THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1893

TOPIC OF THE DAY.

Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, delivered his budget speech, in the House of Commons, yesterday afternoon.

A certain Chicago paper, which had had its finger in every false discovery by the muckrakers, is now at the helm of the Missing World.

Massachusetts requires each party in an election contest to make a declaration of its expenses in the campaign.

Here is a pretty picture drawn by the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune about the Hawaiian delegates lately arrived there.

Says The Montreal Star: "We are always told that the American politicians do not want to injure Canada."

We deeply regret having to chronicle the death of Kelly Kelly, which took place at his home in Summerside on Sunday afternoon last.

There is great distress in Chicago. Skilled bookkeepers, well educated and well trained business men, old and young, respectable and well-to-do, are being thrown out of their homes.

The article all through abundance in opinions and leading paragraphs, such as we have quoted, is in the present position of our people by the muckrakers.

POPE DOES NOT COME TO US.

It is not often that the world is afforded an opportunity of witnessing the celebration of an event so grand in itself, and with which are intertwined so many glorious memories as that which takes place in Rome on Sunday.

In the annals of the Papacy no name stands out more brightly than that of Leo. St. Leo the Great, the spiritual guide, father and teacher of three hundred millions of Catholics, it is not to be wondered at that the occasion is taken advantage of by the faithful in all parts of the world to give expression to their unswerving fidelity, loyalty and devotion to him who sits in the chair of the Prince of the Apostles.

Greatness of intellect and the possession of vast and accurate erudition, with the power to lead and rule men, added to pure and lofty motives, must always challenge our admiration.

Joachim Vincent Raphael Louis, a young man of type, died on March 2nd, 1890, at Carpieto, in the Papal States.

ISLANDERS LAMENTED.

When the occasion, from time to time, is given attention to the ignorance and illiteracy of the islanders, it is not to be wondered at that the Government institutions and people, which find expression in some of the newspapers published in the United States.

Shocked and terrified by the discovery that the roof over their heads was on fire, the family of John Marks, a North Victoria farmer, escaped from their beds into the intense cold of Sunday night last.

Continuing the article says: "From the time that the three men of the 'P. L.' have arrived in the United States, they have been the subject of much interest."
