Sir Oliver Mowat, Minister of Justice, after a couple of weeks' rest in Toronto, has returned to Ottawa with his family.

Sir William Van Horne, president of the C. P. R., says that the election proves that, notwithstanding the dirt that is thrown to the surface by the boiling of the political pot in the United States, and which so often misleads onlookers at a distance, the great mass of the American people is clean, sensible and honest, and when matters have drifted the wrong way about so far they will always be taken hold of and set right with an emphasis. Sir William believes that good times will come to the United States as a result of the election, and "good times in the United States will have a marked effect for good times here in Canada, for experience has shown that, although the particular causes may not exist with us, our

NEW BISHOPS. London, 'Nov. 5 .- Rev. Carr Glyn, vicar of Kensington, has been appointed Bishop of Peterboro. A dispatch from Rome says: Rev.

ANOTHER ROYAL MATCH. Vienna, Nov. 5.-The Duc d'Orleans arrived here yesterday, and was received by the Emperor Francis Joseph. The renunciation upon the part of the 'Archduchess Maria Dorothea of all her rights of succession to the throne of Austria prior to her marriage to the Duke of Orleans' occurred at noon yesterday at the Hofburg, in the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph, the Archdukes and the Ministers.

A TRIUMPH FOR CUBA. COOLING OFF. London, Nov. 5.-The excitement on tuations in American securities are small. A sharp fall in New York exchange caused consols to relapse 3-8. The afternoon newspapers today all have lengthy comments on the result of the election in the United States. They are similar in tone to those of yesterday, and repeat their warnings that "Bryanism is not dead." London, Nov. 5 .- The Canadian bankers and traders here fully share the feeling of relief resulting from the election of McKinley. "It is the best news Canada has had for a long day. said a leading Anglo-Canadian yes-"Few realize how near that depression brought Canada to grave financial peril, especially as regards the weaker banks. A renewal of that state of things must have proved most disastrous. What, with the advance in wheat, the marvelous gold discoveries, and the probable developments of, and the desire at Ottawa closer trade relations with the United States, Canada should make giant strides in the next few years." Others spoken to are less sanguine in their opinion. They say the beliefs of a great party, however ruinous, are not abandoned in a moment. There seems, however, a general belief that Mr. McKinley will be so restrained by his Democratic allies that no return of high protection is likely. The news sent up Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk stocks.

London, Nov. 5.-Arrangements have now been completed for the opening, on somewhat novel lines, of a men's Denison, vicar, has for some time past been busy with the scheme, and one of the curates, the Rev. J. Butcher, has taken up his residence in the club quarters. The building is admirably suited for the purpose. In the basement is a roomy skittle alley, while close by is a space for boxing. In Great Demand in India-Six Steam

Loads in Route.

London, Nov. 5 .- The demand for Australian horses in India is now very large. One day recently four large steamers of the British India Company were due at Thursday Island, on their way to Sydney and Newcastle, to load no less than 2,100 horses, while two other steamers of the same line were expected via the Leeuwin route, also to load about 1,000 more. At the same time a steamer was loading horses in New Zealand, and three steamers, in addition to the above, will be loaded later in the season. Altogether it is computed that the total export this season will reach about 6,000 head, the greater proportion being from New South Wales.

LOUIS AND DOROTHEA,

Marriage of the French Pretender to an Austrian Arch-Duchess.

Vienna, Nov. 5 .- At 11 o'clock this morning, in the Chapel of the Hofburg, Louis Philippe Robert, Duke of Orleans, Pretender to the throne of France, and head of the royal house of that country, was married to the Archduchess Dorothea. Amid a flourish of trumpets and the rolling of drums, the wedding procession entered the chapel, where they were received by Cardinal Gruscha, Archbishop of Vienna, sprinkled the processionists with holy water. The bride and bridegroom then knelt at prie dieux, the wedding rings were blessed, and were then handed on a golden salver to the Duke of Orleans and the Archduchess Maria Dorothea, who afterwards placed the rings on each other's fingers. The were again sprinkled with holy water. Mass was then celebrated, and a te deum was chanted.

Many will remember the sensation which was caused some ten years ago when young Capt. Hunter-Blair, the heir of a family no small part of whose fortune had been made as official printers of the Bible in Scotland, joined the Roman Catholic Church. Capt. Blair became a monk of the Benedictine Order, and has been resident at Fort Augustus for several years past, his only appearances before the world being as an occasional writer on historical and antiquarian subjects. The late Sir Edward Hunter-Blair never took a very prominent part in public life, and was not so well known as his elder brother, the late Col. Blair, who was M.P. for Ayrshire, 1854. Col. Blair commanded the Scots Fusiliers at Inkerman, and was killed at the head of his regiment in that sanguinary battle. It was on that occasion that Sir James Fergusson made his political debut. He hurried home from the Crimea, where he was serving with the Grenadier Guards, to contest the seat, and after a severe fight with the late Mr. Oswold, of Auchencruive, won the seat.

FRENCH VIEWS

Differ Widely Regarding the Presidential Election. Paris, Nov. 5.-The Socialist newspapers protest against the election of McKinley, and hold that "Although former years it has been the custom Bryan is not a real Socialist, his of commanding officers on our com-

The Libre Parole deplores the result of the election, which it regards about any expenditure whatever, and as being "The opening of an era of I think $17 50 rather expensive, and economic conflicts which may ruin the old world," and says: "The re- be responsible for debts contracted by cognition of the 'Cuban insurgents as Major Wood. belligerants is included in McKinley's programme, and from that point to cause Europe might well support Spain." As regards France, she has nothing to expect from McKinley, who is an admirer of Germany. The Eclair says: "The clearest result for us seems to be the closing of the American market, and that is why it is difficult to cry: 'Long live McKinley,' without bitterness and reservation. The Journal remarks: "The mass of the American people were aware that the silver millionaires would not be more pitiful towards misery than the gold millionaires." The Gaulois expresses the opinion that "The election was a splendid triumph for the United States. The success of Bryan would have meant the overthrow of the relations between capital and labor and a class war. From the point of view of Europe, the ultra-protectionism of Mc-Kinley renders the commerce of America and Europe open to serious attacks. He says: "We Republicans cannot lose. are perpetrating frauds. Indiana is for Bryan. Iowa's later returns are our way. Our people say Kentucky is all right. California and Oregon have gone for Bryan. I have no fear of West Virginia, and I do not con-cede McKinley's election." Mr. Jones' statement is not borne out by the Defeat of the Silverites Sends Up Stocks.

Jubilations in the Montreal, Wall Street and London Exchanges.

IN WALL STREET. New York, Nov. 5 .- To no place in the broad land was the news of Mc-Kinley's election more grateful than to Wall street. It was not remarkable, therefore, that that locality was yesterday morning in a state of excited bilarity, which was only tempered by keen appreciation of the dangers escaped, and by the necessity of attending to business. The opening was at a phenomenal burst of strength. On er orn ous transactions stocks opened at gains from 1 to 7 points, Several brokers had established up-town offices, which were kept open all night, that their clients could take advantage of the London market, which opens five hours earlier than the New York Exchange, owing to the difference in time. It was estimated that orders were sent to London aggregating a quarter of a million shares. Many of these were limited as to price, of course, so the business actually done cannot be estimated. The throng of spectators in the gallery of the exchange was one of the densest in the birtory of the institution. At 10 o'clock the gallery was one solid mass IN MONTREAL.

morning's business, which is usually so to get their factory ready for operahumdrum and commonplace, took a new aspect in the morning. As the stocks were cabled one by one, sale after sale was reported. Every broker on the floor seemed anxious to buy or sell, and everyone talked at once. Commercial Cable stock had a rise of 9 points on yesterday's quotations, and Postal Telegraph had a 6 in like proportion. Cable, which sold yesterday at 147, was bid and sold which was 69 yesterday, sold at 71; Pacific was 60 bid, and Postal 86 3-4 and 87, against 81 and 82 yesterday. Street Railway sold at 218 and 218 1-2, and Montreal Gas sold at 179. Probably never on the floor of the local exchange has so much stock changed hands in so short a time. In Cable alone over 100,000 shares were sold in lots varying from 25 shares up to 750

His Faithful Dog. Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 5.-Charles E. Irwin, milk dealer in this city, met with a tragic death on his farm near Newburgh yesterday afternoon. In climbing over a wall Irvin fell, and the tine of a pitchfork ran into his groin, severing the artery.

He lay on the ground, and his large bloodhound dragged him some distance toward the house. Irvin bled to death, and when found an hour later the faithful dog was guarding him, with his head on his master's body.

In the course of the proclamation announcing this fact, the President says: "The people of the United States should never be unmindful of the gratitude they owe the God of nations for his watchful care, which has shielded them from dire disaster, and pointed out to them the way of peace and happiness. Nor should they ever refuse to acknowledge with contrite hearts, their proneness to turn away from God's teachings, and to follow with sinful pride after their own devices. PENHALE VS. PENHALE. . St. Thomas, Nov. 5.-The celebrated cases of Penhale vs. Penhale have been settled. There were two actions. Louisa Penhale brought suit against her husband, Matthew Penhale, of South Lyon, Mich., to recover $50 per month alimony. The other action was to rectify a deed of property on Tal-bot street. Each party claimed three feet of land. The cases were settled by the de-fendant giving his wife, Louise Grant, $950, the wife releasing her right to dower in all her husband's properties. The plaintiff is given a rectified deed for the east nineteen feet of the west half of lot 3 in block A on Talbot street. Each party will pay their

CHESS.

HYPNOTISM IN THE GAME. Most people do not believe that hypnotic power plays any part in the game of chess. As long ago as 1857, when Morphy played Paulsen, the former played badly in the opening games of the match through the persistent concentration of his mind on the board during the entire game. In the later games, as if aware of his mistake, he withdrew his attention from the game when it was not his turn to move, and at once returned was that Morphy, as a child of the south, was peculiarly susceptible to the stronger will of the northern Paulsen, which the latter succeeded in imposing, unconsciously, perhaps, on his more negative opponent as long as Mr. Morphy gave him the opportunity of doing so by dwelling continuously on the game. How often we hear of the expression, "I can't see anything today," or, "Somehow or other, I can never play my game against so and so." In a recent game, we noticed a strong player under apparently such "conto play the game and could only mas-ter the simpler features of the play with an effort. Our remedy for all this kind of thing is simply this: Take your attention from the game when it is not your turn to play, and then you will return to the examination of each new move with at least an approximately nor-mal state of mind.—The Times, Phil-

gement-President's Report-Election of Officers. -

London Convalescent Home, on York street, near Burwell, held their eighth annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the home parlors. The meeting is usually held about Oct. 1, but was postponed this year, owing to the absence of some of the officers, and for other reasons. Dean Innes and Canon Richardson conducted devotional exercises, and also spoke of the work of the home. There was a large attendance, and the members were highly pleased with the reports of the year's work

Mrs. Harriet A. Boomer, the president, in her report, stated that the home had been again blessed with such a full measure of growth, progress, and prosperity, that they had once more been enabled to carry out the purposes for which the home was established. In addition to having met all payments due for maintenance, fuel, water rates, salaries, insurance, etc., they had paid off anhome, leaving a payment of $750 still to be met. Continuing, she said: "Perhaps that our total indebtedness was not further reduced is due to the fact that we have made no special effort towards wiping out the mortgage this year, and it will be for the friends of the home to consider if some such special effort may not be made in the year upon which we are now entering. By the careful economy of our purchasing committee, supplemented by the many gifts from friends of the home, to whom our sincere thanks are most justly due, the cost of maintenance has been reduced to a minimum, without in the least interfering with the full and sufficient provision which has always been made for the comfort of the inand Drove Them Into the Caboose. New York, Nov. 5. — News from Port Jervis is to the effect that an Erie freight train has been held up by a gang of 15 desperate tramps on the Delaware division. They overpowered the crew, and frightened them into the caboose. The tramps were first observed on Conductor J. H. Gillson's fast fraight near Callicon denot by fast freight, near Callicoon depot, by Brakeman Teller while the engine was taking water. He approached them and ordered them off the cars. Instead of complying, one of them drew a revolver from his hip pocket, and, pointing it at Teller's head, commanded him to throw up his hands. The brakeman was too frightened to comply, and ran to the caboose, where he acquainted the conductor of the situation. The conductor and train-men, with the assistance of Agent tramps, but they displayed two or three revolvers, and as the railroad men were unarmed they returned to the caboose, and the train proceeded on its way to Port Jervis. There the men were arrested. "The matron's register records the following: Between Oct. 1, 1895, and Oct. 1, 1896, admissions 27, in residence 5; total, 32. Of these, 25 were women, and 7 men; 5 were Roman Catholics, 27 Protestants of all denominations. Their nationalities were: Canada, 8; England, 18; Ireland, 2; Scotland, 4. Of the above, 16 came from the hospitals, the remainder directly from the city. Their collective was 1,094 days, their average stay about 36 days. Twenty-two of our inmates were unable to pay anything whatever, the remainder only in part, the majority of these paying but a very small proportion only. Indeed, the whole amount received from inmates for this year was but $43 25.

We would tender them our heartiest gratitude for all they have already done for us, and we rejoice to know that both will continue to work with us, as members of the board, even though no longer as our officers. ESTIMATES

Nowadays it is fashionable for people to ask, and agents to give, estimates. An estimate is simply the result of a calculation, based upon certain assumed rates of interest, mortality, expense and lapse. It may be called a guess, and is not a safe guide to the best Company.

The true test of a Company's ability to give the best returns is (1) The ACTUAL RESULTS of its matured policies, and (2) The Death Rate, Expense Rate, and Interest Rate of the Company now. Applying both of these as the test, The Ontario Mutual Life is able to produce the greatest returns tor its members.

The Effect of Republican Victory." Writing for the North American Reew for November, immediately prior , the Presidential election in the Inited States, Hon. T. C. Platt, of New York, a controlling power in the Republican party, makes a number of interesting statements as to the effect of Republican victory, which, as he anticipated, has been achieved.

Mr. Platt points out that the Presidential campaign of 1896 had no parallel in American history. It has been likened to the Grant-Greeley campaign of 1872. Party lines in 1872 were broken, but Mr. Platt points out that there was nothing like the general demo. alization in political circles that year which characterized the late campaign. In 1872, the Democratic party went on strike against Horace Greeley. The members of that party showed their hostility to Greeley by refusing to vote. General Grant in 1872, received, comparatively, very few spectacle was presented of hundreds and thousands of independent Democratic voters who publicly proclaimed their intention to vote for the Republican candidate.

This view supports the contention of really owes his election to the support of that section of the Democratic party which supports President Cleveland's views on the money question, and could not conscientiously vote for the programme of Mr. Bryan. The result cannot but have a moderating influence on the Republican managers when they come to formulate their legislative programme for the next four years.

Being an ultra-Republican, Mr. Platt naturally has no respect for the Bryan treme length of saying that 99 per cent of the dishonest people in the States supported Bryan, because they had nothing to lose in the event of demoralization arising from the carrying out of his programme. That may or may not have been the case, but with McKinley elected the quality of Mr. Bryan's supporters is of less importance. There are doubtless good and bad men in both parties, as there are in all political organizations. What is satisfactory is that the gold standard of value, in the absence of an international agreement with regard to silver, has been maintained by an emphatic verdict, and what practically amounted to repudiation of the nation's indebtedness has been rejected.

Mr. Platt prophesies that the election of McKinley will settle many things. It will, he says, clear the air. It will be the beginning of a new era in the development of the United "The nightmare of Populism, Anarchy, and Socialism will have been banished, and will not return to trouble our sleep in the future." Mr. Platt must not be too sure. These movements were the symptoms of social unrest, caused by bad government. They had their growth in the popular feeling that the legislators had entered into a compact with unscrupulous manipulators to fleece the workers of the country. To keep down such movements, the new Administration at Washington must improve on the management of affairs which prevailed there when last the Republicans held sway. The Republicans have their opportunity. Will they know to use it? Mr. Platt says they We shall see. Meanwhile, we agree with him that the danger of a revolutionary unsettlement of trade and commerce in the United States has passed, for years to come, and that a revival of business, which will benefit both the United States and its customers, is at hand. There are many indications of this change in our market and financial reports.

An agitation is on foot in Boston to confine the selling of intoxicating liquors within the business portion of the city. The proposition naturally meets with the support of those living in the residential districts.

An Interesting Prosecution.

A warning to those charged with the onduct of elections is afforded by the decision of a jury at the St. Thomas took a genuine voter for a personator, and caused his arrest. Finding that he went to the police station a short time afterwards and succeeded in getting the innocent man set free. Meanwhile, however, he had been locked up in a cell. The jury awarded the plaintiff $200 damages. Personating must be put down, but scrutineers must be careful that they go for the right men. Under the Ontario with greater ease, because no one who is not a non-resident can go to the polls. When voters are brought from the ends of the earth, the task of identification becomes next to impossible, and it is not surprising that occasionally a scrutineer is found who, in his zeal to secure a clean election, makes a serious mistake. Under the new law governing Dominion elections, the "foreign" vote will not puzzle the managers of elections. The non-resident will not be permitted to come and kill the votes of those who live in and help to sustain the con-

That "Coal" Discovery.

Prof. A. P. Coleman, mineralogist of the Ontario Government, has returned from Sudbury, where he investigated the coal bed alleged to have been discovered in Algoma. Prof. Coleman says he did not discover coal, though he found a coaly substance, known as anthraxolite, as Mr. Blue, chief of the Bureau of Mines, announced in these columns some months ago. Anthraxolite, Prof. Coleman says, is a very indefinite and convenient term. It simply refers to coaly compounds and ascribes to them no definite characteristics. For instance, Dana, the greatest living authority on minerals, disposes of the subject thus:

"Anthraxolite-A black, combustible, coal-like substance of varying com-position, found in Quebec and Ontario."

The compound will burn, and is akin to coal, and so far its discovery is decidedly satisfactory. But as to its commercial value, the professor says he is not yet prepared to speak, as he has not made any assays, and the extent of the deposit is not known. Anthraxolite may assay 4 per cent of ash in one case and 40 per cent in another. As to the particular deposit thought, from external appearances. that it did not possess the commercial value of anthracite coal. The fact that the substance is one which burns, which gives great heat. and which can be used as mineral fuel to smelt and blast, gives it great importance, if there is a sufficient quantity of it to be found. Prof. Coleman's report to the Government will be awaited with much interest.

It is just 50 years since the first surgical operation in which ether was successfully used as an anaesthetic took place at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. The widow of Dr. Wm. T. G. Morton, who discovered the valuable properties of the drug, is still alive in that city.

AN EXPERT OPINION.

Toronto News. One of the managers in a large departmental store on Yonge street was asked recently where he would locate if he should leave his present employment, and commence business in his own line. His reply was: "I would open right across the road.' This is a striking testimony to the value of advertising. While many of the retailers are crying out against the severity of the competition that is caused by the departmental stores, here is a man on the inside, knowing their prices, profits and methods who says that the best place to begin business is right alongside the fierce competitors. There is no doubt whatever about the soundness of the man's judgment. The place to do business is where the crowd congregates, and that is now within a few blocks. In addition to a good post-tion, however, there must be con-stant, consistent advertising. That is what has made the departmental store. It is all the one-liner has to

In Nicaragua.

President Zelaya's Term Extended Till 1903,

Substantial Concessions Made to British Bondholders.

New York, Nov. 5. - A letter from Managua, Nicaragua, says that the constitution amending assembly has approved the contract between Nicaragua and the English holders of Nicaragua's railroad bonds of 1886. By its terms Nicaragua agrees to impose an export tax of 1 cent gold a pound on coffee exported, to be paid as collected to an agent of the bondholders, who is to reside in Nicaragua at the expense of the country, to pay the annual 4 per cent interest and 1 per cent sinking or redemption fund agreed on. The debt, principal and unpaid interest is about $1,600,000 gold. The bondholders got a clause permitting the sale of the railroad and National Steamboat Line for $1,000,000 gold, apparently with the intention of buying and extending the road from Corinto and the Gulf of Fonseca, on the Pacific, to Bluefields or Monkey Point, on the Caribbean Sea, with cable to Cape Gracias, and thence to Jamaica, thus placing the British in control of an easy grade, excellent in ter-oceanic route across Nicaragua and of the best natural harbors for ocean steamships in Central America. The assembly approved all acts of President Zelaya to date and authorized the execution of the death penalty on persons charged with attempting to overthrow the present Government.

By invitation of the assembly, President Zelaya and a number of native and foreign officials crossed Lake Nicaragua Oct. 11 to Momotombo to attend a ball and proclaim the decree declaring the term of President Zelaya extended until 1903.

BURNED OUT A Hamilton Hotel Destroyed - Blaze in

Collingwood. Hamilton, Nov. b. - The Carleton Hotel property, occupied by B. Sullivan as a temperance hotel, was burned to the ground Tuesday. All the inmates escaped. The loss on the building and goods is placed at $2,500. It is said there is no insurance. Collingwood, Ont., Nov. 5.-Tuesday evening fire broke out in the oil cellar in the hardware store of Messrs. O'Connor & Co. Before the fire brigade could arrive, the cellar, which contained many barrels of coal on and other inflammable matter, was a roaring furnace. Fortunately the fire was confined to the department in which it originated. There was considerable damage to stock in the store by smoke. The loss will be heavy. There is some insurance. and good breeding on receiving a stranger. He asks, "How old are you?" and we, in our ignorance and incivility, laugh rudely. Yet he simply pursues the time-honored custom in thus questioning—a custom that had millenniums of civilization back of it when our ancestors were still naked, savage heathen. The first presentation of a stranger to an Oriental sovereign reported in the Bible was when Jacob was presented to Pharaoh. "And Pharaoh said unto Jacob, How old art thou?" Jacob was civil enough to answer the question without laughing. It is a great pity that we are less civil, or less civilized, than Jacob. Perhaps the Chinese newspapers did not poke fundated at Gen. Grant when he greeted Lial Hung Chang with "How do you do?"—or feel; or "I'm glad to see you"—without being charged for the sight. Our way seems right because it is not our way.

SCROFULA FROM BIRTH.

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir,—It is with pleasure I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl three years old last September, who has suffered with scrofula ever since she was two years old. In fact, the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease seated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live long, our physician's medicines doing no good. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication, called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments. I at once resorted to them, and by the time she used one bottle she was most well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are entirely gone and her lungs almost healed, or, at least she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time that she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, a very bad cough. "LIFE A EURDEN."

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir,—For a long time past. I have been suffering in the most distressing manner from a long train of symptoms, which have baffled the skill of all medical men down here, and which I feared, if not arrested in their progress, would terminate in the total prostration of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire for stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning, rendered life quite a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. So I got a bottle of Radway's Pills and took them according to directions. I soon found relief. I got three boxes and three bottles more, and I am in better health than ever before. I remain your humble servant, ARTHUR D. WRIGHT. ARTHUR D. WRIGHT.

"The company were fortunate in their engines. They had two, both first-class in every respect, and when new were resplendent in paint and polish. They had the portraits of the two well-known and respected cittzens whose names each bore—Laurence Lawrason and Murray Anderson, president and vice-president of the company. Each had run nearly 500,000 miles when the road passed into 000 miles when the road passed into the hands of the Great Western of Canada. should have great stability and dura-bility, in all places and all climates. Iron and steel were evidently the best materials, but the cost 30 years ago was a most serious drawback. Most opportunely great improvements have been made in the manufacture of these metals, but more especially of steel. Bessemer and Selmans led the way, and their methods were carried on and improved by many others.

"Fortunately these improvements carried with them the very desirable conditions of quantity, quality and cheapness, so that steel which in 1870 cost 14 cents per pound can now be bought for 4 cents, and steel rails which then cost $120 per ton can now be bought for $30.

The Net Result of the Court of Revision's Labor.

Board of Works Waiting for Mr. Chipman-Wolfe Street May be Macadamized-City Hall Notes.

The exact result of the Court of Revision's work has been figured up. Their total reduction of the original assessment was $37,525, and not $25,-000, as roughly estimated a few days ago. The largest individual reductions were those of the Consolidated Plate Glass Company and the Western Wire and Nail Works-$5,000 each. The income assessment of the fire insurance companies which was struck off, amounted to nearly $10,000. The reduction of $37,525 does not include titled to further exemption under the bylaw, such as the Grand Trunk, and others whose assessments have been fixed.

WAITING FOR MR. CHIPMAN. Engineer Chipman, of Toronto, was expected in the city today to confer with the Board of Works tonight on the sewerage question, but at noon he had not turned up. The plans and specifications are complete, awaiting his inspection and approval. If they are satisfactory the board has instructions from the City Council to call for tenders for the work. This looks as if the council had already decided in favor of the contract system, but the decision can be changed, if day labor is found to be preferable. There can be no harm in calling for tenders, as the cost of the work by contract will then be ascertained, and may be compared with the cost by labor. Mr. Chipman has sent no word when he will come, but a special meeting of the board can be called at any time.

MACADAMIZING WOLFE STREET. Dr. Roome, ex-M.P., is so much Dufferin avenue that he has asked for an estimate of the cost of macadamizing Wolfe street. It is a narrow thoroughfare, and the cost will not be so great as on Dufferin avenue. The estimate furnished the doctor was cents a foot, with wooden curbing, and 10 cents a foot with stone curb-Vitrified brick would cost 31 ing. cents a foot. There is reason to believe that macadamizing will become popular on residential streets, if the experiment on Dufferin avenue proves to be as successful as it appears to be.

The life insurance companies have not yet appealed against the decision of the Court of Revision rejecting their appeal for exemption of income The road roller has been laid away for the season. It has done splendid work, but funds are running low. Next year it should do equally good service, if the Board of Works is managed as admirably as it has been his year. The city streets have been almost revolutionized. The tax collectors are preparing for another invasion of taxpayers.

The mild weather has been a relief to the relief inspector, the applicants for charity being few.

The Trolley Wire Causes Instant

Fortunately It Was Only a Horse-Broken Guy Wire the Cause.

The trolley wire claimed its first victim last night. About 10:30 o'clock George Maker and Ed. Stenberg were driving past the corner of Wellington and Horton streets, when suddenly their horse staggered and fell. Mr. Maker hurriedly ran to find the cause, and received a shock that sent him reeling A trolley guy wire had become un-fastened and was trailing to the ground. It had become crossed with a "live" wire and made a perfect communicator of the fluid above to earth beneath. Water is a great electrical conductor, and as the night was wet, the current was particularly strong The horse's head came in contact with it, and death was probably instantaneous, as the brain would be immediately affected. At any rate, the animal showed no sign of life after it fell. It was owned by Mr. Maker, who prized it as a valuable driver.

THE LEAGUE DISBANDED

City Footballers Will Play No More Two Much Kicking-The Asylums the Winners.

At a meeting of the arbitration committee of the City Association Football League last night, a protest was entered by the Military School team against the Asylum team on account of the game played last Saturday between these two clubs. The points on which the complaint was made were not entertained by the com-mittee. The Military School insisted that the game should be awarded to them, and the committee, after consultation, for the sake of keeping peace in the league, proposed that the two clubs play the game over again. To this the Asylums agreed, but the Military School emphatically bjected, demanding that the game be awarded to them; and there being no way in sight to arrange matters amicably. it was decided to disband the league, which was done. This leaves the Asylums champions of the league for the season of 1896, as per Political Map of the United States Reconstructed.

The Old Dividing Line Obliterated by Tuesday's Results.

Chicago, Nov. 5 .- Take a map of the United States, and with a pencil draw a line, starting at the mouth of the Potomac River, on Chesapeake Bay, and, following the Potomac to the boundary line between the two Virginias. Follow this line to the Tennessee border, and draw west, leaving eTnnessee below the line, and Kentucky above; then follow up the Mississippi River to the lower edge of Iowa, and turn the corner of Iowa and trace a long the south line of Lower Dakota, and thence north to the Canadian boundary. You will thus have described the new line of demarcation between the gold standard forces of the east and the silver elements of the wset and south. Every State north and east of the line described is for McKinley. Every State west and south of it went for Bryan, with the exception of California and Oregon on the Pacific. The States in which the result of the election is closest lie along this rontier line-Delaware, the Virginias, Kentucky, Missouri, South Dakota, and Wyoming, thus showing where the battle waged the fiercest.

This line is doubly interesting because it does not follow the course of the historical Mason and Dixon's line, and for the first time in the last thirty odd years, the phrase "Solid South" has no political significance. The late arriving returns, dispatches from points remote which have been received during the past 24 hours, give conviction to the approximated tables of the day before. Nebraska, Washington and Kansas may now be added to the Bryan table and Oregon to the McKinley table. The totals of the electoral votes are: of his legs taken off at the knee. For McKinley, 277; for Bryan, 170. In Wyoming, however, the latest dis-

Deceased was in good health up to the other day, when he was seized with pneumonia. He never rallied from the attack and died as stated. Mr. Flock was well known in this

Many Londoners will recolect him as a prominent figure at the Western Fair, where he was in charge of a comprehensive display of the large Pittsburg firm of which he was representative. Recently his success in promoting the business was recognized by a large increase in salary. Mr. Flock was cut off at the earage of 31. His brother, Mr. E. M. W. Flock, left for Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of the mournful intelligence. The body will be brought to London for interment.

SEVENTH BATTALION.

Small Turnout at the Annual Inspection.

The Seventh Battalion company inspection was conducted with rigor last night at the drill shed, by Lieut .-Col. Otter, assisted by Lieut.-Col. Smith, D. A. G., and Capt. Hemming. of Wolseley Barracks. The men turned out about 130 strong, and at 8 o'clock were brought to attention to await the arrival of Col. Otter. The following companies stood lined up, some large, and some much smaller: No. 1 Company, Capt. Graham, 25 men; No. 2 Company, Capt, Thomas, 13 men; No. 3 Company, Capt. Watt, 36 men; No. 4 Company, Lieut. Phelps, 20 men; No. 5 Company, Capt. Graves, 20 men; No. 6 Company, Capt. Dawson, 14

When Col. Otter arrived it was 8:20, and the inspection was begun immediately. He went through the ranks and "sized up" everything. The brass buttons on some tunics which glittered like the sun on a cloudy day were brought to the attention of the men and officers.

Only about half the strength of the battalion mustered, and although the men's appearance was better than on some occasions, their drilling was at times crude. Capt. Watt had the larg est turnout, but was not satisfied, and signified his intention of issuing warrants for the arrest of some men who did not attend.

Tarte's Tour.

The Minister of Public Works in the Northwest.

Honored, Irrespective of Political Leanings by the Settlers.

(Special to The Advertiser.) West Prince Albert, N. W. T., Novi 5.-A banquet was given last evening to Hon. I. S. Tarte, Minister of Public Works. It was from the citizens, irrespective of politics. Since the Minister left Winnipeg, he has visited a number of places, including Wolseley, Montmaitre, Regina and Duck Lake. Everywhere he has been presented with addresses complimentary to him and the Government. The settlers and the business community are greatly pleased with the Minister's visit. The banquet which was tendered him at Regina was the largest ever seen there. Lieut.-Gov. Mackintosh and all the leading men of both political parties attended. On Tuesday evening the Minister and party visited the Duck Lake Indian school, when the scholars presented him with an address. The Liberal Association of Duck Lake and of Batoche also pre sented Mr. Tarte with an address. He made appropriate replies on both occasions. Wherever Mr. Tarte has gone he has found that the policy of the new Government towards the West is very much appreciated.

But very little could be learned of his previous life. It was evident that he had been living with a woman named Margery—who, probably, was his nurse—and a man named Jack, possibly the woman's husband.

his name was mentioned. Of the injury which had deprived him of his memory he seemed to be able to tell nothing, although he af-firmed that Jack had struck and tried to choke Margery, and he wanted to "lick the naughty man."

Gladys at once procured a primer and set herself at work to teach him.

as he had been taught to call Mr. Hum-tress, to allow him to study at home. "They will laugh at me at school, for I shall have to go into classes with little boys only 5 or 6 years old," he pleaded, with a crimson face. "But you must go to school some time, and you will have to begin with to the house every day to attend to Master Geoffrey's lessons. The boy was true to his promise. He studied diligently, and his tutor never had occasion to utter a word of com-plaint over ill-prepared lessons. Geoffrey seemed to realize more and more how far behind other boys of his own age he was, and with his pride and ambition thus aroused, no task seemed too difficult to accomplish, if it would only serve to help him to overtake them. Another thing troubled him exceed-ingly. He had learned that Gladys was two years younger than himself, and yet she was nearly half through the high school, while he was simply learning the alphabet. The thought verwhelmed him with shame and

"But Gladys has always been at chool, and you have not. Geoff," returned his aunt, kindly. "Go and ask her to show you about these problems; she can help you much better than I, for they are fresher in her mind."
But the proud boy had all at once grown keenly sensitive, and would not seek the young girl's aid. He prefer-red to fight the battle out by himself. rather than be coached by a girl Younger than himself

Richmond, Eng., Oct. 15, 1896. I have now been in England a year. I had lived so long in Canada that I was almost a Canadian, and have had to re-learn many things in order to adapt myself to present surroundings. But I need not regret that I went to live in Canada, though my life there was not a bed of roses, for I am sure I learned some useful lessons that I took place Tuesday evening. could not have learned elsewhere. First and foremost, I place the getting to cling to one brought up in too artificial society. The simple, honest W. H. lives of the farming community there is something to be thankful for, compared to those of older countries, where heavy burdens have come down from hoar antiquity and are so hard to shake off. And if Canadian leaders are wise they will take care to preserve whatever good is already there, and work shoulder to shoulder in keeping out principles and practices that are destroying other lands. I have been talking with some Reformers lately who say they do not want the working classes to emigrate, for it is the best of the people who go, but they are working to get them settled on some of the waste lands of England. know, there is another side to that question; that emigrants are often sent to Canada that the Canadians would fain send back again, because they are useless. On several occasions I have had the opportunity of telling them the truth about this.

I see by The Advertiser that you have had a splendid harvest, and abundance of fruit, and I am extremely glad that you have been trying to find ways and means to send us some of it, for I believe we need all you can send us, and it is such a pity that any of it should go to waste. NEW PERILS FOR HUNTERS.

Four and a Half Miles. Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.-The deer season is already open in Wisconsin and deer are being slaughtered by the hundreds by sportsmen now in the woods. On Nov. 1 the season opened, in Minnesota. Owing to the introduction of the modern, smallcalibre, long-range firearms, old-time hunters look forward with apprehension to the accidents that are likely to occur. In the window of a Minneapolis gun-store hangs a harmless-looking little rifle, to which is attached the significant playcard: "Range four and a half miles." That simple little announcement means that many men who have heretofore spent most of the month of November in the woods of Northern Minnesota will re-main at home this year and scan the been used in hunting in previous years, and which have an extreme range newspapers for accounts of the deaths of unhappy hunters who have been killed by these terrible weapons. A number of these rifles have been sold, and it is apparent that no man within a tree trunk, but in the slashings, a radius of several miles of a hunter armed with one of them has any certain tenure of life. In Minneapolis, trees and small underbrush for miles. alone, at least a dozen men who haven't nissed their annual deer hunts for several years have given it out that In ordinary deer hunting he is a poor this year they prefer the quiet of hunter who doesn't stalk his game business to the hazards of deer-hunting with such dangerous weapons in

The long, small-ealibre bullets, steel-coated, discharged from these rifles, carry for 800 yards on a dead line. There is no need for adjustable sights with such a powerful rifle, and for that reason, as well as for their comparative cheapness, they are proving pop-A Minneapolis man who used one of these rifles last year says that he would like to see a law passed forbidding the use of such weapons. His change of heart was brought about by a little experience he had while in the woods last winter. He was sitting on a log, smoking. waiting for his wagon to come up with the supplies, when there came the peculiar moaning sound of the smallcalibre bullet. It struck a tree scarce-ly four feet from Mr. Johnston. He had hardly recovered from his surprise when, another bullet passed near his head. The next moment Mr. John-ston was crouching behind a log After he had recovered his equanimity he dug the ball out of the tree and found it belonged to one of his own men. He learned from them afterwards that the man was three miles away at the time the two shots were fired.

The rifles now None of Them Safe When Bullets Fly out the Northwest have the terrible being sold in Minneapolis and throughcarrying power of the small-calibre rifles now in use in the armies of Europe and in the regular army of the United States. These rifles are warranted to kill at three miles. The steel-incased bullet leaves the muzzle of the rifle with such a terrible velocity that it will penetrate

"Now, imagine what may happen with a party of hunters, armed with such rifles, distributed over a comparatively small area of wooded country; One of the hunters may fire at a deer, miss his aim, and the bullet may go on and kill another member of the party two or three miles away. This is no idle fear; such accidents often occur with the rifles that nave

"It may be urged that no rifle bullet can proceed a great distance in a forest without imbedding itself in where deer are often hunted, one can sometimes see nothing but scattering "I contend that there is no excuse for the use of such deadly weapons. within 150 yards. Of course, in funting mountain sheep and goats, the range is much longer. But of what use is This is the first year that these rifler such an extreme range? A man can't within 50 feet of it. Committee Again Decide in Favor of the Anderson Make.

Chief Roe Favored Another Kind-Considerable Discussion Developed.

Last night the fire and light committee again accepted Alex. Anderson's tender for new fire alarm boxes. When the various firms made their previous offers, Mr. Johnson, representing the United States company, made the proposition that if the order was given him, his firm would allow something handsome for the old boxes replaced. This revealed a plan of keeping down the cost, which the economical aldermen did not hesitate to carry out, so they asked all of the makers to place a value on the old boxes. The new tenders were for boxes with keyless door and gong attachment, or smash-box key guard, in accordance with the request of the Underwriters' Association that alarm boxes in the central portion of the city do not require keys. The first-named attachment consists of a door to be opened by turning a knob and in doing so a gong is rung, thereby attracting attention; after opening the door the alarm is sent to the station. The key guard is a small box with a glass front, and the glass must be broken to get at the key. Considerable discussion took place as to the best tender to accept. when asked his opinion, favored the United States box, but no figure was received from this firm until efter the committee came to a decision.

The chairman said they should not go contrary to the chief's opinion. Ald. Douglass said the boxes had to be good before they would be accepted. They would have to be approved by the chief. He moved to recommend that the Anderson offer be acepted. Mr. Anderson to sign an agreement forth that the boxes will be furnished and set up in accordance with speci-fications made by Chief Roe. He will also give a guarantee.
