CELEBRATE TRANSFER OF S. AND A. RAILWAY

The taking over of the Salisbury and Albert Railway by the Dominion government and its incorporation in the C. G. Railways system was celebrated by the people of Albert county at a great gathering in Albert yesterday. Unfavorable weather prevented the afternoon sports out of doors, but an indoor programme was carried out in the public hall.

In the evening a public meeting was held at which I. C. Townsend, president and addresses were given by Lewis Smith, M. P.; J. L. Peck, M. P.; S. E. Ellis, M. P.; G. B. Brown and Mr. Walden of the C. G. R., Moncton; Hon. G. J. Osman and Dr. O. B. Price.

Mr. Eldin expressed his satisfaction that the change had been accomplished and gave due credit to his colleagues, R. W. Wigmore, M. P., and Hon. F. B. Cawell, minister of public works. He expressed the hope that, after the war, it would be possible to run the railway to Moncton instead of to Salisbury, and to undertake the construction of the Albert Southern Railway.

THE WOMAN KILLERS. The sinking of a hospital ship by a German submarine no longer causes surprise. There is no crime the Germans will not commit in their efforts to intimidate those who stand in their path.

But if Canadians are not surprised they are roused to the highest pitch of indignation by the news of the destruction of the Canadian hospital ship Llandovery Castle. They have another score to settle with the Hun.

It is possible that some of the boats of the Llandovery Castle will be picked up by searching vessels, but if not the loss of life has been considerable, and those killed were not fighting men.

THE TRUNK ROADS. The policy of improving the trunk roads, which is being carried out by the Foster government is also being adopted in Ontario.

The decision of the Ontario government to establish as soon as possible a system of provincial roads extending from the Niagara frontier to the Quebec boundary with a branch to Ottawa by way of Prescott is to be commended.

The internal conditions in Austria and Germany grow more serious, and the points of the governments of the two countries are becoming more outpoken in their criticism.

War Garden Bulletin
PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR VACANT LOT AND BACK-YARD GARDENERS ENLISTED IN GREAT-ER PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN

Issued by the Canada Food Board in Collaboration With Experts on the Staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm

POTATO BUG.
One of the worst enemies the war gardener has to contend with is the potato bug. When potatoes are well on by this time the over-wintered female potato beetle lay clusters of bright, orange-colored eggs on the underside of the leaves. These soon hatch into the well known dark-colored grubs. There are several generations of the insect during the season and both the grubs and beetles continue to feed from spring to autumn.

The destruction of the beetles early in the season is of the greatest importance as they are seen to present the vines should be sprayed either with paris green or arsenate of lead. At Ottawa, the following formula has given satisfaction: 8 ounces of paris green and 1-2 pounds of powdered lead to 40 gallons of water. Both paris green and arsenate of lead may be used in Bordeaux mixture such as this not only destroys potato beetles and grubs but also protects the plants from blight and rot. Applications should be made early in June, when the beetles are first seen; then early in July and again about August 1, 12 and 21.

Thomas M. French, Dr. A. J. McKnight, Proprietors, 38 Charlotte Street, St. John, N. B. Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

New York, July 2.—With 75,000 persons in line, including groups of thirty-four different nationalities and several hundred floats depicting events in the history of the world and graphic demonstration of war, the parade of the 4th of July in New York City today was one of the most significant ever held here.

Altogether, 250,000 applications have been made for places in the parade, but the number of marchers has been limited to 75,000. The parade will be led by Brig.-General George H. Dyer, the parade will leave Washington square at 9 o'clock on the morning of July 4 and will end at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Behind the young men will come Joan of Arc, surrounded by her legions of soldiers, followed by a standard bearer carrying an exact copy of her original helmet.

Considerable interest will attach to the delegation of the Friends of German Democracy. It was announced that Dr. Abraham Jacoby, the only prominent survivor in this city of the German emigration in 1848, has accepted the appointment offered him as honorary chairman of the German racial unit to take part in the parade.

The Friends of German Democracy will have four floats. One of them will show the roll of honor of the German origin who have died in France. Another will depict the work being done for America in trade, art and science by men of German origin. In the enemy alien division will march those Germans who are entitled to wear service tags for relatives in the American army or navy service.

The nation's progress in the war will be visualized by floats exhibiting the work of the army, navy, and the War Industries Board. The part played by the navy in the war will perhaps be the longest section. A complete traveling wireless outfit, one of which will leave soon for the front, will head the division. Following will come a huge float on which will be mounted a miniature warship in the course of construction. Workmen in various branches of shipbuilding will demonstrate their work. The ordinance department will exhibit several guns of the type which are mounted on merchantmen and troop-carrying ships. Gun crews, just returned from abroad, will give an exhibition of loading and firing at an imaginary enemy submarine. An acetylene burning outfit, loaned by Admiral Usher of the Brooklyn navy yard, will demonstrate how the steel beams and plates of a warship are burned.

A series of floats showing the evolution of a country boy into a fighting sailor has been built at the Pelham Bay naval training station. Before each float there will be a navy truck on which recruiting officers will receive recruits at each traffic crossing. A completely outfitted and rigged "torpedo" warship measuring fifty feet will be one of the floats. The different types of torpedoes, a speed steamer, a bombing airplane, and a mounted dirigible will follow, all hauled on trucks.

Enlisted men of different nationalities will receive airflights from their training camps and will march with their groups. An exact reproduction of a section of a base hospital behind the firing lines in France will be shown on a large motor truck, the rooms fully equipped, with Red Cross nurse in attendance. Evening at the Stadium.

Elaborate exercises at the Stadium of the College of the City of New York in the evening will wind up the celebration as planned by the mayor's committee on national defense. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, is scheduled to deliver an address. Tableaux have been arranged in which prominent women of the mayor's committee of women and well known society women will appear. "America" will be portrayed by Mrs. Bourke Cockran on a gun carriage drawn by soldiers and sailors and followed by the "Thirteen Original States." Following this Anna Fitzau will sing national airs. Ethel Barrymore will read a prologue to a tableau in three scenes, showing "Army," "Navy," and "England."

Mrs. Schuman-Heink, who is coming from California especially to appear in the pageant, will sing "The Swanee River," accompanied by Arnold Volpe's orchestra and the Pelham Bay Singing Sailors' Chorus. Italy, France, Japan, the Red Cross and the Allies will be represented by tableaux. Mrs. Loring Hoyt, surrounded by French sailors, will portray France, and Lucien Muratore will sing the "Marseillaise." Others who will appear in this group of tableaux are Otaki Mura, Dr. John Dryden Prince and prominent officers of the Allied countries.

Must Live More Simply; Save And Buy War Certificates

British Chancellor Gives Advice That All Allied Peoples Should Head

London, May 29.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Urging the people of Great Britain to economize and invest all their surplus earnings in war bonds, Andrew Bonar Law, British chancellor, has given advice that may be heeded in every allied nation. He said in an interview:

"Lives must be lived more simply. Personal, household, and business expenses must be reduced to the minimum. The surplus of weekly or monthly earnings over necessary expenditure must be invested straightway in national war bonds or war savings certificates. Current balances at the bank should be kept as small as possible and the money invested in national war bonds. Private individuals with money on deposit in banks should draw as much as they can and invest in national war bonds. Business people and firms with money on deposit should withdraw all not absolutely needed for their business operations and invest it all in national war bonds. It is a confidently looking forward to the reinvestment in war bonds of a very large part of the £20,000,000 in dividends which fall due on Saturday, added the chancellor.

The chancellor does not contemplate another long-dated loan and is convinced that the method of continuous weekly borrowing is best from every point of view. Outlining an agreement with the principal banks whereby the latter will reduce their high deposit rates and urge

British People Learn To Save

(Associated Press Correspondent)
London, May 28.—The British are saving money as they never have, notwithstanding the increased cost of everything.

Sir Robert Kindersley, chairman of the National War Saving Association, said that it is "remarkable" that there are 16,750,000 holders of British war securities and more than 18,000,000 accounts in saving banks.

"It may be safely alleged, not only that saving has been commenced by many millions who before the war never saved, but that there is every evidence that the effort of these savers increases in intensity as the war proceeds."

This situation is ascribed to the fact that thousands are receiving more pay than ever and thousands of women who prior to the war earned nothing are now engaged in remunerative war work. Also the incentive to spend money has been removed to a certain extent by the regulation of food and drinking purchases and curtailment of amusements.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

LIEUT. JAMES B. DEVER WRITES HE IS ONLY SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

Miss. Hugh Dever, Victoria street, has received a letter from her son, Lieutenant James Dever, formerly of the Times staff, in which he states that he has been but slightly wounded, and not seriously as reported in the casualty list. Lieutenant Dever is now in hospital in Frouville, France, and in his letter the young officer states that his wound is not serious enough to warrant his being moved to "Blighly."

FIRST FREDERICTON MAN TO BE DECORATED BY KING.

Lieut. J. Edward Hanning, who arrived home from overseas last week, spent the day with his mother, Mrs. James Bird, St. John street, and left for Toronto to report for duty in the royal air force.

Lieut. Hanning is the first Fredericton man to be decorated by King George personally during the present war. He received the Military Cross at Aldershot on June 8. This was pinned on his breast by the king, in the presence of the queen, the Duke of Cornwall, and thousands of people, who cheered the young Canadian to the echo, as he walked up to be decorated.

The deed for which Lieut. Hanning won the Military Cross was performed on March 27, three days after the big drive across the Somme battlefield. While endeavoring to shoot down an enemy balloon, he was attacked by a scout. His machine gun was twice put out of action and himself wounded in the leg, but he succeeded in firing into his antagonist, the pilot of which collapsed in his seat, the machine spinning to the ground. His own machine was greatly damaged, but he brought it down safely. He was taken to a hospital and had his wounds dressed. Twelve bullets were found in his clothing.

He refused to stay in hospital, as there was much to do, and he joined his corps. Two pieces of bullet still remain in his leg, as the result of his encounter with the enemy on that day.

Never before could one look ahead and be so certain of the future of the live stock business. Since the first blood was spilled upon European soil grain prices have doubled and quadrupled, cattle doubled, hogs tripled, and sheep quadrupled. The whole world is our market.

Millions of men who were producers a few months ago are now soldiers, depending upon the farms to feed them. The live stock farmer has a double chance. If climatic conditions limit his grain crop, he still has animals upon which he can fall back for remuneration. If he has soft corn, poor hay or wheat, light oats or some other crop failure, he can still depend upon his animals to use what he has produced to the best advantage. If he were compelled to market his soft corn or moldy hay he would get very little for it—Ellis McFarland, in The Breeder's Gazette.

RECENT DEATHS

Thomas J. Murray.

The many friends of Thomas J. Murray will hear with regret of his death which occurred on Saturday at his residence, 88 Brussels street, after a short illness. For many years he had been in the Telegraph's stereotyping department and was regarded as a faithful and valued employee.

Timothy Murphy. The death occurred in this city, on June 30, of Timothy Murphy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Murphy. He was a native of Ireland, a former resident of James F. Murphy, of Tacoma (Wash.), and one sister, Mrs. Mack, of San Francisco.

Warren Brown. Warren Brown, a former resident of New Brunswick, died in Boston on June 18. He is survived by his wife and one sister, also of Boston.

T. Clarence Wallace. Dr. W. B. Wallace, of this city, was advised yesterday of the death in Los Angeles, Cal., of his brother, T. Clarence Wallace, a former resident of this city. Mr. Wallace was in his earlier years engaged in newspaper work on the Telegraph and the Sun. He left St. John about fifteen years ago and settled in California, where he has been employed by the Swift Packing Company. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss St. Paul, of this city; three sons, Leonard, William C. of the U. S. expeditionary forces; Thomas C., who has attained eminence as a hydraulic engineer, and Robert S., one daughter, Miss Annie St. Anne, who won prominence as a writer in the Boston Herald, of the Devon, York county, and two brothers, Dr. Wallace, of this city, and Frederick Wallace, of Boston Avenue. The interment took place in Los Angeles on Saturday.

OLD SONGS AND MEMORIES

(From the Etude.)

The riches of old age are memories—beautiful memories. The pauper in the poor-house, with his mind stored with treasured visions of a noble past, is richer than the Croesus in his mansion haunted with the ogres of meanness, oppression, unfair advantage, trickery and penury. Happy indeed is the man who has both beautiful memories and plenty of the world's goods.

Perhaps you have wondered why old people demand old songs. It is not that they have a means of discrimination whereby they feel that the songs of long ago are better than the same type of song made today. Fifty years from now people may cast the same halo over the songs of today that the old folk of today cast over "Alice, Where Art Thou?" "Juanita," and "Ben Bolt."

What is it then that makes the old song hallowed? It is the wonderful power of conjuring up memories—the beautiful memories of the dear, dear past. When grandma takes off her glasses and quietly asks you to sing one of her old favorites, hunt it up at once and let her have it over and over again. It is the magic talisman which will open the riches of her memory to her. As you sing:

Nelle was a lady,
Last night she died,
A tall youthful figure with epaulettes and bright garnet military sash, a figure home on a furlough after Antietam, will come into the room and stand at grandma's side. You will not see him, but she will—he will hear the strong, full voice, silent for thirty years, joining with her light soprano, singing:

To the bell for lovely Nell,
My sweet Virginia bride,
Oh, wonderful, wonderful music that can transport us over the years to scenes long gone and make us live again with loved ones long at rest! Bless the old songs. They are the golden gates to the paradise of yesterday.

Songs and stings were never needed than now. Food for the soul as well as food for the body is the call of the hour. Moreover, there need be no saving of music.

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed the Cause of this Woman's Illness.

Worcester, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness and pain which used to keep me in bed for two days each month. I tried many doctors without benefit until I was really discouraged. My mother urged me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had helped her. I did so and soon saw a change for the better. I kept on taking it and am now so well and strong that I can do all my housework, even my washing and have a little baby who is as healthy as I could ask—thanks to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. F. H. STONE, 24 Rowland St., Worcester, Mass.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headaches and nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

GOOD TAILORING

There is no substitute for tailoring. It is either or wrong. Making good means putting thought skill into every part of garment, so that it will fit perfectly and keep its appearance.

This is the kind of tailoring in our Ready-for-Service clothes. Once in a while, of course, there is an exception to the rule, but we are ready to make it right. Prices are $18 to $42, and we finish every suit to your measure.

The stock has been re-inforced lately by a lot of new kings.

SOME "PLAIN" TALK.
Edmund Knowles Muspratt, in his recent book, "My Life and Work," tells an amusing anecdote concerning Philip Rathbone, a poet, whose allusions to the provincial were prominent. On one occasion (writes the author), Rathbone, being the guest of honor, took his hostess to dinner. The meal, however, did not meet with his approval, and after struggling through the first two courses he turned to the white wine, saying to the lady and addressed her thus:
"You really must excuse the hopelessness of the dinner. I have been advising my wife for the last three months to dismiss her cook, who is absolutely incompetent at her job, but for some reason she still keeps her."

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1918

TO DO IN CASE OF RAID

Committee of Safety, Appointed by Privy Council, Issues Information for Citizens of St. John

The following statement was given out last night: For the duration of the war the privy council of Canada has appointed a small committee of public safety for the city and port of St. John.

This committee consists of senior naval and military officers and certain selected representative citizens, including the harbor commissioner, who are conferred with the city and port.

A wide range of action regarding the safety of the port and citizens generally has been given this committee, which is acting in the closest co-operation and exclusively with the mayor of St. John as chief magistrate.

In view of the possibility of possible danger from enemy raiding vessels or submarines, it will become necessary to issue certain instructions to the citizens generally with reference to lights, etc. These instructions will be issued by the committee of public safety which alone has authority to do so.

The most complete co-operation in every detail of the citizens of St. John is essential, and any instructions which may be issued by this committee of public safety should be immediately complied with by all concerned, as the committee is acting entirely in the interests of the citizens and the protection of public and private property.

Since it is always better to be prepared beforehand for any eventuality which may happen in war, the possibility of the city and port of St. John being shelled by enemy raiders or submarines has been considered by the committee of public safety, who deem it advisable to issue the following information and advice:

Should the city be in immediate danger of being shelled, the hoopers will blow ten blasts and the fire bells will ring ten strokes. This will be repeated several times. On this warning the citizens should immediately take the following steps:

Places of concentration for women and children have been selected; these will be made known, if found necessary, by special constables, military authorities and city officials.

During air raids in London and Paris, most of the casualties occurred when people rushed to the streets to see what was happening. In view of this fact, the citizens here are warned not to follow this dangerous example.

When a shell explodes, the circumference of danger from splinters would be about two hundred yards, in every direction. Should people be still in the streets and hear a shell coming, they should throw themselves flat on the ground, this should minimize the danger of casualties, but they should be advised to go into the nearest cellar. Owners of houses should welcome persons seeking shelter.

His Worship Mayor Hayes and his commissioners are acting in complete and cordial co-operation with the committee of public safety, and have already thoroughly organized the man power of the city by wards, as special constables to assist the city and military forces in preventing looting, etc., in furnishing a volunteer fire force, and against the fire department should conflagrations break out, in furnishing a special force to assist the women and children, if necessary, and such various other tasks which would arise in such an emergency.

The committee of public safety wish to impress upon the citizens generally the fact that there is no impending danger, so far as they know, but they are issuing this letter of information purely for their guidance and information in case of anything unforeseen happening.

It is suggested that householders and others should cut this notice from the newspaper and have it placed in a convenient place for ready reference.

A. H. MACDONELL, Brigadier-General, Chairman Committee of Public Safety, Port of St. John (N. B.)

FROM HUN PRISON CAMP TO POOR DUTCH FARE

However, Corporal G. E. Edie Prefers Holland to Germany

A letter written by Corporal G. E. Edie, now at the Hague, to his mother, Mrs. Edie, of Toronto, states that it is almost impossible for Canadian boys to get enough to live on in Holland, as food is so scarce.

"The people here are sending it all over the border, as they are terribly afraid of the Germans. Their bread allowance for a day makes a very small breakfast, and for dinner vegetables and meat too plentiful, these for tea, cocoa, and now and then some watery soup. So, you see, things in this country are in a bad state."

"Even as this it is heaven compared with Germany, and we can at least write and receive letters. It is almost a year since I have heard from home. Next time you write don't spare paper and give me all the news, and tell me about the food situation in Canada. The night I got your last letter I got desperate. I made seventy odd kilometers from camp right under the noses of two sentries. I made seventy odd kilometers from camp right under the noses of two sentries. I made seventy odd kilometers from camp right under the noses of two sentries."

"I used to put years on me to walk for miles through those big, dark, gloomy, trackless forests at night, all alone with deer, and I couldn't whistle to let them know I was coming, and I had to be when I was a kid, for fear a German would hear."

"I nearly sufficed the first night of having my heart up in my throat nearly all night, but after that, it was not so bad, as I got used to it and, although I had the experience, very much, but not so the month's dark cells on bread and water (and very little of that) that followed."

"I certainly believe that I would have made it this summer if this exchange had not come off, and even yet I might get away to England. I have no right to be on it, as I am a private, and only for promoting myself to corporal on Germans in Geissen in 1916 to escape war, I would still be in Germany, so I'll let them know I was coming, and I had to be when I was a kid, for fear a German would hear."

LABOR LEADER GOES TO NEW ZEALAND

James Simpson Takes Six Months' Tour for Temperance Work

James Simpson, a well-known labor and temperance leader, will visit New Zealand for a six months' lecture tour in the interests of temperance, during which he will testify to the benefits derived from this country through the federal and provincial temperance legislation. While away he will also study the industrial legislation and conditions that maintain in New Zealand.

Mr. Simpson received invitations on the same day to visit New Zealand and revisit Great Britain, and continue the work he conducted there at the first of the year. The invitation to visit New Zealand came through the Dominion Alliance and the other by cable from the United Kingdom Alliance of Great Britain and Ireland.

The general committee of the combined temperance organizations of Great Britain also desired to know what portions of the latter part of this year and the beginning of next he could devote to their interests.

LARGE PROBLEMS CONFRONT CANADA

All Classes Must Work Together, Says Home Bank's Head

Scarcity of Labor is One Big Difficulty—Satisfactory Growth of Bank Referred To

At the annual meeting of the Home Bank of Canada, Mr. J. Hauser, the president, drew attention to the more important problems that Canada had to solve. He made a strong plea for a united Canada, and showed that this should result from absolute co-ordination between the farmer, the financier, and the manufacturer.

Development and production in Canada, said Mr. Hauser, are being presented at the moment under the handicap of a scarcity of labor.

The farmer is attempting to solve the problem created by the absence of the hired man by working overtime himself. The reports received by this institution regarding farming conditions indicate another prosperous year, so that, even

Many Reasons Why Liquid Cough Mixtures Can't Cure Bronchitis

But the Healing Fumes of Catarrhose, Which are Breathed to the Furthest Recesses of the Bronchial Tubes, Bring Quick Relief and Sure Cure.

Every sufferer from coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and chest ailments needs a soothing, healing medicine which goes direct to the breathing organs in the chest and lungs, attacks the trouble at the source, disperses the germs of disease, and cures the ailment thoroughly. And this medicine is "Catarrhose."

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure, medicinal essences, whereas with syrup the affected parts could not be reached, and harm would result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

"I have been a chronic sufferer from catarrh in the nose and throat for over eight years. I think I have spent four hundred dollars trying to get relief. I have spent but six dollars on Catarrhose, and, in fact, have been well for some time. Catarrhose is the only medicine I have been able to find that would not only give temporary relief but will actually cure permanently. Your sincerely, (Signed) WILLIAM BAGAN, Brockville, Ont.

For absolute, permanent cure, use Catarrhose. Two months' outfit costs $1.00; smaller size, 50c. at all druggists and purveyors of the Catarrhose Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

IN PRAISE OF FISHING

Angling is Good for You, Even if You Catch Nothing. When you get up in the wee small hours of the early morn and make for river or lake, where you sit for hours watching for nibbles and hoping for bites, you do more than catch fish, and you gain if you catch no fish at all.

You develop your strain of patience, which in modern man is subnormal. You give your lungs a feast of fresh air, a thing lungs never get too much of. You concentrate, even though it be upon the water's ripple or the bobbing cork. It is good for the mind to exclude all other thoughts but one and concentrate upon that.

Your brain gets a rest; business worries, household cares, and other concerns are swept away for the time. You witness the most wonderful picture ever painted—the coming of day with its glorious sunrise. The power of imagination is increased. Listen to any fisherman's story when he returns.

And—there's always the possibility of helping Hoover by landing a mess of fish for dinner.—Elmer, Advertiser.

DISCOVERS WINE IN "PEDESTALS"

License Board Inspector at Timmins Penetrates Camouflage. (Toronto Globe).

"Blind-piggers in the north country have been caught smuggling liquor into that district in a new way. These law-breakers who persist in defying the regulations of the Ontario Temperance Act never lack initiative in hitting upon a new method that will deceive the inspectors. However, the latest trick has been found out, and some people around Timmins will have to go without their liquor until the blind pig operators devise another way of importing the beverage.

The other day an inspector of the Ontario License Board saw two fine-looking pedestals, made of a plaster of Paris composition at the station in Timmins. The pedestals were got up quite handsomely, and made a good appearance. However, the eye of the inspector noticed something trickling out of one of the pedestals and he examined further. His surprise can be imagined when he opened a five gallon tin of high wines. A similar quantity of wine was found in the other pedestal.

The liquor was confiscated. The in-

REMINISCENCES BY A MAINE HORSEMAN
Milton Talks of Johnny Wilkes, St. Croix, St. Croix, Jr., and Frank Hayden in an Interesting Vein

(Bangor Commercial.)
Noting the purchase of a new horse by Bangor, I am reminded that this well known Maine sire has 24 in the standard list either 230 trotters or 235 pacers, which is a feat achieved by few stallions in Maine either of home breeding or of those which have been brought into the state, writes Milton in a letter to the Commercial.

The first time I ever saw him was at Rigby Park when he took a record of 2:27.4 as a four-year-old. He was bred by P. Lecourneau of Oakland and from a somewhat illustrious Maine family, his sire being Wilkes 871 (Nelson's Wilkes) and his dam Flossie, the leading Maine brood mare, with standard record to the credit of her produce.

Flossie was by Locomotive, a horse unknown as the sire of standard speed and he a son of Gen. Knox. The dam of Flossie was Parley, a full sister to Ben Morrill, 2:27, by Winthrop Morrill, 873, next dam by Columbus, and her third dam by the thoroughbred racing horse, Trustee. A few will smile, I presume, but I have always thought that the thoroughbred blood of Trustee had much to do with the success of Johnny Wilkes as a race horse and as a sire.

Johnny Wilkes was a beautifully gaited, high going horse as a trotter and, I think, would have been a winner at the horse shows. He must have won quite a lot of weight. As a pacer he was quite successful, getting a mark of 2:17, and showing a mile, I think, in 2:14. I have not looked up the list of his get but Gene D., 2:12, trotter, is the fastest to date and she for quite a number of years the fastest Maine bred trotting mare. In fact, but one Maine bred mare has been here, Nelcyone, 2:10, who was by the sire of Johnny Wilkes. The groomsters all say that a found horse never wins for which reason I hesitate to predict as to any of Johnny Wilkes, which attracted a lot of attention among thoughtful horse men last season.

WANT GERMAN TONGUE BARRED FROM SCHOOLS
Sir Robert Falconer Censured For Defending Teaching of Language

Repeals are Urged—Mayor Church of Toronto and Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M. P. P., Join in Demonstration
(Toronto Star.)
A bitter attack on the German language and those who defend its use, was made from the pulpit of Bond street Congregational church, Toronto, by Dr. W. G. Millar, pastor of the church, Mayor Church and Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M. P. P.

It was expected that about 800 Great War Veterans would be present, but they failed to put in an appearance. The audience frequently broke into applause and cries of shame were heard when Dr. Godfrey described some of the incidents which occurred in the last federal election in North Waterloo. Sir Robert Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, was severely censured by Dr. Millar for defending the use of the German language in the schools of the province.

The mayor said that in the States it was being made criminal to teach German, although the superintendent of education of New York city had a German nurse, but had abolished the teaching of German. He said that he had introduced a motion in the city council to strike out the estimates that provided for the studying of the German language in the province.

The only way to hit Germany is to hit her pockets, he said. "Let the Allies say to the Germans that whether we have peace or not we will refuse to trade with you for at least five years." (Applause.) The mayor claimed that if the board of education had more backbone it would insist on the abolishment of the German language in the schools of the city.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M. P. P., who had been sitting in the congregation, was singled out and asked to come to the pulpit. He sat at the last session of the legislature he had introduced a bill to abolish the German language from the curricula of the province's schools in German in Elections.

prevented and justice obtained in thousands of cases where it would not have been practicable had the private been the rule.

VERBAL MISDEMEANORS.
Lots of Wrong Things Done in the Use of Words.
Professor Charles Ross of the University of Michigan has recently had something to say in defense of the much abused word "splendid." According to a local paper, he has called attention to the fact that the word specifically means "shining, brilliant," and that, correctly used, it conveys a sense of impressiveness. As used by many American and English people today, it fails to do so.

WHY NOT FREE LEGAL ADVICE?
It is now generally recognized that certain services which in general are beyond the reach of the poor, but nevertheless most necessary, should be provided free to those not in a position to pay for them. Among these is medical attendance. Almost every city or town has its hospitals or dispensary where the poor can receive treatment free, or at a reduced rate, within the limits of their finances. This is eminently just, and is now admitted as the right and necessary thing everywhere. A moment's consideration will also show that the law is practically beyond the reach of the poor man except when it takes hold of him because of some offence. As an instrument of justice, as a vindicator of rights, as a power to invoke in time of trouble, it scarcely exists for him; and the only way out of this difficulty is the making of some provision for free legal advice given to the needy and honorable poor.

Quite recently the historic bell was removed from the Brussels street building to the new house of worship. The old church otherwise dilapidated. The painting, cleaning and other improvements to be made in the Central church during the summer season will greatly improve the classic lines of the interior. An efficient committee has the renovations in charge.

WIN CERTIFICATES FOR FIRST AID PROFICIENCY

As a result of the examination in first aid lately conducted by Doctor Allingham, the following fourteen young ladies, who have had the advantage of Doctor Heiden's careful instruction, succeeded in qualifying, thereby winning certificates of proficiency: Misses Gertrude Dunlop, Rachel Walker, Florence Perry, Jessie A. Hart, Miss McGerrigle, Mrs. Peniston Johnston, Misses Doris Barbour, Annie MacMichael, Amy Napier, Alice Nixon, Nora Thompson, Blanche Beattey, Jean Lightfoot and Marguerite Tines.

Much interest in these useful courses of instruction is shown in various parts of the province. Report forms received from St. Stephen show sixty successful home nursing students, forty in first aid; at Moncton twenty-one young ladies have just passed satisfactorily and reports from several other towns will soon be forwarded to the secretary of the association.

Miss Margaret Floyd of Barnesville Likely Stayed in England This Time—Member of 26th, Who Crossed on Llandevney Castle, Speaks of Ship

News of the sinking of the hospital ship Llandevney Castle off the Irish coast on last Thursday strikes home with force and apprehensiveness in this city and the maritime provinces, for it is the proud boast of this section of Canada that we have had a band of nursing sisters crossing and re-crossing the Atlantic with sick and wounded men for quite a while. Admiralty news has military circles that only relatives and near friends of these young ladies have known of their frequent crossings and goings of late months.

Miss Anna Stammers, nursing sister, daughter of Mrs. E. A. Stammers, Waterloo street, and sister of Mrs. John S. Addy, Waterloo street, has been a member of the torpedeed ship's staff for some months. A fortnight ago today she telephoned from Halifax to her home circle here just to say that she had arrived again, was well and happy. After a bit of shopping in the sister city Miss Stammers rejoined the ship and sailed away on the fateful voyage on Thursday, the 19th.

From these facts it is figured that the Llandevney Castle had been on the return trip just one week to the day when the Huns got her. Previous to this last trip Nursing Sister Stammers had enjoyed a 24-hour stay in town with her mother, sister and relatives. On this occasion she was accompanied by Nursing Sister Floyd, a Barnesville girl, whose sister is Mrs. Brown of King street east. There is some doubt whether Miss Floyd was on the hospital ship when attacked as on one of her recent trips she suffered a severe sprain, either of the leg or wrist, in one of the lifeboats.

Nursing Sister Anna Stammers is a dear little woman, one of the girls of whom St. John may well be proud. It is proudly hoped she will be located all right, certainly hoping she will be home again in critical times of war consider the imperative military needs of the hour before private personal matters. Upon this hope Miss Stammers' household and friends are keeping their minds open. It is also thought she may be in an obscure little village.

The St. John young lady is a graduate of the General Public Hospital in this city. Previous to joining the hospital she enjoyed a lucrative private practice here. When the need of more nurses for war work became imperative Miss Stammers cheerfully volunteered. She has already had a wonderful two years' experience in various phases of nursing soldiers and on her brief homecomings she fairly radiated British pluck and enthusiasm and was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact.

Miss Stammers greatly enjoyed her sea voyages. She came by her liking for service on the sea quite naturally for her father, the late Benjamin A. Stammers, was master of a navigation school conducted in Water street for years, a man considered thoroughly expert in nautical matters. In Baptist circles—her name is on the roll of honor in Central church—Miss Stammers has always been a cheerful worker and consistent communicant.
