PITS MATTER UP TO OTTAWA AND C. N. R.

Dr. Frink on Port Charges and Some Railway Points.

Commissioner Frink this morning referred to the action taken by the committee in reducing the port charges and said that, while this would lessen to some extent the handicap under which the port labored as compared with Portland the rates could not be equalized until the government railways and the state absorbed the charges here as they did at Portland.

The commissioner said it had been declared at a meeting of the port committee and council that one of the Donalson lines had been loaded last year at Portland, Montreal and St. John. The cost at St. John was $2,644 in excess of the cost at Portland and at Montreal the cost was $1,116 more than at Portland.

The commissioner said in this connection "The Government had a purpose in talking over the Grand Trunk Railway. They knew the head and shoulders of the Grand Trunk was in the United States and they knew equally well that its feet and legs were in the State of Maine. I cannot understand the utterances of such prominent men as Hon. Mr. Pugsley and Hon. Mr. Baxter that they would, if they had their way, either sell or scrap these parts of the plant and let the middle third in the province of Ontario in conjunction with the C. N. R. system."

"I cannot understand what motive was behind the acquiring of the Grand Trunk but I can understand why the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern were taken over, the first because the Government were the guarantors of the bonds and the latter to prevent a financial catastrophe which would have involved one of the leading financial institutions of the country."

"The Government knew what they were doing when they took over the Grand Trunk. Do they intend to die mantle it?"

BIG MEN INSPECT MONTREAL HARBOR

One of the most notable inspections of the port of Montreal in years was held on last Monday when 17 outstanding figures in Montreal's professional and business life visited the waterfront as the guests of the Harbor Commission.

While the occasion was planned to afford Sir Henry W. Thornton, K. B. E., chairman and president of the Canadian National Railway, an opportunity to become better acquainted with Canada's premier port, the commissioners also had in mind the presentation of the Shagshighs, Senator J. P. B. Casgrain, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Col. Herbert Morrison, Mr. W. B. Ross, Mr. J. A. Curry, F. E. Meech, K. C. J. W. McConnell, Harold Hampton, Hugh Akh, H. B. Walker, Col. W. F. de la Haye, Henry Joseph, Angus Kingman, Colin Campbell, and F. R. de Tremblay, all of Montreal, while others present were Sir Percy Bates, deputy chairman of the Cunard Line and Arthur F. Slade, private secretary to the Governor-General. Constituting the hosts were Dr. W. L. McDougall, president of the Harbor Board, Emilien Desautels and Milton C. Hersey, commissioner, and T. W. Harvie, general manager of the port.

Mounties Kill Immigrant Who Shot At One In Resisting Arrest

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Escaping from custody after being arrested on last Monday by immigration authorities at Emerson for illegal entry into Canada, John Pearson, Swedish laborer, 28 years old was later shot and instantly killed by constables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police when at the point of a revolver he resisted their efforts to apprehend him.

Pearson was just about to cross the border into the U. S. when Constables J. H. O'Brien and F. G. Loppes, of the R. C. M. P., who followed him in a car, sighted him and challenged Pearson to surrender. Constable O'Brien approached him with extended hands to indicate that he was unarmed. The fugitive in turn drew his revolver and fired point blank at the constable's head. The bullet missed its mark. Gilbert, drawing his own revolver, fired a full round at Pearson. Loppes also opened fire and Pearson fell dead.

POLICEMAN HAS NO DECISION YET MOTORMAN CALLED ON APPEAL MATTER

Brings Charges in Court in Traffic Matter in Mill Street.

John Rowley, a street car motorman, was summoned to court this morning to answer charges of neglecting to stop his car when ordered to do so by Traffic Policeman Quinn at the intersection of Pond and Mill streets on Oct. 28, also for refusing to give his name when requested and for starting his car without first receiving a signal from the traffic policeman.

Policeman Quinn testified that he was on duty at the crossing and saw the car travel down Mill street and stop at the white pole. White passengers were alighting he signalled for a team to stop the street and the car started. He put up his hand for the motorman to stop and he said the defendant shook his head and kept right on. He followed the car to Main street, where he asked the motorman for his name which he refused to give and told him to look at his number.

The defendant said he saw the traffic policeman give a signal and must have misunderstood it. He said he thought the policeman was signalling for the team to stop. He said when he was asked for his name he had informed the policeman to take his number. He said he had no intention of being assailed. He asked that the case be set aside until Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in order that he might procure two witnesses. His request was granted.

COULD NOT LIVE WITHOUT TOAD

Dr. McIntosh Tells Interesting Things in Animal Lecture.

If all the little, insignificant, ugly toads in the Province of New Brunswick were killed off tomorrow the probabilities are that within five years we would be unable to live here, Dr. William McIntosh, curator of Natural History of the province, told the Monoton Rotarians at their luncheon yesterday. This was only one of the unusual things about the animal life in this vicinity. He explained his statement about the toad by saying that 85 per cent. of the toads' food consists of insects, grubs and beetles which are injurious to crops, 15 per cent. being cut worms. Fifty varieties.

In opening his address, the speaker said that there were 50 varieties of animals as the toad on the street knew them in the province. But, and he elaborated on this, the actual number was almost beyond count, and the scientist with his microscope has apparently not yet reached the end although the animal that stands midway between the largest, the silver bottom whale, and the smallest microbe is the ordinary bottle fly, although most persons heard a guess that would be a man or a dog.

The Moose.

Dr. McIntosh made some interesting remarks on the animal life, in that he said that we were proud of the trout of the province, although we had none of our own. We have no prairie but only grouse. There are no rabbits which live in warrens and whose young are born blind and helpless, but hares, the young of which are able to shift for themselves almost as soon as they see the light of day. Describing the moose, he said that it was the world's largest deer and that it was also the most primitive form, for 50,000 years back the remains can be traced and they show no change, while the other forms of deer are much more modern.

In connection with the moose he drew the comparisons with the toad and the bat, and said that the last were much more valuable from an economic standpoint.

Tomorrow will be the official opening of the new plant which is located at St. John street and between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. the plant and distributing room will be open for inspection.

WAR ROMANCE IS RUDELY SHATTERED

Girl Tells of Marrying Her Childhood Sweetheart and of His Desertion.

London, Oct. 28.—Coincidence in fiction assumes some strange forms, but there has rarely been a more remarkable example of it than in the real-life story of an Australian soldier and a Kentish maid, whose broken war-time romance recently related to the Bromley magistrates.

In 1918 the Vicar of Christ Church, Beckenham, was the Rev. C. Harrington Lees, and when he united the couple he little thought that their affairs would be brought again to his notice many thousands of miles away. A few years ago the reverend gentleman became Archbishop of Melbourne, whether the Australian husband had gone. The wife, lonely and in despair, England, wrote to the Archbishop, appealing to him to intervene with her erring spouse.

Mrs. Rosina Bernonia Marion Kate Stone told her story when applying for a maintenance order which could be enforced in the State of Victoria. Her husband, she said, was born in the Beckenham district, and she had been a boy and girl romance. They had gone to school together. Fourteen years ago he went to Australia, and when the war came he joined up and served in France.

Acquaintance Renewed. They renewed their acquaintanceship when he was in England on leave, and ultimately they became engaged and married. They lived together for 12 months, and then returned to Australia for his discharge. Owing to her delicate state of health she could not go with him. After the birth of her child, witness obtained her papers and sent them to him. Her husband sent the papers back to Australia House, and she was informed there that he refused to sign them. In 1920 she received a letter from him in which he said that he had "made up his mind of things and did not want to return to Beckenham."

In 1921 he wrote informing her that there was a girl in Australia who was the only girl he would ever care for, and witness must take what action she thought fit. In a subsequent letter he asked her to divorce him, and added that if she came out to him he would keep her, but would not live with her. Witness had since communicated with the Australian police, and in consequence of a reply from the Australian police, she had written to the Archbishop of Melbourne.

Husband Interviewed. The Rev. Frederick Parsons, Vicar of St. Barnabas, South Melbourne, advised that about the middle of May, 1923, the Archbishop of Melbourne passed a letter on to him, and he interviewed the husband. The husband, witness told him he held a letter from his wife, who wanted to know what he was prepared to do to support her. Some admitted being a married man with one child, but was passing off locally as a bachelor. He agreed to support her if she came out to Australia, but under no circumstances would he live with her as he had no affection for her. He stated that he did not want her out there, and added that he was very friendly with a single girl he knew before he went to England. She was aware that he was married, and was willing to remain in England. When witness came to England he found that the accusations Stone had made about his wife were not true.

WILL TELL HERE OF GREAT WEMBLEY

General Secretary of Engineering Institute of Canada to Give Address.

Wembley will be described in an illustrated lecture by Fraser S. Keith, M. E. I. C., general secretary of the Engineering Institute of Canada, who was one of the official Canadian delegates to the First World Power Conference, which was held at Wembley, and who will give his impressions of the exhibition and the engineering institute of Canada, Halifax, on November 10. The lecture will be given at the St. John Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, Halifax, at the same time.

Advantage was taken of the fact that the first time in history that the nations of the world, it was generally agreed that Canadian engineers led in the development of hydro-electric power and in power transmission, and had solved many problems in advance of other nations. The Empire Exhibition at Wembley was on a grander scale than ever conceived in previous exhibitions. It was the first time in history that the great Empire had joined together to visualize to the world the wonderful achievements of the Empire. A visit to the exhibition was a liberal education to those fortunate enough to see in person what the Empire produces and what a variety of peoples and interests and industries it represents. From every corner of the Empire went people of the various dominions, telling in their own way the story of their national life. It was an inspiration as well as an education and will serve to knit closer together the bonds of Empire.

TURNING TOWARD THE WATERWAYS. Big Interests in the United States Restive Under Freight Rates. Washington, Oct. 28.—(By Canadian Press.)—Indications are that the movement for inland waterway improvement and development of the waterways may soon receive strong backing from some of the business interests in this country. Shipments of heavy products are slow and the increasing restiveness under the freight rates which the railroads impose an increasing disposition to turn toward the waterways.

St. David's Teachers and Officers Have Busy Season in Sight. The teachers and officers of the Sunday school of St. David's church at a meeting in the board room last night planned for the season's work. Robert Reid, superintendent, was in the chair. Following an interesting discussion on missionary work in the Sunday school it was decided to have a list made of all the missionary books in the Sunday school library and to give a copy of this list to each teacher. It was hoped to form a choir in connection with the Sunday school and a committee consisting of Rev. Mr. Miller, Mr. Reid, Miss Phyllis MacGowan and R. C. Crookshank was appointed to act in this matter.

HALIFAX BOY IS VICTIM OF AUTO. (Canadian Press Despatch.) Halifax, Oct. 28.—Harold Wright, aged 11, died in hospital tonight as result of injuries he sustained when run over by a street car on Barrington street, last evening. The boy was playing on the street and ran in front of the car sustaining injuries that necessitated the amputation of his left leg. The driver of the car was held in jail last night without bail on a charge of causing grievous bodily harm, but was released on bail this morning.

PIGS SUFFER FROM SLEEPING MALADY

Epidemic is Serious in Some Districts in Great Britain. London, Oct. 28.—Hundreds of pigs have died and hundreds more are sick owing to a strange epidemic which has broken out among the herds in the St. Lawrence and Hants districts of Huntingdon. Up to the present no means have been found to combat the disease, which is causing heavy loss to pig breeders. The value of the pigs which have died or have been destroyed runs into thousands of pounds. The first symptoms of the complaint are weakness in the hindquarters and a general condition of lethargy, which becomes intensified until death takes place, when the carcass rapidly turns purple in color. The percentage of deaths is extraordinarily high, in many places 100 per cent being recorded. Veterinary surgeons in the district confess themselves beaten, and can suggest no remedy. Experts have ventured the opinion that the complaint is a form of sleepy sickness, while others incline to the belief that it is cerebro-spinal meningitis.

PREMIER VENIOT IS IMPROVING. To confirm a report that Premier Veniot was seriously ill, had four doctors in attendance and that the members of his family had been summoned home because of the grave fear felt for his life, his home in Bathurst was communicated with by long distance telephone last night and the Premier himself answered the phone. He said that he was very much improved and if he kept on improving at the rate he was at present he expected to be out of the house before the end of the week. The Premier could not understand how such utterly false reports concerning his illness could be circulated. BRITAIN DECIDES

To-day Britain, with 22,000,000 of its people eligible to vote, is at the climax of an election which some regard with grave misgivings because they think it may have consequences fundamentally disastrous to the greatest of the Free Nations. The latest cables to-day reflect rather doubt as to the outcome than did those of forty-eight hours ago, but the trend of opinion appears to forecast either a clear Conservative majority, or a Conservative party strong enough to form a ministry with some Liberal support.

AN EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES

Many a looker-on in politics lately must have noted with more than a flicker of interest the widely advertised entente cordiale between the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mr. Armand Lavergne upon whom some time since (there descended the mantle of his old chief, Mr. Henri Bourassa. Quebec is very much a pivot in our national politics, and Mr. Meighen is naturally desirous of commanding in that province a greater measure of support for the policies he proclaims as the leader of the Conservative party.

THE PERILS OF HUMOR

"And, since I've never dared to write as funny as I can." Oliver Wendell Holmes, in a letter to a friend, has written a paragraph which is a masterpiece of wit and humor. It is a masterpiece because it is so simple, so direct, so unadorned, and so effective.

Problem of the C. N. R.

Whatever views we may hold on public ownership in theory, it is unquestionable that a careful government can rescue the C. N. R. in the course of time from the rut in which it bids fair to perish. Sir Henry Hamilton's management has already shown that even in times of grave industrial crisis, operating receipts can be increased.

TWO YOUTHS ARE HELD FOR THEFT

Fredericton, Oct. 28.—Earle Tapley, aged 17 years, and Sidney Allen, aged 16 years, who pleaded guilty to the theft of about $88 from the purse of Miss Vera Collins, of Miramichi, which they found in the street on Friday night last, were remanded in the police court this afternoon.

INTEREST IS KEEN AND RESULTS OF POLLING IN DOUBT

(Continued from page 1.) On October 9, following a vote of censure in the Commons. While some of the Laborites still expressed confidence that the result would show the people favorable to the remaining in power, the general opinion was that the Government would be repudiated. The respective strength of the parties in the new house, however, was on a scale on which no political observer would venture to give a public prediction.

BRITAIN LEADS IN VESSEL BUILDING

London, Oct. 28.—There are at the present time under construction in the world 98 vessels of between 10,000 and 20,000 tons each, and eight of 20,000 tons and upwards, according to Lloyd's Register ship-building returns for the quarter ended September 30. Twenty out of the 98, and all the larger vessels, are building in Great Britain and Ireland.

Hero's Name At Last Discovered

London, Oct. 29.—Four times Robert Cooper, a young man of Edmonton, England, saved persons from drowning and managed to slip away without being recognized by a police officer, although Cooper, after the rescue, handed the body over to friends and disappeared in his wet clothes.

Mrs. C. J. Osman Tells of Work of Women's Institute

Mrs. C. J. Osman, president of the advisory board of the Women's Institutes of the province, was in the city yesterday and will leave tonight for Boston. In speaking last night of the work of the institute in New Brunswick, Mrs. Osman said she felt there was nothing that was accomplishing a more useful purpose. She was especially pleased with the recent innovation, the holding of sectional meetings at which the various institutes in nearby communities met together and enjoyed friendly converse as well as the addresses and other items arranged for the programme of the meetings. Most of these meetings had been out-of-door gatherings, she said, and had taken the form of summer picnics. Miss Elizabeth Nutter, supervisor of Women's Institutes, Mrs. Osman said, had been very busy caring for the Women's Institute exhibits at the fall fairs and special pride was taken in the splendid showing made by the provincial institutes at the Dominion exhibition in Toronto, where the work of Madame Blanchard in weaving was a very great attraction. With regard to the exhibit of the institutes at the St. John exhibition, Mrs. Osman said that she felt the hooked mat display was most creditable. Hooked mats were a characteristic article of home-craft for the province and the art of making these mats were being developed in a very gratifying manner. Mrs. Osman believed that it was easily possible to tell what section of the country a certain mat had come from because the different parts of the province were developing distinctive methods and distinctive types of mats.

OCTOBER BRIDES

Melick-Hanan.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, Oct. 18, when Frederick Godfrey Melick and Mary Mason Hanan were united in marriage by Rev. Wallace J. Gardner. The bride was gowned in copper colored crepe de chine, with cloche hat to match, and carried a bouquet of large burnt orange chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The bride's flower girl was little Miss Dorothy Thayer, of Flatbush. The young pair immediately left for a brief visit to Boston. Their new residence is in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frederick G. Melick, of 16 Peters street, St. John, who was present at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of the late George A. Hanan, of Brooklyn. The bride's mother and brother, her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Hanan, and their daughters, as well as the groom's uncle and aunt, Dr. Oscar Watson and Miss Clara Watson, with whom he has resided for the last afternoon. After a short service at his late home the body was taken to the Midland U. B. church, where service was held, conducted by the pastor, F. Saunders Young. Interment was in Midland cemetery.

Alexander Webster.

Norton, N. B., Oct. 28.—The death of Alexander Webster took place at his home, Midland, Tuesday, Oct. 21. Mr. Webster had been in failing health for some time. He is survived by his wife and several children. The funeral was held in the Midland U. B. church Thursday, Oct. 23, the service being conducted by Rev. C. S. Young. Interment was in the Midland cemetery.

Mrs. J. Frederick Davidson.

Grand Falls, Oct. 28.—On Thursday morning, Oct. 23, after a long illness the death occurred at her home in Fort Fairfield, Me., of Caroline Alberta, wife of J. Frederick Davidson, at the age of 49 years. She was the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day, of Sheffield, N. B., and added the greater part of her life in Woodstock, going to Fort Fairfield some years ago to live. Besides her husband the late Mrs. Davidson leaves three daughters, Abbie, Sarah and Mary, and one son, Harry. Dr. Grenville Day, Miss Annie Day, St. John; Robert H. Montgomery, William T. Montgomery, Mrs. DeLancey Smith, Woodstock, and Charles H. Montgomery, Seattle, Wash., are uncles and aunts of the deceased.

William J. Nickerson.

Hampstead, Oct. 28.—William J. Nickerson, a much respected and life long resident of Hibernia, passed away at his home on Wednesday, Oct. 22, after an illness of more than a year. He was 78 years old and is survived by his wife, one son, Herbert, of Montreal, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Dyleman, of Manguerville; also two sisters, Mrs. William Ogden, of Clarendon, and Mrs. Jane Scott, of Natick, Mass. The funeral took place on Friday from the Baptist church, of which Mr. Nickerson was a member for many years. The services were conducted by Rev. T. D. Bell, assisted by Rev. Mr. Tingley.

DEATHS

Mrs. George Colwell.

Friends in the city and province were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Marjorie Colwell, wife of George W. Colwell, who died at her residence, 45 Exmouth street, at 1.10 p. m. yesterday afternoon in the 52nd year of her age. Mrs. Colwell had been ill for more than a year and had been spending the last two months with her daughter, Mrs. G. E. Hirtle, in Worcester, Mass., seeking to regain health and strength. As her condition grew gradually more serious, with small hope of recovery, she returned to St. John on Oct. 20. She was a faithful member of the Central Baptist church, a life member of the U. B. W. M. U., and from childhood was a staunch upholder of temperance principles. She was president of the St. John County W. C. T. U. and also a member of the local W. C. T. U. She had been an active worker for the Y. M. C. A. and for the Travelers' Aid and was a life member of the Red Cross Society and a member of the Navy League. She worked whole-heartedly for the furtherance of the causes to which she gave her support. Besides her husband she is survived by six children—Chester D., of Worcester, Mass.; Gordon D., of Debec Junction; Mrs. G. E. Hirtle, of Worcester, Mass.; Gordon D., of New York; Oriana A., of Worcester, Mass.; and Emery A., of St. John, and also by one sister, Mrs. John W. Vanwart, of this city. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2.30 and the funeral will be conducted by Rev. James Dunlop, pastor of the Central Baptist church. Interment will be made in Fernhill cemetery.

Robert Crawford.

Norton, N. B., Oct. 28.—After several weeks' illness Robert Crawford passed away at the home of Ronald Case, Midland, Tuesday evening, Oct. 21. Mr. Crawford was 71 years of age and very highly respected by those who knew him. He was a member of the Hatfield Point Baptist church. He was never married and is survived by two brothers, William Crawford, of Midland, and Caleb, residing in Massachusetts, also several nephews and nieces. The funeral was held Thursday

Beautiful New Arrivals in Frocks-Coats and "Ensemble" Suits. Stores Open 8.30 a.m.; Close 6 p.m.; Saturday 10 p.m. The mode for the Fall and Winter seasons is cleverly expressed in the new tunics, frocks, coats of leather finished fabrics, and suits providing both dress and coat in the same costume. Your inspection of the newest models is heartily invited. Not for a long time have we shown such a varied and beautiful collection of newest modes.

Fur Trimmed Coats Priced at $49.75. A very fine assortment at this moderate price. As smart and good looking models as one could hope to find. Made from the fashionable suedette, furrow cloth, peau de suede, and other soft, comfortable fabrics. Coats are beautifully lined throughout and trimmed with luxurious collars and cuffs of contrasting fur. Colors comprise the new shatter green, pewter grey, wood shades, etc. Other models, plain or fur trimmed, as high or low priced as you wish. "Ensemble" Suits The Season's Smartest. You've seen these stunning (two-in-one) garments pictured in "Vogue" and other authoritative style magazines. You'll find them here now—and in unusually fine fabrics, colors and combinations. "Ensemble" Suits consist of long coat usually fur trimmed and a handsome dress to harmonize or match. Dress may be of satin, bengaline or some such fashionable fabric and is trimmed to correspond with coat. You'll think these suits very smart—and particularly practical.

Lovely Dresses For All Occasions. Fall frocks turn to tunics. You'll find them on models for business, afternoon or evening wear. "Ensemble" dresses are decidedly new and they're here with tunics of poiret twill and underdress of satin, making two complete frocks in one. Wrap-around models in cloth are decidedly popular and are usually quite plain with perhaps a few rows of braid, a touch of embroidery or rows of buttons cleverly arranged. French Hand Made Frocks are beautifully beaded or daintily embroidered while some fascinating afternoon frocks in silk crepe carry out the Chinese effect with long straight tunic and oriental embroidery. Fur trimmed dresses are also among the newest—and we can show you a wide collection of new sport flannels and brodella cloths in plain colors, stripes and fancy checks. In many cases you'll find prices are exceedingly moderate.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Harris

THE TWINS MAKE A VISIT.

They all talked it over and over.

"The very idea!" said Mister Snip Snip. "The very idea of Mrs. Cottontail saying that the shoes she bought for Cutie Cottontail were no good!"

CONSTIPATION CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

over, and at last it was decided that something was wrong, very much wrong indeed, with Cutie Cottontail's new shoes.

Why they should wear into holes in such a short time nobody could think!

"You'll just have to go and visit the Meadow Grove School tomorrow and find out what makes Cutie Cottontail's shoes wear out."

So bright and early when the clock struck nine and Mister Scribble Scratch, the fairy school master, had finished calling the roll, Nancy and Nick arrived at the school in the woods and said they had come to visit.

"That's very nice," said Mister Scribble Scratch. "Sit right here and you can see everything. Make yourselves at home."

He set out two chairs and the Twins thanked him and sat down. They saw Cutie Cottontail first thing, in the first seat in the third row in front of the teacher's desk.

"First we'll have spelling," said Mister Scribble Scratch, the fairy school-master. "Put at your seatings on your slates, boys and girls."

All the little woods children began to write at once. Scamper Squirrel made his tongue go as fast as his pencil and Gobby Coon made his eyes go up and down, and Cutie Cottontail wriggled his ears, but nobody moved his feet scarcely during the whole lesson.

And Mister Scribble Scratch called out ten words to write.

Not Spelling wasn't hard on shoes. That couldn't be the trouble at all! It must be something else.

"Well now," said Mister Snip Snip thoughtfully, "I've heard of school being hard on heads sometimes, but it's the very first time in all my life that I've ever heard that it was hard on feet."

They all talked it over and talked it over, and at last it was decided that something was wrong, very much wrong indeed, with Cutie Cottontail's new shoes.

FABLES ON HEALTH

Parents, Watch Your Step

"The Blank children are always having tantrums," Mrs. Mann would often remark.

"Tantrums," so called, are an interesting method developed by many children for getting their own way. When they cannot defeat their parents in any other way, they resort to this method.

Every child would be a ruthless tyrant in the home if he could get away with it. And all too many of them do. Very early in life the child discovers that he has many weapons with which to battle household discipline.

Such a child is likely to be handicapped for, when he faces the realities of life and no longer has his parents behind him, he finds that there are definite realities to face.

In many cases of this nature the child, grown to manhood or womanhood, unconsciously recalls that things were secured by "tantrums" and proceeds to have them. Such is frequently the case in nervous disorders that are described as hysteria, etc.

If parents will begin to watch their own steps as well as the steps of their children there will be far fewer nervous disorders to reckon with in the future.

COUNTESS GETS JOB; HE MINDS KIDDIES

Polish Family was Impoverished by Great War in Europe.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 28.—Countess Mary Grainger Klepinski, whose husband is Count Stefan Klepinski of Poland, has returned to Louisville, her home town, where she has gone to work. The Countess, her husband and four children were impoverished by the war.

The daughter of Charles F. Grainger, the former mayor of Louisville and former head of the Jockey Club in Kentucky, who was wealthy, the Countess was one of the social leaders of the South.

When the World War broke out, she and Count Klepinski were traveling in this country. He could not speak English and they were left marooned, with nothing but pocket money and no hope of extracting income from securities in Poland.

Countess Klepinski, who was reared in Louisville, then brought her husband back to her old home, and they took up a small farm near Crestwood, a village near this city.

"But the Count is not used to working the way we do," she explained. "He gets pains in his stomach. But he makes a very moderate nurse, so we decided he could keep the children in the day time and I could get a job."

The children are Stefan, 14 years old, a freshman in the Anchorage, Ky. High School, Julia, 12 years old; Radzisawa, 9, and Jadwiga.

Says Women Must Learn to Proportion Work and Play

New York, Oct. 28.—"To have a completely rounded life, every woman must learn how to proportion work and play to suit her own particular temperament and environment," says Mrs. Irma Hopper.

Mrs. Hopper is a concert singer and composer of songs, a writer of prose and verse, and is at present engaged in arranging Chinese and Japanese pantomime and ballets.

She is also one of the best sports-women in the country, holding the American women's fencing championship. She recently returned from Europe, where she represented the U. S. at the Olympic games.

"Fencing keeps me in perfect trim for my work," she says. "It is the most perfect exercise for women that I know of, because it develops agility of mind as well as of muscle. For the woman who lacks poise, there is nothing comparable to fencing."

"Of course, I ride, play golf and tennis and swim, but nothing does for me what fencing does."

"I believe that every woman, be she housekeeper, business woman or society leader, should have some form of exercise that she enjoys and engages in regularly. Exercise done to music is the most valuable, since rhythm and concentration go hand in hand."

"All work and no play is just as bad for the individual as all play and no work."

Mrs. Hopper is prominent in social as well as in artistic circles in New York.

JEWS OFFERED FREE LAND IN RUSSIA

Census of Those Willing to Settle on Farms in Ukraine.

Moscow, Oct. 29.—The Ukraine Government has ordered district and provincial Soviets to take a census of Jewish population to ascertain the number desiring to take up agricultural work and settle on the land. Special commissions will be organized for this purpose will be entrusted with work and settle on the land. Special negotiations with the Government project to allot land to Jewish settlers free of charge.

The census is undertaken in order to note out what amount of land will be required. It is believed the Ukrainian lands will scarcely be enough to satisfy the needs within the Ukraine itself and there is a project to appportion land to Jewish settlers in the Crimea. The question already has been brought before the Crimean Council of Commissioners, who regard the matter favorably.

The Crimea has huge stretches of free land and the question of colonization has for a long time been discussed by the Crimean Government. The Crimean Tartars themselves are peaceful and rather favor the Jewish element as neighbors, considering them sober and industrious. A hundred thousand families it is expected, will be able to settle in the Crimea during the next few years as a result of the present negotiations.

Absence of funds is the only drawback to the great scheme, as the Government is unable to find funds to put the land in a condition suitable for immediate settlement. Jewish organizations are looking to their American friends to come to their relief.

Meantime the Ukraine Government has apportioned 80,000 acres of land in the Ekaterinoslav district, where 3,000 Jewish families will move this spring, thanks to the support of the American joint committee, which has advanced a loan of $100,000 to carry out the plan. Similar Jewish agricultural colonies will be organized in Kherson and

"BE A SPORT," SAYS ONTARIO PREMIER

Says Both Sides Promised to Accept Plebiscite Result and Carry On.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Questioned today regarding rumors that a "wet" wing of the Conservative party might be formed as a result of the situation created by the large vote in many cities of the province in favor of Government control of the sale of liquor, Premier Ferguson today declared:

"I have no control over what individual members of the Legislature may do or say. We had a conference here in this office previous to the plebiscite, and there were representatives present from both the Moderation League and the Prohibition Union. At that time the leaders of both parties admitted that it was the principle of prohibition which was at issue, and generously promised that whichever side lost would accept defeat in a sportsmanlike manner, and would promptly turn around and endeavor to facilitate the Government in its efforts to carry out the will of the people as manifested at the polls on the 21st."

Since "Charm and loveliness depend largely upon an exquisite complexion," she did not wait for her taxing social life to write fine lines upon her face before beginning to care for her skin.

She tried the Two Famous Creams which Pond's laboratories have for years been perfecting. They precisely met her needs as

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B. WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1924

NEW PRESIDENT OF KING'S INSTALLED

Many Notables Present at Inauguration of Rev. A. H. Moore.

Halifax, Oct. 28.—The new president of King's College, Rev. A. H. Moore, M.A., St. John's, Que., was inaugurated this evening with religious and civil ceremony at which were represented every large educational organization in the Maritimes and Newfoundland. The ceremony took place in the residence of King's College, West Arm, the official home of King's College, and was presided over by Archbishop Worrell. He was assisted by Archdeacon Vroom. Among those present were the president, governor and faculty of Dalhousie and the United States Consul. Trinity and Wycliffe Colleges were also represented and University of New Brunswick was represented by Dr. S. G. Ritchie, Halifax. Dr. Vincent Burke, Deputy Minister of Education in Newfoundland, represented the educational institutions of the Ancient Colony.

President's Address.

In his inaugural address as president of the University of King's College, Mr. Moore spoke of his keen appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and his profound sense of responsibility in his new duties, especially as he considered in the light of a successful career those who had preceded him in the office. During the 138 years which the University of King's had served the Maritime Provinces with able and capable presidents had filled the office in whose hands the destinies of the province were entrusted, as the results of their labors bore testimony.

He referred in passing to some few of the honored graduates of the university, mentioning King Inglis, son of Nova Scotia's first Bishop who became third Bishop of the diocese of Aberdeen in present times, the Most Reverend Dr. F. H. DuVernet, Archbishop of California who greatly regretted he was unable to attend, and Rt. Rev. Dr. Charles Schell, Bishop of Columbia. Of the graduates of King's who had preceded Mr. Moore mentioned Thomas Cochran who at 24 years was appointed Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island, James Stuart who was made Chief Justice of Quebec and created

As I pass from the record of achievements to look closely at the situation which now exists within the college, I find abundant evidence to support the conviction that King's men and traditions which the predecessors have handed down to them. The interest taken in every department of our college life is characteristic of a virile type of Canadian manhood. It is worthily represented amongst the students of today. I do want to say that in the state by whom I am so loyally supported, and in the student promising young men and women, we have here today a community over which any man may feel an honor and a privilege to preside.

The Opportunity.

Coming now to the closing portion of my address, let me say a few words about the opportunity which lies immediately before this university. King's is not too old to see visions, and it would require the rich language of the imagination to adequately compass the great possibilities for service that our present opportunity holds. There is before my mind the picture of a great central university in this historic old city, sending out into these provinces and New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island an increasing stream of men and women trained for capable and wise leadership, a growing company imbued with the highest spirit of service, an extending influence that will lift our whole intellectual, social, spiritual life up to a higher and richer plane than it has yet reached. As the vision grows upon me I can see the increasing value of such an university, not only to Halifax itself, but to these Maritime Provinces, and I feel sure that no one can come under the spell of such a noble conception of possible service and prestige. I greet with enthusiasm the fact that King's has an opportunity to play at least a small but in no wise unimportant part in making this vision of a great central university for these provinces a reality.

The capacity of such an institution such an university is, in my humble opinion, very great indeed. It is generally agreed that university training is at least best where the individual mass, and not just students in the university, are the real concern of the university authorities. Like work in every other department of life that is done in the university accomplishes its end where it is most intensive, and it is in the comparatively small residential college that conditions are found which make such intensive work practical. Members of the staff are able to regulate affairs that individual attention can be given. Careful consideration of the student's inclinations and fundamental and spiritual endowments enables those in authority to make his greatest contribution to the well-being and progress of society. In facing the perplexing problem of vocational activity his professor can often be his guide, and individual care can be fostered and trained in the intimate personal intercourse between tutor and student.

Good Citizenship.

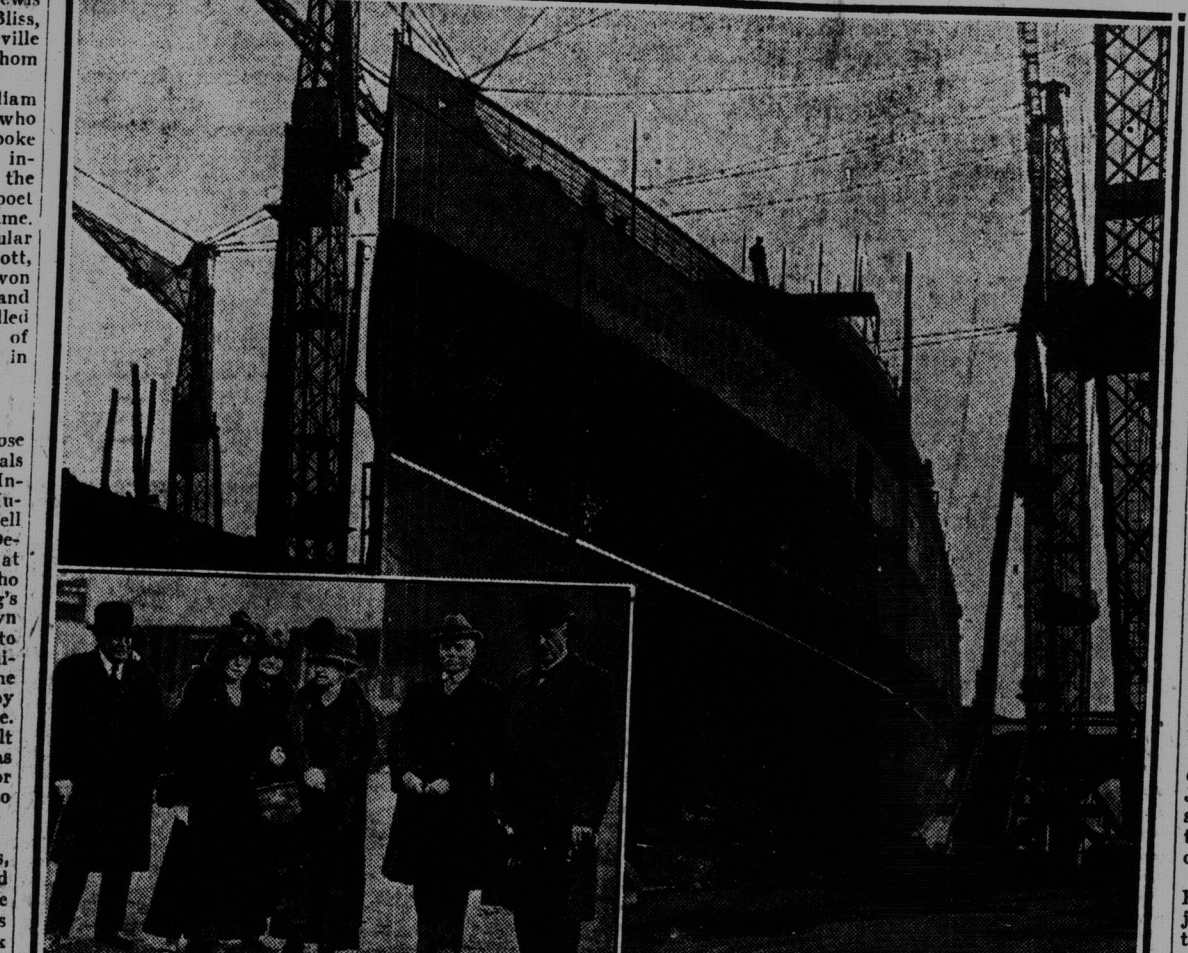

Then as regards the preparation of the student to recognize and sustain essential obligations which are his. Who can measure the debt which great men have acknowledged to the training they have received in this way through the discussions that take place wherein all sorts and kinds of questions are reviewed by succeeding generations of students? These are the refreshing springs from which new currents of thought and practice flow into the nation's creed and life. In a residential college a man learns not merely what men have thought and accomplished in the past, but he seems that men are thinking today, and, above everything else, he learns how to live as a man among men, fitting himself into the great body corporate of our present day social life. When to this residential system is added definite and positive religious training, whereby these basic and fundamental spiritual forces of our nature are trained and developed, we have the highest type of service, if I may say a personal word, I am sure that the thoughtful men of Canada do not wish to have their educational system entirely divorced from religious influences or from religious truth. I think they have also come to see that it is not through any interdenominational effort today that we shall bring the impact of religious influence to bear upon student life. I think they have been made to realize that the results produced by such influences, however good, are too cool, too indefinite, even too colorless, and above all they must be recognized as a living force, and I think the fundamental of true religion, the fundamental of our system and life of our country. Herein lies the opportunity that is King's today, an opportunity which is worthy of the best thought, the best energy, the best and most intelligent support that it is possible for us to give, an opportunity for the fulfillment of a petition in our old Bridging Prayer, "that there never may be wanting a supply of persons duly qualified to serve God both in church and state."

And so I gain some conception of the opportunity for service that is before us here and I appreciate the confidence on your part of passing my thoughts to you. Of course if we are going to use and improve that opportunity we must keep before our eyes the highest standards of our academic work and enlarge and strengthen as we are able the strong teaching staff we are so fortunate to have. Then we must see to it that in every department and in every particular the administration is so thorough and so efficient that the command that administration to all those upon whose co-operation we must depend for success in our work. Also in such an undertaking there is absolutely no room for a divided constituency and we should dread no measure more than the reproach that the people who have in their hands the glorious opportunity that is ours today are incapable of agreement and of presenting a united front.

Some Difficulties. As I take up the duties to which I have been called by the board of governors of the University of King's College I realize that there are risks to be incurred and difficulties to be overcome. This is always the case in all work that aims at achievements really worthy while and I can face what is before us with courage, with confidence and with unbounded and reasonable optimism. The call that comes to King's is a call to service, and the people of Canada have shown that when such a call sounds difficulties are made to disappear and the work that tries out to be done is accomplished. My final word is one of optimism, who have the best interests of our country at heart and are active and sympathetic interest in the work that is undertaken here. Canada needs trained leaders today as never before and I have indicated to you how King's has made its contribution in the past. Leaders of students must have acquired a broad outlook, a liberal culture, a warm and sympathetic heart. While they must be in some respects skilled in the sciences that make material and industrial progress they must not be cramped and circumscribed by the cold calculations of

Left to right—Lord Abernethy, chairman of John Brown and Co., Clyde Shipbuilders; Lady Margaret Brown, Mrs. Trapp; Lady Mount Stephen, sponsor; Captain Trapp, C. F. It is a long way from Alaska to the Clyde, but the recent launching of the Canadian Pacific Coastal S.S. "Princess Kathleen" from the Clydebank yards of John Brown and Company illustrates how the increasing industry and industry of the one has affected the industry of the other. The launching of another vessel, the "Princess Margaret," will further illustrate this. During the past few years the thousand mile trip to the "Land of the Midnight Sun" and return to Vancouver has attracted thousands of tourists from all parts of the world. Many of these, appreciating the vast natural and commercial possibilities of this country, have established themselves there and have drawn others and development of the land. The same thing applies to the Yukon, so that, especially in the summer, and in the fall constant coming and going on the Princess steamers that ply the "Inland Passage."

New Year's Eve will, it is expected, be a demand for still more frequent service. It is expected that the Canadian Pacific will recruit from its "Triangular" service, and the new steamers will take up the service thus relieved because of the increasing popularity of the route.

Two vessels will be placed in service early in 1925.

phere of materialism, but capable of tracing out in all the manifold relationships of our complex modern life Aristotle's dictum that "man is a social animal, and above all they must be inspired by the sure conviction that man is not here to work out his ill-fated destiny by the law of a carnal commandment but by the power of an endless life.

Here, then, is the substance of our responsibility, the soul of our opportunity, even to preserve and increase the capacity of this college, as a part of a greater whole, and yet preserving its own distinctive features and life, to provide for the cultural development of mind and spirit for the youth of our Province and in our broad Dominion, in the spirit of the quadrilateral motto of this university: Dep, Legi, Regi, Gregi.

SUSPENSION OF MONTREAL POLICE CHIEF IS ASKED

More Startling Disclosures are Made at Investigation of Charges.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Montreal, Oct. 28.—Immediate suspension of Chief of Police Belanger on the ground that he had given his evidence in "bad faith" was the demand made upon Mr. Justice Codere today by J. P. Lacombe, counsel for petitioners for the enquiry into Montreal police affairs, when the investigation was resumed this afternoon. This was only the second time since the investigation began that the police chief had been charged with anything. He had previously been charged with the receipt of money and gifts from the keeper of a disorderly house, with previously warning this woman of threatened raids and of borrowing money from his subordinates in office. At one stage of the enquiry, the evidence was of such a nature that Mr. Justice Codere, investigating commissioner, requested the press representatives to refrain from reporting a part of the testimony.

With regard to the request for Chief Belanger's suspension the presiding judge declared that he would reflect on the application overnight. The demand was made and his first impression was that the matter was one of difficulty in decision. Attempts that were ineffectual for two years, to have the police act in the subsequent witnesses for the petitioners and at present serving sentences in jail—were related by Rev. Father Perrier, Curé of St. Infrant Jesus. He had been told by the members of the Moral League of his church that this was a "Police House" and could not be closed because it was under police protection.

Rose David, keeper of a disorderly house, affirmed the evidence yesterday that Chief Belanger had been brought to her house by a taxi driver and that while he was served the student bodies of Mount Allison, Acadia and Dalhousie universities. Dr. Ross is a native of Cape Breton Island, and has attained very considerable prominence in the practice of his profession of the law.

System Wrong. There was a great deal of fault-finding with the present system, and for the most part the cause was laid at the feet of the public men, said the speaker. The trouble was not with the public men but with the system itself, he said, adding that it was a remarkable thing that the public men did as well as they did with the things they had to work with. In support of his contention that hour of adult human labor should become the new basis of exchange, Dr. Ross quoted from a recent report of the National City Bank of New York. "The whole object of business and trade, was accomplished by the exchange of services. If all the checks and tickets were brought together in one place they should cancel each other."

The new system would do away with the profit incentive and introduce the merit incentive. It would mean the preservation of individual initiative. It would make private property sacred and absolutely safe. There would not be the dependence on Parliament, but would be a greater degree of self-government, and would result in a greater co-operation, said the speaker.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Halloween spirits were all abroad at the Fairville Methodist Epworth League on Monday evening in the church hall. Ghosts stalked about and one told a gruesome story in a dim light, with other ghosts sitting around. All reasonable games were enjoyed and apples were jumped for and dipped in. Refreshments were served with nuts and candy included in the menu. The social committee was in charge of the successful entertainment.

FINES HIMSELF FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATION

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 28.—The name of George F. Jeffs on the police roster confronted Police Magistrate George F. Jeffs in police court today. The offence charged against the name was that of violating a city by-law by cutting a corner too closely with his car. The magistrate looked himself in the face and told himself he was fined $5.

SUGGESTS A NEW ECONOMIC SYSTEM

Visitor Would Substitute Work for Gold Unit of Exchange.

Suggesting what he termed the "quintessential plan for a changed social order," which when boiled down would amount to the adoption of a new system of exchange in which the hour-work would be the unit of exchange instead of the gold unit of currency on which the present-day economic system is based, Howard S. Ross, C. C., D. C. L., of Montreal, addressed the St. John Canadian Club at the dinner last night in the Hotel Dunlop. W. J. S. Miles presided and thanked the speaker at the conclusion of his address. On more than 200 occasions in the United States and Canada, and his experience had been that many thinking men had taken up the subject for study. Dr. Ross will address the student bodies of Mount Allison, Acadia and Dalhousie universities. Dr. Ross is a native of Cape Breton Island, and has attained very considerable prominence in the practice of his profession of the law.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does Wonder for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance. While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of this delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.

Council Cuts Wharf Charges; Bigger Port Business Expected

TOP WHARFAGE ON FREIGHT AND GRAIN REDUCED BY CITY

New Rates Expected to Cut Harbor Revenue by About $18,000.

ACTION UNANIMOUS

Mayor Believes This Move Should Bring More Business to Port.

The City Council yesterday afternoon decided to reduce the top wharfage charges on export freight and grain, the rate on general cargo to be reduced from 25 cents per ton to 20 cents per ton, and the rate on grain from 6 cents per ton to 5 cents per ton, making a reduction of 20 per cent. in the general cargo rates, and 50 per cent. in the grain rates. The opinion was expressed that this would be more acceptable all round, as it was a more equitable distribution of the benefits than if applied to grain alone. Mayor Potts expressed his satisfaction at the action of the council and said he believed that it would result in increased traffic for the port. He also complimented Commissioner Bullock on the concise way in which he had framed the resolution.

The resolution introduced by Commissioner Bullock was as follows: "That the top wharfage charges on export under the classification of general cargo be reduced to 20 cents per ton, and that of grain in bulk to 5 cents per ton, effective January 1, 1925, and that the by-law be amended to correspond."

Saving Six Months. This the commissioner said would mean a reduction in revenue, based on the tonnage of last year, of $10,225 on grain and $8,000 on general cargo, a total of $18,225. This reduction would, (Continued on page 11, 4th column.)

RUSSIAN IS DEEP IN VODKA MAKING

Illicit Liquor Manufacture Assumes Great Proportions in Ukraine.

Moscow, Oct. 28.—Bootlegging has assumed large proportions in the Ukraine. The authorities have discovered during the last seven months more than 50,000 illicit stills, each of which on an average, consumed about a ton of rye for the production of vodka. According to official figures, there is one still for every 750 persons. The authorities fear that at the present rate of growth these establishments will by the end of the year bring the total number of stills to one for every 250 persons. The Government has decided, in view of the fact that the illicit stills cause heavy losses to the state distilleries and the national treasury, to increase the punishment for bootlegging offences and to open a wide campaign against home brewing.

BAND MUSIC IN N. Y. ELECTION

New York, Oct. 29.—(Associated Press.)—The music of old-time melodies is associated with Governor Alfred E. Smith and Theodore Roosevelt, in their red-hot campaign for governor of the Empire state.

Wherever the governor speaks, the band invariably plays over and over again the hitting strains of "The Sidewalks of New York." The bands have a way of playing "Marching Through Georgia" at rallies where the Republican nominee talks. This is varied with "Over There," a direct reference to Mr. Roosevelt's military service in France. Just why the bands play "Marching Through Georgia" for "Young Teddy," as he is called, no one seems to know. But it has been accepted as a sort of unofficial campaign music for him. Occasionally a band shifts to "There Will Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," just as they played this tune for his father, the former President, when he was stumping the state.

"The Sidewalks of New York," with its reference to "East Side, West Side, All Around the Town," has a bearing on the fact that Governor Smith was born on New York's East Side and still lives there. This song has been used in all of the Democratic nominee's gubernatorial campaigns.

MOTHER FINDS SON AFTER 21 YEARS

Each Had Believed Other Dead—Boy Left Home as Youth.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Susie Allison of Paris, Ky., has just been reunited with her son, Henry V. Ward, from whom she had not heard in 21 years. The mother and son each believed the other dead. Mrs. Allison is a widow. Henry Ward's home now is in Thelma, Minn. His father, James Ward, died when he was a baby. When Henry was a youth he became affected with the wanderlust and left home, and since then has visited nearly every country in the world. He never returned to Paris. An acquaintance many years ago informed him that his mother had died, and as his only brother, William, had been killed in the Philippines while serving with the Conabulariy, he thought he was alone in the world. Ward served through the World War, and then returned to Minnesota. A few weeks ago he decided to visit the grave of his mother in Paris and view the scenes of his childhood. On his arrival in Paris, he entered a

JUDGE AND LAWYER DEBATE QUESTION OF DEATH PENALTY

Defence Counsel in Chicago Murder Case Opposed by Judge Talley.

CHAIRMAN SPEAKS

Defends Action of Courts in Appointment of Lawyers for Accused.

New York, Oct. 29.—Not one of the nineteen men under sentence of death at Sing Sing Prison would be there if they could have afforded good attorneys, declared Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer who defended Loeb and Leopold, in a debate at the Manhattan Opera House. He opposed Judge Alfred J. Talley of General Sessions, who argued for retention of the death penalty for murder. "I guarantee," said Mr. Darrow, "that every man awaiting death in Sing Sing is there because he was without a good lawyer. Do you suppose you can get a good lawyer to defend poor clients? No, they are too busy looking after the wealth of great corporations." The Chicagoan's assertion that the victims of the law were the "poor, the weak and the friendless" came out in reply to Judge Talley's statement that there were enough college graduates in prison today to equip the faculties of every college in the land. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Darrow, citing the fact that the old English law had 160 offences for which the penalty was death, declared that the law was remodelled only when juries refused to convict, despite judges' instructions to the contrary.

DECISION GIVEN IN POWER CO. VS. CITY HYDRO

No Injunction, and Rights of Both to be Protected by Public Utilities.

CITY PAYS COSTS

Mr. Justice White Refers Questions of Interference to Utilities Board.

The injunction applied for by the New Brunswick Power Company to restrain the City of St. John from interfering with the lines of the company, which has been pending in the Chancery Court for more than a year, was refused yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice White, who, however, made an order that the Power Commission of the City of St. John must, within 30 days, or some such further time as may be allowed on further application, seek from the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for a ruling in regard to any changes in the civic distribution system which the board might feel were necessary to prevent interference. Failure on the part of the city to make such application to the board, he said, would result in the granting of an injunction. He ordered that all the costs of the action, with the exception of those incurred by the counter claim of the City of St. John, should be borne by the city.

The City of St. John had made a counter claim regarding poles owned by the city which were to be turned over to the city on the expiration of the agreement made between the city and the New Brunswick Power Company. In this connection Mr. Justice White ordered that the New Brunswick Power Company should pay the City of St. John the value of such of these poles as the city was entitled to have handed over to it on the expiration of the agreement. GRAIN INSPECTION RECORD SMASHED

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 29.—Smashing grain inspection records for all time, the number of cars graded by officials of the Dominion Inspection Bureau on Monday aggregated 2,880 for Western Canada, and of this total 2,649 belong to the C. E. R., this constituting the record for any single day's number of cars brought up by the railway for examination.

More than half of the Canadian Pacific cars were inspected at Winnipeg, the total for that city being 1,250, while at Calgary there were 704 cars reported, at Moosejaw 42 and at Medicine Hat 47, according to figures obtained at the company's transportation offices today.

According to E. D. Cotterell, superintendent of transportation, marketings and loadings for the prairies were allowing great improvement, due to the better weather conditions, and figures for Monday were somewhat less than preceding quarter. Conditions of purchase, though public are strong and vigorous and iron and steel industry is concentrated in the West.

At Vancouver there were 1,500,000 bushels of grain in store, with 600 Canadian Pacific cars under load at that port and 700 more west of Field in transit for the Pacific. On account of this volume of grain the company had found it necessary to restrict the number of permits for grain transportation to 50 a day.

Since the opening of the crop year there had been 4,340,874 bushels of grain exported from Vancouver, of which 3,610,388 bushels went to the United Kingdom, 284,282 bushels to the Orient and 246,204 to the Antipodes.

SUPREME COURT IN DORCHESTER OPENS

Dorchester, Oct. 28.—Supreme Court opened at Dorchester this afternoon with Judge LeBlanc presiding. There were two criminal cases on the docket. The King vs. Silliker, of Port Elgin, charged with assault and the King vs. Harry Atto, of Moncton, charged with receiving stolen goods. There was also a number of civil cases.

Woman Confident of Texas Governorship

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 29.—(United Press)—Mrs. William A. Ferguson, Democratic nominee for governor of Texas, today predicted her victory with a majority of 200,000 votes.

"It is not a question of victory," said Mrs. Ferguson from her home at Temple, "but of majority." I would like to have a majority of 200,000 votes and I believe I shall receive 200,000.

Dr. George C. Buttle, Republican nominee, reiterated predictions that he would succeed Governor Pat Neff by a majority of 50,000.

James E. Ferguson, who is campaigning for his wife, claims the election for her by at least 200,000.

The toast to the King of Great Britain was proposed by the president of the banquet, after which "God Save the King" was given by the orchestra and the following message from Lord Stanfordham, private secretary to His Majesty, King George, the fifth, was read.

"The King is much interested to learn of the formation of the Canadian History Society in France and to know that it will work side by side with the Canadian people's documents and records which will give them a wider knowledge of their inspiring history. His Majesty is very glad that the Duke of Connaught is able to be present at the inaugural luncheon which you are giving in the Palace of Versailles and also that your guests will include representatives of those distinguished families of France the deeds of whose ancestors will ever live in the tradition of the Dominion. The King wishes all success to the members of the Canadian History Society in France in their admirable undertaking."

Duke of Connaught. Sir Campbell Stuart, who is well known to Montserrat and Canadians through his activities in connection with the Irish-Canadian Rangers during the war then proposed the health of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and expressed his thanks to the Government of France for permitting him to be the host of the occasion at the Palace of Versailles.

Russians Make Pilgrimages to Lenin Tomb

Russian pilgrims travel great distances to visit the tomb of Lenin in Moscow. And their pilgrimages are never complete until they spend their rubles for highly-enamelled buttons upon which their dead leader's features are inscribed. The peddlers do a thriving business.

This His Royal Highness replied as follows: "It almost a year ago since the Canadian History Society in England was inaugurated and at the dinner given on that occasion by Sir Campbell Stuart, my nephew the Duke of York, expressed the hope that the members of the English Society would dine in London this year with three representatives of France. I think it is an even happier idea that the representatives of England should be dining this year on French soil with the members of the French Society. A history society could meet in no more suitable place than this great palace. As I look around this Hall of Battles today I cannot help but think of the great battles still so fresh in our minds and hearts as the battles for civilization and humanity when we had the honor to draw sword side by side with the sword of France. The great Dominion, whose history brings France and England together today, will, I know, share any hope that, united as we may have been in war, so may we remain united in peace. To the Canadian History Society in France the society in England wishes every success. I regret that more members of the society could not accompany me to Paris today, but the eyes of the general election in England has prevented many from attending who otherwise would have been here.

"It would be difficult to think of a more important or more useful task than the one in which these Canadian history societies are engaged and I hope that the two societies may have their own separate and yet ever possible, cooperate together for the good of the country they both love so well and where so many of their people have found their land of promise."

Happy Days in Canada. "As I listened to those delightful old songs of French Canada my memory went back to the happy and eventful years I spent in Canada and I felt Canada was thinking of us and I am sure nothing would give the Canadian people more pleasure than to see France and England united together in the old world with Canada as their bridge. I shall say no more than to wish to leave that thought with this historic company as embodied together this afternoon to do come to Canada in the Palace of Versailles."

Senators Dandurand, representing the Government of the Province of Quebec then proposed the toast "To Old France" in the name of the Prime Minister of the province, the Hon. Alexandre Taschereau.

"I want to add a few words" said the Duke of Connaught, "in the name of the association of the French families of which some brave members went to found New France and who contributed by their labors their strength of will and their courage to gradually create that magnificent empire whose harmonious force we so admire today. Does not the glory of the parents leave obligations to the children? Is not the Canada of our days built upon the lives, the hearts and the blood of so many of ours, so many of your gentlemen? There is one of the greatest reasons why Sir Campbell Stuart is entitled to our gratitude for it is by his generous initiative in bringing us together that has been realized the union of our hearts for the love of a glorious past."

From Canada's Premier. The toast to France was proposed by the Hon. Dr. Beland, Minister of Health and D. S. C. L., official representative of the Government of Canada. Dr. Beland prefaced his remarks by reading a cablegram from President W. L. Mackenzie King, which was as follows:

"Please communicate to the distinguished gathering at the Versailles banquet the following message which I have great pleasure in addressing to you this memorable day in the name of the Government and the people of Canada. Four hundred years ago men who traveled from France revisited Europe the new land which has now become Canada. From that time on, French explorers, French soldiers, French missionaries, French traders, other in zeal, penetrated to the interior of the American continent, exposing themselves to infinite dangers of all kinds that attended them and made of their heroes, patriots and martyrs. The exploits which they accomplished as a source of legitimate pride for their race because they contributed to its glory and are worthy examples to follow. As founders of New France they have established the basis of a great nation. For the building of this great nation the centuries have labored in the course of the centuries finished the work of their hands. Gaining thereby from year to year in development and force, Canada can now face its own destiny, thanks to the traditions of valor and loyalty inherited both from France and from England. These two countries—former rivals, today sincere friends—contemplate in that Canada which is the fruit of their respective genius the truest and noblest of friendships—the friendship of the old world."

"The Canadian today send the expression of their gratitude and their homage, already proved in their recent courageous and heroic deeds, to France, mother of the men who went through heroic adventures for the discovery of Canada and for her deliverance from barbarism."

Dr. Beland referred to the fact that he was a descendant of one who led Normandy nearly three centuries ago to see Canada and said that even though he might never see Canada in person, he was giving adequate expression of his thoughts.

The ceremonies in connection with this banquet and the broadcasting from the three C. N. B. radio stations were closed with the singing of "O Canada" in the French language.

DOORWAY AS HERO MONUMENT

Marblehead, Mass., Oct. 29.—A monument of unique design is being constructed to commemorate General Glover, one of Marblehead's revolutionary heroes. It will be placed in Water-side Cemetery. The monument will be a reproduction in Quincy granite of the doorway of the Glover house in this town, one of the best preserved of the old houses in this quaint seaport and architecturally one of the most notable. The doorway has been copied many times by architects who wished to obtain the best example of doorways of its period.

General Glover, one of the wealthiest men in the colony, gave his riches to the continental cause. It was he who commanded the regiment which fought at Washington and his army across the Delaware.

Lost Bond Paper Taken From River

Home, Oct. 29.—Two fishermen on the River Po pulled to the surface what seemed to be a great fish. But when the line was drawn in there were two bundles of white paper. It proved to be a make of special Government bond paper, of which a quantity was recently mislaid from a State printing office.

Soldiers were at once sent to search up and down the river, and already with drags and nets they have recovered 85 pounds of the missing paper. On the paper being mislaid, about a month ago, the Government called in all the State bonds on the same kind of paper, as it was feared that the thieves intended to flood the market with forged stock.

All towns on the River Po are notified to watch for the remaining paper, as it is believed the entire stock of this make of paper has been thrown into the river.

Eight men arrested after the theft all insist that they are innocent.

Adjourn Trial of Liqueur Controller

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 29.—The arraignment of John Meany, former liquor controller, charged with larceny of $147,000, in the Supreme Court yesterday was postponed until Thursday because of the illness of Attorney General Higgins. Meany's lawyer sought the postponement in order that he might lay some matters before the court in the presence of the Attorney General, who had served as Meany's attorney.

FINED $100 FOR LIQUOR MAKING

Timothy Mann of Tug Hill, Hayesville, a short distance above Boistown, on the Southwest Miramichi, was convicted on Monday, says the Fredericton Mail, of violation of the Inland Revenue Act by the manufacture of intoxicating liquor on his property, and fined $100 and 24 cents. The complaint was laid by Liquor Sub-Inspector Fraser Saunders.

WAS SHOT AS A SPY BY MISTAKE

French War Ministry Makes Some Compensation to Mertz's Widow.

London, Oct. 27.—The French Government has decided that M. Mertz, who was accused of being a spy during the war and who was summarily executed by a gendarme, was entirely innocent. His widow, who was starving, has been awarded $1,200 by the Ministry of War and an annual income of $120.

M. Mertz was a resident of Pierrefont-en-Laonnaie, in the Aisne, and the tragedy occurred in the early days of the war, when "spy mania" was at its height. His denunciation as a German spy was no doubt due to the fact that he had a German name. An ex-convict, infected with the prevalent mania, did not stay to inquire, and shot M. Mertz dead.

After the war the League of the Rights of Man took up the case and came to the conclusion that there was nothing against M. Mertz. They urged the War Ministry to do all that was possible to repair the tragic blunder and grant some compensation to M. Mertz's widow.

After long inquiries, the department agreed, acting under the Amnesty Act of this year, which sanctions the "rehabilitation" of people executed during the war without proper process of law.

"I want to add a few words" said the Duke of Connaught, "in the name of the association of the French families of which some brave members went to found New France and who contributed by their labors their strength of will and their courage to gradually create that magnificent empire whose harmonious force we so admire today. Does not the glory of the parents leave obligations to the children? Is not the Canada of our days built upon the lives, the hearts and the blood of so many of ours, so many of your gentlemen? There is one of the greatest reasons why Sir Campbell Stuart is entitled to our gratitude for it is by his generous initiative in bringing us together that has been realized the union of our hearts for the love of a glorious past."

From Canada's Premier. The toast to France was proposed by the Hon. Dr. Beland, Minister of Health and D. S. C. L., official representative of the Government of Canada. Dr. Beland prefaced his remarks by reading a cablegram from President W. L. Mackenzie King, which was as follows:

"Please communicate to the distinguished gathering at the Versailles banquet the following message which I have great pleasure in addressing to you this memorable day in the name of the Government and the people of Canada. Four hundred years ago men who traveled from France revisited Europe the new land which has now become Canada. From that time on, French explorers, French soldiers, French missionaries, French traders, other in zeal, penetrated to the interior of the American continent, exposing themselves to infinite dangers of all kinds that attended them and made of their heroes, patriots and martyrs. The exploits which they accomplished as a source of legitimate pride for their race because they contributed to its glory and are worthy examples to follow. As founders of New France they have established the basis of a great nation. For the building of this great nation the centuries have labored in the course of the centuries finished the work of their hands. Gaining thereby from year to year in development and force, Canada can now face its own destiny, thanks to the traditions of valor and loyalty inherited both from France and from England. These two countries—former rivals, today sincere friends—contemplate in that Canada which is the fruit of their respective genius the truest and noblest of friendships—the friendship of the old world."

"The Canadian today send the expression of their gratitude and their homage, already proved in their recent courageous and heroic deeds, to France, mother of the men who went through heroic adventures for the discovery of Canada and for her deliverance from barbarism."

Dr. Beland referred to the fact that he was a descendant of one who led Normandy nearly three centuries ago to see Canada and said that even though he might never see Canada in person, he was giving adequate expression of his thoughts.

The ceremonies in connection with this banquet and the broadcasting from the three C. N. B. radio stations were closed with the singing of "O Canada" in the French language.

Senators Dandurand, representing the Government of the Province of Quebec then proposed the toast "To Old France" in the name of the Prime Minister of the province, the Hon. Alexandre Taschereau.

SHORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

FEW ATTRACTIONS FOR BOXING SEASON

Champions Who Refuse to Risk Title are Killing Sport.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(United Press).—With Jack Dempsey doing a vaudeville act and with Benny Leonard finishing movies and preparing to do some heavy acting in a road show this winter, the prospects for a busy indoor boxing season are slipping.

HAGEN DENIES AND THREATENS SUIT

Meanwhile Caddy Says He Made Up Kidnapping Tale.

New York, Oct. 29.—Robert Burns Boughan, a Chicago caddy, whose story about the kidnapping of Walter Hagen, professional golfer, resulted in the issuing of a Chicago warrant for Hagen's arrest, admitted today that he had told the story to his parents in an endeavor to cover the fact that he had run away from home, according to word received by W. G. Marvin, the golfer's attorney, over the telephone from Kansas City. Hagen, hearing that the papers for his arrest were on the way, made the following statement:

WHAT IS OUTLOOK FOR LOCAL HOCKEY?

Already Talking of Winter Sports—Should Start Training.

What is the outlook for hockey in St. John this winter is a question being asked by fans throughout the city. Those who took an active interest in the game in former years are confident that they will be able to hand out a class aggregation of puck chasers, but aside from this there is nothing of a definite nature to tell the fans. If St. John hopes to compete with other Maritime teams the time is at hand when some definite action should be taken to reorganize and map out plans for the season's activities.

language of the ball field is regarded as a "nothing pitcher." By way of explanation, a "nothing pitcher" to the diamond athletes is a twirler who has nothing to fool the batter, just nice speed to hit and an easy curve to follow.

Southpaws Jolt Giants.

No one would ever accuse Southpaws Zachary and Mordrige of Washington of having the stuff of "Rube" Waddell, yet they stood the Giants on their heads in the recent world series, after Walter Johnson, with a world of stuff, had failed.

Sensational Comeback.

An injury robbed Gregg of much of his stuff, he slipped to the minors for a year and then retired from baseball. Now at an age close to forty

WALKER TO MEET MALONE TONIGHT

Champion and the St. Paul Boxer are Ready for Bout.

Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight, completed his hard training Monday at Newark for his twelve-round bout against Micky Walker, world's best terweight champion, to be held tonight by the National Sportsmen's Club at the 11th Infantry Regiment Armory, Newark.

MONCTON TO PLAY TROJANS SATURDAY

A Keen Contest Expected When Railway Boys and Locals Clash.

Football fans who saw the U. N. B. Trojans game here recently are keyed up over the approaching contest this Saturday when the Moncton city team and the Trojans are likely to develop into an even more bitterly contested game than the one between the locals and the boys from Fredericton. The college boys had it over the Trojans in that they were able to get in long hours of practice on a real playing field while the locals had to be content with a brief workout during noon hours. Moncton boys are under a similar disadvantage.

CROSS PACIFIC IN 32-FOOT BOAT

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—Aboard a 32-foot boat four men from this city have set out on a cruise across the Pacific, with Honolulu as their destination. The boat was piloted by Karl Rathfon, an experienced navigator of small craft, and his boat is the Idis Hour.

ATHLETIC CLUB DANCE

The Canucks Amateur Athletic Club held a successful dance in Orange Hall, Fairville, last night, when a six-piece orchestra provided a pleasing programme and there was a large gathering of patrons.
