ACCIDENT COST NAVY CRUISER

Believed That Lyddite Shell Was Dropped and Exploded.

Saddest Feature of Loss is Number of Lives.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] SHEERNESS, Eng., via London, Nov. 27.—It is believed here that the explosion of the Bulwark was caused by the fall and bursting of a 12-inch lyddite shell in her magazine.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Sheerness says the whole nation will be plunged into mourning at the terrible disaster which occurred yesterday to the battleship Bulwark. It is not the loss of the vessel, serious though it is, that will count. The real tragedy is the loss of some eight hundred gallant men swept out of existence in a moment of time.

ONLY FOURTEEN SAVED Lying at her moorings in the harbor at Sheerness, the Bulwark was literally torn to pieces by an internal explosion. There was a huge flash of flame, a dense cloud of smoke—and the battleship had vanished almost completely as though she had never existed. I am told, indeed, that on some of the vessels near not a piece of glass or crockery was left whole. Even half-inch plate glass in portholes was shattered, while men on the deck were hurled several yards and thrown down.

RESCUE WORK USELESS In the early moments boats were lowered from the various warships and the rescue boats soon steamed up from all directions. They came, however, on an almost fruitless errand. A warship cleared far action is so closely stripped of woodwork that there is nothing left to float, and the vast mass of metal that had been a fine battleship a minute before had vanished almost as completely as though she never figured on the navy list. Her and the wreckage floating a few still living men. The most of these were terribly injured. These, with a number of mutilated dead bodies, were the only signs of the disaster. As speedily as possible, living and dead were taken to other warships a little later. Many eye-witnesses have described to me the terrible moment in which the magnificent ship met her doom.

WORKMEN SEE EXPLOSION

Workmen ashore waiting to be relieved after the night shift state that they were looking casually at the shipping in the harbor, not observing anything in particular, when a terrific flash shot up in the sky, followed immediately by clouds of smoke. For a few brief minutes a pall hung over the scene, and then drifted to seaward, and to the men's amazement not a vestige of the great battleship remained. So utterly staggering was the blow that workmen who had been dazed by the severity of the explosion for a few moments even discredited their own senses and debated amongst themselves as to how many ships they had counted before the explosion.

SAVED WERE ON LEAVE

As once the harbor was in a commotion. On all ships officers and crews rushed on deck, some of them half stunned by the terrible explosion. The victims were removed in boats to Sheerness pier where motor ambulances from Chatham were ready to take them to the naval hospital. The living number only fourteen. Over-night leave had been given to a number of men from the ill-fated ship, and these were returning down the midway aboard cutter boat No. 147 to rejoin the Bulwark when the explosion occurred. This liberty boat landed the survivors at Sheerness dockyard. Just before noon four motor ambulances bearing a Red Cross arrived at the new dockyard in response to summons for assistance. Into these the survivors landed here were placed and sent by road to the Royal Naval Hospital at Chatham.

MEN WERE AT BREAKFAST

At the time of the disaster most of the men were below at breakfast, and only a few on deck had the slightest chance of life. A well known shipbuilder, who was in his house near Sheerness pier at the time, told me that the whole house reeled under the force of the explosion and everything seemed to rattle. The whole of Sheerness was shaken, and people ran into the streets to inquire what was the matter, as the roar and shock of the explosion was far more severe than the occasional gun fire to which people in naval ports are accustomed. No civil significance was attached at first at Sheerness to the explosion, accustomed as it is to heavy gun fire.

RUSSIANS DRIVING IT HOME TO ENEMY WITH GREAT SPIRIT

Capture of 50,000 Was Part of Day's Work—Petrograd Feels that Magnificent Victory Has Been Won, Although News Has Not Been Made Public.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Telegraphing from Petrograd regarding the fighting around Lodz in Russian Poland, the correspondent of The Matin, says: "One German army corps, which was surrounded by Russian troops, surrendered in a body. This represents nearly 50,000 prisoners. Another corps also had been cut off, has now been completely put to rout. "The Russians are attacking along the Czenstochowa-Cracow line with redoubled intensity."

VICTORY IN THE AID

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Hamilton Fyfe, in a despatch from Petrograd to 'The Daily Mail' says: "There is an undercurrent here on this snowy day, which is setting everybody on tiptoe of expectation. Great news has now been made public, but this morning's official despatches were so worded as to arouse high hopes. News from trustworthy sources, which is known at the embassies, has been spreading through the city. "The policy of the Russian headquarters staff has been always to understate their success until they are able to announce them complete, but today the modest statement 'we have taken a number of prisoners' read in the light of the past, indicates that what has happened is that the Russian staff has out-generated the Germans, lured them into a trap and then closed in upon them with an iron grip which cannot be resisted. "The Kaiser's hysterical telegrams, alternately imploring and commanding his generals to save their country from invasion by hurling back the Russian armies, appear to have flustered and worried them so much that they did not stop to form plans, but advanced blindly and put their head into a noose, which the Russians are waiting to pull tight. The haul of prisoners, already enormous, must be within a few days, greater still. "It seems impossible from the information available at present, for the northern half of the German force half, or for the capture of the best part of an army corps to be avoided."

The Times' Petrograd correspondent says: "Military critics connect the Russian victory with the failure of German generalship, which they say was marked by excessive confidence in its own strength and in underestimation of the Russian strength."

Kaiser Offered to Cede Tsing-tau If Japan Would Fight the Russians

PETROGRAD, Nov. 27.—The Retch prints an explanation of the mysterious reference by Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, ex-premier of England, at the Guildhall banquet in London on November 10 to "one of the most important messages ever addressed by one monarch to another." The Retch says that on the eve of the fall of Tsing-tau, the Kaiser sent a message to the Mikado, in which he proposed to conclude peace with Japan by accepting all conditions which the Mikado might be pleased to fix. But the German emperor exacted one condition, namely, that Japan should attack Russia. The Mikado declined to accept the proposal, and added: "The day when the last foothold of German culture falls in will be one of the most glorious in Japanese history. "The Mikado concluded by telling the Kaiser that he had received himself enormously by thinking that Japan, like Prussia, was capable of violating treaties. The Mikado handed the Kaiser's telegram and a copy of his reply to the British Minister.

HOLY WAR PROCLAIMED

[By Special Wire to the Courier] CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 27.—via Sofia and London, 12.02 a.m.—The proclamation of a holy war, announced for the first time some ten days ago, was published here to-day. It is signed by the Sultan and 28 Moslem priests, and calls upon the Moslem world to participate in a holy war against Great Britain, Russia and France, the entente powers.

Baggage of Hospital Staff Consisted Mainly of Loot

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The permanent court-martial yesterday sentenced Surgeon-Majors Collins and Wohlfart who were in charge of the principal field hospital of the second German army corps, to a year's imprisonment for alleged pillage. Nine deaconesses attached to the hospital were given sentences varying from one month to three months, and twenty subordinate sentences, ranging from one month to three years on the same charge. Eleven other persons connected with the hospital were acquitted. The hospital was captured by the French at Peronne, September 15. The bulk of the baggage aroused the suspicion of the French army officials and its search was ordered. In that of Surgeon-Major Collins it was charged, there were found three Tanagra statuettes with the labels of the Perronne Museum attached to them. It was alleged that in the baggage of the deaconesses there were pieces of silk, carpets, and fine linens, which the deaconesses claimed had been given them by Carmelite Sisters in appreciation of their kindness to the French wounded.

Hungary's Plains to Budapest Are in Command of the Russians

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post telegraphs: "The Russians are now pouring through easy passes of the Carpathian range at Dulka, a well-traded highway of conquest, known to Russian forces for at least half a century. The wide, convenient pass at Dulka has no fewer than five high roads converging there, and its capture is tantamount to giving Russia the command of the plains of Hungary up to Budapest, 15 miles away on the road to Vienna. "I hear that the field hospital supplies of the Russians, about which there was some anxiety at the beginning of the war owing to the shortage of imports, were never short, thanks to the capture of the entire stoppage of imports, were never short, thanks to the capture of the entire stores accumulated by Austria for the Russian campaign. We heard at the time vague reports about this item of rich booty captured in Galicia, but private messages now explain the affair in more detail. When the Austrians fled the Russians captured over twenty miles of carts, almost entirely laden with hospital stores. Many stood without their horses, which had been taken to assist in the flight, and the rest had sorry beasts still harnessed, but powerless to move a step. The quantity of supplies taken furnished not merely the field hospitals at the front, but even assisted the base hospital with certain materials which formerly had been imported, and want of which, until the Russian factories got going again, was at one period a matter of serious apprehension to the authorities."

OFFICIAL FRENCH NOTICE

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, Nov. 27, 2.47 p.m.—The French War Office gave out an official announcement this afternoon as follows: "The slacking of the artillery fire of the enemy was noted all along the line during the day of November 26. Two infantry attacks directed against the heads of bridges, which had been thrown down on the right bank of the Yser to the south of Dixmude, were easily repulsed. "There was no other engagement on the rest of the front in Belgium and as far as the Oise, nor was there any action on the Aisne, or in Champagne. Nevertheless Rheims was rather violently bombarded during the time that a number of journalists from neutral countries were making a visit to the city.

MONEY AND MEN IN PLENTY

Huge British War Loan is Over-subscribed—An Announcement by Lloyd George.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Nov. 27, 2.45 p.m.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George announced in the House to-day that the war loan of $7,750,000,000 had been greatly over-subscribed. The Chancellor gave no figures. He said, however, that a feature of the loan was the enormous number of individuals, totaling nearly 100,000 who had made application for small sums. These, the Chancellor declared would receive the first allotments.

HELP THE KIDDIES!
CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

Though the initial announcement was only made yesterday, already a number of subscriptions have been received for the Kiddies Christmas Tree, which is to be held in the arm-ories on Wednesday, Dec. 23rd. And who wouldn't subscribe to such an excellent cause? The spirit and cheer of Christmas must be maintained for the children in spite of the war, and everybody should be anxious to help bring Santa Claus to all the kiddies of this city, who might otherwise have a very sad Christmas day. It is the intention of the committee to give toys, and other presents to all the children of the Brantford soldiers who have gone to the front, and also to all those children, for whom, because of unemployment, their parents will not be able to give much Christmas cheer. The committee is working in co-operation with the Patriotic Association, and the Social Service League, which will supply the names of the children. It is anticipated that over 700 children will be provided for. Now how much will you give? The true spirit of Christmas will not enter your heart unless you are ready to help brighten the Christ-

EX-CHIEF JOHN HILL
Ex-Chief John Hill, of the Six Nations Indians, passed away yesterday at the home of his son, Chief Hilton M. Hill, on the Reserve, at Onondaga. The late ex-Chief was 88 years of age and will be deeply mourned by the whole Indian Community.
At a very early age, he became Chief of the Seneca Indians, and he only relinquished the honour with the advance of old age, some ten years ago. He was the first builder and contractor upon the Reserve, for he built the Council House, which was erected 80 years ago. He was highly educated and well informed, and governed his tribe impartially and with esteem and regard, and was one of the most highly respected of the Six Nations Chiefs.
He leaves to mourn his loss, besides a wide circle of friends, many relatives, among whom are six sons, Albert, Thomas, Robert, David, Hilton and Enos. There are a number of grandchildren who survive, and are well known around the city.

THE PRESIDENT
ABHORS IDEA OF BOMB DROPPING

(By Special Wire to the Courier)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President Wilson has communicated unofficially to the diplomatic representatives of the United States in the belligerent countries of Europe, his disapproval of attacks by bombs from air craft, dropped on fortified cities occupied by the non-combatants.
The president was careful not to take the matter up officially and did not even make his communication through the state department, but personally addressed the American Ambassadors abroad. The president took this course, it became known today, nearly two months ago. The facts came to light through the publication of a report that the president had discussed the matter with European diplomats here. This however, was denied by some of the prominent diplomats mentioned in connection with it, including the German ambassador.
Just how the American diplomats abroad were to convey President Wilson's feeling in the matter to the foreign government, had not been disclosed, as White House officials, in the absence of the president, declined to discuss the subject.
It is believed, however, that the president called attention to the article in The Hague convention of 1907, to which all the principal belligerents are signatory, which provides for notice of 24 hours before bombardment or attack, in order that non-combatants may remove themselves from the danger zone.
Whether there have been any unofficial responses from the belligerents, was not known here today.

NO GENERAL SYMPATHY FOR GERMANY FELT IN SWEDEN
Consul at Montreal Says Country is Remaining Neutral.
MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—Mr. C. G. G. Anderburg the Swedish consul in Montreal, states that Germany has not the sympathy of any large section of Swedish people, especially the Swedish newspapers, as alleged by Hamilton Fyfe, a British journalist, in a recent despatch to Canada.
Mr. Anderburg expresses confidence that the newspapers and people of Sweden are neutral, as is the Swedish Government.

WINTER IS SETTING IN ON EUROPEAN BATTLEFIELDS
Clear and Frosty in Poland and Rainy in Flanders
BERLIN, Nov. 27.—In the eastern theatre of war the weather generally is clear but frosty the temperature averaging 70 degrees centigrade below zero. At Cracow fog alternates with snow.
In Flanders the rain continues and the temperature is near the freezing point. A low temperature prevails in the Lorraine plateau. In the Vosges the crests of the mountains are covered with about six inches of snow.
Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ellis and family are leaving to-morrow to take up their residence in Toronto, where Mr. Ellis takes over the management of the Barber-Ellis Co. in that city. They will be very much missed in Brantford social and other circles.

SUMMARY OF ALL THE WAR NEWS

[By Special Wire to The Courier.]

While the belief grows hourly that the Russians in Northern Poland have won the greater, battle of the war, actual details of the operations in this locality still are withheld, and the whole incident is beginning to take on the aspects of a mystery.

From Petrograd comes a report that the patience of the Russian people, awaiting official confirmation of the reported victory, is approaching the breaking point, and the same thing may be said of the public here. German reports, without entering into any such details as dates, describes successful operations in the region of this great battle, but admit that the German army has not succeeded in bringing the struggle to a close. It is evident that the comparative failure of the Austro-German operations along the Czestochowa front gave the Russians opportunity to envelop General Von Hindenberg, after this brilliant leader had thrown a wedge into his antagonist's center. The Russians to the south, safe on their own front, were able to strike northward, thus breaking the enemy who had passed east beyond their right flank.

Military critics at Petrograd profess to be astonished at the German assault on Lodz, maintaining that such a movement made the defeat of the invaders inevitable. The critics declare that unless the German advance toward Kutno and Lodz was part of a large movement, the operation was too hazardous to be creditable. A third German army in the vicinity of Wielun has started an advance toward Kutno and Lodz was part of a large movement, the operation was too hazardous to be creditable. ## HELMSMAN Was at Fault Say the Turks

[By Special Wire to The Courier.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Turkish commander of the forts at Smyrna, lays all responsibility for the firing upon the commander of the Black Sea fleet, the difference of the helmsman of the launch, who, it is said, did not heed warnings of the presence of mines.

Secretary of State Bryan to-day issued a supplementary statement on the latest communication from the Turkish Minister of War in Constantinople.

"The war minister's report," said the statement, "states that he ascertained from the commander of Smyrna that two blank shots of warning were first fired, and that the sentinel, after waiting two minutes, was obliged to fire the third shot in another direction from that of the launch, which latter shot was to prevent the helmsman of the launch from holding his course, which would lead directly on to the mines at the entrance of the port, and to rescue him from a very certain danger. The commander of Smyrna expresses regret that such an obligation was presented to the sentinel of the port, which he attributes to the indifference of the helmsman of the launch."

Secretary Bryan said this latest report closes the incident.

With the City Police

The Brantford Police Court lost its dignity this morning and took on an air of mirth and amusement, when a quick-witted son of Old Erin with his ready repartee, shot at his prosecutor, convulsed the onlookers with his answers.

He appeared to bear the strength of his convictions, too, but after making sundry remarks, and after the complainant, he declared he bore no ill-feeling, and with a rush that was as quick as his wit he shook hands with his opponent at the bar.

The case was one in which Morrison was charged with James Morrison with assault, while there was a counter-charge of non-payment of wages. Morrison had worked and worked well for Hunter, who candidly admitted owing the wages, and at the conclusion paid up just as freely as they had come to words, and Morrison, whose temper rivals his wit seized a 12-axe and might have done some damage. Hunter seized a gun and aimed a deadly shot, but she had her arm raised and the incident passed over to come before the court, the magistrate under the circumstances dismissing the charge. Hunter afterwards settled by paying up $49.50 to Morrison.

Mrs. Isabella McCummins added further to the joy of the court when she indignantly charged Mrs. Taylor, a one-time neighbor, with theft. She looked at a whole bundle of clothes which she priced at $10, and declared every single article was her property. She knew them. They were taken by defendant. She even went on to say that a witness against her was a sister of hers at the Court which had been filched from her home. Prosecutor Wilkes could make nothing of Mrs. McCummins, and he hastily brought his questions to a close to her discomfiture, but she had not told her story and would not leave the box, and leave she would not until Magistrate Livingston had heard the whole tale of woe. However, Mrs. Taylor's mother, who had all the clothes produced belonged to her. She could prove it, and upon this the Bench dismissed the case, adding that although there might be some foundation for Mrs. Taylor's complaint, there was little doubt that her imagination provided the greater part of her sorrows.

Quite a list of cases were made out against the City Social Club and members from a bench of 10. The case of a but owing to the indisposition of two lawyers, the whole list was held over until next Wednesday, no evidence being taken.

EMPEROR WILLIAM Visits the French Wounded and Gives Them a Homily.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Emperor William is described in a letter received by one of the editors of Patrie from make a captain "M" undergoing treatment at a hospital in the German front of Metz, as having visited the French wounded, saying:

"I give my imperial homage, gentlemen to you, and am not understanding the cruel circumstances of the present. I do not despair of seeing one day Germany and France united by ties of sincere friendship."

FARMERS ARE RESPONDING TO GOVERNMENT APPEAL TO ADD TO CROPS.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—The Government recently appealed to the farmers to increase their wheat acreage and break additional land so that next year's crops may be proportionate to the steadily increased demand resulting from the war.

A report received from Mr. J. Bruce Walker, immigration commissioner at Winnipeg, indicates a ready response. It sets forth that the increase in cultivated areas next year will be 4 per cent. in excess of this season.

THE SITUATION.

When the war censor allowed, a few weeks ago, the information to come from Petrograd that there was a lack of unanimity in the Russian Council of War as to whether the Germans should have been allowed to take Warsaw and then cut off from communication and forced to surrender, or that the big city should be kept away from the enemy, some real ideas of Russian plans were revealed.

Despite the satisfaction felt over the progress of the war in the eastern zone, a sobering effect is produced throughout the British Empire at the loss of the pre-dreadnought Bulwark and a gallant crew of over 700. In this case it is not believed that it was the enemy, the circumstances surrounding the disaster being such as to indicate that it was purely accidental.

Following the decisive nature of the fighting in Poland, there may be a resumption of severe fighting in France and Belgium. At present the operations are in the nature of a siege, but when the opportune moment comes for the Allies the siege will be raised.

Probable Action of the "Neutrals." Turkish activity is bound to alarm Italy, no matter where it appears—except in the Armenian region. Italy has quite "fixed her mouth" for a nice meal off the Albanian littoral, but a renewed Turkey would be certain to reassert its claim to Albania.

wait—they must act before it is too late. The arrival of Italy on the scene would be so decisive that we may expect to see her accompanied by at least two of the Balkan nations—Roumania and Greece.

NOTES AND COMMENT. The United Kingdom has a population of 45,275,000. Like Bobs, her late Field Marshal, "she's little, but she's mighty for her size."

It seems hardly possible that a Britisher could practice espionage against his own nation, but this is the charge coming from such a high source as Lord Haldane.

Portugal has announced that she has decided to co-operate with the Allies, while Italy is on the verge of making a similar decision. It looks as if the only friend the Kaiser had in the world was the Sultan of Turkey. They are two of a kind.

An official despatch from Petrograd states that the present battle in Poland "occupies a line a couple of miles east of Sieradz, passing through Strykow, Zgierz, Szedek, Zdunska-wola and Vozniki."

In to-day's edition, elsewhere will be found a letter written by a German, Frank Weisner, Revelstoke, B.C. It is one of more than usual significance. Apart from the point of view that it is primarily a denunciation of the Kaiser and his satellites, it raises a question which many will be given thoughtful consideration. He says:

"A perverted conception of national duty and an outworn idea of patriotism, are the inspirations for soldiers to kill each other." Now, that is an opinion to which many people to-day subscribe themselves, and it is in the light of 20th century ideals, a perfectly sane one.

To The Editor

MATTER IS EXPLAINED. The Editor of the Courier, Sir,—You published a letter from me in your issue of Monday last, as an objection to the "Soldiers' wives" receiving that which is due to them. Now Sir, I wish to draw your notice to the fact that it was an enquiry, as to why something more could not be done for those who are left at home. I do not blame Soldiers' Wives for her letter, at all. I stated clearly enough in my letter that I had no objection, but what I wanted to know was why could not something more be done for the children whose fathers could not be soldiers. I gave an example; you know whether I was right or not.

I am, yours sincerely, SUBSCRIBER.

MONEY AND MEN

That showed, Mr. Lloyd-George said, how complicated the system was. The paper issued in London had become a part of the currency of the world.

By this step, the speaker said, the unimpeachable character of the British bill of exchange had been maintained. It was vital to the good name of this country that this British paper, which had become currency for the whole of the trade of the world, should be unimpeachable and that no one should say hereafter that in a day it had been dishonored.

One hundred and twenty million pounds sterling ($500,000,000) of bills had been discounted by the Bank of England, and that showed, he said, that out of a total of between 300,000,000 and 500,000,000 pounds sterling of bills out at the beginning of the war a greater part was disposed of in the ordinary course.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Edward Precourt of Quebec, an official of the Quebec Central Railroad, who is here on a business trip, connected with the buying of horses for shipment to Canada, was held up shortly after midnight this morning in east 29th street by five men, who backed him into a hallway and robbed him of $55 in cash and a gold watch and chain.

Detectors this morning arrested three men near the corner of 29th street and Second avenue on the suspicion that they knew something of the robbery. The prisoners said they were Francis Petro, 25 years old, Phil McCahill, 19 years, and Jas. Mulvey, 25 years. They were taken to a police station. Mr. Precourt said that two nights ago an attempt was made to "jimmy" the window of his room.

SOCIETY WOMEN START CRUSADE IN GOOD CAUSE

Wives of Soldiers in Britain to Be Given Wholesome Amusement.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Nov. 10.—(Correspondence)—Realizing the need of recreation centers for women whose protectors have entered the army, English women are making an effort in London to provide wholesome amusements and temperance refreshments for women who might otherwise go to public houses, to hear war news and discuss the progress of the armies in Europe.

Lady Henry Somerset and a number of associates, have established a temperance public house exclusively for women and children, which is the first of a chain they expect to open throughout London, to offset the temptations of the ordinary public houses during the war.

A disused beer house on Arthur street has been converted into what is called the Women's War Club. Little change has been made in the bar, excepting that only temperance drinks will be served.

In discussing the new movement, Lady Henry said: "The club is being formed for the wives of soldiers fighting abroad and the subscription is to be two pence a month.

"It will be a meeting place where these women can talk over the late war news, read the papers, write letters, and obtain light refreshments. We are providing a praphophone, and in addition will arrange for some sort of concert almost every evening.

"Women will be permitted to bring their children with them and an attendant will be provided so that duty it will be to assist mothers in looking after little tots."

Lady Jellicoe, wife of the head of the British navy, has established a temperance hall for women in Hamersmith road, and sections which have offered many recruits and abounds in public houses.

One of the developments of the war is the increase in the marriage rate in Great Britain. The last quarterly report just made public, shows a rate 3.1 per thousand above that of the same period last year. This is the highest rate recorded for any three months period, since 1906. Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon Wilson, who was killed at the front near Ypres, first figured as a national hero while he was in school at Eton. He saved Queen Victoria's life when the queen was attacked by a crank at a railway station in March, 1882.

PARIS LODGE VISITS MOHAWK

Election of Officers and Reception of Guests—Speeches Made.

*The regular meeting of Mohawk Lodge No. 453, I. O. O. F. was held in Oddfellows Hall last evening, a large number of brethren being present with the Noble Grand, J. A. Wedlake, in the chair. During the regular business session, the following officers were elected by acclamation for the ensuing term: Noble Grand, L. A. Mer; vice-grand, Chas. Tucker; secretary, J. A. Wedlake; financial secretary, John D. Hall; treasurer, George Whitwell; pianist, Fred J. Porter; degree instructor, W. Sovereign.

Business being over, P. G. Whitwell introduced D. D. G. M. Avery of Grand River lodge, Paris, on an official visit, and who was received with the honors of the occasion. The D.D. G.M., in his remarks, made some very complimentary references to the progress that the baby lodge of District No. 10 was making, and predicted for it a bright future if it continued to make progress as it had done in the past. He also dwelt upon several matters pertaining to the good of the order in general. P.G. Parker of Harmony lodge, who is a candidate for Grand Warden, also made a few remarks in his usual good style. Short speeches were also made by a number of visiting brethren. The lodge was then closed after which light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all present.

ACCIDENT COST

(Continued from Page 1) and it was not until a couple of hours later that the truth was known, but even then the full extent of the disaster was not realized. Eye witnesses of the terrible event say that the cloud that rose above the pillar of flame was white, such as comes from an explosion of cordite.

MAGAZINE BLOWS UP

In such complete disaster nothing definite is known as to its immediate cause. There seems no reason to doubt, however, that the ship's forward magazine blew up. Anything beyond this can only be left to surmise for the present. Perhaps some of the survivors may be able to throw light on the mystery later on.

The impossibility of any official statement being made yet as to the cause of the explosion has left the field clear for every kind of rumor, and the theory generally accepted is that the magazine of the Bulwark blew up through some accident or defect other than an explosion of mines or a torpedo. It must be remembered that every man who was below at the time and anywhere near the magazine has been lost, so that all rumors and theories as to what actually took place are in vain.

A PATHETIC INCIDENT

The district in the neighborhood of the explosion presents a scene almost too terrible to describe. It is strewn with an enormous amount of wreckage. Some of it was hurried across the Thames to the Essex coast. Amongst the debris recovered is the affectionate letter from the wife of a seaman on board the Bulwark, giving an account of how she was looking after the children, and adding: "I am long- ing to see you again. Your loving wife till death do us part."

PROFESSOR TO JOIN

BOARD OF WORKS

Various Matters Were Disposed of at a Meeting Last Night.

The Lake Erie and Northern Railway has come forward with the claim that the Brantford Street Railway lines, in given areas are laid upon their property. They claim also that the Hydro Electric Power line has also been laid upon their property, and in respect thereof they state a claim. This was reported by a Railway Board committee, which met the City Board of Works at the City Hall last night when Alderman Ward presided. These claims cannot yet be refuted, but the City Engineer and the Civic Solicitor, have instructions to investigate thoroughly and to report to the next meeting of the Board.

The Solicitor stated that Mr. Park had no claim against the city in respect of a team of horses which he lost, through drowning in the Grand River, while employed on city work. He was represented by his solicitor, Mr. Sinclair of Woodstock, and it is likely that the Board of Works will consider his case.

The City Solicitor also reported that Messrs. Phillips and Kitchen had lost their action against the city for damages in respect of depreciation of property due to the altering of the grade of West street.

There has been some dispute about the width of Rawdon street beyond the subway, and men are building houses, not knowing definitely that they are encroaching on the correct existence, and one shows a width of fifty feet and the other 66 feet. The matter is to be investigated and a report submitted to the board. Routine business completed the session of business.

CHARGED TO CITY.

Two men, yesterday, cut down a popular tree on Massey-Harris property and left it in a pile of splintered wood, damaging 117 feet of pine planking. As the men were employed by the city, the Massey-Harris Company has sent in a bill to the city, covering the cost of the wood, and also charging for the tree, the value of which was estimated at $5. The account rendered, amounts to $8.31.

HIS PROMOTION.

Mr. J. E. Mott who left the service of the M. H. Robertson Drug Company for his country's call to the Army Medical Corps, has been appointed to the position of Staff-Sergeant, A.M.C., who are at present in training at Toronto. This speaks very well for his ability, as there are very few similar appointments made, only one commander being necessary for a section.

FACILITATING MATTERS.

The bridge across from the mainland to the east end of Kerby Island, will be completed in a few days, and will greatly facilitate the filling in of the lowland on the right side of Oxford street near the Lorne Bridge. It makes a short haul of gravel possible and will save much time and money to the city. Overseer Howie has the matter in hand.

MORE CASH DISTRIBUTED.

Once again the City Hall was the Mecca of a vast number of ladies, all of whom called in the eternal search for cash, and they were for the most part gratified by the cheques handed out to them by Mr. J. L. Axford, Adjutant, Regrove. The cash had been assigned to them by their husbands and breadwinners, who have answered the country's call for men. Those dependent upon the continuing last called had their cheques mailed to them.

ONCE MORE AIRMAN DOES THE IMPOSSIBLE
 [By Special Wire to the Courier]
 LONDON, Nov. 17.—A special correspondent of The Standard, writing from a town in Northern France, says: "A remarkable feat has earned distinction for the commander of a dirigible who was sent out to destroy with bombs a railway junction occupied by the Germans. Descending after, after evading the enemy's searchlights, the dirigible dropped their first three bombs in rapid succession, but the fourth, after its mechanism had been set going, failed to slide from its tube. "The dirigible was in imminent danger of being blown to pieces, but the commander boldly climbed out on the frame work with an axe in his hand, and, now under the full glare of the searchlights and pelted with bullets, hacked away the tube and its propellers only just in time. The bomb exploded three hundred feet below. The dirigible was tossed in all directions, but got away safely. Its purpose was fully accomplished."

 A steady flow of bird fanciers visited the exhibition at the old Hamilton building yesterday. The place was never at any moment dull, nor did the pace slacken. LANGFORD PUTS K.O. ON NEGRO WILLS Tar Baby Knocks Out New Orleans Heavy in Fourteenth Round Yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—With a left swing to the jaw Sam Langford, the giant New Orleans negro, in the fourteenth round of a scheduled 20 round fight yesterday at Vernon. Both men were knocked down repeatedly, Langford himself taking the count four times in the first two rounds.

MAKE A DRAW
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Tom McCarty, of Lewistown, Mont., fought a hard 10 round draw with Battling Levinsky, a local heavyweight, in Brooklyn yesterday. McCarty weighed 180 pounds and Levinsky scaled five pounds less.

Brewed for those who can't drink ordinary Stout—

Never makes you bilious because it is pure.

May be ordered at 47 Colborne St. Brantford.

MALLET AND LECKIE ARE THE TIGERS' HOPE

HAMILTON, Nov. 27.—The Jungle Kings held another good workout last evening, with every regular on hand, and Coach Marriott put the boys through a stiff practice. For two full hours, tackling, running, catching and punting practice was indulged in and the team shapes up better than any time this season.

The line-up on Saturday will likely be the same as on Saturday last, but in all probability Leckie, Holden and Walsh will be put on during the game. Leckie's ability as a drop kicker and Mallet's ability as a long distance punter are two good reasons why the Tigers should beat the Argos.

JAMIESON THIRD IN BERWICK MARATHON

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 27.—Witnessed by a crowd of twenty-five thousand, George F. Holden, of the Vonkers, N.Y., 1. M. C. A., who finished third in 1912 and second last year, yesterday won the seventh annual Berwick Marathon, the big long distance Thanksgiving Day event of the east. In covering the nine and a third miles in 50:29 3-5, Holden failed to equal the course record by a minute and 58 seconds.

Although the race has had more contestants, and better time has been made, this was the most sensationally fought of any yet held, as the leaders were closely bunched throughout the entire course. Of the fifteen starters three were brought back, but the remaining twelve covered the hard hills that make the course the most severe long distance course used in the east.

DUNDAS AND WESTERN UNIVERSITY TO MEET TOMORROW AT 3 P.M.

Manager Stephens, of the Western University Football Club who was in Toronto yesterday for the purpose of arranging the final game with Dundas for the junior O. R. F. U. championship, announced that the match will take place in Woodstock on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

W. Marsden and Rusty Bell, of Dundas, will officiate, according to the announcement made by Secretary Hugh Gall, of the O. R. F. U. History has repeated itself respecting the play-off between Dundas and a team representing London, as it was about 10 years ago that London played off with Dundas in Woodstock the latter team winning by the score of 22 to 0. Dundas at that time won the game mostly because of the brilliant kicking of their center, half back by the name of Nelson, "Bud" Lucas, now a sergeant, on the local police force, figured in this game, it being the only game he played in that year, as he professionalized the "war" before, but although reinstated that year he played merely to help out the locals. Lucas' bucking was the feature of the game. Jack Towse also played on the line, while the back division consisted of Pete Thompson, who was captain, and Alexander played the other half back positions, while Art Reid was the full back.

hold another this afternoon.

The teams to-morrow will line up as follows:

Dundas—McDermott, flying wing; Smith, half back; Newton, half back; H. Newton, half back; Suter, quarter; Haines, scrimmage; Norton, scrimmage; Housh, inside wing; Arthurs, inside wing; Nawa, middle wing; Shield midding wing; Laing, outside wing; Durand, outside wing.
Officials—W. Marsden and Rusty Bell, Toronto.

GALT AND WATERLOO FAVOR NORTHERN

GALT, Nov. 27.—While the Galt Hockey Club made no decision at its annual meeting as to what league teams would be entered it is quite probable that a team will be entered in the Northern League, the majority present at the meeting favoring this league. Galt has a lot of new material this year and should be able to send fast junior and intermediate teams on the ice.

WATERLOO, Nov. 27.—Waterloo is going to have two hockey teams this winter, and will be represented in the Northern Hockey League and the O. H. A. There is plenty of good material in town for such teams Mr. T. W. Seagram has been appointed manager and Mr. F. Young as coach.

RIDER WAS KILLED

SAVANNAH, Ga. Nov. 26.—Grey Sloop, of Mooresville, N.C., one of the competitors in a 300 mile road race here to-day, was killed when his motor cycle crashed into a tree. Sloop's neck and back were broken.

A Double Economy

Economy and efficiency are two things that the world is getting hammered home as a result of the war. Industry that stands up against the conditions imposed by the war must be efficient. Canadian manufacturers are testing themselves out in efficiency. They are under an economic contract to produce what Canadian consumers need to buy. A factory ninety per cent efficient before the war, is a hundred per cent proficient now. When the whole country hums along on the full tide of prosperity, it is easy to hold business without testing the mettle of every department. When the tide turns the weak business lets go. It is no longer able to compete.

The economy of buying goods made in this country is a double economy. It means the efficiency of our manufacturing industries as a whole and that means no unemployment and the return of good times. It means also, in many cases, an actual saving in dollars and cents to the individual consumer because he gets as good or better value for the same money, or, in many cases, gets as good or a better article at less cost. There must be no question as to the relative value of the goods. The Canadian-made article must be the equal of its competitor. It can be bought for less money, because it does not have to take away from the quality in order to meet the Canadian price, nor add to the price in order to make the same relative profit on goods of the same quality.

If the Canadian made article is not at least as good value for the same money as anything imported, it has no right to ask for the made in Canada preference.

Boy Knight Notes

Last Saturday evening a large number of the Junior Boy Knights assembled at the armories and a happy time was spent around the fire crackling nuts, eating apples and telling camp fire stories.

On Monday evening the Seniors held a social evening which was most successful. Mr. Barnham acted as chairman in an efficient manner. Solos were contributed during the evening by Mr. E. Matthews and Mr. Sears. Miss Gilkison gave a fine address on "Our Soldiers." She was listened to with great attention by the boys and at the conclusion of her address was heartily applauded. Numerous other recitations, reading, chorus, etc. with an address from Alfred Hunt filled in the balance of the programme. At the conclusion refreshments were served. The juniors will have a social evening in the near future.

Church parade on Sunday to the First Baptist church. Every boy should be in line.

The following letter was received from John Hawke, at Salisbury Plains during the week:

"Dear 'Pessor'—Just a few lines to let you know how we are getting on. I just got back from London where I had a dandy time. Henry has gone for a visit to that city. While there I stayed with his uncle, Mr. E. Cooke. We have lots of wet and foggy weather here. They call it the Siberia of England, and the name suits it to a 'T.' We get one bright day a week. I have gained fourteen and a half pounds since I left Brantford—not bad for active service. We get great food here. Bread, Cheese and jam for every meal, with meat and potatoes sometime. But there is lots of it. We are enjoying life, but are still eager for the fight.

Remember me to all the boys. My heart is in the work as much as ever, and my thoughts are often with you all.

Godobye for the present From your boy
JACK.
It is interesting to note that among the names of British admirals there are twelve who are Canadian born, all of whom have distinguished themselves while engaged in service. The names of these are: Edwin William Cambell Owen and his brother, William Fitzwilliam Owen, born on the Island of Campbell, Bay of Fundy, N.B.; George and Philip Westphal, also two brothers, born in Preston, N.S.; Sir William Parry Wallis, born in Halifax; Sir Edward Belcher, born in Halifax; Sir Archibald Douglas, born in Quebec; Sir Charles Drury, born in Hothsny, N.B.; Admiral D. M. Riddell, one of our Hamilton boys who is still living; Admiral John Denison, of the famous Denison family, Toronto; Admiral Ashe born in Quebec; and our own Canadian admiral Kingsmill, who is a native of Guelph Ontario. Surely this is a list for our Canadian boys to be proud of.

In the matter of the regular militia, we have Canadian boys serving in the British army in every quarter of the globe, holding high and responsible positions.

Brigadier-General Bridges, the commander-in-chief of the Australian forces, is one of our Kingston College Cadets.

Sir Percy Girouard is also a graduate of the Kingston Military College.

In shooting our Boy Knights have done exceptionally well during the past year. This has largely been because our opportunities have been better than in times previously, a larger membership and better facilities for practice.

Our record this coming year should be better still. From being 5th in the Empire in the Junior C of the Imperial Shield competition, let us see if we cannot come in second or third. It will mean constant practice and work for the boys.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

How to be Sure

Shopkeepers and merchants throughout the Dominion are giving magnificent support to the "Made in Canada" movement.

Occasionally a shopkeeper, through lack of accurate information, may express the opinion that a certain class of article is not made in Canada, or is made only of an inferior grade.

If you are conscientiously trying to give "Made in Canada" goods first call in all your purchases, do not be content to relax your efforts just because you happen to receive this answer.

The shopkeeper may be perfectly sincere in his opinion, but there are other people who are more likely to have full and accurate information.

Why not write direct to the Canadian Manufacturers Association, Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg? They have agreed to constitute themselves a general information bureau for the assistance of those who are trying to live up to the "Made in Canada" idea, and a line to them will always bring you prompt and reliable information, as to how and where to obtain the article you desire most conveniently and most quickly. If it is not made in Canada they will frankly tell you so.

Sir Nigel

By A. Conan Doyle

Copyright, 1905, 1906, by A. Conan Doyle.

With a flush upon his olive cheeks and with pride smoldering in his dark eyes, he looked round him at the eager faces of the men who had been his comrades from Sluys and Gadsand to Crey and Calais. They caught fire from that warlike gleam in his masterful gaze, and a sudden wild, fierce shout pealed up to the vaulted ceiling, a soldierly thanks for what was passed and a promise for what was to come. The King's teeth gleamed in a quick smile, and his large white hand played with the jeweled dagger in his belt.

"By the splendor of God!" said he in a loud clear voice, "I have little doubt that you will rejoice with me this night, for such things have come to my ears as may well bring joy to everyone of you. You know well that our ships have suffered great scathe from the Spaniards, who for many years have sailed with archers and men-of-warms and ready in all ways for battle. I have it to-day from a sure hand that, having taken their merchandise aboard, these ships will sail upon the next Sunday and will make their way through our Narrow Sea. We have for a great time been long-suffering to these people, for which they have done us many contraries and despites, growing ever more arrogant as we grow more patient. It is in my mind therefore that we hit us to-morrow to Winchelsea, where we have twenty ships, and make ready to sail out upon their backs as they may. May God and Saint George defend the right!"

A second shout, far louder and fiercer than the first, came like a thunder clap after the King's words. It was the bay of a fierce pack to their trusted huntsman.

Edward laughed again as he looked round at the gleaming eyes, the waving arms and the flushed joyful faces of his liegemen. "Who hath fought against these Spaniards?" he asked. "Is there anyone here with archers and men-of-warms, as they were wont to be?" A dozen hands went up into the air; but the King turned to the Earl of Suffolk at his elbow.

"You have fought them, Thomas?" said he. "Yes, sire, I was in the great sea-fight eight years ago at the Island of Guernesey, when Lord Lewis of Spain held the sea against the Earl of Pembroke."

"How found you them, Thomas?" "Very excellent people, sire, and no man could ask for better. On every ship they have a hundred crossbow-men of Genoa, the best in the world, and their spearmen also are very handy men. They would throw great candles of iron from the tops of the masts, and many of our people met their death through it. If we can bear their way in the Narrow Sea, then there will be much hope of honor for all of us."

"Your words are very welcome, Thomas," said the King, "and I make no doubt that they will show themselves to be very worthy of what we prepare for them. To you I give a ship, that you may have the hands to it. You also, my dear son, shall have a ship, that evermore honor may be thine."

"I thank you, my fair and sweet father," said the Prince, with joy flung in his handsome boyish face. "The leading ship shall be mine. But you shall have one, Walter Manny, and you, Stafford, and you, Arundel, and you, Audley, and you, Sir Thomas Holland, and you, Brocas, and you, Berkeley, and you, Reginald. The rest shall be awarded at Winchelsea, whither we sail to-morrow. Nay, John, why do you pluck so at my sleeve?"

"Chandos was leaning forward with an anxious face. "Surely my honored lord, I have not served you so long and so faithfully that you should forget me now. Is there then no ship for me?"

"The King smiled, but shook his head. "Nay, John, have I not given you two hundred archers and a hundred men-at-arms to take with you into Brittany? I trust that your ships will be lying in Saint-Malo Bay ere the Spaniards are abreast of Winchelsea. What more would you have, old war-dog? Wouldst be in two battles at once?"

"I would be at your side, my liege, when the lion banner is in the wind once more. I have ever been there. Why should you cast me now? I ask little, dear lord—a galley, a balingot, even a pinnace, so that I may only be there."

"Nay, John, you shall come. I cannot find it in my heart to say you nay. I will find you place in my own ship, that you may indeed be by my side."

With a flush upon his olive cheeks and with pride smoldering in his dark eyes, he looked round him at the eager faces of the men who had been his comrades from Sluys and Gadsand to Crey and Calais. They caught fire from that warlike gleam in his masterful gaze, and a sudden wild, fierce shout pealed up to the vaulted ceiling, a soldierly thanks for what was passed and a promise for what was to come. The King's teeth gleamed in a quick smile, and his large white hand played with the jeweled dagger in his belt.

CHAPTER XVII.

Day had not yet dawned when Nigel was in the chamber of Chandos preparing him for his departure and listening to the last cheery words of advice and direction from his noble master. That same morning, before the sun was half-way up the heaven, the King's great nef Philippa, bearing within it the most of those present at his banquet the night before, set its huge sail, adorned with the lions and the lilies, and turned its brazen beak for England. Behind it went five smaller cogs crammed with squires, archers and men-at-arms.

Nigel and his companions lined the ramparts of the castle and waved their caps as the bluff, burly vessels, with drums beating and trumpet-clanging, a hundred knightly pennons streaming from their decks and the red cross of England over all, rolled slowly out to the open sea. Then when they had watched them until they were half down they turned, with hearts heavy at being left behind, to make ready for their own more distant venture.

It took them four days of hard work ere their preparations were complete, for many were the needs of a small force sailing to a strange country. Three ships had been lent to them, the cog Thomas of Romney, the Grace Dieu of Elythe, and the Basilisk of Southampton, into each of which one hundred men were stowed, besides the thirty seamen who formed the crew. In the hold were forty horses, amongst them Fombers, much wearied by his long idleness, and homeseik for the slopes of Surrey where his great limbs might find the work he craved. Then the food and the water, the bow-staves and the sheaves of arrows, the horseshoes, the nails, the hammers, the knives, the axes, the ropes the vats of hay, the green fodder and a score of other things were packed aboard. Always by the side of the ships stood the stern young knight Sir Robert, checking, testing, watching and controlling, saying little, for he was a man of few words, but with his eyes, his hands, and if need be his heavy dog-whip, wherever they were wanted.

The seamen of the Basilisk, being from a free port, had the old feud against the men of the Cinque Ports, who were looked upon by the other mariners of England as being unduly favored by the King. A ship of the West Country could scarce meet with one from the Narrow Seas without blood flowing. Hence sprang sudden broils on the quay side, when with yell and blow the Thomases and Grace Dieus, Saint Leonard on their lips and murder in their hearts, would fall upon the Basilisks. Then amid the whirl of cudgels and the clash of knives would spring the tiger figure of the young leader, lashing mercilessly to right and left like a tamer among his wolves, until he had beaten them howling back to the quay. Upon the morning of the fourth day all was ready, and the ropes being cast off the three little ships were warped down the harbor by their own pinnaces until they were swallowed up in the swirling folds of a Channel mist.

WHEN ZEEBRUGGE WAS UNDER FIRE,
THE SUBMARINES DUCKED---BRITISH SHIPS MADE VERY BRILLIANT ATTACK

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Some new details of the bombardment of Zeebrugge, Belgium, which the Germans were preparing as a naval base, have reached the London newspapers. The correspondent of The Express, on the Belgian frontier telegraphs that refugees report that the first shell thrown by the warships on Zeebrugge, fell among the German submarines in the inner harbor. After twenty sailors had been killed or wounded, the submarines were ordered to make a dash for safety to the English channel and try to run the gauntlet of the fleet. Some of the submarines returned to Zeebrugge, the correspondent ironically remarks and heralds that the fate of the others is unknown. In describing the bombardment the correspondent of The Daily Mail at Amsterdam says: "The German submarines lying in the harbor basin, hid themselves below during the bombardment in order to prevent their destruction. When the warships retreated, they rose again and went in pursuit, but soon returned."

BRITISH ARMORED TRAIN GAVE FORTH DEATH AND DESTRUCTION TO FORCE OF GERMAN ENGINEERS

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
LONDON, Nov. 27.—A correspondent of The Daily News, telegraphing from a town in Belgium on Wednesday, says: "Two days ago to the south of Dixmude, where the Germans are still concentrating large bodies of infantry and cavalry, the enemy made an attempt to throw a pontoon across the Yser. "Nearly two hundred men were engaged. They were covered by a powerful German battery. So well was the German plan arranged that the Franco-Belgian forces could not possibly have prevented the construction of the bridge without losing a great many men. "The Germans had completed three parts of the task with nothing more than a desultory peppering from the French rifles when up an unconsidered little railway track came a British armored train. Roaring and spilling death, it raced into sight quite suddenly, not more than one thousand metres from the nearly completed bridge, and the two hundred Germans taken completely by surprise dropped their tools and bolted. "Many did not get far, for four of the train's guns and half a dozen machine guns shot and shell at them. In less than five minutes, nearly one hundred of the engineers had been killed and about fifty wounded. Their hard work had been blown to splinters. "The enemy's guns managed to throw the store truck at the end of the train off the rails and one of the guns was also temporarily put out of action."

GOT THROUGH MINE FIELD

German Submarine Sinks British in the Channel.
HAVRE, via Paris, Nov. 27.—The British steamer Melachite has been sunk by a German submarine a few miles northwest of Cape Le Havre, which is about three miles from Havre. The Melachite, a steamer of about 2,000 tons, belonging to the Cunard Company, was bound for Liverpool to Havre. She was stopped by the submarine and the crew was given 15 minutes to get into the ship's boats. After this was done the submarine sank the Melachite and then closed her own hatches and dove beneath the sea, leaving the crew of the steamer to make their way to Havre. They arrived safely a few hours later after their boat had been sunk. Havre is the French seaport from which Paris is approached. It is well within the British mine fields and patrol boat lines.

WHAT'S A MINENWURFER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—French foreign office despatches, saying the Indian troops had captured a "minenwurfer" from the Germans, puzzled the embassy here to-day. The "minenwurfer" (mine thrower), which despite its ability to destroy the French trenches, found itself powerless against bayonets, according to the official cablegram. Its German name apparently baffled the dispatch writer in finding a French equivalent. The "minenwurfer" (or trench destroyer) is a short range gun, which drops explosives upon the earthworks and explodes them without scattering metal. Men's and boys' fine shirts, work shirts, overalls and smocks, at Whitlock's.

Kaiser and Fatherland at Fault, Is the Opinion of German-Canadian

"Vanity, Napoleonic ambition, tempted the Kaiser to start this war. Common sense will tell you that it is utterly impossible for the Kaiser to win. Even supposing the impossible, what are the German people going to gain? The same militarism, the same absolutism, the same taxation, the same drudgery, a world full of enemies and not a single friend. And what is more important, there would not be any German race left, as it will take years of fighting, starvation, killing to end this war, if the Kaiser has his own way. Only the cripples will survive. The flower of the nation will be sacrificed on the altar of stubbornness and selfishness."

This is the opinion expressed by Frank Wiesner, a German-Canadian residing in Revelstoke, and who issues an appeal to his fellow countrymen all over the world, to stop the war at present raging in Europe. In this appeal, he says: "Germans, friends, brothers: While the monstrous, heartless Minotaur of War mows down the flower of every nation; while blind, ferocious fury destroys the harvest of centuries, do you, German brothers, ever stop one moment to consider who carries the responsibility, the blame, for all this terrible destruction and devastation? "Christianity, civilization, even culture, appear to be the only miserable means of nations to annihilation each other. A perverted conception of national duty, an outlived idea of patriotism, race hatred, are the inspiration for the soldiers to kill each other."

WHERE LIES THE BLAME.
"Seventeen million men, the strongest, fittest, healthiest of Europe, are withdrawn from the work of creation, and set at the business of destruction. And who carries the blame for it: who is the real cause of it all? Was it the iron hand of necessity or the free and powerful arm of an individual, or both? "I am not a seer, whose mental eyes can penetrate the veil which covers up the threads, the unknown hand that weaves the destiny of nations. No one could blame the people, inspiration of my inner nature, as I hark to the intense pulsing of the life of nations. I feel that cruel necessity caused the war; that this war had to come in order to show humanity the foul foundations upon which the life of present-day society is resting. The time was ripe for European conflagration, but it took the spark of a vain, ambitious ruler to start it. "The Kaiser's temper conquered his better reason, when he proposed and accepted the war against four nations. His ambition was stronger than the consideration of the welfare of his people. Give a selfish individual unlimited power over people and he will lead them to destruction. No one could blame the people for the starting of the war. Human nature is too young yet, too pliable, easily influenced by a stronger mind. Human nature has to learn by bitter experience to whom it may safely entrust its well being. Every hour in the school of national life re-represents a century.

"What disgusting vision opens before our eyes! Will you wait for its realization, German brothers? Awake, arise, ally and protest against the continuation of this terrible war, if you intend to save your race from total extinction. "While the greatest members of our race dream the idealistic dreams of a better, happier future, a healthier and stronger race and a fire nation, a few egotistic, ambitious materialists shaped "by the grace of God" the future destiny of Germany to further their own selfish ends. They drained the people through high taxation of their hard-earned money to satisfy Napoleonic ambitions; to fill, or rather to disgrace, a few pages of history with their evil deeds. "Destruction, slaughter, death, misery of the people are nothing to the Kaiser. Every strategic plan is of divine inspiration, every bullet carries the blessing of civilization into the camp of the enemy. Human nature is not the purpose, but only a means to his own selfish end. "Germans, do you realize what it means, that the Kaiser never, never will give in as long as there is one man fighting for him? Do you realize what it means to the German race. Annihilation. For the sake of your own, arise and cast off the shameful shackles of imperialism. Prove your courage against the yoke of militarism and do not yield weakly to the enslaving chains of a single degenerate! "I prefer, a million times, to be a traitor to a selfish Kaiser than to be a traitor to my own people. Such a treason is your duty, which you owe not only to your own race but to humanity in general. The hour has come in which political freedom is within our grasp. Take it. "Remember the Nineteenth Century, when the greatest of our race created the deepest sweetest musical compositions enriched all fields of natural science when our poets and philosophers filled our hearts with enthusiasm for all the good beautiful ideal in human nature and life; and listen in the Twentieth Century to the same divine inspiration of human nature and LONDON, Nov. 26, 3:35 p.m.—"The situation at present does not demand legislation for the suppression of football," said Premier Asquith in the House of Commons to-day, replying to a question as to whether such a move was under way. The Premier added that negotiations with the football magnates were progressing from which satisfactory results were expected. Mr. Churchill emphasized it was unwise to dwell upon incidents which were only a small portion of what was going on in every part of the world. He desired to speak upon the considerations of the navy. He said that it was important present for the public to form judgment on the various incidents which had taken place, but as possible the facts connected the past operations and addition of the navy would be made in a form in which they could be studied and weighed. He looked forward hopefully to that day.

Mr. Churchill emphasized it was unwise to dwell upon incidents which were only a small portion of what was going on in every part of the world. He desired to speak upon the considerations of the navy. He said that it was important present for the public to form judgment on the various incidents which had taken place, but as possible the facts connected the past operations and addition of the navy would be made in a form in which they could be studied and weighed. He looked forward hopefully to that day.

Germans Are Driven From Commercial Suit.
LONDON, Nov. 28.—In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, delivered a powerful and stirring speech in review of the navy. He said that it was important present for the public to form judgment on the various incidents which had taken place, but as possible the facts connected the past operations and addition of the navy would be made in a form in which they could be studied and weighed. He looked forward hopefully to that day.
