WAY OF PROFITEER IS NOT CHRISTIAN, DR. GRENFELL SAYS

Sees Greater Faith Every Time He Comes Out of Labrador.

A plea for faith and by it a recognition of the life of sacrifice as the one of true value constituted the essence yesterday of the university sermon preached in convocation hall by Dr. W. T. Grenfell.

Taking as his text passages from the New Testament, in which the law student was given as directions for his salvation the loving of the Lord with all his heart, and of his neighbor as himself, Dr. Grenfell continued by describing the present age as one in which a conflict raged between pure science and pure faith.

Thus, Dr. Grenfell pointed out, the problem of the New Testament law student was still current. Men were still asking the way to salvation, and were with more upon the answer.

BODY OF WOMAN
FOUND ON TRACK

Work in order to shorten the distance of his trip usually follows a small (post) which crosses the main road yards west of the crossing, and runs along a narrow strip of land between the crossing and the main road, which is known as the "cut" or "cut-in" track. It is here that the body of the woman was found, about eight yards west of the spot where the footpath crosses the main road. About thirty yards further along he found the upper section of the body, where it had apparently been dragged along under the engine. Examination of the body, which was found within the northern rail where the body had been dragged west for a distance of about 120 yards, led him to believe that the woman had been murdered. There is the possibility that the woman had been run over by the train and the body was pushed into the cut by the engine. This might also account for the position of the body. The woman's skull and other head injuries, and would also show that the train that had struck the woman was going west.

Six Explosions and Much Rifle Firing Terrify Inhabitants.

TO CONSOLIDATE MISSION FORCES

Bishop Sweeney Points to China as Becoming Factor of Importance

Extending his theme of leagues of brotherhood, so graphically presented during the past few Sundays at St. Agnes' Cathedral, the Right Rev. Bishop Sweeney yesterday morning denounced his series of addresses upon the work and purposes of the great convention. The Lambeth conference of the British Episcopal Church, no less, urged the need of consolidating the missionary forces of all the sects among churches, the Christian people to one end, the promulgation of the Gospel of Jesus of Nazareth to the peoples of all races through the world. In other words, emulate the Christian sects and churches in Canada in the field of missionary endeavor, and unite with those of other countries to present a united Christian body, presenting the teachings of the Master, eliminating in this one phase of work all sense of sectarian differences and all lines drawn in front of those who know not the Christian doctrine. Thus, if the congregations of all the sects so designated, the Anglicans, Baptists, Catholics, Methodists, Presbyterians, and Roman Catholics could send missionaries to India, China, Africa and other countries to present a united Christian body, presenting the teachings of the Master, eliminating in this one phase of work all sense of sectarian differences and all lines drawn in front of those who know not the Christian doctrine.

See Some Difficulties. The bishop pointed out that in some countries, as, for instance, China, this realization of a united Christian body of action was already becoming a factor of paramount importance in missionary work with far-reaching results. There were, however, insuperable difficulties encountered in work of this nature, and among these were two of outstanding note: (1) The inherent difficulty of maintaining the standards of their sires, and to combat the energetic efforts of missionaries to topsy-turvy the idealism of the men and women of non-Christian lands into the healthy and more virile standards of Christianity; (2) The fact that in some oriental countries, the Gospel of the natives, but, perhaps, more definitely in its effect than any other influence was the Western woman who called themselves Christian.

SAYS RETURNED MEN ARE BADLY TREATED

Veteran Complains to Mayor Church and Alleges Unfair Deals

The following letter from a "returned soldier" has been received by Mayor Church: "I am complaining to you about the treatment some of the returned men are getting at the hands of the officials of the D.S.C.R. hospitals, also at the hands of pension commissioners. One man, now at the age of 60, who served his country for two years and now is crippled up with rheumatism was forced to sell all he had in this world in August last, himself so crippled—no able to work— that he had to come to appeal to friends rather than to accept charity. "Now sir, in the face of the winter, where there are two people to a room, the board of pension just granted this man $7.50 per month, and one doctor had the nerve to ask why he enlisted. The same doctor "boarded" the same old man and awarded him $7.50 per month. Is there no justice? Are they to become paupers the rest of their lives? The doctor at 184 Spadina has informed this man a hundred times that they cannot to him any good as his age is against him, but insist on taking the old man to the hospital and leaving his sick wife among strangers. Surely there could be some home found in the city of Toronto where this couple could live in comfort, without having to accept charity from the patriotic fund, where a man has to make his whole life history up before he could obtain a few dollars to keep from starvation. "I can tell you there are hundreds of cases in the city of Toronto very much like the one described and now a prominent military case leaving the D.S.C.R. hospital, where I can honestly say it is a game of bluff. They take men in for treatment and stop the case, and you have any good—perhaps the city relief officer will grant enough comfort to his wife to tide her over winter. So, once again, I appeal to you to look to such cases, as there are a great many."

DICKENS FELLOWSHIP INAUGURATES SEASON

Set Goal for Thousand Members and Endowment of Another Children's Cot. Bell Smith, A. G. Bostance, Miss Ethel Stock, Miss Dora Stutchbury, A. T. C. M., and A. E. S. Smythe delivered interesting readings, gave short and witty addresses and sang a number of much appreciated violin and other musical selections at the opening of the Dickens Fellowship held on Friday night at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. The fellowship is making a drive for a thousand members. Late comers found difficulty in getting seating accommodation. The fellowship is to endow another cot at the Sick Children's Hospital. Among the many selections presented was the address of Sergeant Buzzard, a delightfully quaint character familiar to all lovers of Dickens. Miss Rosestone taking the part well. Miss Edith Stocks rendered "Tenby's" with a very effective and Mr. Smith gave an interesting study of "Horatio Sparkins," another Dickens character. The president, Mr. Smythe, in his opening address, summarized the ideals of the fellowship as brotherhood expressed in wide sympathy and understanding so well, in his address, as said, in a recent address of the Bishop of Toronto upon the work of the Lambeth conference, in which the bishop had expressed the opinion that men and women were manifestations of God, and being so should realize their responsibility one to the other.

CHILD CROSSED SEA TO FIND HER MOTHER

Seven-Year-Old Girl Aided by Salvation Army in Search

Along with twenty-two other little ones, little Ethel Board, whose father died on Flanders' Fields, came over to Canada from England on the S.S. "Empress of Britain" on a conducted tour in charge of the Salvation Army. She arrived at the Union Station on Tuesday night last, but no mother was there to greet her, although brothers and sisters and mothers greeted all the other little Ethels who were then cared for by Adjutant Weeks, of 297 George street, and in the meantime, the army tried to locate the mother who lived at 52 1/2 Church street, a year ago, but who recently moved to Parkdale, and who whereabouts are now unknown. Adjutant Weeks stated to the World on Saturday that he would get in touch with the Salvation Army authorities in London by cable, and then with the little girl's aunt, and that every means would be taken to locate the mother, and to get her to give them everything that "love and solitude" do for them. There was no doubt, however, that the mother was not far distant, and hope would soon come. To the World, little Ethel, who is seven years of age, stated that she would not know her mother if she saw her because it was so long since she has seen her. She is a gentle, rather tall child of apparently lovable disposition.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By Helen Rowland. Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc. IT TAKES nine women to make a man—and then, maybe, the tenth marries him, and has to make him all over again. We all live to learn, but some men seem to "live" such an awful lot in order to learn such a very little. Instinctive chivalry is what makes a man say that he "failed to win" a woman, when he really means that he succeeded in losing her. If the average man displayed the same ingenuity and tenacity of purpose in his work that he does in his domestic life, we should all be married to millionaires. A woman always wants to peep at the "last page" of her flirtation or romance, to see how it is going to turn out, and thus spoil the whole story for the man. Life is full of jobs for the girl who expects her flowers to look like those in the seed catalog, a man to make love like the heroes in the movies, a servant to be as respectful and efficient as those paragons on the stage, and a husband to be as interesting and romantic as he was during courtship. The anti-suffragists predict sadly that women will do most of their campaigning with smiles and kisses. Well, perhaps—but a wide smile is more convincing than a foolish speech and a genuine kiss should be more persuasive than a specious argument, any day! When an authoress marries, she stops drawing on her imagination for her love scenes and sentimental passages, and begins writing them entirely from memory. The fall housecleaning may increase the percentage of cleanliness, but it certainly seems to take away all a husband's cordliness.

ATTRACTIONS FOR TORONTO THEATRES

William Faversham at Royal "Monsieur" Beaucaire" for Princess

At the Princess Theatre tonight will be revealed works of international importance in Gilbert Miller's London production of Andre Messager's romantic opera, "Monsieur Beaucaire," founded on Booth Tarkington's famous story, with practically the original London and New York casts, including the American baritone, Marion Green. The performance of this remarkable piece delighted the public as well as the critics, and has also created a furore in Boston, where it immediately will be produced. The cast of its stock of superlatives in praising the singing, the acting, the settings, the costumes, and the music, and the general brilliance of the whole presentation. It was conceded that M. Messager has written the most beautiful and melodious music since the days of the "Bohème." The Tarkington story serves as a picturesque background for the adventures of the dashing Duke of Orleans, who escaped from France to England disguised as a barber, forced his way into the society at Bath, fell desperately in love with Lady Mary Carlisle, suffered humiliating exposures, and finally triumphed over all his enemies, has as much poignancy today as when it served Richard Mansfield as a play. A large augmented orchestra will assist in the interpretation of the score. The play is Toronto will have the distinction of being the only city in Canada to witness a series of performances of Booth Tarkington's latest comedy, "Clarence." The organization will come directly from Cleveland, and then immediately after the engagement in Toronto will go to Buffalo for a week's stay. "Clarence" last produced a year ago, but nearly all of the best season it remained in New York and Chicago, where it was regarded as the best work for the stage that had come from the pen of Mr. Tarkington. In the cast are Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Grace Elkies, Robert Adams, Florence Fair, Byron Beasley, Clara Blaisdell, Guy Emsary, Joe Wallace and James F. Ford. The Toronto engagement will open with a Thanksgiving Day matinee on Monday at the Princess Theatre.

BOYS START FIRE IN TORONTO MILL

Small boys searching for a lost fountain pen nib with matches caused an outbreak of fire at J. Lawlor's shoddy mill, a two-story frame structure, Nos. 619 and 613 Eastern avenue, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, resulting in loss to the extent of $1500 and damages to the adjoining dwellings, 614 Eastern avenue, a two-story frame house, occupied by J. Lawlor, of 125, and 608 Eastern avenue, and the Beaches station, received a severe cut in the hand from an iron bar during the progress of the fire, and got first aid from Dr. McNeve, 1909 East Queen street, afterwards proceeding to his home.

ROMANTIC GIRLS AT GAYETY

The Roseland Girls, the widely-heralded burlesque review with two of America's leading comedians, Bert Lahr, and Harry Kay, will make their annual appearance in Toronto at the Gayety Theatre, beginning with the usual matinee this afternoon, for a week's engagement. "Before Afternoon That," in two acts and eight scenes, is the title of the musical farce. It should not be called a burlesque review, rather a burlesque review for it compares more with a Ziegfeld Follies troupe rather than a burlesque production.

BUKESQUE AT THE STAR

In view of burlesque having struck the popular fancy, the management of the Star Theatre in doubt concerning the sincerity of the mission that prompted the management to exercise its liberality in the expenditure as is said to be apparent in the "Girls From the Folies," which is due to start with a matinee today. From many points of interest, the "Girls From the Folies" is over-acted with advantages. To begin with there is little or no plot in the two burlesques, "Here and There" and "A Night in Paris," but a series of rapid-fire comedy scenes and humorous situations will be the "Girls From the Folies" a prestige not enjoyed by similar offerings.

"The Maid of the Mountains"

"The Maid of the Mountains," musical comedy, will be the offering at the Royal Alexandra Theatre for the week of Oct. 18, with Thanksgiving matinee. The piece will be presented here, by arrangement with the London company, including Fred. Fox and Vivie Dawn. The music is by Frederick Lonsdale, lyrics by Harry Graham, P. Clifford Harris and Valentine. The music by Harold Fraser-Simpson, with additional numbers by James W. Tate. "The Maid of the Mountains" has enjoyed a long run at the Lyric Theatre in London, and after a limited tour of some of the larger Canadian cities it will be taken to New York and Chicago. Seats on sale Thursday, Oct. 14.

"Paris Green" starring Charles Ray

"Paris Green," starring Charles Ray, will be presented at the Lyric Theatre on Friday and Saturday. The play is another of his inimitable country boy roles—a doughboy in Paris who meets a chic little French maid. The play is packed with fun and the joy of life. The Chaffin Sisters, in descriptive dance novelties, and Lynton and Roberts, presenting "The Village Blacksmith," share the vaudeville honors. Other entertaining acts embrace Crew and Pates, in "Ha, Ha, Ha," Bonner and Power, in musical broadway, Bubbie Bernice, and the Four Juggling Lovers. "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons, and a Sunshine comedy round off the bill.

ST. JOE'S UPTOWN TONIGHT

Six big vaudeville attractions and two feature motion picture productions are included in the bill for the week at the St. Joe's Theatre, Yonge street, at the corner of King and Bay streets. There are eight of the most skilled people who, with their original material, and amid luxurious settings will contribute a volume of thrilling entertainment. A special feature of the bill is the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoon, which will be presented by the High Five Amusing and Walton Peers Trio, and Nelson's "Kattand" make the bill extremely fascinating.

PROPOSAL TO DRIVE ST. LAWRENCE THROUGH COLLEGE

Robt. Reford of Shipping Federation Fears Dangerous Fluctuations in Levels DENIED BY CHAIRMAN

Montreal, Oct. 10.—Further opposition was made Saturday to the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway scheme by the shipping federation before the international waterway commission, in session here. Robert W. Reford, president of the federation, maintained that navigation interests on the St. Lawrence required all the depth of water available between Montreal and the sea, and that it dims and lowers the ground level. In conjunction with the proposed system of deep waterways there might be a tendency to store up water during the winter months, and to lower the levels of the river below Montreal.

SOME FAVOR GEORGIAN ROUTE

It was also contended that ocean-going vessels could not be economically operated in the lake trade. The federation was of the opinion that there should be no international system of canals in Canada which was not absolutely under the control of the Dominion government. It rather favored the Georgian Bay canal scheme, which would open up territory in Quebec and Ontario.

CHIEF OF COMMISSIONER

The chairman of the commission presided over by Mr. Reford about operating dams interfering with the flow of the river below Montreal, and later witnesses in the Dominion declared that it would not interfere at all with the flow of water. He added that the St. Lawrence ought to have been dammed at the head of the river below Montreal, so as to do away with the continual dredging that was going on.

The inquiry was concluded and the commission will proceed on Monday to Woodstock, Ont., for its next sitting.

ATTRACTIONS FOR TORONTO THEATRES

William Faversham at Royal "Monsieur" Beaucaire" for Princess

At the Princess Theatre tonight will be revealed works of international importance in Gilbert Miller's London production of Andre Messager's romantic opera, "Monsieur Beaucaire," founded on Booth Tarkington's famous story, with practically the original London and New York casts, including the American baritone, Marion Green. The performance of this remarkable piece delighted the public as well as the critics, and has also created a furore in Boston, where it immediately will be produced. The cast of its stock of superlatives in praising the singing, the acting, the settings, the costumes, and the music, and the general brilliance of the whole presentation. It was conceded that M. Messager has written the most beautiful and melodious music since the days of the "Bohème." The Tarkington story serves as a picturesque background for the adventures of the dashing Duke of Orleans, who escaped from France to England disguised as a barber, forced his way into the society at Bath, fell desperately in love with Lady Mary Carlisle, suffered humiliating exposures, and finally triumphed over all his enemies, has as much poignancy today as when it served Richard Mansfield as a play. A large augmented orchestra will assist in the interpretation of the score. The play is Toronto will have the distinction of being the only city in Canada to witness a series of performances of Booth Tarkington's latest comedy, "Clarence." The organization will come directly from Cleveland, and then immediately after the engagement in Toronto will go to Buffalo for a week's stay. "Clarence" last produced a year ago, but nearly all of the best season it remained in New York and Chicago, where it was regarded as the best work for the stage that had come from the pen of Mr. Tarkington. In the cast are Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Grace Elkies, Robert Adams, Florence Fair, Byron Beasley, Clara Blaisdell, Guy Emsary, Joe Wallace and James F. Ford. The Toronto engagement will open with a Thanksgiving Day matinee on Monday at the Princess Theatre.

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 11.

How Shall We Market Our Canadian Wheat?

The wheat growers of the continent are appalled by the untended market and falling prices for wheat. The farmers of Kansas and the southwest are calling upon one another to stand out for three-dollar wheat, and Governor Allen of Kansas has requested the president to embargo the further importation of wheat from Canada.

Europe must have the wheat, and Canadian farmers must have the money, but the question of the hour is how to bring the buyers and sellers together. We have no doubt that the British government is in a position to take a large quantity of Canadian wheat and would be willing to take it at a reasonable price.

The whole situation hinges largely on the needs of Europe. We know France has a bumper crop, more than can be consumed by her own people, and that Great Britain has a good crop, far more than she ever produced before the war, which the home government has agreed to buy at a fixed price.

All these things make for a bear market, but we have no doubt that a good deal of manipulation is going on on the grain exchanges, and that wheat will go to a much higher price after the farmer has parted with it. The farmer as a rule cannot afford to carry over his wheat, and the speculator has no scruple against trading on his necessity.

Mr. Harding Scraps the League of Nations.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president of the United States, can no longer be accused of trimming or pussyfooting around the league of nations issue. He told a vast audience at Des Moines the other night that his attitude toward the peace treaty, including the covenant of the league of nations, was not one of reservation but one of negation.

The flat-footed declaration of Mr. Harding against the league of nations is significant. For months he attempted to hold in line the irreconcilables, like Senators Johnson and Borah, and the pro-leaguers, like former President Taft, Hon. Elihu Root, and Hon. Charles E. Hughes.

surmise that his frankness and courage are predicated upon reports received from all over the country, to the effect that public opinion throughout the United States is strongly against entering into the league of nations or any other European entanglements.

Mr. Harding was practically certain of being elected before he made his Des Moines speech, and there is nothing to show that the speech has injured his chances. He made it, probably, not to catch votes, but to hold votes. He is now sure of William Johnson and the state of Illinois, and Senator Borah and the enemies of the league, and he takes it for granted that Mr. Taft and the other pro-league Republicans will have no choice but to be "regular" at the coming election.

Mr. Harding's election will probably steady the financial and commercial situation in the United States. It will mean the raising of the tariff to a height that may be needed for the protection of American industry, and it will also mean putting back the tariff duties on grains and live stock, which were torn down by the Wilson administration and led to large importations from western Canada.

The Color Line in Germany.

Germany seems to be doing a good deal of fault-finding, apparently not appreciating how well she escaped some of the worst consequences that might have been anticipated from the occupation of territory, the export of coal from the Saar valley to France, and the crushing weight of the indemnity. All these things were provided for by the peace treaty, to which Germany assented, and the creditor nations, including Canada, are still looking with daily dwindling hopes to some actual cash as their share of the indemnity.

The Germans also objected during the war to Algerians being brought into the fighting line, and were very indignant over the "black American" who made up 10 per cent of the American Expeditionary Force. Whether they would have been quite so scrupulous about using colored troops had they possessed any of their own to use, we may seriously doubt.

Our neighbors to the south would no doubt be embarrassed were a similar complaint addressed to them. They might sympathize with and understand better than the French the German standpoint, and yet they could hardly discriminate against the colored citizen, who, after all, has lived for centuries on American soil, and is the one American who has no other country or no other national affiliations.

Remarked in Passing.

Safety week—Stop, Look, Listen! Canadian crops are reported ahead of all records—that means good business throughout the coming winter. Perhaps some of that 5,000-year-old wheat that has been found in ancient Egyptian ruins was put there by farmers who would be satisfied with no less than three dollars a bushel.

"EXHIBIT A"

SAFETY WEEK

has not yet been decided whether or not the coal is there in quantities that will make it of use to the people of Ontario. That is a question the provincial government must find out. It will cost little to send men and machinery to investigate, and the importance of the possible discovery is so great that no time can be lost in getting the question settled.

CANADIAN CROPS BEAT ALL RECORDS

Two Dollar Wheat Expected—United States Lags in Values. Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—The total field crops of Canada will this year reach nearly 1,500,000,000 bushels, while the products of hay and corn will exceed 25,000,000 tons, as compared with over 1,000,000,000 bushels of grain and 20,000,000 tons of hay and corn in 1919.

It is estimated that the price of 1920 wheat will average $2 per bushel, said Mr. Walker. The field crops of Canada represent about $170 per head of the population, as compared with $110 per head in the United States.

REPUBLICANS MUST BUILD UPON TREATY

Carrying Out This Promise Is a Test, Says Herbert Hoover. Indianapolis, Oct. 9.—Herbert Hoover, entering the presidential campaign in behalf of the Harding-Coolidge ticket, with an address here today, declared that the major issue was party responsibility, and expressed his high views on the league of nations.

"Inasmuch as forty nations, comprising three-quarters of the people of the globe, have embraced the league of nations as a term expressing certain ideas, I prefer that term, but I care little for terminology," said Mr. Hoover. "The essential thing is that the Republican party has pledged itself by platform, by the actions of its majority in the senate, by the repeated statements of Senator Harding, that they undertake the fundamental mission to put into living being the principle of an organized association of nations for the preservation of peace. The carrying out of that promise is the test of the practical development of a league is that some articles in the present treaty must be abandoned and some added. But a great many parts of the present treaty are good and interesting with the stability of the world."

Machin $1,000 for the use of his influence in securing timber concessions. Col. Machin denied all the features of Greer's evidence reflecting upon him. Copies of Col. Machin's book were presented and they failed to show any deposit that would corroborate Greer's evidence.

FRANCE TO CONFER ON REPARATION QUESTION

Paris, Oct. 9.—France replying to the request recently made by Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, for a conference on the reparations question, agrees in general with the British note, but contends that the agreement reached at Spa last June for a conference at Geneva on this subject contemplated only the gathering of a commission of experts, according to the foreign office today. The French note, which was despatched last night, holds to the theory that the meeting would be simply a preparatory hearing, the final decision being left to the higher authorities.

WOOD WANTS $2.50 FOR WESTERN WHEAT

Government Could Set Minimum Price Without Loss to Itself. Calgary, Oct. 9.—The setting of a minimum price for wheat, which should be no less than $2.50 a bushel, is probably the only means now open to the government to counteract the ill-effect of the abolition of the wheat board. This is the opinion of H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta.

If this minimum price be set, and a thoroughly capable man appointed to handle the wheat purchased by the government, Mr. Wood believes that the government would yet be able to clean up the crop of 1920 without loss to itself.

THE HOUSE 'ROUND THE CORNER

By GORDON HOLMES

CHAPTER IX. SHOWING THE REAL STRENGTH OF AN ILLUSION.

Armathwaite went straight to Farmer Burt's house. He reasoned that Burt would be a likely possessor of a smart cob, and that among the farm hands would exist at least one boy of sufficient intelligence to carry thru a simple commission without error. He was lucky in finding the farmer at home, watering his stock before completing the hay-making operations. In the bleak north the agriculturist wastes no time when the weather is propitious. If need be, Burt and his men would work till nearly midnight, and feel well pleased if thereby the last rick of dry, sweet-smelling hay was covered with a tarpaulin.

Explained by ample payment, produced both the boy and the cob. In the result, the following telegram was handed in, at Belleury postoffice ten minutes before the closing hour of eight: "Postmaster, York.—Kindly give this telegram and accompanying ten pounds to proprietor of principal garage in York. I want to hire powerful and reliable car with experienced chauffeur for one week at least. Will pay full rates on condition of telegraphing acceptance of offer, with name and address, early tomorrow, paying postage, which will be refunded.—Armathwaite, The Grange, Elmdale, via Belleury."

It was a singular fact that the really effective means of burking inquiry by the local authorities only occurred to Armathwaite's perplexed brain as he was hurrying back to the Grange. When all was said and done, who in Elmdale actually knew that the erstwhile Stephen Garth was living? His daughter and Percy Whitaker! He, Armathwaite, could not even be certain that Whitaker had ever seen the man. Well, then, Marguerite had only to vow that her earlier statement was a sheer invention, a species of joke inspired by the worst possible spite—and Stephen Garth would rest quietly in his grave!

The pretense left the mystery insoluble as ever when the girl herself was concerned, but that phase of the difficulty might be dealt with in the privacy of her own home. The chief drawback—an official inquiry, with its far-reaching developments—would be surmounted. The Jacksons might be trusted to forget everything they had heard that day. There remained James Walker. Well, his evidence was discredited at the outset. Armathwaite himself would be a most convincing witness against Walker. It would be easy to show that the pushful and amorous youth who had bluffed his way into the house in order to insult a lady who would have nothing to do with him, and was forcibly ejected by the new tenant, had fallen into a singular and most amazing blunder when he said that Marguerite Garth had told him that her father was still alive.

The more Armathwaite reviewed this possible way out of a really threatening situation, the more he liked it. The surprising thing was that he had not thought of it sooner. Even Percy Whitaker's confounded impertinence in telegraphing to his sister was robbed of its sting. Suppose the police got wind of the message, they would make little of it. How did it run? "Meg greatly dis-

RENT COURT FOR TORONTO URGED

Mayor Church Secures Data on Results Gained in Buffalo.

BLAMES LEGISLATION

Bill Thrown Out Would Have Achieved End, Says Mayor.

(From Sunday World.) Mayor Church has been gathering information concerning the effect of rent profiteering legislation adopted by New York State a year ago, and as a result of his investigation has concluded that a law such as he proposed last February, authorizing a rent court here, would solve the problem in Toronto.

The mayor made the following statement Saturday: "My bill with regard to a rent court, which passed the city council last February, but did not pass the legislature last April, would have filled the bill entirely, and I am confident that the attorney-general's department says, and would have got immediate and speedy results. "Give Free Hand. "Any regulation should not name a percentage, but whatever court is established should have a free hand to consider the cases and give a decision on the merits of the particular case before them, as each case is different. "The rent court in Buffalo has been operating since April, 1920, under the new landlord and tenant act, passed by the New York legislature, by which the courts are given the power to stay the execution of warrants for the eviction of tenants who have been unable to secure new quarters. They are also dealing with drastic regulations with regard to apartment houses. "The chief judge of the Buffalo court has written Mayor Church as follows: "Since April, 1920, the city court of Buffalo has been operating under a new set of landlord and tenant laws passed by the legislature, in which our judges have been authorized to fix rents of landlords and tenants, and in which we are given the power to stay the execution of warrants for the eviction of tenants, who, thru the housing conditions here, have been unable to obtain for themselves and family other quarters. "I might suggest that you communicate with the secretary of state, Albany, N.Y., who will send you the laws relative to the housing conditions."

Survey Apartments. An effort is being made to do something for the people with children who have been barred from apartment houses. His worship, the Assessment Commissioner Forman, who is now making a survey of the apartment houses of the city, to include in his questionnaire, particular as to lack of heating and any barriers raised by certain landlords against admitting families with children to their apartments. "Mr. Forman has a staff of sixteen men at work listing every apartment and rooming house in the city, with names of owners, rents charged, percentage of profits on investment, etc., and the information will probably be laid before the board of control next week.

WILL HANDLE ALL TRAFFIC. Mayor Church announced on Saturday that the city would hand over to the transportation commission all traffic on, under or above the streets, including subway, elevated or surface lines, either electric cars or motor buses. The members of the commission will have a conference with the board of control on Wednesday.

DIES FOLLOWING FALL FROM BALCONY

Foreigner Removed Home and Is Subsequently Found Dead in Bed.

When he fell from a balcony adjoining his room at the rear of 384 East Queen street, at 11 o'clock Friday night, Gavrilo Stojanovic, aged 30, a Serbian, received injuries which resulted in his death some time during the night. Mrs. Louis Feldman, owner of the house, found the man dead in his bed at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Stojanovic, according to the police, returned to his home at 11 o'clock on Friday night in an intoxicated condition. He went to his room and apparently had cause to go out onto the verandah, from which he fell to the street, a distance of about 14 feet. While lying on the street, with the blood issuing from a cut in the back of his head, and surrounded by several persons, Constable W. C. Campbell (477) appeared on the scene.

Campbell told The World on Saturday that he wanted to call the police ambulance and have the man removed to the hospital, but that he did not realize that the man was seriously injured, being of the opinion that his condition was due to inebriation and that he was merely stunned by the fall. He did not, however, carry out his intentions because four persons who were there offered to take the man inside and look after him. G. B. White, 4 Creechmore avenue, and Joseph Orstein, 382 East Queen street, were the two of the four who carried Stojanovic into the house. According to the story told by Mrs. Feldman, Stojanovic was carried in to the house by four men, but that she did not see him. She said that they put him in bed and put cold water on his head but did not summon medical assistance. When she went to the room next morning she could not wake him up. She says she then telephoned Dr. Mortimer Fleming, 535 East King street, and left a note to have the man taken to hospital. Dr. Fleming, when he arrived, pronounced death due to a fractured skull. Stojanovic was a married man and had a wife and family living in Serbia.

HEALTH OFFICER IS HONORED BY STAFF

Marks Tenth Anniversary of Dr. Hastings Appointment in Toronto.

Dr. Hastings, M. H. O., was on Saturday presented by his staff with a beautiful bouquet of roses and an address to mark the tenth anniversary of his appointment as city health officer. When asked if he had any message for Toronto on this anniversary, Dr. Hastings said: "Any message I might have would be one of appreciation of their co-operation during these ten years, and of the co-operation of the press. Ninety-nine per cent. of the results we have obtained have been due to education of the public in the necessities and possibilities of health reform. No one wants disease, much less her attendant, and when certain things are shown to be preventable, the public willingly come to the assistance of those who are trying to prevent them. In Toronto we have been able to demonstrate that, with sufficient organization and proper administration, a city can have within reasonable limits, as much health as it is willing to pay for. The results which we have secured reflect the utmost credit upon the loyal co-operation of our staff, which has enthusiastically entered into the spirit of the life-saving work which has been accomplished."

FORMER PASTOR PREACHES. Rev. J. Middleton preached yesterday at Malvern Methodist Church, where he commenced his ministry 24 years ago. He is now pastor-emeritus of Pope Methodist Church, East Toronto.

CONSIDER PURCHASE OF MOTOR BUSES FOR CITY

The transportation commission is considering the question of purchasing a number of motor buses for use at points where track repairing interrupts the regular service. When the work of widening the devil strip is undertaken motor buses may also be used to avoid the necessity of laying a temporary track on the roadway, as the T. S. R. has always done. The board of control will move this week to give the transportation commission power to operate motor buses in the handling of passengers.

TWO MOTHERS HOPE TO SEE SONS AGAIN

No Trace of Boys Who Disappeared a Week Ago, or of Canoe.

Surely "hope springs eternal in the human breast," for man is prone to believe what he would see happen. So even with the odds against it, two Toronto mothers are waiting for two Toronto boys to return home. The ladies, who are William Duke, 18, of 24 Howard street, and Forbes Nicol, 15, of 289 Spadina avenue, left New Kensington Monday afternoon and paddled their canoe due east. They have not been seen or heard of since, although the life-saving crew have dragged portions of the lake. None of the train crew was aware of the accident until notified. The names of the train crew are as follows: Engineer, William Farrance, 584 Bathurst street; fireman, G. Thompson, 46 Spadina avenue; brakeman, G. Eastman, 370 Sunnyside avenue.

No trace has been found of the canoe, however, which was of varnished basswood, containing one double paddle, two single paddles and several cushions. Both boys when they left were noticed to be without coats. They had gone to work Monday morning, but if they were stranded on unknown shores and made their way to a fruit farm.

DEDICATES MEMORIAL TO TORONTO AVIATOR

Before a large congregation, and with a solemnity befitting the occasion, Right Rev. Bishop Sweeney of Toronto yesterday morning at St. Albans cathedral dedicated a liturgical desk in memory of the late Lieut. James Pomeroy Cavers of the Royal Air Force to the service of the church. The dedication was the occasion of a short but impressive service immediately preceding the regular service, the bishop being assisted by the rector, Rev. Dr. Ribboux. The late Lieut. Cavers enlisted as a private with the Canadian forces early in 1915. He was wounded in 1916, received a commission, and paid the supreme sacrifice on Sept. 8, 1918. "While we sorrow with their irreparable loss, we may appreciate their pride and joy in the realization that their loved one reckoned naught of his life in the service of King and empire," said the bishop, in a short and impressive eulogy of the late soldier.

CONQUER THE TAX ON THRIFT.

"By a tax on the thrifty man that when a cultured mind asks for something better that costs more the man believes he is studying thrift and economy, two single dollars and several cents for suits over $45, and invited by cheaper cloth that costs twice as much in the end? The man of this party more than his share. "I have worked out a 'make-and-trim' method of selling Semi-ready clothes which eliminates this tax on all class," said Matty Mathewson of 703 Yonge street.

PROBE DEEPENING OF ST. LAWRENCE

The International Waterways Commission Will Meet in Toronto This Week.

The international waterways commission will hold sittings in Toronto on Tuesday, Wednesday, and possibly Thursday of this week, when evidence will be taken pertaining to the need of deepening the St. Lawrence canal and other waterways. Mayor Church said on Saturday: "The city of Toronto and the board of trade and other public bodies, including the harbor board, will have to show some activity if they are to get any results from the present commission investigating the deepening of the St. Lawrence canal. "I am not surprised at the selfish view of the chamber of commerce of Montreal took. It is in accord with the general policy to sidetrack Ontario. The deepening of the St. Lawrence canal will not interfere with navigation in the port of Montreal. "This is the most important question which has come before the people of Canada since confederation. Where do the Ontario government stand in this matter? So far they have done nothing to help along the cause of solving this problem, which will mean more to the farmers of eastern Ontario than any other agency. In addition to providing the equivalent of 4,000,000 tons of coal per annum. "The deepening of this canal will cheapen production and cause a revolution for good in the future development of transportation in Canada. "The steam roads have fallen down, only regulate but lessen rates and solve the high cost of living. "The headquarters of the steam roads are at Montreal, and they and the power companies and corporations there are doing their best to prevent the canal being deepened in the public interest of the whole country."

HOPES TO INDICT MILK PRICE FIXERS

Mayor Confers With J. W. Corley on Question of Milk Probe.

The statement was made by Mayor Church on Saturday to a World reporter that a bill of indictment would probably be brought in against some of the persons concerned in fixing the price of milk in Toronto His worship handed the following statement to the press: "The mayor had a conference with Mr. J. W. Seymour Corley, crown attorney, and City Solicitor Johnston, this morning, regarding milk prosecutions. "It is contended that the various milk committees and organizations are holding meetings and passing resolutions and having working arrangements among themselves, interfering with the production and sale of the commodity and its distribution, and also interfering with the law of supply and demand. All these matters automatically increase prices and enhance the price of milk. The mayor contends they are a restraint of trade. "The Ontario milk commission's report was nothing but a white wash of the milk producers, and the method of distribution, and the board of commerce, I believe, also have been called off and are meeting 'the other side,' as they call it. The board of commerce will never get anywhere as long as they enter these inquiries with all their doubts and fears, and are fast following the footsteps of the prior board of commerce, which got nowhere. "I deem it in the public interests that this action should be taken, and I have been authorized by the board of control to act for the city and have obtained counsel to assist in the inquiry. I have turned over the evidence the medical health officer has also the evidence of the recent milk inquiry, to Mr. Corley, who has power to investigate and advise whether a bill of indictment should not be brought in."

Toronto Humane Society Cares For Numerous Cats and Dogs

During the past three months more than a thousand cats have been handed by the Toronto Humane Society. Twenty-two of these have been placed in homes. During the same period, more than 400 dogs have received attention, 66 of them having been sent to various homes in the city.

This is the gist of a report issued by the general manager for the society, Major Osborne, who reports that the society was specially energetic during the Exhibition, when members of various animal troupes were dealt with respecting treatment of monkeys and horses. He states that a thousand emergency calls have received attention during the past three months.

AVOID ACCIDENTS IS WEEK'S SLOGAN

Chief of Police Urges Uniformity in Traffic Laws Thruout Continent.

"Be careful; prevent accidents." is the message for safety week, October 10 to 16. In the corresponding week of 1919, there were seven accidents in Toronto, some of them fatal, and the total fatal accidents in 1919 in Toronto were 241. Chief Constable S. J. Dickson has written to the Safety League as follows: "Having in mind the safety week, October 10 to 16, permit me to express briefly my views on the subject of safety so far as it effects the regulation of traffic upon the streets. "The problem of traffic regulation is one that has become so serious in all large cities that it is requiring the very best thought and study of leading police officials and representatives of organizations interested in the safety and welfare of the public. "I believe that all laws for street traffic regulation should be drawn in such a way as to make it safe for both pedestrian and vehicle driver. We should have conformity in traffic regulation thruout this continent; this, I believe, would be a factor in safety. The use of semaphores to regulate street traffic is, I consider another safety point. All vehicles including bicycles, should carry a light at night, and pedestrians should use the cross walks at street intersections instead of stepping off the curb in the middle of the block. This is the cause of accidents, as in many cases the pedestrian looks in the wrong direction. "In conclusion let me say that I find the work of the Safety League is being appreciated by all thinking citizens."
