RUMANIANS ARE WITHDRAWING FORCES FROM BUDAPEST

IRELAND'S CLAIM FOR HOME RULE MAY COME BEFORE LEAGUE OF NATIONS FOR FINAL ADJUSTMENT

President Wilson Gives His First Public Interpretation of How League of Nations Covenant Affects Ireland — Tells Why Ireland's Case Was Not Heard at the Peace Conference.

On Board President Wilson's Special, Sept. 17.—Setting forth publicly for the first time his interpretation of the league of nations covenant as it affects Ireland, President Wilson said in a statement today that the league would constitute a forum before which could be brought all claims for self-determination which are likely to affect the peace of the world.

"The covenant would not bind the United States to assist in putting down rebellion in any foreign country," he asserted, "nor would it limit the power of this country to recognize the independence of any people who seek to secure freedom."

He said Ireland's case was not heard at Versailles because it did not come within the jurisdiction of the peace conference.

The president's statement was in reply to a series of questions sent to him by the San Francisco labor council. It is understood that within a few days he will reply similarly to the questions put by other labor bodies regarding Shantung and the representation of the British dominions in the league assembly.

Questions and Answers.

The president's statement detailing the labor council's questions and his answers follow:

"1. Under the covenant does the nation obligate itself to assist any member of the league in putting down a rebellion of its subjects or conquered peoples?

"Answer—It does not.

"2. Under the covenant can this nation independently recognize a government whose people seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the league?

"Answer—The independent action of the government of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the covenant of the league of nations.

"3. Under the covenant are those subject nations or peoples only that that are mentioned in the peace treaty entitled to the right of self-determination, or does the league possess the right to accord a similar privilege to other subject nations or peoples?

"Answer—It is not possible for the peace delegates to act with regard to the self-determination of any territories except those which had belonged to the defeated empires; but in the covenant in the league of nations it has set up for the first time in Article 11 a forum to which all claims for self-determination which are likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good understanding between nations upon which the peace of the world depends can be brought.

"4. Why was the case of Ireland not heard at the peace conference? And what is your position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland?

Ireland's Case Outlined.

"Answer—The case of Ireland was not heard at the peace conference because the peace conference had no jurisdiction over any question of that sort, which did not affect territories which belonged to the defeated empires. My position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland is expressed in Article 11 of the covenant, in which I may say I was particular interested, because it seemed to me necessary for the peace and freedom of the world that a forum should be created to which all peoples could bring any matter which was likely to affect the peace and freedom of the world."

EMPLOYER DECLARES THAT 44-HOUR WEEK CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

Woolen Manufacturer Says There Is No Assurance of a Limit.

STEEL WORKER DISAGREES

Maintains That the Employers Must Divide With Their Men.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Threats of strikes were deplored and a new warning from labor to employers issued before the national industrial conference had proceeded very far with this morning's session.

The conference opened in a sort of fighting mood, and it was not very long before things became interesting. J. S. McKinnon, of Toronto, thought labor had been going too far in using the term "conscription of wealth" and threatening a strike to enforce the 8-hour day in all industries. There should have been more of a spirit of British fair play, he claimed. The conference was not called for that sort of thing.

J. A. Gillies, of Sydney, N. S., a delegate of the steel workers, disclaimed any attempt to force class legislation. No industry had yet been ruined by reducing hours of labor. Every dollar invested honestly was worthy of a proper interest, he declared, but the speeding up of labor to earn profits on air and water was not legal. Speaking of fair play he said: "It cannot be all one-sided. We must be fair with you, but you must also give us a little more of what you have been pleased to term profits in the past."

A plea for the lumbering, agriculture and other seasonal industries which would be handicapped by shorter hours was made by J. Fraser Gregory, St. John, N. B., and J. Thomson, Carleton Place, who said manufacturers would be more than willing to reduce hours where they could, but he held that labor should state specifically in what industry shorter hours were to be enforced.

Cannot Accept Proposal.

R. Thomson, Carleton Place, a woolen manufacturer, said that Miss Gutteridge of Vancouver, had spoken of the 44-hour week as a compromise offer. The manufacturers did not know what might be the ultimate demand, nor did they know that the labor organizations represented spoke for the whole of the labor in Canada.

He did not think labor could offer or the manufacturers could accept any such proposal put forward at this conference. The 50-hour week prevailed in many trades, and some even had less, and he feared that by granting the 44-hour week the manufacturers would

BURGLARS CLEAN DRUG STORE OUT OF FOUNTAIN PEN STOCK

Remove Also Some Cocaine, Raincoats, Stamps and Money —Force Entrance at Rear of Building.

Three hundred dollars' worth of goods, including fountain pens, cocaine, coats and stamps were stolen from Strong's drug store last night. Besides this, a small amount of money was taken from the cash register.

Every fountain pen in the store—about $250 worth—was taken. It is believed that the thieves were drug addicts, for in their search for dope, of which they stole about half an ounce, they disarranged much of the supply in the place. The coats were the property of the employees of the establishment.

Discovered by Manager.

Russell Magee, manager of the store, discovered the loss when he first came down to business this morning. It was immediately reported to the police, but late this afternoon no clue as to the identity of the robbers had been found.

It is believed that dope fiends are responsible for this crime, for last week thieves entered the offices of two Queen's avenue doctors, but failing to locate dope stole other goods. One doctor's place was entered on two consecutive nights. He lost some rugs and office fixtures. The other doctor discovered that he had been robbed of a bottle of whiskey.

Gang of Addicts.

From various sources it has been learned that there is a gang of drug addicts in the city, those who use cocaine and morphine. Citizens have reported that they saw two men in the vicinity of the old M. C. R. station "snuffing" dope. It is said also that there is a man in the city who is at the head of the gang, and who has been supplying them with drugs, which he received from unknown sources.

One of the doctors reported the breaking into his place to Sergeant of Detectives Thomas Nickle, but when the police station was called today the officers there denied knowledge of the theft.

FIUME SITUATION IS STILL IN CONTROL OF POET D'ANNUNZIO

Insurgent Italian Troops in Charge At All Points.

STRICT CENSORSHIP

British and American Contingents Jeered As They Left.

Geneva, Sept. 17.—Gabriele D'Annunzio is still master of the situation at Fiume, of which he took possession recently at the head of insurgent Italian forces, refusing to obey the Italian Government's order to return with his troops, according to advices which have reached here despite the extreme rigor of the censorship which has been set up regarding the Fiume developments. The British and American contingents in the city were jeered and hissed by the population as they marched to their warships, the advices state, but embarked safely on their vessels without further incident. The French contingent is said to have remained in Fiume, barricaded in its barracks.

D'ANNUNZIO AND HIS FOLLOWERS ACTUATED BY NOBLE IMPULSE

Republican Party of Italy Passes Resolution of Sympathy.

Rome, Tuesday, Sept. 16.—The Republican party has passed the following resolution relative to Capt. D'Annunzio's coup at Fiume:

"The temporary liberators of Fiume were carried away by noble impulse rather than political calculation. They thus deserve the sympathy of the nation, although it is an illusion to consider the accomplished fact of the occupation of Fiume as final."

FIUME HAPPENINGS CLOUDED BY VEIL DRAWN BY CENSOR

London, Sept. 17.—Fiume has been isolated from the world by the Italian Government, which is apparently taking steps to meet the situation that has arisen through the action of Capt. Gabriele D'Annunzio in forcibly taking possession of the city and forcing allied and Jugo-Slav forces to leave. The veil of the censorship was drawn yesterday, and since that time little has been learned of events in the city.

Investigation of the incident has shown, according to advices, that the plan to seize Fiume originated in Venice, the prefect of which city is said to have been involved. Artillery forces in Venice, which were preparing to join the D'Annunzio forces in Fiume, are reported to have been induced to return to their barracks. The prefect has been dismissed from office. The Jugo-Slav peace delegation in Paris has issued a statement indicating that Italian regular troops are moving on the city. The Italian battleship, Dante Alighieri is said to have been damaged by her crew, and has been unable to leave the port of Fiume. British French and American detachments which were in the city at the time of D'Annunzio's coup are reported to have boarded ships and departed.

ITALIAN ADMIRAL ILLEGALLY DETAINED ON TRIP TO FIUME

Paris, Sept. 17.—Latest official advices report the situation at Fiume, forcibly taken possession of by Italian insurgents under Gabriele D'Annunzio last week, as without material change. The necessary measures, it is stated, have been taken to prevent all communication with the city government from the outside as was learned from unofficial sources yesterday.

Of the Italian sailors who landed in Fiume only 100 remained in the city at the last advices, the others having rejoined their ships, the official advices state. It is announced, however, that Rear Admiral Casamova, who landed yesterday in an attempt to restore order, has been "illegally detained" on shore.

Gen. Badoglio, who was sent by the Government to Fiume to handle the situation, has issued a proclamation to the troops, inviting them to remain faithful to discipline. His proclamation denounces the volunteers as men "who abandoned their posts and went to Fiume, creating a state of things which cannot be approved or tolerated."

MINISTERS MUST LEAD IN LAST ASSAULT UPON STRONGHOLD OF LIQUOR INTERESTS IN ONTARIO

Alliance Discusses Campaign in Favor of Prohibition and Suggests That Boys Could Assist Considerably — Will Try To Educate Voters On Marking of the Ballot.

"Just imagine that the liquor traffic is the Hindenburg line, and this is our last and greatest onslaught and we must win. We ministers must lead the attack, although owing to so many being away the entire summer we are not able to get as good a start as we would have liked," said Rev. T. D. McCullough, at the first fall meeting of the Ministerial Alliance, held this morning in the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. T. D. McCullough and Rev. Captain N. Omond, the latter recently returned from overseas, and a native of London, gave suggestions to the attending clerics as to the best way to present before the various congregations how they must vote in the coming referendum. Mr. McCullough said that he knew that the Methodist ministers had been preaching upon the subject, but had not seen the Presbyterians working desperately hard. Rev. D. C. MacGregor, the president, remarked: "We are solid anyway and the Mthodists have been a little more lucky in getting into print."

Got Names Added.

Rev. T. D. McCullough stated that through untiring efforts of the various committees canvassing the voting lists, over 1,000 names had been added to the list, some, of course, which were in favor of prohibition and some against. "It requires united effort on the part of everyone who aims for prohibition, and there is a feeling that prohibition will sweep the country. We should not bank on this, we may get a surprise at the polls. The boy power in the city could do a great deal to lighten the burden of the committees in distributing circulars showing the people the way to vote and why they should vote this way. Enough of these have been printed," said Mr. McCullough, "that one may be put into each home. The ladies of the church, who will work for temperance can visit in the homes and instruct women who have never before voted, how to vote and how easy it is for them to destroy the ballot by putting other markings that the "X" in which column she wishes to vote. Just telling people to put four 'No's' is not enough, it must be explained thoroughly to them, and the minister in the pulpit has the power to instruct the members of his congregation to do this."

Suggests Meetings.

Mass meetings were suggested by Rev. Byron Snell as a means of getting in touch with people who never went

"CURRY" NAME OF CANADA'S GREAT LEADER IS MIS-SPELLED EVERYWHERE

Sir Arthur's Name Has Been Mis-spelled Everywhere.

All through the war, newspapers the world over have misspelled the name of the commander of the Canadian corps. This was not known by anyone except the family and personal friends until just recently. On Tuesday, when the county of Middlesex presented Sir Arthur and his wife with a silver tea service which cost in the neighborhood of $500, it was noticed that on the gift his name was engraved "Curry." Some of those present thought that the engraver had made amistake, but when mention was made of the fact, they were assured that this was the correct spelling as his brother, John Curry, warden of the county, and the rest of the family spell it that way.

It was said that although war correspondents from almost every news service in Canada, the British Isles and the United States had spelled the name "Currie," Sir Arthur did not make a correction or even speak of the error.

MEN CHARGED WITH ISSUING EXEMPTION CARDS NOT GUILTY

Quebec Judge Renders Decision In Interesting Cases.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—"The persons who paid sums of money to get exemption cards from the military service knew they were getting worthless cards, and they took the risk of their own freedom, and nothing in the testimony shows that the three accused, Omer Drouin, Romus Hansen and Arthur Dionne, did not plot and agree to defraud. So I declare this case closed and discharge from custody those three defendants, Drouin, Hansen and Dionne."

The foregoing, in effect, is the judgment of Judge Langelier in the long-drawn-out case in the Quebec police court.

Drouin, who is the son of a judge in the superior court at Quebec, had been charged by the federal authorities, along with Hansen, a former employee of the registrar at Quebec, and Dionne, a member of the provincial civil service, in the police court, nearly a year ago, with conspiracy to defraud in connection with the granting of military exemption certificates.

BOARD WILL MOVE TO PREVENT AN ADVANCE IN PRICE OF MILK

Steps Will Be Taken at Once, Announces W. F. O'Connor.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Announcement was made by W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman of the board of commerce, prior to the resumed inquiry into the high cost of living this morning, that steps will be taken by the board to prevent an increase in the price of milk. This, he intimated, would extend from the producer to the consumer, and in this way higher prices, starting at the source of production, will be frustrated.

Representatives of Toronto packing concerns appeared before the board this morning, when investigation into provision prices was instituted. Principal attention was devoted to the price of hog products. Firms appearing before the board were the William Davies Company, Gunns, Swift Canadian Company, Harris Abattoir Company, Matthews-Blackwell and Puddy Bros. Representatives were called upon to submit statements showing the amount of provisions held in cold storage, and also statements of costs.

Lieut.-Col. W. L. Price appeared on behalf of the board of commerce. J. S. Lundy for the Ontario attorney-general, and J. S. Fairty for the city of Toronto.

Austria Expels All Persons Without Legal Residence In Order To Conserve Supplies

Vienna Populace Is Living From Hand to Mouth, With City Congested Beyond Description—Large Proportion of the Population Are Unemployed.

Vienna, Sunday, Sept. 14.—In an effort to cope with food and fuel conditions, the Austrian Government has just issued a decree expelling from the country all persons who do not claim a legal residence here. This decree, which becomes effective on September 20, will affect a large number of Gallicians and many Hungarians remaining in Austria after they were ordered to leave the country some time ago. Notwithstanding this decree, the minister of finance has forbidden aliens to remove money from banks and thus thousands of people find themselves expelled within a few days and unable to secure their money. The Polish Government has entered a strong protest.

In the meantime, the city is living from hand to mouth. It is congested beyond description, there being a large idle population of the actually unemployed and "drifters" who gave up their work in other districts and came to this city.

The village of Mauer, a suburb, has expelled all non-residents, even Viennese being unable to remain there.

Classes British Profiteers With Rats and Vermin

Parliamentary Secretary Declares Government Bound To Stamp Them Out.

London, Sept. 16.—Charles McCurdy, parliamentary secretary to the food minister, declared yesterday that the Government classes the profiteers with rats and other vermin and is determined to stamp them out. Mr. McCurdy was speaking at the opening day of the administration of the new profiteering act, and alluded to the new Canadian statute dealing with a similar evil. Criticism against the English act is mainly on the ground that it will never scotch the big profiteer but merely render the small trader liable to espionage and prosecution. Meanwhile street markets are increasingly instituted in the crowded districts. Their establishment is frequently followed by a drop in prices at the neighboring shops. The lack of housing accommodation is certainly as vital a problem as profiteering. Houseless ex-soldiers at Newport, Monmouthshire, interrupted the borough council meeting protesting from the gallery. There were, they claimed, 600 homeless families in the town. Liverpool corporation is spending 22,000 pounds sterling in converting army huts into private dwellings. Other local authorities are also attracted by this temporary solution.

He has been connected with the Telegram editorial staff in various capacities during the past seven years.

BRITISH ELECTORS ANXIOUSLY AWAIT PREMIER'S ADDRESS

Lloyd George's Announcement On Vital Issues Expected Tonight.

London, Sept. 17.—Premier Lloyd George's return to England last night from his vacation at Deuville, France, and a brief visit in Paris will be followed tonight by an address which will be delivered at the London City Temple and which, in view of the extreme political and economic unrest prevailing in the country, is awaited with keenest curiosity and interest.

Among the many topics which the public is eager to hear the premier discuss are the Russian tangle; Ireland; the reduction of national expenditures; industrial developments; the probable dissolution of Parliament and a general election. An election would be particularly welcomed, but it is doubtful if the premier will speak on that subject tonight, it being suggested that he will probably avoid controversial topics as far as possible. In view of the fact that the speech will be addressed to the international brotherhood congress, Mr. Lloyd George will confine himself mainly to elaborating his recent appeal to the nation to co-operate in the establishment of a new world order, leaving other matters for addresses he has promised to deliver elsewhere.

LADY FOSTER DIES THIS MORNING AT HER HOME IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Lady Foster, wife of Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce for Canada, died this morning at the family residence, 125 Somerset street, following an illness of several months. Sir George Foster returned early from the peace conference at Paris because of her condition.

Besides her husband, Lady Foster leaves one son by her first marriage, A. M. Chisholm of Windmere, B. C., who, with his wife, has been in Ottawa for several months during the period of Lady Foster's severe illness. Two brothers, Milton and Charles Davis of Chicago, also survive. Lady Foster was born near Hamilton, Ont., the eldest daughter of the late Milton Davis of that district. On July 2, 1889, she was married to Sir George Foster. Interment will be made in Ottawa.

Fruit Allowed To Rot Because Sugar Is Not Procurable

The Former Winnipeg Mayor Makes Serious Charge of Sugar Exportations.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Charges that sugar is still being sent out of Canada by shiploads while carloads of Western Ontario fruit are rotting in the west because a limited supply can be obtained only by "begging and paying exorbitant prices" are made by A. MacDonald, former mayor, in public statement to the city council today.

"Something must be done at once," Mr. MacDonald declared. He asserts that the board of commerce seems to have started too late, and "at the wrong end."

"We have to beg and pay exorbitant prices for the few cars which we get, not because sugar is scarce, on the contrary, it is being shipped out of the country not by car or train loads but by ship loads.

"There are carloads of the finest fruits ever grown being sold for less than cost to producer and large quantities allowed to go to waste for want of sugar," he continued.

STEEL STRIKE WILL BE CALLED SEPT. 22 UNLESS GARY ACTS

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, who arrived here today from Cleveland, told newspapermen that unless a last minute telegram was received from Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, the strike of iron and steel workers would go into effect on September 22.

PRESERVES TIP OVER, SCALDING LITTLE PETERS BOY TO DEATH

Child Lived Only Few Hours After the Terrible Accident.

Little Billy John Peters, the 2-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, Piccadilly street, died last night from scalding.

The little fellow was crawling around the kitchen floor while his mother was preserving peaches, and the preserving kettle, which was not on the stove properly, tipped over, the contents scalding the baby, who was near the stove. He only lived a few hours following the accident. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from the family residence to Woodland Cemetery.

PUBLISHERS THREATEN TO SUSPEND UNLESS DEMANDS MODIFIED

152 Periodicals Would Be Affected If Action Is Taken By Owners.

New York, Sept. 17.—Publishers of 152 periodicals having headquarters in this city, have decided to suspend publication if striking printers do not modify their demands, while owners of three magazines with a combined national circulation running into the millions, are considering moving their plants west "to free themselves from the radicalism of local labor unions," according to a statement issued last night by John Adams Thayer, secretary of the New York Publishers' Association.

Demands of the local unions are said to include a 44-hour week, an increase of $14 a week in all present scales, and double and triple time for overtime. The publishers claim it will cost $144.76 in labor to do in New York what it costs $100 to do in Chicago, if the demands are granted.

PRINTERS AGREE TO SUBMIT DEMANDS TO ARBITRATION BOARD

New York, Sept. 17.—Officials of "Big Six," the local union of printers, whose demands for an increase of $14 a week in all present scales in book and job offices, and the establishment by October 1 of a 44-hour week, have been met by a threat on the part of the 127 New York periodical publishers to suspend publication or to move their plants to western cities, where they will be free of labor "radicalism," announced today their willingness to arbitrate the question of higher pay. They declared they were determined, however, to insist on their demand for shorter hours, refusal of which would mean a strike.

As evidence of their determination to press their demands, printers pointed out that a 10 per cent assessment, amounting to $40,000 a week, was being collected from the men for a strike fund.

UKRAINIANS COMPLAIN THAT DENIKINE'S ARMY ATTACKED THEIR FORCES

Protest Is Made To Peace Conference By President of Delegation.

Paris, Sept. 17.—The president of the Ukrainian delegation to the peace conference has written to M. Clemenceau, president of the conference, protesting against attacks by Gen. Denikine's volunteers upon the Ukrainian army, which was in pursuit of Bolshevik forces fleeing after the recent capture of Kiev. The letter says that Gen. Denikine is "making use of entente assistance which was intended to enable him to fight the Bolsheviki, to penetrate Ukrainian territory with the object of re-establishment of the Russian Empire." It also declares that the attack on the Ukrainian army permitted the fleeing Bolsheviki to make their escape.

CITY VETERANS ASK BONUS PAY, BUT NOT $2,000

Hundreds at G. W. V. A. Meeting Back Up Dominion Executive.

WANT GOVT. COMMISSION

Ignore the Toronto Gratuity League, "Non-Representative of Any Body."

"Be it resolved that the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada urge upon the Government of Canada the necessity of the immediate adoption of a system of bonus payments as a more satisfactory and effective means of re-establishing the soldiers;

"And be it further resolved that after careful thought and full consideration we are of the opinion that the granting of such bonus upon an equality basis be limited only by the country's ability to pay, so as to enable the beneficiary to become efficiently re-established with security and happiness, the classification of beneficiaries, the method of distribution and administration to be agreed and decided upon by a joint Parliamentary and G.W.V.A. commission;

"And that this bonus should be in addition to any gratuity or pension for disability resulting from service, and that in the case of members of the expeditionary forces whose death occurred whilst in the service or after discharge therefrom, such bonus shall be paid to their dependents.

"All of the benefits contained in this resolution shall apply to those resident in Canada prior to the 4th of August, 1914, who served in the Imperial forces, and are now, or may be at any future date, domiciled in Canada."

Back Up Dominion G. W. V. A.

Assembled to discuss the question of the meeting of the two bodies mentioned in the second paragraph above, several hundred Great War Veterans in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening, passed the above resolution which had been passed at the Dominion convention held in Vancouver last July. The men did this to show that they were taking their stand firmly behind the Dominion executive at Ottawa, which is trying to arrange and which has been promised, by the Government, the arrangement of this commission.

Until further developments Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, president of the local command, told the men last night, the Great War Veterans were not asking for $2,000 or any other sum of money, but they were seeking consideration from the Government. They expected that it would send a committee to meet their representatives and go into the full details of the gratuity question.

The London command, he said, had been moderate at all times, and had not gone to extremes or become enflamed like some of the other branches of the organization throughout the Dominion. On this, the most important question of the war as far as Canada was concerned, the association should remain dignified and free from any agitation.

Disability Pension Inadequate.

Pensions also should be readjusted, he said. "Small pensions must be discarded." The total disability pension, which at present is $600 was not adequate at all. There was mention of $1,000 as a more reasonable figure.

Major Baron Osborne declared that while the soldier was away, the civilian at home went on strike and got increased wages. This increased the high cost of living, but neither the soldiers' dependents nor the soldier received any higher remuneration. The committee from the Government and the organization must meet before the general election, he told the association, or they would never meet.

Rev. C. W. Riddiford and A. E. Pocock were both of the opinion that an expression of confidence in the work of the Dominion executive of the organization at Ottawa should be given. The G. W. V. A., Mr. Riddiford said, should abide by the result of the conference. If the grants were obtained, it only would be taking from the manufacturers who made 120 per cent profit during the war, and giving it to the man who fought for $1.10 a day. One firm in this city, he understood, had been fined $10,000 for making that amount of profit. Nothing that was below the dignity of the Great War Veterans should be done.

"If this Government doesn't do it, well — we'll made another one," were his concluding remarks.

Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham declared that 400,000 with three O's on the end of it was a big figure. "We went over not for pay, but to win the war," he told them. There should not be talk of threat, he informed them. The Al men should not try to get allowances at present, but should see that the dependents and the crippled got theirs first, he said.

When Col. Graham spoke of the men present as A1, there were cries of "Some of us!"

Speaking of the gratuity for all the men, he said, "The time is not now."

"Sit down!" "Who do you represent?" These and similar remarks were hurled at him. In closing, he repeated that the crippled and the dependant should be served first. He was applauded loudly.

Ignore Gratuity League.

Col. Coles declared that the Gratuity League in Toronto, which did not really represent any of the organizations, was doing more harm than good. By its demands it was putting the returned men in a disagreeable position. There was talk of one being formed here. The men present decided to ignore the body.

Regarding the power that has been given civic councils, namely, that of exempting soldiers' property from taxation for a period of ten years, the members were of the opinion that the council should exercise its powers.

Secretary J. W. Cunliffe declared that there were 426 new members for initiation, and that the total membership of the local command was 1,838.

Comrade Freeland was elected as second vice-president, and Comrade Dunlevy to the executive.

INTERESTING ADDRESS ON JAPANESE CONDITIONS

Mrs. Govenlock, who recently returned from missionary work in Japan, gave an instructive address on the social conditions in that country at a meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the First Methodist Church, which was held in Hyman Hall on Tuesday evening.

"Systematic Giving" was the subject of addresses by Miss Yelland and Mrs. Clement.

A program committee for the thanksgiving meeting to be held in October at the home of the president, Mrs. Manning, 525 Queen's avenue, was appointed.

PREACHED ANNIVERSARY.

DORCHESTER, Sept. 16.—Rev. Mr. Rivers of this place went to Kerwood Sunday to preach anniversary services for the Rev. Dr. Brown, who occupied the pulpit in Dorchester in his place.

A concert will be held in the Methodist Church, Dorchester, on September 22, when Corda Ward Buchner, assisted by other artists, will give a fine program.

EMBRO PASTOR IS GOING TO QUEBEC

REV. E. G. WARREN of Embro, who has accepted a call to Danville, Que.

After a recent union service held in the Congregational Church at Embro the members and adherents were asked to remain and were surprised when Secretary George Forbes read Mr. Warren's resignation. It is five years since Mr. Warren came to Embro, and in that time he has won many friends. He will be missed by church members and citizens generally. He was a student and had at that time two years of his course to put in, but as the call was urgent he studied and did his work faithfully and finally was ordained.

Since coming here the debt has been cleared off the church and the Sunday school has a balance in the bank. He started a Sunday school at Bayne's school house and it has been a success. One of Mr. Warrren's delights was to be among the young people and to increase the membership of his church. He leaves about the middle of October. His resignation was accepted with regret.

FALL WORK ON LAND WELL ADVANCED AND ROOT CROPS IMPROVE

Corn Promises To Be Well Matured.

The Ontario department of agriculture has issued the following report of farm conditions up to September 16:

Fall work generally is still well advanced, although plowing has slackened somewhat, especially on clay fields, as the land has been getting dry again.

Some fall wheat is yet to be sown, but the bulk of the crop has been put in, and much of it is already showing up nicely.

Early potatoes are being dug, but the yield is rather light. Late potatoes are still growing, and promise to do better.

Roots are now doing fairly well, except turnips, which in several counties are suffering from the attacks of aphis.

Corn-cutting is proceeding actively, and, generally speaking, the crop will be a fair one. Silo-filling has begun, and the indications are that nearly all the corn will be well matured and make good silage.

Pastures generally are only fair, and many farmers are doing some feeding. Norfolk, however, claims that alfalfa is giving good pasture.

Market offerings of cattle are about normal, but good heavy animals are comparatively few. Co-operative shipments, however, show a steady increase. Grade dairy cows are selling at from $110 to $175.

Eastern buyers in Peel are paying from $200 to $250 for good heavy horses.

According to the Wentworth representative, hogs have been rushed on the Hamilton market on account of the fall in values. Prices over the province vary from $18 to $19.75 per cwt.

There is a good supply of hay on hand, but there will be less grain for feeding than last year, and straw will be relatively scarce. Haldimand states that co-operative clubs will engage in the sale of their hay, and are already looking to increasing their supply of concentrate stock feeds.

Lincoln claims that more men are going on the farm for the winter than in previous years.

MOTHERS' CLUBS ARRANGE VERY FULL PROGRAM FOR COMING WINTER'S WORK

Yesterday afternoon, with a large and energetic executive meeting of the Union Mothers' Club, held in the Technical School, the wheels were put in motion for the winter's work among the mothers' clubs of the city. Mrs. John Gemmell, the president, was in the chair.

Judging from the program of year's work which was drawn up and accepted at this meeting, the mothers' clubs will be as active as usual again this year. The following subjects which have been named for discussion at the various meetings of the individual clubs suggest many an entertaining controversy, and predict definite action before the year is out:

The first subject which will come under discussion will be the "Temperance Referendum," to be followed by "Lost Opportunities," "Club Courtesy," "Technical Education," "Little Mothers and First Aid" (the idea being that young girls should be trained in the duties of motherhood), "The Use of Leisure," "Juvenile Delinquency," "Civic Playgrounds," "Public Health" (quarantine laws to be specially considered), "Dangers That Beset Girls of the 'Teen Age," "Public Conscience."

The first meeting of the Union Club will be held on September 30 at the Lord Roberts School, the speaker being Mrs. D. C. MacGregor (Marion Keith).

COMFORT STATION FOR EAST END NOW WANTED

The building of a comfort station in East London may be one of the public works undertaken next year. Ald. Edwin R. Seabrook thinks that a building of this kind should be erected, and while it is now too late in the season to undertake the work, it is likely that he will bring it before the next year's council, if he still is a member.

Ald. Seabrook says that the city is greatly in need of accommodation of this kind, there being at present only one building of this nature in the city.

FRUITS AND PIES GIVEN TO CHILDREN'S SHELTER

Donations of fruit and vegetables to the Children's Aid Society were acknowledged at a meeting last night. Baskets of plums, grapes and apples, all prize fruit, were received from the London and Middlesex Fruit Growers' Association. The Vacant Lot Gardening Association and the public school gardens contributed a mixed wagon load of fruit and vegetables. A bag of apples was sent by J. R. Hazzard of the Ontario Hospital for Insane. The Ridout Street Methodist Church gave a number of sandwiches and tomatoes.

Four dozen pies were sent to the shelter by Wong's Cafe, and a dozen and a half were sent by Harvey Mitchell.

COL. CURRIE IS LONE CHAMPION OF GRATUITIES

Other Returned-Soldier M.P.s Oppose $2,000 Bonus Proposal.

TOO BIG A BURDEN

Capt. Manion Says Veterans' Services Cannot Be Paid For in Money.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Apart from Col. J. A. Currie, the proposal that all returned soldiers should receive an additional gratuity of $2,000 did not receive much support from returned fighting men who are members of the House of Commons. Col. Currie, who moved the adjournment of the House in order that the matter might be discussed, closed a fairly long speech with an unqualified approval of the proposal, and also advocated special consideration for university graduates who had served overseas.

Capt. R. J. Manion, who won a Military Cross in France, and Major D. L. Redman, who was wounded at Ypres, thought that the seven or eight hundred million dollars involved in the proposal would be more than the country could undertake to pay, but both favored additional pay for men who really needed it.

In Case of Need.

Capt. Manion spoke of the magnificent services rendered by the Canadian corps, and thought that many soldiers would not care to sell the great heritage of gratitude they had earned for a mess of pottage. Some system, he said, should be devised to help needy cases, and young soldiers who desired to go to college should be aided.

Major Redman expressed his satisfaction with the Government's decision to name a parliamentary committee. This committee, he said, would report before the end of the session, and any necessary money bill could be passed.

Continuing his address on the demand of the returned soldiers for additional gratuity, Col. Currie said that the soldier returning from the front wanted a position, if it was impossible to give him a farm, or if he didn't want to go on the land he should have an opportunity of some other employment. The difficulty in this regard was that imports of manufactured articles from the United States were doubling, while Canadian factories were working undertime. We had the spectacle of our own returned soldiers purchasing goods which were manufactured in the United States, while our own factories were not in a position to grant them employment. He suggested a further duty of 5, 6 or 7 per cent on all imports.

Entitled to It.

In answer to a question by Dr. Edwards, Col. Currie stated that the demand for a further gratuity of $2,000 was made in behalf of men who actually served on the field of battle. Once a man offered his life and underwent real danger he was entitled to the amount.

The special committee which would deal with the soldiers' civil re-establishment bill should, said Col. Currie, inquire into the whole question of further gratuity for returned men. The Government should investigate this department, against which there were many complaints.

Capt. R. J. Manion, M.P. (Fort William), said that as a returned man he did not know of anything he could accept more cheerfully than $2,000, excepting $3,000, but he would like to know who had set this cheap value for the services of men who had won imperishable fame overseas. He doubted very much if the men were willing to sell the splendid heritage they possessed for a mess of pottage. Col. Currie interrupted with a remark to the effect that this was a cheap form of argument.

Inexpressible.

Capt. Manion asked Col. Currie not to worry about his form of argument. "I could not," he said, "express in parliamentary language my opinion of your style of argument."

Capt. Manion then dealt with the financial burden which would be imposed upon the Dominion by the giving of an additional gratuity of $2,000 to all returned men. It would, he said, require $750,000,000 to do this. The great menace to Canada, he said, was the reckless and blatant demagogues, who responded to all demands made and who were willing to pander to anyone so long as they did not have to give the money themselves.

Capt. Manion asserted that there were many soldiers who did not want this gratuity. They had the compensation of knowing that in this war they had played the part of men. "I would not," he said, "sell that priceless possession for any money that you could name.

Capt. Manion said he did not wish to be misunderstood. The country must do all it possibly could for the soldiers. Some system should be devised where cases of real hardship would be helped to get a new start in life. He favored aid for soldiers desiring to attend university, even if it should cost $100,000,000. But it would not profit the soldier boys if they gained these demands at an expense that the country could not afford.

Opposed to Bonus.

Major C. G. Power, Quebec South, another military cross winner, thought there was too much disposition on the part of returned men to spend their gratuities before going to work. He was opposed to the payment of any further bonus to returned men. He expressed his disapproval of the plank in the platform of the Liberal party which advocates the payment of cash bonuses to soldiers. The Government in deciding on a committee, he said, was shifting the responsibility to private members.

Major G. W. Andrews was sympathetically inclined toward the soldiers, but did not express a definite opinion as to an additional gratuity. The unrest amongst soldiers he attributed to inevitable injustices rising out of war.

Colonel C. W. Peck, who has more war decorations than any other member, dissociated himself from "the cheap demagoguery being played to returned soldiers."

All the soldiers wanted, he said, was a square deal. Something should be done for the men who had served longest.

Capt. P. McGibbon said the demand for money was due to unrest which arose from the success of those who stayed at home.

Speakers other than soldiers included Dr. Michael Clark, who was inclined to blame Parliament for the present situation, and favored a gratuity sufficient to put soldiers through the winter months.

WHITE'S AND BEATTY'S PLAY A TIE GAME

Six innings of well-played baseball resulted in a tie score of 4 to 4 last night, when teams from George White & Sons and Beatty Bros. met at Queen's Park, Moffat, McLeod and Gillies were the batteries for White's, and Clark and Hodgins for Beatty's. Clark had twelve strike-outs to his credit and Moffat six.

The tie will be played off Thursday night at 6 o'clock on the Queen's Park diamond. The winners will then play the postoffice team for the championship of the Manufacturers' League.

O'CONNOR URGES PROSECUTION OF SUGAR DEALER

Vice-Chairman of Commerce Board Drops On Profiteer at Hamilton.

HEAVY PENALTIES

Those Who Increase Prices May Be Fined $1,000 and Jailed.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 16.—If there was any doubt as to the power of the board of commerce, represented here by W. F. O'Connor, K.C., its vice-chairman, and Mr. O'Connor's determination to use that power, it was dispelled today. On Mr. O'Connor's order a policeman appeared before the board with George Pollock, a local grocer, who was charged with taking as excessive price for sugar. He admitted the charge, and Mr. O'Connor said Pollock was guilty of an indictable offence, and that he would wire the facts to the attorney-general, with advice that criminal proceedings be taken against Pollock. Mr. O'Connor also instructed the constable to bring before him Gorin & Hyde, from whom he had bought the sugar. Pollock had sold the sugar for $15.75 per hundredweight, and paid to Gorin & Hyde $13.

"There was a rake-off of six cents on this deal," said Mr. O'Connor.

In connection with the Pollock case, Mr. O'Connor made the following statement:

Fine and Imprisonment.

"This is not the time for an increase in prices. Prices should go down from now on. In this connection I wish to announce now that all vendors, from the farmer who increases prices on milk or anything else, will be guilty of an indictable offence, punishable by a fine of $1,000 and two years' imprisonment."

The statement was greeted by a round of hand-clapping.

Mr. O'Connor made the statement that a quantity of sugar was on its way to this city, and that it would be sold at twelve cents. He admitted that the dealers would scarcely break even on this price.

Veteran Appointed.

This evening Mr. O'Connor stated that Lieut.-Col. Frank Morrison, D. S.O., lately returned from overseas, had been appointed the board's representative for Hamilton and would deal with all matters in which the board was interested. He had received some correspondence this afternoon in which were statements of alleged profiteering and these he had turned over to Col. Morrison.

After court arose Mr. O'Connor announced that he had been satisfied that Gorin & Hyde, who sold sugar to George Pollock, charged him only 12 cents and not 13 cents, as he swore. The sugar was sold by them at retail at this price. This figure was allowed by the board and there would in consequence be no prosecution of Gorin & Hyde.

At the morning session, the council chamber was filled with people who had complaints against the prices they have to pay for food.

The session opened with a lively tilt between the commissioner and Controller Halcrow. The controller wanted to know why action was not taken on the information supplied by Hamilton two years ago.

Mr. O'Connor intimated that his hands were tied then. He was dealing with conditions as they existed today, and was prepared to make things hum.

James Lindsay, an old soldier, became rather abusive, in arguing over the price charged by a local restaurant for sandwiches, and was summarily dismissed.

Will Be Prosecuted.

Mrs. Aida Nash testified that George Pollack of Pollack Brothers charged her $15.75 for 100 pounds of sugar. A policeman was sent for Pollack, and the commissioners, after hearing the evidence, found him guilty. Particulars were promptly wired to the attorney-general, and Mr. O'Connor promised that a prosecution would follow.

Mr. O'Connor announced that he would not stand for the price of milk being boosted. The board would see that the proposed tilt was stopped.

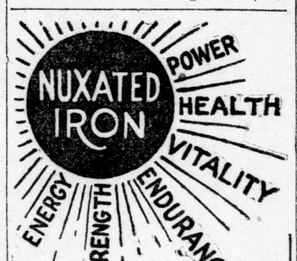

If the clothing men did not give the clothing trade the best of it, things would be made awkward for them.

The working man suffered through the abnormal condition now prevailing, but would soon come into his own. In five years there would be a new world.

Food costs would never drop to what they were before, and neither would wages. But in the remaking of things, Mr. O'Connor opined that the workingman would come somewhere near getting his dues.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advt

TO GROW HAIR ON BALD HEADS

Specialist Gives Simple Recipe That Works Fine.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair-tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring grey hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Ladies using this prescription should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.—Advt.

SHE BELIEVES IT SAVED HER LIFE

Winnipeg Woman's Recovery by Taking Tanlac Surprised All Her Friends.

"My wonderful recovery has been a surprise to all who knew of my dreadful condition," said Mrs. Amelia Hooley of 863 Fleet avenue, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, Canada, recently, in one of the most interesting and remarkable statements yet published in connection with Tanlac.

"My system has been badly run down for several years," continued Mrs. Hooley, "and although everything was done for me that could be done for a person, I got worse instead of better. I had begun to think Tanlac was going to fail me, too, as I could not see much improvement, if any, until I started on my third bottle. At one time I thought of giving it up, but if I had it would have been the mistake of my life, for, really and truly, it has made a new person of me. My stomach was in the worst kind of fix and my appetite left me entirely. Nothing tasted good and even the most delicate and tempting foods did not appeal to me. What little I did eat soured on my stomach and the gas from it would bloat me up and made me miserable. Then I contracted rheumatism in my left leg, which finally affected my whole side, and it was as much as I could do to get around. In fact, I was right down in bed for six weeks, hardly able to move. This leg would pain me so, especially at night, that I couldn't lie still. There was also a terrible pain that started in my right shoulder and went up the back of my neck clean to the top of my head. This pain was so severe at times I thought I would go distracted, and I have used mustard and the strongest kind of liniments until I actually burned the skin off trying to get relief. I would lie awake night after night just suffering agony, never getting a wink of sleep. I would get up mornings feeling like a wreck, unable to sew or do my housework, and would get so weak I would almost faint and feel like I was dying. I would have dizzy spells when I could hardly stand up, and these left me so weak and faint that I feared my heart was going to stop beating.

"Last year all arrangements were made to put my children in a convent, as I had been given up to die. My nerves were in such a shattered condition that I couldn't stand the slightest noise. Even the children playing around would almost make me frantic. I had fallen off in weight until I was scarcely more than a frame of skin and bones. At the time I began taking Tanlac I only weighed ninety-three pounds and my condition was really alarming. My husband wanted me to stick to Tanlac until I had given it a fair trial and while I was taking my third bottle I commenced to get relief. I have used five bottles now and my improvement has been nothing less than wonderful. A few days ago I went to visit a friend and she had so much to say about how well I look that I asked her if I had really been very sick, and she said she never had any idea I would live. I have not only gotten relief from all my suffering, but I have actually gained twelve pounds in weight besides, and I am just so happy and grateful over my recovery that I want to tell everybody about Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Ltd., and by an established agency in every town.

THE REFERENDUM.—The Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club will meet for the first time this season on Thursday evening, September 18, when Capt. Omond will speak on "The Referendum."

TO ADDRESS C. OF C.—W. A. Beddoe, Canadian trade commissioner at Auckland, N. Z., will address the chamber of commerce at a luncheon in the Tecumseh House next Wednesday. This is the first of the regular monthly luncheons to be held since the vacation season.

DISPOSAL OF FUNDS.—The disposal of the colors of the 33rd Battalion and also of the 33rd canteen funds will be discussed at a big meeting of the 33rd Comrades' Club in the Masonic Temple Friday evening. Many of the old officers of the battalion will attend.

PERMITS INCREASING.—Building figures for the month are creeping steadily upward. Fifty-five permits have been issued to date, for amounts totaling $76,055. Among the latest permits is one to M. Roland to remodel a two-story house at 486 Queen's avenue into two apartments at a cost of $550.

CAR RECOVERED.—The Ford car, 1916 model, owned by W. W. Stanley of R. R. 2, Denfield, which was stolen at Springbank Saturday evening last, has been recovered at Windsor, according to information received by the county police here. The car was not damaged by the thieves, and has been returned to the owner.

CALLED TO TORONTO.—Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, president of the local branch of the G. W. V. A., left for Toronto at noon today. He was summoned by wire to attend a meeting of the Ontario executive of the Great War Veterans, held there this evening. It is thought that the question of gratuities will be discussed.

STRUCK BY AWNING.—A young woman narrowly escaped serious injury last night when two boys pulled down the awning of the Raphael-Mack, ladies' wear store, as she was passing. Part of the frame work struck her on the head. Her male companion gave chase to the mischief-makers, but was unable to capture them. A policeman was notified of the accident.

CITY'S FINE FLOWER EXHIBIT.—Among the flower exhibits at the Western Fair, one which attracted much attention, was that of the city parks department. The parks board has officially complimented E. E. Graham, superintendent of parks, for the fine showing. Every effort is being made to turn the city parks into beauty spots and the superintendent will be sent to Toronto to view the parks there and obtain supplies of stock for next year.

PROVIDING ITS OWN SUPPLIES.—The public works department of the city is gradually becoming a self-supporting unit, so far as carrying out construction work and furnishing supplies are concerned. The latest move in this direction is have the municipality manufacture the tile which it needs for sewer purposes. The city already owns cement mixing machines, and tile-molders will be purchased. This work will be carried on throughout the winter, and there is likely to be a fairly large supply of sewer pipe on hand, when the next year's work commences.

EMPLOYER DECLARES

only face the demand for a 40-hour week later.

Mr. Thompson also held that the demand of labor for the 8-hour day only preceded a demand for still further reduction of hours, and wanted assurance that labor set a minimum somewhere.

J. A. McClelland, in closing the discussion for the employees, moved that the subject matter be referred to the committee appointed to deal with it. Col. Thomas Cantey, of New Glasgow, and S. R. Parsons, of Toronto, thought that an 8-hour day over Canada was almost an impossibility. The latter expressed the opinion that it would paralyze industry.

H. B. Butler, of the British ministry of labor and secretary of the Industrial Labor Conference to be held in Washington; Ernest T. Trigg and John C. Frazee, officials of the federation of construction employees of the United States, were present this morning, and were invited to address the conference. Mr. Butler thought the present conference would help greatly in shaping Canada's position before the industrial conference, where it was hoped to remove the fear of foreign competition by standardizing the laws respecting hours and conditions of labor.

Mr. Trigg congratulated the conference for its spirit of "give and take," and believed Canada was setting the pace for the rest of the world in getting masters and men together in free discussion.

FRENCH TROOPS WILL REPLACE BRITISH ARMY NOW OCCUPYING SYRIA

Agreement Calls For Evacuation of Allenby's Forces By November.

Paris, Sept. 17.—The agreement reached by Premier Clemenceau and Field Marshal Allenby of the British army concerning the occupation of Syria provides for the evacuation of all the area north of the frontier between Palestine and Syria on or before November 1 by British troops, according to morning newspapers. The British will be relieved by French forces, with the exception of the districts of Damascus, Homs, Hamah and Aleppo, which will be left out of the area of occupation, but will pass under French influence, it is understood.

Straw Hats Start Race Riot In N.Y.

Negro Killed, Three Injured When Whites and Blacks Mix.

New York, Sept. 16.—One negro was killed, two others wounded, and a policeman was badly beaten in a race riot which broke out in the San Juan Hill district early today. The fighting started in One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street near Lenox avenue, when a policeman sought to interfere with a crowd of men who were tearing out-of-season straw hats from each others' heads.

Reserves were called out from four police stations, and soon a shouting mob was struggling through the streets, while stones and other missiles were flying in every direction.

Police Corp. A. Hayes was struck in the head and his jaw was broken. He was kicked and beaten while lying in the street.

DEAN L. N. TUCKER ELECTED TO OFFICE AT ANGLICAN SYNOD

PROHIBITION DISCUSSED

Dr. Thornloe Points Out Evils to the Old License System.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The Ontario Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Canada, at the opening of its fourth triennial sessions yesterday, heard a proposal to discontinue its existence, its work to be taken over by the executive council of the church in the province. It debated for some time the advisability of sending delegates to the New Orleans Conference, provided the conference would be agreeable. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Fisher on behalf of the city, and Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, on behalf of the Dominion Government.

The sessions opened in the afternoon with the metropolitan's charge to both houses in joint assembly, delivered by His Grace Archbishop Thornloe of Algoma. The opening sermon was delivered in Christ Church Cathedral in the morning by Right Rev. Dr. Bidwell, bishop of Ontario. Very Rev. Dean L. Norman Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, Ont., was elected prolocutor of the lower house: James Nicholson of Toronto, lay secretary; Rev. W. J. Brain of Toronto, clerical secretary, and Matthew Wilson of Chatham, honorary treasurer.

Archbishop Thornloe, metropolitan of Ontario, in his opening charge, referred feelingly to the death of Dr. William Lennox Mills, lord bishop of Ontario, and Dr. Charles Hamilton, a former metropolitan of Ontario.

Referring to present social unrest, Dr. Thornloe said: "We need not feel dismayed by outbursts of lawlessness and selfish assertion of individual and class rights, expressed in profiteering and stocks. Such things are not unnatural at the present time."

Discusses Prohibition.

Under reference to prohibition, Dr. Thornloe said that while the church must take sides or perish in the straight issues of right and wrong, he thought she might well shrink from committing herself in an issue upon which good men differed.

"I have always had the conviction that prohibition—understood as the suppression by legal enactment of the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicants as a beverage—is theoretically unjustifiable, but there are times when human rights must be invaded, such times as war, when martial law is enforced."

Terrible evils, he said, could be traced back to the use of liquor under the license system.

Since the coming of prohibition there had been a remarkable change for the better in his diocese.

"In connection with the question of industrial unrest, Dr. Thornloe held that the church should take a strictly neutral position in the matter of capital and labor. The church should not let herself be known as the "rich man's friend," indifferent to the membership of the working man. The toiler had the right for his children to grow up in vigor of body and mind, and the right to relaxation for himself and family.

The readjustment of the relations of capital and labor on sound constitutional bases was the prime duty of every Government at the present time.

MINISTERS MUST

Much amusement was caused by Rev. G. Dewey, recently inducted as minister of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, who rose to say that he was among the disfranchised Methodist ministers, and that his name and those of two or three other members of his family were on the voters' list, and asked Rev. T. McCullough whether he could vote or not. Mr. McCullough explained that he could not legally do so, not having resided here since April last. Mr. Dewey said he would like to make the attempt, anyway, when there were so many to vote in the one house. Counting the Methodist ministers who have changed charges this year, and members in their families who have the right to vote, Mr. McCullough stated that about 1,000 Methodists were off the voters' list.

Too Much Confidence.

Capt. Omond, speaking on the great work to be done by the army of workers against the liquor traffic, expressed the opinion that he thought there was too much confidence being placed on a sweeping victory for prohibition, and this caused people who might be on the prohibition side to act indifferently and not vote or help in the cause. It was suggested by Capt. Omond that the ministers of the various congregations find out which members had motor cars and have these placed at the disposal of the committee to take voters to the polls. Capt. Omond will send a program to all ministers, including the officers of the Salvation Army, suggesting what can be done by the ministers to influence the people to vote "right."

President D. C. MacGregor asked that a report be given by the committee on the Midway at the Western Fair this year. Rev. Byron Snell, in a short verbal report, said that the chief censor at Toronto had declared the shows "clean," and they found it unnecessary to investigate when the shows came direct from Toronto to the Western Fair. No report had been prepared by the committee, which had been asked to investigate the recent local strikes. During the course of the morning discussions on the best ways to put the referendum question before the public were held between the various clergy.

THORNDALE MOTORIST SMASHES STREET CAR SERIOUSLY INJURED

Charles Mann of Thorndale drove a motor car almost head-on into a street car on Oxford street near Maitland at 11:30 o'clock last night, and was seriously injured.

Mann was thrown from the machine, and suffered cuts and gashes on the head and injuries to his hands and arms. The motor car was wrecked, and the street car was damaged.

Mann drove east on Oxford street along the street car tracks while an Oxford car approached from the opposite direction. The driver of the motor car turned into the roadway a short distance away from the street car, and then turned back and struck the front end of the car, according to the motorman.

The injured man is in St. Joseph's Hospital, where his injuries were reported this afternoon to be serious, but not fatal.

A party of 145 soldiers, who enlisted in this district, arrived in the city at the Quebec street station this afternoon. They proceeded directly from the station to the Tecumseh Barracks for demobilization.

No Sentiment Must Be Permitted, With Horse Feed So High

When City's Animals Lose Their Usefulness, They Lose Their Lives.

A horse has a hard life. This is the unanimous opinion of the equine employees of the city, particularly in the garbage department. It would not be so bad if after a life of toil there were a few restful years in view, but this is far from being the case.

In fact, "Bob," one of the most faithful of the city's servants, will depart this life within a few days because he is lame and no longer able to go his daily rounds. Hay and feed are at so high a price that the city cannot afford to keep him.

Four more horses, Lion, Jerry, Rock and another Bob have outlived their usefulness, but are still good for light work. They will be sold.

SURVEYORS WORKING ON LONGWOOD ROAD

Will Report On Best Route For Highway.

Ontario Government surveyors on the Longwood road, which may be the route of the much-discussed provincial highway, are nearing the city. They are now working under Engineers Code and Demery, in the vicinity of Wardsville. Lastspring they came through the county and surveyed to St. Thomas and thence along the Talbot road to Windsor. After finishing work there they proceeded back along the Longwood route.

Reports of the levels on both roads from here to Windsor will be forwarded to the department of public works so that it may have the information necessary to determine which road will be best for the transprovince highway.

PRINGLE WILL SEE THAT CANADIAN PUBLISHERS GET REQUIRED NEWSPRINT

Inquiry Is Again Postponed After a Brief Session.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The newsprint inquiry is on again, off again, today's session before Commissioner R. A. Pringle having resulted in an adjournment to the second week in October. Today's feature was the announcement by the commissioner that Canadian papers are in a serious way for newsprint, some finding it hard to obtain the requirements. "But," he added, "so long as I am paper controller, I am going to see the Canadian press supplied with paper. There is a lot of it in this country, and if the Canadian mills have been making contracts outside the country, I can't help it. It is a secondary question."

JUDGMENT EXPECTED SOON IN COUNTY VS. CITY SUIT

Judgment in the important county of Middlesex vs. city of London case, which was tried at the court house last winter, will be forwarded from Toronto soon, it is expected by officials at the county buildings. This week word was received from Osgoode Hall asking that the minutes of the suburban area commission and the exhibits used in the case be sent.

Middlesex was suing London for $7,500 which, it is claimed, was the city's share of the cost of work on the suburban roads, and which was not paid. The suburban area commission was composed of city and county men, and was instituted for the purpose of managing the roads in a belt extending about the city. When the case was heard at the assizes last spring judgment was reserved.

EASY MORNING FOR POLICE COURT STAFF

If the number of prisoners arraigned in police court this morning is any criterion, London is free from crime. Not a drunk, wife-beater, boot-legger or even a speeder put in an appearance. Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, Police Court Clerk John Moule and all the other officers engaged in conducting the morning court were present, but there was no work for them.

According to those who frequent the police court day after day to hear offenders "tell it to the judge," Thursday will be a big day. Following a slack day, there is always a busy one, they say.

HEAD OF PACKING FIRM IS BEFORE COMMERCE BOARD

E. C. Fox Explains Methods Used by William Davies Company.

OPERATE MANY STORES

Firm Has No Interest in the Stockyards, Declares Witness.

Toronto, Seept. 17.—E. C. Fox, representing the William Davies Company, was first called by Lieut.-Col. Price, and in reply to questions, stated that 37 or 40 retail stores were operated in Toronto, while business was also carried on in other Ontario towns. Business in Winnipeg had been discontinued, he said, because the company could not operate at a profit in that city.

Explains Company System.

Mr. Fox then explained in detail the system followed by the company in purchasing hogs, stating that buyin[g] were "fixed a week at a time." Buyers, engaged exclusively by the company, were given a commission on purchases of 25c per 100 pounds.

Answering further questions by counsel for the board, the general manager of the company said more business was done by his firm in f.o.b. hogs than stockyard hogs. He declared that neither the company nor the directors had any interest in the Union stockyards. This question was repeated by the counsel, and Mr. Fox again replied in the negative.

Have Their Own Expert.

Mr. O'Connor here stated that he was anxious to get at actual costs, and asked Mr. Fox whether the company had ever engaged a costs expert to work out the real costs of the business.

"No, we have had no outsiders," was the reply. "In our Canadian trade we have four cuts, and the relative costs is the difficulty."

The commissioner remarked that if each separate cost was arrived at it would be possible to ascertain the actual cost of a certain piece of pork. He stated packers might be getting too little for certain of their products and charging too much for others. "I was not satisfied with the Henderson commission in its inquiry into costs," he declared. "It should be easy for a costs accountant." The trouble with the system is that you really don't know what your costs are."

Mr. Fox—"Oh, I think so, Mr. Commissioner. I would like you to see our system."

Mr. Fox stated that about 50 travelers were employed by the company, all operating in Ontario and the eastern Provinces. The entire business of the company was done with retailers, wholesale trade having been discontinued.

Asked whether the company operated any plants outside of Canada, Mr. Fox stated that one was conducted in Chicago. He reiterated his statement that the company had no connection with any stockyards.

Products for Export.

"Most of our products from Chicago are for export," he said. "We sometimes import here and finish products up."

He then admitted that a little retail trade was done in New York, where Canadian bacon was wanted.

Mr. O'Connor asked what the company intended to do with the Chicago plant when export business ceased, Mr. Fox replying that he hoped the export business would not end altogether. The company was also trying to work up a domestic trade in the United States, he said.

Business Had Trebled.

Questioned by Mr. Price the William Davies' representative said the volume of business during the best year of the war was about three times what it was in 1913.

Col. Price then declared that with this amount of business the price of bacon to the consumer should have been reduced. "But I pay more for my hogs," interjected Mr. Fox.

Questions and answers which followed brought out the fact that domestic prices were governed largely by the amount of export trade.

Foreign countries, he admitted, would pay almost any price for products, and ultimately the domestic consumer would be required to pay the same price.

"Don't you think you should give the Canadian consumer the advantage after all your export trade?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"I think we have during the past three months," replied Mr. Fox.

HEARST APPEALS FOR PEOPLE TO VOTE ON COMING REFERENDUM

Declares Government Will Carry Out Will of People Without Fear Or Favor.

Renfrew, Sept. 16.—An appeal to the people to vote on the temperance issue as citizens of a great province without regard to their personal appetites and desires, was made by Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario, who was the principal speaker at a mass meeting in the O'Brien Theatre tonight in behalf of Hon. T. W. McGarry, who has again been selected as the Conservative standard-bearer for South Renfrew. The duty, he said, rested on the people, and the government would faithfully, fearlessly and honestly carry out the verdict which would be given in the referendum vote. He defended the action of the government, and said he had no apology to make. He paid the highest tributes of praise to the services rendered by Mr. McGarry as provincial treasurer. The other speakers of the evening included Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, and Mrs. A. Vankoughnet, Toronto, and Hon. Mr. McGarry.

NO GENERAL STRIKE EXPECTED IN BOSTON

Union Men Await Meeting of Central Labor Union On Sunday.

Boston, Sept. 17.—Although nineteenths of the unions affiliated with the Boston Central Labor Union have voted to support the police "to the limit" in their strike for union recognition, according to a statement made at a meeting of the police union last night by Frank H. McCarthy, local organizer of the American Federation of Labor, union leaders asserted today that this did not indicate any immediate general strike.

It was the general feeling among labor men that there would be no definite change in the situation until after the meeting of the Central Labor Union next Sunday at which reports of the strike votes taken during the week will be received from the local unions. Confidence that the state guard troops, with the volunteer force had complete control of the situation was evidenced by the elimination of many of the store window barricades about the city.

BUY FROM GERMANY TO HELP EXCHANGE, SAYS CLEMENCEAU

Present Situation in France Due To Permitting Free Importations.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—(Associated press.)—The Chamber of Deputies today resumed discussion of the peace treaty with Germany.

J. L. Barthou, former foreign minister, and L. J. Puech, former minister of public works, demanded a statement from Louis Klotz, French finance minister, on what they termed the extremely precarious condition of exchange. This demand was supported by numerous other deputies.

M. Klotz said the exchange situation was due to France permitting free importations.

"The only remedy," he said, "is to show America and Great Britain that we can go to other countries with a growing volume of colonial and national productions. Otherwise exchange will continue to rise."

M. Clemenceau said that the remedy was to cease buying from the United States and Great Britain and to buy in Germany, where exchange favored France.

Rene Viviani, former minister of foreign affairs, asked ratification of the treaty. Failure to ratify, he declared, would repudiate the proposed concert of nations, and leave France isolated to face Germany.

CAILLAUX MUST FACE CHARGES OF INTRIGUING FOR PREMATURE PEACE

PARIS, Sept. 16.—(Havas Agency.)—The commission of the high court has ordered Joseph Caillaux, former premier of France, to face charges of intriguing to bring about a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany.

Joseph Caillaux, who has been in custody for a year and a half awaiting trial, recently was removed from prison to a hospital because of ill-health.

PEACE CONFERENCE DID NOT DECIDE ON EVACUATING RUSSIA

Subject of Russia Was Not Discussed At All.

REPORT IS DENIED

Fiume Episode Still Regarded as Matter For Italy To Deal With.

PARIS, Sept. 16. — The supreme council did not meet today, but it will resume its sessions Wednesday with Sir Eyre Crowe, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, as the British plenipotentiary.

The reported desire of Great Britain to end the conference is generally believed in conference to be due to David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, although the British delegation has issued a statement saying that Mr. Lloyd George does not wish to break up the conference.

A statement issued yesterday and credited to the British, saying that the supreme council had agreed upon a policy for the evacuation of Russia, and had decided against "Russian adventures," holding that the future of Russia must be settled by the Russians, was flatly denied today by the American and French delegation, which said the subject of Russia was not discussed.

Much Uncertainty.

There is a general feeling of uncertainty in peace conference circles. The peace delgates are said to believe that British domestic politics are rapidly affecting Mr. Lloyd George's attitude. There is much comment, therefore, on the situation.

Signor Tittoni of the Italian delegation, is leaving tonight for Rome. The Fiume situation was the subject of many informal conferences today. Rumors were in circulation that the Allies might blockade Fiume, but the supreme council's disposition still is to regard the D'Annunzio episode as a mutiny which Italy alone must handle.

Polish Outrages Against Jews Not Inspired by Govt.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—Henry Morgenthau, head of the American commission to investigate the treatment of Jews in Poland, has returned to Paris. While the Morgenthau report is incomplete it is known that the investigation of the commission did not convince it that the Polish outrages against Jews were inspired by the Government. The Morgenthau report will lay stress upon the necessity of the reconciliation of the discordant elements by mutual concessions in the interests of the new Poland.

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. Finoan, 516 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Strathroy Fair Is Opened by Currie; Thousands Present

Commander of the Canadian Corps Has Nothing But Confidence in Future—Addresses and Silver Presented.

[BY STAFF REPORTER.]

STRATHROY, Sept. 16.—Strathroy Agricultural Society Fair broke all attendance records this year by attracting crowds of 15,000 people today, when the fair was officially opened by General Sir Arthur Currie.

Perfect weather and the presence of Canada's famous general were the two chief factors in drawing the large crowds, which greatly outnumbered the attendance on Monday, the first and preparation day. From early morn all of the roads leading to the fair grounds were travelled by scores of motors and carriages, each filled to capacity; Grand Trunk trains contributed a large number of people from London and other centres, and hundreds of local residents walked to the ground. So, when General Currie and party arrived shortly after 2 o'clock, every section of the park thronged with visitors and the record attendances of 50 years were outnumbered.

Live Stock Entries.

Live stock entries, especially horses, are a feature of the fair. Animals from the finest breeds of Canada attracted continuous attention today. Exhibits in the horticultural building and the Crystal Palace are also very conspicuous, and many varieties of ladies' work and exhibits of fine arts also abound. Each section of the grounds attracted so many interested people that it would have been difficult to judge which part was the most popular. Considerable interest also centred in the trotting and pacing speed events upon the track. There were two 2:30 trials for trotters and pacers, consisting of mile heats, for purses of $150, and a 2:20 trial, mile heats, for a purse of $200 in the afternoon.

At 2:30 o'clock from the platform in front of the main grandstand, the formal opening ceremony took place. First came the reading of appropriate addresses to General Currie by Secretary David Evans on behalf of the Strathroy Agricultural Society, and John Stuart, clerk of the Middlesex County council. Then Chairman R. M. Trueman of the fair board introduced the general.

Considers Privilege.

"I greatly esteem the privilege of opening this fair," said General Currie, "for it recalls to my mind so many boyhood memories. In those good old days there were very few buildings on the grounds, and most of the visitors used to walk then, instead of riding in motors as is the custom today. I am pleased to note that the parking field is black with motor cars, for it shows the district's progress. The modern prosperity is due to the spirit manifested by those wonderful old pioneers who first settled this county—those splendid people of brains, brawn and patience.

"I do not wish to introduce matters concerning the war, except to mention the fact that it was the spirit of those pioneers which was borne to France by your sons, and which gave the Canadian Corps the wonderful record it has won. That record in brief is that the Canadians never lost a battle or a gun, and during the last two years never assaulted a position that they did not capture. The support and assistance of the people at home, too, aided the boys in achieving that record. Confidence that Canada was behind them was instilled into their hearts as they went over the top.

Confidence in Future.

"At the present time, remembering and following that old pioneer spirit, we can look to the future with confidence, no matter how great the difficulties are. Personal service to the country in times of danger should replace the spirit of personal selfishness."

A beautiful silver tea set was presented to General and Lady Currie by the members of the county council, after which an eulogistic address was read.

At noon today the directors of the fair held a splendid, but quiet, luncheon in the town hall in honor of General Currie. Brig.-Gen. L. W. Shannon, Lieut.-Col. W. Coles and several civic representatives of London were present, in addition to the members of the county council, fair board and local civic officials. At 2 o'clock the party journeyed to the fair grounds by motor.

Opposition For Mackenzie King a Probability

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Sept.16.—the persistent hostile criticism by the Government press on the island of Mackenzie King strengthens the belief that he is to be opposed in Prince County at the coming by-election, Ex-Premier Arsenault is likely to be his opponent, as it is expected he would capture the French vote. The Liberals are confident that Mr. King's majority will be even greater than that of the late Captain Joseph Read.

GOOD RACING PROVES BIG ATTRACTION AT FAIR AT GODERICH

GODERICH, Sept. 16.—The features at the exhibition here today were the farmers' trot and the 2:20 pace or trot, which proved good racing and was witnessed by 9,000 people, the biggest crowd, the directors say, that they have ever had on the second day of the fair.

A large number of entries are shown in all lines of stock and produce. The attendance on the grandstand for was first appearance of attractions was the largest for a number of years. Judging of stock and other entries started today.

495,000 Pounds Wiltshire Bacon Held in Cure

WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—At present there are 495,000 pounds of Wiltshire bacon held in "cure" in Winnipeg by the Swift Canadian Company for export trade, according to J. H. Tapley, manager. Questions regarding the effect that the release of this quantity of bacon would create on the local market formed a feature of the afternoon session of the board of commerce today when Commissioner James Auld presided in the absence of Judge Robson, chairman, who is indisposed.

Mr. Tapley stated that the release of the bacon would not reduce prices to any appreciable extent, and about the only effect would be to make the packers slow up in the buying of hogs, the price of which would drop.

$2,000 GRATUITY WILL NOT EVEN BE CONSIDERED

Hon. C. J. Doherty Makes Official and Definite Statement.

NO ROYAL COMMISSION

And Special Committee Will Not Deal With This Matter At All.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The proposal put forward by returned soldiers that a gratuity of $2,000 shall be paid to every man who served at the front, and that $1,500 and $1,000 shall be given to those who served in England and Canada respectively, will not be considered by the Government. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, speaking in the House of Commons tonight, officially and definitely stated that the Parliamentary committee which will be appointed to deal with the new soldiers' civil re-establishment bill will not take up this matter. He stated that the proposition that every returned man, regardless of his financial situation should be paid this gratuity, was not in the interests of the country or the men themselves.

Mr. Doherty's statement came after a large number of members had expressed their views on the matter in a debate, precipitated by Col. John A. Currie on a motion to adjourn the House in order to discuss the question of gratuities.

Showed Courtesy.

The minister of justice declared that the Government had given every opportunity to the representatives of the soldiers to state their views, and had shown them every courtesy.

"There was no slamming of doors in the faces of any soldiers," he said. The Government, after giving every consideration to the proposal, had decided that it was not feasible and had stated its decision frankly.

As far as the appointment of a royal commission was concerned, Mr. Doherty stated that the Government could not see what good end could be served by such action. The prime minister, in a letter to the secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, had offered to place at the disposal of representatives of the soldiers all the facts which led to the Government's decision. What reason was there for appointing a commission to ascertain facts which were already in the possession of the Government.

Monthly Payments.

Replying to a question by Major D. L. Redman as to whether the Government would consider making monthly payments to soldiers, the minister of justice said that any matter which came under the head of soldiers' civil re-establishment would be considered by the committee.

Answering Col. Currie, Mr. Doherty said that there was no fixed indemnity which Canada was to receive from Germany. The Allied nations were to submit statements on losses suffered by civilian populations, pensions and allowances to soldiers and dependents, and Canada would receive her share of whatever the commission decided that Germany could pay.

In regard to finding work for returned soldiers the records showed that 16,000 had been placed in the public service, and recently they were being engaged at the rate of forty to fifty daily.

Deceived Public.

D. D. McKenzie, who followed, charged that Mr. Doherty and Mr. Rowell had deceived the returned soldiers and the public. The latter had told them the veterans would be heard by the House committee and now the minister of justice qualified that statement to a great extent and said they would only be heard on certain matters. As a result members had been living in a fool's paradise, and the member for Calgary had withdrawn his motion for a royal commission, only to find that the committee was not to cover the ground he had expected it to. He charged Mr. Rowell with making statements with a double meaning, and asked if it was a plan to silence the members of Parliament from Calgary and Fort William, and at the same time making sure that no evidence of the veterans should be taken by that committee.

SOUTH ESSEX AGAIN SELECTS MR. WIGLE AS REPRESENTATIVE

Member of Ontario Parliament Is Renominated.

FARMERS NO MENACE

Speaker at Convention Says Only Tories Fear the U. F. O.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Sept. 16.—Lambert Wigle, member of the Ontario Legislature for South Essex, was again chosen the standard-bearer of the Liberal party at an enthusiastic convention held this afternoon at Kingsville. His only opponent, William B. Clifford, of Gosfield South Township, was so badly beaten on the first ballot that the officials declined to make public the result of the vote.

When the convention was called to order by Norman Buckland, president of the South Liberal Association, 143 delegates had handed in their credentials, with every township fully represented. President Buckland, in calling for nominations, suggested that there was no need for a change in candidates. The present member, Mr. Wigle, he said, had represented the constituency in a manner that entitled him to the nomination without opposition. Mr. Clifford was nominated, however, by delegates from Mersea, who claimed it their privilege to name a candidate, although they admitted there was "no complaint against Mr. Wigle."

No Division in Ranks.

"There is no division in the ranks of the Liberal party," President Buckland declared. "If the United Farmers' organization has caused any alarm among leaders of the rival political parties, it is the Tories who are doing all the worrying, for we have nothing to fear from the farmers."

Hartley Dewart, K. C., leader of the Ontario Liberal party, was given a rousing reception when introduced. He started off by charging the Government with making a political football of the plan to build provincial highways. "First, the Government awarded contracts for building sections of the Ottawa-Windsor highway," Mr. Dewart said, "and then they withdrew them, deciding instead to build the roads by day work. This was done to fill the pockets of their friends at the expense of the farmers, who will have to pay the greater proportion of the cost."

Confuse the Issue.

Mr. Dewart, unlike other speakers who followed him, took no decided stand on the question of prohibition, although he twitted the Government with planning to bring on an election at the same time as the referendum, which, he said, would confuse the issue.

"The Government has decided to place the prohibition question in the hands of the people, and I, as the chosen leader of the great Liberal party, am well content to let the people decide," Mr. Dewart declared, amid ringing cheers. "While the referendum ballot looks like a maze, the people, I am sure, will solve the riddle in no uncertain manner," he added.

"The people of the province will show that they do not desire any changes in the Ontario temperance act," said Lambert Wigle, who was called on by President Buckland to give an account of his stewardship. "The act, forced from the Government by public opinion, needs no amendment. The people of this district will vote almost unanimously against any change," he continued.

Criticising the Government for its lack of sympathy with the rural communities, Mr. Wigle said the farmers could not expect anything more tangible than promises from the Hearst Government.

After Votes.

"Now that the election is near, they have decided that Essex County is in need of an experimental farm. That is a sprat to catch the votes of the farmers of this county," the member declared, drawing a round of boisterous cheering, which was kept up for several minutes. "The farmers of this district will see through that, however," he concluded.

Resolutions indorsing the leadership of Mr. Dewart and Hon. Mackenzie King were introduced by Dr. H. A. Bowie of Essex, who said the party was fortunate in its choice as leaders of two such sterling Liberals.

"The party has been in the doldrums for a long time," said Dr. Bowie, "but under the leadership of two such men as Mr. Dewart and Mr. King we shall soon assume the reins of government, both in the provincial and Dominion parliaments.

W. NISSOURI SCHOOL FAIR BRINGS OUT MANY FINE EXHIBITS

THORNDALE, Sept. 16.—Despite the inclement weather, quite a large crowd attended the annual school fair of West Nissouri Township, which was held on the Thorndale fair grounds on Monday, and which was a decided success, owing in no small measure to the splendid supervision of R. A. Finn, agricultural representative, and to the efforts of the various teachers of the township.

P. J. Thompson, county school inspector, was present, and gave an excellent address on "The Necessity of Improvement in School Buildings and Grounds." The inspector also eulogized the teachers of West Nissouri on the excellent record made durning the past year in the success of entrance pupils. He stated that nowhere in the province of Ontario was there a better staff of teachers during the past year than in West Nissouri Township. He also showed the necessity of paying higher salaries to the teachers, and informed the trustees that if they granted the teachers $800 salary, who previously received only $700, it would cost the board only $10 more.

"DIRECT ACTION" IS THREATENED BY LABOR MEN

To Force 8-Hour Day and 44-Hour Week All Over Canada.

BONE OF CONTENTION

Question of Shorter Hours Warmly Discussed at Industrial Conference.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—A threat of "direct action" to enforce legislation making the eight-hour day and 44-hour week compulsory all over Canada, which came from more than one source, served to liven up the afternoon session of the national industrial conference, held in the Senate chamber. The question of shorter hours of labor in the industries of the Dominion was the bone of contention during almost the entire afternoon, and the respective views of capital and labor on the subject were ably presented.

Capital objected that reduction of the hours of labor meant reducing the output of factories and workshops. "There is nothing that will decrease production so much as a strike of a month or more in duration," countered James Winning, one of the leaders in the recent Winnipeg strike, "and that is what may come."

Volcano of Unrest.

Industrial peace, in the opinion of Mr. Winning, and also of other labor speakers, was at present somewhat of a delusion in Canada. Not far below the surface there was a smouldering volcano of unrest which might burst forth at any moment, he said, and unless the question of the eight-hour day and 44-hour week was settled at this conference it would be the chief issue in a strike within a very short period.

M. P. White, a Toronto manufacturer, thought that labor wanted the basic eight-hour day that it might benefit from overtime at a premium wage, and other speakers for the employers held that the time was not ripe for this sort of legislation. Labor speakers, including one woman delegate, Miss Helen Gutteridge of Vancouver, parried that the time was never riper for labor legislation in the opinion of those who opposed it, and that the workers wanted something better than to eat, sleep and work.

More Speed Needed.

The recommendation in favor of shorter hours was still before the conference when adjournment was made, and Senator Robertson, vice-chairman of the conference, warned the delegates that there must be more speed in order to finish with the agenda by Saturday. This was only the second resolution of the afternoon.

Miss Gutteridge, the first lady to address the conference, replied to what she called "the very, very pessimistic note which ran through M. P. White's discourse."

The eight-hour day, she declared, was not asked as the ideal of labor, but it was a compromise between the ideas of Canadian manufacturers and labor. Canadian workers realized their duty in reconstruction, and in bearing the burden of the war debt, she said. The east was hampered by old customs and ideas and might find it hard to take up the eight-hour plan, but it would be for the benefit of labor in general.

Would Equalize.

Mr. White's contention that output would be reduced twelve per cent by the reduction of the hours of work was taken up by Miss Gutteridge, who reminded him that we were now in 1919, while his figures were for 1917. Those who had then been producing sinews of war were now able to produce necessaries of life, and the matter of reduction in output would be equalized.

"If you have unhealthy workers you are going to lose in production," said Miss Gutteridge. "Irritated, unhealthy workers, both men and women, cannot produce to the limit of their capacity and the best asset of any country is its healthy workers."

Hon. E. J. Davis, Newmarket, Ont., referred to the need of confidence and co-operation, without which no good results could accrue from the conference. The application of the golden rule was urged. "We call our employees 'co-workers,' and I think we ought to carry that idea right through with us," he said.

This was not the proper time to pass legislation on labor matters, said Mr. Davis; business was not on a normal basis and there had been successive increases of wages and shortening of hours in the past few years.

Far from Normal.

The present time was one of balloon ideas, he said, and the cost of living and other costs were far from normal.

A depression two or three years from now was, in the opinion of Mr. Davis, inevitable, and he feared legislation passed now might prove a boomerang to those who had hoped to benefit. There was also the risk that while Canada was a member of a league of nations, legislation, if passed now, might not fit in with labor legislation which might be passed by other countries.

"Let Canada wait a year or two," advised Mr. Davis, "and follow the example of some older nations."

Senator Robertson then said there had been a request for information as to the actual present situation. In June, 1919, an inquiry into hours of labor in Canada was opened by the department of labor. Of 6,250 firms in Canada, employing 615,000 men, representing about half of those employed in Canadian industry, about 1,000 employees worked less than seven hours daily; 8,088 worked seven hours; 7,818 worked 7½ hours, 266,266 worked eight hours, 35,267 worked 8½ hours, 152,729 worked nine hours, 120,737 worked ten hours, and 11,000 worked over ten hours daily.

John A. Flett, Hamilton (Labor) thought Mr. White's speech had been of a most dismal blue.

Mr. Flett said labor had yet been unable to find the proper time for any labor legislation.

In his own industry hours had been shortened to less than eight hours a day, but there was no emigration of labor to other countries, and no bankruptcy in Canada because of that reduction.

Henry No Fool.

"You may have your own ideas of Henry Ford, but Henry is no fool," he continued. "After the failure of his peace trip to Europe, Henry decided he had better get down to business, and head off his competitors by greater production than he did in ten. Then he went further to a seven-hour day. Had the Government of Canada decided to put the eight-hour day into effect, there would be no need of passing the buck from one premier to the other," said Mr. Flett. "You would have a contented people, and no need of sending machine guns to the Welland Canal."

G. M. McGregor of the Ford company, explained the working of the shorter day in the Canadian Ford plants, where it had been successful.

"Bolshevism May Yet Strike Us" Is Gary's Statement

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation met here today and remained in conference for about an hour. At the close of the meeting Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, was asked if the threatened strike had been discussed. He refused to answer directly, but remarked:

"The wave of Bolshevism may yet strike us."

MILITARY HOSPITALS GRATEFUL FOR FLOWERS.

There's not a patient in the military hospitals of this district who does not call out a loud "Thank you" to the Women's Gardening Association for their beautiful gifts of flowers. These flowers were the very best that the society could offer, for they were those exhibited at the Western Fair in the Society booth, and had been grown by the members themselves.

WHO HAS RAW FRUIT FOR RED CROSS?

The Red Cross Association knows that often there is a great quantity of fruit wasted at this time of the year, because there is no one to can it. And if offers a solution—why not let the Red Cross see about the canning? They have the domestic science kitchens of the city schools at their disposal, as well as the clever little cooks at work there. Miss McPherson of the Collegiate Institute is willing to supervise the canning of the fruit, so that if it is only delivered at the Red Cross rooms on Queen's avenue it will be well looked after.

Of course donations are in order even from those who haven't spare fruit in their gardens, if they have money in their pockets. The boys certainly will appreciate them when they eat the resulting jam next winter.

PREJUDICE TO RED OVERRIDDEN THIS SEASON.

Men love to see women in red. It excites them. When a girl wears it she has far more dance partners than when in some other color. Yet for some reason or other the modern woman is most loath to wear it. The primitive women of savage tribes will choose red the first thing, yet the woman who has descended through centuries of civilization has a decided dislike to this color for the adornment of her person. There is nothing more attractive than a dark-complexioned girl in a red evening dress. Yet certain critics say she should not wear it; that it has the same effect on herself and other people as the red rag to the mad bull.

However this may be, there is going to be a big effort to introduce the different shades of red in the coming season. Perhaps there are not many real scarlets showing, but rather such shades as flame color and deep orange. During the spring and summer, rose was much in vogue, and in French millinery the beautiful nasturtium shades used tended more to red than yellow. Henna color, which almost worked itself to death last year, was a near approach to red. This autumn, however, a red gown for the woman who can wear it is an extremely good choice. The woman who has a very florid complexion should, however, always beware of red, while her sister of the pale complexion receives new life from it.

WOMAN SCHOOL TRUSTEE MAKES FAMILY PEACE.

That the women members of the school board do not confine their interest in school children entirely to board meetings or the public platform was demonstrated on Children's Day at the Western Fair.

Just outside the magic gate which gave entrance to the wonderful sights within were four small boys, two of them mere infants. They were so mixed up that at first it was hard to distinguish which legs belonged to which. That a misunderstanding of some kind had taken place was only too evident.

Just at the most heated and tearful moment the woman trustee arrived upon the scene. She is a member of the Fair board, by the way. (There, I have given her away!) Immediately on her arrival a questioning took place, and the questioning was followed by a reasoning bolstered up by some coppers.

It appeared that the two big brothers (10 or 12 years of age) wanted to go to the Fair, but were encumbered with the baby brothers, who wouldn't go home. The trustee immediately got the spirit of the big boys who wanted to get away to the Fair by themselves and have a good time. She also knew the buying power of coppers with the 4-year-old. And before five minutes two happy little brothers were being led home by two happy big brothers (they lived near the exhibition grounds), and in another ten the BIG boys were having the time of their lives at the Fair. Do you know the school trustee

SCHOOL COLONY SOON TO DEPART.

It has come to the time of the year when the young folks of the city begin to leave for school. Indeed the private schools and preparatory colleges will open their doors very shortly. At the present moment each small person is deep in the mysteries of a trousseau, and many of these trousseaus are viewed with more importance than the bridal one which comes years later.

Negligees and pyjamas are perhaps looked upon as the most important articles, especially if a few cans of jam and a roast chicken can be smuggled in between them. Then there are tennis rackets, gym. bloomers, swimming tights, pillows, pennants, and oh, a hundred other valuables which must go along and swell the already loaded trunk to the bursting point. A few toilet articles and oh, many, many photographs, with frames and without, might be added to complete the concoction, not to mention a dress or two and perhaps a hat to wear to church on Sundays.

Really the actual wearing apparel is of little account, all except a very fetching little evening dress, or dance frock or two, which must be in readiness for that auspicious occasion of the year—the college dance. Of course, it is rather nice to have a stunning afternoon costume, but then it is such a bore always pretending that somebody else's brother is yours, and that seems to be the only way of getting past the stern "heads." So after all, the trousseau doesn't worry very much about actual clothes.

HOW MR. WHITE BIRD'S COAT BECAME SOILED.

It was a known fact among the tree folks that Mr. White Bird never was happier than when attending to someone else's affairs.

He tried to tell Mistress Jenny Wren how to build a home, but Mr. Wren objected and chased him away from the oak tree.

"The very idea!" twittered Mrs. Jenny Wren. "Before long he'll begin to think he has a right to tell us what to eat and what we shall wear."

"Well, if anyone should ask him he'd say white, of course," chirped Jimmy Robin. "And I, for one, think his suit is very much out of place in these woods."

"Here, too!" cried Willy Woodpecker, rapping loudly on the trunk of the tree. "But some of these days he'll nose into the wrong place and someone will spoil his sporty suit."

"Shoot! We could all be sports if we didn't do any more work than he does," cried Mrs. Robin Redbreast. "I can't see for the life of me how his wife can keep him clean and pressed so nicely. Why, our dark suits get dirty, but White Bird's clothes always look like he'd just come out of a bird cage."

"That's where I wish he was!" chirped Mrs. Jenny Wren. "So he couldn't always be trying to nose into our affairs."

"Well, I can't say I wish that bad luck," replied her mate, "but I'd like to see something happen to take out part of his terrible conceit, and it will one of these days—you mark my words!"

"Why, certainly it will!" cried Jimmy Robin. "He'll nose into the wrong place some day and someone will spoil that white suit of his."

"What a terrible mishap that would be!" laughed Jenny Wren, and all the feathered flock joined in her laugh.

"Let's not wish him trouble," piped Lady Bluebird. "Let's just wish he'd change his ways and mind his own business."

"You're right," chirped Jenny Wren. "Bad luck to him wouldn't help us any, and it's wrong to wish others harm. Nosy folks generally get their reward."

And so it happened.

One day Mr. White Bird saw Mrs. Chimney Swallow fly down the great, tall brick thing she called her home, with something in her bill that wiggled. Mr. White Bird couldn't rest until he had found out what kind of a worm it was, where Mrs. Swallow was taking it, and to whom she intended to give it.

So down the chimney he flew. Not being used to a chimney, Mr. White Bird's wings and tail switched first against one side of the chimney and then against the other. And when he came out, to his dismay he found his beautiful white suit covered with black soot.

He hurried down to the stream and hopped into the water to wash it off, but the black color ran until his whole suit was black. There his wife found him, and, thinking she might be able to help him, forgot about her own spotless dress and jumped in beside her angry mate. Scrub as hard as they could they simply couldn't get the black off their clothes, and to this day they wear them, and the wood folks call them Blackbirds.

FIELDING—McLEAN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gillian McLean, Runnymede road, Toronto, formerly of London, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday afternoon, when their only daughter, Greeta Mae, was united in marriage to James Eugene Fielding, son of J. L. Fielding of Guelph, the Rev. James Wilson of Dovercourt Presbyterian Church officiating. Promptly at 3:30 the bride entered the drawingroom on the arm of her father, to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. D. Frank Smith of London. Prior to the ceremony Lieut. P. Stewart McLean, cousin of the bride, sang very effectively "O Promise Me." The bride wore a hand-embroidered gown of ivory charmeuse and Chantilly lace, fashioned along the prevailing silhouette lines, and with a slightly draped skirt. She wore a veil and coronet of silver ribbon and orange blossoms, and carried a pretty shower bouquet of white orchids and Ophelia roses. Miss Isabel Fielding, sister of the groom, attended as bridesmaid, and looked winsome in a gown of pale blue charmeuse and silver cloth, draped with silver lace, and carried an arm bouquet of deep pink roses. The groom was attended by T. A. Cosford of Woodstock. The bride's mother wore a becoming gown of grey georgette, with corsage bouquet of Dunlop roses, and Mrs. J. L. Fielding was attired in navy blue georgette beaded in coral. After a dainty buffet luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Fielding left amid showers of confetti for a brief honeymoon in the States. On their return they will reside in Guelph. Out-of-town guests for the wedding were present from Detroit, London, Guelph, Woodstock and Galt.

Mrs. W. B. Lindsay's reception at "Camden Villa," Strathroy, in honor of Lady Currie, was a very fashionable event. Many visitors had the pleasure of welcoming home the wife of the commander of the Canadian forces in France during the great war. The guest of honor, who looked very smart in a costume of black charmeuse, with gold embroidery and small hat with bird of Paradise mount, received with her hostess, who wore a handsome gown of blue brocaded silk, with draperies of black chintella lace and a corsage bouquet of Peace gladioli.

Others receiving with the hostess were Mrs. C. A. Crawford of Toronto, in a Paris gown of rose satin, with metallic overdress; Mrs. L. H. Dampier, in black satin with jet embroidery, and large picture hat; Miss Currie, sister of Sir Arthur Currie, in a smart tailored suit and hat.

Flags and beautiful flowers were arranged artistically about the house, porch and lawn, and an orchestra played softly during the afternoon in accompaniment to the hum of many voices.

Miss Gladys Richards sang sweetly many times, and especially was her selection, "Home, Sweet Home," enjoyed.

Those assisting in the tea room were Mrs. D. C. Ross, Mrs. W. S. Calvert, Mrs. S. F. Robinson, Mrs. L. W. Cuddy, Miss Banghart, Mrs. Bixel, Mrs. B. Robinson, Misses Nettleton, Thompson, Donaldson, Geddes, Ross, Calvert, Smith, Wright and English.

After tea had been served an interesting diversion was the reception held by Sir Arthur Currie on the lawn, when many ladies had the privilege of chatting with him and welcoming him back to his home again.

His Worship Mayor Dampier, the Rev. Robinson, and Capt. Malone came in at the tea hour to welcome the distinguished visitors.

Some of the out-of-town visitors were: Mrs. G. A. Rutledge and Miss Carley of Lambeth; Mrs. Masuret of London; Mrs G. S. Stewart, Mrs. Dennis Jordan, Miss Harris and Mrs. Burnett of Toronto; Mrs. J. S. McCrault, Appin; Mrs. Peter McArthur, Ekfrid; Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Harman Galbraith of Appin; Mrs. J. C. Beer, Miss Beer and Miss Toohill of Napier; Mrs. deGex, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. McLean and Miss Brent of Kerwood; Miss Deihl of Adelaide; Mrs. Donald Graham and Mrs. W. Ferguson, Mt. Carmel; Miss L. McBeth, New York, and others.

A FARM GIRL'S PRANK

By Elspeth Wilson.

One busy harvest day the men worked extra hours, bringing a load of grain into the barn even by moonlight, so that the business interview with father desired by two young mechanics was necessarily held at a late hour.

In order to arrange with father about some work for the public, these young men had walked six miles from town after their day's work, and after sharing with the harvesters a late luncheon they were urged to remain the night, to cover the return journey in the morning hours.

This was but a business visit, and yet each girl of the seven intuitively realized that Nell, the shy, quiet one, was held in high esteem by one of the lads, an Englishman, who addressed her as "Miss Ella," a name she much disliked. Privately they twitted her with admiring glances intercepted, all of which was unwelcome news to Nell, who cared not for his approval.

In this house of many daughters it was deemed best that in order to equalize tastes, they must be changed about, a week of early rising coming in turn to each. This busy week Isabel and Nan were due to set the household wheels in motion.

Later, as Nell arranged the table for the morning meal, she espied a note let in a conspicuous place, and at her exclamation upon reading it, her sisters rushed to learn the cause.

The lodgers of the night having risen early, wishing not to disturb the family, had slipped noiselessly out, and, lest they seem ungrateful, the English lad had pencilled a note of thanks for hospitality. While the note was perfectly correct and straightforward, the quick eye of Nan, in a spirit of mischief, aided by Isabel, spotted a chance for a joke. By skillfully adding here and there a letter, or erasing an occasional one, the whole tone of the note was altered. It now took on the form of a gracefully-worded billet-doux, which had been left for Nell to find. Where the word "all" had been used—"thanking you all for many kindnesses," the miscreants had converted it into "Ella," and where the writer expressed the wish to have the "pleasure of meeting all again," the sentence was transformed by a simple alteration again to the name "Ella."

Unsuspicious Nell in wrath called down furies on the head of the innocent youth. So irate was she, with flashing eyes, that parental inquiries followed. "What note? Where found and by whom?" "Strange," said father. "He seemed such a sensible lad—and for quiet Nell to be the chosen one! Now, had it been Nan——" Here he paused, for a glance at that saucy tease give him inspiration. Soon the whole truth was out, and Nan once again in disgrace. Penitent? Yes, until another opportunity for getting into mischief arose.

EMBRO W. I. HOLDS TRIP AROUND WORLD.

"The Trip Around the World" or "Community Fair" held at Embro under the auspices of the Embro and West Zorra Women's Institute was a great success.

The trip started with a journey to Ireland, situated at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Atkinson, beautifully decorated in green and white. The pianist, Miss J. Kennedy, and violinist, Miss Elva McArthur, were gowned in the same colors, as was the little Irish lady at the spinning wheel. The waitresses were also in green and white, and served the following refreshments: Murphy Salad, Shillalahs, Paddy's Delight, "Grane Tay," and "Blarney Stones." Pat (Fred Peat) favored the guests with a number of well-rendered Irish songs. At the door, as the guests went out, was a large Blarney stone, several kissing it as they passed.

Scotland was next visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cody, where the guests were met at the door by two little girls, dressed in the kilts—Misses Isabel McKay and Margaret Sanders. In this home, Scottish plaids were used for curtains and door draperies, and the waitresses wore beautiful plaid sashes. The menu here consisted of Smear Case Bannocks and Groat Cakes, while the phonograph music rendered was also Scotch.

Canada was situated at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Green, artistically decorated with flags, red, white and blue bunting and maple leaves. Miss Lillian Green, as "Miss Canada," received the guests at the door, along with an Indian and his wife, who were selling numbered flags, as they raffled a box of chocolates. The music was typically Canadian, and the menu consisted of Canada's Favorite Sinkers and Jersey's Best, the waiters being prettily gowned in white, with trimmings of maple leaves.

England was the next place reached, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kent, where the decorative scheme was red, white and blue. Here the menu-card contained "Woman of Grit," and "Boston's Overthrow." United States was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Murray, Uncle Sam receiving at the door. Piano selections were rendered by Miss Florence Murray of Lakeside. Then came Belgium, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Geddes, decorated in the national colors, and flags, where there was a sale of home cooking. The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dawes represented France, where ice cream, cones, etc., were sold.

It is expected that the proceeds of the whole fair will amount to between $90 and $100 after expenses have been paid.

Bridesmaid's Duty.

Miss Grey,—Can you tell me what day Thanksgiving Day is this year?

2. What are the bridesmaid's duties at a church wedding?

3. What would be nice for a buffet luncheon, and how to serve it?

4. Is the bridesmaid supposed to wear a hat and gloves?

I will sign. SMILES.

Ans.—1. October 13.

2. The bridesmaid holds the bride's bouquet and glove during the placing of the wedding ring, and restores them at the close of the ceremony. It is also her privilege of course, in company with the groomsman, to witness the signing of the register.

3. Suggestions for refreshment are: Sandwiches (several kinds), small currant tea biscuits (split and buttered), olives, salted almonds, tiny drop cakes, a white sponge cake nicely iced, wedding cake, peach ice cream, tea and coffee. Refreshments served "en buffet" are usually placed on a beautifully adorned dining table, together with necessary china, silver, etc. Two women friends may dispense tea and coffee from opposite ends of the table, china baskets or deep plates of sandwiches and cake are in readiness, and kept replenished during the luncheon, by the helpers in charge. If the ice cream is of the brick variety, it may be served from the table, one or two friends being pressed into service for the slicing, or, if preferred, it may be served from the kitchen.

Tantalizing and Obstinate.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I come to you for help? I have a friend for whom I am trying to find a nickname, as he has nicknamed me, and I would like to retaliate in a jocular manner. His predominating quality is tantalizing others to the extreme, and he is as obstinate as a mule. He has one very bad habit, which he knows I positively abhor, and that is smoking, yet he persists in it.

If you can assist me in any way in securing a name for such as he, my gratitude will know no bounds.

H. M. S. BUSTER.

Ans.—Well, well, this is a queer query, but I'll do my best. Suppose for the "mule" part of it, you might adopt "Maud" or "Hee-haw." I fancy either term would prove offensive to a young man. Or since the smoking habit is especially offensive to you, perhaps, to christen him after a volcano might be a nice pin-prick.

Isn't there one down in Mexico that we never could spell when we were school kiddies?—Popocatepeth—that's it! Wouldn't "Popo," for short, be really appropriate?

Reds Beat Giants and Cinch Pennant

Can Now Lose Rest of Games and Still Lead—Ruether Gets Sensational Support, Though Hit Hard.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 16. — By beating New York today before a crowd of 18,000 persons the Cincinnati Reds cinched the pennant in the National League, the first which it has ever won in that organization. The Reds have seven more games to play, and even if they should lose all of them while the Giants won all of their eleven games remaining to be played, the local club would finish one game ahead.

The score today was 4 to 3, Ruether pitched the full game for the Reds, and was hit hard, being frequently saved by sensational support.

Toney pitched well for the Giants after the first inning, but his support was faulty. He was taken out in the seventh, and Nehf finished the game without allowing a hit. The score:

New York ..... 200 100 000—3 12 2
Cincinnati ..... 300 000 10x—4 8 0

Toney, Nehf and Gonzales; Ruether and Rariden.

TAKES ELEVEN INNINGS.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 16. — Pittsburg defeated Brooklyn here today, 4 to 3, in eleven innings. Miller and Pfeffer were hit hard at times, but it was Schmandt's error that permitted the Pirates to tie the score in the sixth. He had taken the place of Olson, who had been banished by the umpire for throwing his bat in the air when called out on strikes. In the eleventh, Bigbee, the first man up, beat out a hit that bounced off Pfeffer's hand and went to second on Carey's sacrifice. Southworth singled to right, sending Bigbee over the plate with the winning run. The score:

Brooklyn ..... 000 102 000 00—4 9 2
Pittsburg ..... 010 002 000 01—4 8 1

Pfeffer and M. Wheat; Miller and Blackwell.

THREE IN ROW.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Chicago made it three straight from Philadelphia today by defeating the Phillies 7 to 2 in an interesting game in which Alexander out-pitched the veteran Ames, who recently joined the Philadelphia club. The Cubs made their runs by bunching hits. The score: R.H.E.

Philadelphia ..... 000 000 011—2 10 0
Chicago ..... 000 121 30x—7 12 0

Ames and Clarke; Alexander and Killifer.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 16.—Extra-base hitting featured today's doubleheader between Boston and St. Louis, which the two teams divided. The Braves easily won the first contest, 8 to 4, a home run by Maranville and triples by Ford and Carroll with men on bases accounting for five runs.

The locals took the second game by a score of 3 to 2, a triple by McHenry tieing the score in the sixth and his second triple and a single by Lavan winning the game in the ninth inning. Scores:

First game— R.H.E.
Boston ..... 020 010 131—8 13 0
St. Louis ..... 000 010 003—4 9 1

Fillingim and O'Neill; Jacobs, Tuero, Parker and Clemons.

Second game— R.H.E.

Kilbane Puts K. O. on Frankie Burns in Fifth Round

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Sept. 16.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, world's featherweight boxing champion, knocked out Frankie Burns of Jersey City in the fifth round of an eight-round match at the Jersey City baseball park tonight. Burns arose before the count of ten, but the referee stopped the contest as Burns was helpless.

It was the first time the Jersey City veteran was ever knocked out. Burns was on the aggressive in the first four rounds, the champion apparently taking things easily. As the two men left their corners at the start of the fifth round Kilbane feinted cleverly and quickly sent a hard right across to the point of the jaw, Burns dropping to the floor. He got up at the count of four but was in no condition to defend himself.

Burns weighed 124 pounds and Kilbane 125. More than 40,000 persons viewed the contest, which was held in connection with a political rally.

Joe Lynch of New York outfought Patsy Johnson of Trenton in an eight-round bout. Lynch weighed 117 pounds, with his opponent a half-pound heavier.

Rugby Team Will Be Made Up of Younger Blood

Number of Good Youngsters in City Make Promising Prospects.

After last night's workout of the rugby candidates, which was little better attended than the preceding two, it is a certainty that if London is to be represented in the O. R. F. U. this year a team built up from young material will do the representing. Thus far former members of the city teams could not have kept any further away from the game if it were contagious, and Coach Reid has practically made up his mind to try and round a younger team into shape and get new blood into the game.

Fortunately there are a number of youngsters in the city who have had experience in school football, and they are a promising lot. With the coaching they will get under Reid, and interspersed with a few of the experienced players, they should round into an aggregation that no apologies will have to be made for.

Another World's Champion Team Is Kitchener's Hope

Both Old Champs and Club Executive Will Have Changes—Training Starts in Two Weeks.

KITCHENER, Sept. 15.—The outlook for a hockey sextet that will capture the world's championship honors this winter is good, according to information received from reliable sources here in connection with the plans of the Kitchener Hockey Club for the approaching season.

Although Hillier has gone, the club has much new material from which to select a team. Falkenhan of Owen Sound has loomed upon the Kitchener horizon, and report has it that he will be a surprise package for the fans in the early try-outs. Whether he will replace Hillier or not, he will add considerable strength to the team.

Solomon has announced that he will be in the game again this year, stronger and faster than ever. It was thought a year ago that Solly's hockey days were over, but good care and a successful operation has put the ex-champ star into such physical shape as will enable him to appear on the ice again.

Some New Ones.

The club is looking to Jack King, the flying right wing, to qualify this season, and there are two Renfrew boys, recently landed in Kitchener, who are being scouted out by the club, with the hope of a possible hockey find. Clarke, who starred with Preston last year, will try out for a place on the forward line, and Klaehn is back from overseas and will be looking for a berth.

The executive of the club, with the new material available, are hopeful of putting a world-beating aggregation on the ice. There are two changes announced in connection with the executive of the club. President E. O. Ritz, who has headed the organization for the past six years, is retiring, as is also Harry Wismer, the popular manager, who led the team when it captured the world's championship silverware.

Player-Manager Possible.

It is expected that a player-manager will be selected to replace Wismer, with "Snooker" Truehmski, Ernie Parkes and "Doc" Merrick mentioned. It is thought Truehmski will be made manager. Among those mentioned as likely to succeed E. O. Ritz are: E. C. Kabel, Reinhold Lang, Percy Pierce, Ike Ross and Herman Wagner.

The team will be back strong this year to put Kitchener on the hockey map. Regular training starts in two weeks, and the training camp selected is Victoria Park. The Kitchener Baseball Club's clubrooms in the grandstand will be turned over to the puck-chasers as training quarters. St. Jerome's College gym has also been requisitioned, and the ex-champs will put in many strenuous hours there preparatory to taking the ice.

Looks Like All-Canadian Circuit for Next Season

Mint League Only a Memory—Montreal and Ottawa New Additions To Present Ontario Clubs.

About all that remains of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League is the parchment on which the charter is written, and while the official obsequies have not been sung thus far, there is every certainty that the circuit won't be hyphenated another season. The Mint organization during its short career of one season, if it did not produce everything desirable in baseball, has performed yeoman service in bringing out the possibilities of professional baseball in Canada after a three-year lay-off.

Considering the fact that it was a brand new circuit, not organized any too early in the season, the class of ball displayed might have been a great deal worse. The great majority of the clubs managed to show a profit, and those that didn't have not published details. Michigan clubs were the clinging vines of the circuit, however, and hence the general feeling among the Ontario magnates that another year's alliance with the Michigan end would be a mistake.

A Six-Club Circuit.

Shaughnessy of Hamilton, who isn't any farther out on the feelings of club-owners and such people than he is on winning aggregations usually, in suggesting a six-club all-Canadian circuit, with the addition of Ottawa and Montreal to the present four clubs in the Mint circuit, has probably prophesied what next season's baseball situation will be. The two additions, Ottawa and Montreal, are practically certainties for prospective franchise holders. Ottawa in the old Canadian League proved itself one of the best ball towns in any of the smaller circuits, and the fact that Shag is taking up his quarters in Montreal in the future would indicate that he has every confidence that a Canadian League would have no trouble in breaking in there. The four Western Ontario cities have all made good this season and Kitchener and Brantford will both develop with a better league.

A reorganization of the International League, which seems imminent, would probably cut in on this arrangement if the Ambitious City should be induced to enter faster company, but there are several cities that could take its place and, in fact, have made initial steps for professional ball.

THOSE UMPIRES.

The clubs did not make any stupendous sales to the majors, but during the season the Mint League was not overlooked by the major scouts. Some of the ball playing they were forced to witness, but not to pay for, should last them through the winter, but it is likely that the ball players responsible for causing this pain will in their winter reflections decide to go to work at something else next spring. The umpiring of the deceased circuit will perhaps be the longest memory and most painful, and caused much remorse among the fans during the season, who thought of some of the old arbitrators and the unjust, harsh things they had said about their work in the past.

Prospects for an all-Canadian circuit never looked so bright taken altogether, and all that is needed to insure success is better organization work.

"Put another shovel in that stove, Joe. Whaddya mean that guy could play ball. Say, if I was running a team I'd pay him to stay away from the park."

P. O. SHUTS OUT SELAKS; WHITES TIE BEATTYS

A tie game between George White & Sons and Beatty Bros. teams in the Manufacturers' League last night will postpone the finals, which were to be played on Thursday night. The Queen's Park game was a 4 to 4 session. Beatty, Clark, Parkinson and White; Smith, Mowat, McLeod and Gillet were the opposing batteries.

The Postoffice shut out Selaks, 2 to 0, in a good game at Tecumseh Park. Down and Armstrong did battery work for the Postoffice, and Jeffries and Oliver for Selaks.

Beer or the Boy?

The Referendum Places the Alternative Squarely Before Every Parent in Ontario

HALF a million boys of Ontario have never tasted liquor. The province has been under prohibition for three years and they have had little or no opportunity to acquire the taste or to yield to the temptation. How much better would it be for the safety of the future of these boys upon whom the future of this province depends, if they never acquired the taste for liquor—if the temptation to acquire the dangerous habit of "booze" were never thrust upon them?

Owing to the wording of the Referendum ballot, many parents may not realize that the Beer proposed is intoxicating, more than twice as strong as the beer allowed at the present time under the Ontario Temperance Act, and over five times as strong as the limit allowed for beer defined as non-intoxicating in Great Britain and the United States.

2.51% Alcohol by Weight Means 5.46% Proof Spirits

The Beer of the Ballot is 5.46% Beer. The Ballot says "2.51% alcohol by weight." But that means 5.46% proof spirits, and the Ontario Temperance Act allows only 2.50% proof spirits. The Beer of the Ballot is 118% stronger.

Three glasses of 5.46% beer equals in alcoholic content one ordinary glass of whiskey. Men and boys get drunk on beer. The young fellow when he takes his first drink takes beer. Beer creates the taste for alcohol. It develops drunkards.

A beer drunkard is a lower piece of human degradation than a whiskey drunkard. He is dull, coarse, brutal, bloated, sodden, and very susceptible to disease.

Beer makes its habitual user stupid, mentally heavy and physically clumsy. It undermines his constitution, softens his muscles, clogs his circulation, slacks his nerves.

Most beers contain other poisons beside alcohol—lupulin, for example, which destroys the kidneys and shakes the nervous system and is the secret of those crimes of brutal stupidity often laid at the doors of beer drunkards.

The Beer of the Ballot is too strong for your boy or anybody's boy.

What would you not sacrifice for the welfare of your son—time—money—comfort—sleep! Is it too much to ask you to sacrifice 5.46% beer—in the home, in the bar—anywhere within this province of Ontario?

To every question on the Referendum Ballot we ask you to vote—

"No!"—Four Times—"No!"

No Repeal—No 5.46% Beer in Government Shops—No 5.46% in Open Bars—No Government Whiskey Shops for Beverage Purposes

Every mother and father in Ontario should vote to retain the Ontario Temperance Act in sacred trust for Ontario's growing boys. Be sure you mark an X after each question and place it under the heading "NO."

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Sharp upturns in the value of corn resulted largely today from announcement of a projected movement on the part of farmers' organizations to have grain and live stock held back for higher prices. The fact, also that the hog market this morning showed strength tended noticeably to stimulated corn buying. On the other hand, foreign exchange weakness and other bearish factors that have been more or less responsible for the recent decline of grain values received but little atention. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅞c to 8⅜c higher, with September at $1 47@1 49, and December at $1 24@1 25, were followed by numerous fluctuations, but no important setback from initial gains.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening ⅜c to ⅝c higher, including December at 69⅞@70c, the market scored a moderate further advance.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 17—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Over-night developments pointing to fresh uncertainties in the steel labor situation, and authoritative denial of any immediate plan to pay back dividends of Mercantile Marine preferred, provoked moderate selling of industrials and shippings at the opening of today's stock market, in no important instance, however, did the reaction extend much beyond a point. Rallies set in almost immediately on the renewed strength shown by steels and equipments, also more specialties. United States Steel's loss of almost a point was soon recovered.

GIRL WEEPS WHEN POLICE FRUSTRATE MARRIAGE PLANS

Ohio Maiden Comes to Detroit to Wed.

FIANCE IS ARRESTED

Held by Police On Suspicion of Having Stolen the Car.

Detroit, Sept. 16.—All the worsted mottoes about "Mother" and the illustrated songs about home as a haven of rest mean little or nothing to 18-year-old Dorothy Price, who is sobbing her heart out in the Woman's Detention Home because of the frustration of plans which were to have made her a happy wife Tuesday, safe from trying discipline which, she says, has been her portion since birth.

Dorothy motored to Detroit from Youngstown, O., Friday in company with her fiance, Benton Ellenberger; her cousin, Roland Clark, and Raymond Maloney, all of Youngstown. Maloney returned at once. The others were arrested Monday evening at the Hotel Pontchartrain by Detectives McNally and Dettloff on suspicion that the car in their possession is a stolen machine.

Fiance Former Marine.

When Dorothy was asked if she felt safe to come to Detroit with Ellenberger, because her cousin was along as a protector, she replied, simply:

"I wouldn't have been afraid to come alone with him. He has always treated me right."

Trouble with her mother, Dorothy said, has been well-nigh continuous. Her father seems kind, but, Dorothy remarked, naively:

"Father has to side with mother mostly, in order to keep peace, you see."

While Dorothy has known Ellenberger about two years it is only since the latter's return from service—he was honorably discharged in March from the 16th Regiment, United States Marines—that they have been "keeping company."

"Mother never let me go out much until last summer," she continued, her sobs subsiding every little while enough to permit her to talk coherently. "But the boys she liked me to go out with were not boys who treated me as I think girls should be treated. Benton always treated me well, and that's the reason I was willing to run away with him.

Thought It Over a Week.

"I didn't do this hastily, for I thought it over a week or more. Now, of course, I don't know what to do, for I never can face mother and the folks back home."

It was to have been so different, for all day Sunday the young people looked for an apartment; then Ellenberger had a promise of a job, and when the wedding bells did ring they figured they would have enough money to start housekeeping in good style.

The disputed car, according to the story of Ellenberger and Clark, was to have been sold in Detroit and half the proceeds sent back to a man named Stearns at a general delivery address. He had explained that his car, a 1917 model, was out of date, and if they would take it away he could report it as stolen and collect insurance enough to purchase a new machine. The boys fell for the scheme, but encountered trouble when they could not produce a bill of sale.

CANADIAN POLICEMEN URGED TO STRONGLY COMBAT BOLSHEVISM

Chief Slemin of Brantford Delivers Important Address at Calgary Convention.

RESTRICT IMMIGRATION

Advocates a Greater Penalty for Conviction for Sedition.

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 17.—The fifteenth annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada assembled in Calgary, got away to a good start yesterday morning, and considerable business was accomplished for a first session. There were over 60 members present from every part of the Dominion, and many speakers were heard in the course of the morning. Chief Slemin of Brantford, Ont., president of the society, had much to say on the question of Bolshevism, and urged that chiefs of police be even more energetic in combatting this menace and fighting for wider powers.

He suggested that a memorial be sent to the premier asking that any person convicted of sedition be sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of not less than two years or more than seven years, without the option of a fine.

Would Restrict Immigration.

He urged that the restriction on the question of immigration of undesirables be more strictly enforced, as they had come to know in the past few years that a large element of the foreign population required very close surveillance.

On the question of police benefit fund, he believes that municipalities should pay annual sums in order that such fund be placed upon a solid foundation. He suggested that one-half of the police fines obtained through the enforcement of the liquor act be used to carry on the benefit fund.

He thought there ought be be changes in the system of county police forces, and the pay by fees should be abolished. In concluding, the president urged upon all the chiefs to consider the duties and responsibilities of their officers. He urged a spirit of loyalty one to another, and to assist the men under them in every manner possible.

This afternoon the chiefs enjoyed a visit to the P. Burns ranch.

WILHELMINA HOLDS OFF FROM LEAGUE

Holland's Adherence to Wait Until It's Been Formed.

The Hague, Sept. 16.—In a throne speech opening Parliament, Queen Wilhelmina referred to the dispute between Holland and Belgium regarding revision of the treaty of 1839. The queen declared she had been called upon emphatically to defend the nation's rights, interests and integrity, and that she was in entire accord with the Dutch people concerning the questions at issue. The provinces of Limburg, Zealand and Flanders, she declared, had displayed great fidelity and devotion to the national unity.

Regarding the League of Nations, the queen stated that adherence by Holland was subject to the approval of Parliament after the formation of the league.

As to the question of national defence, it could not be solved until something definite was learned concerning the international settlement contemplated by the League of Nations.

NOTHING is further from the truth than the statement that Canadians cannot get a good cup of coffee. The standard Canadian blend is better than the average American blend, but is usually spoiled in the making.

Just pour furiously boiling water on it and let it stand for ten minutes. Don't boil it.

Our coffees are the choicest of the world's plantations. They are blended by experts, roasted to perfection, and then cut by the most modern coffee-cutting appliances. The result is that matchless quality for which Rideau Hall Coffee remains unexcelled.

BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS HEAR LIST OF PROTESTS

Judgment Was Reserved in All Cases Heard.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The board of railway commissioners for Canada yesterday began their regular traffic sittings to be held throughout the season at the central station building, the first and third Tuesday of each month. Hon. F. B. Carvell, recently appointed to the chairmanship, presided for the first time. After the session he declared himself as entirely satisfied with the proceedings and stated that if the work continued to be as interesting as it was yesterday he would like it very much.

The complaint of the Dominion Millers' Association, represented by C. B. Watt and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, represented by J. E. Walsh and S. B. Brown, against the new milling in transit rules filed by the railways and which became effective September 1, 1919, were heard. Mr. Watt and the other representatives of the milling interests contended that the new rules would be a great hardship to the small miller, as the carrying out by him would necessitate a regular bookkeeping system to which he has hitherto not been accustomed, and which would entail a further great expense on his part. Judgment was reserved. Mr. Marshall, T. Marshall of the Toronto Board of Trade was also present in connection with this case.

The C. P. R., the G. T. R. and the C. N. R. were required to justify their present published freight rates on fresh fruits in carloads from Eastern Canada to Winnipeg, Portage La Prairie and Brandon, Manitoba. G. U. MacIntosh, Forest, Ont., acting on behalf of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, asked for time to present more evidence. This was granted and in the meantime judgment was reserved.

BRITISH ELECTION LITERATURE IS NOT CHARGED TO PUBLIC

London, Sept. 16.—It is now officially announced that the "broad sheet" issued free yesterday, containing messages from ministers or other members of the government, was not printed through public funds.

The Times, while admitting it to be unthinkable that the premier and his advisers should circulate election literature, "for that is what it comes to," at the public expense, says it is much more likely they sent out the publication in millions, clearly foreseeing that the charge of having produced it at the public expense would be made. They now appear before the public beating their breasts and exclaiming that these are base suspicions.

RECONSTRUCTION OF CABINET DEPENDS ON LABOR PARTY

London, Sept. 17.—Informal discussions are afoot as to the possibility of a working agreement between the younger members of the Unionist party, headed by Lord Robert Cecil, and the parliamentary Labor party, according to the political correspondent of the Central News. He adds that Premier Lloyd George has an ambition to lead such a combination and, now that the premier has returned to London "the whole situation is full of striking possibilities."

"Much depends," says the correspondent, "upon how far the Labor party will meet advances being made to it to join in the reconstruction of the ministry."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

What Inflammation Is, and Some Diseases It Accompanies

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

If cuts, wounds, or any kind of injury could occur in the way a surgeon uses his knife in the operating room there would be little inflammation.

It is the introduction of such disturbing elements as bacteria and other micro-parasites which incite rebellion in the tissues.

The word inflammation means conflagration. When Nero set fire to Rome he started an inflammation which is only slightly magnified over the fires and burning-ups which assault your bruises, wounds, scratches, and microbes enter those open sores.

An inflamed gum or a festering finger, you may sadly remember, is swollen, painful, hot and inclined to be vermilion in hue. A boil, carbuncle, inflamed knee-cap, wrist or elbow also have these signs. Therefore there is little doubt left in the doctor's mind when you have parts of your body red, painful, swollen and hot, but when matter and pus are added to the other things, not the shadow of a doubt can remain. The injured member has become infected with those micro-organisms called bacteria.

Typhoid fever is for the most part an inflammation of the lower portions of your digestive canal. Pneumonia likewise is an inflammation of the lungs. Indeed, it is so-called in German and other languages. Acute febrile arthritis is the correct name of "inflammatory rheumatism." It means a sudden inflammation in the hinges and joints of your body.

So it goes. Tonsilitis, bronchitis, hepatitis, nephritis, appendicitis, stomatitis, gastritis, meningitis and dermatitis are all inflammations of the tonsils, the bronchi, liver, kidneys, appendix, mouth, stomach, brain covering and the skin.

Just as fires are put out when they burn other objects, so they must be quenched in the tissues. Water is there as elsewhere the greatest inflammation extinguisher. Ice, water and fire-dampening drugs such as hexamethylenetetramine—name enough to stop any fire—are all fire laddies and fire companies for the body's conflgrations.

Answers To Health Questions

T. G. A.—If you will send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your query repeated I will be glad to answer your questions.

O. Y. M. A.—If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your query repeated I will be glad to answer your questions.

J. V. B. Q.—How can I make my eyebrows and lashes longer?

A.—Cocoa butter, electricity, one-half dram tincture of capsicum to an ounce of white vaseline or ammonia liniment massaged into them may help the growth.

MRS. H. W. D. Q.—What do you advise for dizziness?

A.—Dizziness is caused by middle-ear trouble, gall stones, high blood pressure, internal trouble and goitre or enlarged thyroid. You must have an examination made before proper treatment can be given.

R. F. R. Q.—Please tell me whether it is unhealthy for a weak person to sleep with a strong one, and why?

2. Will you also advise me as to what I shall do for the sinks in the collarbone? Does it show the development of lung trouble?

A.—It is not healthy for a weak person to sleep with a strong one, because the stronger absorbs most of the air.

2. Learn to swim. No, these do not show development of lung trouble.

G. E. S. Q.—What can I do for oily hair?

2. What do you think best for an oily skin?

A.—Massage a little of the following into the scalp:

Sulphate of quinine	1 dram
Salicylic acid	5 grains
Tincture of capsicum ...	1 dram
Lanolin	½ ounce
Petrolatum	½ ounce

Apply a little of the following to your skin:

Rosewater	1 pint
Glycerine	½ ounce

L. C. H. Q.—What can I do for psorasis!

A.—After the morning bath, and also in the evening a little of the following should be rubbed into all the affected parts from the neck downwards. Pyjamas are to be worn next to the skin night and day while the treatment goes on. In this way they become thoroughly saturated with the salve.

Phenol	10 grains
Chrysarobin	10 grains
Salicylic acid	15 grains
Oxide of zinc	1½ drants
Lanolin	1 ounce
Vaseline	1 ounce

Dr. Hirshberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address ALL INQUIRIES to Dr. L. K. MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The News That Alice Holcombe Told To Madge.

The news of Kenneth Stockbridge's arrest, which Alice Holcombe brought me, was a surprise only in the quickness with which the law had acted. I had feared from the first that there could be no other ending to the sordid train of circumstances surrounding Milly Stockbridge's death. And while my sympathies were strongly with my school principal—whose long provocation to anything short of murder no person familiar with the history of the family could deny—yet I could not blind myself to the fact that there were a number of circumstances which needed explanation, to put it mildly.

"What Did He Do?"

With a little thrill of fright I remembered that one of those circumstances, the most damning of all, was known only to myself. The fact that Milly Stockbridge's call to me had been interrupted by some one who had hurt her and disconnected the telephone at the same time, was, as far as I knew, a secret shared only by myself, the dead woman and the unknown intruder. Had the telephone operator been listening, after all? Was this the thing which had pointed the finger of suspicion at the principal? If so, I foresaw painful publicity, humiliating involvement in the case for myself.

No time, now, though for thinking of self. Before me lay a woman whose need of all my ministering strength was written upon her tortured face. To her had come that worst of all tragedies, disgrace for the man she loved, made more poignant by her inability either publicly to share his suffering or to alleviate it in any way. I must not only rally all my faculties to aid her, but I must let no word or look escape me which would lead her to suspect that I did not share her absolute belief in Kenneth Stockbridge's innocence.

Not that I had actually a conviction of his guilt in my own mind. But I by no means shared Alice Holcombe's blind belief, although I knew that I must feign acquiescence in her views.

To this end I put a startled note into my voice as I answered her.

"No! Why, how in the world could they do that! What is the charge?" I saw that in the overstrung condition of her nerves it was far better to let her talk all her horror out.

"I believe they call it being held for the grand jury," she said wearily, "but it simply means that they think—they think—he killed Milly."

Madge Is Worried.

"What nonsense!" I exclaimed, with as much heartiness as I could infuse into my voice. "Why, there is no proof at all! On what are they basing their charge?"

I awaited her answer brerathlessly. Had that secret telephone conversation been rehashed at the coroner's inquest?

"Oh, on those marks on her wrist," she replied contemptuously. "And the rage her people say he was in when he came to their house. Oh, the way they turned against him today was something horrible. You would think he had been a fiend incarnate all these years, instead of being gentleness and tenderness itself to Milly. He ought to have killed her long ago"—Alice Holcombe's face twisted itself into a grimness unpleasant to see—"if ever anybody deserved a violent end it was she, but Kenneth Stockbridge never did it."

"Of course, not," I soothed, "but tell me just what did her people say."

"What didn't they say, you mean," she retorted. "But the vital part of their testimony was the fact that Kenneth had come to them in a rage, demanding that they aid him in divorcing Milly, and that when they refused he left the house muttering threats. Of course, that testimony, combined with the fresh marks upon her wrists, and the fact that the poison in her stomach had been proved to be the same kind Kenneth had in his photographic studio, was enough for that set of crooks in charge of the farce today. But I don't believe even they would have dared to arrest him if it hadn't been for Kenneth himself. I don't understand him at all. I think the shock of Milly's going in so terrible a way must have turned his brain."

She stopped short and began to twist her hands together in her lap. I prodded her back to speech with a sharp question.

"What did he do?"

"That's the trouble, he didn't do anything," she returned. "He simply sat like a graven image all through the proceedings, and whenever he was asked a question his invariable answer was, 'I have nothing to say.' Even when the coroner turned to him and directly asked him, 'Did you or did you not make those marks upon your wife's wrists?' he made the same stereotyped answer, 'I have nothing to say.' The coroner put it another way: 'Do you deny it?' And Kenneth returned, 'I neither deny nor affirm it.'"

"Oh, it hurt him terribly with the people there, I could see that! And now he is in jail—think of it—in jail, the kindest, truest man who ever breathed!"

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18.

The planetary testimonies again point to an unusually important, interesting and successful day, affairs in all directions progressing with liveliness and satisfaction. The impulse to undertake important journeys and to make radical changes should be checked, as these are under unpropitious conditions. Also it is not advisable to risk money in speculation or any hazardous circumstances, particularly in loans. Large, new and perhaps secret affiliations or projects are under flourishing aspects, and these should be pushed vigorously. Letters, papers, documents, etc., should be signed with confidence and care, and all commercial transactions should move to a satisfactory finish. In domestic, social and affectional matters the influence is also benignant.

Those whose birthday it is may look forward to an eventful, pleasant and prosperous year. A child born on this day will be clever, industrious and successful. It will also be artistic, affectionate and lovable.

A Simple Way To Reduce Wrinkles

Remember that wrinkles and bagginess of cheek or chin are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition, there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple wash lotion easily made at home. Just get an ounce of pure powdered saxolite at your druggist's, and a half pint of witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissues—which, of course, smooths out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates capillary circulation, bringing natural color to faded cheeks.—Advt.

How Are You Going to Know?

"I have often read," said old John Carew,
"The claims they make for this and that shoe,
How's a man like me ever goin' to know
That the inside's good as the parts that show?"

Take yourself, for instance. Can you tell that a shoe will wear well by looking at it? Of course not. Only a person who knows the manufacturing end of the trade can do that and few stores have in their employ anyone who has had any experience. The buyer for this store studied the shoemaking in boyhood and knows a shoe from toe to heel. Thus he is able to pick out the poor grades, which do not enter our doors. Are you sure of this protection where you are dealing now? Be safe. Spend your money wisely.

A SPLENDID PROGRAM AT THE GRAND TODAY FOR THE LAST TIME

Bill Includes Five Vaudeville Acts and Feature Comedy Film.

Viewed from the angle that a vaudeville show should be one that includes a series of offerings producing laughter, or stirs the audience by means of novelty, the bill at the Grand the first half of this week cannot be beaten. About everything the general public has come to believe goes to make up vaudeville is included in the bill; the result has been delighted audiences which taxed the capacity of the theatre at every performance.

This program, which will be presented today for the last time, is headlined by the Six Musical Nosses, who have recently been featured in various Broadway musical comedies. Their return to vaudeville is welcomed by all who have heard them, and those who will see them for the first time will look forward to the time of their re-appearance. Their present offering, consisting of the classics, jazz music and clever novelties that are extremely entertaining, is indeed the musical treat of the season.

Another big feature of the bill is Larry Comer, who styles himself the singing comedian. Mr. Comer is in a class by himself; his offering must be seen to be appreciated.

Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller in an altogether charming and original novelty entitled "The Corridor of Time," is another feature of outstanding importance. The offering includes singing, dancing and comedy. The Three Hylans are variety artists who offer songs, dances, music and comedy patter in the most entertaining manner. Charles Edinbury in novelty gymnastics concludes this splendid list of Keith acts.

"A Favor to a Friend," a romantic comedy-drama, with the beautiful Emmy Wehlen as its star, will be the feature screen offering again today. Among the most popular of the feminine stars of the screen, Emmy Whelen has an enormous following of her own, who will be glad to learn that in her latest Metro vehicle, this comedy of favors, she once more returns in a part that permits her wearing many new and gorgeous sartorial creations of her own design. The story is one of action and thrills, pulsating through a plot which depicts the attempts of a young western girl who comes east to New York to claim her deceased father's estate, and who, upon her arrival, becomes entangled in a series of adventures in rapid succession. A Keystone comedy entitled "The Kink," and the Grand Pictorial Life are other screen features of the bill.

RIDOUT BRIDGE IS CLOSED TO TRAFFIC OF OVER FOUR TONS

City Engineer To Examine Dundas Bridge, Said To Be Crumbling.

The Ridout street bridge will be closed to all vehicles carrying a load heavier than four tons. The board of works authorized this action last night after a lengthy report on the situation had been presented by City Engineer H. A. Brazier. He said that the bridge would have to be entirely closed, or that loads would have to be limited to four tons. On the motion of Ald. G. B. Drake, the committee decided on the latter course.

Provincial statutes require that bridges be capable of supporting fifteen tons. The Ridout street bridge is adjudged safe for only four tons. Mr. Brazier states that many vehicles with eight-ton loads pass over it. Repairs can make this bridge capable of sustaining six tons weight. No action was taken to have tails done, or to plan a new bridge. H. V. Thompson of Toronto examined the bridge with Mr. Brazier and confirmed his report.

Let $73,418 Contract.

Contract for the drainage of Section 2 of Knollwood Park was let to W. McCracken, who tendered for the work at $73,418. The city engineer estimated that it would cost only $62,360. Mitchell and Mahan tendered for the drainage of Section 1 at $25,562. The engineer's estimate was $20,709. This was laid over. The tender of John McMurphy for a sanitary sewer on Palmerston avenue from Dundas street to Spartan street at $3,787 was accepted, as well as one for Spartan street from Palmerston avenue to the easterly limit of the street at $1,683. The engineer estimated the cost of the former at $4,098, and of the latter at $1,683.

Tenders for another street flusher will be called for on the motion of Ald. G. B. Drake.

Let Coal Tenders.

Tenders for the coal for municipal buildings will be let to the Chantler and the Winnett coal companies and the public utilities commission. Both private firms offered coal at $12.50 a ton. The utilities commission offered stove and nut coal at $11.80 a ton by the car.

L. Moore was given approval of the opening of a new subdivision on Victoria street, west of Talbot. Two blind streets will result. The city does not yet assume responsibility for the streets.

Thirty feet of property will be purchased on Wellington street west of the bridge at $12 a foot in order to insure that Nelson street will be kept open.

A sufficiently-signed petition against the paving of Waterloo street between Grosvenor and Victoria streets was received.

DOROTHY GISH HAS PART FULL OF PEP IN "NOBODY HOME"

pirish woman. It takes the combined ingenuity of two newlyweds, a pair of enterprising housebreakers, and one of the funniest climaxes in motion pictures to extricate Miss Gish from her difficulties.

Dorothy Gish as a vivacious comedienne ranks among the top-notchers in the film world. Exuberance of spirits and a pretty face would never alone have carried Dorothy Gish to the high position she now holds. However merry and carefree she appears in her pictures, she is a painstaking young artist, hardly out of her 'teens, who has won unusual success through natural gifts as a comedienne and a wealth of experience on the screen. She has a rare sense of dramatic values, and never lets her comedy work descend into caricature. This gift is what enables her to turn a humorous situation quickly into one of deep emotion and carry an audience with her.

LONDON PRESBYTERY LARGELY ATTENDED AT AUTUMN SESSION

Rev. F. Hirst Will Seek Charge in This City—Induction Programs Heard.

The autumn session of the London Presbytery was held in the First Presbyterian Ghurch on Tuesday, attended by an exceptionally large number of ministers and laymen. One important announcement was that Rev. F. Hirst of the Congregational Church in England, who was only recently received into the Presbyterian Church, will arrive in London shortly to seek a charge.

Rev. J. P. Falconer of Rodney presented a call to Rev. A. L. Carr of the military Y. M. C. A. here and formerly of Fernie, B.C., from West Lorne and Crinan at a salary of $1,500 with free manse. R. Walker and D. Carmichael were heard in support of the call. The induction will take place in Crinan on Thursday, October 2, at 2 p.m., standard time. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae, moderator, will preside. Rev. Mr. McIlroy of Wallacetown will preach the sermon, Rev. J. P. Falconer will address the people, and Rev. R. Stewart of Dutton will address the minister.

The induction of Rev. N. A. Campbell of Inwood to the charge of Ivan and English Settlement will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 2 p.m., standard time, at Ivan. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae will preside. Rev. G. M. Chidle of Mount Brydges will preach, Rev. Mr. Gale of Hyde Park will address the people, and Rev. Dr. McDonald will address the minister.

At the afternoon session, Rev. D. C. MacGregor gave a report of the forward movement committee, pointing out the need for deepening the spiritual life the gathering of young people into the Sunday schools with good teachers and the bringing of people to the House of God. He also touched on the financial aim of the forward movement to raise four million dollars for missionary and benevolent work.

All Anwers "No."

Rev. T. D. McCullough spoke on the referendum forcibly, the meeting passing a unanimous resolution to urge upon every individual the seriousness of the question and to answer "No" to every clause on the ballot.

The matter of McBride's church uniting with Cowal instead of Vanneck, as it has heretofore done, was taken up, and a committee was appointed to visit the three congregations before making any decision, and to report at an adjourned meeting to be held in the First Presbyterian Church on October 7. Rev. Dr. Dickie, who has charge of the Forward Movement work in the three Presbyteries of Sarnia, Chatham and London, also spoke briefly, regarding the aims of the forward movement.

INGERSOLL PUPILS SUSPENDED AFTER HAZING INCIDENT

INGERSOLL, Sept. 16.—The recent hazing episode at the collegiate institute was under discussion by the teachers' committee of the board of education. The action of Principal Shales in suspending for two weeks six of the boys was upheld by the committee. The committee was also informed H. G. Lockett of the collegiate staff had been approached relative to taking charge of the English department of the North Bay Normal School.

A parting gift in the form of a handsome gold watch was presented to W. T. Carthew by members of the I. A.A.A. Mr. Carthew was recently transferred from the Imperial Bank, where he had served as accountant for several years, to the managership of the branch at Stamford, and on his return for the week-end he was made the recipient of the gift.

'LIAR,' SAYS ENGINEER; CHAIRS TIP, BUT NO CASUALTIES FOLLOW

A fracas which promised to put the far-famed Willard-Dempsey battle in the shade nearly broke up a meeting of the board of works at the city hall last night. The chief participants were Robert Fraser, contractor, 937 Waterloo street, and several of the city fathers. Mr. Fraser was endeavoring to lay violent hands on City Engineer H. A. Brazier, who had called him a liar, and the aldermen were attempting to stop him.

They met the fate of most peacemakers. When Mr. Fraser was blocked in his efforts to reach the engineer he devoted all his attention to the city fathers who stood in his path with the result that they all lost their dignity, and some of them nearly lost their equilibrium. Mr. Fraser was finally quieted. After upturned chairs had been righted and cigars had been recovered from remote corners of the committee room, the committee drew its breath and surveyed the situation.

Curb Level Issue.

Mr. Fraser appeared before the board to ask that the curb on Waterloo street, opposite his residence, be raised. The grade of the street was recently changed, so that the curb is about a foot and a half below the boulevard. The city engineer said that this was necessary in order to meet the requirements of drainage. Several of the committee suggested that the boulevard could be cut down, but Mr. Fraser would not consent to this. He explained the situation at length and ended by saying that Mr. Brazier had admitted in a telephone conversation with him that the curb would have to be raised, and had added that it would be done at the ratepayers' expense, again today.

"Mr. Fraser, you're a liar," said Mr. Brazier.

"You take that back! Take it back!" yelled Mr. Fraser, as he made a plunge in the engineer's direction that would have done credit to any rugby fullback. "I demand an apology."

"I will apologize when you withdraw your statement," said the engineer.

"I won't," said Mr. Fraser.

Mayor Somerville explained that the city had to be guided by the advice of its engineer in establishing road levels, and while, as Mr. Fraser had stated, the levels for the sidewalk might have been given by the late Engineer Graydon, it had been found necessary to change many of these.

Mr. Fraser said he would consent to nothing but having the curb raised. The committee decided that in that event they could do nothing, which closed the incident for the evening.

TOM MIX IN WESTERN PLAY AT PATRICIA LAST TIME TODAY

"The Coming of the Law" Is Photoplay of Real Thrills.

Tom Mix has a thrilling picture of the old West in a new William Fox photoplay called "The Coming of the Law," which will be shown at the Patricia Tneatre for the last time today. This play is taken from the book by Charles Alden Seltzer, and was staged by Arthur Rosson. There can be no doubt that Mix and his director spend a vast amount of time thinking up new western stunts for their pictures.

"The Coming of the Law" deals with a gang of rustlers in Dry Bottom, in New Mexico. Mix, as Kent Hollis, enters a town, where his father long had owned a ranch and a newspaper. His father is dead. He learns that the town is run by rustlers, who have robbed his father of many cattle. He turns in with a vim to clean up the town and make it a law-abiding place. In this he is aided by Judge Graney and pretty Nellie Hazelton, played by Brownie Vernon.

NERO

THE ROMAN EMPEROR was nearsighted and squinted through a concave emerald and believed it to be a charmed stone. It was precious to him, not because it was a valuable emerald, but because its rudely concaved surface in a measure corrected his imperfect vision. Nothing was known in Nero's time of the science of refraction and he believed his concave emerald to be endowed with supernatural power. He did not know his vision was not normal, but he knew that he could see better by squinting through the emerald, and because of this it was his most valued possession. Doubtless he would have given a thousand emeralds, or even a kingdom, for the opportunity of having his impaired vision corrected, as is possible today. John A. Nash, My Jeweler and Optometrist, has Chas. H. Foster, doctor of optics, with him, and they can test eyes perfectly and fit glasses properly. His store is 206 Dundas street, "where you will eventually buy." b

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

BETTERMENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Will you allow a soldier to air his views? The London Fair makes an immense profit, which you say is produced by the people, the source of wealth. Now, some of the money could be laid out for old age homes, grants to soldiers, and burial of the poor. Yesterday I saw a poor woman on the market picking up rotten fruit to eat, in spite of so much money being given to charitable institutions, etc., which merely help themselves. I think also that doctors and lawyers could lower their fees, considering that the workers pay towards the cost of their education. Abolishing the drink has done a lot of good, and now is the time to have better libraries, so as to educate the people. Schools seem to tetach much which is not education. Yours truly,

TIMOTHY NODDER.

O. T. A. REFERENDUM.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Kindly permit me to call general attention to a matter that I have just wakened up to, as there may be many more like me, "asleep at the switch." In my opinion, at present, from what I can learn and judge, the O. T. A. referendum is either the outcome of crass stupidity, or else the slickest political trick that has been sprung for some time; the way the campaign is now developing leads me to the conclusion favoring the latter view.

Our chief priests, who may hope that their faith is well founded, but who propose to defend it whether it is right or wrong; our scribes, who must have an authority that others will accept, because no one would believe the scribe under oath; and the pharisees, who thank God they are not as other men are, and are not the friends of publicans and sinners, are making a common cause to befog the issue by comparisons between the present and the past, and it is purely a matter of opinion whether the perjury and forgery and cruelty attendant on the operation of the O. T. A. are worse than the evils of license times. To me, both are bad, and the true issue is neglected and forgotten in the fog of prejudice being raised by the "Holy Willies" of the day.

To me the proper issue is not which of the past methods of action were worst, but what is the best possible course of action now to be adopted for the future; so far as I can learn and judge, very few want the return of the license system, about as few want the continuation of the intolerant O. T. A. as it has been administered. The referendum as submitted cleverly appears to give us only the choice between the two evils, apparently that we may choose the least, and hoping that that will appear to be support of intolerance rather than return to the license system.

If this be the case the framers of the referendum have overreached themselves; there is a solution contained in the questions as they are submitted that suits me, and I believe will suit the great majority of our fellow-cittizens, and this is: Vote "No" on the first question, and do not ask for the repeal of the O. T. A. Vote "Yes" on the other three, and have it amended as best we can now, then agitate for further amendments, especially one that gives the convicting judge power to enforce as much of the maximum penalty as he thinks will give just punishment, and give either side the right to appeal to a higher court if aggrieved, and another authorizing the convicting judge to have the lash applied if fining the convict will act so as to punish his dependents rather than the convict. Some may object to the lash as degrading, but we may well ask whether the professional bootlegger can be further degraded by anything whatever. Personally, I would advocate the making of a law that all intoxicating and narcotic drugs, within certain limits to be settled by expert advisers, should be a Government monopoly, with penalties as severe as those attached to counterfeiting money to be attached to the illegal making or use of any of the monopolized materials, or the possession of them where excuse that will satisfy the judge cannot be made, just the same as in the possession of counterfeit money. All should be freely provided for, and all have their abuses, which should be prevented, if possible, expresses the idea that I have in mind.

In conclusion, if the majority vote the straight ticket, "No," we will be left in the fire, where we are on the liquor matter. If the majority vote "Yes" on the straight ticket, the opinion is expressed by the premier and others that we must return to the frying-pan of the license system; but if we all split the ticket, "No" on one and "Yes" on two, three and four, we can beat the pharisees at their own game. A long pull, a strong pull and a pull all in union will get the results we probably all want or need.

THE REFERENDUM BALLOT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Much has been said on the floor of Parliament, on public platforms and in editorial colums in unstinted praise of the fairness, justness and liberal scope of the referendum ballot. That it has been broadly drawn to ascertain whether the citizens of Ontario desire a bone-dry prohibition, the sale of light beer in Government shops, the sale of light beer in standard hotels, or the sale of all liquors under Government control, and that it is so efficiently framed as to explicitely obtain this much desired information, is the claim and proud boast of the premier, the Government, the leading newspapers and the various prohibition associations.

To say, therefore, in reply to all this, that the referendum ballot is the most unjust, unfair, confusing, indecisive, insidious, deceitful, frustrating and cunningly-devised instrument of voting ever placed before the intelligent electorate of a British country, may sound astoundingly incredulous, but it is true, nevertheless.

It is so craftily framed that every single vote cast must favor the prohibition side, unless that vote is cast "Yes" to each of the four questions, which are so ingeniously worded that thousands upon thousands of votes throughout the province will be cast deliberately and marked correctly "Yes" for some form of liquor as delineated in the four questions, and still actually count as prohibition votes. It is so artfully drawn thousands upon thousands will vote "Yes" for one or two of the questions, and then proceed to kill their own ballots, or vote exactly opposite to their intentions unknowingly by marking "No" to the other questions.

The ballot offers no alternative, no choice, to the prohibitionists to vote other than "No" to every question. It is in no wise confusing to them. Their duty is made clear by the apt wording of each question. They would not be consistent to their faith and vote otherwise than "No" four times on each ballot, which, therefore, packs their votes into a solid mass for bone-dry prohibition. But to those who want a humble glass of beer in a standard hotel or a bottle of brandy from a government shop it is confusing and wilfully deceptive. To such citizens four different ways are afforded to vote; four different ways are held out to them to unknowingly divide their ballots; four different ways are provided for them to innocently split their ballots with their opponents; four different ways are adroitly arranged for them to kill their own votes, and four different ways are enticingly placed at their disposal to vote against each other, while but one way is pointed out to the prohibitionists to proceed in solid formation. Those who want a drink of any kind will naturally divide their votes among the four questions and cast the others into the prohibition net, for the law of this ballot compels them to vote "No" when they do not vote "Yes," and thus prohibition gets a good catch from every split ballot. Those who sincerely cast their votes for the one question that best suits their inclinations are compelled to vote "No" to the other three, which adds a vote to each of these three questions on the prohibition side, and the voter thus kills his ballot, or if he refuses to vote "No" to the other questions—refuses to vote dry when he wants to vote wet—he spoils his ballot, so that his vote is killed either way.

The fact that a voter can select any one of the ways of handling the liquor traffic as provided by the questions on the ballot, and at the same time kill his own vote by voting as his conscience dictates, may seem preposterous and impossible, but its understanding can be made very plain. If four voters, each favoring a different question on the ballot, cast their votes accordingly: The first for the first question and against the other three; the second for the second question and against the other three; the third for the third question and against the other three; and the fourth for the fourth question and against the other three, the final result, upon counting the ballot, will be three to one in favor of prohibition on every one of the four questions, in spite of the fact that each of the four voters favored some form of the liquor law and went to the polls to procure it, with the result that they not only killed their own votes, but added a considerable majority to the other side. The same ratio applies and follows whether the number of four, four thousand, four hundred thousand or four million voters. Could political deception be more shrewdly practised under the cloak of honesty and Christianity? Is it not time the citizens banded themselves into a league to protect their personal liberties and their British birthrights?

But further, if eleven voters go to the polls, four of whom are "drys" and seven of whom are "wets," and the former vote "No" to all four questions, as, being "drys," there is no other alternative, and the latter split their votes by casting them for one, and two, and three of the questions, and "No" to others of them, the four "drys" must outvote and defeat the seven "wets" in spite of the fact that only four of the eleven favored prohibition and seven of them favored and voted for some form of liquor law as set forth in the four questions. Is there any fairness, any justness, any honesty, or any Christianity in this for either the Government or the church to uphold? That four can outvote seven on the referendum ballot as it goes to the people on the 20th of October is a fact that cannot be controverted, and the same ratio follows to any number—four thousand can beat seven thousand; four hundred thousand can beat seven hundred thousand; and four million can beat seven million.

It must be seen, then, that the referendum ballot is far from the immaculate object of fairness that it is claimed to be, but rather an exquisite example of crafty political intrigue that provides the means for a very small minority to outvote and defeat a very large majority, and that those who want a very modest glass of beer or an expensive bottle of brandy have no choice whatever in the four questions submitted to them as to the best way to buy it, but in order to get it at all they must vote "Yes" for all four questions or they will otherwise vote straight against their own wishes, desires and intentions, and to do otherwise they are being lured into the wily trap of political prohibition.

Yours truly,
JAMES HOUGH,
Guelph, Sept. 13, 1919.

CHARITY FUND GAG USED TO VICTIMIZE LIST OF MERCHANTS

Man Gives Worthless Tickets For Money He Collects For "Children's Fund."

Representing himself as a member of the Grand Army of Canada collecting subscriptions for sick children of returned soldiers, a young man collected many dollars from downtown merchants yesterday to whom he gave worthless tickets of admittance to the official war picture exhibition, in Hyman Hall, now closed.

According to merchants who gave the young men money when he asked for "donations," he suggested that nothing less than $5 was anticipated by the organizers of the fund from each person.

He displayed a long typewritten list of merchants and residents whom he had marked down for various amounts of money. The Grand Army of Canada officials had not heard of the solicitor late last night.

Police are searching for the collector, of whom they have a description.

FAVOR GRATUITY INCREASE BUT FROWN ON DRASTIC STEPS

A. and N. Vets Believe Toronto Agitation Lessens Chance of Success--Currie Member.

"We are in full sympathy with the movement to increase the gratuity and pensions to the veterans, but will not indorse any drastic or unconstitutional methods for enforcing the demands."

This resolution was passed unanimously at the Army and Navy Veterans' meeting in the club rooms last night. All the speakers stated it was their firm belief that the methods adopted by the gratuity league of Toronto are doing much harm to the cause and lessen the chance for success of the agitation.

General Sir Arthur Currie accepted (by letter) a life membership in the association. A large number of applications for membership were accepted.

The report of the committee which was in charge of the war trophy exhibit at the Western Fair was enthusiastically received when it was learned that $2,135.15 was the gross receipts taken in at the box office. Out of this $1,769.35 was turned over to the association funds, the balance being paid out for expenses incurred in bringing the trophies to this city. The committee which was in charge of the exhibition was given a hearty vote of thanks. Several requests have been made for a repetition of the exhibit locally and efforts will be made by the association to give another exhibition in the near future. A substantial offer has been received from interested parties in Windsor for a similar exhibition there.

A committee of three was appointed to meet the city council in regard to the exemption from municipal taxes for a period of ten years to veterans of the war in this city. The committee appointed to interview the council is composed of Comrades White, Alford and Aldridge.

It is the intention of the local branch to give aid to other towns in Military District No. 1 to organize branches of the A. and N. V. Association. A committee of five was appointed to take this in charge.
