available to carry water through the streets.

The weather is fine but misty and it is impossible to see half way across the river. This afternoon there are naval and military sports, a gymkhana and a military tattoo at night. The first performance of the historic pageants will take place on the plains of Abraham in the afternoon at five o'clock. Tonight Christopher Colomb is to be performed by a chorus of 400 persons.

MEDICAL MEN MEETING AT ST. STEPHEN TODAY Questions Regarding Fees are Being Taken Up—References to Deceased Members.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., July 21.—The twenty-eighth annual session of the New Brunswick Medical Society opened this morning in Masonic hall. Dr. Deacon presided and twenty physicians were in attendance, others arriving by the train. Papers were read by Dr. Murray McLaren of St. John, Dr. Percy Butler of McAdam, and Dr. Deacon of Milltown. This afternoon the question of fees for insurance examinations, and of raising the fee for registration in the society from $20 to $40, will be considered. Appropriate references will be made to the demise of Dr. Bayard and Dr. Scamell, of St. John, and Dr. Swan of Calais. President Deacon stated that he had extended an invitation to be present to the physicians of Washington county, Maine.

JURY DISAGREE IN THE MAIL BAG THEFT CASE The trial of Eucild McGrath, charged with stealing a mail bag, was continued before Judge McLatchy at Carleton Place on Saturday. The jury disagreed, eight were for conviction and four for acquittal.

McGrath is accused of stealing a mail bag, containing packages of valuables, from the driver's sleigh on March 31, at a point between Carleton Place and the mail driver. Barry, stopped at the house of a man named LeBreton, and sent in the subject's name, explained of feeling ill. He asked a son of LeBreton's to take the mail for him to the end of the route. This young LeBreton agreed to do so.

A number of men were playing cards in the house at the time and Barry joined in the game. Later it was discovered that one of the mail bags on the team was missing. It was afterwards found with its contents strewn about. It was discovered that nothing of value had been taken. A two dollar bill, strange to say, the next day the man who sent the bill received it back over his counter from a woman. It was some time afterwards, however, before McGrath was arrested. Accused will have his second trial in August.

BROKE COLLAR BONE TRYING TO SAVE HAT OTTAWA, July 20.—A peculiar accident happened to Jack Aymer, eldest son of Lord Aymer, on Saturday. He had been attending the faces of the Rideau canoe club and was returning home, when a puff of wind raised his hat. He put his right hand up quickly to save his headgear, when the means of a sharp crack. His collar-bone had snapped in the act of raising his arm. Mr. Aymer is confined to his home.

BRIGHTON POLICE TO LEARN FRENCH. LONDON, July 20.—The Sun newspaper today publishes details of a scheme originated by Chief Constable Gentle for instructing the police force of Brighton in French, so that officers at the different police stations, men on point duty, and eventually the whole force, may be helpful to foreigners, of whom an exceptionally large number are expected this year.

P. E. I. CHILD HAD BOTH FEET CUT OFF BY MOWING MACHINE. CHARLOTTETOWN, July 20.—The little son of Angus McCormack, of Souris, had both feet cut off by a mowing machine today. The boy had wandered into the thick grass and was not noticed in time to stop the machine.

HEARTY WELCOME EXTENDED TO JOHN W. KERN AT INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 15.—The non-partisan reception given John W. Kern, the newly nominated Democratic candidate for vice-president of the United States, held in the courtyard tonight on the candidate's arrival home from Denver, was an hearty and generous and spontaneous as the citizens of Indianapolis, regardless of politics, could make it. Fully 5,000 persons gathered in Delaware street in the courtyard and gave Mr. Kern a hearty welcome and cheered him enthusiastically. The candidate addressed the crowd for about 20 minutes.

JOHN W. KERN OF INDIANA

CONTRACTS FOR RAISING TURRET BELL AND EILEEN Sarnia Contractor Takes the Job—The Lady Eileen is Now in Deep Water.

DALHOUSIE, N. B., July 21.—Capt. James Reid, the well known wrecker, of Sarnia, Ont., has been engaged by the underwriters to recover the steamer "Turret Bell" and "Lady Eileen," both steel ships. Both boats are insured with English companies. The task of raising the "Lady Eileen" will be a difficult one as parties who arrived here today by steamer "Lady Sybil" from the Gaspe Coast state that the "Lady Eileen" has slipped off the rock and is now in deep water.

AN ENGINEER DEAD NEW YORK, July 21.—Anacleto Garcia Menocal, a prominent civil engineer and authority on hydraulics, died yesterday at his home here. His death was due to solidification of the arteries. Mr. Menocal was born in Havana, Cuba, Sept. 1839. In the service of the United States government he acted as chief engineer of all the government surveys for establishing the practicability of a ship canal at Nicaragua.

BETTER THAN GOLD Food that Rebuilds Body and Brain "I owe a debt of gratitude to Grape-Nuts," writes a W. Va. young lady, "and I am glad of this opportunity to pay a little interest on it, although the debt itself I can never hope to remove. A few years ago I broke down from over-work and improper food. I was then in a preparatory school and my fondest wish was to enter college the following year. "But about the middle of the term my health failed, and my brain refused to grapple with the subjects presented to it. Finally, my eyesight giving way, I was taken from the school, and sent to my grandmother's in the country with orders not to open a book while I was there. "The dear old lady tried every way to console and nurse me back to health, but it looked like failure until the day she brought back from town a box, which, had its contents been pure gold, would have been of less value to me than the little golden-brown granules which it actually contained. "I did not care about being expensively treated at first, but that was before I had tasted Grape-Nuts with Grandma's rich Jersey cream. "Oh, it was too good to stop eating. And I never have stopped, for I still have Grape-Nuts for breakfast. "In the course of a few weeks I was back at school again, my health entirely restored that I was almost a new girl. "I am now in my junior year at college, president of my class and expected to take an M. A. degree next year. My good health has continued all my life, having been strengthened by the general build-up of my whole body, enable me to study all I wish. "There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

REV. WILLIAM J. ANCIENT. HALIFAX, N. S., July 20.—The death occurred at his home in this city, this afternoon, of Rev. Wm. J. Ancient, preacher-of the wreck of the White Star liner Atlantic. The announcement of his death came as a shock to the community at large, as although he has not been in the best of health recently, his early demise was not expected.

Mr. Ancient was stationed at Terrence Bay at the time of the wreck of the Atlantic, April 1, 1873, and by his gallant conduct in pushing out to the battered steamer, was the means of saving two lives. His boat crew succeeded in rescuing the two last survivors of the wreck of the Atlantic, the man and woman who were clinging to the mast of the stranded ship. This gallant deed won him renown, and when in 1903 a monument was erected in his honor, Terrence Bay with money raised by friends of the dead, Mr. Ancient's part was fittingly eulogized. He came to Halifax shortly afterwards and became rector of Trinity Church. Then he went to Londonderry and was rector there up to the date of his appointment as vicar of the parish of the Anglican Church, which position he held with the greatest satisfaction up to the time of his death. He leaves a widow and three daughters, one the wife of Rev. W. H. Sisson, and two at home. He was seventy-five years old.

OTTAWA, July 20.—W. A. Gilmore of Brockville has been appointed collector of customs at that port, filling the vacancy caused by the death of the late collector last week.

CHILD'S PLAY of Wash-day Surprise Soap cleanses so easily that wash day is like child's play. There is nothing in it to hurt the skin. It cannot injure the clothes and gives the sweetest cleanest results. To wash the Surprise way. Read the directions on the wrapper. You can use Surprise in any and every way.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, July 19.—The death occurred at his residence, Springs, Va., yesterday, that the Republican National Committee would accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his special attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he brook his usual silence and dictated the following statement: "We welcome him to this advanced ground and we hope to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum will be made known before the election."

FREDERICTON, July 20.—The death occurred this morning of Augustus Tweeddale at his residence, Park street, this city, after an illness extending over 15 months. Mr. Tweeddale was attacked with typhoid fever last year and for weeks was in a precarious condition. From this attack he never fully recovered and his death resulted from complications connected with his long illness. He was one of Fredericton's leading hardware merchants and was universally respected and esteemed. Besides a wife and several children he leaves seven brothers and two sisters, one of the former being Mr. Tweeddale, M. P. of Victoria, B. C.

A team from the Fredericton Cricket Club leave here on Thursday next to play a friendly game with the St. John cricketers. The contest team will consist of the following: Deeds, McCann, Johnstone, Belcher, McLeod, Schofield, Fowler, Turner, Coleman, Ashburnham and Street.

WOODSTOCK, July 18.—The preliminary examination of Francis Haigh and Marney Warfield, the circus employees arrested at the time of the recent riot, was begun this morning in the town hall before Magistrate Diblee. J. C. Hartley appeared to prosecute and Hon. W. P. Jones for the defence. Mr. Jones, legal adviser for Coles' circus, was present also. After the hearing of the evidence of Harry Johnston, William Johnston, Dr. Rankin and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong, the examination was postponed until tomorrow morning, when further witnesses will be put on for the crown.

HALIFAX, July 18.—A body was found a short distance from the scene of the accident and was removed to the home of the boy's parents at Bedford.

MONCTON, N. B., July 16.—The horse races here tomorrow afternoon the opening of a two-days' meet, give every indication of being highly successful. The track is in splendid condition and the presence of a number of American horses who are new to the Maritime circuit lends much additional interest. Fine weather now is all that is needed to make the meet very successful.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 17.—At the golf tournament today between Charlottetown and Halifax the home team won the singles by 16 to 8. In the men's doubles Halifax won by one point.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 16.—Dr. MacDonald, who recently resigned from the faculty of the University of New Brunswick, has been appointed to an instructorship at McGill University. Dr. MacDonald left here last evening to spend a short time at Burnt Church, before proceeding to Montreal. He was offered the instructorship of Philosophy a few days ago. Prof. Taylor having resigned to accept a position at St. Andrew's University in Scotland.

MURDOCK Stewart MacDonald was born at Whyecombe, Cape Breton, N. S., and at Dalhousie University received the degree of B. A. in 1901, taking the M. A. degree a year later, at Cornell University, he held a fellowship in Philosophy and took the degree of Ph. D. in 1904. From Cornell Dr. MacDonald came to the University of New Brunswick, where he has been professor of Philosophy and Economics until he resigned some months ago. Dr. W. C. Kierstead, of Woodstock, who was appointed his successor, has accepted the position. Dr. MacDonald was one of the most successful professors on the University faculty in recent years. He was a close student and a good teacher. With his associates on the faculty, as well as the students, he was particularly well liked, and his ability was generally recognized. In his new position there will be a wider sphere for him to advance.

FREDERICTON, July 18.—Senator Thompson passed to his grave this morning after a long illness. The senator stated that he had originally received 21 shares of old Central, for which he paid by way of calls made upon him some $1,000. He had sold $1,000 in 1887 he sold the shares to Messrs. Killam and Dr. Bertram and received about $1,000 for the same. Hon. Mr. Blythe acted both for himself and Sheriff Sterling as the agent and the money was paid out of public subsidies granted the road. He thought Sheriff Sterling received about the same, the total amount being $25,000 for the shares held.

MONCTON, July 18.—While No. 31 train Maritime express was passing through Campbellton early this morning J. H. Sadler, a passenger, faintly understood that the engine was striking his head on the rail. A severe scalp wound was inflicted, but the injuries are not thought to be serious. Sadler was held at Campbellton for medical treatment, but is expected to be all right in a few days.

CHILD'S PLAY of Wash-day Surprise Soap cleanses so easily that wash day is like child's play. There is nothing in it to hurt the skin. It cannot injure the clothes and gives the sweetest cleanest results. To wash the Surprise way. Read the directions on the wrapper. You can use Surprise in any and every way.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, July 19.—The death occurred at his residence, Springs, Va., yesterday, that the Republican National Committee would accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his special attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he brook his usual silence and dictated the following statement: "We welcome him to this advanced ground and we hope to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum will be made known before the election."

FREDERICTON, July 20.—The death occurred this morning of Augustus Tweeddale at his residence, Park street, this city, after an illness extending over 15 months. Mr. Tweeddale was attacked with typhoid fever last year and for weeks was in a precarious condition. From this attack he never fully recovered and his death resulted from complications connected with his long illness. He was one of Fredericton's leading hardware merchants and was universally respected and esteemed. Besides a wife and several children he leaves seven brothers and two sisters, one of the former being Mr. Tweeddale, M. P. of Victoria, B. C.

A team from the Fredericton Cricket Club leave here on Thursday next to play a friendly game with the St. John cricketers. The contest team will consist of the following: Deeds, McCann, Johnstone, Belcher, McLeod, Schofield, Fowler, Turner, Coleman, Ashburnham and Street.

WOODSTOCK, July 18.—The preliminary examination of Francis Haigh and Marney Warfield, the circus employees arrested at the time of the recent riot, was begun this morning in the town hall before Magistrate Diblee. J. C. Hartley appeared to prosecute and Hon. W. P. Jones for the defence. Mr. Jones, legal adviser for Coles' circus, was present also. After the hearing of the evidence of Harry Johnston, William Johnston, Dr. Rankin and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong, the examination was postponed until tomorrow morning, when further witnesses will be put on for the crown.

HALIFAX, July 18.—A body was found a short distance from the scene of the accident and was removed to the home of the boy's parents at Bedford.

MONCTON, N. B., July 16.—The horse races here tomorrow afternoon the opening of a two-days' meet, give every indication of being highly successful. The track is in splendid condition and the presence of a number of American horses who are new to the Maritime circuit lends much additional interest. Fine weather now is all that is needed to make the meet very successful.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 17.—At the golf tournament today between Charlottetown and Halifax the home team won the singles by 16 to 8. In the men's doubles Halifax won by one point.

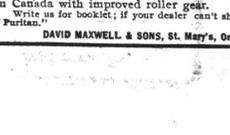

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 16.—Dr. MacDonald, who recently resigned from the faculty of the University of New Brunswick, has been appointed to an instructorship at McGill University. Dr. MacDonald left here last evening to spend a short time at Burnt Church, before proceeding to Montreal. He was offered the instructorship of Philosophy a few days ago. Prof. Taylor having resigned to accept a position at St. Andrew's University in Scotland.

MURDOCK Stewart MacDonald was born at Whyecombe, Cape Breton, N. S., and at Dalhousie University received the degree of B. A. in 1901, taking the M. A. degree a year later, at Cornell University, he held a fellowship in Philosophy and took the degree of Ph. D. in 1904. From Cornell Dr. MacDonald came to the University of New Brunswick, where he has been professor of Philosophy and Economics until he resigned some months ago. Dr. W. C. Kierstead, of Woodstock, who was appointed his successor, has accepted the position. Dr. MacDonald was one of the most successful professors on the University faculty in recent years. He was a close student and a good teacher. With his associates on the faculty, as well as the students, he was particularly well liked, and his ability was generally recognized. In his new position there will be a wider sphere for him to advance.

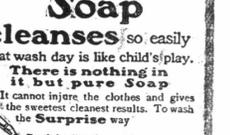

FREDERICTON, July 18.—Senator Thompson passed to his grave this morning after a long illness. The senator stated that he had originally received 21 shares of old Central, for which he paid by way of calls made upon him some $1,000. He had sold $1,000 in 1887 he sold the shares to Messrs. Killam and Dr. Bertram and received about $1,000 for the same. Hon. Mr. Blythe acted both for himself and Sheriff Sterling as the agent and the money was paid out of public subsidies granted the road. He thought Sheriff Sterling received about the same, the total amount being $25,000 for the shares held.

MONCTON, July 18.—While No. 31 train Maritime express was passing through Campbellton early this morning J. H. Sadler, a passenger, faintly understood that the engine was striking his head on the rail. A severe scalp wound was inflicted, but the injuries are not thought to be serious. Sadler was held at Campbellton for medical treatment, but is expected to be all right in a few days.

You won't dread Wash Days after your husband buys a "Puritan" Reacting Washing Machine. It runs so easily—does the washing so quickly—that you will marvel how you ever put up with the back-breaking rub of the tub. One of the children can easily do the washing with the "Puritan"—the only reacting machine in Canada with improved roller gear. Write us for booklet; if your dealer can't show you the "Puritan." DAVID MAXWELL & SONS, St. Mary's, Ont.

CHILD'S PLAY of Wash-day Surprise Soap cleanses so easily that wash day is like child's play. There is nothing in it to hurt the skin. It cannot injure the clothes and gives the sweetest cleanest results. To wash the Surprise way. Read the directions on the wrapper. You can use Surprise in any and every way.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, July 19.—The death occurred at his residence, Springs, Va., yesterday, that the Republican National Committee would accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his special attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he brook his usual silence and dictated the following statement: "We welcome him to this advanced ground and we hope to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum will be made known before the election."

FREDERICTON, July 20.—The death occurred this morning of Augustus Tweeddale at his residence, Park street, this city, after an illness extending over 15 months. Mr. Tweeddale was attacked with typhoid fever last year and for weeks was in a precarious condition. From this attack he never fully recovered and his death resulted from complications connected with his long illness. He was one of Fredericton's leading hardware merchants and was universally respected and esteemed. Besides a wife and several children he leaves seven brothers and two sisters, one of the former being Mr. Tweeddale, M. P. of Victoria, B. C.

A team from the Fredericton Cricket Club leave here on Thursday next to play a friendly game with the St. John cricketers. The contest team will consist of the following: Deeds, McCann, Johnstone, Belcher, McLeod, Schofield, Fowler, Turner, Coleman, Ashburnham and Street.

WOODSTOCK, July 18.—The preliminary examination of Francis Haigh and Marney Warfield, the circus employees arrested at the time of the recent riot, was begun this morning in the town hall before Magistrate Diblee. J. C. Hartley appeared to prosecute and Hon. W. P. Jones for the defence. Mr. Jones, legal adviser for Coles' circus, was present also. After the hearing of the evidence of Harry Johnston, William Johnston, Dr. Rankin and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong, the examination was postponed until tomorrow morning, when further witnesses will be put on for the crown.

HALIFAX, July 18.—A body was found a short distance from the scene of the accident and was removed to the home of the boy's parents at Bedford.

MONCTON, N. B., July 16.—The horse races here tomorrow afternoon the opening of a two-days' meet, give every indication of being highly successful. The track is in splendid condition and the presence of a number of American horses who are new to the Maritime circuit lends much additional interest. Fine weather now is all that is needed to make the meet very successful.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 17.—At the golf tournament today between Charlottetown and Halifax the home team won the singles by 16 to 8. In the men's doubles Halifax won by one point.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 16.—Dr. MacDonald, who recently resigned from the faculty of the University of New Brunswick, has been appointed to an instructorship at McGill University. Dr. MacDonald left here last evening to spend a short time at Burnt Church, before proceeding to Montreal. He was offered the instructorship of Philosophy a few days ago. Prof. Taylor having resigned to accept a position at St. Andrew's University in Scotland.

MURDOCK Stewart MacDonald was born at Whyecombe, Cape Breton, N. S., and at Dalhousie University received the degree of B. A. in 1901, taking the M. A. degree a year later, at Cornell University, he held a fellowship in Philosophy and took the degree of Ph. D. in 1904. From Cornell Dr. MacDonald came to the University of New Brunswick, where he has been professor of Philosophy and Economics until he resigned some months ago. Dr. W. C. Kierstead, of Woodstock, who was appointed his successor, has accepted the position. Dr. MacDonald was one of the most successful professors on the University faculty in recent years. He was a close student and a good teacher. With his associates on the faculty, as well as the students, he was particularly well liked, and his ability was generally recognized. In his new position there will be a wider sphere for him to advance.

FREDERICTON, July 18.—Senator Thompson passed to his grave this morning after a long illness. The senator stated that he had originally received 21 shares of old Central, for which he paid by way of calls made upon him some $1,000. He had sold $1,000 in 1887 he sold the shares to Messrs. Killam and Dr. Bertram and received about $1,000 for the same. Hon. Mr. Blythe acted both for himself and Sheriff Sterling as the agent and the money was paid out of public subsidies granted the road. He thought Sheriff Sterling received about the same, the total amount being $25,000 for the shares held.

MONCTON, July 18.—While No. 31 train Maritime express was passing through Campbellton early this morning J. H. Sadler, a passenger, faintly understood that the engine was striking his head on the rail. A severe scalp wound was inflicted, but the injuries are not thought to be serious. Sadler was held at Campbellton for medical treatment, but is expected to be all right in a few days.

You won't dread Wash Days after your husband buys a "Puritan" Reacting Washing Machine. It runs so easily—does the washing so quickly—that you will marvel how you ever put up with the back-breaking rub of the tub. One of the children can easily do the washing with the "Puritan"—the only reacting machine in Canada with improved roller gear. Write us for booklet; if your dealer can't show you the "Puritan." DAVID MAXWELL & SONS, St. Mary's, Ont.

KERR Canadian Captures man Another Wedd

LONDON, July 20.—The Irish Club, who took the land's best distaffette run at the week ago, added long list today to the lead in the establishing a new 124.5 for the day. The winning was by C. H. Kilpatrick in New York in 1885. Another gold man when Harry P. P. erican A. C. capt clearing the bar beating the Olympic K. Baxter in Park inches. After six world's record.

CHILD'S PLAY of Wash-day Surprise Soap cleanses so easily that wash day is like child's play. There is nothing in it to hurt the skin. It cannot injure the clothes and gives the sweetest cleanest results. To wash the Surprise way. Read the directions on the wrapper. You can use Surprise in any and every way.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, July 19.—The death occurred at his residence, Springs, Va., yesterday, that the Republican National Committee would accept any contributions from corporations in his campaign was viewed here with more than ordinary interest. Mr. Bryan gave it his special attention. In fact, so impressed was he with the announcement that he brook his usual silence and dictated the following statement: "We welcome him to this advanced ground and we hope to go further and announce that all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum will be made known before the election."

FREDERICTON, July 20.—The death occurred this morning of Augustus Tweeddale at his residence, Park street, this city, after an illness extending over 15 months. Mr. Tweeddale was attacked with typhoid fever last year and for weeks was in a precarious condition. From this attack he never fully recovered and his death resulted from complications connected with his long illness. He was one of Fredericton's leading hardware merchants and was universally respected and esteemed. Besides a wife and several children he leaves seven brothers and two sisters, one of the former being Mr. Tweeddale, M. P. of Victoria, B. C.

A team from the Fredericton Cricket Club leave here on Thursday next to play a friendly game with the St. John cricketers. The contest team will consist of the following: Deeds, McCann, Johnstone, Belcher, McLeod, Schofield, Fowler, Turner, Coleman, Ashburnham and Street.

WOODSTOCK, July 18.—The preliminary examination of Francis Haigh and Marney Warfield, the circus employees arrested at the time of the recent riot, was begun this morning in the town hall before Magistrate Diblee. J. C. Hartley appeared to prosecute and Hon. W. P. Jones for the defence. Mr. Jones, legal adviser for Coles' circus, was present also. After the hearing of the evidence of Harry Johnston, William Johnston, Dr. Rankin and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong, the examination was postponed until tomorrow morning, when further witnesses will be put on for the crown.

HALIFAX, July

KERR OF CANADA HAS GOT THEM GUESSING

Canadian Regarded as a Very Likely Man for the Finals

Captures His Heat Yesterday From Sherman of Dartmouth—Sheppard Adds Another Victory To His Long List—Wednesday Was America's Day.

LONDON, July 21.—Melvin W. Sheppard of the Irish-American Athletic Club, who took the measure of England's best distance man in the 1,500 metre run at the Olympic games just a week ago, added another victory to his long list today when he finished far in the lead in the 800 metre event, and establishing a new Olympic record of 1:52.4 for the distance, and continuing on to the half mile, which he ran in 1:54, within three-fifths of a second of C. H. Kilpatrick's world record made in New York in 1895.

Another gold medal went to America when Harry F. Porter of the Irish-American A. C. captured the high jump by clearing the bar at 6 feet 2 inches and beating the Olympic record made by J. K. Baxter in Paris in 1900, six feet 2.4 inches. After assuring himself that he was the winner he went after the world's record. The bar was placed at 6 feet, 5.4 inches, just one-eighth of an inch higher than the record, which was made by M. F. Sweeney in New York in 1895, but it was just a shade too much for him.

Better weather, a much larger attendance and exciting finishes marked today's Olympic sports at the stadium far and away more interesting than any that have preceded them. There was absolutely no disruption, and from ten o'clock in the morning until after seven in the evening a great crowd of enthusiasts sat in the stands cheering the victors and those who failed but made themselves and their countrymen for themselves and their countrymen.

Largely America's Day

As expected, it was largely America's day, for besides winning the only two events finally decided the American sprinters won the great majority of the heats in the other events. While not so absolutely dominant as in the running high jump was the most keenly contested event of the day. It started in the morning, and not until after noon the starting gun was fired. The winner, the Stars and Stripes being run up to the mast-head for the second time in the day.

In the first section of this event H. A. Gidney, Boston A. A., was defeated by Monson of Norway and Leader of England, but after the other sections had concluded a protest was entered on the grounds that the runner on the other sections contested was more favorable to the jumpers than that of the first section.

The protest was allowed and Gidney in the second attempt did not exceed one inch, thus qualifying for the final. There, however, he soon found more than his match in Leahy, the Irish champion, Porter, Sodomoy of Hungary and several others.

In his try for the world's record, Porter made three attempts, but without success. He will go to Ireland next week, where he again meets Leahy and it is possible that he will be able to establish a new record. His jumping appeared marvelous to the experts and spectators, but when he went after the record did he remove his sweater and he approached the poles without the usual strained appearance. Leahy, Sodomoy and Andre of France, tied for second place, each having topped the bar at six feet two inches, and although they tried it a quarter of an inch higher, none of them could accomplish it. It was decided to give each a silver medal and award the points for second and third places equally among the three countries.

T. Moffitt, of the University of Chicago, did six feet one inch, which, as he has been since coming to England, was a splendid performance.

Sheppard won a great victory for America in the 800 metre flat race. He proved himself entirely too fast for the English champion, who was absolutely done up by the tremendous pace.

The two Englishmen, Just and Fairbairn-Crawford, who qualified for the final, they could not set a pace which would tire out Sheppard, but it seemed to be exactly what he wanted. The American led Fairbairn-Crawford and the speed high as he liked and kept right at the Englishman's heels. Just followed close behind, but the plan miscarried, for the latter who expected to come in the stretch and pass Sheppard, had no reserve left and was not only beaten by the American, but also by Lough of Italy and Braut of Germany.

TWO DISAPPOINTMENTS.

The Americans suffered two disappointments in the heats of the 300 metre flat race. Lawson Robertson, Irish-American A. C., being defeated

BALLOON ROUTE BETWEEN ST. JOHN & BOSTON; WHEN?

Millionaire Motorist Glidden Has a Great Scheme

Company Organized—New York to Boston Line First

Strong Organization Started Yesterday at Spirited Convention in Hampton—Laurier and Pugsley Endorsed—Good Speeches.

HAMPTON, July 21.—The Liberals of Kings county met in convention here this afternoon. The attendance was satisfactory and thoroughly representative, all parts of the county sending BOSTON, July 21.—The announcement that Charles J. Glidden, the Boston millionaire, renowned motorist, originator of the Glidden tour and of late enthusiastic aeronaut, is about to incorporate a company for the establishment of aerial navigation lines between points in the United States and St. John, Montreal and Quebec for the transportation of passengers and freight, has stirred the traffic men of the big trunk lines. Already a close scrutiny is being made of Glidden's plans, the possibilities of his scheme, and of the financial backing he will have, outside his own fortune.

And, immediately after Mr. Glidden's startling announcement, the originator of the Glidden tour and of late enthusiastic aeronaut, is about to incorporate a company for the establishment of aerial navigation lines between points in the United States and St. John, Montreal and Quebec for the transportation of passengers and freight, has stirred the traffic men of the big trunk lines. Already a close scrutiny is being made of Glidden's plans, the possibilities of his scheme, and of the financial backing he will have, outside his own fortune.

There were four heats in the semi-finals of the 400-metre hurdle race. In two of which Americans contested, and they took both of them, Harry L. Hillman of the N. Y. A. C., and C. J. Bacon, Irish-American A. C., doing the trick. The two went to Great Britain and in both cases in slower time than that made by the Americans.

P. Naraganesu, New York Athletic Club, and J. H. Craigie, New York City, lost their bouts in the Greco-Roman wrestling, and J. B. Greene, Brooklyn A. C., failed to finish in the 1,500 metre swim, six heats of which were concluded.

SIKKLY, DEPENDENT, TIRED

The world is full of sickly, dependent, tired, enervated people, all hoping to be well some day. The surest road to health is along the way of taking a great appetizer and enables one to eat plenty of wholesome food without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia. This is a result of a rapid formation of red, vitalizing blood, which will restore the nerve, increase the flesh and vigor, and nourish and feed every organ in the body. Ferruone is an ideal restorative and invigorator. It is a tonic of unequalled merit that anyone can use with benefit. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50 at druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

FREDERICTON-WOODSTOCK SERVICE SEEMS ASSURED

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 21.—The Central Railway Commission arrived this evening and will meet in session here tomorrow morning. A number of witnesses have been summoned to give testimony, including the managers of the Bank of Montreal and B. N. A., W. T. Whitehead, Sheriff Sterling and others.

The Fredericton Cricket Club will send an eleven to St. John on Thursday morning next to play an eleven of the club at that place.

Robert Scott informed your correspondent this evening that he is meeting with every success in obtaining subscribers for the establishment of a steamboat service between here and Woodstock. The amount required is $10,000 and this has now nearly been all subscribed.

Rev. Canon Cowie is expected home from the Pan-Atlantic congress on Tuesday of next week.

Brown (throwing down the newspaper after reading the details of the latest domestic-financial tragedy)—Sad story, sad story. What does it profit a man to gain the whole world, and lose one or two surplus women thrown in.

The two Englishmen, Just and Fairbairn-Crawford, who qualified for the final, they could not set a pace which would tire out Sheppard, but it seemed to be exactly what he wanted. The American led Fairbairn-Crawford and the speed high as he liked and kept right at the Englishman's heels. Just followed close behind, but the plan miscarried, for the latter who expected to come in the stretch and pass Sheppard, had no reserve left and was not only beaten by the American, but also by Lough of Italy and Braut of Germany.

WILD WEST HOLOUP IN A BOSTON SALOON

Three Desperate Men Enter and Shoot Up the Place—Two Dead

BOSTON, Mass., July 21.—Three desperadoes, men, armed with heavy calibre revolvers, dashed into a crowded Jamaica Plain bar-room ten minutes before closing time tonight and yelling, "hands up," began "snooting up" the place. When they grabbed the money till, emptied it, finished shooting and made their escape, one man was dead on the floor, another lay dying, and a third was seriously wounded.

Dashing out the door, the three men were met by Officer S. C. Butler, who drew his revolver and began firing on the men, one of whom was injured, but all eventually escaped.

The dead man is Frank J. Drake, aged 52 years, of 25 Byron street. Patrick R. Doran, aged 40 years, of No. 5 Atherton street, is lying at the City Hospital with a bullet in the abdomen, and Thomas Winterston, one of the proprietors of the saloon, is suffering from bullet wounds in the back of the head and arm.

The saloon which was the scene of the shooting is run by Winterston and McManis and is situated at the corner of Washington and Boylston streets in Jamaica Plain in a thickly settled part of the city.

The saloon was crowded just previous to 11 o'clock fifty or sixty men being in the place.

QUEBEC WAITS ARRIVAL OF THE PRINCE OF WALES

City Decked Out in Naval Guise Will Greet Him Today

Immense Crowds Arriving For the Celebration—Break Develops in One of Quebec's Water Mains Causing Much Annoyance.

QUEBEC, July 21.—The second day of the Tercentenary celebration was an uneventful one, everything awaiting the arrival of the Prince of Wales tomorrow. The acrobats of the crowd in attendance were very noticeable, every train arriving in the city bringing full quotas of passengers, many of whom had difficulty in finding accommodation in the already crowded city. The performances today took very much the shape of full dress rehearsals and the results were such as to show noyance, the hotels being deprived of the usual supply for their guests. This morning the position of affairs was even worse, and not only visitors were unable to get enough water for baths but in many hotels the position was so bad that there was not even enough water for drinking purposes.

In the military camps the scarcity of water was felt much more, the soldiers in all directions securing a supply of water from any place where there was a well.

Particularly Fortunate

The camp on the Levis side was particularly fortunate in this respect, since they had the regular supply from the town of Levis, and were thus supplied, while those relying upon the Quebec municipal supply were cast upon the resources of the river and such wells as they could find.

However, this difficulty was ended about 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the break in the water main was mended and gradually the city water supply was resumed, first in the lower town and then in the higher districts and the camps.

There was a general attitude of expectancy in the performance today, the actors in the pageants and the visitors evidently all holding back until tomorrow, when the arrival of the Prince of Wales will give the signal for the full opening of the national festival. Not only will the Prince of Wales arrive tomorrow, but Vice-President Fairbanks, the representative of the United States, will also get here in the morning, and there will be a vast amount of powder burned in the formal welcome.

There was a general attitude of expectancy in the performance today, the actors in the pageants and the visitors evidently all holding back until tomorrow, when the arrival of the Prince of Wales will give the signal for the full opening of the national festival. Not only will the Prince of Wales arrive tomorrow, but Vice-President Fairbanks, the representative of the United States, will also get here in the morning, and there will be a vast amount of powder burned in the formal welcome.

Greeted by Salutes

As the Vice-President of the United States comes across in the launch of the New Hampshire, he will be greeted by salutes from the citadel and the warships of Great Britain, France and the United States. The day and in fact of the whole celebration will be the arrival of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales on the Incomatible, escorted by the armored cruiser Albatross. The vessel conveying the representative of the King also reported as coming exactly on time, and they are expected to reach the harbor at two o'clock.

Everything is in readiness for the arrival of the prince and the formal opening of the festival.

The decorations are complete and the military camps are in readiness, the warships are arrayed in order along the St. Lawrence, and the city is full to repletion with visitors. There are every indication that when his royal highness lands on Canadian soil tomorrow, he will be greeted by the greatest demonstration that this Canada's oldest city has ever seen and one worthy of that is really the three hundredth birthday of Canada.

OUT OF WORK AND STARVING

LYNN, Mass., July 21.—A man who, it is alleged, has confessed that he assaulted Mrs. Joseph Low at her home in Essex, was brought into the Lynn police station late this afternoon. He was captured by Captain Thomas Murphy of the West Lynn division, as he was making for the Lynn marshes. The patrol wagon was called and on the way to the station house it is alleged that the man confessed to Patrolman Arthur B. Newcomb that he was Harry Maddox and that he assaulted Mrs. Low. He said that he was out of work and was starving and had to have food and money.

No Summer Vacation so You can come Whenever it suits you, but There is no better time Than just now. Catalogues To any address.

S. Kerr, Fredericton, N. B.

OPEN ALL SUMMER

Fredericton Business College

will be open through the summer months for all who wish to attend. Those wishing to enter for FALL TERM beginning September 1st, would do well to send for Free Catalogue now. Address: W. J. OSBORNE, Fredericton, N. B.

CASTORIA

Opens the Kind You Have Always Bought

Signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer

STONINGTON, Me., July 2.—Crased with jealousy over the attentions of his brother to his sweetheart, who lives in this town, Frank Baldaera, aged thirty years, tonight shot and instantly killed Antonio Baldaera, aged twenty-five, in an Italian quarrymen's camp on Crook Island.

lay day
prise
ap
so easily child's play, thing in e Soap clothes and gives results. To wash way
on the wrapper.
Surprise in any very way.

WS.

July 17.—This morning and Mary Wadhams' mination before Magistrate Constable a former inmate of the county jail. The evidence and were that the prisoner were Judge Charlton for the Judge whether they should file. Both decided to from Mr. Jones then tion for bail, claiming a statute a person who is entitled of night. Mr. Harrison, on the as simply for the the need out of the court. At the the his honor admitted to bail in the sum of $100,000, C. J. Taylor of the Charles, being man.

Doctor of the circus informed the court that the hand to take the of the suit for damages is still under looking forward to next year in the de- quarter. An im- plier of the line of the way, some distance the court of the to a group of New- sent experts down the, estimate the shipment at cost, far as the plaster it- the report was most the water where it- run from cars to did lots of money. But unfortunately the ends of Beach St., the wharves, and ward by vessel has and by team. This the road to the New- Yorkers tried to in the railroad com- far as to offer to part of the proposed to be the only to be the ex- the outside, the Whether the St. has accepted the syn- tected settled, but it is the extension will be return.

July 18.—Senator announced this morning the commission. The he had originally re- of old Central, for a way of calls made in the vicinity of would these charges to old Mr. Bertram and $100 for the same. and then for himself the way and out of public sub- road. He thought received about the amount being $25,000.

July 19.—While No. 22 press was passing, on north this morn- a passenger, found a "nest" of the train, in the rail. A severe nited, but the in- light to the station. Campbell for to be expected to days.

July 20.—The American Athletic Club, who took the measure of England's best distance man in the 1,500 metre run at the Olympic games just a week ago, added another victory to his long list today when he finished far in the lead in the 800 metre event, and establishing a new Olympic record of 1:52.4 for the distance, and continuing on to the half mile, which he ran in 1:54, within three-fifths of a second of C. H. Kilpatrick's world record made in New York in 1895.

Another gold medal went to America when Harry F. Porter of the Irish-American A. C. captured the high jump by clearing the bar at 6 feet 2 inches and beating the Olympic record made by J. K. Baxter in Paris in 1900, six feet 2.4 inches. After assuring himself that he was the winner he went after the world's record. The bar was placed at 6 feet, 5.4 inches, just one-eighth of an inch higher than the record, which was made by M. F. Sweeney in New York in 1895, but it was just a shade too much for him.

Better weather, a much larger attendance and exciting finishes marked today's Olympic sports at the stadium far and away more interesting than any that have preceded them. There was absolutely no disruption, and from ten o'clock in the morning until after seven in the evening a great crowd of enthusiasts sat in the stands cheering the victors and those who failed but made themselves and their countrymen for themselves and their countrymen.

As expected, it was largely America's day, for besides winning the only two events finally decided the American sprinters won the great majority of the heats in the other events. While not so absolutely dominant as in the running high jump was the most keenly contested event of the day. It started in the morning, and not until after noon the starting gun was fired. The winner, the Stars and Stripes being run up to the mast-head for the second time in the day.

In the first section of this event H. A. Gidney, Boston A. A., was defeated by Monson of Norway and Leader of England, but after the other sections had concluded a protest was entered on the grounds that the runner on the other sections contested was more favorable to the jumpers than that of the first section.

