SHEARD RESIGNS AGAIN RATHER THAN OPPOSE "DISAPPOINTED CLIQUES"

Medical Health Officer Says That "Appreciation of Honest Service Has Become Impossible to Certain Influences Existent."

LEAVES WHEN HOSPITAL ENQUIRY IS CONCLUDED

For the second time within six months Dr. Charles Sheard has resigned as medical health officer of the City of Toronto. He sent a letter of resignation to Mayor Geary yesterday af-ternoon. The mayor and Controller Spence were out of town and the other controllers, who happened to be hold-ing a meeting, sent the communication on to the council, who will discuss it on Monday next.

on Monday next.

While the doctor's course is a general surprise, it is known that within the last short while he has to friends expressed his regret at having reentered the service after his resignation of March 29 last, which went into effect May 1. The inability of the council to agree on any one of the nominees to fill the vacancy, which included Drs. Amyot, Goodchild, Hastings and A. R. Pyne, resulted in a compromise vote in June to reappoint Dr. Sheard at an advance in salary of $1000 a year—making $6000—while at the same time he was relieved of the burden of looking after the street-the same time he was relieved of the burden of looking after the street-cleaning department.

While the first resignation was a simple request to be relieved of his duties, his message yesterday is from a pen that seems to have been dipped in gall. His reference to "the many disappointed cliques and influences existent, some of whom assume to voice public opinion," is plainly connected with the repeated attacks on the quality of the water being supplied the city. Whether the judicial enquiry now under way into the management of the Isolation Hospital, as regards safeguarding patients from cross-infection has influenced his action, is not indicated, except that his resignation is to take effect when that investigation is endedfi Dr. Sheard's usual modesty is abandoned, for he mentions as necessary qualifications for a successor "mental and physical vigor, independence and a universal knowledge." His letter in full reads:

The Resignation.

To His Worship the Mayor and inform the board of Control: Gentlemen,—I beg to inform the board of control and municipal council that upon the completion of the Isolation Hospital enquiry, I intend to at once vacate the position of medical health officer. I may say I accepted the office after my resignation, largely in consequence of the many personal appeals which I received from citizens of high and low so-cial standing that the London, Ont., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—In regard to the assertions made by the press of the country and by some public men concerning his attitude towards the French language and the interests of French-Canadian people, the Right Rev. Bedford frequently interrupted and wished to go into the whole question, as it appeared locally at Windsor. The chairman told him that he evidently did not understand the situa-tion. The private views of Windsor people did not interest the meeting, which had been called to discuss the application of the council.

It became evident at an early stage that there was no disposition to accord any special favors to Windsor in admitting the city to the power union. The strict letter of the agreement was stipulated for, and Mayor Geary led the way in asking questions with a view to prevent any advantage being overlooked, which should be shared with all the other municipalities. There appeared to be a fear that Windsor might sell her surplus power at a profit for her own benefit, and the resolution was framed to block that possibility. It became evident at an early stage

The display of Hoistein cattle was the best ever seen here and shows that this breed of cattle are rapidly coming to the front. There were some good herds of Ayrshires and a number of fine Durhams. James Russell of Richmond Hill, the veteran breeder of Durhams, was the sole judge.

The grounds never looked better, while the town itself was in gala attire. Many of the leading agriculturiats from all parts of the county were present, among others Reeve McMurchy and Deputy Reeve Phillips of King Township, John Boag, Archie McCallum, ex-Warden L. L. Hartman, ex-Warden L. L. Hartman, ex-Warden Senaca Baker, W. D. Annis, Robert Ash, John T. Saigeon, Reeve Sam Foote, James Cameron, T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., J. A. M. Armstrong, James McLean, T. G. Paterson, J. G. Cornell and scores and scores of others.

Great interest centred in the speeding events, as well as in the show of light and heavy horses and in the draught. The first prize in the light classes and John Gardhouse in the show of light and heavy horses and in the draught. The first prize in the light classes and John Gardhouse in the light classes and Joh

Richmond Hill, the veteran breeder of Durhams, was the sole judge.

The poultry building was altogether too small to accommodate the exhibits, every available inch of room being taken up. The directors will another year require to take up the question of enlarging this as well as some of the other buildings. A progressive and go-ahead fair like Newmarket, in keeping with the town, cannot be restrained. Following the fair there was a high-class concert in the evening in the town hall, the building being crowded. Excellent accommodation crowded. Excellent accommodation was furnished at the several hotels and the Metropolitan Railway gave an unrivalled service thruout the fair.

The officers of the day were: J. H.
Proctor, president; R. F. Schmidt, 1stvice-president; W. F. Blanchard, 2nd vice-president; K. N. Robertson, treasurer, and William Keith, secretary.

Much That is New and Beautiful in The Autumn Showing of Wall Coverings

The Proper Corsets the First Step

The connection between costuming and corseting is so close and essential that the smartlygowned woman gives to the latter as careful thought as to the former. She sees to it that the foundation is right before attempting to build up a toilette of proper lines and curves. She buys her corset before her frock or suit. And such being the case, Miss Newport's visit is particularly timely. She is to be found in the new fitting rooms in the Corset Section, and will be pleased to give to customers the benefit of her experience and expert opinion.

A Few Representative Values from Our Corset Display.

Photographic Enlarging Lanterns

The popularity of the hand camera has led to the production of an enormous number of small negatives, the prints from which, when placed in albums, etc., are quite pretty and form interesting mementoes of holiday incidents, but when used for the decoration of the home, or hung on the walls of some exhibition, are dwarfed by the larger decorations and pictures. Many of these small negatives are capable of yielding enlargements of quite a considerable size, which when suitably framed give a picture which is a pleasure for us to live with, bearing as it does our own handiwork and individuality, which no bought picture can ever possess. Enlargements from small negatives are as a rule superior to small direct prints in pictorial quality; the process of enlargement gives a greater breadth and an atmosphere which are lacking in the small print.

A most interesting and educative hobby for the Winter evenings, is quite simple and easy to accomplish. We're showing Enlarging Lanterns at prices from $17.00

Draw for Saturday

The lawn bowlers will have a fitting wind-up on Saturday to a great year upon the green. No less than 120 rinks, or just 20 men short of an army of 500, will participate in the annual match, East v. West, on the seven larger Toronto lawns. It costs $1 per rink to play, the proceeds to go as usual to charity.

Richard Croker is the leading winning owner on the Irish turf this year. In Clonbern he has a fine 2-year-old colt, another Orby, he believes. The recent success of Clonbern in the race for the Phoenix Plate placed Croker at the head of the winning list. The former Tammany Chief has entered Clonbern for the big events of the Manchester meeting.

190 CARS AT CITY YARDS

Trade Good For Best Quality-Common Grades 15c to 30c Hundredweight Lower.

The railways reported 190 carloads of live stock for Wednesday and Thursday, consisting of 2426 cattle, 3483 hogs, 4822 sheep and lambs, 220 calves and 8 horses. The general quality of cattle was inferior, common and medium, with a few good and less of the choice. One buyer informed The World that he had been all over the market and could not find a choice well finished load out of the whole bunch.

The eastern cattle, of which there was a large number, were an inferior lot, and harder to dispose of than at any market this season. They were certainly no credit to the farmers that raised them. There was a good trade for any cattle that had anything approaching medium to good quality, at steady prices, but the inferior and common mongrels were slow sale at 20c to 30c per cwt. lower prices than on Tuesday last, and at the close of the market there were several loads unsold.

OUT OF THE BAG.

Yesterday The Globe gave prominence among its editorial paragraphs to an extract from The Weekly Sun with which presumably it is in agreement. Discussing the proposal for agricultural preference between the United States and Canada, The Sun remarked that it would be surprising indeed if Canadian farmers were not in favor of reciprocity, and offered as convincing arguments comparative statements of prices of agricultural products and live stock, showing that these were considerably higher in United States cities than in Toronto. It concluded with an impassioned para. graph to the effect that to suppose Canadian farmers would in such circumstances be otherwise than favorable to reciprocity, is to suppose that they are what Carlyle once said of the people of England, mostly fools.

Both The Weekly Sun and The Globe are professedly free trade organs, and their favorite cry is the benefit to the mass of the people coming from cheap prices. But what is their practical application of this theory? This demand for reciprocity in agricultural products is unabashedly admitted to have for object the raising of prices for these products in Canada. This is evident since the effect of reciprocity under present conditions would be to level up prices here with those ruling in the United States, Agriculturists in the United States will have something to say to this naive policy, but Canadians will be interested also in the frank avowal that reciprocity in agricultural products is not asked for the benefit of the Canadian consumer, but for sectional interests. The cat is let out of the bag at last.

"THE PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK." Considerate of the disappointment occasioned to many thru the closing of the Royal Alexandra Theatre, consequent on the death of the late King. Mr. Johnston Forbes-Robertson will present next week "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in anticipation of his New York season. That he has arranged to do this is no slight proof of the regard he has always expressed for this city, and it will increase his justly earned popularity. Mr. Robertson is the most intellectually sympathetic and artistic actor on the modern stage, and his interpretative genius has had provided an admirable vehicle in Mr. Jerome's very suggestive play. The theatre is not without hope betterment when a dramatic work of The Toronto World this class can hold public attention so closely since its appeal is entirely to moral and religious sensibilities. Mr. Jerome has embodied a profound les-son in a series of striking episodes which reveal the soul of good in human nature however it may be buried in the trivial and commonplace. Mr. er who transforms the sordid atmosphere of a second-rate boarding house, reveals to its inmates their better selves, and gently leads them into the way of mutual helpfulness and selfsacrifice is wonderfully fascinating. "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" has done not a little to reconcile church and stage by disclosing how potent an influence for good the thehigher ideals and nobler purposes. Mr. Robertson's labors in this direction deserve full acknowledgement. HIS FATHER WAS A COLONEL.

regular guarantees. They were 240 miles from Niagara, and if they only took 4000 or 5000 h.p. the price would be $54 or $55. With gas at 12 cents per thousand power could be produced as cheap as this rate. The Toronto World had stated that the use of 15,000 h.p. by Windsor would reduce the rates all round by $2. He believed that was about correct. The other municipali-ties would also be benefited. Why, then, should they cut Windsor off the hydro-electric map? And not only Windsor but Ridgetown, Learnington, Kingsville and many other places? H: did not think it made any difference to the other municipalities what Windsor did with the power when they got it, whether they used it in the city, or turned it into the tunnel, or exported it. If they could not get that amount they could not have power at

Ald. Sheppard, Windsor, spoke on a Jew who gave up a horse and $10 to the objection to the exportation of boot, and he had retraded the animal power at Windsor. If the power was exported at Mindsor. If the power was exported at Miagara, it would do the province no good. If it was allowed to go over at Windsor it would help the whole country. It would save in the importation of coal $500,000 a year. The Rates.

Mr. Beck pointed out that the original estimate of the cost of the scheme was $8.479.000 To this had been added an extra protective system with spare insulators and the estimate had been insulators and the estimate had been increased to $3,637,000. The actual cost was only $3,330,000. Almost as many more municipalities as had first applied had come in since, and the new territory extended over 120 miles in the west. Chatham had applied for power, Mr. Beck stated. The rates for Windsor would be approximately $49 if 5000 horse-power was taken: $32 for Windsor would be approximately $49 if 5000 horse-power was taken; $33 for 10,000 horse-power; $28 for 15,000 horse-power, and $25 for 20,000 horse-power. Power at $45 would be no adyantage to Windsor, where cheap coal would make competition at that rate.

The World's estimate of a reduction of $2 per horse-power was quoted several times, and Mr. Beck showed that it was about correct for Toronto, where the Windsor scheme would en-able a ten per cent. reduction. London would get a 15 per cent. reduction, or perhaps $4 per horse-power, and Stratford at least ten per cent. As the Windsor power would partly pass over the Stratford loop to the extent of 5000 horse-power, this would double the load there, and therefore. the load there, and therefore cut the cost for the transmission line in two.

Mr. Beck intimated that while the ommission was not bound by the resolution, the views of the municipalities would have great weight. Their attitude was justified by the fact that the transmission line to St. Thomas had been built with double circuit towers and the municipalities had assumed the liability for this expense in excess of their own requirements, the commission having foreseen the need that had now arisen. The same was true of the Stratford loop. The muni-cipalities might consider themselves justified in asking for a division profits derived from power transmitted over this double circuit.

Not Sectional.

The word sectional, said Mr. Beck, had several times been used, as it had frequently been on the floor of the legislature. If ever there had been a public undertaking that was not sectional, he thought it was this scheme. It was intended to serve the whole province with power where it could be delivered under the cost of steam power.

He did not think the argument justified against Windsor that the application if granted would enable Windsor to reduce the cost of power or to reduce taxes. If London could sell 15,000 horse-power to a radial road there was no reason against it. If Toronto could use 15,000 and Hamilton 1000 horse-power, why should Hamilton grudge Toronto the large consumption? There arose the question of export.

There arose the question of export. There was perhaps some justification if the municipalities objected. He understood that a company composed of Canadian gentlemen and one or two Americans had secured a charter for the export of power. The power was to be used outside Windsor. The commission could dictate as to the sale, the territory and as a synchronic land. the territory and as to export. It was intended to encourage Americans and others to locate at Windsor. If a sale was made to Detroit, the power could be canceled or d iscontinued at the will of the commission. Two or three thousand horse-power would be used in the tunnel.

A Great Help.

As to the broad principle, he exhibited a letter from Gen. Green, vice-president of the Ontario Power Co., dated June 6, 1906, before the commission was constituted, in which the company's intention was announced to build a bee-line transmission cable to Detroit. This intention prevailed from 1504. It had been evident that the use of 15,000 horse-power at the tunnel and the City of Detroit would greatly facilitate the construction of a line across Ontario. Anything the company might have done in this regard was within their right to export one-half their power or all of it if the power was returnable when wanted. The commission felt they were not doing commission felt they were not doing their duty to the people until they had secured an option on 100,000 horse-

HOME FOR EPILEPTICS

One of the Aims for Social Reform Secretary.

The general board of the department of temperance and moral reform of the Methodist Church was in session vesterday.

yesterday.

Rev. S. D. Chown, general secretary, believed it desirable for the unification of our people that in the schools thruout the Dominion, children of every race should be instructed in one or both of the official languages of the country, rather than in foreign tongues.

Rev. H. S. Magee, field secretary, stated his intention of doing something in a strenuous way toward establishing a home where epileptics and feeble minded would be taken care of. It was also his hope that legislation may be obtained to deal with men and women assistant as as to protect society. obtained to deal with men and women so afflicted, so as to protect society. A deputation from the Society of Christian Stewards asked the co-operation of the board toward the extension of systematic giving. A request was also made by the treasurer for an additional $6000 for the carrying on of the work for the coming year.

tional $6000 for the carrying on of the work for the coming year.

Rev. J. W. Aikens, the newly appointed field secretary reported flavorably on the work being carried on in Newfoundland, and expected that a campaign would soon be working, that would wipe out entirely the liquor traffic in that country.

BANKERS ARE SATISFIED Do Not Wish Any Changes In the Present Act.

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—
The meeting of the executive of the Canadian Bankers' Association, to be held in Toronto in a few days, recalls to the business and financial mind that modifications to the Banking Act will be the order of the day during the coming session of the Dominion Parliament

A visit to the leading banks in this city, and a conversation with a good many of their customers, reveals the fact that they want to be left alone. The one prominent feature of the present banking situation is in the fact that there has not been a single bank in Canada to go under whose charter was obtained after the present law came into force. The Banks of Yarmouth, St. Johns, St. Hyacinthe, and the Ontario Bank would never, so it is claimed, have obtained charters under the Banking Act as at present constituted.

The question of an independen in-spector has been talked about, but it is understood that neither the finance minister, or the Bankers' Association have any desire to change the present

AN UNENVIABLE NOTORIETY Two Alleged Murderers to Be Tried at Peterboro, PETERBORO, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Peterboro County is gaining considerable notoriety as a crime centre, Not long ago Robert Henderson was hanged here for the murder of Miss Mc-Pherson at Norwood, and now there are two prisoners likely to come up before Sir John Boyd at the high court here on Oct. 25, on the charge of mur-der. They are James Gorham of Peterboro, who shot and killed his mother while firing at a policeman, and Hugh Deline of Belmont, the alleged wife murderer. G. N. Gordon of Peterboro is retained to defend Deline.

MAY LOCK OUT 300,000.

BERLIN. Sept. 22.—The metal working employes organization met to-day and voted to lockout the organized workmen in the trade October 8, unless work before that date. The employers estimate that 300,000 workmen will be affected by the lockout.

in the Toronto stock market to-day. In several cases good profits were presented to holders, and, as these were taken advantage of, the market for the shares naturally reacted. This was most pronounced in Rio and Sao Paulo, the prices for which subsided a couple of points from yesterday on profit-taking. While reactions occurred in these issues, there were at the same time rapid advances made in Winnipeg Railway, Toronto Rails and Mackay common. These cross channels in the market are not representative of any special developments, and can only be explained by concentrated buying, and where selling has not become a matter of importance. Altho the market is attracting a much larger speculative following, the investment buying is also awakening, as the transactions in Maple Leaf preferred, Canada Permanent, and some of the bond issues show. NEW YORK, Sept. 22 .- Compilations of national banking conditions in the different states show varying condi-tions, and, following those made pub-lic the other day, the figures are at hand for ten states. Of these, the most important is Pennsylvania, where there is a legal reserve of over $70,-000,000. In Ohio, the percentage of legal reserves is a trifle larger, but deposits exceed loans and discounts by only $16,000,000. Conditions in Indiana are a little bit stronger, and in Wisconsin and Idaho are comparatively strong. In some other states, however, the showing is not satisfactory. Loans and discounts in Utah are within $300,-000 of individual deposits. In North Dakota they exceed individual deposits by nearly $200,000; in Kentucky, loan and discounts are larger than deposits

The movement in Little Nipissing stock yesterday was explained by reason of the rumor that the company was dickering with the Peterson Lake Co. for an extension of their leasehold property, and had tendered for a sec-tion of the Peterson Lake claim adjoining the present Little Nip holding.

Fraud Scheme Nipped in Bud. While in the jail awaiting trial for conspiracy to defraud his employers, the R. & O. Navigation Co., for which he was later sent to the Central Prison for six months, Fred Hess met Ernest Wright, who has been sent back to Lincoln, Neb., to complete a five-year term and who was serving 30 days in jail for theft of a rifle. He talked with him, and the wily Wright wrote to Hess' mother in Newark, N. J., in the name of her son, asking that she send $75. She detected the difference in the handwriting and wired to the Toronto police to know if her son is really suffering from typhoid fever at 216 Wellesley-street, as described in the letter.

A RETRACTION.

In relation to the statement in Wednesday's World relative to wash sales on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, it has been found after investigation that The World's informant was entirely misled in his ideas of the transactions on the board. A representa-tive of The World was invited to inspect a broker's books to the validity of the transactions in Peterson Lake shares, and it was found that these were perfectly legitimate dealings. The exchange itself has rigid rules against what is termed wash sales, and a heavy penalty is imposed on any mem-ber found violating this rule. Standard Stock and Mining Exchange

SIGNS OF BUOYANCY

At the close of the Standard Stock Exchange to-day there were more buyers than sellers at the market prices. This is the best evias we have frequently predicted. Many of the Cobalt shares are still low and offer great speculative possibilities for advances.

We still advise purchases of all the active stocks.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE Desirable for Military as Well as Trade Purposes. Speaking on the subject of the Hudson Bay route before the Empire Club yesterday, L. S. Amery of The London Times, who accompanied Earl Grey on his northern tour this summer, said it was practicable. He advocated the building of the Hudson Bay Railway because it was essential for the safety and defence of Can-ada that she should embark upon the opening of a transporta-tion line which would give Canada the depth she needs, and give canada the depth she needs, and give her a back door by which she can get in reinforcements when necessary. It was also advisable for promoting closer trade relations with the mother country and to prevent any sentiment being foster-ed in the west towards joining the republic to the south.

At 12.45 to-day Mr. Amery will address the Canadian Military Institute, and at 4 p.m. will speak before the tory of Music Hall, on "The Political Gonditions in South Africa."
