

FARMER LOOKS FOR REDUCTIONS IN IMPLEMENT PRICES

Resents Unwillingness of Manufacturer to Shoulder Share of Losses

Business Outlook - Large Hamilton Plant Closes - Demand Falls Off and Stocks Accumulate - Improvement in Some Lines

The business horizon is still bedeviled with uncertainty. The forces of readjustment continue to be the dominant factors. Business mainly is being conducted along restricted lines, with faint glimmerings of the approach of better times in a number of cases.

The closing of a large Hamilton concern engaged in the manufacture of farm implements has been a significant development of the week. For some little time complaints have emanated from the farming community that the implement manufacturers were not conforming to the trend of the times and were bolstering prices at war-time levels or even higher.

Reports from implement agents do not coincide with the statement of the company. It is evident from these outside representatives that the war-time level of prices has been higher this year to date than for the corresponding period of the previous year, one agent even declaring that his sales were in excess by twenty-five per cent.

Both manufacturers and dealers are undoubtedly experiencing dull times until the surplus is absorbed. Reductions Are Minor. The indisputable fact remains, however, that the price reductions in farm equipment have been of a very minor character so far, and a number of articles are even selling at the top level.

One bright ray that has made its way through the obscurity on the business horizon is the announcement that automobile factories are taking on more men and are increasing production. While output, of course, has not as yet attained anything like normal, the fact that these companies have orders on hand of such volume as to necessitate increasing output is a favorable indication.

There has been a decided revival in demand from the rural sections of the country for motor cars, and according to reports the supply with the agents is wholly inadequate to supply the demand.

The tire companies, too, are making preparations for increased production. Demand for automobile rubber accessories has revived with an energy this spring, which augurs well for the future.

reports the supply with the agents is wholly inadequate to supply the demand. It is stated that in the smaller centres of Ontario agencies have been forced to refuse the orders of farmers because of their inability to secure delivery of cars, or have given promises of delivery in two, three or four months.

The tire companies, too, are making preparations for increased production. Demand for automobile rubber accessories has revived with an energy this spring, which augurs well for the future.

In the clothing trades the manufacturing concerns are receiving an increased volume of orders and production is being speeded up. The wholesale trade is making a determined effort not only to maintain the present volume of business, but to increase it for the balance of the year, and to this end, have larger sales forces on the road than ever before.

The same rule applies to practically every branch of industry. There is little doubt that from now on industry in all its phases will be subjected to the most rigid competition, and it is the duty of the individual enterprise, therefore, to meet the altered conditions by constructing additional selling force, and adopting new selling plans.

In many lines the process of liquidating stocks is still being carried on. Illustrating this movement, the tendency on the part of the firms handling steel, iron and small tools and various lines of steel equipment is to clear out stocks for the purpose of being ready to take advantage of any new market standards that are coming out from time to time.

MOST OF THE AILMENTS THAT MAY ATTACK YOUR BABY

arise from improper feeding, and it is important that mothers should understand that baby will thrive best if fed in the natural way—at the breast. This will not be so difficult of accomplishment if the prospective mother includes in her daily food a bowlful of Neave's Health Diet.

But there are very many cases when the baby cannot be breast-fed, and then an important decision has to be made—"Which food shall we give our baby?" It is nearly a century since Neave's Food was first made, and the records of its use in delicate and ill-nourished children have shown on it has been its name to extend throughout the world.

ACCEPTED OFFICE AGAINST HIS WILL

New Prussian Premier, Stegerwald, Rose From Ranks of Poor People. Berlin, April 13.—Much against his will, the Centrist leader, Adam Stegerwald, has been elected Prussian premier by 322 out of 383 votes.

The Prussian parliament, for so long the proud preserve of the Junkers, has chosen a self-made man for its premier. Herr Stegerwald, who received the votes of all parties with the exception of the Communists and a few independent members of the poor parents and was born in a small village in South Germany and apprenticed to a woodworker.

While working as a journeyman he educated himself with great self-sacrifice and even managed to take a course of political economy in a Munich university. Later he became first secretary of the Union of Woodworkers and devoted several years trying to organize a labor party based on Christian principles.

When the war came, Stegerwald associated himself with the Centre Party and towards the end was called into the Prussian ministry of food, afterwards becoming first minister of the national well-being department which was inaugurated after the revolution. His task now is to form a provisional business government.

BOLSHEVIKI AND THE CHILDREN

They Have Stolen Their Minds, Say Gen. Wrangle's Wife—Girls Dead Morally. Constantinople, March 24.—(Associated Press by Mail)—The Baroness Wrangle, wife of the general who commanded the anti-Bolshevik army in Southern Russia, until its defeat and collapse, declares that the "demoralization of our boys and girls, the next generation of Russians, is the most tragic of the Bolshevik nightmare. They have stolen the minds of our children."

Abundant evidence from trustworthy sources among the vast Russian refugee colony here is available on this subject. "Our girls are dead, morally," is a phrase in a letter dated a month ago, received here from Moscow, smuggled over by way of Reval, written by a woman to her nephew in Wrangle's army. "I am kept alive only by the hope of seeing you again. Never return here with your children. If they survive famine and disease, they will be made animals of them."

One of the demands of the revolting workmen in Moscow and other cities has been that the Communist education of children be abandoned. Bela Kun, who in Budapest attempted to give the children of the very poor special playgrounds and introduce in a measure methods well known in the United States, has tried to organize the villas and palaces of the Crimea into rest houses and hospitals for children. Recently a Cretan wireless requested help from the American Red Cross for this purpose.

THE ELECTRIC HOME MARVEL OF SCIENCE

Twenty-Two Minutes From Broadway Wonderful Establishment is on Exhibition - is a "Servantless" House

(N. Y. Times) Olga and Katinka may disappear and the dusky Euphrosina and Petronella also may follow in the footsteps of the already departed Maggies and Gatties, but the home need not necessarily cease with the departure, for everybody won't have to live in hotels. Electricity and ingenuity will supply the deficiencies.

There are no washbasins in the servantless kitchen—still less a regular laundry with wringer and other paraphernalia. A compact electric washing machine washes, rinses and wrings—and does everything but dry the clothes.

Dishes are placed in racks in a dish-washing machine, which, after washing, rinses them in hot water. They are not dried, the remaining hanging and the expense of dish towels. An electric fireless cooker supplements, or is a substitute for, the electric range, which has all the latest fixings. Several degrees of heat are obtained with less effort than would be exerted in striking a key of the piano. Its oven space is at a convenient height, to avoid stooping, but the gentle attribute of this stove is the fact that, no matter what is spilled on the little red-hot coils in the round plates over which things are cooked, no damage is done.

The exterior of the ice box has a familiar look, with its white enamel and nickel trim, but inside it is something else. Little square patty pans are filled with ice, and the chopping block, square cakes of ice, for mashing bread or cake, or for creaming up mayonnaise dressing. An attachment turns it into a meat, vegetable, fruit or nut chopper. The vacuum cleaner has suction and brush action—sort of high and low geared.

Paris, April 13.—Utrillo, released from the madhouse, is painting better pictures than ever. This is the news that came two weeks ago to upset one of the best little pieces of picture dealing Paris has ever known. Utrillo was a young modernist painter of great talent who attracted the notice of the shrewdest Parisian art dealers a few years ago. Quietly they began buying his works—often getting fine canvas for no more than the price of a meal. Suddenly, eighteen months ago, the high-strung brain of the artist, who from the first was affected by brooding fits of melancholy, gave way completely under the pressure of overwork and semi-starvation. He disappeared into a private asylum, which physicians declared he would leave only in a coffin.

Immediately art dealers, secure in the knowledge that they had "cornered" the artist's best work, began an Utrillo boom. From fifty to 100 francs, the price of his pictures mounted steadily to 6,000. They were bid for eagerly at the best sales and occupied the best place in the showrooms of the galleries. But once again the doctors had spoken too hastily and now Utrillo is back in his Latin quarter studio hard at work. True, he is under the care of a male nurse, but pictures he has already sold for 500 francs—a far better price than anything he ever received himself before—challenge comparison with the best of his early work. The dealers are in despair, but can do nothing.

NEW RAILWAY BETWEEN CHILE AND ARGENTINE. Buenos Aires, March 21.—(A. P. by mail)—The first rail has just been placed on the new international railway that is eventually to connect the Argentine city of Salta with the coast of Chile, thus realigning to a certain extent the trade routes of Argentina and Chile. The Argentine section of the road is being built from Salta to Huatiquina, a place in the Andes on the frontier of Chile, while the Chilean section probably will be constructed either to Antofagasta or Mejillones. In Argentina, construction is being done by the state railways. Construction in Chile is not yet definitely provided for. The Argentine half of the road is approximately 475 kilometers long. As a part of the work 6,000 meters of hard rock tunneling will have to be done. HUGE FRENCH PAYROLL. Five Billion Francs Paid to State Servants Yearly. Stockholm, March 27.—(A. P. by mail)—The building by the Swedish government of the contemplated high-power wireless station in Sweden for wireless communication with America has been postponed owing to the general economic depression.

SHOW THEIR FAITH IN NEWSPAPER ADVTG. Parisian Corset Company Builds Addition to Plant to Anticipate Increased Sales.

There are hundreds of instances of new factories required to take care of the demand which newspaper advertising had created, but perhaps the greatest compliment paid to the efficacy of newspaper publicity is the large new factory just now completed on St. Valier street in Quebec city by the Parisian Corset Co. Ltd., of that city, which is built upon the faith of the power newspaper advertising to keep it operating to capacity.

While this is the second addition to the plant of the Parisian Corset Co. in recent years, not a line of newspaper space had ever been used to advertise their product, but in planning the latest extension the management after observ-

DRY FOURTEEN YEARS.

Paris, April 12—The Abbe Moreux, a leading French scientist and director of Bourges Observatory, predicts that the next fourteen years will be dry. He says that dry and wet periods alternate, each lasting about seventeen years in Western Europe. WHITE SLAVERS TRAFFICKING IN GIRLS FROM EAST Picked Out By Photograph and Brought to United States is Charge.

Detroit, April 13—Charges that a ring of white slavers is selling young girls from Armenia, Palestine and Turkey to wealthy Detroit aliens are under investigation by immigration authorities as the result of revelations made by Mrs. Violet Kalaian, wife of a wealthy Armenian business man.

More than 200 girls between the ages of 14 and 20 imported from the Near East at an average cost of $1,500 each, are now en route to Detroit to be sold to the aliens residents, according to Mrs. Kalaian.

The traffic in souls is not confined to European girls, she said. Many daughters and sisters of Detroit and Highland Park foreigners are being sold. Some of them are legally married, but many others are being forcibly detained in typical harem pictures living in the orient are sold through their photographs, Mrs. Kalaian told U. S. Immigration Inspector Short.

She said relatives in Detroit sell the pictures to members of the ring. Persons desiring to purchase a girl go to the white slavers, make their choice and order that the original of the photograph be brought to this city.

Before leaving their homelands, the prospective brides are cautioned as to how to pass the immigration inspectors at Ellis Island.

At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. F. S. Dowling, 88 Duke Street, yesterday, Miss Minnie Good of Southampton, England, who arrived on the C. P. O. S. Corsican on Monday, was united in marriage to Alfred Benjamin Crook of Winnipeg. Mr. and Mrs. Crook will reside in the west.

At the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Stevens, Fredericton, yesterday, their daughter, Miss Valerie, became the bride of Frank Gibson Merritt of Moncton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. Rigby of Woodstock. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Raymond of St. John.

A very pretty wedding took place in the Rectory, Grand Manan, on Thursday evening last, when Frederick G. Foster,

WOMAN'S SUCCESS AS A DETECTIVE

More Successful at Deception — Can Keep a Secret

London, April 13—(Associated Press, By Mail)—Conservative Scotland Yard is finding women of decided value on its detective force, especially in ferreting out the intricacies of certain sorts of crime. The talent of these feminine sleuths, it is said, is due largely because of their greater success at practicing deception. And it has been found that they can keep a secret.

Many of the women detectives cover assignments at social events where it is necessary for them to wear evening gowns and jewels and to display the social graces.

TRAINING THE YOUNG

A Plan to Bring Out Best Mental and Moral Qualities

(N. Y. Times) A new idea in the training of children has been evolved by a St. Louis school teacher, Miss Mabel Evans. She believes that many mothers fail to bring out their children's best mental and moral qualities in pre-school days, and wants to award scholarships to the children in her classes who have received the best training at home. So interested have a number of her youngsters' mothers become in the innovation that they have formed themselves into a "board of trustees" and are helping Miss Evans to finance the scheme. In a letter to one of her "old boys" she tells how the idea came to her.

MOUNT ALLISON AND ST. JOSEPH'S ASK FOR PROVINCIAL ASSISTANCE

Delegations from Mount Allison and St. Joseph's University appeared before the provincial government yesterday and presented memorials suggesting public aid for the two institutions from the provincial treasury. Premier Foster in reply said that in these days of diminishing revenues it was absolutely beyond the bounds of possibility for either of the applicants to expect to receive any aid from the provincial treasury. Premier Foster pointed out that the University of New Brunswick was just as much a portion of the educational system of the province as the public schools and as such was entitled to and had received financial support from the provincial treasury.

The Education of Girls.—After much opposition, the Cambridge examinations for girls in England have become regularly established, apparently with the best results. The last report of the Syndicate of Cambridge University on the local examinations held throughout the country during the past winter shows that the girls have not only shown themselves superior in the points in which it was certain that they would do better than the boys, but that in mathematics also they have gained great credit. The general style of their papers was decidedly better than what the boys produced, and their answers were more to the point, with fewer attempts at fine writing than their male competitor indulge in. Ten girls out of twelve passed a creditable examination in Latin, being especially distinguished for accuracy and good taste in translation. A hundred and twenty-five girls were examined, and the examiners gave reports which seem to show some of the chief objections against the examination for girls, stating that so undue excitement was noticeable, nor any signs of weariness toward the end of the week. On the contrary, all was very methodical and orderly, and the girls did their work in a most business like way, without flagging.

NO ONE NEED FEAR JUNGLE, BEEBE SAYS

Scientist and Writer of Pictorial Essays, Whose Party Has Just Returned From Guiana, Tells of a Winter of Tropical Research.

(Mary Lee in N. Y. Evening Post.)
There was rather a thrill about ringing the doorbell of his studio, just back from his jungle laboratory in British Guiana—a thrill because he is a discoverer, and because he can write about his jungle so that there is romance around the merest frog.

He looked just as he should, as he opened the door of his studio, a tall, gaunt figure in a soft shirt and no coat, with the bronzed leanness of the tropics and a faintly tired look about the deep set, keen eyes. He apologized for the shirtless, laughing, "I have not got used to clothes yet," he said.

The subject of clothes brought the question of where they wear there at the station of the New York Zoological Society at Demerara, of which he is the head. He laughed again.

"We just wear old clothes," he said. "You know," referring to his subject, "my object in the whole thing is to show that scientists can combine museum work and field work. To do the best scientific work, you have to do field work as well as study the specimens in jars in the museums. People have been afraid of the jungle. They come down there bringing all sorts of weird boots and mosquito nets and things. Then they find they don't need them and give them to the Indians."

The Tropics Are Healthful.

"I want to prove to people that they go to the tropics without being either extraordinarily strong or injured to hardships, that they can be right in the middle of the jungle and still perfectly healthy. There are no mosquitoes, no flies—nothing to bother us. We'll all have colds now that we've got back here, but I think there isn't one of us who is not better now than when he went down."

There were seventeen of them, he went on to explain, who went down to the station this winter, some artists, some scientists, some photographers, each pursuing his own line of work, but united by the common interest of scientific investigation into the wonders of the jungle. He showed snapshots of the laboratory, on a high bank over the Essequibo River, with its surrounding tract and behind them the mysterious wall of the jungle.

The jungle, the wonders of which Mr. Beebe has described for the workaday world! Those essays, he says, are a pastime, not his serious work in life. His serious study this year has been on the system of birds, a study of all the tiny bones and muscles of a bird's throat in connection with the actual voice. He has collected a great many facts, he says, which some day he will put into a book.

"I work until I am scientifically worn out," he said, "and then I just write one of those essays on the side, because they amuse me."

A Day's Work.
He went on to describe a day at this laboratory, where the companionship of the life in the open and the pleasures of a summer vacation are combined with the vital interest of hard work.

"We work hard all day until about four o'clock," he said. "Then we all knock off and have afternoon tea. After tea we have a good long swim and dress for dinner. In the evening we read and fool around and relax a little."

British Guiana, for those who do not mind admitting that they have forgotten one of the three small, pie-shaped islands wedged in between Venezuela and Brazil on the top part of South America, just six degrees from the equator.

"Yet it is an ideal climate," Mr. Beebe says. "It is nothing like the heat up here. It goes up to eighty-six degrees in the daytime, but the nights are always cool. I think there was hardly a night when we didn't use blankets."

An Idea of Roosevelt's.

It is this that Mr. Beebe wants to get across to people in the scientific world—that they can go and study the great garden of the jungle at first hand and be comfortable. This first wilderness laboratory of the Zoological Society he regards as an experiment, a beacon light which will start other scientific societies doing likewise.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn and Mr. Beebe planned it long ago, he says, and in 1916 it was started. Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt were the first guests at the laboratory after it was started, and Mrs. Roosevelt paid them another visit this year. Every year since 1916 the station has been open, and the scientists who have gone there have done remarkable work along their own specific lines.

One can feel in talking to these people who have come back from there something of the enthusiasm of pioneers in scientific research and of the magic of the jungle, which is, as Mr. Beebe says,

"alive with flowers and insects and birds."

WAITING.

Scene, I fold my hands and wait, Nor care for wind, nor tide, nor sea; I rave no more against time or fate, For lo my own shall come to me.

I stay my haste, I make delays, For what avails this eager pace? I stand amid the eternal ways, And what is mine shall know my face.

Aleep, awake, by night or day, The friends I seek are seeking me; No wind can drive my bark astray; Nor change the tide of destiny.

What matter if I stand alone? I wait with joy the coming years; My heart shall reap where it hath sown, And garner up its fruit of years.

The waters know their own and draw The brook that springs in yonder heights; So flows the good with equal law Unto the soul of pure delights.

—John Burroughs.

An excellent piece of work was performed by the staff of the water and sewerage department this morning following the blowing out of a joint in one of the 36-inch mains near the Marsh bridge. The break occurred about 9 o'clock this morning and soon after 1 o'clock this afternoon the broken joint was replaced and the water in the main turned on again. After the water was shut off in the big pipe, the pressure was reduced throughout the city by about twenty pounds. The supply to the high levels only was affected.

MANY APPLY FOR PLACES UNDER THE COMMISSION

Organization Meeting for the Handling of Liquor Business in New Brunswick.

Fredrickton, N. B., April 13. — The board of liquor vendors of New Brunswick opened their organization meeting this morning with Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, A. F. Bentley of St. Martins and Martin A. J. John in attendance. Major F. H. Rowe, formerly of the D. S. C. R., who is an applicant for a permanent appointment, acted as secretary. At the Chairman Tweeddale said that the opening meeting had been largely taken up with a discussion of plans and applications for positions, of which he said there were many. The intention was, he said, to give armed soldiers the preference. He said he expected the board would be functioning by May 1 to a certain extent. Mr. Tweeddale said there had already been some correspondence with the military authorities regarding securing the barracks at the corner of Carleton and Queen street for offices and warehouse, and it was expected that the property could be obtained for temporary use at least. Other places suggested include the Lynch property, which is near the railway yard, but does not include a building that would be suitable as a warehouse.

TRACING RECENT THEFTS OF FOWL

Two Arrests Are Made and Some Evidence of Raids Given.

A few feathers wrapped in a paper napkin and found in a restaurant by Detective Saunders last night led to the recovery of the remains of several fowl, alleged to have been stolen recently. The detective caused the arrest of Frederick Martin, aged seventeen, and Joseph Cullinan, aged twenty-six, who appeared in the police court this morning on suspicion of breaking and entering the henhouse of Amos Phinney, and stealing several fowl, valued at $25; the henhouse of Silas E. Rice, and stealing fowl valued at $33; also the henhouse at St. Patrick's Industrial Home, Silver Falls, and stealing fowl valued at $40. Martin is also held on suspicion of breaking and entering the henhouse of Patrick Kilborn and stealing several fowl. Detective Saunders said he went to the residence of the accused and after an investigation took them to a cafe in Mill street, where the proprietor produced five fowl for which he said he paid $6. In company with Policeman Thomas the witness said he then took the accused to Cullinan's woodshed where he found the remains of several fowl, and on tearing up the floor found feathers and insides of fowl. At this time, he said, the accused admitted that they had stolen twenty hens from St. Patrick's Industrial Home; thirteen from Amos Phinney, Eastmount; thirteen from S. E. Rice, Adelaide street, and several from Patrick Kilborn.

Mr. Rice said that on last Thursday morning he went to his henhouse and found the lock broken and the door open and on counting his flock found thirteen missing, which he said he valued at $38. In company with Sergeant Rankine he said they followed the tracks in the light snow as far as Elm street, and according to the tracks there were two persons. He said Martin had been employed with him at one time. Policeman Thomas corroborated the evidence and adjournment was made to Friday morning at 10:30. William and Joseph Axtell were charged with vagrancy and having no visible means of support. Joseph was allowed to go but as William had been in the almshouse before, he was sent back again.

Richard McGuire was before the court yesterday afternoon on a charge of highway robbery, but as there were no witnesses he was remanded and an adjournment made. He is said to be the third implicated in the recent robbery of John Kelly, in Hillyard street, a short time ago when Arthur Kennedy and John Nickerson were arrested. Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded.

ADDRESS AND IRISH MUSIC

Meeting of Local Self-Determination for Ireland League

A regular meeting of the Self-Determination for Ireland League was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, last evening. M. E. Agar presiding. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. M. Durand of Halifax, provincial secretary for Nova Scotia. Her subject was "Modern Ireland and Her Leader." She dealt extensively with the political and educational systems and handled her subject ably, and her address was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience in attendance. She spoke of some of the famous writers and politicians of Ireland, and mentioned among others the late Terrence MacSwiney, W. B. Yeats, Douglas Hyde and Prof. John McNeill. These men, she said, were invariably of the highest rank of culture and education.

At the termination of her eloquent address she was tendered a hearty vote of thanks, which was moved by John J. McDonnell and seconded by Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor. Following the lecture, a pleasing musical programme was carried out. A vocal chorus, by the Misses McCarthy, McGrath, Bridgton, Sharkey and McNulty, sang several songs in a most acceptable manner. Mrs. Alice Harris also sang a tuneful and well-chosen number, while Miss Bernice Moonsey brought the programme to a close with two well-rendered and pretty solos. It is the intention of the league to hold monthly meetings in the future.

"No date has yet been fixed," said Premier Melgren this morning on elections in Yarmouk, St. Antoine and York-Sunbury on May 28.

LITTLE GIRL HAS LEG BROKEN

Marion Wilson, aged nine, residing at 6 Sydney street, was struck by a motor truck in Sydney street about one o'clock today. She was taken to the hospital in the ambulance. A leg is broken but it is not known if she is suffering from internal injuries. of the home. He suggested that some arrangement be made to deal with the two synods separately. He thought the Anglican denomination was well represented in the home. The girls there are only wayward girls needing control. There was a call to care for them. He urged the synod to do something to put the church right in this respect.

Canon Siam of Moncton spoke briefly of the inception and work of the home. He made a plea for united Protestant effort.

Canon R. A. Armstrong said all were in accord with this work, but asked where the money was coming from. He suggested that the amount levied on this diocese be faced by the ratio of the central council. He moved that the matter be brought up later and local contributions be made. He urged a scintillating appeal and a campaign by an organizer.

Canon G. A. Kauring urged immediate action and suggested that the bishop appoint a committee to go into the matter and correspond with Nova Scotia in this respect.

Canon R. A. Armstrong moved and Canon Siam of Moncton seconded the following motion: "Resolved, that the diocese of Fredericton accept its share in the establishment and conducting of maritime home for women at Moncton."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN. SPECTACULAR ACT AT OPERA HOUSE

Adelaide Herman's Magical and Illusion Offering Astounding—Clever Acrobatic Offering and Lots of Comedy. While all of the acts in the new mid-week bill at the Opera House were apparently thoroughly enjoyed that of Adelaide Herman, widow of the famous "Herman the Great" was the feature attraction.

Her spectacular illusions were presented in a manner which astounded all and she will undoubtedly be a popular attraction during her stay in this city. She gives a finished performance of magical surprises, which surpass anything ever presented on a local stage, and brought her act to a close with her original creations "Jonah of Arc" and "Noah's Ark." This act must be seen to be enjoyed, for the illusions are astounding.

Daly and Thomas, in an acrobatic offering featuring with amusing antics, made a popular hit. They performed numerous flips with apparent ease and their acrobatic and other stunts were executed in a manner which evoked outbursts of applause.

Billy Duval and Bee Little offered a comedy skit "Their First Quarrel." Their acting was good, especially in a scene in which the young bride starts telling her hubby a few things, and the comedy was well brought out. Success attended their efforts and they were rewarded with appreciative applause.

Kelly and Drake regaled the audience with comic songs and dances. Their eccentric dance at the conclusion of their offering was a feature and was evidently enjoyed.

Bob Tenney, who appeared behind the footlights in an original sailing contrivance, won his audience and amused all with his humor, musical renditions, etc. He is a clever entertainer and merited the hearty plaudits received.

In addition to five vaudeville numbers there was another interesting episode of the serial drama "Fighting Fate," which is featuring William Duncan. This programme will be repeated tonight and again on Thursday afternoon and evening.

Widow of World's Famous "Herman the Great" Has Fascinating Offering—Was Here Twenty-five Years Ago. Adelaide Herman, who is appearing in the Opera House in a new series of mystery problems and magical surprises scored a decided hit at all three performances yesterday.

She is the widow of the world's famous "Herman the Great" and she still retains recollections of the flattering response tendered to her at that time. Some twenty-two years ago when her husband died she started giving her performances and appeared in all parts of the world. In addition to feats taught her by her husband she kept adding to her programme and introduced a number of spectacular illusions, which have been instrumental in making her offering one of the most sought after in vaudeville circuits.

Her feats have caused even some of the most talented Hindoo magicians to marvel. Shortly before coming here she was in Russia and despite the unsettled conditions was one of the biggest attractions appearing in theatrical circles.

ATTACK ON POLICE BARRACKS IN CORK

London, April 13.—Armed men attacked the eastern wing of the prison in Cork last night and were repulsed only after bitter fighting, says a Central News despatch. When the attack was launched the military guard sent up lights to illuminate the vicinity and soldiers on the ramparts used machine guns upon the assaults of the prison. The firing lasted for ten minutes, after which the attacking party dispersed. One of the civilians was believed to be wounded, but there were no casualties among the prison guards.

IN WALL STREET. New York, April 13.—(10:30)—Today's stock exchange opened with a renewal of yesterday's pressure against the steel and equipment shares. Overnight announcement of a cut in prices by the United States Corporation failed to stabilize these issues. The first few transactions resulted in losses extending from fractions to 1 point in Crucible, Bethlehem, Republic and United States steels and also American and Baldwin. Rails and shippings, especially Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern and Merchants Marine preferred registered similar declines and foreign oils, notably Royal Dutch, were heavy. Firmness was shown by International Paper, Utah Copper and a few specialties. Preliminary exchange rates on London reflected the tense British rate situation.

J. L. STEWART IN DEMERARA

Chatham Editor Interviewed by the Chronicle of That City

(Demerara Daily Chronicle, March 22.)

At present staying at the Park Hotel is J. L. Stewart, editor of the "World," Chatham, New Brunswick, who, with a party of Canadians, is on a pleasure trip to the colony. Mr. Stewart, who is one of the oldest newspaper editors in New Brunswick, has been for fifty years an editor. He is also a magazine writer, poet and parliamentarian, having once served as a member of the New Brunswick legislature. His career is varied and interesting. He was a member of the newspaper party organized by Lord Beaverbrook to visit the various theatres of war. This was in response to an invitation to Canadian newspapermen by the British government to visit the scene of war in order that they might be able to inform the people of Canada of the real condition of affairs, and to answer questions as to the reasons why more men than were already in the trenches were required; why so much expense was incurred and other questions that arose. The party went into the Canadian camp, the British camp and French camp, spending two nights, sixty feet underground at Verdun where they were safe from the German guns. Although it was against the regulations, Mr. Stewart was the only civilian of the party who was permitted to go up in a bottle plane over the trenches at Vimy Ridge.

Prohibition in Canada.

Mr. Stewart said that one of the questions that was engaging the attention of the Canadian government was the prohibition question. Most of the provinces had passed prohibition laws and these have resulted largely in the illicit selling of bad liquor. With drunkenness on the decrease, there is a good deal of drinking done on the sly. While the measure prohibits the sale of liquor it can still be imported for private use, a privilege that has been greatly abused by persons—boot-leggers they are called—and the question in New Brunswick now is to have the laws so amended as not to have liquor imported even for private use.

Lumber Market Depressed.

Industrially, Mr. Stewart continued, it was a bad year for the Dominion as a whole. Lumber was one of the principal industries in New Brunswick and at present there was a depression in the lumber market, the dealers having on hand great quantities of lumber which were produced at high cost and which they can only sell now at a loss. As a matter of fact the price of lumber had gone so high that people stopped building houses and the result was that there was over production, so that dealers have either to sell at a low figure or hold the lumber and pay insurance on it.

Getting Back to Normal.

Continuing Mr. Stewart said that the agitation by returned soldiers for increased indemnities was settled now, and the country was pretty well settling down to normal. There is likely to be a reduction in wages, and in some instances manufacturers who are unable to meet expenses by paying high wages are closing down.

In connection with the sugar situation Mr. Stewart informed our representative that the sugar refiners in Canada were all "loaded up" when the slump in prices came about and they were badly hit. As a matter of fact there was hardly a sugar refiner in Canada who had not lost as much money in this last slump as he had made in the three previous "boom" years.

THE CLAN MACKENZIE.

An enjoyable entertainment and dance was given last evening in the Orange Hall, Germain street, by the women's auxiliary of the Clan MacKenzie, when members of the clan and their friends, numbering in all about 150, were present. Mrs. George Shaw, lady chief of the clan, presided, and the programme consisted of a duet by Mrs. Alexander Corbet and Mrs. Mackay; and vocal solos by Miss Miss Aird, Mr. Simpson and Joseph Murdoch. Mrs. Douglas Malcolm was the accompanist. Upon the conclusion of the entertainment, dancing was indulged in, the programme including several Scotch dances. A dainty supper was served about midnight.

THREE MARITIME PROVINCES UNITE ON FREIGHT ISSUE

Fredericton, April 12—United action on the part of the provincial governments of the maritime provinces for the restoration of the old commodity rates and differentials on the Intercolonial section of the Canadian National Railways is assured. Confirmation of this action was given by Hon. R. E. Finn, of the Nova Scotia government, who has been in Fredericton consulting with Hon. W. E. Foster, Premier of New Brunswick, and other members of the government.

After a conference with Premier Foster which was held last night and continued today, Hon. Mr. Finn said he was pleased to be able to announce that the government of New Brunswick was in entire accord with the position taken by the government of Nova Scotia and the Maritime Provinces would present a united front in opposing the application of the rates put into effect by the railway commission of Canada in reference to the Intercolonial Railway since 1916.

The governments of the Maritime Provinces were of the one mind on the point that the Intercolonial railway was not built as a commercial proposition but to make possible confederation and in substantiation of this fact, all governments and all managements of the Intercolonial since confederation until 1916 had established rates that would permit the products of industries in the Maritime provinces to have a freight rate that would take them into the centers of Quebec and Ontario for competitive business.

INDUCTION OF REV. I. BRINDLEY

Rev. Isaac Brindley was inducted as pastor of the Ludlow street church at a very largely attended congregational meeting in the vestry of the church last night. Deacon J. F. Ring presided and R. J. Anderson, chairman of the trustee board, gave a short account of the state of the church. He said the outlook was very bright. A large number of new members had been received since Mr. Brindley's appointment and the services were exceptionally well attended. A reception, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Belyea, was held for Mr. Brindley and a pleasing programme was given. Following a hymn and prayer by Deacon E. J. Ring, there was a solo by Miss Mabel Sharp; reading by Miss Pearl Wayne; piano attuned by the Misses H. Fisher and L. Holder; vocal solo, by Clyde Parsons. Addresses of greeting were given by the following ministers: Rev. G. D. Hudson, Rev. Dr. D. Hutchinson, Rev. S. S. Poole, Rev. F. H. Bone, Rev. C. T. Clark, Rev. Dr. Heine and Rev. J. H. Jenner. Letters of regret at the absence were received from Rev. J. Heaney, Rev. W. H. Sampson and Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison. Refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was enjoyed at the close of the programme. The relief society of the church provided the entertainment.

ROYAL STANDARD CHAPTER'S PLANS

The Royal Standard chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire met last night at the residence of Mrs. H. Fielding Rankine with the regent, Mrs. J. Pope Barnes, in the chair. Two new members were welcomed. Looking far ahead, the chapter made arrangements for its Christmas sale and appointed conveners to take charge of all details in that connection. Votes of

A flag chart was reported to have been purchased and it will be presented to a school in which the chapter is interested as part of the Empire Day observances. Plans were made for holding a rummage sale this month. Reports were given of a very successful dance held at the residence of Mr. H. A. McKeown this month.

PHILATHEA CLASS BANQUET.

The Philathea Class of the Central Baptist church, which has been holding a series of weekly household gatherings during the winter, had a meeting at Bond's restaurant last evening. The hostesses were those members of the class who, for various reasons, had been unable to entertain the class at their own homes. The members bring their fancy work to the meetings and auction baskets of home-cooked food. The event last evening was the first of the kind held by the church ladies and proved a great success. After the usual session of the class, numbering about fifty, sat down to a banquet, presided over by Mrs. Herbert Downey. Rev. F. H. and Mrs. Bone also were present. The meeting broke up about midnight. Two more gatherings will be held by the class this season, one of which is to be a masquerade party.

Nature knows best

If malt, flour, or starch were necessary for your Baby's proper growth, they would be in Nature's proper food for Baby—his mother's milk. But such things are not in mother's milk—therefore we do not put them in Glaxo.

Glaxo is all milk—pure, full-cream milk, from the Glaxo Process made safe and suitable for Baby, and as readily digestible as his mother's milk. Glaxo contains nothing whatever foreign to milk.

Nature knows best—and Nature's food for a young Baby is milk and milk only. Therefore, if Baby cannot have his mother's milk, let him have Glaxo, the milk which, like his mother's milk, contains everything necessary to build strong bones, firm flesh, sound teeth, steady nerves and brain, and also that reserve of vitality which enables Baby to resist successfully the ailments common to childhood.

With Glaxo you know you are giving your Baby "the best possible chance," whether you take it yourself to improve your own milk—or give it to Baby, either in turn with the breast, or as the sole food from birth.

CHINESE STILL CRY FOR HELP

Thousands Will Die Before June Crop Unless Food is Provided

"Grain, more grain," is the anguished cry of the thousands of starving Chinese in North Honan, and as grain can be obtained only with money the Chinese Presbyterian Mission, which is the only Protestant mission in that stricken region, continues its pressing appeal to the generosity of the Canadian people.

Work of Canadians.

An interesting description of the work being done in North Honan by the Canadian Presbyterian Mission is given in a letter to The Times by Percy C. Leslie, treasurer of the Famine Relief Fund. After stating that the nucleus of a relief fund was formed by the liberal subscriptions of the missionaries themselves, he indicates the special lines of work being carried on: (1) A monthly distribution of not more than $1 per adult to families where one or more Christians existed, and where need is urgent; (2) refuge schools for girls, which help these girls and their families to survive and protect the girls from being exploited for commercial purposes; (3) maternity hospitals for the care of the mothers and their children; (4) the distribution of clothing during cold weather to those in urgent need; (5) road improvement in the early spring to facilitate the distribution of relief; (6) general distribution to the community after a careful house-to-house inspection. In a concluding paragraph Mr. Leslie makes this stirring appeal: "It cannot be urged too strongly that the time is short. Those who give must give now. To give when money cannot be used to save lives will only do to erect a memorial over the dead, who have died because help came too late."

25,000 Tons of Food Needed. In The North China Herald of February 12 is published a report from the Distribution Board of the North China Society for Famine Relief. Up to the end of January 9,000 tons of famine food had been distributed with the expectation that 2,000 tons more would be provided shortly after the Chinese New Year. To adequately meet the desperate needs of the people till June nearly 25,000 tons more food is needed, and this will cost $1,500,000. In one portion of East Shihai over 7,000,000 people have been unrelieved. In that district up to the end of January over 10,000 tons of food had been distributed, nearly 800,000 people being relieved for three months out of 3,750,000 in the distressed area.

WALKS WITH BROKEN NECK. London, April 13.—An extraordinary case of a man walking about with a broken neck is reported from the Metropolitan Hospital. He is L. Mennie. He sustained his injury in an elevator accident. Beyond the fact that he wears a support for his neck, and that his movements, are somewhat restricted there is little evidence of his condition. He is over 70 years of age.

PARIS WAR LIBRARY LARGEST IN WORLD

More Than 100,000 Volumes Already Collected in Temporary Quarters

Paris, April 13.—France's library of books and manuscripts dealing with the origin, history and development of the Great War promises to be the largest of its kind in the world, already numbering more than 100,000 volumes, with almost as many pamphlets, leaflets and posters, according to the directors of the Musée de la Guerre, whose temporary quarters are already so filled that it is no longer possible for them to accommodate the reading public who seek the place. It is now intended to ask for an allowance from the government to construct a special building which will contain nearly five miles of shelves and the establishment of an accurate catalogue system for the benefit of coming generations.

Already more than 15,000 donations to the library have been received and scores of cases filled with costly war records still are unopened, while a notable collection of war photographs and paintings, sufficient to fill a dozen galleries, has been promised. Authors from all the Allied nations have presented their works to the library, even Russian refugees donating manuscripts which in future years will be of incalculable value. So great is the documentation of Soviet affairs that, despite Moscow's efforts to suppress the truth, one French writer was said to have obtained in the library sufficient material to enable him to write a serious political study of Russia containing more than 5,000 pages, not needing to refer to any other source than the war museum's collection. Sorbonne professors and students are constantly obtaining information from the library. Duplicate volumes, it is understood, probably will be offered to the Louvain library and to the national libraries of the United States, Great Britain and Italy.

IS LEAVING PULPIT TO BE AN ACTOR

Rev. Dr. W. G. Millar Will Act for Movies or in Shakespearean Roles

Rev. Dr. W. G. Millar, pastor of Bond street Congregational church, Toronto, has presented his resignation of that charge, with a view to entering into histrionic work either with a moving-picture concern in Los Angeles, or on the theatrical stage in Shakespearean roles. Dr. Millar has for some years been a close student of the plays of Shakespeare, and has given recitals throughout the United States. He has received offers from several quarters which he is seriously considering.

Meanwhile the resignation has not been accepted by the board of managers of Bond street church, and overtures have been made urging him to remain. Dr. Millar succeeded Rev. Byron Stauffer in the pastorate four years ago, and during that time he has carried on the very difficult work of a downtown church successfully. The church has raised annually during his ministry from $17,000 to $20,000.

For some time Dr. Millar has contemplated making his home in California, where one of his daughters is engaged as an actress for the motion pictures. She is at present playing a part in a picture rendering of Ralph Connor's "By Pilot." Another daughter, a graduate of the Torrey Bible Institute, is also living in Los Angeles.

AN ALARMIST EVIDENTLY.

Mexico City, March 30.—(Associated Press, By Mail)—The fear of United States intervention, which is always apparent in Mexico, was illustrated recently when an imaginative correspondent in Vera Cruz advised his Mexico City newspaper that "a fleet of American vessels, most of them cruisers, formidably armed, has just anchored off this port."

The correspondent added that at the time his dispatch was filed it was too dark to identify the vessels definitely, but that "the entire city of Vera Cruz is in a frenzy of excitement over this entrance of United States warships into our waters." It was later discovered, however, that the much feared armada consisted of six small boats recently purchased by the Mexican government from Great Britain for merchant marine service.

FILMED LEAP FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE

Cameras Clicked as Man Plunged 133 Feet Into East River Uninjured

New York, April 13.—While motion picture cameras clicked on the deck of a tug in the East River, Daniel Carone, 24, of Mount Vernon, puffing a cigarette leaped from the centre of Brooklyn Bridge and was picked up in the water, 133 feet below, alive and unharmed. It was his second jump from this structure, he having performed the feat in 1915.

A policeman saw Carone spring from an automobile on the south roadway and climb a steel girder. He shouted and ran towards him, but before he could reach him Carone plunged into space. Carone's friends on the waiting tug saw his body strike the water. He soon appeared and began to swim towards the tug. In fifty strokes he had reached the craft and was hauled aboard, amid cheers. Carone said he also had jumped off London Bridge.

"I always think before I speak." "That's only part of the trick," replied Senator Sorghum. "The more difficult portion is to keep your audience thinking after you get through."—Washington Star.

"JAZZ FURNITURE"

The Disease is Developing, Says Sir Charles Allen

London, March 28.—(Associated Press, By Mail)—"Jazz" furniture, clothing and wall paper were decryd by Sir Charles C. Allen in an address before the first National Furnishing Trades convention here.

"English furniture has ranked so high in the estimation of the world that one wonders how it comes that in it at this moment a disease is developing of the jazz type," he said. "Will the public buy the jazz types of clothing material we see offered for sale, and the far worse things one finds printed and in wall-papers in a very dark cellar rather than in the light of day or in our homes. I was assured dressmakers were buying them largely. What a home should be like to match such clothing I do not care to think."

"I have recently been shown great quantities of materials of most unharmonious color and crude design," he said, "things which might suitably be exhibited in a very dark cellar rather than in the light of day or in our homes. I was assured dressmakers were buying them largely. What a home should be like to match such clothing I do not care to think."

"DEAD MAN" RAISES COVER OF COFFIN

Ran Over, He is Sent to Detroit Morgue—Finally Succumbs

Detroit, April 13.—Thinking a man run over by a heavy truck in Beaubien street near Monroe avenue Saturday was dead, police officers called for the "dead wagon" from the County Morgue, loaded the "corpse" into the basket-like coffin, and started it for the mortuary chamber. As the attendants were drawing the box out of the vehicle the cover was pushed up, the "dead man" arose and asked where he was.

Without waiting to answer any question, the wagon was started full speed for the Receiving hospital, where the man was examined and found to be internally injured. The truck had passed over the abdomen and his injuries were fatal. He identified as David McKendie, 35 years old. He died soon after being admitted. He was

The former team won the first series and the latter the second. They will have their strongest lineup and an interesting game is anticipated.

Captains to Meet.

The captains of teams of the Commercial League will meet on Black's alleys tomorrow evening to arrange for a grand wind-up of the season.

CHESS.

Is Postponed.
Havana, April 12.—The eleventh game of the series for the chess championship of the world was postponed last night. A statement said—"Capablanca and Lasker, with the consent of the referees, decided to postpone play in the world's championship chess match until this evening." The reason was not made public.

TURF.

Post For a Trainer.
Baltimore, April 13.—There is a report current in turf circles here that J. K. L. Ross is looking about for a new trainer for his racing establishment.

Mr. Ross has made liberal engagements for most of his horses in the big stakes at the metropolitan tracks and at Saratoga Springs, but the action of the Jockey Club in cancelling Guy Bedwell's right to act as an authorized agent has deprived him of the services of his present trainer on these courses.

Whatever action may be taken in Maryland, Bedwell could not act officially as a trainer on the Jockey Club tracks, so if Mr. Ross desires to race there he has no other alternative.

Whether the Canadian owner already has made overtures for a new trainer is known only to the parties most concerned, but it is said he is "in the market."

Trouble Ended.

Baltimore, Md., April 13.—Faced with the direct threat of the racing committee that no license would be issued for the spring meeting at Pimlico, the Maryland Jockey Club surrendered today and announced recognition of H. Guy Bedwell as agent for Commander J. K. L. Ross. The announcement was made by Chas. E. McLane, president of the Jockey Club. Mr. McLane said that the Ross entries filed with the Pimlico authorities on Monday had been accepted and were filed without further signatures. A letter to this effect, said Mr. McLane, has been sent to the Maryland Racing Commission.

Mayor Puts Ban on Boxing.

Mayor Schofield has put a ban on further boxing exhibitions in the city. In a letter to local associations he said he did not consider the referees, in exhibitions he had attended, were themselves capable of handling the sport. His action, he said, was largely due to the fact that a private club in the city recently held an unsanctioned meet, which resulted in fourteen young boxers being suspended by the A. A. U. of C. He felt that the majority of the boys were not aware that by competing they would be placed under the ban.

WHY HE PLAYS HOOKEY.

New York, April 13.—Worn shoes and clothing are one of the chief causes of truancy, according to John W. Davis, head of the attendance bureau of the Board of Education. "One of the first things to do," he said, "is to get the truant's good shoes, for many a child is kept from school by real self-respect for fear their children will peer at him."

CIRCUS MAN NOTED FOR TWIST IN AIR

Ernest Clark of Ringling Circus Turns at Right Angles in "Leap For Life" — Broken Rib Brings Pain

(New York Times.)
Down in Madison Square Garden, high up under the iron girders, the slim figure of a man shoots out from a trapeze, twists forward in a swift somersault, and then, so quickly that the eye can hardly follow, twists sideways a full turn before he grasps his brother's hands swinging forward to catch him. He is Ernest Clark, doing something that no one else can do, and doing it twice a day with a broken rib.

Clark's feat is apparently in defiance of all the laws of mechanics, for he turns his body in the air to a pirouette at right angles to its line of flight, with no other leverage than that he can exert by a thrust of his shoulders. The wrench causes him physical agony, so that the sweat starts out on his forehead, but the swing and the curiously writing somersault are made smoothly and deliberately.

He is probably the best acrobat in the world, for none of the other acrobats, graceful in the air as birds, can do his twisting somersault, or make three complete revolutions, as he also does before catching the hands of his brother on the other trapeze. It took him four years to perfect the twist, "as long as it takes to go through college," he said with a smile. Clark and his two brothers are acrobats of the circus. His father, Charles, was a famous circus rider, and his grandfather and great-grandfather rode horses in the circuses of old England. His mother's family, the Powells, are also famous as riders in the annals of the circus, and even now Clark so loves to ride that he sometimes backs from the back of a horse before going up to his trapeze. His brother Charles is his teammate, and another brother, Percy, is a rider.

"I always wanted to be a rider when I was a little boy," said Clark, "but my father pointed out that unless you can be the best in your line there isn't much use in following it. All our family were wonderful riders and there was naturally a good deal of competition. So he suggested that I take up aerial work with my brother Charles."

MONTE CARLO'S ROOMS

"MARY stood on the threshold of an enormous room, magnificently proportioned, hung with lustrous chandeliers, and divided by an archway in two sections. The farther part was much larger than that which she had entered, and more sumptuous in decoration; but the whole was flooded with a peculiar radiance which turned everything to gold. It was far mellow than the light of the atrium, or the splendid rooms of the hotel. It had actual color like honey, or the pinky-golden skin of apricots. It was bright, yet the impression it made on the mind was of softness rather than brilliance; and the shining atmosphere of the room, instead of being clear, seemed charged with infinitesimal particles of floating gold, like motes in rays of sunshine. The tables, under darkly shaded, long hanging lamps, gave the effect of sending a yellow smoke, like incense, up to the height of the great dazzling chandeliers. It was almost as if the hands of players in fingering gold pieces day after day, year after year for generations, had rubbed off minute flakes which hung like a golden haze in the air. . . . The air was not offensively dead, but it was languorously asleep. Many different perfumes haunted and weighed it down; but there was some unerring, distinctive odor which excited the nerves mysteriously, and sent the blood racing through the veins."

"It is the smell of money," Mary said to herself.

"It was also my father who, though a horseman, first thought of the twist in the somersault. We were sitting around the table one day when he spoke of it, and we all laughed. It didn't seem possible to turn your body at right angles to its direction without any other leverage than that of a jerk. But I agreed to try it, and the first time managed to make a half turn and fall flat on my face in the net. My face looked as if it had been rubbed in the gravel, but the fact that I got half way around showed that it could be done."

"I kept at it then day after day, but it was a long time before I could get even half way around. Of course, I did the tumble into the net and had to be careful until I knew how my swing would land me. It is all right to land horizontally in the net, but you can get badly hurt if you land on your neck or your feet. I saw a Jap drop one day in France on his feet and the terrific swing up of the net after it gave snapped his back. It was four years before I could perfect the twist, and I think that is almost a record."

"The acrobats and tumblers think that my triple somersault is the hardest, but the pirouette in the second somersault is much harder. It is started when I am half way around. When I release the tuck, that is, straighten out, my legs are pointing upward. Then I give a sideways wrench with my shoulders which brings me around in the pirouette by the time I am again upright in the air and ready to catch my brother's hands."

Clark is a small, almost slight man, but with a wonderfully developed chest, and muscles like iron in his evenly moulded arms. He came to this country in 1904 and has been with the Ringling show since 1906. He is forty-three years old, but looks about thirty.

GENERAL J. M. J. DEGOUTTE.

Byres, on November 26, was found not guilty by a jury yesterday. Byres was killed in a drunken row. Lachapelle denied having struck the fatal blow.
