THE REFORMERS IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

We know no more bitter satire on the weakness and instability of what has been spoken of as the Reform party of New Brunswick, than the history of political circles in St. John for the past week or two. In the other districts of our Province there have been no great efforts put forth to organize political societies, having for their object the support of present Government, though the newspapers which cause of Mackenzie and others, have been very assiduously respecting the cause of a great Reform in every part of the Province.

In the violence of the passions, the Reformers have been very assiduously respecting the cause of a great Reform in every part of the Province. In the violence of the passions, the Reformers have been very assiduously respecting the cause of a great Reform in every part of the Province.

try in the onward march of progress. We feel assured that the people are not unmindful of the man who, chief among them for twenty years, has laboured privately and publicly as with a single eye to their gain and their advancement. While other men have been struggling for wealth, many of them selfishly ignoring the interests of country, Peter Mitchell has been fighting for his country and its people, content that they shall reap the benefit of gain, if he only shall reap the harvest of their good will. While many others have been inspired by a selfishness to which he has been a stranger, Peter Mitchell has given himself up to the progress of his country and its people, and nerved and actuated by a patriotic ambition to do something which they will not willingly let die, now comes back to his people with that something done, and only asks to share their acknowledgment of what he has accomplished. In almost every section of country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, it has been acknowledged, (and by many who advocated other routes, with much bitterness) that Mr. Mitchell's untiring and persistent efforts in the face of a powerful opposition from Ontario and the North Shore route.

the country at heart can consistently promise to do. Should the present Government treat this Province in a liberal and broad spirit, and bring in good measures for the government of the country, Mr. Mitchell will not be found offering a factions and obstructive opposition. In doing so he would only be following the example set by Mackenzie and his followers, which is not at all to be commended in a statesman.

Correspondents who wish to see their productions appear in our columns, must avoid personalities, otherwise we shall have to suppress them. In a communication which appears in our columns to day we have been compelled to erase several objectionable sentences. We wish to see this contest conducted on many principles, and it shall be done so far as it lies in our power to carry it out. There is nothing to be gained by employing abusive epithets against either the Candidates or their agents, but much to lose. We must say, however, in justice to our correspondents generally, that they have, to a very great extent, refrained from indulging in personalities. This course will commend itself to the good sense of our people generally.

Owing to the great demand on our space this week by correspondents we are reluctantly compelled to leave out one or two communications relative to the present contest; an account of St. Luke's Church (Bathurst) Sabbath School Soiree, held on the 22nd; an editorial on Steam Service, and other interesting matter. Our friends will kindly exercise a little patience.

Electors in School District No. 4, Chatham Head, will have an opportunity to hear Mr. Mitchell on nomination day, in Newcastle, and at Chatham some time between nomination and polling. Mr. Mitchell would, we believe, be pleased to spend an evening with them, and may yet do so, if circumstances will permit.

Correspondents will do us the favour to write on one side of the paper. Manuscript written on both sides is a very great annoyance to publishers generally, and should be discontinued by writers generally.

MEETING AT REDBANK.

On Wednesday evening last a number of the electors of this Parish assembled at their hall to hear the Hon. P. Mitchell, our late representative, express his views on the situation and the coming election for the Commons for which he is a candidate. Joseph White, Esq., being called to the chair, Mr. Mitchell took the platform, and in an able and exhaustive speech of almost two hours, reviewed his political career of the past eighteen years, his services in obtaining Confederation, the Intercolonial Railway, the late administration of which he was a member of the many difficulties which on every side overshadowed them in placing the foundation of the young Dominion on a firm and substantial basis. He then went into the charges brought against him, and immediately connected with our local than our dominion affairs. He asked the electors to judge him by his past course, and if any single act of his in the past was detrimental to the interests of this County he had yet to learn it.

The meeting was quite enthusiastic and when appealing to the electors to give Snowball and himself a fair shake in the fight, the burst of applause which greeted him told plainly that the debt of gratitude which the people of Northumberland owe the man who stood before them would be repaid with interest by the electors of this County.

THE NAPAN MEETING.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last number of your paper, there appears a communication signed "Elector," giving a fair and impartial report of a political meeting held at Napan on Saturday 17th inst. In the same issue is another report of a meeting, and while reading it I was at a loss to know, at what time, or in what school house, when it was held, and then my astonishment after examining the date, I found it was intended as a report of the same meeting, and I unhesitatingly assert that such a misrepresentation of the names of several gentlemen from the names of Napan, nor is there an elector in Napan but would be ashamed of such a production. He starts out with the announcement that the names of several gentlemen from the names of Napan, nor is there an elector in Napan but would be ashamed of such a production. He starts out with the announcement that the names of several gentlemen from the names of Napan, nor is there an elector in Napan but would be ashamed of such a production.

James Edgar, Esq., was called to the chair, and introduced Mr. Mitchell to the meeting. Mr. Mitchell took the platform and in a brief address, reviewed the leading events of his political career, reminding the electors of Napan that the measures he had advocated many years ago, and which he had spent the vigour of his manhood in assisting to carry out, had now been consummated, and the predictions which he had then made, viz., that they would bring to this County a stream of prosperity, were now a reality. And when he referred to the increase both in demand and value for the last three years, of all agricultural produce together with cash payments, he held his hearty assent to the facts he stated.

His statements respecting his connection with the late government, were the same as he had made on public on different occasions, and when referring to the Pacific Scandal he most distinctly stated that the Premier had made a serious mistake. There was no question put to him respecting the prorogation of Parliament, but surely your correspondent does not mean to insinuate that they should remain in session from one year's end to the other, had he not been so much mistaken. He was then asked to give his opinion on the question of the new administration, and he was asked to give his opinion on the question of the new administration, and he was asked to give his opinion on the question of the new administration.

Mr. Mitchell then rose and stated that he was at a great disadvantage in having no time to prepare himself for the occasion, but he would do his best to give his opinion on the question of the new administration, and he was asked to give his opinion on the question of the new administration, and he was asked to give his opinion on the question of the new administration.

unanimously expressed themselves fully satisfied with Mr. Mitchell's representation, and will give him a very large vote.

It is true Mr. Snowball is a man doing a large business, and is possessed of energy and shrewdness necessary to carry him through the many difficulties which he has to contend with in the Dominion Legislature, but he is not a man of education and ability to do that, and judging from the few speeches I have heard from him he displays a wonderful ignorance on public questions, and we cannot afford now to wait until he has posted himself up.

I have heard it rumored that Mr. Snowball has said his friends have told him that he ought not to follow Mr. Mitchell round wherever he was going to speak. What a gentle hint they gave him that they did not want him to display his ignorance on public matters, as it might operate badly against him, and as publicity is the style, that did not suit them, they thought it better to give him a hint that he ought not to follow Mr. Mitchell round wherever he was going to speak.

Electors in the County, ponder these suggestions calmly. The telegraph to the St. John papers was not true. Mr. Mitchell was well received, and at all of the meetings was the hero, and he was so bound up with the people and with the County, that even if after twenty years of service to his native County he should even think of deserting it now, his own interests, his own selfishness, he might say, and his own prosperity would be the greatest barrier to any such step. From the first Mr. Street could scarcely be supposed to have the same warm concern for this County as Mr. Mitchell. The latter born in our midst, ties of family here, property here to an extent which makes him the fifth on the list among the large property holders of the County, and sounder and better than all, a name to preserve among the people for whom he has gained it—fresh laurels to win among the same people, other great resources of Railway to carry through his County, new facilities to open up, desert Peter Mitchell will receive such a shower of laurels and is now prepared to do it again.

Let your votes at the Polls be your answer.

Miramichi, Jan. 26, 1874.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—A contributor to the "Gleaner," signing himself "J. R.," gives an amusing description of the political meeting held at Black Brook on Monday the 18th, in which (as might be expected) Mr. Mitchell was enlisted to the skies and Mr. Snowball denounced in as strong language. It would certainly be more commendable on the part of J. R. and the several other correspondents who figure in the "Gleaner," to give the public unbiased accounts of political gatherings instead of so outrageously mistating facts. The particulars of this meeting are as follows:

Mr. Mitchell addressed the electors first, reviewing his political life from his first contest with Street, and concluded that the prosperous state of Northumberland at present was due to his indefatigable efforts in its behalf. He kept the intercolonial before his audience for nearly an hour, and attempted to prove that its location by the North Shore was due to him.

The latter part of Mr. Mitchell's speech was devoted to a denunciation of the measures which he had introduced, whom he stigmatized as an unprincipled politician, with his pin feathers sticking out, and other ungentlemanly remarks were applied to Mr. Snowball by him, which did not reflect much credit on him.

Mr. Snowball began by saying that Mr. Mitchell's ungentlemanly attack on himself was excusable, under the circumstances, as (he Mr. Mitchell) generally resorted to that line of defence when deficient in argument, that they were there, not to enter into personalities, but to discuss the great questions of the day. He charged Mr. Mitchell with lying the pockets of some of his friends in this County, at the expense of the people of the Dominion, and referred to the purchases made in Chatham and vicinity, viz., a custom house at ten thousand dollars, Middle Island as a quarantine ground at fifteen hundred dollars, and several other heavy charges which had a telling effect on his hearers. He denounced Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Francis Hincks and the other members of the Dominion Cabinet for the fraudulent and corrupt manner in which Sir Hugh Allan's money had been expended in purchasing themselves into power. He went very long into the Fishery Question, and contended that Mr. Mitchell was as equally censurable as Sir J. Macdonald in bartering away our rights and privileges to the Americans and receiving almost nothing in return.

He contradicted several statements that Mr. Mitchell had made with reference to local matters, and advanced proofs to show that Mr. Mitchell was in error.

The knowledge that Mr. Snowball exhibited of matters pertaining to the Dominion, together with his fluent and logical address, favourably impressed his hearers with the fact, that in him they would have a representative worthy of their esteem and support.

AN ELECTOR.
Black Brook, Jan. 24, 74.

Derby, Jan. 26, 1874.
Saturday night last in Derby was a gala time. Early in the evening it became known that the Hon. Peter Mitchell was going to address the electors here, and then it was known that Mr. Snowball had passed up on the other side of the river, and had stated he would be present at the meeting also, so that the prospect of a lively debate seemed good. At about seven o'clock Mr. Mitchell put in an appearance, and was warmly greeted by those present. Half past seven came, but no sign of Mr. Snowball, and the hall at this time was crammed to its utmost capacity.

People came all the way from Indiantown, Barnaby's River, Chatham and Newcastle, and many could get only standing room. Mr. Thomas Newman was called to the chair, and introduced Mr. Mitchell, who was received with three rousing cheers, and a complete silence.

Mr. Mitchell said the cases of Mr. Street and himself were vastly different. Mr. Street, after selling this County on the question of the Railway, sold his property, too, and went to reside in Fredericton, after selling every link of his personal connection with the County; while he, Mr. Mitchell, held a larger amount of property in the County than ever, and he was so bound up with the people and with the County, that even if after twenty years of service to his native County he should even think of deserting it now, his own interests, his own selfishness, he might say, and his own prosperity would be the greatest barrier to any such step.

From the first Mr. Street could scarcely be supposed to have the same warm concern for this County as Mr. Mitchell. MESSRS. EDITORS:—A contributor to the "Gleaner," signing himself "J. He kept the intercolonial before his audience for nearly an hour, and attempted to prove that its location by the North Shore was due to him.

The latter part of Mr. Mitchell's speech was devoted to a denunciation of the measures which he had introduced, whom he stigmatized as an unprincipled politician, with his pin feathers sticking out, and other ungentlemanly remarks were applied to Mr. Snowball by him, which did not reflect think of, to fasten on Mr. Mitchell. His next charge was that Mr. Mitchell had done a good bargain with the Customs department for a building which will be used for a custom house and post office in Chatham for which he held the department of Marine and Fisheries responsible. The next great discovery he had made was that he had heard of a great many men throughout the country filling government offices for which they were receiving pay but it was his opinion that they should become farmers. He would not allow Mr. Mitchell any credit for the exertions he had made in getting the I. C. Railroad by the North Shore, as the British Government had the deciding vote of what route it should take. Mr. S. wound up what he termed his maiden speech on Politics by asking the electors of Napan to support him at the coming election, (as he was doing a thriving business) and reject Mr. Mitchell who had so long represented them.

Mr. Mitchell then came forward to reply, not in a towering passion but that he felt indignant no one would deny, when such contemptible slanders were, unthinkingly asserted in his hearing. But with an amount of patience which few could but commend he took them up in order and shattered them to pieces placing their authors in most ridiculous positions before the audience.

Mr. Snowball again put in an appearance but how terribly changed, his arrogant airs had all forsook him, and he spoke as one that beateh the air, covering his red face with a fearful whine! Mr. Mitchell had done nothing for Chatham.

As it had been reported that serious charges were to be brought against Mr. M. by his opponent and some startling disclosures made, the electors were glad to have the opportunity of hearing them at a time, when they could have them explained. Therefore it was resolved that the thanks of the meeting be given to B. Snowball for his attendance and stating his reasons for opposing Mr. Mitchell.

I hope Messrs. Editors I have not treasured too much on your space, had your correspondent Northumberland not got into bad company of late years and forgot his early training you would not have been troubled with this letter from a Napan Farmer.

Napan, Jan. 28, 1874.

(From the St. John News.)
The Ex-Minister of Marine and his Prospects.

Mr. Mitchell is conducting his canvass in Northumberland with the skill and energy to be expected of him. His re-election by a large majority seems quite certain, and he has been the respect and confidence of his constituents. He has served them with a devotion that could not well be surpassed. He has kept watch and ward over North Shore interests with the vigilance ever since he has been in public life; and his services to the country generally since the establishment of the Union have been exceedingly valuable. The fact is established by the testimony of witnesses above said, and by the respect and confidence of his constituents. For he was not only acknowledged by all classes of the late Ministry as one of the ablest administrators in the Macdonald Ministry, but his efficiency, as such, has been conceded time and again by Quebec, Ontario and Ontario, and by very many candid, intelligent men in the Maritime Provinces belonging to the Reform party. He created the department of Marine and Fisheries; and left it in a condition of the highest efficiency. His work speaks for him on all rivers and coasts; and in the annals of the Dominion his name will be mentioned with honour through all time to come as one of its most patriotic and energetic founders.

He is yet in the prime of life, full of push and pluck, and of hard work, of white political experience and able to make his presence felt among men of the highest capacity. New Brunswick never needed him in Parliament than at this moment. His great courage and brilliant talents, his worker of other days, Mr. Tilley, has withdrawn from political life to the dignified retirement of our Government House. Mr. Tilley is admitted to have merited the appointment, and to be admirably fitted to discharge the duties connected with it, even by political opponents like Messrs. Burpee and Smith. But his friends know how great a loss New Brunswick experiences by his withdrawal from Parliament.

But were Mr. Mitchell also to be absent from Parliament, New Brunswick would be doubly bereaved. We are rejoiced to know that there is no apparent danger of such a calamity occurring just now. The electors of Northumberland are proud of the man who has fought their battles so long and so courageously. They remember how recently he gave up his seat in the Senate, and placed himself in their hands, the more effectively to guard their interests, and serve our common country. They appreciate the manliness of the act, and they are grateful for the services rendered them. They will roll up Peter Mitchell on polling day a magnificent majority, worthy of themselves and of the man who served them, the Province and the Dominion so well. They cannot make that majority too large. Let them therefore, resolve to swell it to the greatest possible dimensions.

Cost of the Claimant.

The approaching end of the tedious Tishborne affair has set the British public to thinking about the cost of this extraordinary trial, and from recent estimates, it appears that the Government has already expended half a million pounds in prosecuting the claimant for perjury. Up to this time Tishborne has cost, in judicial salaries alone, £25,000. The first trial, in which the claimant was plaintiff, occupied one year, and hence the Chief Justice's salary, £7,000, was expended on the claimant. The present trial has so far lasted twelve months. Hence an expense of £11,000; £2,000 as salary of Chief Justice, and £5,000 each for the judge, the jury, and the witnesses. The most important part of the expense is found in the fact that the Crown has taken up the prosecution in the present trial. The ablest advocates at the bar have been engaged, and the fees paid to them are enormous. Mr. Hawkins is said to have received a retainer fee of £1,000 on this brief, and almost to be in receipt of a daily "refreshment" of £50. Sergeant Perry is credited with having been retained by a fee of £750, and refreshed daily with £30. The three junior counsel are dismissed with "refreshers" of £200 and "refreshers" of £100 each. The witnesses, numbering about 150, have been brought from distant parts of the world, and their expense can scarcely be estimated. Several of them are known to have received £1,000 to induce them to leave their homes, apart from their daily expenses while in England. To destroy Louis's evidence, thousands of pounds were expended on a Commission to this country, and a few thousands more in prosecuting inquiries throughout Great Britain. All these expenses have been incurred in prosecuting the claimant, so that the disgust of the British public at finding that his defence is nearly as expensive to them is no matter of wonder.

Consumption is the destroyer of life in the northern part of this continent. Nine cases out of ten originate in colds, which appear slight at first, and are neglected, until ulceration of the Lungs takes place, and in many cases they are beyond the reach of medicine. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam is a speedy and certain cure for all cases of a few weeks or months standing, and has cured hundreds of cases that had been pronounced hopeless cases of Consumption by experienced physicians. Try it, and you will certainly find relief. Short Cough that can be cured at all, this Balsam will assuredly cure.

Those who suffer from Bile and Liver Complaint should try the effect of Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-Bilious and Preserving Pills, a few doses of which will make the sufferer feel elastic and vigorous, remove all impurities, give a healthy action to the Liver and strengthen the stomach. If bilious attacks are allowed to continue without using such a preventive, more serious casualties may arise. Dr. Wilson's Pills are a valuable remedy, acting immediately in the removal of acidity in the Stomach, Indigestion, Debility, and Nausea, preparing the food thoroughly for assimilation, and rendering each tributary organ perfect in its functions.

Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment has stood the test of a series of years, and still stands unrivalled for its excellence. It is a simple, untried, and safe remedy, Gout, Contracted Cords, and Muscular Stiff Joints, strengthen Weak Limbs, and enable the crippled to walk again.

The question is often asked, "Who is Professor Clark, the inventor of Clark's Derby Condition Powders?" He is one of the most eminent Veterinary Surgeons the world ever saw, and the author of several works treating on diseases of the horse &c., and now used as text books in the several colleges in which his knowledge of this subject is taught. His Condition Powders have made him equally famous with those who were unacquainted with his writings.

CARD!

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY
—OF—
NORTHUMBERLAND.

GENTLEMEN—As I write for a General Election have been issued, in consequence of the recent dissolution of the Commons Branch of Parliament, I am again a Candidate for your suffrages as your Representative.

My past Parliamentary record of eighteen years in the service of my country speaks for itself, and I will on the hustings publicly explain my views.

Should you honor me by replacing me in the position of your Representative, I will in the future, as I have done in the past, endeavor to guard your rights, and promote your prosperity.

I have the honor to be,

Your obedient servant,

P. MITCHELL.

Miramichi, 20th January, 1874.

CARD!

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY
—OF—
NORTHUMBERLAND.

GENTLEMEN—Writing having been issued for a General Election, I deem it my duty to appear before you to explain my position for the House of Commons, at Ottawa.

At the personal solicitation of a large number of Electors, and in response to a numerous signed Requisition, I have decided to be a candidate for your suffrages.

My political views have always been Liberal, and consequently your warmest sympathies are for the present Liberal Government.

I feel satisfied that the majority of the Electors of this County desire a change in the administration of their Affairs, and with that view I accept your nomination, and solicit your warm and hearty support, assuring that if elected I will study the best interests of the County and do my utmost for its welfare.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,

J. B. SNOWBALL.

Chatham, 19th January, 1874.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced at the next meeting of the Local Legislature, to authorize the Justices of the County of Northumberland, to sell and dispose of the interest in certain lands in the said County, devised to them in Trust by the last Will of William Loch, deceased, and to invest or apply the proceeds as far as possible for the best advantage of the object contemplated by the said Will.
