NEW YORK'S TRUNK MURDER IS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY DESPITE POLICE EFFORTS

The Murder of Father Caspar, an Armenian Priest, Whose Body Was Found Doubled Up in a Trunk is Gotham's Latest Sensation--Police Searching for Murderers.

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 28--Developments late last night in what has become known as the "trunk murder" of New York, include:-- John Erimoyan, arrested in Chicago on suspicion of knowing something of the murder and later released when he admitted the police that he knew nothing of the crime; the constant search by the police of New York for Sarkis Erimoyan and his brother Simon, who have been connected with the case through cards found in the trunk where the body was discovered, and of a third man, believed to have been connected with the case; the assertion that Father Caspar Vartanian had recently inherited a snuff fortune from a brother who died in Chicago and that he possessed a great deal of money in the form of a check or a credit, which was handed from generation to generation of priests, this money and the jewel giving the police motive for the crime and the fact that Mrs. Henry Sherer, in whose apartments at 333 West 37th street the body was found, was taken to police headquarters to identify a man who had been arrested as the "eccentric" who took the trunk to her home and later announced that he was not the person who took the trunk in.

The body of the Armenian priest, Rev. Father Caspar Vartanian, which was found Sunday doubled with the head strapped to the knees, lies in the morgue, positively identified, according to the police, but without one other than those already provided in the finding of the body.

NEW YORK, May 28--Notwithstanding the motives for the murder of Father Caspar Vartanian, the Armenian priest whose body was found on Sunday jammed into a trunk in a West 37th street house, is not clear; some facts have been learned which may dispel all doubts as to why the priest was slain. Father Caspar was said to be a politician as well as a clergyman, and was identified with an Armenian secret revolutionary society here. It appears further that recently the revolutionaries in the local Armenian colony split and that much bad blood was engendered by the division.

As to the fortune left Vartanian in Chicago there was little information. A Mrs. Hopkins said she had heard of a legacy left by a brother in Chicago from Sarkis Erimoyan.

How much money the priest had with him when, nearly nude, he was strapped into the trunk, is a matter the police are still working on.

The editor of a Slavic paper here says Americans have no idea of the fierce jealousies and intrigues among Armenian revolutionaries. He says that the Armenian revolution has been suppressed. Sepposian says frankly that if Father Caspar was a spy he deserved to die.

SENSATIONAL DETAILS OF THE TRAGEDY IN GUATEMALA

How Four Prominent Men Killed Themselves Rather Than Surrender to Cabrera's Soldiers--Their Bodies Thrown Into City Sewers.

MEXICO CITY, May 28--Full confirmation of the suicide of four prominent Guatemalans and the imprisonment and sentencing to death of 19 men suspected of complicity in the attempted murder of President Cabrera early this morning was received through official and private channels yesterday. The state department received a telegram stating that the Guatemalan people were so incensed at the sentence imposed on the 19 suspects that President Cabrera has decided that these cases be taken to a court of second instance for revision.

Upon his representations they were finally turned over and later buried with great honors. Later the 19 suspects were imprisoned and sentenced to death by court martial proceedings.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

POPULAR SUGGESTION

Ald. Christie's suggestion that there should be a janitor and a consulting janitor for City Hall, west end, meets with hearty approval from the citizens generally. Mr. Peter Binks said to the Times reporter today that he was surprised the alderman had not thought of it before. If it were possible to have a consulting janitor, consulting aldermen, consulting chiefs of fire and police, and consulting inspectors of streets and dumps, with a few consulting employees in humbler capacities, the taxes would increase a much more satisfactory rate. With regard to the west side City Hall, Mr. Binks says the revenue derived from it and its usefulness as a subject of controversy among the aldermen have never been estimated at the full value. As a business man, he would oppose either tearing down the building or cleaning up and renting it. So long as the West Side people had the Ludlow, Wm King and Wm Gundy, they should have the City Hall in its present state. But he would strongly recommend a consulting janitor.

Mr. Jamesy Jones observed this morning with evident satisfaction that the graduation of five more lawyers increased by five his opportunities to be a lawyer's enemy. Jamesy is not vindictive, by a lawsuit is meat and drink.

GRAND JURY FINDS TWO TRUE BILLS

Three Criminal Cases on County Court Docket--True Bills Against London and Golding and Against Charles Smith--Mahoney Will be Tried Under Speedy Trials.

The regular monthly sitting of the county court was held this morning, Judge Forbes presiding.

Charles Smith was next called. He was charged with that he did on May 11th steal seven suits of olivain, valued at $14, the property of Amos D. Lee, John Conroy, and E. Lee; also that he did on May 18th steal a brown coat from G. H. Evans and a gun valued at $6 from H. Springer.

The case of the King v. Charles Smith, who is undefended, will be heard this afternoon, and the case of the King v. Wm. Golding and Joseph London, the prisoners being accused of robbing Mrs. J. Hamblett Wood, on Leinster street, some time ago. His honor stated that it was the only serious case on the criminal docket, and thought that the jury would have no trouble in finding a true bill in the case.

BOYS STOLE MONEY FROM BALL PLAYERS

While the Marathons and Algonquins were playing in the league series on the Victoria grounds last evening some boys stole over or in some way got through the back fence, entered the pavilion and rifled the clothing of the players, taking two dollars from the pockets of one player and seventy-five cents from those of another. Other boys amused themselves by stealing a lot of mails that had just been bought by members of the Xevy Day Club who were working at the fences. Others made trouble in other ways. If the parents of these boys continue to be indifferent to their conduct the youngsters will be arrested. Hereafter the boys who go over the fence when the gate is closed, and he is caught, will have to be allowed 25 cts., to be paid out of the dog license fund.

ANOTHER JAM AT FIRE SALE

Women Bargain Hunters Thronged Macaulay Bros' Stores Again This Morning.

Despite the falling rain there was another big crowd of bargain hunters at the Macaulay Bros. & Co's fire sale this morning. Evidently the announcement that nine miles of black silk was to be sold at an immense discount, was the attraction of the elements and get bargains. When the doors opened at eight o'clock there was a throng of women waiting to secure admission and the same procedure as yesterday had to be gone through with. Joseph Scott was stationed at the door-ways and although he did not have a strenuous time as his brother officer did yesterday, he was nevertheless kept busy in some way get through the door. It seemed not to matter that they had to stand out in the rain and wait their turn, they waited just the same.

IS KING SQUARE SOWN WITH POISONED CANDY?

Secretary Wetmore of the S. P. C. A. Found a Suspicious Looking Candy Tablet There This Morning and Gave it to the Police--Says There May be Peril to Children.

Robert Gasquin will read several selections at the entertainment in the Main street Baptist school room this evening.

Mr. Wetmore then went on to show the extreme danger of such a practice, as not only dogs, but little children are likely to lose their lives by eating poisoned confectionery, thus recklessly distributed. "You know," continued Mr. Wetmore, "that dogs nearly always pick up these things, but it is much better known that when little children come across pieces of candy it always finds its way to their mouths."

Mr. Wetmore commented on the fact that most of the dogs poisoned were valuable.

the fire. Take the seat that you had this... SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS—Colonel Strangeway, who has a reputation for gambling, has two beautiful daughters, and one of them, Vivienne, is to marry Roger Selborne, a barrister, whose place adjoins Barrington Lodge, the Colonel's shooting-box. Between Roger's "best man," Jack Braithwaite, and Patience friendship has sprung up. Lady Erline, Vivienne's stepmother, is in love with Jack, and there is also of the house-party assembled for the wedding Mr. Spencer Stern, a City banker, whom Roger dislikes intensely. The bride, who is very unhappy, confides to her sister that some love letters she wrote years ago are being held over her for blackmail, and a demand has just been made upon her which terrifies her. If the matter came to Roger's ears, she declares passionately, she should drown herself. Lady Erline's Blue Diamond is a subject of admiring discussion among the house-party. Vivienne faints during the dinner and afterwards proceeds to her room. Before the evening is out the Blue Diamond is lost. In this, Patience asks herself, the blackmail that was levied upon her sister? The jewel is found in Vivienne's bag, which Patience had packed for her, and she is passionately, she should drown herself. Roger explains to his sister that Stern, whom she had met before, is a second-rate lawyer, and that he has discovered, through a case which he is conducting against him in the courts. Lady Erline demands of Patience, as the price of her silence, that the girl shall renounce Jack and marry Stern, and Patience, horrified at what she is doing, yields, to be told by her father a few minutes later that Jack, in spite of what had taken place, asks to marry her.

CHAPTER VIII. Patience allowed herself to be led down to the hall by her father. It was another scene, this meeting with Jack. Yet it was one which she must not shrink from. Her senses were strangely stirred, her nerves acutely sensitive. The blood tingled in her veins. He believed her to be a thief. He had heard the confession fall from her own lips. There was no doubt for her, none. And now, in spite of this, Jack wished to make her his wife. She was to go to him and bear him six sons. How brave he was, how noble! She felt a peculiar pride in having won the love of such a man. There was a certain exultation in her movements, a new color shot to her cheeks. For the moment she forgot all else, forgot even that she was bound by the promise that had been wrung from her to refuse Jack's offer of marriage. Whatever might befall her in the future nothing would deprive her of this—this evidence of a man's love, this sacrifice of everything for her sake. She followed her father to the hall, where Jack, looking utterly depressed and miserable, was standing behind him. He was smoking a cigarette, and he was alone. He looked up eagerly as he heard footsteps upon the stairs, and when he saw that Colonel Strangeway was not alone, he threw his cigarette into the fire and ran forward joyfully, impatiently, his hands stretched out to greet Patience. "Dear—my dear!" he cried. He seemed to have overlooked altogether the presence of the other man. "You have come to me. Oh! I was so frightened lest you should not. You are making me quite happy again. Come, Patience, and sit by me."

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY Perhaps no other organ works harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc. Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes. On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas F. Massey, Ont., writes: "After I arrived in Canada from New Zealand, a couple of years ago, I suffered very much from kidney trouble. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally my back became so lame I could scarcely work. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them I felt like a new man. Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont."

A YOUTHFUL GRADUATION FROCK The simpler the graduation frock the more appropriate for the occasion. Though the mode of development be simple, no restrictions are placed upon the quality of materials and trimmings used. In fact, these should be of the very finest that one can possibly afford. A pretty use of those exquisite embroidery flourishes found in all high class forms of white batiste. The skirt is shaped of two flouncings carrying a conventional design in blind embroidery, the edges simply scalloped and buttonholed. These flouncings are set on a gored underskirt of plain batiste, finished with a deep hem, which, with the upper flounce, is attached to a hip-length yoke tucked and inset with three rows of fine insertion. The bodice is tucked and inset with lace in yoke form, and the front embroidered to match the skirt. Full puff sleeves are made of the flouncing and gathered in at the elbow, to be finished with triple frills of lace. Lace insertion and edging makes the collar, supported with fine featherbone rods, and a white satin girdle with rosette and ends fastened in the back. The hair is arranged in some simple and becoming fashion, such as soft braids wound around the head, a bow of white satin ribbon being tied in the back where the braids cross. The girdle is of white lace or silk stockings, with white satin slippers, mark the correct footwear.

"I love you too." Her voice was very low and plaintive. She leant forward a little, bringing her head very near to his. "Whatever happens to me in the future, whatever I may do, remember—ways whatever it is, I love you. You, and no other man in the world. But I cannot marry you. It is impossible. There is something that stands between, a great barrier that has been built up tonight." "But have I not destroyed that barrier?" he pleaded. "You don't know, and I can't explain, Jack," she said, wearily. "You must not force me to do so. It hurts." The boy flushed. Perhaps for the first time in his life he was learning what it meant to suffer bitter disappointment. He had been so accustomed to having all he desired, and just now he desired Patience. He longed for her passionately, ardently. "Oh! you don't mean what you say," she cried; "but I won't worry you about myself any more to-night, nor tomorrow either. But I am going to let you go. Patience, you are the only woman in the world I care to make my wife, and later on I shall ask you again. For the moment, I am content in knowing that you love me. You have said that yourself—the sweetest words you have ever spoken." He rose to his feet and stood over her, looking down pitifully into her pale, wan face. There was an air of proprietorship in the action. "You must go to bed, dear, he commanded. A good night's rest will be the best thing for you. Tomorrow you will feel differently. For the moment, I am going to let you go. He returned, holding him to her, both to let him go. "Patience darling!" he whispered. "I am happy, and you will be." She clung to him, her head sinking upon his shoulder. "It is not fair," she said, "but it must be our last." He laughed, paying little heed to her words. Then, as by an after-thought, he stooped and kissed her, he kissed her again, fully upon the lips, laughed triumphantly and turned away.

SAVED $11,000 ON $10,000 JOB

How An American Congressman Saved More Than He Earned in Two Years.

SPRINGFIELD, Me., May 25—While he slashed up a big porker that was to make meat for himself and his family for many days, W. T. Tyndall, former member of congress from the Fourteenth District, Missouri, told how he had been able to save nearly $11,000 out of his salary of $10,000 and the allowances for incidental expenses during his two-year term at Washington. The ex-congressman worked upon the hog rapidly as he talked, pausing only now and then to make a gesture with his knife by way of emphasis. He said that while he was at Washington he didn't feel that he could afford any luxuries as did the other congressmen. He was saving. He boarded at a private house near the capital. He walked every day to and from the sessions. He thus could pocket his carriage allowance and save that allowance of $2,000 a year. He owned no silk hats and never appeared in a dress suit. His wife and family stayed at home in Missouri, and he was thus freed from the necessity of numerous receptions. He was allowed ten cents a mile traveling expenses to and from his home in Missouri, and he saved a neat little sum in this quarter. With his savings, amounting to $11,000, Tyndall will establish himself as a country banker.

REGAIN NOW THE STRENGTH YOU LACK

Winter Leaves Us Miserable, Ailing, Weak BUILD UP NOW

During the winter the system gets sluggish. The blood, polluted with impurities, densens the nervous system and dulls the actions of both liver and kidneys; the foulness of the system increases and when spring comes we are limp and unsteady. Begin by day as your strength in the body sewers must be flushed out and waste matter removed—otherwise weakness and nervousness will surely follow. Begin by enriching the blood. Make it pure and nutritious by taking Ferroneze, its the greatest blood former known to medical science. Ferroneze makes the liver fairly sing with new life, makes the kidneys dance with renewed vigor, and thus the waste accumulation of pollution is expelled. Of course digestion must be improved, and probably the stomach will require aid as well. Ferroneze serves the purpose admirably. Those who use it, enjoy appetite and digestive powers far beyond the ordinary. That tired feeling is replaced by the buoyant, joyous sensation of health and vigor. Day by day as your strength increases, you feel new energy surging through your veins, and know that a tonic of great merit is at work. No remedy more nourishing or uplifting, no treatment so sure to bring lasting health, good spirits and contentment. Ferroneze contains just what run-down folks need; it cures because it supplies more nutriment than you can get in any other way. Free from alcohol and prepared only in chocolate-coated tablets, 50c per box or six for $2.50 at all dealers. Be sure you try Ferroneze.

PLAN TO PROTECT FISH AND GAME

New Brunswick Association Formed Last Night to Aid in the Work.

Fredericton, May 27—A large number of gentlemen met this evening at the Queen Hotel when it was decided to form an association to be known as "The New Brunswick Fish and Game Protection Association." John Palmer was elected president and J. J. F. Winslow, secretary. The meeting was called mostly for the purpose of organization and it was agreed to call a gathering of all those interested in sports for June 12 at the Queen, when the final organization will be completed, a constitution agreed upon and steps taken to put the object of the association into force. The association is to be an entirely provincial one and not local. Its aim to protect the fishing and game interests of New Brunswick. One of the objects in contemplation is the appointment of two wardens to assist the dominion wardens in protecting the St. John river, the belief being that this river, if properly protected, can be made equal to any in Canada as a salmon river. The secretary was instructed to write other provincial organizations for drafts to aid in forming a constitution. Similar associations prevail in other provinces and in the States and the result has been most satisfactory. At the meeting tonight T. F. Allan, president of the Tobique Salmon Club, was present and greatly assisted in the undertaking in its formation. Mr. Allan having had considerable experience along this line. Mr. Allan believes that the St. John river if properly protected will be a great benefit to the province and to the people living along its course.

FINANCIAL and COMMERCIAL

MATTERS DISCUSSED ON THE STOCK MARKET

The New York Commercial's Review of the Situation on Wall Street--Foreign Exchange Excites Interest--The Gold Situation.

(New York Commercial.) Market discussion turned yesterday upon the condition of foreign exchange, the application of the New York attorney general to leave to begin a proceeding in equity for the annulment of the charter of the Consolidated Gas Co., the further decline in wheat quotations, the rumor, not verified, that the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission had informed the president of the United States that he was unable to find evidence of illegality in the methods of Mr. Harriman, and the plans of the New York Central administration for new financing. It was a budget of important items. The price movement, however, was less affected by such considerations than by the technical position of the market. Throughout the week, which has witnessed a recession to an average not much, if at all, above the lowest of March, the party operating for a decline had been extending commitments on the "short" account, and these had gone so far in such issues as the United States Steel common and Union Pacific that the industrial was loaned flat on Wednesday, and yesterday the Harriman leader had the same experience. Similar conditions obtained in other railway issues, and the position had become precarious for those who created it. The advance that began yesterday forenoon, after an opening which showed some securities under the closing figures of Thursday, was due principally to "short" covering; and the fact that the market continued strong to the end, finishing with a decidedly bold front, despite a certain irregularity due to circumstances affecting individual issues, was confirmatory of the theory that it had been overvalued. In the late trading such weakness as there was appeared in stocks of railways traversing the southern states, Southern Railway going down 19 in the common and under 90 in the preferred. Business was not on a large scale, the activity being confined in the main to a few securities that had been equally prominent earlier in the week. Chief among them were Reading, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel and American Smelting. In London American issues, except Union Pacific, were weak, but this had been their condition since Monday, and in our market the foreigners sold on balance between 10,000 and 15,000 shares. Profiting-taking in the last quarter hour carried prices off slightly, but not evenings Mr. Jelenko will be seen in the Richard Mansfield version of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." On Thursday and Friday evenings the company appears in Calais, returning for the Saturday matinee, when "A Night Off" will be repeated. From St. John they go to Amherst for a brief return engagement, and will probably close their season there.

A GOOD PICTURE SHOW AT NICKEL

No better combination of humorous moving picture films has been shown in St. John than those being offered at the Nickel, which was crowded to its capacity yesterday afternoon and evening, and will doubtless continue to draw large audiences. Ruffles, the Dog, was probably the most entertaining number and elicited peals of laughter from start to finish. St. Jones in quest of John Smith was a close second, while the sad predicament of a young man who attends an at home and is set frantic by a flea is uproariously funny. The Children's Pets is rather a pretty film and at once finds friends with the little ones. The illustrated song, "Down in the Wildwood where the Blue-bells Grow," made an instantaneous success, and yesterday afternoon some "gallery youngsters" were singing the chorus in the street.

The vessel is only slightly damaged. She is consigned to John E. Moore, and will leave for a port in the United Kingdom.

North Sydney, N. S. May 27--Crushed by immense ice floes, 6 miles off Satterley Is. 35 tons British schooner Flora W. Sperry was sent to the bottom, and her captain and crew, after a thrilling experience, were landed here Sunday, forty days ago the Sperry left Halifax, N.S., for this port for a cargo of coal, a passage which usually takes less than a week. The schooner was on her way when the vessel's side crumpled like an egg shell, and she disappeared into the deep. The crew barely having time to launch a life boat, the schooner went down. The shipwrecked men were about to give up hope, a passing vessel sighted, signals of distress were hoisted on an oar, and when the schooner was seen to change her course and bear down upon the open boat, some of the men went for joy. The schooner was hoisted on board, and she ran close to the shore where the schooner went down. The crew, which was bound for the banks of the St. Lawrence, were rescued by the schooner. They were Capt. Colford, James Carl, M. Handley, R. H. Hinson, John Doolan, and John J. Peden. The men suffered terribly from exposure the cold being intense. The Sperry was owned by Ryan Brothers of Halifax.

The steamer Granville, Capt. Collins, will tow the St. John schooner Chesley to Annapolis, N. S., today to discharge 115,000 feet hard pine, brought from Pernambuco.

Schooner John L. Treat, Capt. Barnes, arrived at New York last Saturday from Carriacou (F.A.) in twenty-one days with a cargo of pitch pine. The captain is well known.

Brunswick, May 24--A final survey on British vessel for Buenos Ayres, finds the vessel in proper order and recommends that she be allowed to proceed to Buenos Ayres, but that she should not be allowed to discharge cargo.

The three-masted schooner William L. Brien, Capt. Dixon, with a cargo of 270 tons of coal for Montreal, arrived in port yesterday at this port for Buenos Ayres. The vessel is in good order and is ready to receive cargo.

Swedish bark Robertfors, Captain Gustafson, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, had a very rough passage from Gothenburg, Sweden. On May 21 at 1.30 a. m. when off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, the bark collided with a large iceberg, breaking her ribcage off and doing some slight damage to her bows. The night was fine and the moon on the lookout did not see the iceberg until the vessel was near it, so at once called the captain, but before that officer got on deck the bark had struck the berg. Captain Gustafson says that the weather was fine, otherwise the vessel might have been completely wrecked. He said he saw several large icebergs and went through a lot of ice.

THUGS TOOK HIS MONEY

Robbed of $17 in Fairville Early Last Evening.

William Taylor, aged 75 years, was assaulted and robbed near Fairville early last evening. He was in a passenger car by two young men who relieved him of $17 and two keys. He said he left the street car, in Fairville and was on his way to the station when the two young men referred to approached him and asked for a match. They asked where he was going and he told them he lived at Belleville, Hoyt Station, with his brother and was going to take a train home. The young men represented to him that they were going up on the train, saying that they lived at Belleville and told him they might as well go together. They boarded a C. P. R. passenger car standing on the siding above Fairville station.

THE LYCEUM CO. AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Mr. Jelenko's Players Warmly Received in "A Night Off."

The Lyceum Stock Company was enthusiastically welcomed to St. John last night when they opened a brief engagement in the Opera House, presenting as an opening attraction Augustin Daly's screaming farce comedy, "A Night Off." It was in the role of Marcus Brutus Snap in this comedy that Mr. Jelenko scored one of his greatest successes during the engagement of the Daley Stock Company here. Last evening he added materially to his former success. As the standstill actor he convulsed the audience. In fact his make up was sufficiently funny to produce a general laugh, even before he said a word. Mr. Jelenko's conception of the part was very funny. He had all the absurd, exaggerated, stagey mannerisms of the "ham far" actor down to a nicety, and as the ludicrous complications of the play developed he was greeted with very hearty applause.

SHOP AT HARVEY'S AFTER TEA

Harvey's four o'clock in the Opera House will be open until eight o'clock this evening and tomorrow evening, which will make it possible for those who desire to purchase their tea to share in the hundreds of great bargains now being handed out for the first time in the Grand Clean-Up Sale of Trade-Extensions and last week. All the goods in this clearance were largely imported and have to work the market. The day's business was the scores of buyers who appeared on the scene after supper.

THE BAD BOYS

There are three things the establishment of which are necessary to insure the future good citizenship of our land: first, the free kindergarten, which trains the child in better ways in the early formative period; second, compulsory education combined with trade schools and juvenile courts, whereby those incapable of higher education or incorrigible youths can be trained in ways of industry and usefulness; and third, the child labor laws, which protect the young against the oppression of the parent or guardian, who should be the natural protector. The successful operation of these combined forces will do much to obliterate human degradation, and lift young and old into a higher atmosphere.

The above paragraph is quoted from a circular sent to members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in the United States. There are very few thoughtful persons who would not promptly assent to the general truth of the statements it contains. In St. John, for example, we recognize at least to some extent the value of the free kindergarten; we have a compulsory attendance law in connection with the public schools; the introduction of manual training is a recognition of the value of trade or technical schools, which must in time be established; and there are laws regulating, or supposed to regulate, child labor.

But when our seriousness in applying the knowledge we possess, and the convictions we entertain touching these matters, are tested by reference to actual conditions among the children of the city, is the result quite satisfactory? That section of the city which lies near and beyond the Marsh Bridge may be taken as an illustration, not because it is worse than other portions, but because recent occurrences there make the illustration all the more pertinent. An organization of citizens has undertaken to pay rent, fit up the Victoria grounds, and make them of more general benefit if possible than they have ever been before as playgrounds. The club cannot keep them open at all times, but must derive some revenue from them, because of large expenditures in cash, in addition to the labor actually performed by members.

Now the public who live near the place know perfectly well the object the club has in view. They know that their own children will benefit from any enlargement of playground facilities and the development of healthy athletic sports. Yet ever since members of the Every Day Club have been working on the grounds they have been annoyed by a great crowd of boys. Material left there at night would be gone in the morning. Places cleaned out and swept today would be found wantonly defiled and filthy tomorrow. When the gates were closed at a ball game, or sports, boys would tear off boards, climb over or burrow under fences, and endeavor to swarm into the grounds; and treat civil remonstrances with oaths and vile language.

And these were not big boys, but little fellows, who furthermore seem well supplied with cigarettes. When members of the club expressed amazement at the bad conduct of so many boys, persons better acquainted with the locality apathetically observed that nothing could be done with them.

Why do not the parents of these children teach them to respect other people's property? Why is it that the teaching in the schools does not bear better fruit? Money was stolen last evening from the clothing of young men while they were playing ball. It was done by boys who got over or through the back fence near the pavilion while the game was in progress. Nails that were bought to repair the fences were stolen almost under the noses of the workmen, by boys who came in over the fence and went boldly out through the gate. Damage was done to property yesterday at noon, while the caretaker was at dinner.

So long as this sort of thing continues a blot will lie upon the reputation of a people of that portion of the city. They can stop the degradations if they choose. They can co-operate with those who are trying to do good with the Victoria grounds, and make them of benefit to the very boys who are now committing criminal acts without let or hindrance. The attention of the police department is also respectfully directed to the facts set forth in this article. As a last resort, the power of the law must be invoked to enforce what an enlightened spirit among the people should ensure without even a suggestion of its propriety from any other source than from the conscience of the community.

But is it not a sad and bitter commentary upon the failure of our social system that these boys should be growing up in this way, instead of being taught respect for the property of others, respect for themselves, and the spirit of civic pride which would help rather than hinder any effort to make their surroundings more attractive and develop an interest in healthful outdoor exercises? We would expect well-disposed people to aid the Every Day Club in fitting up the Victoria grounds rather than permit their boys to tear down and destroy.

Are the boys the real sinners in this case and in others similar in other parts of the city?

MR. SPENCER'S POEMS

In a copy of Everybody's Book of Short Poems, published in London, and of which the fiftieth thousand had been issued at the time this one appeared, the writer came across these lines by Mr. H. L. Spencer, whose writings are so well known and have been so highly appreciated by readers of the St. John press for many years past:—

ONLY A LEAF.
Only a leaf! but it speaks to me
Of a soul as pure as the souls above;
Only a leaf! but a history
It breathes in my ear of saintly love.
Only a leaf! To my dim eyes
It doth a chamber of death recall,
And a faraway graveyard, where slumbering lies
One that was childhood's all in all.

It is greatly to be regretted that Mr. Spencer's fugitive poems, which if all collected would make a considerable volume, have not been put in book form. The Ingle Nook Philosopher of Kennebecasis Bay is now living at White Head, Kings county, and with advancing years has been compelled to give up the literary work he loved so well. It would be a gain to Canadian literature if by some means Mr. Spencer's poems could be reproduced in permanent form. Whether in prose or verse his writings have attracted attention and won for him admirers among newspaper readers in these provinces; and, as the presence of the lines above quoted in an English publication prove, his gifts as a writer have been recognized in a much wider field. Indeed one of his best poems has been attributed to various authors. The writer of this article learned recently from Mr. Spencer himself that he has a large collection of his writings, in scrap-books, and it would be a graceful tribute to his rare gifts as an author if by guaranteed subscription they could be published in book form. The Times makes this suggestion in the hope that Mr. Spencer's friends in the city and elsewhere may take some action in the matter.

The chief of the fire department evidently does not expect as good results as the public have been led to hope for from the waterworks extension. He wants a new fire engine. The board does well to postpone the purchase if No. 2 engine can be repaired and made effective at reasonable cost.

An addition of five to the attenuated ranks of the legal fraternity of the province is no doubt a source of gratification, even if it would involve an increase in the cost of living and litigation.

WILL START WORK TODAY

Contract Signed for New Y. M. C. A. Building, and Work Will Be Rushed Along.

The work of building the handsome new home of the Young Men's Christian Association on the site of the Chipman house, opposite the Free Public Library in Hazen avenue, will be begun today. Yesterday the association was put in the financial position which made this possible and no time is to be lost in making an actual start on the building, which has been the great desire of so many interested in the good work for which the Y. M. C. A. exists.

At a meeting of the board of directors and trustees of the association yesterday afternoon officers for the year were elected. L. P. D. Tilley was re-elected president, W. C. Cross, vice-president, and G. Ernest Barbour, treasurer. W. H. Thorne, T. H. Somerville and G. Ernest Barbour were elected the financial committee of the building fund and the board of trustees elected George A. Henderson, secretary-treasurer.

A resolution authorizing the signing of the contract for the new building was passed, and after the meeting the contractors' signatures to the contract were affixed.

The matter of the disposition of the old Chipman house was left in the hands of the building committee and, while no one is prepared to make an announcement yet, it is understood there is in mind a plan for preserving this historic structure.

LAW STUDENTS HOLD DINNER Second Annual Dinner of St. John Law School Held at White's Last Night.

The second annual dinner of the St. John Law School was held last night at White's and was an entire success. During the evening Dr. Alward, dean of the college, announced that the five senior students had each made the required pass mark in the different law studies and would receive the degree of B. C. L. (Bachelor of Civil Law) at King's College, Windsor in June and would be admitted attorneys in November next.

The graduates are J. Macmillan, Truman, B. A., A. Ernest, G. McKenzie, M. A., John Alphonse Barry, B. A., William Gilbert Pugsley, B. A., William Douglas Turner, B. A.

The toastmaster of the evening was J. A. Barry and the toast was "The student body and the guests were Dr. Alward, Mayor Sears, J. Roy Campbell, secretary-treasurer of the school, Judge Ritchie and Ald. J. B. M. Baxter. A tempting repast had been made ready by Frank White and after the viands had been disposed of the toast list was carried out.

The toast to the King was drunk and W. B. Barry then proposed the toast to the St. John Law School, coupling with it the name of Dr. Silas Alward, the respected dean of the school. Dr. Alward reviewed in an eloquent manner the history of the school from its founding fifty years ago to the present and concluded by announcing that all the senior students had been successful in their examinations. The dean was loudly applauded by the students with whom Dr. Alward is very popular.

"Former Graduates," was proposed by J. A. Barry and responded to in an excellent speech by Ald. J. B. M. Baxter. The toast to "Canada" was proposed by W. G. Pugsley and responded to in a thoroughly patriotic manner by Judge Ritchie, who reviewed the great resources of our country and the unity existing among the people.

J. J. Loney proposed the toast to The Faculty and J. Roy Campbell responded stating the many sacrifices made by the professors in order to assist the students on their hard road.

The City of St. John was proposed by J. M. Truman and responded to by Mayor Sears. J. S. Tait next proposed the class of 1907 and A. E. G. McKenzie responded briefly.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem brought the gathering to a close.

FOUGHT UNDER 18 FLAGS YET HE DIED IN POVERTY

Gen. MacIver, a Gallant Soldier of Fortune, and His Extraordinary Career--A Most Remarkable Man.

(New York Exchange.) Maj-Gen. Henry Ronald Douglas MacIver of the Serbian army, who was a modern soldier of fortune, was born on Christmas Day, 1846, in Hampton Roads, Va., aboard a ship seeking a harbor. His father was Ronald MacIver, a Scotchman. In early life he went to Italy and fought under Garibaldi. He served in the Ten Years' War in Cuba, in Greece, in Greece, twice in the Carlist revolutions in Spain, in Bosnia, and then returned to Virginia where war on a gigantic scale was framing. His sword was offered to Gen. Robert Lee and was accepted. He fought with Stuart and Stonewall Jackson and was four times wounded during the great conflict. At the close of the war there was much duelling between the officers of the two armies. MacIver was in one of these affairs outside of Vicksburg. His combatant was Maximilian of the Vermont United States Artillery Volunteers. They fought with swords, MacIver running his opponent through the body and cleaning his blade with his handkerchief. "He is dead; we must go," called one of MacIver's seconds. A negro brought up the horses of MacIver and his second. "My friends are in haste," said MacIver, turning to the seconds of the man he had slain. "Is there anything to do? I hope that you consider this matter settled honorably." Then he mounted and rode away. After the Civil War MacIver, with other southern officers went to Mexico. He fought under Maximilian there. When the fighting was over he went to Egypt and then to France, everywhere that cannon were hot and the caravans of war were plowing up the roads MacIver was to be found. MacIver was appointed United States consul at Dania, Spain. The man he was to succeed declined to get out, and the soldier of fortune immediately suggested that they go to the outskirts of the city and settle the matter with pistols or swords. Stephen Bonner, the present correspondent of The Times in St. Petersburg, who was then the charge d'affaires at Madrid, was sent to adjust matters. He adjusted them and MacIver was installed without bloodshed. The daring of MacIver was best exemplified, perhaps, when he took part in the

PURSE OF GOLD FOR FR. WHITE

Retiring Rector of St. Peter's Receives Address and Purse of Gold from His People.

In recognition of the worth of Rev. W. E. White, C. S. S. R., who for five years has labored zealously in St. Peter's church, the congregation assembled last night in the basement of the church and bid farewell to their beloved rector, who conferred his blessing upon each one present. After Father Borgmann had spoken of the excellent results of Father White's labors in St. Peter's parish, Dr. J. P. McInerney read the following address and handed to Father White a purse of gold. To the Very Rev. Wm. White, C. S. S. R., Very Rev. and dear Rector: On the eve of your departure from our midst, your children of St. Peter's parish are assembled to say good-bye and wish you God-speed in your new field of labor. In the name of the parishioners of St. Peter's church in this section of the city, to prove that your administration as rector for five years has been a veritable exemplification of "the iron hand in the velvet glove." From a spiritual standpoint, your untiring zeal in the interests of religion—the uplift of your kindly world and face and heart, which we have all experienced in our hour of stress, make it difficult for the parishioners of St. Peter's to say good-bye to you tonight with "the sweet magic of a smile." Speaking personally, my remembrance of you, Sir, as a priest, goes back nearly twenty years, when as a young man you came to labor this vicarage. During all these years, meeting you frequently in the library, and by the life, the predominant characteristic of your life and one that impressed me most was your great sense of duty, and your great zeal in carrying those duties to successful issue. Speaking for myself, I regret your departure very much. In my humble capacity as physician to your household for many past years, our relations have always been the most cordial character, unctured with the most respectful good-fellowship, that adds endearing strands to "the tie that binds." In the name of the parishioners of St. Peter's parish, be assured, Rev. and dear Rector, that your name will be treasured in remembrance by us for many years to come. We trust that the same success that attended your efforts in this parish may await you in the years to come. We ask you, dear Rector, to accept the accompanying purse, not as anything adequate to your great work among us, but as an emblem of our affectionate regards to you. In bidding you good-bye and God-speed, we give to you the assurance that our hearts for having directed during the past five years the spiritual affairs of St. Peter's parish with justice, prudence, equanimity and skill. Signed on behalf of the parishioners of St. Peter's parish: J. P. McINERNEY, M. D. JAMES MORGAN. LAMAR MURPHY. RICHARD WALSH. MICHAEL McINERNEY. WILLIAM DOHERTY. MICHAEL McINERNEY. JAMES HOWARD. LAWRENCE McINERNEY. JAMES S. DALY. ALFRED McINERNEY. EDWARD McINERNEY. JOHN P. McINERNEY.

NEW ENGLAND WHEAT CREAM. In reply, Father White said that he felt very deeply the solemnity of the occasion. After five years of communion with the people, co-operation with the bishop, and laboring for God, he was going, he felt deeply grateful for the people's gift and for the expressions of regret. It was now twenty years since he had come to St. John the first time. Father Borgmann's reference to the time had recalled the memory of tender devotion at the time of departure. He had intended to go away quietly at first but the love and sympathy of the people was so great that it deserved some recognition. Father White then eulogized his successor, Rev. Father Duke C. S. S. R. He said that he was a holy man, amiable and one who has been very much loved and particularly a man who had done great good in all the churches of the order to which he had been assigned. Fr. White again thanked the people of St. Peter's parish for their gift and dismissed them with his blessing.

CHIEF WANTS A NEW ENGINE BUT SAFETY BOARD SAYS NO

Ald. Frink Says That With $500,000 Spent on Water Extension no New Engine Should be Necessary--Other Matters Considered at Board Meeting Last Night.

At a meeting of the safety board last evening there was a warm discussion on a report of Chief Kerr that No. 2 engine was useless and that a Shaw & Mason engine should be purchased in England. Ald. Frink urged that $500,000 spent on the water extension no new engines were necessary. Chief Kerr expressed the view that fire engines would always be required in the city. An amendment to obtain an estimate on repairs to No. 2 engine was carried. Committees were appointed to look into the radiator and the market fees and on application of the Fairville firemen for a lease of city land for athletic grounds. Ald. Vanecko, Sprout, Frink, Baskin, Christie, Kelly, Hamm and McGowan were present, with the director, Chief Kerr and the common clerk. James Lowell, M. P. P., was heard in support of a petition from the Fairville firemen for a two year lease of the city's property on the Gipsy road. It was intended to put the ground in order and have it for athletic sports. After some discussion a committee, consisting of Ald. Hamm, Baskin, and Sprag was appointed to report to the council. A recommendation to lease to F. E. Holman a lot next to his property on Queen street for seven years at a rental of $10 a year, was passed. The chairman and Ald. Hamm were appointed a committee to look into the matter of making changes in the market by-laws. The director reported for the committee on the question of putting valuations on the property of John O'Neil Elliott. The committee recommended that in view of there being a substantial house on the lot the lease should be renewed as the city would make no money by taking the property over. Chief Justice Tuok was granted the reversal of the lease at $10 a year on his property in Orange street. Policeman Robert Crawford was granted half pay for three days absent from duty owing to sickness. Chief Kerr reported that No. 2 fire engine, which gave out at the Macaulay Bros. & Co. fire, was not worth repairing. The engine had been stripped by the engineers and he had received their report. It was purchased in 1884 and ran until $400 by contract in the city and $200 had been spent at the same time on the opinion of experts. He regretted to have to make the report but felt too much was at stake. The engine was practically useless and it would be only waste of money to procure a new boiler. He recommended that a powerful first class engine of English make—either a Shand & Mason or a Merrweather—be purchased. Chief Kerr went on to refer to a recent visit of Deputy Mayor Johnson, of Halifax, to the city, when Mr. Johnson informed him that Halifax was spending $80,000 on the fire department this year and had ordered a Shand & Mason engine from England. The price delivered duty free in Halifax was $5,330. The weight was 7,500 pounds as against 11,000 pounds the weight of the Waterhouse engine. Chief Kerr added that there was no fancy work about the English engine in question but the pumps and boiler could not be beaten. Sixty engines of a similar type were used in the London fire department. Referring to the loss of No. 2 engine, the chief said the department would be handicapped should a fire occur in the business section and it would be necessary to bring the engine over from Portland. Much had been said about the new water extension to Loch Lamond but he did not believe the day would ever come when St. John could do without fire engines. The insurance companies leave nothing of his report, he had submitted it first to the board. As far as investigating the recent fire they could investigate all they liked. The point to note was that the fire did not go above the first floor. Ald. Frink said he was strenuously opposed to the chief's suggestion. They had spent $500,000 on the water works and if that was not going to do away with purchasing new fire engines they ought never to have entered on the work. The engine in question was obsolete and had been kept for years as a reserve engine. Chief Kerr—"No sir." Ald. Frink—"Why it was piled up at the back of the ladies' house." Chief Kerr said No. 2 was a good engine. The time was also coming when another would be required in Carleton. Personally he did not care what action the board took. If the council was caught he could not help it. Before the extension was in use they would probably find pipes bursting all over the city. "I'm the chief of the department," he concluded, "and you have had my report. Do as you think right, gentlemen, but don't blame me." There was considerable discussion on the matter in which Ald. Kelly, Frink, Baskin, Sprout, Hamm and Chief Kerr participated. It was finally decided, on motion of Ald. Frink, that estimates be prepared of the cost of repairs to the engine and, if necessary, an expert employed. The report of the director that two rooms in the market building had been rented to the painters' union for $20 was confirmed. The usual order to tenants in North and South Market streets to take out leases during the coming year was passed. Members of the police and fire departments and the market employees were granted the usual ten days holiday. Ald. Baskin referred to the condition of Carleton city hall as a public disgrace. He urged that it should be shut up or something done to clean it. He moved that it be swept, scrubbed and cleaned and that the director report on the best method of dealing with it. The motion was carried after some discussion. On motion of Ald. Baskin the director will report on the question of removing an old building in Ludlow street, Carleton, which is being supported by braces from the overhead cables. On motion of Ald. Holder the director was instructed to remove the public scales in the North End, which are broken, and replace them with a spare set now stored. At the suggestion of Chief Kerr six chairs for No. 3 engine house were ordered. The bills were referred to the treasury board and the board adjourned. Miles—"Hello, old man, what are you doing for a living now?" Giles—"Oh, the usual thing—breathing."

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Peters Celebrated Their 60th Anniversary Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peters, of Waterloo street, Monday celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding. They were waited on in the course of the day by a very large number of their friends and relatives, who extended to them their hearty congratulations on the occasion. In spite of their years, both Mr. and Mrs. Peters looked quite hale and hearty. Two very interesting visitors during the day were C. A. Everett, of the firm of C. & E. Everett, who acted as groomsmen at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Peters, and Jacob Underhill, brother of Mrs. Peters. These are the only two now alive besides the principals who were at the wedding, the bridesmaid having died some years ago.
