Germany's Rejoinder To Wilson's Note Is Unexpected, But Is A Step Nearer Teuton Capitulation--Kaiser Offers To Curtail His Authority If Allowed To Retain Throne

By Courier Leased Wire

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Germany's rejoinder to President Wilson's last note was rather unexpected here, and pending receipt of the official text through Swiss legation, comment was withheld.

The diplomatic situation is just where it was when President Wilson informed the German government that its request for an armistice and peace had been transmitted to the Allied governments.

An announcement from London that Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour had left for France with naval and military advisers foreshadowed an early meeting of the Supreme War Council at Versailles.

KAISER DRAWS IN HIS CLAWS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Emperor William has no intention of abdicating, but is willing, if it is for the good of the people to ordain that his rights shall be framed, according to a statement attributed to German court circles.

"I will not abandon my sorely tried people, but, if necessary, I am ready to become something like hereditary president of a German republic like the kings of England, Belgium and France."

WANT KAISER TO GO.

Amsterdam, Oct. 28.—President Wilson's note to Germany was printed textually in the German newspapers on Thursday evening and on Friday morning.

As for the Junker organs, which proclaimed the necessity of every man coming to the front for the Emperor and the empire, many papers apparently contemplate without excessive lament the prospective disappearance of the Hohenzollern dynasty.

Fears are not concealed that the enemy conference at Paris will put forward demands "incompatible with German honor," but the anxiety to know the exact terms of associated governments puts everything else in the background.

"Anger and shame are bad counsellors," says The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, which is content to leave the decision to the army leaders.

More than four years ago, Canada, under a high sense of duty, undertook her part in this supreme struggle for the world's freedom.

LONDON OPINION IS DIVIDED

By Courier Leased Wire.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The brevity of the German reply to President Wilson's last note is a measure of its significance," says The Daily News.

The Express, enumerating the latest occurrences in Germany, including the reply to President Wilson, exclaims:

"The signs portend enough, pointing to a speedy end of the nightmare and indicating an acceptance of the terms soon to be dictated."

The German reply is, in effect an unqualified acceptance. Nothing remains but for the associated powers to announce without delay the program of naval and military measures which the armistice necessitates.

The Daily Mail hopes and believes

of the autocracy," the paper says.

"It will be time enough for Marshal Poch to state the terms when that sword has been broken or surrendered."

"There is no new viewpoint in the German reply except that it seeks rather crudely to impose upon President Wilson and the Allies the sword is still in the hand of the autocracy," the paper says.

Paper Controller About to Order Cutting Off of Unpaid Subscriptions

At a public hearing in Ottawa last week in connection with paper conservation, the Paper Controller for Canada intimated that regulations about to be issued would include one to the effect that:

"Publishers of daily newspapers must cease sending their newspapers to subscribers three months in arrears, unless subscriptions be definitely renewed and all arrears fully paid.

The reason for this regulation of the Paper Controller is that it is the practice of some publishers to send their newspapers until ordered stopped, and this practice frequently results in loss to the publisher, besides a virtual waste of paper.

The manufacture of paper consumes labor, wood, coal, chemicals and transportation facilities, and every ton of paper saved means just so much more labor, raw materials, chemicals, fuel and transportation available for urgent war needs.

Under these regulations The Courier will have no choice in the matter of dealing with subscriptions in arrears for over three months.

You need The Courier, and we want to continue sending it to you. So if your subscription is in arrears, please pay up at once to prevent discontinuance of your subscription.

FRESH RETREAT BEFORE OISE AND AISNE BEGUN BY ENEMY AS BERLIN ASKS ARMISTICE

'FLU SITUATION SHOWING SOME IMPROVEMENT

Conditions Better at Emergency Hospital and Throughout City

SITUATION TODAY

After careful enquiry, The Courier is in a position to say that the influenza epidemic in Brantford shows a change for the better, and matters are evidently getting well in hand.

At the Emergency Hospital, there have been many discharges, and only six new cases received there during the last twenty-four hours.

At the general hospital, matters have much improved. The nursing staff is still short, and many have not yet recovered, but the taking in of general cases has been resumed once more.

M. H. O. Says Situation Better. "There is a noticeable improvement in the situation," Dr. N. W. Bragg, M.H.O., told The Courier at noon to-day.

Discharges from the Emergency Hospital over the week-end were: Chas. Thompson, Kerby House; Wm. Evans, 41 James St.

Germans Routed By General De Beney Driven BACK

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Oct. 28.—Germany's armies have begun a new retreat, this time before the Oise and the Aisne.

General De Beney's first army, in the teeth of stubborn resistance and repeated counter-attacks, has succeeded in swinging on its right flank.

General De Beney is now in position to push rapidly along the upper Oise valley toward Hirson and Vervins through a level country devoid of streams.

The first result of his progress is to force the enemy opposing the 10th and 5th French armies, exhausted by fruitless counter-attacks, to begin a backward movement which is eventually bound to extend to the front before Rethel.

This will open to the 4th army a double passage of the Aisne and Ardennes canal.

General De Beney's success was won by sheer hard fighting. The importance the enemy attached to stopping this progress up the Oise may be gathered from the fact that the Germans yesterday threw in three fresh divisions, which, however, were knocked out.

General Ludendorff, who led the German armies in the big offensive of the past spring and summer, has resigned.

Germany asks the Allies to name the terms for an armistice. A note to this effect is now on its way to Washington from Berlin.

It is understood that the Allies are agreed upon the terms to be exacted before hostilities are suspended, but these terms will not be announced until the German note is officially made public.

Austria too, has replied to President Wilson. It is understood that her note is couched in "the most conciliatory terms," but no intimation of its text has as yet been made public.

General Ludendorff, who led the German armies in the big offensive of the past spring and summer, has resigned.

Germany forces holding the sharp salient between the Serre and Oise Rivers in France have been compelled to abandon their positions, which they have obstinately held for the past twelve days.

The French armies on either side of this salient launched a blow on Saturday which flattened out the enemy's front and which had a very definite effect on the German line eastward through Rethel and the Argonne forest to the Meuse River.

It may be that the Germans have prepared lines further east to which they are now retiring along the Serre-Oise front, but there are, if any, natural positions which will lend themselves to defensive operations west of Vervins, south of which there is broken country.

To the north of Vervins there are extensive forests, which might be utilized as cover by the enemy.

It is reported that the Hindenburg (Continued on Page Two.)

WINDHAM FAMILY SORELY BEREAVED

Simcoe Reports Only One Death From Influenza in Two Days

SITUATION THERE

Simcoe, Oct. 27.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—The epidemic has backed the clock as a matter of course and went on fighting the "flu." C. E. Innes and Magistrate Gunton went out with their cars on relief work yesterday.

The epidemic in review. There had up to a late hour last night been reported in the township of Charlotteville but one death from the "flu," in Woodhouse there were three, and in Windham at last three. Two of these were children of James A. Randall who lives near Nixon. A 16-year-old daughter, Lily, died on Friday and was buried from Chadwick undertaking parlors yesterday. The 26-year-old son, James A., died yesterday afternoon and their mother was last night reported seriously ill.

In town Mrs. Sidney Osborne, Water street, died yesterday evening at 6 o'clock after three days illness. Her maiden name was Minnie Badger. Her parents live in St. Thomas. A husband and three small children survive. Funeral to Oakwood tomorrow.

Thomas Coates, aged about 60 years, is quite ill at his farm home out West street. His is not a case of influenza.

Arthur N. West left the store at 2 o'clock on Saturday. Both he and Mrs. West were reported better yesterday evening.

Mrs. Bruce Green left her couch for a short time yesterday and Bruce was reported slightly improved.

Mrs. Howard Stegmire was up street on Saturday.

Robt. Rawling is able to resume work.

Dan. Brounthon, with his wife and three of their four children were taken to the hospital yesterday evening. Two others from the brick and distric were taken in yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Sheik will be held to Oakwood this afternoon.

The funeral of the late Wellington Wilson of Brantford, formerly of Lynnville, was held here yesterday.

A young harness maker of Victoria passed away at his father's home in Woodhouse. Interment took place at Victoria yesterday. He was Richard Church, son of J. B. Church, aged 26 years and six months, and had contracted double pneumonia after the "flu."

General Improvement in Town.

Mr. S. A. S. McPherson, Rev. A. D. Parnoy, Rev. H. C. Newcombe and Chairman Crabb of the hospital board reported a general improvement about town and in the hospital. Clerk McCall of Victoria stated that the township is observing strict isolation of the disease. Some schools are closed and the Board of Health has put the ban on house and church funerals.

There is an impression locally that the same one regarding funerals should be taken in town. All other meetings are being sternly suppressed. A few ladies donned Red Cross sewing at one of the churches last week were interrupted by the police.

There is no prospect of schools or churches or places of amusement opening here in the near future. The active church workers have been and are still busy. Half of the teachers and perhaps half of the pupils are directly or indirectly affected by the "flu."

Board of Health Will Deliberate.

The Board of Health and the Hospital Board will confer this evening.

"What Can I Do,"

Send over a dish of some sort to the neighbor's house in which the mother is ill or busy nursing a husband or child. That is the least.

Visit the children who are trying to keep the house going while their parents are ill.

Don't spend your time attending funerals. The sympathy is required a little sooner than that.

What can you do? Anything, if you want to. Sickness listens to no excuses.

Norfolk Appeals For Sailors and Soldiers.

The Courier visited on Saturday packing operations of boxed apples, being put up here by the Ontario government, and to be forwarded overseas as a Christmas gift to the "Soldiers and Sailors of Freedom" as a gift from the Province. The work is under the supervision of Mr. James E. Johnson and the inspector who called last week spent but a few minutes here observing that he would go to some place where he was needed.

Three of the boxes contain a barrel of apples. They are padded, top and bottom and are strapped with iron band at either end after the lid are put on.

Each apple is wrapped separately in tissue paper and the boxes contain of apples, 96, 120, 132, etc., according to the size of the fruit. 96's were going up when we called. The packers become proficient with experience. On Friday three packers wrapped and packed apples to fill 276 boxes. Work such as this brings a big pay envelope at the week-end.

Splendid Outlook for Box Packing.

Mr. Johnson says there is a splendid opportunity for development of box packing, but regrets that there has been such a dropping off in spraying and caring for orchards.

Some of this he attributes to short-ages of help, but lack of appreciation of the benefits of co-operation in handling the crop is in his opinion another factor.

Odd Ends of News.

Chairman Crabb promises that there will be scant charity in Simcoe next winter. With many others he agrees that the thing has been overdone. Men who refuse to accept $3.00 a day for cutting corporation wood are not likely to get charity fuel later on.

There'll be no more winter charity to summer patrons of the picture theatre and ice cream parlors.

Fall wheat and rye will meet the winter much better than last year.

The Victory Loan is launched to-day.

It was rumored on Saturday that the bells and whistles are to ring this morning. A splendid way to wake the sick and of doubtful use for the purpose.

Farmers have had good weather for getting in red clover second crop for seed purposes.

No 80 Bad.

No, the typesetter was wrong, Saturday's note should have read "19" not "189" patients at the hospital. The latter figure would probably include the town's total. Up to last night there had been admitted to the hospital only 42 patients. Of these, two died, and 17 have been discharged, recovered. There were 23 patients under treatment last night.

Missing Since Oct. 10th.

Word has been received through Mrs. Chas. Hayes, of Aylmer, that Lawrence Christie (796561) has been reported missing since Oct. 10. As the number indicates he was a member of Norfolk's contribution, enlisting from the west of the county.

FRESH RETREAT

The line is broken near Guise. It is a fact the whole German line north and south of that city is in danger. Collapse of the enemy front there would weaken the lines along the Aisne near Rethel, where the French have been virtually held up for some time. If the line of the Aisne gives way, the Germans further east, are under the Argonne forest and nearer the Meuse must readjust their lines, it would seem.

In the neighborhood of Valenciennes the British are still fighting their way ahead, but their progress over the restricted front between Mormal forest and the bend of the Scheldt, is quite slow. Further north the enemy seems to have established himself strongly behind the Scheldt, and only local successes by the Allies are reported.

There is no evidence of lowered morale in the savage resistance of the Austrians before the Italian attack in Italy. It would appear that the Allied forces there have not been able to move ahead except by dint of terrific effort and at a very slow pace. It seems probable that the offensive will develop into a reconnaissance in force instead of a real offensive.

General Allenby's forces in Palestine have occupied Aleppo and appear to have virtually completed the destruction of Turkish power in Syria. The way is now open for a junction between the army of Allenby and the one moving up the Tigris.

GRIM REAPER IS BUSY AT PARIS

More Deaths From Influenza Epidemic Are Reported From There

From our own correspondent.

The second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, of Whitteman's Creek passed away on Friday afternoon in his 27th year, after a brief illness from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. He came to Brantford Tn. with his parents some eight years ago from Frontenac county.

All that was mortal of the late Arthur H. McIlwain was laid to rest in Paris cemetery yesterday afternoon. He was born at Wingham 38 years ago, and resided nearly all his life there. His widow, formerly Miss Bertha Trux of Walkerton and three young children survive. A sad feature of the affair is that the family are all down with the trouble. He came to Paris some three years ago to work for Mr. Thos. J. Dunn. There he passed away yesterday morning, after a brief illness from the effects of influenza. Ferny Edward, youngest son of Mr. Walter Broomfield, in the 17th year of his age. He was a fine young lad, last summer doing his bit for the country in the S.O.S. He was a member of the Congregational church and Sunday School, as also the Y.M.C.A. and a patrol leader in the Boy Scouts. Besides his father, four brothers and three sisters are left.

Mrs. Thos. Goss is very seriously ill from pleuro-pneumonia.

On Saturday the 4 year old son of Mr. Shoberline passed away from an attack of influenza.

VICTORY LOAN

adversity and sorrow, fighting with superhuman strength because right makes might fighting to win, and winning not because Canada is the stake, but all humanity must benefit.

Victory is at hand, make it absolutely certain by the concentration of your force in co-operation with each and all of your fellow citizens. It is most imperative that every citizen of Brant County be a gun in this great Victory Loan campaign.

See to it everyone in our regiment is a gun, if there is one battery or one gun even out of action we must exert our every effort to get it back again in the fray, even though we must man, handle it and with drag ropes haul it up the steepest heights so it can finally go over the top. Remember always those "Flanders Fields," the great name Canada and Candians made there, setting a pace we are in duty bound to keep and lastly let us never "break faith with those who sleep" over there. As we reach our final objective, and are going over the top of the last enemy defence, let our slogan for Victory Loan, still be "Keeping the Faith."

Fire your gun this week with a time fuse by investing your earnings in Victory Bonds on the instalment plan, and receive 5 1/2 per cent. from a generous Government for doing your bit.

Dirty German Trick Started War—Tunton Victories Dishonest

KAISER FILM HERO

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Oct. 28.—A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company quotes Maximilian Harden, the editor of The Die Zukunft of Berlin, as saying in an interview with The Berlinische Titende of Copenhagen.

"We started the war with a dirty trick and all our subsequent victories have been results of dishonesty. Wilhelm II. is a film hero and Germany a vulgar cinematograph show. We sit to-day on the ruins of thirty years of Hohenzollern palaces."

Children Ory FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

There's a Double Economy in Wearing RUBBERS

OF course, rubbers save your shoes—save the valuable leather, and make shoes wear longer. That's the economy you can recognize and appreciate.

But—there's another saving when rubbers bring you and the children safely through the wet fall and severe Winter without even a cold—when you don't have to lose a day from work or spend a cent for medicine.

Isn't that the greater economy? To guard your health—prevent you from being ill—protect the children—save your money.

Look to your rubbers—see that toes and heels are sound and free of cracks—if not, get each pair of shoes fitted with its own size and shape of rubbers. Do the same for the children. Then you'll get long wear and comfort.

Do it now—and be prepared for bad weather.

There's a style and shape for every shoe,—for men, women and children—in these six Dominion Rubber System brands, carried by the leading shoe stores:—

"Jacques Cartier" "Granby"
"Merchants" "Dominion"
"Maple Leaf" "Daisy"

These marks on Rubber Footwear distinguish a Dominion Rubber System Product.

Ask for these brands—they give the best wear.

PROCLAMATION!

- Public must refrain from visiting homes in which there is influenza. This does not apply to giving assistance, such as nursing.
- All Funerals must be Private.
- Street Cars must have at least every other window on one side of the car open. Cars must be thoroughly disinfected at night.
- All Employers must request that persons in their employ suffering from influenza or any symptom of it must stay at home until fully recovered.
- All houses and other buildings should be thoroughly ventilated by the opening of doors and windows for a certain time each day. When doing this, see that the patients are well covered.
- And that the Provisions of Clause No. 1 of By-Law 773, of the City of Brantford, must be strictly adhered to:

"No Person shall spit on the sidewalk or pavement in the City of Brantford, or in any passageway, stairway or entrance to any building used by the public, or in any room, hall, building or place to which the public resort, within the limits of the City of Brantford, or in any street car or public conveyance within the said limits."
- All stores and public buildings must be fumigated daily. Creosote, sulphur, camphor balls, or any disinfectant recommended by the druggists may be used. Private houses are advised not to use carbolic, because of the danger to children and inexperienced persons. Private homes, however, should be disinfected by simple methods as indicated above.
- The Board of Health advise the people against the use of Patent Medicines and "scare-crow" advertising at the present time, and to, in all cases, consult a duly qualified physician.
- The following hours shall be effective until further notice in the various business places of the city:

"Gents Furnishers, Shoe Stores, Hardware and all other stores dealing in general commodities shall open at 9.30 a.m., and close at their usual time."
"Grocers, Butchers, Fruit Stores and Confectioners shall open at 8.00 a.m. and close at their usual time."

CHAPTER LIX
Happy Days Follow the Dinner in the Village

"You must take me to some more of those quaint eating places, Brian," Ruth said on the way home. "They are very entertaining. I like meeting the people I know, like seeing them, that they wouldn't be smart enough for you."

"Oh, but Brian you must let me decide. Ask me when you want to go and if I don't care to go along I'll tell you, but give me the chance to refuse."

"They both knew she had her lunch on with Mollie King, of the day before in mind; although it had not again been mentioned.

"Ah, right, Ruth. I like meeting the people I know, like seeing them, that they wouldn't be smart enough for you."

"So a sort of flag of truce was fixed up. Neither mentioned anything disagreeable again. Yet both were thinking of the same thing, both wondering, in a way, how they were going to get along without constant friction.

Ruth had no intention of giving up her position. Brian had no intention of spending his time alone. He would cut out the lunches when Ruth was at home, that was only fair when she had been so decent. But when she left him, he would do as she pleased—and she had no kick coming. This was the way his cogitations ended.

"What's this?" he asked, picking up the rent receipt.

"I had to go to the office this noon, and as I had the money, I ran in and paid it. I thought it would save an extra trip," she answered as unconcernedly as she could.

Brian made no remark.

"Your patients are so slow in paying what they owe you, I will pay the house bill until you get your money in. What little they do give you, we need to sport with. I expect it is so with all professional men—that they have hard times collecting their bills. I know it is with doctors," she was talking to gain time, to take his mind from her offer to pay the bills.

"Old Doctor Graham used to say that 'people expected a doctor to act promptly, and to give them nothing else.'"

"People are slow in paying professional men," Brian responded. "Yet I haven't so much out," he added honestly.

Ruth had come to realize this trait and try in every way to combat the indifference or growth that made him so different from what he could be when he chose. She saw clearly that his ability to charm, to interest, would be a big factor in his success professionally if he did not so easily allow himself to be switched off by his feelings. She talked to him of this, not in a fault-finding way, but emphasizing the good points while speaking of the others simply as something he did unconsciously.

"Why, Brian," she said as they sat in the little living room after dinner. "I believe you could be one of the biggest lawyers in New York if you weren't so temperamental; or if you would learn to use only that part of your temperament that appeals so strongly to people. When you first meet people they are drawn to you very quickly. But you are such a boy! If they don't do just as you desire, they should, you show it so plainly. You must learn to hide it when you are not pleased."

"I'll get there some day and without playing the hypocrite, too!"

"I don't want you to be hypocritical, Brian. I only want you to show your best side. Keep the other under cover. It will pay."

there were so many things she had to consider.

No man could be more charming than could Brian when he bestowed himself; few more interesting. He had an unerring taste in the subject to choose for conversation, fitting it like a glove to his audience. Yet, with that unusual asset he could be just exactly the opposite when either too indolent, or too upset because of some foolish happening, to make any effort.

345 LIVES LOST ON C.P.R. STEAMER

Princess Sophia Hammered to Pieces on Rocks in Pacific Ocean ARE NO SURVIVORS

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 27.—Pounded by mountainous waves and driven before wind of terrible severity, the C.P.R. steamer Princess Sophia, slid from the comparative safety of Vanderbilt Reef, in Lynn Canal, midway between Skagway and Juneau, early Friday evening and carried 345 persons, passengers and crew, woman and children, to death in the raging northern waters. There were no survivors on the ship.

The Sophia left Skagway Wednesday evening last for Vancouver with a passenger list made up largely of Dawson people and Alaskans, from interior points eager to get "outside" for the winter. Four hours out she ran into a blinding snow storm, in which, it is supposed, she got out of her course slightly and piled up on the reef, where she rested for more than 40 hours in what was thought to be a position of no danger. Light-house tenders and gas boats responded to the wireless call for assistance, and the Princess Alice was despatched from Vancouver to take over the passengers. Even though the seas were running too high to permit of the transference of the passengers on board on Friday, no alarm was felt. Capt. F. L. Locken, of Victoria, a veteran seaman of the northern coast, on the night of the disaster had wireless his office here that the ship was hard and fast on the reef, with her bottom badly damaged, but she was not taking water and the passengers were normal. It is evident that he believed the Sophia was planted so firmly on the rocks as to be secure from any severity of the storm which continued to rage.

Got Within 400 Yards.

Friday morning the United States light-house tender Cedar had got within 400 yards of the Sophia, but her anchors wouldn't hold on the rocky sea bottom, and the seas forced her back.

The waves were such that Hiebood, who had been on the Sophia when she was last seen, was still on the reef. The wind increased and the air was filled with snow. At 8 o'clock the Cedar picked up the last survivors from the Sophia. The Sophia was sinking, she had been driven across the reef into deep water, in which her shattered bottom offered no support, and she filled quickly and went down. The Cedar rushed to the bottom, but could see nothing of the Sophia.

When morning broke, her forecast was visible above the water. There was no sign of life, no wreckage and the bodies had scattered if they had not gone down with the ship.

It was not until late Saturday afternoon that word of the disaster came out. Unconfirmed reports carried up and down the coast earlier in the day that the Sophia had gone down, and these were finally confirmed by a wireless message from Juneau. Details have come through slowly.

Some Bodies Recovered.

The body of one woman was picked up, with four overturned boats, in Lincoln Island Sunday morning. Reports to Canadian Pacific Railway officials in Victoria to-day announce the recovery of nine more bodies, eight of them women, and all so far unidentified. Four of the bodies were on one of the Sophia's collapsible rafts. The message added that there was no sign of life and no hope of any survivors.

Vanderbilt Reef, it is pointed out, is three and one-half miles from the nearest point where boats would drift ashore, and it was impossible that any lifeboats or passengers with lifebelts could have survived for such a distance in the huge seas which prevailed Friday night. The search for bodies is being maintained.

The passenger list was cabled from Skagway Saturday night, and shows that 235 passengers sailed on the Sophia, of whom 230 were men, 37 women and 18 children. The crew comprised 61 persons, including one woman, Miss H. Browning, of Vancouver, a stewardess. According to these figures there were 345 persons aboard, 240 men, 38 women and 18 children. The passenger list gave the names only, and it was impossible to identify all of them.

Dirty German Trick Started War—Tעותon Victories Dishonest

KAISER FILM HERO

By Courier Leased Wire
 London, Oct. 28.—A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company quotes Maximilian Harden, the editor of The Die Zukunft at Berlin, as saying in an interview with The Berlinische Tidende of Copenhagen.

"We started the war with a dirty trick and all our subsequent victories have been the results of dishonesty. William II. is a film hero and Germany a vulgar cinematograph show. We sit to-day on the ruins of thirty years of Hohenzollern politics."

THE SITUATION

Added to other successful activities, the Allies are now making an advance on the Italian front, and the river Piave has been crossed despite strong resistance from the foe. In connection with this operation, British troops took one of the river islands, holding it despite fierce counter attacks.

Gen. Allenby reports the capture by cavalry and armored cars, of Aleppo, a famous city in northern Syria, and capital of a Turkish viceroy of the same name. The movement also cuts the Baghdad railway at an important point, and the whole operation will serve to still further accelerate the unconditional surrender of the Moslems.

The French have scored a victory of the first class between the Oise and Serre rivers, capturing strong positions and holding them despite heavy counter attacks.

British forces have been putting up a strong fight in the neighborhood of Valenciennes, and indications at this writing are that the Germans have withdrawn from the city. It was the chief stronghold of their second line, and the retreat of the foe to the Meuse is now regarded as a certainty.

Ludendorff has resigned, and his withdrawal has been accepted by the Kaiser. Whether forced by the latter or a voluntary act, doesn't matter. The main fact remains that a man is out who has been generally regarded as the brains of the German army. London thinks that his resignation is significant, and rumors are again rife that the Emperor will himself soon abdicate, but there does not seem to be any warrant for this belief. In answer to Wilson's latest note, the announcement comes from Berlin that the government now awaits proposals from the Allies for an armistice as the first step towards a "just peace." They evidently do not yet realize that their submission must first be chronicled.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

In Toronto on Sunday the new Victory Loan was launched by a great meeting in Queen's Park when many thousands assembled to hear speeches by Sir Robert Borden, Sir Thomas White, Sir William Hearst, Hon. Mr. Rowell and Hon. Mr. McGarry, Provincial Treasurer.

The Premier made a most inspiring speech, during which he dwelt with pardonable pride upon the effort and the achievement of Canada in connection with the great struggle. That spirit and high purpose were never more marked than at the present moment, after four years of sacrifice and dedication to a great cause with the khaki clad men of the Dominion "in as high spirit and impressed with as stern a determination as ever they were at any moment since the war began." The position of the Allies within the last four months had recorded an almost marvelous improvement. As late as June 8th last when he had landed in England the question had arisen as to whether in case of further need the Channel ports or Paris might have to be temporarily given up. That crisis had been happily passed and the world now knew that only a matter of greater or lesser time. For himself Germany's peace notes had no interest except as an evidence that she was getting in sore straits, and the only proper answer was "more shells, more bombs and more tanks" until the receipt of the one message which would have to come "unconditional surrender." The war could not reach Canada, but her boys were over there helping to follow the sullenly retiring foe. Canadians at home amid their abundant prosperity were not asked to give towards the new loan, but to lend on splendid terms and with the security of the entire country behind the investment.

"And so I say to you with all the sense of responsibility that is upon me and with a full realization of the importance of the words that I utter, that Canada's effort in this war from now till the end does depend upon the success of this loan; men talk of peace, I pray God that peace may come, and that quickly, but not till Germany has learned her lesson. (Cheers.) So I ask you to look at your duty in this regard from this viewpoint, that every man and woman, every boy and girl, who fails to do his or her part in making the nation's effort a complete success, must be regarded as having fallen out of the ranks of good citizenship. And I beg of you to join whole-heartedly in the national effort and to realize that in placing the resources of the nation at the disposal of the Government for this purpose you are rendering the greatest and most important service Canada has ever called upon you to do. "Canada never has faltered from first to last in any effort that was necessary to win this war, and I am abundantly and supremely confident that in this last and final effort you will not fail. Let the spirit of the people, like the spirit of our army, be maintained to the end as it was at the beginning. (Applause.)

Sir Thomas White, the Finance Minister, emphasized the fact that it was most fitting that the Victory Loan campaign for Ontario should be inaugurated with devotional exercises, for the Allied cause was one on behalf of the principles and the ideals of Christianity, a fight of the right against the wrong. At the end of four terrible years, the tide of victory had definitely turned, but this was no time to slacken. If Turkey and Austria-Hungary collapsed, internal revolution might overthrow the Kaiser and his military party, but the foe was still formidable, and although the ultimate issue was not in doubt, the final submission of the enemy might yet be a long way off. Money was an absolute necessity, and he felt sure that on this occasion the response would be just as generous as in the past. Every patriotic citizen should subscribe to the utmost of his or her means, remembering that in so doing, they were assisting to bring the struggle to an end and ensuring the return of Canada's brave soldiers to their homes and families.

Premier Hearst, in his remarks, pointed out that Ontario had led all of Canada, contributing half the men and half the money, and Hon. Mr. McGarry called attention to the fact that the bonds were not only a gilt-edged investment now, but would be worth still more after the struggle had ended.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The drive is on; see that you do your share.

The boys at the front are doing their full duty, and it is up to each one of us to help them by subscribing as much as possible to the Victory Loan.

The influenza epidemic in this city is commencing to halt in response to systematic and organized effort. If the citizens keep up the good work and co-operate in every possible way, the menace will soon be reduced to a minimum.

The All Highest who started out to impose his one man power upon all the world is now willing to have some of his mightiness taken from him in an effort to hang onto his job.

Buffalo Express:—"Germany is facing a financial disaster such as the world has never known. In all these years of the war, Germany has been out of touch with the world. She has had nothing by which to measure her credit; nothing but the promises of a ruler, and his clique who proclaim themselves to be possessed of divine authority. This ruler and his clique are to be destroyed. For years after this monster is destroyed the German people will be paying for the work of the creature in Belgium and France. For years there will be little left with which to pay the German war debt to the German people. The world does not intend to destroy the German people; that is farthest from its thoughts. But it intends to make them pay for the sorrow and misery they have brought upon devastated Belgium and France; it intends to make them restore the homes and the factories and the cities.

MUNICIPALITY WILL BUY BONDS

Finance Committee Authorized to Invest All Available Funds in Loan

Authority to invest whatever civic funds are available, in Victory Bonds, was conferred upon the Finance Committee of the City Council at the meeting of the latter body Saturday afternoon. It is seldom that the Council has seen with such unanimity on any subject as it did upon that of the municipality's subscription to the Loan. The Finance Committee will confer with the city treasurer and take whatever share of the Loan is deemed advisable.

"This loan is the most important we ever floated," declared the Mayor. "We are in great danger to-day; the Hun to-day, I believe, is playing the slickest game of his career, and we must avoid anything that looks like wavering. I have not always supported the present Government, but I am behind them to the hilt in this thing."

Ald. Harp felt that the amount to be invested should be determined on the advice of the city treasurer. "Let us invest every dollar we can," urged Ald. Simpson.

A Perplexed Mother—Mrs. J. R. J.: You did well to invest the assigned pay of your three sons at the war in the last Victory Loan, and it will be equally wise to invest the balance of the money in the Victory Loan now being launched. It will be patriotic as well as a safe and profitable investment. You are to be congratulated in having three sons fighting for the great and good cause, and in being able and willing to make your own living, and thus invest all the assigned pay of your noble sons for their benefit. Have the bonds made payable to "bearer" so that they will be available for the use of your boys like so much money without any legal formalities. If your present work is not sufficiently remunerative, I could perhaps help you to work that would be Constant Progress—The president of a joint stock company doing a successful business, writes me about manufacturing a new line of goods. There was a time when a man's needs were few. A loin covering of fig leaves formed his clothing, and his only food consisted of what the earth produced by itself. It is a far cry from that time to the present. Our multifarious needs have been created by our wants and these have been formed by what we call civilization. Tens of thousands spend their time in inventing, planning, designing and manufacturing new things or in rearranging old things to give the public increased pleasure or profit. If you keep up your extensive line of advertising without limit you can profitably dispose of all useful things you can manufacture.

The Sin of Gambling—"A Mother" writes me, "My son has become an expert gambler and I am broken-hearted, can you help me?" One thing you must not do is to call him hard names, or to denounce him in any way. If you can charm with him more than you ever have before, get him to take you out for a drive or take you to a concert or go for a walk or get him to play simple home games with you that will perhaps put him into a frame of mind so you could lovingly advise him to give up gambling. Make him see this danger and how he is breaking your heart.

Local News

NO MEETING TO-NIGHT.

On account of Saturday's meeting of the City Council, which takes the place of the regular session, there will be no meeting to-night.

LANDSDOWNE PARK.

Favorable reports are coming daily as to the progress being made at Lansdowne Park. Already a large number of the houses are nearing completion.

NEED LICENSE.

Boarding house keepers are reminded that they must get a license from the Canada Food Board if they serve fifteen meals a day outside their families. It is illegal not to get the license, and the penalties may be heavy.

ALL SAINTS' DAY.

Friday of this week, November 1, is All Saints' Day, which is celebrated as a holy day in the Catholic and Anglican churches. It has been customary on this day to hold a memorial service for Brant County's dead soldiers, but unless the Board of Health's ban is lifted, it will be necessary to forego the custom this year.

REPORT ON RAILWAY.

The city engineer has prepared a report on the condition of the road-bed of the Brantford and Paris line of the municipal railway. This will be considered by the City Council at its next meeting, together with a report from an electrical engineer on the equipment of the company. These investigations were ordered by the Council several months ago, when the Street Railway Commission asked for the sum of $8,000 to purchase new cars.

RETURNS TO DUTY.

Reg. Beatty, of the local post office staff, who has been suffering from Spanish influenza during the past week, has fully recovered, and this morning returned to duty.

SERVICE OF PRAYER.

Yesterday the members of the local clergy met in the Y. M. C. A. to hold a service of prayer and intercession. Several of the clergymen of the city are ill at the present time.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN.

In connection with an accident that occurred on Lorne bridge on July 27th, in which Mrs. Andrews was injured by being struck by an automobile, it has been decided that action will be taken against the motorist, who got away at the time.

AT THE FIRE HALL.

The situation at the central fire hall is to-day somewhat improved. This morning, Reg. Calbeck returned to duty after his illness, and Fireman Green returned after his holidays. Fireman Atkins is leaving on his annual vacation.

RED TRIANGLE

The earn and give subscriptions for the Red Triangle are, at present, according to Secretary A. W. Geddes, not all paid in full. The campaign closed on October 1st, and the secretary wishes that all subscriptions be cleared up by the first of November. The general success of the campaign shows that in almost all cities it was undersubscribed, while in the rural districts the very opposite prevailed.

SUPPLIES NEEDED

The Social Service League announces that on account of the epidemic, there has arisen a need of relief amongst a number of families of the city. The league could use to advantage at present a quantity of second-hand clothing and bedding, underwear and other things suitable for children would be particularly acceptable. Anyone having such things to spare would confer a favor by sending them to 42 Colborne St.

PASTOR GOES WEST.

The Rev. David Alexander, acting pastor of First Baptist Church, has received a call to Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, and has agreed to fill the pulpit for six months before finally accepting. He will leave Brantford the end of November, his family remaining here for the winter. Rev. Mr. Alexander was for two years pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, and took charge at First Baptist some two months ago.

EVENING CLASSES

Those desiring to take evening classes at the Collegiate Institute this year will register with Mr. Overholt, the Principal, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings this week, between 7 and 9 o'clock. Classes in shop, mathematics and mechanical drawing, machine design, woodwork, automobile engine, arithmetic and English, dressmaking, millinery, shorthand and typewriting, electricity, domestic science, home nursing and art design. Additional classes in sheet metal work, and architectural drawing, if enough enroll. Register at once.

BACK FROM FRONT.

Major (By) Christie, D.S.O. of the 67th British Columbia Regiment (Scottish) was the week-end guest of Mr. J. Y. Morton, 75 Dufferin avenue. He is on his way to his home in Victoria, after nearly three years service in France. Major Christie has a unique war record, having served with distinction through the Northwest rebellion in 1885, and also throughout the Boer war in which he won his Distinguished Service Decoration. He was at one time a resident of Brantford and has many old friends here who were glad to see him in such fine health after his arduous experiences.

VOTERS' LIST.

On Wednesday of this week the voters' list for the city will be hung up in the office of the city clerk for examination by the public before being revised.

COAL GOING OUT.

A large number of orders have been issued for coal from the special reserve supply in the city yards which is given out only where there is sickness in the home.

POWER OFF.

The street and house Hydro lights were off last night for a considerable length of time. The cause of this is not known.

FOUNDATIONS LAID.

The foundation for the new addition to the Nurses Home, which is being built north of the present building, is now completed. The brick for the walls is on hand and that work will be proceeded with at once.

LOCAL CASUALTIES.

In the official casualty list to-day Pte. E. Bennett, of the city, is reported mentally ill. Pte. D. Polster and Pte. J. Daniels, of the Medical Services, are wounded. Pte. W. W. Spruce is also reported wounded.

GOLF NOTES.

In the finals for the Brantford GOLF Club championship Mr. I. Champion beat Mr. E. G. Gould by a fair margin. Splendid golf was put up. Mr. Champion playing 46 and a 36 and Mr. Gould two 42's. This well deserved victory entitles Mr. Champion to have his name engraved on the club's championship shield and to receive a trophy presented by the president, W. H. Webling.

LAI'D AT REST

THE REMAINS of the late Percy Ashton Marsh, seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marsh, were tenderly laid to rest from the home of his parents to Mount Hope Cemetery. The services were conducted at the house and grave by Rev. H. E. Light. The pall bearers were Messrs. M. Spatt, E. Preston, G. W. White, W. Johns, W. McCook, and E. Norton. The floral tributes were bountiful. Besides his sorrowing father and mother, he leaves six brothers and four sisters to mourn his loss.

At Peterboro Fall Astaire Juglers Latchford sentenced Nicholas Thelrodine to five years' imprisonment. The accused was convicted of stabbing another Italian following a gambling game.

PERSONAL

Rev. Father Catania of St. Basil's Church has recovered from a severe attack of influenza.

Mr. T. J. Barton, Hamilton Road is quite ill. His condition yesterday, however, was favorable.

Mr. Geo. Broomfield, city plumbing inspector, has recovered from his recent illness and is around again.

Miss Myrtle Selridge, of the staff of the local Y. M. C. A., is in a critical condition following a nervous breakdown some days ago.

Gunner Harley Davidson of the Garrison Artillery, Halifax, who is on leave at his home here, has recovered from an attack of influenza.

Friends of Mr. Clarence Buller will be pleased to learn that his condition showed a slight improvement to-day.

Mr. Thomas Wood, assessor of Brantford Township, was seized with a seizure on Saturday night, and to-day is reported as being in a critical condition.

Mr. Russell Sweet, youngest son of Major Sweet, now overseas, is suffering from pneumonia, following Spanish influenza. He had been serving as an orderly in the Emergency Hospital. His sister, Miss Edith Sweet, of St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, arrived in the city on Sunday to help nurse him and his condition to-day is critical.

TOWNSHIP BANS MEETINGS

The situation in the Township of Brantford has become grave during the past few days. It is estimated that there are at present in that municipality over one thousand cases many of which are very serious. Deaths have so far been very few but the number of cases has caused alarm and every means is being taken to fight the epidemic. Saturday afternoon the Township Board of Health met in the Court House to discuss the situation, and it was decided to place under ban all meetings or auction sales. The ban had not been considered very serious in the township for some time but it has apparently spread out from the city. At the meeting a resolution of sympathy was passed, to be forwarded to Mr. Hargreaves, Chairman of the Board, in his recent bereavement.

TROUBLE IN BUDAPEST

By Courier Leased Wire Paris, Oct. 28.—Grave trouble have broken out at Budapest as the result of the appointment of Count Julius Andrássy, who is suspected of Germanophile tendencies, to be Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, says a Zurich dispatch to The Matin. A committee of workmen and soldiers has been formed to represent the extremist party in impending events.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PERIOD ENDED

Clocks Were Put Back in Canada And U. S. on Saturday Night

Brantford clocks, in common with those throughout the whole of Canada and the United States, are running on standard time again to-day, after six months of daylight saving. Saturday night in most cases, Sunday morning in others, the clocks were put back an hour, and citizens regained the sixty golden minutes they had lost last April, when the "summer time" came into effect. As a result, daylight came an hour earlier Sunday morning than it has been in the habit of coming the last few weeks, and dusk was also an hour in advance of its schedule in the evening, which recalls the story of the Irishman about to emigrate to Australia. He was told that it was night in Australia when it was day in Ireland, and vice versa. "Bogorrah," he observed, "and 'twill take me quite a while to get used to the change, Oi suppose."

NATIONAL FISH DAY THURSDAY

All Canadians Asked to Help Release Meat for Our Overseas Forces

October 31st should be a new fete day in the Canadian calendar. Three years ago the Canadian Fisheries Association decided to start a National Fish Day and they chose the last day in October. The idea is to make known, not so much in a commercial way as a matter of national ambition, the enormous food wealth of our Canadian seas and lakes. The annual value of our fish at present is $52,000,000 a year, which is equal to about one-eighth of a dollar a week per head. There is room for growth. Were everybody to eat fish instead of meat on that day it would popularize fish and release 3,000,000 pounds of meat for export to the Allies. There are a dozen classes of good fish in season on that date, and dealers should be asked to obtain them early.

LONDON OPINION BORDEN'S APPEAL

initiation of proposals for an armistice. It is for the Germans to approach the naval and military commanders with their formal petition for a cessation of war.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The German reply to President Wilson's note, asserting that the negotiations for peace are being conducted by a people's government with constitutional power, and that the terms of the American and Allied governments for an armistice are awaited, reached the Swiss legation to-day by cable. This communication is regarded here as merely an acknowledgement of the President's communication, with an indication of the anxious desire of those in power at Berlin to hasten the coming of a definite statement of the terms upon which their enemies will permit hostilities to cease.

The President is expected to make no rejoinder. His personal exchanges with the German authorities, officials said to-day, ended when he transmitted the correspondence to the Allies. The next step must be on the part of the co-belligerents, acting in concert.

Austria Ready for Peace
Amsterdam, Oct. 26.—Austria in her reply to President Wilson, accepts all the views expressed by the President in his note of October 13. Austria says she is willing and ready without awaiting the result of negotiations, to negotiate a peace and an immediate armistice on all Austro-Hungarian fronts.

Why Lady Quill
London, Oct. 28.—General Ludendorff resigned as first quartermaster-general because the military authorities were placed under civilian control. The retiring general, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen adds, has returned to great headquarters to take leave of the army and Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who remains as chief of the army.

Another Version
Washington, Oct. 28.—Press dispatches to the Hague transmitted to the State department to-day, say General Ludendorff resigned his post as first quartermaster-general and real leader of the German army, as the result of a complete disagreement with Prince Maximilian, the chancellor. There was no possibility of a reconciliation, according to these advices, and the emperor was compelled to accept Ludendorff's resignation.

GERMAN SUICIDES.
By Cottrier Lenses Wire
Montreal, Oct. 28.—Shooting himself in the head with a revolver, a naturalized German, Otto Oliver Hoffman of Toronto, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital from the Grand Trunk station here last night and died in the hospital a short time later.

CLERGYMEN SHOW SILVER LINING TO PRESENT CLOUD

Messages of Cheer Delivered to the City Council on Saturday

"How good and loving it is to live together as brothers, has been demonstrated during the past few weeks as perhaps never before."—Rev. Dean Brady.

"When we think of the good that has come out of the present affliction, let us thank God and take courage."—Rev. C. E. Jenkins.

The above messages of cheer and encouragement in the present crisis, were delivered to the city council on Saturday afternoon by representative clergymen of the city who were present at the request of the mayor for that express purpose.

MAYOR MACBRIDE Mayor MacBride, in introducing the speakers, said:

"At this time it seems fitting and proper that a few words of an official nature might be said on the principles of citizenship, and our duty each to the other.

"During the past week or two, our city has been visited by an epidemic which has left sorrow in many homes. The angel of death has visited the rich and poor alike. Many of our most active citizens have been stricken, some have passed to the Great Beyond, and others have come back to us from the very brink of death. We would, indeed, be a decadent race did we not learn a lasting lesson from this visitation. The lesson, in my opinion, that should come to all of us, is the great lesson of 'good will towards men.' Good will is a sentiment proceeding from the heart, and warm enough to generate that sympathy we need so badly in a new country like Canada, where people of varying nationality, religion and custom, have congregated to build a new nation. The principle of 'good will towards men' ingrained into our citizenship, would be conducive to good understanding and sympathy. By its application, quarrels that seem to have the character of eternity are settled in no time, barriers of insuperable appearance, between groups of men, are thrown down, and facts that have been grossly distorted are brought back to their proper shape.

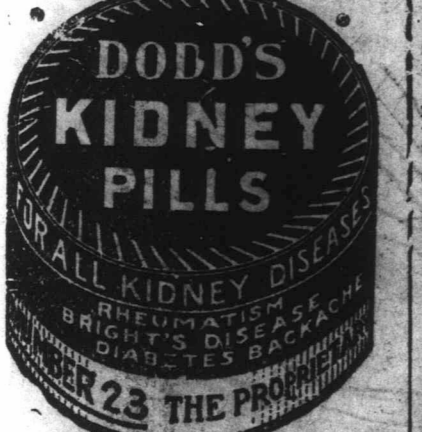

I have asked the Rev. Dean Brady and the Rev. Capt. Jenkins to say a few words of cheer and comfort to our citizens from the council chamber on this occasion. I know we all regret the necessity which has forced our Board of Health to close all public buildings, and I sincerely trust it will soon be possible for our people to again attend worship in their respective churches.

We are sincerely thankful that the epidemic shows signs of abatement, and we pray that our city will soon be free from this visitation. Those of us in a position to observe have been inspired and uplifted by the spirit of self-sacrifice shown by many citizens. No man should ask to look upon a nobler example than that given to us by our volunteer nurses,—dainty, refined womanhood, steadily performing mental tasks in the greatest of all good works, 'the succoring of the afflicted.'

May Brantford learn the great lesson, and may we all have a higher appreciation of our duty and privilege as citizens.

Rev. Dean Brady.

"Words cannot speak so loudly as deeds," declared Rev. Dean Brady.

"and into the space of the past few weeks you have crowded many noble deeds. He went on to give praise to the Mayor for his work during the emergency, and to the Council for their assistance. Yet where, to-day, was the citizen who had not come out and done his best? It was hard, to close the churches at such a time, when the necessity for prayer was impressed upon us more forcibly than ever before, but the sacrifice in itself would be looked upon as an act of prayer. Brantford had been more afflicted than most other cities, but all had worked alike to alleviate pain and to help the dying. Those who had not been afflicted should return thanks to God that they had been spared. "Brantford to-day," continued the speaker, "is a city full of Christian charity. How good and loving it is to live together as brothers, has been demonstrated during the past few weeks as perhaps never before."

Rev. C. E. Jenkins. "I consider it an unutterable privilege," declared Capt. the Rev. C. E. Jenkins, "to be able to do something in this emergency, to help ably suffering and soothe the pillows of the afflicted. He felt that the Council and the Board of Health deserved the utmost commendation for their handling of the situation, which could scarcely have been better even with the experience they had now gained. Criticism at such a time was easy, but was generally founded on lack of knowledge and of information. The tabernacle building had proven itself a Godsend as an emergency hospital.

Special credit was given by the speaker to the nurses who had done wonders in the way of service. They had met unpleasant conditions, unsanitary conditions, with heroism. There are heroes and heroines at home, as well as on the firing line," declared Capt. Jenkins. The future rested in the hands of God, but we might apply the infliction, not as a punishment but as a discipline, from which great good might result. All had been drawn closer together during the past few weeks, and a better understanding had arisen. "He who does all things well, He is righteous in all His ways and holy in all His work," quoted the speaker. "When we think of the good done, we should thank God and take courage."

The clergymen withdrew from the Council Chamber after the Mayor had thanked them for their presence.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they get slugging with uric acid. Urine is cloudy and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get four ounces of Rad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will get the acids of uric acid and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, thus no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Rad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes uric acid, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot be successfully treated in any other way. External applications for their removal have proven almost useless, because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clear and healthy. This great blood remedy has stood the test of forty years. Insist on having Hood's for nothing else acts like it. There is no real substitute. Get it today. Sold by all druggists.

BERLIN ASKS ALLIED TERMS FOR ARMISTICE

Ludendorff Resigns Command of Army, and Demoralization Sets in; Kaiser Reported to be on Point of Abdication, if He Has Not Already Quit the Throne

Copenhagen, Oct. 27.—Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication has taken cognizance of the answer of the President of the United States. "The German Government has taken cognizance of the answer of the President of the United States. It has been carried out, and are being carried out, in the German constitutional structure, and that peace negotiations are being conducted by a people's Government in whose hands rests, both actually and constitutionally, the power to make the deciding conclusions. "The military powers are subject to it. "The German Government now awaits proposals for an armistice, which shall be the first step toward a just peace, as the President has described it in his proclamation.

(Special) "SOLE" AUSTRIA'S ANSWER EN ROUTE. Basel, Switzerland, Oct. 27.—Austria's rejoinder to President Wilson's note is ready, according to Vienna papers. It was submitted to authorized quarters to-day, and will be sent this evening or tomorrow to Washington. It is couched in the most conciliatory terms.

ALLIED WAR COUNCIL TO MEET. London, Oct. 27.—It is understood in authoritative quarters that the Allied Governments will not reveal their armistice terms until Germany has replied to President Wilson's last note.

LUDENDORFF QUIT. London, Oct. 27.—Gen. Ludendorff, First Quartermaster-General of the German army, has resigned, says a telegram from Berlin. The resignation was caused in Berlin on Saturday afternoon by the fact that the daily report from German headquarters was not signed, as usual, with the name of Gen. Ludendorff. Later the following official announcement was issued:

"The Emperor, accepting the request to be allowed to retire of Imperial General Ludendorff, the First Quartermaster-General and commander in time of peace of the 25th Infantry Division, has placed him on the unattached list. The Emperor decided at the same time that the 1st Bavarian Infantry Regiment No. 39, of which the General has long been chief, shall bear henceforth the name of Ludendorff. "Expect Germany to Accept. "The resignation of Gen. Ludendorff is popularly interpreted here as heralding Germany's acceptance of the allied armistice terms. Whether this interpretation is correct, the resignation of the first quartermaster-general cannot fail to seriously affect the morale of the German army. Rumors have been current for some time past of a disagreement between Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, and that von Hindenburg had approved of the peace negotiations. Unofficial advice says that the greatest sensation was caused in Berlin on Saturday when it was observed that Ludendorff's name at the bottom of the communique had been replaced by that of the chief of staff of the army in the field. According to the same reports the situation in Germany is daily growing worse. There are persistent reports of riots in various parts of the country, conflicts with the police and loss of life, and lack of raw materials.

FRED UNGER TO BE RE-APPOINTED CITY OVERSEER

Will Return to Works Department at Salary of $2,000 Per Annum LEAVES CIVIC FARM

Fred Unger, former superintendent of streets and sewers, who resigned a month ago to take charge of wood-cutting operations on the civic farm at Harley, is to return to his position on the works department. A by-law re-appointing him to his former position of city overseer, at a salary of $2,000 per annum, was introduced at Saturday's meeting of the city council, but was laid over until the next meeting for final ratification. Mayor MacBride expressed objection to Mr. Unger's being placed in charge of both the streets and sewers, declaring that the responsibilities attached were more than could be borne by one man.

Mr. Unger's contract for cutting wood was cancelled by the council, and one was closed whereby Rush Brothers of Harley, undertakes to cut 150,000 feet of lumber on the civic farm, and to purchase the same at $18.00 a thousand feet. Mr. George Unger, brother of the former overseer, was awarded the contract for cutting the remainder of the wood at a rate of $1.80 a cord.

The by-law re-appointing Mr. Unger was introduced by A.M. Milten, in the absence of Ald. English, chairman of the board of works. Mayor MacBride asked that it be laid over as a matter of courtesy until Ald. English could be present. Ald. Milten replied that he was acting at the request of the chairman. The Mayor also expressed his opinion that a by-law was unnecessary for such an action, and that the city engineer, as absolute head of the works department, should have power to employ such help as he needed. The by-law was given two readings, however, and it was not until Ald. Briggs, who complained of being kept waiting for five or six minutes to six, breathing the gong, that the matter was laid over. Even then, although the council adjourned, the aldermen remained in debate for ten or fifteen minutes, not the first time that such a condition has existed, and not likely to be the last. The council was called to meet at two-thirty, but it was three-fifteen before a quorum was assembled. According to the constitution of the municipality, the council stands automatically adjourned if a quorum be not present within half an hour of the time for which the meeting is called. But, of course, such a thing is a mere bagatelle to the august city fathers.

BUY PARIS ROAD, AND ABOLISH TOLLS ON COCKSHUTT HIGHWAY

City Council Agrees To Pay $1,000.00, One Quarter of Price, For Former Road; Arbitration Tribunal On The Other Highway

The city council on Saturday afternoon agreed to pay the sum of $1000 toward the purchase of the Paris road, and also took the first step toward acquiring the Cockshutt road by instructing the city solicitor to secure an arbitration tribunal for a hearing on the question of abolishing tolls on that highway. The council's action followed the hearing of a delegation of county councillors, who laid the county's case before the board. The county council had for the present abandoned the project of buying the Cockshutt road, but had obtained an option on the Paris road at the sum of $4000, just half the price formerly asked by the owners of the road.

Warden Pitts.
Warden Pitts, the first speaker of the delegation, explained that the proposal to buy the Cockshutt road had been dropped, but that the Paris road could be bought for $4000. He asked the city to contribute a share of that sum, giving assurance that Paris would do likewise.

A. Crichton.
A. Crichton of South Dumfries, stated that the county had been trying in the past to make two deals in one. He recounted negotiations which had been held with the owners of the Paris road, as a result of which the latter had agreed to accept $4000.00 as the purchase price.

J. A. Seace.
J. A. Seace of Brantford township declared himself as still favoring the purchase of the Cockshutt road. That project had been abandoned, however, and a rock bottom price had now been obtained on the Paris road. The toll roads committee had not been authorized to make any definite offer to the owner of the road, but if supported by the city and by Paris it could go back to the county council and be sure of the purchase.

Ald. Harp.
Ald. Harp inquired if the Paris road could not be confiscated if the present owners did not repair it. Mr. Seace replied that they could not be forced to abandon the road, and would not do so voluntarily unless the highway was beyond repair. It would be better for the city and county to acquire the road before further expenditure in the way of repairs became necessary.

City To Pay $1000.00.
Mayor MacBride inquired whether $4000.00 was an approximate price or an exact one. Mr. Seace replied that it was the latter.

Ald. Chalcraft.
Ald. Chalcraft, seconded by Ald. Mellen moved:
That this council support and cooperate with the county to purchase the Paris road at a price of $4000.00 the city's share to be in the neighborhood of $1000 or 25 per cent.

Ald. Harp.
Ald. Harp favored the purchase of the road, but feared that the maintenance question might yet prove an obstacle.

Ald. Bragg.
Ald. Bragg declared himself of the opinion that the road should be purchased by the government. He could not conscientiously vote for the purchase by the city or the county.

Ald. Mellen.
Ald. Mellen believed that the time for action had come, before further repairs were necessary.

Ald. Burrows.
Ald. Burrows wished to see the city's share set definitely at $1000.

Ald. Chalcraft.
Ald. Chalcraft expressed willingness to amend his resolution as Ald. Burrows had suggested. He believed that it had paid the city to wait until the present, but that further delay would be useless.

Mayor.
"There should be far less quibbling between the county and city," observed the Mayor. "We would get better results were it so."

Ald. Harp.
Ald. Harp inquired whether the motion committed the council to any share of the up-keep of the road. The Mayor replied in the negative.

The resolution carried.
The resolution carried, Ald. Bragg voting nay.

Arbitrate Cockshutt Road.
Mayor MacBride, seconded by Ald. Burrows, moved:

That the city solicitor be instructed to take the necessary steps to secure an arbitration tribunal for a hearing on the question of the abolition of tolls on the Cockshutt road.

Ald. Symons.
Ald. Symons feared that this resolution would result in the owners of the Paris road withdrawing their offer and demanding arbitration. In arbitration cases, he continued, municipalities generally suffered.

The owners of the Paris road.
"The owners of the Paris road don't want to arbitrate," declared the Mayor. He did not fear that the city would suffer through arbitration.

The resolution carried.
"I am glad to see this action," observed Mr. Seace, "as it proves that the city is vitally interested in this question."

CITY SUPPORTS HYDRO SYSTEM

Wants Action to Check the Attack of Private Interests on the Public Power

"That this Council views with great concern the attacks made on Sir Adam Beck and the Hydro-Electric system in Ontario, and that we not only send a strong delegation to the meeting next week, but that this Council write promptly to the mayors and Reeves of other Ontario municipalities in an effort to awaken the said municipalities to the danger threatening this great public utility."

The above resolution, moved by Mayor MacBride and seconded by Ald. Symons, was unanimously passed by the City Council at its session on Saturday afternoon. The Mayor and Ald. Chalcraft were appointed a delegation to attend the

This famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. convention of the Ontario Municipal and Electric Association in Toronto on Thursday of this week, in connection with Hydro-Electric development. Nearly all the aldermen present aligned themselves with the spirit of the resolution, declaring in favor of a vigorous policy of hydro extension and of opposition to the private interests working against the Hydro system.

Attempts to Discredit Hydro.
The Mayor referred to the attacks frequently made against Sir Adam Beck personally. These, he declared, an attempt to discredit the greatest public utility owned by the people of any province of any country in the world. A well organized corporation of private interests, headed by "the cleverest man in Canada, Sir Clifford Sifton," was making efforts to obtain control of the power system of Canada. Last winter Hydro had been saddled with heavy burdens of supplying power to munition plants. Every possible effort to discredit it had been made, and these would be repeated this winter.

Ald. Symons.
Ald. Symons, seconding the resolution, emphasized the advocacy of public ownership. The price of Hydro to-day was lower than before the war. If Hydro were discredited, it would be a great victory for the private interests, and would take millions of dollars out of the pockets of the public.

Ald. Chalcraft.
Ald. Chalcraft wanted to know the exact financial position of the Hydro system to-day. If it were a paying proposition, it should be held and supported.

Ald. Baird.
Ald. Baird declared himself satisfied that Hydro was on a sound financial basis.

"Hydro is an established fact."
observed Ald. Mellen. "They can cut the price of domestic supply nearly in two, and still go on paying for their plant."

Ald. Shimson.
Ald. Shimson supported all the Mayor's contentions and promised to support the resolution.

Mayor MacBride.
Mayor MacBride deplored the general apathy on the part of the public toward Hydro. The system was in danger unless it received unanimous support. The personal attacks on Sir Adam Beck were sufficient proof that Hydro itself was unassailable. A financial statement published recently had shown Hydro to be financially sound.

The Mayor's resolution carried.

To The Editor of The Courier

Dear Sir—

"Chamberlain" would say it is very plain to see that said gentleman has not looked or enquired into the charges re ambulances for moving stricken people to and from their homes to the hospital. It seems very evident he is afraid that it may cost him a 10th of a mill on his taxation. The facts are if people are too poor to pay the charge it is done free by the city, but surely he ought to be thankful and all citizens for the work being done by said ambulance being here and placing same in charge of Chief Lewis at the Fire Hall and we as citizens owe a debt of gratitude in these times to Chief Lewis and his gallant men, practically worked day and night. He talks about the charge of $2.00 to these stricken citizens, what does he think it would have cost the city if they had to hire all the conveyance to move these unfortunate people. How about his own child or wife, would he have moved her in the old junk wagon for $2.00 or taken the city ambulance. Then he goes on to say the Alderman that will take this charge off will get his support and others. It seems evident that he is like the little boy when he looked out of the back window when he heard the cat howl and said there are millions and his daddy said, "It cannot be so." Well there are thousands" and so on till there was only one. To me it is not a matter of $2.00; it is a matter of speed and comfort of life and death and not quibbling about $2.00 in those unfortunate and terrible times.

ENTERING SWITZERLAND. Little Country Has Been Most Useful of Neutrals.

The war has perhaps brought no greater contrasts than those afforded by the crowd that entered Switzerland before the outbreak of hostilities and those that now cross its borders. There is no longer any steady stream of tourists. In their place, exchanged French and British wounded soldiers cross the frontiers from Germany and proceed to the mountain and lake resorts as "paying guests" of the republic. Thousands of civilians, refugees from the devastated war zone, find the country in order to seek repatriation and rehabilitation on the beloved soil of France. Others there are, German spies, who as spies have entered only to abuse the hospitality of Switzerland by means of their international plottings; and still others, forming a small but significant group, who have found the fatherland, in exchange for the passage by way of raising their protests in tolerant Switzerland.

Whatever the difficulties in entering Switzerland may be to-day, they were comparatively trifling in pre-war days, when tourists were welcomed with open arms. Swiss regulations for foreign traffic, though always more or less formal, inconvenient, and the passenger by train, however, less than those of a motor car. The holder of the "passport" or "traveller's" or "traveller's" subject to certain preliminary requirements, which the holder of a "traveller's" railway ticket satisfied. Entering by road by Basel, for instance, meant the satisfying of two sets of officials, the customs men and the gendarmes. The traveller had to submit to certain formalities, which always appeared to be more or less superfluous to the object of them, whatever they appeared to be to the officials. If he were useful, however, he did not fail to display the valuable qualities of a Swiss passport, and that useful art of taking everything for granted. The faithful observance of such a course probably served to accelerate the speed of examination and the sealing of the car by such antiquated methods as a die and a mallet. Then one was free or, rather, measurably free to tour Switzerland. The chances are that the traveller would follow up the partial sale with a significant caution not to exceed that elastic thing, the Swiss speed limit. For one could never be quite sure, in passing leisurely and carefully through the winding streets of a Swiss village, that some local functionary might not rush out and, noting volens, arrest and fine one for the heinous offence of speeding.

Entering Switzerland by road over the Simplon Pass from Italy, the speed question became one fraught with all kinds of penalties for the incautious traveller. His pace upon the winding pass must not exceed ten kilometers per hour, and at corners not more than three. In addition, he was forbidden to give any signal, except by the regulation motor-horn; on meeting horse traffic and pedestrians he must take the outside edge; nor could he cross the pass unless he had previously sent full details concerning the car, its occupants, and the hour and date of setting out for Switzerland, to the customs station of Gondo. The possession of the final permit from the authorities, moreover, was by no means an unmitigated blessing. Four hours only were permitted for the passage from Gondo to the end of the mountain route, at Brigue, and the precious document must be shown to every roadmaster and official en route who might take it into his head to question the tourist's right to use the pass. The arrival at Brigue alone brought a real relief, for from that point on, Switzerland seemed to stretch itself out along a lovely valley, inviting the tourist to the delights of travelling by road in Switzerland.

It is the peculiar characteristic of Switzerland that, after crossing its frontiers, one never appears to have wholly left the neighboring countries behind. The northern "gates" seem to introduce one to a modified Germany; at Geneva one is still in a French-speaking country, while the mountain one receives upon entering from the south, of still being up on Italian soil, is at first difficult to shake off. The character of the scenery serves only to heighten the illusion, and one is continually as well physically, the soil of Switzerland seems to invite the various peoples of the earth to make of the country a place of rendezvous where international differences can be forgotten. Time alone will show, however, whether "international" Switzerland will be the unmitigated playground of the nations in the future as in the past.

NEW LIVES FOR SHIPS. Skill and Patience of Divers Do Much for Navy. Dumas' hero, Dr. Servais, professing to bring the dead to life, worried them had not been buried too long, says Geo. A. Dewar in London Mail. To-day the British navy performs for dead ships what he professed for dead men. It is coming to this: In time we shall see an armada of merchant ships which have lain sheer hulks anything up to 15 or 20 fathoms under the sea raised from their graves, recommissioned, and sent on a new career round the world.

Already more than one ship, sunk to her topmast, has been raised, brought to life, despatched on a new career, then sunk again by the enemy, and raised anew by our navy, and given yet a third life. These miracles owe to the skill and patience of the salvage ships—honor the R.N.R.I. I have examined ships in all stages of revival, from a patched-up corvette—worth the best part of ten million dollars—ready for final discharge from hospital, down to a burnt, mined, and shelled wreck, whose upper decks even in low tide are awash.

I saw the pumps at work, little submarines, mammoth motors, too, throwing each of them hundreds of tons of water out of her. I saw the divers going down into the dusk, waiting in the silence to search, muddle, patch, shore up, bung, and to burn off with electricity bits of bent and jagged plate.

How do the divers talk to each other? There is only one way. They must first touch helmets. What his horn is to the ant in conversation, his helmet is to the diver. Next, how does he hear? He presses a tiny button on his helmet's valve; not for long, or his huge waders would fill with air, but long enough to shut out the uproar of the rotatory movement of the pump and produce dead silence. Then he speaks, and every word falls perfectly distinctly on the ear of his fellow-diver. It is the helmet touch that does it, the mystic contact in the dusk, sometimes in the absolute dark where these strange figures grope their way.

The diver is paid high. He may make to-day anything up to $250 a month. He carries his life in his hand when he goes down. To lose his compass is to lose that life. A diver lately went down to examine a net. A current drove him half-way through a mesh in the dark! He was "foul." To try to struggle back meant death, and yet to struggle back to human, swiftly and coolly he played the other part. He went down through on to the wrong side, turned round, came back through the mesh—and lived to tell me the story.

Food Books Criticized. "Isn't your life extremely fat? Without nothing whatever to grumble at!" Gilbert's lines are very applicable to the case of the Ministry of Food and its critics in Great Britain. So little is there cause to grumble that the critics have had to fall back upon the makeup of the new ration books for a subject.

Both housewives and traders complain that the new book is more clumsy than the cards, and that the supposed advantage of having the coupons for the various foods collected together under one cover is more than counter-balanced by the disadvantages which have arisen in operations.

The butchers, who in future have to return the coupons for checking, especially complain of the time occupied in turning over the leaves of the book and cutting out the coupons. They contrast this with the ease with which several cards could be placed one over the other and the coupons torn off at once.

The fact that the coupons in the books are not perforated being a disadvantage has already been dealt with by the Ministry, who promise perforated leaves in the next book. The quality of the paper, which is thin and hardly likely to stand the wear and tear of four months usage, and the system of binding the books will be dealt with before the next issue if proved necessary for effective use.

Belleville Board of Health has arranged for public vaccination as a preventive against influenza.

Dickens Took Holiday. Summer holidays in 1853 were spent by Charles Dickens and his family at Boulogne, in a house near the Calais road. An odd French place with the strangest little rooms and walls, says Foster.

The great attraction of the Villa des Moulins appears to have been the owner, "the great Beaucourt," who could never allude to his house and garden but as "the property." He was to Dickens an endless cause of amusement. "Beaucourt," he says in a letter, "was a captain of the National Guard and Cavaignac, his general, 'Brave Capitaine Beaucourt, you must receive a decoration,' said Cavaignac. 'My general,' said Beaucourt, 'No! It is enough for me that I have done my duty. I go to lay the first stone of a house upon a property I have which that house shall be my decoration!'"

A Sharp Middy. The captain of a small British naval craft sent a midshipman below to look at the batteries. Gleanings through the skylight he saw the midshipman himself a glass of his best sherry. When the youngster came on deck, the captain asked how the glass stood. "Steadily rising," was the reply. "Ah!" said the captain, "and how is the sherry?" "Like a shot came the answer: 'Steadily falling, sir.' The captain so much approved the joke that he allowed the incident to pass without further notice.

New Zealand Cows Produce More. It is reported that the milk cows of New Zealand, because of improved breeding and feeding, produced an average of 18 pounds more butter fat in 1917 than in 1911, netting the farmers an increased revenue of $8,261,654.

The fact that the Henry Ford plant to be erected at once at Kearny, N.J., for the manufacture of "seagles," or submarine chasers, is to be the largest of its kind in the world will go far forward compensating that town for the annoyance it must suffer from the fact that some newspapers will persist in spelling its name with an "s" in the last syllable. The place was named for Gen. Stephen Watts Kearny, an officer of the United States who won distinction both in the war of 1812 and in the Mexican war. His nephew, Gen. Philip Kearny, was one of the most gallant and popular Northern commanders in the Civil War. He had recently served in Mexico and in the west. Kearny, in Nebraska,
