JAMES KERR, of London, was killed by No. 3 express at Hyde Park Monday morning. Kerr was the man who gave the fatal orders to No. 5 to proceed on the 26th Dec. 1902, and his death recalls the awful tragedy at Wainstead on that date when 32 people were killed.

GUELPH MERCURY.—Isn't it about time people quit the old practice of putting the key of the house under the door mat? It's a common practice, and one that is often performed in full view of passers-by, some of whom might very easily be suspicious characters. It would cost very little to provide an extra key or two for the house, and the security thus gained would fully repay the outlay.

EXTRA heavy fleeced underwear for men, $1.00 a suit.—SWIFTS.

THE storm on Sunday evening played havoc with the church services and attendance. In the Methodist church only about a dozen people were present. No service was held in the Presbyterian, Congregational or Baptist churches, and in Trinity church only 37 persons were present, six of whom were members of the choir. The storm was the worst in years and few cared to face it.

SPECIAL thank offering services will be held in the Congregational church on Sunday next, November 16th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. At the morning service a special thank-offering sermon will be preached by the pastor, Rev. R. Stevenson. In the evening, a special service of praise will be rendered by the choir. Everybody heartily invited to these services.

In this issue we are running an announcement showing cash prices on Page wire fence, of known high quality to many of our readers, which should be of particular interest to many Canadian farmers. These are high quality goods at mail order prices. Our readers should not forget to send for the Page Catalogue showing not only fence but practically everything a good farm needs, at low cash prices.

THE Ontario Beekeepers Association annual convention will be held in Victoria Hall, Toronto, on Wednesday to Friday, Nov. 19, 20, 21. The social reunion of men and women with a common business interest is also an important feature. Ladies are especially welcome at all the sessions. Single fare on the railways.

THE coroner's enquiry into the death of the trainmen in the Wainstead disaster has been adjourned until Monday next at 9.30 in the Oddfellows' hall.

THE banquet given to the visiting Masons on Tuesday evening was provided by Caterer Frank Lovell, and was one of the most sumptuous and best appointed spreads placed before a Watford gathering for some time. An efficient staff of waiters helped largely to make the affair run as smoothly as possible. As a Caterer Frank certainly understands his business.

MEN'S fur coats, fur collar coats, and special Irish freeze coat.—SWIFTS.

Fill the front pews first, and the back pews second. If the church has a gallery, fill the pews there too. Do not cultivate a desire to sit too near the door of any church. It is too easy for exit, and the devil might easily reach you and yank you outside and claim you. Sit near the front and keep your eyes on the preacher, the organ and the choir.—Goderich Signal.

MISS CARRIE L. CRAIG passed peacefully away at Victoria Hospital, London, on Wednesday morning, aged 31 years. Miss Craig has been a helpless invalid for many months, having been injured by being thrown out of a rig. She bore her long illness with great patience, cheerfulness and Christian resignation. The funeral will be held from the residence of her father, Mr. James Craig, Warwick street, Watford, on Saturday next, at 1.30 o'clock to the Watford cemetery.

BEWARE of the prophet of evil who is always belittling his own town and predicting disaster. Often he is actuated by sinister motives; always he is a dangerous influence, and he and his kind do much to bring about the evils which they profess to foresee. Generally the work of the prophet of evil is done in whispered button-holing, and in such a way that it is not easy to answer and refuse him in the open. If you have a real interest in your town mark this man and avoid him as you would a pestilence.

SOME change has taken place in the list of Local Option campaigns now under way. Some of the municipalities failed to present in time their petitions for submission of bylaws. The number of bylaws to be voted upon as far as now reported is forty-four. The liquor party have already secured the submission of repeal by-laws in ten Local Option municipalities. There are seven Canada Temperance Act campaigns under way. This makes a total of sixty-one contests that will be fought out at the polls in the near future.

ONE of the saddest features of the horrible wreck that occurred on Monday morning is the case of Mrs. Stapleton, wife of one of the men who were burned to death in that fatal wreck. Brakeman Stapleton was an Englishman who came to this country several months ago. Having secured a steady job he sent home for his wife, who arrived in Sarnia Monday morning, a few hours after he had succumbed to the flames in that fearful jumble of rolling stock. After travelling 3000 miles to meet her husband, Mrs. Stapleton passed the wreck before the remains had been taken out of the debris.

THIS is coat month at SWIFTS.

WATFORD MARKETS.—Butter 24c., Eggs 30c., Wheat 80c., Oats 29 to 30c.

THE Gentlemen of Watford have issued invitations for a Ball to be given in the Armory on Thursday evening next. Finney's orchestra will furnish the music.

MR. E. AUSTIN, Guelph, assistant architect on the new Carnegie library, was in town on Wednesday and accepted the building from the contractor, G. O. Stevenson. He expressed satisfaction at the excellent manner in which the contractor had done the work.

ONE of the worst storms experienced here for a long time commenced about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The wind kept increasing in velocity and was accompanied by a heavy fall of snow, the storm being at its worst from 6 o'clock till midnight. The electric light service was put out of commission and telegraph and telephone service demoralized. Trees were blown down, and many limbs torn off by the fierce gusts of wind. A large quantity of snow fell and the shovelled brigade was kept busy all day Monday.

THOS. SISSON, lot 2, con. 14, Brooke, picked from a golden russet tree in his orchard a freak apple that is quite a curiosity. One half of the apple is pure russet while the other half has the appearance of a Talman sweet. The dividing line is true and clear and the Talman part of the fruit has the pure color and bluish of that variety. The flavor is that of the russet. A number of fruit growers have looked at it at this office but no one seems able to offer any explanation of the cause. At a glance one would say that the apple is a Talman sweet with a blemish.

On Friday evening, Nov. 7th, the young ladies' Bible Class at the Watford Methodist Church met at the home of Miss Waugh, John street, and gave a linen shower in honor of Miss Agnes Currie, whose marriage will take place shortly. The dining room where lunch was served was beautifully decorated with bells and garlands. The table, with its bouquets of gold and white chrysanthemums, was softly lighted by many candles. The gifts of linen were placed in prettily decorated boxes, so arranged as to represent a wedding cake. After an evening spent in music and games, the bride-to-be was presented with a recipe book, containing recipes contributed by her class-mates, as a souvenir of the evening.

Opening of Watford Armory

The finishing touches are being put on the interior of Watford's magnificent new public building, the Armory, and it will be open to the public for inspection on Thursday next, Nov. 20th, at 6.30 p.m. At 7.30 an interesting program of speeches and music will be commenced. Among the speakers expected to be present are Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary; J. E. Armstrong, M. P.; R. J. McCormick, M. P. P.; Dr. J. B. Martyn; Dr. C. O. Fairbank; Col. Hodgins; Col. Towers, and others. Finney's orchestra, of Detroit, has been engaged for the occasion and will furnish some excellent music between the addresses. Everyone is invited to this meeting, which will close at 9 p.m. The Reeve will occupy the chair.

Open poker games with $50 jack pots are a regular occurrence in Tilbury.

St. Andrew's Supper

The St. Andrew's supper and entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church was very successful notwithstanding the unfavorable weather and bad state of the roads.

A hot supper was served in the school-room followed by a program in the church. The Lady Harpers, of London, furnished a number of pieces of music while supper was in progress and during the program. Everyone was delighted with their rendering of Scotch airs. Rev. Forster, the pastor of the church, spoke a few words of welcome and introduced Rev. Kannaivin, of Strathroy, who acted as chairman and gave an interesting address on the characteristic humor of different nationalities. The choir sang an opening number "Bonnie Dundee." Miss Lottie Cameron and Mr. Frank Elliot sang solos very acceptably. The ladies were pleased to have a large number of the Masons who were in town that day attending the Lodge of Instruction, take tea with them. They also appreciate very much the kindness of the A. Y. P. A. in postponing their regular week night meeting in honor of the supper, Tuesday evening being the only night of the week that the London Lady Harpers had free to come to Watford. Proceeds of supper and entertainment $115.

W. H. S. Basketball

On Thursday last the Alvinston High School Basketball girls visited Watford to play a game with our enthusiastic young ladies. The game took place at the High School grounds and was witnessed by a fair-sized crowd. After a hard struggle the game resulted in victory for the home team the score being 14-8. The W.H.S. centre players threw the ball with such accuracy that it was not a difficult matter for the forwards to score. The Alvinston team proved themselves good players but Watford was a little too much for them. The referees, Miss Munroe and Mr. Reginald Leach, were equal to the situation. The Watford girls were very much pleased with the game and hope to be able to play a return match, weather permitting.

Masonic Lodge of Instruction

Owing to the big storm and consequent bad roads the annual lodge of instruction for St. Clair Masonic District held in Havelock Lodge, Watford, on Tuesday, was not as largely attended as usual. At the afternoon session Havelock Lodge put on the first degree with W. Bro. Laird in the chair, and the second degree was exemplified by W. Bro. James and officers of Forest Lodge. At the evening session W. Bro. Collier and officers of Washington Lodge, Petrolia, exemplified the third degree. In each degree the work was well done and open to little criticism. At the close of the evening session the brethren adjourned to the Music Hall, where they were entertained at a banquet. After the excellent spread had been done full justice to. W. Master L. Millar introduced a toast list which was replied to as follows:

She died from the effects of her injuries on Saturday morning.

GIRL SUFFERED TERRIBLY

At Regular Intervals—Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured her.

Adrian, Texas.—"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the great list and hope that it will be of interest to suffering women. For four years I suffered untold agonies at regular intervals. Such pains and cramps, severe chills and sickness at stomach, then finally hemorrhages until I would be nearly blind. I had five doctors and none of them could do more than relieve me for a time.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took seven boxes of it and used two bottles of the Sanative Wash, and I am completely cured of my trouble. When I began taking the Compound I only weighed ninety-six pounds and now I weigh one hundred and twenty-six pounds. If anyone wishes to address me in person I will cheerfully answer all letters, as I cannot speak too highly of the Pinkham remedies."—Miss JESSIE MARSH, Adrian, Texas.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Now that the fashionable woman's headgear is regarded as incomplete without an upstanding feature, one is reminded that the fashionable belle sported like plumage for evening wear toward the end of the eighteenth century. A writer in the London Times of 1795 illustrated the epidemic: "At all elegant assemblies there is a room set apart for the ladies to don their feathers, as it is impossible to wear them in any carriage with a top. The lustrous are also removed on this account, and the doors are carried up to the ceiling. A well dressed lady who nods with dexterity can give a friend a little tap on the shoulder across the room without incommoding the dancers. The ladies' feathers are now generally carried in the sword case at the back of the carriage."

New Postage Stamp Needed

The introduction of the special delivery stamp in the postal service has been of great convenience to business men, ensuring as it does the immediate delivery of an important letter by messenger.

Another improvement that might be introduced would be the "deferred delivery stamp." This stamp could be sold at a price that would cover the cost entailed by the service rendered to the person using it. The use to which a deferred delivery stamp could be put are numerous.

Such a stamp would need to be of a special design and color, with a blank space in which could be written the date of delivery. By using this stamp people could mail Christmas presents well in advance instead of congesting the mail service on Christmas day and the two days preceding. This would have the good effect of distributing the shopping over a longer period. If your birthday greetings to a friend could be mailed at any time and stamped for delivery on a certain date, you would escape the reproach of forgetting to send greetings at all. If the call for a monthly or annual meeting could be posted at any time for delivery on a certain date, it would often prove a convenience in business.

And this ought to be a service which, at a small, the post-office could undertake. It would enable people to keep ahead of their business instead of with it or behind it. And if well handled it ought to add to the postal revenues and to popular satisfaction with the service.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Former Watford Man Discovers Criminal Circle in Honduras

(From the Detroit Journal, Oct 31, 1913) "I see that stranger from the states, Colonel, who came here six weeks ago is still putting up at General Christmas' Old Louisiana Lottery; maybe he's here to stay and would like to join the club."

The speaker, an American who had the air of a planter, was addressing a gathering of six men on the veranda of a little club house at Puerto Cortez on the Gulf of Honduras.

"No," said the tall gray haired person addressed as "Colonel"; "I reckon he isn't here for the reason we are. He's buying land, I guess, and will soon be going back; there's no use offering to take him in."

"By the way, Colonel, it'll soon be 16 years since you murdered that man in Georgia, won't it?" queried the first speaker.

"Yes, sah, 'twill, sah, but don't vexah use that word to me again, sah; I killed that man, sah, but didn't murder him, no sah. 'I was self-defence and I don't like that word nowah, sah," the colonel shouted and began to pace the veranda.

NEVER GOING BACK "It's all right, Colonel, I forgot. We're all here together and we're never going back. They want me in Montana; Jack's two wives were both living the last time he heard from Michigan; that greaser that Harry perforated in Texas died, and, well, the rest of the fellows have told their stories at every anniversary of their arrival here," the colonel's offender replied, in an effort to pacify the southerner.

"I know, sah," said the Georgian, "but there's a deal of difference 'tween kill and murder. I shot that man because if I hadn't he'd shot me. I've told you as how the evidence was agin' me and I didn't have a chance to stand trial. I killed him and admit it, as you do about that Montana fire, but murder is a bad word, sah."

There the conversation ended and the colonel did not give the expected portrayal of the shooting that made him flee from Georgia to the coast of Honduras more than 16 years ago—before the extradition treaty was signed by the United States and Honduras.

The American whom the "club" known as the "U. S. Alumni society," started to discuss with the idea that he was there to stay, was F. H. Lawrence, of the Lawrence & Lawrence, Dime Bank Building, Detroit. Mr. Lawrence was in Honduras in June in connection with a coconut plantation which Lawrence & Lawrence and other Detroit investors are interested in.

CONFESSED CRIMES

The six Americans were practically the only white men at Puerto Cortez and one by one they had drifted together to exchange reminiscences of the days when they were not fugitives from justice. The bonds of nationality and citizenship held them together and today they are united in the strength of a fraternity. Each one had often recited the story of the crime that made him flee to Honduras. They do not fear extradition because all were there years before the recent treaty took effect. They have coconut and banana plantations paying good incomes and they, the "colonels" for a certainty, will remain there until they die—a club of exiles banded together by a free confession of their crimes.

In speaking of the business opportunity in Honduras and Guatemala, Mr. Lawrence said that unbounded opportunity will be opened within the next two years.

"Coconut plantations will become the greatest industry," he said. "The demand for them is greatly exceeding the supply and the nuts will soon become a scarcity. Americans are not yet investing there, but the big fruit companies are nosing around."

IT HAS MANY QUALITIES.—The man who possesses a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is armed against many ills. It will cure a cough, break a cold, prevent sore throat; it will reduce the swelling from a sprain, cure the most persistent sores and will speedily heal cuts and contusions. It is a medicine chest in itself, and can be got for a quarter of a dollar.

Sarcasmo. He had just reached the philosophical stage when he slipped into a restaurant between bars for a bit to eat. He ordered. Then he sat staring ahead, quietly thoughtful in expression, and waited.

It is admitted that he did some waiting too. What happened to his order couldn't be understood outside the peculiar conventions of a restaurant kitchen, but he spent half an hour sitting there, staring ahead of him.

At last it came. As the waitress put the order before him he started from his deep study as if he had forgotten he had an order coming. Then, looking up at the fair transporter of edibles, he said:

"You don't look a day older!"—Everybody's.

The Sleep of Heroes. When the hero sleeps, it is said that one ear is directed forward, why is not known. A writer in the English Mechanic thinks this is to guard against danger, being a survival of its originally wild habits. He says: "Watch a horse asleep through the window of his stable and make a faint noise at the front. That ear will be all attention, and probably the other will fly around sharply to assist. Now let him go to sleep again and make the same noise to the left. The forward ear still will keep guard, with possibly a lightning flick round, only to resume its former position."

The Lost Dime. A man sent his neighbor's little boy to the drug store to buy five postage stamps. He handed him two dimes, the extra one being for himself. Some time afterward the boy came back blubbering and said he had lost one of the dimes.

"But why didn't you buy me the stamps?" asked the man.

"Because, mister," replied the boy, "it was your dime I lost."—Judge.

Poor Scheme. Crawford—Why don't you try jollying your wife a little? It's easy to tell her she's looking younger and more beautiful every day. Crabshaw—I tried that once, and she nailed me for money to have her picture taken.—Judge.

What She Wanted. Dr. Bruizer the Dentist—"I'm sorry, but I'll have to extract that tooth, Mrs. Tungtwist—I don't like to lose it unless you can fit me with a substitute."—Chicago News.

Puzzling Predicament. "Why is Jiggers always in hot water with his wife?" "Because they can't keep the pot boiling."—Baltimore American.

"The Best is the Cheapest"

WE ARE the wire fence pioneers of Canada. We put wire fence on the market and were the first to make a standardized high-grade reliable fence. Since that time our enormous list of satisfied customers, greater probably than all other fence companies combined, has been built up by honest fence, honest wire, honest weaving, honest galvanizing. Page galvanizing is special and is the best that can be produced.

OUR customers see Page fence give 15 and 20 years of service. They willingly pay highest prices to get Page fence because they have seen "bargain fences" sag, rust and break long before an honest fence should.

TO-DAY we say buy Page fence for cash, at factory prices. Fence will be shipped quickly, freight paid, to your nearest station. Order from the Page warehouse nearest you, at Walkerville, Toronto, Montreal, or St. John, N.B. Page fence is easiest to get and has a greater choice of styles, and gives better service than any other fence offered in Canada to-day.

PAGE Wire Fence uses specially made steel wire. This is no empty claim. We actually use it. This wire has a high per-centage of carbon as compared with ordinary hard-drawn wire and is therefore much more tough, springy and strong. It costs more but the Page fence must wear best and it does. Our prices for cash to-day are the biggest value you have ever seen. Only experienced fence men will appreciate how big. Send your order to-day. These lowest cash prices are subject to change without notice. They include freight, according to territory, to your own railroad station. We keep big stocks at Toronto, Montreal and St. John.

The Page Company is noted for its fair dealing and liberal guarantees. No matter what your experience has been in buying by mail you can trust this Company implicitly. We always have and we always will guarantee every rod of Page fence to be satisfactory and exactly as represented or we will take back the goods, refund your money and in addition pay you for your time and trouble. That's because we're absolutely sure of Page fence. Every trouble point in ordinary fences has been perfected out of the Page—every wire is the same length as the wire next to it, hence, when the fence is stretched, all wires have equal tension—there is no bagging or sagging. The locks absolutely do not injure the wires in the least and are a most secure fastening. The whole fence is a true, taut wall of steel protecting your crops and stock, putting big money in your pocket every year.

BUY AT THESE PRICES NOW. THEY MAY BE RAISED VERY SOON.

Wire of the "Page" quality tends to advance. Buy while we can make these prices on this present contract. It is money in your pocket. Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable by all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.

Henry Capes, Plympton, lost a valuable pig last week. Having turned two of his prize winners out for exercise they engaged in a pugilistic battle, resulting in the death of one.

While Mrs. John R. Smith, Town Line, was spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Nell Grant, Sombra Township, the family during Saturday night was aroused by an alarm of fire to find their splendid barns and outbuildings in

THEY SOOTHE EXCITED NERVES—Nervous affections are usually attributable to defective digestion, as the stomach dominates the nerve centres. A course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will still all disturbances of this character, and by restoring the stomach to normal action relieve the nerves from irritation. There is no sedative like them and in the correction of irregularities of the digestive processes, no preparation has done so effective work, as can be testified to by thousands.

The Beelchut crop this year is a complete failure. The result is that the red squirrels which are almost entirely dependent on them for their winter's food supply are to be seen quite thickly in the orchards eating apples. Eventually they will find their way into the barns. The red squirrel is an energetic little animal and refuses to starve as long as there is grain to be had.

House rats are reported to be very numerous this fall, both in town and in the country, but the most prolific lot of rodents yet reported selected the premises of Albert Hyatt, fifth concession, Romney township, as a likely place to spend the winter months. At a threshing bee at the Hyatt place the other day the men killed 187 rats, and it is said that there are still some left. The carnage created considerable excitement among the destroyers while in action.

Uncle Mose's Sayings

A man who is exceedingly polite when asking a favor, may be a regular old grouch at other times.

The "I-am-thankful-that-I-am-better-than-thou" man does well enough to fill a vacant pew in church, but it sometimes pays to be a little canny when doing business with him.

The summer girl who can keep half a dozen young men up in the air at once is the real thing in jugglers.

It may be more blessed to give than receive, but in most cases the average man would rather pose as the catcher than the pitcher.

Some preachers are not satisfied to be teachers and leaders of their congregation and bible class but want to boss the sewing circle and ladies' aid as well.

A young husband is often a treasure but he is expected to become a treasury as well, or wifely is disappointed.

Sometimes a man is kept so busy advising other people how to run their business that he has no time to mind his own.

A man may be in doubt about his wife but he is always willing to bet on his watch or his thermometer.

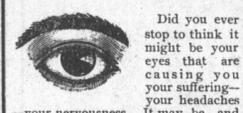

It does not take much to drive some men to drink, but no woman ever drove her husband to drink by keeping her mouth closed.

A plumb girl doesn't mind it a bit, but you can't get a skinny girl to climb a fence when there are any men around.

Some women kiss when they meet because they believe the bible injunction to love your enemies.

BUNDLE OF NERVES

HOW often a doctor says to a patient who is suffering from nervousness and headaches, "You are a bundle of nerves." Perhaps this has been your own experience—and yet treatment and drugs gave you no relief.

Did you ever stop to think it might be your eyes that are causing you your suffering—your headaches—your nervousness. It may be, and if it is, it is our business as Opticians to locate your eye trouble and make for you Glasses that will relieve. Good Honest Glasses.

THE INDUSTRIAL MORTGAGE & SAVINGS CO.

(SARNIA, ONT.)

Absolute security should be the first consideration when making an investment. On this ground the Industrial Mortgage & Savings Co. can appeal to the public for patronage as the Government by an Order-in-Council made it a legal depository for trust funds. Deposits and Debentures are the first claim upon the entire assets of the Company. Deposits of one dollar and upwards received and Debentures issued for one hundred dollars and upwards.

D. I. N. SINCLAIR, MANAGER

7, Brooke, now owned by Frank Oke, was the farm on which the deceased was raised and lived for many years. His father, the late Henry Kuns, was the first settler on this farm.

The Moravian Fair receipts will total $3,000 after all expenses are paid. Tecumseh Day netted them $2,000 but the following day it rained and $44 was all the gate money taken in. The Indians at Moraviantown have undertaken to erect a monument on the reserve to Tecumseh, and by all accounts may have it in place before any of the "proposed" monuments in other places are commenced. The Indians may not write so many letters to the newspapers, describing the virtues of the great chieftain, as the whites, but so far as their means will permit, intend to act.

Kelly-Moffatt

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday last at noon, at the home of Mrs. James Moffatt, 14th, con. Brooke, when her eldest daughter, Miss Rebecca, became the wife of Mr. Alex. Kelly, son of James Kelly, 12th line. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. P. Irwin, B. A., and the bridal couple were unattended. Miss Amy Moffatt, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and very handsome presents. After the tasty wedding breakfast had been partaken of the happy young couple took the 3 p.m. train for Toronto for a short honeymoon and on their return will commence housekeeping in their new home on the 12th line.

Brook—Brown

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. A. Brown, Strathroy, when their eldest daughter, Eva Marie, was united in marriage to Russel G., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brock, of Adelaide township. At 2.30 o'clock the bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Leila Eastman, cousin of the bride. The bride looked charming in marquisette, trimmed with lace and French knots, with customary wedding veil caught up with bridal roses. The contracting parties took their places under an arch of evergreen with little Ella Brock, niece of the groom, acting as flower girl, and Rev. A. E. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. After the ceremony and hearty congratulations the guests adjourned to the dining-room, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. The bride received many beautiful gifts, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the pianist was a gold bar pin; to the flower girl, a locket and chain, and to the bride a fur lined coat. The young couple left amid showers of rice and good wishes on the evening train for Harrow, Windsor, Detroit, Sandusky, Mich., and other western points, the bride travelling in a suit of brown, with coat and hat to match. On their return, they will take up their residence on the groom's farm on the Egremont road, Adelaide.

Notes From White Bear, Sask.

The work of 4 horses and 1 man in the West in one summer: Double disc, harrowed, and seeded 125 acres crop; plowed double disc 3 times, harrowed twice 100 acres, cut and staked 125 acres, threshed and hauled grain to town, distance 25 miles and did house work also. Then some of the people in the East think we don't work in the West. How does this look? Messrs. Wm. D. Jackson, Mortlack, and R. L. Harper, White Bear, intend putting in the winter switching in the C. P. R. yards at Moose Jaw, both being experienced railroad men.

ANXIOUS TIMES FOR PARENTS

Children Often Seem Pining Away And Ordinary Medicine Does Not Help Them.

The health of children between the ages of twelve and eighteen years, particularly in the case of girls, is a source of serious worry to nearly every mother. The growth and development takes so much of their strength that in many cases they actually seem to be going into a decline. The appetite is fickle, brightness gives way to depression; there are often serious headaches, fits of dizziness, or occasional fainting and a complaint of weariness at the slightest exertion. Ordinary medicines, will not bring relief. The blood has become thin and watery, and the child must have something that will bring the blood back to its normal condition. At this stage no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their whole mission is to make new blood, which reaches every part of the body, bringing back health, strength and energy. Mrs. James Harris, Port Kowan, Ont., says: "At the age of thirteen my daughter began to look very pale, and seemed listless and always tired. She did not take interest in her school work or in those amusements of girlhood. In fact she just seemed to drag herself about, complaining of always being tired; did not eat well, and did not sleep well at night. I took her to our doctor who said she was anemic, and advised me to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took the Pills for nearly two months, when she was as well and lively as any girl could be, gained nicely in weight, and has since enjoyed perfect health. I am quite sure that what the Pills did for my daughter they will do for other pale, weak girls. I have also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills myself with the best results and can only speak of them in terms of greatest praise." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MARKETS Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Receipts at the Union stockyards were 1,435 cattle, 1,127 calves, 458 hogs and 843 sheep and lambs. Receipts of cattle are beginning to show a considerable falling off this week, as compared with last week. This would indicate either that the supplies in the country are running short, consequent on the heavy drain towards the United States market since the removal of the tariff, or that prices on the other side have levelled a little and are not quite so attractive from the shippers' point of view. But with the higher runs the local demand is strong and active for everything of fair butcher quality and prices are steady and firm at recent advances.

For the roughest common cattle the market was inclined to drag. Hogs firmer up 10c to 20c from yesterday's sharp decline, but may not be able to hold at today's prices according to the packer's estimates of the situation. Sheep and lambs were active and a strong market resulted and 10c to 15c higher. Stockers and feeders firm at recent prices.

MABEL'S CHITCHAT

Scrappy Necks Avoided if Little Trouble is Taken.

A CURE FOR "SALT CELLARS."

Love of the Picturesque Makes Medical Cellars Both Popular and Scarce in the Shops—They Are Easy to Fashion at Home.

Dear Elsa—Ever since every woman has been displaying her front swan like and otherwise, I have been washed in high collars unfashionable and uncomfortable, particularly during the hot weather.

Well, my dear, I'm happy now and throat free. Now don't misinterpret this remark as Dick did, and look for my head on the couch, but be sensible and listen to what I've got to say on the subject.

To start out in real, advertising fashion. "Nobody need have a scrappy neck if they will take the trouble."

What I say is, that I leave subdued my salt cellars and my scrappy neck is a thing of the past. You know that I am nothing, but "a rag and a bone and a bank of hair," and never could wear a decollete frock with any degree of becomingness.

Now all my friends in slight envy may, full, firm throat; I've no loose skin under my chin and not a single sign of a salt cellar.

And the remedies I used were so simple.

An acquaintance who has studied physical culture in Sweden taught me three head and neck exercises which have had such good results that I feel it would be the height of selfishness not to share with you who are of the lean kind too.

When doing the exercises the neck should be quite bare. The best place is to do them in one's kimono, night and morning, and to undo one's blouse at the throat during the day.

Now for the exercises: First, stand erect, look straight in front of you, then, keeping the body quite still, let the chin sink slowly till it reaches the chest.

Second, raise the chin, hold your head rather in the position of a hen drinking and then turn the head, first to the right as far as it will go, then to the left. Do this five or ten times.

Third, hold the head quite straight and take a series of short, quick breaths, puffing out the base of the throat with each breath. In addition to these exercises you can if you like massage the neck thoroughly with benzoinated lard every night: it makes the skin smooth and white, I have found.

While I'm prating of myself I know, Elsa, honey, that you are just dying to learn why I have not sent via parcel post the Medical collars you wanted.

Well, here's the reason: they're tremendously hard to find, for you must know that these picturesque neck addenda are having a wonderful popularity this season and it's almost impossible to get a Medical at a reasonable price at this late day.

The dressmakers are therefore reaping a harvest for a well shaped Medical collar of fine lace or embroidered batiste has become the stamp of an exclusive costume turned out by a private dressmaker.

Yet they are so easy to make that you, Elsa, could turn one out in an hour or so. All they require is skillful wiring, for the effect must be soft and the flare just right.

Plaited frills and shaped lingerie materials can be bought as cheaply as 25 cents a yard. They are to be basted inside a coat collar or a dressy blouse waist. Such a finish is dainty and becoming particularly on a coat, as it keeps the unbecoming collar from close contact with the skin.

Until you hear from your very negligent friend use one of these frilly expedients and bless yours devotedly.

gotten by the hostess that she may unconsciously repeat her bill of fare for some of the same guests.

To avoid doing this a young matron in a fast growing suburb, where the young married folk entertain one another a good deal, keeps a book which is proving of great value to her.

In it she records the names of the guests invited to a luncheon, tea or dinner, and on the same page the bill of fare for the meal, with a memorandum about the decorations for the table.

Her book not only prevents her from repeating the same bill of fare for the same persons, but also offers her many suggestions of seasonable dishes.

A REAL ASTHMA RELIEF.—Dr. I. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagant statements. Its claims are conservative indeed, when judged by the cures which it performs. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so-called remedies have utterly failed.

A temperance lecturer was enthusiastically denouncing the use of all intoxicants. "I wish all the beer, all the wine, all the whiskey in the world was at the bottom of the ocean," he said. Hastily Pat arose to his feet. "Sure, and so do I, sor!" he shouted. "I wish every bit of it was at the bottom of the sea." As they were leaving the hall the lecturer encountered Pat. "I certainly second of you," he said. "It was a brave thing for you to rise and say what you did. Are you a teetotaler?" "No, indeed, sor," answered Pat. "I'm a diver."

CUTTING VENEERS.

Three Methods Are Used—Sawing, Slicing and the Rotary Cut.

Veneer is very thin paper. The raw material is usually purchased in logs of random lengths. Some are cut into fitches and in turn sawed into thin sections called sawed veneer. In other cases the logs, after being steamed, are shaved to sharp knives. This method produces sliced veneer. Neither of these processes is as extensively used as the third, the rotary cut, although for certain purposes they are of importance.

The structure of the wood, the size of the logs and the use for which the veneer is designed largely determine the process employed. Some foreign woods are very hard and, like soft domestic woods—the conifers, for instance—often produce the best veneer when sawed, while for other woods the slicing method is preferred. Where the product is for fine exterior finish and has to be selected and matched according to the figure or grain, sawing is the favorite method.

The rotary cut process is similar in principle to the slicing process. The log, after being steamed, is revolved against a fixed knife the length of the log and wide sheets are shaved off.

Veneers are cut into a number of thicknesses. The domestic woods, rotary cut, range from five-sixteenths to one-fiftieth of an inch and the imported woods from three-sixteenths to one-thirty-fourth. In the sawed and sliced products the thickest veneer is five-sixteenths.—Indianapolis News.

THE TORNADO.

It Occurs at the Centre of a Great Storm Wheel.

The place where a tornado will strike cannot be foretold. A knowledge of their causes will not, therefore, take the place of presence of mind and absence of body when the "twister" actually comes roaring along. But, nevertheless, the newly accepted explanation of the tornado as set forth in a paper by Mr. Herbert Quick, will be interesting.

These dreadful storms occur near the centre of the moving area of low barometer called a cyclone. This cyclone is a revolving sheet of wind rotating in a circle from 500 to 1,000 miles in diameter—and people in some districts experience a cyclone many times a year. All their general storms are cyclones.

The wind blows from every direction towards the centre of these cyclones, spirally, and with an upward draft. The south half of the cyclone is warm. There are always great bodies of cold air settling down from the upper regions. The warm air from south and west, blowing towards the centre of "low," forces itself under the weight of cold air. A big southerly wind will drive itself under the mass of settling cold air like a great weight.

Here we have the conditions favorable for a tornado. The cold air is heavier than the warm air, and ought to be at the bottom next the earth. The warm air is lighter, and should be on top, while the strong south wind is driving itself farther and farther under the great settling shelf of cold.

Something has to happen. This something takes the form of great bursts of the warm air up through the cold. The phenomenon is, on a gigantic scale, much like the bursting up of bubbles of steam through the water in a boiling kettle. The warm air begins to boil upward in great bubbles. At the bottom of each there is a strong updraft. What takes place is exactly like the whirlpool in the bottom of a bath when the water is running out. If the air were perfectly quiet, no whirlpool would form; but if it has only a little whirling motion, the whirl is communicated to the spot where the draft is. The whirl grows stronger and stronger. In the bath it gets so strong that the water is thrown outward and a core of air runs down to a point in it. And the air whirlpool acts in the same way, only upward instead of downward.

When the air behaves thus, a tornado is formed. The whirl begins in the spiral direction of the general storm. As the air of the tornado whirls more and more swiftly, the air is thrown outward and a core is formed which is almost as empty as the core in the bath is of water—that is, a partial vacuum is set up in the heart of the tornado.

The outer shell of air is so dense that all the air sucked into it is held there, and not permitted to get through into this core. The sudden upburst of warm air into the higher cold air forms rain, and a heavy downpour usually occurs. It also liberates more heat, and this increases the ferocity of the disturbance. It generates an immense amount of electricity, and there is vivid lightning and crashing thunder.

On it goes until the equilibrium is restored. The velocity of the whirl becomes so enormous that stone walls

Then follows a cool wave. The great body of cold air has accomplished its object, and reached the ground. The hot air has gone up and become cooled.

These storms occur from 50 to 250 miles ahead of—that is south and east of—the centre of the low. They do not often occur. Usually the balance is restored without such violence. So they cannot be predicted. The only thing that can be said is that in certain localities the conditions are favorable for severe local storms.

"I can spell," announced Roy, aged five, at the breakfast table, as he took another biscuit. "These are made out of d-o, do."

"But that doesn't spell dough," his mother answered smilingly.

"Here's two kinds o' do, chile," said the old colored cook, who came in just then with another plate of biscuits. "'do' what you shets and 'do' what you eats."

ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT AT WANSTEAD

THREE G. T. R. TRAINMEN BURNED TO DEATH IN CABOOSE FOLLOWING A REAR END COLLISION

Three Men Badly Injured and Now in Hospital at London

Inquest Being Held in Watford Before Dr. R. G. Kelly, Coroner.

BURNED TO DEATH
Conductor William Moffat, Sarnia Tunnel; Brakeman Stapleton, unmarried, Sarnia Tunnel; Brakeman George A. Hollerman, unmarried, Sarnia Tunnel.

THE INJURED TRAINMEN
Engineer W. H. Hall, 290 Rectory street, both legs broken, shoulder dislocated and right eye almost blinded, now at Victoria Hospital and will recover; Brakeman William Rickman, 113 William street, neck and head badly injured, now at Victoria Hospital and will recover; Fireman H. Holding, 356 Rectory street, right wrist sprained and left hand broken.

Death in its most horrible form cremation alive, in wreckage of their caboose, following a rear-end freight collision during the intensity of one of the most severe blizzards that has swept this part of the country in many years, came to three Grand Trunk trainmen between Kingscourt and Wyoming, 7 miles west of Watford, on the Sarnia Branch, at 5 o'clock Monday morning.

News of the calamity, because of the paralyzing of the telegraph system by the storm, did not reach London until after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, when express No. 4, then 10 hours overdue, pulled into the depot and reported having been held up on the west side of the blockade resulting from the collision.

TERRIBLE STORIES TOLD BY THOSE THERE.

The stories of the three injured London trainmen are of the most ghastly character, the accounts of the deaths of the three victims cremated and of the rescue of Engineer Hall as the flames licked up the splintered timbers about him being horrifying.

A crew headed by Conductor Moffat, one of the men burned to death, and Engineer Hall was called from London at midnight to relieve men coming from the east on a manifest freight. They left London at 3 o'clock and according to members of the crew the locomotive was not then in condition for the run after its long battle against the storm from the east. They made Komoka in safety, but were then travelling under the greatest difficulties and in the working of the block protection were compelled to pull into a siding. There they remained until the water supply was almost exhausted and fearing further trouble from the locomotive Hall concluded to dump his fire and abandon his train. Another freight had in the meantime pulled in behind him. It was likewise in trouble but was fit for further going. The crew of the second train concluded to reduce fourteen cars and freed of that much of the load they picked up the dead engine and placed it six cars from the head of their train. The caboose of the abandoned train was also dropped on the back end, the cars being left out of harm's way on the siding.

The train then proceeded westward and made Kingscourt Junction without stopping. Shortly afterward however, the water supply threatened to give out and the train stalled near Bear Creek bridge, one mile east of Wanstead. The locomotive was cut off and started out light in an effort to make the next water spout. She also failed, however, and to prevent possibility of explosion, the engineer pulled into a siding at Wyoming and emptying Hall, dumped his fire in a like manner.

In the meantime the blizzard raged and Stapleton and Holleran alternated protecting the rear end of their train. Snow fell in great clouds through which it was impossible to see even the "fuse" signals more than a couple of carlengths. A terrible gale blew out of the north-west and to remain long in the open meant death for any man who would attempt it. Although he was travelling "dead head" with other members of the crew of the freight first abandoned, Brakeman ("Curley") Harry Brickie, also of Sarnia, gave the best he had and buckled in with the other two relieving the protector at about five minute intervals.

Conductor Moffat was doing all in his power to protect his train before it turned into bank, Fireman H. Holding, of London, the real hero of the tragedy, said: "He sent his men back under instructions to plant red and yellow fuses and fog signals three hundred yards from the tail of the train. The men took red and white lanterns in the hope that the attention of any engineer who might happen along would be attracted. "I dropped off to sleep and Hall and the others of our crew who had previously been riding in the locomotive cab, came back to the tail end for food. After a meal they also turned in and were in their bunks when the crash came.

FREIGHT DASHES ON.

"Curley" told me that he had occasion to go out while the others were in the car and as he slammed the door and peered into the darkness the headlight of the on-rushing freight loomed up like a yellow moon in the storm. The roar of the wind made it impossible to hear anything. He screamed and jumped, but we did not hear his warning.

"I awakened, stunned, on the top of a pile of wreckage from the two cabooses and felt the trucks which were hurled on top as they crunched along beside my body. Both my hands were pinned, but I managed to free them, and as I worked my fingers out several places in the wreckage. I could hear men screaming for assistance, and in the yellow flare of the burning cars I caught a glimpse of Hall, my engineer, hanging in the debris about 10 feet or more above the ground. He was held by timbers over his right leg, and his body hung down in a manner that threatened to break his back. Curley, who was unhurt, and a couple of men of the train which had struck us, rushed up and tried to quench the fires with snow. There was no water available, and they could do nothing. The wind blew the lumps of snow beyond reach and fanned the fire into a fury.

"I could see one of the doomed men in the debris, and his calls were piteous. The fire was then all around him, and I knew there was no chance to rescue him. A couple of men struggled frantically to work their way toward him, while two others, who could not be seen from my position, pleaded piteously for help. The man whom I could not see was held by a timber over his knees, and he grasped and clawed desperately to pull himself out of the wreckage as the fire surrounded him and burned off his lower limbs. He writhed in terrible suffering and moaned agonizingly before he finally fell back into the heat of the inferno and was cremated, with the others.

"Hall was a brick and directed us, despite his terrible injuries. Both his legs were broken by the impact, but the right one was caught in the wreckage. We secured a shaker bar from the engine and used it for a lever to lift the weight off him, but four of us could make no impression upon it. I tugged away for an hour and 40 minutes before he was released, and the last few boards I pulled from about him were then burning. Had he been five minutes longer in that position he would have met the fate of the others.

"I had confidence that we could get him out until the fire spread all about us, and a burning bunk cushion fell over on top of us as we worked. Hall then showed his grit and begged us to get an axe and chop off his leg. "Better that than be roasted to death. Go to it, boys," he told us.

"We carried him to the engine which had struck us, and left him there for a time where he could be warmed up. His right hand, with which he grasped the iron bar to hold his body up out of the fire, was frozen to the wrist. Later, fearing that the fire would spread to the cab of the engine, as it threatened to do every moment, we cut down a curtain off the cab and carried him on it to the caboose at the other end of the train.

"Both cabooses on the out train were smashed to splinters and burned within a comparatively short time. The light of the fire alone guided us in the fight, but as it spread it threatened every further fatalities. A flat car was next to the vans on the train and crumpled up when the impact came. The wreckage was thrown almost against an oil tank car and for a time we looked for the tank to explode momentarily.

"Our anxiety was still further increased by the fact that No. 4, the Chicago express, would plunge into the wrecked train, and one of the uninjured men who was doing good work in the attempts to rescue, was sent away to protect us."

Coroner Dr. Kelly, and Dr. Newell and Brandon, of Watford went to the scene of the disaster as soon as possible, the latter went through to London with the injured men.

London auxiliary crew was rushed to the scene when news of the accident was received here, and Superintendent W. R. Davidson took direct charge of the task of opening the line. Later the London equipment was augmented by the force from Hamilton.

Seventy-five miles of poles in this district were blown down during the blizzard, and the work of replacing them is a task of large proportions.

R. G. C. Kelly, M. D. coroner, Watford, decided that an inquest was necessary and on Tuesday empanelled a jury who met at Brown's undertaking rooms, viewed the remains and adjourned until Monday next to hear the evidence.

Laymen's Missionary Meeting

The Laymen's Missionary Meeting held at Sarnia on Wednesday of last week, was a decided success. Three hundred men representing the different churches were present. Such work as the supreme business of the church, the privilege and responsibility of the men of the church, what the world owes to christianity and the duty we owe to Jesus Christ, and the true life of the world were presented. The value of business methods of management in the congregation not only in the matter of ordinary revenue but also and especially in the missionary work of the church were discussed. The laymen considered that it was the duty of the ministers of the various churches to preach on missions and instruct their men how to transact business. What was needed was a thorough every member or every person visitation bringing the matter in a kind and tactful way before every person in the congregation. It was shown that when this was done, and done well, it always, without exception, resulted in a large increase both to ordinary revenue and to the mission work of the church.
