Dense Fog Seals Ports In Britain and Halts The Traffic

THOUSANTS TRAPPED IN MINE

AQUITANIA COULD NOT GET AWAY

Southampton Harbor Completely Locked; Liner Held at Anchor.

SPORTS POSTPONED

Airships From Continent Unable to Land Through Ocean of Fog.

London, Nov. 26.—The greatest part of Britain was held in the grip of frost and fog over the week-end, tying up the ports, halting land traffic in some places and preventing the carrying out of many sport programmes. The fog was not severe, even for this country, but it was accompanied by a new, clammy fog that made conditions abominable.

Southampton harbor was completely sealed, for the fog was so dense as to make it impossible to take ships in or out. Among the vessels imprisoned was the Aquitania, which had already been postponed a day, so that she would not reach New York before the opening of the December immigration quota. When the liner tried to sail yesterday she could not get out of the harbor, and rode at anchor all day with tugs standing by in the hope that the fog would lift. When night fell, however, the Aquitania was still unable to move.

PAPAL PRINCESS' WILL IS FILED IN N. Y.

Widow of James Mackin Leaves Rome Property to Cardinal's Niece.

New York, Nov. 26.—Princess Spottiswood-Mackin, who died in Harrison, N. Y., on August 21, left $1,000 for the erection of a monument to herself with the inscription: "She did what she could for humanity—Sallie Britton, Princess Spottiswood-Mackin." and requested that she be buried in the habit of the Benedictine order. Her will was filed for probate in the Surrogate's Court.

All her property in Rome, except her money, securities, jewelry and lace, will go to Countess Valentina Vannutelli Venturini, niece of Cardinal Casati, Papal Secretary of State, with whom she frequently visited during her trips abroad. St. Patrick's Cathedral receives a bequest of $1,000 and the Catholic Church at Troy, Mo., $500. Her sisters, Elizabeth B. Kette, of 784 Park avenue, and Fannie B. Nisbet, of Yonkers, are to get all her jewelry.

Spanish Monarch Now Sees Naples

Bologna, Nov. 26.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, of Spain, arrived here yesterday from Rome. They were received at the station by the Minister of Justice, and drove through the streets of the town amid the plaudits of the populace. They left here last evening for Naples.

HYDRO MATTER IS DISCUSSED

Commissioners Authorize a $2,925 Expenditure— Comfort Station.

The city commissioners this morning authorized the expenditure of $2,925 by the Public Power Commission. Resolution of Sympathy. Commissioner Wigmore referred to the death of W. W. Paul, one of the city's most valued officials and moved that a letter of condolence be sent from the Common Council to the widow, J. A. Grant and Co. of $25 for the foundation and erection of the steel towers to carry a primary power across the St. John River and that two steel towers be purchased from the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission at a cost of $2,000.

Commissioner Thornton asked if the $25,000 for street lighting, which had been authorized and not used, might not be used for this purpose rather than bond issues. He said already the amounts authorized exceeded the $450,000 which it was said the system could be completed for.

Rey A. Willet said the amount authorized to date, less $3,718 for street lighting, was $391,000 and he believed the system would be finished for the $450,000.

The motion carried. For Comfort Station. Commissioner Frink moved that a portion of the plot in Market Square be utilized for the proposed comfort station, that the city engineer be instructed to prepare a plan and if necessary engage an architect. He said he had in mind a building which would serve as a waiting room and bookstand and perhaps a second story which might be leased.

Commissioner Wigmore asked if the commissioner could not bring in a report on the cost of a building in King Square as well as in Market Square. Commissioner Bullock said the New Brunswick Electric Power Co. should be asked to co-operate.

Commissioner Thornton favored King Square as the best place for the station but believed there should be one in Market Square as well. Commissioner Frink was given the authorization asked for. Commissioner Bullock moved that $150 be paid the heirs of Andrew Lamereaux, toward the cost of breakwater constructed at Navy Island, provided the heirs give a proper release to the city. On the suggestion of Commissioner Frink this matter was laid over to get the opinion of the city solicitor.

Underwriters Refuse St. John Man's Offer—Reported Sale in Norway.

Captain Halvorsen, who was in the city in the interests of the Norwegian Underwriters, announced this morning that the M. H. Kongshavn, which was put under the hammer last Thursday and knocked down to Frank O. Garson and James L. McAvity for $18,000, will not be sold here, but will be laid up at this port for the winter. It is understood that she has been sold to a party in Norway.

BETTER AND BETTER EVERY DAY

The Times-Star is becoming better and better every day. Many of its readers say it is keeping abreast of the times—and then some.

For ONE CENT it certainly is far ahead of all competitors in Canada.

The additional TWELVE FEATURES have put it in a class by itself. News when it is news is a motto which the Times-Star lives up to.

Day after day The Times-Star carries NEWS which no other paper in the Maritime Provinces carries. Its feature service is very much AHEAD of all competitors in New Brunswick.

These are only a FEW REASONS why the Times-Star, while selling for one cent is worth TWICE AS MUCH. The Times-Star is "A Great Newspaper Growing Greater," and that is why it is "The Paper That Goes Home and Stays Home."

HURRIES TO LONDON

Violence is Threatened Conservative Speakers in Election Campaign.

London, Nov. 26.—Lord Younger, who as Sir George Younger is accredited with having forced the resignation of the Lloyd George government, is to have command of the Conservative campaign in the coming election. Lord Younger has hurried to London from his country seat to take the place of other party chiefs who will be forced to leave headquarters and fight for their respective seats in the constituencies.

In accordance with the electoral law all nominations were to be in by 1 p. m. today and the final figures were looked for an early hour.

The electioneering campaign in the press and on the platform continues to be very bitter, and in some constituencies the people are showing an angry spirit. The Conservatives say that several of their speakers have received notices threatening them with violence if they appear on platforms in London.

It is generally admitted, says the newspaper, "that but for Mr. Baldwin's 'bull at a gate' methods the U. S. would willingly have postponed the whole question and given us in the end far better terms. As it is, the difference is that we know the British public must find forty million pounds yearly, which is nearly twice as much as the total inducements the Premier is holding out as past proceeds of his tariff scheme. The only difference is that we know the British public must find forty million pounds yearly, which is nearly twice as much as the total inducements the Premier is holding out as past proceeds of his tariff scheme."

SCHOOLBOY ROMANCE REVEALED AS BRIDE DIES IN BATHTUB WASHING STOCKINGS

Boston, Nov. 26.—A tragic end of a schoolboy romance was revealed yesterday when Medical Examiner David C. Dow admitted that Mrs. Edith G. Cook was drowned in the bathtub of her honeymoon flat at 7 Summer road, Cambridge, within a week.

Both she and her bridegroom husband, Scarborough F. Cook, student at the Harvard Medical School, were prominent in Springfield society.

Mrs. Cook, who was Edith Carey Grover, was married on June 2 by the Rev. Charles A. Wing, pastor of the Church of the Unity, at the Grover home. The couple had been sweethearts since 16 years old and their names had been linked for years. Both were prominent in the younger set of the city.

Cook is the son of Waldo L. Cook, managing editor of the Springfield Republican, and his bride was daughter of James Grover, special agent for the New York Underwriters' Agency.

U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Rushes to Aid of Ship in The Atlantic.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 26.—The coast guard cutter Actuchet passed here this forenoon on her way to the assistance of a steamer reported to be aground near Pollock Rip. The name of the steamer as reported here was the Williams-Port, but no further particulars were given.

No Steamer Sighted. Chatham, Mass., Nov. 26.—No steamer could be sighted aground or in trouble in the vicinity of Pollock Rip when marine observers here made their morning survey. The weather was clear.

Centenary of Saint Observed

Rome, Nov. 26.—The celebration of the anniversary of the sixth century of the Canonization of St. Thomas Aquinas took place yesterday in the church of Santa Maria Minerva in the presence of Cardinal Vannutelli and six other members of the cardinalate and numerous members of the papal household. The papal diplomatic corps also attended the ceremony.

GIRL DIES; NOW CHARGE IS MURDER

Geraldine Durston, Shot on Refusal to Marry Topping, Succumbs in Hospital.

London, Nov. 26.—After withstanding an operation for the extraction of the bullets and after being kept alive for more than an hour by the administration of oxygen, Geraldine Durston died on Saturday night in Victoria Hospital. It is alleged Clarence Topping admitted shooting her on Friday at the girl's home, following her refusal to marry him. A charge of murder will be laid against Topping.

Two bullets struck Miss Durston in the abdomen. Miss McNaughton, also a victim of the shooting, has successfully passed through the shock stage and is reported today as being brighter.

Young, Pretty, Wealthy—And She Wants a Hubby

GLORIA FOY

Detroit, Nov. 26.—Hey, fellows! Wealth, happiness and a beautiful wife—Some young man will win all three if he can convince Gloria Foy, 22-year-old heiress, that he would make her a desirable husband. And furthermore, keep her so convinced for 10 years.

Mrs. Foy, once an understudy of Marilyn Miller and now a star of a current musical attraction, has received $1,500,000 through the will of her uncle, Richard Foy, wealthy coffee planter of Rio de Janeiro.

She gets a third of it immediately. The next half million is hers only if she marries before she is 25. And the third and last installment comes ten years from her wedding day, if she and her husband still are living together happily.

And she says she hasn't a prospect in the world.

TAKES MATTER UP TO OTTAWA

Commissioner Bullock is to Have Conference on the Wharfage Question.

Commissioner Bullock this morning at the City Council meeting announced his intention of proceeding to Ottawa to take up with the heads of the departments of Public Works and Marine and Fisheries the matter of a working agreement between the city and the Marine Department in regard to overlapping collections. He contended that the cutting out of the provision inserted in the potato warehouse lease dealing with that phase of the matter would mean a loss of $5,000 a year, and he complained that an editorial in the Telegraph-Journal did not do the City Council justice, and that the city taking over the property in providing the potato warehouse.

The commissioner said he had received a request from the Public Works Department that the lease contained a covenant providing that in the case of the city taking over the property, the appraised value should include the cost of repairs to the wharf and a statement that the matter of overlapping would have to be taken up direct with the department of Marine and Fisheries.

He said that in inserting the clause about overlapping the city was only continuing an arrangement which has been in effect for some years, as at the present time the Government collected the side and top wharfage at No. 14 and the city collected for No. 6 extension, and these amounts about balanced.

He was prepared to recommend that the land be decided to the Government, and that would get rid of the question of appraised value and he was willing to make the agreement in regard to overlapping apply only to No. 14 berth if it was found necessary, but he felt sure that the matter could be arranged in a manner satisfactory to all parties at a conference.

Commissioner Frink said he had been in favor of a deed of the land to the Government at the start, but understood the department had asked for a lease. He said the city had kept this land as a buffer between the Government and the other parties to the tripartite agreement. The council was not trying to hold up the work, but there seemed to always be someone trying to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery between here and Ottawa.

Commissioner Wigmore said he felt the council had not met the Government more than half way in all respects, but he did not think the citizens would support a move that gave away $5,000 a year. He had always found that both Governments tried to get everything for nothing from St. John.

Commissioner Bullock will leave at four o'clock this afternoon for Ottawa.

SPEAKERS URGE CONTINUATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Anti-Union Meeting in St. Andrews Addressed by Dr. Geo. Duncan.

That it was time a fiery cross went through the land warning of the vivid peril of the threatened yoke of the new organization that might never be thrown off, was the declaration of Rev. Dr. George Duncan, of the church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, Montreal, in his address before the mass meeting in St. Andrews church last night when, with Mr. Justice Crockett, LL. D., he spoke in the interests of the continuance of the Presbyterian church in Canada. Murray MacLaren, C. G. M., M. P., M. D., was the chairman of the meeting and the opening prayer was offered by Rev. J. S. Bonnell, minister of the church. The whole of the large auditorium of the church was filled and the congregation overflowed into the gallery. A large choir led in the singing.

Dr. MacLaren explained that the meeting was held under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church Association in the interests of the continuance of the Presbyterian church and having thanked the people of St. Andrews church for the use of the building he drew attention to a recently published pamphlet written by a former secretary of the Church Union Committee and giving facts concerning why he had changed his mind with regard to the advisability of proceeding with church union, under the present conditions.

Judge Crockett.

Judge Crockett spoke as a lay member of the executive of the Presbyterian Church Association to vote his earnest and confirmed disapproval of the so-called Church Union movement, and what tens of thousands of Presbyterians regarded as an unjust coercive legislation by which its promoters wished to establish it. He dealt with the various clauses of the Enabling Bill, explaining that it would blot out of existence in Canada the three churches, Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational, as it was the intention of the promoters that it would have a name that was an implied falsehood, "The United Church of Canada." The name was as preposterous as it was fictitious, he declared, as there was no attempt to unite all the churches in Canada. The Bill would further invest all the property of the churches in a new church, giving to its general council the control of funds which had been provided for the teaching of Presbyterian doctrines in Presbyterian colleges. These funds, if the Bill were enacted, would be used for teaching the new church.

The worst and boldest feature of the Bill in Dr. Crockett's opinion was that it would legislate into the new church the entire membership of the Presbyterian church, willing or unwilling. That clause should interest every free citizen he considered, as if it passed it laid down the principle that religious belief and conviction were subject to parliamentary control. He would not object to the members who wished to withdraw to form a new church doing so, but by the clauses providing that six months after its enactment on a majority vote any congregation might withdraw and in the meantime the Presbyterian church would have been swept out of existence. The Bill ignored the rights of minorities and made provision for a commission of

ity. He recalled the steps taken in the General Assembly to promote church union. He declared that the framers of the bill had no authority to proceed to prepare legislation and had ignored the fact that 75,000 had voted against church union when the people had last been given an opportunity to express an opinion and when a much less drastic measure was proposed. Now it was made plain that the principle of the bill must stand unaltered if it was further discussed at any meeting. In no other country but Russia could an order be issued that a question must not be discussed.

To Dr. Duncan the bill meant serious danger that the church would become a Parliamentary church, a bondage which Covenanters and Free Church Presbyterians had suffered and sacrificed to be free of.

He felt that a vote of the people should be taken before any definite action was entered upon and gave statistics to show that a large number of self-supporting churches in the eastern provinces had given large majorities against church union and in the west 380 missions had given more votes in favor of church union than there were people entitled to vote. The announcement of Dr. Duncan's evoked some laughter.

He told of the recommendations that he had submitted as a member of the union committee which had urged patience and guarding against disruption and to enact legislation to suppress immorality. There were church members in the Methodist and Presbyterian bodies to whom smoking, card playing and theatgoing were not desirable and if the council of the new church was dominated by these men they might suppress what they considered immoral. In conclusion, Judge Crockett pointed out that the transference of its power Parliament could not legalize.

Rev. Dr. Duncan.

Dr. Duncan spoke as a minister of the Presbyterian church who had served in Scotland, Australia and Canada, who was born in Prince Edward Island and had good will to all branches of the Christian church. He considered the time to be the most critical in the history of the Presbyterian church in Canada as the proposed form of church union threatened to disintegrate the Presbyterian federation of churches as it had been accomplished in other countries and in which each church retained its identity.

Church Association Dr. Duncan said there had come a marked change in the policy of the union leaders but the matter would not be settled except by the people who would be influenced by votes. The time had come when those opposed to church union must ask their ministers to express their convictions.

If a portion of the Presbyterian church he believed it would be a stronger portion and he spoke with feeling of the 15,000,000 of people throughout the world who are now embraced in the Presbyterian communion.

Spoke in Fairville.

Rev. Dr. Duncan, Dr. G. G. Corbett and Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., M.P., M.D., spoke on Saturday evening in St. Columba's church, Fairville. Although the weather conditions were unfavorable there was a fairly good representation of the church members. Rev. W. M. Townsend, pastor of the church, presided. Dr. G. G. Corbett tied arguments against entering the Union.

Dr. Duncan said he was pleased to be in the church which had the courage to stand for Christian liberty at the beginning of Presbyterianism in the fifth century. He could name many prominent churches the congregations of which voted for the continuation of which voted for the church. He had no objection to churches uniting of their own accord, if they thought it desirable, but he did strongly object to churches that did not

Serves Every Need For Milk or Cream

CARNATION Milk is convenient because you can get it from your grocer—any time of the day—store it on your pantry shelves—keep a week's or a month's supply ahead if you want to—open a can when you need it.

It's doubly convenient because it serves your every need for milk or cream. For cereals or fruit, in tea or coffee use it as it comes in the can. For ordinary milk use dilute with water as desired.

This means economy too! There's no waste. Carnation Milk stays sweet in the can indefinitely and for several days when opened. It is simply "whole" fresh cows' milk from which about 60% of the natural water content has been removed by evaporation, then sealed in the can and sterilized. Order several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans from your grocer.

Try this recipe and write for the Carnation Cook Book containing 100 tested recipes. Beautifully illustrated. Write to-day.

OYSTER STEW

One pint oysters, 3 cups water, 1 cup Carnation Milk, pepper, 1/2 tablespoonful salt, 2 tablespoonfuls butter. Clean and drain oysters. Add butter and seasonings to the scalded milk mixed with the water. Bring to the boiling point, add oysters and serve. This recipe serves six people.

Eversharp and Wahl Pen matched in gold or silver are an asset in appearance.

Yet it costs no more to own Eversharp and Wahl Pen. You get not only a better looking pen and pencil, but writing tools that have become the world's favorites through their unlimited capacity for hard work.

Hold an Eversharp. Sense its perfect balance that suits your hand so comfortably. In writing you will find Eversharp delightfully free from the usual pencil faults. And Eversharp features can't be copied. The lead never wobbles. For the exclusive rifled tip grips it like a vice. You know just when to put in a new lead, for the automatic index tells the length left in the barrel. A supply of new leads is found under the cap. There, you also find the eraser.

The all-metal Wahl Pen is the greatest modern fountain pen improvement. It can neither crack nor split. The metal walls, though stronger, are thinner than rubber—therefore the barrel holds more ink. Wahl Pen is the most durable of fountain pens. It will last a lifetime.

Matched in gold and silver, Eversharp and Wahl Pen are always handy in pocket or purse. Buy both. Eversharp, $1 to $10. Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices. Look for the name on each.

ARCHDEACON RAYMOND.

When a good man comes to the end of the road there is deep sadness among those who journeyed with him, and shared with him the joys and pleasures of the way.

any favored treatment. Of the Alberta case the Gazette says: "The Canadian National, being desirous to facilitate the development of this trade, set an experimental rate of seven dollars, which was effective during part of the summer, and the expectation or hope, being that other interests concerned would assist in the reduction of marketing costs.

Press Comment

THE SAME PROBLEM

(London Daily Mail) Unemployment and oversea development are two aspects of the same gravely threatening problem.

IDEALS AND ACTION

(Kingston Whig) The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs have done incalculable good in their communities, not only by the practical fulfilment of definite objectives that called for co-operative effort, but by promoting social intercourse and exciting utilitarian ideals.

"BACK TO CANADA."

(Le Canada) The known facts of the exodus of our people to the United States are sufficient in themselves to arouse the public authorities to action.

COKE FROM NOVA SCOTIA

(Toronto Globe) Sir Henry Thornton says that he has uttered the word "Safety First," but in this process an impulse might be given to Nova Scotia industries.

UNAVOIDABLE DANGERS

(Toronto Globe) It is all very well to say "Safety First," but in this process an impulse might be given to Nova Scotia industries.

A BETTER WORLD AFTER ALL

(Albany Knickerbocker Press) Since November 11, 1918, there has developed a cynicism the essence of which is that, after all, the war for democracy was an indecisive and fruitless affair.

WALTON'S IMPEACHMENT

(Boston Herald) The Governor Oakes, alone himself "queered" a good cause. The Kijikias Klan had been guilty of offenses in the form of law and order which no organized community could tolerate.

THE QUACK PHYSICIAN

(New York Herald) William P. Sachs, formerly State Commissioner of Schools in Missouri, started the public a few weeks ago by announcing that 15,000 persons were practicing medicine in the United States under fraudulent licenses.

TOO MANY IDLE SHIPS

Ocean freight traffic has grown steadily in recent months, and there is need, for at July 1 last the aggregate idle tonnage of the chief maritime nations was 7,844,800 tons.

THE CHRISTMAS MAILS

The Christmas ship out of St. John this year will be the Canadian Pacific liner Montclair, which will sail with packages and parcels for Europe on Dec. 7.

SHIP ASHORE IN A BIG SNOW STORM

Montreal, Nov. 25.—The steamship Kemouraska, of the Dominion Coal Company, bound here from Sydney, N. S., on her regular service, ran aground early today during a heavy snow storm at a point about fourteen miles from this city.

RAILWAY RATES

Sir Henry Thornton's declaration that the C. N. R. has said its last word about coal rates from Alberta to Ontario affords the Montreal Gazette an opportunity to tell the Maritime Provinces that they must not expect service of the Master. It was an appalling address.

In the evening at St. David's church, Rev. Dr. DeWolfe gave a vivid picture of Jesus on the Cross and used the words "And they sat and watched Him there," Matt. 27:36, as his text. The thought was of the great condescension of the Lord of All, who allowed Himself to be thus falsely accused and basely insulted that He might show His love for the world through the ages. Because of His great war with evil and His all conquering love, He overcame, even in His hour of ignominy, said the speaker. Those who were in the procession that passed by the Cross were prostrated by Dr. DeWolfe as types of those who discerned but dimly or not at all the glory of the Lord of Life.

MATING IN THE WILDS

OTTWELL BINNS
ILLUSTRATED BY
GEO. ALFRED A. KNOPP, INC. CHICAGO SERVICE, ILL.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Hubert Stane rescues Helen Yardley when her canoe travels toward dangerous waters. Together they start walking the trail to the camp where Helen is staying with her uncle, a governor of the Hudson Bay Company. The camp is near a northern part of the company. Stane is a discharged convict.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

The meal was finished without further reference to the past, and after a smoke, Anderson threw on his furs and went outside. Presently he returned and announced his intention of going up the lake to the Indian encampment.

Stane looked at Helen, then he said: "We will accompany you, Anderson." When Anderson had harnessed his dogs they started off, making directly up the lake, and within two hours sighted about half a score of winter tepees pitched near the shore, and with sheltering woods on three sides of them.

"The end of a journey of two hundred miles, or the beginning of one that may take men into the Barrens, and up to the Arctic. Lord, what a life this is!"

He laughed as he spoke, and both those who heard him knew that he found the life a good one, and was without regret for the choice he had made.

As they drew nearer the camp, two or three men, and perhaps a dozen women, came from the tepees to look at them, and when the dogs came to a halt, one of the men stepped forward. He was an old man, and withered-looking, but with a light of cunning in his bleared eyes.

"What want," he asked. "Me, Chief George." The policeman looked at the bent figure clothed in many-looking furs, with a dirty capote over all, and then gave a swift glance at his companions, the cydill nearest to them fluttering down in a slow wink.

"But I have heard there is, a man who is the son of thy sister, with a white father."

A PUZZLE A DAY

A certain clock made three strokes while a cuckoo clock made two. On one occasion, both clocks started at the same instant; the ringing clock made its last stroke on a "cuckoo," and two more "cuckoos" followed. What time was it?

Saturday's answer:

954

The answer to the problem is shown above. 738 plus 216 totals 954; and in addition, every figure, from 1 to 9 is used, once only. Other combinations are possible.

help you. I shall have to push on, but the first chance I get I'll send word on to Factor Rodwell. If only I could turn back—

Stane again gave his attention to the conversation between his friend and the Indian, but half a minute later, happening to glance at the girl, he surprised a look of intense interest on her face.

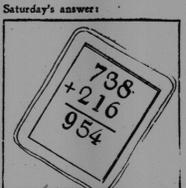

Stane himself glanced at the tepee in question, the moose-hide flap of which was down. Apparently the girl inside had overcome her curiosity, and preferred the warmth of the tepee to the external cold.

"Not till Stane addressed her did she take her eyes from the tepee. "Anderson's through," he said. "His man has gone northward; and, as you heard, there are no dogs here. We shall have to go back to the cabin. Anderson tried to persuade the chief to send a couple of his young men with a message down to Fort Malau, but the fellow says it is impossible in this weather to make the journey without dogs, which I dare say is true enough."

CHAPTER XVI.
An Arrow Out of the Night.
The short Northland day was drawing to a close, when Stane and Helen reached the cabin again. For the first time since he had known it, the man felt that the place had a desolate look; and the feeling was accentuated by the sombre woods that formed the background of the cabin.

Things were just as they had left them on their departure, and he drew a little breath of relief. Why he should do so he could not have explained. A few minutes passed, and soon the stove was roaring, filling the cabin with a cheerful glow.

"What is it?" she asked quickly. "There is some one about," he answered. "I heard the twang of a bowstring and the swish of an arrow whizzing by my head. Some one aimed—Ah, there it is!"

He pointed to the wall of the cabin, where an arrow had struck, and still quivered. Going to the wall he dragged it out, and looked at it. It was ivory tipped, and must have been sent with

"Rest!" laughed the girl. "Do you think I can rest with my heart jumping with excitement? I shall keep the first watch, perhaps after that I shall be sufficiently tired—and bored—to go to sleep."

Stane smiled at her words, and admiration of her courage glowed in his eyes, but what she suggested fitted in well enough with his own desires, and he let her have her way, and himself lay down on his couch of spruce-logs, and after a little time pretended to sleep.

Stane was thinking of the face of Mikkoed as she had seen it over her shoulder when they were departing from the encampment up the lake. She had read there a love for the man who was her own companion, and in the dark, wilyly beautiful eyes she had seen the jealousy of an undisciplined nature.

A sound of movement interrupted her reverie, and she half-turned as Stane rose from his spruce-couch. "You have heard nothing?" he asked.

"Nothing!" she replied. "I will take the watch now, Miss Yardley, and do you lie down and rest."

fresh and delicious!

The secret of the fresh and delicious flavor of Moir's Chocolates lies in the chocolate coating. Moirs do not buy their chocolate coatings. They make their own, importing for this purpose the choicest cocoa beans. These are roasted and blended by a secret process in the Moir candy kitchens. Then they are ground by machinery for days at a time until the chocolate paste has the smoothness of satin with a texture so close and fine that the air is excluded. That is why you always find Moir's so fresh and delicious. The wonderful coating preserves their goodness. Take home a box to-day.

Powers, 2 Second street, was at home on Saturday afternoon at a delightful informal function in honor of her aunt, Miss Sarah Millidge, of Winnipeg, and sister, Mrs. Raymond Davis, of Victoria, Alberta. Mrs. H. C. Simons presided at the tea table and was assisted in serving by Miss Violet Millidge, Miss Isabel Brown, Miss Nancy Dunlop, Miss Jeannette Powers and Miss Betty Powers.

Mrs. Raymond Davis, of Victoria, Alberta, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. James Millidge, will leave tomorrow for her home, Miss Sarah Millidge, of Winnipeg, who has also been a visitor with relatives in the city, will return to the west with Mrs. Davis.

Rev. Canon Osborne G. Troop, of Montreal, who is conducting a mission in St. James Anglican church, Broad street, will be the guest of Mr. Keltie Jones during his stay in the city.

Miss Alice Harrison, superintendent of primary department of the Maritime Religious Education Council, will be a guest at the Sign of the Lantern hotel during her stay in the city for official business. Miss Harrison was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Robert G. Fulton at the Centenary paragon yesterday.

Rev. G. W. Brooker, who came from Freeport, N. S., for a vacation, is enjoying a delightful rest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, 70 Wentworth street. Rev. Brooker is being welcomed by his brother ministers in the city and was in attendance at the special meetings of Rev. H. DeWolfe, D.D., of Acadia University, when he spoke before the Y. M. C. A., on the occasion of their 60th anniversary at the gymnasium in the afternoon and in St. David's church in the evening.

Mrs. Percy D. McAvity and Mrs. David W. Leighton, who were on a trip to Boston, returned to the city on Saturday.

Dr. H. W. Bridges, of Fredericton, was a visitor in the city over the week-end, arriving Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Robertson, who has been visiting in Chatham, the guest of Mrs. H. B. McDonald, was the occasion for several pleasant functions while there. Among her hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Brankley, Mrs. W. P. Eaton, Mrs. W. M. Sinclair, Mrs. F. E. Jordan, Mrs. Hugh Harrison, Mrs. V. Stewart Loggie, Mrs. John Russell, of Newcastle, Mrs. F. P. Loggie, Miss Price and others.

Mrs. H. B. McDonald, of Chatham, has come to the city with Mrs. Frank Robertson and will be her guest for a short time.

The engagement is announced of Miss Madeline Milch Walker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James J. Walker, of Moncton, to Mr. Leo Patrick Bradley, of Montreal, son of Mrs. Margaret Bradley, of Moncton, formerly of St. John, and the late Mr. Charles Bradley. The marriage will take place in Montreal on Dec. 27. The bride-elect is a sister of Rev. Francis Walker, of this city. She is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Charles Edward Myers, Mackay street, Montreal. The groom-elect is a teacher on the staff of one of the Montreal colleges.

Mrs. Morley Strang, of Metcal street, was a delightful hostess on Friday afternoon, when four tables of bridge were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Walter Myles, Mrs. Leonard Roberts and Mrs. Harry Pratt. Those entertained were: Mrs. H. Barton, Mrs. H. F. Frobisher, Mrs. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Harry McConnell, Mrs. A. E. Jones, Mrs. W. G. Gunn, Mrs. W. G. Gunn, Mrs. W. Charlton, Mrs. R. Mitchell, Mrs. R. Wasson, Miss Retta Tapley, W. Hoans, Mrs. A. L. Roberts and Mrs. Frank Lipsett presided at the tea hour. The rooms were very pretty with chrysanthemums and carnations for decoration.

Mrs. James Pierce, of Houlton, Me., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Coll, Douglas avenue.

Miss Evelyn Gallagher, of Chipman, N. B., was in the city over the week-end. She was at the home of Mrs. P. Grannan, Douglas avenue.

Mrs. Percy Woodley entertained on Saturday afternoon for her daughter, Miss Doris Woodley, who celebrates her ninth birthday. The house was prettily decorated with red berries, flowers and streamers. The dining room was the centre of attraction with its beautiful cake, which hid lovely flowers—one for each guest—and red candles. Those who enjoyed this happy occasion were Isabel Scott, Ruth Litchy, Marion Leonard, Rose Marie Hazen, Priscilla Hazen, Hazel Teed, Marion Harbour, Gertrude Chipman, Betty Bain and Dorothy Lennox. Miss Betty Bain, the youngest of the guests, was chosen as the donor of the gifts to the guests of the occasion. Just before supper was served little Miss Betty appeared with a doll's carriage fancifully trimmed and heaped with pretty things for Miss Doris Woodley. After supper games were played until nearly nine. The many friends of Miss Frances Job will be pleased to hear that she successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis at the St. John Infirmary on Saturday morning.

KITCHEN

GARNISHES
When you serve a salad or dessert do you think how attractive to look at you can make it as well as how good to eat?
And when you must use up leftover meats in croquettes or creamed on toast do you ever think that a tiny sprig of parsley dropped here and there on the platter lifts the dish several notches higher in the estimation of the family?
There are so many simple garnishes that are inexpensive and require no special tools that it seems a pity the average housewife overlooks the possibilities at her hand.
Cold roasts or broiled meat, thinly sliced and arranged neatly on a platter in an overlapping fashion, is twice as appetizing as if carelessly served.
Just a sprinkling of parsley the last thing before sending a platter of creamed dried beef on toast to the table adds an intriguing touch to an everyday standby.
Hard-boiled Eggs
Hard-boiled eggs are an effective garnish. They are cut in rings across the egg or lengthwise. The white then makes petal-shaped sections and the yolk is sliced to form the centre of the daisy. Can't you imagine a mound of dark green spinach with one of these daisies in the centre, and a ring of fluffy rice surrounding the base of the mound? Serve a rich white sauce or a smooth cheese sauce in a separate dish and the whole provides nourishment as well as beauty. This combination might be used as the main dish for luncheon or with the meat course for dinner.
Mere threads of canned pimento through a cabbage salad or any vegetable or meat salad, masked with mayonnaise add much to the dish.
Head lettuce is high, but if the outer sides leaves are cut in "ribbons" and used as a salad garnish there is no waste to the head. These tiny green ribbons are lovely worked into nests for individual salads or used to surround a large moulded salad.
A left-over vegetable salad moulded in jelly or simply moulded on a bed of lettuce shreds, masked with yellow mayonnaise and "trimmed" with threads of scarlet pimento, thin slices of olives, tiny diamonds of pickled beets can be evolved in the home kitchen.
With the vegetable cutters and pastry tubes now on the market all sorts of marvelous things are done. Mashed potatoes blossom into roses with hearts creamed carrots. Turnips are cut in marbles and piled in little mounds before the sauce is poured over them. Potatoes cut with the same vegetable cutter are parboiled in salted water, drained and steamed in bacon fat or butter to a delicious brown and served as a garnish for a steak.
Maraschino cherries are cut in quarters and used quite as effectively as a whole cherry for garnishing desserts.
A bit of sparkling currant jelly dropped on each dish of everyday pudding does wonders for the pudding. Shreds of candied orange peel can be used in the same way.
Sections or slices of lemon sprinkled with minced parsley garnish the fish platter as well as furnishing the necessary piquant touch to the fish.
If you start garnishing your dishes you will find it fascinating work and be surprised at the many possibilities before you every day. The garnish habit grows and adds much to the interest in serving meals. It is an actual kitchen economy, often utilizing left-overs for the "garniture" and determining to a great degree the palatability of an uninteresting dish by making it "look good enough to eat."

REV. CANON TROOP
WELCOMED BACK

Former Rector of St. James Was Heard There Yesterday.

Inspiring addresses were delivered by Rev. Canon G. Osborne Troop in St. James church yesterday in the opening sermons in the mission which he will conduct throughout the week. Large congregations attended and many former friends took the opportunity of welcoming him back to St. John. Rev. H. A. Gody, rector of the church, conducted the services and a large choir was present. In the morning Canon Troop had for the subject "The Divine Voice" and he spoke of the voice of Christ as it speaks through the Scriptures.
The speaker referred to his ministry at St. John between the years of 1892 and 1895 and said he was delighted to be back among his old friends. Of his present work in conducting missions he spoke with earnestness telling of the helpfulness of his three missions in Montreal and the two he had conducted in Toronto. He also spoke with some feeling of his great regret in the death of Ven. Archbishop W. O. Raymond.
In the afternoon Canon Troop spoke before a very largely attended meeting of men. A male choir, composed of voices from St. James, St. Jude's, Stone and Trinity churches, led the singing with splendid effect and F. P. Browne, of St. John's church, was at the organ. Canon Troop spoke to the men on "Truth" giving an intimate and searching address which made a deep impression.

At the evening service in the church the theme of his address was "The tree of life and the flaming sword."
The Rev. Canon G. Osborne Troop was born at Bridgetown, N. S., March 6, 1854. He was educated at King's College, Windsor, N. S.; ordained deacon, 1887 and priest in 1878. From 1887 to 1881 he was curate at St. Paul's Halifax, and then became chaplain of Hellmouth Ladies' College, London, Ont., 1881 to 1882, and the latter year he became curate of the Church of the Assumption, Hamilton, Ont. From St. James' church, St. John, he went to Montreal as rector of St. Martin's church, where he remained for many years, and of which he is now honorary canon. He was appointed canon in 1911. Of late years Canon Troop has been free to serve, and as a special mission preacher he is known far and wide, and the demands upon him are many. Since last spring he has been holding missions in various places, both in Canada and the United States.

STILL IS SEIZED
BY INSPECTORS

It develops that officers connected with the Inland Revenue Department in St. John made the recent raids on half a dozen moonshine distilleries in the wilds of Albert Co. and not men from Moncton as was announced in a dispatch recently. The Inland Revenue Department here has been very active lately in rounding up moonshiners and they are still working on several cases which may lead to more seizures in several counties. In Albert county five men were fined last week for making liquor contrary to the federal laws, and no charge was made by the New Brunswick prohibitory authorities, as the federal laws take precedence. The fines mainly went to persons who aided the federal officers.
Federal Excise Enforcement Officer Murphy, of this city, aided by Prohibition Sub-Inspectors Alexander Crawford, Fred Killen and Stephen Hanson, seized a still with 10 gallons of mash and a basket of prunes in a British street house Friday night. No liquor was found. The case is now in the hands of the federal excise department, which is endeavoring to find the owner.

Beyond the Reach of
Your Creditors
Suppose you should die to-morrow and your executors were called upon to wind up your estate, what would be left for your wife and family?
Precious little, perhaps. But if you hold an Imperial Life policy payable to your wife, and you should die hopelessly in debt, your creditors couldn't touch the life insurance money. That would go intact to your widow.
You never knew that? Well, there's a whole host of other features of Imperial Life policies equally attractive.
Write for our booklet, "A Few Facts." It's full of interesting information about the advantages of Imperial Policies—and it's free.

Have You Read
THE BASIS OF UNION?
This document introduces such radical changes that every Presbyterian should read and study it
DO YOU KNOW?
That:
1. The ministers will not be pledged to any system of Truth.
2. The ordained eldership will be dropped.
3. The right of a congregation to "call" its own minister will be taken away.
4. The right of a Presbytery to ordain and induct its ministers will be taken away.
5. To exchange the Great Confession of Faith for this doctrinal compromise—the Basis of Union—is too big a price to pay for a so-called Union.

HARD COAL FIND
IN N. B. REPORTED

A Three and One-half Foot Vein Discovered Near Caracquet.

Chatham, Nov. 25.—A vein of anthracite coal three and one-half feet in depth was discovered recently on Chicontin Island, off Lower Caracquet, by Thomas McLean, of Baribouque Bridge. Mr. McLean has staked his claim and samples of the product have been forwarded to experts for inspection. He believes his find to be a valuable one and if it reaches his expectations the discovery will prove a great boost for Caracquet and district.

SAYS ANTI-TRUST
ACT A GOOD ONE

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Hon. Ernest La Pointe, Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries, addressing the Montreal Liberal Women's Club here Saturday, combated a number of assertions by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen in a speech here last week. He said the leader of the opposition had attacked the combines and trust act by saying it was useless. After quoting at length from the act, Mr. La Pointe declared that it was a preventive measure and the fact that it had not been transgressed was, he thought, proof positive that it was of value. It was to be applied only against abuses and since it had not been applied, the answer as to its value was obvious.

GREAT DROUGHT
IN N. H. BROKEN

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 25.—Clearing and cold weather tonight followed a storm of 36 hours' duration that broke one of the longest droughts in the history of the state. The shortage of water had forced the shutdown of a number of mills in the Merrimack Valley and had for a time deprived some of the smaller towns of electric lighting.
For many weeks hundreds of farmers could get water for live stock only by hauling long distances.
The rain which cleared early today resulted in a downfall of over four inches.

BELIEVES BATHURST FIRE INCENDIARY

Fire Marshall Returns From Inspection Trip on North Shore.
The property loss in the fire in Bathurst last week amounted to $55,000 and of this $45,000 was covered by insurance. H. H. McLeellan, fire marshal, reported yesterday on his return from that centre, where he had gone to investigate the suspicious circumstances in connection with a fire which had taken place six or seven weeks ago.
The fire losses in Bathurst for the population, Mr. McLeellan said, had amounted to a very serious consideration this year and those houses which were destroyed last week were of very light construction, one-story buildings with patent roofs. They were situated in a section of the town which has recently been made a fire district and in which the erection of buildings of similar construction will no longer be permitted.
The fire which he had gone to investigate was in the hardware and dry goods store belonging to Messrs. McLaughlin and McNish in the White building. The total damage in that fire was $75,000 and the insurance amounted to $60,000. The circumstances in connection with the fire were very suspicious and the case seemed marked as incendiary. He examined about 200 attending from all over the province. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m., followed by a musical entertainment.
In addition to the many Masons who will be here there is expected a large delegation of Liberals, including many members of the Legislature, who will attend the banquet to be tendered by Hon. Dr. J. Veniot, Premier of the province, on the evening of Nov. 28.

YOU CAN Eat Anything You Like And Not Have HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite when too much food is taken in the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting curd, and what is thrown up is generally sour and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Mr. Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away.
Mr. Joseph H. MacDonald, Christmas Island, N. S., writes, "Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have never been troubled since. It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heartburn any more."
Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FIRST SERVICE AT SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE

The first Sunday evening service of the season was conducted in the Seamen's Institute, last evening, by W. Brindle, the manager. The service opened with a sacred song, after which the manager addressed the men on the subject of a clean life. In the course of his address Mr. Brindle made reference to the great loss of the Institute suffered by the death of Thomas Graham, who with the late Mrs. Graham, had been faithful workers for a quarter of a century. At the time of his death Mr. Graham was a member of the general committee and also of the religious committee. There were more than forty men present at the service from the steamers Canadian Conqueror and Manchester Merchant, which arrived in port on Sunday morning.

The Crow of Croup A Warning To All Mothers

Croup starts with a dry cough and rattling in the throat. After which the child gives warning of the disease. The child, after tossing restlessly about, will start up with a flushed face, protruding eyeballs, and a distressing look of terror and anxiety. There is a struggle for breath, and the exploration of the mucous matter is so difficult to get rid of that the effort appears to threaten strangulation.
On the first sign of the "croupy" mother should administer Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thus give the child prompt and permanent relief, and perhaps the life saved by taking this precaution.
Mrs. H. A. Langhorn, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My little boy was very bad with the croup and I could not get anything to relieve him until I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I cannot praise it too highly for the relief it gave him."
Price 50c a bottle; the large family size 60c; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ST. ANDREWS HOLD ANNUAL SERVICE

Society Attends Anglican Church for First Time in 125 Years.

For the first time in 125 years that a St. Andrews Society has celebrated its annual service was held in an Anglican church yesterday morning. The innovation was made in order that the members might attend St. John's (Stone) Church, of which the chaplain-elect, Rev. A. L. Fleming, is rector. About fifty of the members marched in a body from their hall in Germain street to the church and two upper discourses stirring of Scotland led the van. Marching with St. R. Jack, the retiring president of St. Andrews Society, was Dr. James Manning, president of St. George's Society. In his address Mr. Fleming referred feelingly to the death of Thomas Graham, a faithful member of the society. His text was "One of the two who followed Him was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother." It was a peculiar pleasure to him, Mr. Fleming said, to welcome St. Andrews Society, the most ancient body in the city, to that historic church. A spirit of devout thanksgiving would rise from the hearts of the worshippers on the occasion of the first attendance of the society at an Anglican church service and prayers would be offered to God that this occasion might not be the last. He looked forward to the day when the Church of England and the Church of Scotland would be linked together in closer bonds of union and, while there might be many a long and difficult year before that came to pass, he urged the members of both churches, by love and loyalty, to hasten and not to hinder its coming. Things that seemed impossible today might be easy tomorrow and as an instance of the changes wrought by time he recalled the fact that when the St. Andrews Society was formed in St. John such things as organs and hymn books would not have been countenanced in Presbyterian churches. He went on to speak of the liturgy of the Anglican church not as a stumbling block to closer union but as something in which both bodies had close association. John Knox, as chaplain of King Edward VI, had helped to draw up the Book of Common Prayer and many Anglicans had been among those who met to draw up the Westminster Confession of Faith. There was no dissimilarity between the Book of Common Order of the Presbyterian Church and the Anglican Book of Common Prayer and the aim of both was to encourage reverent and orderly worship. Mr. Fleming went on to show how the associations of history were a further bond of union in religion. The coming of St. Columba to Scotland in 563 had shed its bright influence over England also. Unlike the other countries which forged Great Britain, Scotland had for her patron saint one of the disciples of Christ and it was fitting that the society should think of St. Andrew and from him learn devotion to the cause of Christ. St. Andrew was a missionary in Asia and Europe and suffered martyrdom in 17 A. D., Mr. Fleming said. His remains were removed to Constantinople by the Emperor Constantine and later a Greek monk carried them to Scotland and to the spot which was now the city of St. Andrews. Humility and sincerity were the two outstanding characteristics of St. Andrew and could the members of the society but learn like St. Andrew, to bring their small gifts to God, they would find, however small those gifts. NON-CHIP ENAMELWARE In buying enamelware the best quality is the cheapest in the end, for inferior grades chip easily and soon become worthless.

UNPARDONABLE SIN IS SUBJECT OF HIS SERMON

A throng of people overtaking the seating capacity of the Exmouth street Methodist church gathered there last night to hear Rev. Dr. H. T. Crossley discuss "The Unpardonable Sin." Every seat in the church was occupied and many people stood. Dr. Crossley and J. H. Leonard sang a duet entitled, "Eternity" and Mr. Leonard sang a solo. A choir of about 50 voices led the service of song under the direction of Mr. Leonard. In his sermon Dr. Crossley said in part, "The unpardonable sin is a state of mind which we are in when committing blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. Many people today are in lunatic asylums or have committed suicides thinking they have committed the unpardonable sin. It is not an act or a number of acts or yet an expression. It is a state of sin. The Lord will forgive and receive every one who comes to Him. He never trifles with His children." "Men and women and young people," urged the speaker, "grieve not the Spirit, quench not the Spirit, as when this has been done the unpardonable sin has been committed. While there is hope of salvation all is well."

MIXED JURY PUTS VALUE OF WOMAN'S LIFE AT $7,000

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—In the Federal District Court here a jury composed mainly of women assessed the value of the life of a woman of 53 at $7,000. The suit arose from the death of Mrs. Arma Shaw of Waterbury, Conn., who was killed on November 21, 1920, by an automobile owned by Mrs. Elizabeth W. Hiestand of Marletta, Pa., who had taken her son to a school at Watertown.

Bubonic plague is a disease of hot climates and has never in modern times been a serious sanitary problem in cold countries. A popular slogan seems to be "Millions for culture, but not one cent for agriculture."

Prevent sore throat

because a raw throat invites infection from the germs of tonsillitis, influenza and many other dangerous diseases. Formamint releases in the throat a powerful bactericide that destroys these germs. Get a bottle from your druggist and protect yourself from infection.

To avoid infection, dissolve a Formamint tablet in the mouth every one or two hours.

THE BODY-BUILDER
MADE IN CANADA

Tucker's Cafeteria, Toronto. Floors covered with Dominion Battleship Linoleum. "A" Gray, with black lettering. Table tops of "AAA" White Dominion Battleship Linoleum.

How will your Floors Act in the Winter Time?

Will they crack or warp; absorb moisture, become ingrained with dirt; will they add extra time and cost to the job of cleaning; will they be cold and repellent? These are just a few of the difficulties Tucker's Cafeteria, Toronto, successfully avoided by installing Dominion Battleship Linoleum, the floor that Canada's largest banks, offices, departmental stores, schools and public buildings have adopted for its durability, comfort and economy.

DOMINION BATTLESHIP LINOLEUM is a permanent floor. It is smooth and seamless; therefore easy to keep thoroughly clean. It is sanitary and germicidal, too, and takes the noise and fag out of walking. The occasional use of a reliable floor wax maintains the perfect condition of Dominion Battleship Linoleum through long years of unimpaired wear.

Made in four standard shades—brown, green, terra cotta and grey. Special colors on large contracts. Write for samples and literature.

Wet feet - sickness Dry feet - health

WET or damp feet are the cause of most winter ills. Frequently through wet and damp feet health is undermined and the disease is developed which will cause years of suffering.

School nurses and other health authorities say that warm, dry feet are necessary to robust health as well as comfort, and that rubbers are the best protection in snow and slush.

Active, scuffling, heedless little feet of boys and girls give rubber footwear its hardest test. All DOMINION brand rubber footwear is made with the wear quality and durability to withstand the hardest kind of wear and tear—to protect the feet and health of children and grownups.

Because of their splendid wearing quality DOMINION brand rubbers are the most economical to buy.

ST. JOHN MAN WINS FAME AS ARTIST

C. "Rodick," Whose Coastal Paintings Attract Notice, is Charles Roderick.

Some St. John people are wondering if the "Charles Rodick" who is exhibiting some of his vividly green New England coastal pictures in Horne's Gallery, Boston, is not our own Charles Roderick, who used to live in Pitt street—brother of Frank Roderick, prominent in athletic track here about 25 years ago.

Why this question is being asked is perhaps due to the knowledge that Mr. Roderick, after leaving St. John unaccountably, decided to make his home in Portland, Me., took the nearby rugged coast with its dripping cliffs and headlands as his favorite subject-matter. The writer has enjoyed the ex-townman's canvases as they hung in the luxurious corners of a Portland theatre awaiting purchasers.

At that time Mr. Roderick explained that his name had been so much mis-spelled in the press that he had decided to abide by the mistake. Possibly that is why "Rodick" appears instead of Roderick in an appreciative paragraph about one of the larger pictures entitled "Cape Elizabeth" the Boston Post's critic says.

"Vivid, brilliant green of a surprising clarity and transparency serves to make the marines in color unusually attractive, and the outstanding type of his work now being shown at the Grace Home Gallery, on Stuart street.

"Grey cliffs and broken rock formation are rich and harmonious in color, there is a richness, a freedom in the waves that ably expresses the spirit of the sea. A green of even greater luminosity predominates in a second study of the sea, where the foreground is occupied by rocks of a deep rich brown.

"In sharp contrast to these brilliantly colored marines is a smaller canvas of a unique theme. They tops of the fisherfolk stand on the top of high grey cliffs, at the base of which the sea is peacefully ponding. A soft grey fog prevails over the entire picture, lending an altogether pleasing delicacy."

THINKS SERVICE WILL BE POPULAR Power Co. Manager Speaks of Extra Saturday Night Car.

In spite of the bad weather, the patronage of the special rate street car service between the head of King street and West St. John, inaugurated on Sunday morning at 12 o'clock, was sufficient to warrant its continuance, says M. A. Pooler, general manager of the N. B. Power Co.

Times reporter this morning. Mr. Pooler said that twenty-nine passengers were carried on the first trip and the weather had not been wet, he was of the opinion that the car would have been filled. Although the car would hardly pay extra operating expenses, he felt that the service was worth while and it was therefore decided to continue it.

TO GIVE BENEFIT CONCERT. The boys of Knox church who presented a successful minstrel show on Friday night have offered to repeat the performance at an early date for the benefit of the Animal Rescue League, and their offer has been gratefully accepted. The league's work is being carried on successfully in the new quarters in 107 St. David's street, but funds are urgently needed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I disagreed with a gentleman the other day." "I do that most every day," said Hiram.

"And because I did so," went on the reporter, "I was told I would be killed." "That wouldn't settle the question—even if you was," quoth Hiram. "You was right—or you was wrong. If you was right your funeral wouldn't make the other feller right—would it?"

"Quite so," said the reporter—"but the threat see thinking." "That sort of thing," said Hiram, "is what makes wars an' crimes an' squabbles. It splits families, an' churches, an' countries. I don't say the other feller orto agree with me all the time. But if him an' me sot down an' talked it out—an' got other people to talk it out with us—even if we still couldn't see eye to eye we'd come near enough to it to hev some respect fer one another—yes, sir. The feller that always hes a chip on his shoulder don't naturally git all he wants. It aint human nature to let him do it. Now you take a man that hes modest ideas about how much he knows—an' he'll hev more friends than all the know-it-all critters in the place. When I was a young feller I thought I knowed it all—an' I guess I done some braggin' about it, too—but I hed enough savin' common sense to find out after a while that all the brains o' The Settlement wasn't under my hat—an' it done me a lot o' good—by hen!"

S. E. Komlensky proposed The Boys, and H. L. Marcus proposed the toast to the ladies.

FORMER ST. JOHN PASTOR THERE

Rev. P. J. Stackhouse's Church, Chicago, Has Its 90th Anniversary.

The First Baptist Church of Chicago is celebrating its ninetieth anniversary. The pastors is Rev. Perry J. Stackhouse, D. D., a former pastor of the Tabernacle Church in St. John, and the special preacher for the occasion is Dr. Austin K. De Blois, of the First Baptist Church, Boston, a Nova Scotian who was once a principal of the Baptist Seminary in St. Marks, D. C. The services began yesterday and will close on Wednesday night. The congregation is asked to make an anniversary offering of $3,000, and to pledge contributions of $20,000 in four years, in connection with a new Bible School and Community House of which the corner stone was laid yesterday.

The subjects of Dr. De Blois' sermons yesterday were The Spirit of the Fathers and Our Baptist Message in a Changing World. This evening he addresses the Men's Club on The Chicago Man and the Master of Men. It is an interesting fact that two brilliant sons of the Maritime Provinces should figure so prominently in these services. Dr. Stackhouse is an author as well as a preacher, and has pursued a notable career since he left St. John.

Gives History. A leaflet issued in connection with the anniversary services tells the first place of worship erected in Chicago before it had received its first charter, was the original First Baptist Church in 1838. It had the first settled minister and the first regular Sunday School. Its members started the first temperance society and the North Western Baptist, the first regularly issued denominational journal in the west (1842) was edited by its pastor. Another pastor wrote the first book ever printed in Chicago, and the Chicago Bible Society was organized by members of this church. One of its members was the first president of the Y. W. C. A. The first president of the old University of Chicago was a pastor of this church, and here the Women's Best Foreign and Home Missionary Societies of the west were organized, with a member of the church as first president of each.

Thus the church of which Rev. Dr. Stackhouse is now pastor has had a very notable history and far reaching influence.

WEEK-END RAINFALL NEARLY TWO INCHES Total Precipitation to Date Same as For Whole of 1921

The rainfall of Saturday was measured at 1.9 inches by the gauges at the Meteorological Observatory in Douglas avenue and the total rainfall for the precipitation of the year 1923 to date up to 8:17 inches, which is exactly the same as the total rainfall for the year 1921, the season of unprecedented summer drought. In 1921, however, there was a heavy rain on November. The months from May to November, inclusive, this year showed an unusually small rainfall. Dr. L. Hutchinson said last night. For that period this year there has been 21.17 inches of rain as compared with 20.4 in 1921, the season of drought, and 20.5 in 1914, and 19.2 in 1889, which was the driest year in that period of which there is any record.

Total precipitation for one year showed that 1889 was not the driest year on record as in the whole year the rainfall was just 37.1, while in 1914 the year's precipitation was only 35.5 inches. Up to the present time there has been 4.70 inches of rainfall this month and that is slightly above the average. The temperature, however, has been exceptionally high.

WORK FOR POOR IS REPORTED ON Annual Financial Statement of St. Vincent de Paul Society Presented.

The annual statement of St. Vincent de Paul Society was read at the masses in the Cathedral on Sunday. The year was started on Nov. 25 1922 with a balance of $1,202.91. Receipts during the year included $1,228.66 from Cathedral collection; $42.98, received from members; $24 from rental of room; $48.64 from interest; $56 from donations, including $20 from J. J. McGaffigan and $20 from C. W. Hope Grant. The total was $2,788.89. The expenditures included $238.85 for groceries; $491.10 for coal, $158.67 for boots; $62.23 for clothing; $18.98 for meat; $18.80 for bread; $9 for lighting; $29.20 for repairs. The balance on hand is $1,467.66.

This society cares for the poor of the parish. It was too early, His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc said, to say what would be the needs in the coming winter but there were always many poor. He said the annual collection would be taken up on next Sunday and he commended this charity to the generosity of his people, saying they could not give to a better cause. The society was doing a fine work, no salaries were paid; all was done free and the members even taxed themselves to increase the receipts.

THEIR CHILD DEAD. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Downer will learn with deep regret of the death of their infant son, Harry Scovill, which took place on Sunday, Nov. 25, at their residence, 78 St. James street, West End.
