Destructive Fire At Loggieville

The village of Loggieville was given a severe scorching last Wednesday night and for a time it looked as if the whole village would be a prey to the flames. Shortly after eight o'clock fire was discovered in the store of A. & R. Loggie, near the oil department, and before an alarm could be raised the building was a mass of flames. The fire then spread to Messrs. Loggie's factory, next door which, together with its contents, were completely destroyed. Messages for help were then sent to Newcastle and Chatham. Aid from the latter place arrived in about an hour, but owing to a break in their engine the firemen were unable to stem the progress of the flames, which by this time had crossed the road. Several dwelling houses were also burning.

Newcastle quickly despatched a crew of men and a fire engine, but the latter did not arrive until almost one o'clock, and in the meantime a bucket brigade had succeeded in subduing the blaze.

The loss includes the store and factory of the Loggies with all their contents and six dwelling houses occupied by eight families. The loss to Messrs. Loggie is particularly heavy, as the foundation of their vault giving way caused all their books and records to be destroyed.

The loss is estimated at about three hundred thousand dollars.

Fears Revolution Is Coming To Canada

Montreal, May 30—Fear that unless a quick remedy is applied to the labor situation Canada will find herself with a revolution on her hands, was expressed to the Industrial Commission at its session in the City Council Chamber yesterday afternoon by Joseph Hawkin, of the Canadian Employers' Reconstruction Association. Mr. Hawkin did not say when the revolution would come but stated that he was afraid such an extremity would be resorted to sooner or later. He said that he did not know what the conditions would be in the Province of Quebec, in four or five months. He recommended the appointment of a national council composed of employers and employees all over Canada as a remedy for labor unrest.

British Defeated Bolshevik Fleet

Helsingfors, May 31—(By the Associated Press)—A fifty minute battle occurred this morning between a Bolshevik fleet comprising the battleship Petropavlovsk (2,323 tons) and three other warships which had been bombarding the coast west of Krasnaia Gorka (15 miles west of Kronstadt) and seven British warships. The Russians eventually fled to Kronstadt. Saturday's encounter which took place in the Gulf of Finland, was the second the British have had recently with the Bolshevik naval forces which are trying to harass the Estonian army approaching Petrograd from the west. On May 15th, a thirty-five minute naval fight occurred not far from the locality of the one now reported. It had a similar result, the Bolshevik fleet retiring to Kronstadt. Some of their vessels were reported to have been hit. The British Admiralty stated later that there had been no casualties to the British forces.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW CANADIAN BOOK

The John C. Winston Co., Limited of Toronto, announce the early publication of "CANADA'S SON AND GREAT BRITAIN IN THE WORLD WAR" by Colonel George G. Nasmyth, C. M. G., M. A., Ph. D., D. S., who served with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France and Belgium, with an introduction by General Sir Arthur Currie, Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian Corps. A great portion of the book is compiled from notes made on the battlefield by Colonel Nasmyth, and the descriptions of the various engagements, written by an eyewitness, have intimate appeal that no amount of long-distance reporting could convey. Colonel Nasmyth was born in Toronto in 1877, and gained his bachelor's degree from the University of Toronto in 1900; M. A. in 1903; Ph. D. in 1903; D. Sc. in 1916; D. P. H. in 1918. He was in many subsequent positions of Health of Toronto, 1903-09; Director of Laboratories, Department of Health, Toronto, 1909-18. He went overseas with the Canadian forces in the World War and was in the thick of the fighting in the first gas attack of the Germans at Ypres and in many subsequent campaigns. It was he who first reported the nature of the poison gas used by the Germans in 1915, and suggested the use of the protective masks. He first suggested the use of chlorine for purifying water for an army in the field (1909). The mobile filter now used by the British army is the result of his suggestions. Besides many technical papers, Colonel Nasmyth published "On the Fringe of the Great Fight" in 1918. This new book, which the Toronto publishers have scheduled, will cover the entire scope of the war. It is the purpose of the publishers to copyright and manufacture the book in Canada.

English Food Prices Higher Than Canadian

While the cost of living in Great Britain is declining, it is an error to suppose that prices in the majority of foodstuffs are yet down on the level where they can be reasonably compared with Canadian prices in the same classes. The British Food Controller has just discontinued the retail control of Caerphilly cheese, a standard middle-class British product and has fixed the following maximum prices to the producers:— Caerphilly whole milk . . . 31c per lb Partial skimmed, containing 25% fat 28c per lb Wholly skimmed with less than 25% fat 16c per lb To these prices must be added the eventual cost of distribution and profits of wholesaler and retailer before the price to the consumer can be obtained. Comparison is well in favor of Canadian prices.

Moncton to Get Employment Service Office

It is understood that the Maritime Provinces general office and clearing house of the Employment Service of Canada is being moved from the city of Halifax to the city of Moncton, and that the change will take place within a few days. This is being done because it is deemed desirable from the standpoint of convenience and promptness in general service that the department should avail itself of the advantages of Moncton as a geographical centre.

BRITISH DEFEATED BOLSHEVIK FLEET IN SHORT FIGHT THE WET SPRING.

(Experimental Farms Note.) In some parts of Eastern Canada, especially, the continued wet weather that has characterized this season up to the present has prevented the sowing of some of the usual crops at the usual time and has had a tendency to discourage the farmer. However, the possibilities of producing crops on land not yet prepared is still good providing the weather continues to improve and the right crops are sown in the right way and properly looked after. All the cereals, even yet, may be expected to prove satisfactory. Sow wheat as promptly as possible and follow with oats and barley in the order named. The latter may be expected to give good yields sown in the first ten days of June. Peas and oats sown, equal parts by weight, at the rate of 3 to 4 bushels per acre may be used as an accommodating crop since it is equally satisfactory for green feed, hay, grain or even ensilage purposes. Buckwheat may be sown up to July 10th with certainty of profitable returns even on the poorer types of soils and where water does not stand. Millets and Hungarian grass are good forage producers even before the middle of July. For ensilage and forage purposes the standard varieties of corn recommended including the flint varieties, Longtellow, Salzer's North Dakots and Compton's Early and the dent varieties Wisconsin No. 7, Golden Glow, White Cap Yellow Dent and Bailey. These varieties should immediately be sown as they come along satisfactorily. Swedes thrive in such a season as we are having and may be expected to give good returns sown anywhere before the end of June. Fall or White turnips are excellent cattle feed, while not so satisfactory as Swedes for most purposes. They do well if sown even as late as the end of July. Rape for pasture is of great value for swine, sheep or beef and young cattle and may be sown as late as the end of June. With late seeding most thorough preparation of the seed-bed is absolutely necessary if success is to be hoped for. If land has to be ploughed turn a shallow furrow. Grassy land will be much better ploughed and it is quite possible that this operation can be done more rapidly than a similar seed-bed could be prepared with other treatment. After ploughing roll if possible disc two or more times and harrow before seeding. In any case do whatever work is to be done on the land as well as possible and what is quite as important in the case of horse manure, in the foregoing see to it that they are kept free from weeds for the next couple of months.

Settlement In Winnipeg Likely

WINNIPEG, May 31.—With arbitration conferences actually under way on the basic industrial dispute of the general strike—the walkout of the metal trades—and hundreds of employees returning to work, gradual settlement of the civic and industrial tie-up was beginning today.

Edmonton dispatches indicated resumption of public service functions is now complete there. Although strike headquarters asserted workers in thirty-two trades were still out.

Votes on a general strike now being taken at Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia, will be completed and announced within a few days.

Though the first outward demonstration of disobedience occurred in Winnipeg yesterday in a parade of veterans and strikers to the Parliament Buildings, no disorders occurred. The veterans promised to return again today to insist on speedy action to legalize collective bargaining, one of the chief points sought by the metal trades in their walkout, which precipitated the general strike.

When members of the railway brotherhoods succeeded in beginning the first arbitration conference, efforts to replace striking workers generally slackened, except in the police, fire and postal services. Officials of the brotherhoods warned maintenance of way employees in Winnipeg, and the West not to consider sympathetic strike votes or attempt to walk out in violation of their contracts.

Serious Fire At Fredericton

Fredericton, May 30.—Fredericton suffered a serious fire this afternoon and for a time the whole portion of the eastern end of the city was threatened.

The fire started in a double tenement house on Court House Square owned by Fred B. Edgcombe and occupied by Corporal Lavoie, a returned soldier, and Joseph Murdoch. Children playing with matches is believed to have been responsible for the start of the fire. The flames spread with amazing rapidity, causing tremendous volumes of dense smoke.

The building, where the fire originated, is on the bank of the St. John river, and the flames were fanned by a heavy wind from the river which carried sparks and burning embers to the buildings in the path of the wind for several blocks, causing as many as a dozen other buildings to be on fire simultaneously. Each blaze, as it originated, was fought, either with the apparatus of the fire department or with buckets of water and garden hose, until eventually another alarm was sent in from box No. 28 for a fire at the residence of Judge Crockett, on George street, about a third of a mile away, whence the sparks had been carried in sufficient quantities to cause a blaze on the roof. Part of the fire department were dispatched to fight that fire, and with the assistance of a large number of volunteer fire fighters, succeeded in stopping any spread there, although damage estimated at about $1,000 was done to Judge Crockett's home. Much of the damage there, however, resulted from water. In the meanwhile, the firemen succeeded in getting the main blaze under control, but not until the house where the fire started, and one adjoining owned by Miss Lily Adams, as well as a large barn and garage, owned by James F. McMurray, had been destroyed, and the Globe Laundry building on Queen street, the carpenter shop of Henry Clark on Chancery Lane, the Segee building, and Dr. Wainwright's residence and barn on Queen street; the Sherran building on St. James street, Charles O'Connor's residence at the corner of St. John and King streets; Morris Rappaport's house on King street, and several other buildings were more or less damaged. The Provincial buildings and departmental offices were directly in the path of the fire, but escaped, probably because of being all of stone or brick construction and with fire proof roofing.

THE GIRL UNDER THE HILL
By DONALD ALLEN
Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Travelers who come that way and ascended and descended the long hill, with the creek and the bridge at its foot, always turned their heads to look at the old stone house built in colonial days. In summer it was covered with vines and stood in the shade of the pear trees, and in summer the "girl under the hill" was oftentimes caught sight of.

Why the "girl under the hill" instead of Molly Thatcher? Well, travelers would have it so, and nobody knew first why. She had been called so at sixteen, and she was still being called so at twenty. It was necessary only to inquire at any house in the village beyond the creek to know she was the daughter of old Mart Thatcher, the postmaster, and a motherless girl.

Sometimes travelers saw the old man on the porch and the daughter leaning to him as he smoked his pipe; sometimes she was working among the flowers in the yard; sometimes from the open windows of the house, they heard her singing and paused to listen. When strangers met her on the road as she went to and from the village with her basket, they remembered that she had hair that shone like gold in the sun, and a mouth that smiled, and eyes that reminded them of those of a deer. Sometimes, when a treacherous young man pestered the postmistress for information he received the reply:

"She's smart and handsome and good, and it's no use for you to waste your time. Molly has never looked at any fellow traveler."

One summer day the girl under the hill carried an apronful of weeds from the flower beds out of the gate and carried them in the highway. Just as she did so an auto driven by a young man came chugging up the hill. She looked fately into the young man's eyes, and he into hers. The look did not last ten seconds, but it made her heart beat faster as she turned away, and his as he continued his journey.

An hour later, the old father hobbled out on the porch where the girl sat with her chin on her hand, staring into vacancy, and said:

"I thought you might have gone to the store. I haven't heard you singing for a long time."

"I was just—just thinking," she replied as she got up and ran away.

Autos were not a rare sight on that highway. A dozen passed up or down the hill every day, and no one minded the girl under the hill had never gone to the gate out of curiosity. If seated on the porch she had not raised her eyes. All at once, now, she found herself listening, and was vexed. She found herself at the gate, and stamped her foot as she turned away. That young man had black hair and dark eyes; he was young and handsome; he was surely a gentleman; he— But to break the chain of thought, Molly seized the broom and began to sweep the porch so vigorously that her father called out from the interior of the house:

"Hey, erri, what's the matter with you today? You swept the porch only an hour ago. Better save the broom."

Two days had gone by since Molly had thrown the weeds in the road and the young man in the auto came again. The girl was training a vine at the corner of the house, and she heard the machine stumble across the bridge and begin to climb the hill. Yes, it was the same young man, and he was looking her way. She was partly turned away, but she knew he was looking. She heard the machine almost come to a stop, but she would not look up. Then the power was increased, the chug went louder and faster, and she stood and listened until the sounds died away in the distance.

"That fellow pretty near got stuck on the hill," said the father as Molly came around to the porch.

It was just as well for "that fellow" that he wasn't there to see the loss of her head and the snap in her eyes. She believed that he had almost stopped to stare at her, and she was rejoiced that her attitude had been one of disdain.

That is, after thinking it over, she didn't know whether she was or not.

Three days later, as she sat sewing and her father slept in his wicker, she heard an auto ascend the hill and stop in front of the house. The road bushes hid it from her sight, but a moment later the dark-haired young man was standing unmoved before her and saying:

"I beg your pardon, miss, but could you lend me an ax while I make some slight repairs to my auto? No sorry to bother you. Ah, I see an ax over there. Don't get up, please. I shall return it directly."

In her confusion at his sudden advent and strange request the girl had simply looked at him. She gave her father a shake to wake him up, briefly explained matters and disappeared into the house. When the ax was returned, and while the borrower was wandering where the lender had disappeared, the old postmaster replied:

"That's all right. Always ready to oblige folks in trouble. So your auto broke down, eh?"

"Well—just a slight accident."

"Lucky for you that you wasn't coming downhill instead of going up."

"Yes, it was."

Prorogation In July

Ottawa, May 31.—An adjournment of Parliament by the end of June or early in July to be followed by a fall session is now the Government's programme. Outside of the budget and labor legislation arising out of the report of the Mathers Commission the order paper has been neatly swept clear so that there would seem to be no reason to continue beyond July 1st. A fall session is absolutely necessary as Parliament will hasten to ratify the peace treaty when it is signed.

There will also be legislation arising out of the treaty which will have to be passed. The Franchise Act is almost certain now to go over until the fall session. There is no immediate necessity for it as the Government is not contemplating an election and there is little likelihood of the Government being forced to go to the country in the meantime. Some other controversial legislation such as the Highways Act may be marooned until the fall.

GREAT BRITAIN FAVORS CONCESSIONS TO GERMANY
New York, June 3.—The Associated Press tonight issues the following:

There is a possibility that Germany may secure, as a result of her strong counter proposals, some lessening of the severity of the peace terms of the Allied and associated powers.

Germany's plea that it would be impossible to fulfill the financial requirements of the Allies, and her protests against certain territorial relinquishments have been heeded and are being discussed by the Council of Four. Paris report has it that in certain quarters of the peace conference the German viewpoint is receiving strong support.

Great Britain is said to favor a number of concessions to Germany, but France continues firm in her stand not to waver from the original terms.

On the other hand the Americans are declared to be not adverse to minor concessions, but are not in favor of going the extent that the British propose.

THE WINNIPEG STRIKE.

The developments of the strike in Winnipeg have convinced the people of that city as well as observers from without that the ultimate design of some of the leaders of this movement is not alone to secure the rights of workmen, but to usurp the functions of government. At the beginning of the strike the sympathy of the citizens was very largely with the metal workers in their demand for the right of collective bargaining. But when it became apparent that the strikers were playing into the hands of revolutionary firebrands of the Bolshevik type public sentiment underwent a sudden and radical change as was proved by the number of citizens who voluntarily and eagerly enlisted to suppress the new tyranny being imposed upon the city. Among the things that opened the eyes of the people, and even of many of the strikers who had joined the movement was the suppression of the newspapers, and the attempt to interfere with public utilities and the distribution of supplies. The silencing of the press is a Bolshevik method of availing criticism and preventing any attempt at moulding public opinion, and the interference with public utilities and the distribution of food and other supplies is a direct challenge of public authority. For neither of these were the citizens of Winnipeg prepared to stand, hence the sudden stiffening of municipal, provincial and federal authority. However intense or general the industrial unrest may be, Canada is not going to surrender rights and privileges for which so many of her brave sons have laid down their lives, to a handful of hot-headed revolutionists, who, if they had their way would destroy fruits of industry and make progress impossible.

THRIFT IN THE SCHOOLS

In the schools of Canada along the War Savings campaign is fraught with great possibilities and already the returns show that splendid progress is being made. What has been done in the schools of the United States is a fair indication of what may be done in the schools of Canada. In the schools of New York there is said to be a little over 750,000 children. During the period, December 1917 to January 31, 1919, no less than $5,446,000 worth of War Savings and Thrift Stamps were sold in these schools, which means slightly more than $7 for each child. The Thrift campaign in the schools of the Dominion will produce 100 fold in results. Every child should be enrolled in the War Savings army. Parents should see to this. It will discipline the child in thrift, provide it with a good investment and benefit the country.

REMARKABLE PAGEANT

The old saying that all circus parades are alike, may be applicable to some circus organizations, but it is a poor one when applied to the John Robinson Shows which will exhibit in Newcastle on Thursday June 10th. This circus presents a parade that not only measures up to the best traditions of circuses in the matter of being carved, painted, and decorated with striking colors, but it presents a display that has never before successfully presented a span of six camels drawn by a dog wagon.

The "ships of the desert" have a daily feature, six excellent specimens of the camel family may be seen in the role of horses, and their work leaves nothing to be desired. This is just one of the dozens of features that places the John Robinson Circus in the class with all progressive amusement enterprises, and attracts better than columns of argument the class of show circus patrons of this territory will see when the show visits Newcastle June 10th. The performance this season is by far the best and most entertaining the John Robinson circus has ever presented. Among the noted attractions are Cecil Lavanda, Frederick nessed as demanded by their odd anatomy and to permit of those long, though slow and rhythmic steps have since time immemorial been used as beasts of burden to carry upon their undulating backs tourists and baggage, across the hot sands that produce a burning thirst, but never before have they been successfully trained to draw a wagon in horse fashion, and to answer the direction of a driver with equine fidelity — until recently.

Lodgett, Mario Bedini, Cliza Masters, Gordon Orton, Ab Johnson, Joe Hodgini and Ruby Orton, riders; the famous Nelson Family of acrobats, Captain Basil LeGare's French Zouaves and the renowned Flying Wards. Madame Bedini presents her famed high school horses and there are three herds of performing elephants shown by Chris Zeltz and Mlle. DeMarce's trained apes and monkeys. The circus uses three rings and two stages and a wide hippodrome racing track. Excursions will be held on all boats and steam roads.

ST. THOMAS COLLEGE DRIVE!

St. Thomas College Appeal For Funds

THE Great Fire which destroyed the College Buildings makes it imperative that at this time an appeal be made for funds to all Catholics interested in higher education.

A new building is already under construction. To carry on the work funds must be had at once. The success of the College during the nine years of its existence proves beyond question that it answers a vital want.

In spite of the severe conditions of the war years, and the difficulties incident to the first years of an educational institution, the College has shown a steady growth.

St. Thomas College receives nothing from taxation and is entirely dependent upon voluntary contributions. Therefore it deserves your full support. Have you ever stopped to consider what the closing of St. Thomas College would mean to your sons? Its existence depends upon the success of this appeal. The founders of the College have made great sacrifices in the interests of your children.

Here's Your Opportunity to Manifest Your Appreciation.

That man is not carrying his name on a stump. By looking closely one will identify the class on the downbeat right terrace as those of a good sized black bear. So the human operator is removing a handsome black coat from a sleek, fat full brain that had ventured in innocent ignorance out on the open in search of mice and such interesting changes from a diet of berries. He did not know that men with guns were creeping up the slope toward him because the wind was sweeping down from the peaks above and the only scent it took to his keen nostrils was that of the fresh, sweet snow that were already whitening the peaks above the river, north of the C. P. R. transcontinental line.

Head Of The I. W. W. Arrested

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 3—Robert Johnson, president of the I. W. W. organization here, and internationally known as a radical agitator, was arrested after a fight with detectives and agents of the Department of Justice, in a down town office building this noon. Johnson opened fire on the detectives with a revolver, when they opened the door of the I. W. W. headquarters on the third floor of the building with a key taken from a suspect arrested in connection with the bomb explosions here last night.

THE CLOCK OF TRADE.

The clock of trade is fast running down. Yet we have henceforth to meet interest charges of $100,000,000 a year on war debts before we can even get back to the attitude of "as-you-were" before the war.

Today, when the wide world "thinks in millions," Canada must not be behindhand. The war-brought problems we now face, will demand the best and soberest thoughts of all the peo-

Had Piles For Ten Years

And Tried Nearly Everything Except a Surgical Operation Without Obtaining Relief - Tells How Complete Cure Was Effected.

There are reported here three cures of chronic cases of piles. In all three cases many treatments were tried before it was discovered that Dr. Chase's Ointment is about the only real cure for this distressing ailment.

Mrs. Wm. Shaatz, 158 Albert street, Stobener, Ont., writes: "For several years I was troubled with bleeding piles. I tried different remedies for relief without success. I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of the benefits other people were receiving from Dr. Chase's Ointment, so I sent to your office for a sample box. I found it gave me such relief that I went to a drug store and purchased a full-sized box. I have used several boxes since, and have derived more benefit from its use than any remedy I have ever used."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box, at all drug stores. Edmond Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. There are no rivals to Dr. Chase's Ointment as a treatment for Piles.

The figures for 1919 show how the trend in these matters is plainly reminding us that the sands of our wartime prosperity are rapidly running out. It is already almost at the point where the balance of trade ceases to be favorable.

TORONTO'S STRIKE ABOUT OVER

Toronto, June 4—Toronto's sympathetic strike is practically over. With startling suddenness Tuesday afternoon came the declaration from the Metal Trades Council, asking all these strikers who had gone out in sympathy with them to return to work.

The metal trades here have decided to continue their fight alone, because, they say, they do not want to jeopardize the interests of other labor organizations.

This leaves from five thousand to seven thousand metal workers on strike, presuming that the other trades will go back to work. There is some doubt as to the action of the striking carpenters, who have a fight of their own on, in connection with wages and hours.

SUMMER WEATHER. Real summer weather prevailed during the last week, and much improvement is noticed in the gardens.

Austria will Accept Peace Terms

New York, June 4—The Associated Press tonight issues the following: Like the German government, the Austrian government is said to be dissatisfied with the peace terms of the Allied and Associated Powers which are declared by one of the responsible newspapers of Vienna to be unacceptable.

Unlike the German populace at large, however, the Austrian people apparently are apathetic, having expected no easy terms, and are willing, even anxious to accept the conditions laid down and thus bring peace to the sorely stricken former empire which is rendered by the treaty virtually an inland state of small territorial proportions. Nevertheless, the general opinion among the Austrians seem to be that the terms are based on might, and not on President Wilson's fourteen points.

In Paris the Council of Four continues to discuss points brought out by the German counter-proposals to the German peace treaty, especially as concerns territorial questions and reparations. Experts on both these questions have been called before the council for conferences, and the belief apparently prevails in unofficial quarters in Paris, that some modifications may be expected in the original terms of the treaty, particularly as regards the Sarre Basin and Silesia.

Discussion of the protest of Germany that, being left without merchant ships, she is rendered impotent to resume her trade and thereby unable to aid in paying the incumbrances asked, also has been taken up by the council.

The expectation is that the council will hold reports of the urgent necessity to render a quick decision on the matters in controversy owing to the situation in Germany. One report has it that Herr Haske, the German minister of defence has inspected the coast defences and ordered the garrisons to be ready for emergencies.

An appeal to the American people has been made by magistrates of two hundred municipalities, representing virtually half of the population of Germany. It demands "a peace of justice" under President Wilson's fourteen points and protests against the continuation of the blockade against Germany.

Apparently the Rhenish republic, under Dr. Dorten, has been firmly established at Wiesbaden with aid of French officers. A Berlin despatch says that, although Dorten and his administrators were coldly received by the populace, they were not molested owing to the presence of the officers, who ordered that Dorten's instructions should be obeyed.

Bolshevik advices are to the effect that the autonomy of Mongolia has been proclaimed by a congress convened by General Semenov, the Cossack leader, and that Semenov was made "Grand Duke of Mongolia." The Bolsheviks are reported to have started a successful counter-offensive against the Esthonians and other troops advancing on Petrograd.

THREE KILLED, FOUR INJURED IN 600 MILE AUTO RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—W'look wins 600-mile automobile race. Wilcox's time was 44:21.75. Average 87.12. Hearne was second. Hearne's time was 5:46:15.05.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Before 275 miles of the 600-mile automobile race had been run at the speedway here, today, three participants had been killed, one injured seriously, and two less seriously hurt.

Lecoq and his mechanic, both of Los Angeles, Cal., were burned to death on the 96 lap, when their car caught fire and it made the southeast curve, turned over and they were covered with flaming gasoline. They burned for five minutes before the guards and spectators could put out the blaze. The flaming gasoline covered the track, and while the blaze was being fought other racing cars dashed through the fire.

Arthur Turman, of Newark, N. J., in his first race on a brick track, was killed when his machine turned over on the north turn, soon after he had driven 100 miles. His mechanic was injured seriously.

J. Chascagne, relief driver for Balot, and his mechanic were injured, but not seriously, when their machines went over on the north turn.

The speed maintained up to the 275-mile point was the greatest in the history of the speedway. It averaged to the point 91.34 miles an hour. DePalma, who had maintained a lead most of the first part of the race, lost 25 miles when he had to go to the pits for a change of tires. The crowd attending the race was estimated by the speedway management at 120,000.

JESS WILLARD BEGINS TRAINING

Toledo, Ohio, June 4—Jess Willard began four weeks of training today for his heavyweight championship contest with Jack Dempsey here on July 4 and the five hundred persons who watched him in his first public workout since leaving California, left his canvas enclosed ring in astonishment over the apparent excellent condition of the champion.

There was little, if any, extra weight on his huge frame; his wind was good and his skin glowed with health. He settled down to his training grind good naturedly which indicated according to experts that he had been constantly training for several weeks.

When Willard appeared in the ring attired in a light gymnasium suit it was noted that the rolls of fat he had some months ago had been completely wiped out by hard usage.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."

—Mrs. MARISS DODD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

TRAVEL BY FLOWERY WAYS

There are many who believe that all big corporations and industrial concerns only look to the material side of things and work machine-like for the production of wealth, regardless of the winter's snow and unheeding of the summer's bloom. This is often an erroneous idea, for it is generally realized that man does not altogether live by offices and pens and papers and engines and other accoutrements of labor—he requires trees and shrubs and flowers and the loveliness of nature.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has always paid considerable attention to the development of garden plots along its lines. It is just thirty years ago since a C.P.R. employee raised a few varieties of flower seeds in his own garden, and distributed them amongst his friends in the service of the company, with the object of promoting flower gardening at the various station plots of the railway. A vast advance has been made since then; and now the company possesses a Floral Department with headquarters at Windsor Street, Station, Montreal, and a Floral Committee which embraces members from the Eastern and Western lines. It is under the guidance of this department that the various station plots and other properties of the company are cleared up and beautified. Thousands of packages of flower seeds, bulbs, trees, and shrubs and large quantities of grass seeds and fertilizers have been distributed during the last few years to station agents, section foremen, caretakers of round houses, and all employees living on the property of the company. Travelers on the line observe the happy results achieved. The cultivation work is done in all cases by the employees themselves, who in most cases acquired the art of amateur gardening by taking their lessons from leaflets issued by the Floral Department. The best material is always provided. Amongst the varieties of trees supplied are: Maple, birch, beech, poplar and catalpa. Some of the shrubs are: weigelia, berberis, laurel leaf willow and sumac. Perennials distributed are: Oriental poppies, iris, phlox, veronica, galliardia, larkspur, columbina, sweet william, and pinka. Bedding plants used include geranium, coleus, carnation, pansies, asters, verbena, petunias, and castor oil plants. Standard seed packets sent out contain: Nasturtium, abrusum, nasturtium, sweet peas, phlox and kochia. Ferns and house plants are given to the larger stations. The establishment and main-

FIRE IN LUMBER YARD.
Fire broke out yesterday in the Lumber Yard of The Edward Sinclair Lumber Co. and for a time the mill and surrounding buildings were in danger of being totally destroyed.

Tug Boats from Chatham and Nelson arrived on the scene and pumped water on the flames during the afternoon and night. Members of the Newcastle and Chatham Fire Departments took hose along with them and through their services held the fire under control.
For a time it looked as if nothing would save the great bulk of the lumber piled in the yard, but the wind was blowing in a direction which carried the sparks and embers to a safe locality, thus assisting the firemen in their fight against the flames.
A large quantity of boards and laths were destroyed and by prompt assistance from the Firemen and Tug Boats a much heavier loss was averted.
