DISCUSSION IN THE COMMONS OVER KITCHENER'S SALARY.

LONDON, May 31. In the Commons to-day, Churchill in discussing a motion to reduce Kitchener's salary, charged the War Ofefficiency and defective organization. the Army we have put one rifle level-led at the enemy. Churchill further complained that while the fighting men were comparatively small in number, the soldiers were worn with service and were heavily burdened regarding the number of men kept for home defence. He had consulted the Adjutant General on the subject, and believed he was right in saying that it was the same number that agreed upon by the Admiralty was agreed upon by the Admiralty himself was head of the Admiralty. self was head of the Admiralty. Premier Asquith, replying to Churchill's criticisms, argued that the possibility of an invasion must be TENNANT REPLIES TO CHURCHILI and must be guided by the opinion of those who can decide what number men are absolutely necessary to der the country secure against in The Premier added that he ich doubted whether the dispropo on between men and rifle strengt vas so great as Churchill had repre ules were not applicable to the Brit sh army as to other belligerents, because England had to send every man and every ounce of supplies across the sea. The Government, however were trying the most effective ster in consultation with the proper au-thorities to ascertain the possibility of utilizing a large proportion of mer on the fighting line, reminding Churchill of the number of men at home who are either sick, convalescing or in training. Asquith met on of Churchill's charges by announcing notable reduction was being mad in the number of officers and staffs a home. He considered the army, the country and empire were under debt to Earl Kitchener which cou not be measured by words, especially as when Earl Kitchener had been ap pointed to the War Office he told Asmultitudes of fresh men were kept home and prevented, either by bad undertake the task except as a call management or defective organization from being usefully employed either at some industry or in the field. As to Churchill's complaint with regard to the large number of officers' servants, Tennant said these were men like all others had to take During the day section, platoon company drill and rife practice at the Southside Range was had. The men received their fortnightly pay in the afternoon. The volunteers now in training are excellent marksmen, as their places in the firing line. With regard to the criticism respecting the great force of men kept at home, he said they were being trained with a view to being sent abroad. If Churchill were to investigate this matter, Tennant said, he would see that large within the past couple of weeks some thirty possible scores were made at the Rifle Range.

Local Druggists Repair What Famous reinforcements are about to be secut. Tennant then referred to Churc ill's recommendation that large bod-ies of troops be drawn from Asia and Africa, saying it was an illusion to think such a thing possible. In the Surgeons Cannot Touch first place there was not a large num-ber of men in these regions suitable as soldiers in the European war. Even if there were it would be impossible to procure officers who knew the Shattered nerves are beyond the reach of the Surgeon's knife. What will repair them? Dozens of people right here in your home town will bear testimony to this fact that Zoetic—the health tonic—has set them on their feet again. This famous combination of glycer-phosphates—the actual element of the human body—Cod Liver Oil and delicious tonic wine, supply the very elements that worn out nerves require. In a quiet way the action of Zoetic is truly marvellous. Without a trace of naycotic it induces sound sleep. And following that, better and better digestion. And following that a final and complete rebuilding of the nervous system drained of vitality. Two weeks' faithful use of it will convince you. guages and were able to command m. Moreover, the value of black them. Moreover, the value of black troops was a very uncertain quantity. If Churchill would look at the German papers he could see how pleased the Germans were at the idea of having these troops employed by the Allies. In reply, Churchill said that when he made his speech he had contemplated having these armies ready by September 1917 and helieved officers could faithful use of it will convince you. Because you have been so often mis-led, expecting much and receiving little, we offer outright to refund the purchase price of Zoetic if at the end relief of Sir Ernest Shackleton and his men now marooned in the Antarc-tic. Low price inducements, unless coupled with reliability and sterling worth, are of little interest to the prudent bayer; but offerings in standard grade articles priced on a bargain basis—as quoted here—are extremely gratifying. Careful observance of this important business truth is mainly responsible for the high reputation now enjoyed by this Store.

BIRTHDAYS.

then, how speedily the days take wing, the days that do not come again. A little grayer than last year, a little slower my gait, I feel the dump is drawing a, WALT MASON near, and still I keep my smile on straight. A little failure of my sight; a bit more deafness in my ears; a few more aches -but that's all right! I would not stop the scudding years. My bald grows a trifle slack; I have more stitches in my side, a few more cricks are in my back. But vonder vault of azure bends above no gladder heart than mine, for all about me there are friends, who keep an old gent feeling fine. Their kind words make my bosom swell, and fill my piebald eyes with tears; they tell me I am looking well, and hope I'll live a hundred years. A few more symptoms of the gout have vainly tried to kill my joy; a few more teeth have fallen

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylez at your druggists."

Rudyard Kipling's Empire Day Message-No Flinching Until German Domination Has Disappeared.

London, May 25-Yesterday was Empire Day, and the London Times published the following, by Rudyard Kipling:-

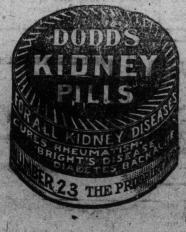

pire have fought that they and all the earth may be free from the intolerable domination of German ideals. We did not see or foresee the size of the task when it opened; we do not flinch from it now. Long months have schooled us to full knowledge and have tempered us nationally and individually to meet it. The nations within the Empire have reated, maintained and reinforced from their best the greatest armies his issue. They have emerged, on by one, as powers clothed with power through discipline and sacrifice strong for good by their bitter knowledge of the evil they are meeting and wise in the unpurchasable wisdom

Knowing, as nations, what we fight for; realizing, as men and women the resolve that has been added to us by what each endured, we go forward under the proud banner of our griefs and losses to greater effort, greater endurance, and, if need be, to heavier of actual achievement.

Your Boys and Girls.

If a child is two or more years old, the only effective means of weaning from the bottle is through hunger. The bottle should be taken away at once and entirely, and nothing allowed except milk from a cup until the child takes this willingly. Sometimes & child will go an entire day without food, occasionally as long as two days, but one should not be glarmed on this account and yield. This is a matter of the child's will and not of his digestion, and when once he has been conquered it is seldom that any urther trouble is experienced.

Few mothers realize how to properly lift their children. When 2 roung baby is to be lifted from its ed, the right hand should grasp the clothing below the feet, and the left and should be slipped beneath the infant's body to its head. It is then raised upon the left arm. This method is best because the entire spine is supported, and no undue pressure is made upon the chest or abdomen, as often happens if the baby is grasped around the body or under the arms.

NO PEACE WITH GERMANY. LONDON, To-day. Premier Asquith stated in the Con ns vesterday in answer to a que tion that there was nothing in the recent statement made by Von Bethmann-Hollweg, German Imperial Chancellor, that indicated Germany Imperial was prepared to consider terms of peace which would safeguard the in-terests of the Entente Allies and the future peace of Europe. The Premier said he did not think he could usefully add anything to the speech made last week by Sir Edward Grey. Sir Arthur Markham's question was apparently designed to finally set at rest any suggestion that the Entente Allies were prepared to accept intervention. In putting the question ha referred to the fact in the German reply to the latest American Note, it was pointed out that Germany twice announced her readiness to make pe He then asked whether the Allies were prepared to avail themselves of the good offices of a neutral state in order to communicate to the German Government the definite terms on which they would be willing to make peace, provided the German Government was prepared to make it the same way and at the same time a communication to the Allies of the definite terms on which Germany was willing to make peace. The Premier's reply

CHURCHILL'S CRITICISM.

LONDON, To-day. Languages, by that term Churchill referred to the statement of King George to the nation issued on signing the Military Service Bill last week that no less than 5,041,000 men had been raised voluntarily. After careful examination Churchill said he had me to the conclusion there were 1, 700,000 of these men unaccounted for. He desired to know what had become of them. Believing this to be a fit subject for investigation, he suggested a small committee of members of the House be appointed to look into this matter and report at a secret session if necessary. Churchill criti-cized the army administration in sev-eral respects but defended Kitchener warmly. He complained that the supply of rifles was inadequate, with the result that the British were holding and fighting a smaller number of opposing troops than the resources of the nation would justify. Broadly speaking, he asserted, half the total strength of the British army was at home, for every six men taken for war service only one effective infantry rifle was placed over the parapet at LONDON, To-day. The British invasion of German East Africa has been carried further into the interior. One of the Pritish columns is now confronted with a German army which has taken up strong defensive positions. The 'following mander, reports our column which was advancing down Banagni River has reached the south end of Egare my near Nikocheni, occupying strong trenched position on a narrow neck between the mountains and river.

KITCHENER WILL RECEIVE

Toward the end of this long debate in which a number of members cri-ticized the conduct of the war, Tennant replying to a suggestion that members of the Commons ought to have an opportunity for questioning Kitchener without conveying to the enemy, said Kitchener always was willing to receive any individual member or deputation of members to con vey to him suggestions for the effec-tive conduct of the war. He added the War Minister would be glad to see critics at the War Office on Friday where they would then have the right

Harriman. It took Edward Harrima less than 100 words-99, to be exactto transfer his entire estate to his wife, without the slightest restriction as to what she should do with it or how she should do it. There have been many cases of inheritance where no such free hand was given, and they have not been included in this schedule. For instance, Mrs. John Jacob Astor inherited a huge estate, saddled with the condition that she should not take another husband and still enjoy the full fruits of the Astor fortune.

the reins over money is Mrs. Mar:

In marked contrast with this situa ion the Harriman will placed Se widow in actual control of 25,000 miles of railway, gave her a dominating voice in the management of 50, 000 miles more, and made her the chief influence in the handling of 54, 00 miles of sea routes.

Mrs. Sage was also given the cusody of her millions without a string. The will gave her, "without let or indrance," the millions that had been locked up in Wall Street. It did not require any act of law or any gracious act of man to make Mrs. Hetty Green the mistress of her destiny. She inherited $1,000,000 from her father, the late Edward Robinson and an aunt added $4,000,000 later The Mary C., Samuel Murphy, maser, left for St. John's on Monday But Mrs. Green made the bulk of her estate herself. Stephano in Port

Vith One Hundred and Twenty Passengers-First Batch of Round-Trippers Arrive.

The Red Cross Liner Stephano, Cap-ain Smith, reached here at daylight his morning from New York and Halifax. At the latter port the ship got a quick despatch this time, there being less than twenty-four hours de-lay handling frenght. On the way along to this port fog was met and few 'bergs sighted last evening in the vicinity of Cape Race. The ship brought a full cargo, including deck oad and the following saloon pas-

The tourist traffic by the Red Cross route has started already, as a party of six came on the Stephano and they intend spending some time in the inerior of the country. A large influx of American holiday seekers are expected by the Stephano on her next and subsequent trips. Twenty-six Royal Naval Reserve men, who are on furlough, came of the Stephano from Halifax. Most of them saw service in the North Sea. They are en route to their homes in different nearby outports. It is not definitely decided yet when the Stephano will sail again, but like-by next Monday evening.

east and rendering it the central clear-ing house for all north American trade. Fifty miles long, it has taken fifteen years to build. Nearly five miles of the canal consists of a subterranean tunnel seventy-two feet wide, making it the widest tunnel in the world. The subterranean waterway is forty-five feet high. It was blast-ed out of the rocky Nerthe Mountains and is France's most wonderful en-gineering achievement. The completion of the canal at this moment demonstrates the enormous resources that France is able to emresources that France is able to employ even at the height of the world's greatest war. It will enable Marseilles to expand industrially along the shores of the great canal and gulf known as L'Etang de Berre, which will now be studded with huge factories and warehouses. The plan is to make Marseilles a free fort port, which will give the final death blow to Hamburg. It is also planned to erect storehouses for goods proceed-are Fooled. A neutral who recently visited Berlin, says the thing that struck him most forcibly was the extent to which the Germans are being spoofed by their rulers. "Do you know," said he, the bulk of the people of Germany fondly believe that their big Transat-lantic liners are still running regularly, and why should they not, considering that, to further the deceit, in the windows of the offices of the Hamburg-American and Norddeutscher Lloyd lines in the Unter den Linen the weekly sailings of their vessels are still announced! Everywhere, too, I found the belief prevailed that no ship had left England or entered one of her ports since the Lusitania went down, and they can't understand for the life of them how England is hold-

Australian Navy Grows Australia's navy is expanding. Recently the cruiser Brisbane was launched at Cockatoo Island, and it is notified that a new light cruiser is about to be laid down where the Brisbane was built. The cruiser will be named H.M.A.S. Adelaide. Australia is to undertake, as soon as possible, the building of submarines in its own shipyards. The Commonwealth Navy Office is calling for qualified persons desirious of proceeding to England to work in the Admiralty shipyards to learn the methods of re-construction. They will take a two-years' course, afterwards returning to begin the work of submarine construction for Shortage of Food.

A Leading Article in Berlin Newspaper Openly Admits That the Supply of Necessary Articles is Inade-

London, May 26 .- The Germans are at last admitting a shortage of food. A leading article in the Schlesiache Zeitung, the organ of the Great Silesian land owners, says:

"It is childish to continue always to hide the truth. Let us openly admit that the difficulties that have arisen mainly in the great town are caused not merely by a lack of system in the distribution of the necessary articles of food, but also by the fact that the supply of such articles is inadequate."

The journal admits that grievous discontent has spread in all directions in consequence of defects in the sys-tem of dealing with the food supply and hopes that the measures introduced in the new imperial food

ROBERT TEMPLETON

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTEAM Rad'ators fill all light and heat requirements.
