VERDICT IN O'REGAN CASE

A "DAMNABLE DISGRACE."

Judge Forbes' Strong Talk on Boxing Matches and Prize Fights---Sharp Censure for Mayor, Sheriff, Chief of Police and Coroner's Jury---Grand Jury Agrees.

The November sitting of the county court opened this morning at eleven o'clock in the court room, His Honor Judge Forbes presiding. There was a large attendance, as it was rumored that his honor intended to make reference in his charge to the grand jury to the tragedy which took place at Queen's rink a week ago yesterday.

The grand jury consisted of the following: Rupert G. Haley, James Colli, Lemuel R. Morton, Douglas M. McArthur, Gideon Henner, George Murphy, Charles S. Phillips, Fred W. Almand, William G. Scovill, George P. Barnes, William G. Dunlop, Henry Magee, Joseph M. Daisel, George Barker, Fred W. Thompson (foreman), Charles S. Carroll, George A. Chamberlain, John A. Davidson, John T. McGowan, Joshua Ward, Charles H. Gibbon and Samuel T. Hatfield.

Four grand jurors were fined $10 for non-attendance. These were Wm. Carroll, Rupert G. Haley, Charles S. Phillips, Joseph M. Daisel.

The petit jury summoned to attend were Charles H. Ramsay, Samuel J. Ritchie, Harry D. Machum, Robert O'Brien, Samuel Fisher (foreman), James L. Carmichael, William Crawford, Stephen L. Gidding, Hugh Campbell, John Dolan, Charles S. Carroll, Thomas McEasters, Thomas G. Granville, Peter Mahoney, William A. Stebbins, Charles B. Bell, Walter H. Bell, George W. Parker, William A. Pennington, Thomas Logan.

Naturalization papers were read by E. R. Chapman in the cases of five new citizens of this county. These gentlemen were weighed down with the following names: William Mushkat, Heiman Drakh, Harry Komarsky, Mendel Whitman and Rabin S. Shteyn.

Once Ferguson read the naturalization papers of Hans Kobler Christensen. The docket for the court is as follows:

CRIMINAL.
The King vs. John O'Neill-Solicitor General Pugsley for crown.
CIVIL.
Jury Cases.
1.-Robert T. Warden vs. Henry G. Weeks-E. R. Chapman for plaintiff.
2.-Charles Oates vs. Cecilia G. Freese-G. V. Belyea for plaintiff.
3.-Bank of Yarmouth vs. W. H. Dickson-H. H. Pickett for plaintiff.
4.-McLaughlin Carriage Co. vs. Frank H. Guler-Hamilton, Peter H. Hamilton.
5.-Edward Curran vs. D. A. Thompson-A. A. Wilson.
Non-Jury.
1.-Clark vs. Monahan-Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford.
2.-F. E. Williams Co., Ltd. vs. Behan-W. H. Truman.
3.-R. G. Murray vs. Clark-W. H. Truman.
4.-R. M. McCarthy vs. C. G. Colwell-Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford.
5.-St. John Mercantile Co., Ltd. vs. Benjamin S. Babbitt-Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford.
6.-R. E. Fringle Co., Ltd. vs. Spooner-H. H. Pickett.
7.-Bank of Yarmouth vs. Belyea-H. H. Pickett.

The first civil case to come up will be F. E. Williams Co., Ltd. vs. Behan, in the criminal case E. R. Chapman is acting for the defendant.

All was attention as his honor rose to give the charge to the grand jury. He thanked the jury for the large attendance. Only one criminal case was before them and that was not a very serious one. This was creditable to the peace and order of this city, since the county court had not met since last August. The case was a Fairville one. A newspaper boy got into an altercation with a defendant who is charged with assaulting him. There are two counts to be considered, (1) assault and (2) assault with intent to do serious bodily harm.

It is a matter of pleasure to him that there has been such good order and credit was due to the city officials for their work. It was with deep regret that he had to mention one most flagrant violation of the law. This was the permission of a brutal prize fight, which took place lately in a public hall of this city. It was the duty of the police to have prevented this disgraceful occurrence and not to have waited until the fatal blow was struck.

It was the duty of the high sheriff of this city to have interfered. His honor said that such interference would not have been usual, but it was the sheriff's prerogative.

Gentlemen, it has been said that this was a sparring match," said the judge. "There is no excuse for a sparring match. This is against the law as much as what is termed a prize fight. If they come prearranged to fight with their seconds and their officers in the sight of the law it is a prize fight."

"I cannot comprehend how the chief magistrate of this city could issue a license to allow two men to pummel, beat and hammer one another. The most astonishing feature is that he should be ignorant of what it would consist. Every citizen is entitled to the protection of the law. No man has the right to license such a fight without knowing anything about what he is allowing."

"Sections 93-97 of the Criminal Code," he said, "define a prize fight as when two men meet prearranged to fight with hands or fists, with a referee, seconds and other officers." His honor said that he quoted the law to them so that there would be no doubt in their minds. He quoted similar cases where such encounters had been held to be an infraction of the law.

His honor spoke about the verdict at the inquest, "An unwitting blow." "Did they not go into the fight," said he, "with the intention of striking just such a blow? Did they go into the business with their eyes closed? Out upon such a brand of justice! It makes a Christian city fairly blush for shame. The verdict is a damnable disgrace to our city."

"This verdict," continued his honor, "should have been one of manslaughter." He continued quoting authorities to show that the chief of police should have interfered. "What if the chief of police had complied with the law? I wish you to ponder his last sleep would now be alive and well," he exclaimed.

"The Christian sentiment of this community is against any such exhibitions," said his honor in concluding, "and I wish you to vote the sentiments of this Christian people."

The grand jury upon their return found a true bill against O'Neill upon the first count, that of common assault, and O'Neill, the defendant, pleaded guilty.

In regard to the recommendations of his honor the following statement was read:

"We, the grand jury, of the City and County of Saint John, in session on Nov. 7th, 1905, concur in your honor's views concerning the recent sparring exhibition held in the Queen's Rink, in this city. Considering that the matter is to come up before another or later grand jury we feel we should not enter into the question of the legality of the same. We believe, however, we are voicing the Christian sentiment of this city in condemning all such exhibitions and wish to place on record our recommendations that the mayor or any person holding power should refrain from the issuing of licenses for exhibitions of this nature.

"Dated, etc.

F. W. THOMPSON, Foreman.
The judge thanked the jury and said that the words were with approval. He ordered that a copy be furnished not only to the magistrate, but the appeal of the case was also.

The grand jury were then released until Tuesday.

His honor then questioned the boys in the O'Neill case and after a short examination let off O'Neill on his own recognizance to be re-arrested in three years in Dorchester if any further trouble should arise.

The petit jury were then let off until Tuesday morning.

Non-jury cases will come up at 2.30 o'clock.

OUTLAW MURDERER DIES IN A TRAP.

Killed Mistress and Himself Rather Than Surrender.
With Police at His Door Milton Andrew Committed His Third Murder and Then Suicided.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Trapped in his rooms by the police and fully aware that his last avenue of escape had been barred, Milton Franklin Andrews, who it is said murdered Desale Banton on Culler Mountain, near Colorado Springs, ten months ago, and who murderously assaulted and robbed Wm. Ellis, an Australian horseman at Berkeley, Cal., last night shot and killed Nilda Olivia, his female companion, and then fired a bullet into his own head, causing instant death. Andrews for whom the police of the entire country were searching, fully prepared for the tragedy that closed his career.

Having learned that Andrews and Nilda Olivia, were living in an upper flat in Macalister street, the police department sent two policemen and two detectives to make the arrest. Although certain that the persons wanted were in the two room apartment, the officers received no answer to their repeated knocking on the door. At the moment one of the officers was dispatched for an axe with which the door was broken open. Andrews fired the shot that ended the career of his companion. The bullet was fired into her right temple and she dropped dead on the bed, falling backwards with her hands clasped.

When the officers gained entrance to the apartment they found Andrews lying on the floor, grasping a revolver in one hand and a mirror in the other. The revolver was of large calibre and but two of the cartridges had been fired. Extra ammunition was found in his pockets.

RUSSIAN REIGN OF RIOT IS DYING OUT.

Sweeping Extension of Suffrage Granted by Witte.

New Government's Cabinet Beginning to Take Form—All the Old Ministers Must Go—The New Men.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 7.—A project for a sweeping extension of the suffrage in elections to the National Assembly, promised by the emperor, is published. Count Witte's new government appears to be getting fairly under way.

The cabinet with which he will undertake the difficult task of guiding the nation on its new course of constitutionalism, and preventing the radical and agitating elements from driving it on the rocks of revolution is now beginning to take form. The names of the Shupko, one of them, Ivan, having been Count Witte's former assistant in the ministry of finance and his associate at Portsmouth, N. H., and the other Dmitri, the Moscow Zemstvo, who was president of the first Zemstvo congress, have been semi-officially announced as his selections respectively for minister of Finance and comptroller general. M. Nelungskeld, president of the Southeastern railroad, who as the Associated Press is informed is recommended by the railroad men to succeed Prince Hilkoft, is now on his way to St. Petersburg to consider the tender of the portfolio of Ways and Communications. With the nomination of Prince Alexia Obolensky as procurator general of the Holy Synod already gazetted, this provides four of the eight ministerial posts at the disposal of the premier. For the portfolios of education and of justice Count Witte has been disappointed in obtaining the man he originally desired, but he has other possible cabinet timber in view for these posts.

The former ministers, except four who are not subject to the jurisdiction of the Premier, are slated for dismissal. The new measure grants representation to the workmen on the same basis as peasants, one representative for each 250,000 and extends the suffrage to the great class of "Intellectuals" possessing college degrees who have been the heart and soul of the reform movement. Voters will also under the new regulations include states paying an annual rent of $50, traders, except the lowest class, holders of high school diplomas and officials of St. Petersburg and Moscow with salaries of not less than $500.

The news from the provinces indicates the dying down of the reign of riot and license following the promulgation of the imperial manifesto. Normal conditions are gradually returning. The most interesting developments are in Poland where a Polish national movement has blossomed under favorable conditions. The greatest manifestation has occurred in Warsaw where the town is decorated with Polish flags whose display heretofore had been treated as a crime. A great demonstration including 20,000 persons was organized and paraded the streets last night and listened to speeches delivered by Henrik Sienkiewicz, the author and other prominent Poles. The demonstration passed off without interference and the disorder though in the Jewish quarter seven persons suspected of being provocatory agents of the police were killed by the enraged populace after the nationalist parade.

Independent candidate for district attorney in New York. He will probably be elected.

of carriages on which voters were being borne here and there around the city.

The morning papers were filled with minute directions as to voting split tickets and the advice was timely, as the prospect was that an unusually large number of ballots would be unconditionally invalidated by the voters. The Republicans, members of the Municipal Ownership League and supporters of District Attorney Jerome's independent candidacy have all directed their efforts against Tammany, but without losing sight of individual interests until a wholesale "scratching" of ballots became inevitable. An exposure by Mr. Jerome last night of an alleged plot by which 60,000 cards were to have been distributed among voters, ostensibly illustrating how to vote for Jerome on a split ticket, but which directions if followed would invalidate the ticket, served to increase the fear this morning that in the confusion of tickets candidates many votes would be thrown out as illegal.

Today's situation is unique in the possibility of the defeat of the Democratic ticket when opposed by two highly and strong party tickets. Heretofore only fusion has been able to jeopardize the Democratic success, and should Tammany go down to defeat today the victory for the Municipal Ownership League or the Republican ticket would be unprecedented. The betting may be summed up as follows: George B. McClellan (Dem.) for mayor, 2 to 1 in favor; Wm. B. Hearst (M. O. L.) for mayor, 2 to 1 against; Wm. Evans (Repn.) for mayor, 5 to 1 against; Wm. T. Jerome (Ind.) for district attorney, 2 to 1 in his favor.

A development of interest this morning was the publication of a significant statement by Arthur Brisbane, one of Mr. Hearst's editorial writers, who declared that his employer was looking for greater things than the majority of New York. Mr. Brisbane said: "Mr. Hearst is built for greater things even than the majority of this city, and he's going to get them. This country is hard up for rich, intelligent and powerful men."

IN MASSACHUSETTS.
BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—The voters in this state today were generally favorable with fine weather, and the indications in the early forenoon pointed to a total vote much larger than that usually polled in a year when no national officers are chosen. In Boston and near-by cities and towns a large percentage of workmen voted before eight o'clock. In this section, it was estimated that nearly the whole Democratic strength was favoring Henry M. Whitney, the party candidate for lieutenant-governor.

ELECTION DAY IN NEW YORK; EXCITEMENT REIGNS.

Fair Weather Brings Out Big Vote---Guarding Against Corruption---Exciting Contests in Philadelphia and Mass.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Election day in this city dawned clear and crisp, with every indication of an enormous vote being polled, the greater part of it in the very early hours. The polls opened at 6 o'clock, and at nearly every precinct hundreds of voters were already in line. There was practically no cessation between the formal closing of the canvass and the opening of the voting booths. Many "night-before" meetings extended into the small hours of the morning, and the final shout had scarcely died away when the rumbling

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 7.—Bright, crisp weather marked election day in this city and the first hour indicated that the vote will be fully as heavy as that polled at any presidential election. Before the polls were opened lines of voters, numbering in some cases more than one hundred stood waiting to cast their ballots. Never has such intense interest been displayed in municipal elections here and the managers of the city party, the reform body organization to defeat the Republican machine, express the opinion that heavy voting indicates a victory for the reform movement. Much pressure was brought to bear on the city party by the reformers and it is claimed that a large majority of these were induced to vote.

Mayor Weaver distributed his extra force of nearly 1,000 special policemen, in the wards where disorder will be anticipated, and many were arrested during the first hours, in the suburban precincts.

N. S. APPLE PACKERS
WILL BE PROSECUTED.

G. H. Vroom, of Middleton, N. S., chief inspector for the maritime provinces for the department of agriculture, has been sent here to investigate existing conditions in regard to the dishonest marking of apples sent from Nova Scotia to the St. John market. Yesterday he spent in inspecting apples in the store and on the wharf as they were brought in by schooners. The result is that the statements made by E. A. Godwin a few days ago are confirmed. He said that he found that fully seventy-five per cent. of the apples examined were not what they should be. He said that there would be a number of cases of prosecution when he returned home. The apple crop of Nova Scotia for this season for foreign shipments will be, he said, 325,000 barrels, as against 275,000 last year. Within a few years he expected that Nova Scotia would be shipping half a million barrels annually.

Piano Tuning!

It is surprising how many people neglect to tune their Pianos. Not only is a Piano that is out of tune, not fit to listen to, but it is a positive injury to let a Piano run down and stand a long period without tuning. A Piano should be tuned at least two or three times a year.

We have a first-class tuner in connection with our office and would be pleased to have your orders.

The first concert in the Spencer star course in St. John was held last evening, and was in every way a success. The Schubert quartet has certainly fulfilled all promises made, and the audience, which filled every available space in the Opera House, went away satisfied. The operation was performed by Dr. J. R. McIntosh, assisted by Dr. Scott, of the hospital staff. The bullet might have remained there a life time and not given trouble, but the operation was performed at the instance of the boy's father.

PARROT'S PHONOGRAPH LESSONS

Teaching a parrot to talk is often a thing worth, but an American lady has hit upon the happy idea of employing a parrot for the purpose of Polly's education. She charges the instrument with the word or phrase which she desires the bird to learn, sets it going, and then leaves the room. The pertinacity of the brass-throated noster seems to arouse all Polly's spirit of rivalry, and she strives to out-talk her opponent, and in this way, perhaps, learn more quickly than from the human voice.

More terrible than war, famine or pestilence is that awful destroyer, that hydra-headed monster, Consumption, that annually sweeps away more of earth's inhabitants than any other single disease known to the human race.

fortunate persons always carried with them a few of these, which was a great punishment. He referred to the excellent character that his client had always borne, and asked the jury to imagine themselves in his position. It there was any doubt in the mind of the jury as to Fred Northrup's responsibility for the death of the deceased, then the prisoner should receive the benefit of it. He believed that the jury would come to the conclusion, as he had, that O'Regan's death was due to a regrettable accident, and would render a verdict accordingly.

Mr. Macrae referred to the large number of deaths that occur yearly on the football field, and in all other manly sports.

The contest between O'Regan and Northrup was licensed by the mayor, and all those who had given evidence had stated that it was properly conducted. He referred to the fact that the dead boy's father had, uncollected, given evidence to the effect that the relations of his son and Fred Northrup were most cordial.

If there was any man who would naturally be expected to have bitterness in his heart towards Northrup, it surely would be the father of the deceased.

Mr. Macrae closed by reiterating his confidence that the jury would find his client innocent.

Coroner Berryman in making his charge said that the jury should disabuse their minds of any sympathy with Northrup. Their duty was to find what was the cause of Charles O'Regan's death. If after considering the case they found that there was a reasonable doubt in their minds that Northrup was responsible for the death of O'Regan he should receive the benefit of it.

This contest was held on the authority of the mayor, and was a license. We take it for granted that the chief magistrate thought the match would be properly conducted.

Deputy Chief Jenkins had stated unequivocally that he saw Northrup hit O'Regan and knock him back. The evidence demonstrated beyond a doubt that blows were struck. There was considerable clinching and rough fighting according to the evidence.

The evidence is positive that both men received blows from the heavy blows of the coroner said there was no doubt that O'Regan came to his death by a blow received in his contest with Northrup.

He thought also that the contest was a prize fight. The coroner said there was no doubt that Northrup had no idea of causing O'Regan's death. The question, however, for the jury to decide was whether O'Regan's death was caused by a blow or not.

A large crowd of spectators remained in the court room until the jury reached their verdict. When they went in under the direction of Marshal R. J. Coughlan there was a moment or two of suspense during which the crowd craned their necks and speculated in wondering whispers on the nature of the finding, which was as stated above. The counsel for Northrup were satisfied with the verdict. It will not, however, affect the inquiry before Magistrate Ritchie, who will proceed with the preliminary examination of Northrup on Friday.

O'BRIEN AND FITZSIMMONS

FOR HEAVYWEIGHT BELT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Bob Fitzsimmons, who has been matched to fight "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien in San Francisco some time between December 20 and December 31, will leave with his manager, Leon Friedman, for San Francisco tomorrow.

The fight is for 20 rounds, or more, and is, according to the articles, for the world's heavyweight championship. A forfeit of $25,000 will be posted with H. L. Baggey, of San Francisco on or before November 25.

Fitzsimmons will officiate as referee. "I can beat O'Brien," said Fitzsimmons, "but at that I'm not betting on him. He's a shifty boxer and it is in good condition. Furthermore he has been fighting right along and is kept up to the proper pitch. After the fight I'll take any of the others who will draw a house. I'll fight Hart if he shows he means business. But I want to show me before I sign articles with him."

DICKENS' SIGN STILL SWINGS.

Dickens lovers have to thank that dress authority on "Box" Percy Fitzgerald for pointing out that a curious old sign which was an unfailing object of interest to Dickens as a boy, and to which he often referred in later years, still hangs in the Blackfriars road of London.

This sign, which advertises a long-established hardware firm, is a typical example of the queer trade emblems which from the 15th century distinguished practically every shop of any importance in the metropolis, but of which few specimens now exist. It represents a good dog apparently licking something out of an overturned crock pot, and is generally referred to as "The Sign of the Dog and the Pot."

Dickens evidently first discovered it in, as Fitzgerald says, "those heart-rending blacking days in Warren & Co's factory, when the poor lad distracted his eyes by noting all the odd things that met his eye." And he quotes the novelist by saying of that time: "My usual way home (that is, to Lamb street, where he had a lodging, so as to be nearer his family in the Marshalsea prison) was over Blackfriars bridge and down that turning in the Blackfriars road which has Rowland Hill's chisel on one side and the likeness of a golden dog licking a golden pot over a shop door on the other."

Fitzgerald adds: "When the little boy saw it first it must have been about the twenties—1823 or 1824—and the dog has looked on ever since to this year of grace 1905."

I should say there is no memorial of this kind at all associated with Box that has stood in its place so long and so undisturbed. I always wonder how it can have escaped, for some serious, pragmatical shopkeeper might have thought it a grotesque hindrance to his business."

It appears, however, that the "ironmongers" who own the sign, far from being "pragmatical," are decidedly proud of it, and perhaps future American visitors may find interest in this relic of former days which is so closely associated with Dickens.

FIRST SNOW COMES LATER THAN LAST YEAR.

This Morning's Storm Was Quite Heavy

In Other Parts of the Province

—A Fine Autumn.

The first snow of the season made its appearance in the city this morning, and in spots it generally disappeared quickly. The fall here was very light, while within a few miles of the city early this morning it amounted to about a couple of inches.

A call on D. Leavitt Hutchinson, the director of the St. John observatory, was made this morning by the Star,

and in speaking about the weather Mr.

Hutchinson said that the first fall of snow in the autumn of 1894 was on November 1st, when the fall was quite heavy. Snow fell between eight and eleven o'clock in the morning, and while it whitened the ground to some extent it rapidly disappeared, but it was a much heavier fall than this morning's storm. Then there was a few minutes before twelve o'clock

the big machine which is practically a duplicate of the big one that has been used for some time past in connection with the smaller machines.

The fly wheel is 15 feet in diameter and weighs 35 tons. This wheel will make over one revolution a minute

when running at full speed.

The company have just connected one of the latest fire pumps a machine per minute and one that is fully approved by fire underwriters the world over.

The company's idea in installing this powerful pump was that they would be able to take a hand in fighting fires outside their premises and in the immediate vicinity as well as in their own building. The neighborhood is generally looked upon as a dangerous one and the company have decided to be ready to fight all fires on their own account or to help the city apparatus in any way they can.

ST. RAILWAY CO. INSTALL NEW ENGINE AND PUMP.

Are Now Prepared to Battle on Their Own

Behalf With Any Fires That

Occur in Their Vicinity.

A few minutes before twelve o'clock this morning the new 1,500 horse power engine manufactured by the Canadian General Electric Co. for the St.

John Street Railway Co. was placed in commission and undertook the work like a veteran.

The whole engine with the electric appliances weighs about seventy-five tons and cost the company $40,000. It has taken over two months to install

the big machine which is practically a

duplicate of the big one that has been

used for some time past in connection

with the smaller machines.

The fly wheel is 15 feet in diameter

and weighs 35 tons. This wheel will make over one revolution a minute
