RUTH TO GET ABOUT $75,000

And His Contract Good for Five Years.

Old Red Stockings Star Got Only $1,200 53 Years Ago—Strenuous Hockey Contest—Late Sport News.

(Canadian Press.) New York, March 7.—George Wright star shortstop of the Cincinnati Red Stockings, played throughout the entire season of 1883 for a salary of $1,200. The Red Stockings played fifty-seven games that year, of which they won fifty-six and tied one, a record which has never been duplicated. Wright was the highest paid member of the team.

Babe Ruth, home-run hitter extraordinary, signed on Sunday a contract with the New York American League Club which will net him approximately $75,000 during the coming season. The contract is for three years, with a renewal option for two seasons additional. If continued for the full term, Ruth will receive not less than $375,000.

These figures give an idea of the development of professional baseball in the United States during the last fifty years.

Homer, Seattle, March 7.—Ty Cobb has registered his first circuit cloud of the season. It would have been a four base hit in the regular campaign at any rate, for it sailed over the fence at just about the spot Bobby Veach had picked out to win the honor for himself. The Georgian set the mark for his slugging in the first round workout at Atlanta yesterday. Twenty-four members of the squad went through a two hour drill.

New York, March 7.—After 82 hours of fast riding, all sixteen teams in the spring six-day bike race at Madison Square Garden were still on even terms at eight o'clock this morning. Drobach was leading. The riders had travelled 629 miles and 4 laps. The record for this hour is 706 miles and 1 lap, made by Lawson and Root in 1915.

St. Paul, March 7.—With the players exhausted from their strenuous performances, the third hockey game between the St. Paul A. C. and Eveleth was called at the end of the third period last night with neither team having scored. The teams, battling for the right to enter the finals of the U. S. winter hockey championship, played a virtually even game throughout. Spectacular work on each side staved off defeat several times. Each team has won one game, and they will meet again tonight and tomorrow night, the latter being a play-off of last night's game.

Boston, March 7.—The Westminsters, eastern champions of the U. S. A. H. A. will leave for the west today to meet the winner of the St. Paul-Eveleth play-off in the west the first two games of a four game series for the championship.

Regina, Sask., March 7.—Regina Victoria, champions of Saskatchewan, got a four goal lead over the Calgary four team, champions of British Columbia-Alberta, in the first night cup elimination game here last night. The score was 6 to 2. The second game will be played on Wednesday night.

Montreal, March 7.—Penny, in the Royal Bank net, proved to be the winning margin in the bankers' hockey league game between his team and the Bank of Montreal last night. Penny, of the Royal Bank players by a score of 2 to 0.

UNEMPLOYED IN GALLERY OF THE N. S. LEGISLATURE Speakers Warn of Danger of Outbreaks Unless Situation is Relieved.

Halifax, N. S., March 7.—A large crowd of men, apparently unemployed, were in the gallery of the House of Assembly when the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne was resumed yesterday. When H. Smith, Farmer-Labor member for Colchester, referred to the seriousness of the unemployment situation there was a brief demonstration and a shout from the speaker to clear the gallery and the presence of a squad of police prevented repetition of the outbreak of last Friday.

The debate was mainly carried on by the Farmer and Labor members, who declared the speech from the throne lacked no constructive programme, and advised the government that unless something was done to relieve the unemployed situation, such as that at New Bedford in January, might occur in various parts of the province. The House adjourned under three p. m. today.

TWO BROKERS SURRENDER; THREE ARE ARRESTED New York, March 7.—Two stockbrokers indicted in District Attorney Banon's investigation of bucket-shopping and other illegal practices, surrendered, a open court yesterday while three more were arrested by detectives and held before the court for arraignment.

Believe British Crisis at an End

Resignation of Lloyd George Reported Deferred—Another Rumor Speaks of Drive Against Chamberlain—Eager for Balfour's Speech.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, March 7.—Premier Lloyd George has deferred his resignation without giving his colleagues any pledge as to future action regarding the premiership, according to the most reliable information. Others assert just as confidentially that the Conservatives are quite out of hand and are eager to turn against Austen Chamberlain for his efforts to promote harmony.

The political crisis is over, until it breaks out again—is the assertion of one newspaper and this statement in some quarters is being accurately to describe the situation. Sir Arthur Balfour's speech was eagerly awaited today.

London, March 7.—There is unmistakable relief in ministerial circles and it is now believed there will be no upward development at all events until after the Genoa conference, to which the premier attaches the greatest importance. It is believed that a desire to attend the conference was one of the reasons which induced Premier Lloyd George to remain in office.

In quarters hostile to the coalition, emphasis is laid on the temporary nature of the settlement and it is predicted that the trouble will break out again. Unionist ministers, however, are understood to be confident that if they stand together and show a resolute front in support of coalition principles they will be able to prevent any growth of the disruptive influences now at work.

Meanwhile the "die hards" movement continues active and discussion of the Irish bill supplies the "die hards" with an occasion for demonstrating hostility to the present ministry.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Paris, March 7.—The future financial standing of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary looks extremely dark as the ministries of the state created out of his old empire are making arrangements for a meeting in Paris on March 15 to discuss just what they are ready to contribute towards the upkeep of the ex-monarch in his exile home on the island of Madeira.

It is understood that Italy is the only country which is considering favorably the proposition of assessments to meet his expenses. Roumania has not yet announced its attitude. Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia are understood to be opposed to contributing anything towards his expenses.

Great Britain and France, at the last meeting of the committee of ambassadors, decided they would not contribute to Charles' upkeep and suggested that the countries most interested, namely the Austrian succession states, get together and provide an amount annually to meet his household expenses. Great Britain and France in making this suggestion argued that it was at the request of the succession states that Charles' last attempt to regain the Hungarian throne, was thwarted and that the Emperor is morally responsible for his expenses.

The smaller states argue that Charles is receiving revenue from his Hungarian estates and that former Empress Zita is receiving revenue from her property in Italy and that this should be sufficient.

LIKE HUNGRY BIRDS THEY PICK UP EVERY GRAIN Starving Russians Crowd About Leaking Sacks as Relief Corn is Unloaded.

Tsaritsyn, Russia, March 7.—Great crowds, like hungry birds picking up fallen grain, followed behind every leaky sack that was unloaded from the first train bringing U. S. corn to this stricken country. These red-kernelled cobs were unfamiliar but welcome means to starving peasants, life-long accustomed to rice, wheat and barley. The news spread rapidly and hungry folk gathered from all directions.

Two hundred and fifty workmen were on the job to help the unloading instead of the forty that were ordered. With completion of the task, 1,000 teams will be started out through the country, as all available resources must be concentrated on the problem of distribution to get a two months' supply to starving villages before the quickly approaching spring thaw makes all roads impassable.

REV. A. V. MORASH NEW MODERATOR Meeting of Presbytery of St. John Today.

A Statistical Report Shows 6,766 Communicants—A Yearly Collection for Protestant Orphans—Prohibition Resolution.

The quarterly session of the presbytery of St. John opened this morning in St. Andrew's church. The moderator, Rev. Dr. Sutherland of Fredericton, was absent on account of illness and Hon. J. G. Forbes was appointed moderator pro tem. The names of several elders were added to the roll. Rev. E. Kerr, new pastor at St. George's, signed the roll and was welcomed by the moderator. The clerk announced that the roll at the present time is the largest for some time, with a total of 64 names.

The election of officers to take office for one year from July 1, resulted as follows:—Moderator, Rev. A. V. Morash, Sussex; clerk, Rev. Frank Baird, Chipman; treasurer, Peter Campbell, of this city who has held the office for thirty years. The moderator paid a high tribute to the faithful, efficient and untiring work of the clerk and the sentiment was heartily applauded.

The next item of business was discussion of new legislation in regard to retired members' names being placed on the assembly roll. It was decided to ask the assembly for information of some of the points in the new legislation. Peter Campbell was appointed an elder from Knox church.

The clerk then read his report, in which reference was made to the old minutes being preserved. He said that John Willett was the custodian and collector of the old presbytery documents. The English Settlement Field. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Baird for his work in this connection.

The statistics report showed a satisfying and successful year, with gains in membership in both church and Sunday school. There are 6,766 communicants in the English Settlement. The buildings, Fredericton and Moncton stand highest in percentage.

For the Orphans. At this point Rev. Mr. Townshend took the chair and E. C. Miles, secretary, made a stirring appeal for the Protestant Orphan Home. He said that it was the aim of the home to take charge of all Protestant orphans in the province. The endowment of about 100, as is the number which can be accommodated at the present time. A building would be erected at a cost of about $100,000 and it was hoped to put on a drive for $250,000 in some future date, so that the children might be cared for and educated. He asked the presbytery to give one collection a year to the cause. The Baptist church did this last year and collected $1,100. The Methodist, $1,000.

GREAT FIRE AT THE BARRACKS IN PLATTSBURG

Plattsburg, N. Y., March 7.—Eight long wooden buildings at the Plattsburg barracks, used for quartermaster's supplies, were destroyed by fire today. Army officers declined to estimate the loss but it was known that it would be many thousands of dollars. The buildings were erected for the reserve of all but three were destroyed. Soldiers saved the property in the other.

Two soldiers were overcome by smoke but their condition was not serious. One thousand enlisted men helped fight the flames. The fire, which was first seen a few minutes after midnight, was under control two hours later.

FIRST REPORT ON SPOOK MYSTERY

Scientific Investigator Now at Work in Antigonish.

So Far Only the Evidence of Others to Go Upon—Does Not Expect to See Fires or Visitors, But May Hear Sounds.

(Canadian Press.) Halifax, N. S., March 7.—The Halifax Herald this morning received its first report from Dr. W. Franklin Price, investigating officer of the American Institute of Physical Research, who has been brought to Nova Scotia to probe the mysterious happenings at the Alexander MacDonald home, Caledonia Mills, Antigonish County.

Dr. Price spent last night at Antigonish. His first report is as follows:—"I regret that it was not possible for me to conduct my investigation in quiet, reporting only after it is concluded, but it is evident that, owing to the wide-spread interest which this matter has already attracted, this is out of the question. Therefore, the opposite policy is best—to report progress from day to day and prevent unfounded rumors which otherwise would certainly arise."

"My first task on arriving in Nova Scotia was to make a careful study of the reports by Messrs. Harold Whidden (newspaper correspondent), and P. O. Carroll, provincial detective, and the accounts of interviews with earlier witnesses. "The second was to subject Mr. Whidden's evidence to a long and exhaustive analysis. "The third was to see various parties acquainted with certain aspects of the case, particularly the character of the original witnesses. My present conclusions may be thus summarized:—

"There appears to be no reason to doubt the good faith of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, the MacGowans, other witnesses. In all probability they have told the truth as they understood it, whether their own interpretation of the facts is correct or not. As to Mr. Whidden I have no doubt whatever that his testimony is absolutely truthful, that he and Carroll heard the sounds of unknown origin and experienced sensations which they described as 'slaps.' It is too early for me to pronounce an opinion regarding the cause of these experiences. Speaking abstractly they stand on a higher basis of probability as occult events than do the fires, judging by the evidence to happen at an in the house. If nothing happens there will be no data upon which to work except past testimony already before the public. But if evidence to happen should study them to the utmost detail with the hope of founding a logical verdict upon them. No extravagant expectations should be entertained. I do not expect that I shall witness fires or visible 'visitors.' That singular sounds and even physical sensations may be experienced is, judging by the evidence known to me personally, not improbable but nothing whatever may occur and if anything does it may be quite tame to the average man. On the other hand a mere succession of sounds, if it could be proven that they were not due to physical causes, would be of transcendental significance to science."

FEAST OF PURIM

(Jewish Holidays Press Notice Bureau, Cincinnati, O.)

The mythical feast of Purim will be celebrated in Jewish circles this year on Monday evening, March 14, with a special service in the synagogue. While a holiday of a minor character, its use of the scroll of Esther has endeared the festival to the Jewish people, who make it an occasion for popular rejoicing.

The services for this festival are wholly concerned with the reading of the Book of Esther that appears to the fancy and emotion of the Jewish people is the overthrow of Haman, arch-enemy of the Jew, who had plotted to destroy all the Jewish people throughout the Persian Empire. The 13th day of the 12th month according to the Hebrew calendar was set aside for this terrible program.

On this day the Jewish people remember the miraculous redemption wrought for their ancestors by the loyalty and devotion of Mordecai, uncle of Queen Esther, whose fidelity to his king and country made possible the rescue of the king from the hands of plotters.

The particular element in the Book of Esther that appeals to the fancy and emotion of the Jewish people is the overthrow of Haman, arch-enemy of the Jew, who had plotted to destroy all the Jewish people throughout the Persian Empire. The 13th day of the 12th month according to the Hebrew calendar was set aside for this terrible program.

Throughout all the centuries the Jewish people have interpreted the narrative compiled in the Book of Esther in the light of their own eventual career. It seemed to them that the destiny of Esther and her people in the realm of Persia was typical of those events that befel the Jews in all other periods. As they were saved then, so would they be rescued in all times of peril.

Purim has always been the occasion for joyous celebrations in Jewish families and social groups. However unhappy the lot of the Jew, Purim has been made a season of merriment. While the synagogue echoes the undoing of Haman and the triumph of Mordecai, Jewish social centres and homes are the scenes of activities and entertainment in which men, women and children participate.

For the Jewish people of the United States the festival of Purim has an added attraction this year due to the appointment of an American rabbi as minister to Persia.

NO RECIPROACITY FOR THE PRESENT

In a statement last night, Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, summed up the result of the Washington conversation on reciprocity as follows:—From these facts it is clear that nothing can be done in the way of negotiations with the American authorities. We must await the final action of congress on the Forney tariff bill. The object of Mr. Fielding's visit to the United States was two-fold, to attend to important financial arrangements and to make a preliminary inquiry as to the disposition of leading public men in the United States toward better trade relations between that country and Canada.

In full, Mr. Fielding said: "My visit to the United States was for two purposes. One was to attend to important financial arrangements in New York. Of these I will speak presently. The other was to make what I may call a preliminary inquiry, somewhat informal in character, as to the disposition of leading public men in the United States towards better trade relations between that country and Canada. Called on President.

"I had pleasant interviews with President Harding, with several of his cabinet ministers, and with some of the most influential members of the senate and house of representatives. From all these I received warm expressions of appreciation of Canada as a good neighbor and a good customer. What might occur if formal negotiations for reciprocity were taken up could not be easily determined. The act of congress approving of the reciprocity agreement of 1911 remains on the statute books. Perhaps the simplest solution of the question would be to adhere to the agreement of 1911 and leave Canada, if she so desired to accept it. Some members, however, held that by the action of Canada in rejecting the agreement in 1911, the whole matter had been ended. Later tariff legislation, they said, was based on the assumption that the reciprocity act of 1911 was in effect dead.

Fielding's Financial Mission.

"Now, as to the financial side of my mission: We require about $11,000,000 to meet maturing obligations of the Canadian Northern Railway guaranteed by the government of Canada. If the obligations were maturing in Canada, no doubt some money could have been raised at home. But as the obligations were abroad, part in New York and part in London, the conditions respecting exchange made it advantageous to borrow in the New York market. Transactions of this character in connection with the railways have hitherto been arranged primarily in London, with the necessary local office. There is something to be said in favor of that method of financing. However, on a full view of the matter, we came to the conclusion that the Canadian public would be better satisfied if the transactions were open to the competition of leading financial houses in New York engaged in that class of business. Tenders were accordingly invited from a number of the largest financial firms in New York engaged in that class of business. Tenders were received in New York on Saturday morning. The whole issue of $11,000,000 was sold to Dillon, Read & Co., New York. It is not expedient at the moment to state the terms but I can with confidence say that the price will be regarded by all financial people as one that should be eminently satisfactory to the government and the public."

to hold a tag day early in May. Commissioner Bullock, acting mayor, was approached in the matter and he readily gave the desired permission to hold the tag day.

Veteran Who Started From New York City Hall Returns After Eight Years.

(New York Times.)

Frans Emmanuel Wettburg, sixty-three years old, who declared he walked around the world in eight years, called at the City Hall yesterday to pay his respects to Mayor Hylan. The mayor was busy, and he was received by Lieut. Edward Quinn, the mayor's personal police guard.

Wettburg left New York in 1914 with a farewell from the late Mayor Mitchell. He took with him a gun and three wolf hounds. Reaching San Francisco, he took a boat to Alaska and traveled through Siberia, Manchuria, Russia and Finland, which country was his birthplace. In Finland, Wettburg joined the White Guards and served nine months in the war.

FERGUSON AND AUBREY AT THE UNIQUE THEATRE

Elsie Ferguson scored a great success in "Sacred and Profane Love," the Paramount picture version of Arnold Bennett's famous play which opened at the Unique Theatre last night. Miss Ferguson in the star role she created on the stage exceeds even the best traditions of the part. William D. Taylor, the producer, staged the production in a manner worthy of the subject.

Ferguson's "Cypriote" of the screen is undoubtedly greater than the same character of the speaking stage, for the play version could show only scattered moments of the strange, impulsive girl whose reactions to the love of two different men form one of the most impressive studies in all literature.

Conrad Nagel as "Diaz" presents a masterly portrait of the eccentric pianist, accentuating properly the episodes of his musical triumphs, his passionate romance and his degradation. The support generally was excellent.

For real fun, go see Jimmy Aubrey in "The Charmed Life." It was funny to the extreme. This good programme will be shown tonight and tomorrow.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

A squad of city police had to be called out in Sydney, N. S., last night to quell an incipient riot among the New Aberdeen men in the coast guard. After some parley the prisoners promised to be good.

The monthly meeting of the Fredericton Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association was held in Fredericton last night. George S. McBeth, of St. John, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Donald D. Foster, of West Torbrook, Annapolis Co., N. S., a science graduate of Acadia in 1920, has just won the Loomis Fellowship in Physics at Yale University for the second year in succession. The value of this scholarship, which is given on the results of a competitive examination, is worth about $600.

Best Home Treatment For All Hairy Growths

(The Modern Beauty) Every woman should have a small package of delicate hair-remover for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-marring hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz from arms or neck, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone.

When Money is Tight

Practically all classes of investments—bonds, stocks, debentures, real estate—depreciate in value to a ruinous extent. Investors are often forced into bankruptcy at such times through conditions over which they have no control.

But an Imperial Life policy never depreciates. On the contrary it continues to increase in value during week-days, nights and Sundays, from the time it is issued until its maturity, no matter what business conditions or the state of the money market may happen to be.

If you would like to know more about this "panic-proof" investment just send us your name and address. Then we'll send you some interesting literature by return mail.

Chicago, March 7.—How much is enough to keep the flapper flapping? This was the question which representatives of several civic organizations set out today to answer the following publication of advice from Topelka that testimony before the Kansas Industrial Court has fixed the amount at $87 per annum. The answer as determined for Chicago was $17.70—with reservations.

"I do think she can dress well, perhaps even smartly, on $17 a year," said the head of the Women's Apparel Division of a department store. "But she must have good taste, practice self denial and steer away from the impractical garments."

Cost of Wardrobe of the Flapper as Figured by Chicago Expert.

The accepted budget of the year's outlay for the wardrobe contained among other things one suit at $20; two pairs of shoes, $12; five pairs of hose, $6.80, and two hats $10.

Stocking at twenty-five cents, as proposed in the Topelka Budget, were frowned upon.

YOUNG WOMEN OF THREE ANGLICAN CHURCHES MEET

The annual meetings of the senior W. A. of St. Mary's church, the Girls' Association of Stone church and the Young Women's Guild of Trinity church were held last night and each of the three branches of the W. A. reviewed a year of exceptional success. St. Mary's W. A. met in the new W. A. room which it had fitted up and put in order entirely through its own efforts with the aid of a few contributions. The appearance of the room was the subject of much favorable comment. Mrs. Samuel Willis, the president, was in the chair. The reports showed the year to be the most successful in the history of the branch in membership increase, work accomplished and in money raised. The membership totalled about forty-five and one new member was received last night. Congratulations were extended to the branch on the splendid record of the year. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. R. Taylor McKim; president, Mrs. Samuel Willis; vice-presidents, first, Mrs. J. Wright; second, Mrs. Finney; and Mrs. W. Alexander; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. E. Whittaker; recording secretary, Mrs. Lorve Mowry; treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Barton; Dorcas secretary, Mrs. George Murray; E. C. D. treasurer, Mrs. Fred Pyke; Leaflet secretary, Mrs. William T. Ingraham; junior secretary, Mrs. William Redmore; Little Helpers secretary, Mrs. William Mackenzie; delegate to the annual meeting of the diocesan branch, Mrs. David Hipwell; substitutes, Mrs. W. T. Ingraham and Mrs. Lorve Mowry.

St. John's Girls Association.
The presentation of a life membership to Miss Grace A. Estey was a particularly pleasing feature of the annual meeting of the St. John's (Stone) church Girls' Association. Miss Edith Skinner presided and there was a large attendance at the meeting which opened with devotions. Miss Annie Hipwell in her report as secretary told of forty-five members enrolled, a gain of ten over the previous year. In all respects the year had been a banner one. For its Dorcas work, besides providing bedding for an Indian school the association had undertaken to make an outfit for an Indian boy. In the devotional meetings the association had been privileged to hear addresses by Mrs. G. A. Kühring, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey and Miss Trent, mission-ary work had been extensive. The total sum of $208.47 was contributed to the rectory fund, three Christmas boxes were given to needy families, the decorating and setting in order of the church's study had been undertaken, a rally supper for the young people had been held in co-operation with the had-

BETTER THAN HARD COAL
Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whippers on stove covers or pipe and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics.

Wilmington club, members had assisted at the reception for the rector and much gratification had been experienced in contributing gifts to the late Arnold Fox, the former organist of the church, when he left for his home in England. Members had contributed toward the Protestant Orphans' fair and gifts of money had been made to Eldon Merritt, missionary to the Eskimo. The report made special mention of a generous gift of cups and saucers received from A. O. Skinner. Miss Hipwell tendered her resignation as secretary and it was regretfully accepted, as other duties made her continuance in office impossible.

The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums
Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this. Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection. Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

Forhan's FOR THE GUMS Checks Pyorrhea
The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Miss Edith Skinner; first vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Fleming; second vice-president, Mrs. Fenwick Fraser; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Bolton; secretary, Miss Claire Ward; editor of flower committee, Miss Grace Estey; Dorcas committee, Mrs. G. E. Francis, convener; and members, Miss Annie Farmer and Mrs. Hedley Sheraton; refreshment committee, Mrs. G. E. Francis, convener; Mrs. J. A. Davidson, Mrs. Noel Sheraton; delegates to the diocesan annual, Miss Edith Skinner, Miss Annie Hipwell; substitutes, Mrs. A. E. Fleming and Miss Edith Anderson. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Francis and her committee.

CENTENARY W. M. S.
The programme of the meeting of the W. M. S. of Centenary church yesterday afternoon was an interesting one. Mrs. C. F. Sanford, the president, was in the chair and the opening devotions were led by Mrs. H. A. Goodwin. The subject of the general programme was "South America, the continent of tomorrow." The readings were arranged by Miss Annie Hea and several members took part. The readings were illustrated with maps and charts. Final arrangements were made for the pageant which the W. M. S. will hold this week as a commemoration of the foundation of the missionary society of the Methodist church in Canada forty years ago.

Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection. Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your drugist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

POLICE COURT.
At the afternoon session of the court against James Murphy, charged with having an illicit still in his residence at 781-2 Harrison street, three witnesses were heard. Mrs. Parks told of the defendant bringing the still to her place last summer and brewing something in it. This he tasted and took away with him. Mrs. Logan corroborated this evidence. The defendant swore that he never made anything like that and that he had attached the copper tube to the can. The case was postponed for three weeks. L. McC. Ritchie appeared for the defence. The case against Walter Bell, charged with obstructing the liquor inspectors

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 7, 1922.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE HYDRO QUESTION

The New Brunswick Power Company has every reason to be gratified by the developments thus far at City Hall in relation to the hydro matter. Delay and failure to ascertain the approximate cost to the consumer of light and power through civic distribution, are just what the power company would desire. If no action at all were taken by the city it would of course be still more satisfactory, but so long as the city council acts as if it were convinced the current must be distributed through the power company, the latter may well maintain a cheerful aspect.

With the citizens the situation is quite different. They know that cheap light and power are soon to be within reach if the proper steps are taken to pass the bill on to them. They know that the city council, as soon as it received an offer from the Hydro Electric Commission, should have taken steps to learn the cost of a civic distribution plant, without any reference whatever to what the New Brunswick Power Company could do. The time to talk to the power company would come, if it came at all, when the council knew at what rate per kilowatt hour it could itself distribute the current.

The council, however, began by questioning the bona fides of the provincial government. Then the services of Mr. Ross of Montreal were engaged. The people do not know yet on whose recommendation he was engaged, nor have they seen a copy of the instructions given him. They have, however, seen his report, and they learned yesterday that the mayor is to hold a further conference with him in Montreal. His report, so far as it deals with the cost of civic distribution, has satisfied nobody but the New Brunswick Power Company and its friends.

But now another step has been taken. Instead of seeking a reliable estimate of the cost under civic distribution as the first essential, three gentlemen who do not include a single man deeply interested personally in the industrial growth of St. John, have been chosen to learn at what cost the power could be distributed by the New Brunswick Power Company.

Always the New Brunswick Power Company. To date, civic activity has begun and ended there, as if the council felt that civic distribution must not be considered except as a last resort and then to the city's possible injury.

The citizens do not. They are growing rather weary of the doctrine of despair, and the coy appeals of the power company for "co-operation" recall a long story of exploitation that does not increase their desire to mortgage the future of the city to any corporation.

The New Brunswick Power Company is an outsider in this affair. The real business is between the Hydro Electric Commission and the citizens of St. John. The city council represents the citizens and its duty is plain. If it does not perform that duty the remedy lies in the city charter, and if what one hears in the street is any indication, the remedy may be applied. It is up to the city council. Delay is injurious to the city's interests. Prompt and decisive action will save the situation.

A FINE RECORD
Rev. Peter Bryce, director of child-welfare for the Social Service Council of Canada, would not say that the New Brunswick health act should be scrapped or that less attention should be devoted to public health nursing and infant welfare. An address in London, Ontario, last week, by Rev. Mr. Bryce is thus reported:—
"Rev. Mr. Bryce produced records which showed that infant mortality in London had decreased from 104 per thousand in 1920 to 80.7 per thousand in 1921. He declared that the thousand efforts of child welfare nurses and of the various organizations in holding periodical baby clinics, had brought about this improvement. The work, he felt sure, would be carried to still further and greater success. In view of the shrinking birthrate since the war, the conservation of infant life is one of the world's most pressing problems. To prove his contention that the birthrate has been steadily lowering, Rev. Mr. Bryce stated that the number of widows with two children, who are now receiving pensions in Ontario exceeds the number of widows who have more than two. In conclusion he said that the payment of pensions to 8,068 widows in Ontario is resulting in improved health and living conditions, which are bound to have their effect on the coming generation. Mr. Bryce drew attention to child welfare activities and results as the most sensitive index of the progress of a nation. New Zealand was cited as an advanced country where the general infant death rate had been reduced to 40 per thousand, and in certain sections as low as 32 has been reached. A comparison of the infant death rate in St. John with that in London, Ontario, to say nothing of New Zealand shows how far behind we are in that respect. As to the birthrate it would probably be found to be lowering here as well as in Ontario, and that intensifies the need of preserving the lives of the infants who do come into the world. What Mr. Bryce says about mothers' allowances should also make a deep impression upon our minds.

WORLD-CONSCIOUSNESS
In a recent speech Premier Druy of Ontario indicated a breadth of view and a soundness of philosophy which whether he orders his public life in accordance therewith or not, is worthy of the highest commendation. He said:—
"I think there are several stages in the development of man in the sense of his duty toward his fellows. We hear a good deal of what is called class-consciousness—of men who think in terms of their occupational or other classes. That is a good thing. The man who is class-conscious is far and away better than the man who is individual-conscious. But he has not gone all the length. The man who is nation-conscious is far better than the man who is class-conscious. I think the great need of the world today—when we are talking about the limitation of armaments making the horrors of war impossible, and we must make the horrors of war impossible, because the next war means extinction—the need is not only for nation-consciousness, but for a bigger better and wider thing still, and that thing is world-consciousness—the thought and consideration of the welfare of the whole human race, so that we think in terms not only of ourselves, not only of our class, not only of our nation, but of human well-being."

He must be more than a mere echo of other men's thoughts who can think his way through to this conclusion. He must be much more than a selfish individual seeking only his own advancement. He must be more than an advocate of a class or a creed. He must at some time have mounted to the heights and seen a vision of a new world state, from which most of the causes of human bickering and strife had been removed by the saving sense of human brotherhood.

The visit of Hon. W. S. Fielding to Washington was by no means a failure. While he makes it clear that the Fordney bill must be disposed of before any practical discussion of reciprocity takes place the atmosphere is more friendly because of his conversation with President Harding, Mr. Fordney and other leaders at Washington. As the finance minister remarks, the people of the United States recognize Canada as a valuable customer and are becoming more conscious of the fact that if they would sell they must also buy. Already the restrictions imposed have reduced the volume of trade with Canada. When the Fordney bill is out of the way it will be possible to enter into negotiations which may result beneficially to both countries.

HON. C. W. ROBINSON OPPOSES CHANGE IN PROHIBITION (Moncton Times.)
Hon. C. W. Robinson was waited upon in the Y. M. C. A. board room on Saturday night by representatives of the W. C. T. U. and other local temperance organizations regarding the circulated report with reference to contemplated changes in the Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916. Each of those present spoke briefly, strongly opposing the introduction of any system in the province for the purpose of raising revenue for the provincial treasury through relaxation of the prohibitory laws, or the adoption of a similar plan to the ones followed in the provinces of Quebec and British Columbia. Mr. Robinson replied very favorably, saying that he would consider the matter carefully, and convey their wishes to the Legislative Assembly at Fredericton. He emphatically stated that he was very much opposed to this system of increasing the provincial revenue.

GERMANS WANT U. S. AMBASSADOR, BUT IT'S COSTLY
Berlin, March 7.—Members of the Reichstag's main commission yesterday urged the desirability of the early appointment of an ambassador to Washington. The cabinet, on the other hand, is not showing an inclination to accelerate the search for a suitable envoy, while the mark is again declining in value. It is declared that a full-fledged embassy in Washington would require a budget of at least 100,000,000 marks under the present rate of exchange.

LOCAL NEWS

A false alarm was rung in from box 85, corner Queen and Germania streets, about 12:45 o'clock this morning. The fire department was on the scene within a few minutes but failed to locate any signs of fire and the apparatus returned to the station. A large crowd gathered quickly.

Four or five tenders were received yesterday by the board of school trustees for the re-wiring of the Centennial school. It was necessary to call for tenders here for the work, as the advice of the city electrician that it would be necessary to close the school if the present defective wiring system was not replaced. The tenders probably will be opened at the next regular meeting of the board.

A small fire broke out last evening at 7:15 o'clock in a small garage in a building at 20 Simonds street, but no damage was caused, due to the prompt response from the fire department nearby. Two automobiles, one owned by Dr. F. Stevenson and the other by T. R. Hunter, were stored in the garage but were untouched by the fire. The building is owned by M. J. Thorne, who lives above the garage. The alarm was rung in from box 148.

The special services in the Main street Baptist church last night was largely attended when the soldier preacher, Rev. Arthur K. Herman, delivered his inaugural address and the subject was the increase of God's gifts. The address was bristling with strong appeals and apt illustrations. The service was conducted by the pastor of the church, who introduced M. Heald, director of the Bureau of Epworth Leagues of Exmouth, Fairville, Centenary, Portland, Carleton, Queen Square, and the Centennial churches. A banner for the highest attendance was won by the Portland Society with an average of ninety-eight per cent.

A special address was delivered by Rev. H. R. Clarke on Epworth work. A musical programme was carried out, those taking part being the Misses Dorothy Brewster, Louise Moore, Esther Weisford, Nan Powers and Mildred Bustin, and Mrs. Cecil Mercereau. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Frank W. Merrill, of Portland street; vice-president, Harold Hopkins, of Exmouth street; secretary, Miss Pearl Hopkins, of Fairville; treasurer, Fraser Fulton, of Centenary.

OLD TIMER THAT IS NOT A FOSSIL

Report of Strange Mammoth Animal Seen by Englishman in Andes Country.

Buenos Aires, March 7.—Belief that a plesiosaurian monster, an amphibian which the Mesozoic order generally believed to exist in fossil form, is still alive in Patagonia, was expressed yesterday by Prof. Onelli, director of the Buenos Aires Zoological Garden. He announced that he had received credible reports that such a monster was seen in a lake in the territory of Chubut, in the Andes Mountains.

Prof. Onelli made public a letter from an English friend of his, named Sheffield, saying that while hunting in the Andes he discovered a trail of flattened out vegetation near the lake, indicating the track of an animal of enormous weight. Later, says the letter, Mr. Sheffield saw in the middle of the lake an animal with a colossal neck shaped like that of a swan whose movements in the water indicated that the body was shaped like a crocodile. He said harpoons would be necessary to capture the monster. He also said an expedition from Argentina or some other country ought to be sent to capture the animal.

PREVENT EVASION OF JUDGMENTS

Reciprocity Between Quebec and Great Britain and Ireland Proposed.

Quebec, March 7.—(Canadian Press)—A measure of reciprocity between the Province of Quebec and Great Britain and Ireland as regards the execution of judgments is provided for in a bill which was presented by Premier Taschereau in the legislature last night.

Under the new law people having judgment against them in Great Britain or Ireland will not be able to avoid their obligations and the execution of the judgments by coming to Canada and the same will apply to Canadians having judgments against them here and who go to Ireland as regards the execution of judgments in that country. To have an old country judgment executed in the Province of Quebec under the new law it will simply be necessary to have it registered here.

BIG SOLDIER SHOW IS VERY AMUSING

Mademoiselle of Armentieres Played Before a Capacity
Housed at Imperial—Realistic and Spectacular War Picture is Feature.

If the musical comedy "Mademoiselle of Armentieres" presented last evening in the Imperial did nothing else, it gave those who had not the pleasure (?) of spending a few days in the front line a fairly realistic idea of just what it looks and feels like to be there. Captain Fisher and his band of returned soldiers-actors have chopped a piece of the history of the Canadian Corps' exploits before Lens in the summer of 1917 and in a most spectacular and true-to-life manner have transplanted it on the stage.

The scene shows a wiring party leaving a trench and returning under a hostile bombardment that caused many a quake amongst the audience. The lighting effects added wonderfully to the reality of the representation. The house was filled to capacity.

Although "Mademoiselle" is labelled a musical comedy, it leans more towards the comedy-drama type of production. The acting of the Ensemble and the company includes in several of the choruses with which the troops regaled one another during their sojourn amidst sand-bags, pill-boxes, trench-pots and various degrees of plastic mud. There were songs about packing troubles in old kit-bags, of that mysterious lady from "Arm-in-teary" whose forty years of un-kinship has always been a source of amusement; of wanting to go home, etc., etc., etc. But they were incidental rather than complimentary.

However, what the show lacked in music it supplied in fullest measure in comedy. No. 16 platoon, D. company, of the Canadian "Die-Hards" was composed of such a collection of characters that had the war office only realized it, they might have been turned loose against the Hun and made him laugh himself to death. Their inspection by their newly arrived and very much K. R. Oed and M. M. L-ed subaltern in the first scene was a scream.

UNABLE TO PROVE THAT SHE'S ALIVE

Failure of Woman's Parents to Register Birth Presents Odd Case.

London, March 7.—The extraordinary case of a London woman who is unable to prove that she is alive is described by The Daily Mail. Unofficially she is just as much alive as any one reading these words, but she has no existence in an official sense because there is no record in Somerset House that she was ever born.

The discovery was made when an occasion arose which called for the production of a copy of the woman's birth certificate. At the registrar's office, after the officials had made search, she was informed that no such person as herself existed, according to the records. The astonished woman consulted her parents, and then it was discovered that her birth had not been registered, although it took place twenty-seven years before.

New Stock Pattern in English Semi-Porcelain. A dainty design with Pink Roses with Silver Gray Border. W. H. HAYWARD CO., Limited 85-93 Princess Street

sumed that the other had attended to this formality. To her further astonishment the young woman learned that the omission could not be rectified. The law lays down that no certificate of birth can be issued after the lapse of seven years. Daughter and parents set out on their quest to solve the riddle. "How can she prove that she is alive?" By a chain of fortunate circumstances the nurse who was present at the birth was traced. She and the parents signed in the presence of a magistrate's declarations which were accepted as satisfactory for the immediate purpose in hand. But the woman is still without a birth certificates, and as far as entry of her name in the national records goes, matter rests where it did. She can only be a "ghost" at Somerset House, never to get inside the recorded pages of the great family of England.

RECENT WEDDINGS Silliphant-Garnett. A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Charles H. Freeman, West St. John, when Miss Kathleen Garnett, of Garnett's Settlement, was united in marriage to Frank D. Silliphant, of West St. John. The bride was unattended and the ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives only. Mr. and Mrs. Silliphant will reside in West St. John.

RECENT DEATHS Dr. Thomas J. O. Earle. The death of Dr. Thomas John Otty Earle which occurred yesterday at his home in Young's Cove, Queens county, removes a member of the medical profession who, years ago, was one of the most prominent of the St. John practitioners and who was looked upon as a clever doctor. He was the eldest son of the late Sylvester Z. Earle, M.D., also a leading medical man, a coroner, and afterwards mayor of this city in 1871-1872, including the period of the great fire, and who married a Miss Otty, of Kings county, a noted family. Dr. T. J. O. Earle received his medical education in New York and practiced in St. John for many years, until he removed to Young's Cove, where he died in his seventy-fifth year.

When a very young man he joined the old St. John Volunteer Battalion, afterwards the 62nd Fusiliers. He was on duty with that unit at the time of the first Fenian Raid in 1866 and went with his corps to St. Andrews in the spring of that year; he held the Fenian Raid medal. He was later made assistant surgeon and afterwards surgeon of the 62nd and was most active in military matters and in all the activities of St. John, having a large circle of friends. The late Dr. Earle is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Catherine, a member of the teaching staff of the St. John public schools, and one sister, Miss Maria Earle, of 133 Union street. The late Dr. Allan O. Earle, K. Colgate, and W. Z. Earle, C.E., were brothers.

Dr. D. K. McLintyre. Sydney, N. S. March 6.—Dr. D. K. McLintyre, one of Sydney's best known medical men, died at his home here today after a brief illness. He was educated at St. Francis Xavier College, and afterwards studied at Bellevue Hospital, New York. He returned to Cape Breton in 1895 and for twenty-six years has been physician to the Cape Breton County Hospital. He was twice married, both wives predeceasing him. He leaves one son, Captain J. D. McLintyre, formerly of the 10th Battalion, now a student at Dalhousie Law School and two daughters, Miss Mary and Mrs. Wyley McLintyre, both in Sydney. He was a past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus and also served as district deputy of the order.

The unveiling of a memorial tablet installed by the city of Fredericton was a portion of the ceremony.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS Do Not Throw Away Old Metal Cooking Utensils, Urges Miss Krueger.

Do not discard your old iron and steel cooking utensils. They grow better and smoother with constant use, and with a little care can be kept clean and free from rust, according to Miss Jean Krueger of the department of home economics at the University of Wisconsin. "Iron utensils are excellent for deep-fat frying or for pot roasts, stews and foods that require long cooking," says Miss Krueger. She offers these hints for the housekeeper: Keep iron utensils dry and brightly polished, for a polished, rust-free surface rusts much less readily than a rough and spotted one. Water and air cause rusting. A second precaution is to cover the iron with oil, melted wax, vaseline or stove polish. These serve as a temporary covering for tools and knives before putting them away. Paint is good for outdoor hardware, such as flower pots, Japan lacquer baked on

Ulster Members Quit House of Commons

Closure Adopted on Operative Section of Irish Free State Bill—Armored Cars Patrol Limerick Streets—Uneasiness in London.

London, March 6—All the Ulster members present walked out of the house of commons this evening when, during the discussion in the committee stage of the Irish Free State bill, closure was adopted on section 1 of clause 1, which is the operative provision of the bill, as it declares the treaty shall have the force of law. The closure vote was 182 to 81.

Captain Craig and others of the Ulster members announced that they would take no further part in the discussion of the committee stage of the bill and one by one left the house. One member, while going out, declared it would be well to discuss the bill elsewhere.

Limerick, March 6—Armored cars were patrolling the streets of Limerick today on orders given by the military authorities to counter the move of units of the Irish Republican army from Cork, Tipperary and Clare, who arrived in the

MONUMENT MAY BE ERECTED HERE

Much local interest is aroused in the announcement by the purchasing commission of the dominion government at Ottawa that the Canadian national parks commission intend erecting about twenty historic monuments of concrete and reinforcing steel on historic sites at various places in the maritime provinces and Quebec. Some time ago the Women's Canadian Club in St. John was in communication with the parks commission with a view to having Fort Howe preserved as a national memorial, and the surrounding area put in order as a public park and recreation ground. The suggestion had been favorably received when it was first brought forward but, with the war intervening, nothing was done. It was hoped by those interested that the present announcement may mean that Fort Howe is to be one of the historic sites to have a memorial placed upon it. The monuments are to be uniform in shape with a broad concrete base and a shaft about ten feet high, bearing a bronze plate with an inscription suitable to the event and site commemorated.

MOST ACCIDENTS ON STRAIGHT ROADS

That is Experience of State of Maryland, According to a Report.

Contrary to general belief, more accidents occur on straight highway stretches than at curves or road intersections, according to Harry D. Willard, assistant chief engineer of the Maryland State Roads Commission. During the last two months Mr. Willard has been keeping a record of highway accidents in his state, and he says that a majority of the accidents are due to speeding, falling to give right of way, and bad driving.

Sixty-seven accidents occurred on Maryland highways during the last two months, twelve persons being killed and thirty-three injured. Mr. Willard attributes the causes to faulty driving, violations of the law, failure to heed warnings, speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road, and attempts to pass other cars or trucks. Mr. Willard's investigations, as have many others, refute the oft-repeated contention that most accidents on smooth, hard-surfaced roads are due to skidding.

The regular monthly meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association was held last evening in their rooms in Wellington row. The meeting was largely attended and a great deal of committee work was reported back to the meeting. A plan was introduced to hold a membership drive about the middle of this month. It was announced last night that the visit of R. B. Maxwell, dominion president of the G. W. V. A., had been postponed until early next month. The membership of the local branch received an addition last evening when fourteen veterans made application to join the association.

Why fade at 30?

Youthful maturity may exert a charm which youth alone can't rival. And certainly a woman should allow her youthful freshness to fade just when the joy of living should be at its height.

Keep your school-girl complexion and you can forget the passing years. The woman with a fresh, radiant skin will always seem young.

How to keep it—this is simple, as Cleopatra could tell you. The secret lies in daily intelligent care which will make beauty life-long.

How Cleopatra kept young
Githoo's days had long passed when the beautiful Egyptian reached the height of her fame and loveliness. Her charm grew greater with the years.

She knew how to care for and keep the smooth, flawless complexion which makes the possessor seem ever young.

Her method—thorough cleansing with the soothing oils discovered in ancient Egypt. Whatever cosmetics this queen of beauty used, the foundation was a skin free from all injurious accumulations.

Why your face needs washing

Because the accumulation of dirt, oil and perspiration must be removed or they will ruin your skin. To let them collect in the pores is to invite complexion troubles.

Inevitably such deposits soon cause enlarged pores and coarse texture results. The dirt forms blackheads and carries infections which cause blotches.

The more powder you use to conceal this condition the worse it grows, for this only increases the clogging. Lotions and cold creams won't help—you must remove the cause.

Gentle cleansing with Palmolive will soon improve the condition, and don't be afraid to be thorough.

Massage the cosmetic lather into the skin so that it may remove every trace of injurious soil.

If your skin is dry, apply cold cream after cleansing. Oily skins won't require such applications.

Throat, neck, shoulders

Need the same beautifying cleansing, for complexion beauty doesn't stop with the face.

Bathe with Palmolive and keep your skin smooth and white. It is a luxury all can afford.

For with all its fineness, its mild, soothing qualities, its gentle cosmetic action, Palmolive isn't an expensive soap. Popularity keeps the price low.

Explaining price

This modest sum is possible through gigantic production which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night and the importation of the finest mild oils in reducing volume.

Thus this finest facial soap, which if made in small quantities would cost at least 25 cents, is offered at the price of ordinary soap.

I.O.D.E Raised $10,310 In This City Last Year

War Memorial and Other Educational Activities; Aid Given to Soldiers and Families and Welfare Work of Many Kinds Prominent in Year's Activities—Mrs. J. Boyle Travers Re-elected Regent of Municipal Chapter at Annual Meeting.

The third annual meeting of the St. John Municipal Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was held yesterday afternoon in the board of trade room with a large number of members of the eleven primary chapters present. Mrs. J. Boyle Travers was re-elected as regent and presided at the meeting and by encouraging reports were received. The membership during the year was 5 and the total amount of money raised was $10,310.82. The meeting opened with the customary devotional exercises, Mrs. Herbert etmore officiating as Standard Bearer. Secretary's Report. The report of the secretary, Mrs. A. L. Aldow, was, in part, as follows: "The Municipal Chapter was represented at the national annual meeting by Mrs. H. Vroom. Miss Lamoreaux, the assistant secretary, was also present and delivered a very excellent report on her return. "A pageant, under our auspices, was held on Empire Day in the Imperial theatre, each primary chapter contributing one tableau, proceeds going to War Memorial. "The chapter was addressed in the interests of the Grenfell Mission and Dr. Bernardo Homes. "Members have attended provincial and forty-nine resignations were received. "The gross amount of money raised was $10,310.82. This amount was raised by dances, teas, sales and bridges. "The following have received help in the past year from the local I. O. D. E.: Soldiers and their families, Military hospital, schools, free kindergarten, child welfare, teacher at East St. John, Grenfell Mission, Boy Scouts, Protestant orphans, Navy League, milk fund, Good-fellow fund, Salvation Army, Women's Council, Victorian Order, Dr. Bernardo Homes' Anti Tuberculosis League, G. W. V. A. Public hospital, immigrants at Partridge Island, public library, Red Cross, Seaman's Mission, Associated Charities, Girl Guides, National Institute for Blind, Nurses' Home, River Glade Sanitarium, Standard's empty stocking fund, Chinese famine fund, Memorial Workshops and Children's Aid. "The I. O. D. E. is to be congratulated upon this list of activities for the year just passed. Our War Memorial needs no mention as it is first in all our efforts in national affairs." Treasurer's Reports. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Carter, was read in her absence by Mrs. F. Z. Fowler. It showed total receipts of $2,665 in the general funds and $2,890.62 in the war memorial fund, making a grand total of $5,555.62. The expenditures included $500, salary for a kindergarten teachers in East St. John Hospital, $500 to the Victorian Order of Nurses, $117 to the milk fund, and $54.05 to Princess Mary's wedding gift fund. The balance on hand was $307.16. The detailed statement of the contributions to the war memorial fund showed that the various chapters had subscribed $6,650.73 to this fund. The treasurer's statement was audited by Z. Fowler. On Mr. H. Vroom's motion, a letter of regret at her illness was ordered sent to Mrs. T. H. Carter. Educational Report. Mrs. Frederick Foster presented the educational report, showing the year to have been most successful. The pageant on Empire Day was referred to with gratification. The presentation of prizes in the schools for highest marks in history or for essays on the flag and the giving of libraries, patriotic pictures and flag charts to schools, were outstanding works under the educational work. Brunswick chapter was the first to provide secondary education for a soldier's child. Other branches of educational work fell under the heads giving to a soldier's scholarship for the U. N. B., reading British publications, sending magazines to soldiers' families, studying civics planning for a story-telling hour at the public library, and the presentation of three books on civics to the library. The war memorial was naturally the chief educational work of the order and to date the New Brunswick chapters had contributed $11,800 to this fund. Miss Laura Hazen, Echoes secretary, reported 815 subscribers to Echoes, a gain of 86 in the last year. Regent's Report. The regent, Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, in her report, looking back over the last few years, compared the almost frenzied war-time activities with the waning interest of the present years of readjustment. She asked if any excuse could be offered for this slackening of effort when Canada had never stood in greater need of an order whose influence could do so much to nullify the propaganda of the enemy who sought to foster dissension between Canada and the mother country. She urged the members to regard the present as the testing time of their personal duty and responsibility, giving support instead of criticism, and remembering that in unity was strength. Appealing for an interest in the whole order, not only in the particular chapter and a more general wearing of the badge of the honor, she went on to speak of the war memorial and of the cherished opportunity it offered to assist promising students. Having thanked the officers and members for support joyfully given, in closing she referred to the work of caring for the sick and destitute soldiers and sailors, and earnestly besought the members to regard this work as some small payment of the immeasurable debt of their war service. The reports of the primary chapters were presented and accepted as read. The election of officers resulted as follows:—Regent, Mrs. J. Boyle Travers; first vice-regent, Mrs. Heber Vroom; second vice-regent, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell; secretary, Miss Frances Alward; treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Carter; assistant secretary, Miss V. L. Sandil; Echoes secretary, Miss Laura Hazen; educational secretary, Mrs. Hugh Mackay; organizational secretary, Mrs. F. R. Taylor; standard bearer, Mrs. William Allison. Heavy votes of thanks were extended to Miss Lamoreaux, the Board of Trade, Premier Foster, the retiring officers, the regent, and the press.

Ask For Whiter Teeth

If you desire them—make this free test

You see glistening teeth on every side today—teeth you envy, maybe. Millions of people now employ a new teeth-cleaning method. They comb the film that dims the teeth. That method will be sent you for the asking—a ten-day test. It will bring to you its delightful effects. Won't you ask?

Film makes teeth dingy
Most people find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. The reason lies in film, which old-way brushing does not effectively combat. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar.

It holds food substances which ferment and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Very few people who brush teeth daily have escaped these film-caused troubles.

Now ways to combat it
Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. It has found two methods and proved them effective. Authorities now advise them, and leading dentists everywhere urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, complying with modern requirements. These two methods are embodied in it. This tooth paste—called Pepsodent—has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth.

Its delightful effects
Pepsodent attacks that film, wherever it abides. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres. It also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay. It brings all these effects twice daily, as modern authorities desire. Old teeth-cleaning methods bring just opposite effects.

Learn what a change it brings. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. What you see and feel will quickly show you that this method is essential. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget this test.

120,000,000 matches a day

Back of every Eddy match!

On Canada's first birthday, Eddy's were already 16 years old. When the last spike was driven on the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1886, Eddy's had passed their 35th milestone. When Ottawa was still Bytown—seven years before it became Canada's capital—Eddy's were making matches for Canada's total population of 1,850,000 people.

Deep-rooted in Canadian soil before Confederation, Eddy's are more Canadian than the Dominion. The business romance of this great pioneer industry is the history of Upper and Lower Canada for three-quarters of a century—since 1851!

Eddy's have seen the number of match consumers grow from less than 1,850,000 to 9,000,000.

In the great Eddy family of 2,500 loyal Canadian workers are found many who have seen service for over 40 years—from father to son and daughter. And never a strike since 1851!

With a payroll of over $2,500,000 a year, the gigantic Eddy plant spreading over 75 acres is now producing 120,000,000 matches a day of superlative quality—equal to 5,143 miles of matches end to end.

This long-continued supremacy is the result of unflinching adherence to the Eddy ideal—the most for the money.

"Eddy's" is the Canadian word for matches!

THAT CONFERENCE AT THE CITY HALL

(Contributed by Hardware Clerks' Association.)

Was the conference held in City Hall on Saturday in the interests of the citizens or held in the interests of the Power company? If in the interests of the citizens, why were they not more generally represented? If in the interests of the Power company, why was it held at City Hall? The question before the mayor and commissioners at present is how to deliver power and light to the citizens at the lowest cost. If the present company can distribute as cheaply as can the city, then they should get the contract; if not, they simply cease to be a factor in the discussion. Under municipal ownership a fifty per cent reduction is possible in rates, a still further reduction until the rate reaches four or even three cents per k.w.h. If the report is true that the company cannot even promise a twenty per cent reduction, then the present investigation is a waste of time and energy.

It is estimated that a large expenditure must be made before the present distribution system could handle an increased amount of electricity. Where is this money to be obtained? Certainly not from the city, because it would be far better for the city to spend any such amount on a new system of its own. In any event, if the company increases its already large capitalization, where does much hope for reduction in rates appear possible?

The situation as it exists today may be summed up as follows: The present company cannot handle the increased amount of electricity unless their present system is very greatly improved. The company will not get money to do so unless the citizens of St. John co-operate. The citizens of St. John will not co-operate unless they get greatly reduced rates. The company cannot give reduced rates until they increase the sale of electricity. They cannot increase that sale unless they reduce rates. The company cannot reduce rates and improve the system at the same time. Thus we get back to the starting point. That the company cannot handle the hydro-developed electricity unless—but why under these conditions delay any longer a decision in this matter, when every additional day means a heavy loss to the city?

ACT VIOLATED IN PUBLIC PLACES?

Toronto Alderman Mentions Parliament Buildings and Asks if Police Know.

Toronto, March 7.—That a public investigation should be held to determine upon whom the responsibility should rest to prosecute violations of the Ontario Temperance Act, occurring in the parliament buildings or other public places, was the demand of a resolution at the Toronto City Council this morning by Ald. John Cowan.

It asked that it be ascertained "whether the Toronto police force had had any knowledge of the said gross violations of the Ontario Temperance Act or were in any way responsible for allowing the same to be carried on."

HARBORVILLE'S LONG LIST OF HEROES OF SEA

Roll of Its "Captains Courageous" Who Have Sailed Forth Never to Come Back Not Exceeded by Any Community of Its Size.

(Cor. Halifax Chronicle)
Kentville, March 7.—The terrible murder of Captain Joseph N. Chute, an old Harborville boy, as told in the columns of "The Morning Chronicle," reminded me of the many stories I have heard in Harborville, during the past fifteen years, of the tragedies of the sea, that had staged men and grown who were born and raised at Harborville, as well as a lot of others who at the present time are holding responsible positions in the merchant navies of the world. Taking them all in all, I am certain that Harborville-by-the-sea, has offered up more lives to the catastrophes of the sea, than any village of its size on the coast of Nova Scotia.

More men have left Harborville, "To Go Down to the Sea" in ships, who never came back, than any other community of its size. I am not going back more than a decade or so in this story. A few years ago the term schooner Morris, as his neighbors called him, left Harborville for Mobile to land lumber for the West Indies. He left with a wife and his family, consisting of five children and sister aboard. Right here there was a pathetic incident, that afterwards developed into tragedy. One of the little girls pleaded with her uncle "Bloom," Capt. I. B. Morris, still living at Harborville, "to take her home with him as she was sure she would die if she went." But her mother would not permit it, and so they sailed.

It was towards the end of the beautiful month of August that they sailed, and they had a charming trip down the coast to Mobile, and reached their harbor safely and anchored, expecting the next morning to be towed to their loading place. That evening a southern hurricane struck into Mobile Bay, and the ship was broken from her anchorage, upset and every life lost, including the crew. Long afterwards the body of a woman was discovered buried in the sands of the harbor and was identified as Mrs. Morris, by her wedding ring.

Then there was Captain John Charlton, another Harborville boy, who while still a youngster reached command of a ship. He sailed from an American port in ballast for the south, accompanied by his wife. They encountered heavy gales. His ship, the Windermere, turned turtle, and all hands were lost excepting three reamed by the bottom of the bulk before they were rescued.

Then there was Captain Charles Morris, who went to sea in the barkentine Glenora, and that was the very last ever

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

GLORIA SWANSON AND MILTON SILLS

In "The Great Moment," an Elinor Glynn Story, at the Imperial Tomorrow.

The most popular kind of a story is "The Great Moment" at Imperial Theater tomorrow and Thursday. It is the strange romance of an English baronet's daughter, who while visiting her father's mine in Nevada, U. S. A., is bitten by a poisonous snake, is dosed with liquor to save her life, makes love to the good-looking engineer whilst under the influence of the ardent, is disowned by her father and left alone in the mining town. Then she wakes from her stupor, remembers nothing, the capricious engineer annuls the enforced marriage demanded by the furious father, leaving the girl to work out her own salvation. The real romance starts here, recorded in a different kind of a fiction and with the big stars, Gloria Swanson and Milton Sills, in the leading roles a fine seven-reel feature is forthcoming. Ordinary prices.

heard of him or his ship or crew. Captain Will Kennedy, one of three brothers, all of whom were deep sea captains, was born and raised in Harborville, went out with his ship, and he and his ship and crew are still among the missing.

Captain John H. Aker, another Harborville boy left Sydney one night some years ago, in the Dominion Coal Company barge "Rembrandt," and all that was ever heard of him, his crew or ship, was that he was lost in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, near the mouth of the St. Lawrence.

Captain Frank Curry, a nephew of Senator Curry, sailed away in the term schooner Louis K. Cottingham, and his aged mother is still waiting to hear something of him, his ship and crew.

So recent is the loss of the ship Tremanda, commanded by Captain Richard Lee, another Harborville boy, that most readers will recall it. He had been for some years master of the ship Pass of Marquis, afterwards by Captain Richard Lee, and turned into a raider to work destruction on our coasts. When the Tremanda, a sister ship to the Pass of Marquis, was ready for sea, Captain Lee was transferred to her, and taking his wife with him, sailed. That was the last ever heard of the ship or its valuable lives.

That is the story of Harborville captains, who have in the last decade laid down their lives in the performance of duty, but there is quite a string of them before the mast, who were also born and raised at Harborville, who also made the supreme sacrifice. Here they are in brief: Delmondo Cook, a sailor before the mast on the schooner Bonafide, commanded by Captain Chute, who was murdered last week, lost overboard.

Willie McNeil, lost overboard, off the schooner Sunshine, commanded by Captain Melbourn Cook, also at Harborville, now sailing in Southern waters.

John Ray, lost overboard in New York harbor.

Thomas Carey, perhaps better known as Thomas Connan, who lost his life in Boston harbor, while painting his ship.

That comprises a partial list of what Harborville has contributed to the tolls of the sea, but it is not discouraged.

It has still numbered among its native sons, gallant sea captains, in active service, among them Captain Will McBride, now residing in Kentville, who is enjoying a brief rest now from the terror of the sea, as well as his brother, Captain Charlie, residing at Waterville, where in Old Harborville, the breeding place of north-wild deep sea captains, there still remains Captain I. B. Morris, who doubled the Cape the good Lord knows how many times, and who is still, like Barkus, willing, whenever he is needed. With the kind of sires mentioned in the foregoing it will not be surprising that Harborville at the present time has a bunch of some twenty young kids growing up, that took to the sea as soon as they were weaned, and who will in a few years be ready to fill the gaps made by the ones that "Have Gone Over."

As long as Nova Scotia can raise that kind of kids, Gloucester and other American ports will have to come to Nova Scotia for their captains, whether for commercial or racing purposes.

TO PRESS FOR STEFANSSON INVESTIGATION

Ottawa, March 7.—(Canadian Press)—Scientific men attached to the southern party of the Stefansson arctic expedition are understood to have petitioned Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, for an investigation into the conduct of the expedition. Official announcements are not yet available, but it is stated that the scientific men claim that they were misled in the book as to the location of the Stefansson party, and that in justice to their personal honor and that in justice to their personal and professional reputations they should be permitted to clear themselves of charges which they assert to be entirely without justification.

There is every probability that the matter will be the subject of questioning in the House during the coming session.

IN WALL STREET

New York, March 7.—(10:30)—Prices were firm at the opening of today's market, but irregular reaction soon set in as a result of profit taking. Consolidated Gas, preferred, was the only stock to rally, eased one point after making a fractional gain. Motors and independent steels, especially Will's Overland preferred, Chandler, Studenker, Colorado Fuel and Gulf States Steel, forfeited large fractions to one point. Tobacco and food specialties were supported, the sugar showing especial strength. Selling of foreign oils, notably General Asphalt, unsettled the market within the first half hour.

SITUATION IN IRELAND TENSE

Contest at Limerick Seems Likely.

Provisional Government Reported as Sending Troops There, Where Republicans Have Taken Grip—Much Shooting in Belfast.

(Canadian Press Cable)

Dublin, March 7.—Reports that Republican rebels have given free state forces forty-eight hours notice to surrender Limerick police barracks today intensify the situation in Limerick and caused genuine anxiety to free states.

These rumors lacked substantiation, but it was agreed that free states would stubbornly resist dispossession and in event of attack the barracks would be vigorously defended. No breach of peace, however, had been reported early today.

Lack of authentic news intensified seriousness of the real situation. The Freeman's Journal, under the headline, "A Dangerous Game," declared:—"Attempts are being made to carry on political propaganda and develop militant spirit in certain sections of Ireland." The newspaper further declared:—"Some adherents of document No. 2 have made up their minds that they cannot prevent by argument establishment of the Irish Free State and it looks as if they were about to try to see what can be done by turmoil. Incidents at Clonmel and Limerick already have shown how far the nutcrackers are prepared to go, but the Irish people will never submit to such acts of terrorism. Responsibility clearly rests on Eamonn De Valera if he allows men under the protection of his name and influence to turn an appeal to honest judgment of the Irish democracy into a fratricidal conflict."

Free State Strength Grows

Dublin, March 7.—Free State forces grow stronger day by day and a further detachment of Irish troops has arrived at Beggan's Bush barracks to undergo brief training and to be uniformed and equipped. A continuous stream of men is passing through Dublin. After intensive training they are to be sent to various barracks or kept for guard duty around public buildings in the capital.

Much Shooting in Belfast.

Belfast, March 7.—Guns were active in the early morning hours today increasing tension in this city in spite of efforts by police and soldiers. A man was shot dead on Perry Hill on his way to work and John Roddy, a news dealer, had part of his right arm shot off. A carefully planned but futile attempt was made to destroy by fire a furniture making plant in Library street close to Royal avenue.

Today's disturbances were chiefly limited to the Carrick Hill, Sinn Fein district, where gunmen hidden behind chimneys, made pot shots at workers going to the shipyards. This brought police from barracks nearby with machine guns and rifles who did battle with the snipers. No casualties resulted, so far as is known.

During the night firing rarely ceased in Stanhope street area adjacent to Carrick Hill. The military surrounded a wide district and overhelmed it with machine gun fire. The gunmen rapidly took cover and casualties there were light, if any at all.

CARUSO'S THROAT NOT FOR SCIENCE

Widow in U. S. Denies Rome Report of an Examination and Remarkable Results—Body Carefully Guarded.

Rome, March 7.—(Associated Press).—The throat of Enrico Caruso, which was left at the time of his death to the Naples Museum for medical examination, was reproduced pictorially by the Rome newspapers today, which published the opinion of doctors who describe it as the most extraordinary development known for vocalization.

Caruso's vocal cords were twice the normal length of these organs and his breathing power was described as phenomenal. The epiglottis was as thick as that of the deepest bass singers, while its attachment to the tongue was of such a nature as to permit the greatest rapidity of vibrations, thus accounting for the immense range of the great tenor's voice.

His lung power was so enormous that he could make the cords of a piano vibrate by merely breathing upon them. The doctors describe Caruso's throat as that of a superman and declare that from head to foot he was a magnificent singing machine.

Mrs. Enrico Caruso issued a denial through the Associated Press last night of the cable despatches from Rome to the effect that her husband's throat had been removed shortly after death and left to the Naples Museum for scientific examination.

The announcement that Rome papers had reproduced pictorially the throat of the tenor she greeted with a single word—"Impossible."

Mrs. Caruso's denial was supported quite as emphatically by Bruno Zirato, who was Caruso's secretary. He branded the report as "preposterous."

"Impossible," Mrs. Caruso declared, after she had seen the despatch. "There is not a word of truth in the statement. The throat of Mr. Caruso was not left to the Naples Museum nor to any other museum or person."

"At no time after Mr. Caruso's death was his body unwatched by some member of the family, until it was sealed away in the Canessa Chapel at Naples. There is but one key to the chapel, and I have it. It has never been out of my possession."

"I cannot understand the reported publication of pictures of his throat," continued Mrs. Caruso, "It must be some hoax. As to the description of the vocal chords, the epiglottis and other portions of the throat, by doctors quoted in Rome papers, that is impossible. How could it be otherwise? Please say for me there is absolutely no truth in this despatch."

Mrs. Zirato, expressing his incredulity, told of the attempt of a London physician and surgeon, whose name he could not recall, but which he said he believed to be Lloyd, to obtain possession of Caruso's throat two days after the singer's death.

"This doctor," said Mrs. Zirato, "said that Mr. Caruso had told him that he would make provision in his will for the disposal of his throat and lungs to medical science, after his death."

"Now, everybody knows that Mr. Caruso's will contained no such provision. Mrs. Caruso refused flatly, of course, to permit the removal of the organs. Mr. Caruso's body was not touched, except for burial preparation, from the time of death until it was placed in the Canessa Chapel."

Naples, March 7.—Giovanni Caruso, brother of the late Enrico Caruso, who has just arrived from the United States, declared that the body of the tenor was buried intact. Dr. Salvia, who embalmed the body, had wanted to remove the vocal organs, Giovanni added, but the family of the singer refused his permission.

MONCTON TRYING TO FIND OUT ABOUT MAN KILLED IN TORONTO

Moncton, N. B., March 7.—J. F. Edgett, mayor of Moncton, has wired the mayor of Toronto in connection with a Canadian Press report that a war veteran, believed to be Frank McLaren, with relatives in Moncton, had been killed by a train in Toronto yesterday. Mayor Edgett states that Charles McLaren of Moncton has a son of the same name in Toronto. The Toronto report stated that a piece of the coat worn by the deceased contained a returned soldiers button, bearing the number 287418. Charles McLaren said today that his son has been living in Toronto. He says that his son's regimental number was 448127.

15,000,000 ON FRENCH FARMS. Number Has Fallen From 23,000,000 Reported in 1896.
Paris, March 7 - France's population as shown by the 1921 census is 15,000,000, out of the approximate total population of 17,000,000, or a little over 40 per cent.
M. Cheron, Minister of Agriculture, called this to the attention of the Chamber today during discussion of measures to be taken to encourage the "back to the land movement". In 1896, the Minister declared, the rural population was 23,000,000, out of a total population of 38,000,000.

PRIMITIVE, SAVAGE ANIMALISM PREACHER'S ANALYSIS OF JAZZ
Syracuse, March 7 - "Jazz may be analyzed as a combination of nervousness, lawlessness, primitive and savage animalism and lasciviousness," said the Rev. Dr. A. W. Beaver of Rochester in a divine Leuten sermon here.
"It has gotten beyond the dance and the music and is now an attitude toward life in general. We are afflicted with a moral and spiritual anemia for which the church has the only transfusion that will cure."

New Brunswick, in Olden Days, Had a Mystery, Too Was Henry More Smith a Supernatural Visitor or a Super-Genius?

The widespread interest inspired by alleged spook manifestations on the premises of Farmer MacDonnell in the hamlet of Caledonia, Nova Scotia, brings to mind the remarkable case of Henry More Smith. He was an English stranger, who drifted into Windsor (N. S.) in the year 1812, married the farmer's daughter in spite of opposition, and then settled into New Brunswick, where his career constitutes a chapter in the annals of the province without being regarded by the people as anything more than a quaint book was written about Smith, Quebec county without being regarded by grandfathers residents with the weird tales of this famous evil genius who was said to be possessed of satanic powers.

Nova Scotia's Mystery.

In the Caledonia case, Farmer MacDonnell, the detective and newspaper men, who sought corroborative evidence, all claimed that mysterious little fires would break out here and there within the lonely household evidently doing no damage. Tramping on the roof of the house, the racing of cattle and horses to the point of exhaustion in the dead of night and other unaccountable doings characterized this strange case. When a detective and a reporter from Halifax came to the scene to do a story on the case, they were stopped by the face and rudely awakened by invisible hands. Upon their return home they stirred up enough controversy to attract the attention of the scientific world.

So far no definite idea has been put forth by officers of the law or research scholars as to the causes of the baffling happening in the dear little farmstead so far removed from modern means of communication. The only theory to date that has attracted much attention is that which claims the haunted house fits in the direct track of powerful wireless terminals and that its fiery outbreaks may be little electrical disturbances. However, this hardly dispises of the swarming of mice at midnight, the racing of cattle, the tramping over head, rattling indoors and the shape in the face which the Halifax committee solemnly aver they soundly received.

So now science steps in. Doctor Walter Franklin Pierce, director of the American Institute for scientific research, has gone to the sequestered settlement armed with the learning of a lifetime. He has been removed from witchcraft traditions and at the very height seemingly of modern mysteries of the occult, and a curious world is intently awaiting the professor's findings.

New Brunswick's Mystery.

The case of Henry More Smith is quite different. His career marked a chain of deceptions, miraculous escapes from prison, mystifying releases, from the closest iron-bound bondage, a record of pretended lunacy, astounding results in feigning hemorrhages and other prostrations as well as apparent supernatural powers. He came from New England to the darkness of his prison cell that actually danced, dilled and put on performances at Smith's dictation to the utter amazement and religious scandal of the pious folk of Kingston village where he was incarcerated. Visitors came from great distances in the United States and Canada to witness the strange straw-woven and wood-carved marionettes.

The period of history was about a quarter of a century after the landing of the Loyalists at St. John, and not so long a time since old women were burned at the stake for witchcraft in New England. There were no railways, electric telegraphs, or telephones, let alone automobiles in those days, to be sure, so in the light of our modern advantages the New Brunswicker of today will perhaps find plenty of excuses for the excitement and perturbation of our forefathers through Henry More Smith's peculiar doings. Were the same antics cut up by jail prisoners today they would cause a Nova Scotia spook as now doing, eventually becoming, perhaps, a headliner in vaudeville like Harry Houdini, the famous hand-cuffed juggler, who still defies the public to bind him so that he cannot escape.

Approximately Henry More Smith, a St. John theatre manager had some entertaining correspondence with The Great Houdini a couple of years ago in which the story of the renowned escape artist of 1812 was told to his modern prototype. Mr. Houdini was intensely interested and said he had not up to that time ever heard of Henry More Smith (N. S.) without the consent of the bride's parents brought him into further disfavor. He claimed to be a tailor and numerous trips to Halifax netted him a plentiful supply of cloth and other tailoring materials. It was eventually disclosed that these were the fruits of his special aptness at thieving. Evidently things became too warm for him in the sister province so he is next discovered hob-nobbing with the soldiers in St. John and offering to secure for the horse to match a team for the officer's wagon given the stranger to arrange a trade at a fictitious place in a neighboring county where Smith claimed the knowledge of a horse that would easily suit the requirements.

Henry More Smith's Early Career.

The English stranger, Smith, first came under suspicion as a deserter from the English forces resident in Canada during the year of 1812. His marriage to Farmer Bond's daughter at Hawden (N. S.) without the consent of the bride's parents brought him into further disfavor. He claimed to be a tailor and numerous trips to Halifax netted him a plentiful supply of cloth and other tailoring materials. It was eventually disclosed that these were the fruits of his special aptness at thieving. Evidently things became too warm for him in the sister province so he is next discovered hob-nobbing with the soldiers in St. John and offering to secure for the horse to match a team for the officer's wagon given the stranger to arrange a trade at a fictitious place in a neighboring county where Smith claimed the knowledge of a horse that would easily suit the requirements.

Poses of volunteers scurried off to the escaped man along the roads leading from Kingston to St. John—six in the Kennebecic ferry in the direction of Nova Scotia to the eastward and another group searched the Belleisle area. Once upon the mysterious stranger proved himself too speedy and elusive for the combined wits of the law and peasantry. He appears to have spent several nights comfortably and with considerable thieving profit along the Gagetown road on the main river. He was seen in the village of Pictou (N. S.), where he was finally apprehended through the dogged following of Farmer Knox and brought before the court by Deputy Sheriff John Parsons. It was brought out that Smith made a general clean-up all along the line and when arrested was well supplied with watches, trinkets, fabrics, etc., in considerable profusion. He was taken back to Kingston, then the shiretown of the county, and placed in the jail presided over by Walter Dibble, who was the village school teacher as well as jailer, prominent in the town and a man held in high esteem, one whose integrity and veracity were never questioned. This fact is quoted since Mr. Dibble's statements concerning Smith while in custody are most remarkable.

Miraculous Deceptions.

Then began the wonderful happenings in the little old jail at the top of Kingston hill—a beauty spot familiar to motorists these days—which are to this very day a subject of amazement and deep query to wise heads. Smith enjoyed the quiet comforts of the typical village jail and also ingratiated himself with the jailer's family. He was a man of many parts, a fluent conversationalist, could speak French quite correctly, was a travelled man and possessed with exceptional alertness. Just how clever he was developed in a few weeks when he seemed to be stricken with a lung trouble. He gradually appeared and took over any appearance of a man coming down fast with heavy consumption. He even reached the stage of violent hemorrhages. His strength failed and there was every indication he would soon pass away. Physicians were called but Smith grew worse. He was unable to walk, and was carried to better quarters. Rev. Mr. Scovil introduced the subject of his approaching end and Smith prepared for death. The hemorrhages continued not only from the lungs but from the bowels and the village folk hourly allowed word of his demise. Smith made his last will and testament and the dying man had disappeared body and bones as if the earth had swallowed him.

Compassion and Comedy.

Now comes a real sensation. Rector Scovil's good wife, in compassion for the dying man, sent Amy, her colored servant, with a feather bed upon which he might die instead of lying upon the hard bed of straw. Whilst Smith was doing this Rev. Mr. Scovil and Jail Warden Dibble discovered Smith in a dying fit on the jail floor, his feet and legs already cold. The men called on the warden's apartments and in a few moments had heated a brick with which they returned hastily to Smith's cell. But no Smith was to be found. The dying man had disappeared body and bones as if the earth had swallowed him.

At this moment the intense drama took on a vein of rich comedy when the colored girl struggling with the feather bed hove in sight at the warden's door with the benign remark, "Missus Scovil sent me here wid dis bed for pore Smith to die on." The girl was breathlessly told that Smith had gone. Taking this to mean that he had passed away the servant returned her mistress with the news. Mrs. Scovil then gave her a shirt and a winding sheet in which his body might be laid out with propriety, when the following dialogue is reported to have taken place:

"You may take them back, Amy, for Smith has gone."

"Where's he gone, Massa?"

"I don't know," Smith, with bewilderment, replied, "unless the devil has taken him off."

This intelligence was too much for the superstitious progress, who dashed into the parson's house with the startling statement that the devil had come and taken Smith away. It was some little time before the village folk woke up to the realization that the prisoner had really escaped, for the reports of his having "gone" were naturally construed into meaning his earthly passing. But when they did learn the truth there was much gaping astonishment, burning chagrin and no little terror.

Hot Pursuit of Prisoner.

Although Kingston at that time was a pretty thickly settled place and well known to have seen Smith take his sensational departure. One very much excited youth stouly held the way and prevented the hot pursuit, for by this time Henry More Smith had become a famous character and the whole countryside was bent on bringing him to justice.

Poses of volunteers scurried off to the escaped man along the roads leading from Kingston to St. John—six in the Kennebecic ferry in the direction of Nova Scotia to the eastward and another group searched the Belleisle area. Once upon the mysterious stranger proved himself too speedy and elusive for the combined wits of the law and peasantry. LORD LISTER & Zam-Buk

Lord Lister's discovery of antiseptic surgery has saved the world a lot of lives, but it has been left to Zam-Buk to bring into millions of homes the full benefits of antiseptic healing.

Zam-Buk is the greatest antiseptic healer the world has ever known. Being of natural vegetable origin Zam-Buk has distinct positive advantages over old-style mineral antiseptics. It is compact and highly-refined herbal balm with an antiseptic power many times greater than that of any ordinary saline or dinitment. Zam-Buk kills and excludes germs, and instantly allays pain and irritation. It first cleanses a sore place and then covers it with a protective film. As a first-aid dressing for injuries, and for soothing such troubles as eczema, scabs, ringworm, abscess, poison, wounds and piles, Zam-Buk is used the world over. It has the highest endorsement of Dr. Andrew Wilson and other eminent medical authorities. 50c. Box, 8 for $1.25, all dealers.

THE WORLD'S ANTISEPTIC HEALER

sumed the role of a French tramp and was extended hospitality by the good people all along the line. During his foot travelling Smith very diplomatically carried and placed in the jail presided over by Walter Dibble, who was the village school teacher as well as jailer, prominent in the town and a man held in high esteem, one whose integrity and veracity were never questioned. This fact is quoted since Mr. Dibble's statements concerning Smith while in custody are most remarkable.

Mystery Man Re-captured.

It was not until some weeks later that Smith was nabbed near the American boundary on the upper waters of the St. John. Brought back to Kingston, he was thrust into the same old jail on the same old charge of stealing Farmer Knox's horse from a Nova Scotian and his spectacular escape when feigning death. This time the hospitable people of Kingston, who had not gone to be fooled by their kindness, nor were they going to allow themselves to be beguiled with false illness, etc.

Even these precautions were not enough to prevent the mystery man from getting loose. While he made it appear he was still a close captive whenever anybody appeared in his cell—a large iron door and the stout bars at windows and doorways. No tools could be discovered by thorough searches, and Smith was made to wear this band of narrow steel with saw-teeth was discovered tied closely around his thigh—a rather a modern touch.

Then the country jailer and officials generally grew desperate and made him a set of jail "jewelry." This consisted of a middle and a string which clearly proved that iron bars and chains are no security for him. I then put on a light chain, with which he has been ever since, and one which he frequently produced effluvia of his wife. He now produced a middle and a string which he had made in perfect shape, with his features painted, and joints to all his limbs, and dressed him in clothes that he had made in good shape and fashion, out of clothes he had torn off himself (being now naked) which was admired for his ingenuity. This he could put on and take off without any alteration, until the 13th, when the jailer informed me that he refused to eat and no doubt was sick every day—found he did not eat—all the bread and other provisions conveyed to him he gave to his wife, and he kept the subject and his hand. He lay perfectly still day and night, and took no notice of anything, would drink tea or milk, which I gave him to maintain his strength; he then refused to drink anything for two days, which made seven days that he ate nothing. In that time he began to speak of his own death, but would hold no conversation.

Extraordinary Achievement.

"But the most extraordinary, the most wonderful and mysterious of all is that in this time he has prepared and executed a picture of genius, art, taste and invention that ever was, and I presume ever will be produced by any human being. He was in a dark room, chained and handcuffed, under sentence of death, without so much as a nail of any kind to work with but his hands and a needle. The exhibition is far beyond my power to describe. To give you some faint idea, permit me to say that the picture is a perfect work of art, and painted in the most expressive manner, upon the joints of the human body; their features, shape and form, all express their different offices and characters; their dress is of different fashions, they are. To view them in their stations, they appear as perfect as though dressed with all the air and gaiety of actors on the stage.

The Crazy Prisoner's Dancing Dolls.

It was during his sojourn in the jail after the passing of sentence that the super-man or fiend Smith set the people wild with his family of straw men and women and some carved in wood. He seemed to grow resigned to his chains and worked in them as if not inconvenienced in the least. Throwing off his sullen disposition and making out a childish enjoyment of the toys which his mysterious handicraft had turned out. These were made by day and night in the darkened confines of his prison, which accomplishment in itself was worthy of special wonder, but when visitors called the Englishman would make the whole outfit of dolls or images perform with uncanny likeness to human beings. It might be more explanatory to give the letter of the high sheriff of Kings county to the attorney-general which was published in the Royal Gazette and is in text as follows:

"Kingston, June 26th, 1815—My Dear Sir,—Having heard nothing from you since the late Jail Delivery at King's County, I beg leave to state to you some circumstances of the criminal Henry More Smith, since his trial and sentence. After securing him with strong chains to his neck and legs, and with handcuffs, he continued beating the floor, hallooing day and night with a loud voice, making different sounds; sometimes with jinking his chains and sometimes without, apparently in different parts of the jail, insomuch that I frequently sent for me, supposing he must be loose from his chains, which I conceived and frequently observed was impossible, being far beyond the power of human strength or invention in his situation, but on the 24th of May on going into the jail early in the morning

(after examining his chains at 2 o'clock the day before), I found three links of his heaviest chains separately and lying on the floor, being part of the chain around the waist. He continued in the same way until the 2nd of June, when we found the largest chain parted about the middle and tied with a string which clearly proved that iron bars and chains are no security for him. I then put on a light chain, with which he has been ever since, and one which he frequently produced effluvia of his wife. He now produced a middle and a string which he had made in perfect shape, with his features painted, and joints to all his limbs, and dressed him in clothes that he had made in good shape and fashion, out of clothes he had torn off himself (being now naked) which was admired for his ingenuity. WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerville, Saskatchewan, writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better."

I had stomach trouble so bad I could not bear the smell and taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not walk, had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

This time last year I saw where a man was very much troubled by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had used. However, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out for a walk. I could not go alone. I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my household work. You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it is a great deal of good to people who are as well as happy as I am.

 (New York Times).
 When the signed contract of Sam Jones was received in the local offices of the Yankees yesterday, the pitching staff of the team for the 1922 campaign was made complete. Jones was the last of the pitchers to fall into line, and the only players now still unsigned are Ruth, Ward and Schang. Little difficulty is anticipated in bringing them to terms. Jones had one of his best seasons with the Boston Red Sox last year, and, as one of the foremost hurlers of the American League, is expected to do yeoman service for the Yankees. Jones came to the Yanks in the famous deal which sent Peckinpaugh, Collins, Flery and Quinn to the Red Sox in exchange for Bullet Joe Bush, Everett Scott and himself.

DRAWN PAT ROYAL FLUSH, DROPS DEAD.
 Newark, N. J., March 6—Max Witkowski drew a pat royal flush in a midnight game at the home of Michael Eisenburg.
 Before he could open the pot, he pitched forward on the table dead. A physician said heart failure was the cause. He was in his best physical condition. He lives in Burlington, Wis., but had reached Chicago on his way south yesterday. Roth was out of the game practically all of last season with water on the knee. He says now that his knee is as sound as his liver. He is a right forerunner and training and his services will be exceedingly valuable. In view of the fact that Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel will occupy the role of spectators during the early part of the season, it is not only a splendid fielder but he wields a wicked cudgel. He came to the Yankees a year ago in the deal that sent Magridge and Duffy Lewis to the Senators.

BOBBY ROTH SIGNS; LEAVES FOR SOUTH.

 When Bill Grayson and his victorious Dog-Fans, jumped into the Pas on Wednesday, victorious after a 200-mile run, he set a new world's record which may well excite the admiration of a continent. The Dog-Fans are the winners' chief credit in the frontier communities of Canada, and this exciting race in the wilds of Manitoba may well be the talk of the camps for months to come. One of the wealthy sportsmen of more sophisticated regions may be stirred to go in for diversions of this kind, as the novelty might compensate for the comparative lack of interest in the winter months. We read that, during his journey, which he accomplished in 24 hours 51 minutes, Grayson suffered such interest in the lonely communities where the lumbermen crowded to the trail to watch the teams pass, and to cheer their favorites. The dogs were fed twice on the journey. And their food? It was minced meat and tallow, half-cooked into balls weighing half a pound each.

Arrests For Drunkenness Fewer by More Than Third

DECLINE OF 362 IN YEAR, ACCORDING TO POLICE CHIEF'S REPORT

Special Mention of the Work of Detective Department—Large Number of Doors Left Open and Secured by Police—Where Those Arrested Hailed From—An Interesting Document.

A decrease of nearly thirty-eight per cent. in the number of persons arrested for drunkenness in 1921, as compared with the number taken on this charge during the previous year, was one of the features of the annual report of the chief of police, presented to the common council this afternoon by Commissioner John Thornton of the public safety department.

Special mention is made of the work of the detective department; of goods valued at $28,300 lost or stolen during the year, $23,500 worth of them was recovered by the detectives.

The following is a summary of the report:

The strength of the force on December 31, 1921, was as follows: One chief, one inspector, one sergeant-detective, two detectives, seven sergeants, one court orderly, one deskman, six traffic policemen, one mounted policeman, thirty-four constables, two ambulance drivers, two patrol drivers and one police matron, making a total of sixty.

During the year one patrolman resigned, one died, two were suspended and six were appointed. The one death in the department was that of Police Constable John T. Merrick, who died on January 2, 1921, after a faithful service of thirty years.

Forty-one members of the police department passed successful examinations in the St. John Ambulance Association, and the remainder of the department are at present taking instructions.

Decrease in Drunkenness

The total arrests for drunkenness for 1921 were 591. The total arrests for drunkenness in 1920 were 953, showing a decrease for 1921 of 362.

There were 404 persons summoned to court to answer charges for violation of the N. B. Motor Vehicle Law.

During the year there were 465 doors of shops and warehouses found open by the police and the owners notified.

Police ambulance calls for the year were 1,094, and police patrol calls, 935.

Of the 1,028 persons arrested during the year, 591 were for drunkenness, sixty-nine for assault, fifty-nine for breaking and entering, 131 for theft, forty-six for wandering about and not giving a satisfactory account of themselves, twenty-four for trespassing, twenty-one for having liquor in their possession, seventeen for lying and lurking, sixteen for creating a disturbance, fifteen as vagrants, twelve for abusive language, and twelve stowaways. Three were arrested on murder charges, five for highway robbery, five for having opium in their possession, three for doing grievous bodily harm, four for escaping from the boys' industrial home, and two for other crimes, one for attempted suicide, and one for striking a person with a stone and killing him. There was only one arrest on a charge of ringing a false alarm.

By-Law Cases

Six hundred and sixty-nine persons were summoned to court on various infractions of by-laws. Of this number, 541 were on charges of breaking motor vehicle laws, provincial and civic, and 1,189 for owning unlicensed dogs.

Monthly Arrest Record

March	121
April	124
May	69
June	81
July	69
August	81
September	69

During the year 873 persons were sheltered as protectionists.

Street lights reported out total 12,043 hours.

Dog summonses issued total 157.

General Reports

The general reports included 130 articles found in the streets; eighteen animals shot and three killed; forty-one people accidentally injured on the streets and thirty-five injured otherwise; twenty automobile collisions and fourteen street car collisions; one attempted suicide, twenty-five children lost and found and returned to their parents; 193 calls answered by the police, 465 doors in buildings found open and secured by police; disturbances quieted, forty-seven; disorderly crowds dispersed, fifty-one; twenty fire alarm boxes broken, seventeen horses shot by police; sixty-five persons ejected by police, four persons killed; police attended 145 fires; twenty-three taken ill on streets; ten teams struck by electric cars; eighteen water pipes burst.

During the year 109 persons came under the care of the police matron for vagrancy, seeking protection, and on various charges against the criminal code.

Commends Detectives

The work of the detective department was very satisfactory, considering the number of crimes and thefts committed. Goods lost and stolen during the year were valued at $28,324.44, of which amount $23,528.54 was recovered by the detectives. Goods to the value of $4,795.90 were not recovered but are still under investigation.

During the year the detectives investigated 521 complaints which did not come under the heads of criminal cases; they arrested 138 persons and secured 127 convictions. They also assisted the liquor inspectors in eight raids.

Serious Crimes

Two serious crimes were committed during the year. The first was the murder of Sadie McAulay, a crippled child of nine years of age, near River View Park on Douglas avenue, on August 2, about noon. As soon as her disappearance was made known, the police department, with the assistance of hundreds of citizens, searched the vicinity of where the little girl was last seen, and on August 9, a boy named James Kimball, discovered the body hidden in a small grove. After weeks of investigation, day and night, the detectives arrested John Paris, a mulatto, and charged him with the murder of Sadie McAulay. He was tried before Judge Barry and the jury disagreed. He was tried again before Judge Chandler, and after a trial extending over nine days, he was convicted of murder and sentenced on December 30, 1921, to be hanged on March 30, 1922. (Since the chief's report was written Paris has been granted a new trial).

The second serious crime was the murder of Albert Norris, a man sixty-five years of age, whose home was in Barnesville, N. B. He was attacked in an alley off Erin street on the night of September 9, his skull was fractured and he died in the hospital in a few hours. On September 12, the detectives arrested Edward O'Brien and Thom Spellman on the charge of murder of Norris. They were tried separately before Judge Barry. O'Brien was acquitted and Spellman was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to twenty years in Dorchester penitentiary. Later O'Brien was charged with theft of a bottle of liquor from the person of Norris and sentenced to two years in Dorchester.

Sergeant-Detective John T. Power and Detectives Patrick F. Biddecombe and Kenneth T. Donahue deserve great credit for their zealous work in these two murders, as they had no clue to work on in either case.

Strike Trouble

During the year there was an exceptionally great amount of trouble for the police and citizens in general on account of labor strikes. At a labor parade there was so much destruction of property and breaking of glass in the street cars that twelve of the leading paraders were summoned by the police to appear before the police magistrate and were sent up for trial by jury. The jury disagreed, and the case stands, as there has been no trouble since.

In concluding his report the chief thanked John Thornton, Commissioner of Public Safety, and His Worship Mayor Schofield for the valuable assistance which they had given the department through the year and expressed the hope that the same good feeling would continue to exist.

THIS IS THE LIMIT

The growing politeness of prisoners in the dock recalls a story of graceful courtesy in a Bombay goal. The governor, after fixing the hour of execution of a prisoner, was forced to alter it. The prisoner was thus informed of the change: "The Governor presents his compliments to Mr. — and would like to know whether it would suit his convenience equally well to be hanged at 10 a. m. instead of 1 p. m." History does not tell us whether the prisoner pleaded a prior engagement.

LARGE VOLUME OF NEW CONSTRUCTION IS CONTEMPLATED

Figures for February Nearly $5,000,000 More Than for January—Ontario Far in Lead.

Toronto March 6.—The volume of contemplated new work reported in Canada during February, according to figures compiled by MacLean Building Reports, Limited, amounted to $27,011,200, compared with $22,391,600 in January. The value of contracts awarded in February amounted to $10,718,800 and represents an encouraging advance on the January figure of $8,892,600. A comparison by provinces for the month shows Ontario more conspicuously in the lead than ever, as follows:—

Province	No. of Projects	Value
Ontario	496	$6,816,800
Quebec	152	1,946,700
British Columbia	165	1,297,100
Alberta	43	491,100
Manitoba	19	354,000
Saskatchewan	5	55,500
New Brunswick	4	87,000
Nova Scotia	2	19,000
Total for Dominion	886	$10,718,800

An analysis of the actual nature of the work being done reveals a preponderance of residential building. Public works continue to call for the expenditure of substantial sums. Business construction is holding its own, while industrial building naturally awaits the return of more settled conditions in manufacturing. The detailed figures for February show:—

Residential building	$4,049,200 or 37.8 p.c.
Business building	2,539,000 or 23.7 p.c.
Industrial building	610,000 or 5.7 p.c.
Public works and utilities	$3,519,500 or 32.8 p.c.

Present Factors.

Adverse weather conditions have helped to preclude a larger volume of undertakings in the last month, and the tide of construction may rise appreciably until spring is at hand, but the outlook is bright for expansive tendencies in the coming year. One very helpful factor is that of continued reductions in the cost of building materials, the wholesale price index number of which reached 6.1 per cent. during January, which is 51.9 per cent. below the peak price of May 1920. Another helpful development is the appearance of easier conditions in the money market, which have left a very distinct mark on the high interest rates hitherto prevailing on bonds, and which are now finding some reflection in an insipid softening of mortgage loan rates. Indeed there remains but one serious obstacle to the resumption of heavy scale building operations: that is the reluctance of labor to accept an adjustment of wage scales in a slight degree commensurate with the drop in living costs. Be it granted that labor is entitled to retain some portion of the improved standard of living wrested during the war, it is economically impossible for labor to hold out alone and obstinately against the great sweep of deflation. Attempts to do so have thus far resulted in nothing better than an alarming jump in statistics of unemployment, which in the month just ended, has grown, so far as the building trades are concerned, to a degree never known before. What employment agencies have been able to obtain, moreover, has largely gone to the genuinely needy worker who has been willing to run the risk of forfeiting his union status by accepting less than union wages, in order to maintain himself and his family. A clear realization of the wage anomaly on the part of organized labor would be quite the most invaluable aid which building, in the broad revival promised this year, could enjoy. Nor is it impossible that some measure of realization at least will be evinced within the next few months.

PRISONERS NOISY IN FIRE

Beat the Bars and Shout as Iowa Penitentiary Buildings Burn.

Fort Madison, Iowa, March 7.—Prisoners of the Iowa state penitentiary here beat upon the bars of their cells and yelled for several hours, when fire caused damage estimated at $250,000 to several buildings within the prison walls. "There goes your old prison" and "Let us out" were yelled to the guards, who tried to quiet them.

The fire started in the paint shop of the penitentiary, and fanned by a west wind, extended rapidly to the east, where it destroyed the joining building, which houses the solitary confinement cells; wrecked the tailor shop, and destroyed two buildings which comprise the main plant of the chair industry. About 2,000 chairs were in the building.

TO "SCOTCH" ALASKA FISH.

Death of North Sea Herring, Due to War, Creates New Industry.

Tacoma, March 7.—Mines exploded in the North Sea during the war killed so many fish that two fishing boats have left here to establish a Scotch-cured herring industry in a new quarter, it was announced by a local company.

The present output in the North Sea is seventy-five per cent. below normal, it was said. The boats will go to Evans Island, near La Touche, Alaska, and establish plants. In May Scotch herring will be sent there to see that Alaskan herring are properly turned into Scotch herring.

The regular monthly meeting of the International Longshoremen's Association, local 273, was held last evening in its rooms in Water street. Owing to the large number of the members who were working on the various steamer in port last night, the attendance was not so large as usual. The vice-president, A. Craig, occupied the chair.
