MAILS FOR THE NORTH.

We trust that during the coming summer the settlements and business establishments of the Northern coast will be provided with regular mail accommodation...

WITHDRAWN.

The announcement made by the Premier on Thursday evening, that the Redistribution Bill would not be brought down this session, will, no doubt, be a surprise to many.

Fortunately the measure is not a pressing one, and no locality and no interest will be the least injured by the delay of a few days...

The postponement of the Redistribution Bill will no doubt be treated as a grievance by those who are eager to find a pretext to rail at the Government.

We know that the wiseness of the Opposition will say if the law had been passed this session there would have been a general election almost immediately.

altogether unreasonable. We consequently find that dissolutions in provinces are very rare indeed.

There is not at present the shadow of an excuse in this Province for an appeal to the people at the polls.

PROROGUED.

The Dominion Parliament was prorogued yesterday. The session was an uncommonly short one, being of little more than two months duration.

The Opposition's tactics on the Manitoba school question have not raised it in the estimation of the people of the Dominion.

The breeze raised by Mr. Clarke Wallace's Kingston speech did very little more than demonstrate the insincerity of many of those who pretended to be indignant at the sentiments expressed by that gentleman.

The production of papers which proved beyond a contradiction that the account given by the Canadian Ministers gave of the Conference with the United States Secretary of State in Washington was an episode of the session well worth remembering.

It is gratifying to find that there is at least a disposition in Ottawa to do justice to British Columbia. Col. Prior and Mr. Earle showed so clearly that this Province, in comparison to the sum she contributes to the general revenue, gets very little indeed in return.

that she has suffered great injustice at the hands of the Dominion. We trust that Parliament will give its serious consideration to the case of this Province...

A GARDEN OF FLOWERS.

The Reason Given by an Eminent Divine Why Churches Are Decorated at Easter.

Victoria Places of Worship Are Adorned With the Emblems of the Resurrection.

HERB IS RISEN! This is the anthem that will to-day be sung in all the city churches. It is the chorus of the Easter-tide, and will be heartily joined in by devout Christian worshippers throughout the world.

Quiet preparations have been made for some time to duly celebrate the Easter holiday. In nearly all of the city churches there will be special musical services, and appropriate sermons will be expected from all pulpits.

There are many reasons given why flowers are especially appropriate at Easter. Here is how that eminent divine, Henry Ward Beecher, explains it.

"The splendor of Christ in a garden. Death in the midst of blossoms! Death surrounded by life and growth! Death, that all the world dreads and represents as hideous, ennobled like an angelic gem in the glorious setting of radiant flowers of beauty!"

And, again, in the same sermon: "As I preach a sweet religion, and not a sour one, as I preach the beauty of holiness, and not simply the terrors of the law, as I preach the bright and glowing character of the Lord Jesus Christ, I enjoy having these testimonies of the garden and of the flowers brought here. Especially do I esteem them, because they educate men to go out into the garden and the field and have flowers associated with their own imagination."

WOMEN WHO WRITE.

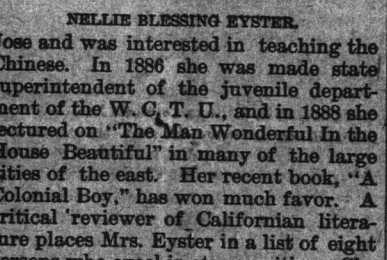

THE PACIFIC COAST WOMEN'S PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Its Officers Are Well Known to Readers. Sketches of Nellie Blessing Eyster, Emily Browne Powell, Florence Percy Matheson and Charlotte Perkins Stetson.

The Pacific Coast Women's Press Association is an organization of about 150 women engaged in literary or journalistic work which owes its existence to the lamented Emeline T. Y. Parkhurst of San Francisco.

For two years the office of president of the Association was held by Mrs. Nellie Blessing Eyster, whose busy life and sunny disposition have made her known and beloved throughout California.

The family removed to California in 1874, and Mrs. Eyster soon became a leader in the benevolent work of San Francisco.

She was interested in teaching the Chinese. In 1886 she was made state superintendent of the juvenile department of the W. C. T. U., and in 1888 she lectured on "The Wonderful in the House Beautiful" in many of the cities of the east.

Her work in the Northern California Indian Association, the Cosmopolitan and various reform papers.

Mrs. Eyster has been a widow six years and has buried her only son, yet every trace of sorrow is banished from her face and her soul is untrammelledly for the humanity that she loves, whatever its nationality or color.

Mrs. Emily Browne Powell, a resident of Alameda, succeeded Mrs. Eyster as president of the P. C. W. P. A. in September, 1892. She is of Puritan stock, a native of Maine and began to write for the press at an early age.

sketches and verses to The Aldine, Leslie's and other publications, besides furnishing under contract short illustrated stories regularly to an eastern publisher for 15 years.

FLORENCE PERCY MATHESON. She and her dark eyes beam with merit produced upon the professional stage. She is now on the editorial staff of The Housewife and has a novel nearly finished.

Mrs. Matheson is versatile and vivacious, and her dark eyes beam with merit as she gives the most prosaic details of her business life a touch of humor.

The name of Charlotte Perkins Stetson, second vice president of the association, has frequently been seen in the last two years in the Nationalist journals.

Mrs. Stetson is a woman of uncommon intelligence and the highest aims of an individuality so strong that she makes some enemies, while she wins many friends.

Her husband's name was Baron, and she is the author of a novel, "The Baroness," which has been published in the Nationalist, April, 1890, called "Similar Cases."

Mr. Stetson is a good looking man, well known in the city, and has a pleasant voice.

She is a pale green bill for $2 and seems to have been issued by the First National bank of Salt Lake. In the hurry and rush at the door I took it while rehearsing my piece to myself.

NYE IN THE WEST.

William Stops Off at Some Places in California and He Sees Peter Jackson.

A Few Philosophical Remarks About Pugilism in General—That Cow of Sam Davis'.

Last evening I saw Peter Jackson, the great colored pugilist, in his mastery creation of Uncle Tom. Mr. Jackson has the average face of a colored man, not refined and beautified as some have imagined.

These statements are, some of them, true. Peter Jackson, who manages Peter, is the quiet party who supplies the intelligence. He knows how a prize-fighter should conduct himself, and he tells Peter. Then Peter very sensibly does that way.

It is a relief to look at the cow. Peter Jackson is a good looking man, well known in the city, and has a pleasant voice.

air. It is hard to describe and from men, after a rumbled storm and icy dazling snow and eyes and crouchy and the spring moment.

He keeps his subscription list written on the wall of his office, and sometimes when the plastering falls down as many as seven or eight subscriptions spring up like a compensating joy.

He said a good deal about it and tried to recover from the man, but could not. San Francisco journalists sent him a letter and petition for artificial teeth that would fit the cow, but he would not laugh and refused to be comforted.

Once they found one on her way to work. She met them pleasantly, as all Californians meet a stranger, and passed on, thinking that was the end of it, but Sam said now was the time and started off after her, for he knew as soon as he met her that it was a cow, which always gave him a chance. Then if I could name the man to play Lagree I would be almost too happy.

Mr. Stetson is a good looking man, well known in the city, and has a pleasant voice.

She is a pale green bill for $2 and seems to have been issued by the First National bank of Salt Lake. In the hurry and rush at the door I took it while rehearsing my piece to myself.

THE WORK OF WOMAN

THREE WELL KNOWN EXPONENTS OF ENTERPRISE AND PROGRESS.

Mrs. Leonard Weber's Practical Philosophy—Dora Wheeler Keith and Her Art Work—Dr. Olga Neymann, a Pioneer in the Practice of Dental Surgery.

MRS. LEONARD WEBER. Her work is the work of a woman who has not only the ability but the energy to do it.

Some of the things she has done are: she has been the first to introduce the study of the history of woman into the curriculum of the Victoria Normal School.

She has also been the first to introduce the study of the history of woman into the curriculum of the Victoria Normal School.

tion of their household duties. If one asks Mrs. Weber if she thinks women can manage their clients, she smiles and answers with her charming fluency and the delightful accent that just suggests her Hungarian nativity.

There are few feminine names more widely known in the artistic world in this country than that of Dora Wheeler Keith. Her mother, Mrs. Candace Wheeler, has long been identified with every movement that advanced the interests of women, especially in artistic pursuits, and it is not strange that her gifted daughter should have shown a fondness for brush and palette, ever in her days of boy and girlhood.

Shortly after returning to this country, and before her marriage to Mr. Bondnot Keith, a well known lawyer of New York, Dora Wheeler was the victor in a competition of designs for the best designs in Christmas cards.

CHARLEY WA'S MUM.

But the Old Man Charley's Stand it and his old rag for the coin of the republic.

During the last scene of the first act Charley appeared. He was in the full uniform of a British soldier, and with a gun upon his shoulder stalked up and down behind the easels.

When the curtain went up on the third act, Dickson was again discovered on the same important duty. This time in front of the easels he had the air of a veteran.

There was a crowd around the hotel stove for the night was cold, and half the business men of the place had collected to hear the news.

It should not develop into business, which is most wearing and tiresome. It should not go so far as inquisitiveness, although it must run along the lines of friendly interest.

There is a vast deal of talk in the world about ingratitude. Isn't the foundation of that complaint laid upon the truth that not careless favors nor rough good nature can excite a glow of thankfulness.

It is a fatal mistake to try to shield a woman from everything hard and disagreeable. Difficulties strengthen the character, and roughing it a bit is wholesome.

It must be explaining how you could pull the auditorium out from under the Auditorium hotel and leave the hotel standing on its independent supports.

It is a very pleasant thing to know of talented home women. To read of them helps and encourages the scores of women who feel themselves to be capable of more than the daily routine of home and work.

ELECTROCUTED.

A Wife Murderer Explains His Great Offence in the Fatal Chair.

The Operation Said to Be the Most Successful Yet Performed.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—James W. Hamilton (colored), an ex-preacher, convicted of wife murder, died in the electric chair to-day. The death warrant was read by Warden Brown in the condemned man's cell at half-past ten last night. Hamilton sat on his bed and showed some signs of emotion when the executioner called.

Hamilton slept until 6 o'clock this morning. He was visited by Fathers Wallace and Crockett, and they remained with him until the morning. The witnesses in the case of Fred Maguire last December were employed to-day. The witnesses present at the electrocution were several physicians and representatives of the press. The official time of the electrocution was 11:10. One shock lasting one minute was given.

It was 10:35 a.m. when Warden Brown led the murderer to the electric chair. Some delay in getting the dynamo into working order was felt by an exhibition of the chair in which former murderer was placed. The witnesses in the case of Fred Maguire last December were employed to-day. The witnesses present at the electrocution were several physicians and representatives of the press. The official time of the electrocution was 11:10. One shock lasting one minute was given.

Hamilton walked with a firm step. Two priests walked close beside him and two keepers walked behind. Hamilton took a seat in the chair with a glance of calmness in his eyes. His lips moved in response to the prayers for the dead, which Father Crockett repeated, but no words could be heard. Hamilton was quickly strapped in the chair. At 11:10 all the connections were made and Warden Brown gave the signal and the current was left on for 30 seconds, then turned off. Hamilton's heart and lungs were found to be in normal condition. He was pronounced dead at 11:13.

This electrocution differed from all its predecessors in that a firm step was given. There was no scorching of the skin, or steaming at the electrodes, and while the man was above the medium he made no sound. It was evident that death was instantaneous. Such was the verdict of all who were present who had seen former executions in the electric chair. Electrocutist David R. Brown was most successful at which he had operated. He raised the voltage at 1,740 and the amperes 75.1.

A BIRD IN THE HAND.

Look at this ball of irascible bird. Panting and starting with piteous eyes. What a rebellion of heart! What a ruff! Flicks my hand as the misadventured bird. Looking my hand with her rapturous bird. How to escape (and I love her, the sweet) back where the clear wings and the red bill. Climb to the blue with their branches and nest!

TRUE TO HIS VOW.

The wind came sighing in from the breast of ocean, stretching away under the northern sky. The steady wash of the surge as it came along in could not rouse the man who lay upon his face under the sheltering rocks. He was not asleep, for at times his frame trembled, and now and again he had started up and looked across the sea, and then dropped his head again. He was a young man and a sailor—he showed in every line of his face and motion of his form—a man of hard and sunburned features and blue eyes. A man framed by nature to make the world better because he had done his part in it.

A THEATRICAL REVIEW.

The Cosmopolitan Club—Fatal Fire in an Otherwise Perfect Flat. Have you read Rev. Washington Gladden's "Cosmopolitan Club" in The Century Magazine? He draws a beautiful picture of how the best people in every town and city of the Union can reform the municipal government if they will. A doctor, a lawyer, a preacher, a mechanic and various others interested in good city government form the Cosmopolitan club. They hold meetings and appoint committees whose work it is to visit the city departments, among other things, see how the money is spent and what the municipal officials are doing to earn their salaries. An excellent part of the scheme is that when they find areas of unlawful trade and prosecute flourishing they do not prevent the keepers of the unlawful places, but the officials whose business it is to suppress such nests of iniquity. Of course it is all a story in a magazine, but in time the Cosmopolitans suppress the bad places and get the city government honestly administered, and all ends well.
